Slipped and tipped

A TRUCK-TRAILER, filled with full cases of bottle and can beer, kegs and wine coolers, lost control Tuesday morning on slick Highway 35 south of Winside and flipped into a ditch. Driver of the vehicle was Stan Nathan of Norfolk. He was driving the vehicle, belonging to Norfolk Beverage Co., north on Highway 35 when he lost control of the truck-trailer about a half-mile south of the Winside corner. The vehicle spun around, hit a bridge railing and went into the east ditch facing south. He was not injured in the incident. Volunteers helped clean up the beer cans and bottles and other alcohol that scattered from the trailer.

Smokers asked to kick the habit

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Three individuals from Wayne will be among the estimated 23 million people who will make an effort to quit smoking this Thursday (Nov. 20) — the date of the 10th annual Great American Smokeout.

Roger Nelson, owner of the Rusty Nail in Wayne and a former smoker, has coordinated the Great American Smokeout primarily among the business community at least six of the 10 anniversary years.

Each year of the smokeout, individuals who are well-known in the community are asked to "be an example for other smokers," as Nelson put it. Those three who have been selected are Jim Marsh, business manager and advertising executive at The Wayne Herald; Ann Keating, a secretary-receptionist at Providence Medical Center; and Jane Ahman, a salesperson at Surber's.

Nelson said he would check on the participants from time to time and all will be monitored during the Great American Smokeout through occasional calls by KTCH Radio.

PARTICIPATION in last year's Smokeout topped all previous records nationwide. An estimated 23 million Americans — more than 4 out of 10 cigarette smokers — tried to kick their habit for a day, according to the official survey conducted for the American Cancer Society by the Gallup Organization.

Nelson said, however, that approximately 320,000 people will die this year from cancer or other disease because of their link to smoking. "That is about as many as all of the fatalities of war in this century," he said.

Despite the success of last year's event, about 54 million Americans continue to smoke year after year.

Other information which Nelson presented were:

"Cigarette smoking has contributed to about 83 percent of the lung cancer cases in this country.

"Last year, the number one cancer killer of women was lung cancer. Today, more women continue to smoke. Nelson said there are more women becoming new smokers than men.

"From 1978 to 1985, a total of 37 million have quit smoking.

Nelson pointed out that for about 90 percent of the people, quitting cigarette smoking should be a "cold turkey" approach. "Few who decide to cut down on smoking ever manage to quit," he said.

More statistics and material on smoking and the Great American Smokeout are available at the State National Bank and Trust, First National Bank, the Wayne State College and the Rusty Nail.

Energy grant funds now available

Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council...has received $265,454 to weatherize homes under the federally-funded Low Income Energy Assistance Program.

The Nebraska Energy Office in Lincoln estimates that about 163 homes will be weatherized with the $265,454 in the 14 counties served by Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council, including Wayne, Cedar and Dixon Counties.

"This effort in Nebraska is a model of local/state partnerships enhancing local economic development efforts," said Martha Beaman, director of the Nebraska Energy Office.

"For four years, we've emphasized hiring local contractors and purchasing weatherization materials from Nebraska manufacturers and retailers."

Under the federally-funded Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, up to 15 percent of the funds may be used to weatherize the homes of those who are unable to afford it themselves.

Under a four-year contract with the Department of Social Services, the amount allocated to the Energy Office-administered weatherization program has increased from 7.2 percent to 12.42 percent, and will reach the maximum of 15 percent in 1987.

Telebeep seeks application

A Norfolk company is seeking an application to provide paging and mobile telephone services to subscribers in the Wayne area.

The application for a "certificate of public convenience and necessity," which would authorize service as a radio common carrier to subscribers, has been requested by Telebeep, Inc. of Norfolk.

The paging and telephone services would be provided to subscribers within a 10 mile radius of Wayne, Wisner, Beemer and West Point.

Protests to the application must be filed on or before December 15, 1986, according to the Nebraska Public Service Commission.

If a formal hearing is necessary, those interested in the application will be notified later of the time and place of such a hearing.

NPPD cost for electricity to decrease

Retail and wholesale customers of the Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) will be paying less for the electricity they use in 1987 compared to 1986.

The reason is an anticipated $11.8 million excess revenue in the Production Cost Adjustment (PCA) Account to be refunded to customers during 1987.

Although the NPPD board of directors has approved a three-percents increase in the basic rate for the District's total requirements wholesale customers who have firm contracts for 1987, increasing the size of the PCA refund would have the effect of reducing the cost of electricity to those customers .85 percent compared to 1986.

Although the basic rates for NPPD's more than 108,000 retail customers will remain the same in 1987 as in 1986 the estimated larger PCA refund will result in a slight decrease in overall electricity costs.

The higher PCA refund the NPPD wholesale and retail customers will receive assumes that there will be additional surplus accumulation in the fund during the remainder of 1986 and in 1987.

"NPPD is making a maximum effort to maintain electric rates as low as level as practical," said President Don Schauffelberger. "We are currently striving for the current economic conditions in Nebraska and realize that large increases in the cost of energy could have a damaging effect on many people."

NPPD has recently completed a long-term forecast of future wholesale rates. This forecast is based upon a continuation of NPPD's existing operations with respect to its power—supply, transmission—and distribution systems; and a continuation of NPPD's service to its retail and wholesale customers.

This study indicated that NPPD's rates for wholesale service will increase at an average rate of 1.8 percent per year through the year 2000. During this period, NPPD is forecasting growth of approximately 2 percent per year in power and energy sales and inflation of approximately 3.5 percent per year.

Schauffelberger said the slower growth in demand for electricity, which has delayed future construction, and the lower inflation rates would enable NPPD to hold down cost increases during the period. Schauffelberger also said that NPPD's retail rates would probably increase at a level similar to that of the wholesale rate forecast.

LB 1 heading for passage

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association. Senators have descended on the Capitol city for what most hope will be a short — seven-day, $37,000 special session.

But when the 49 meet there are no guarantees.

The session will be the last grand stand for Senator John DeCamp of Neligh, the colorful and controversial veteran senator from Neligh.

Another nine senators, who are retiring either by choice or election defeat will also cast their final votes during the November special session.

It appears that the senators will deal with two issues only, despite rumblings that some senators wanted to open the session to other topics.

One measure, a statewide computerized system to keep track of farm crop liens, appears headed for easy passage. The bill, LB 1, would establish the statewide computerized system in law and set the fees.

A similar measure passed 26-18 last April and was vetoed by Governor Bob Kerrey. Kerrey said he didn't like the way the credit industry tried to "muscle" the bill through the Legislature.

But the state faces a December 24 federal deadline. Nebraska must establish the computer network or begin a pre-notification system for crop liens that will create a blizzard of paperwork for the banking industry.

A computerized filing system is already fact, according to Secretary of State Allen Beermann. His staff will be able to make modifications to meet federal regulations by the Christmas Eve deadline.

Getting federal approval quickly may be a bigger problem. Beermann says he is willing to hand carry the application to Washington D.C. and wait there until it is approved.

BEERMANN IS hoping that the state will be able to bypass some of the federal requirements that several hundred subclasses of crop products must be included in the filing system. Nebraska wants to narrow that list down to about 60.

"The pineapple crop, for example, is not very heavy in Nebraska. Nor are peanuts," he said.

Most of the special session debate is expected to center around the farm foreclosure measure.

Senators passed LB 999, the farm foreclosure bill, by a 30-17 vote last April. The law allows farmers and ranchers to purchase the farm homestead and up to 160 acres of land during a foreclosure process — assuming they have the funds.

The ink was hardly dry on Kerrey's signature when several insurance companies and the Omaha Federal Land Bank began warning that they would withhold loans in the state unless the measure was modified.

A Kerrey-appointed task force this summer drafted a compromise but it has not met with universal approval.

The proposed changes make it clear that the partial-redemption features are retroactive. They will apply to loans made before LB 999 became law.

The special session bill also specifies that a borrower must carve out the homestead when the loan is made — called predestination.

There is no great dissension over these two changes.

HOWEVER, THERE is major disagreement over the method which will be used to determine the price of a homestead during a foreclosure on loans made before the law went into effect.

The disagreement centers over one short phrase — bid or "fair and reasonable bid."

The bid in question will determine the price of the homestead. Groups supporting the borrowers want the words "fair and reasonable" inserted before bid. That would mean a court could ultimately determine the price of the homestead if the borrower felt the bid was unreasonable.

The battle lines are drawn. Lenders object vehemently. They want the bidding process alone to control the price.

Marly Rurang, director of the Center for Rural Affairs in Walthill, contends that without the "fair and reasonable" language, the lender will control the price of the land completely, and will thus be able to juggle bids to create high-priced homesteads.

DeCamp has promised he will try to get the entire farm foreclosure law repealed.

And Governor Bob Kerrey has promised a veto on any repeal of the homestead law.

Hang up

About a month ago, it was written in this space about a obscene caller that had used the good name of the American Cancer Society in delivering its obscene message to a Wayne woman.

Apparently, since the article has appeared in the Wayne Herald, more incidents have been reported to the true representatives of the Wayne American Cancer Society.

What happens, according to the women who have received the telephone call, is that the caller identifies himself (or herself) as a representative of the American Cancer Society. The caller cordially says that the cancer society is doing a questionnaire and wants the person answering the phone to answer some personal questions.

As the questions continue, they become more and more personal. And then, according to the reports given to The Wayne Herald by the women who have been called, the conversation by the caller turns to voicing ugly obscenities.

Making obscene phone calls is a criminal offense, according to Bob Ensz, Wayne County Attorney. And it is a good idea, he said, to make a report to the law enforcement officials, so that there is a record of the calls being made.

Ensz also advised that a report of the call also be made to a true representative of the American Cancer Society.

A Wayne American Cancer Society representative verified with the Wayne Herald Tuesday evening that the organization is not in the process of doing any type of questionnaire, and they are presently recommending to "hang up" on the individual who describes himself/herself as a cancer society individual conducting any type of survey.

Salute to education

The week of Nov. 16-22 is the 65th anniversary of American Education Week according to Wayne-Carroll's Dr. F. R. Haun, Superintendent of Schools, and Dale Hochstein, president of the Wayne Education Association.

The theme of this year's observance is "School and Community: United for Excellence," and that theme is seen year around in Wayne. "We believe our local schools are doing an excellent job of preparing our youth. This is evident in last week's editorial and the many other articles printed each week. We feel the media recognizes the importance our community places on education."

Here are some national figures to help understand the accomplishment of the American public schools:

•Some 80 percent of our young people currently graduate from high school and 65 percent of these graduates attend college. Fifty percent of entering college students graduate. In England, only 20 percent of youth graduate from high school.

•In 1970, about 58,000 high school students took Advanced Placement Exams for college credit. In 1980, almost 130,000 high school students took those exams — although fewer students were enrolled in high school.

•Standardized tests show that today's elementary school students read better than did their counterparts tested in 1960.

"Even though we have an outstanding school we also know there is room for improvement," Haun and Hochstein mention.

Schools are more than just students and teachers. There are guidance counselors, librarians, bus drivers, administrators, cafeteria workers, custodians, secretaries and many more individuals working together to make our schools work for our students.

"We feel our community ideas and perspectives have played a vital part in improving our educational system," Hochstein said.

"On behalf of the Wayne-Carroll School System, we wish to express our appreciation to the community for the input and support you have given us. We feel the theme "School and Community: United for Excellence" applies to our school and we look forward to its continuance.

President's credibility damaged after sending arms to Iran by Senator Jim Exon "The President is in charge of foreign policy and I do not believe he has done anything illegal. That does not make his actions right and these are certainly morally wrong," said U.S. Senator Jim Exon, a senior member of the Senate Armed Services Committee. "While he was sending arms to Iran he was simultaneously telling the American People and our allies that it was wrong. "If he and the Israelis want to deal with Iranian terrorists, so be it. But to whimper that he was unfairly treated by the American press when the 'leak' obviously came from his clandestine Iranian connections is nonsense. "His speech was more like a bed time story for Bonzo and even Bonzo will recognize it for what it is a clear case of duplicity."

"The continued denials by the President that he made 'no deal' for Nicholas Daniloff, is so bazaar that it's unbelievable. For the President to say he was not taking sides in the Iran-Iraq War while admitting sending badly needed arms to Iran would be laughable if it were not so serious. "He has damaged his credibility everywhere and if the American people buy this one, God help us."

"But he is a good story teller. He 'hooked' me this year when I delivered him the 34th vote necessary to sustain his arms sales to Saudi Arabia. "He told me that the Saudis needed the arms to protect their oil fields from Iran. Before and after that, he was secretly supplying arms to Iran that obviously could be used against the Saudis. The President seems to believe that his being the major weapons supplier to the world best assures peace. "He and his secret Iranian friends say there was no deal or discussion of arms for hostages. If you believe them both, then what did the President get?" "If we have so deteriorated in our foreign policy that we are trying to become co-conspirators with the Ayatollah Khomeini and his ilk, then we are truly headed for disaster."

Still a long way to go

Medicare improvements made

A BIT OF GOOD NEWS ABOUT THE BUDGET

Almost everyone agrees that the number one priority of the 100th Congress which convenes in January must be the related items of deficit reduction, living within a budget and reform of the budget process. I'm at least a bit more hopeful than in previous years that we can make progress in this effort.

One of the few positive features of the massive spending bill that we approved before the October adjournment is that it represents less than a one percent increase in spending over the previous year. Between 1966 and 1986, Federal spending grew at an average of 11 percent per year. So, it's rather amazing and an unnoticed fact that the congress did indeed hold spending to less than a one percent increase over the next year — the lowest level in at least several decades.

Now undue numbers and amounts of supplemental appropriations must be resisted in 1987. That will be a major feat given the situation we face in the 100th Congress which convenes in January.

SOME SUCCESS WITH MEDICARE Over the past year my office has been devoting increasing amounts of time with constituents who have problems with Medicare. While we have a long way to go in achieving the desired improvements in processing

Medicare claims, progress has definitely been made because of our efforts.

For example, additional telephone lines have been installed so that Medicare beneficiaries can deal directly with Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Iowa, which is the Medicare provider for Nebraska. And, in mid-October, I was able to convince Blue Cross/Blue Shield to waive the fee for a series of provider workshops that were recently held in 10 Nebraska communities. These workshops were designed for physician office personnel who deal with paperwork for the Medicare Part B program, the part that handles claims for physician-related service.

SIXTH ANNUAL BEREUTER INSTITUTE A SUCCESS More than 300 students and teachers from the First Congressional District participated in my annual Youth Institute which was held at Nebraska Wesleyan University on Friday, November 7th.

This is a great opportunity to get students to think about issues and what their appetites for more knowledge. A special thanks to all who participated in the Youth Institute and all of our speakers who gave generously of their time to make this year's event another success!

Each year I bring together high school students from across the District to participate in a government affairs symposium. This year students participated in discussion sessions on the following subjects: alcohol and drug abuse, generational conflict, values and the public school curriculum, women in politics, farming in Nebraska and environmental hazards, and the world's view of the United States.

What gifts would be appropriate for a friend or relative suffering from Alzheimer's disease? The Minneapolis chapter of the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association has offered some suggestions. Music in the form of a record, tape or simple rhythm instrument, or an album with bright, cheerful pictures, would be excellent. They also suggest a bulletin board with the person's name in large felt letters along with some family photos and other mementos. An identification bracelet with name, address and phone number could be useful, especially if the person tends to wander. Clothing ideas include a jogging suit for comfort, thermal slipper-socks or a sweater or shawl. Some patients also enjoy handling worry beads or similar objects.

Executive Vice President of Wayne Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, Inc.

The Wayne Industries office, located at 108 West Third Street, is house in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Wayne Industries first annual meeting was held on January 21, 1986 and included a small group of individuals that were concerned about Wayne's economic growth. Together the group started what has proven to be a vital organization for Wayne.

One of their first priorities was acquiring an 18 acre site east of Wayne on Highway 35, presently the Industrial Park which was sold to the City of Wayne in 1973. As a public property the site was eligible for federal funds to be used in development and preparation.

The organization exists for the purpose of soliciting new industry and encouraging expansion of existing industry through a program of research, marketing, and coordinating local resources. All efforts are dedicated to the overall betterment of the economy of the Wayne community.

Sooners to prevail in shootout?

The week that all Cornhusker football fans have been waiting for has finally arrived—the pre-Big 8 shoot-out week.

Fans of all ages have waited for this week since the final gun of Oklahoma's topside 27-7 win over Nebraska last November.

The week usually starts out slowly. All of the newspaper articles state how eager all of the players and coaches are to play the game that has decided the conference champions 18 of the last 19 years.

As the week goes on the pitch gets more upbeat. By Friday each team is telling their respective newspapers what they are going to do to each other on the field Saturday afternoon.

This year is no different. Cornhusker players want to atone for last year's embarrassing loss while the southern version of the Big Red want to win their second outright Big Eight title in as many years.

Being an alum of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and spectator of many of the November clashes this column pains me to write.

I think Nebraska is going to have to play the game of the year to beat the Sooners. Oklahoma always seem to have that certain aura about them. No matter how bad they played earlier in the season, come Thanksgiving time they're on a roll.

The Sooners haven't allowed a rushing touchdown in 43 quarters, since the 1986 Orange Bowl game against Penn State and haven't allowed any kind of a touchdown in the last five games. To add to that, their defense has allowed only three points to their previous six Big Eight opponents. They will also be gunning for their sixth shootout when they take the field at Memorial Stadium on Saturday.

Oklahoma is tops in the NCAA in total defense, rushing defense, scoring defense, total offense, rushing offense and scoring offense. They are second in passing defense. Quite a well rounded team wouldn't you say?

On the other hand, the Cornhuskers aren't exactly a slouch. NU is second in total defense, fifth in rushing defense, eighth in passing defense, 10th in passing offense, eighth in total offense, second in rushing offense, second in scoring offense and second in punt returns.

Word from the Oklahoma camp is the Sooners' defense wants to end the season with a shutout of our beloved Huskers.

The much quoted Brian Bosworth said the Huskers should have been shutout last year. He was quoted as saying Nebraska scored on a fluke last year, a 76-yard fumble recovery by Chris Spachman with 26 seconds left in the game.

He was right but if you remember quarterback Steve Taylor also fumbled on the OU 1-yard line.

So will it be the beaches of Miami or Bourbon Street for the Cornhuskers. Chances are Tom Osborne's crew will be spending New Year's Day inside at the Superdome.

Oklahoma has so much team speed it's scary. And running backs, they seem to have a never ending line of backs.

Last year Sooner tight end Keith Jackson broke the Huskers' back with a 88-yard reverse for a touchdown. This year the Blackshirts are going to have to string out the wishbone attack as well as sniffing out the trickery that OU Coach Barry Switzer has dish-ed out in past years.

Well I've stalled all I can stall. It is time for a prediction. I will predict that Nebraska won't get shutout. But on the other hand I don't think they will win either. If all things go right for Nebraska I will be feasting on a diet of crow for the next week.

My prediction: Oklahoma 27 Nebraska 14.

Gridders downed 36-10 in Metrodome

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

Even playing in the Metrodome couldn't change the fate of the Wayne State football team.

The Wildcats fell into the same routine that has dealt them defeat before when the University of Minnesota-Morris scored 27 points in the third quarter, on its way to a 36-10 win in the Metrodome Classic.

The Wildcats led Minnesota-Morris, 7-1-2, heading into the third quarter 10-3.

"It's a reoccurring thing," Coach Pete Chapman said. "All the young kids we're playing get wore down and it takes its toll."

Morris opened the scoring on a 32-yard field goal by Eric Johnson with 6:14 left in the first quarter. The field goal came after the Cougars drove 67 yards in eight plays.

The Wildcats broke the ice on the Cougars' next possession when Wayne State's Eric Anderson broke through the line and blocked a Morris punt out of the end zone for a safety. With 2:50 left in the first period Morris led 3-2.

The Cats wasted little time before their next and final score. The 59 yard drive ended when quarterback John Lawrence found Glenn Mathews in the end zone for a 3-yard touchdown pass. The play that set up the touchdown was a 21-yard completion to Sonny Jones down to the Morris 3-yard line. Lawrence's two-point conversion pass to Mathews made it 10-3 with 13:33 left in the opening half.

Neither team was able to score in the remainder of the second quarter so the teams went to the locker rooms with the Cats in front 10-3.

It took Morris less than three minutes to tie the score. Running back Dave Christianson scored the first of his three touchdowns on a 3-yard burst. The score was set up by the first of four interceptions by Lawrence.

The Cougars took the lead with 11:55 left in the third quarter when quarterback Mike Peterson went over from 1-yard out to make the score 17-10. Once again, the drive began after a Lawrence interception.

Following another aerial theft, Christianson scored his second touchdown to make it 24-10 with 5:01 still remaining in the third period. Christianson hit paydirt again before the period expired to post Morris a 30-10 lead going into the final stanza.

The Cougars scored their last tally on a 47 yard halfback pass from Bill Magnuson to Bill Kalkman. With 13:23 left in the game the scoreboard read 36-10.

Morris almost doubled the Wildcats in total yardage, outgaining the Cats 409 yards to 207 yards.

Wildcat Randy Hupp was named the District 11 defensive player of the week for his effort. The senior linebacker recorded four quarterback sacks in the game and recovered a fumble.

Chapman also credited the play of Bill Mlnarik, Todd Buchanan and Mike Anderson. Chapman said Anderson, a 265-pound junior broke his finger on the first play from scrimmage and played the entire game with the injury.

The coach said he is taking a few days off to evaluate the season before he turns his attention to recruiting. He said priority positions for this year's recruiting season are offensive and defensive linemen and linebackers.

Honorable Mention

Russ Longe, Ted McCright, Troy Wood, Wayne; Pete Matthews, Leo Matthews, Steve Heiss, O'Neill; Jim Varvais, John Millikan, Robert Rapp, South Sioux City; Brian Wieseler, Pat Yates, Matt Steffan, Hartington Cedar Catholic.

WILDCAT KEVIN WILLIAMS gets off a shot in the second half of Wayne State's 101-85 win over Dana Tuesday night. Williams finished the game with 10 points.

Hurley scores 27

Wildcats bury Dana for first win

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

A complete team effort was how Wayne State men's basketball Coach Steve Aggers described the 101-85 win over Dana College Tuesday night at Rice Auditorium.

The Wildcats placed six men in double figures to post their first win of the season and to even their record at 1-1.

Scott Hurley led all Cat scorers with 27 points. The junior from Anaconda-Montana was 6-7 from the three-point line. Russ Rosenquist came off the bench to score 19 points. Senior Vincent White added 12 points while Ed Williams, Mike McNamara and Kevin Williams each tallied 10 points.

Aggers said the turning point in the game came right before halftime. Wayne State was leading 47-44 when Rosenquist hit from three-point land with about 12 seconds remaining. The Cats puts some defensive pressure on Dana and Rosey stole the ball and jammed it with about two seconds left in the half. That gave the Wildcats some breathing room as they went into the locker room on top 52-44.

The Wildcats retained the momentum in the second half as their lead ballooned 19 points at 86-67 with 7:52 left in the game.

"We played well together," Aggers said. "The game was fun to watch, it was entertaining."

The Cats recorded 22 team assists to prove Aggers' point. The locals shot 53 percent from the field compared to Dana's 50 percent. The Vikings cooled off a bit in the second half. In the opening period the visitors have not been aggressive on the boards, hitting 44 percent of their shots.

The Wildcats were beaten on the boards as Dana outrebounded WSC 34-32. McNamara led the Cats with eight rebounds. The deficit in the rebounding category could have been in part by the loss of Markus Wilson. Wilson injured his knee in the opening against Briar Cliff. He is scheduled for surgery Friday in Omaha.

The Wildcats' junior varsity team was also a winner Tuesday night. They earned their first win of the year as they downed the Dordt College JV squad 91-89. Troy Flowers hit a pair of free throws with two seconds left to boost their record to 1-2. Flowers is a freshman from Boys-Town.

The varsity is next in action this weekend at the Northwest Missouri State-Ryland Milner Tournament in Maryville, Missouri.

The Cats will play McKendree College from Lebanon, Illinois. Aggers said McKendree is a quick team that pushes the ball up the court. He said McKendree is averaging about 102 point a game this season.

The Cats will return home Nov. 25 to host Peru State in a NAC clash.

Chargers dump Cats in opener

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

Wildcat Coach Steve Aggers blamed first-game execution mistakes in the Cats' 65-50 loss to 20th-rated Briar Cliff Saturday night.

The Chargers outscored the Cats 38-24 in the second half to earn their second win in as many starts.

WSC jumped out on top in the early going 5-0 behind the shooting of Scott Hurley. The junior scored the first basket of the year for the Wildcats from the three-point line. Hurley finished the game with 10 points.

The Cats surrendered the lead when Briar Cliff scored 10 unanswered points to go ahead 17-9. But Wayne State came back before halftime to cut the Charger lead to one point at 27-26.

The first half was costly for the Cats. Less than eight minutes into the contest Wayne State's leading rebounder of a year ago, Marcus Wilson, went down with a knee injury.

Aggers said the sophomore from Denver suffered some apparent cartilage damage and is scheduled to have orthoscopic surgery in Omaha sometime this week.

The coach said the recovery time for Wilson could vary. He said if it is just cartilage damage Wilson could be back in about three weeks. But Aggers said if the doctors find out that he also has damaged ligaments he could be lost for the remainder of the year.

The Cats came out sluggish in the second half but only trailed 40-36 with less than 12 minutes left in the game. From that point Briar Cliff added to its lead after capitalizing on several WSC turnovers.

"At that point our inexperience showed," he said. "We lost our poise and composure and took some bad shots."

Aggers said a big factor in the second half was the rebounding advantage for the Chargers. He said that is where they missed Wilson. Aggers said in future games his squad is going to have to get more aggressive on the boards. The Cats were outrebounded 40-30 in the game.

Briar Cliff was led predominantly by two players. Fernando Pinillo and Jim Paulson contributed 43 of the Chargers' 65 points. Pinillo led all scorers with 22 points. He also hurt the Cats on the boards with 15 rebounds. No other Charger scored more than six points. Wayne State was led by reserve guard Russ Rosenquist. "Rosey" was six for 11 from the field with one three-point goal to finish with 13 points. Hurley was the only other Cat in double figures. Mike McNamara and Ed Williams each added eight points.

Aggers said the new three-point line will help his team. The Cats had three three-point goals against the Chargers. Hurley led the team with two.

"We've talked to our players about who will be shooting the three-point shots," he said. "Scott and Rosey are both good three-point shooters."

Aggers said although his team lost, there were some positive things that came out of the contest.

"We executed our game plan in the first half," Aggers said. "We trailed by only one point at halftime to the 20th-rated team on their home floor with five of their top six players returning from a year ago."

To improve, Aggers said his squad is going to have to shoot better from the field and establish an inside game. The Wildcats shot 45 percent from the field.

WSC women win two at dist. classic

The Wayne State Lady Wildcat basketball team came out of the chute in a hurry over the weekend downing Doane and Dana in the District 11 Classic at Hastings.

Friday afternoon the girls trimmed Doane 84-77. Coach Lenny Klaver said he thought his team was as well prepared for the game as they could have been.

"It was a really good start for us," said Klaver. "The girls played really hard."

The Lady Cats led most of the game as they posted a 44-38 lead at halftime.

The Lady Wildcats placed four girls in double figures. They were led by Linda Schnitzler. The sophomore guard tossed in 23 points. Fellow guard Michelle Blomberg added 20 points. Dawnn Bernt and Tonya Kelly tallied 15 and 13 points respectively.

The Lady Cats shot a blistering 56 percent from the field. They also out rebounded their opponents 33-24. The leading WSC rebounder was reserve Kris Smith. The junior pulled down 11 boards. Bernt followed with six rebounds.

Saturday WSC bombed Dana 76-46. The Lady Cats only led by a basket, 28-26, at halftime. From there they outscored Dana 48-20.

The team cooled off a bit from the field against the Lady Vikings but still shot a respectable 47 percent.

Once again Schnitzler led the way with 26 points. Kelly Rich and Jackie Heesacker also finished in double figures with 10 points apiece.

The Lady Cats were beaten on the boards as Dana pulled down 33 rebounds compared to 29 for Wayne State. Tonya Kelly led the team with eight rebounds. Heesacker had six boards.

Klaver said he thought his squad looked as good as any other team at the classic.

"Hastings looked pretty good and College of Saint Mary was 2-0 but we looked as sharp as anyone," Klaver said.

Wayne jr. high lose pair to Scotus

The Wayne 7th and 8th grade girls basketball teams began their season Tuesday when they hosted Columbus Scotus at the Wayne City Auditorium.

The visitors came away with a pair of wins. The 7th graders were beaten 16-6 while the 8th graders were on the low end of a 36-23 score.

The 7th grade squad got two points apiece from Kami Billheimer, Stephanie Klosser and Christi Carr.

The 8th grade was led by Jennifer Hammer's nine points. Breg Bebee and Amy Wriedt each added six points and Deanna Schlons scored two points.

The girls' next game is today (Thursday) when they host Schuyler. The 7th grade game will start at 4:30 p.m.

DAWNN BERNT goes up for two of her team-high 26 points in the 82-71 loss to Briar Cliff Monday night.

Lady Cats lose first game

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

For the first 30 minutes of the game Monday night it looked like the Lady Wildcats were about to run their record to 3-0 and equal the total number of wins they had last year.

Then disaster struck and the Lady Cats were dealt their first loss of the season as Briar Cliff won going away 82-71.

Wayne State suffered through its poorest shooting performance in the young season. The Lady Cats hit just 32 percent of their shots from the field and could manage only 58 percent from the free-throw line.

On the bright side junior college transfer Dawnn Bernt played her best game as a Lady Wildcat. Bernt led the team in scoring pumping in 26 points and in rebounds as she pulled down 16 boards.

The game started out just as Assistant Coach Paul Thomas had hoped. Thomas was filling in for Coach Lenny Klaver who was home sick with the flu.

The Lady Cats scored 10 unanswered points to take a 16-10 lead in the first half. Briar Cliff came back to tie the game at 18-18. From there Wayne State outscored the Lady Chargers 17-11. Bernt gave the Lady Cats a six-point lead at halftime as she got a basket from point-blank range with two seconds remaining in the opening period.

Thomas said he was not disappointed with his team's play.

"I'm not upset with the team's play but when you shoot 32 percent from the field you're not going to win many games."

The Lady Wildcats started slowly in the second half. Briar Cliff tied the score 40-40 with 15:43 left in the game.

That seemed to wake up the locals. They put on floor-court pressure and got a few quick baskets to go on top 48-42. But back came the Lady Chargers to knot the score at 54 with nine minutes to play.

Briar Cliff took the lead for good with about seven minutes left in the game. They began to press the Lady Cats which resulted in several turnovers and quick baskets for the Lady Chargers.

While Wayne State was turning the ball over, Briar Cliff couldn't miss from the field or the free-throw line. During that stretch they were led by three girls, Rhonda Kujawa, Cheryl Dreckman and Beth Sibenaller. They finished the game with 67 of the team's 82 points. Kujawa led the way with 23 points followed by Dreckman and Sibenaller with 22 points apiece.

After that the Lady Cats couldn't get untracked and came up short by the final margin of 11 points.

Thomas said he thought the two teams were evenly matched.

"I thought we were about the same," he said. "We beat them up and down the floor and on the boards but didn't get any guard play. That really hurt us."

The Cats leading scorer coming into the game, sophomore Linda Schnitzler, was held to 15 points. In the Lady Wildcats first two game Schnitzler scored 23 and 26 points respectively. Mary Beth Ehrhorn also finished in double figures. The sophomore from Gretna added 10 points and nine rebounds.

The Lady Wildcats will next be in action tonight (Thursday) when they play Doane. The game is scheduled to be played at Battle Creek, the home of Schnitzler. Thomas said the game was moved to Battle Creek to give the people of that area a chance to see Wayne State in action.

Control Psoriasis

Psoriasis cannot be cured, and we do not know for certain what causes this skin condition. The scalp, elbows, knees, genital areas, and anal areas are commonly affected with flat patches that are pink or dull red. Covering these areas is a layer of "silvery" scales. In psoriasis, the body is producing new skin faster than old skin falls from the body. Normally the new skin production cycle takes about 30 days. In psoriasis, new skin patches may be produced every few days.

Four out of ten individuals with psoriasis have other family members who are also affected. And there may be a relationship between psoriasis, seborrhea, and even common dandruff.

Exposure to sunlight is beneficial, and applying coal tar preparations to the skin before sun exposure improves effectiveness. Salicylic acid preparations are applied to psoriatic areas to loosen scales so that they might be washed from the body. Prescription steroid creams and anthralin paste also may help control this condition.
