Wayne what?

A "Committee for WAYNE AMERICA on the Water Tower" has been formed, according to Lyle George of Wayne. Informal surveys, he said, show there is widespread support for having the words WAYNE AMERICA on the new water tower being constructed on the east edge of Wayne.

He listed the following reasons:

The term Wayne America when referring to the city of Wayne, Nebraska already has Wayne, Nebraska already has widespread use among the people in the community.

It is somewhat whimsical, and yet very positive form of self designation. The self image of the community improves as "we start to refer to ourselves in an international sense." George said. "Besides." sense," George said. "Besides, there are two cities that now do business on an international

The words WAYNE

Lines aligned

WORK CONTINUES ON the storm sewer project on East 3rd Street in Wayne, just off of Main Street. The 18" line is being replaced by a 24" line, which will ease the flooding after heavy rains near the Black Knight and Wayne Music Store area. B.D. Construction, the same company which will be doing work on the sanitary sewer lines on East 4th Street, is laying the big-ger storm sewer lines, with assistance from the Wayne Public Works department and the building and planning department.

City budget reveals tax asking decrease

Wayne City Council will be propos-ing a 1987-88 city budget which will result in an approximately 3.6 percent decrease from last fiscal year in total property tax askings.

The budget hearing is slated for Tuesday, July 28 at the Wayne City Council chambers, starting at 7:35

Property tax proposed for general fund revenue decreased from 367,344 in the 1986-87 budget to $352,650 for the 1987-88 budget. Other areas requiring property tax revenue include the airport and special assessments, which will bring the total property tax asking total to $496,630 — about $18,366 less (pr. a. 3.6 percent decrease) than the previous fiscal decrease of the state of year, according to city Ad-ministrator Phil Kloster.

A 22 percent decrease is anticipated in the area of total general fund revenue. One line item of noted substantial decrease is federal substantial decrease is redetaingrants. There were $252,750 in federal grants budgeted for the 1986-87 fiscal year. For the upcoming fiscal year, nothing is budgeted. "We are not expecting any federal grants for the coming year," mentioned Kinster.

HOWEVER, A 50 percent incre in state grants has been budgeted for revenue, covering costs for the congate meals and the operation of mini-bus. Donations also were budgeted for a 31 percent increase, primarily because of the increased usage in the city's meals program, Kloster mentioned.

Kiwanis International erases women ban

By Chuck Hackenmiller

The tradition of an all-male Kiwanis Club in Wayne could be changed within the next few weeks or months as women are now allowed to become members of the International organization.

Earlier this month, Kiwanis Inter-national, an organization with clubs all over the world, voted to let its 8,200 clubs admit women. Doing so ended a 72-year 'men only' tradition with the Kiwanis organization. It was reported in an Associated Press article that incoming interna-tional Kiwanis President Tony Kaiser was "delighted and relieved" about the decision.

Over two thirds of the 5,600-plus delegates at the international meeting voted in favor of ending the ban on women members, the Associated Press article mentioned. Wayne Kiwanis Club's Board of Directors will be meeting Monday morning at City Hall and among the main topics is making the Wayne

Club's first official action on receiv-ing women as members. Jack Middendorf, former Wayne Kiwanis Club president, attended the international meeting last year, when about 47 percent of the delegates voted to remove the organization's, restriction of no women — not enough votes to lift the

Prior to his attendance at the meeting, a straw vote was taken among members of the Wayne Kiwanis, and approximately 60 percent voted for allowing wom the organization, 40 percent against.

CURRENT WAYNE Kiwanis President, Phil Kloster, Is one who is encouraged by the vote this year. "We have young women in Circle K and Key Club in our youth-sponsored groups," he mentioned. He said it wasn't right that these young women who worked hard in these youthsponsored groups could not become Kiwanians.

Kloster said the Kiwanis organiza-tion, like other organizations nation-wide, is looking for ways to "help stabilize membership."

Allowing women to join the organization, he mentioned, is one way that membership can be in-creased or stabilized. Over the past years, several other organizations have opened up their membership to women following-

Supreme Court rulings. On May 4, a California case ruled that states may force service organizations, such as Rotary International, to accept women as members.

women as members.
Gil Haase, president of the Wayne
Rotary, said Thursday the organization has "not done any active recruifing" of women members.
However, the club is required to allow women members "if we have an open classification," Haase said.
The Wayne Rotary has one

The Wayne Rotary has one member per classification

(occupation) — such as educator, lawyer, physician, jeweler; insurance salesman, newspaper publisher or other occupations. If an educator asks to join Rotary, and there already is another educator who has filled the classification as a Rotary member, then the requesting educator can on-ly join if the educator member gives or her approval, according to Further, membership Is attained only through "being invited to join" by current members. Recently, the Lincoln Downtown Rotary Club inducted Governor Kay or to become its first woman "honorary member."

Hass said Gov. Orr could not be classifed as a Governor in the organization — but classified in an occupation she held prior to being elected to public office.

IN 1984, a ruling was made from a Minnesota case to allow women to join the Jaycees. The Wayne Jaycees chapter currently has three women members on its roster.

Mindy Lutt is not one of them. Her husband, Verdel, has been active in Jaycees for many years and prior to the court ruling in 1984, she was a member of the Jaycee Women member of the Jaycee Women organization.

Later, after the court ruling, the Jaycee Women disbanded and the organization became affiliated with the Women of Today service organization. The Wayne Women of Today organization has been in operation for two full years, Lutt said, and has kept many of the original Jaycee Women members.
"I like the Wayne Women of Today.

"I like the Wayne Women of Today because It is geared more toward women," Lutt said.

HOWEVER, women who have join-d the previous all-male Jaycee organizations also feel they are con-tributing to the community, just as the male members.

Nancy Thiel of Wayne is a Wayne Jaycee member who became in-terested after another female friend coaxed her to join the organization. "I've always been interested in joining some type of organization like this," Thiel said. "I wanted to do something different for the co munity."
Thiel said she felt slightly out of place at her first Jaycee meeting. But those feelings passed. "It's a good time, fun and I got to know more people," Thiel said.

Would a usually dominated female organization allow men to become Sandi Dorcey, president of the Wayne Business and Professional Women (BPW) organization in Wayne, said the organization is open to "all women and men who share the

She was uncertain whether or not the organization currently had any members on a state wide basis.

Pumpkin Days planned

A variety of activities are being planned in conjunction with Wakefield's Pumpkin Days celebration in September.
The daylong festival is being sponsored by the Wakefield Community Club and will take place on Saturday, Sept. 26.
The event will kick off with a kiddle parade. No motorized entries will be allowed and all pumpkin-related entries will be judged.
The parade will conclude at the Wakefield city park where pumpkin games will be held throughout the day.

FUMPKIN DAYS also will include a free omelet feed in the park from 11-a.m. to 1 p.m.
Pumpkin judging also will take place in the park. Pumpkins grown from free seeds distributed earlier this year by the Wakefield Community Club may be entered in two general categories—decorated and undecorated.

Decorated pumpkins may be carved painted or otherwise advaned.

Undecorated pumpkins will be judged for size, weight, shape, etc.

Foods with pumpkin as the main ingredient also will be displayed and judged.

A FINE ARTS show will be open for viewing during the day. Entries are encouraged in all areas of fine arts including photography, painting, sketching, sculpture, centerpieces, carving, needlework, crafts, etc. All pumpkin-related entries will be judged.

Winning entries in a yard decorating contest may also be seen during Pumpkin Days.

A melodrama is scheduled for late afternoon, and a teen dance at 9, p.m. will conclude activities.

Food preservation: canning tomatoes

What are the most recent recommendations for canning tomatoes?

The USDA is no longer recommending the cold or raw pack method of preserving tomatoes until additional research can be completed. Tomatoes must be not packed.

must be not packed.

Ye only firm, ripe, red fornatoes, free of soft spots or decayed areas. Over-ripe tomatoes lose acidity as they mature. Do not can tomatoes picked from dead or frozen vines, as they also may be low in acid.

Wash and rinse formatoes well to remove all soil. Loosen skins by dipping tomafoes in boiling water for 30 seconds, then dip quickly into cold water. Cut out stem and core and peel off skin. It is important to remove all of the "white section" with the core as bacteria buildup is much greater there than in the other part of the tomato.

Leave small tomatoes whole. Halve or quarter larger tomatoes. Plan on 2½ to 3½ pounds of tomatoes per quart for canned tomatoes and 3 to 3½ pounds of Research has shown that for an extra guarantee against spoilage, add bottled lemon juice to the top of the jar just before adjusting lids. Add one tablespoon of bottled lemon juice per pint and two tablespoons per quart.

Hot Pack

Prepare tomatoes as instructed above. Bring tomatoes to a boil. Stir often to keep tomatoes from sticking. Pack hot tomatoes in clean and hot glass jars to one-half inch from the top.

Add canning salf if desired — ½ teaspoon per pint or 1 teaspoon per quart. The addition of salt is optional as salt is only added for flavor and does not help to preserve the product. Add bottled lemon juice. Remove any bubbles.

Wipe the jar rim clean. Adjust jar lids and process in boiling water bath — 42 minutes for pint jars and 47 minutes for quart jars.

Tomato Juice

Use ripe, juicy, red tomatoes free of soft spots or decayed areas. Wash, remove stem and blossom ends, and cut into pieces. Simmer until softened, stirring often. Press through strainer or food mill. Salt, sugar and spices may be added for flavor.

Reheat juice until almost boiling. Pour into hot jars. Add bottled lemon juice. Leave one-half inch headspace. Adjust lids and process in boiling water bath — 37 minutes for jint jars and 42 minutes for quart jars.

STOLTENBERG PARTNERS offers an up-to-date computerized service. Date Stoltenberg and Jan Frick (above) took over the system. Kay Marsh and Verl Carlson (lower right) are two of the three agents on staff at the agency.

State's oldest affiliate provides prompt service

Stoltenberg Partners has been serving Wayne and the surrounding counties since 1980. It is the oldest Partners affiliate in the state of Nebraska.

Prior to being associated with Partners Dale Stoltenberg started his own reat estate company in 1977.

Stoltenberg, owner and broker for Partners, presently has three salespersons, Kay Marsh. Verl Carlson and Norma Lee Stoltenberg. Kay Marsh specializes in residential property and Verl Carlson in farm management and farm sales. Jan Frick serves as office manager. She has three and a half years of experience in property management.

Stoltenberg offers the most up-to-date computerized farm appraisals in the property real estate business. Farm land is appraised according to the breakdown of the soil types and on the basis of recent sales in the area. The company is also computerized in the area of management accounts and appraisals. It also provides market analysis on any property at no extra charge for anyone interested in buying or selling.

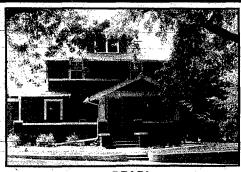

Stoltenberg said a large part of his company's business is financing and consulting customers. Stollenberg Partners originates home loans through First Federal Lincoln. It also receives interest rate quotas daily from the home office of First Federal.

Stoltenberg Partners offers a convenient relocation service to anyone moving from the Wayne area. It contacts the Partners office in Cedar Rapids, lows who in turn gets in touch with a broker in the area the family is relocating to.

Stoltenberg Partners listings are always available to all local real estate brokers.

Stoltenberg Partners is open Monday through Saturday. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Brown attends institute

Linda Brown, executive vice-president of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, recently completed a week's Institute for Organization Management of the University of Colorado: Over 500 voluntary organization executives from all over the country participated in this pro fessional development program.

The Colorado Institute is one of six annual, one-week sessions sponsored by the Center for Leadership Development, a division of the Na-tional Chamber Foundation at leading-universities-throughout-the country. Other universities that host institutes are Notre Dame, University of Georgia, Southern Methodist University, San Jose University and the University of Delaware.

During the five-day session, par-ticipants spent over 36 classroom which is designed to assist voluntary organization executives in improving the knowledge and skills necessary to enhance the effectiveness of the organization.

The Institute curriculum includes coursework in management philosophy, interpersonal processes, government law and organization structure: as well as in more contem porary issues such as economic and environmental concerns. Each par-ticipant may attend progressive. levels of the program throughout his/her-professional-career.

University professors chosen to serve as faculty are distinguished authorities in their fields. Additional courses are led by top-level Chamber of Commerce executives, making the faculty unique in its depth and range
