Making room for the new

MANY AREA FARMERS TOOK advantage of warm, sunny days late last week to move last year's grain to make room for this year's harvest. Harvesting will get underway in the next few weeks, and this year's corn and soybean productions in Nebraska are expected to be among the highest on record.

Demonstrating IRM program results

Extension service sponsoring field day at Meierhenry farm

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service will hold a field day at the Mike Meierhenry farm near Hoskins on Thursday, Oct. 2.

The field day is one of three being held statewide to demonstrate results of the Integrated Reproductive Management (IRM) program.

Field days also are planned later this month near York and North Platte.

THE IRM PROGRAM was initiated in 1983, with the selection of nine herds statewide, to be used in a five-year program to demonstrate and implement management techniques which would improve cow/calf and feedlot production efficiency and optimize reproductive rates in cow herds.

In the last year, calf crop weaned was increased an average of 10 percent and weaning weights increased 23 pounds for the nine herds, according to Dr. Terry Mader, beef extension specialist at the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord.

Mader added this is equivalent to an additional $3,500 for each 100-cow unit.

FIELD DAY AT the Meierhenry farm is scheduled from noon to 3:30 p.m., with lunch provided on the premises.

Following lunch, there will be a tour of the farm and presentations by the following:

- Dr. Gene Deutscher, reproductive physiologist, West Central Research and Extension Center, North Platte
- Improving reproductive efficiency, overview and objectives of the statewide IRM program.
- Mike Meierhenry — How IRM has worked for me.
- Marshall Frazier, IRM technician
- Summary of production and economic results, accomplishments and goals for the future.

• Dr. Bruce Anderson, forage specialist, Lincoln — Developing pastures for optimizing conception rates during the summer breeding period.

• Dr. Terry Mader, beef specialist, Northeast Center, Concord — Managing feed resources to meet cow/calf and feedlot cattle nutrient requirements under northeast Nebraska environmental conditions.

THE MEIERHENRY farm is located one-half mile east, three north, and three-quarter east of Hoskins, or five miles west, one south and three-quarter east of Winslow.

The field day is open to the public. Producers, spouses and industry representatives are welcome to attend.

Persons who would like additional information are asked to contact Terry Mader, (402) 584-2261.

At Wayne State College

Tickets on sale for Buddy Rich Oct. 7

One of America's premier drummers, Buddy Rich, along with his 15-member band, will perform Tuesday, Oct. 7 on the Wayne State College campus.

His performance is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

General public tickets are on sale until Friday, Oct. 3, according to Steve Jones, director of college relations.

Cost is $4 for adults and $2 for high school age and younger. Tickets may be purchased Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the business office on the first floor of Hahn Administration Building.

The tickets may be purchased by using MasterCard or Visa, by calling 402-375-2200, or by sending a check or money order to Black and Gold Series, Box 1910, Wayne, Neb., 68787.

RICH'S APPEARANCE is the first in this year's Black and Gold performance series at Wayne State College. Also appearing as part of the Black and Gold series are the Midwest Opera Co. performing "Hansel and Gretel" on Nov. 6; the Franz Liszt Orchestra of Budapest on Feb. 18; Guthrie Theater performing "Candida" on March 23; and the Los Angeles Piano Quartet on April 14.

RICH HAS spanned the eras as a drummer, band leader and entertainer.

He made his drum debut in his parents' vaudeville act in 1920 at the age of 18 months. At age three, he was a permanent fixture of the act. Four years later, he was appearing by himself and was one of America's highest paid child performers.

In the 1930's and 1940's, Rich played in a number of big-time bands, including Bunny Berigan, Artie Shaw, Benny Carter, Harry James and Tommy Dorsey.

It was his roommate in the Dorsey band — Frank Sinatra — who financed Rich's first major band in the late 1940's.

As big bands began to wane, Rich toured and played the nightclub circuit.

He again formed a band in 1966 and a year later became a household word when his band became a regular on Jackie Gleason's summer replacement TV show.

"I OWE THE audience the best I can give them," said Rich, age 49. "When an audience goes out and spends their bucks, they are totally entitled to the best performance you can give them, nothing more."

In addition to being polled twice as America's No. 1 drummer, Rich has an honorary doctorate in music from the prestigious Berklee School of Music in Boston.

He also was the subject of an evening-long tribute at the 1982 Kool Jazz Festival in New York City.

Wayne State professor lecturing on U.S. constitution in Norfolk

Allen O'Donnell, associate professor of political science at Wayne State College, will present a lecture on the bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution at Norfolk Public Library on Thursday, Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m.

The program is free and open to the public.

O'Donnell's address, entitled "To Ensure Domestic Tranquility," is sponsored by the University of Nebraska, Northeast Technical Community College, Norfolk Public High School and the Norfolk Library Association.

The program is funded through a grant from the Nebraska Committee for the Humanities to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"THIS WILL BE the first of a series of programs created to celebrate the oldest lasting democratic constitution in the world," said O'Donnell.

"It took two years to put our Constitution into effect. The framers finished their original work in 1787, but it wasn't until 1789 that the necessary number of states ratified the document."

O'Donnell added that it required an agreement that the first work of the new government would be to add a Bill of Rights to the Constitution in order to have it accepted.

O'DONNELL HAS been with Wayne State College since 1971. He is director of the Public Affairs Institute and coordinates both the law related education program and the pre-law programs of the college.

He holds degrees in history and political science and lived abroad eight years, both in Europe and in Asia, while serving with the U.S. Air Force.

He served on faculties of colleges in California and Missouri before coming to Wayne State College, and has served on boards of the Nebraska Committee for the Humanities and the Nebraska Mental Health Association.

Wastebasket away

by Chuck Hackenmiller

Ever wonder what type of material comes to the editor's desk — through the mail — that doesn't reach the pages of The Wayne Herald and ends up among the pop cans and food wrappings in the wastebasket?

Most of the time there is material that would have some value to a slim margin of our readers. I, as editor, face the responsibility of printing items which would best interest most — not just a handful — of our subscribers.

Inside my wastebasket from today's mail (Sept. 25): a news release from Dana College concerning their upset win over the Westmar Eagles of LaMars, Iowa; a nine-page article from the Joslyn Art Museum detailing its schedule of exhibition; Ak-Sar-Ben news releases about winners of the 4-H Livestock Exposition; who are not local people; the fall conference meeting notes of the Nebraska Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators; and a newsletter from U.S. Senator Jim Exon giving an up-to-date status on the bill he co-sponsored (to increase the speed limit on interstates to 65 miles per hour).

Exon goes on to say that interstates are the safest roads in the nation.

Also put to the side was a news release drawing attention to the CBS broadcast "Stop the Madness," a national anti-drug campaign featuring Stacy Keach, Michele Lee, Tim Reid, Donna Mills, Edward Woodward, Pat Summerall and William Devane.

By the way, the 10-second messages will be broadcast Sept. 22 to 28 between 7:00 and 7:15 p.m. on KMEG-14 (too late to run the article, since the day it arrived in the mail was Sept. 25).

DEEPER IN THE wastebasket I find a news release from A 2 Z Consulting of Hastings, Nebraska which mentions stock market analyst Lynn Elgert remains at the top of the list of the nation's best market firms, according to Hulbert's Financial Digest — a Washington D.C. publication which rates more than 150 investment advisory services in the country.

There is also a news release from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which says unseasonal, heavy precipitation from Montana to Missouri forced a drastic change in planned fall releases from Gavins Point Dam. Releases are being cut back at the dam near Yankton, South Dakota to reduce possible flooding.

NOT PUBLISHED was an article from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation saying that Oct. 5, 1986 is the final planting date for insured winter wheat in counties outside of Wayne.

And KWIT has a news release that didn't get published: Two new part-time employees, Jane Eckerman and Jack Curt, have been hired at public radio KWIT FM 90 and Doug Johnson has been promoted the Manager of Production and News.

In a big envelope, on the bottom of the wastebasket, is a brochure and several pictures of women modeling fur coats for the Saga Furs of Scandinavia.

Political campaigning through the mail also gets placed in our non-published file. We've had complaints from candidates that the incumbent can't write (in their columns all they want) while their own articles are tossed aside.

If political columns hint toward campaigning, we do not run them. Otherwise, the columns are treated as they should be — a tool to describe what is happening in Washington and the state Capitol.

We aren't saying that these news items (from Sept. 25's mail) scratched from publication do not carry some interest — it is just that the interest of the article would be limited to certain people and areas, according to our judgment.

And if you don't agree with this, then just throw this column away.

out of old nebraska

State treasurer's office held up

Some time ago a visitor to the Nebraska State Historical Society library related that when he was a small boy, he was in the corridor of the old State Capitol building with his father and there saw a man shot dead. A check of the Society's newspaper collections revealed that the visitor's memory was accurate, and it also revealed a bizarre and little-known episode of Nebraska history.

On Saturday, February 28, 1885, at midday, three men, Jim Griffin, Alvin Maguire and Charles Dally, attempted to hold up the state treasurer's office. On the face of it the plan was more foolhardy than daring. The Legislature was in session and the Capitol was crowded with visitors, including our library patron and his father. One of the holdup men, Jim Griffin, had a wooden leg and the three men had only one ancient, broken-down horse on which to make their getaway. In spite of these handicaps, the trio optimistically brought along a grain sack in which to carry off their expected loot.

The great holdup had the makings of a comedy, but it was not. After the thieves had forced the clerk in the treasurer's office to give them a few hundred dollars in gold and silver, they ran with their bag of money. Guards called upon them to halt and when they kept on fleeing, a private-detective guard named A.J. Pound killed Griffin with a shotgun blast in the back before the men got out of the building. Dally and Maguire were soon captured. All were local men of unsavory reputation, but hardly the type to plan and carry off such a bold robbery.

There was great excitement in the Statehouse and in the city. The guards who foiled the attempt were regarded as the heroes of the hour. A bill was introduced into the grateful legislature to vote them a reward of $500 for their prompt action.

As the captured men were questioned, however, it became apparent that it was not a simple case. Soon,

A.J. Pound, the guard, was charged with plotting with the unfortunate Griffin and his two companions. It was charged that the robbery was a prearranged affair. The holdup trio had believed that the guards would allow them to escape. Instead, Pound had shot and killed Griffin. Further investigation showed that Griffin and Maguire had been intoxicated and that Griffin's revolver had not been loaded.

Dally and Maguire, after several delays, were tried but records do not reveal if they were convicted. There was some criticism that the prosecutor did not press their case. Pound was indicted for the murder of Griffin and convicted of manslaughter. He was sentenced to imprisonment but when the sheriff arrived with him at the penitentiary, he was met with a pardon from the governor. The mysterious affair closed and the full story of the daring daylight robbery of the state treasury of Nebraska has never been revealed.

1918 flu epidemic was a serious disease

The "flu" epidemic of late 1918 was one of the most serious ravages of disease that has ever occurred in Nebraska. Cases of the "flu" appeared in Lincoln and probably in Omaha early in September at about the time schools opened, and the disease spread rapidly over the State. The attack came on suddenly with a fever and profuse perspiration, and within an hour the victim was hardly able to carry a small package. The end was often just as sudden. A middle-aged merchant at Holdrege was in his store in the morning, went home for lunch at noon and did not return to his store in the afternoon and the next morning he was dead. A barber was working in his shop one day and was dead by the next morning. As the disease spread a shortage of physicians and nurses soon developed. The epidemic was soon out of control, and in October the Nebraska State Board of Health issued an order closing public meetings, schools, churches, and theaters and all kinds of entertainment. One activity continued; the mail carriers in the cities made their regular rounds, but each wore a white gauze mask over his nose and mouth.

After about three weeks the State Board of Health relaxed their order. The schools were allowed to open if teachers, pupils and everyone who entered buildings wore a mask over nose and mouth. Under these conditions the schools reopened. Many churches declined to open under these regulations and so remained closed. There was little during the latter days of 1918 to remind one of the Christmas season.

The young men from Nebraska who had entered into the military service early in October and were sent to camps often became ill with the "flu" and many of them died. As a result the next quota to report was asked to wait until later and after the war ended they were not inducted at all. The number of deaths in Nebraska was large. In Omaha alone there were 974 deaths from the "flu" between October 5, 1918, and December 31. Merchants sustained heavy losses from the light Christmas trade.

By January 1, 1919, the epidemic was waning rapidly and the State Board of Health suspended its rule against public meetings. Still there were outbreaks of the "flu" in some localities for several weeks. As a rule these later cases were not severe. Those who were seriously ill with the "flu" were very slow in recovering their strength, sometimes needing two months or more.

The great "flu" epidemic of 1918 brought sorrow and suffering to almost every Nebraska community.

Farm income tax planning affected?

Submitted by Don Spitze Extension Agent-Chairman

Although new tax legislation has not yet become law, several changes that have the support of both houses of Congress will affect farm income tax planning, according to Doug Duey, extension farm management specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Most of the changes will take effect starting January 1, 1987, which gives farmers the remainder of 1986 to take advantage of current tax law provisions, or to decide to postpone some decisions until 1987.

Here are some of the proposed changes.

— Elimination of the capital gains deductions. This will have the greatest effect on livestock producers who can now claim capital gains deductions on the sale of raised breeding livestock. Under proposed legislation all income that would have previously qualified for capital gains would be taxed as ordinary income.

— Repeal of investment tax credit, retroactive to January 1, 1986 and limiting carry forward of unused tax credit. State sales tax may be applied to 1986 purchases but not in 1987 or later.

— New depreciation schedules, yet to be finalized, will lengthen the life over which depreciable property can be depreciated. This will reduce the amount of depreciation allowed on new acquisitions of depreciable property.

— Conservation expenditures to be deductible as a current expense must be consistent with a conservation plan approved by the S.C.S. Expenses for clearing land would have to be added to cost basis of the land effective January 1, 1986.

— Limitation of itemized deductions. These affect all taxpayers; change in the deduction for medical and dental expenses that exceed 5 percent of adjusted gross income; 7.5 percent of the adjusted gross income; elimination of the deduction for state and local sales tax; elimination of the deduction for interest on personal loans except home mortgages; elimination of the deduction for dues, professional journals, certain educational costs, safe deposit box rental and legal and accounting fees.

— INCREASE in the personal exemption. The personal exemption is $1,080 for 1986. It would increase to $1,900 in 1987, to $1,950 in 1988, and to $2,000 in 1989 and thereafter. The extra exemption for the blind and persons over 65 would be repealed, and replaced with a greater standard deduction.

— Tax brackets simplification to two brackets. Taxable income up to $29,750 will be taxed at 15 percent. Taxable income between $29,750 and $71,900 will be taxed at $4,443 plus 28 percent of the amount over $29,750 for joint filers. Single filers have the same rate, but the 15 percent rate includes $2,678 plus 28 percent of the amount over $17,850. These will be indexed to compensate for inflation.

— If adjusted gross income is above $71,900, there is a tax surcharge. This gets complicated, but is an attempt to phase out the benefits of the 15 percent rate for high-income taxpayers.

— Income average repealed as of January 1.

If your plans include selling some breeding livestock, it may be advantageous to do it in 1986 while capital gains and other tax provisions still apply. It would be wise to check with your tax advisor as soon as the new law is passed.

ELECTION PREVIEW

Seat Belts, Public Schools Among Four Issues on November Ballot.

The repeal of two controversial state laws covering seat belts and the state's public schools and two proposed constitutional amendments will be part of Nov. 4 election day decisions for Nebraska voters.

The four issues are the only statewide measures on the November ballot.

The most controversial are the two referendum proposals to repeal state laws passed by the Legislature during the 1985 legislative session. That year state senators passed a law requiring the state's smallest school districts to merge with larger neighboring districts. The measure, LB662, would also require state government to finance a larger share of local public school costs through an additional one-cent sales tax.

The Legislature also approved a mandatory seat belt law requiring the driver and front seat passenger to wear safety belts.

Nebraska voters, upset over the two new laws, gathered enough signatures on statewide petitions to put the two issues to a statewide vote.

The two proposed constitutional amendments are housekeeping measures that would change the date that the Legislature begins its business and would provide specific procedures for future impeachment trials.

In the coming weeks this newspaper will examine each proposal in detail.

Referendum #400 will decide the fate of LB662, the hotly debated school consolidation measure. Passed by the Legislature in 1985, the law will require the state's smallest school districts — elementary only Class I districts — to merge with neighboring districts which have high schools by September of 1989.

The new law also puts a limit on the amount of money for school operations that can be raised through the local property tax. It establishes a requirement that no more than 45 percent of the total operational costs of a public school system can be derived from local property taxes. To pay for the state's share, the measure establishes a one-cent sales tax for education beginning in January, 1987.

A vote for Referendum #400 will retain LB662. A vote against Referendum #400 will repeal the school consolidation measure.

School consolidation has long been an emotional and controversial topic in Nebraska. Opponents of LB662 had no trouble collecting almost double the 54,790 signatures of registered voters required to get the referendum measure on the ballot.

School consolidation opponents point out that the measure does not guarantee what they claim this year the legislature would begin Dec. 3, 1986, rather than Jan. 7, 1987.

The Legislature meets for 90 days in odd numbered years and 60 days in even numbered years. The amendment would not affect the shorter 60-day session opening date.

Proposed Amendment No. 2 would create specific procedures for the impeachment process in the constitution. Confusion surrounding the impeachment trial of former Attorney General Paul Douglas led to the proposal.

The amendment would give the Supreme Court additional time before receiving a notice of impeachment from the Legislature and the convening of the court to try the case. Currently the constitution allows only ten days. That would be changed to "in an expeditious fashion."

The amendment also provides that an impeachment case brought by the Legislature would be managed by two senators.

property tax relief in every school district, which would require the state to pay a higher share of the total school costs.

And the estimated price tag for that state support will be more than the one-cent sales tax will bring in, they point out. That means an additional hike in either the sales or income tax.

Opponents also fear that many small elementary schools will be closed after the districts merge or join with neighboring districts.

Those who support the law say some of the state's elementary only school districts are actually tax havens, where property owners pay far less in taxes for schools than do property owners in neighboring districts.

The measure would not force districts to close schools, only to operate under a single governing board. This consolidation promotes more efficient school operations, supporters contend.

Supporters, including the professional groups representing school administrators, also say that the measure will provide local property tax relief by increasing the state's financial obligation to local schools.

Referendum #401 will decide the fate of the state's year-old mandatory seat belt law, which went into effect in September 1985, requires the driver and front seat passenger to wear seat belts or face a $25 fine.

However, citations can only be issued if a police officer has stopped the driver for another moving violation.

The measure is part of a nationwide mandatory seat belt campaign, supported in part by the new car dealers and manufacturers. The Department of Transportation says it will lift its requirement that future cars be equipped with air bags if two-thirds of the states adopt mandatory seat belt laws by 1989.

Opponents to the new seat belt law collected the 27,395 signatures necessary to get repeal of the law on the ballot. However they did not gather enough signatures of registered voters across the state to stop implementation of the law.

The two constitutional amendments, both proposed by the Legislature, are housekeeping measures that supporters believe will improve the process of government.

Proposed Amendment No. 1 would move up the date that senators begin the 90-day legislative session. Currently the legislature begins its long session the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January. The amendment would push that date up to the fifth Wednesday after the November general election. That and would be tried as a civil rather than a criminal conviction and the less stringent requirements necessary for a civil case decision.

Supporters of three additional constitutional amendments failed to gather enough signatures to get the issues on the ballot. One proposal would have allowed lotteries in Nebraska. Another would have put a limit on state government spending. The third, supported by the banking community and others, would have removed language from the constitution prohibiting most corporate ownership of farm land.

It takes a simple majority to approve a ballot issue. However that majority vote must also total at least 35 percent of the total number of voters who went to the polls.

"STENCILING ON walls, floors and ceilings has been used in America since colonial times and peaked in interest in the late Victorian era," said Mary Temme, Wayne County extension agent-home economics.

Temme said the number of colors used and the intricacy of the design need to be considered when determining the difficulty and length of time to complete a stencil. Each color requires its own stencil.

Willpower weight control classes offered in area

"Learning Willpower for Weight Control," an eight-week class, will be offered beginning Monday, Oct. 6 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne as part of the hospital's wellness program.

The program also will be offered beginning Wednesday, Oct. 8 in the Equitable Community room in West Point.

Classes will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

"THIS PROGRAM is unique because it deals totally with our behavior. Instead of concentrating on how many pounds we lose each week," said class instructor Loretta Pallas of Pender.

"If you learn to change your behavior, your weight will change accordingly."

Pallas, a certified instructor, said the new program appealed to her because it teaches people sensible eating habits and points out the problems inherent in fad diets and quick-loss plans.

"They've proven that dieting can actually make you fatter," said Pallas, adding that starvation or extremely low calorie diets — those below 1,000 calories a day — don't get to the heart of the problem which is learning to live differently on a day-to-day basis.

PALLAS ADDED that most diet plans place the responsibility for weight loss on the plan, not the dieter.

"They promise a certain weight loss within a time frame and the dieter is rigorously monitored. But when the weight loss is achieved, the dieters haven't learned to be responsible for their own bodies and so they return to old eating patterns."

A good diet, according to Pallas, should be well-balanced with foods from the four food groups. It should have flexibility and choice, no forbidden foods, no skipped meals and no radical changes in lifestyle.

It should include an increase in physical activity level and a focus on changing eating habits.

Pallas said persons taking part in the "Learning Willpower for Weight Control" program are not weighed. "You're responsible for monitoring your own weight."

THE "LEARNING Willpower for Weight Control" class costs $90 for eight weeks and includes a binder of materials, diet and exercise diaries, calorie counters book, and audio cassette tapes as well as class instruction.

Classes will be offered again in January and April, and persons paying the fee for the first class may repeat it later at no additional cost.

3-1 record 'feels real good' - Ehrhard

Blue Devils spank West Point, 16-6

"We're 3-1 now, and believe me, it feels real good," an elated Lonnie Ehrhardt said after his Blue Devils celebrated homecoming with a 16-6 victory over arch-rival West Point at Memorial Stadium Friday night.

Three games into the '86 campaign, Wayne owned a 2-1 record, but many questioned whether the Blue Devils were as good as their 2-1 mark indicated. But Friday's victory should put to rest any concern about Wayne's abilities, according to Ehrhardt.

"We always knew the kids were capable of winning their games this year. Our main concern at the beginning of the season was getting as many of the kids involved as we could and getting one cohesive unit out on the field," Ehrhardt said. "And right now, I think we've got that because we have lots of consistency on both sides of the ball."

The Blue Devils did, indeed, turn in a fine all-around performance. But they also capitalized on several Cadet blunders in the early going.

After West Point received the opening kickoff, the visitors fumbled on the second play from scrimmage and Wayne recovered.

But the Blue Devils went only nine yards on four plays, giving the ball back to the Cadets after being held on fourth and one.

Moments later, after Wayne held West Point in check on three downs, the Blue Devils took over again by receiving a Cadet punt.

Wayne gained minimal yardage on two running plays, before a Ted Lueders bomb was picked off deep in West Point territory.

Although Lueders turned the ball over, Ehrhardt was not disappointed with the pass.

"The interception didn't bother me in any way," he said. "As a matter of fact, it was just like a punt, and it pinned them back in their own territory."

The interception turned out to be a blessing, as West Point caught the ball up again just seconds later and Wayne's Troy Wood pounced on it.

Jon Stoltenberg then galloped 18 yards to the Cadet two yard line to set up the game's first TD.

Jason Liska leveled on the Blue Devils' first attempt to reach pay dirt from the two, but Lueders followed with a pretty play to put Wayne up by six at the 2:26 mark.

Lueders received the snap and broke to his left. After several steps, he faked a pitch to Liska, which forced a Cadet defender to commit himself. The fleet-footed Lueders then took advantage of the hole, and slipped into the end zone.

Pat Coffey then split the uprights to put Wayne up by seven.

Coffey's heroics didn't stop at P.A.T.s, however, as he powered a 40-yard field goal with just over three minutes remaining in the half.

Despite pausing for intermission, the Blue Devils didn't go flat, and with 2:02 remaining in the third period opened a 16-0 lead when Liska crossed the goal line from two yards.

Stoltenberg failed to convert the two-point PAT attempt on a run/pass option play, but the Blue Devils were still in complete control.

West Point ruined Wayne's shut out when quarterback Russ Rasmus scored from five yards with 76 seconds left in the game.

Steve Lutt fumbled a Cadet ball carrier for a significant loss, however, on West Point's PAT attempt.

Surprisingly, the Cadets didn't try an onside kick after the late touchdown. Wayne took over and ran the clock down to the :13 mark before giving up the ball.

But the Blue Devils sacked Rasmus for an eight yard loss on the Cadets' first play after taking over.

Once again, Wayne's offensive production was spread out, as five Blue Devils gained positive rushing yardage and two others combined for 72 yards in receiving.

Ehrhardt discussed the importance of having such a diverse attack.

"It's certainly an asset to have so many contribute," he said. "It's nice having five capable ball carriers and as many receivers."

Ted McCright led Wayne's rushing attack with 67 yards on 17 carries; Stoltenberg followed with 48 yards on six tries, while Russ Longe totaled 41 yards on 13 totes and Lueders and Liska added 21 and 17 yards on eight and five carries, respectively.

Lueders completed 4-of-10 passes for 72 yards. Bill Landanger and Stoltenberg caught two passes apiece, finishing with 42 and 27 yards, respectively.

West Point fumbled four times, losing possession each time. Stoltenberg recovered two loose balls, while Scott Pickett joined Wood by recovering one fumble.

Bill Liska turned in another outstanding defensive effort, finishing with a team-high 15 tackles, including six unassisted stops.

James Fredrickson was close behind with 14 tackles, five of which were solos. Joel Pedersen added nine tackles for Wayne.

Other Blue Devils who finished with a significant amount of tackles include: Steve Lutt, 8; Landanger, 8; Jay Lutt, 8; Wood, 7; and Stoltenberg, 7.

Jason Liska and McCright both picked off a pass for the Blue Devils, as well.

Ehrhardt said two of his favorite statistics from the game were penalties and first downs.

"We totaled 21 first downs — 14 by rushing, five by passing and two by penalty. And they finished with 11 total first downs," he said. "We were penalized six times for 40 yards, and they were penalized 10 times for 90 yards."

The Blue Devils also held West

Point to only 158 total yards, while compiling 266 yards themselves.

Ehrhardt said a major factor in Wayne's fast start is the Blue Devils' closeness to one another.

"The kids are close to each other, and that has helped us this year," he said. "They work well together."

Wayne will attempt to go 4-1 Friday night at North Bend. The Tigers entered Friday night's game with a perfect 3-0 mark, and Ehrhardt said he expects another tough game next week.

"North Bend hasn't been beaten yet. They have a good experienced team, so we're counting on another tough football game."

WAYNE DOWNED West Point 16-6 Friday night. Action from the game includes: (clockwise) Wayne's Joel Pederson (No. 61) and Troy Wood (No. 52) prepare to join teammates scrambling for a fumble. West Point coughed the ball up twice in the first quarter, Russell Longe (No. 30) spots an opening in the offensive line and explodes to the hole; Ted Lueders (No. 12) barks an audible prior to the snap. Lueders scored Wayne's first touchdown.

Allen wins, 30-28

WALTHILL — A late goal line stand preserved Allen's first victory of the '86 campaign as the Eagles claimed a thrilling 30-28 victory over Walthill here Friday night.

After Jyoti Kwankin scored Allen's final touchdown with just over five minutes remaining in the game, Walthill took the ensuing kickoff and drove the length of the field deep into Eagle territory.

The Bluejays got within one yard of scoring the winning touchdown, but Allen's defense wouldn't budge and refused to give up that all important yard, holding Walthill on a fourth-and-one situation.

"The offense really came through when we needed it, and the defense came through when we needed it," Allen head coach Dave Uldrich said. "They really hung tough on that last Walthill drive," the Eagle skipper added, referring to Allen's goal line stand.

Allen lost a foot on its first play from scrimmage after holding Walthill, but Max Oswald hit Kurt Lund with a 15-yard gainer to supply the visitors with breathing room.

Kwankin's fourth quarter touchdown supplied Allen with its first lead of the game, and capped a splendid performance by the fleet-footed senior.

Walthill had a hand in four of the Eagles' five touchdowns, finishing with 17 rushing yards in 23 carries, plus a kickoff 70 yards to pay dirt and threw a 15-yard touchdown pass.

Kwankin's first TD was the 70 yard return, which pulled Eagles within eight, 14-6. He then scored his second touchdown of the first period when he crossed the goal line from one yard.

Oswald hit Lund with a nine-yard touchdown pass in the second stanza to make the score 20-18 at intermission.

Walthill opened the second half with a TD to increase its lead to eight, 26-18. But Kwankin hit Oswald with a 15-yard halfback touchdown pass later in the quarter to pull the Eagles back within two.

Kwankin then scored his game-winner in the fourth period on the 20-yard gallop.

Allen gave Walthill a safety at the end of the game, just after freshman Rusty Dickens picked off a Bluejay aerial to ice the game with 10 ticks remaining on the game clock.

Despite Kwankin's impressive performance, Uldrich said the win was by no means a one man show.

"All 19 players had a hand in this one," he said. "It took a total team effort to win."

Oswald finished 7-for-12 for 62 yards and the touchdown, while Kwankin completed his only aerial to Oswald for the 15-yard TD.

Much, if not all, of the offensive success can be credited to the Eagles' offensive linemen. Those include Craig Hoffman, Dave Isom, Trevis Schroeder, Robb Sullivan, Mark Isom, Dickens and Lund.

Sullivan also turned in an outstanding defensive effort, finishing with a team-high 19 tackles. Mark Isom was close behind with 18 stops, while Dave Isom totaled 16 and Jeff Gotch finished with 14 and one interception.

Bears capture first victory of '86

Strong second quarter boosts Laurel

EMERSON — A fruitful second quarter in which Laurel posted 70 points allowed the Bears to claim their first victory of the '86 campaign — a 34-6 verdict over Emerson Hubbard here Friday night.

Laurel dominated the first half and started making a drive for the game's first touchdown late in the first period.

The Bears got inside the five yard line when the first quarter gun sounded. Brent Haisch then crossed the goal line on the first play of the second stanza and Philipp Von Gruenberg, a foreign exchange student from East Germany, followed with a PAT to supply the visitors with a 7-0 lead.

Laurel scored two more touchdowns before intermission. Quarterback Scott Marquardt scored the Bears' second touchdown on a five-yard run and Von Gruenberg added another PAT boot.

Laurel then closed out the first half's scoring on a 30-yard touchdown pass from Marquardt to Joey Cunningham.

Hamilton said ball control was the key to the successful first half.

"It just seemed like we had the ball all the time in the first half," he said. "We really didn't have long time consuming drives, but always had good field position and forced them to punt a lot."

The Bears went to the lockerroom in complete control, but didn't let up in the third quarter as Steve Schmitt returned the second half's opening kickoff 80 yards to pay dirt and Von Gruenberg added a PAT to give Laurel a 27-0 lead.

"That was a great feeling — watching Steve return that kick," Laurel head coach Gale Hamilton said. "That really put us in control."

But Emerson refused to roll over and pulled within 11, 27-16, by scoring eight points in each of the third and fourth quarters.

Hamilton gave Emerson credit for not giving up and for taking advantage of some of Laurel's defensive breakdowns.

"I have to give Emerson a lot of credit. They didn't quit, and that says something about them," he said. "They also found a couple of weaknesses in our defense and did a good job of exploiting them."

But Emerson's hopes of a dramatic come from behind victory were ruined when Haisch rambled 45 yards to set up the final touchdown of the game — a six yard run by Haisch.

"That was a very big play, because there was still about five minutes left in the game," Hamilton said. "But Brent got around to the outside, and just missed breaking it all the way."

Haisch turned in an outstanding performance, gaining 154 yards on 17 carries and scoring the two touchdowns.

Brad Prescott finished with 63 yards on 10 carries, and Marquardt completed 2-of-5 passes for 35 yards. Both receptions were by Cunningham.

Defensively, Paul Roeder led the Bears with 15 tackles, including six unassisted. Randy Sherry followed with 14 stops, including nine solos, while Schmitt and freshman Matt Jonas both picked off a pass.

Hamilton said he hopes the victory will be the start of something big and will supply the Bears with confidence.

"I hope this is a spring board for us," he said. "Now the kids know they can play some defense, and know they can score a lot of points."

Laurel will attempt to capture its second victory Friday night when Osmond invades the Bears' field.

Hamilton said his club should be motivated to play next week.

"It's our homecoming, and the guys should be fired-up after losing to Osmond in double overtime last year," he said.

Laurel lost last year's game, 23-21.

First-ranked Coleridge deals Winside 49-0 loss

COLERIDGE — Coleridge lived up to its No. 1 ranking in Class D-2 by pounding Winside 49-0 here Friday night.

Coleridge held a 20-0 lead in the first quarter before exiting to the lockerroom with a commanding 43-0 advantage at intermission.

The Bulldogs tallied their final six points in the last quarter.

Winside head coach Rich Touney had nothing but praise for Coleridge.

"The thing that impressed me most about Coleridge was their backs. When they decide they're going to run with the ball, they hit the hole at full speed and don't shy away from anybody," he said.

Touney added, however, that the Bulldogs' talent "doesn't stop at the back positions."

"Most of their kids are 170 to 190 pounds, and six foot or better, so that makes for a pretty good athlete," he said. "They have a lot of speed, and their defense is as equally tough as their offense — they take no prisoners."

Touney said his Wildcats failed to penetrate inside the Coleridge 10 yard line. Winside totaled 110 rushing yards and 12 passing yards.

Randy Leapley led Winside's offensive attack with 50 yards, while Doug Paulsen totaled 40.

Defensively, Leapley, Steve Jorgensen and Daryl Mundell all totaled six tackles apiece. Mundell also picked-off two Bulldog passes.

Touney said another factor to Col-eridge's success is a tradition factor.

"There's a lot of tradition there. They've had some good teams over the past years and they certainly aren't down this year," he said.

The Wildcats play again Friday night when they host Wause for homecoming.

"Paying for my boy's protection is worth it!

My son means a lot to me. That's why I have rollover protection and safety belts on my tractors."

Lady Wildcats improve record to 14-11 with wins over District 11 foes

Wayne State's volleyball swept St. Mary's and Bellevue in college volleyball action Thursday night.

After downing St. Mary's 15-12, 15-6, the Lady Wildcats—trimmed Bellevue 15-7, 18-16.

Angle Wilbur, only a freshman, turned in a fine serving performance for the Lady Wildcats going 15-for-15 and scoring 11 points.

Marilyn Strate, Wayne State's head coach, discussed Wilbur's effort.

"Angle did a super job of coming off the bench to serve and play back row," Strate said.

Missy Stoltenberg led the Lady Wildcats in scoring with 13 points. She also totaled 20 digs.

Other impressive statistics by Wayne State players during the two matches include: Jeanelle Moline, 19 setting assists; Colette Frevert, 19-for-20 in setting, including 10 assists; Shelle Tomaszewicz, 10 kills; Meg Hurley, two solo blocks and five assisted blocks.

Strate said she was impressed with her club's mental preparation, especially before the St. Mary's match.

"We came out mentally ready to play volleyball and were ready to do whatever it took to beat St. Mary's," she said. "St. Mary's is a tough serving team and had beaten Kearney State in a two-game match earlier in the week, but we played consistently well and together as a team."

The Lady Wildcats also claimed a sweep Tuesday, defeating Nebraska Wesleyan 15-5, 17-15 and Peru State 13-15, 15-4, 15-11 at Rice Auditorium. Strate said she was impressed with her club's offense performance. In Tuesday's matching, adding that the Lady Wildcat offense may be their most valuable asset.

"We exhibited our strong offense against both Peru and Wesleyan. We have some outstanding hitters on our squad, so if we serve, pass and set consistently we can over-power many of the teams we play in Nebraska," she said.

Moline finished with 17 points and 27 assists, while Diana Asay scored 16 markers, totaled 18 kills, four blocks and 23 digs.

Stoltenberg tallied 13 points and finished with 19 digs and four blocks, while Tomaszewicz totaled 10 kills and four blocks and Meg Hurley finished with 14 kills and six blocks.

Strate said the Lady Wildcats are gradually improving as the season progresses.

"We are steadily improving. This week we won all four District 11 matches we competed in," she said. "Some of the matches we lost earlier in the season were our own fault—due to our own mistakes."

The Lady Wildcats play again Oct. 3-4 at the Central States Intercollegiate Conference Round Robin Tournament. The Lady Wildcats open with Missouri Western.

Missouri Southern, which is 19-1 so far this year, is the tourney's favorite.

The Lady Wildcats are 14-11 overall, but after a sluggish 2-4 start have won 12 of their last 17 matches.

Strate said she enjoys watching her squad play, and added that others would, too.

"I like to see us play the best possible ball we're capable of. I think anyone watching us play will see that the girls love volleyball and have fun playing the game. And that's important."

WAKEFIELD'S Scott Lund (No. 38) totaled three tackles Friday night against Bancroft.

Second half sinks Trojans

Wakefield falls to No. 1 Bancroft

WAKEFIELD — "Bancroft knew they were in a game, and they knew they had to play well or they'd lose," Wakefield head coach Dennis Wilbur said after his Trojans dropped a misleading 42-16 decision to the No. 1 ranked Panthers here Friday night.

The entire first half was close as Bancroft held a 5-0 lead at intermission. But second half fumbles led to the Trojan defeat.

Wakefield received the second half kickoff, but fumbled the ball away and six plays later, the Panthers opened a 28-16 lead and never looked back.

The Trojans lost the ball four times on fumbles, including one inside the Bancroft five yard line, and were penalized seven times for 70 yards.

Those two factors made most of the difference in the game, according to Wilbur.

"We fumbled too many times. That, along with the penalties, really killed us," he said. "But I tell ya, the kids never gave up, and they played their hearts out."

The Trojans trailed 14-0 before Brad Lund crossed the goal line from two yards out in the first period. Todd Kraike then hit Kevin Greve with a two-yard PAT to cut Bancroft's lead in half.

The Panthers came right back with another TD to open the second quarter, but Kraike and Bruce Bartels hooked up for a 19-yard touchdown pass and Kraike added a two-point PAT to make the score 20-16 at intermission.

Lund totaled 70 yards in 19 carries to lead Wakefield's offense. Randy Kinney and Kraike added 61 and 27 yards on nine and seven carries, respectively.

Kraike completed 3 of 5 passes for 49 yards. Bartels caught two aeriels for 47 yards, while Greve had one reception for two yards.

Greve injured his back when he made the catch and was admitted to the hospital. Wilbur said later Friday night, however, that the 170 pound senior was released and should play in next week's game against Allen.

Bancroft's Brent Gatzemeyer gained 117 yards on 29 carries, while teammate Brent Tietz totaled 42 yards on 12 tries and his twin brother, Brian, finished with 46 yards on 14 totes.

Jon Cerny, Bancroft's head coach, reportedly told Wilbur after the game that the 117 rushing yards was Gatzemeyer's lowest total in two years.

Tony Halverson and Jody Navrkal both recovered fumbles for Wakefield. Wakefield's tackling charts were only kept during the second half, but Halverson still totaled 19 tackles during that time, while Craig Anderson finished with nine. Lund totaled eight and Greve added seven.

Other leading tacklers for Wakefield include: Navrkal, 5; Colby Meyer, 4; John Wriedt, 3; Scott Lund, 3; and Mike Nelson, 2.

WAYNE STATE'S Nate Fontenelle (No. 6) receives congratulations from teammates. The lady Wildcats captured four victories over District-11 opponents last week to improve their record to 14-11.

Winside trims Stanton in three sets

WINSIDE — Winside evened its record at 3-3 with a 15-6, 13-15, 15-10 victory over Stanton here Thursday night.

After capturing the first set with relative ease, the Lady Wildcats struggled in the next two frames, ac-ording to head coach Jill Stenwall. The Winside skipper added that a lack of communication was a problem during the final two sets.

"We really struggled most of the night, and most of the reason is because we didn't communicate,"

she said. "We have a communication problem, and we're going to have to keep working on it and get it improved."

Lori Jensen led Winside with 11 points, and her serving during the final two sets drew praise from Stenwall.

"We started slow in both the second and third sets, but our serving got us back into it," she said. "Lori especially did a good job of serving."

Tricia Hartman followed Jensen with 10 points and Christi Thies added nine markers.

Winside turned in a varied, hitting performance, as three Lady Wildcats finished in double figures with good spikes.

Tracy Topp led Winside's hitters with a 19-for-22 performance and three kills, while Ann Melehenry went 13-for-14 with one kill and Thies finished 11-for-14 with one ace.

Junior setter Cher Olson finished 59-for-66 for the Lady Wildcats.

Winside's 'B' team claimed a 15-10, 15-9 triumph, but the Lady Wildcat 'C' team dropped a 1-11, 5-11 decision.

Dawn Book and Michelle Thies led Winside's 'B' team with 10 and seven points, respectively, while Mari Neuvonen, a foreign exchange student from Finland, led the Lady Wildcat 'C' team with three markers.

Winside will attempt to top the 500 mark Thursday night when the Lady Wildcats host Coleridge.

Winside beat Coleridge earlier in the year at the Winside Tournament, but Stenwall isn't taking the Chargers lightly.

"We beat them earlier this year, but that doesn't mean anything now," she said. "They're a hustling team, so we'll have to be ready to play."

WAYNE FRESHMAN quarterback Brian Moore (No. 15) looks for an open receiver. Moore threw a touchdown pass in Wayne's victory over Schuyler.

Wayne's freshmen up mark to 3-0

SCHUYLER — A late goal-line stand allowed Wayne's freshman football team a hard-fought 18-12 victory over Schuyler here Thursday afternoon.

With the Blue Devils owning an 18-12 lead, Schuyler took possession of the ball midway through the fourth quarter and drove to the Wayne five yard line for a first and goal situation.

But the Blue Devils held, eventually regaining ball possession and hung on for the triumph.

It initially appeared as though Wayne might be in for a long day as Schuyler received the opening kickoff and drove the length of the field with relative ease to score the game's first touchdown.

But the Blue Devils came right back and also scored on their first possession. Mike Hillier failed the tying touchdown when he reached pay dirt from one yard out.

Wayne dominated much of the first half, and scored two more touchdowns in the second quarter.

Matt Peterson caught a seven-yard touchdown pass from Brian Moore for Wayne's second touchdown and Hillier added a 10-yard touchdown run later in the quarter to supply the visitors with an 18-6 halftime lead.

The second half was an opposite of the first as Schuyler did most of the dominating.

Wayne received the second half kickoff, but was forced to punt and Schuyler scored just minutes later to pull within six. Schuyler failed, however, to cross the goal line in the fourth quarter.

Hillier totaled 74 yards on 11 carries, while Willy Gross finished with 37 yards and Peterson added 23.

Moore completed 2-of-8 passes, both of which were caught by Peterson.

Kip Mau turned in an outstanding defensive performance for Wayne, finishing with a team-high 16 tackles and rams Blomkamp, Wayne's coach, discussed his middle linebacker's defensive effort.

"Schuyler's freshman football team is a lot like the Schuyler senior team in that they put a lot of pressure on the outside," he said. "But we did a good job of closing Schuyler in and Kip always seemed to be there for the tackle."

Gross and Greg DeNaeyer both followed Mau with eight tackles apiece, and Hillier added seven stops.

In addition to Mau, Moore and Jess Thompson also recovered fumbles for the Blue Devils.

"The kids played really hard. We did a good job, especially the defense," Blomkamp said.

The 3-0 Blue Devils play again Thursday when Battle Creek travels to town.

Cavill named defensive player of week

Greg Cavill of Wayne State has been named the defensive player of the week in the CSIC for his contributions Saturday as the Wildcats defeated Southwest State 10-3.

Cavill, a 6-1, 205-pound junior linebacker from Greendale, Wis., has 12 total tackles, including 10 unassisted stops. He was also credited with a quarterback sack for a loss of four yards and had one interception.

On the day, the Wildcat defense yielded 160 yards of total offense to the Mustangs. Southwest finished 22 yards rushing and had 88 yards through the air.

Cavill's award is the first for a Wildcat since the 1984 season. Wayne State is now 2-1 on the year.

Eric Hoskins of Missouri Western State College has been selected as the CSIC's offensive player of the week for his efforts Saturday as the Griffons defeated Northwest Missouri State University 27-26.

Hoskins, a 5-11, 156-pound junior flanker from Kansas City, Mo., caught four passes for 114 yards and scored one touchdown. The touchdown came on an 85-yard pass that tied an MWSC school record and gave the Griffons a 20-15 lead.

With one minute remaining in the game, Hoskins returned a punt 51 yards to set up the winning touchdown run by Pat Eckhardt with four seconds remaining.

On the afternoon, Hoskins returned two kickoffs for 26 yards and two punts for 62 yards.

Priegnitz sparks Wayne State

Wildcat junior varisty blank Midland 13-0

Whether it be with a baseball or football, Mark Priegnitz gets the job done.

Priegnitz, a junior on the Wildcat football team and last year's reliever for Wayne State's baseball team, threw for 295 yards and two touchdowns as the Wayne State junior varsity defeated Midland 13-0 Sept. 22.

Priegnitz completed 17 of 38 passes in his first start, including a 65-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Hagadorn and a 60-yard touchdown to John Pezdritz. Hagadorn led all receivers with 87 yards, while Pezdritz had 81 yards.

Stern Douglas led the Wildcats' rushing attack, gaining 44 yards in nine attempts. Tony Caniglia added 18 rushing yards and caught four passes for 24 yards.

The Wayne State defense held

Midland to just 113 yards rushing in 55 attempts and 31 yards passing on just three completions. Chris Matzen had a 23-yard interception and Lance Beasley added a 12-yard interception for the Wildcats.

The Wayne State junior varsity is now 1-0 on the season and plays Doane Sept. 29 in David City.

Hunting/Fishing Day Sept. 27

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, will mark the 15th annual observance of National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHF). National Hunting and Fishing Day started by decree of the President at request of Congress in 1972 as a means of recognizing the many contributions of hunters and fishermen to conservation. The 1986 NHF Day honorary chairman is legendary Kansas City third baseman George Brett, who enjoys hunting and fishing when he's not on the baseball field.

Trojans

The four lost fumbles and the 70 yards in penalties naturally hindered Wakefield, but Wilbur praised Bancroft's overall speed and size.

"They caught Lund and Kinney on break aways, so that says something about their speed," The Trojan skipper said. "And their line was just so huge that we couldn't do much against it in the second half."

But Wilbur was quick to praise his club's hard-hitting and their gutsy attitude.

"You normally get a few kids banged up, but there was a lot of hitting in this game, and Jon (Carmy) told me he thought his kids might've gotten the worst of it although they won," Wilbur said. "Our guys never gave up. I think Bancroft was a little surprised they had such a tough game, but I wasn't."

Wakefield...now 2-2...plays again Saturday night at Allen. The game was originally scheduled for Friday night but was changed this week.
