At A Glance

Adult swimming

Adult group "beginner" and "advanced beginner" swimming lessons will be offered at the Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool Monday through Friday, June 29 to July 17, from 5:30 to 6 p.m.

The fee is $10, regardless of season membership. Pre-registration is required. Contact the Wayne Swimming Pool for more information.

World contestant

Chris Lutt of Wayne has qualified for the World Quarter Horse Show in Tulsa, Oklahoma, scheduled for the first week in August.

He will participate in the Reining division.

Lutt finished second in total points statewide — points tallied from the 18 horse shows he has competed in during the past two months.

He recently clinched a spot at the World Quarter Horse Show with his second place finish this past weekend at Fort Robinson.

Concord fun

The Friendly Neighbors Home Extension Club of Concord is sponsoring a July 4th celebration and entertainment at the Concord fairgrounds, with softball games for all kids at 4 p.m.; a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p.m. with drink and table service furnished; followed by games for all ages.

Last but not least, there will be fireworks.

Weed control

Weed control in corn and soybeans will be the focus of a twilight field tour at the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord. The tour will begin at 6:30 p.m. on July 2.

Agronomist Russell Moomaw observes that several tour stops will feature a large number of old and new herbicides applied to both corn and soybeans. Included will be the soybean herbicides Command, Commence, Scepter, Preval and Cobra.

In addition to researching herbicides for weed control, other stops will feature utilization of cover crops like rye and vetch for weed suppression in corn.

Testing the siren

The city of Wayne will conduct its monthly testing of the civil defence outdoor warning system at 1 p.m. on Friday, June 26.

All sirens will be tested in the silent mode, except the Air Horn, which will run approximately 15 seconds to test the system.

Wayne inventor

Marvin Dranselka of Wayne took fourth place with his entry of a "country boy exerciser" in the first annual Northeast Nebraska Inventors Fair in Norfolk last weekend.

He won $100. The judges based their decisions on originality, ingenuity, practicality and completeness.

A total of 36 exhibitors competed in the inventors fair.

KAY HOUSE MOVING of Wayne got a first taste of moving a church Tuesday and Wednesday, relocating the Theophilus Church into Winside. The journey covered about five miles over county roads. The building will be converted into a church museum at Winside and a branch of the Wayne County Historical Society.

Church moved to new home

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

People may have had to look twice at what was travelling on a county road near Winside Tuesday morning and afternoon.

It's not too often that one sees a church being moved on wheels across the countryside. Kay House Moving was relocating the Theophilus Church, previously located four miles west and three miles south of Wayne, to its new home at Winside.

The church is expected to become a branch museum of the Wayne County Historical Society. It will become a permanent fixture in the southwest section of the Winside City Park.

Onlookers lined the path of the church-moving route Tuesday as the six man crew of Kay House Moving worked its way to a destination just outside of Winside. On Wednesday morning, the crew will be moving the Theophilus Church into town.

"This is the first church that we've ever had to move," said John E. Kay. However, it isn't the largest object that Kay House Moving has handled.

THE CHURCH, Kay said, weighs an estimated 72 tons. He said, the company had once moved an object that had weighed 120 tons.

Moving the church began about 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday. Wayne County Public Power crews went ahead of the movers to take care of the wires which would have crossed the path of the church steeple.

By 2 p.m. that afternoon, the church had reached its four mile destination. On Wednesday morning before the heat of the day, the city of Winside was expected to shut off its electricity so that the church could be moved inside the city limits.

The congregation of the Theophilus Church and the landowner had offered the 90 year old church and its entire contents to the Wayne County Historical Society last year as the first alternative in disbanding. The church was built in 1897.

THE HISTORY of the Theophilus congregation goes back almost 100 years when it was organized in about 1888.

While the church was being moved, the contents of the structure remained inside — items such as the pews, basement items, hymnals and even the cloth on the altar.

Originally, it was planned that the basement of the branch church museum would house display items donated by those from the area, and the upstairs would remain as it is — a country church.

Thus far, $17,721.90 has been received in total pledges for the church museum. Approximately $20,000 is needed to cover the expense of moving the church and digging the basement for the church museum.

Clover crop plentiful

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

People may have noticed the sweet smelling aroma of sweet clover as they drive through the countryside.

There appears to be an abundance of sweet clover being grown this year, more so than previous years. Most of the sweet clover is grown on government acres and cannot be harvested.

But there are plenty of other advantages to sweet clover crops, besides the aroma carried by a soft gentle breeze.

"There's an incredible amount of it being grown in the county," said Quad County Extension Agent Don Spitzke of Wayne. "And it's a real good thing because the sweet clover is building up the soil, both in organics and in nitrogen."

Sweet clover, Spitzke said, is a two year crop. What is being seen in its brightness was probably planted in the spring of 1986 and will likely be plowed under in the fall of this year or in the spring of next year.

"Basically, it's being utilized as a soil builder only," Spitzke said.

Chicken Show date rapidly approaching

In less than three weeks, the city of Wayne will be hosting one of Nebraska's most publicized events — the seventh annual Wayne Chicken Show.

Over the past years, the event has grown in media coverage. Last year, a John Deere promotional film had been filmed with some coverage of the Chicken Show. Two of the contestants who won separate divisions last year in the National Cluck-off Contest had appeared on the Tonight Show with Johnny Carson.

This year's edition of the Chicken Show is set for July 11. Already there has been some activity related to the annual event.

A Chicken Show balloon release took place during the Wayne Country Day on June 13. The balloon which travels the greatest distance and has the name of the balloon owner still attached to it will be declared the winner of this event.

Some deadlines for the Chicken Show are fast approaching. Non-profit organizations which are planning "poultry activity" concessions and games for the July 11 event are to notify the Chicken Show committee members by June 28.

The entry deadline to the Chicken Show Softball Tournament is July 6. Contact Denny Robinson for more information.

Entries are due for the annual Chicken Poetry and Essay Contest — a creative writing contest dealing with chickens in general — sponsored by The Wayne Herald and the Chicken Show committee.

A special prize will be awarded for writings on the theme of the 1987 Chicken Show — "Chickens in the Movies."

JUDGING ON Chicken Show window displays in Wayne will take place on Friday, July 10.

Souvenir Chicken Show Chicken Shirts are available at a cost, with four different adult sizes and three children sizes. Payment can be made to Wayne Chicken Show, Box 262 of Wayne, Nebraska.

Action on the day of the Chicken Show begins at 7:30 a.m. with the Fun Run (for those not chicken) which starts at the Milton G. Waldbaum Company in Wakarusa to Bressler Park in Wayne.

One hour later, starting at 8:30 a.m., will be the annual Rooster Crowing Contest.

One of the highlights in the morning will be the free Omelet Feed from 9 to 11 a.m.

While the omelet feed goes on, the Chicken Flying Meet (sanctioned by the International Chicken Flying Association) is scheduled to begin around 9:30 a.m. Individuals can use their own chicken or rent one.

From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. will be the Chicken Arts and Craft Fair, with chicken and egg displays and sales available.

ALSO, ADULTS from throughout the area and Wayne County (and children) will have their prize roosters and hens on display which they raised from chicks that they received earlier this year from the Wayne Chicken Show committee.

The Chicken Show Parade is slated to begin at 11 a.m., starting at First and Main and finishing at Bressler Park. Entries are judged on "Chicken-ness" and the theme of the

Firemen plan celebration

Wayne's Volunteer Fire Department is celebrating 75 years of service to the Wayne community and surrounding area with special events slated for July 3 and 4.

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce "Chamber Coffee" will take place on Friday, July 3 at the Fire Station beginning at 10 a.m. in honor of the fire department's anniversary celebration.

Later in the day on Friday, a free dance will take place at the National Guard Armory. The dance is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., and there will be a cash bar.

More activity is planned for Independence Day (Saturday, July 4). The fire department will conduct an open house at the fire station from 5-7 p.m.

During that time, rides will be given to kids on the 1936 Ford Fire Truck. The firemen will also be serving free hot dogs, chips, pop or ice tea during the two-hour open house.

"We made it a family affair on Saturday afternoon and early evening," said Wayne Fire Chief Dale Preston. The hours of the open house, he said, will allow those who attend to also have "plenty of time to see fireworks displayed in neighboring communities."

Dog issue draws questions

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Charna Mrsny said she has grown tired of explaining that they do not have a pit bull in their back yard located on the 300 block of Main Street.

Earlier this week, Frank and Charna Mrsny received a warning from the Wayne Police Department that they have eight days to remove their dog from the city limits. Earlier this year, the Wayne City Council had passed an ordinance that had outlawed pit bull dogs from the city.

Wayne City Police Chief Vern Fairchild said this is the first incident where a warning has been issued to evict a pit bull from the city of Wayne since the ordinance was enacted.

However, Mrsny said Maggie, the dog in question which they have had since Thanksgiving of last year, is not a pit bull but a Rottweiler dog. She said they have registration records and a certificate of vaccination which labels the dog as a Rottweiler.

Also in the same yard is a German Shepherd dog and a pup that is a cross between a Rottweiler and a Doberman dog.

"It's no more of a pit bull than a German Shepherd is," Mrsny said.

A COMPLAINT was made to the police department that a pit bull was in the back of the Mrsny yard, according to Fairchild. There were also some complaints of fear of the dog, according to Police Officer Keith Adams.

The dog is "log chained" to a tree in the back yard, according to Mrsny, and as long as people stay off the Mrsny property, the animal cannot harm anyone. The dog is licensed at the Wayne Police Department, she said. She said the dog is a pet first to her family, and a watch dog second.

Rottweilers dogs have the appearance of a husky Doberman, with short legs and floppy ears instead of pointed ears. "A pit bull has jaws that lock, and the Rottweiler's jaws do not lock," Mrsny mentioned.

Officer Adams and Jay Liska, veterinarian at Wayne Veterinary Clinic, looked at the dog.

Liska said Tuesday that the dog in question was "not a true pit bull."

He said the dog has a mark of a Doberman and the physical structure of a pit bull. He labeled the animal as aggressive. He said the dog may be friendly with the owner, but it could be aggressive against others.

MRSNY said any dog can become aggressive when strangers come into its territory. "That's canine instinct," she said.

She claimed that prior to when she received the warning ticket, Adams and Liska did not get a close look at the Rottweiler, a breed she said was used as herd dogs — commonly used in herding sheep and cattle.

"We're not the only people in Wayne who have aggressive dogs," she added.

Mrsny said that if the dog is not considered as a pit bull, there is concern that the Rottweiler would be considered as a "vicious dog."

According to the municipal code on vicious dogs, it states: "It is unlawful for any person to own, keep or harbor any dog of a dangerous or ferocious disposition that habitually snaps or manifests a disposition to bite,

Fairchild completes basic training

Robert Fairchild was one of 33 students successfully completing the 11 1/2 weeks of Basic Training at the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center...

This law enforcement trainee was required to take 466 hours of comprehensive instruction consisting of basic law, human dimension, patrol investigation and skills which included firearms, driving and practical exercise.

Newsprint price rises

The rate which The Wayne Herald pays for newsprint will increase up to 7 percent per metric ton effective on July 1 of this year.

That notice came recently from a supplier of newsprint, Great Lakes Forest Products Limited.

The notice said that "the price increase is necessary due to continuing cost pressures and to support the modernization of our [Great Lakes Forest Products Limited] facilities to meet the increasing quality demands of the marketplace."

In an article in the Publishers' Auxiliary, titled "Higher newsprint, energy costs predicted," George Wilson, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association...

Wilson identified newsprint and energy price increases as major areas of concern that all newspapers should take account of in their planning.

Wilson mentioned in the article that newspaper advantages are being threatened by the increases in two important cost areas — newsprint and energy.

Before 1974, newsprint prices were stable, but prices increased by 70 percent between 1974 and 1980 and 30 percent between 1980 and the present.

Said Wilson: "Energy costs will increase. Fiber for pulp is in diminishing supply, worldwide demand for wood products is increasing and it is outstripping mill capacity."

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION

OF ORDINANCE NO. 87-10 IN PAMPHLET FORM Public Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, held at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 18, 1987, there was passed and adopted Ordinance No. 87-10 entitled:

To export competitors

Ill-advised loans should be avoided

Recently the House Banking Committee's Subcommittee on International Development Institutions and Finance reported the Multilateral Development Bank (MDB) Reauthorization Bill (H.R. 2403). As the Ranking Minority Member of that Subcommittee, I successfully attached an amendment that will halt (MDB) financial assistance to countries that promote the production and export of agricultural commodities which are in surplus on world markets.

Certain projects financed by the MDB's have been detrimental to U.S. producers who grow agricultural commodities that are exported. The most flagrant example was the $350 million World Bank loan to Argentina (April, 1986) to promote their production and export of surplus agricultural commodities. That loan was strongly opposed by farmers, farm organizations and farm-state Congressmen -- an opposition that is totally justified in my opinion. But, there are other examples: a $500 million World Bank loan to Brazil to clear Amazon rain forest areas to develop farmland, several MDB loans to Malaysia and Indonesia that accounted for large increases in palm oil exports, and a $200 million World Bank loan to Brazil to improve railway systems in order to facilitate export of grains.

On May 20, 1987 my Subcommittee held a hearing to learn from a cross-section of experts on agricultural development in Third World countries. The unanimous views of witnesses emerging from that hearing was that MDB loans can benefit both recipient countries and U.S. producers under the right circumstances. Where MDB loans are used to stimulate the production of agriculture commodities that are in surplus in export trade, those loan policies are clearly detrimental to U.S. producers and do little to alleviate hunger in a developing country.

TO SOLVE THIS dilemma, my amendment directs the Secretary of Treasury, to Instruct U.S. Executive Directors of MDB's to oppose the financing of projects which produce (or will produce) commodities products, or minerals.

In my judgement, the FAIR bill in its current form will never be adopted by Congress; yet, we must take some firm measures to prevent situations like the ill-advised loan to Argentina. "Supporting the FAIR bill will be seen as being opposed to helping developing countries feed their own starving or malnourished people. I don't think that it is a position in which agricultural groups want to find themselves -- especially when my effective and acceptable option exists.

Therefore, I believe we should direct our efforts toward legislation that is realistically achievable in Congress.

Politically, what has been accomplished in the House Banking Subcommittee may offer the best opportunity to advance legislation that attempts to better utilize the resources of Multilateral Development Institutions by opposing MDB loans that are counter-productive to the interest of U.S. agriculture. Support by farm organizations would be extremely helpful if we are to successfully move this amendment through the House and Senate on whatever authorization vehicle is finally adopted or if we can see such language placed in an appropriation bill or continuing resolution.

THE FAIR BILL is a catalyst for drawing attention to the serious and legitimate concerns of our agricultural producers. However, it must be refined and modified if we are to successfully address this problem in legislation that will be passed by Congress -- otherwise agriculture gets a terrible black eye."

It is important to point out the major difference between my amendment and the Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform (FAIR) bill that is currently receiving attention among agricultural organizations. My amendment does not oppose MDB loans to countries if they are used to assist the production of surplus agricultural commodities that are only used in their domestic markets -- to feed their hungry citizens. The FAIR bill requires the U.S. to oppose all MDB loans that assist countries to produce surplus commodities even if they will only be used domestically. For humanitarian and moral reasons, I believe most Americans would agree the U.S. should not provide assistance to help Third World countries develop their domestic agriculture sector to feed their people or to diversify their diets.

No fireworks show

Wayne will not be hosting a fireworks display this year at Overin Field.

That's the word received from a member of the Wayne County Jaycees, an organization which has sponsored the event many years, with assistance from Wayne's Volunteer Fire Department.

Verdel Lutt, spokesman for the Jaycees, said that to put on the show this year would require obtaining a million dollar insurance policy, which the city of Wayne would require as liability protection.

With the suit-conscious society of today, that figure is not totally out of line. Could sparks from a stray firework ignite a fire on neighboring structures? Could the fireworks blind someone, or cause critical burns to another?

Yes, it can happen. Fireworks are dangerous, if not handled properly. It is estimated that 12,600 people were injured in fireworks-related accidents last year, an increase of about 22 percent over the previous year.

Granted, many of these accidents happen in private, home fireworks displays are given.

So it is a good idea to have some sort of insurance coverage. Can the city be blamed for wanting to beef up insurance coverage?

Some may think it is too substantial. It is. But if something disastrous did happen, would any dollar amount be too substantial?

Last year, Lutt said the Jaycees took out a $300,000 policy on the fireworks show, which cost in the neighborhood of $150. Can you imagine what it would cost for a million dollar policy?

Lutt said the Jaycees lost money in running the fireworks display at Overin Field last year. What had cost $1,100 to put on in 1986 will cost approximately $1,350 this year. The Jaycees cannot continue to absorb these costs without additional funding and donations from businesses -- which was also down from previous years.

Also entering into the problem of putting on a fireworks display, year after year, is that it is hard to find insurance companies that will provide liability coverage if those who are igniting the fireworks are not licensed pyrotechnists.

Pyrotechnics is defined as the art of making fireworks or a display of fireworks. Having licensed pyrotechnists also falls under the guidelines of the state fire marshal's office, according to Lutt.

So it appears that people who wanted to see the large fireworks, a tradition which has covered many years, may have to go elsewhere.

Weather watch

Last Thursday brought some unsettling weather to the Wayne area.

Before 5 p.m., on that day, a tornado was spotted several miles outside of Wayne.

Yet, the tornado siren in Wayne did not go off to alert the residents that a tornado was nearby.

Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild and assistant civil defense director for Wayne/Wayne County Civil Defense, said spotings are usually confirmed from radar out of Norfolk or from individuals who are trained in detecting funnel clouds or tornadoes.

Fairchild was not in Wayne when the call came in to the police department that a tornado was spotted. However, he checked into the matter as to why the siren did not sound.

Trained spotters had reported that the tornado which was sighted had gone back into the clouds and had shown no signs of ever returned to the ground.

And that is why no sirens were blown. We are not scientists and do not know the rhyme or reason about a tornado. Perhaps blowing the siren would have caused unnecessary panic.

I guess our philosophy is -- better to be safe than sorry. By Chuck Hackenmiller, Wayne Herald Editor

Elderly numbers growing

The Nebraska Department of Health has recently developed projections of the Nebraska elderly population. For the first time, projections were made by sex for the age groups 65-74, 75-84, and 85 and over. They are available for all counties and the 25 economic planning regions through 1995 and for the state through the year 2020.

The report, entitled "Projections and Analysis of Nebraska's Elderly Population Through 2020," is intended to serve as a resource guide for researchers and policymakers interested in identifying the size and needs of the elderly. Among the major trends identified in the report are:

Following the trend of the past two decades, the 85 and over age group is projected to grow at the fastest rate in the state. The second fastest growing component of the elderly population is the 75-84 group.

In most rural counties almost all of the projected increases in the elderly population are in the 75-84 and 85 and over age groups.

The young elderly, those aged 65-74, will show the slowest growth until 2005. Almost all the short-term growth in this age group will occur in the metropolitan counties (i.e., Douglas, Sarpy, Lancaster) or in counties with an urban center (i.e., Scotts Bluff, Hall, Platte).

Between 1980 and 1985, Nebraska experienced one of the slowest elderly growth rates in the nation. Furthermore, this trend is expected to continue for the next three decades. From 1980 to 2000, Nebraska's 65-74, 75-84 and 85 and older populations are expected to increase by 0.8, 17.9, and 53.1 percent respectively; while the same age groups in the nation are projected to increase by 13.5, 59.4, and 119.9 percent respectively. During the period 1980 to 2020, the expected growth for Nebraska's elderly subgroups (65-74, 75-84, and 85+) will be 68.1, 30.8, and 92.9 percent versus national rates of increase of 91.6, 87.4 and 216.1 percent for the same age groups.

Copies of the report can be obtained by contacting the Division of Health Systems Planning, Nebraska Department of Health, P.O. Box 95007, 301 Centennial Mall South, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509 (402/471-2337). There is a charge for the report.

Numerous complaints filed

Beware of vacation scams

Vacation certificates have become the scam of the late 1980's. Hundreds of Nebraskans have found their vacation anticipation faded into frustration after purchasing advertised-vacation certificates.

The Consumer Protection Division of the Nebraska Attorney General's Office had received 75 complaints about vacation certificates by mid-April. And more have come in since then, said Mark Starr, assistant attorney general.

Most of the complaints have been from consumers who did not receive the promised and prepaid vacation, Starr said.

The vacation certificate promotions promise days and nights of romance and adventure often in a tropical paradise, plus round-trip air fare from the Midwest, all for $300 or less. They're often advertised in newspapers or on the radio or by direct mail with the traditional greeting, "Congratulations, you have been selected to receive..."

But often the promised trip never materializes, or is fraught with such detail as providing proof of marriage, age and income that the certificates soon become valueless. Sometimes the businesses close their doors without furnishing the promised vacations.

There is more than one scheme in operation, according to Starr. Sometimes companies offer accommodations for two and round trip air fare for one. The company then requires travelers to purchase the second airline ticket, a standard all year economy class fare. Many people do not realize that this fare is often double the discount fares. You can usually get vacation trips through a travel agent for less than the cost of the second ticket, Starr says.

THE VACATION certificates themselves are a recent phenomenon. The division's first complaints began in mid-1985. But the underlying problem -- failure to receive promised, prepaid goods -- is not new, Starr says.

The Attorney General's Office has filed four lawsuits in Lancaster County District Court against four out-of-state promoters of these certificates.

The lawsuits have been filed against businesses based in three states -- California, Texas and Nevada -- and against an Oklahoma retailer who marketed certificates to Nebraskans through radio advertising. Each of the issuers of the certificates closed before fulfilling vacation obligations.

A list of the business names used by these defendants include Absolute Travel Inc., Titan Tiger Inc., Titan Tours Marketing Management International, Performance Research Company, Dex Corp., Club V.I.P., Marketing Advanced Research Inc., M.A.R., Inc., and Resort Vacations Inc.

The lawsuits are part of a multi-state effort by attorneys general across the country who are trying to address what has become one of the major consumer problems of the decade.

The Nebraska Attorney General's Office has also won a judgement against a Lincoln retailer of certificates, Jack Struyk. "But we didn't collect a dime. He's gone," said Starr.

SOME OF THE prepaid vacation promotions may be legitimate. But Starr's advice to Nebraskans with wanderlust is simple: "Don't buy one."

The Better Business Bureau, with their link to information in other parts of the country, are the best source of information, Starr says. "We don't have that kind of coordination. By the time the complaints start coming in to us, it's usually too late."

These ventures are often multi-level with several companies, marketing, retailers, and certificate issuers. Getting money returned is "a real struggle. It's a real mess. The legal system isn't equipped to deal with this."

FUN Camp

Students stretch minds and bodies

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Over one hundred energetic and enthusiastic youngsters visited the Wayne State College campus last week to take part in FUN Camp (Fine Arts and Unique Experiences in Northeast Nebraska). This is the fourth year FUN Camp has been held at Wayne under the direction of Cyndi Swartz, language arts instructor at Wayne Middle School. During that time the camp has grown steadily from 47 fifth through eighth grade youngsters the first year to 116 youngsters this year.

Students attending the week-long camp participate in a variety of classes designed to expand their creativity.

THIS YEAR'S CLASSES and instructors included storytelling, under the direction of Duane Hutchinson of Lincoln; visual arts, taught by Nigel Buss of Norfolk; sign language, taught by Eleanor Jones of Omaha; creative movement, under the direction of Mary Halverstadt of Topeka, Kan.; creative music, directed by LeAnne Johnson Buss of Norfolk; problem solving, taught by Mary-Ann DeNaeyer of Wayne; creative writing, taught by Joyce Mitchell of Wayne; and theatre, under the direction of Andre Sedriks of Wayne.

ON FRIDAY MORNING, students participating in this year's camp presented a program during the weekly Wayne Chamber of Commerce coffee. A closing program was held that evening in Wayne State's Ramsey Theatre for parents, other relatives and friends.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S closing program was especially emotional for five campers who were among the original 47 students taking part in the program when it was first offered in 1984.

Those students, who have participated in FUN Camp all four years and this year attended for the last time as eighth graders, are Shontell Spangler, Jason Ehrhardt and Ben Wilson, all of Wayne, Julia Karlen of Pender, and Candy Faith of Palmer.

Final sermon July 12

Redeemer pastor going to Colorado

The Rev. Daniel Monson, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne for the past seven years, will deliver his final sermon there on Sunday, July 12.

The Monsons are planning to move the following week to Aurora, Colo., where he will be in charge of forming an entirely new congregation.

The area to which Monsons will be moving is a newly developed section of Aurora and includes between 5,000 and 6,000 homes. Presently, the area is served by only one church.

MONSON CAME to Wayne from Wahoo, where he served as pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran Church for 11 years.

A 1957 graduate of Augustana Seminary in Rock Island, Ill., he received his master's degree in theology from the Lutheran School of Theology, Chicago, in 1978.

He served a congregation in Pine City, Minn. from 1957 to 1961, and spent from 1961 to 1967 in Westminster, Calif., where he was in charge of starting a new mission.

He also served a congregation in Temple City, Calif. for two years, before moving to Wahoo in 1969 and to Wayne in July 1980.

Rev. Daniel Monson

ship service in early November.

Although the first worship services will probably be conducted in area schools, Monson said a three-acre building site has been purchased for construction of a new church.

MONSON AND his wife Mary are the parents of four grown children. Daughter Diane Paseka resides in Fremont with her husband Keith and their three children.

Tim is married and teaches high school in Nebraska City. Phil works in Lincoln, and Steve is employed at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in the toxic compounds where he tests for dioxins in samples.

THE REV. WALLACE Wolff, a retired pastor from Lincoln, has been appointed interim pastor at Redeemer Lutheran and will arrive in August.

Pastor Wolff will reside in the local parsonage and will serve the congregation until a call is accepted.

MONSON SAID he looks forward to the challenge awaiting him in Colorado.

"I've done it before and I enjoy it," said Monson. "Frankly, I felt the need for a change, and this is a significant change. I've served in both urban and rural areas, and it's time to get back to the urban area again."

MONSON SAID his first task in Colorado, after settling in, will be to make initial calls to all of the inhabited houses in a six-mile square area.

"There are between five and six thousand homes," said Monson, "and we will try to call on all of them within a period of three months."

Monson added that the visits will be "get-acquainted" type calls to determine how many residents are interested in forming a new Lutheran church.

Following the initial visits, Monson said he hopes to conduct his first wor-

Derwood Wriedts mark 40th anniversary with open house in Emerson

Derwood and Ellen Wriedt of Wakefield, who were married June 11, 1947, celebrated their 40th anniversary at an open house reception. Approximately 150 friends and relatives attended the event on June 14 at the Sacred Heart auditorium in Emerson.

Valerie Kortus of Lincoln registered the guests from Elk Point, S. D.; Sioux City and New London, Iowa; Wakefield, Pierce, Ponca, Allen, Emerson, Lincoln, Norfolk, Wayne, Laurel, West Point, Pender, David City, Pilger and Leigh.

Among those attending were Jim Geary of Elk Point, S. D., and Margaret Lunz of Allen, attendants at the wedding ceremony 40 years ago.

Also present was Rita Hogendorf of Lincoln, who attended Wayne State College with Mrs. Wriedt 44 years ago.

Burmester of Lincoln. Waitresses were Tina Demke and Judy Demke, both of Sioux City, Jeannine Wriedt of Allen, and Deb Wriedt of Norfolk.

Assisting in the kitchen were Erna Botger, Fern Bjorklund and Betty Lunz, all of Wakefield.

WRIEDTS WERE married at the Sacred Heart Church in Emerson.

The couple's children, who hosted the open house event, are John Wriedt of Allen, Judy Demke of Sioux City, and James Wriedt of Norfolk. There are 11 grandchildren.

FOLLOWING THE open house, approximately 35 friends and relatives gathered in the Wriedt home for supper.

Maxine Eichler of New London, Iowa spent a few days with her brother Derwood and family to help them celebrate their anniversary.

Cooperative picnic guests in the Wriedt home on Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hale of Allen, Myrtle Weber of Emerson, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Domsch, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lunz, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Bjorklund and Deldean, and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Botger of Wakefield.

Cards were played with high prizes going to LeRoy Lunz and Erna Botger, and low to Bill Domsch and Fern Bjorklund. Dwayne Bjorklund won the moon prize.

Birthdays, anniversaries observed at open house

One hundred persons attended an open house reception in the Laurel United Methodist Church on June 21 to observe the 80th birthdays of Lewis and Grace Reynolds, the 40th wedding anniversary of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rubbeck, and the first wedding anniversary of their granddaughter and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Anderson.

Relatives attending the celebration came from Overland Park, Paola and Olathe, Kan.; Englewood, Fla.; McCook Lake, S. D.; Spirit Lake and Sioux City, Iowa; El Sobrante, Calif.; Omaha, Wausa, Fremont, Randolph, Belden, Concord, Wahoo and Laurel.

Heidi Reinhoel of Laurel read "Casey at the Bat," and Agnes Burns gave a reading of "How it is When You Get Old."

Special birthday cakes were baked by Mrs. Gerald Kavanaugh.

GUESTS IN the Lewis Reynolds home this past week to help them observe their birthdays included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tuttle of Englewood, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clayton of El Sobrante, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Reynolds of Paola, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rubbeck and Paul Rubbeck of Olathe, Kan.; Mark Rubbeck, Susan Robinson and Kara of Overland Park, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Randall Rubbeck and Ryan of Spirit Lake, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Rubbeck, Brandon and Brooke of Omaha; David and Sandra Anderson of Wahoo; and Chris and Jayne Horeis and David Reynolds of Fremont.

Engagements

Frerichs-Milligan

Cindy Kay Frerichs and Richard Wayne Milligan, together with their parents, announce their engagement and approaching marriage. The bride-elect is the daughter of Judy Frerichs of Norfolk and Milan Frerichs of Pillager. She is a graduate of Wisner-Pilger High School and Wayne State College.

Her fiance, son of Bob and Mona Meyer of Wayne, is a graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and Northeast Community College, Norfolk.

The couple will be married July 3 in a 7 p.m. ceremony at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Weible-Armstrong

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weible of Winside announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jane Weible of Omaha, to Elmer Armstrong of Scribner, son of Donna Armstrong of Omaha and Melvin Armstrong of Scribner.

Miss Weible attended Winside High School and the College of Saint Mary. She is employed by the Nebraska Foundation for Medical Care. Her fiance attended Scribner High School and Nebraska Wesleyan University.

The couple plans a July 11 wedding at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Scribner.

Laurel wedding ceremony unites Judy Zeleny and Todd Twiford

Judy Zeleny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Zeleny of Gretna, and Todd Twiford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Twiford of Laurel, were united in marriage on June 12.

The Rev. Kenneth Marquardt officiated at the 5:30 p.m., double ring ceremony at the United Lutheran Church in Laurel.

Wedding music included "Wedding Song," "John Us Now," "He Has Chosen You for Me," "Time for Joy," and "Only the Beginning," song by Kim Kunze of Laurel.

Organist was Suzie Wacker and pianist was Bev Dahlquist, both of Laurel.

MAID OF HONOR was the bride's sister, Sharon Zeleny of Gretna, and bridesmaids were Jill Olesen of Arvada, Colo., sister of the bridegroom, Sandi Dostal of Gretna, and Janette Modelski of Columbus.

Clark Maxon of Tempe, Ariz. served as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Zeleny of San Antonio, Texas, brother of the bride, Kris Olesen of Arvada, Colo., and Scott Sherry of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Lighting candles were the bridegroom's sisters, Dana Twiford and Gail Twiford, both of Laurel. Flower girl was Brandi Urwiler of Laurel, and ring bearer was the bride's brother, Don Zeleny of Gretna.

Guests were ushered into the church by Tom Zeleny of Gretna, brother of the bride, Dan Luhr of Plainville, Curt Saunders of Dixon, and Arnie Christensen of Lincoln.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her father and wore a white taffeta gown in cathedral length.

The dress was designed with a high neckline of silk venise lace. The dropped shoulders of illusion netting formed a sweetheart V for the taffeta bodice covered in silk venise and seed pearls. The sleeves were of shirred puffed taffeta extending to English netting accented with lace motifs.

A basque waistline led to a full skirt with double rows of lace and taffeta ruffles. Rose pickups revealed flairs of Chantilly lace in the front and back of the skirt which extended to a cathedral-length train.

The bride wore a wreath in her hair and carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and baby's breath accented with ribbons.

Her personal attendant was Kris Hazel of San Antonio, Texas.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore red taffeta frocks in floor length. The full skirts featured wide ruffles which formed the hemline and came up to a point on the center left side. A rolled rose was attached at the top of the point.

The bodice had a sweetheart neckline with a basque waistline in front. A stand-up ruffle edged the bodice neckline and short puff sleeves which were elasticized to be worn off the shoulders.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo, and his attendants wore black tuxedos with red ties and cummerbunds.

A RECEPTION was held in the Laurel city auditorium following the ceremony. Hosts were Marv and Mary Ann Christensen of Laurel and Jon and Paula Eden of Omaha.

Sandy Frederick of Sioux City registered the guests, and gifts were arranged by the bride's brothers, Dave and Steve Zeleny of Gretna.

Cutting and serving the cake were Cathy Boeckman of Wynot, Renee Vanderhelden of Laurel, and Shawn Laehr of Osceola, Iowa.

Jean Meister of West Point poured, and Jennifer Eden of Omaha served punch. Waitresses were Carol Vogle, Tina Granquist, Deanna Luhr and Deb Ward, all of Laurel, and Tammy Welker of Gretna.

Rice boys were Gary Zeleny and Joe Zeleny of Gretna, brothers of the

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Twiford bride. A dance followed the reception at the Wayne National Guard Armory.

FOLLOWING THEIR marriage, Twifords traveled to Kansas City and are making their home at Rt. 2-Box 104, Laurel, Neb., 68745.

The bride graduated from Gretna High School in 1984 and is a senior at Wayne State College. She is employed at IDS Financial Services in Wayne.

The bridegroom, a 1981 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, is engaged in farming.

Grace Lutheran setting for Eddie-Carroll wedding rites

Making their home in Wayne are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Carroll, who were married June 13 in 5 o'clock rites at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Mrs. Carroll is the former Monica Eddie, daughter of Nyla and Delmar Eddie of Carroll. Parents of the bridegroom are Ed and Delores Carroll of Belden.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jon Vogel of Wayne, and decorations included spiral candelabras with baby blue and royal blue accents.

MUSIC FOR THE ceremony included "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Wedding Prayer" and "There Is Love," sung by Margaret Schultz of Winside and Tim Pfanz of Yankton, S. D. Organist was Bradley Eddie of Omaha.

Rhonda Dahlkoetter of Carroll and Alice Patent of Randolph registered the guests, and ushers were Brian Eddie of Belden, Tim Koll of Wayne, Mike Nieman of South Sioux City, Dave Schwartz of Valentine and Don Dittman of Omaha.

Lighting candles were Trena Harmsen of Sioux Falls, S. D. and Stacey Carroll of Valentine.

Joshua, Jeremy and Jacob Nieman of Plano, Texas handed out programs.

HONOR ATTENDANTS for the couple were Valerie Gubbels of Randolph and Dean Carroll of Wayne.

Bridesmaids were Julie Watfler of Randolph, Shelly Strathman of Lincoln, Nori Kirk of Wayne, Wonda Beckstrom of Concordia, Kan., and Liz Kube of Hastings.

Serving as groomsmen were Don Straight of Atlanta, Ga., Jeff Backstrom of Concordia, Kan., Jerry Goeden of Loveland, Colo., and Doug Carroll and Mark Gansbom of Wayne.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Ashley Gubbels of Randolph and Benjamin Allemen of Wayne.

The bride's personal attendants were Deb Allemen of Wayne and Pat Hoffmann of Lincoln.

ON HER WEDDING day, the bride was given in marriage by her parents. She appeared in a gown belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

The dress was of white imported Chantilly lace over satin and featured a nylon tulle yoke accented with seed pearls and a Parisian collar of lace. Lace appliques framed the yoke. The bouffant skirt fell from a pointed waistline and swept into a train.

The bride also wore diamond and pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Her veil of imported illusion and lace was worn mantilla style over a crown of pearl orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of blue dogwood and white lilacs.

Train carriers were Dustin Allemen of Wayne and Chad Carroll of Valentine.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore silver gray tuxedos with royal blue cummerbunds and ties.

They wore royal blue flower combs in their hair, trimmed with pearls, and carried arm bouquets similar to the bride's.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo, and his attendants wore dark gray tuxedos accented with gray ties and cummerbunds.

Both mothers of the couple wore silver gray tuxedos with baby blue ties and cummerbunds.

A RECEPTION FOR 400 guests was held in the Wayne National Guard Armory following the ceremony. Hosts were Randy and Melissa Nieman of Plano, Texas.

For the reception, the bride was attired in a white tuxedo.

Arranging gifts were Teresa Novak of Yankton, S. D., DaNell Delozier of Yankton, S. D., Rhonda Whalen of Belden, Sandy Lange of Norfolk, and Mary Sorensen of Yuma, Ariz.

Gift carriers were Derek, Dustin and Cody Delozier of Yankton, S. D., and Jamie and Ryan Meyer of Randolph.

CUTTING AND serving the wed-

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Carroll ding cake were Marlene Dahlkoetter of Carroll, Vonnie Meyer of Randolph, Suzy Harmsen of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Claudia Hansen of Treynor, Iowa.

Bev Delozier and Kathy Larvie of Yankton poured, and Shannon Carroll and Shelly Carroll of Wayne served punch. Serving from the champagne fountain were Judy and Dan Carroll of Valentine.

Waitresses were Angie and Heather Stapleman of Belden, Tiffany and Tatam Harmsen of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Tami Schluns and Danielle Nelson of Wayne. Pinning flowers were Denise Delozier of Minneapolis, Minn. and Judy Carroll of Valentine.

THE NEWLYWEDS traveled to Lake Okoboji following their wedding.

The bride graduated from Randolph High School in 1981 and is employed in Wayne by the State Department of Roads.

The bridegroom, a 1979 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School, is employed by Wayne Distributing Inc.

Briefly Speaking

June birthdays celebrated

A cooperative dinner was held Saturday in the Walt Pearson home, Wayne, to celebrate June birthdays.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bricie Nicholson of Emerson, Mrs. John Behrends of Mankato, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nicholson, Melanie and Kevin of Gretna, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Chaplin, Jason and Melissa of Beatrice, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nicholson, Nathan and Cory of Wakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jo Heckens of Emerson were Sunday afternoon guests.

Laurel-Concord alumni banquet held

The Laurel-Concord Alumni Association banquet was held June 13 in the Laurel city auditorium with approximately 240 attending.

Speeches were given by Jim Recob, Laurel mayor, and Thomas Haller, high school principal. Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Claudia Dvorak and her mother, Mrs. Marian Mallatt, along with several students and faculty members.

The alumni association recognized its two scholarship winners from the Class of 1987 — Gail Twiford and Donna Herrmann. Vernier Wickett was honored as the oldest Laurel High School graduate attending, and the Wayne Lund family for having the most graduates in attendance.

Newly elected board members are Duane Stingley of Laurel and Lynette Smith Lentz of Wayne.

Kants plan reunion

Kant families will hold their annual reunion on Sunday, July 5 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church basement in Winside. The event will begin with a noon potluck dinner.

Jehovah's Witnesses conventions

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York has announced that two three-day district conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses have been scheduled July 3-5 and July 10-12 at the Devaney Sports Center in Lincoln.

Lance Roberts, convention manager, said more than 15,000 persons are expected to attend.

Jehovah's Witnesses from the Wayne congregation, along with delegates from 160 other congregations in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota, will be represented at the event, according to Arthur Degryse, presiding overseer of the Wayne congregation.

Roberts said the program will focus on the major problems that affect humanity, including pressures on the family, and will offer practical suggestions on coping. The principal address of the convention, "In Our Fearful Times, Whom Can You Really Trust?" will be delivered by B. A. Hutson on Sunday, July 5 at 2 p.m.

Christian men plan family night

The Northeast Nebraska Christian Men's Fellowship will hold a family night meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock at the Evangelical Free Church in Concord.

Each church will present special music, and fellowship will follow.

New pastor appointed at Winside Methodist Church

The Rev. Marvin Coffey delivered his first sermon on Sunday, June 14 at the United Methodist Church in Winside.

In addition to serving the Winside church, Coffey has also been appointed pastor of the United Methodist Churches in Randolph and McLean.

Coffey, who is residing in Randolph with his family, replaces the Rev. Sandy Carpenter who moved to Ansley.

THE COFFEYS come to this area from North Loup, where he was appointed coordinator of the Loup Cooperative Parish in July 1983.

Coffey grew up on a farm near Phillips, Neb. Following graduation from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture in 1956, he volunteered with the Methodist Board of Global Missions and served as a vocational agricultural teacher at a rural school in Brazil for three years.

It was there he met and married a Brazilian teacher, Dalva Mozzer.

COFFEY GRADUATED from Saint Paul School of Theology, Kansas City, Mo., in June 1963 and was ordained an elder and accepted into full membership of the Nebraska Conference in June 1964.

The Coffeys spent 14 years in Brazil on the frontiers of Mato Grosso, where they worked with a Methodist Rural Community Development Project.

Dalva is a graduate of Colegion Izabela Hendrix, a Methodist school in Belo Horizonte, Brazil, and the University of Urubupunga, where she specialized in school administration.

COFFEYS ARE the parents of two daughters and three sons.

Roseanna is coordinator of curriculum for the FUCEMAT University in Campo Grande, Brazil, and Sharol Kay is a nurse in Bremerton, Wash.

The couple's sons are Dwight, who works at a bank in Dallas, Texas, Giovanni, who is with the United States Marines, stationed on Guam, and Roger, who will be a junior at Randolph High School.

Verna Creamer, Leora Austin, Virginia Preston, Joyce Niemann, Verdelle Reeg, Mathilde Reeg, Lillian Granquist, Joy Gelfman, Mary Kieper and Cleva Willers.

Organized in 1912

Central Social Circle 75 years old

Eight members of Wayne's Central Social Circle gathered at the First United Methodist Church on Monday afternoon to observe the club's 75th anniversary.

Guests for the afternoon program and lunch were nine members of City Sisters, a club formed 25 years ago as an offshoot of Central Social Circle. Also attending as a guest was LeMae Gelfman.

Welcoming the group was Verdelle Reeg, who also read "Were the Good Old Days Best?"

City Sister members attending were Ruth Reed, Edna Baier, Marjorie Othe, Etta Damme, Lottie Schroeder, Mildred West, Goldie Farney, Mathilde Reeg and Joy Gelfman. Each reminisced about her membership in Central Social Circle.

Verna Creamer was in charge of name tags, and Mary Kieper registered those attending.

THE PROGRAM included several familiar songs played by Claudia Koerber at the piano, and group singing of "Blest Be the Tie."

Joyce Niemann shared several memories and read minutes from the first meeting of Central Social Circle on July 11, 1912.

Each club member reminisced, and Mary Kieper, the longest club member of 54 years, read from several clippings of past meetings that she had saved.

Joyce Niemann baked the anniversary cake which was served along with sandwiches, mints, nuts, punch and coffee.

The group signed a birthday card for former member Aby Back of Tennessee, who is observing her 91st birthday.

CHARTER MEMBERS of Central Social Circle in 1912 were Mrs. R. R. Smith, Mrs. Gus Wendt, Mrs. R. A. McEachen, Mrs. John Grier, Mrs. Roy Kloppling, Mrs. Will Lewis, Mrs. Fred Winters, Mrs. H. Jenkins, Mrs. Fred Wendt and Mrs. Ed Weible.

Monthly dues in 1912 were set at 10 cents for "the upkeep of unforeseen expenses," and committees were chosen to visit the sick and buy flowers. For the luncheons, each lady was to serve not more than two articles and a beverage.

Current club members in 1987 are Leora Austin, Jocell Bull, Verna Creamer, Mildred Gramlich, Lillian Granquist, Mary Kieper, Joyce Niemann, Verdelle Reeg, Cleva Willers and Virginia Preston.

Meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month, except July and August. The club purpose is "social, moral and intellectual welfare."

The club flower is the goldenrod, and the club colors are yellow and white.

Grandstand Gab

by Gregg Dahlheim

Well I guess the uh... Hawkeye fans were happy of the outcome in the NBA draft Monday.

In case you've been in a deep hole or dark cave and haven't heard three Hawkeyes were selected in the draft.

Brad Lohaus, the Hawks seven-footer, went to Boston in the second round. That's a nice place for him. In the next round Kevin Gamble was the selection of the Portland Trailblazers. The final Hawkeye to be drafted was Garry Wright by the Detroit Pistons in the fifth round.

Kearney State also had a player drafted. All-American Bart Kofoed was the fifth-round pick of the Utah Jazz.

From looking at a team-by-team breakdown it looks like the team that needed the most help got the most help. The Los Angeles Clippers, winners of only 12 games this past season, had a lot of holes to fill. I think the Clippers first four picks can come in and contribute next year.

The Clippers got Reggie Williams of Georgetown, Joe Wolf of North Carolina and Ken Norman of Illinois all in the first round. L.A. came back with Norris Coleman of Kansas State in the second round and Tim McCalister of Oklahoma in the third. That's not a bad draft.

Atlanta is awarded the All-International Draft Award or the Stupidity Award, I'm not sure which is appropriate, for its selections. The Hawks took five foreign players out of their eight picks.

In the third round they took Song Tau of China, a household name. Theofanis Christodoulou of Greece was their fourth-round pick. The Hawks also grabbed out of the grasp of several NBA franchises Jose Antonio Montero of Spain, Ricardo Morandotti of Italy and Franjo Arapovic of Yugoslavia.

Atlanta officials don't even know what kind of stats Tau compiled because they were afraid if they asked for the information other franchises would be tipped off about Atlanta's interests in Tau. How's that for reasoning?

If the Hawks aren't careful they could start World War III among teammates. But what do you think the chances are for Atlanta to sign just one of the foreigners?

What's the newest game in town? Arena Football.

Did anyone catch the opening week of action on ESPN. Offense is the name of the game. In the two games I saw, the four teams scored a combined total of almost 200 points.

Many of the players earn what little paychecks they get by playing both offense and defense on the 50-yard field.

Also, like the nicknames. Denver Dynamite — Chicago Bruisers.

What's your guess? How long will the sport last?

The upset hopes of many Nebraskans disappeared Monday night when Steele's Sports Company downed the Nebraska All-Stars 40-9 and 46-20.

According to an article in the Omaha World Herald, Steele's second baseman Mike Macenko said the Nebraska entry was better than most of the teams they play. Macenko, who leads the team in home runs, cranked 10 dingers to raise his season total to 470 in 197 games.

The Nebraska crew held its own with five homers in the first game and 10 in the second.

According to figures compiled by the Omaha Police Department more than 4,000 people watched the doubleheader.

I guess that's not bad for a softball game.

Wayne Sporting Goods earned a four-place trophy at a softball tournament held in Pender and Stanton. WSG completed the 21-team tourney with a 3-2 mark. KTCH also competed in the tournament and finished with a 1-2 record.

Local gals win league tournament at Pender

"Our girls showed they were the best in the league," said Wayne Coach Marilyn Strate after the 18 and under team captured first place in the Mid-Season Northeast Nebraska League Tournament held last weekend.

The locals played eight games during the two-day tournament, six of which were played on Sunday. The girls went 7-1 and beat Pender twice to claim the championship.

The locals made it hard on themselves by losing the third game to Pender. From there they took the hard road through the losers bracket in the 11-team tournament. All the games were played at Pender and Thurston.

Wayne started the tournament with a 12-0 whitewash of Homer. Wayne did away with its opponents in just three innings. Robin Lutt cruised to the win throwing an abbreviated no-hitter.

The girls tallied seven runs in the opening frame. The big blows were a grand slam by Tonya Erxleben and a two-run triple by Kristy Hansen. Wayne got three more in the third on a single by Amy Schluns, a double by Robin Lutt and a triple by Erxleben. The locals closed out the scoring in the third on triples by Robin Lutt and Erxleben.

Next up was Bancroft. Wayne got off to another good start by posting eight runs in the first inning. Thirteen batters came to the plate in the opening frame. Four extra-base hits were recorded. Erxleben and Kathy Mohlfeld tripled and Schluns and Suzy Lutt collected doubles.

The girls upped the lead to 10-3 in the second inning. Traci Gamble tripled home Robin Lutt and Suzy Lutt chased home Gamble with a double.

Wayne closed out its scoring with single runs in the third, fifth and sixth innings.

Jennifer Hammer started the game on the hill and got the win. Dana Nelson came on in relief and finished the game.

Wayne came back on Sunday and lost a tough one to rival Pender by a 12-8 count.

Pender did most of its damage early as it came up with five first-inning runs off of Robin Lutt. But Wayne scored first in the top of the first. Hansen and Schluns stroked one-out singles and later came around to score.

Wayne cut the lead to 5-4 in the top of the second, scoring a pair of runs with two outs. Pender built the lead to 8-4 in the bottom of the inning on a pair of doubles.

Once again Wayne fought back and chopped the lead to 8-7 in the third inning. Erxleben singled and scored on Robin Lutt's triple. She scored on a sacrifice by Suzy Lutt. Marnie Bruggeman singled and scored later in the inning.

The score remained 8-7 until Pender came up with three runs in the bottom of the fourth. Wayne tried to rally by scoring one in the top of the fifth. Gamble tripled and scored on a groundball out by Bruggeman. Pender made it 12-8 with a run in the bottom of the sixth.

The loss must have stirred up the girls as they buried Jackson in the following game 11-0. Hammer threw a one-hitter and struck out six in the four-inning game.

The game was close after two innings with Wayne holding a slim 3-0 lead. But the locals struck for eight runs in the bottom of the third to finish off the team from Jackson. Wayne finished with only three hits but nine walks aided the offense.

The next victim was Wakefield. The locals ousted their neighbors from the tournament by downing Wakefield 14-8.

Wayne jumped on top 4-0 in the top of the second. Singles by Hansen, Schluns, Suzy Lutt and Gamble and a double by Mohlfeld generated the runs.

Wakefield tied the game in the bottom of the third with seven runs. A double by Des Salmon was the big hit in the inning.

The game remained tied until Wayne accounted for six runs in the top of the fifth. Robin Lutt and Gamble doubled in the frame and Mohlfeld, Schluns, Erxleben and Suzy Lutt all singled.

Wayne closed out the scoring with three runs in the top of the seventh. Suzy Lutt's two-run triple was the big hit.

Wayne edged Emerson in the finals of the losers' bracket. The locals posted an early lead and held off an Emerson rally. Wayne scored eight times in the first two innings. The girls made it 10-6 in the top of the fourth inning. Erxleben tripled in the frame.

Trailing 12-6 going into the bottom of the sixth Emerson scored four runs without a hit to close the gap to 12-10.

Wayne got a pair of insurance runs in the top of the seventh when Bruggeman and Hammer scored. Emerson got one run in the bottom of the inning but could get no closer.

Hammer started the game and got the win. Nelson came on in relief and earned the save.

That set the stage for the championship games. Wayne had to beat Pender, who was undefeated in the tournament, twice to claim the crown. Pender proved to be no contest for the fired up Wayne ball club. The girls beat the hosts in the opener 18-7 behind the pitching of Hammer.

With the exception of two runs in the second inning the locals did all of their scoring in the first and seventh innings.

Wayne opened the first inning with eight runs. Three Pender errors sandwiched between three hits and three walks accounted for the runs. Pender came back with two runs of its own in the bottom of the inning.

The girls made it 10-2 in the top of the second before Pender posted its biggest threat of the game. Pender scored five times in the bottom of the second when Hammer struggled to pitch strikes.

After that point the Wayne pitcher settled down and handcuffed the hosts on one hit through the last five innings. She finished the game with five strikeouts.

Wayne ended any doubt in the top of the seventh by scoring eight more runs on six hits.

In the final game Wayne beat a worn-out Pender team 13-2. Nelson did a masterful job on the mound limiting Pender to six singles.

The game was tied 1-1 after the first inning. Wayne stretched it to 4-1 after two. The locals made it 5-1 after four and 7-2 after five innings.

The girls started celebrating after a six-run sixth inning. Robin Lutt, Schluns, Bruggeman, Suzy Lutt and Hansen all stroked singles in the frame.

Strate said after beating Pender in the first game the team knew they would win it all. Strate also credited the play of Suzy Lutt. The Wayne receiver caught 32 innings on Sunday when the temperature hovered around the 90-degree mark.

Although Wayne played solid defense for the most part, its offensive display is what won the tournament.

As a team the girls hit .400 for the tournament. The team went 88-220 in the eight games and outscored its opponents 103-45.

Robin Lutt led Wayne at the plate as she went 18-26 with a triple and three doubles. Erxleben batted .500 by going 13-26. The leftfielder had a home run, five triples and a double among her hits. Schluns and Hansen also finished in double figures in hitting. Both went 11-27 at the plate.

Their 7-1 tournament record boosted the locals to 12-7 for the season.

The 15 and under team will be in tournament action on Friday in a four-team round-robin tournament at Bancroft. The locals will play their first game against Bancroft at 10:30 a.m. The girls will battle Wisner at 1:30 p.m. and Wakefield at 3 p.m.

Lutt gets the win

Wayne rips Laurel by stroking 15 hits

By Gregg Dahlheim

Wayne pitcher Jeff Lutt got all the offensive support he needed in the second inning enroute to a 15-2 win over the Laurel Midgets.

Lutt went the distance allowing single runs in the second and fourth innings and limiting Laurel to six hits.

After a scoreless first inning the locals exploded for eight runs in the top of the second. The first five hitters, Jason Danielson, Matt Peterson, Brian Moore, Jason Mrsny and Cory Frye, all reached base and scored. Back-to-back doubles by Lutt and Kevin Hausmann kept the inning alive and the scoring closed after Moore's RBI single. Fourteen batters came to the plate in the inning.

Laurel got one run back in the bottom of the second on a run-scoring single by Mike Penne.

Wayne made it 12-1 in the third. Zeiss started the inning with a hit. He and Lutt, who reached on an error, both scored on Hausmann's second hit of the game. Hausmann scored on Wood's RBI single, who also scored in the frame.

Laurel made it 12-2 in the bottom of the fourth without getting a hit. The locals finished the scoring in the top of the fifth. Danielson and Cory Wiesler both reached base but were thrown out trying to steal second. After that, five straight Wayne hitters reached base with three coming around to score.

Wayne, 4-4, posted a season-high 15 hits. Hausmann led the way going 3-5 with three RBI's and two runs scored. Zeiss, Danielson, Moore and Mrsny each finished with two hits. Every Wayne starter had at least one hit.

Darrin Martinson went the distance and was the losing pitcher for Laurel.

Softballers improve to 13-7 by downing Pilger

The Wayne girls made it six in a row Tuesday night as they won easily over Pilger at Hank Overin Field.

The 18 and under team upped its season mark to 13-7 with a convincing 11-2 win. Dana Nelson pitched a complete game by allowing two runs on just two hits.

Wayne broke open a scoreless tie by posting six runs in the bottom of the third inning. With bases loaded and no outs, Amy Schluns came to the plate. The third baseman ripped a three-run double to start the scoring parade. Schluns came home, as did Tonya Erxleben and Suzy Lutt on a pair of Pilger errors.

The locals came back with four more in the fourth. Kathy Mohlfeld, Kristy Hansen, Schluns and Erxleben all scored on singles by Mohlfeld and Marnie Bruggeman and three fielding errors.

Pilger broke up the shutout with a run in the top of the fifth. The visitors made it 10-2 in the sixth. Wayne scored its last run in the bottom of the sixth. Schluns walked and scored on Erxleben's single.

The girls will hit the road tonight (Thursday) for a game at Bancroft. The 15 and under team will play in the opener and the 18 and under team will follow.

Lund leads East stars in Sertoma tilt

Brad Lund of Wakefield was the top rusher in the Sertoma Eight-Man Football All-Star Game held Saturday in Hastings at Adams Central High School.

Lund, playing for the victorious East squad grounded out 83 yards on 11 carries. The Wakefield graduate was largely responsible for the East's last touchdown. Lund ripped off a run of 27 yards down to the West 13-yard line late in the game. Four plays later he scored from one-yard out.

The East downed the West squad 20-6. It was the seventh time in the ten all-star tilts that the East team has won.

CONTROL OF LEAFY SPURGE

Due to its aggressive, competitive nature and its resistance to most common weed control practices, a well-planned program to restrain this weed is necessary. The leafy spurge plants contain a toxic substance which causes scours, weakness and even death in cattle.

This persistent deep-rooted perennial reproduces roots and seeds that can remain viable for at least five years. Leafy spurge is found primarily on unfertilized land. In pastureland, repeated herbicide applications over a four-to-five year period will substantially reduce a leafy spurge infestation. Tordon is the most effective herbicide for leafy spurge, but because of cost and label restrictions, a Tordon treatment may not be practical for large areas.

Some Nebraska research indicates that Tordon may be applied more economically to leafy spurge in pastures through a ropewick applicator with four short segments. Other data showed that the pipewick applicator not only gave control similar to broadcast treatments of Tordon at a reduced expense, but only about half as much Tordon residue was found in soil followed by a ropewick application compared to a broadcast spray treatment.

Vigilance is necessary to identify new infestations, and if leafy spurge is detected, begin herbicide treatment at once.

MILK REPLACER TAGS

As feed ingredients prices change and shift, new milk-replacer formulations are appearing.

Research results point out marked decreases in calf growth and feed efficiencies with lower protein levels. Although more expensive, replacers formulated with all milk by-products are usually better, resulting in better growth and fewer health problems. Check your tags against these guidelines:

- Protein: 22 percent (all milk products), 24 percent (some plant protein, such as special processed soy)
- Fat: 15 percent minimum
- Fiber: less than 0.5 percent
- Ingredients: Avoid replacers with soy flour, oat or corn meal or other sources of starch.
- Added vitamins and antibiotics are also recommended. Higher fat levels (20 percent) may be beneficial when calves are stressed by cold weather and disease.
- Holstein calves can be weaned when they are 3 to 5 weeks old; the smaller breeds 5 to 8 weeks. Calf starter rations should be very palatable and contain 18 to 20 percent protein for maximum growth. Be sure and don't shortchange replacements.

Wakefield students to attend ag institute

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) has selected five Wakefield High School students as delegates to the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute (NAYI). The Institute will begin July 20 and run through July 24 at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln.

Selected were Bobby Jo Greve, Moili J. Greve, Kaye M. Hansen, Valerie S. Krusemark and Brion L. Larson. Parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greve, Mr. and Mrs. Ari Greve, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Krusemark and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Larson.

NAYI serves as an information source for many young adults to become involved in agriculture. Delegates of NAYI are exposed to a variety of workshops and presentations which concern topics of agriculture, farm management, self development and career opportunities.

"Discovering Our Potential" is the theme chosen for this year's institute. This reflects the main goal of the ag youth council which instills in the delegates an awareness and appreciation of the positive, yet changing, industry of agriculture.

The Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council is under the direction of the NDA and plans and conducts the ag youth institute program.

DEC inventory reporting now required

by Larry D. Schulze
Extension Specialist
Pesticide Training

University of Nebraska-Lincoln
Farm operators who have in their inventory minimum quantities of specific agricultural chemicals at any time of the year are required to report to the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control (DEC).

This obligation was enacted by Congress into law under the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act (SARA) of 1986.

Title III of SARA establishes reporting requirements for inventories of products referred to as "extremely hazardous substances." The Department of Environmental Control has been appointed by the Governor to be the State Emergency Response Commission that will administer the program.

The minimum quantity of an extremely hazardous substance that would require reporting to the DEC is called the "threshold planning quantity."

These quantities are listed in the law as pounds of active ingredient for each product, not pounds of formulated product. To determine if one has in their possession the threshold planning quantity, the pounds of formulated product would need to be converted into pounds of active ingredient.

Two notifications are required by farmers to comply with the law. First, they should immediately inform the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control that they have, or will have in a future cropping year, products at the threshold planning quantities.

University of Nebraska Extension agents have a master list of these chemicals with threshold planning quantities.

Then, the Nebraska DEC will organize the State into local planning districts this summer. A district may be a single county or a group of counties. Each district will have a local planning committee. In late summer, 1987, the Nebraska DEC will inform farmers of which district they are located and the contact person of the local planning committee.

THE SECOND reporting requirement of each qualified farmer is to notify the local planning committee. This action will need to be completed by September 17, 1987. Details will be provided by the Nebraska DEC.

The same agricultural chemical may have two threshold planning quantity levels depending upon the formulation of the product. A product in a powder or liquid formulation may have a smaller threshold planning quantity than the same product in a granular formulation.

Once a farmer has notified the Nebraska DEC, no renotification is required if he adds to his existing inventory of the product. Also, if a farmer has once reported to the DEC, uses all of the product, then purchases and stores new quantities of the same product for the same or different crop year, renotification of DEC is not required.

If a farmer reaches the threshold planning quantity on Product X and initially reported to the Nebraska DEC, he has no additional reporting requirements if he substitutes Product Y in the same or future crop year.

The length of time that an agricultural chemical is stored in a farmer's inventory does not influence his reporting requirements. If inventories of a product reach the threshold planning quantity for less than a day, he must report to the Nebraska DEC.

Some of the products on the extremely hazardous chemicals list are commonly known to farm producer.

Clark Smith of the Nebraska DEC is the primary contact for details on SARA Title III. Notifications from farmers are to be sent to his attention. Extension Agents have copies of the "Farmer Notification Form to Nebraska DEC". Clark Smith's address is: Mr. Clark Smith, Technical Services Section, Nebraska Department of Environmental Control, Box 94877, State House Station, Lincoln, NE 68509-4877, or phone (402) 471-4230.

Penalties for any person who fails to comply with the requirements of the Act are strong. Civil penalties up to $25,000 are allowed for each violation. Continuing violations are subject to $25,000 in penalties per each day. Criminal penalties allow for imprisonment.

by Pat McLehenry

Ann is in the pasture with her Dad this morning, working on thistles. The Big Farmer announced last week that all he wanted for Father's Day was two hours from each kid attacking thistles.

I'm not certain they all made it. I told Jon if he could do a decathlon in 100", he could do thistles in 92". He had to agree.

I did my annual column on house cleaning last week, so it's time for the annual one on cars. So far, the summer has been hard on them.

We have a Home Health patient we see in Pierce about 5 p.m. every day. So, on weekends, I cut across country.

One Saturday, I noticed the Buick was hot when I got home from there. We added water.

The next afternoon, I got as far as LeRoy Koopke's when the steam was pouring out. I called for help from there. Mike and Ann came in the old brown Plymouth and the pickup.

I took off in the Plymouth and they limped home with the Buick. Incidentally, the Buick is the only one with air. It turned out to be only a hose, so that wasn't so bad.

BUT I had to take the brown car the next day. I stopped to pick up a patient right at 8 a.m. I got her into the car and it refused to start. It did nothing, not even a click.

She didn't have a phone, so we got a neighbor out of bed to call the service station. They found that the starter was about to fall out! They started it and we followed to the station. Then the nice owner delivered the patient and me to the hospital.

Two weeks later, on a Sunday, I was ready to make the trip to Pierce again. When I started the Buick, there was an awful clatter under the hood. Turned out to be only a loose belt on the AC fan, but we didn't know that then.

So I set off in the brown Plymouth again, trying just to be grateful that I had a spare vehicle and not think about the heat.

When I finished the treatment, the patient's grandson, a grown man, announced, "Your tire is going flat," and then sat down to eat supper!

I hoped to make it to the Gas 'n' Shop, but after one block, I knew I wouldn't. So I stopped and changed the darned thing.

MEN DROVE in by pickups and on motorcycles and nobody stopped. I got it all changed and could not get the jack to release! (Mike later found a broken spring.)

Finally, a bow-legged gentleman across the street offered to help. We tugged and rocked the car, until the jack finally went over. Then the part that catches in the bumper wouldn't come out!

I could not imagine driving home like that, so we managed to get the long stick part pulled out.

Meanwhile, I had stalled with the Buick on a Sunday morning and ended up having the battery cables cleaned. And last Sunday, it had a flat on it after church. This time, even though we had stood around and visited for quite a while, there were willing hands to help. There were four flats in that tire.

To top it off, Kay came home Saturday without a bumper. A kid in town for new Student Orientation had come around the corner with a pickup and hit her car as it sat on the street.

I keep wondering when it will end. And it was with trepidation I made the trip to Pierce yesterday.

Audience steals the show in recent 4-H Conference

by Marc Krasnowsky
Editorial Assistant

UNL Dept. of Ag. Communications

On June 17, three experts addressed 100 high school students attending the Nebraska 4-H Conference at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's East Campus. In a public hearing entitled "Economic Stress in Nebraska," the panelists intended to present their views on causes and solutions for the current farm crisis. But their teenage audience stole the show.

Resource speakers included UNL senior Lee Wagner of Chapman from the student farm crisis group FACTS (Farm Actions Concern Tomorrow's Society); Shari Kain of Valparaiso, who works on the Farm Crisis Hotline; and Kurt Yost, a lobbyist and executive director for the Nebraska Independent Bankers Association.

Each panelist represented a different perspective on farm economics.

Wagner stressed the critical role of state and national agricultural policies in shaping the future of farming. He said government is concentrating on short-term solutions, such as deficiency payments, rather than dealing with the long-term problem of agricultural surpluses.

"A lot of 40 to 50 year-old senators won't have to live with the effects of these bills very long, compared to us," Wagner said. "We are the ones who have to be concerned about the long-term effects."

Kain also criticized short-term solutions and said many rural Nebraskans are evading economic reality through "positive pretending."

"Things look a little better today," Kain said. "Some people are in better shape. But there's still a lot hanging in the balance. It wouldn't take much — a hailstorm, a drought or the price of corn going down the toilet — to drive a lot more out of farming."

KAIN CALLED FOR more government intervention with different programs, legal assistance for financially strapped farmers, and emotional support for economic victims.

Yost took a different tack. "I believe we're in the midst of a change for the good," he said. "The boat hasn't turned around completely, but there are positive signs. There's more money out there now, in particular the $25 billion from the 1985 farm bill."

Noting a commonality of interests among rural businesses and farmers, Yost said the banker has suffered along with Nebraska agriculture.

"Commercial banks in Nebraska has absorbed $750 million in losses in recent years," he said. "The banking industry is as interested in the success of the farmer as that farmer is."

Audience involvement began ahead of schedule. During his presentation, Yost pointed to rising cattle and hog prices as evidence of recovery.

"Now," he said, "we just have to figure out how to get more money for grain. Right?"

"No!" resounded a female voice from the front row. "No?" Yost asked. "No," the young woman insisted. "Prospects are good for livestock because grain prices are low."

Later, the same woman said bankers were at least partly to blame for farmers' economic plight because bankers had encouraged farmers to buy more land. Yost responded that bankers and farmers are partners, and that both had suffered.

Wagner drew applause by saying, "I don't know any banker who's had to sell his home because his bank went under." But his support of supply management through the proposed Harkin-Gephardt farm bill did not meet universal approval.

A male delegate constructed an elaborate supply-and-demand analogy, based on accumulating surplus pizza over a period of time.

"One day, if you get a pizza which is half spoiled, won't you be glad you saved that surplus?" He then quoted figures showing that total stored grain surpluses equal about one-half of a year's average production.

For the remainder of the session, 4-H delegates peppered the panelists with questions and observations about Chapter 12 bankruptcy filings, acreage set-asides, the Conservation Reserve Program and other issues.

When the hearing ended, one UNL student marveled, "I'm an econ major. These high school kids know more about economics than I do."

Nebraska mineral production shows decline in areas

The value of mineral production in Nebraska declined by about $75 million from 1985 to 1986 according to a report, "Nebraska Mineral Operations Review, 1986," released by the Conservation and Survey Division at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Report authors R.R. Burchett and D.A. Eversoll, CSD geologists, said preliminary data show that the value of mineral production decreased from $287.4 million in 1985 to $212.2 million in 1986.

Burchett said despite the decrease in mineral value, the number of persons employed within the industry increased from 1,700 in 1984 and 1985 to 1,900 in 1986.

million tons as compared with 3.6 million tons in 1985 — the value decreased from $21.2 million in 1985 to $19.5 million in 1986.

—Six hundred fifty-nine sand, gravel and silt or siltstone pits, up from 621 in 1985. Production rose from 10.7 million tons in 1985 to 11.1 million tons in 1986 with the value decreasing from $27.3 million to $26.3 million.

—Same number of sandstone pits — 17 — in 1986 as in 1985. Production reached 234,000 short tons in 1986, compared with 342,000 short tons in 1985; the value increased from $500,000 in 1985 to $1,278,000 in 1986.

—The 709 active mining operations in 1986 compared with 673 in 1985. The combined value of cement, gemstones, lime and industrial sand and gravel was up in 1986 — 42 $59,218,000 compared with $32,800,000 in 1985.

BURCHETT said that during the past 86 years a total of 3,447 quarries, pits and mines have been active at various times in Nebraska. Of these, 367 were limestone quarries; 2,908 sand, gravel and silt pits; 36 clay or shale pits; 94 sandstone pits; 11 quartzite pits; 29 volcanic ash pits; 14 coal mines; one chalk mine; three flint quarries; and five peat pits.

These operations disturbed about 41,172 acres, of which approximately 50 percent have been reclaimed, he said.

Mineral resource industries in Nebraska included these types of plants: lime, brick, cement, concrete products, crushed limestone, cut-stone, fertilizer, gem and ornamental stone, glass, ground limestone, natural gas processing, perlite, ready-mix concrete, sand and gravel, talc and vermiculite, in addition to underground gas storage terminals.

Crude petroleum production rose from 6.9 million 42-gallon barrels in 1985 to 7.9 million barrels in 1986. However, value declined from $179,709,000 in 1985 to $101,941,000 in 1986.

Natural gas production declined, from 1.9 billion cubic feet in 1985 to 1.4 billion cubic feet in 1986. Value of the product decreased from $5,853,000 in 1985 to $3,958,000 in 1986.

The annual review reported that 1,830 wells in Nebraska produced 7,097,633 barrels of oil and 1.1 billion cubic feet of casinghead gas in 1986. This compares with 2,079 wells that produced 6,942,502 barrels of oil and 1.7 billion cubic feet of casinghead gas in 1985. Twelve gas wells were shut-in in 1985; 10 in 1986.

Of the 142 drilling permits issued by the Nebraska Oil and Gas Conservation commission in 1986, 92 were for exploration and 50 for development; in 1985, 318 permits were issued, 176 for exploration, 142 for development.

Cheyenne, Kimball, Hitchcock, Banner, Morrill and Scotts-Bluff counties had the largest number of exploration and development wells completed in 1985 and 1986.

The 1986 report on Nebraska mineral statistics is available at the Conservation and Survey Division, 113 Nebraska Hall, 901 No. 17th St., Lincoln, NE 68588-0517.

Temps affect pig gain

Lower nighttime air temperatures can reduce energy costs while increasing pig gain, according to the results of experiments conducted by the University of Nebraska's Agricultural Research Division.

Mike Brumm and Dave Shelton, associate professors of animal science and agricultural engineering, respectively, studied weaned pig performance over a 5-year period at UNL's Northeast Research and Extension Center in Concord. Brumm presented the findings at the June 22-25 International Livestock Housing Symposium in Champaign, Ill.

The studies concerned the effects, respectively, of reduced nocturnal temperatures (RNT) and modified RNT. Both involved pigs weaned at 23-28 days of age. In each case, pig performance was measured against a control group raised according to the current standard: a constant temperature of 30C (86 degrees F) throughout the first week, followed a reduction of 2C (3.5 degrees F) in each of the subsequent four weeks.

In the first experiment, daytime -- 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. -- temperatures equaled those in the control room. But at night, temperatures were reduced to 25C (77 degrees F) the first three nights and to 20C (68 degrees F) the next four nights. For the remainder of the experiment, nighttime temperatures were reduced by an additional 1C each week.

The modified-RNT test, as the name suggests, involved a more moderate approach. Day and night temperatures remained the same as those in the control group for one week. Thereafter, daytime temperatures remained the same, while nighttime temperatures were set at 6C below the control group setting.

In both experiments, pigs increased their average daily gains primarily because of increased feed intake. "Apparently," Brumm said, "the daily fluctuating temperatures and cooler temperatures at night stimulated the pigs' appetites."

Energy use and utility costs dropped dramatically -- more than 30 percent in the RNT test and more than 15 percent in the modified-RNT experiment. However, an increase in pig deaths in the first test tended to negate the savings advantage. On the other hand, survivability actually improved among modified-RNT pigs.

The mortality figures suggest the need for a constant warm temperature the first week after weaning, Brumm said. Once the weaned pig's metabolism stabilizes and its feed intake exceeds maintenance needs, it responds favorably to reduced nighttime temperatures.

Based on the research results, Brumm and Shelton made three recommendations to producers with good-to-excellent nursery facilities.

First, wait one week before imposing the reduced temperature regimen. Second, decrease nighttime temperatures by no more than 6C (10 degrees F). Third, carefully observe the pigs.

UP WITH AGRICULTURE
By David Garst

When I was growing up in the 1930s, one-third of all Americans lived and worked on farms. Now, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, only 2.5 percent of our population live on farms. This means we have less farmers today than we have college students.

In other words, it only takes one percent of the present labor force to produce all the food and fiber we consume and export. This is impressive or alarming, depending on your perspective.

It's impressive when you realize that the food system is responsible for 25 percent of the jobs in the United States. An estimated 21 million Americans are employed in some aspect of agriculture like the farm service industries, farming itself or food processing and distribution.

And with fewer farmers, there are more and more people available to produce the wide variety of industrial goods which makes our standard of living among the highest in the world.

The decline in the farm population is alarming because the family farm, which was largely responsible for setting this country's values, has virtually disappeared. When I was a boy, everyone had relatives who lived and worked on a farm. And many children growing up today will never have this opportunity.

Future generations must now be tied to a new set of values, which may or may not be as good as past values. Let's hope these new values give our nation's people the same pride, spirit and desire to make a contribution to society.

It's difficult for me to imagine a nation where agriculture has become industrialized to such an extent that the countryside is barren and the family farm has gone the way of the hula hoop.

In my opinion, the family farm is like a willow tree. It may bend a little in the wind, but it'll be tough to break.

Chamber Insights

by Linda M. Brown E.V.P.
Executive Vice President
Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, Inc.

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce is the public relations tool for the Wayne area. Your Chamber answers many phone, letter and walk-in requests daily and distributes printed information continuously. We distribute brochures and state maps from all of the states.

Within the immediate area we provide city and area maps and brochures, act as a clearing house for community information, a guide for tourist information, develop economic profiles, packets and fact sheets, provide community literature and brochures, provide a club and organization directory, research community profile fact sheets, develop the Wayne Industrial facts book, distribute and mail the new maps and information booklet on Wayne and the Wayne area. We also provide the new video on Wayne and give program presentations to businesses and organizations. We maintain an information bureau for residents and provide the Job Service to the public.

We create an awareness of our activities to members through annual reports, monthly general membership meetings, monthly newsletters and calendars, "Chamber Insights," a program of work, weekly radio program, news releases, opinion surveys and polls, various business workshops and seminars. We also provide business awareness by holding weekly Chamber Coffees, Business After Hours, visitations and tours of businesses and industries and twilight farm tours. The Wayne Ambassadors, the goodwill arm of the Chamber, visits new businesses and businesses with new owners, presents a Congeniality Award to deserving employees, hosts visiting guests to the community and works on community projects.

The Chamber and Wayne Industries works with the state senators as well as area and state agencies such as Nebraska Public Power District, Department of Economic Development and Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry to host legislative forums and formulate information for existing industries and businesses as well as incoming businesses and industries. We try to create interest in the area as well as provide any assistance and information available to them. We lobby legislators as needed for the area businesses and attend any meetings to aid in the continued growth of the businesses.

The Chamber office is a satellite Job Service for the Wayne area, provides a facility for the League of Human Dignity and an interviewing office for incoming businesses and industries.

We work with the schools and college to provide an on-the-job training for high-achievement students and a college intern for college credit hours. We work with the Student Senate of Wayne State College acting as a catalyst for students and business people to work together to form stronger relations and awareness of what Wayne has to offer as a business community.

We organize and hold promotions such as Wayne Expo, a product and service show and free omelet feed for the public, ping pong ball promotion, Country Store Day with free bratwurst feed, Chicken Feed for the Chicken Show, Christmas Holiday Magic promotion giving away Chamber gift certificates, Wayne State College "Back-To-School" dance for students, BRAN, welcome teachers back social and more. We work with many other community events in promoting and assisting such as sponsorship of judges, trophies and scholarships for WSC Band Day; Toys for Tots, Wayne County Fair Barbecue, Judge 4-H Hardmanship and assist with 4-H Bonus Auction, plus much more.

This is a small portion of the various things that are available at your Chamber of Commerce office. All people visiting or living in the area are invited to stop in or call with any questions or to pick up any information. We are here to assist you. We are located at 108 West Third Street.

Antiperspirants

Underarm odor is caused by bacteria breaking down secretions of the apocrine sweat glands. Three ways that have been suggested to eliminate or reduce odor are to (1) inhibit bacterial growth, (2) reduce sweat gland secretions, and (3) remove secretions from the skin as quickly as possible. Most popular antiperspirants inhibit bacterial growth but do not actually reduce sweat gland secretions or wetness.

The majority of adults in North America use underarm antiperspirants on a routine basis, with the sale of antiperspirant/deodorant products approaching one billion dollars each year. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has determined that certain aluminum compounds are "safe and effective" for use as antiperspirant ingredients.

Washing with soap and water is one of the best ways to minimize or eliminate odor. Antiperspirants are not a substitute for proper body hygiene. Antiperspirant products should be applied when the underarm is clean and dry. Clothing should not be put on until the antiperspirant dries.

CRAZY DAZE COMING

Wakefield merchants are planning a Crazy Daze sidewalk sale for Saturday, June 27.

In conjunction with the sidewalk sale there will also be a helium balloon release. The balloons will be sold and tallied with the name of the purchaser along with instructions to the finder to return the tag to the Wakefield Pumpkin Days Committee.

A prize will be awarded to both the finder and the purchaser for the tag which is returned from the greatest distance from Wakefield. The winners will be announced on Pumpkin Day, Sept. 26.

If for some reason you will not be in Wakefield for Crazy Daze the balloons will be on sale at Wakefield Drug and True Value Home Center from now until Crazy Daze, June 27. The balloons will be filled on Saturday, June 27, and released. The balloons will come from Karen Victor who will be assisting with the filling and release.

Also available for the first time on Crazy Daze will be the Pumpkin Days T-shirts. The Community Club will be selling the shirts to help promote the Pumpkin Day this fall.

Cards of Thanks

THE WAYNE Educational Office Personnel Association (WEOPA) would like to thank the following people and businesses who helped make the BRAN breakfast a success: Dick Sorensen, Greenview Farms, for donating a hog for the sausage; Will and Sue Davis, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, for the use of the building, parking lot, personal help and all the "extras"; Larry Johnson, Johnson's Frozen Foods, for hog processing; Wayne Kiwanis for the use of the mixing equipment; John Anderson for the use of his electric drill; Vicky Pick, Logan Valley Implement, for use of coffee pots; Chamber of Commerce for coffee pot and servers; Wayne State College maintenance staff for set up; Street Department employees for their help in setting up; Chuck Thiele and Peoples Natural Gas for converting and hooking up the grills; Eldon and Willie Mundorf, Gillette Dairy, Norfolk, for personally delivering and serving milk and juice; Bill's GW and Wayne Super Foods for the discount on groceries; Cleo Sharer for the signs; Vern Schulz, Tim Connealy and Sam Schroeder for their time, efforts and advice. Thank you to the following special people who arrived at 4 a.m. to help us prepare and serve breakfast: Fritz Ellis, Harold Flier, Dan Kardell, Greta Kloster, Phil Kloster, Stephanie Kloster, Chris O-to, Mavis Penn, Don Pippitt, Clayton Stalling, Kathy Stalling and Betsy Wisenhuht. We especially thank you WEOPA members who helped make this fund raiser a success. Eileen Kloster and Jeanne Ann Kardell. J25

A SINCERE "Thank You" to our friends and relatives who helped us celebrate our 40th anniversary. Thank you for all the cards, gifts and flowers we received. Your thoughtfulness is very much appreciated. A special thanks to our children and grandchildren, John, Jeannine and family, Judy Demke and family, and Jim, Deb and family, who hosted our anniversary open house. We will always treasure the memories of this special anniversary. Derwood and Ellen Wriedt. J25

The Golden Years by Gil Haase

The older you are, the better you work, according to results of a research project. Researchers at the State University of New York at Binghamton analysed the results of 13 different studies done between 1940 and 1983. They found there was a slow, but steady, increase in productivity among both professional and blue-collar workers as they got older. "Too many people place a lot of importance on how aging affects performance, believing older people can't do jobs as well," the researchers concluded. "Our evidence proves that's not the case."

People with friends live longer. That's the conclusion of Dr. Lester Breslow of UCLA. Breslow found that the death rate is twice as high for men and three times as high for women who are friendless than for people who have friends.

Remember When? 1957 — Do you recall what songs were popular that year? Some of the hits were "Love Letters In The Sand," "Tummy," "Fascination," "Young Love," "Round And Round" and the music from "My Fair Lady."

Presented as a public service to our senior citizens, and the people who care about them by the Wayne Care Centre, 918 Main Street, Wayne, Nebraska 68787, 375-1922.

I want to express my sincere appreciation to the businesses and individuals who contributed to the cost of sending the "Nebraska All Stars" to France. Brian Bowers, Bowers Baling; Monte Bainter, NWU Alum; Reuben Meierhenry, Orlando, Fla.; Winside State Bank; Winside Grain & Feed; Wacker Farm Store; Winside Motor; Ray Jacobsen Locker; Farmer's Coop; Weible Transfer; Lee & Rosie's; Winside Animal Clinic; Jim Teeter, Farmer's Nutrition Service. It was truly a "once in a lifetime" experience. We competed in Paris at the French National Univ. Track & Field Championships and I got 3rd in the high jump. But the meet was not the important part. We stayed with French families. We experienced the language, the culture, the scenery and the friendship of these athletes. Hopefully, we can continue athletic, cultural, and academic exchanges. They serve to heighten our awareness of our universal obligations. Jon Meierhenry.

I would like to thank all of the following Winside and Wayne businesses for their support as I enter the Miss Nebraska Pageant in North Platte, July 6-11. I will do my best to represent this area in the State Pageant.

INTRODUCING S.P.D.A.

(Single Premium Deferred Annuity)

Featuring retirement income you cannot outlive.

Columbus Federal Savings Bank is pleased to announce the recent affiliation of First Nebraska Service Corp., its subsidiary, with United Pacific Life Insurance Company.

Through this new association, we are able to offer a new line of annuity products that allows our customers to provide for life-time income on a tax-deferred basis.

Q. What is a single premium deferred annuity?

A. A single premium deferred annuity is a contract with an insurance company which accumulates guaranteed interest on a tax-deferred basis. In later years, it provides guaranteed retirement income.

Q. Are there any sales charges or fees?

A. No, all of your money earns interest from the date your contract is issued.

Q. Are interest rates guaranteed?

A. Yes. United Pacific Life has three different competitive guaranteed interest plans. After your choice of the initial guaranteed interest period (1, 2, or 4 years), the interest rate is guaranteed for 12 month intervals.

Q. When do I have to pay tax?

A. When you withdraw the interest.

Q. What are the current rates?

A. You can guarantee your rate for 1, 2 or 4 years with your initial contract. 1 and 2 year contracts are 8.3%. 4 year contracts are 8.05%.

Q. What is Bail Out?

A. Surrender charges are applied to your withdrawals on a sliding scale beginning with 7% in year one to 0% in year eight. If the subsequent declared interest rate is more than 1% less than the initial guaranteed rate at issue, you may, within 60 days, withdraw all your funds free of any charges imposed by UPL during that year. In addition, at no time would you ever receive less than 100% of your original investment.

Q. What about safety?

A. United Pacific Life, founded more than 25 years ago, is the major life insurance operation of Reliance Insurance Company with $1.7 billion in assets and $2.8 billion of life insurance in force. United Pacific Life maintains an "A" (Excellent) rating by A.M. Best Company.
