Contest going 'full scale' Great Allen 'Weight-Off' pits men against women

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

In the left corner we have the women of Allen Consolidated School, weighing in at an average of 165 pounds.

In the opposite corner are the men of Allen Consolidated School, weighing in at an average of 192 pounds.

At the sound of the bell, on Jan. 5, both came out fighting. The final round is destined to be played out on May 1, 1987 — and the scale will determine the winner.

IT MAY NOT GO down in the annals as one of the greatest matches in history, but The Great Allen "Weight-Off" may turn out to be one of the greatest "battle of the sexes" that the community of Allen has ever witnessed.

The "weight-off" program is the brainchild of Allen School Superintendent John Werner and pits the women of the school against the men of the school in a contest to see which side can lose the most weight before the May Day deadline.

Werner issued the challenge on Jan. 5 when he sent a memo to all staff members encouraging them to take part in the program as a way to "create a more physically fit staff and to provide an incentive for all staff to watch their weight."

"THE WINTER BLAHS always seem to set in after Christmas," said Werner, "and I figured the contest would help boost morale at the school while at the same time help a lot of us get rid of our excess winter baggage."

"Our staff members are supposed to be role models for health and physical fitness, and there definitely are some of us who need to lose some weight."

Werner added that while the contest is not a requirement, the administration is recommending that all staff members (including teachers, janitors, cooks, bus drivers and secretaries) sign up to participate.

weigh-in with their team captain, Jean Carlson, math/computer instructor, and men were asked to report to their team captain, Gary Troth, science/biology teacher and head girls coach.

When the contest ends on May 1, the average loss by both teams will be used to determine the winners.

The losing team will treat the winners to a spring picnic.

THERE WAS A definite air of competitiveness about the school last week as the women explained their strategy during the next four months.

"To begin with," said Janice Dickens, assistant custodian at the school, "we're treating the men really nice. We're bringing them all sorts of good things — like candy and cake."

"Some especially nice person has been sticking candy bars in all the men's mailboxes," adds Darlene Fahrenholz, secretary-bookkeeper.

It's even been reported that cooks of the school are being especially generous in their servings to male staff members.

"Our motto is 'lean and mean,'" adds Fahrenholz.

ON A MORE serious note, team captain Jean Carlson said women are walking during each noon hour in the school gym and are in the process of organizing an aerobics class.

"Some of the women," added Carlson, "are even talking about lifting weights three nights a week."

"We're serious, alright, and we're really excited about the whole thing."

Carlson added that 25 female staff members (all but one) have signed up for the contest to date.

"Our average weight at this time is 165 pounds, and our goal is to reach an average weight of 150 pounds by May 1."

ON THE OTHER SIDE, men of the school seem to be slightly less organized when it comes to discussing their strategy for losing weight.

"Our only organized activity to date," laughs Superintendent Werner, "is to report in to work each day. Obviously, we're not taking it too seriously this early in the game. We're waiting for the spring thaw."

Team Captain Gary Troth disagrees, however. "So far," says Troth, "we're eating everything the women put in front of us. We're letting them get overconfident."

"Actually," says Troth with a smile on his face, "part of the men's strategy was to cheat on the initial weigh-in."

Troth went on to explain that during the initial weigh-in, head custodian Loren Carr forgot to remove several wrenches from his pockets.

"Loren dropped 15 pounds right away," chuckled Troth.

TROTH REPORTS THAT 13 male staff members (all but one) have signed up to participate in the weight-off program.

"Personally," smiles Troth, "I'd like to organize two workouts each day for the men — including a field workout from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m. each morning, and another workout in the evening. So far I've had zero turnout, but I'm still optimistic."

Troth added that his final strategy, if all else fails, involves having all of the men of the school eat at his house during the last month of the contest.

"If we don't lose weight then, we're in real trouble."

"We're taking this seriously," says Troth, holding back a smile. "In fact, we're considering expanding the program to other schools. Maybe we could make it a conference project."

DESPITE THE FUN staffers seem to be having with the weight-off program, Werner says it is a serious contest and he himself hopes to lose around 12 pounds.

"If just one person loses 10 to 15 pounds than it's been totally worth it," adds Werner.

Just then the superintendent's door opens and a female staff member reminds the administrator of the ice cream bars awaiting him in the refrigerator.

"May the best team win," sighs Werner. "No," says women's captain Jean Carlson. "May the women win!"

Tax Reform considered complicated

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Some Wayne accountants and income tax preparers consider the new federal tax law changes scheduled for 1987 and 1988 as confusing and "not a good law."

Only a few of the income tax reform laws will come into effect for the 1986 tax year, forms which are currently being prepared by taxpayers for 1986 earnings. A majority of the changes will go into effect for the 1987 and 1988 tax years.

Ray Buell of Buell Tax Service in Wayne said the Tax Reform Act of 1986, which has made comprehensive changes in the way taxes are computed, is a bad law. "But we'll live with it until they change it again," he said.

Buell said the tax reform act was enacted to simplify preparation of the tax forms. However, he said the changes will result in more work in completing the forms. "There is no way that it is simpler," he said.

One of the changes that will greatly affect the 1986 tax liability year is the elimination of investment credit.

"That law will hurt farmers and businessmen the worst," Buell said. Elimination of capital gains for tax year 1987 will also hurt some of the taxpayers, he mentioned.

Other changes to the tax law affecting farmers will encompass depreciation, travel and entertainment, tax rates, minimum tax and estimated tax.

The tax reform act, Buell mentioned, will help those people classified as "lower income with children." "The people it will not help are those in the middle income category, earning between $20,000 to $40,000," he added.

HIGH INCOME people may also have a difficult time absorbing the rates. Elimination of capital gains could result in problems for the high income people who venture into investments such as the stock market. Here are some other changes forthcoming from the new tax reform act in the upcoming years.

Tax brackets — the current 15 bracket tax rate structure has been replaced by a two-bracket rate structure — 15 and 28 percent — that will be in full effect in 1988.

Personal exemptions — to be increased from $1,080 each in 1986 to $1,900 for 1987, $1,950 for 1988 and $2,000 each in 1989. Afterwards, the $2,000 exemption will be adjusted for inflation.

Itemized deductions — a choice is available for the taxpayer, on whether to itemize or take the standard deduction, beginning in 1987.

State and local taxes — the deduction for state and local sales taxes is being eliminated for 1987.

Charitable deductions — non-itemizers lose their deduction for charitable contributions in 1987.

MEDICAL EXPENSES — the floor for the deduction of medical expenses increased from 5 percent of adjusted gross income in 1986 to 7.5 percent.

Interest on non-business loans — becomes nondeductible over a five-year phase-in period beginning in 1987.

Dividends — the $100 exclusion ($200 on a joint return) for dividends received has been repealed for tax years beginning after 1986.

Through Toys For Tots program

Thousands obtain gifts

Eighty-seven children were adopted in Wayne County through the Toys for Tots Adoption Program this holiday season, according to statistics compiled by the Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency.

During December, Wayne County residents could adopt a needy child during the Christmas season from a list provided by Goldenrod Hills. The individuals, or organizations, then purchased toys or other gifts for their adopted child.

Goldenrod Hills reported that in a 12 county region, some 1,856 children received gifts from the Toys for Tots program. Dixon County had 34 children who received gifts. Cedar County had 97 children that benefited from the program.

Other counties in the region include Dakota, Knox, Antelope, Madison, Stanton, Cuming, Burt, Thurston and Pierce.

Food baskets were also distributed. Wayne County distributed 14 food baskets. Dixon County food baskets delivered at Christmas numbered 16 and Cedar County provided 11 food baskets.

Throughout the 12-county region, 217 food baskets were distributed. The Toys for Tots program supplies gifts for those needy children who are 12 years of age or under. The food baskets are provided to individuals that are 60 years old and over.

Gene Dunklau of Goldenrod Hills, who helped coordinate the Toys for Tots program, said that the number of children and the elderly that received gifts or food baskets were down from the previous year.

"That's because we had limited the program to children who are 12 years or younger and those who are 60 years and older," she said.

THIS YEAR THE Toys for Tots in Wayne County was headquartered inside a building within Wayne's business district. Toys distributed not only came from the adopting sponsor, but also from used toys that had been repaired by volunteers and were fit for Christmas gifts. "This is the first year that the parents came in to pick up the gift items. We didn't deliver the items to the families this year," she said.

Chances are, next year's Toys for Tots program will follow strictly the adoption format because of its success in Wayne County and other counties.

"I think the adoption program had brought on special meaning to all of them [those that adopted a needy child]," Dunklau said.

Plans are to do something for those needy people who are between the ages of 12 and 60, according to Dunklau, through various fundraising efforts.

Also this Christmas, the Farm Aid Funds received by Goldenrod Hills helped 20 farm families within the region this Christmas. Some special Farm Aid Funds went to five farm families within the 12-county Goldenrod Hills region.

Park funds granted

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission has approved allocating $4,000 to the city of Wayne for picnic and playground development.

The funding will go towards development of Centennial Park, located in the Sunnyview Subdivision where in 1984 during the centennial year, trees were planted as a tribute to past mayors of Wayne.

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission recently gave its approval for 16 outdoor recreation projects across the state that totaled $509,300 in expenditures. That approval was granted based on the availability of federal funds.

The $4,000 is just a portion of the grant funding that was requested by the city of Wayne for the park development.

Following Commission approval, the final step is approval by the National Park Service, Department of Interior.

Proposed work includes grading of the highway shoulders and forelopes, extending, replacing and removing drainage structures, and resurfacing the highway. The intersection of N-15 and N-57, three miles south of Coleridge, will be redesigned. Additional right-of-way will be required.

Final design work can now be completed in preparation for the right-of-way acquisition.

This project is included in the Department's One and Five-Year Highway Construction Program.

After pancreas transplant

Bonnie Smith's life returns to normal

Bonnie Smith, granddaughter of Floyd and Clara Sullivan of Wayne and Luella Smith of Laurel, underwent a successful pancreas transplant one year ago to cure her diabetes.

Today, she feels better than ever, according to a story published Jan. 11 in The Ashland Gazette.

The surgery was performed Dec. 15, 1985 at the University of Minnesota Hospital. A fund drive took place to raise the $70,000 necessary for the operation.

After a year, there are no signs in Bonnie's body of rejecting her new pancreas. She can live a relatively normal life.

She knows there are no guarantees, and that the failure of the pancreas could place her in the same position she was prior to the surgery. But she has accepted that reality.

"The major difference is the freedom I have in my new lifestyle. My life was as such before that I was very dependent on other people," she told an Ashland Gazette reporter.

She still must take anti-rejection drugs and does suffer some side effects from the drugs, but despite these she doesn't lose her courage and humor.

Five months of fundraising events in communities as far away as Wayne, Laurel and Hartington were needed to pay for the transplant. "We got so much support from people who didn't even know us," said Tim Smith to the Gazette reporter. "My grandparents in Wayne raised thousands of dollars from people who didn't know us."

Other money was raised in Memphis, Lincoln and Omaha.

The article says Bonnie now speaks at diabetic workshops, promotes organ donations and has put together a packet instructing other people needing transplants how to raise money.

"They call Nebraska the heartland. I take that a little more seriously than most," Bonnie told the Gazette reporter.

out of old nebraska

Though some Nebraskans view their legislators as rather a staid group, others are puzzled by the antics of some of the individual senators.

Many citizens stand in awe of the legislative chambers, but a number come to watch the senators in action. The scene was decidedly different when Nebraska lawmakers convened over a century ago.

According to material in the Nebraska State Historical Society, a correspondent of the New York Times, in 1856, gave this description of the Nebraska Territorial Legislature:

"It is a decidedly rich treat to visit the general assembly of Nebraska. You see a motley group inside of a railing in a small room, crowded to overflowing, some behind their little school-boy desks, some seated on the top of desks, some with their feet perched on the top of their neighbor's chair or desk, some whittling, half a dozen walking about in what little space there is left. The fireman, door keeper, sergeant-at-arms, lister year's members, and almost anyone else become principal characters inside the bar, selecting good seats, and making themselves generally at home, no matter how much they may discommodate the members. A lobbyist strolls inside the bar, and from one to the other he goes taking the advantages of his bill. A row starts up in the secretary's room, or somewhere about the building, and away goes the honorable body to see the fun... then a thirsty member moves an adjournment and in a few minutes the drinking saloons are well patronized."

THE FIRST Territorial Legislature of Nebraska was such a wild, pugacious body that a reporter of the Missouri Republican wrote:

"At one time it was feared that organization was impossible. But that was not the worst of it, for if the row had broken out, there would have been bloodshed; as probably there was not a man in either House who was not provided with a brace of Colt's revolvers, and a bowie knife. Of course, the outsiders were not unprovided."

Dr. James C. Olson in his book, History of Nebraska, points out that out of a total membership of thirty-nine at least five were not residents of Nebraska. Joseph Sharp, the president of the Council, lived in Glenwood, Iowa. One member was only nineteen years old. The first legislature set Nebraska on its governmental course by adopting the Civil and Criminal Codes of Iowa. Among its other acts it defined county boundaries, provided for the organization of courts and establishment of a public school system.

It also prohibited the sale, manufacture and consumption of intoxicating beverages, a law that was not enforced during its two years on the books. In spite of obvious weaknesses the first Nebraska Legislature did its job and provided the territory with a framework of civil government.

TWO OF THE 87 or more people that adopted children for this holiday season in the Toys for Tots program were Mary Ann Tomriddle and Pastor Ted Youngerman. See page 1 story.

Concerning Honduras situation

Guard duty defined by Kerrey

by Governor Bob Kerrey
The human quality known by us as confusion, where the mind is a jumble and disturbed...

debate at length who is right and who is wrong. To the soldiers and airmen of the Guard, there is no liberty to argue or engage in poetic use of language...

As the person responsible for their safety I have made the judgment that I do not trust the conditions under which they are being ordered to Honduras...

I note that people like myself who are supposed to know things do not like to confess that we are confused. Like children whistling in a graveyard on a moonlit night...

While I do not question the right of anyone to challenge the authenticity of duty, I must respectfully disagree. For me duty is a noble and important condition in our country...

However, of greater importance to me is the loss of civilian oversight. For it is not the White House with whom I communicate...

One of the most profound joys of Christmas is the giving of gifts. The surprise of being remembered is a moment when the shackles of our daily habits are broken...

LIKE THE MEN and women who enforce our laws or who guard our homes against fire, military personnel set aside their devotion to their families and friends when duty calls...

This loss of civilian control and oversight is a serious matter. To illustrate, I point out that Adjutant General Carmona recently indicated he would have no problems going to Honduras...

One responsibility which I have as Governor that I take most seriously is as Commander in Chief of the Nebraska National Guard. In this regard I must observe a very unique contract which all Nebraskans have with the men and women of the Guard...

As I considered whether or not I should permit the Nebraska National Guard to deploy on a training mission to Honduras, my principal concern was for their health and well being...

One alternative which has merit would be to give the Governors the authority to approve or disapprove, but to give the President the authority to override this decision...

Let them know

We cannot stress enough the importance of the task taken on by participants who are involved in the Wayne Safe House Program. Safe House is a protective haven for young children who become harassed away from their homes...

Police Officer Robert Treachle explained to a group of Kiwanians on Monday about the incident. Apparently, an individual had in possession a revealing porno photograph that the individual would drop out of a vehicle onto a path usually traveled after school hours by Wayne students...

Up to this date, there have been no cases of near kidnappings or harassment which have been foiled because of the McGruff posters on the Safe House windows that appear in nearly 60 homes and businesses throughout Wayne.

But one can look at the program from the perspective that no one dare bother a child in the vicinity of a Safe House. It can be looked upon as preventive medicine to combat crime. An idea would be to place large signs along the city limits of Wayne, alerting individuals that Wayne is a "Safe House" community that cares about the safety of its children...

The signs would likely have the same effect as "this city has radar" signs that can be seen posted in other communities. It makes one step on the brakes fast and think about what they are doing.

Q. My husband and I each have a will. We have no children, so our wills state that the surviving spouse will receive everything. If there is no surviving spouse, however, I want all of my property to go to charity...

A. A beneficiary named in a will must survive the maker of the will by 120 hours in order to receive his or her share of the estate. If the beneficiary does not survive the maker by 120 hours, he or she is treated as having died before the maker...

When the distribution of property depends on who died first, and there is no sufficient evidence that the persons died other than simultaneously, the property of each is disposed of as if each had survived each other. For example, if you and your husband die together, both wills go into effect...

If one spouse survives for 120 hours or more after the death of the first spouse, the surviving spouse's will then takes precedence. When that spouse dies, the property will pass according to his or her will.

Sodbuster law changes proposed by Bereuter

Representative Doug Bereuter has introduced a bill that will correct a problem in the present sodbuster law and, at the same time, help as many as 9,000 Nebraska farmers who have planted alfalfa and find that now they cannot plow their alfalfa fields without losing all of their farm program benefits. Under the sodbuster law a farmer cannot plow any highly erodible grasslands without an approved conservation plan. If he does, he will lose all farm program benefits on his entire operation. However, a farmer can continue to grow crops that are defined as "agricultural commodities" in the sodbuster law, even if conservation practices eventually will be required on that land. The sodbuster law says that by 1995 erodible lands that are already planted in "agricultural commodities" will have to be covered by conservation plans. But between now and then, if they are already planted in "agricultural commodities," these lands can be farmed while the operator is developing a conservation plan. UNFORTUNATELY, the alfalfa in a field that has not been plowed since 1981 does not fall under the sodbuster law's definition of "agricultural com-modify." That field is considered unbroken sod. Consequently, many alfalfa acres that have been rotated with row crops in Nebraska and in other parts of the country are being treated as grasslands. If the operator plows those fields, he immediately becomes ineligible for farm program benefits. This situation not only creates problems for the farmer, but it also causes additional conservation problems. If alfalfa and other legume fields are not properly rotated, soil erosion will increase. In addition, vital soil nutrients will be depleted and crucial subsoil moisture will be exhausted by continuous, yearly use of alfalfa. Bereuter's bill defines alfalfa and other legumes as "agricultural commodities" under the sodbuster law and permits a farmer to plow those fields if he can prove that the fields have been rotated with other agricultural commodities at least once in the past twelve years. It does prohibit the plowing of alfalfa or other legume fields if the land has always been classified as too fragile for farming. "This legislation is a responsible middle course," Bereuter said. "It allows farmers to rotate their alfalfa fields if they have previously cropped with other agricultural commodities in accordance with their designated conservation practices. At the same time, it would prevent farmers from plowing up alfalfa and other legume fields that are planted on land that should never have been placed in row crops. "IT WAS AN early and strong supporter of the sodbuster legislation and believe these provisions are among the best features of the 1985 Farm Bill," he said. "These conservation provisions were long overdue. However, I do not believe it was the intent of Congress to cause the current difficulties by requiring immediate enforcement of the sodbuster sanctions on alfalfa and other legumes that have been in rotation. We should not penalize those farmers who have a proven soil conservation record and who have set a good example by their application of conservation practices. Those farmers should be given the time they need to adapt their conservation plans to the sodbuster provisions. "I don't want to raise false expectations at this point," Bereuter said, "but we do hope to get this changed in time to help many of these farmers."

BUT IF WE could, it would be great if we could "slow down time" in these following situations:
-When the deadline for paying federal income tax, motor vehicle registration and property taxes to the various taxing entities draws near.
-From the time a person makes a call for an appointment at the dentist's office to the time of the appointment.
-When news copy deadlines appear, so that we can have all the time in the world to correct our mistakes or write last minute news flashes before the pages hit the press.
-When certain relatives call and say they will be stopping to visit the family home within the hour; about the same time your children decided to use the living room as a "toy dump" and the dishes are piled about a foot high in the kitchen sink.
-After you have parked in a "15 minute parking" stall, the car has been there for an hour, and the police cruiser and a tow truck have just turned the corner.
-During vacation time.
-When you are suffering from a bad cold or flu, or have a broken arm only weeks before your ski trip that you have planned for months. Time moves awfully slow waiting to mend or feel better.
-During the years prior to when your firstborn child is ready to go off to school.
All these are times when I wish time moved slowly.
BUT THERE ARE also days when "time moving fast" would be of great benefit. For instance:
-When the football teams of either Nebraska or Iowa has a three point lead in the fourth quarter, with the opponent having possession and driving and a minute left on the clock.
-When covering governmental meetings, although I can't complain about the Wayne city council. During their last regular meeting, the time frame from Mayor Marsh opening the meeting to the adjournment was just 4 1/2 minutes - believed to be a new record for a regular meeting.
-From the time you purchase an Iowa lottery ticket to the time it takes to make an announcement of the numbers.
-During the days AFTER you forget your wedding anniversary or your wife's birthday.
-When you decide to travel 500 miles in one day by car, with children who are restless and who ask "When are we going to be there?" every five minutes.
-The time frame between winter and spring.
These are when I wish time would travel fast.
Nothing we can do about slowing down or speeding up time, I guess. But we can sure wish, can't we.

Eating today
Do you know that the term "healthy" body weight may be replacing "ideal" body weight?

This is one of the recommendations of the American Dietetic Association (ADA). Instead of trying to make yourself over into a model-like appearance, look at your relatives and choose a more realistic goal. Your relatives' shapes will clue you into the genetic potential of your shape.

The ADA has published a list of dietary recommendations for women in the December 1986 issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association. Most of these recommendations are appropriate for men, too. Women need to be more concerned than men about getting enough calcium since they are more prone to osteoporosis. They also need more iron than men.

The American Dietetic Association's

Recommendations for Food Selections for Women

- 1) Eat a daily variety of foods from all major food groups, including three to four low-fat servings of dairy foods; two low-fat servings of meat/meat alternatives; four servings of vegetables/fruits; and four servings of whole grain breads/cereals.
- 2) Maintain a healthy body weight. For adults to lose weight safely and effectively, do not go below 10 calories per pound of present weight and do not skip meals. Increase physical activity, if needed. To gain weight, increase caloric intake and exercise in moderation.
- 3) Exercise regularly — at least three days a week.
- 4) Limit total fat to no more than one-third of daily calories. Select foods from a variety of fat sources — saturated, polyunsaturated, and monounsaturated. Limit non-fat group foods, such as margarine, butter, cooking oils, salad dressings, cookies, cakes and cream, and choose low-fat selections from the meat and milk food groups.
- 5) Eat at least one-half of daily calories from carbohydrates. Select complex carbohydrates such as beans, peas, pasta, vegetables, nuts and seeds.
- 6) Eat a variety of fiber-rich foods. Make daily selections from fresh fruits with skins, vegetables, legumes (navy, pinto and kidney beans), and whole grains (brown rice, oatmeal, oat and wheat bran). Increase intake of fiber gradually and avoid excess fiber intake, especially from just one source.
- 7) Include three to four daily servings of calcium-rich foods, such as low-fat milk, yogurt, cheese, broccoli, sardines with bones, canned salmon with bones, and collard greens. Increase milk in cooking.
- 8) Include plenty of iron-rich foods. Make daily selections from lean meat, liver, prunes, pinto and kidney beans, spinach, leafy green vegetables, enriched and whole grain breads/cereals.
- 9) Limit intake of salt and foods containing sodium. Limit salt use in cooking and at the dinner table, and watch food labels for monosodium glutamate, sodium bicarbonate, sodium citrate, and other sodium sources.
- 10) Rely on foods for necessary nutrients, using vitamin and mineral supplements only under specific circumstances.
- 11) If you drink, limit alcohol intake to one to two drinks daily.
- 12) Avoid smoking.
- 13) Adjust diet, exercise, and other health promotional behaviors to correspond with an individual's own identified risk factors.
- 14) If you have questions about the adequacy of your diet, consult a registered dietitian.

Cats win, boost record to 7-6

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The third time was a charm for the Wayne State Wildcats Thursday night as they repaid Westmar College with a 77-68 decision at Rice Auditorium.

The Eagles dumped Wayne State in the previous two meetings this year. They handed the Cats a 71-55 beating in the consolation game at the Siouxland Hy-Vee Tournament Nov. 29 and the Eagles won 86-69 at LeMars, Iowa Dec. 11.

Coach Steve Aggers said you can't compare the latest outing with the previous two.

"We're a much better team at this stage than we were when we played them earlier," he said.

Aggers did point out two significant differences in Thursday's game. The Wildcat defense shutdown the Eagle's perimeter game. In the second meeting Westmar was 7-10 from the three-point line. At Rice Auditorium the Eagles failed to convert a three-point basket in five attempts. The Cats also limited Eagle guard Dave Hubert to two points before fouling out. Hubert hurt Wayne State in the first two meetings.

The Wildcats jumped out to an 8-2 lead before a sparse crowd estimated at about 250 people. The small turnout was due to the fact that the student body is still on the semester break.

The Eagles came back to get within one point at 8-7. The Cats built leads of 10 to 12 points through most of the first half. They maintained an eight point lead, 38-31, at intermission.

Sophomore Zachery Moore hurt the Cats in the opening half as he pumped in 21 points. The Kansas City product finished the game with a game-high 26 points.

Scott Hurley and Dave Jahr led Wayne State with 11 and nine points respectively. Jahr, playing his second game in a Cat uniform, was rewarded with his first starting assignment.

Westmar came out in the second half and took it to the Wildcats. They chopped the lead to two points but they could get no closer. The Eagles never had the lead in the contest.

Ten players scored for Coach Aggers. With the addition of Jahr and Byron Haas Aggers has the luxury of substituting freely. He thinks that will be a key for the Cats down the stretch.

White will be able to keep fresh troops in the game at all times. The skipper pointed to the center position as an example. His three centers, Haas, Kevin Williams and Mark Gracy, combined for 25 points and six rebounds.

Wayne State had four players in double figures. Hurley led the way with 16 points, 12 coming from beyond the three-point line. Haas added 12 points inside while Vincent White and Jahr added 11 and 10 points respectively.

White did more than contribute 11 points. The 5-9 senior from Joiner, Arkansas also led the team in rebounds and assists. He pulled down eight rebounds while dishing out 11 of the team's 25 assists. Aggers said White had an excellent field game.

The coach said the win was a "great program win" as everyone contributed.

The win raised the Cats record above .500 for the first time this season. Wayne State has won five of the last seven games after starting the year 2-5. The Cats also increased their win streak to six games at Rice Auditorium.

Wayne grapplers pinned by CHS

The Wayne Blue Devils wrestling squad returned to action Thursday night as they toured to Creighton to wrestle the Bulldogs in dual action.

The results weren't good for the locals. Creighton crushed the Wayne grapplers 56-12.

Senior Paul Walde was the only varsity member to record a win during the meet. Walde pinned Darren Stacken in 1:45. Wayne's other six points came on a forfeit in the heavyweight division.

Coach John Murtaugh didn't have much to say after the loss. But he did compliment Walde on his fine showing.

"Walde wrestled well," he said. "He's the kind of guy who always gives you 100 percent."

Murtaugh said Creighton has a good team but the Blue Devils helped them out by wrestling poorly.

Four Wayne matmen participated in the junior varsity match. Brian Nelson declined one opponent and was pinned by another Creighton reserve. Shane Geiger, Tom Etter and Tony Johnson each lost both of their matches.

Results:

- 98—Forfeit
- 105—Forfeit
- 112—Forfeit
- 119—Mark Rahn was pinned by Corey Young, 3:45.
- 126—Chad Fry was pinned by Dave Shanno, 3:00.
- 132—Greg DeNaeyer was pinned by Garret VanBroeklin, 3:00.
- 138—Paul Walde pinned Darren Stacken, 1:45.
- 145—Robbie Gamble was pinned by Jeff Chase, 1:30.
- 155—Jason Cole was decided by Jerry Sukup, 11-3.
- 167—Tim Stevers was pinned by Larry Fuchtmann, 5:20.
- 185—Chris Luft was decided by Chris Fritz, 10-2.
- Heavyweight—Stuart Rethwisch won by forfeit.

Starters pick up slack in 36-33 win

It wasn't pretty but a win is a win, according to Winside Wildcat Coach Jill Stenwall after her crew dumped Beemer 36-33 Friday night.

The win increased the Wildcats' win streak to six games. The girls also boosted their season record to 6-2 with the road win.

Winside was left without the starting services of guard Kristi Miller. The sophomore guard was forced to sit out the game after she came down with strep throat. Winside's leading scorer was replaced in the starting lineup by junior Carmen Reeg. The 5-10 Reeg responded with eight points and an incredible 20 rebounds.

Senior Tracy Topp also helped pick up the slack by scoring 10 points and pulling down 12 rebounds. Topp also added five assists. The Wildcats' leading scorer for the night was Christi Thies. The senior tied for game-high honors with 14 points.

With Reeg moving into the starting lineup, Stenwall moved Topp from underneath the basket out into the wing area.

Beemer jumped out on top in the first quarter by a 10-8 count. They held onto the lead at halftime by a single point, 17-16.

Stenwall said her team had too many turnovers. The Wildcats finished the game with 21 miscues. The coach said most of the turnovers resulted from the Lady Bobcat full-court pressure. In Miller's absence

Thies had to bring the ball up the court.

Things turned around for Winside in the third quarter. They outscored the hosts 10-3 to grab a 28-22 lead after three periods of play. Both teams exchanged baskets in the final quarter as the Wildcats held on for the win. Winside scored all of its points on field goals. The girls failed to convert on any of their five free-throw attempts.

Winside also won the rebounding battle as they outscraped Beemer on the glass 46-33. Heather Hasenkamp led the Lady Bobcats with 14 points.

The Winside junior varsity also downed Beemer. The JV's pulled out a 21-15 decision. Shaun Janke led the way with eight points. The JV's season mark now stands at 2-2.

Tuesday Winside hosts Snyder. This will be the last meeting between the two teams since Snyder will be closing its doors at the end of the year. The Wildcats will be trying to avenge a loss to the Lady Warriors last year.

Third quarter spells trouble for Blue Devils

The Wayne Blue Devils took their three game winning streak on the road Friday night and the results weren't good for Blue Devil fans.

Madison nipped the locals 56-52 to drop Wayne's season mark to 3-6.

Coach Bob Uhing said he thought the game was lost in the first four minutes of the second half.

The Blue Devils led at halftime 28-26 but came out sluggish in the third quarter. The Dragons outscored Wayne 19-10 in the period. "We weren't aggressive in the third quarter," Uhing said. "We weren't getting back on defense, we were just standing around."

Even after the rough third quarter the Blue Devils were still in position to win the game in the final stanza.

Wayne mounted its comeback with about three minutes to play, trailing by seven points. During that stretch Madison began to struggle at the free-throw line which enabled the comeback.

Wayne chipped the lead to one point at 53-52 with less than 20 seconds to play. After a missed free throw Corey Dahl got the rebound for the locals. The Blue Devils got three or four cracks at the winning basket but they couldn't get it to fall and Madison came up with the rebound with four seconds remaining and Wayne was forced to foul. The officials called it an intentional foul. Madison hit one of two free throws and got a layup to close out the scoring.

Wayne suffered a serious blow when its leading scorer, Nick Engelson, fouled out with about 4:30 left in the game after scoring 17 points. The Blue Devils also lost forward Jason Jorgensen on fouls.

In all Wayne was whistled for 22 fouls. Madison also was called for 22 fouls. Each team hit an identical 16-26 at the free-throw line but Madison came up with two more field goals to make the difference.

Trail leaders also finished in double figures for the locals. The senior accounted for 12 points. Rebounding leaders were Jason Jorgensen with 11 boards and Bill Liska with nine caroms.

It doesn't get any easier for Wayne. The Blue Devils take on Wisner-Pilger Tuesday at Wisner. The Gators are rated eighth in Class C-1 according to the latest Omaha World Herald poll.

Aggressiveness lacking in Wakefield loss to Homer

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

Wakefield couldn't bounce back from an emotional overtime loss to Emerson-Hubbard as they were beaten by Homer 45-33 in the consolation game of the Wakefield Post-Holiday Tournament.

The Lady Trojans lost a 38-35 overtime decision to Emerson-Hubbard in the opening round of the tournament.

Wakefield lacked aggressiveness in the loss to the Homer Lady Knights. The two teams played it even in the first quarter but Homer took a 12-11 lead when Melissa Utemark made a layup at the buzzer.

The Lady Knights outscored Wakefield in the second period 14-6 and took a 26-17 lead at halftime. Homer overcame a 17-16 deficit by scoring 10 unanswered points before halftime.

The Lady Trojans scored the first four points of the third quarter to cut the Homer lead to 26-21. But the Lady Knights pushed the lead back to nine points, 38-29, by the end of the third period. In the fourth stanza each team exchanged baskets to make the final 12-point margin.

Wakefield Coach Elise Studer said overall, her team is playing much better than they did before Christmas. They turned the ball over only 13 times against the Lady Knights.

Stacey Kuhl led the Lady Trojans in scoring. The senior tossed in 14 points from the perimeter. No other Lady Trojan had more than six points. Wakefield made only 25 percent of its field-goal attempts, 15-54, while Homer connected on 42 percent of its shots, 27-50.

In the rebounding department each team pulled down 36 caroms. Karen Hallstrom and Kooli Nelson each finished with 10 rebounds. Homer had two girls in double figures. Jill Waldner led the way with 19 points and Shelby Beermann added a dozen markers.

The Lady Trojans, 0-8, will next be in action Tuesday when they host Watilim.

Lady Trojans suffer defeat in overtime

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The Wakefield Lady Trojans put together its best game of the season but it wasn't enough as the girls were beaten in overtime by Emerson-Hubbard 38-35 in the first round of the Wakefield Post-Holiday Tournament Thursday night.

Wakefield, 0-7, came within an eyelash of giving Coach Ellie Studer here first win at Wakefield.

The contest started out all too familiar for Wakefield. They fell behind early after only scoring one basket and a free throw in the opening eight minutes. Emerson-Hubbard led after one quarter 11-3.

Senior Marcel Greve scored the Lady Trojans first six points on two three-point plays. All four of Wakefield's first-half field goals came from the inside. The Lady Trojans trailed at halftime 19-9.

The third quarter was perhaps the best eight minutes Studer's crew has played all season. It was like someone took the lid off the baskets as shots began to fall for the hosts.

Wakefield cut the lead to a basket, at 21-19, on Stacey Kuhl's 15-foot baseline jumper. The Lady Trojans outscored the Lady Pirates 10-2 in the first 3:30 of the second half. The girls trailed after three quarters 27-23.

Kodi Nelson gave Wakefield its first lead of the game with 4:23 left to play.

Wakefield suffered a big blow with 2:22 left in the game when Greve fouled out. The senior left the game with a team-high 10 points.

Studer and company appeared to be in good shape after Karen Hallstrom got the lead back for Wakefield with 30 seconds to play. In the waning seconds Emerson-Hubbard's Kari Stark hit a shot to send the game into overtime.

The Lady Pirates scored first in the three-minute overtime and went up by three points. Des Salmon's basket cut it to 30-29 with 59 seconds left. Prior to that Hallstrom became the second Lady Trojan to foul out of the game.

Emerson-Hubbard took a lot of precious time off of the clock and got the final basket by Sara Paulsen to seal the win.

Studer said she was pleased with her team's effort. She said she saw a lot of improvement from previous games. Studer said her team played under control in the contest and as a result it cut its turnovers down to 20 for the game.

Wakefield outrebounced the Lady Pirates 42-37. Nelson led the way with 13 boards, Salmon and Greve added seven rebounds each. Nelson also accounted for eight points. The Lady Trojans hit 30 percent of their shots connecting on 15-50.

Paulsen led Emerson-Hubbard with 12 points. Melissa Martin added 11 markers for the Lady Pirates who were successful on 25 percent of their shots from the field, 15-60.

Rated Beemer hands Winside seventh loss

Winside ran into a very good Beemer basketball team Thursday night as it dropped its seventh game of the season by a 74-39 count.

Winside, 1-7, saw its losing streak grow to seven games while Beemer boosted its record to 7-2. The Bobcats were rated eighth in the Omaha World Herald's latest Class D-1 top 10 ratings.

The game was close throughout the first 14 minutes. With two minutes left in the second quarter the Wildcats trailed by only five points, 21-16. But in the remaining 120 seconds Beemer ran off 11 unanswered points to take a 32-16 lead into the locker room.

"Our guys looked up at the scoreboard and said we're not supposed to be that close and quit playing," a disappointed Coach Mark Freburg said.

In the second half the Bobcats outscored the hosts 42-23. Freburg complimented the Bobcats effort. He said they are a quick team that passes well but he didn't know if they deserved to be rated in the top 10.

Another thing that hurt Winside's effort was a bout with the flu. Freburg said he has a couple of sick kids on his basketball team.

Kevin Jaeger was the top scorer and rebounder for Winside. The senior accounted for 11 points and eight rebounds. Mike Thies and Tim Jacobson each added eight points.

Beemer edged the Wildcats in the rebounding department by one board, 27-26. Tim Schultz was the game's leading scorer with 20 points. Chris Mestl added 14 markers for the Bobcats.

Snyder is Winside's next opponent. The Warriors will travel to Winside for the Jan. 13 matchup.

Laurel rec hoops begins

The Laurel Recreation Department started its winter basketball program for 4th, 5th and 6th graders on Saturday at the Laurel-Concord High School gym.

The girls will play from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. while the boys will practice from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. every Saturday. This year's coaches are Tim Bloom, Mike Forsberg and Russ Gade.

An entry fee and a signed release form by the parents are needed to participate.

Calcavecchio on PGA tour

Past Laurel resident Mark Calcavecchio was the leader after the first round of the PGA Tournament of Champions golf tournament in Carlsbad, California. Calcavecchio, whose family moved from Laurel while he was in high school, shot an opening round of 65. During Thursday's round he ballooned to a 75 and was five shots off the lead.

Calcavecchio qualified for the $500,000 tournament by winning a PGA tournament in 1986.

Lady Bears top Allen to advance to tourney finals

Laurel's girls basketball team, playing inspired basketball, clinched its second win in two contests with the Allen Eagles on Thursday night and will advance to the championship game Saturday night against Ponca in the Ponca Invitational Boys-Girls Basketball Tournament.

The Bears defeated the Eagles by a 44-37 score.

"The girls were up for this one," said Coach Pam Thies. The fact that Allen was ranked in Monday's Omaha World-Herald as 10th in Class C-2 gave the Laurel girls additional incentive.

"We were excited about playing them again. And now we're looking forward to playing Ponca," mentioned Thies.

Earlier this season against Ponca, Laurel played a good first half but then lost the game in the second half. Having played Ponca before, Coach Thies said the team will know what to look for when reviewing the Ponca contest.

"Hopefully, things will pan out our way this time," she said.

The win against Allen boosts Laurel's record to 4-2.

Laurel moved ahead of Allen at the end of the first quarter, 8-6 before outscoring the Lady Eagles 12-7 in the second quarter. The Lady Bears went into the locker room at halftime with a 20-13 lead.

They extended that lead to 34-21 when the third quarter ended. The Lady Eagles outscored Laurel in the fourth quarter, 15-10.

Gail Twiford led all scorers in the game with 23 points. She connected on 10 of 15 field goal attempts and was 3 of 5 from the free throw line.

"That was one of Gail's best shooting performances this year," said Thies, who also expressed satisfaction with Amy Adkins' defensive play and Sara Adkins' floor game.

As a team, Laurel connected on 20 of 49 field goal attempts. However, they made only 4 of 16 free throws in the contest.

Sara Adkins finished the game with

Blue Devils win a pair at Madison

The Wayne junior varsity and the freshmen were both victorious Friday night when they traveled to Madison.

The JV squad took it to the limit before winning in overtime 48-47. Madison led for most of the game before the locals staged their comeback.

Scott Hammer hit a driving layup with two seconds left in the overtime to give Wayne the win. Hammer tallied 16 points on the evening. Wayne's leading scorer was Doug Larsen. The sophomore finished with 19 points and 13 rebounds.

Wayne, 4-3, will next be in action at 5 p.m. Tuesday at Wisner.

In the first game the Wayne freshmen downed Madison 51-40. Wayne's balanced scoring attack was led by Neil Carnes, Willie Gross and Glenn Johnson. The trio scored 16, 13 and 10 points respectively.

The 3-4 freshmen will travel to Wisner Monday to take on the Gators.

BRAD LUND MEETS opposition from Homer's Chris Hergenrader in the opening round game of the Wakefield Post-Holiday Tournament Thursday. Homer dumped the Trojans 59-39.

Tough first quarter stops Wakefield

Certainly, no night is right for any high school basketball team to have a horrid field goal shooting night. The Wakefield boys basketball team found that out quickly.

Homer, with just one loss this regular season, came into Wakefield Thursday evening to face the Trojans in the first round of the Wakefield Post-Holiday Tournament. The Knights demolished the Trojans by a 59-39 score and will advance to the championship round Saturday evening.

Meanwhile, Wakefield will regroup and on Saturday, take on the loser of the Pender-Emerson Hubbard basketball contest.

Wakefield could muster only two points in the first quarter, trailing by a 12-2 margin, and were outscored in the second quarter, 15-6 by the Homer Knights which put defensive pressure the entire court against the Trojans.

Wakefield outscored Homer in the third quarter by a 18-14 margin and played the Knights close the fourth quarter to finish out the game.

Twelve players saw action for the Trojans.

The Knights ended the game with three players in double figures — topped by junior Keith Swanson's 16 points. Wakefield was led in scoring by senior Kevin Greve with 14 points and Brad Lund was also in double figures with 12 points.

Greve also pulled down 16 rebounds to lead the Trojans in that department.

"We played very poorly," said Trojan Head Coach Paul Eaton. He said his team may have been intimidated by Homer's record, and that when the shots didn't go in during the first half, the team began "hanging their heads."

"I know that we can play a lot better than how we played tonight," he said. "The whole team just lost confidence."

Homer's pressure defense, particularly on the Trojan guards as the ball was brought up the court, also caused numerous problems for Wakefield.

The loss drops the Trojans to 1-6 on the year.

Following the consolation game on Saturday in the post-holiday tournament, Wakefield will host Walthill on Tuesday night.

Ice huts should be removed after day of fishing

Ice fishing season is just around the corner and many fishermen are contemplating building a fishing shanty or some type of protection from the elements to use on their favorite lake.

Actually, about all the ice fisherman needs is a windbreak of some type and anything from a hinged plywood, V-shaped structure to an ice tent or an elaborate ice shanty will serve the purpose.

Whatever type of structure you erect, it must be portable and must be removed after each day's fishing if it is used on state owned areas. The only exceptions to that rule are permanent ice shanties that the Commission allows to be erected on selected lakes across the state.

Permanent ice fishing shanties may be used with a permit on the following state recreation area lakes through Feb. 10 unless otherwise posted: Blue Stem, Branched Oak, Conestoga, Olive Creek, Pawnee, Stagecoach, Wagon Train, Enders, Medicine Creek, Red Willow, Swanson Reservoir, Box Butte, Bridgeport, Lake Maloney, Lake McCaughy, Lake Minatare, Lake Ogallala, Lewis and Clark, Louisville Lakes, Merritt Reservoir, Pible, Rockford, Sherman Reservoir, Walgren Lake, Willow Creek Reservoir, Sutherland Reservoir, Summit Lake and Oliver Reservoir. They may also be used with a permit on all wildlife management areas across the state.

Permanent ice shanties are limited in size by the Commission to being not larger than four-feet, six-inches in width and eight-feet in length. They must have eight-inch wide runners, six inches above the ice and be constructed on floatable materials. They have to have the owner's name painted on the outside in letters at least six-inches high. The permit that allows erection of a permanent ice shanty is $5 and is available from the Game and Parks Commission offices in Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, Bassett, North Platte and Alliance.

For ease in handling you may want to drill holes in the front end of the structure and attach a rope for pulling the structure about. Also, the fishermen should have two 1x10-inch boards, eight feet long, to provide a base for the structure. When people are fishing, the shanty should be pulled up onto the base and then removed when the fishing is done for the day. The base can be stored inside the shanty. This satisfies the requirement that there be at least one eight-inch base under the shanty when it is being used for fishing.

Ice fishermen should be sure to get a copy of NEBRASKA Land Magazine's new Ice Fishing Guide and a copy of the 1987 Nebraska Fishing Regulations brochure. The Ice Fishing Guide is free and can be obtained from any Game and Parks Commission office, or you can get a copy by purchasing the December issue of NEBRASKA Land Magazine, where the guide is a special section of the magazine. The 1987 Fishing Regulations brochure can be obtained from any Commission office or from any of 1,200 permit vendors across the state.

Jahr and Haas to strengthen Wildcats

By Gregg Dahlheim

Wayne State Wildcat fans will be seeing two new faces when the team begins its second semester schedule.

Dave Jahr and Byron Haas are eligible to see action for the Wildcats. Wayne State Coach Steve Aggers is happy to have the pair's services. He said it will strengthen the bench and allow him to substitute as many as 10 players in a game.

Jahr, a sophomore, transferred to Wayne from Westmont College in Santa Barbara, California. He graduated from Littleton High School in 1985. Littleton is a suburb of Denver, Colorado. Jahr makes his home in San Diego, California during the summer months.

Jahr became acquainted with Aggers when the coach tried to persuade him to attend College of Great Falls in Great Falls, Montana. At the time Aggers was the coach at that school. Jahr decided against it and went to Westmont.

The sophomore said things didn't work out at Westmont and he decided to transfer. He got in touch with Aggers and asked him if he would still be interested and Aggers said yes.

Jahr is currently majoring in journalism but he said he is switching majors to business marketing.

Although Haas is also a transfer student his story is a little different. He was away from basketball and college for awhile before he resumed his career.

The seven-foot junior is a 1983 graduate of Lincoln High School. Before coming to Wayne, he last attended Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia where he played basketball. He cut his ties with that school and came back home. Prior to his stay at Marshall, Haas also attended Southeast Community College in Fairbury and the University of Utah.

He was working in Lincoln last January when Wildcat Assistant Coach Fred Schnell called him and asked if he would be interested in playing basketball for Wayne State. He said he would and he reported immediately to the Wayne State campus. Haas is studying marketing and physical education.

The two are realistic in what they hope to do for the Wildcats for the remainder of this season. Both have one goal in common, Kansas City. That is where the NAIA National Tournament is played. Last year the Cats came within a game of making the tournament. Jahr said he had a taste of tournament action when Westmont qualified for the post-season tourney last year.

Aggers said Jahr will help the team with his perimeter shooting. He is more equipped to play the small forward position than anyone that has played the spot this year. Jahr, 6-4, also hopes to give the Wildcats a boost in the rebounding department.

Aggers said Haas has one thing a coach can't teach—height. He said it will be nice to have a bigger player in the middle. Currently the Cats depend on 6-6 Kevin Williams to man down the middle. The coach said he hopes the fans don't expect too much too soon from Haas. "His progress may be slow," Aggers said. "He hasn't played competitively for about two years. Both Jahr and Haas have played in the Cats last two games. Jahr tossed in nine points against Bellevue College and 10 against Westmar. Haas scored two and 18 points in wins over Bellevue and Westmar.

Haisch's 30 isn't enough loss

The Laurel Bears got "slaughtered" in their first-round game of the Ponca Invitational against Bancroft-Rosalie Friday night.

The slaughter came from the Panthers' Jason Slaughter in Bancroft's 75-61 win over the Bears. Slaughter assaulted Laurel for 38 points in the contest. He hit 10 field goals and was 18-21 at the free-throw line.

Laurel also had someone to brag about in the person of Brent Haisch. The senior had nothing to be ashamed about with his 20-point performance either. Haisch scored 20 points in the second half.

Laurel Coach Mark Hrabik said he was a little afraid that his team might come out a little state after having a three-week layoff. The Bears last played Dec. 20.

Bancroft-Rosalie, 8-0, fifth in Class C-2, according to the latest Omaha World Herald poll, started out like lightning as they scored 41 first-half points to take a 16-point lead at halftime.

In the second half Laurel played on an even par with them as they outscored the Panthers 36-34. Hrabik said he was pleased that his team came back in the second half and outplayed the winners.

Hrabik also was happy with his team's offensive effort. The 61 points is a season high for Laurel. He said it is encouraging because before Christmas his team was having problems offensively.

The thing Hrabik wasn't too thrilled about was the number of fouls called. The Bears were whittled for 27 fouls while Bancroft was called for just 13 fouls. The Panthers hit 27-41 free-throw attempts, outscoring Laurel by 18 points at the line. The Bears lost Doug Manz and Scott Marquardt on fouls.

Laurel did manage to out rebound the Panthers 42-33. Three Bears led the way. Haisch pulled down 10 rebounds while Kyle Nixon and Steve Schmitt contributed nine and eight boards respectively. Joedy Cunningham was the only other Bear to finish in double figures. He was credited with 13 points on six field goals and a free throw.

Bell comes down

WORKMEN FROM HOEMANS PLUMBING & Well Works of Hoskins remove the bell from the tower of the former Baptist Church in Carroll, which is in the process of being dismantled by Don Liedman of Carroll. The building was built in 1913 at a cost of $7,000 and served as the Baptist Church until 1952 when it was purchased by the Catholic congregation and used for services until 1973. When the Catholic congregation dissolved in 1973, the building was purchased by the Hiscox-Schumacher-Johnson Funeral Home. It is now the property of Schumacher Funeral Home, and Steve Schumacher of Wayne said plans are to rebuild a funeral home on the site in the near future. Schumacher added that colored glass from the present structure will be reused when the new funeral home is constructed, and the bell will be used with a planter decoration.
