Union reps meet with Timpte workers

Issues discussed as union vote nears

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

There are less than two weeks remaining before employees of Timpte, Inc. of Wayne vote on whether or not they want to become members of the Allied Industrial Workers of America (AIW) international union.

Approximately 210 Timpte, Inc. employees — those considered as full-time hourly factory employees who work in the refrigerated trailer manufacturing plant — will be given the opportunity on Friday, Nov. 20 to cast their vote in favor or against unionization.

Excluded from the voting will be office clerical employees, professional employees, guards and supervisors as defined in the Act.

ON THURSDAY, approximately 30 employees and union representatives gathered at the Wayne City Auditorium for an informational meeting about the AIW and unions in general. The meeting was conducted by Ted C. Sautter, international representative with the AIW. Media were also invited to the meeting.

Sautter said that at a similar meeting two weeks ago, 60 people from the manufacturing plant were present.

Sautter began the meeting by reading articles from newspapers concerning contributions made to agencies by union employees. "This tells you that we're not all bad guys. We try to help out in the community because it is our community. It's unfortunate that they don't want to point those things out," said Sautter.

He read about a company that closed and 230 non-union jobs were lost. "So, it really doesn't make a difference whether you're union or non-union whether you are going to close. It's a matter of pride and whether you are willing to work hard for your company," Sautter told the workers at the union informational meeting.

Sautter asked the workers to consider the turnover rate in the Timpte company, which he said is probably one of the reasons that "people are discontent and dissatisfied."

TIMPTE has gone on record saying that the company is committed to maintaining a non-union status of the plant.

"They [Timpte company] talk about how bad things are in our union. I think if things are as bad as they say they are, we really wouldn't have many members at all, especially in a right-to-work state," said Sautter.

After more discussion by union representatives, several of the workers told The Wayne Herald some of the reasons why they petitioned to join the AIW union.

Before the election date could be set, the National Labor Relations Board had to review the union proposal and confirm that the petition had the support of at least 30 percent of the employees eligible to be in the bargaining unit.

AMONG THE human rights concerns mentioned by the employees at Thursday afternoon's informational meeting were the following:

• Concern that the company can hire and fire anyone, with cause or without cause.

The workers point to the last page in the employee handbook where they have underlined: "This booklet is not to be considered as a guarantee of continued employment and the Company may terminate [an employee's] employment with the Company, at any time, with or without cause and with or without prior notice, for any reason, or no reason whatsoever, except as prohibited by law."

The information also states that the language used in this booklet "is not intended to create nor is to be construed a contract, either express or implied, between [the employee] and the Company."

• Concern about not having a clean environment for them to work. The workers feel that the exhaust and ventilation systems need to be improved in some of the areas.

The workers also would like to see comparable wages and benefits equal to what is received by other company employees in different geographic locations who perform similar duties.

In a recent letter to the editor, it was stated that the employees were making approximately $2 less than the David City (Timpte) workers; were provided minimal family insurance coverage; receive no retirement or pension plan; and have little or no sick leave benefits.

They also mentioned concern about poor communication and "no open door policy" with the management.

The workers at the meeting said that they called the union — the union didn't come to them.

TIMPTE MANAGEMENT, when asked by The Wayne Herald Friday afternoon about the issues brought forward by the workers at Thursday afternoon's informational meeting, chose not to go on record at this time in addressing those issues.

However, the company did offer a statement stating their position on the union and the upcoming election.

The statement, released by Ken Mendel, Timpte, Inc. plant manager, says that "Timpte does not intend to communicate directly, or indirectly, with these outside trade unionists who are trying to thrust themselves into our company."

"The employees of Timpte will decide this issue on November 20. Between now and then, the management of the company will be trying to provide employees with as much information as we can to assure that they can make a well-informed decision based on facts and the best interests of them and their families," the statement read.

IT WAS DISCUSSED during the union informational meeting Thursday at the city auditorium that there were a large amount of vehicles still parked at the manufacturing plant after 3:30 p.m. (when the first shift of work ends and when the informational meeting was to begin), and it was indicating that perhaps the company was holding the employees over so that they could not attend the meeting.

Mendel said there was no mandatory overtime scheduled on Thursday afternoon, and that the cars in the parking lot were likely those of office employees or second shift workers.

AIW representatives emphasized during Thursday's meeting that "members run the union." The company employees with union representation, they said, elect the officers and decide on the constitution and the dues structure.

If the Company employees vote for AIW, all the employees will decide on the union's proposals for the first union contract.

One union representative said Thursday that 2 percent of organized labor is bad and that 98 percent is "good stuff."

"Nobody said this would be an easy battle. If you're fighting for something worthwhile, it won't be easy," said Sautter.

A REPRESENTATIVE from the National Labor Relations Board from Kansas City will be present at the union election on Nov. 20 to help pass out the ballots and count the votes. The balloting will be secret and all of the 210 employees considered eligible for the bargaining unit have the option to vote, or not to vote, on the issue of union representation.

Each party has the opportunity to inform the National Labor Relations Board about campaigning procedures considered objectionable. If none are filed, then the board can certify the results.

Conway now Republican

State Senator Gerald Conway of Wayne has announced that he has changed his voter registration from Democrat to Republican.

He made the change in political parties at the Wayne County Courthouse on Wednesday, Nov. 4. It was confirmed Friday.

The change in party affiliation was made, he said, to better serve the needs of the northeast Nebraska area.

He said that the Republicans appear to be more responsive to addressing the non-urban concerns of the state, and that he can be more effective in that capacity than as a Democrat.

DEMOCRATS ARE more concentrated in the areas of Lincoln and Omaha and are more urban oriented, he mentioned. He said the rural interests often are not a part of the Democrat group's primary agenda.

He said the Republican stance is more suitable to northeast Nebraska. When the next legislative session opens up in 1988, there will be 27 Republicans, 22 Democrats and one independent.

Conway's four year term ends in Jan. of 1989. He defeated Merle Von Minden of Allen in the non-partisan legislative race three years ago.

Conway, a native of South Sioux City, is an assistant professor of finance at Wayne State College.

He and his wife, Kathleen, will be honored Friday at a private reception in South Sioux City. Among those expected to attend are a representative from Republican Governor Kay Orr's administration; Norman Riffel, Republican State Chairman; Sallie Folsom, Republican National Committee; and Congressman Doug Bereuter.

Pack 179, and the "National Anthem" by the high school band.

The Rev. Peter-Jark-Swain will give the invocation, and the high school student council will lead the flag salute.

Marilyn Brockman will read "What the Flag Means," by Edward F. Hutton, and Cub Scout Pack 179 will read "A Land I Call My Home" by Vincent G. Burns.

Carmen Reeg and Mace Kant will give the Girls and Boys State speeches, followed with "America Again" by the high school band.

Presenting Voice of Democracy speeches will be Shawnette Janke, "Americans Work for Our Liberty — Our Heritage"; Doree Brogren, "The Statue of Liberty — America's Heritage"; and Tami Jenkins, "America's Liberty — Our Heritage."

Everyone will join in singing "America the Beautiful," followed with the benediction by Pastor Jark-Swain, taps by Kathy Leighton, and the retiring of colors.

News and Notes by Mary Temme, Extension Agent-Home Ec.

What's new in carpets?

The biggest news in the carpet industry is the development of stain blocking carpets. Recent television ads have featured meatball hockey and flying foods making a touchdown all over the carpet.

Stain-blocking can vary from a form of a finish applied to the carpet, to the development of a sixth generation nylon fiber. The type of carpet finish or fiber affects the stain-blocking ability.

One finish places a molecular barrier at the fiber surface. This barrier actually inhibits colored molecules from passing into the fiber. Considerable time can pass before a permanent stain can occur.

SOME CARPET manufacturers use a new stain resistant fiber. The carpet fiber resists staining by most food and beverage stains as well as animal accidents. This fiber is one of the sixth generation nylon products.

Another stain-blocking carpet combines three features — a high quality nylon fiber, the latest fluorochemical treatment, and the new anti-stain chemistry. This provides a high level of stain resistance.

Most stain-blocking carpet warranties caution that some substances, such as certain hot beverages, some household products containing dyes, bleaching agents or other chemicals may spot or stain the carpet. All manufacturers warn that some minor loss of stain-resistant properties may occur in high-traffic areas.

ALTHOUGH STAIN-BLOCKING is being promoted as the answer to all your carpet-maintenance problems, quick response to any spill is important. Thorough and regular vacuuming of the carpet also is recommended to maintain and prolong its original appearance.

The effects of stain-blocking on carpet fibers, carpet wear and long-term carpet appearance have not been completely evaluated by the carpet industry.

Preliminary results show that stain-blocking carpets may revolutionize the way we care for carpeting.

BUSINESS FOCUS

MAYNARD WARNE of Wayne was recently named the 1987 local Edward D. Jones, Sr. Heart of Gold winner. He was presented with a special engraved plaque and a $100 donation in his name to the charity of his choice. He was selected for his community-minded efforts with the Wayne Knights of Columbus, and for his many church-related projects and activities. Presenting the award are Paula Pflueger (left) and Jo Herian.

WITH THE TOUCH of a computer key, Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representatives, in offices nationwide, are able to bring Wall Street to communities throughout the country. Jo Herian and Paula Pflueger review some of the daily transactions.

Investment firm brings Wall Street to Wayne

Edward D. Jones & Co. has a philosophy that characterizes the local investment firm's beliefs — to bring Wall Street to Main Street.

The Main Streets, as referred to by investment firm, can be found in 1,200 offices in 36 U.S. states, with 27 of those offices located in Nebraska.

The Wayne office of Edward D. Jones & Co., which began operation in June of 1984 and is located at 307 Pearl Street, typifies the basic strategy of the company.

That strategy, according to Paula Pflueger, is to establish the company in areas not tapped by other firms and to develop a market niche in the smaller communities. Pflueger is an investment representative with the Edward D. Jones & Co. office in Wayne. Jo Herian serves as the branch office administrator.

Confidentiality is important to clients when discussing their needs and arriving at the best possible solution. The aim of the Edward D. Jones and Co. office is to provide a setting where staff members and the customer can together examine these needs and solutions in private, according to Pflueger.

Through extensive research, the Edward D. Jones & Co., based in St. Louis, had researched Wayne and had found that a full service investment firm was needed in the community.

Just recently, the investment firm has been established in metro areas as well, such as suburbs in Chicago and St. Louis.

Investment firms in large cities might leave customers talking to any available person. However, in the Wayne Edward D. Jones & Co. office, customers will find things "much more personable," said Pflueger.

INVESTMENTS and services handled by the Wayne office include annuities, cash management, certificates of deposit, convertible bonds, corporate bonds, financial planning, full service account, government securities, investment banking, IRAs, life insurance, line of credit, mutual funds, money market accounts, municipal bonds, mortgage-backed securities, retirement planning, stocks, tax-free insured unit investment trusts, tax-advantaged investments, treasury securities and zero coupon bonds.

Pflueger said the company likes to see conservative, not speculative investments such as penny stocks or options.

"When working with our clients — we're thinking of long term investments," said Pflueger.

The Wayne Edward D. Jones & Co. office has a computer system that is the most advanced in the industry. It is linked to all Edward D. Jones & Co. offices, to the home office in St. Louis and to all the exchanges.

"So we execute orders very quickly. If someone comes into our office to buy stock, they can sit here and within 30 seconds to a minute we know exactly the price that they paid for the stock," said Pflueger.

The computers provide immediate access to customer accounts, such as interest checks or stock dividend status. It will help the customer buy or sell stocks and other securities, plus answer questions on annuity transfers or IRA rollovers all in a matter of seconds.

Access to analyst recommendations on companies and forecasting on companies is also provided, and updated on a daily basis.

THE COMPANY did a multi-million dollar revision of its computer system last year. "The system now has a lot more capabilities," said Pflueger.

History of the company goes back to 1922, when Edward D. Jones, Sr., a St. Louis, Missouri bond salesman, opened a brokerage house in downtown St. Louis.

It was the founder's son, Edward D. "Ted" Jones, Jr. who believed the firm's future should be in serving individual investors through representatives living in small communities, rather than from downtown locations in large cities. In 1955, he hired a representative for a Mexico,

Missouri office, and with the opening of this first branch office a new era was begun.

The firm has achieved several firsts: first to offer U.S. government guaranteed bonds in amounts conservative individual investors sought; first to offer a Securities and exchange Commission registered real estate limited partnership; first to add the individual investor features to bonds; and one of the first three investment firms in the nation to offer a full-service money market fund account.

In 1981, the investment firm became number one in the nation in the number of New York Stock Exchange branch offices.

The Wayne office is open from 8:30 a.m. till 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and open evenings and Saturdays by appointment.

Tyrone Tracy, a 5-11, 170-pound sophomore slot back, earned the offensive honor for his performance in Ft. Hays' 40-20 win over Emporia State. The Indianapolis native scored five touchdowns in the game to tie the Tigers single-game record for touchdowns. He carried the ball 10 times for 46 yards and caught six passes good for 147 yards. Tracy also returned a kickoff 20 yards to finish the game with 213 all-purpose yards.

Jim Sibbel, a 6-0, 200-pound sophomore linebacker, recorded seven solo stops and five assists, including one for a loss, in the Wildcats' 12-10 win over Missouri Southern. The win broke a 16-game winless streak for the Cats. The Butte native became the third Wayne State player to earn player of the week honors this season.

Lady Cats end season with loss to Peru State

The Wayne State Lady Wildcat volleyball season came to a close Wednesday night as the Lady Cats dropped a three-set decision to Peru State in the first round of the District 11 playoffs.

Wayne State, 22-15, was eliminated by the Lady Bobcats on their home floor by scores of 15-9, 15-11, 15-6. Peru State was the second-seeded team while the Lady Cats were seeded seventh.

The Lady Bobcats avenged a loss at the hands of Wayne State in the NAC playoffs last weekend. Peru State won the season series 2-1.

Wayne State Coach Marilyn Srate said the Lady Bobcats' home-court advantage was the difference in the match. Srate said if the teams would have played on a neutral court or at Rice Auditorium the results might have been different.

Future looks bright for Wildcat cagers

Another season of Wildcat basketball is right around the corner and expectations run high for the 1987 edition.

Wayne State Coach Steve Aggers begins his third season as the Wildcat skipper. In his first two years Aggers has compiled a 29-38 record. The coach's career mark stands at 150-91. Assistant Coach Fred Schnell begins his ninth year of association with Aggers. Schnell, previously coached with Aggers at the College of Great Falls for five years, is in charge of Wildcat recruiting. Assistant Eric Hjort joins Aggers staff this year after receiving his B.A. in education from Seattle Pacific University.

This year's team is what Aggers calls the best team he's had at WSC in terms of work habits and team chemistry.

Wakefield returns to Lincoln

By Gregg Dahlheim
Sports Editor

It was rather anticlimactic after Tuesday's thriller but the Wakefield Lady Trojans earned a return trip to the state volleyball tournament with a two-set cakewalk over Winnebago in the district finals.

Wakefield dumped the Lady Indians, who entered the match with a 13-3 record, 15-8, 15-1 in the contest played at Wayne-Carroll High School. The Lady Trojans advanced to the district finals after beating Allen in the subdistricts Tuesday night in three tough sets.

Wakefield came out a little sluggish against the Lady Indians and fell behind 3-0 and 5-2 before putting things together. Winnebago got the early lead with some fine net play by Joleen Parker.

The Lady Trojans tied the score at six and took their first lead at 7-6. Winnebago cut the lead to 9-8 but the serving of Mollie Greve gave the Lady Trojans some breathing room. The set ended when Kodi Nelson's spike attempt was blocked out of bounds by Parker.

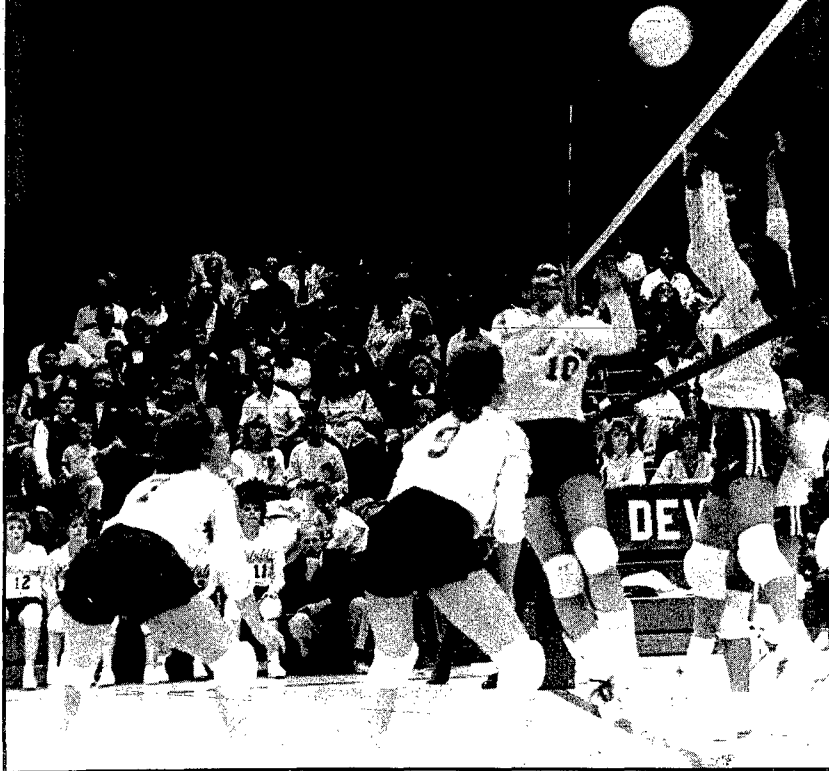

The second set was all Wakefield. It appeared that the first-game loss took the wind out of the Lady Indians' sails. Wakefield led 4-0 before Winnebago got on the scoreboard. That would be all the scoring the Lady Indians would do. Poor serve-receiving finally did it in Winnebago. Karen Witt served the last three points to give the Lady Trojans the state berth.

Nelson and Mollie Greve paced Wakefield in scoring. The pair tallied seven points apiece and were each 8-9 serving. Witt finished 7-7 from the serving stripe and scored six points. As a team Wakefield hit 90 percent of its serves, connecting on 38-42.

Nelson also led Wakefield at the net. The senior was 14-15 spiking the ball including eight aces. Julie Greve was perfect in her seven attempts. The Lady Trojans hit 28-32 spikes for a 87 percent efficiency.

The setting duo of Tricia Schwarten and Witt combined to go 35-36 with 13 set assists. Wakefield connected on 90 percent of its passes, 43-48, a statistic that often gets overlooked, according to Coach Paul Eaton. Eaton said he thinks passing is probably the strong point of his team. And two of the best are back-line players Kelly Fredrickson and Michelle Otte.

Wakefield will be making its second trip to the state tournament in three years. Two years ago the Lady Trojans entered as the top seed. In the opening round they played Utica-Centennial and was upset. The Lady Broncos went on to win the state title. Last year Wakefield was beaten by WAKEFIELD'S KODI NELSON dinks a ball over the net early in the first set. Nelson's teammates Michelle Otte (7) and Tricia Schwarten (9) wait for the results.

Norfolk Catholic in the district finals. This year Wakefield will take its 15-2 record to Lincoln. Eaton said he thinks his team will be seeded fifth and will probably play either Osceola or Sargent on Friday in the 12:10 p.m. match. The match will be played at Lincoln Southeast.

Mollie Greve is the only squad member with state tournament experience. But Eaton said he doesn't think that will affect his team. "I don't think the inexperience will cause a problem," he said. "We've played above our expectations all year long."

Wildcats

The Cats are looking to go one step further than they have in Aggers' first two years. Two years ago WSC posted a 13-20 mark and ended its season with a loss in the District 11 finals to Kearney State. Last year the Cats improved to 16-18 but were again beaten by the Lopers in the district championship game.

Aggers said a couple of the team's goals, set by the players, were to win the district title and advance to the national tournament in Kansas City and to go undefeated at home. An upper-division finish in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC) is also a goal of the teams. Last year the Cats finished tied for fifth place in the conference with a 5-9 record.

Aggers said Ft. Hays State will be the team to beat in the CSIC this year. The Tigers return three starters while having a successful recruiting year. Washburn, the 1987 NAIA National Champions, should finish behind Hays. Aggers said he hopes his team can finish right behind those two powers.

The WSC mentor said Hastings College is the favorite in the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (NIAC). Kearney State and Wayne State will also be in the hunt.

The strength of this year's team is probably at the off-guard position. Hurley and Rosenquist will provide a majority of the scoring punch from there. Hurley returns from a season where he averaged 17.7 points a game to lead the Cats. The 6-2

Anaconda, Mont. native hit 46 percent from three-point range, canning 116-249 from beyond 19-9.

Rosenquist will also give the Cats some scoring punch. Last season, Rosey came off the bench to average 13.1 points a game. The Sioux City native hit 52-percent from the field and is currently 20th on the career scoring list with 885 points. If Rosenquist can duplicate last year's stats he should wind up his career as the school's fifth-leading scorer.

Haas will give the Wildcats some inside punch. The 6-11 Lincoln senior averaged 10.4 points a game playing in only 23 ballgames. Haas averaged 6.6 rebounds a game and led the team in blocked shots with 37. With 10 blocked shots this season he will become the school's all-time shot stopper.

Two-year starter Mike McNamara will be back for his junior season. The Malta, Mont. native averaged 7.7 points a game. The 6-5 forward led the Cats in rebounding pulling down 185 boards.

Aggers will also be looking for help from Berg, junior David Jahr, sophomore Wade Behlen and red-shirt junior Arnie Hayes.

Newcomers to the squad include 6-5 junior college transfer Bobby Parker, 5-10 juco guard Terry Porter, 6-4 freshman Oliver Cesar, 5-10 freshman Steve Dunbar and walk-ons Mark Brazzell, Carl Fuelberth, Michael Grinter and Jeff Johnson. Aggers said Parker, Porter, Cesar and Dunbar could be called upon immediately to produce.

Aggers said finding a point guard and improving on a major rebounding weakness from last year are things the coaching staff must solve quickly.

Behlen, Dunbar and Porter are in the running for the point-guard position. Aggers said no one has stepped forward and claimed the spot. Each has their own strengths and weaknesses. Behlen, at 6-4, can see the floor well and is a good leader but must improve on his ballhandling skills. Porter seems more comfortable at the off-guard spot at this time but is still being looked at. Dunbar, according to Aggers, is the best ball handler of the trio but his lack of experience may hold him back.

Last season the Cats were seventh in rebounding. They were outboarded by an average of 1.6 rebounds a game in the conference. Aggers said this year the front line must become more aggressive and physical. Parker may fit the bill. The 6-5, 214-pound transfer from Phoenix Junior College is an excellent rebounder and a "hard-nosed defender," according to this year's prospectus.

The Cats will hold an inter-squad scrimmage Tuesday night at Rice Auditorium. The 7:30 p.m. scrimmage is open to the public. The first regular-season game is set for Nov. 20 at the Hardrock Classic in Rapid City, S.D.

The WSC junior varsity squad will start its second year of action with Coach Hjort at the helm. Vincent White, who completed his eligibility last season, will assist Hjort. The JV's will play a 16-game schedule beginning with a Nov. 20 contest against Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Photography: Gregg Dahlheim

THE WILDCATS OPENED practice Oct. 15 with eight new faces on Coach Steve Aggers' roster. The Cats will open the season Nov. 20 in the Hardrock Classic in Rapid City.
