Hoskins history

Laura Ulrich has been selected to serve as the historical coordinator for Hoskins in the upcoming series of the books titled NEBRASKA...Our Towns.

The project, announced last fall, is being spearheaded by a group of historically-oriented individuals and is managed by Jane Graff, the project coordinator.

"I am happy that Hoskins has enrolled in the project," said Graff, native of Seward. Stories from Wayne County communities have already been filed from Carroll and Winside. Historians are still needed in Sholes and Wayne.

"Every town has its own unique charm and character," said Graff. "Capturing this pictorially in images of the past and present, along with a brief 500 to 700 word story and a list of other books published about it, will make it a research tool for historians, genealogist and students of all ages," she mentioned.

Towns will be grouped by geographic regions, with from 50 to 75 communities included in each volume. It is estimated that seven volumes will be needed to complete the series.

Area residents who have interesting material or never before published photos of Hoskins are urged to contact Ulrich at 565-4378.

Graff told The Wayne Herald that the purchasing cost of the books is $26.75 for each volume, plus $3 in shipping cost and tax.

Holiday closing

The Wayne County Courthouse will be closed on Monday in observance of Labor Day.

Federal and state offices will also be closed.

Area high school football, volleyball, girls golf and cross country teams are featured in this Thursday's edition of The Wayne Herald.

MIDDLE SCHOOL students answer the bell as school began Monday and Tuesday at most area schools. Enrollment increased in The Wayne Herald coverage area by 20 students.

Lower grades have greatest increase

Area school enrollment rises

By Staff Writers

Enrollment at area schools in The Wayne Herald coverage area increased slightly — by 20 students — according to figures released Tuesday and Wednesday by area school administrators.

Statistics were received from St. Mary's School in Wayne, Wayne-Carroll School District (including Carroll Elementary School), Wakefield, Laurel, Winside and Allen.

There were 36 total K-4th grade students at Carroll Elementary, three less than the previous school year. However, Wayne Elementary had 26 more students than the previous school year, growing from 248 to 274. Total elementary school enrollment this year in the Wayne-Carroll School District was 310, 23 more than 1986-87.

Fifth grade to 8th grade students at Wayne-Carroll numbered 252 students this year, four less than last year. TMR students increased from six to seven students. At the 9th to 12th grade level, there was a decrease of 13 students, from 279 high school enrollment to a 266 figure this year.

There are 47 students in the senior class.

Looking at total student enrollment in the Wayne-Carroll School District, there was an increase of six students, from 822 to 828 enrollment.

Among the new teachers at Wayne-Carroll are:

Rocky Ruhl, high school math instructor; Vicki Mayer, middle school resource teacher; and Cheryl Overhue, elementary school first grade teacher. Diane Lindsay has returned half-time as 6th grade language arts instructor and homeroom.

WAKEFIELD'S enrollment is down slightly from the previous school year. The K-6 enrollment is 192 students, and 166 students are enrolled in grades 7-12 for a grand total of 358.

Although enrollment at Wakefield is down slightly from the beginning of last year, 358 compared to 362 a year ago, Superintendent Derwin Hartman said this year's enrollment is two more than at the close of the 1986-87 school year.

New teachers at Wakefield include LaVonne Carson, half-time Spanish teacher and Earline Anderson, 4/5 time high school science teacher.

Carson taught Spanish at Willow Lake, South Dakota before accepting the position at Wakefield. Before that, she taught school at Tekamah, Nebraska where she met her husband, Merle.

Anderson taught high school science at Wakefield from 1968 to 1973.

Allen's enrollment figures for 1987-88, according to Superintendent John Werner, shows a grand total of 242 students (108 from grades K-6, 39 from grades 7-8 and 93 from grades 9-12, plus two special education students).

That grand total is up about four students from 1986-87, according to Werner.

Kolleen Gowen is a new teacher at Allen, as Chapter 1 teacher and assistant girls basketball coach. She is a graduate of Sully, Nebraska High School and Midland Lutheran College in Fremont. She worked this past year as education director for a pre-school program in Omaha.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT at Laurel-Concord School District is three less than last year, according to Superintendent William Gannon. This year, in grades K-6 there are 253 students, and 206 students in grades 7-12 for a 459 total.

Last year's total enrollment figure was 462.

Superintendent Gannon is new to the Laurel school system this year. Other new teachers include Melinda Johnson, LeAnn Fritzier, Carol Guffey and Timothy Johnson.

Melinda Johnson is the elementary and high school librarian. Fritzier is the secondary resource teacher.

Timothy Johnson is teaching science for grades 7-9 and Guffey is the sixth grade instructor at Laurel.

Winside High School's enrollment figures show a decrease in enrollment of 15 students in grades 7-12 over 1986-87 and an increase of 18 students in grades K-6. There were 243 total students enrolled last year, compared to 246 this year.

This year's senior class will have 25 students.

New teachers at Winside include: Kathy Stuve, home economics instructor and guidance counselor; Randy Geier, social studies teacher and elementary physical education instructor, head football and head basketball coach; Ellene Jager, elementary first grade teacher.

Paul Sok has returned as science teacher and wrestling coach.

St. Mary's of Wayne had an enrollment jump of 16 students more than last year. Sixteen students are enrolled in the kindergarten class, compared to nine the previous year.

Hearing conducted on warehouse licensing for Farmers Union

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A hearing on whether to grant licensing to Farmers Union Co-op Exchange of Wakefield for the warehousing of grain took place in Lincoln on Tuesday, Sept. 1 before the Nebraska Public Service Commission.

A complaint, based on the quality of the grain warehoused in a variety of licensed facilities of Farmers Union, had been filed by Michael J. Gauthier, supervisor of the warehouse department with the Commission.

Gauthier said the Public Service Commission, during the hearing, took evidence from the complainant and also heard from the Farmers Union Co-op representatives concerning action which they have been taking to remedy the situation.

"They [Farmers Union] did not dispute the claim [on the quality of grain]. They have been purchasing grain to bring warehouses back in compliance," Gauthier mentioned.

He said the cooperative has recently been purchasing grain from the government and producers, and shipping the off-grade grain.

Gauthier mentioned that the transcripts must be prepared and there will be further deliberation by the Commission before a decision can be made, possibly by Sept. 15, on the licensing of Farmers Union.

to "fix what is wrong."

Dailey said the Public Service Commission has accepted the plan, and he is confident that the Commission will take no action on the charges filed against Farmers Union.

Farmers Union currently is under one license for warehousing grain. Should the warehouse license be pulled, the company cannot write out warehouse receipts or seal grain. A meeting will be set up in the near future with the patrons of Farmers Union to discuss the hearing and situations leading to the charges.

Dailey said that Farmer's Union is "still in real good financial condition" and that the company has been able to maintain a working capital.

The problem of poor quality grain storage has been primarily directed at the grain stored at the bunker facility which Farmer's Union constructed last year to meet storage demands, said Dailey.

BUILDING AND filling of the bunker storage north of Wakefield took longer than expected. Wind damaged the bunker and wet weather occurred while the bunker was being constructed, which resulted in damage to the grain quality, he said.

"It seemed like things were going against us right from the start," mentioned Dailey.

It took from September to December of last year to build and fill the bunker. "It should have taken only three weeks," said Dailey.

WSC Plains Writers Series recipient of special grant

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Wayne State College's Plains Writers Series, which brings in top poetry and fiction writers from across the country to Wayne, got a boost this past week.

First District Representative Doug Bereuter was notified that the National Endowment for the Arts has awarded Wayne State with a grant of $7,000 — to be used to help support writers' fees and related costs of the Plains Writers Series.

Jim Brummels is coordinator of the Plains Writers Series, which will begin its 11 year. "The program has been supported a good number of years by Wayne State and grants from the National Endowment of the Arts Literature Program," Brummels mentioned.

The practice in the past was for the school to individually contract with four to six poets or fiction writers in appearing at the campus.

This year, four writers will appear throughout the year at Wayne State on a circuit basis with four other schools — the University of Nebraska-Omaha, Northeast Community College of Norfolk, Kearney State College and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

WRITERS APPEARING at Wayne State will include Ron Hansen, a novelist and Nebraska native currently living in Tucson who wrote Desperadoes and The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford; David Lee, poet from Utah, who wrote Porseine Canticles; William Kloftork, state poet and professor of English at Nebraska Wesleyan; and Mary Katherine Stillwell, poet; a Nebraska native who currently resides in Brooklyn.

Brummels said Wayne State has received grants previously, but the $7,000 amount is more than normal. "Because it is a circuit program. It went over the usual amount of the grant we receive [from the National Endowment for the Arts]," said Brummels.

He said he is pleased that the Plains Writers Series will be able to continue, and he is "additionally pleased that other schools have become involved."

THE PROGRAM allows writers originally from Nebraska to return to their home state to do their readings. And it affords other writers brought in from other states to be introduced to Nebraska, according to Brummels.

Jo Taylor, head of the Wayne State College Humanities Division, said the Plains Writer Series offers "an excellent opportunity for our students."

The students at Wayne State establish a strong contact with the established writers.

Plans made to celebrate Constitution

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

We The People.

Simple words, it seems. But these words are known worldwide as America's commitment to universal freedom and self-government.

Those words set the tone for the rights and privileges guaranteed by the United States Constitution.

American communities and schools at home and abroad are gearing up later this September for a celebration honoring the 200th anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution — and the Wayne area will be among the participants in the historic event.

Jo Taylor, head of the Humanities Division at Wayne State College, was appointed this spring as one of several representatives of this state's First Congress District to serve on the Nebraska Bicentennial Constitution Commission.

Taylor initially was asked to be a judge in the Bicentennial Essay Competition for high school students. Shortly afterwards, in early spring, she received a letter appointing her to the Nebraska Bicentennial Constitution Commission.

Members from Norfolk are Margaret Robinson and Emil Ruetzel and most of the remainder 28 First District Commission members are from Lincoln.

One of the Commission's goals is to create an awareness of the Constitution through the coordination of a variety of activities.

TAYLOR, in her meetings with high school and college officials, knows that the Constitution will be getting a lot of attention during the month of September. At the elementary and secondary school levels in Wayne, plans were already in the making.

Taylor said the Wayne State College Social Sciences Division, in cooperation with the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union, is sponsoring a forum on the Constitution on Friday, Sept. 11 at 1 p.m., addressing constitutional issues entitled "Two Centuries Later: Current Threats to Liberty."

The forum will take place at the Nebraska Room of the Wayne State Student Center.

A two part program will be presented: first, Hysteria Over Aids: A Threat to Privacy? with Sam Walker, PhD, Professor, Criminal Justice at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, Member, National Board of Directors, American Civil Liberties Union; and Intellectual Freedom in Public Schools with David Moshman, PhD, Associate Professor, Educational Psychology, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, First Vice President, Nebraska Civil Liberties Union.

After each speaker makes a brief presentation, there will be time for questions and discussions.

The public is cordially invited to attend the forum.

ACTIVITIES ARE also being planned at the Wayne-Carroll school, middle school and elementary school.

The high school government and history classes have some activities planned based on material that was sent to them by the National Bicentennial Commission, according to Wayne-Carroll High's government instructor John Murtaugh.

The middle school and elementary school will have special emphasis planned on the Constitution leading up to a special ceremony on Sept. 16.

Preliminary plans call for each Middle School student to memorize an assigned sentence or paragraph of the U.S. Constitution. The students will assemble at the high school track at 1 p.m. on Sept. 16, join hands and recite the Pledge of Allegiance with President Reagan, who is leading all students across the nation in reciting the pledge.

Then the students will recite their assigned sentence or paragraph in proper order so that the entire constitution will be said verbally, from start to finish.

Other activities planned will be the singing of patriotic songs, presentation of the colors, and performances by the Middle School band and choir.

The public is also invited to participate in this historical event.

"It is gratifying to find that the high school and elementary-middle school are studying the Constitution, thinking about it and talking about it in their classes," Taylor remarked.

TAYLOR HAS ALSO been working with Linda Brown, executive vice president of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, for another activity. Preliminary plans are to schedule, on Thursday, Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the small park north of The Wayne Herald a public reading of the U.S. Constitution, with the readers coming from a cross-section of the Wayne community. Readers would range from young students, college students, business people or agriculture leaders and others.

Also, at halftime on Sept. 19 at the Southwest State University-Wayne State College home football game, tentative plans are to have the marching band playing patriotic hymns at halftime, with some mentioning about the bicentennial year and the celebration of the constitution and what that means to the nation.

"They will tie it in to one of the greatest tests of the constitutions — that being the civil war," said Taylor.

Taylor said it is important to realize that Sept. 17 represents one of the culminating dates in the celebration and that is the date of the actual signing of the Constitution. "The

Geiger wins suit against Terra firm

A Dixon County, Nebraska District Court jury Friday returned its verdict in favor of Jim Geiger, a rural Waterbury farmer, for $63,914.24, to compensate Geiger for 1984 crop losses.

Geiger, a long-time customer of Terra at its River Terminal Plant in Sioux City, had sued Terra because his 1984 corn crop suffered from nitrogen deficiency and rootworm damage in strips where Geiger contended that fertilizer had been unevenly applied. Terra contended that Geiger's losses were caused solely by rootworm, and were beyond Terra's control.

After a three-day trial, presided over by Honorable Robert E. Otte, District Judge, the jury returned its unanimous verdict in favor of Geiger for the full amount of his damages. According to Geiger, no evidence at trial disclosed that Terra had experienced complaints similar to his on other lands to which it applied fertilizer during the 1984 crop year.

No concerts
It is with regret, that we, the Board Members of the Norfolk Community Concert Association take this means to announce there will be no Community Concerts in Norfolk this season. The economic conditions which Northeast Nebraska has experienced the past few years, coupled with a shortage of administrative personnel needed to conduct the yearly membership campaign, has forced us to make this decision.

We have been pleased to be the medium by which musical programs and performing artists of the highest quality and of varied talents such as Marilyn Horne, Jan Peerce, the Indianapolis Symphony, Young Americans, and Peter Nero have entertained the people of Northeast Nebraska in a manner which would rival much larger cities. We wish to thank the generous patrons who have been of the utmost support as well as the many members of the association. It is our hope that the cultural opportunities provided by the Concert Series will enable a reorganization effort to be successful in the near future.

celebration is a two year celebration, up through the adoption of the Constitution by the states in 1789," she said.

"I've re-read the constitution. It's wonderful. It's really exhilarating. I probably hadn't read the constitution since high school days," she added.

"The document itself is a wonderful document. The language of it is written so that it is open to interpretation," mentioned Taylor.

"And that is probably one of the greatest aspects of the constitution." Taylor said she has read a lot of essays recently about the Constitution.

"I've read essays to the effect that the constitution itself is a wonderful document. But that is really not what has brought about change in the states. It has been energetic, active, alert, aware, intelligent citizenry which is absolutely essential," Taylor said.

"And I certainly agree with the need for an involved, active and intelligent citizenry."

nifer Hammer, Kristin Frevert, Trudy Pflanz, Teresa Ellis, Wendy Trube, Vicki Frevert, Jody DeWald, Kari Luff, assistant Jackie Day and Amy Tiedtke; (front row) Rachel Haase, Tara Erxleben, Leslie Spethman, Teresa Bennett, Tammi Schwanke, Bree Bebee, Ellen Cole and Shellyn Dorcey. Absent: manager Jennifer Conway.

Wayne — How do you replace a 6-0 and a 5-11 spikers and still be successful?

That is the $64,000 question second-year Coach Marlene Uhing will be trying to answer. The bad news is the Lady Blue Devils lost Kecia Corbit, Shelly Pick and Jennifer Wessel from last year's 16-5 squad but the good news is three starters return for action this year.

Seniors Amy Schluns and Marnie Bruggeman and junior Dana Nelson all were in the starting lineup last year and are expected to be among the front runners again this year. Sarah Peterson, Kristy Hansen, Robin Luff and Karmyn Koenig are also back to pick up the slack after lettering last season.

The Lady Blue Devils will line up in a 6-2 formation with one of the setters also acting as a hitter. Nelson, Hansen and Teresa Ellis are battling for the two setting positions while Schluns, Betsy Lebsock, Luff, Koenig, Julie Wessel and Heidi Reeg will handle the spiking chores.

After watching her team in practice the last couple of weeks Uhing said team serving will be one of the team's strengths. She said the girls have been real consistent in that area. The coach said there is also a cohesiveness among teammates.

"They are a good group of workers," Uhing said. "They are all about even skillwise so they keep each other working and push one another."

Uhing said the success of her team will depend on some things that are hard to measure this early in the season.

"Success will depend on how bad the girls hate to lose, how much heart they have and how much they will sacrifice," the coach said.

Uhing said the team's overall lack of size will be one of its weaknesses. The team must also work on its spike approach and varying its shots.

"Because of our size we won't be able to dominate at the net like in the past," she said. "Our setters will have to read where the blockers are."

Leadership has come from the teams three seniors, Schluns, Bruggeman and Peterson. Uhing said the trio has done a nice job of setting a good attitude and helping the underclassmen.

Hartington Cedar Catholic will again be the favorite to win the Northern Activities Conference. The Lady Trojans return a lot of height and experience from last year's squad.

The Lady Blue Devils will open the season against Wisner-Pilger in the opening round of the Beemer Invitational on Sept. 3. Last year Wayne won the Beemer tournament. Sept. 8 the girls will open at home against Schuyler.

Wayne — Youth will be responsible for the fortunes of the Wayne Blue Devil football team in the upcoming season.

This year's squad of 36 kids consists of only eight seniors, five senior lettermen. Overall, only nine lettermen return from last year's squad that finished 6-4.

Although another state playoff berth, it would be Wayne's fourth in five years, is a long way from reality at this point, Coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said he isn't ruling out the possibility.

"The coaching staff and the kids are looking forward to the season," he said. "I think this group will represent themselves very well."

The Blue Devils will stick with the split-back veer offense but the coaching staff is adding a few 1-formation plays to the playbook to keep the opponents honest.

Junior Jess Zeiss appears to have the nod at quarterback over Greg Schmidt and Brian Moore. Senior Jason Liska will be at one of the running back spots along with either Eric Liska, Scott Pokett, Corey Frye, Mike Hillier or Willie Gross. Elliot Salmon, Kevin Hausmann, Casey Dyer and Craig Dyer are in the running at wingback. Casey and Craig Dyer are sophomore twins who transferred to Wayne from Fremont.

Ehrhardt said Wayne will play a 5-3 defense with a lot of stunting. Senior Joel Pedersen will anchor the line at one defensive end spot while Chris Luff, Jason Liska, Kip Mau, Tim Sievers, Jeff Luff and Gross will handle the linebacking duties.

Ehrhardt said since the team is short on experience he will try to play as many people as possible in the first couple ballgames to get everybody accustomed to varsity football. The coach said that will be important down the line.

Ehrhardt said with the quality teams on this year's schedule, his team will have to be in tip-top shape physically and mentally.

One of the Blue Devils' goals this season is to defend the Northern Activities Conference (NAC) championship. That won't be easy with South Sioux City returning a lot of quality starters. Ehrhardt said O'Neill and Hartington Cedar Catholic have also improved from last season.

Also on this year's schedule is a rematch with Class B champion Schuyler. Wayne was beaten by the Warriors twice last year. The Blue Devils will travel to Schuyler for a Sept. 11 battle. Wayne will also play the Class C-1 state champion Battle Creek Braves on Oct. 16 on the road. The Blue Devils will open the season at home against Lyons-Decatur Northeast on Sept. 4.

WAYNE-CARROLL GOLF

Wayne — An experienced squad returns to action this fall as the Wayne Lady Blue Devil golf team prepares for its third season.

Coach Dick Metteer returns five letterwinners on the seven-girl squad. Back this year are seniors Andrea Marsh and Katy Griess and juniors Holly Paige, Ann Perry and Jill Jordan. Freshmen Cher Reeg and Emily McClelland round out the team. Missy Jones is the only girl lost from last year's team.

Metteer said he hopes to improve from last year's team that qualified for the state meet in Lincoln and placed fifth among Class B schools.

The coach said he would again like to qualify for the state tournament as a team and place higher in the team standings. He said he would also like to see some girls win individual medals at districts and at the state meet.

Metteer said the Lady Blue Devils are further along this year than they were last year at this time. He said the girls are more experienced thanks to the hours they put in on the golf course this summer. Many of the girls played in tournaments and leagues to keep active over the summer.

Metteer said the team will have a good idea of how tough the district will be when Wayne hosts its invitational at the Wayne Country Club Sept. 26. Several of the teams playing at Wayne will also be in the Lady Blue Devils' district.

Metteer said girls golf seems to be growing throughout the state. Columbus Lakeview and Columbus Scotus are adding girls team this year and several other schools maybe looking into the idea.

WAYNE-CARROLL CROSS COUNTRY

Wayne — Coach Rocky Ruhl starts his first year as the Wayne Blue Devil cross country mentor with one returning letterman.

The future might not seem bright for some but, Ruhl is taking the upcoming season in stride.

Senior Scott Allred, the lone letterman, is one of two seniors on the seven-man squad. Nick Engelson is the other senior, in his first season with the Blue Devil harriers. Rob Sweetland and Shane Geiger are the lone juniors on the squad and Brian Lentz, Aaron Wilson and Craig Sharpe are the freshmen participants.

Ruhl said with the team's inexperience, the main goal of the season is improvement.

"We need to see improvement at every practice and every meet," Ruhl said. "We hope to peak in time for the conference meet."

Ruhl said since his team didn't have a summer workout program, they are currently in a conditioning process. Ruhl said early in the season Engelson and Geiger have provided the team leadership.

The coach said South Sioux City will be the team to beat in the Northern Activities Conference. He said the Cardinals have the luxury of having anywhere from 40 to 50 runners competing for a spot on the varsity. The coach said Crofton and Columbus Scotus will also pose problems in the area.

Ruhl said because of the team's overall experience the first part of the season may be a little rough.

"We'll probably take our lumps early but as the season goes on we'll find out more about the team."

The Blue Devils open their season Sept. 8 hosting South Sioux City at the Wayne Country Club. The harriers will run in the Norfolk Catholic Invitational on Sept. 11.

ALLEN FOOTBALL

Allen — We may not be big but boy are we young and can we run. That maybe the rally cry for the 1987 Allen Eagle football team.

Underclassmen dominate this year's 24-man roster. With only one senior letterman and one junior letterman, Travis Schrader and Kurt Lund respectively, the balance of the team is made up of sophomores and freshmen. Many of this year's sophomore class received valuable experience as freshmen last year during Allen's 2-6 campaign.

Coach Dave Uldrich, entering his fourth season, and his assistant Jeff Schoning will be implementing a wide-open offense to compliment the team's speed. Uldrich said the offense will be designed to spread the field and get the ball outside. He said

In years past he's had the luxury of having a couple of bigger linemen which allowed them to power the ball inside. But this season Uldrich said his team will have to make the opponent play defense over the entire field.

Besides running out of the I and T formations, Uldrich will also use the run and shoot offense.

"If our quickness is as good as I think it is, getting to the outside will be one of our strengths," Uldrich said.

Uldrich and Schoning will have the chore of replacing six starters from last year's offense, including the entire offensive backfield.

The Allen skipper said it's a three-man battle for the quarterback position between sophomores Matt

Hings and Kent Chase and freshman Shane Dahl. Chase has the most experience of the trio. Running back is also a position up for grabs. The two spots are being contested by Rusty Dickens, Kurt Lund, Schrader, Chase and Jeff Green. Uldrich said no one is assured of a starting job.

Uldrich said with the team's youth a .500 season would be a realistic goal. He said teams like Beemer, Wakefield and Bancroft-Rosalie will be labeled the favorites in the Lewis and Clark Conference. The coach said excluding those three teams, he thinks the Eagles can win at least five of the remaining games on the schedule.

The only way to get a true measure of the ability his team has is to play that first game, Uldrich said.

"It's going to be a definite learning experience out there," he said. "They're going to have to use this season to grow and become really familiar with the game. Their hearts are going to have to overcome size because we are small."

The Eagles open at Wynot Sept. 4 and host Beemer in their home opener Sept. 18.

ALLEN VOLLEYBALL

Allen — Gone from the 14-7 team of last year are all-conference performers Kristi Chase and Nikki Olsen along with five others but the future still seems bright for the Allen Eagle volleyball team as they gear up to open the 1987 season.

It isn't often that a team can lose seven girls from last year and remain optimistic but Coach Gary Troth is in that enviable position.

Thirty-five girls reported to the opening of fall practice, including 10 letterwinners. This year's team is the largest group Troth has had in his 10 years as the head man. Assisting Troth this season will be Sandy Chase.

Four girls return to camp with starting experience. Senior Lana Erwin will be trying to land a spot in the starting rotation for the third consecutive year. Juniors Amy Noe, Candace Jones and Missy Martinson all return with starting experience. Toni Boyle and Liz Hansen also figure into Troth's plans.

Last season the Eagles boasted a lineup with the average height of about 5-9. This season Erwin, 5-9, will be the tallest girl on the floor for Allen. But what they lack in height they will make up for in quickness.

"The juniors have pretty good quickness, they have quick feet," Troth said. "They're not afraid to go after the ball if it's on the floor."

Troth said keeping the ball in play will also be a strong point of the Eagles. He said as a whole his team is a strong serving squad.

A controlled attack is a must for Schroeder, Lisa Sullivan, Sandy Noe, Heather Hinrickson and Chantel Hancock; (second row) Becca Stingley, Jenny Lee, Leslie Isom, Anita Noe, Tamie Noe, Malinda Pettit, Alyssa McGrath and Heidi Lund; (front row) Pam Kennelly, Amy Noe, Toni Boyle, Missy Martinson, Candace Jones, Lana Erwin and Elizabeth Hansen.

Allen to be successful. Unlike last year, the Eagles are not going to be able to overpower their opponents.

Besides Erwin, Troth said he's going to have to depend on Martinson to handle a lot of the spiking duties. Although she stands only 5-7, Troth said she's an effective hitter because she hits the ball down. Noe will have to fill the role as the Eagles' setter. Last season Allen used a two-setter attack. This year unless someone steps forward Noe may be the lone setter.

Troth didn't make any predictions but he said he likes his team's chances.

"I'm optimistic, right now," the coach said. "Our success will just depend on how hard the top eight or nine girls want to work."

Troth said Emerson should give

Allen the toughest test in the Lewis Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference. Wakefield and Wausa will be the favorites from the Clark Division.

Allen will open the season at a tournament in Pender Sept. 3. The home opener is set for Sept. 15 against Ponca.

LAUREL-CONCORD VOLLEYBALL

Laurel — The Laurel Lady Bear volleyball team has a tough task ahead of them as they enter the 1987 season.

This year Laurel returns to the Northeast Nebraska Athletic Conference (NENAC) after spending the past several years in the Lewis and Clark Conference.

Coach Carol Manganaro hopes her squad is up to the task. Manganaro, in her fifth year as the Laurel mentor, returns three starters from last year's 5-10 club. Back are seniors Dawn Addison and Becky Christensen and sophomore Amy Adkins. Junior Kim Mathiason and sophomore Sherrie McCorkindale are the remaining two letterwinners that return to action.

The Lady Bears will run a 4-2 offense with player specialization, according to Manganaro. Addison, Christensen and Adkins will be Laurel's hitters but the setting positions are still up for grabs.

The skill level from top to bottom is one of the strengths that Manganaro and assistant Diane Tyrrell like about their team.

"The skill level is balanced throughout the lineup and it is complimented by their desire to play," the head coach said. "They also work well together and get along with their teammates."

Second and third year players make up the balance of the Laurel squad. Of the 17 girls out, only three come from the senior and freshmen classes. Eight girls are sophomores and six juniors round out the roster. Manganaro said she is very happy with the role her two seniors are taking.

"They possess good leadership qualities shown mostly through example," she said.

The coach said she doesn't know who the teams to beat in the NENAC are but she said it will be a tough struggle everytime they take the floor. Manganaro added that her team will be competitive and be in every game because of their intelligence.

Laurel opens the season on the road against Randolph on Sept. 3. Its home opener is set for Sept. 8 against conference foe Bloomfield. Manganaro said she is looking forward to the opening of the season.

"We're looking forward to a season of good attitude and desire to play volleyball," she said. "We're young, energetic and enthusiastic. Our success will depend on our attitude and our willingness to work."

LAUREL-CONCORD FOOTBALL

Laurel — The Laurel football team starts the 1987 season with a clean slate. They have a new coach in a new conference with a new offense.

Mark Hrabik moves up from an assistant position to replace Gale Hamilton at the head spot. The Bears also will leave the Lewis and Clark Conference for the Northeast Nebraska Athletic Conference (NENAC). And finally Laurel will abandon the I-formation offense and opt for a ground control multiple offense.

Hrabik said one of the reasons for the change in the offensive formation was the graduation of 1-back Brent Haisch. Haisch finished his career at Laurel gaining about 3,000 yards rushing. He moved down the road about 20 miles where he will play football for Wayne State.

"Last year we just handed the ball to Haisch and let him go," Hrabik said. "This year we don't have the perfect 1-back so this offense will utilize a few more of our backs."

With eight returning starters back from last year most of the front line positions are filled. Senior Scott Marquardt will handle the quarterbacking duties with junior Doug Manz in back of him. Hrabik said Marquardt is the better option quarterback while Manz is the better of the two in the passing department. Brad Prescott returns at fullback, Marc Bathke at halfback and Steve Schmitt at wingback. All three are seniors. Sophomore Chad VanCleave will also see some action in the backfield.

With all the talk about the offense the defense almost seems overshadowed. That is anything but the case, according to Hrabik. The defense will be the strong point of the Laurel football team. Senior linebackers Randy Sherry and Prescott will anchor the defense. Marquardt, Schmitt and fellow senior Joedy Cunningham will man the secondary.

"Our defense is strong," Hrabik said. "It will hold us in the ballgames until our offense can get going."

It appears the only question marks on the team is in the offensive and defensive lines. Hrabik said the line play will be a key to Laurel's success. Another strength of the Bears is senior leadership. Hrabik said a number of the eight seniors are three year starters.

Although the move into the NENAC won't be easy Hrabik said he thinks his team can do as well as last year's 4-4 record and with a little luck maybe the Bears can top the .500 mark.

Laurel will be at home for the Sept. 4 opener against conference opponent Randolph.

Wakefield — Being a two-time Lewis and Clark Conference volleyball champion makes it difficult to improve on past accomplishments but that is the task of the Wakefield Lady Trojans this season.

Wakefield has won 37 matches and a pair of league tournaments in the past two seasons. Last year a two-set loss to Norfolk Catholic in the district finals kept the Lady Trojans from making a repeat appearance at the state tournament.

This year Coach Paul Eaton said the girls once again have their sights set on the state tournament and an undefeated season. But Eaton said a more realistic goal for his team is to be playing the best volleyball possible by the second half of the season. "The girls have their goals but we want to make sure that the sport is enjoyable and the girls learn something from it," Eaton said.

Eaton and Assistant Coach Arnie Cerny have to replace the loss of six girls from last year's squad. But Wakefield will have three girls, Karen Hallstrom, Kodi Nelson and Mollie Greve, returning with varsity experience.

Greve has been the Lady Trojans leading server the past two years in a specialty role. Nelson was a front-row player and Hallstrom was a fulltime player for Eaton last season.

Wakefield will have to replace both setting positions in the 4-2 offense. That is something that worries Eaton. He said the two setters will probably come from the group of Tricia Schwarten, Karen Witt, Michelle Otte and Cathi Larson.

Eaton said his team has several strengths. He said the spiking ability of Nelson and Hallstrom will be a plus. He also said team quickness and serving ability are strengths. Due to a small freshmen class this year's squad of 28 girls is down from last year's team consisting of 40 athletes.

Eaton said leadership has been strong the last two years. The coach said he is still waiting for someone from this year's team to step forward to provide that leadership. Eaton said he is confident that someone will step forward and take that responsibility.

The conference will be a battle again, according to Eaton.

"We think Winside will have a good volleyball team," Eaton said. "We would also like to learn more about Allen, Hartington and Osmond. We think that Wausa is going to have an outstanding volleyball team."

The Lady Trojans will open the campaign on the road Sept. 3 against Winside.

Wakefield — Things are looking rosy for the Wakefield Trojan football squad entering the 1987 season. To start things off the Trojans will be eligible to qualify for the state playoffs, something they haven't been eligible to do the last two years. A decrease in enrollment allows Wakefield to be eligible for the playoffs for at least the next two seasons.

Eight-year Coach Dennis Wilbur will have 18 lettermen returning from last year's 6-3 team. Wakefield will return four offensive starters and six defensive starters on the 42-man roster. Wilbur said injuries have already taken its toll on the Trojans. After the first week of practice 13 athletes missed practices due to various injuries.

Todd Kratke will be back to anchor the Trojan offensive attack, which features the option-oriented veer formation. Kratke, a senior, will be starting his third season as the Trojan signal caller. Wilbur will have to replace Brad Lund and Randy Kinney in the backfield. Lund grounded up 1,100 yards rushing while Kinney tallied more than 1,000 all-purpose yards last year.

Tony Halverson and Mike Nelson will try to fill the void in the backfield. Scott Lund and Stuart Clark will be Kratke's receiving core. Wilbur also has a talented offensive line returning with Colby Meyer, John Wriedt and Doug Roberts leading the way. Defensively Wakefield will run both an even and odd front defense. The defense will feature Meyer and Wriedt at tackle, Lund and Roberts at defensive end, Halverson at linebacker and Nelson, Kratke and Tony Krusemark in the secondary.

Wilbur listed depth as a team strength. He said his team will also have to be more diversified than in the past. The Wakefield coach said winning the conference and making the playoffs are lofty goals but they are realistic.

"We have some big shoes to fill but I think we'll play some physical football," he said. "We've got some good sized kids." Wilbur said the Lewis and Clark Conference will be as tough as ever. "Everybody is so improved."

Wilbur said. "You've got Coleridge, Bancroft and Beemer and then you throw in everybody else."

Wakefield boasts a challenging schedule. The Trojans start the year Sept. 4 at Hartington before hosting Coleridge the following week. The Trojans tangle with Scribner and Bancroft-Rosalie the following two weeks.

mann, Shannon Bargstadt, Lori Jensen, Angie Thompson, Kim Cherry and Mary Brugger (Manager). Front row: April Thies, Michelle Thies, Cher Olson, Jenni Topp, Letha DuBois, Shannon Holdorf and Jennifer Wacker. Missing from the photo are Shelley Henzler, Stacey King and Assistant Coach Nate Fontenelle.

Winside — Looking at the upcoming season Winside volleyball Coach Jill Stenwall's attitude seems to be of cautious optimism. Stenwall, in her fourth year, returns four starters from last year's 10-8 squad. Back to lead the Wildcats again this season are seniors Ann Meierhenry, Tricia Hartman, Lori Jensen and Cher Olson. Olson will handle the setting in the 5-1 offense.

Stenwall said her team has set some lofty goals for the upcoming campaign.

"In the back of their minds they would like to go to state," she said. "If they pull together and things go right we could make it."

Stenwall must replace the two spots vacated by Tracy Topp and Christi Thies. Topp went on to play volleyball at Nebraska Wesleyan University. Players in the running for those two spots are Kristy Miller, Carmen Reeg, Lisa Janke, and Christina Bloomfield. Tina Hartman will also see action for the varsity squad.

Stenwall said that at this point in the season spiking and blocking are the strengths of the team. The coach said the team is working very hard on serving and receiving. She said that area must improve from last year when the Wildcats hit only 85 percent of their serves.

Stenwall has eight seniors on this year's 26-girls roster. Experience and leadership could also be a key to success. According to Stenwall, Tricia Hartman has stepped forward and took some of that leadership role.

The Winside coach said she hopes her team can be right in the thick of things in the Lewis and Clark Conference when the season ends. She expects Wakefield, Wausa and Allen should also be among the top two or three teams in the conference. Stenwall added that her squad can't count out any team in the conference as it (the conference) should again be solid from top to bottom.

Stenwall said consistency could be the telling tale for the Wildcats. She said it was something that was lacking last year.

Winside opens the season Sept. 3 with a difficult challenge right off the bat. The Wildcats will host Wakefield to get the 1987 campaign underway.

Winside — Winside Football Coach Randy Geier enters his first year as Wildcat coach with his eyes wide open. He knows the task at hand.

Geier and assistant Todd Pospisil will try to turn a team around that has won only two games in as many seasons.

Geier comes to Winside from Nebraska City where he was the head football coach at Nebraska City Lourdes for two years. Pospisil is currently attending Wayne State.

Offensively the Wildcats will run out of the I-formation. Junior Tim Jacobsen will handle the signal-calling duties while senior Doug Paulsen and junior Mace Kant will line up behind Jacobsen at the running-back positions. Senior Steve Jorgensen will solidify the line at center with freshman Mark Brugger, junior Tim Volwiler and senior Bill Schmidt splitting time at the guard positions. Senior Mace Kant, sophomore Randy Prince and junior Steve Heinemann will man the end positions.

Geier said the opponents defense will dictate what Winside will do offensively. He added, with the speed in the backfield and the lack of size, getting to the outside maybe a key to success.

On the defensive side of the ball the Wildcats will run both odd and even front defenses.

Geier said team attitude and quickness is Winside's strengths. "The kids attitudes has been excellent," he said. "We think as coaches that they (athletes) are tired of losing."

Geier said that depth and lack of size are two of the team's weak points. The Winside skipper also said continual improvement in overall fundamentals and the offensive line play is needed.

Winside boasts a young squad. More than half of the team is made up of freshmen and sophomores. Four seniors and juniors provide experience for Winside.

"The senior class has done an excellent job of providing leadership," Geier said. "That is something that was missing last year."

Geier said he feels and the players think that winning four or five games this season is a realistic goal. The Wildcats will be tested right off the bat as they travel to Beemer to open the season. The Bobcats are rated eighth in the Eight Man-2 preseason poll. Geier said although he doesn't know that much about the Lewis and Clark Conference he does know that it's extremely tough from top to bottom. Winside will host its first home contest Sept. 11 against Walthill.

"We think they are ready to play football," Pospisil said. "They ready to go out there and lock some heads."

Young Cats gear for opener

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The 1987 edition of Wayne State Wildcat football will be unveiled at Al Caniglia Field in Omaha Saturday night when UNO hosts Wayne State in the season opener.

The Wildcats will be trying to improve on last year's 2-7 nightmare. Wayne State Coach Pete Chapman said a predicted last-place finish in the CSIC doesn't bother him or his team.

"Preseason predictions don't bother us," Chapman said. "We've have been picked eighth in four of the five years I've been there and only finished last once."

Chapman, 15-27 in four years at Wayne State, will put a young squad on the field come Saturday night. Twelve of the 22 starters are either freshmen or sophomores. Chapman said because of the team's overall youth, success could rely on how well the Cats play early in the season.

The skipper said the transition from the "run and shoot" to a more balanced offensive attack has been a little tough. He said it's been a lot of work but the players seem to be adjusting. In the last two scrimmages the Cats have rushed the ball about 50 percent of the time.

Leading the way in the rushing department is freshman redshirt Damon Ross. The Omaha Burke grad will run from the fullback spot while either Pat Wordekemper or Brian Jepsen will start at fullback. Last year Wordekemper was a starting receiver. Sophomore Scott Raue from Pierre, S.D., will be the starting signal caller. Last season Raue spent as a redshirt. John Pezdritz will be the tight end while Glen Mathews returns at flanker. Daryl Mountain and Darrin Fulford will alternate at the split end position. Mountain, Mathews and Fulford are all three-year lettermen.

Chapman said his team is aiming for a finish in the top half of the division. That will be a tough task. Pittsburg State is predicted to repeat as conference champions. The Gorillas also appear in the No. 4 spot in the NAIA preseason poll. Kearney State was predicted to finish second, followed by Washburn, Emporia State, Missouri Southern, Missouri Western, Ft. Hays State and Wayne State. Washburn and Emporia State are rated seventh and 18th respectively in the nation. Kearney State didn't finish in the preseason top 25

COACH PETE CHAPMAN took his team through a scrimmage against Westmar Saturday in a tune-up for the season openers on Saturday. The Cats will try to improve their 2-9 record of a year ago.

but the Antelopes did receive 39 points. Wayne State received eight points.

Chapman could be without several key players in the opener. Terry Besta, sophomore linebacker from Valley, will be lost for six weeks after breaking his leg. Mountain is questionable for the UNO game. The Omaha native is still recovering from a cracked collarbone he suffered a couple weeks ago. Roger Bentz may miss the start of the season after pinching some cartilage in his knee as a result from cramps and heat exhaustion. The coach said other than that everybody else seems to be in playing condition.

Chapman said he knows almost everything there is to know about the Mavericks. He said a majority of the players he also worked to recruit. The game will be a contest of 40 scholarships versus seven. Chapman said The Mavs will be much improved on offense with the same tough defense that is a trademark at UNO.

"They're picked to finish in the upper half of the NCC," he said. "It'll be a great experience going down here playing in front of 10,000 people in a hostile stadium."

Grandstand Gab

by Gregg Dahlheim

Fasten your seatbelts, start your engines—the 1987-88 school sports season is underway.

Area high schools and Wayne State College will kick off their football, volleyball, girls golf and cross country season this week.

For the better part of the next 40 weeks, that's 280 days, high school and college sports will be in full swing.

Well summer was nice while it lasted but I guess I had to come to an end sometime. For me the coming of the school year means ballgames, ballgames and more ballgames, FIVE NIGHTS A WEEK. That's a terrible thought for a sports editor. Oh well, I guess you've got to love it. I know my wife is thrilled about the prospects of again becoming a sports widow.

Who wouldn't be excited about the prospects of the many late nights at the office sitting in front of my VDT (video display terminal) waiting for the coaches to call in game results. But there are advantages to the position. Where else can you see more than 100 sporting activities a year at no charge. You also become well versed about the local talent.

In all honesty, I am anxious for the fall season to get underway. Every coach in the area, state, no make that the country has high hopes at this time of the year. They are all looking forward to a good season. How opinions change after five or six ballgames. The good teams grow more excited while the not-so-good teams look forward to next year.

Good luck to Wayne Carroll High School, Wayne State and all the area high schools in the upcoming season.

I got the first release from the University of Oklahoma Sports Information Department in the mail on Wednesday.

Boy are they confident, as well they should be. The Sooners open their 93rd consecutive football season on Saturday by hosting North Texas State University. That's worse than Utah State. Not much ink is wasted on NTSU in the release but Coach Barry Switzer says he isn't taking OU's opening opponent lightly.

"I do not take North Texas lightly," Switzer said. "We will be heavily favored to win..."

The Sooner skipper went on to say that it will be a good test for an opener. Give me a break! You would expect that reserved optimism from Dr. Tom — but from Barry? Is the man going soft?

Now it is time for my first prediction of the season. I can't miss on this one. The Cornhuskers will kickoff their "Hell-Raisin Tour," as proclaimed by defensive end Broderick Thomas, Saturday in front of the 150th consecutive home sellout. This week's foe, the Aggies of Utah State. You remember, the alma mater of Father Murphy, alias Merlin Olsen.

Last time Utah State came to Lincoln the Aggies threw a scare into the hearts of the Huskers. At halftime the game was tied 14-14. NU wore them down in the second half and won going away 35-14. Detroit Lion quarterback Eric Hipple led the Aggies on that summer afternoon in 1979.

Nebraska will almost match the margin of victory that the Sooners post. NU 45, Utah State 13.

The recreation committee held a meeting Aug. 27 in which a request from the Norfolk YMCA was discussed. Lee Koch was asked by the YMCA if the Winside baseball team would participate in the YMCA program next summer. No action was taken.

Angler lands 51-pounder

Sandy Otte of Wakefield can talk about the one that didn't get away. Otte recently pulled in a 51-pound flathead catfish from a settline in the Missouri River near Newcastle.

The Catfish was caught on a 75-pound test line. He used chub bait which was taken by a three-pound cat which was later devoured by the much larger cat.

According to the Nebraska Game and Parks Department the 4-foot fish is somewhere in the neighborhood of 50-years old. Otte said it took him about 15 minutes to bring in the whopper.

KTCH takes B League Tournament

"Do you believe in miracles?"

The now famous phrase used by ABC broadcaster Al Michaels after the United States upset the USSR in hockey in the 1980 Winter Olympics, could also be heard Sunday when KTCH went undefeated in winning the B League men's softball tournament.

KTCH, 6-22 in league play and last-place finishers in the regular-league standings, downed Lindner Construction 9-1 in the championship contest played at the Wayne County Jaycees Softball Complex.

KTCH nipped Lindners in the first game of the championship round by a 3-2 score in 10 innings. KTCH finished the tournament 5-0 while Lindners ended with a 3-2 mark.

Earlier Lindners advanced to the finals by downing Dave's Body Shop in extra innings. Dave's finished third in the tournament with a 3-2 mark. Mines Jewelers— Maintaining a tradition of fine jewelry since 1890

"Our shop has become mingled with generations of families," according to Gary Van Meter, owner of Mines Jewelers. Indeed, it is not at all unusual for couples to select a diamond or other fine piece of jewelry just as their parents and grandparents have years ago.

Established twenty years before the founding of Wayne State College, Mines Jewelers enjoys the distinction of being one of the oldest Nebraska jewelers with the same name and location.

Throughout the years the shop has offered a variety of "firsts" in services including a complete bridal registry and the area's first selection of in-store class rings. A complete line of fine china and flatware have been more recently complemented with new additions of crystal and silver giftware as well as clocks and over 200 fine watches to select from.

In addition to on premises jewelry repair and custom design and setting, an ever changing selection of mounted and loose diamonds are available for every occasion. Recent affiliation with the Independent Jewelers Organization, the world's largest diamond buying group, makes even more affordable quality in diamond goods available than ever before.

With the proliferation of discount diamond stores and mall operations, Mines continues to maintain the small shop atmosphere. Visitors from larger cities are often happy to find that special orders are welcome at Mines — a match for a missing diamond earring, an extra china cup, even a charm is gladly handled where many larger stores have said "No," to such requests. Such visitors later become some of the store's best customers for diamond and other fine jewelry after seeing the difference in price from metropolitan areas for similar quality goods.

"Our shop is like our home," says Van Meter. The customer is always welcome to stop in and browse, have a cup of coffee, and if we can fill a need, we're there to help.

CHECKING OUT a new selection of radiant and fancy cut diamonds. No job is too small, nor, of course, too large!

Lobberg among volunteers

Summer missionary returns from Haiti

Joan Lobberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lobberg of Carroll, returned in August from an eight-week mission assignment to Haiti. She participated with 50 volunteers from 15 states in a summer missions program sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in America.

She is a graduate of Randolph High School and the University of Nebraska College of Nursing in Lincoln. "I WOULD describe my overseas experience as faith-building," said Lobberg. "The Haiti team had two from two states. Their assignment was to work as RN's at the Hospital of Light in Bonne Fin with Haitian and American missionary staff."

They worked in the recovery room and OB/GYN, helped with community health infant care, and inventoried the hospital central supply department. "One experience I'll never forget," said Lobberg, "is visiting an older Haitian couple with one other nurse at their home. "As we sat on a wooden bench (about the only furniture there was) in the one-room, dirt floor shack, I realized all they had was Christ, and they were more content than most of us." SERVANTS in Missions Abroad (SIMA) is the Presbyterian Church in America's short-term mission agency. They designed the summer program to assist career missionaries affiliated with Mission to the World.

Cattle numbers up

Nebraska cattle feeders had 1,480,000 cattle on feed on Aug. 1, according to the Nebraska Agricultural Statistics Service. This inventory was up 8 percent last year and was 18 percent above 1985. The Aug. 1 estimate ends a string of five consecutive months of record high inventories.

Fed cattle marketings for the month of July totaled 380,000 equal to the number a year earlier but 7 percent below July 1985.

Placements of cattle into feedlots during July totaled 280,000 head. This was down 12 percent from last year but was 40 percent above two years ago.
