Tide's rolling in

A WATER LINE breakage caused problems on the 100 block of Main Street Thursday afternoon, causing some of the pavement (and bricks) to buckle. City crews had the breakage repaired by Friday morning.

Road improvements delayed

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A state highway improvement project south of Allen will be delayed because of the failure of the 99th Congress to enact appropriate funding legislation.

The total cost of the Allen South road improvement is $1.3 million.

In October, Congress had recessed without passing a new highway act. According to the Nebraska Department of Roads, states are being required to fund their highway construction programs using balances of apportionments from prior years. Nebraska has a balance of apportionment, as of Sept. 1, at about $41 million.

Numerous problems described by the Nebraska Department of Roads will occur because of the delayed passage of highway legislation are:

• Substantial delays will occur in early 1987 construction contract letting without apportionment of fiscal 1987 financial aid. Some projects may be delayed an entire construction season, due to the shortening of the construction season.

• There must be a redirection of the state department of road's priorities away from Interstate, Primary and Secondary highways to Bridge, Urban and Safety category emphasis.

• It is anticipated that the funding delays will create negative effects on contractor bid prices, problems with scheduling of manpower, equipment and material resources, and possibly a two-month loss of construction work time during calendar 1987.

• If federal funding is not made available before April 1987, Nebraska would be forced to delay projects in February, March and April lettings to a late May letting at the earliest.

The grand total of state projects that will be delayed one year, if there is no Highway Authorization Act before April 1, 1987, is $73,123,000. Also, a number of county and city projects amounting to $11,257,000 are threatened.

Program emphasizes erosion control

The Wayne County Soil Conservation Service is reminding area landowners that the 1985 Farm Bill contains a great deal of language relating to highly erodible land.

A "sodbuster" provision in the Farm Bill stipulates that if the landowner planted an agricultural commodity on erodible land — land not planted to a commodity during 1981 to 1985 — the landowner will lose eligibility for certain farm programs unless a conservation plan is implemented.

"Conservation Compliance" states that the individual must adopt a conservation plan by 1990 and implement the plan between 1990 and 1995 to remain eligible for certain USDA programs, according to the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) Office.

A conservation plan is a system of crop rotation, tillage and other required practices (terraces, waterways or contour strip cropping) which reduces soil loss to the level at which it will replace itself.

For most soils in Wayne County, the replacement level is five tons per acre per year, or about the thickness of a dime.

The Soil Conservation Service's list of highly erodible soils in Wayne County include:

Crofton silt loam, 7-11 percent slopes, eroded; Crofton silt loam, 11-17 percent slopes, eroded; Hadar-Thurman complex, 5-15 percent slopes; Moody silty clay loam, 7-11 percent slopes and 7-11 percent slopes, eroded; Moody-Nora soils, 5-11 percent slopes; Nora silt loam, 7-11 percent slopes, eroded; Nora-Moody silty clay loams 7-11 percent slopes and 11-17 percent slopes; Ortello fine sandy loam 5-11 percent slopes; Thurman loamy fine sand 7-15 percent slopes; and Valentine loamy

Santa letters welcome

Children who think they have been pretty nice all year can start writing their letters to Santa Claus, and the Wayne Herald will deliver them air mail to the jolly old elf at the North Pole.

These letters will also be published in The Wayne Herald sometime before Christmas. But we advise youngsters to get the letters out early to beat the heavy mail rush. Final deadline when the newspaper can get the letters off to the North Pole is on Saturday, Dec. 20 — so write as soon as you can. Children can drop the letters off at the newspaper office or mail it to the following address: The Wayne Herald, c/o Santa Claus, Box 70, Wayne, Nebraska 68787.

City acquires water rights

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

As the city council decided to go into closed session during Tuesday evening's regular meeting, Bob Fuoss of rural Wayne was in the lobby, worrying about what the council would decide.

On the agenda was a request for passage of a resolution that would approve a settlement for a future well site acquisition by the city of Wayne. The property for which the city negotiated for is located approximately seven miles north of Wayne.

Some 240 acres of the necessary land needed for the well site belongs to Bob Fuoss. The remaining portion of land needed for the well site development is owned by Richard Milligan. On Tuesday evening, the city council was presented a resolution to accept and approve an agreement made with Fuoss, on behalf of the city of Wayne, primarily for the water rights to his property.

However, one of the councilman who was absent at a previous council meeting when the settlement was being discussed, had interpreted the well site acquisition procedure to involve possibly acquiring the property — not just the water rights.

So the city council went into closed session to continue discussion of the settlement.

Fuoss told The Wayne Herald reporter, in discussing the acquisition settlement, that he hoped the council would stick with its original resolution and acquire the water rights — and not the property itself which he did not want to sell.

WHEN THE CLOSED session concluded, the city council voted for approval of the resolution, as originally presented, in acquiring the water rights to the Fuoss property. The resolution calls for the city to acquire the Fuoss water rights at its appraisal value.

The council must now consider, in a future meeting, arriving at a settlement with the other property owner (Milligan) who is involved in the well site negotiations.

City Attorney Kem Swartz said the negotiations for the well sites were "more harmonious than we anticipated it would be."

In other action, the city council was presented a proposal from Kirkpatrick, Pettis, Smith and Pollan, Inc. of Omaha in regard to becoming the city's fiscal agent.

First Vice President Dan Smith talked about the company's personnel and its experience in the investment banking business, particularly in the area of municipal bonds. He said the company has "virtually unlimited capital."

HE COMMENTED ON three divisions within the Kirkpatrick, Pettis, Smith and Pollan, Inc. company, which has been in operation since 1925. They include the investment banking division, investment managing division and brokerage division.

"In any given time we can give out very competitive issues," said one of the company representatives.

The strengths of the company, the representative said, is "that we are served by a group of people who know what they are doing; and the ability to issue debt at the lowest possible cost."

The council made took no action on selecting a fiscal agent for the city.

In addition, the city council: • Was informed of an interlocal cooperation agreement act with the city of Wayne and the Wayne-Carroll School District concerning shared use of the Wayne City Auditorium and the school's gymnasium.

• Learned from City Administrator Phil Kloster that the construction of the new water tower is underway and that work on the water distribution system along 4th Street is progressing at a good pace. "The weather has allowed them to catch up on some of the days lost," he said.

• Approved GLC of Columbus (Gerhold Concrete) as contractor and the conditions of the contract relative to the improvements on Providence Road. The state of Nebraska affirmed the letting of the contract on Nov. 13. The projected cost figured in the contract is $168,938.

Star program scheduled

Holiday spirit and astronomy will be mixed for three Sundays in December when the planetarium show "Star of Christmas" will be presented at the Fred G. Dale Planetarium at Wayne State College of Nebraska.

The shows are at 3:30 p.m. Dec. 7, 14 and 21, according to Carl Rump, director of the planetarium. They are free and open to the public.

The holiday show begins with a view of the evening skies of December, containing some of the brightest skies of any season. After look at the modern skies, the show takes the audience back 2,000 years to explore the astronomical and historical events leading to the "Star of Christmas" that led the wise men to Jesus.

The Dale Planetarium is on the lower level of the Carhart Math-Science Building.

Persons wishing to arrange special showings in the Dale Planetarium may contact Rump at Wayne State College at 402-375-2200, ext. 343.

Fantasy Forest will open Thursday

Photography: Chuck Hackenmiller

The appearance might be slightly different, but the magical atmosphere of the Christmas holiday season will still be evident when Fantasy Forest 1986 opens its doors at the Wayne City Auditorium on Thursday, Dec. 4.

This year will vary from the past, because only artificial trees can be used for display and no lights will be allowed. However, the unique tree hangings and other decorations will make the tour through Fantasy Forest a walk down admiration lane.

The event is being sponsored by the Wayne State College Interior Design Club and the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Sandra Metz of Wayne, coordinator of the Fantasy Forest 1986 event, said there are presently 26 entries in the annual Christmas event that kicks off the holiday season in Wayne.

People can begin setting up their exhibit on Thursday, Dec. 4 from 12 noon to 5 p.m. Doors will open to the public, for viewing the trees, at 6 p.m. and will remain open until 9 p.m. that evening.

During that time, the "spotlight ceremony" of the trees will take place at 7 p.m. Also at this time, the prize winners of separate tree decorating categories will be announced.

Then from 7 to 7:30 p.m., the Wayne-Carroll Swing Choir will perform under the direction of Kaki Ley, vocal instructor.

Scheduled at 7:30 p.m. will be a visit from Santa Claus.

The Wayne State College Home Economics Club will be having a bake sale Thursday evening from 6 to 9 at Fantasy Forest.

Fantasy Forest 1986 will be open for viewing again on Friday from 2 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

Clean-up of the city auditorium will take place immediately after 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Those who wish to exhibit an entry in the Fantasy Forest event can still contact the Wayne State College Interior Design Club.

THERE WILL BE lots of holiday decorations to see when wandering through the Fantasy Forest 1986, scheduled from Thursday to Sunday at the Wayne City Auditorium.

news briefs

Music Boosters meeting today

Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters will meet today (Monday) at 7:30 p.m. in the high school lecture hall. Entertainment will be provided by the cadet band, under the direction of Brad Weber. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Honors recital

The Honors Recital at Wayne State College of Nebraska for "outstanding" music students in six applied lesson areas will be held Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center. "A student is chosen by each instructor in an applied lesson area who has done outstanding work in the semester," said Dr. Jay O'Leary, division head of Fine Arts at Wayne State.

Dr. O'Leary said the students, who will be chosen shortly before the recital, will be from the areas of voice, keyboard, brass, woodwind, strings and percussion. Voice and keyboard are expected to have the most participants.

The recital is free and open to the public.

Madrigal dinner tickets remain

Tickets remain for the Elizabethan Christmas Dinners Dec. 12, 13 and 14 at Wayne State College of Nebraska, according to Dr. Cornell Runestad, director of choral activities.

Dr. Runestad said a number of Saturday (Dec. 13) tickets remain after the needs of returning Madrigal Singers were met. The Saturday night performance is a reunion of former Madrigal Singers. The Sunday (Dec. 14) dinner also has remaining tickets, while the Friday (Dec. 12) dinner is nearly sold out.

Tickets may be obtained at the Fine Arts Office today (Monday), by calling 375-2200, ext. 359.

PAUL MARRA and Chris Brandstetter of Wayne find the dirt piles near Linden Street enticing for digging and enhancing their imagination. The site is where the new Wayne water tower will be constructed. Footings for the water tower have already been placed in the ground.

Appointed to Ag Youth Council

Sorensen gets honor

Don Hutchens, Director of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, announces the appointment of Anne Sorensen, to the 1987 Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council. Anne will play an integral part as one of the 22 members of college-age men and women which comprise the council. Anne's selection was based upon the outstanding leadership, concern, and dedication shown towards the industry of agriculture.

Anne is the daughter of Mrs. Delwyn Sorensen of Wayne. Anne is a sophomore at Concordia College majoring in Secondary Education/English. Some of Anne's other activities include Active in Student Government at Concordia College, Spiritual Life Council, Resident Assistant, and student tutor. One of Anne's primary responsibilities is to assist the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council in conducting the 16th annual Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute.

The Institute, held in July, is a week of educational exposure to agriculture designed for 200 high school juniors and seniors. The Nebraska Ag Youth Council serves at the request of the Department of Agriculture and play an essential role in the promotion of agriculture — Nebraska's number one industry through Nebraska's number one resource — its youth.

Erosion

IN ADDITION, the following soils are potentially highly erodible depending on where they are situated on the slope: Crofton silt loam, 2-7 percent slopes, eroded; Judson silt loam, 2-7 percent slopes; Moody silt loam, 2-7 percent slopes; Moody silty clay loam, 2-7 percent slopes; Nora silt loam, 2-7 percent slopes, eroded.

The potentially and highly erodible soils make up almost 79 percent of the land in Wayne County, according to the SCS office. A typical Wayne County situation would involve Moody-Nora soils having a slope of 10 percent.

A producer's option would involve one or any combination of the following:

- Adopt a continuous corn rotation with no-tillage performed prior to planting, leaving a 70-80 percent ground cover after planting. Row direction can be parallel to existing field borders under this option.

- A system similar to No. 1, but substituting oats and/or alfalfa into the rotation at any time the producer feels necessary.

- Follows a corn-soybean rotation, planting corn no-till into soybean residue, and one pass with a disk to plant soybeans into corn. A parallel terrace system would be required with this system in order to reduce soil loss to an acceptable level. A producer could eliminate the need for terraces, if he establishes a winter cover crop in soybeans prior to harvest. Rye or wheat would be best for this purpose. Terraces will allow the producer the most flexibility in his tillage operations and cropping sequence.

- Adopt a contour stripcropping system where row crops and alfalfa or wheat are grown in 100 foot strips alternating in the sloping portion of the field. The strips must be maintained on the contour to be effective. A 20-30 percent residue cover should be maintained in the row crop strip.

- Or bid the highly erodible cropland into the conservation reserve.

The last option, according to the Soil Conservation Service, is not to comply and forego benefits offered by the USDA.

Soil Conservation Service will assist those in developing and implementing a conservation plan. Those with questions about any provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill should contact the SCS or the ASCS.

Second chance for contributors

It has been brought to the United Way Board's attention, that there may be a number of individuals or families in the residential community who have not had the opportunity to contribute to this year's drive.

In most of these instances, the United Way volunteer has attempted to contact the party involved, but did not find them at home.

If you are one of these individuals or families who were not contacted but would like to contribute, the United Way has arranged to have contributions accepted at the following locations during the week of Dec. 2-8: The First National Bank, The State National Bank and Trust Company, Columbus Federal Savings Bank and Occidental/Nebraska Federal Savings and Loan.

Holiday drawing yields 25 winners

Over $500 in Chamber gift certificates were given away Friday during the first week of the Wayne 1986 Holiday Magic Christmas promotion.

The 25 winners win a gift certificate (of up to $50) for the amount of purchase (written on a sales slip) made at a business that is participating in the holiday promotion.

The next drawing will take place on Thursday, Dec. 4. Two other drawings, on Dec. 11 and Dec. 18, will take place.

The first week's winners were: Cletus Sharer, Wayne, $50; Swan's; Thelma Day, Wayne, $45; Bill's GW; Randy Pedersen, Wayne, $12; Johnson's Frozen Foods; Ella Borg, Winslow, $12; Coast-to-Coast; Mike Mallette, Wayne, $18; Griess Rexall; A.C. Butler, Wayne, $14; Eldon's

From Arizona to Winside

NINE-YEAR-OLD STACY BOWERS of Winside displays a balloon which traveled from Dewey, Ariz. all the way to Winside. The balloon, with a note attached that read "You'll be soaring when you quit smoking," was sent aloft the day of the Great American Smoke-Out (Nov. 20) by young Sabrina Rge of Lake Valley School in Dewey. Stacy's grandfather, Larry Bowers of Winside, found the slightly deflated balloon on Nov. 23 while harvesting corn in a field near his home. Stacy's mother, Mrs. Dan Bowers, telephoned the school from which the balloon was sent and told the school nurse that Sabrina's balloon had traveled as far as Winside, Neb. Stacy also has written to Sabrina informing her where the balloon was found.

Bereuter outlines proposals

Representative Doug Bereuter will go to the Farm and Rural America Conference in Des Moines on Tuesday with four specific proposals intended to help revitalize America's rural and agricultural sector.

Bereuter, who along with Iowa Governor Terry Branstad and Kansas Senator Bob Dole is one of the organizers of the meeting, will present four recommendations based on his experience as a member of the national Agricultural Trade and Export Policy Commission, the House Banking Committee's Financial Institutions Subcommittee on International Economic Policy and Trade.

One of Bereuter's proposals addresses the credit crisis facing farmers and agricultural lending institutions. The First District Congressman wants support for legislation to establish a secondary market for commercial, long-term agricultural real estate.

Bereuter introduced a bill to establish a secondary market for agricultural mortgages in the 99th Congress. That bill would allow commercial agricultural lenders, such as banks and insurance companies, to market these local agricultural loans through a new secondary market entity, a quasi-private corporation—"Farmer Mac." These loans would then be repackaged and resold to institutional investors, such as pension funds, insurance companies, and other large investors.

A second Bereuter proposal is that the United States take strong, determined action to persuade the Japanese to eliminate their import quotas on American beef.

"Our trade agreement with the Japanese on beef import quotas will expire in April, 1987. We cannot fall back to the original proposal at that time. It is totally unacceptable," Bereuter said. "Japanese restrictions on imports of United States red meats and citrus fruits are drastically limiting an important market for the American farmer. These same restrictions also deny the Japanese consumers nutritious and inexpensive beef. We must use the current extreme imbalance and Congressional attitude as a pressure point to demand the elimination of this unfair trade barrier."

Bereuter's third recommendation is that the U.S. Trade Representative take a clear message to the European community that actions restricting Spain's and Portugal's ability to import U.S. agricultural products will not be tolerated. The European Community's moves to restrict Spanish and Portuguese markets for several agricultural commodities, including corn, sorghum, and oilseeds, could deprive American farmers of millions of dollars worth of agricultural exports, according to Bereuter.

Bereuter also will ask Tuesday's Rural Economic Task Force to support a recommendation that the amendments he successfully added to the House Foreign Affairs Committee's version of the Trade Bill in the 99th Congress be included in any trade bill that comes out of the 100th Congress. When the House Foreign Affairs Committee took up the 1986 Trade Bill, Bereuter was successful in adding amendments that would affect U.S. agriculture trade strategy, market development, grain standards, and the use of Commodities Credit Corporation surplus commodities.

One of Bereuter's amendments required the Administration to submit to Congress a plan for long range agricultural trade strategy. Another would make Commodities Credit Corporation surplus commodities available to cooperative groups for market development projects, as an additional means of moving surplus commodities.

An additional Trade Bill amendment added by Bereuter expanded the study of grain standards that was mandated in the 1985 Farm Bill. And, another amendment would make the Export PIK Program available to all nations that are traditional grain customers.

"No one can doubt the seriousness of the conditions currently facing agriculture and rural America," Bereuter told the task force. "While we realize that there is not one immediate solution to our problems, it is vital that we focus and coordinate our efforts to revitalize rural America."

Chicken

How come it is that...

With all the surplus grain that this country has and is expected to gain from the 1986 harvest, you can open a fresh breakfast cereal box only to find it about two-thirds full.

Nebraska Cornhusker football fans can be so disgruntled over a loss to Oklahoma.

Everyone that I talked to said they were sure that that Nebraska wasn't going to win the game in the first place because Oklahoma is too awesome. So why not give the Huskers some credit for hanging in there so tough. Show some of that Husker pride.

Congressional members are boasting about keeping the spending down in the 99th session of Congress.

Seems like they were so caught up on holding the line, they didn't pass the new highway act. Now we got to put up with some more of those bumpy roads.

If the city of Wayne is so liability conscious, that children are allowed to sled down a hill on a city street.

The street does get blocked off, however, so apparently there is no reason to worry about it. Right?

By the time you force yourself to give dieting a try, all the magazines which come in your mail are those that show nothing but delicious looking desserts and juicy meats.

An editor is staring at a blank page a day before deadline and then the next day is swamped with so many newsworthy events that they won't all fit on the page.

After you are ordered by your wife to go to the grocery store to specifically get a jug of milk and some eggs, you find that of the many grocery items you return with, the only missing ingredients are the milk and the eggs.

Most of the Christmas card envelopes we seal this year will have that same terrible taste.

Very few people string popcorn or cranberries around their Christmas trees anymore.

In the Northern Activity Conference, only one girl from Wayne-Carroll's high percentage winning team (16-5) was respectfully named to the all conference first team.

The weather in November is so interchangeable. One day we're looking at an Indian summer, the next day a few inches of snow and then sub-zero temperatures and then back to the normal readings of 40 to 50 degree highs.

No wonder so many people end up getting colds.

During the busiest times when this newspaper office needs cameras the most, most of them are gathering dust in some repair shop from a faltering shutter or weak flash.

People who must wear glasses always have to put up with fogged up lenses in the winter.

Main Street in Wayne was victimized by at least two water line breaks this year (one that was by Carharts and another just recently by the Coast to Coast store).

The large Santa Claus that use to stand by city hall is now standing on the lot just north of The Wayne Herald building.

Just when you get it all figured out on how to figure your own income tax, they go ahead and decide to change the tax laws in this country.

There have been so many muggings so far in the nearby larger cities, in parking lots of large chain grocery stores or general merchandise stores.

People spread gossip about a business buying another business and the rumor spreads even beyond the community. When we try to verify it — a great percentage of the time the rumor is false. Why don't more people go to the source and verify something before spreading the gossip along?

These are some of the things that I wonder about. How about you?

Home work

The people of the Wayne area who are interested in maintaining local industries such as GEC (Wayne Sporting Goods) which utilize employees who do their sewing at home rather than at the factory should write immediately to: Paula V. Smith, Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, U.S. Department of Labor, Room 53502, 200 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20210, so that it arrives before December 4.

This is important because labor unions are seeking to force the government to enforce ancient work rules that prohibit people from doing piecework sewing for the manufacturer in their own homes. If that happens, companies such as GEC will be forced to send their sewing to Mexico or other foreign countries, resulting in loss of jobs for many thus employed now.

Mrs. Harold George

Displeasure voiced

Every day you see signs or hear people say check Wayne first, keep your business at home, patronize Wayne stores. Shouldn't Wayne stores patronize us?

We kept our business of shopping in Wayne and we were run out of the store all because of faulty merchandise. Was it our fault the manufacturer didn't make the product up to standard? Don't most retail stores stand behind their products?

Wayne is a nice enough town but because of the rudeness, I'll take my business to a town that cares about me, the customer.

With LB3 passage

Debtor's rights reduced

Marty Strange
Co-Director
Center for Rural Affairs

The Legislature recently met in a special session to satisfy lenders' demands for changes in farm credit laws. It was over quickly, a lenders' special session from gavel to gavel.

The most significant action was passage of LB 3, a bill that effectively guts the Farmstead Act passed only last spring. That Act allowed a farmer facing foreclosure to separate the farm home and up to 160 acres from the rest of the farm and pay for it separately. There was no bailout for the farmer—no debt forgiveness.

All the farmer gained was the right to redeem the home place, if it was financially possible to do so. The law was intended to minimize the unnecessary dislocation of farmers from rural Nebraska. Under LB 3, the debtor's right to redeem the farmstead has now been reduced to little more than a privilege revocable at the will of the lender.

The argument over debt collection reforms such as this is usually cast as one of compassion for the farm family that is losing everything, versus the fear of economic retaliation by lenders against a state that might show too much compassion for borrowers. Neither emotion is a good foundation for public policy, though fear is the less admirable of the two. When lenders go everything they wanted in LB 3, fear, won out.

The larger issue here is the inflexible and one-sided nature of the foreclosure process in Nebraska. The debtor must pay everything that is due or lose all rights to the property. In the course of this all-or-nothing process, a lot of needless liquidation of farm assets takes place. More important, a lot of good farmers are driven from the land and from our state. This senseless loss of human talent, long Nebraska's most valuable economic resource, is the most damaging and the least necessary consequence of our outdated foreclosure laws.

IN THE COURSE of gutting the Farmstead Act, the Legislature has sent a message to farm debtors: You aren't needed in Nebraska. The hands of the clock have been turned back. We are once again among the most debtor-hostile states in the Midwest.

But the special session has not laid the debt collection issue to rest. It will continue to plague Nebraska as the farm crisis deepens and more and more farmers find themselves unable to meet their financial obligations. If the Legislature is to help see Nebraska through this worsening crisis, it will have to discover where both compassion and fair end, and good economic policy begins in debt collection law.

Now that lenders' concerns have been addressed, attention needs to turn to the problems of borrowers. The debt settlement process needs to be made more flexible so that as many farmers as possible might be able to pay their debts honorably and at the same time, position themselves to start over in agriculture when times improve. This is not merely a matter of compassion, though let's face it, it is compassionate. But it is also good economic policy because it avoids the needless depopulation of rural Nebraska.

Among the most important changes needed are laws allowing debtors who have lost the farm in foreclosure the first right of refusal to rent or buy it back. Another important reform would provide for third-party mediation prior to foreclosure. The presence of a dispassionate, professional mediator can frequently bring debtors and creditors to see that a solution that is better than foreclosure for both parties is possible. A dozen more such common-sense proposals deserve consideration.

Significantly, this is the one area of public policy where the state can have a major impact on the farm crisis. There is no one to blame in Washington for harsh and unrealistic state debt collection laws.

IN THE FINAL analysis, lenders who resist such reforms may be cutting their noses to spite their faces. If state laws are not made flexible, more farmers will take the unpleasant option of filing for bankruptcy under the newly enacted federal farm bankruptcy law. The new federal law makes bankruptcy court a far warmer and friendlier place for farm debtors than state court, especially in light of the dismantling of the Farmstead Act.

Unfortunately, bankruptcy means more losses for lenders and other creditors, especially unsecured farm suppliers. Unlike the ill-fated Farmstead Act, the federal bankruptcy law allows the court to cram debt forgiveness down the throats of lenders. That probably means more bank failures. That isn't good for anyone. But with the effective elimination of the Farmstead Act, farmers now have very little choice if they want a fighting chance to stay on the land. Whether they like it or not, lenders will now experience the reality that we are all in this farm crisis together.

My advice to financially-troubled farmers is therefore offered reluctantly: consult our bankruptcy attorney. For the Legislature the challenge now is to find ways to make the debt collection process more flexible, not out of compassion, but because it is good economic policy for hard times.

Wakefield Presbyterian Church setting for Paul-Welton wedding

The Presbyterian Church in Wakefield was the Nov. 15 setting for the marriage of Shelley LeRae Paul and Guy Michael Welton, both of Lincoln.

The seven o'clock candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard Kargard.

Decorations included aisle candelabras surrounded with greenery and ivory and peach ribbons. Decorated tree candelabras and floral arrangements of peach carnations and white pom-poms adorned the chancel, and a unity candle centered the communion table.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paul of Wakefield. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Welton of McCook.

Mary Channer-Paul of Belgrade sang "It's Time to Say I Love You" and "Thy Will Be Done." Joel Moeller of Lincoln joined her in a duet, "God, a Woman and a Man." Moeller also played trumpet for the professional, "Trumpet Voluntary." Accompanist was Kathy Potter of Wakefield.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a long gown of ivory bridal satin trimmed with beige re-embroidered Alencon lace, pearls and sequins.

The fitted bodice, appliqued with Alencon lace, featured a sabrina neckline and pointed waistline. The long, bridal satin sleeves were accented with cut-work of the lace.

The skirt, fully gathered from the front panel, flowed into a chapel-length train. A large satin bow topped the beginning of the train, with scattered appliques of Alencon lace on the entire skirt and train.

The bride wore an open crown of ivory pearls and satin rosettes. The attached veil featured a puffed and single tier rolled edge of fingertip illusion.

She carried a cascade of sonja roses, peach miniature carnations and off-white silks, accented with ivory pearls and nylon tulle.

PERSONAL attendant for the bride was Connie Tuttleberg of Sabetha, Kan.

Joni Pfeifer of Phoenix, Ariz. served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Lisa Cuveller of Omaha, also a sister of the bride, and Susan Welton of Maltwood, Ill., sister of the bridegroom.

Best man was Mike Stover of Iowa City, Iowa, and groomsmen were Mark Barry of Charles City, Iowa and David Thompson of Kearney. Ushering guests into the church were Alan Paul of Sunnyvale, Calif., brother of the bride, and Dean Tickle of Kearney.

Flower-girl-and-ring-bearer were Emily Sisson of Charles City, Iowa and Dustin Baker of Wayne.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore fully gathered tea-length dresses of jade velvet featuring basque bodices. The sabrina necklines, edged in fully gathered schiffli lace, dropped to form deep V's in back. A velvet-rolled bow tied at the bottom of the V. The long sleeves were accented at the wrists with gathered schiffli lace.

They wore hair pieces of tiny silks and dried baby's breath, and carried a cluster of fresh sonja roses, light tapestry blue silks and dried baby's breath with peach streamers and a lace bow.

The bridegroom and his attendants were attired in black tuxedos with sonja rose boutonnières.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Paul selected a rayon challis tea-length dress in teal. The bridegroom's mother wore a silk brocade tea-length dress of teal. Both mothers wore corsages of sonja roses, with ivory trim and ivory pearls.

MR. AND MRS. Jim Armagost of Kearney hosted a reception for the couple at the Wakefield Legion Hall following the ceremony.

Teresa Soderberg of Wakefield registered the guests. Gifts were arranged by Mrs. LeVon Niles of Osmond and Mrs. Bonna Barner of Wayne.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Bonnie Paul and Mrs. Leoma Baker of Wakefield. Mrs. Marilyn Armagost and Mrs. Shirley Troutman of Lincoln poured, and Joan Miller of Omaha served punch.

Serving the bride's table were Barbara Kargard of Wakefield and Tresha Barner of Wayne.

THE BRIDE IS a graduate of Wakefield High School and Kearney State College.

The bridegroom graduated from Charles City High School, Charles City, Iowa, and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The couple is residing in Waverly.

Native of Wayne

Paulsons recipients of Nebraska family award

The Delmar and Fauniel Paulson family of Oakland was selected recently as first-place winners in the "Nebraska Family Contest" for Burt County, sponsored by Burt County Home Extension Clubs.

Paulsons have resided at Oakland for approximately 30 years.

Mrs. Paulson is a native of Wayne, and Mr. Paulson grew up in Ponca.

THEY ARE THE parents of four birth children, including Larry Paulson, Patricia Browning, Jacelyn Moseman and Lee Wayne Paulson (deceased).

There also are four adopted children, Joel Paulson, Teresa

Paulson, Janie Paulson and Michelle Paulson.

In addition, the Paulsons have served as foster parents to 13 other children over the years.

Shortly before receiving the Burt County family award, Paulsons were in Omaha to adopt another child.

JUDGES' FOR the family award contest cited the Paulsons as being a family that has "an abundance of love and understanding that generates throughout their home."

"Although they were modest and did not go into great detail, you could sense the love, respect, gratitude and pride within the family."

Coping with holiday stress

Another holiday season is fast approaching, bringing feelings of pressure as well as feelings of happy anticipation.

Christmas brings time pressure, money pressure, and family pressure. No wonder the Christmas season rates 12 points on the Holmes-Rahe scale of stressful life events.

Among the people for who Christmas is apt to be stressful are:

Working mothers — Many spend 40 hours a week on the job and another 35 hours a week on household chores and then feel they must do all the holiday extras too — such as decorating, baking, gift buying, card sending and entertaining. It's simply too much.

Young families — Many are on a tight budget and winter fuel costs have made finances even tighter. Young families often feel they must buy gifts for an ever-growing list of people. Last-minute unexpected expenses put their charge cards over the maximum limit.

Elder people — Those on fixed incomes still want to "do a little something" at Christmas for their children, grandchildren and even great grandchildren. Their list increases but their resources don't.

Single adults — To single adults, everyone else in the world may seem to be surrounded by loved ones during the holidays. For the person alone, Christmas may be a time of loneliness, even depression.

THERAPISTS OFTEN advise people who seem under too much pressure to ask themselves these questions: What's the worst that can happen if I don't do that? What difference will it make five years from now? Often it's possible to forego what seemed like necessary obligations.

The world won't come to an end if the needlepoint isn't finished by Christmas or if the neighbors don't get their usual box of homemade goodies this year. For many, verbal holiday greetings may be just as appreciated as cards. For some, cards or a holiday letter can substitute for gifts, and a $1 novelty item may be more fun than an expensive present.

AND, WHILE MOST parents are eager to give their children Christmas gifts they'll like, it's important to remember that sharing and participating in family activities for the season will enrich the child as much as presents under the tree.

Sharing the shopping, decorating, collecting, entertaining, storytelling, church and school programs, music and even the TV specials are all part of the child's learning about and remembering traditions of Christmas.

Stanton birthday observance

Paul Deck of Stanton, formerly of Hoskins, will be honored for his 90th birthday on Saturday, Dec. 6.

There will be an open house reception from 2 to 4 p.m., and an open house and dance from 8 p.m. to midnight at the VFW building in Stanton.

Hosting the event will be his daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Verna) Brogren and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert (Darlene) Smith of Hoskins, and Mr. and Mrs. Don (Ardyth) Molacek of Howells.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

briefly speaking

Farewell for Winside pastor

Members of Trinity Lutheran Church of Winside, along with other friends, gathered for a noon carry-in dinner on Nov. 23 to honor the Rev. Lyle Von Seggern and family. Approximately 100 guests attended.

Von Seggern will be moving to Nevada where he will serve as a chaplain in the United States Air Force. The family was presented a monetary gift.

The Rev. Peter Jark-Swain is expected to be the church's temporary pastor.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a cutline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Wayne, Wakefield top all-area list

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The Wayne Blue Devils, who qualified for the state playoffs and were beaten by Class B King Schuyler in the first round, placed 10 players on the Wayne Herald All-Area Team.

Wakefield was a close second with eight all-area selections on the 25-man team. Laurel placed four athletes on the list with Winside and Allen each having two first-team selections.

This year there was a tie between Ted McCright of Wayne and Jody Navrkal of Wakefield for the 25th spot. So both were named to the team.

Six athletes from last year's all-area team appear again on this year's list. The repeat performers are Brent Haisch, Brad Prescott and Randy Sherry of Laurel; Brad Lund and Colby Meyer of Wakefield; and Bill Liska of Wayne. Haisch and Lund are three-time all-area performers.

A summary about each athlete and coaches' comments are listed below.

Mark Creighton

6-2, 190, Sr., Wayne
Creighton is a two-year letterman. He successfully made the change from center to tackle. Creighton was selected to the NAC All-Conference Team.

Coach Lonnie Ehrhardt's comments—"Mike became a leader for our offensive line. He was a big inspiration for the players throughout the season."

Jamie Fredrickson

5-9, 170, Sr., Wayne
Fredrickson started on both sides of the ball. He was named to the NAC All-Conference Team as a defensive lineman.

Ehrhardt's comments—"He's a hard worker all the way. He worked constantly to build up his strength. He really became a force on the line as the season developed."

Kevin Greve

6-3, 175, Sr., Wakefield
On offense Greve caught seven passes for 106 yards and one touchdown. Defensively he totaled 59 tackles, four fumble recoveries, two blocked kicks and a safety.

Coach Dennis Wilbur's comments—"Kevin's contribution to the team lies not in his ability to catch passes but to block the defensive tackles, linebackers and cornerbacks. His teammates elected him co-captain for the season."

Brent Haisch

6-0, 195, Sr., Laurel
Haisch rushed for 800 yards in just six games. He led the Lewis and Clark Conference in rushing, kick-off and punt returns. He was a four year starter at Laurel and was named to the all-conference team.

Coach Gale Hamilton's comments—"He is a hard worker in practice and has a great deal of natural ability. I have high hopes of Brent furthering his football future in college."

Tony Halverson

5-10, 165, So., Wakefield
Halverson was a first-team selection in Eight-Man Eastern All-Conference Team. He was credited with 96 tackles, seven for losses. Halverson recovered one fumble and blocked a kick. On offense he gained 220 yards and scored four touchdowns.

Wilbur's comments—"Tony improved as the year progressed. He's a hard hitter and fierce competitor."

David Isom

5-8, 145, Sr., Allen
Isom was involved in 104 tackles this year. He recovered three fumbles and intercepted two passes. The senior also caught a touchdown pass.

Coach Dave Uldrich's comments—"Dave has been a defensive block all year. He was the leader in tackles and one of the best defensive players I've had in three years. He was a three-year starter on offense. He will be tough to replace."

Kevin Jaeger

6-2, 180, Sr., Winside
Jaeger was the team's second-leading tackler. He finished the year with 60 tackles. On offense he led the team with seven receptions for a 12 yards per catch average.

Coach Rich Touney's comments—"Kevin is very coachable, he will do what he is asked to do. He has the potential for small college football."

Randy Kinney

5-7, 146, Sr., Wakefield
Kinney totaled 1,041 all-purpose yards, including 452 yards rushing. He returned 20 kickoffs for a 21.2 yard average and 10 punts for a 15.8 yard average.

Wilbur's comments—"Randy was a pleasant surprise for our offense this year. He was an unsung player who helped motivate and lead our team to a successful season."

Todd Kratke

5-11, 165, Jr., Wakefield
As the Trojans' quarterback, Kratke rushed for 808 yards and 13 touchdowns. He passed for 220 yards and two scores.

Wilbur's comments—"Kratke made our offense a potent three-player attack. He scored 99 points during the season."

Jyoti Kwankin

5-7, 145, Sr., Allen
Kwankin was an all-purpose player. He rushed for 445 yards and four touchdowns. He caught 11 passes for 107 yards and two touchdowns and threw for a TD. He returned two punts for 56 yards and one touchdown and 26 kickoffs for 576 yards and two scores.

Uldrich's comments—"Jyoti did receive all-conference first-team honors. He deserves it. Probably in foot speed and quickness he was the top in the conference. He was very dedicated and a pleasure to coach."

Bill Landanger

5-10, 170, Sr., Wayne
Landanger led the team in receiving yardage with 261 yards in 14 catches. The tight end averaged 18.6 yards a catch and he scored one touchdown. He was also a first-team selection to the NAC All-Conference Team.

Ehrhardt's comments—"Bill had good sense of getting open on his pass routes. He has good speed and the ability to play college ball if he so decides."

Bill Liska

6-5, 210, Sr., Wayne
Liska was a three-year letter winner for the Blue Devils. He caught 20 passes for 180 yards and two touchdowns as a tight end. On defense he was credited with 142 tackles. He recovered seven fumbles and intercepted three passes. He was selected as defensive captain on the NAC All-Conference Team.

Ehrhardt's comments—"Bill was an offensive guard converted to tight end and a very good middle linebacker for the last two years. Bill is an all-around athlete and a fine student in the classroom. We know he is an excellent prospect for college football."

Russ Longe

5-10, 170, Sr., Wayne
Longe was an all-purpose running back. He carried the ball 91 times for 344 yards and caught eight passes for 129 yards. He scored three touchdowns.

Ehrhardt's comments—"He broke the game open at South Sioux City with an 81 yard screen pass for a touchdown. He helped set the tone for the season as he scored the winning TD versus North Bend in overtime."

Ted Lueders

6-0, 170, Sr., Wayne
Lueders was a three-year starter at quarterback for Wayne. In his career he threw for 16 touchdowns and rushed for another seven scores. He passed for 2,186 yards. He was elected offensive captain of the NAC All-Conference Team.

Ehrhardt's comments—"Ted led us to the state playoffs two of the last three years. Ted is an all-around athlete and an excellent student in the classroom. He will be an excellent college prospect."

Brad Lund

5-9, 155, Sr., Wakefield
Lund rushed for 1,138 and 27 touchdowns this year. He scored on 10 two-point conversion for a total of 182 points. On defense he was credited with 47 tackles, two fumble recoveries and one interception. He was also a Eight-Man East Team all-conference performer.

All-area team

Wilbur's comments—"Brad was voted by his teammates as the 'most valuable player.' He is a hard worker and has a tremendous desire to succeed. Our success was based on our running game and Brad was an integral part."

Steve Luft

6-2, 190, Sr., Wayne
Luft was a member of the 1986 NAC All-Conference Team. He switched from tight end to center.
Ehrhardt's comments—"He was a very hard worker and always played at 100 percent effort or more. He wasn't large for a defensive tackle but always played hard so our stunts would free our linebackers so they could make the play."

Ted McCright

5-10, 170, Sr., Wayne
McCright carried the ball 73 times for 252 yards and a touchdown. He also was on the receiving end of six passes for 35 yards. The senior was a starting defensive back for the Blue Devils.

Ehrhardt's comments—"Ted always played hard and was very reliable. He also had a very good year on defense."

Colby Meyer

6-0, 175, Jr., Wakefield
Meyer was a part of the offensive line that had 2,995 of total offense. The all-conference selection also had 50 tackles, five for losses. He recovered one fumble and blocked two kicks.

Wilbur's comments—"He was a powerful and quick blocker. On defense he forced teams to put their best blocker on him or double team him."

Jody Navrkal

5-8, 125, Senior
Navrkal was involved in 71 tackles. He recovered two fumbles and picked off one pass and returned it 25 yards for a touchdown.

Wilbur's comments—"Defensively, Wakefield asks the cornerbacks to do an almost impossible job of pass defense and supporting the run. Jody did a very good job this year."

Brad Prescott

5-9, 160, Jr., Laurel
Prescott was named to the all-conference team as a linebacker. On offense he rushed for more than 500 yards.

Hamilton's comments—"Brad is the second leading tackler on the team. He has a nose for the football and is able to read offenses quite well."

Paul Roeder

6-0, 170, Sr., Laurel
Roeder was named to the all-conference team as a defensive end. He led the Bears in tackles for losses.
Hamilton's comments—"Paul started at center and was moved from nose guard to defensive end. Paul was our most enthusiastic player. He was a team leader and is one of our hardest workers in the weight room during the off-season."

Randy Sherry

5-11, 190, Jr., Laurel
Sherry was selected as an all-conference offensive guard. He was also the team leader in tackles.
Hamilton's comments—"He is a true linebacker. He enjoys being mean and nasty. He hits hard and punishes runners."

Jon Stoltenberg

5-10, 165, Sr., Wayne
Stoltenberg caught 12 passes, for 112 yards and ran the ball 26 times for 252 yards and a touchdown.

Ehrhardt's comments—"Jon can do a number of fine things on the football field. He returned a kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown against Schuyler. As a defensive back he played the run well and his pass defense was steady throughout the year."

Mike Thies

6-2, 185, Sr., Winside
Thies led the team in quarterback sacks with four. He totaled 44 tackles, third on the team, and recovered two fumbles.

Touney's comments—"Mike is very coachable and is a gentleman around school. I think he has the potential for small college football."

Troy Wood

6-4, 190, Sr., Wayne
Wood was a two-year letter winner. He was named to the all-conference honorable mention team.

Ehrhardt's comments—"Troy was an inspirational leader on both sides of the ball. He really played his best as the season progressed."

John Wriedt

6-0, 215, So., Wakefield
Wriedt was named to the all-conference team. He was credited with 71 tackles while recovering three fumbles and intercepting one pass.

Wilbur's comments—"As a member of our offensive line he was one of the keys to our running game which is geared to go off tackle. He teamed with Colby Meyer to make a very formidable interior defensive line which forced teams to pass or run outside."

WRESTLING OPEN HOUSE was held at Wayne-Carroll High School Tuesday evening. The Blue Devil wrestlers went through various moves as coach John Murtaugh explains them to the audience.

Wayne State women down Peru State 83-74

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The Wayne State Lady Wildcats overcame a shaky first half enroute to their fourth win of the season Tuesday evening, downing Peru State 83-74.

The win also gave the Lady Cats a 1-0 record in the Nebraska Athletic Conference.

Coach Lenny Klaver's crew led at halftime 38-35 although the Lady Bobcats had more field goals.

The victors were once again led by Junior College All-American Dawn Berni. The Strombs junior scored 18 points and pulled down 10 rebounds before fouling out with 37 seconds left in the game.

Four other Lady Cats also finished in double figures to aid the balanced attack. Reserve Kris Smith played what Klaver called "her best game as a Lady Wildcat." The Pender product scored 13 points and pounded the boards for 13 rebounds.

Guard Linda Schmitzler added 12 points on the strength of her 8.8 performance from the free-throw line and sophomore forward Mary Beth Ehrhorn tallied 10 points.

Early in the second half Schmitzler gave Wayne State fans a scare. With 36 seconds expired in the second half, the Lady Cats leading scorer went down with an ankle injury. The mishap took place when Schmitzler was playing defense on the full-court press. She ran into a brick-wall pick set by a Lady Bobcat. When she went down she re-injured her ankle.

When she went out the Lady Wildcats led by one point, 38-37. She returned to the lineup with 12:42 left in the game and WSC trailed 53-48.

The Lady Cats regained the lead with good shoot selection and a full-court press that caused some turnovers. From there on the Lady Cats held on to increase their record to 4-1. That's one more win than the team had all of last season.

The Lady Wildcats struggled through the game hitting 38 percent of their shots, 31-82. The starting guard duo of Michelle Blomberg and Schnitzler hit only 5-27 shots. Blomberg connected on 3-16 while Schnitzler was 2-11 from the field. Peru State shot 43 percent from the field.

The Lady Cats held a huge advantage in the rebounding category. They outboarded the Lady Bobcats 53-38.

Girl cagers whip Macy 42-16

The Wayne 8th grade girls basketball team scored their first victory of the season Tuesday when they downed Macy 42-16.

The junior Lady Blue Devils got scoring from seven different players. Jennifer Hammer led all scorers with 16 points; Bree Bebee and Kara Luft tallied seven points each and DeAnna Schullens added six points. Tara Erklben scored three points with Leslie Spethman and Emily McClelland adding two and one point respectively.

The win pushed the girls' record to 1-2. They will next be in action Dec. 8 when they travel to Schuyler.

Klaver also credited reserve Kelly Rich with a fine performance. The sophomore from Sumner, Iowa came off the bench when Schnitzler was injured. She responded with seven points and five rebounds.

The Lady Cats are next in action Wednesday when they missouri Western at Rice Auditorium. Western beat WSC twice last year and they lead the series 16-6.

T-0 in the NAC

Wildcats claim second win

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

After more 11 minutes had gone by in the first half Tuesday night, the scoreboard at Rice Auditorium read more like that of a high school game rather than a college basketball game.

Vincent White made back-to-back layups to give WSC its first lead at 16-12 over Peru State, enroute to a 34-31 win over the Bobcats.

The win lifted the Cats' record to 2-3 overall and 1-0 in the Nebraska Athletic Conference. Both of the Wildcats' wins have come in the friendly confines of Rice Auditorium. Wayne State Coach Steve Aggers said he thought that both teams came out "emotionally flat." He said that may have been caused because both teams were coming off of tough games over the weekend.

"We looked like we were playing tired," he said. "I substituted a few guys a little earlier than usual just looking for a spark."

Aggers found that spark in the person of Russ Rosenquist. Rosenquist, the Cats' sixth man, came in to score a team-high 16 points in the Wildcats balanced attack.

Three other Cats also finished the contest in double figures. White and Scott Hopley tallied 14 points apiece and Ed Williams came off the bench to chip in 10 points. White also dished out seven assists and had his hand in on seven steals.

Hurley broke a 16-16 tie with 7:33 left in the first half when he hit two three-point shots from the same baseline area. The junior from Anaconda, Montana was 4-5 from the three-point stripe on the evening.

The Cats took the lead at halftime thanks to full-court pressure which resulted in several easy baskets before intermission.

Aggers said much of the Wildcats' offense in the second half was generated by good defense. The Cats forced Peru State into 31 turnovers.

WILDCAT center Kevin Williams blocks a shot put up by Peru State's Brad Smith. Wayne State downed the Bobcats to earn its second win of the season.

On the negative side, Wayne State was out rebounded 41-26. Brad Smith led the Bobcats with 11 boards. Smith, a recent acquisition from the Bobcat football team, also scored a game-high 17 points. Keith Berg paced the Cats with eight rebounds.

Wayne State overcame poor free-throw shooting by hitting 57 percent from the field in the second half. The Cats made 17-30 shots in the final half after making only 41 percent of their shots in the first half. Aggers' squad made 56 percent of their free throws, hitting 20-36 charity tosses.

Wayne State dives head first into CSIC action this week when they host Missouri Western on Wednesday. The Griffons return three starters from last year's 25-9 squad.

ADVISORY COUNCIL
Members of the Winside Advisory Council met Tuesday in the high school library. Dianne Jaeger, president of the business meeting. The secretary and treasurer's reports were approved.
Ron Leapley reported that an aviation ground school class will be meeting Jan. 8 for an organizational meeting. More information will be coming out from Northeast Technical Community College on this. Not much interest has been shown on any other adult education classes, however, we will try to get enough participants in January for a "quilting in a day" and a painting class. Anyone interested in either of these should contact Mr. Leapley immediately at 286-4465.
A motion was made and approved to cancel the Dec. 30 Advisory Council meeting and reschedule the planned program by foreign exchange students Janne Riis and Marj Neuvonen until the Jan. 26 meeting.
Other dates and programs were set up through May of 1987. The program was then turned over to guest speakers, Mr. Harry Mills, administrator, and Mr. Deryl Lawrence, board member, of the Education Service Unit I. They presented information to the group on the unit's services, history, funding and counties served.
The next advisory council meeting will be Monday, Jan. 26 at 7:30 p.m. with the foreign exchange speakers. The general public is invited to attend.

Everyone is to know their ancestors by the Dec. 4 meeting so they can make a family tree. Christina Cowell served treats.

CUB SCOUTS
The Bears and Wolfs Cub Scouts met Tuesday with leaders Mary Jensen and Cathy Holtgreve.
The boys copied the recipe for "chick-a-dee-pudding", they made last week and then had a lesson on "What a Wildlife Conservationist Officer Does." They were to go to the DeSoto Bend Wildlife Refuge on Saturday, Nov. 29.
A new member, Brian Deck, joined the Wolf pack.
Jeromy Keenan served treats.
The next meeting will be tomorrow (Tuesday) at the high school English room. Willetta Lueshen, a teacher at Northeast Technical College and a member of the Inland Bird Banding Association, will be speaking to all the cub scouts on birds. All parents are invited to attend this program at 3:30 p.m.

SOS
Edna Kramer hosted the Nov. 21 meeting of the SOS Club with two guests present, Marie Herrmann of Winside and Mary Osborn of Central City. Roll call was your favorite Bible verse. Topic was "Your Favorite Thanksgiving Menu."
Election of officers was held with Lillie Lippoff elected president and Louise Heithold, secretary/treasurer.
Ten point pitch was played for entertainment with prizes going to Lillie Lippoff and Louise Heithold.
The next meeting will be Friday, Dec. 19 with a noon carry-in Christmas dinner with Lillie Lippoff.

PRISCILLA CIRCLE
Sixteen members of St. Paul's Lutheran Women's Missionary League Priscilla Circle met Monday with Jean Gahl as a guest.
Mrs. Albert Jaeger led devotions, "Thank You God." Pat Meierhenry showed a slide presentation from the LWML International Convention in Ames, Iowa that she attended.
Reba Mann had the lesson, "Learning from Life," in which members participated. Mrs. Mann also presided at the business meeting.
The Priscilla group will serve coffee following the Wednesday, Dec. 17 Advent service. Committee workers will be Marilyn Leighton, Connie Oberle, Leona Backstrom, Marcia Fale, Reba Mann and Pat Meierhenry.
Election of officers was held with Connie Oberle elected as president; Lorraine Prince, vice president; Marilyn Leighton, treasurer; and Jackie Koll, secretary.
Birthdays of shut-ins to remember are Mrs. John Asmus on Dec. 16 and Mrs. Herman Jaeger on Dec. 18.
The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Edna Carstens and Lena Miller were hostesses.
The next meeting will be Monday, Dec. 29 at 7:30 p.m.

GUILD WORKERS
Winside workers for the Lutheran Hospital Guild on Friday, Dec. 12 are Ruth Lorenzen, Joni Jaeger and Lois Krueger. Workers for Tuesday, Dec. 16 are Rose Janke and Dorinda Janke.

TROPHY RECEIVED
Winside High School received the annual traveling trophy for having the most people in attendance Nov. 17 at the conference vocal clinic concert held at the Osmond High School.

BRIDGE CLUB
The Don Wackers hosted the Nov. 25 Tuesday Night Bridge Club with Mr. and Mrs. N.L. Dilman as guests. Prizes were won by Carl Troulman and Charles Jackson. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 9 with the Carl Troulmans.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

POST PROM FUNDRAISING
Fans attending the Laurel-Concord home basketball games in December will have the opportunity to win a Laurel or Nebraska jacket. The Post Prom Committee will display the baseball-style jacket at the games on Dec. 4, 18, 19 and 20. The winner will be able to choose either a black or orange Laurel jacket or a red or white Nebraska jacket. It will be made in the winner's choice of size and color by Elaine Wattier.
The drawing for the jacket will be at half-time of the varsity game with Bloomfield on Dec. 20. The winner need not be present to win.
The Post Prom Committee, made up of junior parents, will also be selling craft items during the home basketball games. If anyone wishes to donate a craft item, please contact Betty Helgren, 256-3927. All proceeds from these events will be used to sponsor the post prom party next spring.

PERFORMAT MUSIC CONVENTION
Heidi Pehrson, daughter of Roger and Judy Pehrson, and Rachel Boeckenhauer, daughter of Roger and Sharon Boeckenhauer, students from the Laurel-Concord School, were selected to perform at the Nebraska Music Educators Association Convention held at Hastings Nov. 20 to 22. Rachel performed with the All-State band and Heidi sang with the All-State choir.
The girls were selected by audition on Oct. 11. Junior and senior musicians from high schools throughout the state auditioned for the All-State selections. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the music education convention.
The lesson will be given by Mrs. Norma Maxon.
A special program is planned. All members and husbands are invited to attend.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY
The Immanuel Lutheran Women's Society from Laurel will be meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m. for their Christmas party. Hostesses in the kitchen will be Mrs. Cindy Taylor, Mrs. Deanna Thompson and Mrs. Sharon Van Cleave.
There are six home girls games and six home boys games. Regular admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students. The first home game is Dec. 4 with the Coleridge girls.

Concert Choir to perform

Music fills the air as the Wayne State College of Nebraska Concert Choir and Madrigal Singers present their annual Christmas concert on Sunday, Dec. 7 at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center. Admission to the concert is free.

The Concert Choir, directed by Dr. Cornell Runestad, professor of music, will perform a one and one-half hour concert. Included in the concert are the Madrigal Singers, who will also be presenting their 15th annual Elizabethan Dinners in December, and the Women's Choir, directed by Rob Stuber, adjunct instructor of music. The Women's Choir is in its second full year at Wayne State.

This year's theme for the Christmas concert is "Today Christ Is Born." According to Runestad, the singers will be performing from many different locations throughout the theatre.

The narrator for the concert is Doyle Andersen, a graduate of Wayne State who is now teaching in Wynot. The organist is Gene Eiler of Leigh, and accompanists are Debra Lee of Wayne and Gayle Hightree of Battle Creek, Iowa.

Workshop set

Managing for Tomorrow, the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service's comprehensive financial management education program for farm families will be offered to farmers at Stanton, Concord, and Emerson locations starting in January, announced Don C. Spitzer, Quad County Extension Agent.

"The program has two distinct phases", Spitzer said. The first is a series of four one-day workshops conducted by Financial Management Specialists. Workshop sessions are followed by individual consultations with the families of each farm unit.

"A unique feature of Managing For Tomorrow is the human touch," he said. Computers are used to help analyze individual situations, but the program "emphasizes interaction within the family."

There is a charge for the program but the first meeting is free and after participating in this meeting the farm couple can then decide whether they wish to enroll for the entire program. Some financial institutions are offering cash incentives for their clientele enrollment.

Meeting sites are: Wednesday, Jan. 7, Community Building, Stanton; Thursday, Jan. 8, basement meeting room, First Nebraska Bank, N.A., Emerson; and Friday, Jan. 9, Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord. The same program is being offered at all the locations and registration is 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. Please let the host Extension Office know you are coming.

Further information about the MFT program is available from local Cooperative Extension Offices, banks, PCA and FHA Offices or by calling the MFT toll free number: 800-335-3456.

Newly elected officers are Doug Cherry, president; Craig Evans, vice president; Kim Cherry, secretary; Leahna DuBois, treasurer; Margaret Brugger, news reporter; and Wendy Morse, historian.

Dawn Gronke reported on his trip to Washington, D. C., and Cindy Berg showed slides and told about her trip to Europe.

Plans were made for a dinner and Christmas party at the Rod Brogren home on Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

Following the meeting, lunch was served by hostesses Gloria Evans and Mary Cherry.

Friends help harvest crops for two Laurel families

Friends and neighbors participated in two corn harvesting days recently in the Laurel community.

On Friday, Nov. 14, several men gathered to harvest corn for Mrs. Twyla Maxon, whose husband died on Oct. 26. Over 90 acres were harvested.

Friends and relatives assisting were Larry Maxon, Glenn Maxon, Gary Otteman, Art Lipp, Wayne Vogle, Gary Kavanagh, Gerry Cunningham, Doug Thompson, Ted Carlson, Gary Lule, Zep Thompson, Harold White, Garry Anderson, Willard Malchow, Kurt Malchow, Carsten Graverholt, Doug Lule and Carl Christensen, all of Laurel; Elmer Konken of Coleridge; Clyde Cook and Charles Bierschneck of Belden; Marvin Frevert of Norfolk; and Hans Burmeister of Sholes.

The SECOND corn harvesting bee was held Monday, Nov. 24 at the Larry and Steve Smith farm where over 140 acres were picked.

Larry Smith injured his arm earlier this month when his clothes became entangled in a power take-off. He sustained a broken wrist and bone in his right arm.

Those assisting by furnishing combines, wagons, trucks, augers and labor were Dave Stage, Bill Young, Rollie Granquist, Gary Lule, Cy Smith, Art Lipp, Don Pippitt, Kurt Malchow, Mark Slaba, Dennis Christensen, Gary Otteman, Doug Krie, Larry Maxon, Zeb Thompson, Eldon Vanderhieden, Tim Granquist, Dave Pritchard, Lynn Evers, Mark Christensen, Howard Paulson, Glenn Maxon, Rod Kvols, Wayne Vogle, Vernon Schultz, Don Oxley, Harold Burns, Dean Pippitt, Earl Lundahl, Tom Fredricksen, Darrell Johnson, Andy Fredricksen, Monte Johnson, Ray Lentz, Rich Brandon, Scott Pigg, Gene Twiford, Ted Gunnerson, Darrell Hansen, Frank Mathies and Greg Pippitt.

Bill Heitman assisted in moving and arranging bales for a bunker to contain some of the harvested corn.

Dinner and lunches were served at both corn harvesting projects with the food being furnished by family and friends.
