To meet city's needs

Water rates upped

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A resolution to increase the residential and commercial water rates in the city of Wayne was approved Tuesday evening by the Wayne City Council.

The net minimum charge for the water rate will be $10 per month, applicable to all services used after the meters are read for billing purposes in the month of January, 1987.

Currently, the minimum applied water rate is $4 per quarter. Water bills, with the net $10 per month minimum charge, will now go out on a monthly basis to Wayne residents along with the electric and sewer billings. (See accompanying article).

City Administrator Phil Kloster explained to the city council that the minimum charge would be "significantly increased" — almost four times more than the present rate.

He said the water rates were raised in 1970, and again in 1979. However, the raised rate in 1979 to $8 per quarter was not applied, but instead left at $4 for some reason or another, Kloster mentioned.

The net $10 per month minimum charge is below what was recommended for the projected needs of the city of Wayne, he said. The city's fiscal agent and city engineers had recommended that the water rates be increased to $12 per month.

Reasons for raising current water rate 2½ times is attributed to the city breaking even in regard to revenue and expenditures in the water department. The additional 1½ times increase would be earmarked for capital improvements that have been made or will be made in the next 24 months, Kloster said.

"We could have reduced the minimum charge figure from $10 to $9.50, but it would have required making four to six step increases over the next eight to ten years," he mentioned.

Kloster told the council that the next projected water rate increase would not take place until at least 1990 or beyond. He said the city of Wayne has not increased its electrical rates for four years. And the sewer rates have not been increased for the past two years.

Looking at a hypothetical situation, based on information from the city clerk's office, if 6,000 gallons were used in a month, the monthly billing under the new rate would be $18.40. If 18,000 gallons were used by a homeowner or commercial entity, the monthly billing would be about $44.

UNDER THE old rate structure, if 18,000 gallons were used over a period of three months (one quarter), the billing would be about $12.10. If 54,000 gallons of water were used in three months, the quarterly billing would be about $31.

Councilman Freeman Decker was the first to make a motion to approve the increase. "It's a sizeable increase. But we got to have water, and we've got to pay for it somehow," Decker said.

For water, sewer and electricity Monthly billing planned

City of Wayne utility bills soon to be received by city residents will likely be higher than normal as a result of the transfer over to the city's new computer system.

Previously, water and sewer charges were mailed out quarterly and electricity charges were distributed monthly.

"On the upcoming Feb. 1 utility bill, there will be charges for water, sewer and electricity. Included in the utility bill will be the current quarterly charge for water; prorated sewer charges (2/3 of the normal quarterly charge); and the electricity monthly charge.

The city's new computer system will be printing out the utility bills and they will be mailed out on a monthly basis. Residents will begin receiving the first of these monthly bills approximately March 2.

When the utility bills are mailed out for March 1 and April 1, the city will be estimating water and sewer costs, along with the regular electricity costs.

On May 1, actual readings will be taken for water and electricity, resulting in an actual water, sewer and electric billing.

If the earlier estimates were greater than actual, adjustments will be made on the next billing.

Science lessons

HUNDREDS OF students from over 30 junior and senior high schools participated Saturday in the annual Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science at Wayne State College. The workshops ranged from astronomy to sharks. Above, Jolene Deaver of West Point Public School peers into a microscope while Wayne State College assistant Jenny Bobek looks on. ## NE Nebraska not excluded from list

Area for nuclear wastes dump studied

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Areas in northeast Nebraska, including Wayne County and several surrounding counties, have not been "excluded" as suitable sites for low-level radioactive nuclear waste dumps.

On Tuesday, the Wayne Herald received correspondence from Claudia Cartwright of Witney, Nebraska (located in the northwestern portion of the state), stating that Wayne County has been proposed for a low-level radioactive nuclear waste dump.

"Let us preserve Nebraska's clean air, land and water for future generations. Having a low-level radioactive waste dump in Wayne County will not guarantee this. Nor will it guarantee that the taxpayers of our state won't be 'stuck' with having to pay for a closed dump in case of leakage," she wrote in a letter to the editor.

A similar letter was sent by Cartwright to the Schulyer Sun, Schulyer, in Colfax County, the Wayne Herald had learned.

Jim Neal of the Nebraska Environmental Protection Agency in Lincoln said Tuesday that areas in both northeast and northwest Nebraska have been looked at in previous studies as suitable locations for potential sites. However, he said there have been instances of "conclusion-jumping" by some in regard to the nuclear waste dump site studies.

He refers to studies that were coordinated by the Central Intra-State Low Level Radioactive Waste Compact, headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia.

Georgia.

ACCORDING TO Ray Peery from the Atlanta office, the Compact was organized in 1983, following the U.S. Congress enactment of the Waste Policy Act in 1980. Currently there are three licensed radioactive nuclear waste dumps in the United States. They are located in South Carolina, Nevada and Washington.

Neal said the three current sites were not interested in being the only places where other states could dump their low-level radioactive nuclear waste. So the Waste Policy Act was passed which gave the remaining states (without radioactive nuclear waste dump sites) some options.

One option was to have the state establish its own dumping ground for its own nuclear waste. Another option allowed several states to join a Compact, where studies would be made to help developers decide on a suitable nuclear waste dump location to be used by states within the Compact.

Peery said that Wayne County is not included in the list of locations reported as "excluded" from potential radioactive nuclear waste dump sites. He said, however, other areas in this state and places within the four other states have also "not been excluded."

"Thus far, there has been a lot of misinformation. A lot of people are thinking that this is the end of the process. But it really is only the beginning," Peery said.

Peery said the deadline to name a state where the dump site location would be proposed (among the Compact states) is by the end of 1987. During the latter part of 1988 the contract of a developer must be signed and a selection of the nuclear waste dump site has to be made.

"The site must be in operation and accepting nuclear waste by 1993," Peery mentioned.

Neal said concerned people have gone past the "forecasting" stage of where the site selection will be. He said that currently, no state in the current Compact arrangement or no county throughout the five states has been targeted as a future low level nuclear waste dump site.

Boards want tax on ballot

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A resolution to place a city sales tax option before Wayne city voters in a special election, and an ordinance to dictate how the city sales tax will be used, will be drafted for city council members to review at the next regular meeting.

A decision was made unanimously Tuesday evening by the city council to direct City Attorney Kem Swartz to draw up the resolution and ordinance for review at the upcoming meeting.

At a previous council meeting, members of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors approached the city to consider the city sales tax option of 1½ percent and asked that the issue be placed before the voters in the city.

The Chamber Board asked that a portion of the city sales tax money (1 percent) be dedicated to property tax relief and a portion (½ percent) be dedicated toward the funding of economic development.

On Tuesday night, the city council was presented a petition by the Wayne Industries Board of Directors, also urging that the sales tax issue be placed before the voters. The petition also requested that portions of the sales tax be used for both property tax relief and economic development.

THE WAYNE Industries Board petition was presented by John Vakoc of Wayne, who was one of the signers of the petition in addition to Bill Dickey, Kenny Allred, Gene (Svede) Fredrickson, Tim Connearty, Robert Jordan and Paul Ote.

Wayne Industries officials, in a cover letter to the petition, mentioned that "state and federal funding are being reduced and will in all probability be totally eliminated during the next budget year. With this in mind, to further economic development for the future of Wayne, we must act on this city sales tax issue at once."

"The property tax will also assist in bringing industry into Wayne, and help to enable us to fill the vacant industrial buildings and empty store fronts."

Vakoc, in giving his own personal opinion of the sales tax issue, said property taxes in Wayne are currently a definite deterrent to home ownership in the community.

Lenders considering borrowing to potential home buyers look at insurance and real estate taxes in addition to the buyer's ability to repay the principal and interest, he said.

His construction firm had constructed identical houses in Norfolk and Wayne. "The city tax portion payments on that house in Norfolk are $50 a month less than payments on the same house in Wayne," Vakoc said.

"We find that Wayne's city property taxes are better than 500 percent higher than Norfolk's city property tax portion," he said.

THE PROJECTED total taxable sales in Wayne will likely exceed $28 million for 1986, according to Vakoc. "If we had a 1 percent sales tax applied to those sales, that sales tax would produce $280,000," he said.

In the city of Wayne's 1986-87 budget, it proposed raising over $367,000 by city property tax. "Had we had 1 percent city sales tax dedicated to reduction of property taxes this past year, we could have had those city property taxes reduced by 76 percent," Vakoc said.

The ½ percent for economic development is also important.

"If this community is going to remain in the hunt for new industry, it is absolutely essential that this be passed," Vakoc remarked.

"We've got to continue to diversify our economy. We're going to do that by bringing new industry into our community. And there is a price tag on it," he said.

Economic development is not only benefiting city residents, but also for farm families who depend upon the supplemental incomes derived from working in the city.

Speculation has been going around about how the sales tax will affect the rural neighbors. Vakoc said that currently 30 percent of the Wayne County property taxes are being collected from city residents. "City property owners are contributing 30 percent of the cost for providing county facilities and services."

"This is not a time for division between city and rural residents. It is also not a time for the town to be held hostage by rumors and misinformation," he said.

Councilman Darrel Fuelberth asked if the city council is responsible for educating and informing the public on the city sales tax issue. City Administrator Phil Kloster said the city council, according to state statute, can act as a resource group concerning the city sales tax, but cannot use public funds in promoting the issue.

Two more eligible for vacation trip

Gail Jaeger of Winslow and Erwin Flier of Wayne have joined Tom Serbick of South Sioux City and Kevin Echtenkamp of Wayne as finalists for the "4,000 Reasons To Shop Wayne" grand prize dream vacation trip.

The names of Jaeger and Flier were drawn Tuesday morning at Daylight Donuts. Since their name was written on an advertisement of a contest sponsoring merchant (published in last Thursday's Wayne Herald), they will be also eligible for a bonus of a five-piece luggage set if their name is drawn as the grand prize winner.

The grand prize winner will receive a trip for two to either Florida; Las Vegas, Aspen, Colorado; Phoenix; Bermuda; Hawaii; or a boat cruise to the Virgin Islands. The second name drawn will receive $1,000 in vacation books to be spent at any of the 54 businesses participating in the contest.

Two more names will be drawn during each of the upcoming six weeks, until 16 finalists have been picked. The drawings will take place during the period of the contest each Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Contestants are reminded to re-register to be eligible for the Feb. 3 drawing.

Lions Talent Show date scheduled

Sharpen up those talent skills. The Wayne Lions Club has scheduled its annual talent contest for 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 5 at Wayne State College in Ramsey Theatre.

Entry blanks for persons wishing to take part in the contest will appear in the March 2 edition of the Wayne Herald. Deadline for entries is March 16.

This article appears now so that groups or individuals know when they can begin practicing for the event.

Contestants participating in this year's show will compete for honors in one of six divisions. Divisions are for ages 8 and under; ages 9-11; ages 11 and under (groups of from three to nine); ages 12-14; ages 15-18; and 12-18 years of age (groups of three to nine).

The contestant's age on Jan. 1, 1987 will determine the division in which they compete. The age of the oldest contestant in the group will determine the division in which that group competes.

Each performance will be limited to a maximum of four minutes, with a three minute warning signal. Judging will be based on a degree of talent, perfection of performance, and audience appeal. No act using fire will be permitted.

First and second place winners will be named in each division, with the first place winners competing in the District Lions Club Talent Contest May 3 at Millard North High School in Omaha.

The public is invited to attend the competition. Persons who would like more information are asked to contact Jay Hartman in Wayne.

Business

Kelly Barker

Kelly Barker of Wayne, daughter of Art and Erma Barker of Wayne, has recently joined The Headquarters staff, according to Sheryl Pothamus, business owner and operator.

Kelly graduated from Wakefield High School in 1985 and graduated from Bahner's College of Hairstyling in June, 1986 with a license in Cosmetology. She has recently received her barbering license.

Dr. Jerry Rademacher of Winside attended the 90th annual convention of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Association held Jan. 19-21 in Kearney.

The sessions are accredited toward mandatory continuing education requirements for license renewal.

Included among the educational speakers were Nebraska veterinarians Dr. Dale Groelueschen of Scottsbluff, Dr. Alex Hoog and Dr. Gerald Duhamel, both of Lincoln, and Dr. Don Hudson of North Platte.

Also appearing were Dr. Kenneth Ode and Dr. Wayne Wingfield, both of Colorado State University, and Dr. William Meyer of the University of Pennsylvania.

Telebeep application

Telebeep, Inc. of Norfolk is seeking approval of its application from the Nebraska Public Service Commission concerning initial tariffs for paging and mobile telephone service for Wayne, Wisner, Beemer and West Point.

Protests to the application must be filed on or before February 23. If a formal hearing is necessary to dispose of this matter, interested persons will be notified later of the time and place of such a hearing, according to Donald D. Adams, Jr., executive secretary to the Nebraska Public Service Commission.

Farm Bureau meets

Wayne County Farm Bureau met Jan. 20 at the Norman Wickman home, rural Pender, for a co-operative supper. Thirty-one members attended.

Tammie Jenkins, Carroll, and Stewart Rethwisch, Wayne, reported on the 1986 state safety seminar, at Aurora and the trip which they won to the National Farm Bureau Safety Seminar at Chicago.

Larry Mussach, Burl County President, presented a video of his L.E.A.D. tour of India.

The N.F.B.F. Leadership Conference will be held in Lincoln February 17-19.

Donald Nelson of Winside was appointed 1987 membership chairman.

Soy profit session

Soybean producers and agri-business personnel in northeast Nebraska are invited and encouraged to attend a soybean production meeting in Wayne on Feb. 3. The session will be at the Vets Club starting with coffee at 9 a.m. and will conclude mid-afternoon. The Soy Profit Session will give current ideas on profitable soybean production. Topics range from weed control, and insect problems to fertilizing soybeans. There will also be discussions on seed quality, new varieties and an update on Nebraska Soybean Association activities.

A special feature will be several commercial exhibits representing herbicides, insecticides and seeds. These exhibitors will be sponsoring lunch and coffee. Highlight of the day will be a panel of area farmers, who will relate their experiences in-raising soybeans.

The Soy Profit Session is sponsored by the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service and the Nebraska Soybean Association. Complete details are available at your Extension Office.

Statewide leadership conference

The Nebraska Farm Bureau will sponsor a statewide leadership conference at the Hilton Hotel in Lincoln on Feb. 17-19.

Among the featured speakers will be Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The conference will include a luncheon with state senators, an opportunity to attend legislative sessions, and discussion of proposed legislation. In addition, there will be leadership sessions focusing on such topics as successful marketing, officer training, stress management and self-esteem.

Farm Bureau members interested in attending the conference are asked to contact the Farm Bureau office in Allen, 635-2166, or Mrs. Dale Jackson of Allen, 635-2341, to register by Jan. 31.

Siren testing

The City of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of the Civil Defense Outdoor Warning Sirens at 1 p.m., Jan. 30.

All sirens will be tested in the silent mode, with the exception of the following:

Air Horn: This signal will be allowed to run approximately fifteen seconds to test the effectiveness of the system.

If any resident living near a siren location should fail to hear the Air Horn Signal, please contact the Police Department promptly, so that the siren can be checked for malfunction.

Girl Scout cookie sale to end

The time to purchase Girl Scout cookies is running out. Prairie Hills Girl Scout Council's annual cookie sale will end on Monday, Feb. 2.

Proceeds from cookie sales make possible many learning and growing opportunities for girls such as ballet, hiking, camping, theatre, travel and career exploration.

Residents who have not been contacted and would like to purchase Girl Scout Cookies may do so by calling Donna Eckhoff, 375-1264. Cookie selections include Thin Mints, Chocolate Chunk, Samoas, Do-St-Dos, Trefoils, Pecan Shorties and Tagalongs.

Votes should be on record

Bad timing for pay raises

The recently proposed pay raises for Members of Congress and senior government officials are not appropriate in amount and timing. I do not intend to support them. I have never complained about the Congressional salary and have never voted for a raise except in one instance when the choice was only between two increased figures. I voted for the lower figure.

tics used by the leadership have been embarrassing. Unfortunately, we may be in for a repeat performance. The President's recommendations under current law automatically go into effect unless both the House and Senate reverse the President's action.

I will not be a part of the skulduggery the leadership and some other Members have conceived to bring about this pay raise. They have fixed the situation this year so that the introduction of a bill will not deter the raise before it goes into effect, but I suspect they cannot have succeeded in blocking amendments to the right appropriation bill that will roll back or take away a pay raise.

As I did in the previous Congress, I am cosponsoring a bill to mandate three simple, yet important, reforms in the way we consider Congressional salaries:

- 1. Congressional pay adjustments would be deferred until an election had intervened and the next Congress was seated, thus preventing us from voting for a pay raise which would go into effect during our current term of office.
2. Recorded votes would be required in both the House and Senate so that the public would know how each elected official stood on salary issues.
3. Congressional pay questions would be considered independently of other appropriations bills, thus ending the current practice of combining Congressional salary increases with adjustments for Federal employees and agency appropriations.

As a matter of principle, I believe that all proposals for Congressional salary increases (beyond normal across-the-board cost-of-living adjustments for all Federal salaries) ought to be automatically subject to a recorded vote and applicable only to the following Congress. Then Members of Congress, at least, could not vote themselves a salary increase for the term in which they

Law will deter liability abuse

This past week we completed the first 10 days of legislative business, the time allotted for bill introduction. During this period 761 legislative bills (LBs) were presented by the senators for consideration.

This is a larger number than what was filed during our last long session of two years ago and often viewed as an overburdening of the legislative process. However, a closer examination may reveal a different point of view.

Bills are only ideas, reactions to current problems, or desires by individuals or groups to make what they feel are positive changes. Hopefully, many good ideas will be found among the 761 presented. In Nebraska we have unique rules regarding bill introduction that causes a larger number than what some people feel is necessary. One rule requires that each bill only address a single major idea rather than several as is often found at the federal level.

In this way, a less attractive piece of legislation can not be attached to a popular idea so that it will be carried through the legislative process. It must be debated on its own merits.

OCCASIONALLY several different senators may introduce bills as a means of addressing a single problem. These ideas will be grouped and sent to a committee for a public hearing. Upon hearing the pros and cons of the proposals, the committee will either take the best idea, or combine the best elements of each, and forward the idea to the floor for the full legislature to debate. This eliminates several bills at this stage.

When the Legislature adjourns in May, a large percentage of those 761 bills will not be law. The real issue is not the total number of bills introduced but whether the proposals represent good ideas. It may mean more work for the senators to debate the merits of each idea, but can we ever have too many ideas?

Generally, only a few bills become major issues during the session. If an issue is critical, several ideas will be introduced. For example, several bills dealing with civil liability laws have been introduced this session. One of these, LB425, I introduced. Without question, this area of legislation will be considered as one of the key issues of this year's session. My bill identifies several areas of Nebraska's current law for modification. Briefly, the legislation will deter abuse within the system. It grants limited immunity for "good samaritan" acts and volunteers working in nonprofit associations. For example, under the bill, little league coaches or church board members can not be held personally liable for injury to a person unless they were not acting in good faith.

Capitol Views by Sam Gerald

The injured party can still file suit against the organization but may not single out an individual. The legislation also sets penalties for frivolous lawsuits.

LB425, as introduced, abolishes the concept of joint liability. A person found liable would only have to pay damages in proportion to his fault and not be held liable for other parties that may have contributed to the injury but are less able to pay. The bill will also help prevent unjust "double recovery" by allowing evidence of payment from other sources to be made known to the court before a judgement is awarded.

LB425 in its current form is a reasonable and responsible attempt to provide fairness to both the injured as well as the defendant. The legislation is also valuable in the general promotion of Nebraska by reflecting an attitude of fairness in our legal system.

Tax rate hike proposed

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

The federal tax law changes have created consternation in state government circles and provided an incentive for changing the way Nebraskans compute their income taxes.

If nothing at the state level changes, the average Nebraska income tax payer will pay less in state income taxes in 1987. Corporations will be paying a little more on the average.

And income tax revenues for state government will drop by an estimated $68 million during the next 2 1/2 years.

With a loss like that you can bet that something will change. Gov. Key Orr and most state senators agree that Nebraska state government cannot afford a drop in income tax revenues simply because the funds changed their rules.

But some of the senators and Orr disagree on the solution and the language.

Orr calls her proposals "revenue neutral." Senators call their proposals "hold harmless." Both say the proposals are not tax hikes.

The easiest solution for 1987 is simply to raise the current individual income tax rate from 19 to 20.5 percent, according to Sen. Vard Johnson of Omaha, chairman of the Legislature's Revenue Committee.

That rate hike would allow the state to recoup the $8 million it expects to lose this fiscal year because of federal tax law changes. Johnson's proposal, LB 284, should be on the floor for full debate by late January.

That rate hike is just a stop gap method. Johnson and the Revenue Committee are proposing that the state change its income tax structure in 1988.

ORR DOESN'T think a rate hike is the best short term solution. She wants to bypass the temporary solution and revamp the state's income tax structure this year, as soon as possible.

Currently Nebraska individual income tax is a percentage (19 percent) of the taxpayer's federal tax liability. It's a simple system for both the taxpayer and the Nebraska Department of Revenue. But it is buffeted by changing currents of federal tax law.

State leaders are tired of that lack of control. "We don't need to catch pneumonia every time they sneeze in Washington," said Hans Brisch, chief of staff to Orr.

State leaders agree that Nebraska needs to detach from the federal tax liability line. Most agree that Nebraska should not create its own tax system but should merely move the base to a different line of the federal tax form. Creating a uniquely Nebraska system would be too expensive for a small state.

But which line should we use? Johnson has already proposed that the state move to the taxable income line. The tax rate itself would range from 2 percent for taxpayers with lower incomes to 7 percent for upper income Nebraskans. The average rate would be 4 percent.

Orr will propose that the state move to adjusted gross income line. She will unveil the specifics of that proposal February 2. It will also include a progressive series of tax rates.

Advisors to Orr, who promised no tax increases during her campaign, say her commitment to changing the tax system this year is based on her perception of human nature. She fears senators will lose interest in making the structural changes if they wait a year.

They say it has nothing to do with the psychological benefit of moving from a 19 percent current rate to a 4 percent average rate.

the farmer's wife by pat mcclerhney

Last Sunday's World Herald had an article that really got my dander up. It was headlined "This may be the age of Moderation," a reprint from the Washington Post. Since my motto has always been: "moderation in all things," I read on.

The article made these points: the slide in apparent liquor consumption has been accelerating. Nearly all the sales growth in wine over the last five years has been in less-alcoholic wine coolers. Mr. Bartels and Mr. James have convinced a lot of TV viewers.

It went on to say that the number of adult smokers divied from 37% of the population in 1976 to 30% last year. Cigarette consumption has dropped. Smoking in public places is under attack.

In response to AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases, polls indicate that people are more careful in their choice of sexual partners.

Some experts are saying that the more complicated the world becomes, the more important simplicity—including moderation—is. Concern with environment has become domesticated.

BUT HERE'S the kicker: consumption of red meat—beef, pork, veal, and lamb—declined from 147.7 pounds per capita in 1980 to 144.4 pounds in 1985.

This is reported right before the line that says illegal drug use has not been growing. Somehow, linking consumption of red meat with illegal drug use, booze, cigarettes, and promiscuous sex doesn't make any sense to me.

I'll be the first to admit that no one needs a 16 ounce steak. As I said, moderation in all things. But I'm not excited about a 3 pound drop in meat consumption. And I deeply resent the implication.

There is far too much assumption about the role of red meat in heart disease. Even the pork producers have capitulated and are calling their product "the other white meat." The egg industry was malignent in the same way a few years ago.

There was an experiment at the Air Force academy in which the student pilots were fed eggs for breakfast every morning and blood cholesterol levels monitored closely. The levels went up on the students that were lying that week, and went back down when they were finished.

PAUL HARVEY reported the other day that a doctor and the president of the Iowa Cattleman's Association did a survey at the State convention in Des Moines last year. These were men who eat steak for breakfast, even. There were 300 of them. The majority had normal or low blood cholesterol levels.

Granted, these guys probably have above average activity levels, too. But they've also had a bunch of stress the last years. What are the essential factors?

The article quotes another expert "No society has been able to sustain voluntary simplicity as an ethic of self-conscious material restraint and sensual moderation. Human nature naturally inclines us to want more, to indulge and overindulge."

The part I like says that the key is distinguishing between traps and trappings. I'm for a simpler lifestyle, really. But I can't handle making red meat one of the vices. In school we used to sing a bawdy song that ended, "When I hit that road for home again: I'm going to turn that old town upside down: I'm going to drink and smoke and neck, by heck, I would hate to add a line that said, 'I'm going to drink and smoke and neck and eat red meat!' Ridiculous!

Indian sports, pastimes

Though they had no sleds such as modern-day children have, Indian youngsters thought coasting was great fun and enjoyed it as much as anyone. An article in the Bellevue Nebraska Palladium, January 10, 1855, describes the coasting of the children of the Omaha tribe who often gave an exciting twist to the ancient sport.

Their sleds were often cakes of ice bevelled at the nose for easier passing over small objects. A rope, or more probably a rawhide thong, was fastened in front to give the rider something to hang on to, as well as to use in pulling the make-shift toboggan to the top of the slope.

The ride down, according to the account of white pioneer onlookers, was a thrilling experience, doubly so when as often happened, the vehicle crumbled to fragments midway in the descent. Head over heels, sliding and tumbling, the hardy young braves rolled on minus their sleds. It was the work of but a few minutes to fashion a new sled, and the sport could begin all over again.

Many of the Indian children used crude sleds fashioned from wood, or wood combined with large animal bones. But they were not so exciting as the ice cakes.

Like all children the world over the young Indians played in the snow and found it as much fun as their white brethren. No doubt they used snowballs too and played a modified form of the many ball games, some of them on ice, which were played by their fathers.

Other pastimes were target shooting, slings and tops for the boys, and buckskin dolls and playing house for the girls. The wolf or catcher, various forfeit games, cat's cradle and shuttlecock were also common.

As is the case with civilized nations, the favorite games of the children were those in which they imitated the occupations of their elders. Some of these were forbidden to the children because they were too dangerous, or possibly beyond their strength. Altogether, it would seem that the Indian children had enough activities to fill their time.

Play it safe

Most fire fatalities occur in the middle of the night, usually while people are asleep. Elderly residents and those living in rural households are especially at risk, according to the Nebraska State Fire Marshal's office.

- Fire safety tips to remember:
• Install a smoke detector on each level of your home.
• Do not disable a smoke detector when it sounds off.
• Know what to do after a detector sounds off.
• Plan a home escape route in the event of a fire.
Smoke detectors are inexpensive to buy. Many models are available in a price range from $5 to $20.

Smoke detectors can be purchased at your local hardware or home center store, and in many leading discount and department stores.

Smoke detectors should be installed on every level of your home.

Smoke detectors should be tested at least once a month. And the batteries should be replaced at least once a year.

Smoke detectors provide early warning, increasing your chances for survival and allowing additional time for the fire department to save your property.

Smoke detectors—they're real protectors!

High costs

I've enjoyed moving back to Wayne. The inflation hit here before I did. I bought a house here in town a year ago for $10,000. Yes, it's old and needs a lot of repairs, but I can't do anything about it. Property taxes for 1985 are over $1,100; building or remodeling permits to do anything costs too much. I have to pay for paving on an alley that doesn't even touch my property and I never use. On and on.

I'm overwhelmed with the cost of living in this town. Fern E. Kelley, Wayne even though I don't own one. I do have neighbors that do.

And they just let them run out all the time. One I have called the police on a number of times to no avail. Now I have had it with dogs and their droppings. They come to my back door and my door stoop, even on my patio, and leave big piles of droppings. Yes, I know whose dogs they are. I even have pictures of them.

I can't walk in my own yard, can't barbecue for the flies, can't put out my garbage.

I have had it. This is the last warning. I am going to shoot them with a pellet gun or gather up the droppings and mail them back to the rightful owner.

I have had it. Clifford Frye, Wayne

Tax on mail order sought

by Senator Elroy Hefner

An avalanche of bills was introduced this past week. With over 600 bills, we will have a busy 90-day session.

I renewed my efforts to require the state to impose its sales tax on mail-order goods shipped into Nebraska by introducing LB 304. According to the research I have done, Nebraska is losing between $10 million and $14 million in revenue because it doesn't collect the four percent sales tax on the mail-order products.

Sales by mail-order companies are increasing by leaps and bounds. The reason for this is that people are busier, more women are working and the companies are making it easier to order. They have toll-free telephone numbers and you are able to use your credit card.

I feel that the state sales tax should be imposed on the mail-order products as a matter of fairness to Nebraska merchants who must collect and pay the tax. It's unfair competition to those local businessmen.

The bill, LB 304 will be coming up for a public hearing before the Revenue Committee in the near future.

Wednesday the Revenue Committee heard testimony on LB 94 that would repeal the sales tax exemption on retail food items purchased from stores. Repeal of the tax could produce about $37 million in revenue for the 1987-88 fiscal year and $57 million in 1988-89.

Figures indicate that a family with an annual income of $10,000 spends 44 percent of its income on food while families making $50,000 a year spend about 10 percent of their income on food. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that middle-income families and those least able to afford to buy food would be hardest hit if the sales tax on food was reinstated.

It would also create a problem for grocery stores operating near the border towns of states that do not have a sales tax on food. The position of Governor Orr on raising taxes made it seem unlikely that such a tax would be imposed. All speculation on the outcome of the bill was determined on Thursday when the Revenue Committee killed the bill.

Spiritual Emphasis Week planned

"Love of Another Kind" is the theme for Spiritual Emphasis Week, scheduled Feb. 1-8 at Wayne State College.

The Rev. Gordon Granberg, chairman of the Spiritual Emphasis Week Committee, said the week-long program will include a live concert, two video presentations, a prayer breakfast and worship service.

Students from campus spiritual groups will visit churches in Wayne on Sunday, Feb. 1 to inform congregations about the week's events.

At 8:30 p.m. Sunday evening, a worship service will be held at Connell Chapel in Connell Hall on campus. The service is intended as a memorial tribute to the Rev. Jim Buschelman, who served as pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne and was actively involved in ministry to the college community from 1961 until his death in August 1986.

The chapel will be decorated with banners created by student groups, and residents of the community are invited to attend.

THE VIDEO "Music Box" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 2 in the Nebraska room of the Student Center on the college campus.

According to Granberg, "Music Box" is a visual parable about discovering a source of faith and sharing it.

Granberg added that students who have seen the film said it was humorous and had an interesting message.

RECORDING ARTIST and humorist Roger Cooper will be featured in several events on campus on Wednesday, Feb. 4.

Cooper, originally from Edmond, Kan., has "warmed-up" for artists and groups like Mylon LeFevre, Mike Warnke, Amy Grant and Russ Taft. He also has seven recent albums to his credit, including his most recent, "Statement," released on the Ascension label.

Cooper will make a brief presentation at a prayer breakfast at 7 a.m. Wednesday in the Nebraska room of the Student Center.

He also is scheduled to conduct a workshop for music and drama performers in Ramsey Theatre in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center at 3:30 p.m.

Ramsey Theatre also will be the site of a free concert to be presented Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Soloist Brenda Kowalke, a Wayne State College student from Nemaha, Iowa, will open the program which will conclude with the music and humor of Cooper.

A reception will be held in the foyer of the Fine Arts Center following the concert.

FOLLOWING THE Wayne State-Emporia State basketball game on Friday, Feb. 6, two music videos will be shown in the snack bar area of Student Center.

Gospel artist Amy Grant and the music group Petra will appear on the big screen beginning around 10 p.m.

Spiritual Emphasis Week is planned by the Wayne State College Cooperative Campus Ministry, an organization composed of representatives from campus spiritual groups and local clergy.

RECORDING ARTIST AND humorist Roger Cooper will be featured in several events during Spiritual Emphasis Week, Feb. 1-8 at Wayne State College.

Photography workshop held in Dixon County

Twenty-six 4-H'ers in Dixon County attended a photography workshop held recently at the Northeast Center.

Also attending the workshop, which was conducted by Dennis Linstar of Wayne, were 20 parents, 4-H leaders and other interested adults.

Linstar talked about camera care and proper handling of film. He also recommended purchasing 12 exposure film as opposed to 36 exposure because the quality of film deteriorates when kept in a camera for a long period of time.

Linstar also stressed that while film may be stored in a refrigerator, it should not be frozen.

Rose Blocker marks 80th

Over 225 relatives and friends attended an open house reception Jan. 25 honoring Mrs. Rose Blocker on her 80th birthday. The event was hosted by her nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Blocker greeted the guests from 2 to 4 p.m. in the solarium of the Stanton Nursing Home.

Otto Fields of Winside, a former neighbor of the honoree, furnished music.

ROBERT POHLMAN of Washington, D. C. gave a tribute to Mrs. Blocker and made a presentation to the honoree, the Stanton Nursing Home staff and Mrs. Rudy (DeLoris) Kment in behalf of the nieces and nephews.

Rick Goldsmith filmed the event on video camera.

Other relatives attending from out-of-state were Dr. Arvel Witte of Rolling Hills, Calif., and Jill and Jon Anderson of Taylor, Mich.

Other towns represented by friends and relatives were Omaha, Wayne, Winside, Norfolk, Hoskins, Pierce, Hadar, Alfona, Pilger and Lincoln.

Mrs. Stanley (Wynema) Pohman of Sapulpa, Okla. sent greetings.

MRS. BLOCKER has resided at the Stanton Nursing Home since 1984 and formerly lived near Winside and at Norfolk.

Wayne County Extension Council plans for new year

Ten home extension clubs were represented when the Wayne County Home Extension Council met on Jan. 26 in the Wayne County Courthouse. The meeting was called to order by Susie Siefken, chairman.

Council handbooks for 1987 were distributed, and committee chairmen were identified and informed of their duties. County goals also were decided on.

Terri Headley will help Mary Temme organize the Wayne County Cultural Arts Contest. Categories for 1987 are photography and quilted items.

The council will again sponsor a Seat Belt Safety Poster Contest for all third grade students in the county.

Wayne County home extension clubs are invited to join Pierce County on a citizenship tour to Lincoln to view the unicameral in session. The tour will be Feb. 24.

Mary Temme, Wayne County extension agent-home economics, made announcements regarding Partners in Agriculture to be held in Norfolk on March 20.

Bake and Take Days are scheduled March 27-29.

briefly speaking

Dobson film series begins Sunday

The first in a six-part series of films by Dr. James C. Dobson, entitled "Turn Your Heart Toward Home," will be shown Sunday, Feb. 1 in Wayne city auditorium.

Topic of Sunday evening's film is "A Father Looks Back" and focuses on priorities in life. Dr. Dobson emphasizes how swiftly time passes and makes an appeal to all parents to "turn their hearts toward home" during the all important child-rearing years.

The program will run from 6 to 8 p.m. and includes a 40-minute film and an opportunity for small group discussion and refreshments immediately following.

The film series is being sponsored by the Wayne Ministerial Association and is open to the public. A free will offering will be taken to help cover cost of the films.

Musical presentation in Wakefield

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wilhite of Midland Lutheran College in Fremont will be featured in a musical presentation on Sunday, Feb. 1 at 2:30 p.m. at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. The public is invited to attend. Dr. Wilhite is a professor of music and also serves as chairman of the music department at Midland Lutheran College. His wife, Ann, is an accomplished pianist, organist and parish musician.

A fellowship hour will follow the Wilhites' program.

Mission Festival at Orchard

A Mission Festival sponsored by the Northeast District Missionary Society of the United Methodist Church will be held Sunday, Feb. 1 at the United Methodist Church in Orchard. Registration begins at 2:30 p.m.

Theme for the day is "To Be in Mission is to Grow." Youth from the Spencer United Methodist Church will have opening devotions.

A panel will include representatives from the We Care, Inc. project at O'Neill, Santee School at Santee, the Lewis and Clark Lake Ministries, and the Church and Community Ministries.

Paul and Mary Lou Smith of Cedar Rapids will tell about a work team that went into the flooded southeast United States in 1986. The day's program also will include slides from mission trips, a School of Missions skit, and a business meeting.

Following supper hour, the Rev. Jim and Marj Miller of O'Neill will talk about the Red Bird Mission in Kentucky.

United Methodist Church members and friends from across the northeast district are invited to attend.

Marriage Encounter information meeting

A public information meeting focusing on Marriage Encounter will be held Friday, Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. in the home of Duane and Bonnie Marburger of Concord.

Facts about Marriage Encounter weekends will be presented, and all married couples are invited to attend.

Marburgers said Marriage Encounter weekends are for couples who have a good marriage and want a better marriage. The weekends are sponsored by United Protestant Marriage Encounter for couples of all faiths and ages. The next weekend will be held March 6-8.

Couples who would like additional information concerning Friday night's meeting are invited to call the Marburgers, 584-2467.

Soup and pie supper in Wakefield

The Wakefield Firemen's Auxiliary will sponsor a soup and pie supper on Sunday, Feb. 1, with serving from 5 to 8 p.m. at the fire hall. The public is invited.

The menu includes homemade chili and potato soup, and cost is $3 for adults and $1.50 for youngsters ten years old and under.

Proceeds from the supper will be used for various activities of the auxiliary.

Clubwomen tell resolutions

Just Us Gals Club held its Jan. 21 meeting in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Echtenkamp.

Nine members answered roll call with a resolution they hope to keep other than dieting. Favors were made for Providence Medical Center. Mrs. Raymond Florine will be the Feb. 18 hostess at 1:30 p.m.

The Golden Years

by Gil Haase

"If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

— Abraham Lincoln

Madelyn Gearhart Greer dropped out of school when she was 15. 68 years later, at the age of 83, she finally completed a bit of unfinished business by getting her General Equivalency Diploma. A resident of a retirement home in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Greer took a taxi each day for about eight months to the Lancaster school district's adult enrichment center. What inspired the former dime store clerk, restaurant manager and licensed practical nurse to resume the studies she'd interrupted in her youth? She read about a 90-year-old woman who'd gotten her GED. "I thought if she could do it, I could do it, too," said Mrs. Greer.

Remember When? June 22, 1949 — A new world's heavyweight champion, Ezzard Charles, outpointed Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago after the retirement of champion Joe Louis.

Be it ever so humble, there's no better place to get easy access to a personal line of credit than your home. As a homeowner, you have a valuable asset working for you in the equity that you've built up when you're in need of cash you can use this equity (up to $100,000) simply by writing a check. And as for interest rates, ours are competitively low and tied to the prime rate. There are no points to pay or prepayment penalties either. You merely pay interest only on the amount you borrow (interest that's tax deductible). You'll have a revolving line of credit that you can repay with minimum payments or larger ones, at your option.

grandstand gab

Can you name the state's top scorer?

Everybody loves statistics. They're quite the conversation starters. Who holds the record for the most points in his or her high school career? What's the most points scored in a single high school game? What school holds the record for the longest losing streak? What is the most number of overtimes played in a high school game in this state? I know all of those answers. Are you impressed yet?

The reason I know all of the above information is because of a press release sent out by the NSAA dealing with Nebraska high school basketball records.

Wayne State holds the record for the most points scored as he scored 2,748 points in his high school career which ended in 1960. Maurice Ivy holds the record for the girls with 1,926 points. The 1984 Omaha Central grad is now scoring points for the Lady Cornhuskers.

One hundred and two points is the most points scored by one player in a single game. Ed Vondra did it in 1922 when he was a member of the Brainard High School team. Laura Tietjen of Byron is the girls' record holder as she scored 57 in a game in 1975.

Did you know that Filley holds the record for the longest winning streak among all high school boys' teams? The Wildcats won 78 straight during the 1978-81 seasons. Wakefield has the eighth longest winning streak as they won 44 straight from 1947-49.

Hastings St. Cecilia has the longest streak among the girls. The Hawkettes put together 66 straight from 1977-79.

At the other end of the spectrum is the longest losing streaks. From 1983-86 the Taylor High boys lost 49 in a row. Winside is second with a 37 game string without a win. That was broken in the Wildcats' first game this season. The longest skid in girls basketball is minute in comparison. Southeast Consolidated and Osceola had each put together 26-game streaks.

Several other players and schools also made the record book. Allen's Lisa Erwin tallied 1,116 career points during her career that ended in 1981 to rank her 24th on the career point list.

Dawn Bernat of Wayne State ranks 11th in single-season points as she pumped in 507 points for Stromsburg in 1982.

The high octane offense of the 1969 Laurel boys averaged 83.3 points a game to place 10th on the all-time list.

So next time you're at a party and you want to turn some heads just ask someone who is in the 15 all-time leading scorers in Nebraska history. When they look at you dumbfoundedly tell them Gordon Benson of Ong High School. Benson tallied 1,979 points before he graduated in 1952.

WILDCAT RUSS ROSENQUIST pops a three pointer as WSC loses to Chadron State, 73-71.

Home streak ends As Wildcats lose

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The 11-game winning streak at Rice Auditorium which dated back to last season ended Tuesday night as Chadron State beat Wayne State 73-71.

The loss was the third in a row for the Cats. It dropped their record to 9-11. More importantly it dropped the Wildcats to 2-1 in the Nebraska Athletic Conference. The Eagles boosted their record to 12-8 and 2-1 in the NAC.

The Cats looked like a fired basketball team during the contest. They seemed to be a step slow.

Chadron State jumped out on top in the first half and led until Dave Jahr hit a shot with 8:24 left in the first half that gave the Cats a 24-23 lead. The lead was short lived as Chadron went back on top on a three-point goal by Scott Blachly to make the score 26-24. The Eagles went to halftime with a 36-34 lead.

The Cats were lucky to be that close as Chadron connected on 60 percent of its shots in the first 20 minutes. The Eagles hit 15-25 shots from the field that included 3-4 three pointers. The Cats were 13-34 from the field for 44 percent.

The second half Wayne State looked like it gained the momentum as they took the lead at 13:37 on a three-point goal by Russ Rosenquist. The Cats got their biggest lead when "Rosey" hit another three pointer to give the hosts a 60-54 lead with 8:29 left.

Everytime Wayne State would get a comfortable lead back came the Eagles. The visitors chopped the lead to one point at 7:10 with 1:44 left. The Cats came down on their next possession and took some time off the clock but a Rosenquist miss set up the last second heroics for the Eagles. Chadron worked the clock down to 25 seconds before they took a timeout to set up the last play.

An unlikely hero stepped forward for the Eagles in the person of Mark Carlisle. With 10 seconds left on the game clock and no time on the 45-second clock Carlisle let a 19 footer fly from next to the Chadron bench that hit nothing but twine. The three pointer gave the Eagles a 73-71 lead. It was the senior guard's only points of the evening.

The Cats called timeout with three seconds left. The inbound pass was picked off by Chadron and the game was over.

The visitors kept up the torrid shooting in the second half as they earned 64 percent of their shots in the final 20 minutes. They finished the game hitting 62 percent from the field.

Wayne State played without its leading scorer. Scott Hurley sat out the game for disciplinary reasons. Rosenquist made up for the loss as he scored a game-high 20 points. Vincent White and Mark Gracy were also in double figures with 12 and 10 points respectively. The 5-9 White was also the leading rebounder with eight boards. The Cats outrebounded Chadron 32-28.

Blachly and Ted Niemann paced Chadron with 18 points apiece. Danny Miller added 10 points.

The Cats will try to regain the spark as they prepare for rival Kearney State on Friday. The Lopers will invade Rice Auditorium trying to avenge a 73-64 loss at the hands of the Wildcats last year at Rice.

The game holds double importance for the Cats. Kearney State is also a member of the CSIC and the NAC.

Saturday night the Cats will host Fort Hays State in a key CSIC tussle.

Laurel's upset hopes dashed in 4th quarter

After the first three quarters it looked like an upset was in the making at Laurel.

The Lady Bears were locked up with the second rated team in Class C-1. Heading into the fourth quarter Laurel and Randolph were tied 22-22. But the Lady Cardinals rebounded and outscored the hosts 15-4 in the final period to take a 37-26 decision.

Laurel Coach Pam Thies said her team went ice cold from the field. Thies said her girls were getting good shots but they just weren't falling. To compound the problems the Lady Bears were forced to foul and Randolph responded by hitting 11-16 free throws.

The game was a defensive struggle throughout. Randolph led at the end of the first quarter 8-7 but the Lady Bears outscored the visitors in the second period and took a 15-14 lead at halftime. The Lady Cardinals out-pointed Laurel in the third quarter 8-7 to set the stage for the disappointing finish for the Lady Bears.

The loss dropped Laurel to 7-4 but Thies said she was happy with her kids' effort.

Laurel kept Randolph's leading scorer, Kristy Borst in check. Borst still managed to lead all scorers with 18 points but the hosts limited her to four points in the second half.

Thies said about midway through the second period Laurel switched to a box-and-one defense. Laurel's 6-0 center Becky Christensen was assigned to shadow the Lady Cardinals' 6-2 scorer, Christensen was effective in shutting down Borst.

Laurel outrebounded the taller opponent 34-29. That was a pleasant surprise for Thies. Gail Twiford was the top rebounder with 16 caroms. Twiford was also Laurel's top scorer with 13 points. No other Lady Bear had more than five points.

Laurel will hit the road Thursday for a Clark Division game against Wakefield.

Wayne claims 2 champs at NAC meet

Although Wayne finished third in the three-team Northern Activities Conference Wrestling Tournament Saturday Coach John Murtaugh said he was pleased with the way his team performed.

The Blue Devils had two individual champions at 155 and 167 pounds.

Sophomores Jason Cole and Chris Luft turned in the championship performances. Cole pinned Brian Thomason of South Sioux City in the 155-pound finals. Luft put Stub Engel's shoulders to the mat to win his division. Luft gained a lot of confidence in his first match when he pinned Steve Fox of O'Neill. Fox, rated fourth in state, had beaten Luft 9-1 in a tournament earlier in the year.

O'Neill won the tournament with 107 points. South Sioux City finished second with 52 points and Wayne was third with 42 points.

Mark Rahn, Greg DeNaeyer, Robbie Gamble and Tim Sievers finished second at the meet.

Four Wayne junior varsity wrestlers also competed at the meet. Shane Geiger, Tom Elfer and Brian Nelson won both of their matches while Tony Johnson split his two matches.

With 4th quarter rally

Wayne girls improve to 11-1

The Wayne Lady Blue Devils pulled out a squeaker Tuesday night at Pender to keep their nine-game winning streak intact.

The Lady Blue Devils outscored Pender 10-6 in the final period to preserve the win. The Lady Pender defense collapsed hard in the middle trying to shut down Wayne's inside game.

Wayne Coach Marlene Uhing pulled her offense away from the baskets forcing Pender to come out after them which freed up the middle. Kacia Corbit responded as she scored six of her team-high 12 points in the fourth quarter.

The winning margin wouldn't have been as close if the locals could have hit their free throws. Wayne was just 2-14 from the line. On the other side Pender hit 71 percent of its free throws converting on 10-14 gift shots.

Wayne outscored the Lady Penderons from the field 30-20. They also outboarded the hosts 38-28. Many of the Lady Blue Devils' rebounds came on their missed free throws. Corbit was the top rebounder with 13. Shelly Pick added nine boards.

Wayne led by three after the first quarter and 14-12 at halftime. Pender made a run in the third quarter and outscored the visitors 12-8 to take a 24-22 lead into the fourth quarter.

The Lady Penderons were led in scoring by Hollie Miller. Miller popped in a game-high 14 points.

In the first game of the evening the Wayne JV's bombed Pender 50-22. The JV's got its offensive punch from Andrea Marsh. The junior pumped in 18 points for the 8-2 junior varsity squad.

Six of eight place

Winside grapplers place 4th

The Winside wrestlers made a strong showing with a fourth-place finish at the Oakland-Craig Invitational Tournament Saturday afternoon.

The six of the eight Wildcat grapplers received medals. Mace Kant won his third tournament in as many weeks as he pinned his way through the meet. Mace slipped Mark Minarik of Battle Creek in the championship match.

Max Kant and Randy Leapey finished second in their weight classes while Darin Greunke, Darin Schellenberg and Rod Diedrichsen earned fourth-place medals.

Coach Rich Toney said his team wrestled well in the early rounds but they lost a few matches they should have won in the later rounds of the tournament.

Lyons-Decatur Northeast won the tournament with 126 1/2 points. Following close behind was Norfolk Catholic with 123 points. Battle Creek finished third followed by Winside, Oakland-Craig, Scribner, Tekamah-Herman JV's and Howells.

Next up for the Wildcats is the Greeley Invitational. Toney said the tournament will give him an indication of how his team will fare at the district meet. Up until this point the Winside wrestlers have wrestled against a lot of Class C teams. The coach said at Greeley's most of the competition will be from Class D schools.

Lady Eagles hope to gain momentum after 60-30 win

The Allen Lady Eagles got back on the winning track in a big way Tuesday night as they dismantled Coleridge 60-30.

The Lady Eagles were on fire from the field. Allen hit 53 percent of its shots as they connected on 27-51 from the field. The Allen defense limited Coleridge to 25 percent shooting.

Allen Coach Gary Troth said it was a good all-around win for his team. He said the girls had been struggling in the last few games but he hopes this game will provide them with confidence to finish the season strong. Troth got excellent balance on the offensive end. Four of the five starters finished the game in double figures. Kris Blohm and Barb Hansen tossed in 11 points and Lena Erwin and Kristi Chase added 10 each. In all, 10 Lady Eagles scored in the ballgame.

Allen jumped to an eight-point lead in the first quarter and led 29-15 at halftime. Allen put the game out of reach in the third quarter as they outscored the Lady Bulldogs 23-9.

Allen outboarded the hosts 42-35.

Fourth quarter fatal for Wakefield

For the fifth time this season the Wakefield Trojans were unable to hold a lead in the fourth quarter. Monday night Ponca pulled the rally as the Trojans dropped their ninth game of the season.

The Indians downed Wakefield 49-39 in a game marred by fouls. The Trojans lost three starters via fouls and were whistled for 28 fouls while the hosts were called for 18 personal fouls.

Ponca shot 11-16 from the free-throw line in the fourth quarter alone. The Indians finished the game 19-28 from the line. The guests ended the night 9-19 from the charity stripe. Wakefield outscored Ponca from the field 30-26.

Wakefield's leading scorer and rebounder, Kevin Greve, got in foul trouble early and as a result played less than half of the game.

The Trojans really missed Greve down the stretch. They were outscored in the fourth period 14-6 with the senior on the bench. Greve made the most of his minutes. He led all scorers with 17 points. He was 9-10 from the line. Greve also was the Trojans top rebounder with eight boards. Scott Lund was the only other Trojan in double figures with 12 points.

Ponca took the lead early leading 12-2 after the first quarter. The Tro-ans cut the lead to two points at 21-19 by halftime. In the third period Wakefield outscored the Indians 14-10 and led going into the final period 33-31.

Turnovers played a big part in the Ponca comeback. The guests committed 22 miscues in the ballgame.

Wakefield Coach Paul Eaton said his team played hard but they couldn't make up for the loss of Greve. The Trojans were outscored by 12 as no one picked up the slack in the middle for Wakefield.

Wakefield will try to get back on track after two straight losses as they host Laurel Friday night.

The Wakefield JV's also dropped its game to Ponca. The junior varsity lost a tight one 37-35. Freshman Tony Krusemark led the way for the JV's with nine points.

Lady Blue Devils better NAC opponent O'Neill 48-34

It was lights out for the Wayne Lady Blue Devils and the rest of the spectators as the locals handed O'Neill a 48-34 setback Saturday night.

Wayne jumped out early on the hosts and was ahead 18-8 when the O'Neill gym went dark. The power was restored and both teams were ready to resume play when the lights went out again. Thirty minutes later the game was underway again.

The blackout rejuvenated O'Neill as they rallied to cut the deficit to 24-18 at halftime.

Class B's 10th-rated Lady Blue Devils came out in the second half and outscored the Lady Eagles 24-10 to boost their record to 10-1 and 1-0 in the NAC.

Coach Marlene Uhing stated her concern about her team's inability to play solid for four quarters. She said the girls are looking for someone else to do the job.

Uhing said her team also lacks concentration at times, which is evident by Wayne's free-throw percentage. The girls hit 32 percent of their free throws, connecting on 10-31. O'Neill made 14-20 gift shots for 70 percent. Wayne outscored the Lady Eagles 38-20 from the field.

Uhing said she was pleased with the defensive intensity. The Lady Blue Devils were outrebounded 41-35 by O'Neill.

The Wayne coach said the game was what she expected. O'Neill is a very physical team that hits the boards hard, she said. Wayne's post people did a good job on the boards but they didn't get any help from their teammates. Shelly Pick was the top rebounder with 15. Kecia Corbit pulled down 10 rebounds while scoring a game-high 16 points. Three

Wayne freshmen lose to WP 52-43

The Wayne freshmen were downed by Norfolk Tuesday night 52-43.

The junior Blue Devils fell behind early and trailed the entire game. The locals trailed by nine in the first quarter. They closed the lead to four points in the first period but they could get no closer.

Wayne, 5-5, was led by Neil Carnes and Willie Gross. The pair finished with 11 and 10 points respectively.

The freshmen's next game is Friday when the host West Point.

Allen

Senior Tiffany Harder led the way with nine rebounds. Troth said his team still needs to work on cutting down on turnovers. The Lady Eagles improved against Coleridge but they still turned it over 18 times.

The Allen JV's won a shortened contest over Coleridge 20-15 to start the evening. The junior Lady Eagles were led by Candace Jones' six points.

Next up for the 8-3 Lady Eagles is Emerson-Hubbard. Allen will host the Lady Pirates tonight (Thursday). It's a big game for both teams. If Allen wins the contest they will be the champions of the Lewis Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference. If Emerson-Hubbard wins, the title will go to Ponca.

Banquet set for Dodge

Several area residents will be in attendance at the Nebraska Baseball Hall of Fame Banquet.

The banquet will be held at Hilltop Lanes in Dodge on Feb. 1. The featured speaker is New York Mets bullpen coach Vern Hoesecht of Plainville.

Several area residents will be nominated for induction to the hall. Nominees for the managerial personnel include Frank Weible of Winside. Past inductees as managers are Lefty Olson of Wakefield and Mark Ahmann as sportscaster.

John Torczon of Wakefield is among the nominees for umpire status in the hall. Fritz Dimmel of Winside and Bob Lohrborg of Wayne are the area players nominated for the Hall of Fame.

The community of Wakefield is in the running with Dodge, O'Neill and Scribner as the 1987 Nebraska Baseball Capital.

West Point drops Wayne grapplers to 1-4

The Wayne wrestlers ran into a tough West Point team Tuesday night as the Blue Devils dropped a 42-20 decision to the Cadets.

Wayne spotted the Cadets with 18 points because of forfeit points. Mark Rahn got the Blue Devils on the scoreboard as he pinned Joe Ventris at 119 pounds in 1:22. Robbie Gamble also recorded a pin in his match. He stuck Corey Meier in 3:27.

There were three junior varsity matches prior to varsity action. The JV's went 2-1. Shane Geiger pinned Justin Witted in 1:08. The other Wayne win came when Tom Etter pinned Sean Holtz in 3:55. In the last match Wayne's Tony Johnson was pinned by Mike Reimes in 3:14.

The Blue Devils dropped to 1-4 in dual meets. Wayne will host Lyons-Decatur Northeast tonight (Thursday). It is also parent's night.

VOLUME OF AGRICULTURAL INFORMATION INCREASING
The total volume of information available to farmers, often with conflicting recommendations, needs to be sorted out and evaluated to make the best decisions.
A critical challenge in farming today is to collect and digest this avalanche of information and to translate what arrives on the farm into sound management decisions which will make economic sense and lead to appropriate, efficient production systems.
Key questions farmers and ranchers need to ask about the deluge of information are:
—What is the source of the information or new practice, and does the source want to sell me something?
—Answers to these questions may, in some cases, be obvious, but personal or a neighbors experience is a good guide to what will work in a given area.

IT'S ALSO wise to seek multiple sources of advice on new practices to ensure the likelihood that will help make a profitable decision.
Information input is relatively inexpensive, but is one that can help make farms more profitable.
An example is soil fertility. University soil scientists have been recommending for some time that careful soil sampling and interpretation of test results can be economically important. In many instances, producers can drastically reduce fertilizer levels from those recommended by some labs without reducing yields.
The use of new varieties may have an increased yield potential, partly due to their tolerance to stress conditions of a given area.
One of the best ways to determine profitability of new varieties is to run small test trials on the individual farm. Each farm and system is unique to some degree, while recommendations are based on averages and probabilities.
Developing home-farm-based recommendations based on experience is a key step in improving profitability.

not sure whether or not the community is generally concerned about economic development. He felt it may be a detriment to go 1 1/2 for city sales tax.

Kloster told the council that if a decision was made to make the city sales tax an election issue, it should probably be on the ballot before the summer months.
Councilman Freeman Decker motioned to have the city attorney draft a resolution and ordinance "to be brought to the city council for further consideration."
"Just so we have something specific to work on," he added.

Councilman Darrel Heier said he is not sure whether or not the community is generally concerned about economic development. He felt it may be a detriment to go 1 1/2 for city sales tax.

Tax

Another council member, Carolyn Filter, said she was contacted during the past few weeks by numerous individuals and found that a majority of the business owners who contacted her had favored 1 percent over 1 1/2 percent.

Councilman Randy Pedersen said the 1 percent and the 1 1/2 percent do not have to be tied in together on the ballot. It is important, he said, how the ordinance is drafted, to give people of Wayne a fair ordinance to vote on.

Logan Street project draws citizens' concerns

Several other letters, not read aloud during the regular meeting, were included in a packet submitted to the city council Tuesday evening. The council members decided they would each read the letters after the council meeting.

IN OTHER ACTION, the city council accepted the lone bid of Ellington Motors for a fire department vehicle. The vehicle would be used as a command center, utilized to transport personnel to the scene of a fire and would also be used as a "standby ambulance."
It replaces the older model station wagon the fire department is currently using.
The bid submitted was $15,900. The council also reviewed and approved an application requesting that John Melema, Jr. be welcomed as the newest member of the Wayne Fire Department.

During Tuesday night's meeting, the city council also approved an agreement for well site acquisition and water rights to property belonging to Richard W. Milligan, located approximately six miles north of Wayne.

In November the city council had acquired the water rights on property belong to Bob Fous. Some 240 acres of the property needed for Wayne's future well site was on the Fous property.

Several property owners who reside along certain sections of Logan Street have written to the city council expressing concern about widening areas of the street.
Plans were discussed during the Jan. 13 city council meeting concerning widening the width of Logan Street, from 4th Street to 7th Street, to 40 feet. The street improvement project would be an Urban System Project, with 75 percent of the cost funded by the state.

Heavy traffic on the street and the deteriorating surface were two reasons discussed by city officials as to why the street improvement was needed.

City Administrator Phil Kloster read two letters, one from Russell Rasmussen and another from Maria McCue, concerning the widening proposal.
Rasmussen expressed concerns about several issues, such as what the city's intent was for travel on the street over a long period of time; whether the residential speed limit would be enforced; and what type of parking arrangements would be made along the street improvement.
McCue requested the council hold off on making any decisions concerning the street improvement, requiring an extension to further explore other options.

A message from the Nebraska Bankers in your hometown.

LET'S NOT FORGET WHAT'S MADE AMERICA WORK FOR OVER 200 YEARS.

This country was built on strong ideals. At their core is the concept of individual freedom. Nowhere is that American freedom more cherished than here in America's heartland. We've always understood that with that freedom come both responsibility and risk which we have willingly accepted.
Now, because of the economic problems facing agricultural America, some voices are beginning to question the most basic principles of the free enterprise system. And that should concern all of us.
Among the valued privileges of our American system is the ability to borrow money. Over the years, money loaned to Nebraskans by Nebraskans has helped build businesses, farms, towns and better lives for families across the state.
Nebraska's full-service banks have been the primary source of that money. In fact, today banks have over $8 billion on loan to people, farms and businesses of Nebraska.
That money has been loaned to Nebraskans on the strength of a very simple promise. It's the promise that the loan will be paid back in accordance with the contract to which both lender and borrower agree. It's a concept as old as civilization itself. And it's a vital component of free enterprise.
But today a few have altered the system to the detriment of the majority. They've pushed for and achieved liberalized bankruptcy policies and are calling for further changes including "legislated debt relief" to avoid repayment of obligations.
If these voices continue to be heeded, the results could be devastating to our already troubled state economy for one very simple reason. Banks will be forced to seriously curtail lending.
The money a bank lends is the money entrusted to it by depositors. And keeping that money safe is a primary obligation. Without the legal guarantee of loan repayment, banks would be unable to safely loan money.
No group has a greater concern for the economic health of this state and its citizens than its bankers. Last year alone Nebraska's banks took losses of $228 million in unpaid loans.
Clearly, Nebraska's banks have a strong commitment to seek solutions to our state's economic problems. But just as clearly, an attempt to remove the obligation to repay debts is not the answer. Nor is it consistent with the basic principles that have guided America since its inception.
Anytime debts go unpaid, somebody else foots the bill. We hope you'll agree that our government leaders should not create an environment where it's expedient for a borrower to escape his or her financial responsibilities.
Should that day ever come, this country will have taken a giant step backward, and we'll all pay the consequences. We want you to know that as Nebraska's banks, we are concerned about these potentially dangerous trends. They're contrary to the principles that have guided America's success... principles we hope we'll never forget.

Winifred Bass gets Laurel award

Mrs. Winifred Bass of Laurel was presented the Laurel Outstanding Citizen Award on Saturday, Jan. 24 at the Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting at the Wagon Wheel Steak House.

Winifred, an avid reader of history who has a large selection of literature in an upstairs library in her home, currently maintains the schedule for passengers riding the Cedar County Minibus, is active in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Laurel, and is active in the Literary Department of the Deanery of Omaha Archdiocese which involves reading books to be recommended for the church.

She is a member of the Nebraska Historical Society (for 39 years) and the Cedar County Historical Society and has spent untold hours in local and state historical research of the past. She was responsible for Laurel's 75th Anniversary book and has taken the initiative for Laurel's Centennial Book for 1993.

Winifred makes regular visits to the nursing homes and visits the ill and confined residents of the community. She writes monthly letters to former residents in other nursing homes.

She has received several awards including the Mrs. Arthur Mullen Prestigious Award of Omaha Archdiocese Council for Catholic Women in 1965 and in 1972 received the Ak-Sar-Ben Good Neighbor Award.

She also served 10 years on the Lung Association board of directors. Her family includes sons Phillip Bass, who is retired in Anaheim, California; Father Francis Bass of Delmar, Iowa; Maurice Bass who is retired in Northport, Florida; and daughter Mrs. Clifford (Elaine Taylor) who is retired and lives at Newcastle. All of her children were graduates of Laurel High School.

Winifred's husband, Grover, passed away in 1977. She has spent much of her life in the Laurel area and also spent 17 years in the rural area of Wayne County.

SCATTERED NEIGHBORS
Nine members of Scattered Neighbors Home Extension Club met Jan. 21 in the home of Lois Miller, answering roll call with what they like to do on a stormy day.

The club constitution was read in unison, and President Mrs. Lois Krueger conducted the business meeting. Members were asked to remember Mrs. Martha Aurich at the Beemer Nursing Home for her birthday on Jan. 27.

Members donated 20 cents if they had baked something from scratch during the week, 25 cents if they made something from a package, and 30 cents if they didn't bake anything.

The group discussed taking part on a bus tour to visit the state legislature with other extension groups.

Arlene Pfaffler led the group in singing a song honoring the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. She also presented the craft lesson with members making a "lifted star."

Mrs. Veryl Jackson will be the Feb. 18 club hostess. Lois Krueger will have the lesson, entitled "Make Your Own Mixes."

Stress relief technique is reviewed

by Jeff Berger

This week I would like to discuss a technique that can be used anywhere, at any time, to reduce your reaction to stressful events. No special tools or places are required and if done properly, no one can notice you practicing this exercise. The technique is known as controlled breathing.

Since we all breathe, we all have the ability to do this technique. How many times did an adult say to you when you were a child, "count to ten" or "take a deep breath" when you were about to get very angry at something or someone?

This technique combines those thoughts into a very practical package. The technique is as follows: 1) Close your mouth and breathe through your nose. 2) Concentrate on your breathing in and out. 3) Breathe deeply, each time slowing your rate of breathing and each time taking in more air. 4) At the end of each inhale and exhale, hold for one second. As you breathe, you will notice that your breathing is consciously slowing down. This is what you want to feel. Continue this routine until either the stressful situation has passed or you feel calmer.

The reason that this works is that your heart rate is connected directly to your breathing. When one slows, so does the other. A fast heart rate is linked to high blood pressure, which is linked to migraines, muscle aches, heart attacks and strokes. So this breathing is a good temporary way to say "Whoa, slow down."

This is a great technique to use when you are on the go, at work, or in any other place where laying down just isn't the thing to do. Use it often while I teach, because there are definitely times when leaving the room, 20 screaming students or not, is just not practical. Some deep breathing has prevented me on many occasions from expressing exactly how I felt about my 20 little stressors!!

While you are not getting rid of the stress-causing event with this exercise, a relaxed body can make a world of difference in your attitude and your approach to handling the problem. For more information on this and other techniques, call us, write us, or stop on Thursdays nights.

The Wayne Stress Prevention Center is funded by the Providence Medical Center Foundation and is a totally free, non-profit service. We meet every Thursday night, in Room 202 of Wayne-Carroll High School at 7 p.m. regardless of whether or not there is a school function there that night.

We are also available to give talks on stress-related topics to your group at your convenience. Call Jeff at 375-5289 or Doug at 375-2420 or 375-2200 to set up an appointment. See you Thursday.

GIRL SCOUTS
Fifteen Winside Girl Scouts met Jan. 22 with leader Peg Eckert.

It was announced that a potluck dinner will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church on Girl Scout Sunday, which is March 8. An open house for the general public will be held March 14 in honor of the 75th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

The girls made a God's Eye as a step in their math whiz badge. Shawna Holtgrew served treats.

Persons who would like to purchase Girl Scout cookies and have not yet been contacted may call Peg Eckert, 286-4516.

Next Girl Scout meeting will be today (Thursday) at 3:45 p.m. Katie Schwedhelm will furnish treats.

PINOCHLE CLUB
Gladys Reichert and Mrs. Art Rabe were guests at the Jan. 23 meeting of GT Pinochle Club in the home of Mrs. Howard Iversen.

Prizes were won by Minnie Weible and Ida Fenske.

Next meeting will be Feb. 6 in the home of Mrs. Gonthilf Jaeger.

BIRTHDAY MARKED AT CLUB MEETING
Mrs. Ivan Diedrichsen hosted the Jan. 21 meeting of Friendly Wednesday Club with five members attending. The hostess' birthday was observed during the social afternoon.

The Feb. 18 hostess will be Mrs. Alfred Sievers of Wayne.

BUSY BEES
Nine members of the Busy Bees Club met Jan. 21 in the home of Lba Applegate with Bonnie Wylie as hostess.

A cheer card was sent to Anna Wylie, and the birthday song was sung for Myrtle Nielsen. She received a gift from her secret pal.

Members made new yearbooks for the club project.

LEGION AUXILIARY
Reports on County Government Day at Ponca and the mid-year conference of American Legion and Auxiliary of Norfolk highlighted the Jan. 12 meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Chaplain Linda Anderson led in prayer to open the meeting. President Carol Ulrich, led in the Pledge of Allegiance and the Auxiliary Preamble. Music chairman Famy Johnson, led the group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic". Carol led the business meeting that followed. Secretary Mary Jan Van Cleave, read the minutes of the previous meeting. Roll call showed that there were seven officers and 11 members present. Treasurer Nancy Scholz gave the monthly treasurer's report which was approved and filed for audit.

Correspondence read by the secretary included a letter telling them about the Centennial observance of the Nebraska Veterans Home on July 5. To raise money to erect a bandshell at the Grand Island site, a history of the home has been written and presented to units. The original home was established in Grand Island and in recent years, satellite centers have been built in Norfolk, Omaha and Scottsbluff. The local unit voted to make a contribution to this project.

Thank you's were read from Hedy Murphy, representative of the Omaha VA Medical Center, for the gifts sent there at Christmas time; also from the Wakefield Education Association for the bars sent to the teachers lounge to observe National Education Week in November. Letters of greetings were read from Margaret Inman Avinger of Oregon and Kraft Pillow Cleaning of Iowa, and from Department president Arlyce Smith.

Committee reports were made by various members. Americanism Chairman Emily Gustafson reported on Martin Luther King Day. Information from Department Legislative Chairman was presented by the secretary. A letter was read about promoting the sale of poppies in the spring.

A letter from Mabel Sommerfeld, representative of the Norfolk Veterans Home, was read. This listed the special needs of the home, and urged visits to residents, also help in playing bingo. A letter from Department Secretary listed the delinquent memberships for 1987 and urged us to get these in.

Jean Fischer of the Community Service Committee sent a report saying they had bought gifts for two residents of the local nursing home to be put under the tree for Christmas morning. Helen Anderson of Floral and Cards Committee reported that she had sent many Thanksgiving and Christmas cards to elderly members and had sent many sympathy and get well cards. Longtime members Edna Byers and Clara Mahoney are in the local hospital at this time.

A "Thank You" was read from the head of the Volunteer Services at Norfolk Veterans Home, for the many utility bags made by members of Unit 81; a special thanks to Lois Schlines for making 97 of these utility bags to be used by the residents.

The joint Christmas dinner for legion and auxiliary members and spouses on Dec. 14 was attended by about 30.

Lois Schlines suggested they again enter a Prayer Book for judging at district meeting this spring. Members are urged to submit original prayers or copies that they like for this book at the February meeting or before. It was announced that District III meeting will be at Home on Saturday, March 21.

Secretary reported that they have four new members Rita Gustafson, Olga Sanchez Tappe and Andrea and Jocelyn Van Cleave. Their unit made "goal" by conference time. District III also made "goal" and President Arlene Lundahl was presented a "halo" to wear that day.

Three members of the junior class sent a report to the meeting telling of their day spent at Ponca in November. Twenty-four junior class members from Wakefield attended the County Government Day. The American Legion posts and auxiliary unit sponsor this day each year.

Beverly Herbolzheimer and Margaret Cisney represented the auxiliary and assisted. Students submitting the written report were Brenda Meler, Sheldia Anderson and Dwight Fischer.

The secretary was instructed to make copies of the different committee responsibilities from the auxiliary ABC book and send to members.

SCHOOL BOARD
Reorganization was on the agenda for the Jan. 12 meeting of the Wakefield Board of Education. James Stout, Larry Clay and Diana Greve, who were re-elected to the board last fall, repeated the oath of office read by Supt. Derwin Hartman.

The board re-elected the officers for the coming year. They are president - Ronnie Wenstrand; vice-president - Merlin Greve; secretary - Larry Clay. The other member of the board is Mary Kay Otte.

Several basketball parents were present at the meeting and a date was set for them to meet with the coach and administration.

Ellie Studer visited with the board about weekend activity practice policy. The board approved on a trial basis the opening of the gymnasium at designated times on Saturdays during the basketball season to secondary students who are participating in basketball. The board stipulated that one or more coaches would be present to supervise the students and that the administration be notified each week as to the basketball activity time.

Principal Coble informed the board in regard to cheerleading routines and the liability factor or risks involved in building pyramids, etc. Mr. Coble stated that he has visited with the cheerleading sponsor and the cheerleaders concerning routines that are permissible and otherwise.

The use of the Jeff Simpson memorial fund money was discussed. Mary Ann Simpson has requested the money be used toward the purchase of permanent type equipment for the school.

Also during the meeting the assignment of track coaches for the spring season was discussed. The board set the price of the school annual at $14 and $15 for an annual with a monogram for the current year. This is the same price as the previous year.

The last item of business the board covered was the evaluation of the administrators. Following the evaluation the board offered Superintendent Hartman and Principal Coble each a one year extension on their current two-year contract.

SADDLE CLUB
Twenty-seven members of the Golden Spurs Saddle Club met Jan. 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the Jim Stapleman home in Allen for their post-Christmas potluck supper. They held a gift exchange.

112 East Second, Mineshaft Mall
Presents "EYE OPENERS"

Q: Is our 14-year-old daughter old enough for Contact Lenses?
A: The key to successful contact lens wear is getting a thorough examination, keeping the lenses clean and sticking to wearing schedules. If your daughter can follow instructions and is conscientious about hygiene, she is probably ready for contacts. Be sure she gets the right care. Schedule an eye examination with an optometrist who offers all types and several brands of contacts; gives a 30- to 60-minute examination plus a thorough lens-fitting evaluation; and requires follow-up visits during adaptation and periodically thereafter. Be wary of extremely low-priced contact lenses. Often, either less care is given or extra costs are added, making the total price higher than package prices quoted by others.

Candida Infections

We often think of only viruses and bacteria as the causes of infections of the human body. But infections are also caused by fungi — plant-like organisms that can live on the skin, in various cavities of the body, and within the bloodstream. One such fungus that causes a variety of problems is Candida albicans, a true fungus that is sometimes called a yeast.

Candida infections commonly occur in the mouth (thrush) and in the vagina (yeast infection). Thrush is characterized by white plaques in the mouth and is common in infants, pregnant women, and debilitated adults. When the fungus grows in the vagina, discomfort and a white discharge are common signs of infection.

Candida treatment is best accomplished with prescription medicines. A variety of anti-fungal solutions and creams are available. Infections that do not respond to these preparations may require the use of ketoconazole which is taken by mouth. Serious systemic infections, according to the medical journal Postgraduate Medicine, may require hospitalization and injection of medication directly into the bloodstream. Fortunately, systemic Candida infections occur infrequently.
