Constitution highlighted in Wayne

Patriotism in Wayne will peak next week when the community combines efforts to celebrate the 200th year of the United States Constitution.

Last Friday, a forum addressing Constitution issues took place at the Student Center at Wayne State College, entitled "Two Centuries Later: Current Threats to Liberty" sponsored by the Wayne State College Social Science Division and the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union.

Several other noteworthy events will pay homage to the Constitution this week.

The first public tribute to the U.S. Constitution will involve the elementary and middle school students at Wayne-Carroll schools — over 500 in number — as they gather Sept. 16 on the school grounds.

According to Dan Johnson, seventh and eighth grade social studies instructor at the Wayne Middle School, all the elementary and middle school students will assemble on the track near the elementary school. At 12:45 p.m., the group of students, clothed in the patriotic colors of red, white and blue, will encircle the football field.

Members of the VFW and American Legion Color Guards will present the colors at this time.

AT 12:50 P.M., the entire body of participants in the Constitution celebration will recite, along with President Reagan, the Pledge of Allegiance.

"When Reagan starts, then all 500 will recite it with him," said Johnson. After the Pledge of Allegiance is said and the color guard departs, everyone will join hands around the track. Fifth through eighth grade students who have been assigned to memorize a sentence or paragraph of the Constitution, will recite the words of the 200-year-old document from start to finish, Johnson said.

The middle school band will play "America" and then there will be a reading of the names of individuals who signed the Constitution, the state they are from, mingled with a drum roll.

The middle school choir will lead the audience in singing "America the Beautiful" before the ceremony is completed.

"Everyone in the community is welcome to join in the ceremony. It will be a neat sight, with all the kids dressed in red, white or blue," said Johnson.

The rain date for the Constitution celebration on the track and football field is Thursday, Sept. 17, Johnson said.

Another ceremony giving deserving recognition to the Constitution has also been planned for Thursday, Sept. 17, 7:30 p.m. at the small park located north of the Wayne Herald office.

A public reading of the Constitution will take place at this location, with participation from a cross section of the community.

THOSE WHO WILL be involved in the reading of the Constitution (according to the names provided to The Wayne Herald) include: Sam Schroeder, Wayne Public Power District; Jim Remick, Timpfe; Tom Carsey, Wayne State College Student Senate; Sue Davis, Sav-Mor Pharmacy; Randy Pedersen, Diamond Center and Wayne City Councilman; Carolyn Vakoc of Vakoc Building and Home Center and Final Touch; Sandy Dorcey, representing Region IV; Sheryl Lindau, representing 4 in Hand and a member of the City Council; Lil Surber representing Surber's; Jim Mahoney, People's Natural Gas; Ted Youngerman, St. Paul's Lutheran Church; Jack Imdieke, Wayne Lions Club; Bob Ensz, Attorney; Kent Hall, Wayne Greenhouse; Gary Pick, Logan Valley Implement; Sheryl Summerfield, 4 in Hand; and Kathy Tooker, Wayne Public Library.

Also, Linda Brown, Wayne Chamber of Commerce; Janet Schmitz, Wayne State College Faculty Senate; Lorraine Johnson, Wayne County Treasurer's Office; Mangit Johar with the AAUW; Gary Wright, representing The Wayne Herald; Jan Zeiss, Wayne State College Division Education; Jacque Kinnett, Dairy Queen/Brazier; Balba Sedriks and Jennifer Ormsby, High School Students; Ken Liska, Wayne Veterinary Clinic; David Ley, State National Bank; Marge Lundstrom, representing Wayne State College Math/Science Division; Liz Reeg and Kim Krusa, Middle School Students; Larry Johnson, Johnson Frozen Foods and City Councilman; and Jill Perry, Dick Manley and Roger Lentz.

Foreign students studying in area high schools

Five students have come a long way to attend high school in Allen, Laurel-Concord and Wayne-Carroll — three of the five high schools in The Wayne Herald coverage area.

They are participants in the student foreign exchange program.

The foreign exchange students were interviewed during the past week. Below is some background information on the students, and how they are accepting their stay in the United States through the assistance of their host families.

Wayne-Carroll

One would think that coming from a community of up to 3,000 people, Ulrika Norell wouldn't find a whole lot of variation in the lifestyles of her Swedish home and Wayne, Nebraska.

Ulrika, age 17, lists her residence as Jonstorp, a "small community of up to 3,000 people" located in southern Sweden. She says the differences between lifestyles and business atmosphere from her home in Sweden and that of Wayne are very evident. "There is not as many restaurants and there are lots more cars here than in Sweden. You have to be 18 to get a drivers license in Sweden," said Ulrika.

She is a participant in the Educational Foundation for Foreign Study, which has led her to a first time ever visit of the United States. She is a senior at Wayne-Carroll High School. Hosting Ulrika's visit is the Neil Sandahl family of rural Wakefield.

Ulrika's parents both have occupations in Sweden. Her father is a physical education instructor and her mother is the manager of a senior citizens care center. She has an older brother and an older sister.

Her hobbies are include horseback riding and teaching gymnastics when she has the opportunity. She also likes to cook, which she enjoyed while working at the care center kitchen in Sweden.

SHE IS UNCERTAIN as to what career she will pursue when completed with high school.

Since arriving from Sweden, Ulrika has been in Chicago and has toured, with her host family, Grand Island and Lincoln. She got a taste of this year's Nebraska State Fair this past week.

"It's fun to see all the animals and to watch the different competitions," Ulrika said.

Adjusting to high school life in Wayne has been a task, but Ulrika is excited about the busy school year ahead. She is in the high school band (playing the cymbals) and also plays the piano. "I also want to be in basketball. I may not be able to compete with the other girls, but I'm going to practice," she mentioned. "My time is not enough here," she said, commenting on what has been a busy schedule so far.

She enjoys the openness among the students at Wayne-Carroll and the variety which the classes provide. "Everyone talks a lot and they seem to know everyone here. It seems that many are so open-hearted here," she added.

Laurel-Concord

For many moving from a city of four million people to a town of 1,031 would be a difficult adjustment — but not for Franco Lama.

Lama is a foreign exchange student attending school at Laurel-Concord High School for the 1987-88 school year. He comes to Laurel as a part of Student Exchange International. The 17-year-old is beginning his senior year. Lama comes to Nebraska from Santiago, Chile. He is one of five children of Alex and Sonia Lama. He is the oldest of the brothers Daniel and Paul and sisters Mary and Sonia. His father owns a company that manufactures children sports shoes.

Lama said he is having no trouble adjusting to the small-town way of life.

"There are no big shopping centers or anything but it is not boring," he said. "The school has a lot of sports and I have a lot of friends."

Lama also was amazed with the geographical make-up of the area.

"It's a very beautiful town," Lama said. "There is no trash or ugly houses. It is very quiet with a lot of trees and grass."

Franco said he favors the American schools to the institutions of his homeland.

"In Chile all students must wear uniforms," he said. "If not they would kick you to the street."

Franco said music is his hobby. Besides listening to music he also plays the electric guitar. Lama said music in Chile and American is the same.

While in Laurel Franco has picked up another hobby. He is a member of the Laurel football team. He kicks for the Bears. He said he got that training from playing soccer in his native land. But Franco still hasn't quite mastered the game of American football.

"I still don't understand it," Lama said. "It's very strange this game. There is always stops, stops, stops."

Franco will stay in Laurel for 10 months. While in the Cedar County community he will make his home with the Brian McBride family.

Allen

Making their homes in Allen during the 1987-88 school year are Petra Johansson of Sweden, Amaia Laka of Spain, and Maiko Miyake of Japan. All three girls say they are looking forward to their school year in the United States. Petra and Amaia are seniors at Allen, while Maiko is a junior.

Petra, 17, comes from the south of Sweden and is making her home with Suzanne and Dean Nelson of Allen.

Her father, Rolf, is a teacher in Sweden and her mother, Anna Lisa, works in a furniture store. She has one older brother.

Petra's hobbies include sports, dancing, horseback riding and "dating boys."

The Swedish exchange student spent two weeks in New York before arriving in Allen. "I think it's a nice country," said Petra. "New York was dirty, but beautiful too."

Of Allen, Petra said the community is very small as is the school, but she likes it. In Sweden, Petra said the school students are much freer.

"In Sweden, we can wear shorts in school. There also is less supervision, and if we finish our lessons we're free to go wherever we want."

Amaia, 17, comes from Bilbao, Spain and while in the United States is making her home with Jerome and Christy Roberts.

She said living in Allen is like living in the country, and her favorite American foods are hamburgers and French fries.

Amaia's family includes one younger sister. Her father, Javier, is a fisherman and her mother, Conchi, is a homemaker.

Amaia's hobbies include sports, movies and music.

Maiko Miyake, who comes to Allen from Chiba, Japan, says United States school students are very free compared to those in her native Japan.

"In Japan," says Maiko, "we must wear a uniform. We are not allowed to curl our hair and we cannot wear make-up, nail polish or pierced earrings."

Maiko, 16, is making her home with Verlan and Vicky Hingst while attending school in Allen. Her "many" hobbies include sports, music, writing, and visiting with her friends.

Maiko's father, Kazuo, is president of a construction company and cardboard box factory. Her mother, Yasuko, is a part-time English teacher. Maiko has one younger brother.

Maiko is visiting in the United States through the Youth for Understanding program. Area representative is Marge Hoffman of Allen.

Both Petra and Amaia are with the Educational Foundation for Foreign Study. Area representative is Karen Marra of Wayne.

Seventeen bands featured

WSC Band Day approaching

There will likely be more than "76 trombones in the big parade" when Wayne State College and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce hosts a spectacular traditional event which will be taking place in Wayne on Saturday, Sept. 19.

Fifteen high school bands, a junior high band and a college band — totaling over 900 men and women musicians — will be marching to the music down Wayne's Main Street on Saturday morning as they participate in the 19th annual Wayne State College Band Day.

Fourteen of the high school bands will be competing before three judges during the Band Day parade, vying for a first place trophy and scholarship funds.

Then, in between halves of the college football game between the Wildcats and SW State of Minnesota, all the participating Band Day bands will be combining their talent to put on a grand halftime performance.

Competing high school bands (including their band director) in the parade, which begins at 10:30 a.m., include: Humphrey, Carol Bennett; Silver Creek, Tracy Briggs; Pender, Ron Smith; Laurel-Concord, Indra Iesalnieks; Butte, David L. Baker; Newman Grove, Gene Springer; Hartington, Sharyn L. Whipple; Winside, Curt Jeffries; Homer, Lois M. Harris; Emerson, Hubbard, Daryl L. Jessen; Creighton, Duane Booth; Stanton, Scott Kardell; Allen, Sandy Kotalik; and Wakefield, Diane Trullinger.

Judges for the contest are band directors Don Schumacher of Pierce High School; Byron Braasch, Norfolk High School; and Larry Jones, Madison High School.

ALSO MARCHING in the Band Day parade route, which starts at Sav-Mor Pharmacy and ends at the corner of 1st Street and Main, will be the Wayne High School, Wayne Junior High and the Wayne State College marching bands.

"To support Farm Aid III, we're going to be playing the country music hit 'Good Hearted Woman.' We want the ad community to know we are aware of the plight of the farmers and that we support Farm Aid III," said WSC Band Director Gary Davis.

The Wildcat Marching Band numbers 120 musicians this year. "That's the largest in band since I've been here at Wayne State," said Davis. "I still think we can be bringing in more. My goal here is to have 150 band members," he added.

Davis said the "numbers are good" for this year's band day. The trend is that more schools are entering field competition rather than parade marching competition, Davis said.

A LOT OF band directors like to compete in parade competition, and WSC is one of a few colleges that offer this type of event. "We encourage all area bands to participate. It's good educational experience for them early in the school year," said Davis.

For some high school bands, this will be their first performance, and Band Day helps to "get the kinks out, so to speak," Davis mentioned. "The bands have been very impressive here. The quality just gets better and better."

Grand Marshals for the 1987 Band Day Parade will be Dan and Jean Gardner of Wakefield. Other dignitaries will be appearing in the parade.

Competition winners will be announced during the halftime of the WSC football game at Memorial Stadium. Prior to this, there will be an impressive pregame show, beginning Saturday afternoon at 12:40. "Come early and enjoy the parade of the bands," said Davis.

At 1:15 p.m., the WSC band will appear for a pregame performance that will observe the U.S. Constitution's 200th birthday.

After two pieces "Fanfare for Common Man" and "Simple Gifts" are played (along with the school song and "Cats"), Davis said there will be a tribute to the Declaration of Independence. A special reading will be recited while the band plays the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

"We wanted to make it patriotic, but now showy," Davis remarked.

AT HALFTIME, the participating Band Day bands will come onto the field and perform with the Wildcat Marching Band in numbers such as the "Liberty Bell March" and "Rockin' Robin."

Then, the announcement of the Band Day high school parade marching competition winners will be announced and awards will be presented by Carolyn Vakoc, president of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce; Linda Brown, executive vice-president of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce; and Dennis Spangler, president of the Second Guessers.

The first and second place bands will each receive $300 in scholarship funds and a trophy. Third and fourth place bands get $200 in scholarship funds. The winning bands award the scholarship funds to students who will be attending Wayne State College and participating in band.

Food nutrition facts

There are dozens of myths surrounding foods and nutrition. Many are recited every once in a while. Following are several myths and the facts about them.

- Myth: Fasting is a sure way to lose weight.
- Truth: Fasting is the most unhealthy, least efficient way to lose weight. It drains the body of the vitamins, minerals, protein and other essential nutrients you need in order to function. Fasting doesn't result in any major fat loss — it merely causes a temporary decrease in water weight — and it won't teach you the good eating habits that lead to long-term weight loss.
- Myth: Carbohydrates are fattening.
- Truth: Ounce for ounce, carbohydrates have the same calorie count as protein and less calories than fat. And complex carbohydrates like whole grain breads, cereals and potatoes are high in fiber, which means they stay in the stomach longer than other foods so you feel full faster and will be less apt to overeat.
- Myth: A multiple-vitamin provides all the nutrients your body needs.
- Truth: While it won't hurt to take a multi-vitamin if you can't always eat properly, a balanced diet is the better alternative because the body makes the most efficient use of nutrients when they're present in the form of food. Plus, vitamin supplements don't provide your body with the special balance of carbohydrates, protein and fat which it needs to function well.
- Myth: Honey is better than sugar.
- Truth: Both are considered sugars, and your body doesn't differentiate between them. There is no scientific evidence proving that honey has more health benefits than sugar. Honey is slightly higher in calories than sugar and it has more of a tendency to cling to teeth, which contributes to tooth decay.
- Myth: You don't need to drink much milk once you reach adulthood.
- Truth: Women need to consume up to 1,000 mg of calcium daily in order to prevent calcium deficiency. The body absorbs it most efficiently through dairy products. Ideally, women should drink at least three glasses of low-fat milk or eat the equivalent in low-fat dairy products each day.
- Myth: Organically-grown food is healthier than conventionally grown.
- Truth: Although organic foods are grown in manure instead of manufactured fertilizer, and the crops are not treated with pesticides, organically-grown foods tend to stay on store shelves longer, during which time they lose nutrients and freshness. Due to this smaller demand, these food crops are also smaller, and therefore the product is considerably more expensive than conventionally grown.
- Myth: Packaged snacks labeled "all natural" are less fattening than other snacks.
- Truth: "All natural" doesn't mean a snack is not fattening. Many packaged "natural" snacks (such as granola bars, dried fruit, trail mix) are high in sugar and/or fat, particularly when they contain ingredients such as honey, molasses, corn syrup, nuts, carob or chocolate.
- Myth: Potatoes are "just starch" and one of the first things you should cut if you want to lose weight.
- Truth: Potatoes are actually a super food and good weight controllers because they are high in fiber. One medium baked potato is only about 100 calories. Potatoes also have significant amounts of protein, vitamins (niacin) and minerals.

Blue Devils blanked after slow start

A shaky first half dictated the outcome as Schuyler blanked the Wayne Blue Devils 34-0 Friday night in Schuyler.

The Warriors reeled off 14 points in the first quarter and 13 in the second period to grab a 27-0 intermission lead. Schuyler, ranked third in Class B, scored on its first two possessions.

The hosts held Wayne on its first possession and then put together a drive which culminated with a fumble recovery in the end zone for a touchdown. The Warriors came right back when quarterback Marty Kracel hooked up with one of his receivers for a 65-yard touchdown strike. Kracel finished the night 7-10 for 153 yards and three touchdowns.

Wayne Coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said the long touchdown pass was the one that broke his team's spirit. At halftime the coaching staff regrouped and talked to the players. It must have helped as the Blue Devils came out with a solid second-half effort. They kept Schuyler's first offensive unit out of the end zone for the first 10 minutes of the third quarter. Ehrhardt said the defensive effort is something to build on.

The Warriors totaled 375 total yards compared to the locals 99 yards of offense. Schuyler earned 14 first downs to Wayne's five.

Another positive aspect of the game was the running of Willy Gross. Gross gained 50 yards on eight carries after moving to the backfield from his tight end position. The move was necessary when two of the Blue Devils' top three running backs went down with knee injuries. Jason Liska is lost for the year while Scott Pokelt will be sidelined for several weeks. Quarterback Jess Zeiss also missed the game with a slight concussion. Sophomore Greg Schmidt started in Zeiss' spot. Wayne was also without the full-time services of nose guard Corey Frye. Frye injured his ankle last week but he did handle the Blue Devils' kickoff chores.

Defensively, Wayne was led by Eric Liska and Chris Luff. Each finished with 11 tackles. Joel Pedersen added 10 stops and Jason Cole was credited with eight tackles. Ehrhardt said the team will spend most of this week working on a sluggish offense. He hopes to get the offense rolling at full speed in time for the South Sioux City game Friday. The home game will be the first Northern Activities Conference game of the year for the locals. Ehrhardt said defending the conference crown will add extra incentive to the ballgame.

Twenty-two point quarter spells doom for Laurel

An opportunistic Crofton team snatched victory from the jaws of defeat Friday night as it handed Laurel a 28-9 loss.

The score wasn't a true indicator of how the game was played. Crofton scored 22 points in the fourth quarter, 14 coming in the final four minutes.

Laurel Coach Mark Hrabik saw the walls coming tumbling down after his squad took a 9-6 lead into the fourth quarter.

Crofton posted a 6-0 score early in the first period after recovering a blocked punt in the end zone. The score remained 6-0 until the third quarter. Brad Prescott gave the Bears their first score after rolling 34 yards for a touchdown. Prescott's kick was good and Laurel led 7-6. The visitors upped the lead to 9-6 on a bad snap to the Crofton punter in the end zone.

From that point on things started going bad for Laurel. On the ensuing free kick the Bears fielded the ball and returned it to the Crofton 45. Due to a penalty the Warriors had to kick. Thinking it was a punt, the Laurel players let the ball roll dead and a Crofton player jumped on the ball, giving possession to the Warriors. From there they went 45 yards to grab a 14-9 lead.

The Bears weren't done. They drove the ball to the Crofton 40 before they were stopped on downs with about four minutes to play. A 44-yard touchdown run by Tom Allan broke Laurel's back. The Warriors scored their last TD on a 40-yard fumble recovery.

The Bears outyarded the hosts 204-181. Prescott picked up 106 yards for Laurel on 15 carries while Steve Schmitt tallied 68 yards on 12 carries. Prescott and Randy Sherry led the strong Laurel defense. Prescott was credited with eight tackles and an interception while Sherry was in on 11 tackles.

Hrabik said he thought his team played well enough to win but it wasn't in the cards.

"I think we could have won," he said. "The kids are discouraged, we had them on the ropes."

Laurel, 1-1, will trek to Ponca Friday for a homecoming date with the Indians.

Gray propels Coleridge past Wakefield

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

It wasn't the best of home openers as far as the Wakefield Trojans were concerned as Coleridge came to town and left in the dark of the night with a 44-3 victory.

The Bulldogs, rated second in the state in Eight Man-2, led from the outset. In two games this season Coleridge has outscored its opponents 90-9.

Scott Gray twisted, turned and pulled Wakefield defenders up and down the field. The heralded running back ran for 233 yards on 24 carries and scored three touchdowns.

Gray got Coleridge on the board first when he broke down the Bulldog sideline and galloped 64 yards into the end zone. The PAT failed and Coleridge led 6-0. The visitors made it 12-0 by going 70 in three plays. Quarterback Jon Hiethold connected with Kelley Stallbaum for a 20-yard touchdown strike. Gray went 20 yards for his second score as Coleridge took an 18-0 lead into the locker room.

Coleridge scored the first two touchdowns in the third quarter before Wakefield posted its only score of the ballgame. Trailing 32-0, Todd Krätke booted a 37-yard field goal. The kick had plenty of distance as it split the uprights. The Bulldogs scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns to close out the scoring.

Coleridge outgained the Trojans by 207 yards. The Bulldogs tallied 438 yards, 334 coming on 43 rushes. Wakefield gained 213 yards on the ground on 44 carries and 18 yards passing. The Bulldogs had 12 first downs compared to Wakefield's eight.

Quarterback Krätke led the hosts in rushing for the second week. He carried the ball 19 times for 116 yards. For the season he has gained 207 yards. Tony Halverson grounded out 76 yards on 15 carries.

Wakefield Coach Dennis Wilbur credited Coleridge with the victory.

"They're a good ball team," he said. "They've got some good people that caused us some problems."

Wilbur went on to say that he thought the Bulldogs were more balanced this year than they have been the last several seasons.

The coach added that his team did several things to stop themselves. He said the Trojans execution was poor and they made too many mistakes which led to Coleridge possessions. Wilbur said his team has to get more consistent offensively.

Defensively, some missed assignments and poor tackling led to several big plays for the visitors.

Leading the "Redshirts" were a trio of tacklers. Halverson was credited with eight unofficial stops and two assisted tackles. Scott Lund had four solos and six assists and John Wriedt finished with one unassisted and nine assisted tackles.

Wilbur said his team was down after the game but it will have to bounce back.

"The kids are a little down, it was a big game, but we can't dwell on it because we've got some tough people coming up," Wilbur said.

Wakefield will take its 1-1 record south to battle Scribner-Snyder Friday night.

Nine turnovers aid in Allen defeat to Wausa

Five first-quarter fumbles were all Wausa needed enroute to a 48-0 blanking of Allen Friday night.

The Vikings scored 30 points in the first period and coasted on in for the win. Wausa came back with a touchdown in each of the last three quarters.

The Eagles coughed up the ball five times inside their 20-yard line in the first 12 minutes. Throw in four interceptions and you've got a blowout. Allen has fumbled the ball 18 times in two games, losing nine. The Eagles have also thrown five interceptions.

Allen Coach Dave Uldrich said it isn't as much the contact as it is lack of concentration. "You can't catch it for them," Uldrich said.

As a result of the short scoring drives, Wausa tallied only 231 total yards. Allen was limited to 50 yards rushing and 88 through the air. Kent Chase was the leading rusher with 17 yards on eight carries. Chase also caught one pass for 34 yards. Matt Hingst had one reception for 25 yards and Jeff Green caught four balls for 18 yards.

Uldrich said his defense actually played well.

"We played good ball when we didn't give it to them on the 20," the coach said.

A trio of Eagles led Uldrich's defense. Mitch Gregerson was credited with 10 stops. Jason Fahrenholz made eight tackles and Green was in on seven stops.

Uldrich said his team is a little discouraged after the opening losses. But the attitude is still good.

"We can't be making excuses for fumbles," he said. "We just have to grab the ball and go."

The only favorable thing about Friday night for Allen is it will be playing in front of the home crowd. The bad news is their opponent — Beemer. Beemer, 2-0, has outscored its first two opponents 108-16.

Wildcats rally to nip Walthill

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Winside Head Football Coach Randy Geier can't say enough about conditioning and how it can be a factor in any football game.

Conditioning played a key role in Friday night's 20-14 come-from-behind Winside win over Walthill. The Wildcats, trailing 14-8 in the fourth quarter, took advantage of several Walthill penalties, executed timely passing and scored two touchdowns to secure their first win of the regular season.

They now stand at 1-1 and look ahead to Hartington in the Winside Homecoming game next Friday night.

"The bottom line is that the kids hung in there after they were down 14-8," said Geier. "The kids did the job."

Photography: Chuck Hackenmiller

Geier was confident that his football team would come back in the fourth quarter. Good conditioning would bring them back, he believed.

"We had a lot of respect for Walthill. If we stayed close up to the fourth quarter, we knew we could find a way to win."

Winside came back in the fourth quarter to knot the score at 14-14 when the Wildcats engaged in a 46 yard drive, capped by a quarterback sneak touchdown from the one yard line by junior Tim Jacobsen. The two point conversion attempt failed with 3:30 left in the game.

After Winside held Walthill on downs, the Wildcats took over in good field position on their own 36 yard line. Jacobsen threw a perfect four-yard touchdown strike to Mace Kant to pull away from Walthill with thirty seconds remaining in the game. The conversion attempt failed again.

On the first play from scrimmage after Winside's touchdown, Wildcat Doug Paulsen intercepted a long pass from quarterback Ryan Fischer and the clock ran out to end the game.

Winside got on the scoreboard first after recovering a Walthill fumble on the Bluejays one yard line. Quarterback Jacobsen crossed the goal line on the first play of the second quarter to make it 6-0. Another two points were added on a pass play from Jacobsen to Paulsen.

Walthill's Bullet Beaudette scored on a two-yard touchdown run later in the second quarter. The two point attempt was successful on a run by Fischer.

The Wildcats, in the third quarter, fumbled deep in their own territory, allowing Walthill's Brad Morgan to score from the two yard line for the go-ahead points. However, the Wildcats stood their ground and didn't give up the two points after the touchdown.

Walthill outgained the Wildcats in total offense — 159 yards compared to 82 for Winside. Twenty-one of Winside's yards came on the ground, while the remaining 61 yards were gathered through the passing arm of Jacobsen, who was 8 of 20 attempts for 61 yards.

The Kant brothers were on the receiving end of all the passes. Mace Kant had five catches for 40 yards (and the winning touchdown), while Max Kant caught three passes for 21 yards.

Leading tacklers for Winside were Mace Kant with 10 unassisted and three assisted; Paulsen with 4 unassisted and 8 assisted; Steve Jorgenson, 7 unassisted and 3 assisted; Max Kant, 5 unassisted and five assisted; and Steve Heinemann with four unassisted and five assisted.

Paulsen forced the fumble, recovered by Mace Kant, that resulted in the Wildcat's first touchdown in the first quarter.

Geier credited Paulsen's punting for pinning Walthill deep in their own territory during the early stages of the game. Several of his kicks landed inside the 10 yard line. "We really stress the kicking game to the kids," mentioned Geier.

Geier also gave recognition to his assistant coach, Todd Pospisil. "Pospisil did a good job motivating the kids," said Geier.

Walthill was called for 15 infractions totaling 154 yards. Winside was penalized five times for 45 yards.

"We didn't move our offense that well. But we found a way to win," he added.

The Winside homecoming game against Hartington this Friday is slated to begin at 7 p.m. Coronation of the Homecoming King and Queen is slated to take place during halftime ceremonies.

Winside Quarterback Tim Jacobsen (8) sweeps around the end to escape the heavy rush of the Walthill defensive front. He scored two touchdowns and passed for another in the Wildcat win.

Winside wins at home 15-13, 15-7

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

The Winside Wildcats went above the .500 mark for the first time this season with a two-set win over Laurel Thursday night in Winside's home gym.

Winside, 2-1, dumped the Lady Bears 15-13, 15-7 to drop Laurel to 0-3. The match was a game of streaks. Each team reeled off two or three straight points but neither could get the momentum they needed to put the other team away. In the end Winside had more streaks which resulted in the victory.

Laurel had trouble running its offense. Many of the Lady Bears' returns were free balls. Laurel Coach Carol Manganaro echoed those thoughts.

"We never got our offense running," she said. "We see it in practice but not in our matches. Our goals of practice are being met, now they need to be carried over in game situations."

Laurel is still without the services of sophomore hitter Amy Adkins. Adkins is sidelined with a bad ankle. She may return to action this week.

Laurel held an edge early in the first set. The Lady Bears grabbed an 8-2 lead before Winside Coach Jill Stenwall called timeout. An ace serve by Carmen Reeg got the Wildcats back to within 8-5. Winside tied the set at 8-8 but the serving of Jessie Monson and the net play of Sherril McCorkindale restaked Laurel to a 12-8 lead. With the score tied at 13-13 Winside's Ann Meierhenry recorded two straight ace serves that barely cleared the net to give the first set to the Wildcats.

It was Meierhenry again scoring the first four points for Winside in the second set. Laurel got to within one at 6-5 on the serve of Dawn Addison. The hosts widened the margin to 9-5 and were never in serious trouble after that.

Meierhenry was the top scorer in the match. The senior tallied 10 points going 10-13 from the serving stripe with five aces. Carmen Reeg was 8-9 and Kristy Miller was 7-7 in the serving department for Winside. Senior Becky Christensen led Laurel with six points. The 6-1 hitter was 9-10 serving the ball.

Manganaro was happy with the improvement her team made in the serving department. In the previous two matches the Lady Bears were in the 70 percent range in serving efficiency. Thursday night Laurel hit 90 percent of its serves, 36-40.

Miller was the leading spiker in the contest. The junior was 11-12 with six kills. Dawn Addison led Laurel hitting 5-8 with one ace. Cher Olson was successful on 33-35 sets for Winside while Kim Mathiason was 15-16 for Laurel.

Stenwall said her team made a few mistakes early. The coach said after the Wildcats got rolling they started playing better together.

Winside also won the junior varsity and C squad games. The Winside JV's won in straight sets 15-12, 16-14. Christina Bloomfield scored 12 for the Wildcats while McCorkindale tallied seven points for the Lady Bears. Winside took the C match after losing the first set, 4-11, 12-10, 11-9.

Laurel will travel to Crofton Tuesday seeking its first win in the NENAC. Winside will host the Winside Invitational Tournament on Tuesday. The Wildcats will open the tournament against Osmond at 5:30 p.m. Wakefield and Coleridge will follow at 6:30 p.m. The losers will play at 7:30 p.m. with the championship game set for 8:30 p.m.

Stand at 2-0

Wayne State started the evening by sweeping Bellevue in straight sets. The locals blanked the Lady Bruins in the opening set 15-0 and took the second game easily by a 15-5 score. Bellevue is trying to rebuild a program that featured only seven girls last year. The college planned on dropping the sport but decided against it. The school dropped out of the NAIC but it plays as an independent in District 11.

In the second match of the evening the Lady Cats downed Dana in three sets 15-9, 14-16, 15-11. The loss dropped the Lady Vikings to 3-3. Wayne State Coach Marilyn Strate said she was impressed by Dana. She said the Lady Vikings have made improvements from last year and hit well from the middle of the court.

"What helped us was we had a couple of powerful players playing against a couple of their weaker players," Strate said.

The Wayne State coach said serving and passing were the main reasons for victories. She said many of the teams' serves couldn't be returned. Freshman Amber Maaske led the Lady Cats with 27 serves and five aces. Maaske, fellow freshman Darla Pottebaum and junior Meg Hurley were the teams' top passers.

Shelle Lau was the top spiker for Strate. The Omaha senior contributed 21 of the 65 ace kills. Strate said the pleasing factor was her team had only 19 attack errors in five games. The coach said that is very good for this early in the season. Senior Diane Hanus was credited with eight solo blocks and 15 block assists. The Lady Cats averaged more than 13 blocks a game.

At least for the early portion of the season Strate will go with setters Bev Moeller and Kim Balzer. She said as the year goes on a couple of other girls may see some action at that position. Moeller and Balzer give the Lady Cats consistency, according to Strate. Moeller was credited with 81 assists, 32 going for aces. Balzer had 49 set assists and 19 aces.

The Wayne State coach credited every member on the squad for doing the job that was necessary to get the win. She was also happy with the play of her two starting freshmen. The coach said she was glad they weren't timid on the court. They played well mentally and physically, Strate said.

The Lady Cats played in the Dordt Invitational over the weekend. The women returned to Dordt as the reigning champions of the pool-play tournament.

District 11 Notes

Brian Levin of Peru State and John Hansen of Nebraska Wesleyan were selected as players of the week in District 11 for the past week. Levin kicked a record-breaking 57-yard field goal to give the Bobcats a 15-14 win over Evangel College. Others nominated were: Alan Pogue of Dana and Doug Estrada of Doane.

Hansen led the Plainsmen defense in a 24-7 loss to Gustavus Adolphus with 16 unassisted tackles and four assisted stops. He also had three passes broken up and one tackle for a loss. Others nominated were: Pat McHenry of Doane, Reggie Randolph of Peru State, Mark Hagerman of Dana, and Keith Knipp of Chadron State.

Wildcats' Team Rankings
The Wildcats are fifth in passing offense averaging 83 yards a game...sixth in rushing offense averaging 40 yards a game...seventh in total offense averaging 123 yards a game...fifth in passing defense allowing 222 yards a game...sixth in rushing defense allowing 283 yards a game...sixth in total defense allowing 505 yards a game.

Allen girls lose first match of season to Coleridge in three sets

The Allen Lady Eagles dropped the final two sets to Coleridge Thursday night to lose its first match of the season after reeling off three straight wins.

The Lady Eagles took the first set 15-12 before losing by identical 11-15 scores. The guests led in the third set 5-1 before Coleridge came back to grab the lead and the match.

Allen Coach Gary Troth credited the Chargers' serves caused problems in the Allen passing game.

"Coleridge served well enough to keep us out of our offensive rhythm," he said. "They played well and kept the ball off the floor."

The lack of offense for the Lady Eagles was reflected in the spiking statistics. Allen was only 27-38 at the net in the three-set match. Liz Hansen and Missy Martinson were the top hitters each going 7-9. Martinson also added six aces, Hansen added one ace kill.

Allen's serving percentage also dropped against the Chargers. Allen had been serving around the 90 percent mark but Thursday the visitors hit only 81 percent, 56-69. Amy Noe was the top server going 15-17 with two aces. Lisa Boyle followed Noe hitting 13-15 from the stripe, while Martinson was 11-14 with three aces. Martinson and Boyle led the Lady Eagles in scoring with nine and eight points respectively.

Noe and Angie Jones handled the setting chores for Troth. Noe was 16-19 while Jones was good on 15-17 attempts.

Troth said the match was the first time all season that his team had fallen behind. He said the girls really didn't know how to react to playing from behind.

The Lady Eagles, 3-1, will be at home for the first time Tuesday night when they host Ponca. Ponca beat Coleridge earlier in the season.

Wakefield pushed to three sets in victory

"We're happy to win but we still haven't reached that point of playing 'real good volleyball,'" those were the words of Wakefield Coach Paul Eaton after his Lady Trojans downed Lyon-Decatur Northeast Thursday evening in Wakefield.

Wakefield looked good in the first and third sets winning both by scores of 15-7. Lyons-Decatur Northeast took the second set easily winning 15-8.

After cruising through the first set Wakefield fell behind early in the second set. Eaton called timeout trailing 14-2 and told the girls to relax and get ready for the third set. From that point the Lady Trojans outscored the Lady Cougars 6-1. The Wakefield coach said that gave his team the momentum leading in the final set. Eaton said his team still needs to improve its serving percentage. Karen Hallstrom was the top Lady Trojan server hitting 14-15 with a pair of aces. Mollie Greve and Julie Greve were each perfect in 11 attempts. The production fell off after those three girls.

Hallstrom was also the leading Wakefield spiker. The junior had five kills while converting on 18-21 spike opportunities. Senior Kodi Nelson was 10-13 at the net with two kills. Tricia Schwarden was the leading setter as she was successful on 26-29 attempts.

Eaton said the Lady Trojans dodged a bullet when Cougars' leading spiker, Kim Hayes, wasn't on target. Hayes didn't get the ball enough to hurt Wakefield, Eaton said. The skipper said Hayes is probably one of the better hitters in the area.

Wakefield, 2-0, will battle Coleridge Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the first round of the Winside Invitational Tournament.

Wakefield also won the junior varsity and C-team games. The junior Lady Trojans downed Lyons-Decatur Northeast 15-17, 15-10, 15-10. The C squad also won in three sets 16-14, 8-15, 15-13. The JV's and C team are both 2-0.

Sports Med Line

By Stephen Henry, M.D. and Regina Durbin, P.T.

Cheerleading at one time constituted pomps, yelling and clapping. It has now evolved into a sport with competitive athletes performing complex, challenging gymnastic routines. However, while the sport has evolved, the funding, rules and coaching have been slow to follow. Cheerleading often falls somewhere between athletics and extracurricular events in the school budget and as such does not receive the funding appropriate for its degree of difficulty. Coaches frequently are interested yet untrained for the gymnastics required today.

There has been little written on the magnitude of injuries associated with cheerleading. A 1983 study by questionnaire conducted by Gary Sharp, MA for the Universal Cheerleaders Association found 53% of the injuries occurred during practice; 35% during games, and 12% during partner stunts, 37% during pyramids and 26% during other activities. The most likely areas to be injured (from most to least) were the ankle, knee, wrist, arm and then unspecified muscle pulls and back injuries. While catastrophic injury is infrequent compared to the numbers involved last Spring's injury to an experience University of Kentucky cheerleader highlights the need for guidelines in the sport.

Suggested guidelines range from banning the mini-trampoline and pyramids higher than two standing, to cheerleaders higher than 6 feet have a spotter, no flips performed by a person whose feet are not on the ground, pyramids no higher than three levels and only trained gymnast use the trampoline. Using experienced, trained coaches is another method to reduce the risk. Because of budget constraints, frequently the coach is an interested person with no training. It is important that the coach be aware and utilizes spotting techniques when learning new routines. Equipment such as mats, and perhaps an overhead spotting rig should be available for practice. When there are inclement conditions (rain, snow) more difficult maneuvers such as pyramids & mini-trampoline should be avoided.

Cheerleading as a sport is beginning to take a hard look at itself. A fundamental question that must be asked: Is it meant to be a means to generate fan enthusiasm or is it a competitive specialty in and of itself?

New ticket policy for Wayne State games

A new ticket policy for Wayne State athletics will mean changes for Wildcats football fans this Saturday, according to Athletic Director Pete Chapman.

This season five entrances to the stadium will be utilized, each for a specific ticket holder. The far north gate of the stadium will be the pass gate where the Presidents Society pass holders, visiting high school teams, football parents and visiting media members must enter. The south gate, by the concession stand, will be for students, faculty and staff and those with reserved seat tickets.

General admission fans may purchase tickets at the visiting team ticket booth or the west window of the main ticket booth.

Tickets prices for reserved seats are $6 and will be available on the day of the game through the second quarter. General admission tickets are $4 for adults and $1 for students. A season ticket for all five home games is $25.

The parking lot south of the stadium is reserved each home football game Saturday. Unauthorized cars in the lot will be ticketed. Wayne State students parking in that lot will be asked to move their cars on Friday prior to game day. Parking passes only will be honored for that lot on game day.

Chapman said the changes came about this season as a way of generating money for athletic scholarships.

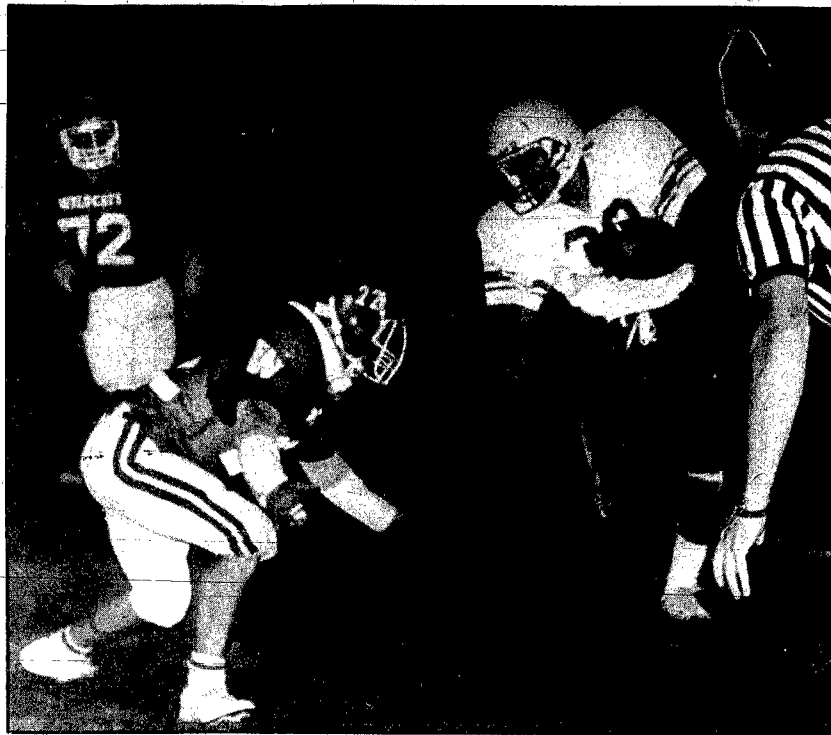

"We're basically at a point where we need to start trying some revenue-generating projects of our own," said Chapman.

Also new at home games this season will be the sale of Wayne State memorabilia by the Wayne State Bookstore.

"In another release prepared by the college, Chapman said all Wayne State students, faculty and staff will be required to show proper identification this fall at all home football and volleyball games.

Students will be required to show ID cards at the proper gates at the football stadium. Students must show ID cards to be admitted free to the volleyball games.
