State erosion plan reviewed in Wayne

by Chuck Hackenmiller
Whatever agricultural strengths Nebraska possesses is diminished somewhat by a detriment that this area has faced for many years.
This area, in particular the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District, leads the state in soil erosion.
The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District (NRD) includes all of Wayne County, Pierce County, Cuming County, Stanton County; nearly all of Madison County; and portions of Knox County, Cedar County, Dixon County, Dakota County,
Thurston County, Burr County, Dodge County, Colfax County and Platte County.
About 40 individuals attended a public meeting Thursday evening at Wayne State College that focused on excessive soil and wind erosion and offered an explanation of the State Erosion and Sediment Control program.
Conducting the meeting were Dayle E. Williamson, Nebraska's director of Natural Resources; Jim Cook of the Nebraska Natural Resource Commission; and Vernon K. Vrana, chief of the planning division of the Natural Resources Commission.

WILLIAMSON MAKES a point during the public meeting. Photograph by Chuck Hackenmiller

ALSO SPEAKING was Larry Wefterberg of Carroll, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Wayne.
"Two-thirds of our land [in the Wayne County district] is not being treated adequately," Wefterberg said. Williamson, in his opening remarks at the public meeting, said
the dollars lost because of excessive erosion in Nebraska is estimated at $140 million.
Much of the discussion at the public meeting centered around the draft for the State Erosion and Control Program, in accordance with the Erosion and Sediment Control Act which is part of LB 474 that was passed by the Nebraska Legislature earlier this year.

Nebraska has joined more than 20
other states who have passed legislation to control excessive erosion problems, Williamson told the audience.
Terms of LB 474 allow individuals and governmental entities who believe their property has been damaged by sediment (from neighboring property, but not necessarily adjacent property) to file complaints with their local resources district.

Along with the complaint process
built into LB 474, it also seeks initiative efforts to promote conservation through state and local programs, said Cook. "All with the objective of eliminating excessive erosion."
Cook said that before a complaint can be filed and investigated, two things must be existing for a violation.
"First, there has to be sediment damage. Second, there has to be excessive erosion," he told the audience.

BELOW IS HOW the complaint process on agricultural land is done.
"Soil erosion results in sediment damage on neighboring property and a complaint is filed with the local NRD. A notice of the complaint is given to the alleged offender and an NRD inspection follows.
These complaints may be registered by any owner or operator being damaged by sediment, by any state agency or political subdivision whose roads or other public facilities are being damaged by sediment, by any state agency or political subdivision with responsibility for water quality maintenance, or by a natural resources district representative.

"After the inspection, it could be viewed that damage is not apparent and the case is closed. Or, if it is decided there is damage evident and the complaint is accepted by the NRD, a notice is sent to the alleged offender and there is a technical determination of soil loss using the Universal Soil Loss Equation (which takes into consideration factors such as rainfall, soil erodibility, slope length, slope grade, crop management and erosion control practices) or the Wind Erosion Equation.
"The calculations could determine soil loss as less than the limit and the case is closed. Or, the soil loss is determined as greater than the acceptable limits. The offender, in this instance, is given an opportunity for a hearing if the offender refuses to comply with the order to adopt new management practices and/or install conservation practices to reduce erosion to a tolerable level.
If there is voluntary compliance,
the case is closed.
"Following the hearing, the NRD could determine there is no violation and the case is closed. If there is a violation, there is an administrative order issued to comply with a conservation plan. Should the offender refuse, the offender can take his case to the district court and appeal all the way to the supreme court.
HOWEVER, the state Department of Natural Resources believes the complaint process isn't enough to stop the excessive erosion in Nebraska. Treatment goals have been developed for the recently-completed soil and water conservation strategy.

By the year 2010, the state goal is to complete 80 percent of the remaining treatment (of excessive erosion).
That amount would result in about 22 percent of all Nebraska agricultural land in the state protected.
The year 2025 has been established as the goal for reducing soil losses on all lands. It would cost an estimated $750 million to accomplish the total treatment.
Vrana outlined the action plan to help realize the state goals. Those actions include strengthening public information; strengthening conservation instruction in schools; promoting soil stewardship; targeting research activities; providing for additional incentives for conservation;
enacting the regulatory authority;
management of state-owned land;
and inter-agency coordination.
VRANA POINTED out that of the nearly 20 million acres of non-irrigated-irrigated cropland in Nebraska, some 7 million acres need erosion control.
Wayne County's soil T-Value (tolerance value, which describes an amount the topsoil can lose, and still be able to replenish) averages about a five ton loss per acre each year.
In the county, about 75,000 acres
fall under the 5 ton per acre per year T-Value. Some 35,000 acres are between the T-Value level of 5 tons and 10 tons. Currently, 107,000 acres are rated greater than the 10 tons of soil loss per acre each year, which is more than can be replenished.
In the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District, less than T-Value is recorded on 839,000 total acres, with 376,000 acres at the T-Value average of between 5 to 10 tons per acre of soil loss annually. Up to 775,000 acres in the resource district

WSC contracts for new computer system

by Chuck Hackenmiller
Negotiations concluded last week and the Board of Trustees of Nebraska State Colleges have given final agreement for the acceptance of two bids for new computer hardware and software at Wayne State College of Nebraska.
Earlier, in September, the board of trustees had approved a request made by Wayne State College representatives to purchase a new computer system. The approval permitted the college officials to negotiate a contract with bidders for the suppliers of the computer hardware and software.
The new computer system will be used by the administration of Wayne
State and not for instructional usage.
Wayne State College has entered into two contracts — one with Digital Equipment Corporation of Arlington Heights, Illinois for the hardware and the other bid of software from Information Associates, Inc. of Rochester, New York.
John Struve, vice president of finance at Wayne State College, said Digital Equipment Corporation's hardware cost was negotiated at $208,409. Contained in the bid is the main central processing unit, all related peripheral devices, printers and about 35 terminals.

Struve said the software costs from Information Associates, Inc. was $145,000. The software includes a consolidated package used for handling admissions, performing registration functions, assisting in class scheduling and it also ties in with the financial aid department to show what packages to students are available.
Billing functions of the college will also be fed into the new computer system.
"This will provide for a far more effective operation in terms of accuracy and response time," said Struve.
"A lot of manual transactions that we deal with will now be automated,"
he added.
State College Board of Trustee member J. Alan Cramer of Wayne said he considered the purchase of the computer system as a "landmark decision."
"Many colleges are looking into this type of computer purchasing and will be monitoring Wayne State closely," he mentioned. These colleges will benefit from the information gained

on the experiences of Wayne State College in the areas of bidding negotiations and the operation of the new college computer system.
WSC PRESIDENT Dr. Thomas Coffey said Wayne State is the first state college in Nebraska to gain this type of computer system. Currently, the college is operating on separate data bases that include over 500 programs.
"There was no way to interrelate," Coffey said.
The new system will have one data base that can contain information which will be far more efficient.
On that same data base, the college can program information on students on up to their alumni status in future years.
"The total amount budgeted for the purchase of the new computer system, according to Struve, is approximately $659,000. Cost of the hardware and software will total nearly $353,000. Struve said the remaining costs take in the cost for financing of the computer system;
the training of personnel; and the cost for maintenance of the new computer system. The total cost is spread over a four year period, according to Struve.

PURCHASE OF the new computer system is "being done with existing appropriations from the legislature," he said.
"No additional funding is being planned on from the legislature," Struve added.
Struve said there is also a federal grant (Title III) involved in the computer system purchase. The federal grant will finance approximately $92,000 of what has been budgeted for the new system.
The existing contract with the current computer system will expire in June of next year, according to Struve. The present computer system has been used for the past seven years at Wayne State College.
Parts of the new computer system should be delivered to Wayne State next month. Operation of the new system should begin in July of 1987, Struve said.
"Prior to that, there will be extensive training of personnel and testing," Struve said.
He said that if all goes as planned,
there should be a smooth transition from the previous system to the new system in July of next year.

Wildcat homecoming events this week

A dozen students are vying for Homecoming royalty at Wayne State College of Nebraska.
The homecoming king and queen will be chosen from among 12 juniors and seniors (six men and six women)
by a vote of the student body on Oct.
13 and 14. The students were chosen by a student senate committee after interviewing 64 nominees from various campus organizations.
Women nominated for homecoming queen are Julie Boden, Sioux City, Iowa; Michelle Hansen, Omaha;
Karen Rutar, Omaha; Mary
Thomsen, Rockford, Iowa; Paula Tippary, Walthill; and Robin Young, Omaha.
Men nominated for homecoming
king are Bryon Borsall, Burwell;
Brian Hass, Beatrice; Ronald Holt,

Jr., Omaha; Brian Johnson, Newcastle; Mike McMorrow, Omaha; and Ting Ho Kiu, Malaysia.
The homecoming coronation is at 9 p.m. on Oct. 15 (Wednesday) in Ramsey Theatre in the Val Pelefsen Fine Arts Center.
Homecoming will culminate on Oct. 18 (Saturday) with the football game (Wayne State against Washburn), with pre-game ceremonies to begin at 7 p.m. at Memorial Stadium, and the student dance that begins at 9 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.
This year's theme for Homecoming Wildcat Days is
"Wildcats Wish Upon A Star," featuring Disney characters.
The celebration kicks off Sunday
(Oct. 12) with a volleyball tournament at Rice Auditorium from 1-5 p.m. Skills will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 13, in the Ley Theatre.
On Tuesday (Oct. 14), a mini-

Disney World will form at the Hahn Administration Building parking lot,
See HOMECOMING, page 10
Lions plan 'service day'
The Wayne Area Lions Club will be participating in the "World Day of Service" again on Saturday, Oct. 18 and Sunday, Oct. 19.
Lion Club members will be performing various tasks for Wayne residents who are unable to perform the work for themselves. Such items as cleaning the yard or garden, cleaning gutters, replacing storm windows, sealing windows with plastic, door or window repair, or trimming trees or bushes.
All permanent materials must be provided by the resident. Ladders, hammers, rakes and other hand tools will be provided by the Lions Club members. The tasks should be limited to one or two hours for each participant.
If you know of someone or desire the service for yourself, please call Lion members Charles Amlar at 375-3549 or Stan Hansan at 375-3878.
There is no charge for any of these services.

Training sessions

Demonstrations and training sessions covering the content and use of NLSIS (the Nebraska Legislative Shared Information System) will take place in several locations across the state during the month of October, including at Wayne on Oct. 30, 2 p.m. in the North Dining Room of the Wayne State College Student Center.

Information available to the general public through NLSIS subscriptions includes:

Statutes — the full text of Nebraska's statutes, constitution and uniform commercial code; Introduced bills — the full text of the bills and constitutional amendments for the current legislative session; Attorney General Opinions — the full text of all opinions written from 1977 to the present; Final Reading Bills — the full text of the current version of all bills on final reading in the current sessions; Hearing Schedule — a weekly schedule of legislative bills and constitutional amendments, public hearings and confirmation hearings for gubernatorial appointments; Worksheet — a status report of each legislative bill and constitutional amendment resolution before the legislature; Speaker's Agenda — a schedule of the next day's legislative activities; Interim Hearing Schedule — the interim study hearing schedule; Bill Status — a chronology of the actions taken on each legislative bill and resolution; Summary Sheet — a summary of bill actions for each legislative day; and Fastrack — a program to allow tracking the progress of a select group of bills.

Anyone interested in attending one of these information seminars should contact Marcia Stewart, Pat Hammond or Roni Bowmaster at (402) 471-2221 by Oct. 9, 1986 to register.

Live concert

In October, Public Radio KWIT, FM 90 presents live performers, various pre-recorded concerts and Sioux City jazz groups on its programs of regional performers, underwritten in part by the Iowa Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts.

On Thursday, Oct. 23 at 8 p.m., a live performance by A Touch of Brass, featuring Wayne area musicians, will be on KWIT FM 90.

Resolution on LB 662

The Nebraska Association of County Superintendents, feeling that the educational system of the state of Nebraska should not be disrupted, have recently gone on record for the repeal of LB 662 (Referendum 400) as presented on the ballot at the general election on Nov. 4.

Boosalis headquarters

The Wayne County Boosalis for Governor headquarters opened this past week at 214 Main in Wayne.

In addition to being the focus of local campaigning activity, the headquarters aims to provide information about Mrs. Boosalis to anyone interested. It is staffed by local volunteers of the Boosalis election campaign.

Anyone desiring further information about the headquarters or who would be interested in helping the Boosalis campaign effort can contact Wayne County Democrats Chairman Dr. J.S. Johar at 375-3844 or Students for Boosalis Coordinator Phil Reinhardt at 375-2680.

"Born Yesterday" staged

"Born Yesterday," the first stage production of the school year at Wayne State College of Nebraska, is about the education of Billie Dawn. Billie Dawn learns from Paul Verrall, her instructor, about corruption in her work and how her lover and keeper, Harry Brock, manipulates the people around her.

Billie Dawn learns this on stage Oct. 11-14 in Wayne State's Ramsey Theatre. "Born Yesterday," a comedy-drama set in 1945 in Washington, D.C., will be performed at 8 p.m. Oct. 11, 13 and 14 and at 2 p.m. Oct. 12. Admission is $3 for adults and children. Wayne State students and staff are admitted free.

The play is directed by Dr. Andre Sedriks, associate professor of theatre.

Kearney State College sorority pledges include Penny Paige, Alpha Phi. Kearney State College fraternity members include Layne Leuders of Wayne, Pi Kappa Alpha.

weekly gleanings

THE OLD Madison County Courthouse was condemned as a nuisance by the Madison city council during a meeting last week, and the owner will have until Nov. 15 to eliminate the nuisance.

SONYA KUHLE and Shawn Albin were named Plainview High School royalty during homecoming ceremonies last Friday. The 1986 queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kuhl. The king is the son of Sherry Albin, and the late Kenneth Albin.

CONSTRUCTION crews have commenced work replacing the bridge on "old 99" north of Pierce near Kollerman Equipment. Work on the project is expected to take some time, and if winter weather should set in residents north of Pierce could be traveling the detours one mile west or east of old 99 for some time.

THE STANTON Community School's Marching Mustang band received a superior rating at the 45th annual Harvest of Harmony Field Competition held Oct. 4 in Grand Island.

HAROLD Korth Sr. of Randolph returned to the championship in the open class of the State Hand Cornhusking Contest held last weekend. Korth won the state championship by ending the 30 minutes of hand husking with 670 pounds of corn at a farm near Heartwell. Korth also won the state title in 1984 and 1982. He was a runner-up in the National Contest in 1984, and placed third in 1978 and fourth in 1982.

THE WELCOME IN opened Oct. 1 in Laurel under the management of Bob and Julie Kastrop. The Kastrops are presently operating the business for Jean Dougherty Gadeken, but plan to finalize purchase of the business and inventory when negotiations and licensing requirements can be completed around Nov. 1. Bob is a Laurel native and Julie is originally from Hartington.

Lifestyle programs started

Exercise time began again Monday morning for about 40 people participating in Ralph Barclay's Lifestyle Improvement Program. Most of them returned from last year's program.

Others are welcome to join the 9 a.m. Monday-Wednesday-Friday sessions in Rice Gymnasium at Wayne State College. They last an hour.

Barclay said people of all ages can take part in the activities. Ages last year ranged from about 40 to over 80, though most were older people who could attend in the morning.

There is no cost, except for a physician's medical examination, and that could be covered by insurance, Barclay said.

There are four kinds of exercise offered: walking games in the gym, aerobics, weight training, and a water program which Barclay calls aquatics. The latter is exercise in the swimming pool, but it is not swimming.

"And you can spell it any way you want," Barclay noted.

Participants can switch among the four programs at any time, and they can have their performance checked for improvement.

Anybody interested in joining or just observing—the exercise program can come any Monday, Wednesday or Friday from 9 to 10 to get more information, Barclay said.

On ethanol programs

Report a 'slap in face'

by U.S. Senator Jim Exon
The recently released U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) report entitled "The Fuel Ethanol and Agricultural Economic Assessment Report" is another slap in the face to America's farmer. Make no mistake about it, this report is not in tune with America's agriculture or our national energy goals.

The report is based on faulty assumptions that contradict the goal of increasing demand for agricultural products. It is disappointing that the USDA intends to disrupt the development of ethanol in the United States.

The USDA report claims that ethanol programs are not cost effective. Not so. A 1985 study conducted at Purdue University found that ethanol programs saved the federal government $227 million. Aiding the development of the ethanol industry now will be worthwhile for the nation in the long run.

The report fails to recognize the valuable contribution ethanol has made toward lessening the United States' dependency on foreign oil. Instead the USDA report concludes it would be more economical to increase farmer subsidies and eliminate the ethanol programs.

Farmers don't want a handout as the USDA report implies; farmers want a fair price in the market. Undercutting the ethanol industry by eliminating programs would be a step backwards especially when we are looking for markets to buy agricultural products.

Ethanol is a bargain for America, but like agriculture, it is being challenged by federal bureaucrats, not by technical problems or environmental concerns.

The federal government should promote the unification of the ethanol and agricultural industries. The ethanol industry is more than just a good market for U.S. farmers; it is a sound investment for America, a hedge against OPEC domination.

The one positive item of the report is that it correctly states the ethanol production raises net farm income. It also correctly states that ethanol is an excellent octane enhancer for gasoline. Both are true statements and carry great weight; yet the USDA report even tries to disregard these important facts.

The basic foundation of our economy is agriculture, but our country is driven by carburetors. In that sense, agriculture and ethanol are important ingredients to our national defense.

Soil savers

The following was taken from the Soil and Water Conservation Strategy report which was discussed during a public meeting on the proposal Thursday night at Wayne State College. We endorse its philosophy wholeheartedly.

"Nebraska is blessed with abundant soil and water resources. These natural resources have been developed and used by industrious people during the state's brief history to make Nebraska a leader in agriculture production. This progress and success, however, has come at the expense of resource depletion.

They [early settlers] saw endless prairie, and recognized the promise which the state's land held for agriculture...By the turn of the century, hardy pioneers had plowed nearly 15 million acres of virgin prairie. Federal settlement programs and the demand for grain increased cultivated acreage to over 20 million acres by the end of World War I.

With the depression and drought of the 1930's came a realization that 'a lotta this land shoulda never been plowed up.' Half of the organically rich layer of topsoil had washed or blown away in one lifetime...

About 60 percent of the agriculture land in the state is now adequately protected — all on a voluntary basis. The lands on which soil continues to erode excessively, irrigation water is wasted or range and pasture are not properly grazed are the focus of the Soil and Water Conservation Strategy.

The Strategy respects private property rights, but it also acknowledges that occasionally a part of those rights need to be sacrificed for the common good. When productive soil becomes damaging sediment and a pollutant, or when a water supply is diminished or contaminated, the resulting problems represent a concern to society as a whole...

The Strategy looks to the future, and its long-range planning confirms the need for concern, cooperation, and commitment by all farmers, ranchers, units of government, interest groups and citizens across the state.

The Strategy proposes a commitment today to influence a better tomorrow.

Wayne Herald editor

Over the past few issues, the Wayne Herald has been publishing photos of children from the Wayne-Carroll public schools for the nice after-schools run by State National Bank of Wayne.

So far, the kindergarten classes at Wayne-Carroll Elementary have been published. There's more to come.

But parents — you better believe that a camera catches the image of the children for only a brief 200th of a second. The actual appearance, beyond that 200th of a second when the shutter closes and opens again, carries far beyond those smiling little faces that you will see in the upcoming weeks.

Parents don't know about the 'flashing' the wild antics of some of the older kids, and the shyness — and sometimes the cruelty — of some of the youngsters.

Taking the kindergarten, first grade and second grade pictures was a breeze. The young scholars welcome pictures of themselves and although timid, seem to warm up to the sight of a camera lens pointing to them. Tell them to say "cheese" and they'll likely shout so loud that the force could blow you right out of the room.

THEN ENTERS the third and fourth graders for their pictures. Keep in mind that this is the age when it's cool to make some kind of funny face and show off a bit before the camera. Occasionally you will hear a teacher scold one of the youngsters for goofing off. Tell them to move one direction and they will move the other way and chuckle about it.

And then when you use a camera flash, the kids act as though they have been blinded for life and scream with discontent. You take three pictures, they scream three times.

Despite these antics, the third and fourth graders give the sweetest and widest smiles. When they aren't talking to one another, they listen fairly well. They were a good group to photograph.

And then we get to the fifth and sixth graders. My parents considered this age to be the awkward age — when it is easy to get embarrassed. They are at the age when they have got to stand by their buddies — and wouldn't be caught dead in a picture when they are standing next to someone of the opposite sex.

Would it be their preference, the girls would all be on one side of the picture and the boys on the other side — with a six foot gap down the middle separating the two groups.

Somehow you have to explain to the fifth and sixth grade boys that it isn't a cardinal sin to be standing next to a girl. They condemn the photographer for lining them up as such.

WAIT UNTIL high school. Then, they will likely be fighting for a spot next to one of the girls in his class.

AFTER SOME persuasion and trying to convince the sixth graders that a smile looks better in a picture than showing a face of a professional wrestler trying to look tough — we got the Wayne-Carroll, Middle School pictures taken.

One teacher advised one class of sixth graders that if any obscene gestures or odd poses were evident, the students "would have to answer to her."

That really straightened up the group in a hurry.

All in all, it's been a nice experience so far. In case somebody has an eye shut or mouth open too wide, we take two or three pictures.

Now that I have all you parents fretting about what their children will be looking like in the upcoming student pictures — be assured that they will probably look like you expect them to look. Or does that worry you even more?

No time to talk issues

Nichol discusses his role in Reagan's state visit

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association The President of the United States is a very gracious, warm man who looks you right in the eye during conversation, according to William Nichol, the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Nichol was the President's left hand man during Reagan's recent visit to Omaha for a political rally to raise money for Kay Orr's gubernatorial campaign.

Nichol was assigned to walk on the President's left side and Orr was on the right side during Ronald Reagan's public appearances in Omaha, September 24.

Orr flew to Washington the day before the Omaha visit, then flew back to Nebraska with the President. Nichol and his wife Ruth met the President at the airport for brief greetings. Nichol, a state senator from Scottsbluff, rode in a separate car from the airport to the Omaha city auditorium but was with the President during the rest of his one and a half hour stay.

Nothing about the visit was left to chance. At 11 p.m. the night before Reagan's visit, an FBI agent and member of the President's advance team provided Nichol and his wife with details for the entire visit, including where they were to walk and sit.

Nichol was to be on the President's left the entire visit. And there was a chair on the stage with Nichol's name on the seat. He used that chair only.

Nichol could not take a camera with him; he would be too close to the President. However Mrs. Nichol, who was seated on the stage but further away from Reagan, could carry a camera. Nichol and his wife also had a man assigned to be with each of them every step of the way.

A GROUP OF ABOUT 70 young hecklers near the back of the auditorium created a little confusion but Reagan quickly recovered, Nichol said. At the beginning of his speech, Reagan "seemed kind of bothered (by the noise in the back of the auditorium)," Nichol said.

The President and Nichol briefly discussed the hecklers after the speech and talked about the need to keep things in perspective. And Reagan related to Nichol a story about Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Mrs. Thatcher presided over a meeting in Canada about a year ago, Nichol said. Some of the men criticized how she conducted the meeting. Later Reagan apologized to Mrs. Thatcher about the criticisms, but the Prime Minister replied, "Well, we women know how men are and we can handle the situation."

Nichol had several occasions for private conversation with Reagan during the afternoon visit. "I didn't have time to talk issues," he said. The President was "real friendly, warm. He didn't hog the conversation like so many of us politicians do," Nichol said after the visit. "He was easy to visit with; just like an old friend."

Nichol was also impressed with the security surrounding the President. The President's limousine — flow in the day before from Washington — was followed by two other limousines and several station wagons.

The cars were filled with men in business suits. "They all had little machine guns on their laps. It was a little scary," Nichol said.

THE PRESIDENT had on a dark suit, brown, very well tailored, Nichol recalled. And he had only a few gray hairs, not along the fringe but sprinkled throughout, said Nichol, whose own hair is gray.

And President Reagan is tall, Nichol, who is 5 foot 9 inches, said he knew that Reagan was over 6 foot tall but was still impressed with his height. "I was impressed with his physical looks and how tall he was," Mrs. Orr raised about $200,000 through Reagan's visit primarily from the $1,000 price tag for a private reception and the $10,000 donation that allowed the donor to get his picture taken with Reagan.

Through Farm Crisis Hotline

Farm families get assistance

Over 2000 farm families have been assisted by the Hotline and Field Staff workers in its two years of operation states Kathleen Severns, coordinator of the statewide Farm Crisis Hotline. In the past year 97 percent of the callers of the Hotline made contact with a Field Staff worker in their areas, that is up from 33 percent in the first year. "The increase of person-to-person assistance reflects the respected reputation of the program as well as the increased severity of the agricultural situation," Severns said.

Burt Coon had the highest frequency of calls in the state. Other counties high in calls are Douglas, were Cedar, Platte, Knox, Cuming, Lancaster, Antelope, and Dodge. The degree and scope of the state's agricultural problems are reflected throughout the state. Compared to the first year of operation, there has been a general shift of intensity of calls from the east to the west to the state.

BANKS MOST COOPERATIVE
Field Staff have assisted over 25 percent of the callers with loan negotiations with their lenders. Fifty percent of those resulted in loan approval, the Field Staff report that the most cooperative lender with these workers have been local bankers, followed by Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). "In this past year we have experienced a greater willingness by local lenders to negotiate a mutually acceptable plan. I see this as a positive sign in borrower and lender relations as another difficult season approaches," stated Severns.

LEGAL NEED INCREASE
Requests for legal assistance have nearly doubled in the last year from 37 percent to 67 percent. The Attorney Referral List developed by the Hotline is in its third printing. Basic needs for food and medical assistance also rose dramatically this year.

Chaos vs. order

"Chaos" is defined in Webster's Dictionary as "a state of confusion." I define chaos as the first few days of the Nebraska Legislature meeting in a 90-day session. During the first few days of the session the Speaker and committee chairpersons are elected, committee assignments for senators are made, office space is assigned, staff is hired, legislative rules are adopted, bills are introduced, hearings are scheduled and eventually we get on with the business of the Legislature. Later, rosters are printed so you can call or find your senator through the maze of activity, which is not an easy thing to do. Eventually bills are printed so the public can read what's been introduced. In the past, bills were sometimes not printed in time to be available prior to the day of the public hearing.

This is not a good way to do business, especially the public's business. The Legislature has responded to this problem by placing on the ballot for a vote of the people, a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to meet in early December for a few days to get organized. Committee assignments and chairmanships could be decided, rules adopted and a few bills introduced to get the process rolling. We could then break for approximately a month and take care of various duties such as printing bills, scheduling hearings and getting staff and office arrangements squared away. When we reconvene in January everyone would know who's going to be doing what, where. This would be much less confusing for both the public and the Legislature. It would improve the opportunity for the public to provide input into the legislative process. It will not change the total number of days the Legislature will be in session but it will allow the Legislature to use its time more efficiently.

Such a proposal makes sense, but to implement it requires the adoption of Proposed Amendment No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot. I urge Nebraskans to support Amendment No. 1 so that the Legislature can begin to bring order out of the chaos of beginning a long session.

The Wayne Herald, Monday, October 13, 1986

Briefly speaking

Grashorn undergoes surgery

Lorin Grashorn, age 14, son of Donna Grashorn of Wayne, underwent 12 hours of intensive surgery on Oct. 7 at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha. Grashorn remains in intensive care. Cards and letters will reach him if addressed to University Hospital, 42nd and Dewey, Fifth Floor, ICU, Room 42, Omaha, Neb.

Questers begin fall season

The Confusable Collectables Questers Club held its first fall meeting on Oct. 6 in the home of Jackie Owens. Roll call was "An Antique I'd Like to Preserve."

Attending the meeting as guests were Etta Fisher, Ginny Remich and Kelly Allred.

New programs for 1986-87 were distributed, and minutes from the fall council meeting were read. Chapter bylaws will be revised to meet national bylaws. Twila Claybaugh presented the program.

Heiten Gobtirsch will be the November hostess.

Attend services for mother

Mel and Ruth Elofson of Wayne returned home last Sunday from Vin-ton, Iowa where they attended funeral services Oct. 2 for her mother, Mrs. Clarence F. Wilson, age 91.

Also attending services were Ruth's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson of O'Neill, and Elofsons' sons and their families, Dean of Clifton Park, N. Y., Larry of Fremont, and Rick of North Bend.

St. Mary's Guild meets

St. Mary's Guild met last month. It was announced that several new servers cassocks have been ordered, and the rectory was cleaned and painted in preparation for Father Cleary's arrival. A notice has been placed in the parish bulletin for a part-time housekeeper.

Several women attended the deanery convention in Norfolk. Elda Warne and Shirley Fletcher reported on the day's activities. Mrs. Fletcher also told about the marriage enrichment celebration to be held Oct. 19 in Norfolk. Persons who agreed to provide cookies that Sunday are asked to deliver them to the Fletchers on Oct. 18.

Cookies also are needed for a deanery meeting being hosted by St. Mary's on Oct. 21. Persons who would like to donate cookies are asked to contact Shirley Fletcher.

Next meeting of St. Mary's Guild will be Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the school hall.

Homemakers meet in Nolte home

Phyllis Nolte was hostess for the Oct. 2 meeting of Logan Homemakers Club. Mrs. Lanora Sorensen was a guest.

The hostess will obtain information on touring a Victorian home near Homer. Pitch was played with prizes going to Eleanora Heithold, Atta Meyer and the guest.

Mrs. Gilbert Rauss will be hostess Nov. 6.

Eagles Auxiliary meets

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary met Oct. 6 at the Aerle Home with 17 members present. The meeting was conducted by President Babs Middleton.

Plans were discussed for a mountain oyster feed on Oct. 18 at the Aerle Home, with proceeds going to the Golden Eagle Fund and City of Hope.

Reports were given on the hayrack ride held Sept. 20 at the Darrell Gilliland farm, and a merchandise party held Oct. 4. Proceeds from the merchandise party went to the Art Ehrmann Cancer Fund, Max Baer Heart Fund and Kidney Fund. The auxiliary donated $15 to the Rodger Allemann Fund.

Members with October birthdays were recognized, and the quarter drawing was won by Verona Henschke. Serving lunch were Barb Heiter and Nancy Guhl.

Nelda Hammer and Elsie Greve will serve at the next meeting, slated Oct. 20 at 8 p.m.

United Methodist Women meet

United Methodist Women met Oct. 8 for a 12:30 p.m. potluck luncheon. Hostesses were Claudia Koerber and Beverly Sturm. Mrs. Ed Powell was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Shirley Wickett of Laurel, District UNW sponsor, was a guest.

The program and devotions, entitled "The Invitation," were given by Mrs. Connie Hald, assisted by The Trouble Cief Singers.

It was announced there will be an officers training session on Oct. 28 at the Westridge Methodist Church in Norfolk. The MYF will be soliciting funds for UNICEF and also canned goods for the needy.

November luncheon hostesses will be Marilyn Anderson, Imogene Brasch, Stella Prescott, Ruth Andrews, Wilma Gulshall, Marjorie Summers, Inez Olds, Virginia Preston, Helen Rose and Dorothy Ingham. Becky Wilson will present the program.

PEO Chapter AZ season begins

Wayne PEO Chapter AZ began its new season with a luncheon on Oct. 7 in the home of Gerrie Christensen. Thirty members attended, and assistant hostesses were Evelyn McDermott and Ruth Heun.

Marilyn Carhart, chairman of the yearbook committee, introduced Joan Bondhus, instructor of business law at Wayne State College, whose program centered on the problems facing persons who wish to adopt a child from another country.

Bondhus outlined the legal and personal requirements a prospective adoptive parent must meet, including a course in home study, and the development of an understanding of the child's family, native language and customs.

After two years of study and effort, Bondhus went to Chile and brought back her adopted child, Christine, now 14 months old.

Next meeting of Chapter AZ will be Oct. 21 in the home of Diana Cramer. Kirk Swanson will have the program.

BC meets in October

Pitch furnished entertainment at the Oct. 3 meeting of BC Club, held in the home of June Carstens.

Six members attended, and pitch prizes went to Alma Spittgerber and Marie Soden.

The Nov. 7 meeting will be at 2 p.m. in the home of Alma Spittgerber.

Riddles told at Hillside Club

Eight members of Hillside Club answered roll call with a riddle when they met Oct. 7 in the home of Janet Reeg.

Songs were sung and pitch was played. Receiving prizes were Elaine Vahlkamp, Irene Temme and Elma Gilliland.

Next meeting will be Nov. 4 in the home of Agnes Gilliland.

Clubwomen demonstrate exercises

Lillian Granquist was Central Social Circle hostess on Oct. 7. Five members answered roll call by demonstrating an exercise. Guests were Myrtle Henegar, Joy Gettman, Irene Florine and Min-Larson, all of Wayne.

Verna Creamer read an article on physical fitness and conducted several pencil games with prizes going to Verdelle Reeg and Mary Kieper. Mrs. Kieper's birthday was recognized.

The club will meet again on Nov. 3 at 2 p.m. at The Lumber Co.

Abts ceremony

DENISE LYNN DEMPSTER and Richard Allen Abts exchanged marriage vows on Sept. 20 at the United Methodist Church in Laurel. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dempster and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Abts, all of Dixon. The bride is employed at St. Luke's Regional Medical Center, and the bridegroom is engaged in farming. They are making their home near Dixon.

Grace Ladies Aid honors four 40-year members

Anna Nelson, Irene Temme, Louise Larsen and Ellain Vahlkamp were honored for their 40-year memberships in Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid during a meeting Oct. 8.

A brief program was given and the women were presented gifts by Irene Victor and Sally Lubberstedt.

FORTY-SEVEN members and six guests attended the October meeting. Guests were Meta Stalling, Anna Greunke, Helen Echenkamp, Edna Meyer, Dorothy Gilsman and Kelly Gearhart.

Hostesses were Irene Victor, Elsie Halley and Ardena Nelson.

The Christian growth committee opened devotions with a prayer, the LWML pledge, and song.

MEMBERS OF the Ladies Aid visited Wayne Care Centre on Sept. 24. They sang hymns with the residents and served refreshments.

Ethel Johnson, Esther Stoltenberg and Linda Grubb have been named to the nominating committee.

Serving on the visiting committee for October, November and December are Irene Victor, Ellain Vahlkamp and Kathy Wisler.

World Relief Sewing will begin Oct. 22. Mens and childrens clothing for World Relief will be collected at the church by Nov. 10.

THE REV. Jim Pennington presented the topic, "Learning From Life." Table prayer, and the Lord's Prayer concluded the meeting.

Seated at the birthday table were Mary Kruger, Irene Victor, Esther Baker, Irene Lutt, Esther Stolfenberger, and guest Kelly Gearhart from Rock Rapids, Iowa.

Hostesses for the Nov. 12 meeting will be Jean Penlerick, Linda Grubb and Florence Rethwisch.

Jennifer Phelps chosen for Young Career Woman district competition

Jennifer Phelps was selected to represent the Wayne Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) in the District III Young Career Woman speak-off scheduled Oct. 12 in Fremont.

Jennifer, 24, is married to George Phelps and is employed as an advertising consultant for Wayne Radio KTCH.

She also is a member of the Wayne BPW.

THE YOUNG Career Woman program is designed to honor successful young women and introduce them to the goals of BPW.

At local, district and state levels, contestants participate in a series of speak-off activities.

Judging is based on a five-minute speech focusing on the contestant's background and career goals, an interview with judges, and assessment of the contestant's interaction with other women.

THE BPW Foundation is a public, non-profit educational organization designed to improve the status of working women through programs such as educational assistance.

Scholarships are given for academic and vocational study to

Jennifer Phelps

both full and part-time students.

In addition, the foundation sponsors seminars and workshops, does research on women and work, and has a special library on women's issues.

CONTEST RULES

One football game has been placed in each of the ads on this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the winning team on the proper line on the entry blank. No scores. Just pick the winners, or ties. In case of tie, write "tie." Use the entry blank below or a copy of equal size. Write in your guess of the total number of yards gained by both teams in the game of the week. This will only be used in case of a tie. The person that comes closest to the total number of yards without going over will be the winner.

One entry only to each contestant, but members of a family may each submit an entry. Entries should be brought or mailed to The Wayne Herald office not later than 5 p.m. Friday, or if mailed, should not be postmarked later than 5 p.m. Friday. You need not be a subscriber of the Herald to be eligible for prizes.

The Winners will be announced weekly on the Thursday sports page of The Wayne Herald. Employees of the Herald and their immediate families are ineligible. Judges' decisions will be final in every case.

Wayne's golfers qualify for State

BLAIR—Wayne's golf program has made impressive progress for only being in existence two years.

Last year, Missy Jones represented the Lady Blue Devils at the State Tournament. And this year, the entire team will represent Wayne at state as the Lady Blue Devils placed third at the district tournament here Thursday.

Wayne closed with a 394, just four strokes behind second place Omaha Duchesne and 21 strokes behind champion Blair. The top three teams and eight individuals qualify for state.

Jones once again led Wayne with a 94 and a sixth place finish. Ann Perry also placed in the top eight as her 95 allowed her the No. 8 spot.

Team Scores		Top Eight Individual Scores
1. Blair	383	1. Becky Vinton (B)	90
2. Omaha Duchesne	390	2. Kate O'Neal (OD)	92
3. Wayne	394	3. Kim Schreffler (B)	92
4. Stanton	418	4. Claudia Ames (OD)	92
5. Ashland Greenwood	431	5. Tammy Raetz (S)	92
6. Wahoo	431	6. Missy Jones (W)	94
7. Plattsmouth	476	7. Julie Hansen (B)	95
8. Valley	506	8. Ann Perry (W)	95
9. Elkhorst	511

Rounding out Wayne's scores were Holly Paige with a 102, Jill Jordan with a 103 and Andrea Marsh with a 127. The top four individuals scores represent each team score.

Becky Vinton of Blair claimed medalist honors with a 90. Kate O'Neal of Omaha Duchesne, Blair's Kim Schreffler and Claudia Ames of Omaha Duchesne placed second through fourth, respectively, with a 92.

Dick Metfeer, Wayne's coach, said the key to Wayne's state qualifying performance was their ability to mentally block out poor holes and just take one shot at a time.

"We've been talking about putting bad shots out of our mind all season, and we finally did it at districts," he said. "For example, Missy had an out-of-bounds shot on the first hole, but instead of letting it bother her, she just kept playing her game and came in with a 49 on the front nine. Ann had two out-of-bounds shots on the first two holes, but she didn't let it bother her either and finished with 49, too."

Metfeer added that playing consistent team golf also assisted the Lady Blue Devils' performance.

"It was a team victory, and it had to be in order for us to qualify for state," he said. "My thinking was each girl was going to have to average under a 50 to qualify. We broke 400, so we obviously achieved that."

Qualifying for the state tournament was the Lady Blue Devils' goal since last fall, according to Metfeer, and he said he hopes their fine play carries over into the state tourney.

"This was our goal all along. Since last fall we've set our sights on going to state, and our summer program was all directed in terms of reaching the state tournament," he said. "I hope our team concept and the ability to not let one poor shot ruin your entire round carries over into the state tournament. We think we're going to go down there and be competitive because we think we deserve to be there."

The Class B State Golf Tournament will be held Thursday at Mahoney Park in Lincoln.

"It's a long-open course, a lot like Blair's," Metfeer said. "We'll be doing most of our practice on the country Club's back nine to prepare for it."

Wayne harriers place third

South Sioux wins first NAC event

South Sioux City won the first ever Northern Activities Conference event by capturing the cross country title at the Wayne Country Club Friday afternoon.

South Sioux City finished with 35 points, edging O'Neill by seven. Wayne placed third with 57 markers, while Hartington finished fourth.

Tom Magnuson of O'Neill won the individual title with a 15:47 clocking. Tom Evereff of South Sioux finished second with a 15:52 clocking and Jon Hoag placed third with a 15:59 time.

Michelle Mantange of South Sioux won the girls' title with a 16:32 effort. Hoag was the boy's favorite going into the meet, and at the half way mark he held a slim lead over two of his Cardinal counterparts.

Magnuson was in fourth place at the half way point, but a strong finish allowed him to capture the title.

Wayne coach Doug Donnellson said he thought Hoag would win the championship, but added that through preparation, Magnuson was able to prevail down the stretch.

"I'd have to say that Magnuson's victory was an upset," he said. "But O'Neill's coach has been calling me former with an 18:01 clocking and a 12th place finish.

Hillier's effort was 24 seconds faster than his time on Tuesday. Donnellson revealed why he thinks Hillier improved so drastically.

"That's quite a difference, and I think the reason is because Matt likes to run in the rain," the Blue Devil skipper said referring to the steady-soaking drizzle that fell during Friday's meet. "I've gone back through the year and looked at his times, and when it was raining Matt did well, but when it was sunny he didn't run as fast."

Four other Wayne runners were huddled up in the 14-17 positions. Tim Griess placed 14th with an 18:56 time, while Jess Simpson came in 15th at 19:11 and Ted Lohrberg finished 16th with a 19:42 effort. Gregg Engel followed Lohrberg with a 20:34 time.

"The rest of the guys did well, too," Donnellson said. "Most of our times were better than they were on Tuesday."

Dave Dorlog of South Sioux City won the junior varsity title with a 17:39 clocking. Scott Allred, Wayne's only junior varsity competitor, placed 13th with a 21:51 time.

"Scott ran well, too," Donnellson said. "That's a personal record for him."

The meet was the first-ever event in the Northern Activities Conference, which is in its first year of existence. But despite being first, Donnellson said everything went well.

"I thought everything went real well, and I talked to the rest of the coaches and they were happy with the way things went, too," he said. "The conference was formed for the students, and the winners today really looked proud when they received their trophies."

Donnellson added, however, that one area does need to be improved. "One area that does have to improve is the girls' competition. Conference rules state that three full teams have to compete before a winning team can be established, and right now O'Neill is the only school with a full squad."

Wayne competes again Saturday at Albion in districts.

Bulldogs score two 'quickies'

Shaky start sinks Blue Devils against LeMars, 28-10

Bombs away.

That describes LeMars' explosive aerial attack that saw the Bulldogs open a quick 21-0 in the first quarter and claim a 28-10 victory over Wayne at Memorial Stadium Friday night.

LeMars took advantage of a faltering Blue Devil secondary and opened a 14-0 lead in a little over six minutes.

After Derek Wachter hooked up with Bill Frekig for a 70-yard touchdown pass at the 10:11 mark, Wachter hit Jeff Wurth with a 56-yard TD pass with 5:08 to go in the initial quarter.

Wachter then displayed his versatility by scoring on a two-yard dive play with 27 seconds remaining in the first frame, and Mike Babbitt added three PAT boots to supply the visiting Blue Devils with the 21 point cushion.

Lonnie Ehrhardt, Wayne's head coach, said LeMars' two quick touchdowns took its toll on the Blue Devils mentally.

"Our heads just weren't in the ball game on those first two touchdowns — we just didn't pick-up the receivers on either play," he said. "We gave up two touchdowns and 127 passing yards in the first few minutes of the game, and that was just too deep a hole for us to get out of."

LeMars then opened its biggest lead of the game, 28-0, when Wachter scored from three yards with 50 ticks remaining in the first half and Babbitt converted his fourth PAT.

But Wayne's Steve Luff recovered the ensuing kickoff at the 42 yard line and Ted Lueders hit Bill Landanger with a quick 36-yard pass.

After a ruffing the passer penalty was assessed to LeMars, Pat Coffey broke Wayne's scoring drought by drilling a 27-yard field goal as the first half's time expired.

Despite all the early troubles, the Blue Devils bounced right back into contention when Bill Landanger recovered a fumble at the 8:06 mark of the third stanza and raced 35 yards to pay dirt.

Coffey followed with a PAT boot to cut LeMars' lead to 18, 28-10.

But despite continuous opportunities, the Blue Devils couldn't cut any deeper into LeMars' lead.

Twice Wayne blocked Bulldogs punts, but both times the Blue Devils failed to capitalize.

Wayne recovered the first blocked punt on the LeMars 18 yard line but had to give the ball up after advancing only eight yards in four plays.

The Blue Devils took over on the LeMars 19 after the second blocked punt, but ended up on the Bulldog 30 before losing the ball.

The usually conservative Ehrhardt had to turn into a gambler after his Blue Devils failed to punch in the blocked punt opportunities, but Wayne missed even more opportunities to score.

"After we missed scoring on the blocked punts, time was going against us so I had to gamble to try and get back in the game," he said.

"We started passing the ball more often, but we dropped a couple of passes in the end zone. It was just one of those night when nothing went right."

Wayne totaled 90 rushing yards on 20 carries and 59 passing yards on 6-of-20 accuracy. LeMars totaled 166 rushing yards on 50 tries and completed 4-of-7 passes for a whopping 178 yards, all of which came in the first quarter.

Lueders led Wayne's rushing attack with 55 yards on four totes, while Ted McCright followed with 20 yards on nine carries. Jason Liska added 12 yards on two tries, while Russ Longe totaled nine yards on four carries.

Landanger totaled a team-high 47 receiving yards on two catches, while Longe finished with five yards on two receptions and Jon Stoltenberg and McCright both caught one pass for five and two yards, respectively.

Wachter, who was named the Sloux City Journal's athlete of the week last week, gained 41 rushing yards on 11 carries. Bill Freaking — LeMars' leading ground gainer this year who came into Friday's contest with a team-high 547 yards on 68 carries — led LeMars with 68 yards on 20 totes and Scott VanHamm totaled 60 yards on 18 tries.

Defensively, Bill Liska turned in another brilliant performance for Wayne, finishing with a team-high 19 tackles, including eight unassisted stops.

Other leading tacklers for Wayne include: Steve Luff, 11; Jamie Fredrickson, 10; Longe, 9; Jay Luff, 9; Jason Liska, 8; McCright, 8; Stoltenberg, 8; and Landanger, 7.

Landanger was credited with one of the blocked punts and a fumble recovery. The other blocked punt was credited to the team and Joel Pedersen also hopped on a loose ball.

The loss was only Wayne's second in six games. LeMars, which came into the game as the No. 9 ranked team in Iowa's Class 3A polls, improved to 1-1.

The Blue Devils play again Thursday at Fremont Bergan. Ehrhardt discussed next week's game.

"It's another tough game for us. Bergan was 4-1 going into tonight's game. That's the thing about our

Pick, Corbit honored

SOUTH SIOUX CITY — Kecia Corbit and Shelly Pick, Wayne volleyball team's powerful hitting duo, were both named all-tournament at the Cardinal Classic here Tuesday.

Corbit finished the day with 22 kills on 55-of-60 hitting, while Pick totaled 14 kills going 57-for-62.

Joining Corbit and Pick on the all-tourney team included Heelan's Rosie Sudbeck, Julie Goebel and Vicki Davis. South Sioux City's Kendra Bierman was also selected.

Wayne finished third in the tourney. After losing to Heelan in the semifinals, the Lady Blue Devils downed Sioux City West in the consolation match.

Heelan won the title by beating South Sioux 15-10, 15-6 in the championship match.

Slot back Darren Johnson of Emporia State University has been selected as the CIC's offensive player of the week for his contribution Saturday as the Hornets defeated Washburn University 22-16.

Johnson, a 5-9, 170-pound junior from Rantoul, Kan., caught nine passes for 119 yards. He also returned two kickoffs for a total of 45 yards.

Johnson caught two passes totalling 37 yards during a Hornet drive late in the game which led to the eventual winning touchdown. Emporia State scored with 3:30 remaining in the contest to take the lead for good.

Defensive end Eddie Baker of Missouri Western State College has been chosen as the defensive player of the week in the CSIC for his effort Saturday as the Griffons shut out Wayne State College 30-0.

Baker, a 6-1, 215-pound senior from Independence, Mo., had six tackles in the game. All six were quarterback sacks, which totalled 35 yards in losses. He also forced a fumble. Baker has had 11 quarterback sacks in Missouri Western's last two games.

The Griffon defense held Wayne State to 147 yards in Saturday's contest.

First quarter sinks Wakefield

Forget about the first quarter and Wakefield's football team played Beemer evenly.

But that first quarter, when Beemer took advantage of several Trojan miscues, can not be erased.

Beemer scored 37 points and held the Trojans scoreless during what Head Coach Dennis Wilbur labeled a "nightmare" first quarter as the Bobcats posted a 56-22 win over the Trojans, who saw their season record drop to 3-3.

Here's how bad the first quarter went for Wakefield:

• Beemer took the opening kick-off and ran it back to the Trojan 27 yard line. Seven plays later they scored.

• On the Bobcats' ensuing kick-off, the ball got by the fumbling Trojans and it was recovered by Beemer on the Wakefield six yard line. Two plays later, the Bobcats had another touchdown.

• When Beemer kicked off again, the football bounced off the chest of a return blocker and was recovered on the Wakefield 48 yard line. Five plays later Beemer went in for the score.

• On the next series of downs, Wakefield fumbled the football. Beemer recovered and cashed in the mistake by connecting on a 32 yard touchdown pass.

• Beemer's aggressive defense blocked a Wakefield punt after that and mounted a 23 yard drive. Five plays later the Bobcats were in the end zone. With two 2-point conversions, the Bobcats had jumped to a 24-0 lead and all indications appeared to resemble a rout.

The Bobcats scored another touchdown to start the second quarter and had a 40-0 lead before the Trojans denied the scoreboard with a 53 yard touchdown gallop by Brad Wainwright. The two-point attempt was blocked.

ALLEN — Going into Friday's game with No. 1 ranked Bancroft-Rosalie, Allen's chances of an upset victory looked bleak.

So Eagle head coach Dave Uldrich inserted a new wrinkle into his club's game plan — a run-and-shoot offensive attack.

And although Allen still dropped a 65-20 decision, the Eagles played better according to their skipper.

"I thought the kids played well. At least they played a lot harder and better than they did last week," Uldrich said referring to Allen's 80-34 loss to Wakefield Saturday night.

"The guys were enthused about the run-and-shoot, and if it had been dry out, we might've even done better."

A steady-soaking drizzle did play a role in the game, but it would've taken a flood to stop Bancroft's overall size powerful running game.

The Panthers opened a quick and easy 18-0 lead midway through the first quarter. Bancroft scored in two plays on its first possession, three plays on its third possession and on the fifth play the third time they were on offense.

The Panthers were on the brink of blowing the game wide open when they reached Allen's two-yard line late in the first stanza.

But freshman Rusty Dickens came up with a freak play to keep the Eagles within striking distance.

As Bancroft quarterback Brent Tietz rolled to his left on an option play, he pitched the ball just as his trailing runningback slipped. That's when the 140-pound Dickens appeared out of nowhere, picked the ball off in mid-flight and raced 75 yards for the touchdown.

Dickens appeared to be running out of gas at the Bancroft 20 yard line, but Uldrich said he gained added fuel when some of the larger Panthers started getting close.

"Rusty told me that he was getting tired, but then he heard Rick Beutler say 'I'm going to kill you' so Rusty said he picked up his speed," Uldrich chuckled. Beutler is a 200-pound senior tackle.

Tim Parker scored Bancroft's first touchdown from 15 yards before Brent Gatzmeyer, who gained over 1,900 yards last year as a sophomore and is on a pace that should see him exceed that total this season, scored the Panthers' second touchdown from one yard.

Parker added another touchdown from five yards just prior to Dickens' 75-yard gallop. But Gatzmeyer followed that with a 44-yard scamper to pay dirt to make the score 24-6 at the end of the first quarter.

Hamilton said Marquardt did a good job of calling audibles prior to the snap.

"The original play was for (Brent) Tietz to go on a power play, but Scott noticed that the Howells had the holes filled so he audibled and went around the end for the touchdown," the Bear skipper said. "He's done a big job of that (calling audibles) this year."

Although the first touchdown came so easily, it proved to be Laurel's last-hoo-rah as Howells dominated the line of scrimmage the remainder of the game.

By using the off-tackle play, Howells consumed most of the game clock in the first half and opened a 14-7 lead at intermission.

Dennis Hagemann scored Howells' first touchdown from one yard at the 35 mark of the first quarter, and Sean Lerch tallied the Bobcats' second TD with 3:50 remaining in the first half.

Russ Yosten added a pair of PAT boots for Howells.

Both teams battled through a scoreless third quarter, but Hagemann finally broke the ice when he scored from two yards out with 7:59 remaining in the contest.

Hamilton compared the Bobcats' offensive line strength to the University of Nebraska's and added that as the game wore on, his players' weariness was no match for Howells' linemen.

"They were beating us on the line because their linemen were so overpowering. They just blocked us down and pushed us to the inside and the backs would slip right through," he said.

"I think we had success early because we were fresh and could match their strength, but they did it on us what Nebraska does to so many teams — they wore us down."

Hamilton added that Howells' defense also did a number on the Bears after the first quarter.

"Our first touchdown came so easily that I thought we were going to score a lot of points," he said. "But their defense really buckled down after that. I don't think we ever got inside their 35 yard line after the touchdown."

Halsch led Laurel's offensive attack with 74 yards on 10 carries, while Mark Bahke totaled 22 yards on four tries.

Laurel totaled 130 rushing yards, and although he didn't have Howells' rushing statistics, Hamilton estimated the Bobcats finished in the 250 yard neighborhood.

Defensively, Randy Sherry turned in another outstanding performance for the Bears. Sherry, who was named to the Wayne Herald's All-Area team last year, is having another sensational season and finished with a team-high 16 tackles for the Bears.

Halsch, another all-area selection last season, finished with 14 stops and an interception. Steve Schmitt added 10 tackles to the Laurel cause.

The loss dropped Laurel to 2-4 on the year. The Bears play again Wednesday, Oct. 22, when Homer travels to town.

Homer is sporting a 4-1 record, but the Knights dropped a 6-0 loss to Osmond earlier year.

Bancroft opened a 30-point lead at intermission by scoring two more touchdowns in the second frame.

Tietz scored the first second quarter TD on a one yard dive play, and then hit Larry Zobel with 14-yard touchdown pass to make the score 36-6 at halftime.

Jyoti Kwankin, Allen's dangerous running back, was held in check during the first half. But one can only stop a runner of Kwankin's abilities for just so long and he greeted Bancroft with a 62-yard run from scrimmage to usher in the second half.

However, the Panthers answered that with an 11-yard run by Gatzmeyer and a 51-yard touchdown pass from Tietz to Zobel.

Kwankin, who was crowned King earlier in the day during Allen's homecoming festivities, returned a kickoff 75 yards and added a two-point PAT to round out Allen's scoring.

Bancroft scored again on a safety that came on a blocked punt, a seven yard run by Kevin Bonneau, a PAT boot and a 50-yard run by Travis Roth.

Roth's touchdown ended the game at approximately the two minute mark because of the 45-point rule. Uldrich said he was pleased his club played as long as they did.

"Bancroft is an outstanding team, and one of our goals was to make it to the fourth quarter and possibly to the end of the game before the 45-point rule came into effect. So we almost accomplished that," he said.

The Panthers gained 481 yards rushing on 47 carries and added 71 passing yards by completing half of their eight passes.

Allen totaled 97 rushing yards on 25 fates and 45 passing yards on 9-of-28 accuracy.

Kankin led Allen's offensive attack with 79 yards on 10 carries, 25 receiving yards and 14 points.

Mex Oswald gained all of the 45 passing yards for the Eagles.

Dave Isom led the Eagles with 17 tackles, while Kwankin totaled 14 stops and one interception.

Unfortunately for Allen, Mark "Sugar Bear" Isom, a rugged 210-pound senior, was injured during the game. "It looks like a broken wrist," Uldrich said.

The Eagles are now 1-5 on the year and play again Wednesday, Oct. 22, when Hartington travels to town.

"We might use the run-and-shoot more often this season and in the Hartington game. The kids liked it, so who knows," Uldrich said.

ALLEN'S JYOTI KWANKIN (No. 24) zeros in on Bancroft-Rosalie running back Brent Gatzmeyer during Bancroft's 65-20 victory Friday night.

Off-tackle play costs Laurel 21-7 setback to Howells

HOWELLS — It's frustrating for a coach and his team when they know what play the opposition is going to call, but it still can't be stopped.

Such was the case for Gale Hamilton and his Laurel Bears in a tough 21-7 loss to powerful Howells here Friday night.

"We just couldn't stop their off-tackle play," he said. "I bet their longest run of the night was probably only 20 yards, but they gained at least five yards every time they ran the off-tackle play."

Laurel drew first blood in the first quarter with relative ease. After recovering a Howells fumble on their own 20 yard line, Brent Halsch galloped 45 yards and Brad Prescott totaled 23 more yards before being tackled on the Howells 12.

Quarterback Scott Marquardt then reached pay dirt from 12 yards and Philipp Von Gruenber added a PAT boot and just like that, the Bears held a 7-0 lead at the 5:42 mark of the first quarter over the second ranked team in Class C-2.

Hamilton said Marquardt did a good job of calling audibles prior to the snap.

"The original play was for (Brent) Tietz to go on a power play, but Scott noticed that the Howells had the holes filled so he audibled and went around the end for the touchdown," the Bear skipper said. "He's done a big job of that (calling audibles) this year."

VFW AUXILIARY
The VFW 4505 Auxiliary from Laurel met on Oct. 1 at the post home. Sonja Apking opened the meeting and roll call was conducted by Alberta Sutton. There were 11 members in attendance. Thyra Nelson led the group in prayer. Poppy Day will be held in Laurel on Saturday, Oct. 18. Twilla Kessinger and Sonja Apking volunteered to help.

Joyce Lantz, president of District 3 from Creighton, was a special visitor. She presented the certificates earned this year by the auxiliary. Many new ideas and suggestions were discussed.

The District 2 convention will be held in Norfolk on Sunday, Oct. 26 beginning at 10 a.m.

The Golden Hills project for needy children was explained. The auxiliary voted to donate to toys, etc. to this organization.

An expression of thanks was given to Dr. Berg of Laurel for the books and magazines and to the many others who contributed clothing and articles for the veterans home in Norfolk.

Twilla Kessinger was the hostess. The next meeting will be Nov. 5.

CROP WALK-BIKE
The Crop Walk-Bike held in Cedar County on Sept. 28 had 125 walkers and bikers from across Cedar County. They left from the Coleridge park and walked 12 miles or biked 26 miles to fight hunger. It has been sponsored by all the churches across Cedar County for the last 14 years. The money that is raised is divided between the three county food pantries and the church hunger relief agencies at the national level. Each sponsor has the opportunity to identify their favorite church organization prior to the walker or biker participation.

This year the pledges committed before the event totaled more than $3,700. Fifteen percent of the money collected will stay in Cedar County with 85 percent going to help fight hunger nationally and internationally through the church. Organizers ask that all walkers and bikers hand in their envelopes and money to their recruiters at church by Oct. 12.

Child abduction cases exhaust energies, funds

In the mid-west when child abduction is mentioned, names such as Richard Chaddock, Johnny Gosch and Eugene Martin immediately come to one's mind. Tragic as these cases are, Child Connection is striving to prevent future abductions and is exhausting its energies and funds to continue searching for the numbers and numbers of still missing children. The exhaustion of funds makes it necessary to request additional donations:

Child Connections was organized in the mid-west to fill in the geographical gap of the Adam Walsh Foundation in Florida and the Kevin Collins Foundation on the West Coast. Problems occur that are difficult to overcome upon the report of a missing or abducted child.

Local law enforcement agencies have little success if the child has been missing any extended length of time. Case loads limit the amount of time investigators can devote to any one case. Most parents cannot afford any large poster campaign. Let alone a private investigator for any length of time.

Jerry Schmit, President of Child Connection, reports that his organization is trying to overcome these problems. Child Connection prints and distributes posters of missing children on a nationwide basis. Child safety guides are furnished to schools, churches, youth groups and parents. Child Connection has been instrumental in the recovery of several children.

Jerry reports, "Child Connection at no charge provided transportation and an escort to return two missing children home. I wish all our contributors could have witnessed these reunions. I now fully understand the importance of what we are doing! It was our supporters that made these accomplishments possible.

Provost book published

Dr. Donald W. Whisenhunt, provost at Wayne State College of Nebraska, is the author of a new book just released by Eakin Press of Austin, Texas, entitled, "The Encyclopedia of Texas Colleges and Universities." The book includes a brief historical sketch of every college and university that ever existed in Texas.

"I first began working on this project out of frustration in 1980," Dr. Whisenhunt said. At that time, Whisenhunt was vice president for academic affairs at the university of Texas at Tyler. Whisenhunt said he found himself constantly in need of information about other colleges and universities, but no ready source was available. He said he first planned to write a brief guide for his personal use on existing colleges and universities. "Before I knew it, I was developing a complete encyclopedia. It was a surprise to me that it moved in that direction," he said. The result is this published book.

WHISENHUNT found that 676 colleges have existed in Texas under one name or another. Almost 200 of them still exist. The book includes a brief historical sketch of them all, whether still operating or not. "This was a very revealing study," Whisenhunt said. "By studying the development of higher education one can also follow the social history of the state."

Whisenhunt has been at Wayne State College since 1983. He has published numerous books and articles on various aspects of history. He has higher education experience in New Mexico, Kentucky, and Pennsylvania as well as Texas and Nebraska. His wife, Betsy, teaches at Walthill High School. His two sons are graduates of Wayne High School and are currently in college.

Lions to celebrate 25th

This is a second in a series of articles relating to the 25th anniversary of the Wayne Lions Club. This article will refer to the projects of the Lions Club for the past 25 years.

The Wayne Lions Club is involved in local, district and international service projects with major emphasis on sight and hearing conservation and restoration. Local projects of the club have included the development and maintenance of the Wayne Lions Camper Park located two miles east of Wayne; construction and maintenance of the outfield fence at the city baseball field through the 1960's and 70's; sponsored eight flea markets from 1972-77; sponsored several New Year's Eve and St. Patrick's Day dances in the 1970's; contributed $2,000 toward the construction of Providence Medical Center; sponsors an annual talent contest for local youth; sponsors football skills and basketball skills contests yearly for local youth; hosted cookouts for high school boys participating in basketball camps at Wayne State College in the 1970's; presented Little League and Pony League uniforms to the city recreation program in 1979; presented a television encoder to the Wayne Care Centre in 1981; presented two car safety seats for infants and small children to the Providence Medical Center in 1983; presented eye and ear medical equipment, including a tuning fork, Schiøtz tonometer, stand sterilizer, eye scissor; fluorescent lights and Lathbury cotton applicator to the Providence Medical Center in 1980; and promoted the fund drive which raised over $7,000 for the Jaws of Life rescue tool which was presented to the Wayne Fire Department in the fall of 1979.

Other projects have included purchase of an eye bank kit; soliciting for eye donors; donating new eye glasses; conducting sales of goods made by the blind; collecting used eye glasses; participating in leader dog program; installed electric scoreboard at baseball park; and work on the girl scout cabin.

Erosion

are categorized as losing over 10 tons of soil per year — one of the highest figures in the state.

Wetherberg explained some federal programs that will aid the state in its efforts to control excessive soil erosion.

HE EXPLAINED the "sodbuster" provision of the Food Security Act of the 1985 Farm Bill. The provision denies landowners eligibility for certain U.S. Department of agriculture programs if the landowner breaks out a field of highly erodible grassland or woodland to plant crops without first implementing a conservation plan approved by the local natural resources district.

USDA farm programs affected by the sodbuster provision include USDA price and income supports; disaster payments; crop insurance; Farmers Home Administration loans; Commodity Credit Corporation storage payments; farm storage facility loans; and other programs under which USDA makes commodity-related payments, including annual payments for the Conservation Reserve Program.

There is also a conservation compliance program when landowners, in order to be eligible for farm programs, must have a conservation plan by Jan. 1, 1990 to reduce erosion to an acceptable level. Then from 1990 to 1995, the landowners will be expected to carry out those plans.

Sponsored by Alumni Association Firmature Sextet band to play at WSC dance

A dance with the Sonny Firmature Sextet, that is free to everyone, will be sponsored by the Wayne State College Alumni Association on Friday, Oct. 17 in Rice Auditorium.

The 9 p.m. to midnight dance follows the annual Homecoming- Foundation Trustees and Alumni Reunion banquet conducted in the nearby student center.

"Everybody is invited to the dance," said Dean Jacobs, director of alumni affairs. "The Sonny Firmature Sextet plays music for all ages. We encourage everyone — alumni, students, staff members and friends of the college — to attend."

Sonny Firmature leads his sextet with his saxophone. He has toured extensively with the likes of Harry James, Woody Herman and the Tommy Dorsey band.

The band is comprised of Sonny Firmature, five other musicians and a female vocalist. The group plays a full variety of dancing and listening music and is known for tailoring its music to a particular audience.

Homecoming

beginning at 8:30 p.m. If it rains, the carnival will be inside Rice Auditorium.

The annual Lip Sync contest is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 16 at 7 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre.

On Friday (Oct. 17) activities will include the Homecoming-Foundation Trustees Banquet from 7-9 p.m. in the Student Center's North Dining Room, preceded by a social at the Wayne Country Club. The 50th reunion class of 1936 will be introduced and the classes of 1926, 1931, 1946, 1956, 1966 and 1976 will be honored.

Greek Olympics will start at 5 p.m. Friday. A pep rally will follow the movie "Back To The Future" in Ramsey Theatre.

Saturday (Oct. 18) at 10 a.m. will be the annual Homecoming-Wildcat Days parade that will begin at First and Main Streets in downtown Wayne and proceed toward the Wayne State campus.

TRINITY CHURCHWOMEN
 Fourteen members of the Trinity Lutheran Churchwomen met Oct. 8. Lila Hansen led the lesson on the book of Ecclesiastes. Irene Mayer, president, conducted the business meeting. Members were informed by Dorothy Jo Andersen of an Oct. 31 pie and soup supper to raise funds for the Winside museum project. Members will contribute to this on an individual basis. Items needed for the kitchen will be purchased by the women. Irene Mayer will be in charge.

The birthday song was sung for Lois Krueger. A card was signed for Vernell Kueger. Hostess was Mary Ann Soden. The next meeting will be Nov. 12. Lois Krueger will have the lesson and Ann Behmer and Dolly Warnemunde will be hostesses.

ADVISORY COUNCIL
 Because of a conflict in schedules with several of the candidates running in the Nov. 3 election for the Winside School Board, the date for the candidate panel discussion has been changed from Oct. 20 to Oct. 30. We will meet in the high school library at 8 p.m. A brief Advisory Council business meeting will precede the candidates discussion. Those running for the school board are Ken Kollath and Mike Meierhenry, rural Hoskins; Dale Topp and Harlin Brugger, rural Winside; Richard Jenkins and Ray Roberts, rural Carroll; There are three vacancies on the school board. The general public is encouraged to attend this Advisory Council meeting to meet the candidates and discuss your concerns.

GUILD WORKERS
 Ten members of Winside's Lutheran Hospital Guild Workers met Oct. 6 at the Stop Inn to finish making tree decorations for the Nov. 16 Lutheran Hospital Holiday of Trees Bazaar. Displayed will be decorated trees from surrounding communities in the hospital's in-service room from 1-4:30 p.m. All decorations and other items are for sale to the general public. Proceeds will be used to buy a neo-scope monitor for the nursery which costs $5,300 each.

Each guild member is also asked to donate two dozen cookies and deliver them to Mrs. Alfred Miller on Saturday, Nov. 15.

The next guild workers meeting will be Jan. 26 at Witt's Cafe at 9 a.m.

REGIONAL CENTER
 Members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church entertained and visited with patients at the Norfolk Regional Center on Oct. 5. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. James Jensen, Harlin Brugger, Janice Jaeger and Ida Fenske. Furnishing extra food was Vera Mann.

Harlin Brugger and Cyril Hansen entertained with music on the organ and accordion. Donuts and coffee cake were served.

The next meeting will be a Thanksgiving dinner on Nov. 9 at 12:30 p.m.

AN IMPORTANT NOTICE TO OUR AGRICULTURAL BORROWERS:

Most Nebraska farmers already have some concerns over the 1985 Farm Bill.

What most Nebraska farmers don't know is that buried deep in the 1985 Farm Bill is language that does nothing but pile on miles of red tape, not only for farmers and ranchers who rely on operating loans from Nebraska lenders, but for the lenders themselves. What's more, the new law may even restrict the flow of agricultural credit to those who need it most.

Section 1324 of the new law is very technical and complex. But in effect, it preempts an important provision of state law which enables lenders to rely on crops and livestock as collateral. The new law will require direct "prenotification" to buyers of farm products that a security agreement exists between the farmer and the lender and that a farm product lien is in effect.

Under the new law, if you have an agricultural loan secured by your crops or livestock, you will very likely be asked by your lender to provide a list of the potential buyers of your product (collateral). Your bank, in accordance with the new law, will notify potential buyers that a lien may exist.

It is important for you to know the law also states that if you sell your farm products to someone not named on your list, you may be subject to a $5,000 fine or a fine equal to 15% of the value of the farm products, whichever is greater, unless you account for the proceeds within 10 days after the sale.

WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT THE BANKING INDUSTRY STRONGLY OPPOSED THIS CHANGE IN THE LAW FOR MANY REASONS:

- INCREASED COSTS:
Because most notices will have to be sent by registered mail, the new law drastically increases the cost of servicing your loan. In most cases, these costs will be passed on to you, the borrower.
- NEGATIVE IMPACT ON AG CREDIT:
It does nothing whatsoever for the farmer or rancher, and in some cases, may result in the denial of credit to some borrowers.
- PAPER WORK BARRAGE:
It will result in a tremendous "paper blizzard" of notices sent to grain elevators and livestock dealers who will be responsible for keeping track of literally thousands of lien notices.
- UNNECESSARY DISCLOSURE:
Farmers and ranchers who have agricultural loans will have their names and other loan information circulated to buyers of farm products who may or may not have a business relationship with the farmer or rancher.

We are working hard to supply the agricultural credit that our farm customers need. But new laws such as this one undermine a bank's ability to meet this need.

We wanted you to know about this new law before it takes effect December 24, 1986.

This problem can be solved in a special session of the Nebraska legislature. We urgently ask everyone involved in agricultural production to visit with your banker about this issue and to contact your state senator and ask them to support Central Indexing legislation that will enable Nebraska to solve this problem. Remember, the new law affects everyone involved in agricultural production—the borrower, the lender, and the buyer—and something needs to be done soon!
