Gramly visits

Dewayne Gramly, a 1937 graduate of Wayne State College, will be in Wayne on Wednesday, May 27. His brother, Paul Forbes, will accompany him.

The twin brothers were separated shortly after birth and were reunited last June after nearly 70 years apart.

Gramly is a minister of music at Lincoln Park Presbyterian Church in San Francisco. Forbes is a retired hardware executive.

Gramly will present a short organ recital at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 27, at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. Following the recital, the Alumni Association will host a reception in the Walnut Room of the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus.

Blood bank

The Siouxsland Blood Bank will be accepting donations at Providence Medical Center in Wayne on Tuesday, May 26 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

No paper

Subscribers and advertisers may want to note that there will be a paper on Thursday, May 21, but there will be no Monday, May 25 edition because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Also, a schedule of Memorial Day services in area communities will be published in the May 21 edition.

One more time

To Tom and Marge McCright of Wayne, preparing for a graduation reception of a high school or college student is nothing uncommon for them.

They have been honoring their sons and daughters at high school graduations for many years. Thirteen of their children have, after high school graduation, continued on with their careers or to college. Now, the last of the McCright children (Ted) is among the graduates listed in the Class of 1987 to receive a diploma from Wayne-Carroll High School.

Fourteen of their children will have graduated from area high schools within a span of almost 19 years.

Pam began the string of graduations in 1968 when she received her diploma from Emerson Sacred Heart School. Mary Ellen and Susan also received their diplomas from Emerson Sacred Heart.

Tom was the first to graduate from Wayne-Carroll high school, followed by Dan, Randy, Dustin, Jamie, Mark, Patrick, Jeff, Paula, Jon and now Ted.

Marge said Patrick (currently serving in the armed forces at Honduras), Paula (studying in West Germany and a nanny for a German family) and Jeff (who resides in California) will probably not make it to Ted's graduation reception. But the remaining 11 children will be there, she said, along with the many in-laws and grandchildren.

A SHORT DOWNPOUR ON Wednesday evening in Wayne didn't alleviate the dry spell this area has been experiencing the past week. One rural Wayne farmer resorted to using his irrigation system to supply the necessary moisture for his emerging corn plants. Some people eight miles west of Wayne didn't even get a drop of Wednesday's rainfall.

Bicycle riders set to roll into Wayne

Most people know John Struve of Wayne as the vice president of finance at Wayne State College — a man who deals with the numbers on budgets or the costs of building projects and bonds.

But last Monday at the Wayne Kiwanis Club, Struve's occupation was transformed into a "peddler" as he peddled an event that eventually will involve the city of Wayne. It's called BRAN.

No, one doesn't pour it into a bowl, add milk and a banana and eat it.

But when the time comes for it to become available to the public, hundreds each year have a craving for it.

BRAN stands for Bike Ride Across Nebraska. This is the seventh year of the event. Struve has ridden in all of them.

However, the BRAN ride is unique for the Wayne community this year. On June 11, some 600 people participating in the BRAN event will be arriving in Wayne to spend the night.

Struve is going to take the trip again this year. He considers it a vacation away from the busy schedule at work, he told the Kiwanis Club at last Monday's noon meeting. The theme for this year's BRAN even is "Off the Beaten Path."

THE TRIP starts out in the western part of Nebraska at Alliance, then to Hyannis, Halsey Forest, Ord and then to Neligh. On June 11 the bike riders will arrive in Wayne and then the next day move on to Tekamah and pedal their way to Omaha to end the trip.

"I did it [BRAN] the first year because it was there. I think the biggest surprise was that I made it all the way," Struve said. He said there is a potential of nine people from Wayne going on the ride.

One advantage of BRAN, he said, is that the participants see the features of Nebraska and chat with other BRAN riders. "It's like a rolling circus, in a sense," Struve said. "You get to meet the most interesting people."

"It's a good vacation. There's no television, no telephone, no nothing," he added.

Struve said he has been training moderately during the winter months for the bike ride. He has ridden approximately 10 miles recently, and has been in weight training since October.

Normally, he can get into the routine "and work into it" within a two week time frame.

He said the ride can be considered "an exercise in budgeting energy."

Also, it helps if one knows how to "pass around the pain," he said.

The fee to participate in the BRAN event is $35. Several of his family will be joining him.

Paths usually taken by the cyclists are areas that are safe, on roads with low traffic and wide shoulders.

ALONG THE way, the cyclist will sleep overnight on school football fields and parks and in tents at other camping locations. When the group reaches Wayne, Struve expects the bicycle riders to stay in the area of the Willow Bowl and other campus

Board reviews enrollment

Wayne-Carroll Board of Education reviewed enrollment figures during its regular meeting Wednesday night at the high school.

Dave Lutt, principal at Wayne Elementary School, reported that there were 51 kindergarten students registered for the 1987-88 school year — which is less than what was actually anticipated.

Superintendent Francis Haun told the board of education that 51 kindergarten students can be divided into two class sections "without problem."

There are eight kindergarten students registered in Carroll.

However, there will be 61 students in the first grade at Wayne, which will require three sections, according to Haun.

In other action on Wednesday, the board of education:

• Learned that kindergarten instructor Joan Hansen submitted her resignation to the board of education.

• Listened and discussed a report made by Principal Dave Lutt on the new social studies curriculum being introduced to the K-4 students in the Wayne-Carroll school district. The curriculum package costs approximately $2,550 and does not involve a lot of computer software, he told the board.

• Reviewed SRA scores of the 11th grade students (a total of 43 took the test). Basic skills testing took place in March. The percentage of items answered correctly by the student was higher than the percentage of items answered correctly by the national population. The skill areas tested included vocabulary, reading comprehension, spelling, English mechanics and usage, mathematics computation and concepts and problem solving, reference materials, social studies, science and survey of applied skills.

• Gave approval of an exchange student from Sweden to stay at the

ESU One board grants pay hike

The Educational Service Unit One board of directors adopted a new schedule for classified employee's salaries during its regular meeting Tuesday night at Wakefield.

A 5 percent increase in the hourly salary rate was approved by the board of directors, and the benefit package will remain the same for the classified staff members, according to Rod Garwood, ESU 1 assistant administrator.

The schedule affects 20 employees (those that do not have to have a teaching certificate) which includes aides and secretaries.

Basically, the hourly rates will increase a nickel. For the first year of employment, the hourly rate will jump from $4.15 to $4.20 per hour. The new hourly rate for the second year is $4.35; third year, $4.50; fourth year, $4.65; fifth year, $4.80; sixth year, $4.95; seventh year, $5.10; eighth year, $5.25; ninth year, $5.40; tenth year, $5.55; and eleventh year, $5.70.

Two additional hourly rate steps were added to the salary schedule, with the 12th year set at $5.85 an hour and the 13th year of employment, the salary will be $6 an hour.

Also Tuesday evening, the board of directors approved increasing the office manager's salary from $16,000 to $18,400.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board of directors:

• Approved a van contract of 65 cents a mile with Don Phipps of Wakefield, independent contractor for the delivery of films for next year and other uses of van transportation. Previously, the rate was set at 55 cents a mile. Garwood said the latter figure had been in effect for three years.

• Will advertise for the selling of a 1977 Ford Grenada currently being used by the ESU staff.

• Approved the purchase of two "Recussa Annies", at a cost of over

$2,000, to replace the current "Annies" being used in teaching cardio pulmonary resuscitation at area schools.

• Listened to a presentation by Linda Hamm of the Bryan Preschool Program.

• Accepted the resignation of Maureen Westergaard, resource teacher and Lisa Weinmaster, teacher of the behavioral impaired.

Contracts were renewed by the board of directors for Sue Way of Ponca, Laura Straight of Wayne and DyAnn Popen of Newcastle.

• Reviewed a survey filled in by 23 schools within the ESU 1 service district, outlining a rating of the importance of service which the ESU unit supplies to them.

Rated first was media services, closely followed by nursing services. Others, rated down the line in the order listed, were the co-op services (where school districts are allowed to purchase items at a lower cost, made possible by the cooperative buying of Educational Service Units across Nebraska); inservice programs; media delivery; machine repair; opening day program conducted at Wayne-Carroll high school prior to the start of the school year; and typewriter repair.

GARWOOD SAID the survey allows the ESU board to be more responsive to the needs of the schools in the district. "The survey shows us if we're doing what we ought to be doing," Garwood said.

• Approved verification of successful teaching for Mike Nesbit during 1984-85 and 1985-86.

• And gave approval to do some remodeling on the ESU administrative building in Wakefield.

The work would consist of replacing the roof, moving the air condition compressor, replacing with redwood all of battered strips on the outside of the building, and installing redwood casings over the main entrance. Estimated cost of the project would be approximately $4,800.

areas at Wayne State College.

Most of them will likely leave between 4:30 to 5 a.m. the next morning, Struve said. Struve said he has also participated in RAGBRAI (Register's Annual Great Bike Ride Across Iowa), which he said is an entirely different event than BRAN.

Thousands participate in the RAGBRAI ride. Struve said he prefers the lowa ride. "However, there sure are a lot of hills in Iowa," he added.

Struve told the Kiwanis members that hard-shell helmets have become a requirement among the bicycle riders. He explained in detail some of the clothing that he wears while riding in the BRAN event.

On the same day as the bicycle riders enter Wayne, the Wayne Kiwanis-sponsored big circus is coming to town.

How ironic it is that the circus with the elephants and acrobats and clowns will meet up with the circus on wheels as they enter the confines of the Wayne city limits.

Both events will certainly be spectacular sites to behold.

Need extra hay?

Once again the Nebraska Department of Roads is allowing the mowing and removal of hay on highway rights-of-way, according to State Roads' Director Ray Hogrefe.

Those wishing the extra hay should contact their area State Highway District Office for a license. The district offices are located in Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, Norfolk, Ainsworth, North Platte, McCook and Bridgeport.

There is a limit of five miles per license on one side of the highway. The license to mow will be good for one cutting only. Mowing cannot begin before July 15 and will not be allowed after Sept. 10. The hay must be cut, baled and removed from the right-of-way no later than 20 days after it is cut.

The hay mowing is on a first come, first serve basis.

Firemen attend school

Nebraska volunteer fireman— including 14 from Wayne and three from Carroll— had a May 8-10 training experience that is a model for many other states.

They attended the fiftieth anniversary Nebraska State Fire School in Grand Island. About 1,700 firefighters—a record number— participated in the 12 hours of instruction spread over 2½ days.

Wayne Fire Chief Dale Preston said many other states have adopted some of the Nebraska courses and techniques in fire fighting. He's not sure whether Nebraska's school was the first, but it was among the earliest, he thinks. Some other states send their firemen here.

News Briefs

Rotary elects officers

The Wayne Rotary Club announces the election of its officers for the 1987-1988 Rotary year.

Gil Haase of the Wayne Care Centre was elected its first president. Don Hudman, director of the Northeast Nebraska Research and Extension Center of Concord is vice president. Secretary is Dr. Lyle Skov of Wayne State College and Galen Wisler of the State National Bank is treasurer.

Last Wednesday's meeting was considered a "housekeeping" session with completing a lot of the necessary paper work prior to chartering. Next Wednesday's meeting at 7 a.m. at the Sportsman's Cafe will continue with selection of the Board of Directors.

Any Wayne businessman still needing and wanting to become a charter member is welcome to still sign up.

KSC scholarship announcements

Scott Benjamin of Wayne is a first alternate as recipient of $325 scholarship from the West Central Nebraska Home Builders Association. The announcement of the 1987 scholarship recipient was recently announced by the Kearney State College industrial technology department.

Brown speaks at meeting

Linda Brown, executive vice president of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, talked to the Wayne Woman's Club about Chamber activities at the club's May 8 meeting.

A story in the May 14 Herald inadvertently omitted her part in the club's program.

Historical Society to meet

The Wayne County Historical Society will meet on Tuesday, May 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne Museum.

Requests have been taken for tours of the home/museum in Wayne.

Math contest results

Students from Norfolk Junior High, Chambers, Shelby and Bloomfield schools were the individual winners at the 13th annual math contest conducted May 11 at Wayne State College.

A total of 373 students from 51 schools were preregistered for the competition.

Placing from this area in Algebra I were: Corey Nelson, Wayne, fifth place and Shannon Bergstad, Winside Public, tied for eighth place.

Algebra II: Rachel Bockenhauer, Laurel-Concord, third place.

Senior Math: Brian Schmidt, Wayne, second place; Randy Kinney, Wakefield, third place.

Carroll firemen attending were Cliff Bethune, Robert Hall and Larry Welterberg.

Preston said the school offers 23 courses, all requiring 12 class hours. A firefighter can take only one course a year.

Some of the topics are pumper operation, self-contained breathing apparatus, investigations, fire ground command, fire support operations, hazardous materials, foam to fight fires, propane and anhydrous ammonia fires.

Many of the courses give hands-on experience with equipment and materials. The school occupies Finner Park horse track facilities, both indoor and out.

Preston said the school needs considerable outdoor space to stage some of the fire situations. He noted that weather happened to be fine this year. Sometimes it's terrible. But sometimes real fires happen in terrible weather, he mentioned.

He also noted that some fire departments, including Wayne's, require firemen who attend the school to pass the course they take in order to get expenses paid.

The Golden Years

America's seniors are on the move and enjoying it, according to a travel industry survey. More than one-quarter of the trips taken by travelers over 50 are for sightseeing or other recreational purposes, a higher percentage than for other age groups. While the average round trip for all age groups is 200 to 300 miles, travelers over age 65 more than triple that distance. The most popular trips average 600 to 1,000 miles; the second most popular category involves trips of more than 2,000 miles.

Stalling speaks

Janice Stalling, Wayne State College counselor, talked to Wakefield seniors last week about problems common to students at the college. She suggested some things parents can do to help their college children make the adjustment to college.

Pastor Ricky Bertels was the speaker on Friday and told about the Groto of the Redemption at West Bend, Iowa.

Harold W. Arlin was the world's first full-time radio announcer, starting in 1921 at Pittsburgh's KDKA, America's first commercial radio station. He was also the first person to announce a professional baseball game over commercial radio — the Pirates against the Phillies on August 21, 1921 — and the first college football broadcast — the University of Pittsburgh against West Virginia on October 8, 1921. Arlin passed away last year at the age of 90.

Every great once in a while, responsibilities and duties shift around here.

Over the past six weeks, Dick Manley has been filling in for LaVon Anderson as associate editor. LaVon has been on maternity leave.

It's not easy to step into position cold turkey like Mr. Manley did. But he had experience in using our word processing machines, and he is an experienced photographer. For many years he was the Journalism instructor and advisor at Wayne State College.

We called him. He didn't call us.

He responded with enthusiasm. And if he's like me, he will feel that manning LaVon's position is indeed an experience beyond imagination.

Organization is a key to LaVon's position. Her qualities, besides being an exceptional feature writer, is that her desk is uncluttered, and everything has its place.

Contrast LaVon's style to this writer's style and its like night and day.

LaVon has most of her information and other material that is submitted to her in neatly marked file folders. My system, of course, is very much different.

If I want to find something, I just look at either the top, middle or bottom of the pile.

She knows everything there is to know about handling club news. She knows all about the news of the Mary and Martha Circle, Cuzins' Club, Confusable Collectables Questers Club, PEO Chapter AZ, Hillside Club, Roving Gardeners Club, Minerova Club, Kick and Klatter Home Extension Club, Just Us Gals, Acme Club, and many church organizations and committees.

WHAT WE FIND hard to understand is — why is all the most important highlights of the club meeting always at the tail end of the story?

As a lifelong resident of this area, LaVon knows many local names and knows when to question a spelling on a wedding or a birth.

I'm lucky enough just to remember who my neighbors are.

One deals with a lot of names when working with weddings, births and other types of write-ups of this nature. And many times the names are written different than what they sound.

There's the first names of Tresha, Jerrae, Cheryl, Camille, Marcine, Janet, Nicole, Jyoti, Janee, Cam, Dislree and Betina. All of these are names of 1987 graduates from high schools of this area.

John can be Jon. Christie can be without the "e", or it can be written Kristi. Megan can be written Meghann. Tammy can be Tammil or Tami. Stacy can be written as Stacey. Darrell can be Darrel. Cindy can be Cindi or Cyndi.

Keeping all those names straight is a difficult task in itself.

LaVon works with our correspondents of surrounding communities. Already they have been asking: "When is LaVon coming back?"

Well, the latest word is that LaVon will be coming back to work on Monday, May 18.

Mr. Manley has come through in a pinch, though, and we thank him for his services. Every once in a while, his teaching instincts surface, and we have learned from him some worthwhile techniques and ideas in regard to photographing and news writing.

Out Of Old Nebraska

Recently Abigail Van Buren, of "Dear Abby" fame, expressed shock that the first robin of spring at Ellitsville, Missouri had been killed by three boys with pellet guns.

"It is the responsibility of parents," declared Van Buren, "to raise children to have reverence for life and to respect all living creatures."

The same thought prompted Mrs. Elizabeth Hoefler of St. Clair, Nebraska to call for the selection of a state bird when she spoke at the convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs at Kearney on October 27, 1927.

Hoefler, chairman of the Federation's conservation division, thought Nebraska's birds needed protection and she wanted to stimulate interest in them.

As a result of Hoefler's speech and also of a resolution passed at the convention, the school children of Nebraska were asked to vote for their favorite bird. The western meadowlark received 292 of the 482 ballots cast.

The joyous song of the meadowlark undoubtedly influenced the voting. Next in number of votes received was that herald of spring, the robin, followed by the bob white, the brown thrasher, and the house wren.

Designation of the state bird required legislative action, however, and in 1929 a bill declaring the meadowlark the state bird passed both houses of the Nebraska Legislature.

LONG BEFORE Hoefler and Van Buren, the following story was told by an Indian girl about her father—he was a chief, a hunter, and a warrior but he could not speak English and he could not read or write.

"We were out on the buffalo hunt," said the girl. "It was evening; the tents had been pitched for the night, the camp-fire had been made, and mother and the other women were cooking supper over it. It was a soft, yellow sunset with scarcely any wind. I was playing near my father, when a little Indian boy, a playmate, came up and gave me a little bird he had found. I was very much pleased and showed it to father and mother, and tried to feed it and make it drink. After I had amused myself with it for a time, my father said to me, 'My daughter, bring your bird to me.' When I took it to him, he held it in his hand a moment, smoothed its feathers gently, and then said, 'Daughter, I will tell you what you might do with it. Take it carefully in your hand, out yonder where there are no tents, where the high grass is, put it softly down on the ground, and say as you put it down: 'God, I give you back your little bird. Have pity on me as I have pity on your bird.'"

"I said, 'Does it belong to God?' He said, 'Yes, and he will be pleased if you do not hurt it, but give it back to him to take care of.'"

"Whenever I think of my father in connection with this incident, Coleridge's lines come into my mind: He prayeth best who loveth best, All things great and small; For the dear God who loveth us, He made and loveth all."

This story, by Susette La Flesche, appeared in a small book, Oo-Mah-Ha Ta-Wa-Thea (Omaha City). The book, published in 1898, is in the Library at the State Historical Society.

Chief Iron Eye, Susette's father, died on September 23, 1888. The white people, it was said, came from miles around to attend the funeral.—Betty Loudon, Nebraska State Historical Society.

$11 million approved for military projects

U.S. Senator Jim Exon of Nebraska announced that the Senate Armed Services Committee has approved more than $11 million in military related activities in Nebraska.

The Armed Services Committee authorized funding for the following projects at Offutt Air Force Base: $660,000 for additions to a Combat Arms Training and Maintenance Facility; $3.6 million for additions and alterations to the Unaccompanied Enlisted Personnel Housing and Dining Hall; $5.9 million to construct the Processing Correlation Center; and $810,000 to construct a Noise Suppressor Support Facility.

In addition, $159,000 was approved for constructing an anti-tank weapons range for the Army National Guard at Hastings and $100,000 was authorized to purchase land for the Army Reserve at Lincoln.

Also at Exon's insistence, the Committee authorized for two more years the Procurement Technical Assistance Center Program located at Lincoln and North Platte.

Exon is the chairman of the Armed Services Subcommittee on Strategic Forces and Nuclear Deterrence.

Viewpoint

Take the LEAD

For several years we have been running news releases concerning the two-year LEAD (Nebraska Leadership Education Action Development) program.

It is a worthwhile program, according to J.D. Alexander of Pilger. He calls it "an opportunity of a lifetime."

Young agriculturists, ages 25-40, with proven leadership potential have until June 12 to apply for the program.

A group of 30 individuals, 24 in production agriculture and six in supporting agribusiness, will be selected to begin the program in October of this year. As the newly selected group begins its program, the class selected last summer will begin a second year in the leadership development program.

The program is designed to develop recognized local community leaders as effective spokespersons, decision makers and problem solvers for Nebraska and agriculture.

Those selected to begin in the two-year LEAD program will be participating in 13 three-day seminars over the period as well as two travel/study seminars. One of the travel seminars will be in the U.S., another abroad.

Cost to participants will include transportation to and from the seminar sites and a small participant fee.

During the LEAD program experience, participants are expected to develop a higher level of self-confidence and communication skills; sharpen their leadership and public affairs, government, monetary and fiscal matters, environmental concerns, domestic and international trade and foreign relations.

Alexander traveled to Russia, Poland, Belgium, and East and West Germany during his second year in the program. He noticed the lack of freedom to travel and the visual difference between capitalism and communism. He says there are no incentives for people to do their work more efficiently or better.

Still he found the trip rewarding. And he is confident others will, too.

For those that want further information on LEAD, contact J.D. Alexander at 396-3147 or Allen Blezek, executive director of the Nebraska LEAD program at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln at 402-472-6810.

Ask A Lawyer

A public service of the Nebraska State Bar Association

Q. I have a relative who is unemployed and has not been able to keep up his car payments. The car broke down and it will cost a lot to get it fixed. He told the finance company to come and get it and they really don't want it. It is still sitting in his yard. We are concerned as to what will happen with this loan. Will the interest keep building and will they be able to garnish his wages should he get back to work? Can they take some of his other possessions?

A. Depending upon the terms of your relative's car loan, it is quite possible that the finance company could repossess the car, sell it, and apply the proceeds to the loan. If a balance still exists on the loan, or if the finance company chooses not to repossess your relative's car, the company could obtain a judgment against your relative in court, and take further action such as garnishing his wages or repossessing other property to satisfy the judgment.

The rights and obligations of a creditor and debtor are, in any transaction, governed by the terms of the contract they make. As long as those terms do not conflict with Nebraska law, they will be enforceable in Nebraska. Ordinarily, interest on a debt continues to build or "accrue," at least to some extent, until the debt is paid in full. A creditor has several options for lawfully collecting the debt.

One of the options that is frequently available is to take possession of personal property that the debtor has pledged as collateral or security for the debt. If the creditor has a security interest in the property, he or she may, but is not required to, take possession of that property if the debtor defaults. The creditor does not need to file suit to do this if it can be accomplished without breaking the peace or violating any other law. Otherwise, the creditor must file a lawsuit to possess the collateral.

Once the creditor gets possession of the collateral and it has been sold in the manner required by law, the proceeds of the sale, less expenses, are applied to the debt. If the creditor complies with certain legal requirements in handling the sale, and the amount recovered is still less than the debt, the creditor is usually entitled to recover the difference (or the "deficiency") from the debtor. The creditor generally collects that deficiency by filing suit and obtaining a judgment against the debtor.

Laurel couple Kelli Baier feted on 25th married in Omaha

Leon and Linda Johnson of Laurel were honored by 130 guests who came to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, May 9, in the Laurel City Auditorium.

The Johnsons were married May 11, 1962, in Concordia Lutheran Church at Concord. They have lived in Laurel ever since.

Among the guests were two who attended the couple at their wedding, Marlene Melburn, now of Des Moines, and Dwight Johnson of Allen.

Hosts for the reception were the Johnson children, Bill of Laurel and Kelli of Broken Arrow, Okla., and Bill's wife and children.

As part of the program the couple's children sang "Security," "Love Them While You Can," and "Me and My House." Friends of the honorees staged several skits.

Ardyce Johnson and Phyllis Salmon, both of Wakefield, served coffee and punch. Doris Nelson of Laurel baked the cake, which was decorated in lavender and white (the bride's chosen wedding colors).

Kelli Baier married in Omaha

Kelli Baier of Wayne and Ron Coughlin of Omaha were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on April 24, 1987 at St. Pius X Catholic Church in Omaha.

Kelli's parents are Stan and Imogene Baier of Wayne, and Ron is the son of Mrs. Gail Coughlin of Omaha. The ceremony was performed by Father Damlen Zuerlin of Omaha.

After a wedding trip to Kansas City, Missouri, the couple's address is 1333 Mayfair in Fremont, Nebraska.

Kelli is a 1982 graduate of Wayne High School and graduated from the Methodist School of Nursing in 1985. She is presently employed at Douglas County Hospital.

Ron graduated from Omaha Roncalli in 1980, attended the University of Nebraska-Omaha and graduated from the Grand Island Police Academy in 1984. He is employed by the Fremont Police Department.

Bridal Showers

Showers for Kami Helgren

Kami Helgren of Laurel has been feted at three bridal showers before her June 6 marriage to Lathan Asbra. Laurel, at the United Methodist Church in Laurel.

The first shower occurred April 11 at the United Lutheran Church, with 28 guests. Hostesses were Mary Ann Christensen, Jan Twiford, Mildred Christensen, Karen Granquist, Karen Schulte, Nadine Anderson, Anita Gade, LaNita Recob and Liz Norvell.

The next shower was at the Methodist Church April 25, with hostesses Ardis Cunningham, Lynette Joslin, Roberta Lute, Mary Ann Ward, LaVera Milliken, LaVonne Madsen, Sue Stingley, and Susan Brandow. One other hostess, Ardith Anderson, also created a skit titled "The Fairy Tale Romance of Kami and Lathan." Sue Stingley gave devotions.

There were 45 guests present.

One May 5, Jean Lute and Pam Kavanaugh of Wayne were hostesses to a shower for Miss Helgren at Neihardt Hall on the Wayne State campus. Eleven attended.

Pressure canner, gauges can get test

Gauges on pressure canners should be tested annually to be sure they register accurately. Defective or inaccurate gauges may result in food spoilage and a waste of produce, time and effort.

Gauges on pressure canners will be tested on Thursday, May 21, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Northeast Station east of Concord.

For testing bring the pop-up gauges attached to the canner lid. Weighted gauges that jiggle or rock cannot be tested. Gauges and lids left in advance of the testing date should be identified with owner's name and telephone number.

There is no charge for testing gauges. For more details, call Anna Marie White at 584-2234.

Grace women hear Berit

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid had its guest day May 13 with 49 members and 39 guests attending.

Hostesses were Leona Janke, Elsie Halley, Irene Temme, Irma Hingsi, LaVerne Heithold and Adeline Sieger.

The Christian Growth Committee was in charge of the opening devotions and program. President Sally Lubberstedt welcomed the guests. Rev. Jon Vogel had devotions on the theme of "Setting Sail." Irene Victor read articles and scripture.

Berit Hartviksen, student from Denmark, presented the program.

Flowers were presented as special gifts to several guests. Seated at the birthday table were Pastor Vogel, Dora Claussen, Dora Echtenkamp, Rose Fredrickson, Lillian Berres and guests whose birthdays were in May.

Hostesses for the June 10 meeting will be Sally Lubberstedt, Maria Ritze and Ethel Johnson.

News and Notes

HOW TO HELP "WHEN YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT TO SAY"

What do you say when you don't know what to say? When a friend or relative is experiencing trouble, such as a death in the family, financial losses, divorce, or serious illness, it's easy to stay away or remain silent because you don't know the right words.

But think of it from your friend's or relative's point of view. During hard times things seem even worse when friends and family stay away. The following list will give you some ideas of how to offer help in an awkward situation.

1. Instead of saying "How are you?" when you greet a person, wait until after you have chatted for a few minutes. Then pause and say, "How are you doing?" or, "How are things going?" When you ask the question right away the person may not know whether you really want an answer. Be sure you have time to listen before you ask the question.

2. Drop the person a note to let him or her know you care. You might write something like, "I've been thinking of you and wondering how you are doing." Letting the person know you care can make a big difference. You might suggest getting together for coffee in a few days. Then be sure to call and follow through.

3. Be aware of especially stressful times for the person, such as an appointment with a lawyer, a doctor, or a banker. Then call a few hours later to see how things went. Your caring may help the person cope with bad news.

4. Let the person know you are not trying to snoop into personal affairs but only want to be a support. You can say something like, "I don't want to butt in to your affairs so tell me if I'm getting too personal and I'll drop it." That lets the person know you want to help but only if he or she wants to talk.

5. Confidentiality is essential. Let the person know that you will keep his or her comments to yourself, even if the person doesn't specifically ask you not to repeat the information. If you can't keep a confidence, it is better not to listen to personal comments.

6. Find a time and place where you won't be interrupted, and where others can't eavesdrop. You might want to suggest finding another time or place.

7. Tell the person that you're going to stop by to chat. You might say, "I've got the doughnuts. You put on the coffee."

8. Remember that it may be difficult for a person who needs help to bring up the subject. He or she may not want to bother you. You need to let the person know that you want to listen.

9. Sometimes a physical gesture like a hug or an arm around the shoulder may say more than words.

10. At a time of great personal loss or tragedy you can go to the person and say, "I don't know what to say" or, "I want you to know I'm thinking of you." The person in crisis doesn't need advice or even words of wisdom but rather your caring and your presence.

11. It may be important to continue to make personal contacts because the first time you reach out, the person may not be ready to accept your help. Continue to be available and let the person know you care.

12. If you're not close enough to visit personally, make a phone call. Don't wait for them to call you.

JON STOLTENBERG of Wayne breaks the tape at the finish line during the 110-meter high hurdles. The senior won the race in 15.1 seconds.

Liska and Stoltenberg head to state meet

Bill Liska and Jon Stoltenberg will advance to the state track and field championships next weekend while the rest of the Wayne boys' and girls' track teams completed their season at the district meet on Thursday.

The two seniors each finished in the top two places in the 110-meter high hurdles and the high jump at the Class B-4 district meet at Columbus.

Stoltenberg led his best performance of the season in the high jump as he broke the tape in 15.1 seconds. This time is the sixth best in Class B this season.

Liska qualified in the high jump with his second-place finish. The senior cleared 6-5 in the event. Last week he broke his own school record with a successful jump of 6-7, the best in Class B.

As a team the Blue Devils tallied 20 points to finish ninth in the 10-team field. Columbus Scotus won the title with 125 points and 18 qualifiers. Blair was the runner-up with 108 points and 11 qualifiers. North Bend finished third scoring 94 points and qualifying nine athletes.

Seth Anderson and the 4x100-meter relay team rounded out the scoring for the Blue Devils. Anderson finished sixth in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles as he crossed the finish line in 42.4. The relay team of Stoltenberg, Liska, Mike Hillier and Cory Stuthel also placed sixth in a time of 46.6.

The Lady Blue Devils scored 10 points but failed to qualify anyone for the state meet.

The best finish of the day for the girls came in the long jump and the 4x100-meter relay. Jennifer Wessel finished fourth in the long jump with a best jump of 15-4. The relay team of Cindy Brown, Tonya Erleben, Dana Nelson and Kristy Hansen turned in a 52.9 to also place fourth. Hansen gathered the other two points for her fifth-place performance in the 200-meter dash. The sophomore turned in a time of 28 flat.

Winside does well in tough district; Thies, Kant qualify for state meet Things went little better than expected for the Winside track teams at the District C-6 track meet at Madison, according to Coach Jim Winch.

Winch said although the school had only two qualifiers, several athletes turned in top times of the season which included a school record effort.

The Winside girls scored 25½ points to finish seventh in the 11-team district. Christi Thies was the lone qualifier. The senior won the high jump with a leap of 5-3. She also set a new school record in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles with a sixth-place time of 51.7. Thies beat her own record by two-tenths of a second.

Kathy Leighton was one spot away from qualifying in the 3,200-meter run. She turned in a season's best of 13:22 to finish third. Leighton placed fifth in the 1,600-meter run in a time of 6:02. Teammate Rhonda Suehl was sixth in 6:05.

In the field events Tracy Topp finished fourth in the long jump with a leap of 15-4 while Kristy Miller cleared 4-10. In the high jump good enough for sixth place, Lisa Greene also finished sixth in the 200-meter dash as she crossed the finish line in 27.6.

Defending state champion Howells won the meet with 113 points and nine qualifiers. Battle Creek was next in line with 84 points and six qualifiers. Pierce finished third tallying 69 points and qualifying three girls.

Battle Creek ran away with the boys' title scoring 141 points and qualifying 15 athletes. Wisner-Pilger was second with 113 points and seven qualifiers and Pierce ran third with 85 points and six qualifiers.

Winside scored nine points to finish 10th. Mace Kant was the Wildcats lone representative. Kant placed second in the 3,200-meter run with a clocking of 10:53.2.

Winside's other point came from its 4x800-meter relay team. The foursome of Mace Kant, Brian Suehl, Darren Wacker and Max Kant finished sixth.

Next season Winside will get a long-awaited break when it moves from Class C to Class D competition.

Field day meet held at Laurel

Wildcats eliminated from Area 3 playoffs

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The Wayne State baseball team had its hopes for a berth to the NAIA College World Series dashed rather abruptly when they were beaten twice on the opening day of the Area 3 playoffs.

The Cats were ousted from the playoffs in Norman, Oklahoma when Emporia State dumped them 12-2 and Valley City outlasted them 15-10.

Wayne State opened the double-elimination tournament against Emporia State. The Cats were trying to avenge an earlier loss to the Hornets in the CSIC tournament. But it wasn't to be.

The Hornets took the lead for good in the top of the first. Leftfielder Steve Michaels smashed his 21st homer of the season with two on to give Emporia State a 3-0 lead.

Michaels hit the winning home run against the Cats the first time the two clubs met.

The locals cut the lead to 3-1 in the bottom of the inning when Mike Hoffart singled to score Dale Clayton. It was the last time they could get to pitcher Jose Valencia until the final inning.

In the meantime the Hornets were having success against the Wildcat pitching. Emporia was credited with 16 hits in the contest. Randy Raabe, 6-3, took the loss. The senior went the first five and one-third innings before giving way to Jeff Pasold.

Emporia State upped its lead with one run in the third and two in the fourth. In the sixth inning John Hernandez ripped a home run to make the score 7-1. Earlier Hernandez stroked a two-run single.

A five-run seventh spelled the end for the Cats. Wayne State came back with one run in the bottom of the seventh but the inning ended on a double play. The game was called because of the 10-run rule.

The loss meant that the Cats would have about an hour's rest before they had to do it again. This time the locals were pitted against Valley City of North Dakota.

The game was anything but a pitchers' duel. Mike Hoffart led the offensive attack for the Cats. The big first baseman cracked his 12th and 13th home runs of the season but it wasn't enough. The contest was tight until Valley City tallied eight runs in the last two innings to take the 15-10 decision. Freshman pitcher Corey Weinmaster was saddled with the loss in relief. The Sidney native ended the season with a 4-1.

The pair of losses ends the Wildcats' season at 34-14.

Stelling garners 4 firsts, Wakefield sends 8 to state

Eight Wakefield athletes will be making the trip to Omaha Burke next weekend for the state track and field championships after qualifying in the District C-4 meet at Lyons.

The "Wakefield Eight" will be competing in six events. Jody Navrkal was the lone representative from the boys' squad while Theresa Stelling, Cathi Larson, Laurie Plendl, Val Krusemark, Michelle Offe, Stacey Kuhl and Sheila Anderson qualified for the Lady Trojans.

Lyons-Decatur Northeast won both the boys' and girls' competition. The boys scored 134½ points and qualified 10 runners. The Lady Cougars tallied 102 points while qualifying five athletes. Bancroft-Rosalie was second with 119 points and 10 qualifiers while Homer finished third with 87½ points and five qualifiers.

The Trojans received 48 fourth-place points in the 10-team field.

Navrkal will be running in the 200-meter dash at the state meet. The senior won the event Thursday in a clocking of 24.2. He barely missed qualifying in the 100 when he was nosed out of second place by about a foot.

Mike Nelson was another runner-up for the Trojans. Nelson placed third in both the 800- and 1,600-meter runs. He missed the state meet by .2 of a second in the 800 and .5 in the 1,600. The 4x100-meter relay team of Navrkal, Brian Wagner, Tony Halverson and Kurt Boeckenhauer finished third. The top two relay teams advance to state.

Stelling led the Lady Trojans to the runner-up spot in the team standings. The freshman standout qualified in four events with four first-place finishes. The distance runner set new school records in the 800-meter dash with a winning time of 2:26.7, and the 3,200-meter run breaking the tape in 11:28.9. Her 3,200-meter time is the second quickest in the state. Stelling also won the 1,600-meter run in a time of 5:31.4 and she was a member of the winning 4x800-meter relay team of Stelling, Larson, Plendl and Offe. The foursome broke the school record turning in a 10:15.4, which is also the fifth best in Class C.

Krusemark earned the trip to Omaha by placing second in the 100 with a top distance of 102.6½. Plendl finished right behind Stelling in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 5:51.4.

The team of Larson, Kuhl, Anderson and Plendl took the 4x400-meter run as they broke the tape in 4:24.8.

Lyons-Decatur Northeast won the meet scoring 102 points while qualifying five. Wakefield was next in line with 89 points and seven qualifiers. Oakland-Craig finished third with 82 points and eight qualifiers.

This year marked the fourth-straight year that the Lady Trojans have been the bridesmaid of the district meet.

Coach John Torczon said things went about as planned. He said with a little luck his team could have qualified as many as 12 runners.

Wayne golfers win districts, prepare for state meet in McCook

The Wayne high golf squad will get a shot to win its second state championship in three years when they travel to the state meet in McCook on Thursday.

The Blue Devils earned the right to advance by winning the district meet at the Albion Country Club on Thursday.

Wayne won the meet convincingly by posting an 18-hole total of 312. The locals best round of the season is a

311. The Blue Devils outdistanced second-place Columbus Scotus by 20 strokes. Hartington Cedar Catholic finished third with a score of 339.

The top three teams receive automatic berths to the state meet. The top eight also qualify for state. Corey Johnson of Ord and Corky Stoff of St. Paul were the only two medalists who qualified that weren't on the top three teams.

Four of the Wayne golfers placed in the top six spots. Robb Reeg was the top medalist as he fired a four-over par 76. Eric Runestad and Dave Ellis each carded a 78 but Runestad won the playoff and finished fourth while Ellis placed fifth. Kevin Griess carded an 80 to earn the sixth spot. Wayne's fifth golfer, Jed Reeg, shot a round of 86.

Coach Terry Munson's squad will depart Wayne for McCook on Tuesday evening.

Chuck Ellis tournament slated for May 23-28

The 16th annual Chuck Ellis Memorial Tournament is right around the corner. The Midget and Junior League tournament is set to begin May 23 and run through the 28th. The tournament will be divided into a Midget bracket and a Junior division. Teams scheduled to play in the midget division are Fremont, Norfolk Blue, West Point, Laurel, Pender, Wayne, Lyons and Wakefield. Creighton may join the field. The Junior division will consist of Fremont, Wayne, Norfolk, West Point, Creighton, Pender, Hartington and host Wakefield. The proceeds from the tournament will help pay for new uniforms for the Midgets and Juniors.

Laurel runners wait for NSAA decision

The Lady Bears finished 10th tallying 20 points. Ponca won with 73 points and seven qualifiers. Bloomfield was second with 67 points and five qualifiers and Hartington placed third scoring 65 points and qualifying two girls. Amy Adkins, Sherri McCorkindale, Becky Stanley and Addison finished fifth in the 4x400-meter relay with a time of 4:28.8. Adkins had a pair of fourth-place finishes in the 100- and 200-meter dashes. She ran the 100 in 13.3 and the 200 in 28.1 seconds. Addison closed out the scoring with a fifth-place finish in the 300-meter H's as she crossed the finish line in 53.1.

NSAA didn't have the state field in the 4x800-meter relay narrowed down. In a phone conversation on Friday, a spokesperson for the NSAA said the results would be completed Saturday afternoon. The Lady Bears relay team of Heather Thomas, Dawn Addison, Emily McBride and Jessie Munson finished second place in a time of 10:55.4. Their time was faster than one of the winning teams in Class C. Scott Marquardt, Kyle Nixon, Brad Prescott and Mike Freeman placed third in the 4x800 as they crossed the finish line in 8:41.8. That same team also finished fourth in the 4x400-meter relay in a time of 3:41. Prescott tallied two points in the 200-meter dash by finishing fifth in a time of 24.5.

The 4x800-meter relay teams from Laurel are on the bubble waiting to see if their times are fast enough to qualify them for the state track meet in Omaha next weekend. According to the Nebraska Schools Activities Association guidelines, all first-place teams and the next six fastest times qualify for the state meet. As of Friday afternoon, the Creighton won the boys' division scoring 134 points and qualifying 10 runners. Bloomfield was second scoring 78 and qualifying five and Plainview was third with 71 points and four qualifiers. Laurel placed 11th with 12 points.

Northwest product to play basketball at WSC

Wayne State basketball Coach Steve Aggers has announced his first recruit of the season. Aggers landed Omaha Northwest senior Steve Dunbar. Dunbar, a 5-9 point guard was an all-metro and honorable-mention all-state performer for the Huskies. "He comes to us from an excellent high school program that is always competitive," Aggers said. "Coach Dick Koch and the Omaha Northwest High School basketball program are very well respected in both the high school and college coaching ranks." In his senior season Dunbar averaged 17.8 points per game, and 3.1 assists a contest while shooting 51 percent from the floor. Aggers said Dunbar's playing experience will allow him to help the Wildcats as a freshman. "His history as a junior starter on the second-place team at the 1986 state tournament, the quality of competition in the Metro Conference and his role as team leader and point guard on the Nebraska entry in the Las Vegas Invitational Basketball Tournament in 1986 give him the experience that will enable him to contribute immediately for the Wildcats," Aggers said. "In addition, he is the type of individual who will represent Wayne State well off the basketball floor. We look forward to a rich and rewarding career for Steve," Aggers said. The Northwest MVP will play in the North-West Shrine game and the all-state all-star game.

Four women cagers ink with Lady Cats

Wayne State women's basketball Coach Lenny Klaver announced the signing of four recruits for the 1987-88 season. The new signees are Karla Ripke, Sandra Beaver, Nancy Loterbour and Kae Burke. Ripke, 5-11 forward from Newell, Iowa, was her school's all-time leading scorer. She will be one of 12 Iowa girls playing in Europe this summer. Klaver said Ripke will add immediate inside help to the Lady Cats. Beaver is a 5-10 forward from South Sioux City. She is known for her defensive tenacity and aggressive style of play while in high school. Loterbour, 5-6 from Papillion, is a left-handed shooting guard with good ballhandling skills and defensive abilities.

Burke is a 6-0 center from Waterloo, Columbus High School in Waterloo, Iowa. Klaver said she will add depth at the post position. Rebounding and defensive play list as her assets. "I'm very pleased with our recruiting class," Klaver said. "A lot of these girls are not only ballplayers that will fit into our style of play but they are also first-class young ladies as well. I'm looking forward to their addition to our squad."

Hunting and fishing hotline available 24-hours a day

Nebraska sportsmen are now able to get current hunting and fishing information from across the state thanks to a new service being offered by the North Central Nebraska Resource Conservation and Development Council, of Bassett. The Council is accumulating and presenting information gathered from bait shops, sporting goods dealers and marina operators throughout the state. That information is available to sportsmen on two different hotlines, one covers the east, the other the west, according to Council spokesman Eugene Lehnert. The Eastern Nebraska Sportsman's Hotline number is 402-684-2282. It will carry information about Lewis and Clark Reservoir, the Missouri River, Calamus Reservoir, Johnson Lake, Elwood Lake, Harlan County Reservoir, Grove Lake, and the many lakes and trout streams in north central Nebraska. The Western Nebraska Sportsman's Hotline number is 402-684-2289. It will offer information about Harry Strunk Lake, Lake Maloney, Sutherland Reservoir, Jeffrey Reservoir, the North Platte River, Merritt Reservoir, the Snake River, Crescent Lake Wildlife Refuge, the Valentine National Wildlife Refuge, lakes, Lake Lehnert says the hotlines are in Minature and the trout streams in that area. operation 24 hours a day, all year long. Hotline information will be updated each Monday and Thursday morning.

Physicals planned for athletes

All Wayne-Carroll High School students planning to participate in athletics for the 1987-88 school year are encouraged to get their physicals on June 1-2.

A reduced rate of $10 will be charged to students in grades 7-12 at both the Wayne Family Practice and Benthack Clinic. The hours at the family practice are 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. on June 1 and 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on June 2. At the Benthack Clinic the hours are 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. June 1 and 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. on June 2.

Payment must be made before the student receives a physical. Both offices suggest that the athlete brings a urine sample. Physical forms should be taken to the school following the exam.

Nebraska Outdoorsman

By Tom Keith - Nebraska Game & Parks

Equipment is basic for good trout fishing in Nebraska

Trout fishing starts to pick up in many of Nebraska's cold water streams during mid-May and one of the most exciting ways to catch browns and rainbows is with fly fishing gear and small streamer flies.

Streamers are tied to imitate small forage fish, a favorite dish of mature trout. Many streamers are tied with a feather wing that flutters seductively in the current, while others are tied with heavy bucktail or kip tail fiber wings that give the fly a little more stability in rapidly moving waters.

Unweighted streamers, because of their light weight and the buoyancy of the materials used to tie them, stay fairly close to the surface and can be manipulated easily under overhangs and around rocks, trees and logs in the stream. Weighted streamers, on the other hand, are tied on hooks with lead wire wrapped around their shanks, and sink rapidly in the water. They are a little more difficult to control, but are sometimes necessary to coax a glance from a trout that is reluctant to leave the security of a deep pool.

The gear for early season stream fishing can be pretty basic, just a fly rod in the 6-or-7 weight range, a weight-forward floating line, an inexpensive fly reel, a tapered leader and a half-dozen streamers stuck in your hat band are about all you need.

If the stream is wide and not too deep or rocky you may want to wade while you fish, in which case a pair of waders aren't necessary, but you'll have to learn to make your backcast up and away from any obstructions like streamside bushes and trees, or develop a sidearm cast that lets you avoid getting hung-up in the vegetation.

Trout like to lure under overhanging banks, ready to ambush any ill-fated critter that ventures too close to its hiding spot, so a good tactic is to cast the streamer upstream and let the current carry it along the bank and around obstructions. The trick to this kind of fishing is to match how fast you strip your line to the speed of the current so you avoid letting slack accumulate in the line. Upstream casts are usually most effective in the spring and when the water is moving slowly enough to let you easily control the fly.

It's not necessary to fish the streamer rapidly, just try to impart enough action so the trout will mistake it for a minnow. Make it dart, then let it swim near the bank, anything to give it life-like action. Make enough casts to effectively fish the entire width of the stream before changing locations.

Casting downstream and retrieving against the current gives the angler more control of the fly and lets him fish all the hard to get to pockets and likely-looking spots easily. It also allows the angler the opportunity of being able to make accurate casts across stream and at various angles to fish productive-looking cover.

The fisherman should probe every undercut bank, large rock, fallen log, or other obstruction where a trout might hide with short casts of his streamer.

In some spots the creek may be very narrow and have tall vegetation growing right to the edge, or lots of trees and tall bushes nearby which make casting very difficult or downright impossible. In such a case the only reasonable tactic is to use the rod as a long arm to reach out over the vegetation and just drop the streamer into the water. Though it doesn't take a great deal of skill, and can be largely a matter of luck in the way the current sweeps the fly along the bank, it can be a successful method in an emergency.

Some good streamer colors for early season fishing are black and white, brown and white, red and white, and red and yellow. Some of the best patterns are the black ghost, Mickey Finn, black-nosed dace, woolly bugger, and the muddler minnow and marabou muddler minnow. It's a good idea to have a variety of sizes, from 8 to 12, in each pattern.

There are some good trout fishing streams in the Panhandle and the north central part of the state. For a complete listing of all the Nebraska's public fishing waters contact your nearest Game and Parks Commission office and ask for a free copy of the publication entitled "NEBRASKA and Magazine's Guide to Good Fishing". You'll probably also want to pick up a copy of the NEBRASKA and Magazine special issue "The Fish Book", on sale anywhere for just $8.50.

Airline pilot visits Winside 1st graders

First grade students at Winside Public School received a visit Friday, May 8, from First Officer Darwin M. Puls, a Delta Air Lines pilot from Gains, Georgia.

Throughout the school year, first grade teacher, Mrs. Ruth Puls, has been exposing the children to a number of career options. When she learned of her brother-in-law's plans to visit Nebraska, she had each of her 21 students use letter writing and art skills to write Mr. Puls, asking him to visit their classroom.

Mr. Puls was raised on a farm between Hoskins and Winside. He attended Hoskins Public School and graduated from Norfolk Senior High. He served five years in the U.S. Air Force, where he became a pilot.

After his armed service duty, he became employed with Delta Air Lines based in Atlanta, Georgia. He has been a pilot with them for 17 years and flies a Lockheed L-1011 241-passenger jet plane within the United States and overseas.

The children had each prepared a question for Mr. Puls regarding the flying of planes, their functions, and what it is like to fly.

RAINBOW KIDS 4-H CLUB

The Rainbow Kids 4-H Club met May 8 at 4 p.m. at the Hoskins fire hall with 12 members and four leaders present.

Catherine Bussey, junior secretary, called the meeting to order. Karl Gubbels and John Gallop led the flag pledges.

Catherine Bussey and Tracy Gubbels reported on the last sewing project meeting.

Steven Svatos, John Gallop and Jean and Jennifer Severson, all reported on the Rabbit Showmanship Clinic they attended at Concord.

The club voted to place the flags along main street on Memorial Day, beginning at 9 a.m.

Members also voted to take turns mowing the fire hall yard.

The meeting was adjourned. After the meeting, members stayed to plant the flowers they had brought in the fire hall area. Flowers were also donated by the Town and Country Garden Club.

Ice cream cones were served by Rosemary Severson, leader.

No meeting is planned for June and the date of the July meeting will be announced later.

Honors and Track & Field Day held at Hoskins

Hoskins Public School held its Honors and Track & Field Day on Thursday, May 14 at 9:30 a.m. Catherine Bussey opened the program with a welcome to the audience. The kindergarten led the students and guests in the Pledge of Allegiance. Deb Strate introduced Glen Wiseman, Wayne County Superintendent. Wiseman presented graduation pins and certificates, grade honors, attendance, citizenship, sportsmanship and congeniality awards.

Eighth grade graduates receiving pins were Tad Behmer, David

Greene, Doug Hoffman, Stacey King, John Orr, Tony Schwede, Matt Stoffel and Call Thurstenson.

Students receiving perfect attendance certificates were Sara Gubbels and Tony Schwede.

Honors awards were given to students receiving 93 percent to 100 percent of their total report card grades as A's. Recipients were Jessie Barton, Nick Linn, Jeff Kesting, Brian Kesting, Lynn Scheurich, Catherine Bussey, Tracy Gubbels, Amy Strate, Sharmin Allen, Emily Barton, Michelle Scheurich, Christi Thurstenson, Doug Hoffman and Cali Thurstenson.

CITIZENSHIP, sportsmanship and congeniality awards were presented to one student in each room. These recipients were selected by the student body and teachers. Citizenship recipients were Sara Gubbels, Sara Marotz, Tracy Gubbels and Emily Barton. Sportsmanship awards were presented to Amber Allen, Lynn Scheurich, Kari Gubbels and John Orr. The recipients of the congeniality award were Levi Trautman, Scott Wittler, Nick Linn, Minda Marotz, Amy Strate and Cali Thurstenson.

Upon completion of their first year of school, the kindergarteners received certificates of completion from Mr. Wiseman.

Jenny Gubbels' first and second grade entered the Book It Program sponsored by Pizza Hut. Within five months, 13 students read 650 books, which entitled them to a free pizza party. Jardine Luebe's first, fourth and fifth graders held a book report contest. Those completing the most book reports were: Maggie Stoffel, Gabe Barton, Jennifer Hoefler and Amy Strate.

Several people received special recognition. Those volunteering their time were Lanette Stoffel, librarian; Bonnie Walker, Kris Wittler, Adelle Gallop, Sue Sherry, Elaine Scheurich, Donna Marotz, Neta Gubbels, Linda Hoefler, Peg Behmer, Myla Thurston, Connie Behmer and Kay Hoffman, room mothers; and the Concerned Parents Organization for time spent during the soup supper, ice cream social and other school activities.

ALICE ROHDE presented a school year summary including seasonal parties and programs, seventh and eighth grade tour, Wayne State College play, math contest competition and monthly convocations.

John Gallop and Steven Svatos led the audience in the closing song, "America, The Beautiful."

The day continued with the track and field day and a picnic lunch. The track and field events included relays, dashes, races, football and softball throws, running and standing broad jumps and an obstacle course. The day concluded with ice cream treats.

PARENTS HAVE MAIN RESPONSIBILITY FOR EDUCATING KIDS, PTA SAYS

The primary responsibility for educating children is with the family, says a position statement adopted by the National PTA.

Parents, says the statement, have the responsibility to:

- Safeguard and nurture the physical, mental, social and spiritual education of their children.
- Instill respect in children for themselves, for others and for learning.
- Provide opportunities for children to interact with other children and with adults.
- Lay the foundation for responsible citizenship.
- Provide a home environment that encourages their children's commitment to learning and sets an example for them to follow.
- Know and work with teachers and administrators at the children's schools.
- Participate in selecting responsible school board members.

SMOKELESS ISN'T SAFE

Once the province of cowboys and ballplayers, "smokeless tobacco," chewing tobacco, is becoming more popular with teenage boys. That's bad news. Chewing tobacco is not a safe alternative to smoking—far from it.

Chewing tobacco has been linked to a number of diseases, including cancer of the mouth, increased blood pressure and heart rate, gum disease, and tooth loss.

A 1985 study by the National Institute of Drug Abuse found that 16 percent of males 20 years old or younger used smokeless tobacco. Use is growing among grade-school boys, too.

THE JOY OF THINKING

"Why do so many men never amount to anything? Because they don't think. Thinking expands the brain's capacity. For example, the average person's brain does not observe a thousandth part of what the eye observes. The man who doesn't think misses the greatest pleasure in life." Thomas Alva Edison, diary entry made in 1921.

At Wayne State

Faculty accomplishments

Listed below are some of the recent professional accomplishments of the faculty and staff of Wayne State College.

Dr. Catherine Rudin, interim associate professor of English, attended the Conference on Native American Languages and Grammatical Typology and the 23rd annual meeting of the Chicago Linguistic Society, both at the University of Chicago, April 22-25.

Gail Egbers, instructor of information services, attended an Agribusiness USA workshop April 29 in Omaha. Agribusiness USA is a principal data base used for business research that provides comprehensive information on all facets of the business of agriculture. The workshop covered the content and format of the database in order to enhance the computer searcher's skills.

Ardis Von Seggern, instructor of information services, attended a data base seminar April 23-24 in Lincoln. The seminar covered the basic search procedures and emphasized search strategy formulation and topic analysis.

Andre Sedricks, associate professor of humanities, directed a play in Lincoln for the Latvian Community Theatre April 5. The title of the play, which is performed in the Latvian language and is a North American premiere, is "Precinleks (Project: Marriage)." The play opened in Des Moines, Iowa April 4 and will tour Denver May 9, Minneapolis May 30 and Seattle July 25.

Connie Webber, associate professor of music, served as judge for the Morningside College Salmons Vocal Scholarship auditions April 4. The auditions are held yearly for Morningside College students.

Webber also served as judge for a high school district music contest at the Osmond Community Schools on April 24.

Maestro Antony Garlic, professor of music, has had eight works accepted for publication by the Seesaw Music Corporation of New York City.

Dr. Russell Rasmussen, professor of chemistry, has contributed a chapter entitled "Main Group Elements" to the Encyclopedia of Physical Sciences and Technology, a 15-volume reference scheduled for release this month by Academic Press. Co-authors of special topics related to their research are Drs. Karen and Joseph Morse, both of Utah State University.

Rasmussen also attended the Midwest Organic Teaching Symposium in Lincoln March 26-28. He served as a presenter and panel member for a special session entitled "Incorporation of Biochemical Topics into Organic Courses."

Kathryn Carter, associate professor of humanities, has signed a book contract with Ablex Publishing Corporation. Carter and Carole Spitzach, of Tulane University, are co-editors of a book tentatively entitled "Doing Research on Women's Communication: Perspectives on Theory and Method."

Carter also attended the Central States Communication Association Convention in St. Louis April 9-12. She presented a paper entitled "Feminist Theatre: The Experience of Communality."

Wakefield quilters make money and fun

By Dick Manley

The ladies at Wakefield's Senior Citizen Center have a big thing going: quilt making, that's what.

Actually it helps keep the center going financially. They have been quilting since the place opened about five years ago, and right now they are working on quilt number 99.

There is no organized group who work on the quilts, but many of the women who frequent the center do ply their needles at one time or another.

Sometimes they make quilts—as a cook would say—from scratch. That is, they choose or create a design, cut out all the pieces, sew them all together, then stitch this "top" to the quilting pad and the backing.

More often, the ladies say, they do only the quilting of a top that others have put together.

For this they earn an agreed payment, and that money goes to support the Wakefield Senior Center, the ladies like to emphasize.

"We don't get any pay for it, but we have a good time doing it," one declared, and she got unanimous agreement.

When the Wayne Herald's reporter and camera arrived Friday, it became apparent that the quilters enjoy keeping their repartee as sharp as their needles.

Edell Petersen, Margaret Lundahl, Polly Hank and Thelma James were busy sewing, and three of them were also busy kidding Thelma, who had a Happy Birthday balloon floating at her place.

Then Harriet Stolle and Ruth Lempke arrived at the quilt, and the banter centered on Harriet's quilting record. She needed only to remind the needlers "who does some of the cooking around this place."

"Are you sure this quilt isn't No. 100?" someone asked. "No, it's No. 99." Finally, it was agreed that "there's a nice ring to 99."

TAX LAWS COME & TAX LAWS GO...

But Interest on a Home Equity Loan is Still Deductible!

Writing off interest payments is a thing of the past, but that doesn't necessarily apply to mortgage interest. Since home equity credit lines are considered mortgage loans, you can write your own loan and still receive the tax benefit. It's the smartest way to borrow money today. Why not talk to our loan officer and get all the facts?

FARMERETTES

The Farmerettes Extension Club met in the home of Mrs. Roberts Lute on Tuesday with eight members in attendance. Mrs. Lola Belle Ebmeier conducted the business meeting.

It was announced that the Cedar County Home Extension Council Tour will be to Sioux Falls, S.D. on Friday, June 12. Departure time is at 8 a.m. from the Hartington Courthouse. They will be visiting the Earth Resources Observation System Data Center, Nordland Fest and the Old World Musical Revue. They will return to Hartington at approximately 4:15 p.m. The tour is open to anyone interested, but first priority will be given to Cedar County Home Extension Club members. The cost is $27, which includes a meal at the Royal Fork Restaurant and an ethnic smorgasbord meal.

The lesson was given by Mrs. Doris Lipp and Mrs. Lill Twiford on "Women and the Law." A banner will be made by the club to be on display at the Cedar County Fair with the theme from a study lesson.

This is the last meeting until September when Mrs. Carrie Dahl will host the meeting on Sept. 8.

VFW AUXILIARY

The VFW 4505 Ladies Auxiliary from Laurel met on May 5 at the Post Home with 14 members present. Roll call was read by Alberta Sutton.

Gold Star Mothers Dora Dahl, Blanche Newton, Alberta Sutton, Gladys Anderson and Gold Star Sister Elzada Stroman were honored guests. They were hosted to the carry-in dinner and were presented with a flower at the close of the evening.

Sonja Apking chaired the business meeting and Florence Rasmussen led the prayer.

The auxiliary gave a subscription of the large print Reader's Digest to Hillcrest Care Center.

Luella Kardell installed officers for the 1987 year and Delores Anderson drew the door prize.

MUSIC CONCERT

An elementary vocal and instrumental concert will be held at the Laurel-Concord school in the old gym tomorrow (Tuesday) at 7:30 p.m. The fifth grade, sixth grade band and elementary Honor's Choir will be presenting the concert. The public is invited to attend.

SCHOOL NOTES

School will be dismissed at 3:10 on Thursday, May 21 to accommodate the high school semester testing schedule. On Friday, May 22 school will dismiss at 1:45 p.m. for the summer.

There will be several closing activities including roller skating parties and class picnics. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be going to Rådolph for a roller skating party. They will leave at 9 a.m. from the school and return at noon.

MEMORIAL DAY DINNER

The Laurel Ladies Cemetery Association will be holding their annual Memorial Day dinner on Monday, May 25. It will be held in the Laurel-Concord High School old gym. Serving will begin at 11 a.m. Menu includes roast beef or ham balls, mashed potatoes and gravy, a vegetable, salad, rolls, pie and coffee.

The cost of the dinner is $4 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under. The public is invited to attend. Persons supplying food for the dinner are asked to have their dishes at the old gym at 10:30 a.m. the day of the dinner.

LAUREL GARDEN CLUB

The Laurel Garden Club will be meeting at the Senior Citizens Center tomorrow (Tuesday) at 2 p.m. Each member is to bring a Mother's Day poem for roll call. Elzada Stroman will have the special topic.

MEN'S BREAKFAST

The Men's Breakfast will be held at the Laurel United Methodist Church at 6:30 a.m. on Wednesday, May 20. The devotions will be given by the Rev. Fred Andersen.

On the breakfast committee will be Dave Anderson, Kenny Wacker, Gary Lute and Don Oxley.

METHODIST WOMEN

A salad luncheon will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 20 when the Laurel United Methodist Women hold their monthly meeting. Those to bring salads are members whose names are from A-M. The greeting hostess will be Mrs. Rosie Samuelson.

The program, "Hear Us When We Pray" will be led by Mrs. Doris Lipp, Mrs. Carla Erwin and Mrs. Diane Anderson.

BOOK CLUB

The Laurel Book Club will be meeting in the home of Mrs. Ardis Cunningham today (Monday) at 8 p.m. Mrs. Hannah Ferdue will be the co-hostess. This is a mini-review night.

'FORMAL FUN NIGHT'

Cedar View Country Club Ladies will hold "Formal Fun Night" tomorrow (Tuesday) with the social hour from 6 to 7 and the supper at 7 p.m. The ticket cost is $7.50 and must be bought in advance. There will be awards and door prizes given. Women must be dressed in formal wear to qualify for prizes which can be long, short, old, new, wedding dress, prom dress or borrowed. Non-members are welcome to come and join in the fun.

FIREMEN TRAINING

On May 8 and 9, six Laurel volunteer firemen attended a training session at Grand Island. The training was held under the auspices of the State Volunteer Firefighters' School and took place at Finner Park. Those attending from Laurel were Chief Mel Olsen, Bob Lillard, Nick Brithell, Gary Anderson, Dave Anderson and Merlin Kint. They each took a different course during the seminar. Classes are held annually at the Grand Island site. The State Volunteer Firefighters' courses included EMT training and classes on new equipment and techniques.
