Bereuter elected to fifth term

Orr becomes Nebraska's first woman governor

By Chuck Hackenmiller and LaVon Anderson

Republican Kay Orr captured nearly two times as many votes as Democrat Helen Boosalis in Wayne County during Tuesday's general election.

But in reviewing the gubernatorial race statewide, the contest was much closer as Orr went on to narrowly defeat Boosalis to become Nebraska's first woman governor.

Orr captured about 51 percent of the total state votes, compared to Boosalis' 49 percent.

Orr, 47, the first woman elected to a statewide office in Nebraska upon being elected state treasurer in 1982, has become the first elected woman Republican governor in the United States.

She was the candidate picked by about 66 percent of the voters within the 18 Wayne County precincts. Boosalis, who did not win any of the 18 precincts, picked up about 34 percent of the Wayne County votes.

The closest precinct race between Orr and Boosalis was in Wayne's second ward, where the vote was 156 for Orr and 137 votes for Boosalis.

In the other race of national interest, incumbent Congressman Doug Bereuter was re-elected to serve his fifth term as this area's First District representative. He overwhemingly defeated Democratic challenger Steve Burns in Wayne County.

Wayne County precinct votes and Burns, who did not win any of the precincts, pulled in 800 votes. Burns got his best percentage of votes in Hunter Township, pulling in 42 percent of the total tally there.

In reviewing other Nebraska state office races Allen Beermann (Secretary of State), Ray A.C. Johnson (State Auditor), and Robert Spire (Attorney General) all won by comfortable margins.

As of Wednesday morning, it was predicted that Frank Marsh had narrowly defeated DiAnna Schimek for the state treasurer's post.

Voting in Wayne County showed the following results: Beermann with 2,242 votes, Stein 686; Johnson with 1,879 votes, Wilken 889; Marsh with 1,891 votes, Schimek 983; Spire with 1,801 votes, Glaser 946.

Nebraskans also voted on two amendments and two referendums during Tuesday's general election.

The voters voted to send the Legislature back to work early. On the proposed amendment No. 1 (moving the convening date of the 90 day regular legislature), the measure was approved in Wayne County by a 1,537 to 1,435 voter margin.

The second amendment, to make changes or additions to the legislature's impeachment procedures, was approved statewide with Wayne County showing 1,357 votes in favor of the proposal and 1,048 against it.

Results on Referendum No. 400, whether or not to retain or eliminate the requirements established by LB 663 (the school consolidation bill), showed Wayne County voters following the state trend of voting overwhelmingly against retaining the bill.

THE UNOFFICIAL Wayne County tally shows 1,252 people voting for retaining LB 662 while 2,089 voted against it.

Statewide, it appears that the law requiring Nebraskans to wear safety belts will remain on the books. Earliest indications show the voting level at 58 percent favoring retention of the law and about 42 percent against it.

The vote on whether or not to retain the seat belt law (Referendum 401) was close in Wayne County, with "against retaining the law" winning out by a margin of 12 votes.

Other key races in Wayne County included the non-political race for county superintendent; third ward and fourth ward Wayne city council positions; and School District 95R (Winside District School Board).

The county superintendent position was won by Glenn Wiseman, who defeated incumbent Robert Sheckler for the position by a vote count of 1,862 to 904. Wiseman won all but one of the 18 precincts. He lost by eight votes to Sheckler in Logan Township.

IN THE WAYNE Third Ward city council race, Sheryl Lindau defeated Bob Lohrborg by a margin of 223 to 152. And in the race for fourth ward councilman, incumbent Larry Johnson received 227 votes to Jon Haase's 167 votes to win the four year term.

Gaining the most votes for the three spots open on the Winside School Board were Melvin Melarhenry with 267 votes; Ken

Kollath with 225 votes and Harlin Brugger with 196 votes. Other candidates included Dale Topp and Ray Roberts, each with 173 votes; write-in candidate Jane Witt with 133

Dixon County results tabulated

Dixon County residents joined voters across the state in supporting Republican Kay Orr as Nebraska's next governor.

Unofficial results Wednesday morning showed Dixon County voters casting 1,827 ballots for Orr, while Democrat Helen Boosalis picked up 1,148 votes in the county.

Dixon County voters stuck with incumbent Republican Doug Bereuter in the race for Congressman from the first district.

Bereuter received a solid 1,891 votes in the county, defeating Democrat Steve Burns, who received 1,000 votes.

Republican Allen Beermann picked up 2,036 votes in Dixon County for Secretary of State. Beermann was opposed by Democrat Harold Stein, who received 826 votes from within Dixon County.

OTHER RESULTS in Dixon County showed Republican Ray A. C. Johnson defeating Democrat David Wilken in the race for Auditor of Public Accounts, 1,535 to 1,039.

Republican Frank Marsh received 1,720 votes in the county in his bid for State Treasurer, defeating Democrat DiAnna Schimek, who received 1,047 votes.

In the race for Attorney General, Republican Robert Spire picked up 1,412 votes in Dixon County, compared to 1,135 votes cast for Democrat Bernie Glaser.

Dixon County residents voted against retaining Judge C. Thomas White as Judge of the Supreme Court from the Third District, with 1,497 voting against and 1,009 voting in favor of his retention.

Regarding the retention of Judge Michael P. Gavel as Judge of the Nebraska Workers' Compensation

Court, 1,434 Dixon County residents voted in favor of his retention and 630 against.

Dixon County voters also expressed their desire to retain Judge James P. Monen as Judge of the Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court, with 1,373 voting in favor and 631 against.

REFERENDUM 400 was soundly defeated in Dixon County, according to unofficial results. Results Wednesday morning showed 1,860 votes cast against the referendum, while 829 voters were in favor of the issue.

Residents of Dixon County also voted against Referendum 401 — 1,589 against the measure and 1,184 in favor.

Proposed Amendment No. 1 was defeated in Dixon County, 1,361 against and 950 for, while Proposed Amendment No. 2 narrowly passed in the county with 1,113 residents voting in favor of the measure and 1,036 against.

ON THE DIXON County ticket, Democrat Jeff Taylor of Ponca won in his bid as County Clerk, defeating Republican Anita Saunders of Dixon.

Taylor received 1,238 votes in the county, compared to 1,018 votes cast for Saunders. Incumbent Clerk Audrey Dohma conducted a write-in campaign and received 694 votes.

Republican Weldon Schwartz of Wakefield will serve as the new Dixon County Treasurer. Unofficial results Wednesday morning showed Schwartz defeating Democrat Joe McCardle of Ponca by a vote of 1,905 to 1,039.

Republican Dean Chase of Allen received strong support in his bid for re-election as Dixon County Sheriff.

Harvest moves along

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

This year's corn harvest probably won't match last year's yield output. But at least the harvesting is well ahead of schedule.

As of Sunday, Nov. 2, approximately 55 percent of the state's corn crop has been harvested. That's about average for the state, but it's higher than the 45 percent harvested figure at this time last year.

Russell Moomaw, extension crop and weed specialist at the Northeast Research and Extension Center, said yields have been good for both corn and soybeans on the research center's test plots.

"We got off to a shaky start [with the harvesting] because there were lots of delays," he said.

"I would say in general, where we had good herbicide program and weeds were in control, the corn yields have been averaging from 130 to 135 bushels to the acre," said Moomaw.

"I think that of the few farmers that I have talked to, the corn yields are a little lower than last year, or the last two years," he said.

Some of the reasons for the lower yields might have been because of moisture stress during the corn's growing season. The lack of moisture may have come at a time when pollination or the silk process was happening on the plant, mentioned Moomaw.

"In this instance, some fields have been bordering on the disaster side. But this is an exception; for the most part," Moomaw said.

CORN MOISTURE content at the research center has been averaging below 20 or 19 percent. Some have gone out of the field at 16 percent, Moomaw mentioned.

Soybean yields have been reported by some farmers as higher than previous years. The soybean yields on the test plots have been averaging at from 40 to 53 bushels to the acre. Moomaw said some farmers around the area have been talking about 35-40 bushels to the acre yields.

The Nebraska Agricultural Statistics Service reports that approximately 75 percent of the soybean crop is harvested in Nebraska. That is behind the 80 percent state average for the amount of beans harvested at this time of year. Last year at this time, 80 percent of the soybeans had been harvested.

Some 65 percent of the sorghum has been harvested in the state, down from 75 percent harvested at this time last year and the 70 percent average.

Topsoil moisture has been measured at 68 percent adequate and 32 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture has been registered at about 3 percent short, 69 percent adequate to a 28 percent surplus of moisture.

As sports editor

Dahlheim starts job

Gregg Dahlheim

Gregg Dahlheim of Omaha began work Monday (Nov. 3) as sports editor for The Wayne Herald.

He replaces John Prather, who resigned in October.

Dahlheim previously was employed as general assignment reporter for the Papillion Times of Papillion, Nebraska. As a reporter there, he covered city council and school board meetings in Gretna and had reported on a variety of sporting activities for Gretna, Papillion and Platteville high schools.

He attended Kearney State College from August, 1979 to May, 1981. He received his bachelor of science degree, with emphasis on news and sports reporting, from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

He received his minors in political science, history and speech communications.

Dahlheim and his wife, Roxanne, moved to Wayne on Nov. 3. Roxanne was previously employed as an account representative for Dean Witter in Omaha.

Nebraska provides insurance pool

viewpoint

What's too much?

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association Health Insurance for people who have been denied health coverage in the past is now available through a new health insurance pool.

The insurance pool was created for Nebraskans with health conditions like diabetes, chronic heart disease, epilepsy and multiple sclerosis—people who have been denied regular health insurance, explained Senator Donald Wesley of Lincoln. Wesley authored the law that created the new insurance pool, called the Nebraska Comprehensive Health Insurance Pool.

The pool has its roots in the agricultural community of the state, Wesley explained.

Jeff Christensen of Kearney, a representative of a group called Communicating For Agriculture, presented the idea to members of a task force studying health care in 1983, Wesley explained.

Some agricultural groups were interested in a health insurance pool idea because farmers, who are not covered by company health plans, must find their own coverage. They sometimes have more problems getting coverage if they have a pre-existing health problem, Wesley said.

The task force members agreed with Christensen and recommended creation of the pool. A bill introduced in 1984 failed to pass. But the bill did spark the interest of other groups. A coalition was born. It included many of the nonprofit groups organized to deal with specific health conditions, like the Nebraska Lung Association, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, the Diabetes Foundation, Wesley said.

The measure passed in 1985, with the blessing of the insurance industry. The organizational work took another year, and the pool began accepting applications November 1.

BETWEEN 100 to 400 Nebraskans will get health coverage through the pool during the first year, according to the "best guess" of those who organized the pool. The pool could eventually cover between 1,000 to 4,000 residents.

These are people who can afford health insurance but cannot get coverage through traditional policies.

For example, a month ago a woman called Leonard Wood, chairman of the board overseeing the pool and a Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska official. The woman, in her mid 30's, had brain cancer and had been unable to get health insurance coverage, Wood said.

During hearings on the bill creating the pool, a Nebraska farmer explained his problem to senators, Wesley said. Because the man had epilepsy he had been denied health coverage of any type.

The policy is available to Nebraskans who have been:

- Rejected for health insurance within the last six months because of pre-existing health conditions.
- Offered insurance with riders excluding the pre-existing conditions.
- Offered insurance only at a premium rate higher than the insurance pool charges.

Policyholders can choose from three deductible levels—$250, $500 or $1,000 a year. The deductible is the amount a policyholder must pay before the insurance starts paying.

The policy then pays 90 percent of costs after the deductible is met. The policyholder will pick up the other 10 percent up to a maximum of $5,000 a year.

Premium rates, which will vary by age, sex, place of residence and deductible amount, will be about 35 percent more than the average premium for traditional insurance coverage.

Nebraska is only the seventh state in the union to provide this pool protection, said Governor Bob Kerrey. And the state law is being used as a model law in other states, he said.

The pool is being run by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska. Information on the Comprehensive Health Insurance Pool coverage is available from Blue Cross and Blue Shield, 7261 Mercy Road, P.O. Box 3248, Omaha, NE 68180.

A candidate's forum was conducted at Winside High School last week involving those individuals who were seeking one of three available openings on the Winside Board of Education.

Some 60 or more individuals attended the forum. It was an excellent way for the district residents to meet the candidates. Good points were brought out during the discussions that followed the opening statements given by each candidate.

One of the issues brought up was extra-curricular activities. Has it reached a point where extra-curricular activities have occupied an overwhelming amount of time away from the student's home?

Some individuals might think so. There are athletic practices and games, band programs and play practices, club meetings and other such events that take place during the school year.

Who should set a limit on extra-curricular activities? The school district? The student's parents? Or the students themselves once they realize their limitations?

There may be students who try to get into every organization or on every athletic team available at the school. But there are students who want only to belong to one club or organization, or participate in one school sport, or perform solely in the areas of either choir or band.

Nobody from this area has considered cutting extra-curricular activities as of yet. But it is an option.

Hopefully, if cutting extra-curricular activities becomes a strong reality, board members will consider both the "active in every event" student and the student who has a strong preference to one single extra-curricular area the school district offers.

Another area questioned was the usage of computers in the public schools. Should they be used in the early grades? Or should they be used at all?

Computers, whether we like it or not, are becoming a tool to the future of our younger generation. They are used in business, research, technical trade, industry and even in the publication of newspapers.

Computer usage training is important. But so is reading and writing. So is literacy. And that is why school systems cannot disregard the areas of reading and writing instructions.

Come up with a solid reading and writing program, to defend from illiteracy, and then blend that educational area into the school district's computer programs — that is a philosophy that should be shared by all school districts.

We feel that this is a combination that should be available to all students in the school district.

Home work disallowed Ban affects security for local jobs

Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation by Cheryl Stubbedieck
Vice president/information

The U.S. is concerned with increasing its exports to foreign countries, but there's one commodity we'd rather keep at home: jobs.

Most people do their jobs at an office or factory or some other location away from home, but there is another kind of worker, a home worker, who performs the duties of the job in his own residence, for pay. "Her resident" would be more accurate, because most home workers are women. In fact, many of them are farm women.

In August, the U.S. Department of Labor proposed lifting its prohibition against home work in six categories, including women's apparel and manufacturing of jewelry, gloves and mittens, buttons and buckles, handkerchiefs and embroidery. A few years back, it lifted the ban on home workers producing knitted outerwear in their homes.

IT'S STRANGE but true that unless and until the Labor Department lifts the ban, it's illegal for an American to sew women's clothing at home, for payment from an employer.

Organized labor is primarily responsible for the prohibition which was established 43 years ago. Although it paints pictures of exploitation and sweatshops, the upshot is probably that workers at dispersed locations such as homes are much harder to organize than those at a central location.

One Midlands employer was shocked to learn that she was violating federal labor laws. Bertha Turner is one of three founders of Bourdeaux Inc., a Clarinda, Iowa, firm which employs 150 workers in Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri. Most of her workers are farm women, who work at home cutting and sewing appliques on women's warm-up suits. "When you find that sewing in your home is illegal in America, it seems preposterous, but this is the case," Mrs. Turner said.

AS AN ALTERNATIVE, Bourdeaux could send its appliques and garments to Mexico, to be assembled by workers there — and be in complete compliance with the laws.

But for farm women who work for Bourdeaux, it would be a real blow. Charmie Nelson of Lenox, Iowa, is a farm wife and mother of four young sons. She works up to 40 hours a week and the money is important to her family. "I'm not working in a sweatshop like they seem to think. I am. I make good money every week. I average $5 to $6 an hour easily. It is an important job and it is important to my family that I have a job," she said.

With the current farm economy, farm families need the extra income. For many farm women, it's impractical to think about working somewhere else. Costs for babysitters, a wardrobe for work and transportation would offset much of their earnings. Plus, they would be unable to help their husbands on the farm.

The Department of Labor could make its decision on homework yet this year. Here's hoping it will recognize that homework is a viable option for one sector of the economy, and keep jobs such as Mrs. Nelson's here in the U.S.

Preventive education needed to fight drugs

by Doug Bereuter
U.S. Representative

Congress, as you know, has passed sweeping drug abuse prevention legislation, which is expected to be signed by the President shortly. The legislation contains many provisions designed to assist officials in interdiction of international drug shipments, eradicate drug crops, and increase penalties for producers and distributors. The bill also contains grants to states for drug abuse treatment and rehabilitative services, and the development of community based substance abuse prevention programs.

This landmark legislation also has a myriad of smaller but no less important measures that will, for example, require bus and truck drivers to have national driver's licenses, allow financial institutions to report certain types of suspected criminal activities by depositors to law enforcement personnel, and require the White House to convene a conference on drug abuse and drug trafficking within six months of the date of enactment.

Taken altogether, the legislation's provisions will significantly strengthen the ability of our local and Federal law enforcement officials, schools, parents, and communities generally to reduce the use of illegal substances and begin to get control of a situation that has grown into a national emergency. All of the measures I mentioned above, as well as many hundreds more, are provisions I supported when I voted for this omnibus legislation.

In addition, the bill also contains my own legislation, developed specifically for Indian youth, who have a far greater problem with substance abuse than most non-Indian populations. The key to combating substance abuse, in my estimation, is contained in the language that I wrote for Indian youth. That key is prevention.

The omnibus drug bill does contain provisions that stress prevention, although not as heavily as does my own measure for Indian youth. In that section, I stated that prevention should be taught from kindergarten through the twelfth grades, interwoven where possible into all aspects of the curriculum—acertainly health classes, but also perhaps into history classes and english classes and wherever else clever teachers could interject information or exercises that would help children to understand the devastating effects of substance abuse and "Just Say No" when the inevitable temptations come along. I believe that this approach works not only for Indian youth, but for all youth. If we can educate our children and equip them with the tools to recognize their own worth, while they are young and forming their values, they can then fight their own battles on the drug and alcohol front.

Unfortunately, I believe that the best efforts of the Congress and the United States as a whole are not going to totally eradicate the influx of harmful illegal substances into our society. To think otherwise is naive, and in fact perhaps harmful, for we could believe that the passage of this drug legislation means that we can rest more easily now that we have "done something" about the problem. Remember too that one of the most abused and most dangerous drugs is not even illegal, and that drug is alcohol.

Therefore, I believe the most important and effective weapon in the battle against alcohol and drugs is prevention education. It is true, as I have said, that this legislation will provide a great deal of assistance in the fight against substance abuse, but real change and long-term relief will only come about with a change in attitudes, over time, as a result of prevention education that is focused on elementary school children and continues through their high school graduation.

For fiscal responsibility

New climate needed

by Doug Bereuter

In the final hours of the 99th Congress, a Continuing Resolution totalling $576 billion was passed. That omnibus appropriations bill, which I voted against, was a substitute for separate appropriations measures that should have been completed and were not. It was the result of the failure, throughout the year, to stick to the legislative timetable. And it should not happen. It is simply absurd to vote for defense spending alongside welfare spending? It is disgraceful to throw funding for foreign aid, transportation, water projects, and everything else into the same bill.

That Continuing Resolution pretended to do everything for everyone in a context that obscured its real effect on the federal deficit. Of course, it also in effect made the spending bill veto proof for this year. Thus its passage adds strength to the argument that American presidents should be given a statutory line-item veto, at least for a trial period. Governors of 43 states now have been given such veto authority. It does make a change in the balance of power between the Executive and Legislative branches, but it is a powerful tool against the more outrageous power-barrel actions of powerful chairmen.

We owe the taxpayers more. For that reason, along with a number of my colleagues I have signed a letter to the President calling on him to announce to the Congress in his State of the Union Address in January that he will not support or sign a Continuing Resolution for fiscal year 1988. If the President won't sign a CR, the Congress can't successfully send him one. If Congress can't send him a CR, it will have to send him 13 separate appropriations measures. To get 13 separate spending bills through both houses, the Congress will have to finish the required authorizations sooner, which means that we will have to get the Budget Resolution out on time. If the President won't sign a CR, the Congress will have to work a little harder at the beginning of the year and thereby avoid the disgrace of being in session two weeks into the new fiscal year with nothing responsible to show for it, as was the case this year.

Our children and grandchildren do not deserve the legacy of the debt that we are handing them. It is high time that we create a new climate of fiscal and procedural responsibility.

1987 Farm Program Benefits
Farmers and ranchers will be pleased to know that loan rates and farm program payments for 1987 will not be reduced by Gramm-Rudman-Hollings across the board cuts. During the final days of Congress, both the House and the Senate adopted and the President signed H.R. 5300, the Budget Reconciliation bill. This legislation along with appropriations restraint, is supposed to bring the projected budget deficit below $154 billion—the maximum amount allowed by the 1985 Gramm-Rudman-Hollings budget control law for FY 1987. The overall Federal spending approved for this year was up only one percent over last year—the smallest increase in decades.

Farm program benefits received for 1987 crops will not, therefore, be reduced by an across-the-board cut. Farmers can expect to receive the 1987 loan rates announced earlier: $1.82 for corn; $1.74 for milo, and $.94 for oats. Advanced deficiency cash payments and certificates received during the 1987 farm program sign-up period starting November 17, 1986 also will not be subjected to cuts because of Gramm-Rudman-Hollings.

4a - speaking of people

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, November 6, 1986

briefly speaking

Club welcomes new member

Virginia Preston became a member of Central Social Circle when it met Nov. 3 at The Lumber Company. Mrs. Preston, along with eight other members and guest Eleanor Manning of Pender answered roll call by bringing a Thanksgiving decoration.

President Lillian Granquist read a poem, "Listen America," and Mildred Gramlich led in a discussion of current events and reminded members to vote.

The club is planning a potluck dinner on Dec. 2 at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Joyce Niemann.

Lillian Berres Acme hostess

Zita Jenkins presented a program on trees when Acme Club met Nov. 3. Hostess was Lillian Berres.

Next meeting will be a guest day luncheon on Nov. 17 at noon at the First United Methodist Church.

Evangelical Free Bible study

Women of the Wayne Evangelical Free Church met Nov. 3 for their monthly Bible study and business meeting. Hostess was Sandra Ostercamp. A study on Proverbs was introduced.

Officers for the new year are Carol Fuoss; Gail Gray and Marge Kudrna, with Lauren Walton, white cross.

Members and guests will meet for a Christmas banquet on Dec. 8 at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

Wayne woman hospitalized

Wayne resident Fern Kelley underwent hip surgery on Nov. 4 at St. Luke's Hospital, Sioux City.

Cards and letters will reach her if addressed to Fern Kelley, St. Luke's Hospital, Room 404, Sioux City, Iowa.

Music concert at Allen school

The fall Thanksgiving music concert at Allen Consolidated School will be presented on Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The concert was originally scheduled Nov. 11.

The program will feature the sixth and seventh grade band, seventh and eighth grade choir, high school choir, swing choir, jazz band and high school band.

Birthdays open house in Hoskins

The 80th birthday of Anna Wantoch of Stanton was observed Nov. 2 with an open house reception at the Hoskins fire hall.

Approximately 130 guests attended from West Point, Bancroft, Pierce, Battle Creek, Wayne, Norfolk, Stanton, Winside and Hoskins. Mrs. Arlan Sellin, great niece of the honoree, baked the special cake.

Hosting the event were nieces Mrs. Richard Doffin Sr. of Hoskins, Mrs. Gordon Kopietz of Norfolk, and Mrs. Bob Petersen of Stanton.

AEYC convention in Kearney

The state convention of the Association for the Education of Young Children (AEYC) met in Kearney on Oct. 23-24.

Stepping Stones teacher Diane Ehrhardt of Wayne attended the Friday workshops. Maria McCue of West Discover Pre-School in Wayne attended the Friday evening banquet, the keynote speaker's address, and the workshops conducted on Saturday.

Several members of the Northeast Nebraska AEYC (NEAEYC) entertained the more than 400 members present at the banquet with a song advertising the fact that NEAEYC will host the 1987 state convention next October in Norfolk.

Laurel bazaar, bake sale

Presbyterian Women from Laurel will hold a bazaar, bake sale and luncheon on Saturday, Nov. 8 in the Laurel city auditorium. The event begins at 9 a.m. and will feature crafts and Christmas decorations.

The luncheon menu includes chili and vegetable beef soup, ham and cheese sandwiches, tavernis, pie, rolls and coffee.

The public is invited to attend.

PEO Chapter ID meets

PEO Chapter ID met in the home of President Karen Marra on Oct. 28. Nicki Tiedtke was assisting hostess.

Following the business meeting, Jane O'Leary presented the program. She read excerpts from "Letters to Elizabeth," a book written by her aunt, Ivy Reitschneider. The letters, written to a granddaughter, are memories of life in Nebraska during the early part of the century.

Next meeting will be Nov. 13 in the home of Laura Lindner.

FNC meets in Geewe home

Irene Geewe was hostess to FNC Club on Oct. 29. All members were present, and guests were Verna Mae and Eddie Baier.

Receiving prizes during the evening were Opal Harder, Helen Echtenkamp and Marion Baier.

Mary Echtenkamp will be the Nov. 17 hostess.

State Christian convention slated

The Christian Churches and Churches of Christ in Nebraska have announced the second annual Nebraska State Christian Convention slated Nov. 28-29 at the Holiday Inn, Kearney.

The two-day meeting will include workshops, inspirational singing and preaching. David McCord, senior minister of West Side Christian Church in Wichita, Kan., will be the featured speaker for the adult main sessions. The convention also will include a program for teen/youth sessions. Greg Hafer, minister of the First Christian Church in Washington, Mo. will be the featured speaker.

Persons who would like additional information about the convention are asked to contact their local Christian Church minister, or call (308) 234-3922 or (308) 234-6992.

Soup supper in Laurel

The Youth Fellowship of Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel is sponsoring a soup supper on Sunday, Nov. 9 in the city auditorium.

Chili and oyster soup will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for children five to 12 years of age. Youngsters under age five will be admitted free.

The event is open to the public.

Granddaughter earns academic honors

Christine Siefken, daughter of Cheryl Siefken Schiabile of Lincoln, was among 20 students honored recently at Lincoln Southeast High School for academic honors.

Christine placed in the top three per cent of her class of 500 students during both her sophomore and junior years. She is presently a senior.

Her grandparents, Arnold and Lois Siefken of Wayne, attended the honors convocation.

Lana Erb named to honor roll

Lana Erb of Wakefield had been named to the academic honor roll for the summer quarter which ended Sept. 24 at Southeast Community College-Lincoln campus.

A minimum grade point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale is required to receive the honor.

Lana, who is studying fashion merchandising, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Erb of Wakefield.

Lutt-Daum vows are repeated at Wayne Redeemer Lutheran

Deb Lutt and Kurt Daum were married Oct. 25 in a 7 o'clock service at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne. The Rev. Daniel Monson officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Roger and Sandra Lutt of Wakefield, and Leon and Mary Daum of Wayne.

Kathy Stollenberg of Wayne sang "The Wedding Song," "The Gift of Love," "While They are Kneeling" and "God, a Woman and a Man." Organist was Beverly Hutchins of Sterling Park, Va.

MAID OF HONOR was the bride's sister, Amy Lutt, and bridesmaids were Elizabeth Lutt, also a sister of the bride, Joan Daum of Lincoln, sister of the bridegroom, and Rene Schemmer of Logan, Iowa.

Serving as the bride's personal attendant was Valerie Gush of Wayne. Brian Connick of Hampton served as best man, and groomsmen were Blaine Johs, Casey Nichols and Todd Clausen, all of Wayne.

Julie Anderson of Wayne and Judy Holland of Lincoln registered the guests, and ushers and candlelighters were Jim Dahlman of Pender, Bruce Frevert of Wayne, Jim Bigbee of Broken Bow, and Scott Sayers of Clarkson.

Flower girl was Sarah Nelson of David City, and ring bearer was Travis Connick of Hampton.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of white matte taffeta fashioned with a high Victorian neckline of schiffli embroidery over a sheer illusion yoke adorned with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. A deep ruffled flounce of Chantilly lace outlined the V yoke in front and back.

The full-length sleeves were gathered just above the elbows and carried another deep ruffled flounce of matching Chantilly accented with a bow and white satin ribbon.

The fitted waistline, trimmed in silk Venice lace, dropped slightly in back and held a full skirt with multiple tiers of ruffled Chantilly lace which peaked on either side and were finished with a white satin bow and short streamers.

Completing the bride's ensemble was a scalloped crescent tiana of schiffli lace accented with seed pearls. A double layer of circular cut bridal illusion formed the fingertip veil. Both layers were cut in scallops and were finished with a rolled edge.

The bride carried a bouquet of silk heather and burgundy roses accented with pearls.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore floor-length gowns of heather rose matte taffeta styled with open sweetheart necklines and spaghetti straps. The belts accented the fitted waistlines which held full skirts.

The dresses were accented with bolero jackets styled with ruffled Queen Victoria necklines and Renaissance sleeves.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of silk flowers in heather rose and burgundy.

The bridegroom was attired in a pearl gray tuxedo, and his attendants wore pearl gray tuxedos with gray ties and cummerbunds.

FOLLOWING the ceremony, a reception for 275 guests was held in the church basement. Hosts were Gayle and Vern Dahlman of Pender, and Marilyn and Mike Johnson of Schuyler.

Dianne Lutt of Dakota City and Viola Meyer of Wayne cut and served the cake, which was decorated by Gayle Dahlman of Pender.

Kate Lutt of Wayne and Kathy Connick of Hampton poured, and Alice Nelson of David City served punch.

Waitresses were Renee Hutchins of Sterling Park, Va., Pam Dahlman of Pender, Amy Connick of Hampton, and Ann Nichols, Trisha Lutt and Jennifer Lutt, all of Wayne.

Gift carriers were Karie Lutt of Wayne, Kim Lutt of Dakota City and Kris Johnson of Schuyler. Rice girls were Corynn Stollenberg of Wayne, Crystal Nelson of David City and Megan Johnson of Schuyler.

A dance followed the reception at the American Legion Hall in Wakefield.

THE NEWLYWEDS took a wedding trip to Minneapolis and are making their home at 809 1/2 W. 1st St., Wayne.

The bride graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1984. She is employed at Region IV Children's Residence and at The Lumber Company in Wayne.

The bridegroom also graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1984 and from Milford Technical College in 1985. He is employed at Logan Valley Implement in Wayne.

The bride is the granddaughter of Harvey and Margaret Lutt and Robert and Eva Nelson, all of Wayne. Grandparents of the bridegroom are Alvin and Leona Daum of Wayne, Dale and Virginia Perry of O'Neill, and Iva Hopkins of O'Neill.

Area women invited to World Community Day at St. Paul's Church

Wayne Church Women United will sponsor annual World Community Day services on Friday, Nov. 7 at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne. All area women are invited.

The ecumenical worship event seeks to bring together women of different Christian traditions to share a common commitment to actively make the world a just and peaceful place for all mankind.

The 1986 service, entitled "Look to the Mountains," was written by Church Women United in New Hampshire.

The team represented a variety of denominations, including American Baptist, Greek Orthodox, Roman Catholic, United Church of Christ and United Methodist.

They used as their inspiration the Great Stone Face located in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, whose existence is being threatened by pollution and acid rain, to focus attention on the human desecration of the earth's environment.

World Community Day 1986 calls women to become involved and accept the challenge to take action to stop the chemical pollution of the earth.

CHURCH WOMEN United is a national ecumenical women's movement with a 46-year history of being a catalyst that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service.

The organization functions through a national unit, 52 state units (including Greater Washington, D. C. and Puerto Rico), and 1,800 local units throughout the United States.

Offerings from World Community Day enable Church Women United to honor its commitment to give tangible assistance to others — to improve the quality of life for all mankind, to support the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to attend a performance by the "Mime-ables" on Wednesday, Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Public invited Grace Lutheran Church presenting 'Mime-ables'

"Mime-ables: Parables in Mime" will appear at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne on Wednesday, Nov. 12.

The program begins at 7:30 p.m. and is open to all residents of the area.

"Mime-ables" is a team of four young adults traveling throughout the United States this fall working in various churches, college-campus and retreat centers. They specialize in youth ministry and pantomime.

The team recently returned from living and ministering in Western Samoa in the South Seas for six months.

THE "MIME-ABLES" use pantomime to bring new life to the parables. Through creative dramatic presentation, actors tell the stories without speaking. They use gestures and actions to portray characters and ideas.

The group is comprised of David Olson of Bloomer, Wisc., Pat Boehmer of Cleveland, Ohio, Debbie Bell of Ankeny, Iowa, and Jeff Hedrick of Sioux Falls, S. D.

They are sponsored by Inter-Collegiate Fellowship Renewal ministry based out of North Heights Lutheran Church in St. Paul, Minn.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 30 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a outline under the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Home Extension Council honors achievements

Wayne County home extension club members and guests gathered for their annual achievement program on Oct. 27 at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

Sponsored by the Wayne County Home Extension Council, the event honored 1986 council members. The program also included installation of new officers and special recognition of new club members and 25-year members.

Entertainment during the afternoon included musical selections by Wayne State College student Brenda Kowalko.

Dr. Charles Maier, also from Wayne State College, gave a slide presentation, "Plants in the Landscape," which showed various uses of trees and shrubs as landscaping for homes.

FIVE NEW HOME extension club members were welcomed. Members of Mrs. Blanche Andersen and Mrs. Merwyn Strate of Hoskins, Mrs. Imogene Brasch and Pearl Benjamin of Wayne, and Mrs. Lois Miller of Winside.

Members honored for 25 years of home extension club work were Mrs. Harvey Larsen of Wayne, Mrs. Cornelius Leonard of Wakefield, and Mrs. Don Harmer of Carroll. Serve All Home Extension Club, Wakefield, and Highland Home Extension Club, Hoskins, received certificates from the state and national councils for 50 years or more of club work.

COUNTY COUNCIL members for 1986 were recognized with certificates and lace net darning ribbons.

Council members for 1987 were installed and Susan Siefken received the county chairman's pin.

Marcella Larsen of the Klitck and Klatter club presented the County Fair silver tray award to the We Few Club. The silver tray is a traveling trophy presented to the top home extension club booth at the county fair.

Dorothy Grone, past council chairman, recounted council achievements during 1986, including support of the Wayne County Fair through cash awards and workers, the seat belt safety poster contest, and the purchase of tables and chairs for the courthouse meeting room.

THE ACHIEVEMENT program was planned and coordinated by Marlan Jordan, Doris Meyer, Delores Utecht and Dorothy Grone, all of Wayne.

bridal showers

Gina Langenberg

Mrs. Chuck Langenberg of Winside, nee Gina Gull, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous bridal shower held Oct. 26 at the Peace United Church of Christ, Hoskins.

Decorations were in burgundy and dusty rose, and 65 guests attended from Omaha, Oakland, Lyons, Wayne, Norfolk, Winside and Hoskins. A reading, "A Farm Wife," was given by Mrs. Dennis Puls. The honoree's mother, Mrs. Kenny Gull of Norfolk, poured at the luncheon.

Hostesses were Mrs. Karen Rosenboom of Omaha; Mrs. Stanley Langenberg, Mrs. Vernon Behmer, Mrs. George Langenberg Sr. and Mrs. Dennis Puls, all of Hoskins; Mrs. Russell Hoffman, Mrs. Stan Soden, Mrs. Werner Mann, Mrs. Al Carlson, Mrs. Don Weible, Mrs. Russell Pryor and Mrs. Gilbert Dangberg, all of Winside; and Mrs. Don Langenberg and Mrs. Bob Hoffman, both of Norfolk.

Chuck Langenberg and Gina Gull were married Sept. 23 in Yankton, S. D.

Shelley Paul

Bride-elect Shelley Paul of Lincoln was honored with two bridal showers on Nov. 1.

Miss Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paul of Wakefield, and Guy Welton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Welton of McCook, will be married Nov. 15 at the Presbyterian Church in Wakefield.

Miss Paul was guest of honor at an afternoon fete on Nov. 1 at the Wakefield Presbyterian Church. Thirty-five guests attended, coming from Sioux City, Wakefield, Wayne, Lincoln, Osmond, Omaha, Pilger, Norfolk, McCook, Kearney, David City and Winside.

Decorations were carried out in the honoree's chosen colors of jade and peach. The serving table was accented by an invitational candle centerpiece. The bride's mother poured and the bridegroom's mother served punch.

The program included readings by LaVon Moes, Lila Barner and Shirley Troutman. Hostesses were LaVon Moes of Osmond, Shirley Troutman of Lincoln, Bonna Barner of Wayne, and Bonnie Paul, Leoma Baker and Lila Barner, all of Wakefield.

A 9:30 a.m. brunch honoring Miss Paul was also held Nov. 1 at the Presbyterian Church with 30 guests attending. Decorations were in jade and peach and included a floral and candle centerpiece at the serving table. Presbyterian Women hosted the event.

WAKEFIELD'S STEPHANIE TORCZON breaks through a banner prior to the Lady Trojans match against Emerson-Hubbard Tuesday night.

Wakefield one game away from returning to state

Wakefield — The Wakefield Lady Trojans are just one game away from returning to the state volleyball tournament after a pair of wins Tuesday night.

Coach Paul Eaton's squad crushed Emerson 15-4, 15-9 and Emerson Hubbard 15-8, 15-4 to claim the Class C19 Subdistrict championship.

The pair of wins earned Wakefield the chance to play Norfolk Catholic High School Friday night at Wisner Pilger High School. The contest will start at 7:30 p.m. The winner of the Friday night match will go on to the state tournament in Lincoln.

Although the Lady Trojans won in two sets, Eaton said he was concerned with the opponents.

"Homer was a team we were really worried about," he said. "They didn't have the best record but they played a lot of good teams close."

Wakefield played well in the first set making quick work of the Lady Knights. Eaton said in the second set each team played poorly but Wakefield prevailed for the win.

Senior Des Salmon topped the team in serves and points scored. She hit 14 of 15 serves and scored 13 points. Kodi Nelson led the way in spikes as she hit 7 of 8 at the net with four kills.

Eaton also voiced concern for Emerson Hubbard. He said they had beaten the Lady Pirates in their second match of the year but they were pushed to three sets.

Emerson Hubbard earned the right to play Wakefield by downing Ponca in straight sets earlier in the evening.

In the championship match the first set started with each team exchanging points. With the score 4-4 Salmon gave her team some breathing room serving four straight points to post the Lady Trojans to a 9-4 lead.

Wakefield increased the lead to 11-4 before the Lady Pirates mounted a charge. The comeback stalled at 11-8. From there Stacey Kuhl served the last four points to give Wakefield the win.

In the second set Wakefield began to click and Emerson-Hubbard started to run out of gas. The game was never really close as Mollie Greve served six straight points to win the match.

Karen Hallstrom was 10-for-10 at the serving stripe while scoring seven points. Stephanie Torczon set 20-of-23 attempts and Nelson was perfect in all 10 of her spike tries with five kills.

Eaton said he hasn't seen Norfolk Catholic play but he has heard from several coaches that they are a very capable team.

"I've heard they've played super at times but then they go into lulls for no reason," Eaton said.

The pair of wins boosted Wakefield's record to 18-1. Eaton said if they beat Norfolk Catholic they will be the top-seeded team at the state tournament.

They went 16-for-17 with eight kills and 16-for-18 with three kills respectively. Lana Erwin was the leading server hitting 13-of-14 serves and Nikki Olesen contributed 70-of-71 sets.

"I thought after the first match was over we'd play better in the second match," Troth said. "That was the most inconsistent we have played all year."

Allen juniors end season

The Allen Junior High volleyball teams finished their seasons successfully Oct. 28 by winning a pair of matches against Wakefield on Allen's home court.

The B team ended its season with a 5-0 record. They won the match against Wakefield in two sets 15-6, 13-15, 15-8. Outstanding servers were Melinda Petit and Alyssa McGrath. Setters Cindy Chase and Carla Stapleton were also credited with fine play.

The girls were coached by Sandy Chase.

Wayne conquers jitters and wins

By Gregg Dahlheim
sports editor

West Point — After conquering first-game jitters Monday night the Wayne Lady Blue Devils ousted Columbus Lakeview in straight sets in the first round of the B-4 District Volleyball Tournament at West Point.

Coach Marlene Uhing's squad handled Lakeview in two sets winning 15-7, 15-9 to advance to the second round of district play against Columbus Scotus.

The Lady Blue Devils started out sluggish falling behind 5-2 in the first set before Uhing called timeout.

Whatever the coach said in the huddle must have gotten the attention of her girls. Behind the serve of senior Kecia Corbit Wayne battled back to take the lead at 7-5. Corbit finished the night 6-for-7 with five aces from the serving stripe.

Lakeview Coach Russ Freeman tried everything he could to take away the momentum calling several timeouts, but nothing seemed to work as the Lady Blue Devils kept rolling up the points.

Uhing said she thought the girls were ready to play and wanted to win very badly. She said the early jitters could have caused by the girls putting too much pressure on themselves.

Uhing said, prior to Monday night, it had been several years since the Lady Blue Devils have won a first-round district match.

Reserve Kristy Hansen served the winning point in the first set, thanks to a fine block by 6-0 senior Shelly Pick.

In the second set each team traded points until the score reached 5-5. Then Marnie Bruggeman took over for their 16th win against only four setbacks.

KECIA CORBIT of Wayne gives chase to an errant shot by a teammate in the match against Columbus Lakeview.

give Wayne a 12-5 lead. Bruggeman was also 25-for-26 in the set department with 13 set assists.

Lakeview staged a mild comeback cutting the Wayne lead to 12-9 but that was all the closer they could get as the Lady Blue Devils served out for their 16th win against only four setbacks.

Uhing said she was pleased with the way Hansen came off the bench and hit her serves. The sophomore finished the match 8-for-10 with five aces she also scored six points.

Uhing said she was glad to see the team can start off slow and still win rather easily. "That's the sign of a good team," she said.

WHS downed by rated Scotus

West Point — "If you have to lose it's better to play well and lose," said Wayne volleyball Coach Marlene Uhing after her team's 15-8, 15-11 loss to Columbus Scotus Tuesday night.

The Lady Blue Devils just couldn't get over the hump against the top-rated team in Class B.

Uhing said the outcome of the first set could have been different if the girls would have hit more serves.

"We missed about nine serves in the first game," said Uhing. "You can't score any points if you don't get the serves over."

Uhing said her squad also played well in the second set. She said everytime the Lady Blue Devils got something going a call would go against them to stop their momentum.

"I don't think that the officiating ever determines the outcome of the game," she said. "But I think they (officials) were a little inconsistent."

Uhing questioned several calls on Wayne's setter Marnie Bruggeman.

"Marnie was very frustrated," Uhing said. "I don't think that someone sets the same way all season and then all of the sudden she starts doing it wrong."

Uhing credited the play of seniors Shelly Pick and Kecia Corbit, junior Amy Schluns and sophomore Kristy Hansen.

Coming off the bench Hansen was the team's leading scorer. She tallied nine points as she hit 11-of-13 serves.

Pick was the top spiker hitting 16-of-18 with five kills. Pick also connected on 18-of-29 serves. Corbit contributed 18-of-17 spikes with two kills. Bruggeman was the leading setter, hitting 25-of-28 with nine set assists.

Wayne finished the season 16-5 under Uhing.

Norfolk Catholic seals fate for Laurel Bears

The Laurel Bears varsity volleyball team ended their 1986 season in a first round C-1 district tournament contest, losing to Norfolk Catholic in two sets at Northeast Technical Community College at Norfolk.

Norfolk Catholic overcame a Laurel lead in the first set and went on to win 12-15. In the second set, Laurel never had the lead in losing by a score of 9-15.

Head Coach Carol Manganaro said the Bears' serving game led to the district tournament defeat. The Bears, as a team, hit on just 80 percent of their serves.

"We missed some serves at some crucial points," Manganaro said. Laurel had jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first set and was ahead 5-1 when the case of bad serving hit the Bears. "We didn't score for four rotations and that hurt us bad," Manganaro mentioned.

Norfolk Catholic went ahead of Laurel 8-10 and went on to win 12-15.

Despite the loss, Manganaro said Laurel played well and performed with good teamwork. "Our passing game showed improvement," she said.

Allen girls bow out in finals

Lyons — The fifth time wasn't a charm for the Allen Lady Eagles.

After winning the first game in the Class C2-7 Subdistrict at Lyons Monday night against Bancroft-Rosalie, the Lady Eagles were tripped by Walthill in two sets.

Allen had beaten Walthill four times during the regular season.

In the first match the Lady Eagles were stretched to the limit by Bancroft-Rosalie 15-11, 13-15, 16-14.

Allen Coach Gary Troth said things looked good for his team in the first set.

"We started out on top 9-1 and looked real intense," he said. "Bancroft was a little tight and looked like they lost their purpose for being there for awhile."

But before the match was over they found their purpose. Bancroft nipped Allen in the second game and had them on the ropes in the third set. Bancroft was leading the Lady Eagles 14-9 with the serve. Allen dodged the bullet and came from behind to win the match.

Kristi Chase and Tiffany Harder led the team in spikes against Bancroft. They went 16-for-17 with eight kills and 16-for-18 with three kills respectively. Lana Erwin was the leading server hitting 13-of-14 serves and Nikki Olesen contributed 70-of-71 sets.

"I thought after the first match was over we'd play better in the second match," Troth said. "That was the most inconsistent we have played all year."

Lady Wildcats ousted from post-season

Wausa — Winside's chance to advance to district tournament play was eliminated quickly Tuesday night as Wausa ended the Lady Wildcats season with a 15-9, 15-5 two-set victory in the Class C2-8 Subdistrict tournament.

Winside Coach Jill Stenwall said the Lady Wildcats main problem was their lack of execution in returning their opponents serves.

"If you can't get the first hit you can't get your offense going," Stenwall said.

Stenwall said Winside played evenly with Wausa for most of the first set. Toward the end of the game the girls' concentration broke down and they began to make mistakes which allowed the hosts to win the set.

The lapse carried over in the second set and Winside was never able to recover.

Stenwall said Wausa's height advantage caused the Lady Wildcats problems.

"Wausa is a tall team," she said. "If you set the ball on the net you'll get it right back in your face and that happened to us several times."

Tricia Hartman turned in a fine performance. The junior led the team in scoring and spiking percentage. Hartman tallied seven points and was 8-for-8 at the net with two kills.

Tracy Topp was 8-for-9 spiking the ball with five kills. Lady Wildcat Cher Olson was the top setter hitting 25-of-28 set attempts.

Stenwall will lose the services of seniors Christi Thies and Topp but will have the rest of her squad returning next year. The Lady Wildcats finished the season 10-8.

New guy on the sports block

Hi Wayne Herald sports fans. Welcome to my first attempt at column writing.

As I was driving the Hertz moving van from Omaha in the season's first snow Saturday, I was wondering what the topic of my first column would be.

As I'm sitting in front of the computer, I'm still wondering. I guess I can start by telling you all a little about myself.

I came from a weekly newspaper in Papillion where I was a general assignment reporter. Since my true love is sports reporting I began looking for sports writing openings. Alas I saw an ad for sports editor at the Herald. From there the rest is history.

Sports is not number one in my life but it runs a pretty close second. Baseball is my favorite sport followed by football, basketball and golf.

I may as well warn you flat out, the Minnesota Vikings, New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Bucks can do no wrong. As soon as I make my millions in journalism I plan to buy controlling interest in the Yankees from George Steinbrenner.

I also like to play several sports, softball being my favorite. I punish my body summer after summer, stretching my abilities and beyond my limits.

Other sports I participate in are golf, volleyball and occasionally pickup games of football and basketball.

This past summer I got involved in the latest craze of sand volleyball. This is something I really enjoy because when you fall the sand doesn't make it hurt as bad.

I got to spend two miserable weeks in July in a cast after tearing a ligament in my ankle playing a friendly game of volleyball at a Fourth of July picnic.

I'm looking forward to my stay at the Herald. I've heard a lot of good reports about the community I will be reporting on. I'm sure I will make numerous trips to Lincoln and Omaha to see various area teams perform in state competition.

This would also be a good time to make my pitch to coaches and all interested parties. If you have a good idea for a sports feature story drop me a line or give me a call about your idea.

You people are the ones that read the paper and things that interest you will also interest other readers.

How about those Huskers this week?

Under blizzard conditions for most of the game last Saturday the Blackshirts recorded their first shutout of the season. This week Iowa State may be hoping for a typhoon.

Nebraska won't get back-to-back shutouts but Coach Osborne will play everyone he can pack on the bus for the trip to Ames.

Prediction—Nebraska 45 - Iowa State 10.

Wildcat upset bid ended with 3rd quarter blitz

By Gregg Dahlheim
sports editor

After 30 minutes of football Saturday at Welch Stadium it looked like an upset in the makings.

At halftime the visiting Wayne State Wildcats, 2-7, trailed Emporia State, 7-2, by one point. 16-15. Then the bad news came for Wildcat fans—the third quarter began.

The Hornets stung the Wildcats for 21 unanswered points and took a 37-15 lead into the fourth quarter.

Emporia State running back David Tryon ran the Wildcat defense ragged as he gained 304 yards on 24 carries. He scored three touchdowns, his longest, a 78-yard run on the second play following the intermission.

The Hornets got on the scoreboard first when Tryon busted a 64-yard run for a touchdown. Eric Bliss kicked the extra point. In the second quarter Emporia increased its lead 9-0 after Dan Blackburn had his punt blocked and the ball rolled out of the end zone for a safety.

Wayne State pulled to within two points at 9-7 when quarterback John Lawrence threw a touchdown pass to Glen Matthews with 7:45 left in the second quarter. Tony Wiese made the PAT. The touchdown was made possible when Rob Hofstra recovered a Tryon fumble at the Hornet 4-yard line.

Emporia picked up another score when Gene Rowe scored from 4-yards out. Bliss added the PAT. The Wildcats closed the scoring in the first half when Lawrence threw his second touchdown pass. This time he hit Sonny Jones from 23-yards out. Wayne was successful on the two-point attempt after Chuck McGinnis flied a bad snap and threw to Blackburn to make the score 16-15.

"We were in the game until halftime," Wildcat Coach Pete Chapman said. "They had a couple of good things happen to them in the second half and we didn't."

After Tryon's 78-yard touchdown, the Hornets scored again on quarterback Randy Beene's 10-yard scamper. Again Bliss added the PAT. Rowe closed out the third quarter scoring with his second four-yard run. Bliss added his fifth extra point to make it 37-15.

Lawrence ended the WSC scoring when he went in from 5-yards out with 13:06 left in the contest. Wiese added the extra point to make the score 37-22.

As was only fitting, Tryon tallied the last score of the day after he broke a tackle in the backfield and sprinted 40 yards for the touchdown with 11:53 remaining.

Despite the loss, the Wildcats had several bright spots. They scored a season-high 22 points. Chapman said he was pleased his team was able to move the ball so well. The Wildcats gained 236 total yards. On the other side of the ball the WSC defense gave up 512 yards, 419 of those coming on the ground.

Lawrence put his name in the record book as he completed a school record 28 passes. The team completed 29-aerials, another WSC record.

Chapman said if the Wildcats can move the ball like they did Saturday, they could win their third game of the season when they travel to Joplin, Missouri to play Missouri Southern this Saturday afternoon.

Chapman said the Lions, 1-7, are a very physical team. He said Missouri Southern should be pumped up coming off a 3-0 upset win over Fort Hays State.

The Lions running game is the team's strong point, according to Chapman. It features the running ability of Greg Dageforde. Dageforde was the Big 8 Newcomer of the year when he was a freshman at Kansas State.

The coach said another thing that might work against the Wildcats is their injury situation. WSC lost the services of senior linebacker Judd Meenley. Meenley went down with a knee injury during a recent practice. The Wildcats are still without the services of linebacker Bob Sterba, Cornell Gregory and Rich Ruffcorn.

Wayne State spikers set eight team records

The Lady Wildcats upper division finish in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC) and eight new school records highlighted the 1986 volleyball season for Coach Marilyn Strate's squad.

Wayne State finished the year 29-22, including a fourth-place finish in the CSIC tournament. It was the first time a Wayne State team has placed in the top four teams since the conference was formed.

In another first, the Lady Wildcats also had a player named to the first team All-CSIC team when Missy Stoltenberg was honored. Meg Hurley, a sophomore from Omaha, led the conference in blocks, another first for Wayne State.

Other season highlights included two tournament championships and post-season honors for three players.

The Lady Wildcats won the Dord Invitational and the Wayne State In-

Winside wins first round of tourney

Wausa — Winside kept its state tournament hopes alive as they downed Wynot in three sets 15-7, 5-15, 17-15 in the first round of the C-2 District 8 tournament Monday night.

"We played well as a team and we got help from our bench," said Lady Wildcat Jill Stenwall.

For Winside revenge was sweet as they atoned for a loss to Wynot earlier in the season.

Senior Tracy Topp led the Lady Wildcats by scoring 11 points. Topp also tallied a team-high total in spikes, hitting 12-for-18 with three kills. Teammates Lori Jensen and Christi Thies followed going 7-for-7 with one kill and 7-for-9 with four kills respectively. Cher Olson led Winside in sets hitting 33 of 35.

The victors struggled and were beaten badly in the second set after winning quite effortlessly in the first set. Both teams were up for the final set but the relatively young Winside squad held on to advance.

District 11 notes

Ted Murray of Kearney State and Jeff Ross of Hastings were selected as the offensive and defensive players of the week in District 11.

Murray caught three touchdown passes from Antelope quarterback Mark Ross in KSC's 27-23 loss to topped-ranked Pittsburg State.

Others nominated include: Frank Wray, Hastings; Doug Harrington, Midland; Steve McAlester, Midland; Chuck Kapayo, Concordia; Vic Williams, Peru State; Scott Charron, Chadron; John Lawrence, Wayne State; Tim Beebe, Nebraska Wesleyan; and Brian Muschall, Dana.

Jeff Ross was credited for 15 tackles and one fumble recovery in Hastings 14-10 upset loss to Doane.

Others nominated include: Kacey Booth, Midland; Scott Cooper, Kearney State; Rich Bartlett, Doane; Lyle Ziems, Concordia; Mike Lincoln, Peru State; Greg Cavell, Wayne State; Jamie Kernan, Nebraska Wesleyan; and Greg Hansen, Dana.

Last Week's Scores

Dana 28 Midland 13; Doane 14 Hastings 8; Nebraska Wesleyan 35 Concordia 7; Emporia State 27 Kearney State 22; Benedictine 4 Peru State 32; Black Hills State 19 Chadron 4.

Wayne State's Rankings

The Wildcats are fifth in team passing averaging 139.4 yards...10th in rushing averaging 38.8 yards...10th in total offense averaging 176.2 yards...eighth in rushing defense allowing 213.3 yards...eighth in passing defense allowing 152 yards...ninth in total defense allowing 365.3.

15-10, 16-14.

Erwin led the team in scoring with eight points. Missy Martinson came off the bench to top Allen in spikes hitting 7-of-7.

Troth said while a few girls took the loss pretty hard, they knew that they didn't play well enough to win.

Allen turned in a 14-7 record for the year.

"Anytime you can twice as many games as you lose you know you've had a good season," Troth said.

SCHOOL LUNCH WEEK
Wakefield Community Schools invited parents, brothers, and sisters and friends to eat lunch at school during National School Lunch Week Oct. 13-17. The invitation was accepted by 210 people who ate with the students that week. School officials said there were 179 adults and 31 children compared to 153 and 21 a year ago.

FARM CRISIS GROUP
The Wakefield Farm Crisis Committee is planning to have a grain drive as soon as the weather will permit. Local committee president, Kurt Rewinkel, said the committee will accept any amount from a scoop full on up.

According to Rewinkel, monies raised from the drive will be used for projects of the local group and part would be sent to the Emerson office to help with the continuing costs to operate the office and to send out the monthly newsletter.

DIRECTOR OF ARSON ASSOCIATION
Robert Mavis of Wakefield was re-elected director of the Nebraska Chapter of International Association of Arson Investigators for the Northeast district. The association held its annual meeting on Sept. 29 at Grand Island.

NEW BOOKS
Hearts are the subject title of two new books at Graves Public Library. The latest books at the library are "Happy Are the Clean of Hearts" by Andrew Greeley, "High Hearts" by Rita Brown, "The Moth" by Catherine Cookson, "Corpus Delicti" by Diane Wagner and "The Daybreaker" by L.L. Armour.

Pain Relief

Pain is one of the experiences of life that all of us share. Yet, for reasons that are not completely clear, individuals react differently to the same pain levels.

Pain is often classified as being either acute or chronic. Acute pain tends to occur unexpectedly and for short periods of time. Causes include problems such as toothache, insect stings, and trauma. Chronic pain, on the other hand, may continue for weeks, months, and even years. Chronic pain may be due to arthritis, cancer, and a variety of neurological problems including sciatica.

Severe pain may be either acute or chronic in nature and often requires the use of the prescription narcotic medicines for relief. Mild to moderate pain, however, can often be relieved with the products available without prescription from your pharmacist. Most of the non-prescription pain relievers contain aspirin, an aspirin derivative, acetaminophen, or ibuprofen. All have been proven to be effective pain relievers in hundreds of clinical tests. That products containing these medicines can be purchased without prescription is an indication of safety. Ask us for the recommendation of an effective and relatively safe product.

Center marks half year anniversary

by Doug Porter

This week marks roughly the half year anniversary of the Wayne Stress Prevention Center. Therefore, it seems like an appropriate time to reflect on the past six months and look forward, as far as what to expect in the next six months.

While it has been an uphill grind at times, overall the hard work we have put in has been worth it with all the people we have been fortunate to have, hopefully helped a little along the way.

There are several people and groups along the way that have tremendously aided the Center in an invaluable way. However, our first thanks must be extended to the Providence Medical Center Foundation. Without their grant the Center would have never become a reality. We would like to thank them all collectively and individually.

Next, we would like to thank Dr. Derek Paar for all his help. It was Dr. Paars' brainchild that we at the Center have built upon as a foundation. We wish him luck at his new job at Springfield College and hope that he will form a stress center there as well.

We would also like to recognize the Wayne Herald and express our appreciation for allowing our column to be run weekly in their fine newspaper. It has been a great way to spread the word.

We would also like to thank Arllys Manson for designing the logo that we use at the Center and that people have come to know us by. It is a beautiful piece of artwork and deeply appreciated.

Continuing, we would like to thank the students that helped in the project as well. We definitely couldn't have done it without their support.

Lastly, I would like to thank three very special people. Without their hard work the Center would not be where it is today. First is my wife, Renee, who has been a tremendous support throughout the whole process. She has done many little things which normally go unnoticed but are vital to the Center's functioning.

That also goes for another lady, Jean Berger. Jean has been a fantastic help in many ways.

The last person I would like to recognize is my co-director, colleague, classmate and friend, Jeff Berger. His continued hard work and creative thinking have helped the Center in several invaluable ways. It is a joy to work with and a man I truly respect.

WE WOULD ALSO like to thank you, the weekly visitors, the readers of our articles and the groups that we have presented to. Without your support and inquiry the Center would not be a necessary function like it is today.

We would also like to thank our readers for the pleasant responses we received in this week's mail. We will be answering some of those questions received over the next several articles when space is provided.

What's coming up in the next six months?

More good stuff.

We will continue to have our Thursday night meetings at Wayne Carroll High School at 7 p.m. in Room 202 for your specific concerns about stress. Furthermore, we are continuing our "Road Show" and would love to have an opportunity to come and speak at your group. Please give us a call at 375-5289 or 375-2420.

Also, look for our new tri-fold pamphlet which will be hot off the presses real soon. It will inform you more about the Center and you should be able to find it at local spots around town in the next couple of weeks.

We will also continue our weekly articles in the Thursday edition of the Wayne Herald and encourage you to write if you have any questions or comments pertaining to stress. For the next several weeks I will be running a series of articles on some of the lesser known areas of Wellness.

Please continue to read our articles and feel free to stop in and see us on Thursday nights.

COMMUNITY

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Winside Federated Woman's Club sponsored its annual children's Halloween party on Nov. 1 in the city auditorium.

Approximately 60 youngsters participated in the afternoon event. Games were played with high school students assisting. Mothers attending were served coffee and cookies, and each child received a Rice Krispie bar.

Youngsters were divided into age groups for costume judging. Judges were Mrs. Jean Gahl, Mrs. Shirley Fleer and Mrs. Lila Hansen. Winners were:

Three-year-olds — Amy Rademacher, Indian girl, first place; Kayla Bowers, Mickey Mouse, second; and Shane Jaeger, pirate, third.

Four and five-year-olds — April Frevert, clown, first place; Shannon Jaeger, devil, second; and Misty Janke, clown, third.

Six-year-olds — Andrew Jensen, Raggedy Ann, first place; Jessica Janke, clown, second; and Jay Rademacher, spaceman, third.

Seven and eight-year-olds — Ben Fale, fat man, first place; Angela Trowbridge, rag clown, second; and Jessica Jaeger, clown, third.

Nine-year-olds and up — Chad Evans, witch, first place; Greg Mundil, munchkin, second; and Kent Damme, pirate, third.

All winners received cash prizes.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

Winside's Advisory Council met Oct. 30 with 19 members and 58 guests attending. Council President Dianne Jaeger called the meeting to order and welcomed those attending.

Jane Witt took roll call and gave the treasurer's report. The secretary's report was given by Carol Bloomfield.

It was announced that the GED class has been changed from Monday to Tuesday evenings. Residents of the area who would like to obtain a high school equivalency diploma are invited to attend free of charge. Interested persons should contact Jean Gahl or Joan Jensen at 286-4465.

Suggested adult education classes include aviation ground school, quilting in a day, typing refresher, and sewing with knits.

Persons interested in attending any of the classes are asked to contact Principal Ron Leapley, 286-4465, as soon as possible so schedules can be arranged.

Following the business meeting, Leapley served as moderator for a panel discussion including candidates seeking three seats on the Winside Board of Education.

Candidates taking part in the discussion were Harlan Brugger, Jane Witt, Dale Topp, Ken Kollath, Richard Jenkins and Melvin Meierhenry. Ray Roberts was absent.

Each candidate presented an opening statement, followed with questions from the audience.

Next meeting of the Advisory Council will be Tuesday, Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m. The program will be presented by Educational Service Unit 1. Speakers will be ESU 1 Administrator Harry Mills, and board members Randy Shaw and Deryl Lawrence of Wayne.

All residents of the community and Winside school district are welcome to attend. Persons who would like additional information are asked to contact Dianne Jaeger, 286-4504, or Pat Miller, 286-4262.

GIRL SCOUT HALLOWEEN PARTY

Winside Girl Scouts sponsored a Halloween party for Brownies on Oct. 31 at the elementary school.

The group played games, bobbed for apples, and decorated and judged buttered squash.

Junior Girl Scouts served lunch to the Brownies. There were 32 girls present.

PINOCHLE CLUB

Mrs. Ella Miller hosted the Oct. 30 meeting of GT Pinochle Club with all members attending. Prizes were won by Minnie Weible and Laura Jaeger.

Minnie Weible will be the Nov. 14 hostess.

WEBELOS

Five Webelos Cub Scouts met Nov. 1 with leader Donna Nelson. The boys continued work on their naturalist badges and drew pictures of birds. Dottie Nelson served treats.

Mrs. Jean Gahl will speak to the group on birds during the next couple of weeks.

Next meeting will be Nov. 8 at 2 p.m. at the fire hall. John Hancock will provide treats.

MEET FOR BRIDGE

Three-Four Bridge Club met with hostess Leora Imel on Oct. 31. Guests were Gladys Gaebler, Jane Witt and Dottie Wacker.

Receiving prizes were Dorothy Troutman, Minnie Graef, Dottie Wacker and Gladys Gaebler.

Next meeting will be Nov. 14 with Norma Janke.

Mrs. Lloyd Behmer flew to St. Louis, Mo. on Oct. 25 to meet her daughter, Cheryl Mason, for a trip to Portland, Maine.

Cheryl is executive director of the Childrens Trust Fund of the State of Missouri and was guest speaker in Portland at the National Child Welfare Conference.

While in Maine, Mrs. Behmer and Mrs. Mason toured the state and took two cruises in Casco Bay of the Atlantic.

THERE WERE GHOSTS, GOBLINS AND GHOULS galore last Saturday afternoon during the annual children's Halloween party sponsored by the Winside Federated Woman's Club. Approximately 60 youngsters attended the event in the Winside city auditorium. Among those attending was Chad Evans, at left, who as a witch captured first place in the costume contest division for nine-year-olds and up. Also pictured during the afternoon are, above photo from left, three-year-olds Amy Rademacher, Rebecca Fale and Justin Bleich.

I WOULD like to thank the Blue Devil Booster Club for the plaque and honor bestowed on me Friday evening at the Wayne-O'Neill football game. I would also like to thank the people who say yes when I call for volunteer help on the projects I am involved with. It makes them very enjoyable and easy to do with such cooperation. Thank you. Paul Ote. N6

I WANT to thank everyone who remembered me with visits, calls, cards and flowers. Also Dr. Bob, Dr. Ben, and Gary. A special thanks to Fr. Cleary and Sister Gertrude and all of the nurses at PMC. God bless all of you. Maria Brugger. N6

I WOULD like to thank the Winside museum project for the beautiful alghan I won at the chili and pie supper Friday night. Loretta Voss. N6

THE WINSIDE MUSEUM Committee of the Wayne County Historical Society would like to express its deep appreciation to all the individuals, business's and organizations who contributed food, cash, worked, or attended our Oct. 31 chili feed. Also special thanks to Ruby Ritze for donating the alghan, Mallida Reeg for the goose door stop and lap robe, Evelyn Hoeman for making all the chili, and the Winside School for the use of their kitchen facilities and multi-purpose room. With so many people pulling together, our goal can't be far away. N6

THANKS TO FRIENDS and relatives for flowers, cards, telephone calls, food, and visits while I was hospitalized and after returning home. Special thanks to Pastor Monson, Dr. Benthack, Dr. Dalheim, Gary West, Sister Gertrude and the staff at Providence Medical Center. Roberta Carman. N6
