University status considered

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

What's in a name?

Evidently, the administration representing the state colleges of Nebraska feel a name change would certainly have its merits.

Last Friday, the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges took three votes on motions concerning name changes at its regular meeting in Kearney.

The first motion asked the board to endorse a name change for Kearney State College (the largest of the four state colleges) to university status. That motion was rejected by a 3-3 margin.

A subsequent motion, also defeated, called for the board of trustees to endorse a name change for the entire state college system — each state college have their name changed to university status.

The final motion on the name change, which gained support by the state college board of trustees, was to have the executive officer of the board of trustees draft legislation permitting the board of trustees to rename a state college at such a time that it is deemed appropriate, without going before the state legislature.

WAYNE STATE College has already experienced a number of name changes, according to Wayne State College Interim President Dr. Joseph Fleck.

Those names have included Normal College, State Teachers College and State College. "Each time there was a name change, it signified a change in the role of the college," Fleck said.

Fleck said Wayne State is at a point now, with the service it provides and the variety of education programs offered, to be labeled as a university. "I see that system-wide [among all the state colleges]," he said.

Fleck said that collectively, the four state colleges have a large resource of academic programs and that the system is now serving the statewide population. "I think the system is ready for a name change."

With the "university" designation, Fleck said it's questionable whether additional state funding would be available.

However, when competing for grants, Wayne State would "likely be looked upon favorably if the college was a university," mentioned Fleck.

"We would be more competitive when going for the grants."

Another aspect to look at, when considering university status, is the faculty involvement. Fleck said faculty members at Wayne State College engage in a great amount of research, going beyond just that of the classroom teaching.

ALTHOUGH TEACHING is a primary function for faculty, Fleck said the college places a high priority on research productivity.

In other action, the Board of Trustees of Nebraska State Colleges approved forwarding to the upcoming state legislature a request for deficit funding appropriations, to be used by Wayne State College for controlling the college's asbestos situation and for updating the college's mechanical and electrical system.

Fleck said the first request for appropriation dealt with "clearing up the asbestos situation on campus."

Asbestos, a fiber material used for making items fireproof or for the protection of heat which studies have shown to contain a cancer-causing agent, has been identified in at least three locations on campus. Those campus areas defined include the Conn Library, Hahn Administration Building and the Val Peterson Fine Arts Building.

"It will come to $1.3 million to remove the asbestos in all the buildings and for replacing a portion of the heating and cooling system in the library," said Fleck.

The problem of the asbestos is not immediate, Fleck said, because there has not been a significant amount of asbestos detected in the free air. However, the asbestos should be removed in the near future before it creates greater problems.

"The money has to be appropriated by the legislature before we can move on it. Hopefully, it can be done over the summer months," said Fleck.

THE SECOND appropriation requested by Wayne State, approved for forwarding to the legislature by the board of trustees, deals with the

Until May Highway work on hold

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Work on Highway 15 south of Wayne (approximately eight miles) has been suspended until May 2 of next year.

Project Manager Stan Johnson said Monday that workmen have placed the first layer of asphalt on the eight mile stretch and that the shoulders are completed.

Remaining to be done, within the next couple of days, are the painting of center line stripes on Highway 15 south of Wayne.

Asphalt overlaying on Main Street in Wayne has been completed. What is left in Wayne will be the task of raising the manholes, according to Johnson.

Johnson added that the highway conditions on Highway 15 south of Wayne, with the new asphalt in place and stripes on the road, will be adequate for winter driving.

Wayne men receive Iris Society awards

Jim Hummel of Wayne received three American Iris Society hybridizing awards during the Elkhorn Valley Iris Society's year-end banquet Oct. 24 in Norfolk.

Hummel's tall-bearded seedling Number JH80-20L won both national awards for seedlings this year.

It received the High Commendation Certificate, based on garden judging, for seedlings that judges believe are improved enough over what is currently available that they should be named and introduced on the national market.

It also received the Exhibition Certificate for being the best seedling exhibited at the Norfolk Iris Show.

The plum purple iris has domed standards (upper petals), lacy, moderately flared falls (lower petals), that have a scroled effect, shrimp-red beards and up to seven buds.

Another Hummel seedling, border bearded Number JH81-58N, received enough additional votes from accredited judges attending the Norfolk show to also receive the Exhibition Certificate. It is a light violet-blue with matching beards and bronzed hafts.

IT ALSO WAS announced at the banquet that Roger Nelson, who recently moved from Wayne to Sandy, Ore., is the only hybridizer in the country to receive four High Commendation Certificates this year in the highly-competitive tall bearded class. They are for:

—"Tang," a laced, smooth, bright orange with large tangerine beards, holding seven buds.

—"Champagne and Caviar," a near-white with lavender-tipped beards and wide, flaring falls.

—"Excitation," with gold standards, deep wine falls, and up to nine buds per stalk that open three blossoms at once.

—As yet unnamed seedling Number RN82-8F, a large lavender-pink with eight buds.

Grandstand Gab

by Gregg Dahlheim

Give a cheer for the Black and Gold! Wayne State got into the win column last Saturday in a familiar scenario. Usually it's the other way around for Coach Pete Chapman's crew.

The Cats got a well deserved 12-10 win in the final three seconds against Missouri Southern to close out the home-portion of the schedule. There isn't any team around that was more deserving of a victory than the Cats.

The team started the season young and inexperienced for the most part. Shortly after the opening kickoff starters began going down left and right with injuries forcing Chapman's hand to play more youth.

Then the close losses began to pile up. First it was 21-12 setback to Emporia State when the Hornets used 14 second-half points to get out of Memorial Stadium alive. Next it was a 29-24 loss to Ft. Hays. The Cats gave up two touchdowns in the final 1:24 to lose that one. The agony wasn't over with yet. The following week Washburn tallied 22 points in the fourth quarter to come away with a 29-25 win. The Cats look to have it in the bag as they regained the lead with 23 seconds left in the game, only to see the "Bods" score with three seconds left. Then came the 76-6 blowout at the hands of Pittsburg State, ranked No. 1 in the country. It was the worst loss for any Wildcat football team since 1919.

So the first win couldn't have come at a better time. Chapman's squad has shown a lot of guts and determination throughout the season.

Wildcats — this Bud's for you.

Before the last football has cleared the air roundballs can be heard bouncing about in Rice Auditorium. This could be a very good year for both the mens and women squads. Both have the coaching and athletes to have successful seasons including top-division finishes in the CSIC. Stay tuned, I'll have more on both teams as the season nears.

It's going to be hard to keep my attention on the Iowa State game knowing what lies ahead for NU.

I don't think the players or coaches will have any problems keeping their minds on the Cyclones. Nebraska has been made a 48 1/2 point favorite in Saturday's game. That sounds about right. The Huskers can go all out knowing they have two weeks to rest for the Sooners. My prediction, NU 56 "Clones" 10.

Lady Cats qualify for district playoffs

The Wayne State Lady Wildcats assured themselves of a District 11 playoff spot by recording a 2-2 record at the NAC Tournament held at Chadron State last weekend.

Wayne State, 24-14 overall, finished with a 10-7 mark in the district. The locals secured the seventh seed in the eight-team tournament which began Wednesday night. The Cats hit the road to play Peru State Wednesday. If they win and Doane beats Kearney State, Wayne State will host a second-round game on Saturday.

Dana College is the top-seeded team in the district. Peru State is second followed by Kearney State, Hastings, Nebraska Wesleyan, Doane, Wayne State and the College of Saint Mary. Dana, Peru, Kearney and Hastings will host first-round games.

The Lady Cats started the NAC tourney Friday with an easy two set win, 15-10, 15-10, over the host school.

Saturday Wayne State opened the day with a 12-15, 15-9, 14-16 loss to the College of Saint Mary. The Lady Cats had beaten the Flames earlier in the year.

The locals played their best match of the weekend when they downed Peru State 16-14, 15-3. The Lady Cats came into the tournament with a 4-0 mark in the NAC.

Wayne State closed out the weekend with a tough three-set loss to rival Kearney State. It marked the third time this season that the Lady Antelopes had beaten Wayne State. The locals took the first game by a 15-7 count. KSC evened the match with a 15-11 win in the middle set before winning 15-11 in the final game.

Peru State won the NAC with a 6-2 mark overall. The Lady Bobcats finished 2-2 in the tournament. The College of Saint Mary and Kearney State each finished 5-2 and 3-1 respectively. Then came Wayne State at 4-4 and 2-2 and Chadron State rounded out the field 0-8 and 0-4.

Shelle Lau and Diane Hanus were named to the all-conference team while Meg Hurley was tabbed honorable mention.

Lau was the top spiker over the weekend for the locals. The senior had 23 kills in 84 total attacks. Hurley added 21 kills in 62 attempts. Bev Moeller and Kim Balzer led in assists with 48 and 37 respectively. Diane Hanus was the top server hitting 49-49 with five aces. Darla Pottebaum was the top passer with 14 and was the leader in digs with 27. Hurley and Hanus each added five blocks.

The Cats will be looking for a win coming off a 12-10 victory over Missouri Southern Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

Scott Raue and Damon Ross will lead the Cat offense into Kearney. Ross has carried the ball for 681 yards on 176 carries. Raue is second in the conference in passing averaging 166 yards a game.

The contest will also feature two of the best defensive backs in the CSIC. Wayne State's Mark Wolf and KSC's Jeff Norblade. The pair sit atop the conference in interceptions with six thefts apiece. Wolf also leads the Cats with 103 tackles.

The kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m.

Lady Trojans one step from state

Wakefield trips Allen in three

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

It was what championship games are supposed to be when Allen and Wakefield locked horns in the finals of the Class C2-8 Subdistrict Tournament in Allen Tuesday night.

Wakefield nipped the Lady Eagles at the wire to advance to the district finals where the Lady Trojans will meet Winnebago Thursday night at Wayne High School.

Wakefield came out and established themselves in the first set winning 15-7. Both teams played well, as they did throughout the match, but Wakefield came up with the points after long rallies.

The Lady Trojans appeared on their way to a sweep when the serving of Kodl Nelson and Karen Hallstrom gave their team a 9-2 lead. The Lady Eagles came out after a timeout and began their rally. Allen cut the lead to 9-6 on the serving of Lisa Boyle and Amy Noe.

Wakefield built the lead to 14-8 and it looked like eliminate was eminent for the hosts. But Allen started to chip away at the lead until Boyle made it 14-13 with five straight-serving points. Allen tied the score after a side-out but Nelson gave the Lady Trojans a 15-14 lead with an ace spike.

Allen took its first lead of the game at 16-15. Then Leslie Isom won the set at 17-15 with an ace serve.

Allen took the crowd noise and momentum into the third set. The packed Allen gym started shaking after Allen drew even at one game apiece.

The Lady Eagles jumped to a 4-0 lead and looked strong. But Wakefield, 14-2, wasn't about to fold and tied the game at 4-4 and again at 6-6. The Lady Trojans took their first lead at 7-6 on a Mollie Greve serve. Greve went on to put the guests on top 11-6.

Now it was Allen's turn. Noe brought the hosts back to even at 11-11 with five serving points. At that point the nerves set in. Four straight serves, two by each team, failed to land in bounds. Then Wakefield inched its way closer to the win and got it when the Lady Eagles couldn't return a Greve serve.

Both teams showed very good offense in the match. Allen Coach Gary Troth said he felt his team wasn't playing as well as it did Wakefield would have won easily. Troth also credited Nelson for her role in the win.

"Kodl doesn't make a lot of mistakes at the net," he said. "Sometimes people don't appreciate a player like that."

Wakefield Coach Paul Eaton said he had his doubts after Allen tied the match at 1-1.

"When they came back and won the second game I thought it would be awfully tough for us. Then they took a 4-0 lead in the third game and I wasn't sure we could come back," Eaton said.

Eaton said his team probably played as hard as they have all season.

Mollie Greve led scorers with 16 points. The senior was 21-24 serving. Missy Martinson tallied 11 points for Allen. Boyle was the Lady Eagles top server hitting 18-20 with four aces. Karen Hallstrom was 14-15 serving and 8-10 with five kills at the net.

The teams were about even at the net. Wakefield hit 56-66 spikes and Allen was 53-60. Nelson led everyone going 32-34 with 16 kills. Martinson was close behind hitting 24-26 at the net. Wakefield's Julie Greve was 11-14 and Candace Jones of Allen was 11-13. Allen setters, Angie Jones and Noe, were 69-70 while the Lady Trojan tandem of Tricia Schwanen and Karen Witt went 77-82.

Both teams got to the finals by winning first-round games.

jans looked unbeatable in the first game. Osmond came out in the second set and played stronger to force the third set.

Hallstrom singled-handedly outscored the Tigerettes. The junior tallied 24 points on 29-29 serving. Wakefield connected on 93 percent of its serves. The Lady Trojans were 35-43 in spikes with Nelson leading the way hitting 12-14 including five kills.

Allen surprised Hartington in its first game 15-3, 15-13. The difference in the game was the Lady Cats inability to return the Allen serves. Hartington scored the first point of the first game and didn't score again until they were down 12-1.

Boyle served 10 straight points for the Lady Eagles and was their leading scorer with 10 and server going 11-12 with three aces. Martinson and Jones were each 6-8 at the net to pace Allen.

The Lady Eagles ended a successful campaign with a 12-6 mark. Three starters, Angie Jones, Boyle and Liz Hansen, played their last match as seniors.

Wildcats prepare for finale against rival Kearney State

The Wayne State Wildcats will close out their season Saturday on the road against arch-enemy Kearney State at Foster Field.

The Lopers will go into the game with a 3-5 record, 3-3 in the CSIC. Wayne State posts a 1-7-1 mark, including 1-4-1 in the conference.

The Lopers are coming off a 37-0 blanking of Missouri Western last Saturday. Kearney State grounded out 438 total yards while limiting the Griffons to 164 yards.

The Antelope offense is led by quarterback Mark Voss and running back Kevin Trospers. Voss, a senior from Fremont, has completed 67 of 140 passes for 774 yards. He has completed five touchdowns while throwing six interceptions. Paul Reilly has been Voss' favorite receiver. The Spalding native has caught 19 balls for 359 yards. Trospers is the leading KSC rusher. The Grand Island senior has gained 517 yards on 95 carries, including four TD's.

WINSIDE REINFORCEMENTS support their teammates during the first set of the Wildcats' loss to Clarkson Tuesday night. Winside finished the season with a 7-10 record.

Winside

Playing their last match at Winside were Tricia Hartman, Meierhenry, Olson, Jensen, Kathy Leighton, Michelle Thies, Carmen Reeg and Tami Jenkins.

In the first match of the evening Elgin took no time at all in disposing of Coleridge. The Lady Eagles dumped the Chargers 15-1, 15-8.

In the championship match Elgin, rated fifth in Class D-1, struggled to get by Clarkson in three sets. The Lady Eagles won the opener 15-11 but dropped the second set by an identical score. In the rubber game of the match Elgin held on for a four-point win, 15-11.

Last-second field goal enables Wayne State to get first win

Wayne State got its first win of the season Saturday the old fashioned way — they earned it.

The Wildcats used late-game heroics of their own to nip Missouri Southern 12-10 in CSIC action. The win boosted the Cats to 1-7-1 overall and 1-4-1 in the conference. The Lions dropped to 2-7 and 2-3 in the CSIC.

Place kicker Tony Wiese booted a 34-yard field goal with two seconds left to give the hosts the win. The Dodge junior atoned for missing a crucial extra point in the fourth quarter. Wiese started the scoring by hitting a 23-yarder in the first period. He was called upon for a 43-yard attempt in the third quarter but holder Mark Preignitz couldn't field the snap cleanly.

In two earlier games Wayne State was on the losing end of last-second scores. Coach Pete Chapman had those thoughts racing through his mind when Southern scored the go-ahead touchdown with 6:55 left in the game. But Chapman said he wasn't overly concerned at the time.

"I thought we were moving the ball well enough that we could score again," he said. "I didn't think we would have to go 87 yards in two minutes to do it."

Wayne State started what turned out to be the winning drive on its own 14-yard line. The Cats got out of the shadow of their own goalpost when Scott Raue hit Daryl Mountain with a 37-yard strike out to the Southern 48-yard line. On the following play Raue hit Remar Walker across the middle down to the 25.

Wayne State called timeout after Damon Ross picked up 8 yards, on a couple of runs. On a third and two at the 17 Raue hit Kevin Hagedorn for a gain of four and a first down with less than a minute to play. On second and 13 with nine seconds left Raue had Mountain open in the end zone. The TD was negated because the senior from Omaha couldn't come down in bounds. So with two seconds left on came Wiese. The field goal was his sixth in nine tries this year.

The defenses ruled in the first half. The Cats took a 3-0 lead at halftime after a scoreless first quarter. Southern was limited to 42 yards while Wayne State collected 139 first-half yards. The Lions had a chance to tie the score in the waning minutes of the first half. The Lions drove down to the WSC 14 before an incomplete on third and six stalled the drive. On fourth down David Thaman misfired on a 30-yard field goal.

The Cats came out after halftime and drove the ball down to the Lions' 29-yard line before the botched field-goal attempt.

On the following drive the visitors put together what appeared to be the go-ahead drive. The Lions powered the ball from their 40 to the Cat, 12-yard line. On third and one Eric Wilson fought his way down to the 3-yard line but fumbled the ball. Mark Volf pounced on the ball allowing the Wildcats to dodge another bullet.

Southern tied the score on a 34-yard field goal by Thaman after the Lion defense forced Wayne State to punt from its 27-yard line.

The Cats regained the lead with 11:06 left in the game. Raue hit John Pezdirtz with a 9-yard TD pass to cap an eight-play, 68-yard drive. Pezdirtz caught four passes for 49 yards in the drive.

Following the kickoff Wayne State held Southern on downs and forced the Lions to punt. Volf received the punt at the 17 and then fumbled, which Southern recovered at the WSC 3-yard line. Three plays later James Galloway went in from 1-yard out. Thaman's PAT gave the Lions the short-lived 10-9 lead.

The Wayne State defense, which had been allowing 434.6 yards a game put the clamp on the Lions. Southern gained only 1-yard passing and 138 total yards. The hosts totaled 357 yards of offense. Raue threw for 239 yards on 19-35 passing. The Cats went into the game 10th in the country in passing averaging 182.6 yards a game. Pezdirtz was Raue's favorite target with 102 yards on eight receptions. The locals gained another 118 yards on the ground. Ross got back on track after a miserable week at Pittsburg, to gain 135 yard on 26 carries. For the season the Omaha freshman has tallied 686 yards on 176 carries.

Dennis Danielson's defense was led by many fine performers. The inside linebacking core of Greg Cavill and Jim Sibbel led the way with seven solo and five assisted tackles each. Dave Uhlers added eight tackles while Roger Bentz, David Gerkin and Volf were credited with six stops apiece.

Chapman said the win will do a lot for his team.

"It will help reinforce that our kids have some talent," Chapman said. "Our coaches and kids did a great job of preparing for the game. They've been to places and been through things that will help them in the future."

Chapman and company will close out the season this weekend with interstate rival Kearney State at Foster Field in Kearney.

Wayne girls eliminated by Pierce

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

Wayne's season came to a halt Monday night when the Lady Blue Devils were eliminated from the Class B-4 District Tournament by the Pierce Jayettes.

Pierce, seeded fourth, downed fifth-seeded Wayne in two sets 15-5, 15-8 at the Activities Center at Northeast Community College in Norfolk to advance to the semifinals Tuesday night against Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Wayne couldn't get its offense untracked from the outset. The Jayettes dominated the opening set by outscoring the locals 13-3 after breaking a 2-2 tie.

Wayne Coach Marlene Uhing said her team couldn't get its attack going in the first game.

"Robin (Lutt) was hitting the ball well, we just didn't get her the ball," Uhing said.

The locals looked like they would tie up the match when they jumped to a 7-2 lead in the second set. Then something took place that usually doesn't happen to the Lady Blue Devils. Pierce went on a 10-point run thanks to the tough serving of Holly Herbolsheimer. From that point Wayne couldn't recover and Pierce went on to take the match.

Uhing said her teams work a lot in practice on trying to keep teams from going on runs. But all the practice didn't pay off this time.

"We weren't ready to play," the Wayne coach said. "I can't explain why, we've had excellent practices but we were flat."

On the positive side Uhing said Teresa Ellis and Betsy Lebsock turned in good performances. Ellis was the leading scorer with five points while hitting 7-7 serves with three aces. Lebsock had a good night while making a rare start.

Wayne hit 91 percent of its serves on the evening, 32-35. The Lady Blue Devils slacked off a bit in spiking. The locals were 42-53 for 79 percent. Lutt finished 14-17 with five kills while Sarah Peterson was 7-9 with three aces at the net. Marnie Bruggeman was Wayne's leading setter hitting 28-32 with a half dozen set assists.

The Lady Blue Devils were called numerous times during the match for illegal hits. Uhing said she thought the officials were inconsistent with the calls. The coach added that had her team played better the officiating wouldn't have made a difference in the match.

Wayne finished the season 11-10. That mark was better than Uhing had anticipated at the beginning of the season.

"Eliminate the last game of the season and I think the kids did a pretty good job with their talent," Uhing said. "It was probably the best serving team I've had."

The loss ended the high school volleyball careers for two locals. Bruggeman and Peterson finished their career while Amy Schluns, another senior, ended her season earlier in the year with a knee injury.

In other first-round matches things went according to plan. Cedar Catholic had an easy time with Schuyler, winning 15-2, 15-8. North Bend put a slight scare into Columbus Scotus by taking the first set 15-13 before the Shamrocks rebounded to win the last two games 15-4, 15-0. West Point also won in the first round over Columbus Lakeview 16-14, 15-17, 15-13.

United Wayne

Over the past two years, the United Way fund drive goal has fallen short of its mark, which can frustrate those people who work hard to organize the drive and hopefully make ends meet.

What programs suffer if the $15,700 goal is not reached?

The program most greatly affected would be the city's recreation fund — used to provide some form of entertainment or athletic activity for our youngsters (and adults). They get about 37 percent of that United Way funding.

Next would be the boy and girl scout organizations that bring out the leadership in young boys and girls. Each organization provides activities for the young members which eventually enriches their lives and helps them grow in confidence — getting them on the right track when they have to leave their home and fend for themselves in today's society.

Combined, the scouting programs require up to 37 percent of United Wayne funding.

One agency that provides assistance to the unfortunate, the Salvation Army, and another agency which is always there when we need it, the Red Cross, combine to fill out 11.3 percent of United Way earnings.

The Wayne Senior Citizens Center gives the community's "senior residents" an opportunity to mingle with others and have some fun, bringing pleasure to an individual who would ordinarily find a hot meal unaffordable.

Of the United Way total, up to $1,000 would be pledged for the Wayne Senior Citizens Center.

One reason why goals haven't been met in past years is that not all the people were contacted in the Wayne community.

So, if anybody has been missed, please step forward and make a commitment to the United Way, so that you won't be missed.

Agencies are counting on your support.

Instead of thinking in the terms of United Way, let's think along the lines of "United Wayne."

Kids crossing

Individuals with children should be aware of the parking places that are now available on the west side (rear) of the Wayne Public Library.

Those stalls were placed there because of the no parking restrictions currently being enforced along the west side of Wayne's Main Street between 4th and 5th Street.

Parking is being allowed on the east side of Main Street. However, the busy traffic on Main Street, we feel, makes it a dangerous situation for youngsters to make the crossover to reach the library.

In mid-October of this year, the Wayne police department earned the AAA Pedestrian Protection Award for their achievements and performance in pedestrian safety program activities.

The city of Wayne has gone 21 years without a pedestrian fatality. Parking on the east side of the street, and allowing children to cross over to the library, would be jeopardizing this situation. Naturally, we would encourage parents of children to park their cars in the lot at the rear of the library rather than allow them to cross Main Street. Entrance to the parking lot is through an alley between Main Street and Pearl Street.

And if the rear parking spaces are not enough and causes congestion in this area, the city council should consider other alternatives that would greatly benefit, in terms of pedestrian safety, the children who use the library.

Alternatives are limited. The city council has said "its hands are tied" with state highway requirements on parking restrictions.

For now, it remains an awkward situation for the businesses, church and library along the west side of Main between 4th and 5th Street.

Talking it out

Parent-Teacher Conferences are about to take place in the Wayne schools. Conferences are just one of the steps we are taking to work with parents to build their child's educational program. They serve as an opportunity to get to know teachers, learn about the school and curriculum, and to discuss strengths and weaknesses in various areas.

Parents can prepare for the conferences by making a list of things that will help the teachers understand your child better. For example: any special health needs or problems, outside interests and hobbies, feelings about school relationships with brothers and sisters, etc. In addition make a list of things to find out from the teacher. For example: discipline policies, grading policy, daily schedule, homework policy, health and safety programs, etc.

Within the conference teachers will tell parents test results and what they mean, what subjects are being taken and how he/she is doing, strengths and weaknesses in school and any observations that can be helpful. The teachers may also have some suggestions or ideas to be used at home to help at school.

When the conference is over parents will have a better understanding of all aspects of the child's school experience. They will know more about strengths and weaknesses, special abilities, current performance, and should have a plan to help children do the best from then on. This could mean new rules on watching television, special time to do homework, contact with other agencies if necessary, or any other changes agreed upon by teachers and parents. Maybe even a special reward for a job well done!

Everyone benefits from a Parent-Teacher Conference! Parents learn new things about their children and get some ideas on how they can help their children do better in school, teachers understand each child better, and do a better job of meeting each one's educational needs, and most importantly the child receives a better and more personalized education.

We're working hard to make your conference a special one! See you then!

By House Banking Committee

Credit Card Act sought

The Truth in Lending Act currently requires credit card issuers to provide information concerning the annual percentage rate, the annual fee, the grace period, and other terms, but only upon the consumer's receipt of the card. In 1987, however, both consumer and banking association representatives testified before the House Banking Committee, on which I serve, that relevant information should be available to consumers at the time they select among competing credit cards. They suggested spelling out these terms and conditions in all applications and promotional materials to strengthen the ability of consumers to make decisions with regard to credit card accounts.

Thus, the Banking Committee introduced the Credit Card Savings Act, H.R. 515 to require clear, uniform disclosure of fees on applications and solicitations for meaningful comparison by consumers on credit card accounts. This bill, which was passed by the House last week, requires that any written application or solicitation to open a credit card account for an open-end consumer credit plan must disclose (1) the annual percentage rate applicable or, in the case of variable rates, the means for determining the rates, (2) any fees imposed for issuance or use of the card, and (3) any grace period.

Creditors making telephone solicitations may elect to provide the appropriate information during the telephone solicitation or within 30 days of request for the credit card.

Cong. Doug Bereuter

For charge cards or other credit devices which are not subject to a finance charge, applications or solicitations must disclose (1) any annual fee or charge for issuance of the card, including the monthly charge imposed when an account is used during the billing cycle, and (2) a statement that charges incurred by use of the card are due and payable upon receipt of a periodic statement of charge.

These disclosure provisions should enhance competition among credit and charge card providers, allowing the marketplace to operate more efficiently and resulting in lower interest rates and other more favorable terms. Clear disclosure of key terms can help consumers better understand what obligations they will incur under various credit card programs. And advance information should allow consumers to make better informed comparisons among plans without the need to first complete the application process.

EXPORT INFORMATION FOR SMALL U.S. FIRMS

Recently the Department of Commerce's U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service initiated a major new effort to publicize valuable export trade leads and to put them into the hands of more U.S. companies, specifically small firms. The purpose is to provide timely and accurate information on trade opportunities to U.S. businessmen and to encourage them to export their goods and services.

A new electronic dissemination of trade leads will allow private sector publishers, private electronic bulletin boards, state and local governments, and trade associations to access information about trade opportunities and distribute the information to an even greater audience than now receives this material.

To obtain information about this service, contact: Export Promotion Services, United States and Foreign Commercial Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20220.

Business people who would like to receive export counseling and assistance, and a sample copy of a recent Export Opportunities Page from the Journal of Commerce should contact: George H. Payne, Director, U.S. Foreign Commercial Service Field Office, 1113 "O" Street, Omaha, NE 68137, (402) 221-3664.

Vote conscience

I have been quietly sitting by during the long summer of union propaganda and union meetings and now feel obligated to voice my concern regarding the upcoming union vote in the Timpote plant.

Unions have had their day when workers were being seriously abused by the company, when the workers were, many times, illiterate and uninformed. But today's worker is sophisticated and aware of the local, national and world economics and the company knows a satisfied employee is its best asset.

Why do people prefer to take the word of strangers over the word of people who have become a part of the community? Don't these pro-union workers realize just because a union may be voted into a plant, there is no instant raise?

Has the union rep given you any idea of what the negotiation process entails? Just how soon could they bring that promised raise? Have you asked how soon they take their share of your paycheck, your union dues? Yes, it may sound like a small amount but they keep taking their share of your paycheck whether or not you get a raise. Sounds like a good deal to me, for the union, that is.

Here's some information just released from the United States Labor Department regarding union contracts covering 1.26 million workers. This article appeared in the Tuesday, October 27, 1987 Omaha World Herald.

Did you know that union contracts "provided a 2.1 percent raise in the first year and an average annual raise of 2.3 percent over the life of contract, usually two to three years"? If you calculate that on a 40 hour work week at $5.45 per hour that amounts to an annual raise of $219.74 or $4.58 a week.

This translates to over 75,000 union members taking pay cuts and, even more impressive, the union accepted contracts with no wage change for 340,200 dues paying union members.

The Labor Department goes on to report "the annual life-of-the-contract raises were lower than the previous contracts... Fewer of the new contracts provide for cost-of-living adjustments... And adjustment clauses were dropped or suspended for 75,000, or about 6 percent of the workers." Out of 1.26 million union members, "new (cost of living) adjustments were established for only 5,200 workers."

I sure wish I had the opportunity to pay some union "strangers" to negotiate a pay cut with no hope of a cost-of-living raise for me. Better to give a union "stranger" a little cut of my check than to take my family out to dinner or buy the kids some new shoes.

We don't need a union in Wayne. Give the company a chance. They are fair minded, community oriented people who will do their best for you.

Look at how the union helped the football players, they went back with no contract at all. Look at Morrill in Sioux City and Sioux Falls, how long have they been on strike? Is your family prepared for the emotional upset and financial setbacks of possible strikes every two to three years when the contract expires? These are just a few of the questions you must ask yourselves. But most importantly, do what is best for you and your family. Vote your conscience. Vote no.

Earning trust

No one will deny that the choice of Timpote to relocate to Wayne has been beneficial. Whether it was incredible good fortune, or a well laid out plan to take advantage of the community might well be asked. Throughout our great country there is a disturbing trend by many companies to have one city bid against another for promises of jobs, and salvation. These cities give land, utilities, and tax breaks, not to mention your tax dollars that are currently paying 50% of many of Timpote's workers wages for up to six months through the Job Training Partnership act. Yet after these commitments run out, these same companies pick up and move onto greener pastures leaving the once thriving community in economic depression. Just look at the workers in Denver who lost their jobs when Timpote moved. Trust us they say, good times are just around the corner.

As in all marriages one partner will send signals to the other when all is not going well as did the workers at Timpote. Over six months ago workers looked with trust to their team partner for help, understanding, and the chance for a friendly ear to speak directly to, and openly to, but to no avail. Partners are treated as equals, not as children. Trust us they say, good times are just around the corner.

Important questions are being asked. Why do Wayne Timpote workers make $2 per hour less than the David City workers? Many of Wayne's workers must secure second and third jobs just to provide a decent income for their families. Why must workers pay over $45 each month out of their paychecks to provide minimal insurance coverage for their families? Should workers be exposed to safety hazards without adequate safety monitoring or training? Mandatory overtime, time and one half pay after eight hours, instead of 40 hours; no retirement or pension plan; not to mention fair and equal treatment of all workers are some of the reasons why workers have lost trust with Timpote management. It seems the only time that management takes notice of the workers is when there is talk of organizing a union.

The workers finally looked to themselves for strength, solidarity, and the American dream of making life better through worker democracy and collective bargaining. The workers initiated contact with the Allied Industrial Workers Union to assist them in organizing their workplace. Collective Bargaining provides a measure of Industrial Democracy by giving employees a voice in decisions which affect their work lives. They also gain pride, respect and dignity.

Indeed there is a third party meddling in the workers goal for workplace democracy. Anti-union attorney's such as the one hired out of Houston by Timpote are paid out to $1,000 per day and prey on management's feeling of crisis. They manipulate workers to believe that they don't need what in fact they do need. They create a smoke screen of issues, so workers forget why they wanted to organize to begin with. They use fear and intimidation as their tools to divide and conquer the workers.

Who gains by worker democracy, and unionization? The workers and their families who gain not only fair wages, benefits, and working conditions, but a sense of pride and dignity, and independence; Timpote, by eliminating the high turnover rate due to worker dissatisfaction, becomes more stable, more efficient, which results in higher productivity, and greater profits; the community-who's businesses, banks, churches, and charities grow because there is more money to spend, and more free time to spend it.

Union members contribute much to their communities. They lead boys and girls scout troops, hold local blood drives, and contribute time and money to United Way agencies to name a few. Even our great president Ronald Reagan was a member and president of a labor union.

Does bringing in new industry mean that the community and it's workers must give up all rights? We think not. As in all marriages trust is gained through mutual respect, communication, and understanding of each other's needs. One should never blindly or freely give trust, and trust can't be preserved if respect was never earned.

the first phase of updating the mechanical and electrical system currently serving the college campus.

This would cost approximately $1.4 million, according to Fleck. Some of the projects would include replacing current heat pipes — getting away from the hot water pipes to other types of material used for heating.

Recent problems have also occurred with the campus' electrical systems. Portions of the system would burn out, and that system would be replaced in piece-meal fashion, said Fleck.

"It's not a matter of convenience, but a matter of safety," he said. Fleck said the tunnels for the system are old and some of the material contains asbestos. "The wiring itself and the electrical components are old," he added.

He said these repairs and replacements should be taken care of before the college is forced to shut down the buildings.

Doree Brogren

At Winside High School Doree Brogren receives Hugh O'Brian award

Doree Brogren, 15-year-old sophomore at Winside High School, has been selected through the school to receive the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation (HOBY) award.

HOBY leadership seminars are three to four-day events held each spring throughout the United States.

As recipient of the award from Winside High School, Doree will attend the Nebraska HOBY seminar next June in Lincoln.

HOBY HAS conducted annual all-expense paid state and international seminars since 1958. During the seminars, students meet, interact with, and question renowned business leaders.

The seminars are designed to seek out and reward leadership potential in high school sophomores, encourage and assist students in their quest for self-development and self-identification, introduce potential leaders to recognized leaders of today, and provide the opportunity for students to explore America's incentive system and democratic process.

TO BE SELECTED for the HOBY award, Doree successfully completed essay questions dealing with demonstrated leadership ability, sensitivity and concern for others, and desire to learn and share knowledge and experience with others.

She is the daughter of Rod and Claire Brogren of Winside.

The Farmer's Wife

by Pat Melehenry

The column this week is written by Sue Meierhenry, who has previously written about each of the members of the Big Farmer's family except Jon.

I can't believe my little brother will be 23 years old and about to be launched into the real world as a college graduate. This 6-ft. 4-in. high jumper was once half my size and easy to keep under control.

When we were three and four years old, we were inseparable. Being older, my word was infallible.

One night, lying in our twin beds in the room we shared, Jon yelled that he had to use the necessary room. I told him to go ahead and go, and what did he think he was wearing diapers for? This didn't go over much with Mom, who hated potty training!

Of course, being a boy, he got into all kinds of mischief, including shifting the car into drive while it sat in front of the house and going through the yard fence. (That picket fence has survived a lot.)

The trouble was not always his fault. He got a nasty cut on the hand while chasing me through the house. I had pulled the glass door closed behind me faster than he could get through.

WE GIRLS USED to be able to get him to play anything, including Joseph in the Christmas story.

Mom made the girls matching dresses and Jon color-coordinated shirts, even pink and canary yellow.

He even played Barbies with us. He had a "Big Jim" with a karate arm. As a high school freshman, he was all arms and legs and uncoordinated. He played varsity basketball at a very young age and had to wear the uniform no one else wanted. I was so embarrassed when he finally got into the game. His shorts were several sizes too large. He loved the game so much, he didn't care!

He helped me out a lot in high school. When we had gone to school activities together, he waited for me at the end of the lane so we could get home at the same time and I wouldn't be in trouble.

He was pretty clever about getting home after curfew himself. His technique was to turn off his car lights and his engine and coast down the lane so Mom wouldn't hear.

HIS FAVORITE toy was the three-wheeler. Accompanied by his sidekick Brian Bowers, they cruised the countryside and performed maneuvers.

When he joined me at Wesleyan, I had a continual stream of new "friends," female, who had decided the best way to make Jon Meierhenry aware of them was through his sister. Only once did he ever take my advice and walk a girl home. Although she was, in my opinion, perfect for him, his interest never went further. So, to all you would-be new acquaintances, don't waste time with the sister.

Jon only has one serious problem. He refuses to hurt anyone's feelings and will go to great lengths to insure that this does not occur. Unfortunately, this backfires occasionally, but I can't stay mad at him for long.

At times I really miss him. It seems a very short time ago that we won the Old Settlers' kiddie parade as Orville and Wilbur Wright. I'm proud of who he is today and want to wish him a happy birthday. Good luck, little brother — I love you.

INCREASING AFRICAN VIOLETS

There are two ways to increase African violets without buying new plants. 1. Older African violets frequently develop crowns which you can separate with roots still attached. Using a sharp knife, cut straight down between the section and through the root system. The separated crowns are then ready to be repotted.

2. Start new African violets with leaf cuttings from healthy plants. Remove a matured leaf from the crown of the plant. Then root the leaf by placing it in water, sand, or a 50-50 mixture of sand and peat moss.

The leaf blade should not come into contact with the water or other rooting material. If you use water, place a piece of waxed paper over the top of the container and fasten it with a rubber band. Then slip the leaf stem through a hole in the center of the paper and down into the water.

GETTING HOUSEPLANTS TO REFLOWER

Part of the challenge and enjoyment of growing houseplants is to accomplish reflowering. While some plants such as African violets, crown-of-thorns and the aluminum are relative easy to reflower, others, such as azalea, are not.

In general, to reflower houseplants, a green thumb must expose them to the correct number of hours with light, temperature, and with some, a rest period — reduced water and fertilizing.

While most people admire azalea, few attempt to reflower the plant. While you wouldn't obtain the flower quality you see in a floral shop, remember the challenge is its own reward.

After the last likely frost in spring, place the azalea (sink the pot in soil), in a shady area protected from hot, dry winds. Pinch new growth till early July to develop an attractive shape to the plant. Flower buds develop in summer and fall, so don't pinch after early July.

As nights become cooler in the fall, reduce the frequency of watering. Bring the plants indoors before frost. The plant requires cool temperatures — 45 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit — for two months until flower color shows. Buds will "blase" — turn brown and drop off — if temperatures are warm.

EVERGREEN TREES SHED NEEDLES DURING FALL

Don't worry about brown needles inside the tree crown. Pines, spruce and firs naturally shed old needles every fall.

Depending on tree species, the needles that turn brown are two, three or four years old and are located nearest the center of the tree. Rain or wind will knock these dead needles to the ground and the tree will again appear healthy. The younger, green, healthy needles are located toward the ends of branches.

A summer of heavy rains or drought may upset this natural process and cause more than the normal number of needles to drop. In such cases, if a tree keeps its current year's needles in a green, healthy condition, it will continue to grow the following year.

The Golden Years

by Gil Haase

According to the Disabled American Veterans, in 1980 there were 3.3 million American veterans of the armed forces over the age of 65; 800,000 of them were over age 74. The DAV projects that by 1990 there will be 7.3 million veterans over 65 and 1.7 million over 74.

Would you like an early estimate of how much Social Security you'll get when you retire? Men and women between the ages of 60 and 65 can get an immediate estimate of their entitlements by visiting any Social Security office. Those 61 and over can get an estimate of their disability and survivor benefits, but that will take between one and three days. People under the age of 60 must send a form asking for a statement of earnings and benefit estimate. Those forms are available at all Social Security offices.

Remember When? 1939 — World's Fairs opened in both New York and San Francisco, enabling millions to forget the hardships of the Depression and the growing war in Europe.

November is National Diabetes Month

It is estimated that 40 percent of the diabetics in the United States do not know that they have diabetes. Screening tests at health fairs, clinics, and other locations identify many new cases of diabetes each year. Most diabetics can control their condition through changes in diet and other forms of care.

Diet: Special dietary guidelines have been established for diabetics. These include the correct amount of fat, carbohydrate, and protein, as well as the right amount of calories.

Medications: The form of diabetes that develops in adulthood can often be controlled with diet and oral medications. Commonly used oral diabetes medicines such as tolbutamide and chlorpropamide cause the insulin that is in the body to work more effectively. Insulin must be taken if the diabetic does not have adequate insulin being produced in the pancreas.

Glucose Measurement: Modern testing devices enable diabetics to test their own blood sugar levels. This testing helps the diabetic know whether or not the correct amount of oral medicine or insulin is being used.
