City sales tax placed before Wayne voters

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Voters in Wayne will now be deciding whether or not the city should establish a city sales tax of 1 1/2 percent.

The Wayne City Council approved a resolution unanimously Tuesday night during its regular meeting to submit the issue before the city voters. Voters will decide on the city sales tax issue during a special election scheduled for May 12 of this year.

Another resolution passed by the city council will allow the voters to decide if the governing body of Wayne should be obligated to an ordinance that was also approved by the council in regard to the sales and use tax.

On May 12, the Wayne voters will decide on the following:

"Shall the governing body of the City of Wayne impose a sales and use tax at the rate of 1.5 percent upon the same transactions within the City of Wayne upon which the State of Nebraska is authorized to impose a tax."

And regarding the ordinance issue, voters will be asked to vote yes or no on the following:

"Whether all revenues collected from the imposition of the sales and use tax of 1 percent on transactions within the city of Wayne, and any interest accruing on the same, shall be used only for property tax relief purposes and for no other purposes."

"Approval for the Mayor (with consent of the city council) to appoint a three member Property Tax Relief Assurance Committee to review the audit and use of sales and use tax revenue and annually report its findings, with each term of the committee person being three years."

"No amendment or repeal be made on the ordinance except by a vote of the electors of the city of Wayne, or by subsequent enacted state statutes, or until the sales and use tax ordinance of the city of Wayne is terminated."

IN ADDITION to the "voting" resolutions passed Tuesday night by the city council, two ordinances were also unanimously approved.

The first ordinance (87-1) sets up a new chapter in the city's Municipal Code entitled "Sales and Use Tax."

The ordinance states that the city of Wayne shall impose a sales and use tax at the rate of 1.5 percent on transactions within Wayne that the state of Nebraska is authorized to impose a tax. It also mentions that the proceeds of the sales and use tax levy by the city shall be deposited in the general fund of the city.

It also is written in the ordinance that revenue derived from the sales and use tax of the city and deposited in the general fund would be distributed as follows:

— 1 percent sales and use tax shall be pledged to the general revenue fund to reduce real estate taxes within Wayne.

— 5 percent of the sales and use tax shall be dispersed from the general fund of Wayne for economic development.

— All costs of the city in the administration of the sales and use tax ordinance shall be paid by tax revenue after providing the sales and use tax of 1 percent for property tax relief purposes.

REGARDING THE economic funding derived from the sales tax, the ordinance states that the fund shall have a limitation of $500,000. All excess funds would be transferred to property tax relief.

Economic development will include infrastructure improvement (improvements for streets, water pipes, sewer and the like), electrical utility extensions, water extensions, sanitary sewer extensions and storm sewer extensions.

An Economic Development Advisory Committee will be appointed by the Mayor (with consent of the city council), consisting of seven members who will insure compliance with the sales and use tax ordinance of the city. The term for this office is one year.

This ordinance would go into effect if the 1 1/2 sales tax passes among the voters, and after the ordinance is published.

The second ordinance (87-2) approved by the city council, which will be voted upon by city residents, imposes restrictions on the sales and use tax ordinance; asks for creation of a property tax relief assurance committee; and prohibits amendments except by the vote of the city of Wayne.

BEFORE THE resolutions and ordinances passed, Craig Tiedtke, Wayne, spoke to the council about some concerns with the sales and use tax issue. Timing is not right, he said, primarily because of the large rise in the city's water rates. He added that he is sensitive to the older people with fixed income.

"Now is not the opportune time to do it," he told the council.

"And I think we ought to limit what we are to tax," he added.

He proposed to reduce the scope of tax, limiting it to what the state of Nebraska taxes. "I would like to tax the segment that they earmark as retail for restaurant, entertainment, and lodging," he said. He suggested the sales and use tax be applied to people coming through the community that use the restaurants and the lodging.

Councilwoman Carolyn Filler said that the council is giving the public a chance to change its tax base. The additional sales tax could allow more DOUG CARROLL of Wayne, employed with the Nebraska Department of Roads, does some surveying work on a section of Hwy. 35 just east of Wayne. The survey crew is tabulating preliminary elevations and alignments on Hwy. 35, which will later be sent to the design department at the Department of Roads in Lincoln. Future improvements for Hwy. 35 east of Wayne eight miles to the Hwy. 16 intersection will be designed.

Collection point begins operation next week

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A former farrow to finish hog operation structure about a 1 1/2 miles north of Wakefield has been converted recently into the Wakefield NFO Collection Point, Inc.

An open house at the new facility is scheduled for Sunday, March 1 from 2-5 p.m. Managing the collection point will be Deloy Benne of Wakefield, with Sharon Farmer of Thurston as secretary.

Benne said there are 16 other similar collection points in Nebraska and over 200 throughout the nation.

Numbers are important in the operation of the collection point. The corporation will allow hog producers to deliver their livestock production together in a large block, placing them in a position to bargain with the meat packers and gain more money for their product.

"The potential is there if we can get the cooperation from the producers," said Jim Stout of Wakefield, secretary to the Wakefield NFO Collection Point board of directors. Within a 40 mile radius of Wakefield are approximately 165,000 hogs being produced. Potentially, nearly 2,000 hogs a week could be delivered to the collection point.

Those figures were brought out last April when the NFO collection point was proposed near Wakefield.

The facility features an unloading area that can handle stock or horse trailers, pickups or straight trucks, he said. He estimates that the building, when filled, can contain 400 hogs.

A WEIGH SCALE is inside the building. "The packing house buys on the weight that is recorded here at this collection point," Stout said.

Hog producers are asked to call in advance before bringing in their hogs, because the hogs are sold before they arrive. An incentive built into the collection point is day ahead pricing.

Other incentives include 80 percent payment on grade and yield at the time of delivery, three day averaging, in transit death loss protection, forwarding contracting, and trust protected checks (meaning that if a packing plant shuts down and has your hogs, the check will still be distributed to the hog producer).

In addition to allowing the producer to control distribution, the check-off funds which the facility gathers can be used to join with other collection facilities to promote pork across the world.

FINANCING OF expenses at the collection point is covered by a certain rate per hundredweight that is deducted from the livestock producer's haul. The plant manager and secretary salaries are paid through this deduction system, in addition to covering the cost of items such as scale tickets, legal costs, meeting bonding requirements and bargaining with the packing companies. All totaled, the amount taken out of the producer's check would be approximately 90 cents per hundredweight, according to the collection point officials.

"Even with the deductions, Lyte Brown of Wakefield (a vice chairman on the collection point board) feels the concept of collectively joining other "points" in supplying hogs to the packing plants will be a real boost to hog producers in general. "Just how much it will help will depend on the cooperation of the people," he mentioned.

Stout said the program is not limited strictly to NFO members, but available for the benefit of all people. Once people are confident that the collection point operation is beneficial, then joining the NFO organization is encouraged.

Collection points have sold hogs to packing plants as far as California to get the best price for their producers. Taking the hogs out of state will lessen the number of hogs available for the local packing plants, meaning the packing plants will have to be paid for hogs the next day," said Benne. "They [the packing plants] have to give the producer a decent profit for the hogs or they won't have them," he added.

"It's a case of the producer trying to help themselves," he said.

Benne said the collection point concept is working well in other areas of Council requests extension of job training block grant

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Wayne's City Council unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday night requesting an extension of the Community Development Block Grant which was provided to Timpie, Inc.

According to Wayne City Administrator Phil Kloster, Timpie was not able to use up the $400,000 in grant money allocated to the company ($100,000 for start up training and $300,000 for on the job training). As of Dec. 31, the company has used up $154,000 of the grant funding, Kloster said.

One reason for not using the entire grant amount is because the criteria and qualifications that are involved, according to Kloster. "Each employee must meet the criteria to draw down the funds," he said.

The city, he said, has asked for an extension (to June of 1987) for the block-grant so that the remaining funds can be used.

Gloria Lessmann, representing Timpie, Inc., told the city council that Timpie has approximately 126 people who are recipients of community development block grant funding of some sort. "We have another approximately 80 individuals who have received assistance through the Job Training Partnership Act," she said. "So a lot of people are benefitting to date," she said.

SHE SAID IT was surprising to some people the large number of individuals who were eligible to qualify for the Job Training Partnership Act.

The changes in the criteria, from what was anticipated at the time when the grant was written when compared to what actually takes place in a start up project, was also a reason for the inability to draw down funds.

"We will continue to work with Wayne and the Department of Economic Development and see to it that, just as we have up until now, we will continue to work in filling the intent of that grant stipulation," she mentioned.

Currently there are 236 employees facility-wide at Timpie, Inc.

ALSO TUESDAY evening, the city council opened bids for the purchase of three vehicles — a four wheel drive cab and chassis truck, a two wheel drive pickup truck, and a four door sedan police cruiser.

The bids received from Ellingson Motors and Arnie's Ford Mercury for the trucks were rejected by the city council.

Police Chief Vern Fairchild

reviewed the bids submitted by Ellingson and Arnie's for the police cruiser and recommended the council approve the lower bid, without trade-in, from Arnie's at a cost of $13,954. The 1984 vehicle planned for trade-in will be sold outright, according to the vote of the city council members.

The city council also opened bids for agriculture land rental within the city limits. The land available includes 7.5 acres near one industrial site, 31 acres at another industrial site and 19.63 acres near the sewage lagoon.

Rick Lutt submitted the highest bid for the property, at $47.53 per acre for the site south of Timpie and $45.53 per acre on the remaining two sites.

In other action Tuesday, the council:

• Approved a requested "additional premises for liquor license holder" for the Pizza Hut in Wayne.

• And was approached by Craig Tiedtke of Wayne concerning the substantial increase in the city's water rates. The basic minimum charge had gone from $4 a quarter to $10 a month.

Tiedtke said he agreed that there would be a future water problem, but asked if other alternatives had been

Siren testing

The City of Wayne will conduct the monthly testing of the Civil Defense Outdoor Warning Sirens at 1 p.m., tomorrow (Friday). All sirens will be tested in the silent mode, with the exception of the following:
H/L/O: This signal will be allowed to run approximately fifteen seconds to test the effectiveness of the system.
If any resident living near a siren location should fail to hear the H/L/O signal, please contact the Police Department promptly, so that the siren can be checked for malfunction.

Farm Bureau leadership conference

Officers and leaders of the Dixon County Farm Bureau were invited participants in Nebraska Farm Bureau's first-ever leadership conference held Feb. 17-19 in Lincoln.
Representing Dixon County were Marie George, Dixon, president; Ed and Mildred Fahrenholz, Allen, state board; Dale Jackson, Allen, vice president; and Lori Jackson, Allen, woman at large.
Conference participants visited the State Capitol during legislative debate on Feb. 18, and joined Gov. Kay Orr, other state officers and state senators for an appreciation luncheon. Dixon County Farm Bureau members were luncheon hosts for State Senator Lowell Johnson, District 15.

Among those speaking during the conference was Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.
County Farm Bureau presidents, including Marie George, participated in a "spokesman training" workshop. Other county leaders learned how to make effective contacts with the legislature and Congress and how to motivate volunteers.

Allen student showing artwork

A showing of artwork by Nebraska Wesleyan University senior art students will open with a public reception on March 1 from 2 to 4 p.m. in Elder Gallery, Rogers Center for Fine Arts, 50th and Huntington, Lincoln. Among those showing artwork is Ajok Kwankin of Allen.
The show, which runs through March 25, features drawing, painting, ceramics, photography, jewelry, printmaking and commercial design.
Elder Gallery is open to the public on Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. It is closed on Mondays and school holidays.

Business after hours

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and members and the Business-After-Hours hosts. The Wayne Ambassadors have scheduled a special Business-After-Hours, on Monday, March 2 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at Gen's Steak House.
After just completing a week-long Membership Blitz, which was very successful, there will be an introduction of the new members as well as celebrating "Chamber of Commerce Month in Nebraska". The theme for Chamber of Commerce Month is "Building Together. The Chamber and You".
Tickets are available in advance at the Chamber Office for $2.50, or at the door for $3.00. The ticket grants admittance to the Business-After-Hours, one free beverage of choice and hors d'oeuvres. Tickets are available at advance price until 4:30 p.m., Monday, March 2nd.

Area singers perform

The Fremont-Midland Choral Society, over 100 voices strong, performed with the Nebraska Chamber Orchestra on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Fremont Senior High School Auditorium.
Students from this area who sang in the Fremont-Midland Choral Society are: Keri Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Mann of Wayne, who is a junior nursing major; Valerie Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bush of Wayne, a junior business major; and John Warne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Warne of Wayne, a senior history major.

Commissioners attend workshop

Robert Nissen and Marlin Beiermann, both Wayne County Commissioners, have completed an annual three-day workshop conducted in Kearney Feb. 18-20 by the Nebraska Association of County Officials.
The workshop, part of a continuing leadership development series, is intended to increase a county board member's awareness of his or her responsibilities as an elected official. The workshop also gives board members an opportunity to discuss bills introduced in the Nebraska legislature and the impact these measure would have on county government and local taxpayers.
Among the topics discussed at the workshop were: powers and duties of county boards as established by state statutes; proper bidding procedures; employee negotiations; understanding the civil liability of an elected official; financial alternatives available for county purchases and projects; the importance of a county personnel manual; and how to effectively work with the general public.

Allen-Waterbury rescue unit report

Treasurer William Snyder recently prepared the yearly report for the Allen-Waterbury Rescue Unit.
During 1986, the two units made a total of 52 runs, including 18 to Wakefield, 12 to Sioux City, 10 to Pender, 10 to Wayne, one to Ponca and one to Sioux Falls, S. D.
Using an average of two hours per call and four attendants per call, Treasurer Snyder noted a minimum of 416 volunteer hours. Snyder also noted that rates charged for the service conform with rates approved by Medicare.
Within the past 12 months, memorials were received for Charles Goodwin, C. O. Wilson, Armond Ellis, Oscar Koester and Nellie Jeffrey.
At the present time, three new volunteers are enrolled in a six-month EMTA training session in Ponca. They are Doug Ellis, Tonia Smith and Travis Schroeder.

Vice Chancellor to visit

Dr. Robert Furgason, the vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, will visit Wayne Thursday, Feb. 26, to meet with the UNL alumni leaders and discuss Lincoln campus plans for the future.
The University has recently called for new emphasis on quality scholarship and services as UNL updates its land-grant mission for the 21st century.
Furgason's meeting with local alumni will take place at the Black Knight, beginning at 8 a.m.

Reporting error

Occidental Nebraska Federal Savings Bank announced that a transcription error had inadvertently occurred in the press release which recently appeared in The Wayne Herald.
For the six months ending Dec. 31, 1986, the press release should have indicated that the bank recorded a loss of $4.25 million, or $2.91 per share, as compared to a loss of $4.35 million or $2.84 per share, for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1985.

On winning team

Jim Pehrson of Laurel was a team member of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln plant identification team which completed its 1986-87 season with a best-ever, fifth-place finish during competitions held Feb. 6-15 at the Society for Range Management meetings in Boise, Idaho.

On Dean's List

Local students were among 526 students in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln named to the Dean's List for the fall semester of the 1986-87 academic year.
Area students include Allen George and Tammy Kavanaugh of Dixon; Robert Mann of Hoskins; John Cace, Laurel; and Andrew Hillier and Rebecca Schmidt of Wayne.
Named to the Dean's List in the College of Home Economics were Ruth Loberg of Carroll (4.0 average); and Karen Sandahl, Wakefield (4.0 average).

Middle school artwork among wildlife exhibit

Art work from the Wayne Middle School will be several of the many exhibits featured during the fourth annual Student Wildlife Art Exhibit conducted at DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge beginning March 1 at Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Dan Johnson, instructor at the Wayne Middle School, said the seventh grade class had drawn pictures of wildlife at natural settings. Five of those drawings were selected to be on display at the wildlife art exhibit. Those drawings were by Kristin Davis, Kim Liska, Jill Leuders, Chad Jenkins and Bob Beeson.

The seventh grade class will take a field trip to DeSoto on Friday, March 20, coinciding with National Wildlife Week, where they will tour the museum and view several educational films. On the same day, the seventh graders will visit Ft. Atkinson and tour its museum.

Students from 33 Iowa and Nebraska schools will be sharing their artistic talents by depicting wildlife seen at DeSoto or in other natural settings.

Services were held Wednesday, Feb. 25 at Saint Michaels Church in South Sioux City. Fr. James Fitzgerald officiated.

Eleanor Anna Ida, the daughter of William and Mary Dierking Oehlerking, was born Aug. 21, 1916 at South Sioux City. She attended the Dakota County school system while living on a farm near Jackson. She married Bernard M. McCarthy on July 14, 1934 at Saint Patrick's Catholic Church in Jackson. In 1939 they moved to Randolph and in 1948 to Baermer where the family operated a tavern. In 1956 they moved to Colorado and were employed in Colorado Springs and Denver, before moving to Devonshire Acres in Sterling.

Survivors include her husband, Bernard of Devonshire Acres in Sterling, Colo.; three daughters, Mrs. Duane (Patricia) VonSeggern of Sidney, Mrs. Burton (Bernadine) Schmidt of Wayne and Mrs. Tamula (Peggy) Webb of Northglenn, Colo.; two brothers, Arnold Oehlerking of Sioux City and Bill Oehlerking of Allen; three sisters, Mrs. Isaac (Hilda) Zack of Sioux City, Mrs. Ray (Marie) Bartels of South Sioux City and Mrs. Rex (Peggy) Pearson of Dakota City; seven grandchildren; and one great grandchild.

Burial was at Saint Michael's Cemetery with the Gehrig and Son Funeral Home in Sidney and the Becker Funeral Home in South Sioux City in charge of arrangements.

Campaign of fear and fundraising

James Roosevelt is not saving Social Security

Frequently I receive letters from older Nebraskans who are concerned about the future of the Social Security system and Medicare. I know that these are very important programs for our senior citizens and all Americans, and as a Member of Congress I certainly intend to act in the best interest of my constituents and do nothing to jeopardize these programs. Of course I am always pleased to receive their views on these important issues.

I am, however, very concerned about the activities of James Roosevelt and his National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare. This organization has targeted our older Americans with an outrageous campaign of fear and fundraising techniques designed to add more loot to its coffers.

At recent hearings before the House Select Committee on Aging some interesting facts were revealed. The National Committee has a $30 million balance, and that amount is expected to reach $40 million this year. More than eighty percent of the money they raise is utilized to generate more solicitations for money, not to lobby for seniors!

The California consulting firm which handles mailings for the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare gets one nickel for each of the 300 million pieces mailed. How much of the money sent to James Roosevelt by our senior citizens goes to benefit them and how much goes to benefit the consulting firm? The figures presented to the House Committee on Aging indicate that for every $10 sent to the National Committee only $2 goes into their alleged lobbying for seniors' benefit.

Representative Bob Wise, who serves on the House Select Committee on Aging, said in December that he had never even seen a lobbyist from James Roosevelt's National Committee. Although the National Committee presents itself in its mailings as an older Americans' lobbying organization based in Washington, most Members of Congress and staff members have never encountered a registered lobbyist from the National Committee.

The National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare is using deceptive means for raising money from elderly citizens. James Roosevelt is capitalizing on his famous last name to scare thousands of Americans in an effort to raise funds for his organization. I have been advising my constituents that they may be wasting their money by sending it to him.

Nebraska Should Be Producing Chickens for Processors
Nebraska is missing a good opportunity to produce chickens for local processing facilities. On a recent visit to Fremont I had an opportunity to tour the Campbell Soup Company facilities in Nebraska cook, bone, dice and freeze dry the chicken for addition to soups, and ship the prepared chicken to canneries in Texas.

It costs Campbell more to ship the chickens into Nebraska, and it costs more to grow the chickens in those five southern states. A North Carolina farmer pays 65 cents more per bushel for corn that has to be brought into that state. Every eight or ten chickens grown in Nebraska would provide a market for a bushel of Nebraska corn or grain sorghum. Campbell officials agreed with me that their costs would go down and that they would be better off if the chickens were available in Nebraska. They seem perplexed that Nebraska has not yet seized this economic opportunity.

I am pleased to see that State Senator Scott Moore has introduced a bill that directs the Nebraska Department of Economic Development to seek out ways to promote poultry production in the state. Poultry production would provide a source of employment, a source of revenue and an additional use of Nebraska products. This is an opportunity that we should not ignore.

facility. Campbell is bringing 80 million pounds of chicken a year into the state for use in its Fremont and Tecumseh facilities. That is a market that should belong to Nebraska.

Just those two plants require 16 million chickens a year and those chickens would consume 1.6 million bushels of corn. Campbell has to ship the chickens into Nebraska from Arkansas, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina and Alabama. The Camp-

Waste site priorities

Undoubtedly, the most important issue to the 17th district at present is the possibility of a nuclear waste site in northeast Nebraska. This past week, five other senators joined me in a meeting with Governor Orr's Chief of Staff, Hans Brisch, regarding this extremely important concern. We recommended that the Governor appoint a task force to study and monitor the activities of the five state compact, of which Nebraska is a member. Since that meeting, the Governor has agreed with our concerns and will be appointing the task force members within the next two weeks.

The task force will examine the benefits and problems involved with belonging to the Central Interstate Compact and whether the Compact's present review procedures are adequate. I have also co-sponsored LB 426 which gives the legislature control over the compact. With the recommendations of the task force and the passage of LB 426, Nebraskans will have the process returned to your representatives to determine the best course of action for the state to follow.

I want to thank those of you who traveled to Lincoln on Friday, Feb. 20 to attend the public hearing on LB 426. Your presence in front of the Natural Resources Committee was valuable in helping us convey the concern. During testimony, I was asked why the interest was concentrated in northeast Nebraska. My response was that we are the ones that have had sites identified; if sites were identified in all 49 legislative districts, there would be more interest among the senators. The point I was trying to make was that this is a Nebraska problem, not just a problem for the areas of the state where there may be a site identified. I believe that your presence and our testimony got this point across.

We must be able to make our own determination of what's best for us and our environment, not simply delegate this activity to the Compact to decide. Obviously, in dealing with a problem that has such long-term environmental impact, we need the flexibility of managing our own affairs, not turning it over to a private organization. We have a truly awesome responsibility to act in the best interest of the future generations who will be living with our decisions.

Because Nebraska has two nuclear power plants and several fine medical centers that produce nuclear waste, there is no doubt that this state and its citizens will have to deal with the radioactive wastes generated here. The immediate issue is whether or not we will be protected in terms of disposal technology and what potential liability we face should the day arrive when we have to contend with waste storage. The point is that we are faced with being part of the nuclear age. Saying that the answer to our radioactive waste problem is to ship it someplace else like Nevada, an "anywhere but in my back yard" attitude will no longer solve the problem. The federal government has made it clear that the states who are producing the wastes will be responsible.

Hopefully, by working together we can solve this problem with the best decisions that can be made. We need to be sure that all alternatives have been considered regarding the storage technology, location, environmental risks, and long-term best interest of all Nebraskans. I will be working diligently for that goal and invite all of you to join me.

Senator Gerald A. Conway

Let's act now!

I don't know how many of our local patrons are as "fired up" as I am about the possibility of a low-level radioactive waste disposal site being located in our county.

People, we didn't realize the impact the meeting in Norfolk last Feb. 4 would have on our home. Chadron was warned and showed up in force. Now, their area is considered a "non-interested area" and will no longer be considered as a possible site.

Well, now it is time we showed the Department of Environmental Control (DEC) that we are a "non-interested area" too!

There has been a committee formed here in Knox County that will be known as the Committee for a Safe Environment (CASE). I have been asked and have accepted the chairmanship for northeast Nebraska.

We have so little time between now and April 1 when bids will be opened to private contractors to bid for the construction.

By June 1 the contractor will be accepted and it will be up to him to select the site. When the contractor selects the site, he will be instructed by the DEC as to which area will be positive as to hosting a waste site.

Now is the time to let everyone know the site is not welcome here.

Many of you are curious as to why the particular sites were chosen. All of the sites are of the proper soil type, a clay base. Because of the clay base and its compactability, it lends itself to an underground facility because of its stability.

But, did you know that these sites were selected by an environmental drafting firm in New York? These drafters have never even seen the land. They have only read geographical soil maps. They never even considered the people who depend upon this land to provide a living, no matter how great or small.

These sites were also chosen without a survey of the local and underground aquifers. These decisions will be made by the contractor who receives the bid.

The selected site will encompass 160 acres with only 20 to 30 acres of this being used for the actual site.

There have been six such waste disposal sites built in the eastern United States. Three of these sites are now closed and the other three are facing severe contamination problems.

One of the three closed sites was located in New Jersey. After it was built and used only one year, the contractor left the site, forcing the state of New Jersey to clean the site for a mere $282 million. This money came from state taxes.

If it is because we are an impacted area, we are being considered for this site, how can we or will we ever stimulate our local economy? I am afraid again only see money leaving our county.

Farmers, business persons, family persons, senior citizens, teachers, students, ministers, priests, everyone: You can make a difference! Write or call your local senators. Contact the Department of Environmental Control. If you don't let someone know how you feel on this issue, the contractors will take it as apathy. Join together! Talk to your neighbors, patrons, and friends! Let's go to work!

Governor proposing state spend $90,000 to promote traditional and new crops

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Where can I find out about growing tomatoes?

Will cauliflower grow in my area of Nebraska?

How do you sort and grade vegetables for sale?

Can someone in Nebraska make money growing snails or crayfish?

Nebraskans with questions about crops, alternative and tradition, often turn to the state Department of Agriculture for answers.

And Gov. Kay Orr is proposing that the state spend $90,000 to help provide the answers. The money will be used to promote traditional Nebraska products plus help farmers grow and sell new crops.

That $90,000 for agricultural promotion and development is one of the few new programs in the Orr budget. The money would not begin a new program but would help expand a limited program currently funded through a $120,000 two-year federal grant.

Part of that federal money is used to pay the salary of one staff member, who tries to find the answers to specific questions and to help Nebraskans grow and sell new products.

Sometimes the help goes beyond advice. The Department of Agriculture is providing some money to D.J.'s Produce, Inc. (formed by Connie Dobson and Dennis Johnson) to grow onions in the Stromsburg area. The new company is researching a hybrid onion that is planted in the fall, goes dormant in the winter and can be harvested in July. Nebraska-grown onions are usually harvested in the fall.

IN EXCHANGE for financial help on the research the Department will be able to share the results with other Nebraskans.

Part of the federal money is also helping pay for University of Nebraska research on 32 alternative crops from vegetables like potatoes and broccoli to herbs like canola and amaranth.

The results of the research will be published in a handbook on alternative crops.

Several years ago promotion and marketing meant convincing people to eat and use Nebraska products. Today it extends beyond that traditional approach, to helping Nebraska farmers grow and sell new products.

"People need to know how to grow a product and what to do with it once it's grown," says Denis Blank, acting director of the Department of Agriculture.

The promotion and development program will be more than simply providing information. It will be a centralized clearinghouse, coordinating work with the Department of Economic Development, the University's foods processing center and the already existing commodity groups.

"Somebody needs to serve as a facilitator for these groups, to unify some market efforts," Blank says.

THE PROGRAM will also handle some traditional marketing work. "Market and promotion are nebulous areas. Sometimes it's hard to determine the exact results," Blank says.

For example, last October the department played host to agricultural representatives from about a dozen foreign countries. The agricultural attaché from the Soviet Union was impressed with Nebraska and apparently talked of his visit back home.

In late November a Soviet film crew came back to Nebraska to film a documentary on agriculture in the Midwest.

"We don't have any idea what that will lead to," Blank said.

"International marketing often is the result of two people hitting it off right."

Legislative pace becoming more hectic

by Senator Elroy M. Hefner
With nearly one-third of the current Legislative session behind us, the pace is picking up and the sessions are becoming more hectic.

This week the Legislature passed LB 284 which increased the income tax withholding rate from 19 percent of federal withholding to 21 percent effective on March 1. The purpose of LB 284 is to keep the state from losing tax revenue because of changes in the federal tax system while major changes in the state tax system are debated.

At the present time Nebraska's individual income tax rate is figured as a percentage of federal income tax liability. The Governor's proposed change would base the personal income tax on federally adjusted gross income.

The Legislature gave initial approval to LB 730 which would increase the tax on a pack of cigarettes from 23 cents to 27 cents. In addition the bill also imposes an excise tax of 15 percent of the wholesale price of other tobacco products, such as cigars, chewing tobacco and snuff.

This bill faces two more votes in the Legislature before it would be submitted to the governor for her signature or veto.

Proponents of LB 730 indicate it would generate approximately $7 million in additional revenue during 1987-88. $500,000 would be earmarked for cancer research at Eppley Cancer Institute in Omaha which would bring to $1 million the total amount from tobacco tax revenue reserved for the institute.

This week the Legislature also appropriated $100,000 from the state general fund for the Social Services Department. This will be used in securing $170,000 federal funds that are available for this purpose. LB 392 was passed with the emergency clause so will take effect immediately if the governor signs it. Supporters of the bill say it will retain employees needed to provide services in rural Nebraska and also keep more offices open in counties located in these areas.

World Day of Prayer service March 6 at First Baptist Church

World Day of Prayer celebrates its centennial on March 6 with the theme "Come and Rejoice."

In Wayne, the celebration will begin at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church. All area women are invited to attend.

A 100-year-old prayer movement of global dimensions, World Day of Prayer is a worldwide expression of mutual prayer and Christian unity.

World Day of Prayer offerings make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international projects in support of the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

WORLD DAY OF Prayer, which began in the United States in 1887 as a day of prayer for mission, has developed into a movement in which Christians in some 170 countries and regions of the world gather each year to observe a common day of prayer. The same theme and worship service is shared and translated into hundreds of languages and dialects.

Church Women United, since its founding in 1941, has been the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States and has assumed responsibility for preparation and distribution of World Day of Prayer resources and materials throughout the world.

Church Women United is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service.

engagements

Maly-Decker

Mr. and Mrs. James Maly of Wayne announce the Feb. 14 engagement of their daughter, Nancy Ann Maly, to Daniel Joseph Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Decker of Dakota City. The bride-elect is employed part-time at The Wayne Herald in Wayne. Her fiancé has been employed at United Vending Food Service in Dakota City for the past two and a half years. No wedding date has been set by the couple.

policy on weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area. We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication. Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 30 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a cutline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Rallies scheduled

Methodist Churches celebrating faith-life

United Methodist Churches of the Northeast District are rallying to celebrate their faith-life.

One such event will be held at the Osmond United Methodist Church on Sunday, March 1 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Another is scheduled Sunday, March 1 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Atkinson United Methodist Church.

Members, friends and guests of the church, as well as the public, are invited to attend. Persons needing rides are asked to contact their nearest United Methodist Church.

DR. CHESTER Williams, steeped in the tradition of Black United Methodist Churches, professor of evangelism at Boston University School of Theology, and executive minister, Inner City and Africa Ministries, will preach and lead the participants in the celebrations.

Other events led by Dr. Williams while he is in Nebraska will include three spiritual growth mini-retreats on the subject of formulating and sharing one's Christian faith.

The study will focus on the biblical and theological foundations for evangelism.

IDENTICAL workshops will be offered at Long Pine Community Building on Monday, March 2 from 9 to 11:30 a.m.; Elgin United Methodist Church on Monday, March 2 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. (supper provided); and Wausa United Methodist Church on Tuesday, March 3 from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Dr. Chester Williams

All interested persons are invited. Dr. Williams also will lead a continuing education event and preach to United Methodist ministers of the area in a special Shrove Tuesday observance at the First United Methodist Church in Norfolk on Tuesday, March 3, beginning at 10 a.m.

Microwave cooking lesson set

Mary Temme, Wayne County extension agent-home economics, said a recent survey reported that the most frequent uses of microwave ovens are for reheating and defrosting foods and cooking fresh or frozen vegetables.

The Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne County is sponsoring a lesson, "New Waves in Cooking," today (Thursday) at 1:30 p.m. at the courthouse meeting room in Wayne. Donna Liska, microwave cooking instructor, will demonstrate techniques for cooking a variety of foods in the microwave oven.

Temme said the main objective of the lesson is to help homemakers gain confidence in using their microwave to prepare main dishes and complete meals.

Participants will receive a variety of materials to help them convert a conventional recipe for microwave use and make better use of the microwave.

Celebrates 50 years

WAYNE AND OPAL Marsh were recently honored on their 50th wedding anniversary with a surprise reception hosted by the Wayne city administration, the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, family and friends.

It's IRA. Or IRS.

There's still time to reduce your 1986 taxable income up to $2,000 ($4,000 for a working couple) whether you're self-employed or have a company pension or profit sharing plan—with an insured IRA account at Columbus Federal Savings Bank.

NO FEES
and
QUARTERLY COMPOUNDING

This may be the final year you qualify for the full deduction—so it's important you open your IRA before April 15, 1987. The money you save and the interest it earns are not taxed until you retire. So, instead of giving your money to the IRS, stop in and open a Columbus Federal IRA.

Q. Can working with a video display terminal all day cause eye problems?
A. There is no conclusive evidence that video display terminal (VDT) work causes vision problems but it can aggravate existing ones, even minor ones that do not affect other seeing tasks, such as reading or driving. This is why the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) recommends that all VDT operators have periodic eye examinations. Tell your optometrist you are a VDT operator, describe your VDT work tasks and mention any eye strain symptoms you are experiencing. Also, measure the working distance between your eyes and your VDT screen. All of this is important in determining your on-the-job vision needs. There are special aids for VDT operators, such as polarizing lenses to combat glare and wide-band trifocals to give those who need an intermediate distance lens prescription a full view of the screen. Your optometrist can also advise about environmental factors and rest breaks for VDT workers.

NSAA sets class division for two years

The Nebraska School Activities Association has released its latest two year high school classification restructuring for 1987-88 and 88-89 school years.

As usual there are several schools that will be going up a class as well as others taking a step down. Among those schools making a move are Wakefield, Allen, Winside, Wausa, Beemer, Homer and Wynot.

According to Rex Jones, associate director of the NSAA, the reclassification of the classes occurs every two years. The last Friday in September every year the state's high schools are required to report their enrollment figures of all students in grades 9-11. The classification is done accordingly to the enrollment figures.

Jones said the top 32 schools in enrollment are listed as Class A schools. The next 64 schools are classified as Class B schools. From there it gets a little complicated.

In basketball, volleyball and football Class C is divided into two sections as is Class D. In basketball and volleyball Class C1, C2 and D1 are divided with 64 schools apiece. Class D2 gets the remaining schools. In football the remaining 11-man schools, after Class A and B, are divided into Class C1 and C2. The eight-man schools are divided to make up Class D1 and D2. There is also a class for six-man football.

The sports of wrestling and track are made up of just four classes. In wrestling, the schools smaller than Class B are divided evenly into Class C and D according to size. Track is as follows: Class A, 32 schools; Class B, 64 schools; Class C, 128 schools; and Class D, all the remaining schools.

Now that you know everything about how the NSAA classifies the schools, what does that mean? I'm not sure!

But it does have some meaning to several area schools. Wakefield will be moving down from Class C1 to C2 in basketball and volleyball. Allen and Beemer will be making a jump from Class D to C in track while Wausa, Winside and Wynot will go down to Class D. In basketball Beemer will jump from Class D1 to C2 while Wausa and Wynot will drop from C2 to D1. Homer will go from Class C2 to C1 in football.

Wayne-Carroll High School has an enrollment of 193 students in grades 9-11. That ranks Wayne 44th out of the 64 Class B schools. Grand Island Northwest is the largest school in the class with 514 students. Kimball is the smallest school in the class with 151 freshmen through juniors.

Laurel listed its enrollment at 104 students. Its Class C1 in football, basketball and volleyball and Class C in track. Wakefield has 79 9th-11th grade students and is classified Class D1 in football, C2 in basketball and volleyball and Class C in track. Allen High School reported an enrollment of 66 students. It is considered Class D1 in football, C2 in basketball and volleyball and Class C in track. Winside, the smallest of the five area schools has an enrollment of 53 kids. It is Class D1 in football, volleyball and basketball and Class D in track.

You can hear the sound of aluminum tingling in the air at Wayne State as both the Wayne State baseball team and softball team tune up for the start of their seasons.

The baseball squad will begin play Monday in sunny Cocoa Beach, Florida. The Cats will play eight games in five days on their southern trip.

The women will open Sunday at Creighton University before they head south for at least five games in Texas and Oklahoma beginning March 3. The Lady Cats will end the trip when they play in the Central States Tournament March 6-7 at Oklahoma City.

Winside downs Hartington; loses to Wausa in subdistricts

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

Winside made it by its first opponent in the Class C2-8 subdistrict tournament Monday night by nipping Hartington 59-54 in overtime.

The Wildcats' win allowed them to advance to the semifinals to battle Class C2's second-ranked team, Wausa, on Tuesday. The results weren't as favorable against the Vikings. Wausa trounced Winside 57-49.

In Monday night's win the Wildcats overcame a five-point deficit with less than a minute to play to push the game into overtime.

Hartington led 50-45 when Kevin Jaeger hit a shot and was fouled. Jaeger missed the free throw but he pulled Winside to within three points. Hartington brought the ball down court and put up a shot that missed. Daryl Mundil got the rebound and was fouled. Mundil hit one of two free throws to pull the Wildcats to within two points at 50-48 with 45 seconds left.

Jaeger came up with the biggest defensive play of the game when Hartington tried to put the ball in play. He stole the inbounds pass and drove for the tying basket. The senior missed his first attempt but got his own rebound and followed it in to tie the score with 32 seconds remaining.

Hartington worked the clock down for the last shot but with five seconds remaining Rob Morten was called for traveling. Winside turned the ball right back over when Chris Nau walked with the ball with three seconds left. A last second shot by Hartington failed and the game went into overtime.

Mundil gave Winside the lead in overtime at 52-50. Nau iced the game for the Wildcats as he hit four clutch free throws after Hartington came back to tie the score at 52. Mike Thies finished off the scoring by converting a three-point play with six seconds left.

Jaeger and Thies carried the Wildcats offensively. Coach Mark Freburg said. Jaeger led all scorers with 20 points while Thies added 15 markers. Thies scored 10 points in the first half and Jaeger tallied 16 points in the second half. The pair also each recorded seven rebounds while Jaeger added nine assists. No other Winside scorer hit double figures.

The Wildcats shot well from the field as they hit 53 percent from the floor making 24-45 shots.

Hartington was led by the 13-point performance of Corey Crandall.

Two of Winside's three wins this season have been at the expense of Hartington. Winside beat the Wildcats 63-55 on Jan. 29.

Against the Vikings Jaeger, Thies and Tim Jacobsen provided the offense. Thies led the way with 15 points while Jaeger and Jacobsen added 14 points each.

Wausa took the early lead of 14-9 after eight minutes of play. The Vikings increased the lead to 28-19 at halftime. Winside got to within three points right before half before Wausa made a short run. The winners outscored the Wildcats 16-9 in the third period to take a commanding 44-28 into the fourth period.

The Vikings still led by 17 points with about 2:30 left in the game. Wausa Coach Stan Hageman pulled his starters to let everyone play. Freburg said he told his players that there was still plenty of time to get back into the game. His team took him to heart and came out and got a couple of steals and cut the lead to eight points with a minute to play.

That was enough for Hageman. He quickly inserted his starters for the remainder of the game.

Wausa's Terry Nelson led all scorers with 24 points. Winside applied a box-and-one and diamond-and-one defense on the 6-7 senior. Mundil was the Winside defender that guarded Nelson man-to-man.

Wausa outrebounded the smaller Winside club. Jaeger and Mundil topped Winside with nine and seven boards respectively. The pair also dished off five assists apiece.

Winside finished the season with a 3-15 mark. Four seniors, Thies, Jaeger, Mundil and Tim Voss played their last game for the Wildcats.

Torrid shooting dooms Laurel in loss

Stanton burned the nets Tuesday night as they eliminated Laurel in the Class C1-10 Subdistrict Tournament by a 78-60 count.

The Mustangs hit for 22 points in the first quarter and posted a 40-30 lead at halftime. Stanton made a incredible 75 percent from the field in the opening half. The Mustangs connected on 18-24 field goals. In the first 13 minutes of the game Stanton missed only one field goal attempt.

Laurel Coach Mark Hrabik said with the way Stanton was shooting the ball he felt fortunate to be down by only 10 points. Hrabik said his team scored enough points to win "a normal game."

Laurel made a run at the Mustangs in the third period. The Bears trailed by 16 points before cutting the lead to seven points. Stanton scored the last basket of the quarter to take a 54-45 lead into the final period.

Stanton came out in the fourth period and scored a couple of quick baskets to push the lead back to double digits. Laurel was forced to press and the Mustangs broke the press and got several easy baskets to post the final margin.

Brent Halsch led the Bears in scoring with 19 points. The senior was also the top rebounder with 12 boards. Guards Scott Marquardt and Doug Manz each tallied 10 points for Laurel.

Stanton's Doug Weatherholt led all scorers with 20 points. The Mustangs outrebounded Laurel 40-32. Stanton advanced to the finals of the subdistrict where they will play Pierce, tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at Norfolk Catholic. Pierce eliminated Norfolk Catholic in a first-round game to earn the chance to meet Stanton.

Laurel will lose two seniors from this year's 5-11 squad. Halsch and Rick Lage finished their careers for the Bears.

Cats prepare for Dist. 11 playoffs

The Wayne State Wildcats ended its season on a down note but overall the team is excited as it enters the District 11 playoffs.

The Cats dropped a 82-79 decision to Kearney State at Cushing Coliseum Saturday night. The Antelopes jumped to an 8-0 lead early in the game and the Cats could never recover. The two teams played evenly the rest of the first half as Kearney State led at intermission 43-35.

Wayne State Coach Steve Aggers said his team made several mental mistakes in their execution in the early going. But the Lopers earned the first-half lead by hitting 58 percent from the field, 18-31. Wayne State hit only 44 percent of its shots from the field in the opening half.

In the second half the Cats outscored the hosts 44-39 but it wasn't enough. A big factor after the intermission was free throws. Wayne State got to the line only three times in the second half making two of them. The Lopers cashed in on 17-21 gift shots in the second half. Kearney State hit only 11 field goals in the second half compared to Wayne State's 19 field goals.

Aggers said his team made three crucial turnovers late in the game that could have changed the outcome of the game.

The Wayne State coach said he felt his team played well enough defensively to win. He said anytime a team can hold Kearney State to 10 points under its season average at Cushing they've done a good job.

The Cats kept Kearney State's All-American candidate Bart Kofod in check. The senior managed only 12 points on 4-13 shooting from the field. The Omaha native came into the game ranked 17th in the nation among NAIA schools. Kofod was averaging 26.2 points a game.

Darren Soucie led the winners with 16 points, Gary Shoup added 14 points. The Lopers outrebounded Wayne State 36-33.

The Cats placed four scorers in double figures. Junior Byron Haas paced the visitors with a season-high 24 points. Scott Hurley added 17 points. The junior scored 15 of his 17 from three-point land. Russ Rosenquist and Marcus Wilson tossed in 11 and 10 points respectively.

Wayne State finished the regular season 14-17 overall. The Cats were 5-9 in the CSIC and 5-3 in the NAC. Kearney State ended the season 24-7 overall and 11-3 in the CSIC. Kearney State won the NAC with a 7-1 mark.

Wayne State will now move on to the District 11 playoffs. They will host Dana College Thursday evening in the opening round.

This year marks the first time since the 1969-70 season that Wayne State has hosted a playoff game. In 1970 the Cats beat Hastings at home and advanced to the NAIA national tournament in Kansas City.

Wayne State downed Dana in the second game of the season 101-85 at Rice Auditorium. Aggers said the Vikings are a much better team than they were in November.

"They were just learning a new system under a new coach," Aggers said. "In the last part of the season they have jelled. When we played them the first time they were more of a one-dimensional team."

Dana is led by Todd Hinkle and Scott Kaiser. Hinkle is averaging 21.5 points a game while Kaiser averages 20.3 points and nine rebounds a contest. The Vikings are averaging 85 points a contest while giving up 85.5 points. Wayne State enters as the top defensive team in District 11 allowing 73.1 points a game. The Cats average 72 points a game offensively.

Aggers said it is really critical to get the fans to the game. He said the Cats will need that sixth-man advantage.

TWO WAYNE defenders battle for the ball against an unidentified Blair player.

Lady Blue Devils bow to Blair in districts

The Wayne High girls had their season halted in the opening round of the Class B-4 District tournament Monday night as Blair edged the Lady Blue Devils 49-43.

Blair, 11-7, advanced to the semifinals to play Columbus Scouts, Class B's top-ranked team.

The locals lost the game in the fourth quarter when they were outscored 22-12.

Blair led after the first eight minutes 12-11. The Lady Blue Devils outscored Blair in the second half 12-6 to take a 23-18 lead at halftime. Wayne Coach Marlene Uhing said Blair played a zone defense in the first half which allowed her girls to get the ball inside at will. As a result Kecla Corbit scored 15 of her game-high 22 points in the first half. Uhing said the Lady Blue Devils also controlled the boards in the first half.

Blair came out in the second half in a full-court, man-to-man defense which caused Wayne some problems. The Lady Bears scored the first six points of the quarter to take a 24-23 lead. The locals rebounded to take a 31-27 lead after three quarters.

The Lady Blue Devils found themselves down by four points with about a minute to play. From there they were forced to foul and Blair was able to capitalize at the free-throw line. The Lady Bears hit 8-12 gift shots in the final quarter.

Uhing said her team didn't shut down Blair's Janet Kruse. The senior tallied 19 points for the winners.

The Wayne coach said the girls didn't execute offensively in the second half. Uhing said that didn't have anything to do with the girls' effort. She said they played hard for four quarters. Uhing said the lack of execution on offense affected Wayne's defense.

Uhing credited Corbit in her final appearance. The senior added 16 rebounds to go along with her 22 points. Uhing said guard Dana Nelson also had a good game. Nelson did a good job of handling the Blair pressure and made some good passes to the post. The sophomore finished the game as Wayne's number two scorer with nine points.

Two other Lady Blue Devil seniors, Shelly Pick and Jodi Dittman, also played in their last game.

Uhing said she was impressed with the improvement this year's team made from last year. The girls finished the season with a 15-5 mark.

Lady Cats down Flames to advance in playoffs

The Wayne State women lost their regular season finale but the Lady Cats won a big one Monday night to qualify them for the District 11 playoffs.

Kearney State downed the Lady Cats 59-56 in a defensive struggle Saturday night but Wayne State came back and whipped the College of Saint Mary Monday night to earn the right to face Midland College Wednesday night.

Coach Lenny Klaver said he found out his team would play the College of Saint Mary at about 7 p.m. Sunday night. Klaver said he and his team thought their season was over after the Kearney loss over because the Lady Cats didn't win the required 40 percent of their games to qualify for the playoffs.

The Flames were also short of the 40 percent mark. District 11 representatives agreed to match up the two teams because the winning team would then have the required percentage of wins and Klaver's crew couldn't have been happier.

The Lady Cats avenged a pair of losses to the Flames earlier in the season with the 84-69 win in the game played at Concordia College.

The Lady Cats went on top 38-30 after the first 20 minutes. Wayne State hit 52 percent from the field in the opening half compared to 50 percent shooting by the Flames. The difference in the half was Wayne State hit eight more free throws than CSM.

In the second half both teams kept up their hot shooting as the Lady Cats hit 62 percent of their shots to finish the game hitting 56 percent. The Flames connected on 50 percent of their shots to finish the game with 50 percent accuracy.

Klaver said the Lady Cats applied full-court zone pressure which forced the Flames into 23 turnovers.

Another key factor was free throws. Wayne State hit 30-40 gift shots for the game while the College of Saint Mary was 7-14 from the stripe.

The win raised the Lady Cats' record to 12-17. Dawnn Berni led all scorers with 24 points. The junior also added eight rebounds. Mary Beth Erhorn hit 8-11 shots from the field to finish with 16 points. Tonya Kelley came off the bench and tossed in 15 while Linda Schnittler added 10 markers. Michelle Blomberg was credited with 10 assists.

Pam Courtney and Beth Armstrong led the Flames with 18 points apiece.

Wayne State struggled from the field in its loss to the Lady Lopers in Kearney. The Lady Cats hit only 20-66 shots for 29 percent. The Lady Lopers made 23-52 field goals for 44 percent.

Kearney State posted a 36-30 lead at halftime. The locals fell behind further in the second half before they made their run.

Kearney State had built a 50-35 lead with about 10 minutes to play. Back came the Lady Cats. The locals outscored the hosts 21-9 down the stretch but it wasn't quite enough.

Berni and Blomberg were the only two Lady Cats to score in double figures. Berni finished with game-high figures in both scoring and rebounding. The Stromberg native hit for 19 points while gathering 13 rebounds. Blomberg with all of her baskets coming from three-point range. Brenda Vortlangen led Kearney State with 14 points. Colleen Regan added 12 for 17-9 Kearney. The win allowed the Lady Lopers to split the season series with Wayne State.

Dist. 11 notes

Dawnn Berni of Wayne State and Lee Keller of Hastings were selected as the players of the week in District 11 for the past week.

Berni scored 52 points and grabbed 36 rebounds in two games for the Lady Cats. The junior from Stromberg was 20-38 from the field and 12-18 from the free-throw line. Berni tallied 23 points in the loss to Ft. Hays. The junior is averaging 17.4 points a game and 10.3 rebounds a contest.

Others nominated were Kristie Oiberding of Peru State, Patty Stander of Doane, Carol Rochford of Kearney State and Lori Briscoe of Midland.

Keller scored 48 points in two games including 32 against Concordia. Keller was 18-28 from the field and 12-13 from the free-throw line. He was also credited with 14 rebounds.

Others nominated for the award were Roger Johnson of Midland, Byron Haas of Wayne State, Darren Soucie of Kearney State, and Todd Hinkle of Dana.

Trojans enter finals after nipping Homer

Wakefield rallied from an 11-point deficit as the Trojans outscored Homer 24-14 in the fourth period to nip the Knights 62-61 in the opening game of the Class C-19 Subdistrict Tournament.

A top of the key jumper by Brad Lund gave Wakefield a 62-61 lead with nine seconds left in the game. Homer came down for the last shot and never got a shot off as they lost the ball out of bounds.

The Lund jumper gave the Trojans only their third lead of the game. Wakefield went on top 2-0 and 4-2 in the early going.

"The kids have been working hard all year long," Wakefield Coach Paul Eaton said. "They deserve this one."

The win allowed Wakefield to avenge an earlier loss to the Knights. Homer crushed the Trojans 59-39 on Jan. 8 in the Post Holiday Tournament held in Wakefield.

After the first three quarters Tuesday it looked as if Homer would sweep the season series. The Knights led after one period 19-12. Wakefield outscored the Knights 14-13 in the second quarter and trailed at halftime 32-26. Homer increased the lead after three quarters to 47-38. That's where the momentum jumped to the Trojans' side.

Senior Kevin Greve turned in one of his finer performances of the season for Wakefield. The 6-3 Greve hit for a game-high 26 points while gathering a dozen rebounds.

"Kevin was a dominate factor inside tonight," Eaton said. "Not only did Greve have to battle Homer's size inside but he also had to contend with foul trouble. The senior picked up his third foul in the second quarter trying to draw a charging foul. He again had to take a seat next to Eaton in the third period for about six minutes after picking up his fourth foul. Greve played intelligently in the fourth quarter and avoided his fifth foul."

Sophomore Scott Lund also hit for double figures from the field. Lund tallied five field goals and was 3-4 from the line to finish with 13 points. Lund also dished off six assists. The Trojans outrebounded a taller Homer squad 30-23. Mike Nelson added eight rebounds for the winners.

Homer was paced by three players. Chris Hergerader tossed in 19 points while Mark Bliven and Keith Swanson added 16 and 12 points respectively.

Wakefield, 7-11, advances to the subdistrict finals tonight (Thursday) where they will play Ponca in the 7:30 p.m. game at the South Sioux Minidome. Ponca was a 71-43 winner over Emerson-Hubbard in its first-round game.

Lady Cats optimistic for new season

It may seem hard to believe but weather permitting, the Wayne State women's softball team will begin its season Sunday afternoon in Omaha with a doubleheader against Creighton University.

Wayne State Coach Marilyn Strate said she thinks her team can improve on its record-setting season of last year.

The reason for the optimism is the return of eight starters, including an All-American. Overall, the Lady Cats return 14 from last year's squad that finished 14th in the nation in the NAIA. Wayne State finished 32-14 last season. The 32 wins set a new school record for most wins in a season.

The Lady Wildcats will be led by two-time All-American Shelle Tomaszewicz. The senior left-fielder led the way last year by hitting .400. Tomaszewicz finished the season with 20 extra base hits, 35

RBI's and an .807-slugging percentage that was good enough to place her fourth nationally.

Joining the Omaha native in the outfield will be centerfielder Michelle Blomberg of Albert City, Iowa and rightfielder Kristi Govig of Omaha. Blomberg and Govig provide the speed as they combined for 23 steals in 27 attempts last season.

"Michelle covers a lot of territory in the outfield because of her speed," said Strate. "She's the quickest player on the team."

Strate will have a tough task replacing catcher Teresa Durbal. Durbal was a four-year starter and was named an All-American two of those years.

The three girls in the running for the vacancy are sophomores Kerianne Kluge of Fairbury and Natalie Highman of Beemer and freshman Becky Bradford of Beemer.

The infield is an experienced group for the Lady Cats. First baseman Kathy Didier of Bellwood will anchor down the infield. The junior was an all-district selection last season. Mary Jean Guenther will return at second base and is expected to provide the leadership being the only senior in the infield.

The shortstop position will feature junior Paula Dolech of Pierce. Strate said Dolech's arm problems of last year have disappeared. The coach added that the shortstop is the quickest infielder on the squad. Rounding out the infield is third baseman Shell Schumann. The Spencer, Iowa native appears to have an edge over her competition to start the season.

If Wayne State has an Achilles heel it may be its pitching staff which returns only two experienced hurlers.

Mary Lingelbach of Elkhorn is the ace of the staff. The senior was named to the District 11 post season team last year when she struck out 54 batters while walking only 14 in 145 innings pitched.

Rhonda Peck of Beemer is the other returning pitcher from last season. Peck, a left handed sophomore, was 10-2 last season. Freshman Roni Johnson of Wayne will also see mound duty. The lack of experience at the pitcher position may cause the Lady Wildcats to rely more on defense this season, Strate said.

Wayne State will open the home portion of its schedule with a doubleheader against Dorci College on March 31. The CSC tournament is set for April 24-25 in St. Joseph, Missouri. The District 11 tournament is to be played May 1-2 in Omaha followed by the BI-District 111 playoffs May 8-9.

Laurel ends season with 47-41 loss

The Laurel Lady Bears ended its season Thursday night when Norfolk Catholic handed them a 47-41 defeat.

The loss came in the finals of the Class C1-10 subdistrict finals Thursday night at Norfolk Senior High.

Laurel started slow and trailed 10-4 after the first period. The Lady Bears got their offense going in the second period as they outscored the Lady Knights 17-13 and cut the lead to 23-21 at halftime.

Laurel made the game tighter in the third quarter as they cut the lead to one point at 36-35 heading into the final quarter of play. The Lady Bears gained the lead in the fourth period and led by three points and had the ball with less than three minutes to play.

Laurel looked like it was going to take a five-point lead when it inbounded the ball to a wide open Amy Adkins underneath. But Laurel's Gail Twiford was called for a foul before the basket. Catholic went to the other end and hit both free throws to cut the lead to 41-40. The Lady Knights rebounded a missed Laurel shot and took the lead at 42-41. From there Norfolk Catholic scored the last five points of the game.

Twiford led 11-7 Laurel with 17 points. No other Lady Bear scorer hit double figures. Laurel hit only 3-9 free throws while Catholic was 13-17 from the charity stripe.

Norfolk Catholic, 16-5, was led by Rita Pendergast. The junior popped for 18 points. She entered the game averaging 6.3 points a game. Amy Determan added 11 for the Lady Knights.

Eagles end year with loss to B-R

Bancroft-Rosalie ended the season for Allen Tuesday night as they dumped the Eagles 53-34 in the first round of the Class C2-7 Subdistrict Tournament at Homer.

The game was tight in the first eight minutes. The teams were tied after the first quarter 8-8. Allen Coach Dave Uldrich said his team's game plan was to be patient on offense. He said he told his players he wanted to take about 1:30 off the clock with each possession. In the opening quarter they did that. Allen connected on 4-6 field goals in the first quarter.

Allen came down and scored on its first possession of the second quarter. Then the Panthers reeled off the next 18 points to take a 26-10 halftime lead. Uldrich said his team got away from its game plan in the second stanza. The Allen coach said in the second half his team tried to run with Bancroft. The Eagles stayed close as the Panthers outscored Allen 27-24 after intermission.

Allen placed two in double figures offensively. Max Oswald tied for game-high honors with 16 points. Jeff Gotch added 10 points. Oswald was the team's top rebounder with eight boards. Craig Hoffman gathered seven rebounds. Bancroft outboarded the Eagles 35-25.

The Panthers were led by junior

Jason Slaughter's 16 points. Allen ended the season with a 2-15 mark.

Boys enter dist. play at Norfolk

The Wayne boys will be trying to prolong their season as they enter the tough Class B-4 District Tournament being played at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Wayne, 9-10, comes in the seventh seed in the eight-team tournament. The district boasts two of the top three teams in Class B. Blair, the tourney's top seed, is No. 3 in the state and second-seeded Columbus Lakeview is the state's second-rated team.

The tournament will begin Friday with Wayne playing on Saturday.

The first night Blair will play eighth-seeded West Point at 6:15 p.m. The second game of the evening will match fourth-seeded Schuyler against the fifth seed, Columbus Scelus.

The Blue Devils will play at 6:15 p.m. on Saturday against Columbus Lakeview. The 8 p.m. game will feature third-seeded Hartington Cedar Catholic against sixth-seeded North Bend.

The semifinals will be played on Monday with the finals scheduled for Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Kant, Leapley place 4th

Max Kant and Randy Leapley of Winside each lost their final match but the pair still claimed fourth place at the 59th annual Nebraska state wrestling tournament held at the Bob Devaney Sports Complex in Lincoln.

Kant lost his third-place match to Eric Homolka of Friend by a 7-1 score. The freshman finished the state meet with a 3-2 mark. He lost his opening-round match to Mike Walts of Lincoln Christian. Kant came back on Friday and won three matches to advance to the third-place match Saturday afternoon.

Max finished the season with a 31-8 record.

Leapley lost the battle for third place to Pat Brelnig of Arapahoe by a 8-3 count. Brelnig beat Leapley in the opening round 4-1. The senior rebounded after the first-loss to the Arapahoe grappler to win three matches on Friday. That set the stage for the rematch against Brelnig on Saturday. Leapley finished out his high school career with a 23-8 mark.

Winside's other qualifier, Mace Kant, was eliminated after losing his first two matches. The junior finished with a record of 27-7. Kant's two losses came against Steve Koller of Arapahoe, who finished fifth in the tournament and Tom Moore of Dorchester who claimed the sixth-place medal. Kant placed third at 112 pounds at last year's state meet.

As a team, the Wildcats finished the meet with 21 points, which placed them 21st in the Class D standings. Clay Center won the team championship in Class D with 159 points. Palmer finished second with 107 1/2 points followed by Clarks, Arapahoe and Bertrand rounding out the top five.

Freshmen girls earn third place

The Wayne freshmen girls ended their season Saturday by taking third place in the Norfolk Freshmen Girls' Basketball Tournament.

Wayne whipped O'Neill 58-17 to take consolation honors.

The locals placed three girls in double figures in scoring. Heidi Reeg led the way with 18 points while Teresa Ellis and Tonya Erxleben tossed in 17 and 13 points respectively.

The junior Lady Blue Devils lost the first game of the tournament to Norfolk Feb. 17 by a 56-45 count. The girls finished the season with a 6-2 record.

Riedel pair captured doubles crown during junior tourney

Melodee Lanes was the site for the Wayne Junior League Bowling Tournament held Feb. 15.

Alan Riedel Jr. came away the big winner. Alan Jr. teamed up with his father, Alan Sr., to win the doubles tournament with an 1,173 handicap series. Lance Gunderson and father, Lynn, were the runners-up with a score of 1,149. Clair and Donne Riedel finished third followed by Mike and Dave Nicholson and Brian Gamble and Sally Hammer.

Mike Nicholson bowled the high scratch game as he turned in a fine 84. Alan Riedel Jr. earned the high handicap series with a 638. Lance Gunderson was next in line with a 622. Gunderson finished his series 55 below average. The junior Riedel Alan Riedel Jr. finished 57 pins and 54 pins over average in his two series.

Blue Devil freshmen place third in Norfolk tournament

The Wayne freshmen boys' basketball squad claimed third place in a tournament at Norfolk over the weekend.

The boys lost their opening-round game to Norfolk 60-50 on Feb. 17. Against the hosts, Wayne led most of the way and was on top by 11 points with about two minutes to play in the third period. At that point the Norfolk pressure defense began to take its toll on the locals.

Willie Gross led Wayne in the loss as he tallied 19 points. Neil Carnes was next in line with 16 markers as Jeff Lut collected 10 rebounds.

The junior Blue Devils redeemed themselves in the consolation game Saturday as they tripped O'Neill 57-50.

Wayne took the lead early and maintained it the rest of the way. Gross was again the top scorer with 23 points. Carnes added 19.

The win completed Wayne's season. The freshmen ended the campaign with an 8-9 record.

OTC Sales To Increase

A recent research report in the FDA Consumer indicates that sales of over-the-counter drug products and vitamin/mineral supplements are predicted to increase as the cost of professional medical care also increases. According to this report, consumers are turning with increasing frequency to nonprescription products as one form of self-care for common health problems.

The report, prepared by the market research firm Frost and Sullivan, indicates that more money will be spent for pain relievers than for any other OTC product category. It is predicted that Americans will spend about 2.5 billion dollars for pain relievers in the year 1990. Products in the cough, cold, allergy, and sinus category will produce an anticipated 2.2 billion dollars in sales. According to Frost and Sullivan, vitamin/mineral supplements represent the fastest growing product category studied. Sales will almost double from 1982 to almost 2.2 billion dollars in 1990.

Each year more and better medicines are made available without prescription. Ask us for information regarding selection of effective products for your health problems. The least costly or most costly product does not always provide the best overall value.

Two names drawn in contest

Two more contestants, Katie Hancock of Allen and Lisa Jacobsen of Wayne, were drawn as finalists for the grand prize of a dream vacation trip.

This is the sixth week of the contest, meaning four more names will be drawn within the next two weeks in the "4,000 Reasons To Shop Wayne" contest sponsored by The Wayne Herald and participating businesses.

Hancock and Jacobsen join Floyd Sullivan, Bill Mitchell, Erwin Fleer, Carrie Kathol, Kathy Rutenbeck, Kevin Echtenkamp, Mabel Sommerfeld, all of Wayne; Gail Jaeger of Winside; Tom Serbick of South Sioux City; and Genevieve Fredrickson of Wakefield as 12 of the 16 finalists for the grand prize.

The grand prize winner will receive a trip for two to a vacation spot of their choice, which includes Hawaii, Florida, Las Vegas, Aspen (Colorado), Phoenix, Bermuda or a boat cruise to the Virgin Islands.

The second name drawn will receive $1,000 in Vacation Bucks to be spent at the 54 businesses participating in the contest.

Registration coupons clipped from The Wayne Herald must be clipped and placed in the registration box of the advertiser listed on the coupon.

The next drawing is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Tuesday, March 3 at Daylight Donuts.

Sales tax

people to get homes, or make apartment rent affordable because of the property tax relief passed down to the homeowner or landlord, she mentioned.

TIEDTKE SAID he is "all for" economic development and tax relief. "But I really got a problem with the people that don't own property," he said. He said there is no guarantee that if the issue is passed, that rent will go down at all.

He asked that a decision be delayed on the sales and use tax issue until the next council meeting.

Based on recent sales tax figures, the city would generate $270,000 from the 1 cent sales and use tax and $135,000 of funds for economic development, according to City Administrator Phil Kloster. Currently, approximately $367,344 of the general total fund revenue (about 21.3 percent) is gathered through property tax.

John Vakoc of Wayne said, during Tuesday's meeting, that the city sales and use tax "is a fairly simple issue."

"It's an attempt to broaden the tax base," he said.

He said what should be taxed and what should not be taxed has been clearly stated. "We don't choose what to tax. The state does," he said.

"I ask that we not delay and put this before the voters," he said.

considered instead of spending nearly $2.6 million to bring the water from another aquifer into Wayne.

One alternative he mentioned was to limit the amount of water that is taken out of the aquifer supporting the city of Wayne. He opened up for discussion an alternative to have the city look at the non-domestic use wells within the two mile radius of Wayne zoning, and approach these people and negotiate a value for the water rights.

"It seems to me we might be able to deal with the problem without spending $2.6 million," he said.

COUNCILMAN Darrel Heier said that there is no staged legislation in place to tell an irrigator that the landowner has to stop irrigating. "Our hands seem to be tied in that way," he said.

City Attorney Kem Swartz said that within the city of Wayne, there is not one big common aquifer. "There is a series of small ones. It's more of little potholes than a big common lake that we are drawing from," he said.

"From the impression that I've received, if we shut down all the wells within a five mile-radius of Wayne just because of the city of Wayne usage, that might not help the water level in the existing city wells," Swartz said.

"If there is a viable well within the area that does not assist the city of Wayne aquifer, I guess you are paying for something that has no benefit," he added.

Tiedtke also mentioned concern about the minimum gallon usage of water which some apartment dwellers must pay for, and asked that the minimum figure be reduced from 6,000 to 3,000 gallons.

The city council decided to have Tiedtke, and others who are interested, meet with the engineers who drafted the study of the water distribution system at a future meeting.

the state. "Howells is a hot area right now," he said.

CURRENTLY, THE Wakefield NFO Collection Point, Inc. has 60 plus shareholders from the Wakefield, Pender, Wayne, Walthill, Thurston, Wayne, Allen and Laurel areas. Stout said some have donated money and time for the construction of the facility. There was a $12,500 cost for option of the piece of land and another $20,000 to renovate the former farrow to finish facility. Board members include Albert Nelson, Jr., Wakefield, chairman; Brown, vice chairman; Galen Fischer, Wakefield, treasurer; Stout, secretary; and directors Russ Stansberry of Walthill, Larry Nichols of Wayne, Ervin Fulchur of Emerson and Gerald Green of Wayne.

At the Sunday open house, coffee and donuts will be served and NFO personnel will be on hand to field questions about the collection point.

Winside hosting meeting on radioactive waste

A public meeting that concerns the topic of potential radioactive waste sites will take place on Friday, Feb. 27 at the Winside Auditorium.

Notice of the forum came from Mrs. Allen Schrant of Winside, who testified with others last Friday before the Natural Resource Committee in Lincoln on Legislative Bill 426 introduced by Senator Sandra Scofield of Chadron. This bill, also cosponsored by area legislators, gives the state legislature control over the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact, according to State Senator Gerald Conway. (See Senator Conway's viewpoint on the opinion page.)

Some amendments to the bill would require legislative approval for acquisition of land to be used as a radioactive dump facility and set up a prohibition against releases which would pollute the natural resources.

Schrant, in the release concerning the Winside forum, said the public meeting will be a place where people can voice their opinions and suggest "what we can do now to help solve the problem of radioactive waste sites."

THERE ARE 26 sections of Wayne County ground designated as possible sites that are not excluded as radioactive waste dump sites. Fifteen sections run almost in a straight line east starting two miles east and a mile south of Winside, section seven in Brenna Precinct and then continue east through Plum Creek and Leslie. Eight sections are in Sherman Precinct which is located northwest of Carroll (around the Sholes area) and three sections are in Wilbur Precinct north and west of Wayne.

Among those attending the public meeting will be Sam Welsh of the Western Nebraska Resource Council in Chadron, who will show slides from the Nuclear Research Center based in Washington, D.C.

The slides will reveal potential hazards—and danger—in having underground sites for radioactive wastes.

The Nebraska Department of Environmental Control will also be providing information.

Schrant, Dr. David Hoelting of Pender and other local people who testified at the hearing will also be at the public meeting.

THE MEETING is expected to last until 10 p.m. and there will be time allotted for discussion, a question and answer period, and an opportunity to fill out opinion sheets which will later be presented to area legislators.

Another public meeting has been scheduled in Hartington on radioactive waste site considerations, set for Saturday, March 1 at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting, sponsored by the Lewis and Clark Natural Resource District and coordinated through efforts of State Senator Ertroy Hefer, will take place at the Skyline Ballroom in Hartington.

Present at this meeting will be Dennis Grams from the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control and Welsh, representing the Western Nebraska Resources Council. Senator Hefer will chair the meeting.

The spokesman from the Lewis and Clark NRD office said the state Department of Health and representatives of the Compact were also contacted and asked to participate in the meeting.

TGE

Pigs under 21 days old are very susceptible to death from TGE. Precautionary measures are important to avoid a devastating TGE outbreak in baby pigs, since no effective treatment is available. This is particularly important with colder weather when TGE is more prevalent. Preventive measures include keeping baby pigs and breeding stock away from other livestock, particularly newly-purchased pigs after pigs have recovered from a TGE outbreak. The TGE virus can be found in the digestive and respiratory tracts for up to four months. Because the carrier cannot be determined by testing, spread by carrier pigs that appear healthy is possible. Newly purchased breeding and feeder swine would be kept away from the farrowing area. A much better plan is never to bring feeder pigs onto a farm with farrowing sows. Care should also be taken to avoid transporting the virus via manure on clothing, boots, trucks and other machinery. Particularly during the winter, this type of spread can be significant.

FIND THE CAUSE OF ABORTION PROBLEMS IN YOUR COWS

Abortions are quite common in the beef cow herd and may be minimized if the cause is known. Abortions usually occur during the latter stage of pregnancy in late winter.

It is not too alarming to lose one calf by abortion because of the many possible causes; however, a producer must be alert.

Your vet should be aware of the first loss when it occurs. If another abortion occurs, contact your veterinarian again so proper samples can be collected and forwarded to a laboratory for possible diagnosis. Even with proper sample collection and laboratory tests, many tests are inconclusive about the actual cause of the abortion.

Sample items of value in laboratory diagnosis of abortions include the fetus (aborted calf), placenta (cleanings) and blood samples from the cow. The cause of some types of abortions is diagnosed only with blood samples, while others are diagnosed from the fetus.

Some diseases that may cause abortions include vibriosis, several types of leptospirosis, IBR (red nose) and BVD (bovine viral diarrhoea). Certain poor quality feeds, nitrates, molds and other toxic substances also can cause abortions.

Preventive measures for this year may be limited, but a knowledge of abortion causes may aid in making future herd decisions.

Contact your veterinarian for more information if you have these problems in your herd.

Hog topics to be studied

A Pork Production College designed to train swine producers in advanced pork production practices, methods and management is scheduled for March 17-19 at the Yankton Inn in Yankton, South Dakota.

The college will help producers evaluate, select and use the flood of information available to them to make their production systems more efficient.

Enrollment is limited to 100 and is on a first-come, first-served basis, according to Michael Brumm, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension specialist at the Northeast Research and Extension Center in Concord. The fee is $35 for the first person from an operation, and $25 for additional persons from the same operation.

Brumm, an organizer of the event, said all major elements of swine production will be addressed. Included will be methods and strategies to assist producers in reaching goals, assessment of present enterprises, and establishing realistic financial and production goals. Sponsors are the Cooperative Extension Services of UNL and South Dakota State University.

Instructors are William Ahlswede and Donald Lewis, UNL extension swine specialists; Gerald Bodman, UNL extension ag engineer; Brumm; C. Ross Hamilton, SDSU extension swine specialist; Earl Mobley, Iowa State University area livestock specialist; Gene Murra, SDSU extension livestock marketing specialist; Lowell Northey, loan officer, American State Bank, Yankton; Burton Phlegger, SDSU swine management specialist; John Melancon, DVM, MSD Agvet; and an as yet unnamed SDSU extension veterinarian.

A sample of topics include relating capital to production, parasite control, marketing, disease prevention, genetics, housing and energy management. Two sessions will be devoted to problem solving one-on-one with the speakers.

Registration forms and programs can be obtained from country extension offices or from Michael Brumm, Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord, Neb., 68728, 402-584-2261. Lodging arrangements must be made directly with the Yankton Inn.

Interest rates on decline

"We probably are approaching a low in interest rates. Because the economy continues to lag and inflation is low, interest rates may decline another .5 percent, or so in the first half of this year," according to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist.

A.L. "Roy" Frederick said for the average citizen, interest rate movements are one of the most direct links to the general economy. "If you're borrowing money, it's nice to see the rate dropping. However, if you're lucky enough to have a few certificates of deposit, you'd like rates to move higher."

"Historically, Frederick said, real interest rates—the difference between 6-month Treasury bills and inflation—have been about 2 percent. At present, real interest rates are about 2.75 percent.

"This suggests that as long as inflation stays low, interest rates could come down. However, many analysts expect inflation to pick up in the second half of the year," Frederick said. The likelihood of this happening increases as the dollar continues to fall, he added.

"If inflation increases from about 2 percent at present by the end of 1987, higher interest rates seem inevitable by this time a year from now," Frederick concluded.

More members added to ASCS post

Nebraska's three-man Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service state committee will gain two members to better serve the state's varied agricultural needs, the Representatives Virginia Smith, Doug Bereuter and Hal Daub announced after a meeting with Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng Feb. 20.

"Nebraska's farmers need this opportunity to reassert their representation of the State ASCS Committee," Representative Doug Bereuter said. "I am extremely pleased that we have been successful in our efforts to make this change."

The addition of two members to this Nebraska ASCS Committee will strengthen the involvement of individual farmers by giving them the broader representation necessary in a state like Nebraska—a state 600 miles long with diverse agricultural operations and crops," Bereuter said.

The state committee oversees functions of the county ASCS offices, reviewing cases, acts as an appeals board, and acts as a liaison between the state and Secretary of Agriculture in implementation of farm bill provisions.

"I am pleased with the change in the state committee structure because of increasing complexities of farm programs, the diversity of farming patterns, and the great differences in weather that produce rainfall around 15 inches per year in the panhandle and up to 40 inches in the eastern section," Mrs. Smith said.

In December Bereuter and Mrs. Smith asked the Administrator of ASCS for a management audit. A team was sent to Nebraska to review the operations of the State ASCS, and earlier this month they received a briefing on that audit.

"This change in the number of Committee members and in the direction of their responsibilities, along with the implementation of other recommendations in the recent management audit will help improve the services and decisions made in state ASCS operation," Bereuter said.

Most southeastern states have five members on state ASCS committees. California and Texas also have five. The Nebraska House delegation said Nebraska is the first midwestern state being allowed to expand to five members. The increase is on a 4-year trial basis.

New members of the five-member committee will be announced in about a week.

Agriculture crisis

FRANK ZAHN, professor of Economics at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, gave a presentation "The Macroeconomics of the 'Crisis' in U.S. Agriculture" at Wayne State College on Monday at Ramsey Theatre. He spoke on how macroeconomic policy influences interest rates; how interest rates influence U.S. agriculture; what caused the boom and bust years of the 1970's and 80's in U.S. agriculture; and what is the current outlook for U.S. agriculture. Zahn's presentation was prepared while he was on leave of absence conducting research and policy analysis for the Economic Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington. The event was coordinated by the Nebraska Business Development Center at Wayne State College.

the farmer's wife by pat meierhenry

This unusual weather has made some farmers get itchy. We saw alfalfa being plowed on Valentine's Day; and three days later, discing by tractor light; both north of Valparaiso. I read last night that golf courses have stayed open all year.

There has been a rush to get signed up for the latest farm program, since the deadline is the 27th. It's a 10-year commitment for taking land out of production, which sounds like a long time to me.

A pharmacist friend told me the other day that they are burying farmers only two feet deep now, so they can keep their hands out!

Then I read in the Aurora News Register what they call a Nebraska farmer in a new, expensive suit. It's "deceased."

And, finally, there's the one about the farmer who asked for a very long term loan. His banker was dubious, and said, "What if you don't live long enough to pay this back?"

"Oh," the farmer said, "I'll even make my payments from heaven if I have to."

"Yes, but what if you go the other direction?" asked the financier.

"Then," replied friend farmer, "I'll just walk over and hand it to you!"

Obviously, the "black humor" persists in Ag circles.

MORE RESEARCH is going on regarding the business of beef, cholesterol and heart disease. The University of South Dakota at Vermillion is doing a long-term study that early reports say has some surprising results.

I understand that Nebraska has a high rate of heart deaths, so more research is in order.

Meanwhile, James Garner and Cybil Shepherd are going to earn a lot of money from the Beef Board to promote beef on television.

Tom Osborne is 50 years old. And all he wants is an indoor practice facility. That will give the senators something to argue about.

"Amerika" is finally over. The Big Farmer watched every segment but one. I thought it was too possible, and didn't want it to keep me awake.

The faucet in the tub is fixed, and the washer is leaking. Another example of Murphy's Law.

JIM RABE and John Dunklau took the motor out of the wrecked Plymouth and put it into the brown one, so I'm driving it again. Ann has very strong feelings about taking a Fury to school. Her Dad invited her to ride the bus one day this week.

I did have the Buick in Lincoln this week. I came out of Richman-Gordman on Thursday, put it in reverse, to back out of the parking space, and nothing happened! I read a magazine until the guy in front of me came out and backed out. Then I went forward. Had to be careful where I parked all day.

Warren Gallop worked late into the night to tighten the steering post and remove stuff to get it going again so Mike could take it to the track meet yesterday.

Think we'll spend the CRP check on a new car. If only that were possible! If only appliances and automobiles did not wear out. And if only farm wives who write columns would quit day dreaming!

Lending program explained

The Guarantee Loan Program has contributed towards helping farmers finance their farm operations.

Since the direct farmers program operating and farm ownership allocations are much less for 1987 fiscal year than last year, FmHA is placing emphasis on the Guarantee Loan Program.

This year, all initial operating loan applications or existing operating loans which can be assisted by a Guarantee Loan rather than a direct loan will obtain their 1987 operating loan funds from an approved Guarantee Loan lender, (which would be a local bank).

After the 1987 cashflow is completed, FmHA will be reviewing these plans to determine whether or not the applicant may be able to secure his credit needs by a Guarantee Loan. If the cashflow shows that an applicant may be able to obtain a guaranteed loan, FmHA will be contacting the local approved Guarantee lender to assist the applicant with an operating loan. This process is called Operation Assist.

The Guarantee Loan is a type of farmer program loan that is negotiated between the borrower and the lender. The application is sent to our office for approval consideration. All guarantee loan approval is subject to FmHA guidelines. If approved, FmHA can guarantee up to 90% of any loss that the lender may have on the loan.

Also, the Single Family Housing 1987 fiscal year allocation is much less as compared to last fiscal year. As of now, funds are only available for eligible applicants that have low or very low incomes. This means that funds are only available for Section 502 Subsidized Rural Housing Loans.

There are limited funds available for Section 504 Housing Loans. This loan is available to eligible applicants that are 62 years or older, have a very low income and are unable to pay for the essential repair work on their house. The object of this loan is to provide funds for repair work to bring the house up to minimum property standards.

Housing loans are available

The FmHA now has longer term Section 502 rural housing loans available for families with lower annual incomes. Eligible families whose adjusted annual income does not exceed 60 percent of the median income, can now obtain rural housing loans to buy, build, improve or repair single family dwellings, with a maximum repayment of up to 38 years. Eligible families whose adjusted family income is low or very low, can still obtain financing under the Section 502 rural housing program for similar purposes, with up to a 33 year term.

This longer repayment term for those eligible families in the 60 percent median annual income category will provide smaller mortgage payments, thus allowing them improved repayment ability in their budgets.

Families need to pay 20 percent of their adjusted family income for mortgage payments (principal and interest), real estate taxes, and property insurance. In some instances, the interest rate will be as low as one (1) percent.

These new lower income limits, as well as the very low and low income limits are based on the number of persons in family, and the county where the dwelling is located. The income limits and method of calculation are based on HUD limits as mandated by Congress in the Housing Amendments of 1983.

If any one desires additional information, they may contact the FmHA County Office at 120 Logan Street, Wayne, Nebraska, or call 375-2300. This FmHA County Office serves Wayne and Stanton Counties.

Pesticide certification

Most County Extension Services have completed their Pesticide Certification Training for 1987, reports Don C. Spitzke, Quad County Extension Agent. The majority of farmers in this area have a blue card pesticide certificate that is valid until 1988 or later. But, those few farmers that missed one of these meetings (mostly farmers who never had a card or let their's lapse) can still be certified by taking a self study course.

This self study plan requires a farmer to fill out some questions in a notebook and return it to their Extension Office. Some farmers who have taken this self study course say they prefer it to attending a meeting. Many new pesticides have been added to the restricted list and dealers are not allowed to sell these restricted chemicals to anyone who does not have a valid pesticide certificate (blue card).

If you have lost your card or are not sure if your certificate is still valid, contact your local County Extension Office.

Beef weigh-in set

The weigh-in that began the official rate-of-gain contest for Dixon County 4-H Market Beef was held Feb. 14, at the Northeast Research and Extension Center, east of Concord. Members brought their project beef to be identified, weighed, ear-tagged, and nose-printed. Raigo growth implants and Iovomec wormer (courtesy of MSD Ag Vet, division of Merck Company) were available to members who wished to participate, at no charge.

4-H beef project participants learn to take responsibility and develop livestock handling and showing techniques. In addition, record keeping and financial management skills are developed.

The area 4-H Leaders conducting the weigh-in were Bill Mattes, Wakefield; Terry Nelson, Ponca; Frank Plueger, Concord; and Melvin Vavra, Allen.

Results of actual land sales released by credit service

Citing a major slowdown in the decline of land values across the Omaha Farm Credit district, Farm Credit Services in Omaha has announced results of their semi-annual study of actual land sales in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

The Jan. 1, 1987 results include the most recent data available on actual land sales in the four-state district.

In many areas, particularly in Iowa and Nebraska where land has now dropped about 60 percent from the peak values of several years ago, there was a major slowdown in the decline of land values, according to the study.

In some corn belt areas of the district, land values have been stable, the study shows.

"LAND VALUES in many areas are now near levels where operators can produce positive cash flow under existing economic conditions," James D. Kirk, president and chief executive officer of Farm Credit Services, said.

"Assuming no major changes in the economy or farm programs, it appears land values could bottom out, or any further declines should be small or localized," Kirk added.

The Farm Credit study tracked actual land sales during the first five months of 1986 (January 1-June 1), the last seven months (June 1, 1986-January 1, 1987), and for the calendar year as a total.

Kirk pointed out that land value decline in Iowa slowed to an average of about five percent during the last part of 1986, compared to a drop of about six percent during the first part of 1986, and is substantially under the 18 percent decline during the last part of 1985.

Nebraska land values declined an average of about three percent during the last part of 1986, compared to a decrease of about six percent during the first period in 1986. This is substantial and under the 14 percent decline during the last part of 1985.

South Dakota land values followed the district trend with an average decline of about four percent during the last part of 1986, compared to a decrease of about 11 percent during the first period in 1986 and approximately 10 percent during the last part of 1985.

During the entire 12 months of 1986, South Dakota had an overall average decrease of about 15 percent. The average decline in land values in Iowa was about 11 percent, Nebraska's average decline was about eight percent, and Wyoming had an average decline of about eight percent.

FARM CREDIT Services attributes the stability to a combination of factors.

These include more stable current farm income due to the government farm program, more buyers ready to commit their capital to land purchases, and the extent of past declines.

Average land values in Iowa have declined approximately 62 percent from the peak values seen in the 1980-1981 period, according to the Farm Credit study. In Nebraska the decline has been about 57 percent from peak values, approximately 48 percent in South Dakota, and about 36 percent in Wyoming.

The Golden Years by Gil Haase

"People who smoke more than one pack of cigarettes a day are more vulnerable to Alzheimer's disease," according to a new study, Stuart L. Schulat, a Harvard university epidemiologist, conducted the one-year study of Massachusetts military veterans. He reported that one-pack-a-day smokers developed Alzheimer's 4.3 times more often than non-smokers; smokers who smoke less than one pack a day were 1.6 times more likely to develop it.

Newspaper is usually the first place people go when considering a purchase. It's their primary source of advertising information. Newspaper helps spark the local economy by putting dollars into circulation. And that's good for everyone, not just the retailer. Because a strong local economy means lower property taxes, more jobs, tax support for community services and a better place to live. Newspaper is more than just a smart place to advertise. It's an integral part of our lives.

Newspaper. It delivers.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The six winners of the "Why I Like to Live in Wakefield" contest sponsored by the Wakefield Community Club were introduced at the groups monthly coffee held Feb. 12.

Winners were Mike Mogus, Iris Larson, Melissa Haglund, Cheryl Oswald, Lynn Kratke and Alden Johnson.

There was an adult and youth division in the contest and Wakefield Dollars were awarded. In the youth division, Melissa Haglund received the $25 first prize; Lynn Kratke, $15 for second place; and Mike Mogus, $10 for third.

Cheryl Oswald was the winner in the adult contest, Iris Larson, second and Alden Johnson, third. The adults received the same prizes as the youth.

The Wakefield Community Club is in the process of planning two special events. A teacher recognition day and the annual club dinner and meeting.

The teacher recognition will be held Mar. 3. The group will be serving coffee cake and coffee that morning at school to honor the teaching staff at the Wakefield Community Schools.

The annual Community Club dinner will be held on April 10. At that time the group will elect officers for the coming year.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary met Feb. 9 at the Legion Hall. Five Officers and twelve members were present. Sharon Boatman installed Carolyn Kraemer as secretary for the remainder of the term.

Carol Ulrich, president, presided over the meeting. Lois Schlines led the group in prayer. The Pledge of Allegiance and the Preamble were read in unison. Famy Johnson, music chairman, led the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Bless Our Native Land".

A memorial ceremony with the draping of the charter was presented in memory of Mary Jane Vah Cleave by Carol Ulrich and Lis Schlines. Emily Gustafson, Americanism chairman, gave a brief report about Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.

It was decided to send $7.50 to the Nebraska Veterans Home Centennial Fund, $10 to the Four Chaplains Fund and $5 to the Children's Heart Fund. The Auxiliary decided to work in the concession stand for the Area Baseball Tournament this summer. Plans were discussed for the annual Legion Birthday Party on March 8. The party will include a potluck supper.

At the conclusion of the meeting lunch was served by Alice Brown, Marcia Lundin and Mylet Nicholson.

OUTREACH FUND

In 1986, for the first time, a Wakefield area Outreach Fund for Dixon County was organized. A committee is currently making arrangements for the same type of appeal this year.

Purpose of the Outreach Fund is to collect for charitable organizations in all one effort instead of several door-to-door-type drives during the year. Organizations receiving the donations through the Outreach Fund are the March of Dimes, Red Cross, American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, Nebraska affiliate and Salvation Army (local).

The committee plans to mail letters to all Dixon County residents in the Wakefield area in the middle of March. Those who wish to make a contribution may do so and also indicate which organization(s) they want to receive the funds.

Serving on the Outreach committee this year are Louise Nelson, Helen Anderson and Vivian Olson, for in town and Vivian Muller, Gloria Oberg and Janice Newton and Wilma Bartels for the rural area.

POST PROM PARTY

Parents and students in the junior and senior classes met Feb. 17 to discuss ideas and coordinate activities for its Post Prom Party.

The junior class has committed themselves to a donation for the event that is scheduled April 11. Foosball, pool, basketball, snacks, movies with a big screen TV and breakfast are some of the activities planned for the Post Prom Party to be held at the Wakefield Legion Hall following the prom. The committee stated that carnival and guessing games and even a pie throwing contest are in the making.

To make it a success the committee needs support from the community in the form of donations of money, merchandise or gift certificates that could be used for door prizes, etc. Any individual or business who would like to make a contribution may contact Marvin Ekberg at 287-2107, Diane Larson at 287-2087 or Marcia Kratke at 287-2614 (business) or 287-2434 (home).

SELLING PIZZAS

Junior and senior science students at the Wakefield Community Schools are selling frozen pizzas. Funds raised from the sale of the pizzas will be used to buy and replace equipment in the school science department.

If anyone would like to support the students' project, orders may be placed by contacting the school office.

The students, through arrangements with Godfather's, are offering medium-sized single topping pizzas which will be baked and frozen in a box on an oven plate for $6.95. Toppings offered are hamburger, sausage, pepperoni and Canadian bacon.

Orders will be accepted until March 7, when the students will be going to Godfather's to help make the pizzas. The students will be doing the telephoning and make the pizzas on their own time and not during school hours.

Science Instructor's Arnold Cerny and Jeff Berger are assisting the students with the fund raising project.

LAUNCH BALLOONS

Students at the Petals and Pines Pre-School launched helium filled balloons Feb. 12. It is the hope of school director Mrs. Marcia Lundin that the youngsters will receive some correspondence from someone who finds one of the balloons.

Each balloon had a heart shaped name tag with the child's name, age and address. A flag was also attached to the tag in observance of President's Month.

Youngsters who launched balloons were Jennifer Victor, Jennifer Puls, Krista Siebrandt, Britany Peters, Lindsay Wayl, Jamie Puls, Jamie Boggs, Jesse Kaufman, Nicholas White, Kurt Thompson and Amanda Ekberg.

The balloons were furnished for launch by Karen Victor. Before the students went to the Covenant Church to let for the release of the balloons they had a Valentine's party at the school. The school is held in the Lundin Home at 800 Pine Circle Drive.

PEO MEETS

PEO Chapter C2 met with Elaine Thompson on Feb. 16. Margaret Paulson served as co-hostess. Twenty-three responded to roll call. President Doris Linafelter conducted the meeting and read the yearly president's letter.

A new $100 scholarship has been established and will be given to a Wakefield High School senior this May at commencement. Another order of business was to amend the by-laws.

An invitation was extended to attending the 63rd Annual Founders Day celebration on Saturday, April 11 at the Holiday Inn on Hamilton Boulevard in Sioux City. This event will be discussed at the March 2 meeting.

The slide presentation, "The Greatest of These is Exploring Our Heritage" was given by Vivian Muller assisted by Kathleen Potter and Sylvia Olson.

HAPPY HOME MAKERS

The Wakefield Happy Homemakers extension club are selling fresh cut daffodils for the Dixon County Cancer Society. A bouquet of 10 daffodils sell for $4.

The Dixon County Cancer Society has designated March 22 as Daffodil Day of Cancer Sunday. The Wakefield churches and the United Methodist Church in Allen are taking part in this.

All proceeds of this project will support research, education and patient services.

If any member of the church would like to purchase these daffodils for the beauty of their church on "Daffodil Day" or Cancer Sunday they may order them by Feb. 28 from: Dorothy Hale 287-2728, Ellen Wriedt 287-2342 and Janice Newton 287-2553.

NEW BOOKS

Graves Public Library offers a wide range of reading material as indicated by the list of new books from Librarian Pat Berry.

For the junior reader there is "A World of Things To Do" and for the young adult "What's Happening to My Junior Year?" There are also two new mysteries entitled "Leave a Message for Willie" and "Bandits". For those who like to read about celebrities the library now has "In Private In Public," "The Princess of Wales," other new titles are "The Shanghaiers" a western, "The Golden Lion," "Fatal Affair" by V. Johnson and "A Killing Cure".

KNIVES TO BE REORDERED

Because of several inquiries, the Wakefield Band Boosters have decided to accept re-orders for knives until March 15. Anyone who would like to order knives may do so by contacting Booster President Joyce Kuhl. She may be reached during the day at her office by phoning 287-2192. Her home phone number is 287-2578.

PARENTS PROGRAM

A program for parents entitled "Developing Positive Attitudes in Children" will be presented by Chuck Moorman on Monday, March 2 at the Wakefield Community School. The presentation will run from 7-9 p.m. in the mini gym and is designed to help parents help their children develop healthy, productive attitudes.

During the day of March 2, Moorman will be conducting an in service workshop for the Wakefield teaching staff. Therefore there will be no school that day. The school administration and board of education encourages parents to attend this workshop. There will be no charge for attendance and it is open to everyone in the community.

You have different nutritional needs. So does your dog.

Just like you, as age and activity level change, your dog's needs for protein, calcium, salt, fat and fiber also change. That's why it's important to feed the specific food formulated to meet your dog's specific needs. A food that consistently provides the optimum nutritional balance and special ingredients vital for better health and to aid in the prevention of heart, kidney, bladder and other diet-related diseases.

That's Science Diet® foods. Available in dry and canned forms.

Canine Growth® for puppies and pregnant/nursing dogs.

Canine Maintenance® for adult dogs.
Canine Senior® for older dogs.
Canine Performance® for adult dogs requiring extra calories.

And each guarantees you'll see the difference in your dog's health and appearance—or your money back!

But Science Diet isn't at the supermarket. It's available only through pet professionals. People who, like you, appreciate the benefits of superior nutrition.

Science Diet
Superior nutrition for the way you live

Come by and let us show you why Science Diet is the best food you can feed your dog.

cards of thanks

THANKS TO ALL who remembered me with cards, gifts, flowers and visits on my 94th birthday. Louise Hoeman. F26

THE FAMILY OF Melvin Samuelson wishes to extend our most sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their visits, memorials, flowers, food brought in and to the church and prayers. Our beloved husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather will be greatly missed. We wish to thank Rev. Jonathan Vogel and Rev. James Pennington for their comforting message and prayers, and Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid for serving lunch. It is comforting to know so many share our loss. God bless each and everyone of you. Frances Samuelson, Mr. & Mrs. Lyle Samuelson and family, Marilyn Dendinger and family, Mr. & Mrs. Randy (Lucille) Milnes and family and Lonny Samuelson. F26

WE WANT TO THANK our children, grandchildren, relatives and friends for the many cards, gifts and flowers we received for our 50th wedding anniversary. Special thanks to our family who made our day one we will cherish and remember. Gilbert and Agatha Krallman. F26

A SINCERE thank you to each one of the Wayne Kiwanians for the Memorial Fellow award and the plaque given to honor Carl's memory. Being a member of Kiwanis was important to Carl and meant a lot to him. Mrs. Carl Lentz. F26

THE FAMILY OF Maurice Swanson wishes to convey our thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors for kindness shown to him during his illness. Also we wish to express our gratitude for cards, flowers, memorials and food given for our comfort. We are grateful to the women who prepared and served lunch at the church. Our thanks to the American Legion for their service. LeRoy and Ruby Roberts and family, Phyllis Swanson and family. F26

MAY GOD bless you relatives and friends for making my 87th birthday such a memorial day, for all the cards, gifts, phone calls and visits. This happy day will remain in my heart. Earl Davis. F26
