For Farmers Union

Licensing complaint appears to be resolved

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Complaints filed to the Nebraska Public Service Commission against Farmers Union Co-op Exchange of Wakefield, concerning the warehousing of damaged grain, will likely be dropped soon.

Jack Dailey of Farmers Union said they met last week with the Public Service Commission and presented evidence as to what they have done to correct the problem of the damaged grain. The Public Service Commission will be meeting on Sept. 29, and Dailey expects the complaint to be withdrawn.

Prior to the Sept. 29 meeting, Dailey said Farmers Union was anticipating a letter from the Public Service Commission on the state agency's intention to drop the complaint, which would be displayed to the patrons of the company.

That letter had not arrived as of Friday.

The Public Service Commission will continue to monitor Farmers

Union to see that the company gets rid of the damaged corn. Dailey said the company has purchased all of the damaged corn and are in the process of deciding how to get rid of the grain.

Dailey said that Farmers Union can still write warehouse receipts. "We've always been licensed, and we had never lost our license. It will be pretty much business as usual," he said, commenting that the some of the 1987 soybean harvest is already coming into Farmers Union.

The complaint had been filed earlier in the year based on the quality of the grain warehoused in a variety of licensed facilities of Farmers Union. Dailey had said that the problem of poor quality grain storage has been primarily directed at the grain stored at the bunker facility which Farmers Union had constructed last year to meet storage demands.

Wet weather occurred while the bunker was being constructed, leading to grain spoilage.

Tobacco workshop planned

Dr. Ian Newman, director of the Nebraska Prevention Center for Alcohol and Drug Abuse and professor of health education at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, will present a one-day workshop in Wakefield for area teachers on Sept. 24.

The workshop concerns Nebraska's new tobacco education curriculum for 7th and 8th grade students. It will take place from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Educational Service Unit 1 in Wakefield.

The Nebraska Tobacco Educational Curriculum was developed with financial support from the Nebraska Cancer and Smoking Disease Research Fund. This curriculum provides teachers with the latest information to help young people make decisions related to tobacco use.

Tobacco continues to be the principal cause of the largest number of preventable diseases in this country and use leads to addiction whether smoked or chewed.

Results from the two-year evaluation of this curriculum indicate that students' knowledge of the risks of

Waldbaums applies for LB 775 state credits

The Milton G. Waldbaum Co. of Wakefield is one of several companies who have recently filed an application for tax and investment credits permitted under LB 775, the Nebraska Employment and Investment Growth Act, enacted in May.

The Wakefield egg processing firm has proposed an investment of $21 million which would add an additional 114 employees to the company.

It was reported in the Omaha World-Herald that the company plans, among other things, to boost its egg production in Nebraska, to expand its freezer space, and to build a new feed mill to feed the chickens that it is adding.

Work is expected to begin next spring, it was reported, with completion no later than the summer of 1990.

Northwestern Bell Telephone Company had announced also that it will spend about $100 million over the next seven years for new switching equipment and a fiber-optics network throughout its Nebraska service area.

Others announcing they have applied for the tax benefits under the new law are Marianna Imports Inc. of Omaha, $3 million and to add on an additional 30 employees; Cornland Beef Industries of Lexington, $3.3 million; Rapid Printing and Mailing Inc. of Omaha, $5.6 million and 35 employees; IBP Inc., $10 million and 100 employees at Dakota City and West Point; and Walker Manufacturing Co., $4 million and 45 employees.

The latest list brings a total of around $687 million that 52 Nebraska companies have planned to invest in the future of the state.

News and Notes

By Mary Temme, Extension Agent-Home Ec.

Just what do blood pressure numbers mean? Imagine that the arteries in your body are so many garden hoses and that your blood is the water pumped through them. If you turn the water on higher, more is pushed through in less time, increasing the pressure on the walls of the hoses. If, on the other hand, you pinch the hoses, the same amount of water has to circulate among narrower spaces, again increasing pressure on the hose walls. That's the basic mechanism of high blood pressure. Either blood volume is increased (by, for instance, water retention that occurs as a result of excess sodium in the body), or the arteries constrict. The extra pressure weakens the artery walls and thereby accelerates the wear and tear they undergo. WHAT DOES A normal blood pressure reading of, say, 120/80 signify? The first number represents the systolic pressure — the pressure that is exerted when the heart contracts to pump out blood to all the arteries of the body. (A reading of 120 means that the heart is pumping hard enough to be able to drive a column of mercury up a tube to a height of 120 millimeters.) The second number is the diastolic pressure — the pressure exerted by the blood on the walls of the arteries between heartbeats. Physicians tend to be more concerned with diastolic pressure because if the diastolic reading is high, it means that the arteries, or blood vessels, are under great pressure even when the heart is relaxed and simply filling with blood in preparation for its next beat.

PEOPLE WITH normal blood pressure (many physicians consider 120/80 to 140/85 the normal range) should have it checked once every two years. If the doctor thinks the blood pressure reading is high, at least one more reading should be taken on a separate occasion to confirm the reading. A single elevated reading is not necessarily a sign of hypertension because it might by chance come just after something like running to catch a bus. Children should have their blood pressure checked on a routine basis. While a much smaller percentage of youngsters have hypertension than adults, the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI) says "high blood pressure in children represents a significant clinical problem." To control blood pressure, children, like adults, should remain thin (a correlation between weight and blood pressure is present by two years of age) and limit sodium intake. Being taught to use the salt shaker sparingly early in life has the added benefit of making it easier for the child to keep down the use of salt when he/she becomes an adult, since it is during childhood that lifelong eating habits are formed. A PUBLICATION that can help you evaluate how much sodium is included in your diet is available from your extension office. "How Much Sodium Are You Eating" (CC 295) contains a list of foods and their average sodium content along with an estimated range of sodium intake for different age groups. Parents need not worry about whether the children are getting enough sodium. The amount American youngsters consume "is far in excess of that required for optimal growth and development," according to the NHLBI's Second Task Force on Blood Pressure Control in Children. One more measure that may help to keep children's blood pressure normal is to keep them active. Exercise programs have been shown to reduce blood pressure in hypertensive teenagers.

BUSINESS FOCUS

Sav-Mor Pharmacy adds automation to provide greater, quality service

Sav-Mor Pharmacy has taken pride in its effort to provide quality service to its customers and in providing extraordinary service to the clientele at a reasonable price.

Will and Sue Davis, who in January of 1983 had purchased Sav-Mor Pharmacy (1022 Main in Wayne) from Dick and Becky Keidel, are in business for one primary reason. "It gives us an opportunity to serve people."

An old-fashioned approach?

Perhaps. Sav-Mor Pharmacy works hard in making the customers number one. Even with the upcoming introduction of automation, the same old-fashioned type atmosphere will continue.

Sav-Mor will be installing, in mid-October, a QS/1 pharmacy computer system, automating its prescription department.

"We want to help patients so that the medication works for them the best it can. The computer will save time and paperwork and provide me with more time with the customer," said Will.

He said the computer system will greatly speed customer service and provide more accurate records of patients.

"One feature that will be helpful to patients," said Will, "is that the computer prints with each prescription a label with directions, a sales receipt [which can be given to insurance companies] and a counseling handout which gives additional precaution information on the use of the medicine."

New prescriptions can be checked against the patient's file for possible interactions, allergies or side effects. The new system also makes it easier for a patient to be provided up-to-date tax information concerning drug expenditures.

Currently, data is recorded on cards. And when recording from card to card, sometimes information can be misplaced. The computer will provide better, faster and more complete service to customers.

"It will make their shopping much more convenient and we'll have a lot more time to devote to counseling them on medications as well as answering their questions," Will mentioned.

Sav-Mor Pharmacy also offers over-the-counter remedies, health and beauty aids, fragrances and carry the Hallmark line of cards for all occasions. "And we work really hard, and shop hard, to have a unique gift selection here," Will said. "We try hard not to have a duplicate of what everybody else has."

His business is located close to Wayne State College. "A highlight of being in this business, for me, is not only associating with the community, but also observing the enthusiasm that the college students and staff bring here with them. They are an eager and positive group, and we appreciate them," he remarked.

Will said he and Sue had searched many communities to establish their business. They selected Wayne because the community's economy was versatile and not dependent on just one segment.

They were drawn to the community because of its rural lifestyle, a great school system, Wayne State College and the variety of industry in the area.

Installing a computer won't detract from the friendliness and helpfulness that customers receive from Will, Sue or the 10 full-time and part-time employees at Sav-Mor.

What they will get is a dose of some of that deserving, good old-fashioned service at a reasonable price.

Sav-Mor Pharmacy adds automation to provide greater, quality service

Sav-Mor Pharmacy has taken pride in its effort to provide quality service to its customers and in providing extraordinary service to the clientele at a reasonable price.

Will and Sue Davis, who in January of 1983 had purchased Sav-Mor Pharmacy (1022 Main in Wayne) from Dick and Becky Keidel, are in business for one primary reason: "It gives us an opportunity to serve people."

An old-fashioned approach?

Perhaps. Sav-Mor Pharmacy works hard in making the customers number one. Even with the upcoming introduction of automation, the same old-fashioned type atmosphere will continue.

Sav-Mor will be installing, in mid-October, a Q5/1 pharmacy computer system, automating its prescription department.

"We want to help patients so that the medication works for them the best it can. The computer will save time and paperwork and provide me with more time with the customer," said Will.

He said the computer system will greatly speed customer service and provide more accurate records of patients.

"One feature that will be helpful to patients," said Will, "is that the computer prints with each prescription a label with directions, a sales receipt [which can be given to insurance companies] and a counseling handout which gives additional precaution information on the use of the medicine."

New prescriptions can be checked against the patient's file for possible interactions, allergies or side effects. The new system also makes it easier for a patient to be provided up-to-date tax information concerning drug expenditures.

Currently, data is recorded on cards. And when recording from card to card, sometimes information can be misplaced. The computer will provide better, faster and more complete service to customers.

"It will make their shopping much more convenient and we'll have a lot more time to devote to counseling them on medications as well as answering their questions," Will mentioned.

Sav-Mor Pharmacy also offers over-the-counter remedies, health and beauty aids, fragrances and carry the Hallmark line of cards for all occasions.

"And we work really hard, and shop hard, to have a unique gift selection here," Will said. "We try hard not to have a duplicate of what everybody else has."

His business is located close to Wayne State College. "A highlight of being in this business, for me, is not only associating with the community, but also observing the enthusiasm that the college students and staff bring here with them. They are an eager and positive group, and we appreciate them," he remarked.

Laurel grounds out 34-6 win

It was a happy homecoming for the Laurel Bears as they blasted Osmond 34-6 Friday night.

The win was a complete team effort. The offense contributed 311 yards while the stingy Bear defense checked Osmond to 46 total yards. In four games this season the Laurel defense is allowing an average of 160.7 yards a game. Osmond's only score of the game Friday night came on a blocked punt on Laurel's first possession of the game. It was also the Tigers first touchdown of the season.

After the Osmond touchdown Laurel reeled off 34 unanswered points. Ball control was the game plan for Coach Mark Hrabik. The Bears gained 248 yards rushing on 53 carries. Running back Brad Prescott led all rushers with 172 yards on 25 carries. The 175-pound senior scored on runs of 58, four and five yards.

Prescott's 58-yard TD and Franco Lama's extra point gave Laurel the lead for good. The hosts upped the lead to 14-7 in the second quarter when sophomore Chad VanCleave recovered an Osmond fumble in the end zone. Prescott got another TD before halftime to give the Bears a 21-6 lead.

Hrabik said he thought his team could run the ball against Osmond. The coach said he knew if the Bears played well they should have the game under control.

Laurel's successful running game set up its next first score in the second half. Quarterback Doug Manz faked to his running back and hit Joedy Cunningham for a 25-yard touchdown.

"We knew if we got them concerned about the run we'd hit them with a play-action pass," Hrabik said.

Prescott completed the Laurel scoring in the third period from five yards out. Steve Schmitt also turned in a fine game. The senior rushed for 60 yards and caught two passes for 27 yards. Cunningham added two catches for 36 yards.

LAUREL AND OSMOND players scramble for the fumble in the Osmond end zone during the second quarter. Brad Prescott (40) appears to be in good position but it was Chad Van Cleave who recovered the fumble for a touchdown.

John Schütte was the top Bear defender with seven tackles. Jay Lake and Daren Martinson had six stops apiece. Martinson also had one interception and a tumble recovery.

Hrabik said after the game was the first time this season that he has mentioned the playoffs to his team. He said he doesn't want them thinking "about it but it is a possibility. Before Friday's game Laurel was in 10th place in the Class C-1 point standings with 40 points. Another way the Bears can qualify for the playoffs is by finishing first in the NENAC among the six Class C-1 schools in the eight-school conference. Hrabik said a big step towards the playoffs could happen Friday night when Laurel travels to Pierce for a NENAC confrontation.

LAUREL'S DAWN ADDISON goes up for a spike by Emerson-Hubbard's Michelle Miller.

Laurel downed in straight sets

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

It wasn't a happy homecoming for the Laurel Lady Bears Thursday night.

The Lady Bears hosted Emerson-Hubbard in a non-conference match with the Lady Pirates winning in two sets 15-9, 15-11. The win gave the visitors a 4-4 record while Laurel dropped to 1-5 with the loss.

Coach Carol Manganaro couldn't find the right combination to get the Lady Bears rolling. A youthful Laurel team made several mistakes early and fell behind 10-5 in the first set after leading 4-2. Several times during the contest Manganaro had a team consisting of one senior, one junior and four sophomores.

With Laurel trailing 11-5 in the first game sophomore Jessie Monson came off the bench and ignited her team with three straight serving points to bring the hosts back to within three points. Emerson-Hubbard scored three of the next four points and the Lady Pirates took the first game when sophomore Sherri McGorkindale crossed the center line on a dink attempt.

In the second set Laurel once again fell behind. The hosts had a hard time getting their offense started, in large part because of the serve of Mary Henderson.

After the Lady Bears got the serve they started to whittle away at the lead. The hosts got back to within 9-6. From that point Becky Christensen took over at the net. The 6-0 senior collected a block and three spikes to pull Laurel even at 9-9.

The teams exchanged side outs until the visitors grabbed a slim lead. The Lady Pirates built the margin to 14-11 and had the serve. After a short rally Emerson ended the game on a dink by Henderson in the right front-corner.

In the preliminary matches the two teams split. Emerson-Hubbard won the junior varsity match by scores of 8-15, 15-13, 15-12. The Laurel C squad salvaged the evening with a 11-6, 8-11, 11-6 win.

Thursday the Lady Bears will have their hands full when they host NENAC member Creighton in three matches. Laurel stands at 1-3 in the NENAC.

Winside win streak halted by Coleridge

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Winside's Wildcat knew the one task they had to accomplish if they were to upset highly rated, undefeated Coleridge Friday night was to stop speedy 5'10" 180 pound running back Scott Gray.

Easier said than done. Coleridge, ranked second in Class D-2, piled on 59 points to Winside's 12, and at least 30 of those points (five touchdowns) came on long-to-short range runs by Gray. The game was halted with 7:41 minutes to be played in the fourth quarter.

"We felt we had to stop Gray. We didn't do that. He's a good athlete and could play Class A ball anywhere. He's as quick as lightning," said Winside Wildcat Coach Randy Geier.

Gray scored on runs of 41, 20, 35 and 12 yards. He also returned a punt 66 yards.

Sill, Geier gave a lot of credit to his Wildcats. "I'm really proud of the kids. They have a great attitude and know there is a lot of season left," he said.

"We moved the ball well on offense at times. Coleridge had only given up two touchdowns in three games, and we scored two against them in the first half," Geier mentioned.

Both Winside touchdowns came in the first half. After Coleridge scored two touchdowns on a 10-yard run and an 18 yard pass play in the first quarter, the Wildcats' Tim Jacobsen threw a bomb to Mace Kant that covered 46 yards.

Being down, 12-6 was the closest that Winside would come to the Bulldogs.

Coleridge scored four more times before Winside put together a drive and Jacobsen found an open Mace Kant in the end zone from eight yards out to make the score 39-12 at halftime.

Jacobsen completed 11 passes out of 29 attempts for 160 yards and threw three interceptions. Mace Kant had six receptions for 102 yards and the two touchdowns; while Steve Heinemann had two catches, 25 yards; Doug Paulsen, one catch for 18 yards; and Randy Prince, one catch for 14 yards.

Wildcat Max Kant was the leading ground gainer with 12 carries for 24 yards.

Leading tacklers were Steve Jorgensen with eight unassisted and three assisted; Jacobsen, nine unassisted, one assisted; Bill Schmidt, seven unassisted, two assisted; Mace Kant, six unassisted, three assisted; and Heinemann, six unassisted, one assisted.

Winside was outgained in total yardage, 544 (473 rushing) to 184.

On Friday of this week, Winside will travel to Wausa and the kick-off is scheduled for 7 p.m. "Wausa is another tough team, and it will be their homecoming," said Geier.

After Friday's loss, Winside's record dipped to 2-2.

Wayne harriers win at tough Crofton meet

The Wayne cross country team survived its test with one of the toughest courses in the state Friday on its way to winning the B division at the Crofton Invitational.

The two-mile Crofton course has a reputation of eating runners alive. Two very steep hills pose problems for the best of runners.

The Blue Devils had three runners who earned medals for their efforts. Nick Engelson, Shane Geiger and Rob Sweetland all medaled in the B division. Engelson won the division with a time of 11:40. The senior finished second among all runners behind Jon Hoag of South Sioux City who toured the course in 11:02. Geiger finished fourth in the division in a time of 12:35 and Sweetland crossed the finish line in fifth in a time of 13:30. Scott Allred finished 12th for the locals.

Brian Lentz earned a medal for finishing eighth in the freshmen and sophomore competition. Lentz finished in 14:35. Aaron Wilson placed 10th turning in a 15:23. In the girls freshmen and sophomore competition Edith Janke earned a medal with her sixth-place finish. She finished the course in 17:18.

Coach Rocky Ruhl said he felt his team kind of psyched themselves out before the meet but once they got on the course they ran well.

"They got the taste of success and that has helped them out," Ruhl said. "They're really enjoying it now."

The harriers will be tested again Friday when they run at the South Sioux City Invitational. The meet will begin at 4 p.m.
