Mills to retire as ESU administrator

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Educational Service Unit One Administrator Harry Mills has announced his retirement effective June 30, 1987. Mills has served as ESU 1's chief administrator since its inception in 1964.

The announcement of his retirement came Tuesday night during a meeting of ESU 1 board members at headquarters in Wakefield.

Replacing Mills as administrator, effective July 1, 1987 for a two-year period, will be present Assistant Administrator Rodney Garwood.

Garwood, who has served as assistant administrator since July 1983, formerly served as superintendent at Elgin Public Schools.

FOLLOWING AN executive session that lasted 90 minutes, board members issued a press release stating that while the board will find Mills a "hard man to replace," it was willing to consider and later adopt a plan that would both reward Mills for his many years of service and yet provide some needed continuity to the unit's administration.

Under the agreement, the board will place a set amount of monies into a Tax-Deferred Annuity and retain Mills on a reduced salary to serve in an advisory capacity.

There were many years during which the administrator did not come under any form of retirement program and this plan provides a means to restore some of those lost values," stated the press release.

The press release went on to state that the board found it could respond to Mills' retirement request and meet the unit's mill levy goal of reducing overall administration cost.

TAKING HER PLACE as a new member of the ESU 1 board of directors Tuesday night was Jan Rohann of Newcastle.

Rohann fills a vacancy on the board created by at-large member Deryl Lawrence of Wayne, whose term expired the end of the year. Lawrence chose not to seek reelection.

Rohann was sworn in as a new board member Tuesday night, along with other at-large board members Marvin Borg of Concord, Claire Hansen of Coleridge and Jim Martindale of Creighton, who were re-elected to the board last May.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S meeting also included election of new board officers.

Board chairman is Ken Lahrs of Ponca, who replaces Marvin Borg.

Jim Martindale will serve as vice chairman, replacing Lahrs, and Paul Steffen of Hartington was elected secretary to replace Randy Shaw of Wayne.

Board members commended Borg, outgoing chairman, for his year of service to the board.

IN OTHER business, ESU 1 board members Tuesday night learned that petitions filed in Dixon County District Court by ESU 1 nurses Bonnie Storm and Pauline Kirsch of South Sioux City have been dismissed by the judge at the plaintiffs' costs.

The petitions filed by Storm and Kirsch challenged the ESU 1 board's jurisdiction over their contracts for 1985-86.

Storm and Kirsch charged that the ESU lacked legal authority of jurisdiction to modify, amend or reduce the total number of service days by reasons of reduction in force or otherwise because they (the nurses) were not given sufficient and proper notice.

IN ANNOUNCING dismissal of the case, ESU 1 Assistant Administrator Garwood informed board members that it was up to them whether or not Win a dream vacation trip!

How many reasons are there to shop in Wayne? Well, besides the fact that shopping in your community helps boost the local economy — there are 4,000 other reasons.

And eventually, those 4,000 reasons will lead to a trip for two people to a variety of vacation spots, including Aspen, Colorado; Las Vegas; Phoenix; Florida; Bermuda; Hawaii; or a boat cruise through the Virgin Islands.

Doesn't this sound like a fantastic way to break out of winter cabin fever? Because although Monday and Tuesday's 60 degree and over temperatures have disguised winter, the climate is bound to change into cold frigid temperatures once again.

How does the contest work? During the next eight weeks, participating merchants in the contest will have advertisements in The Wayne Herald announcing specials, products or services.

With each advertisement is a marked space where each contestant can write his or her name and address, and then deliver the information to the merchant whose name is written in the space. If a contestant's name is drawn from the advertisements published in The Wayne Herald, a bonus of a complete set of travel luggage will be awarded to the contestant.

The first series of advertisements can be seen in this edition of The Wayne Herald.

TWO NAMES WILL be drawn each week during the eight weeks of the contest. The first drawing will take place on Tuesday (Jan. 20) at 10 a.m. at Daylight Donuts.

At the end of eight weeks a winner will be drawn from the 16 names already picked.

The winner will receive an all expense paid trip for two to one of the vacation spots mentioned above. A second name will be drawn and the winner will receive $1,000 in vacation dollars to be spent in the participating stores.

Teaming up to make this contest possible are the following merchants: Bill's GW; Kuhn's; Pamida; The Lumber Company; The Diamond Center; Sav-Mor Pharmacy; The Rusty Nail; Hardee's; Casey's; Taco Del Sol; Arnie's Ford Mercury; Stoltenberg Partners; Columbus Federal; Coast to Coast; Merchant Oil Co.; Griess; Rexall; Edlingson Motors; Wayne Municipal Utilities; Fredrickson Oil; Coryell Derby; Ben Franklin; State National Bank and Trust; Koplin Auto Supply; Johnson Frozen Foods; Joe Lowe Realty; Office Connection; Clarkson Service; Wayne Skelgas; Popo's II; Trio Travel; Swan's; Black Knight; ERA-Property Exchange; First National Bank; Surbers; The Amber Inn; Dairy Queen; Discount Furniture; Carr Auto and Ag; Century 21; Logan Valley Implement; Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency; Magnuson Eye Care; Daylight Donuts; Les' Steakhouse; Peoples Natural Gas; T & C Electronics; Wayne Vision; Charlie's Refrigeration; El Toro; 4th Jug; The Varsity; Doescher's Appliance; and The Wayne Herald.

As Citizen of the Year

Cramer receives award

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

J. Alan Cramer of Wayne received special recognition as Wayne's 1986 "Citizen Of The Year" during the annual meeting of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

The special "Citizen of the Year" plaque was presented to Cramer by the 1986 winner, Bud Froehlich, during the annual meeting which took place Sunday evening at The Lumber Company.

"The community is aware and grateful for your many years of support and efforts toward the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, Wayne State College, the community of Wayne and the Wayne area, the recent Centennial, and your constant striving to make Wayne the number one community in not only northeast Nebraska, but all of Nebraska," Froehlich said in presenting Cramer with the award.

Cramer graduated from Wayne High School and attended Wayne State College, University of Nebraska-Lincoln and graduated from the University of Iowa.

He is publisher of The Wayne Herald and is co-publisher of several other publications in Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado. He has been a member and past officer of numerous boards and organizations affiliated with state and national newspaper associations, including serving as president of the Nebraska Press Association, Inter-state Editorial Association and the Nebraska Press Advertising Service.

In 1980 he received the Master Editor-Publisher Award from the Nebraska Press Association, the seventh recipient of the award in the history of the association.

Cramer is a member and past board member of the Chamber of Commerce and is past president of Wayne Industries and Northeast Nebraska Technical College Board of Governors. He served four terms as president of the Board of Trustees, Nebraska State Colleges and has been a trustee board member for 14 years.

He also serves as a director with the Nebraska Game and Parks Foundation and is a district ambassador of Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben.

"He has been involved in promoting higher education; boy scouts, industrial education and tourism for Nebraska," Froehlich mentioned.

He is a member of the Elks, Masons and Wayne Kiwanis Club.

Criteria in the selection for "Citizen Of The Year" includes: activities outside those duties connected with their employment; accomplishments of overall community service to the Wayne area; must possess leadership qualities; accomplishments achieved within last year; and what the individual has done to make the community a better place to live.

Past award winners were: Dean Pierson, 1978; Stan Morris, 1979; Arnie Reep, 1980; Wayne Marsh, 1981; Bob & Marilyn Carhart, 1982; Lyle Seymour, 1983; David Ley, 1984; and Bud Froehlich in 1985.

Petition presented for vote on sales tax

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A petition has been presented to the Wayne City Council, requesting that a 1 1/2 percent sales tax issue be placed before Wayne voters.

The petition was signed by eight members of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. Donald E. Koeber, one of those who had signed the documentation and currently serving as past-president on the Chamber board of directors, read the petition to the city council members.

Others who signed the petition included Chamber board of director members Carolyn Vokoc, Edward Schroeder, John Struve, Dick Sorensen, Marie Mohr, Joan Lage and Brian McBride.

The petition asks the members of the city council to "move quickly to put the sales tax issue before the voters and that a tax of 1 1/2 percent be presented with 1 percent dedicated to property tax relief and 1/2 percent to economic development."

"The property tax will enable assistance for all property owners with a more equal taxation process. The 1/2 percent dedicated toward economic development will assist to enable the community to work toward a stronger economic base for the Wayne area," said Koeber in his address to the council.

"THE CHAMBER Board of Directors feels a necessity of this tax to enable the community to move in a positive forward direction," he said.

"We are dedicated to the community and to its economic betterment.

With the state and federal funding being reduced and with the strong probability that funding will be totally eliminated during the next budget year, we need the economic assistance for the future of Wayne and the Wayne area," Koeber mentioned.

City Administrator Phil Kloster, who has been studying the sales tax option and results from other communities, said after the council meeting that the local funding is certainly needed. "Some sort of local funding base will be needed to assist in creating jobs for rural America," Kloster said.

Based on recent sales tax figures for the city of Wayne, Kloster said he would estimate the additional revenue amount from the sales tax option to relieve property taxes could reach $275,000, with up to $135,000 in additional funding for economic development.

The Chamber arrived at the 1 1/2 percent figure because the directors felt economic development was wanted for the Wayne area and was very important at this time.

The city council must now decide if the petition should be placed on the ballot and a special election held on the sales tax issue.

IN OTHER action, the city council approved the plans, specifications and engineer's estimate on a Wayne fire department vehicle to replace an older model station wagon which the department currently uses.

The cost for the new vehicle which the fire department proposes to purchase is $15,500.

Scrooge is no good for China

another viewpoint

Highway bill

by Richard L. Lasher
President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Recently, the Disney Company launched an invasion of China, airing a half-hour television show on Chinese television starring Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse.

Disney has long-term plans for the world's largest consumer market. Disney hopes to make and market Disney character merchandise, distribute films and publish books and magazines in China. There may even be a Chinese version of Disneyland someday, just as there is a Japanese version.

All of this is great news. Disney exports to China will help reduce our trade deficit and pave the way for sale of other U.S. products there. Further, the wholesale array of products offered by Disney can only enhance our country's reputation and influence with the Chinese people.

But there may be one small problem. You see, the Chinese are trying to promote free enterprise in their economy, an initiative that promises to raise the Chinese standard of living and improve China's relations with the West. But there is one Disney character whose behavior and lifestyle have undermined the credibility of free enterprise in the West, and could do the same in China.

I refer to Donald Duck's Uncle Scrooge, a billionaire businessduck, with whom most of us became acquainted through comic books as children. Uncle Scrooge maintained a huge money bin at his corporate headquarters. Whenever beset by troubles or boredom, he would swim around in it or push big heaps of cash back and forth with a bulldozer.

Unfortunately, that image of the corporate tycoon and his money bin has become permanently frozen in the minds of millions of Americans, and is reflected in their attitudes toward business to this day.

THUS, WHENEVER government proposes new regulations that cost business billions for compliance, people just shrug their shoulders. So what? All the corporations have to do is back a truck up to the old money bin and shovel out a few tons.

Recently, we have seen Congress sock business with a $120 billion tax hike and the public response was a big "ho-hum." Just take it from the money bin.

In truth, there are no money bins. Corporate expenses, whether to comply with regulations or pay taxes, are reflected in lower dividends to shareholders, lower pay and benefits to workers, and higher prices for products and services.

It would be difficult to calculate the damage done to this country by Scrooge McDuck Theory of Economics; but one thing is clear. China is a poor country and can ill-afford such illusions. If the Chinese are wise, they will welcome Mickey, Minnie, Donald, Daisy, Goofy, Morty, Ferdie, Huey, Dewey, and Louie; but will bar Uncle Scrooge at the border.

As the new 100th Congress prepares to get down to business, let's hope that the intrigues of the Iran/Contra controversy do not divert attention from a pressing domestic issue: reauthorization of the federal-aid highway program.

This program, which helps the states finance needed road and bridge improvements, officially expired September 30, 1986 — a strange, and underserved, fate for one of the few federal programs that is financed through user fees and does not add a cent to the federal deficit.

It's not that our road and bridge needs have disappeared. The Federal Highway Administration estimates that one million miles of U.S. roadway will require capital improvements over the next 13 years just to maintain serviceability. More than 250,000 bridges across the nation have also been classified as either "structurally deficient" or "functionally obsolete."

No, the sad fact is that the 99th Congress just didn't get around to completing action on a highway program reauthorization bill before adjourning last October for the 1986 election campaigns.

The price of Congressional inaction could be high. Road construction is primarily a warm weather business. And, because road projects are advertised for competitive bidding, they require several months lead time before start-up. The American Road and Transportation Builders Association warns that if federal highway funds are not released by the end of February, an entire road construction season could be lost in many northern states. ARTBA says an estimated 700,000 American jobs generated by the program are at risk.

As motorists, we finance the federal highway program to the tune of nine cents per gallon — every time we visit the gas pumps. Right now, we're not getting our money's worth. Putting this federal program back on track should be a first order of Congressional business.

The above editorial was submitted by the American Road and Transportation Builders Association.

Ideas shared on mall concept

by John Vakoc

A current popular pastime in Wayne is keeping count of the number of vacant storefronts on our Main Street. The popularity of this pastime, as evidenced by the amount of discussion dedicated to it, evokes a number of questions.

To begin with, why are we so interested in keeping count and so, seemingly, uninterested in cooperating to fill those buildings with active businesses?

Do they really matter? Or, can Wayne be the kind of community we want it to be with those Main Street buildings empty? Could it be that all we really need are a couple of good convenience stores to sustain us between our weekly trips to the super-stores 40 or 50 miles away?

Is a thriving downtown really necessary to make Wayne the kind of town we want it to be? Haven't we seen other communities survive with the problem of a declining central business district? Is our goal here to merely survive?

What are the people's visions of Wayne's future? What is the spirit of this community?

Could a leap of faith be taken by this town? One that would signal our collective intent to not be satisfied with anything less than vitality?

Is it possible that this entire community could agree to support the creation of a unique downtown shopping environment that could be the envy of every rural Nebraska community?

CAN ANYONE ELSE share this vision of the future?

Of a cover over our Main Street connecting shops on both sides of the street that is one, two or three blocks long. The common mall space is, of course, temperature controlled and incorporates features such as planters with flowers and shrubbery, benches, fountains, maybe an old-fashioned bandstand or anything else appropriate. The cover is high enough that balconies can be built to utilize the second floors of the buildings for additional shops, offices or apartments. There are abundant skylights and sidelights that provide sunlight and ventilation when desired.

Wayne is recognized as the first rural Nebraska community to find a way to blend existing features and buildings into an environment that appeals to contemporary shopping habits. Our retail merchants are encouraged to discover and exploit niches that attract shoppers from the entire region rather than butting heads with each other and the super-stores.

Consumers are sensing that those super-stores, in their efforts to be everything to everyone, have sacrificed the ability to cater to specific needs and have therefore created countless opportunities for specialty shops.

Wayne State College, by providing our community with an aura of cultural enlightenment, enhances our reputation as a one-of-the-kind shopping experience. Because Wayne is the temporary home for more than 2,500 college students who have discovered a truly unique shopping environment that is sensitive and responsive to their tastes, we also have thousands of enthusiastic promoters that carry word of the Wayne shopping opportunities back to their various hometowns.

Could such a vision become a reality? Yes! Yes, we could request to close the highway through the central business district and divert one-way traffic onto Pearl and Logan Streets.

YES, THE CONSTRUCTION could be funded by a combination of methods that would not unreasonably burden the involved building owners. Grants, low-interest loans and improvement district financing with general obligation contributions, are all viable considerations.

Yes, building owners could continue to control their own facades and be individual in how they present themselves.

Yes, it would be an asset to businesses outside the district. Isn't anything that creates more traffic to Wayne?

Yes, we have a responsibility to assist, financially, on a community-wide basis if we want the kind of vitality this concept might generate.

As custodian of the present, we also have the responsibility for fostering hope and vision for the community our children will inherit. Are they seeing sufficient evidence that we intend to leave them a community at least as vibrant as the one that we have enjoyed?

It's time to determine just what the spirit of Wayne is and I think a step in that direction is the sharing of our visions for Wayne's future with one another.

Vakoc is owner of Vakoc Building and Home Center in Wayne.

Nebraska share of proposed budget nearly $6.5 billion

Nebraska taxpayers will be required to pay approximately $6.5 billion in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending budget of $1.92 trillion proposed by President Ronald Reagan for the 1988 Federal fiscal year beginning October 1, 1987 according to an estimate by the Nebraska Association of Commerce & Industry.

This estimate was based on NACI's calculations that Nebraska taxpayers bear 0.63 percent of all Federal taxes collected by the government. Those taxes include individual income, corporate income, estate and gift, excise, trust fund, motor vehicle fuel and airport and airways taxes.

NACI President Jack Swartz pointed out that any change which Congress may make in this proposed budget will reduce or increase the amount that Nebraska taxpayers will have to bear depending on whether Congress cuts or spends more.

The $6.5 billion share which will be borne by Nebraska taxpayers to support the President's proposed budget is eight times the amount of state taxes collected last year to finance Nebraska's general fund budget.

New bills plentiful in Senate chambers

The regular session of the Legislature started this past week in Lincoln. With the opening of this legislative session, the Unicameral starts its golden anniversary. We can all be very proud of our unique, one-house, non-partisan system that has served us well for 50 years.

Since the Legislature met during part of both November and December in response to two special sessions called by the Governor, it is hard to believe it is time to reconvene once again. Senators have hardly been able to get away from Lincoln long enough to get our "regular" lives in order and prepare for this 50th birthday session.

Again this year, through this weekly column, I hope to better serve the people of this district by informing you of activities in the Legislature that affect Northeast Nebraska. I also view this as an opportunity to share with you the process, as well as the outcomes. Hopefully it will make it easier to interact with your government.

We are currently in the 90th Legislature, First Session. Each Legislature lasts two years with the first session consisting of 90 official days and the second session limited to 60 working days. Senators must introduce bills during the first ten days of the session, so it will be another week before we know the extent of the bill introductions.

After the first three days, 181 new bills have been introduced. Senators introduced 152 bills with the balance offered by the Executive Board presenting what is known as Revisor's bills (minor changes to existing statutes). We expect about 700 bills to be introduced. These bills are ideas that hopefully are positive steps toward the future. They are all offered through Senators, but frequently are brought to us by our people. This process truly offers access to government for all of you.

Besides bill introduction, the first week included the adoption of the rules, the election of the Legislature's officers, and assignment of the members to the various committees. This Session, I have been chosen to serve on two standing committees: Banking, Commerce, and Insurance Committee and Judiciary Committee. I have also been elected to serve as Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Committees and as a member of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee. I have previously served on the Judiciary Committee and intend to continue my activities on the Special Committee for Economic Development, but the other activities are new and I am looking forward to them.

One way to keep track of hearings and other business in the Legislature is through the "Unicameral Update". This is a brief publication that comes out every week during the session. It reviews the top developments of the past week and contains valuable information. Subscriptions are free; the intent is to provide a way for you to keep informed of the legislative activities. If you want to be included, contact Jackie in my office in Lincoln. Most of those who took advantage of this publication last year felt it was quite valuable.

Please contact me with your concerns and ideas by writing or calling: Senator Gerald Conway, State Capitol Room 1120, Lincoln, NE 68509; (402) 471-2716.

briefly speaking

Public invited for soup and cards

The public is invited to meet at the Aerie Home in Wayne on Saturday, Jan. 17 at 6:30 p.m. for soup and cards.

The announcement was made during a meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary on Jan. 5 at the Aerie Home. The meeting was held following supper at the Black Knight which was attended by 15 members, along with State President Wanda Hintz of South Sioux City, and guest Bernice Bleasdel, also of South Sioux City.

Several women were winners of a drawing conducted by Doris Gilliland. Serving lunch were Betty Rihaneck and Fern Test.

Next meeting will be Jan. 19 with Bonnie Mohlfeld and Mary Woehler serving.

Hospital Auxiliary electing officers

The Wayne Community Hospital Auxiliary will hold election of officers during a meeting Friday, Jan. 16 at 2 p.m. at Providence Medical Center.

All members are encouraged to attend.

Millers mark 40th year

Reinie and Ileen Miller observed their 40th wedding anniversary during a reception on Jan. 4 at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield.

Approximately 45 guests attended, and hosting the event were their children and families, Cheryl Husmann of Pilger, Dallas Miller of Stanton, and Lynette Larson of Wakefield.

Entertainment was provided by grandchildren Jessica Robins, who played piano, and Michael Husmann, who played French horn.

Other grandchildren are Helen, April, Richard and Joe Miller, Amy Husmann, and Rae Anne Larson. Millers, formerly of Wakefield, were married Jan. 20, 1947 at Elwood. They had been living in Laurel until Jan. 9 of this year when they moved to Comstock.

Family Medicine Chest

What medicines should be stocked in your medicine cabinet? Because no two families are identical, all medicine cabinets will not have the same contents. And for homes with small children, the medicine cabinet may not be the safest place to store medicines. Here are some nonprescription medicines we recommend for the "typical" family:

Pain relievers such as aspirin or acetaminophen do double duty because they also relieve fever associated with colds and flu.

Ipecac syrup is a must in homes where there are small children. This emetic causes vomiting and can be a lifesaver following accidental poisoning with some products.

Hydrocortisone cream helps relieve many skin problems including itching and redness.

Antibiotic ointment, when applied to cuts and abrasions, helps prevent infection and speeds the healing process.

Antacids help relieve indigestion, an occasional problem in many persons.

This is not a complete list. Ask us for advice on selection of nonprescription medicines for your family's medicine chest.

McBride-Wiltse Mortuary has earned the trust and confidence of the families in the Wayne area. They do not employ door to door salesmen and other high pressure tactics to sell preneed services. If you are interested in making prearrangements for yourself or a family member contact McBride-Wiltse Mortuary for an appointment in their office or in your home. They place 100 percent of your funds with a local financial institution. None of your money is used to pay commissions, insuring that the money is there when you need it.

Photography workshop for 4-H'ers and others

Dennis Linster of Wayne will conduct a photography workshop for 4-H members, leaders and parents on Thursday, Jan. 22 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Northeast Center, near Concord.

Home extension club members and other adults interested in photography also are welcome to attend.

Linster, who judged Dixon County 4-H photography exhibits in 1986, will address such topics as camera care and shutter skills, photo composition, and tips for displaying, labeling and mounting photos for exhibit.

THERE IS NO registration fee for the workshop, however those planning to attend are asked to call the Dixon County Extension Office, 584-2234, by Jan. 20 so handout materials can be prepared.

Enrollment in Dixon County 4-H photography projects has been increasing steadily over the past few years.

In 1986, there were 51 4-H'ers enrolled, and an increased enrollment in photography projects is expected in 1987.

Open house for Baiers

Friends and relatives are invited to attend an open house reception honoring the 40th wedding anniversary of Richard and Bess Baier of Wayne.

The event is being hosted by the couple's children and will be held Saturday, Jan. 24 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Woman's Club room, located in Wayne city auditorium. The couple requests no gifts.

Gift to 4-H recognized

FORMER NEBRASKAN JUANITA Reed of Cedar, Minn. accepts a President's Club plaque from Kenneth Keller, University of Minnesota president, in recognition of her gift to 4-H. Reed, daughter of Robert Boeckenhauer of Wayne, recently presented $12,000 to the Minnesota 4-H Foundation to establish the Juanita J. Reed 4-H Endowment Fund. Earnings from the investment of Reed's gift will provide annual income to support 4-H programs in Minnesota. Reed has been on the faculty of the University of Minnesota as a 4-H youth development specialist since 1966. She also is superintendent of the 4-H Department at the Minnesota State Fair.

MAGNUSON EYE CARE

Presents

"EYE OPENERS"

Q: I didn't need glasses until I was 45 and then only for reading. Now I need new ones every year. Why?

A: To answer your question, let's briefly review some eye anatomy. Inside your eyes, behind the pupil, is a small transparent lens. It is so flexible it can change its shape. This is what makes it possible for us to see sharply and clearly for reading and other close work.

After age 40, this lens has lost some of its flexibility and can no longer do its job effectively. Each year the lens becomes less and less flexible. This loss can be compensated for by the proper eyeglasses or in some cases contact lenses. Regular examinations sometimes annually are, therefore, important to help you maintain good vision for everything you want to do.

Presbyopia, as this vision condition is called, affects or will affect us all.
