New location

Wayne Sporting Goods has moved its headquarters from east of Wayne along Highway 35 to 219 Main Street in Wayne. They will be sharing a portion of the building with Century 21.

Pat Garvin, store owner, said GEC Manufacturing operations will continue at its present location east of Wayne.

Store hours for the new Wayne Sporting Goods location are 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. They will be open in December during the Holiday Magic hours for holiday shopping convenience, said Garvin.

"The reason for the move was due to the expansion of GEC Manufacturing," Garvin said.

More moving

Complete Computer Systems recently moved from its previous location at 114 West Third Street to 318 Main Street in Wayne. The building was formerly Aunt Bea's restaurant.

The move, according to Joe Teeter, will provide greater product selection and better service to customers. They will be broadening their line of computer and office supplies and computer and office equipment, according to Teeter.

Toys for Tots program begins

Helping to make Christmas a memorable one to children less fortunate than others is what the Goldenrod Hills Toys for Tots Program strives to accomplish each holiday season.

This is Goldenrod Hill's sixth year in operating the Toys for Tots program. In its first year of existence, 200 children were recipients of gifts. Now, the program provides gifts to 2,000 children.

The program has changed over the years, going from accepting used toys that required repairs to the distribution of new toys and clothing items. However, dolls that need repair or dressing are still being accepted.

Fund raisers have included a benefit softball game and a teen dance. "Even the Marines have moved in and have offered their help," according to Virgene Dunklau of Wayne, a representative of Goldenrod Hills.

A recent idea that was incorporated into the Toys for Tots program has been adoption — where a person could come and ask for a name of a child (first name only) and provide Christmas for that person.

"Last year, Wayne had the opportunity of having an adoption store furnished by Wayne Marsh of Wayne. A total of 90 children were adopted out, and a multitude of toys were furnished by individuals from the surrounding county," said Dunklau.

WAYNE WILL again sponsor an adoption store. The first opportunity for sign-up to adopt a child will be at

Senate hopeful Daub visits Wayne

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Republican Congressman Hal Daub, who recently officially filed for election in the race to represent Nebraska in the U.S. Senate, was in Wayne last Tuesday and told the audience at the Black Night that his visit was different than a general campaign stop.

Daub said he "was ready to receive his marching orders."

"I know it's early yet. Seems that we just got done with one [election] and everybody is looking for a year off," Daub said.

However, he pointed out that the next few months of organization will be critical. The primary is scheduled for May 10, 1988.

Daub said he decided to run for the U.S. Senate because he felt he could do more for all of Nebraska. "I would be effective to a degree more than the services that I provided in the Congressional district," Daub said.

He said his experience and know-how is something "one doesn't get overnight and it can't be instant."

Daub said he is among the young candidates in the race for the U.S. Senate seat. "Whoever wins is likely going to be in the senate seat for the next 20 years," he said.

He commented that he is confident about gaining some of the "cross-over votes" among the independents and other parties.

"I will listen and I will work hard.

Fact-finder report rejected by WEA

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A fact-finder's recommendation concerning 1987-88 contract negotiations between the Wayne Education Association and the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education was released to the school district last Tuesday.

However, the fact-finding recommendation, considered as non-binding, was rejected by the Wayne Education Association (WEA) during a meeting which took place last Wednesday (Nov. 25). The Court of Industrial Relations will now begin a hearing to decide on a contract settlement. That hearing has been scheduled for Friday, Dec. 4 at Lincoln.

Negotiations between the WEA and the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education was declared at an impasse in early October. The board of education had offered the WEA a contract establishing $14,300 as a base salary, an increase of nearly 4.3 percent over the previous year's base salary.

Duane Blumenkamp, representing the WEA, said the last offer made by the WEA was a two-year proposal — requesting a base salary of $14,500 for the 1987-88 year, followed by a $15,300 base salary for the 1988-89 school year.

In addition, the WEA had also requested that the board of education agree to pay full health insurance for family.

Both the WEA and the board of education were represented by their legal council during the fact-finding. A third party was appointed by the Court of Industrial Relations.

THE FACT-FINDING recommendation, according to Superintendent Francis Haun, proposed that the base salary be raised to $14,500 and that full insurance be paid by the board of education.

Blumenkamp said that at least 90 percent of the WEA members voted to reject the fact-finder's recommendation. One reason why it was turned down, he said, was because the WEA would like to have a legal opinion as to what schools they should be compared with in current, and future, contract negotiations.

He said WEA entered negotiations with an idea to obtain a contract that was comparable to schools of similar academic excellence, community size and where there was a college in the community.

After the Court of Industrial Relations hearing, it could be up to two or three months before a decision is rendered on the WEA's contract for 1987-88.

Fantasy Forest '87 display opens today

Wayne city auditorium will be trimmed for the season during the third annual "Fantasy Forest 1987" display which opens today (Thursday) and runs through Sunday, Dec. 6.

Sponsored by the Interior Design Club at Wayne State College and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, the display will feature some 36 Christmas trees decorated by local businesses and organizations.

Sandra Metz, a spokesman for the Interior Design Club, said hours for the display are today (Thursday) from 6:30 to 9 p.m.; Friday from 5 to 9 p.m.; Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and Sunday from 11 to 4 p.m.

Metz added that the display is open to the public free of charge.

The Wayne State College Home Economics Club will be holding a bake sale from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

METZ SAID trees featured in the "Fantasy Forest 1987" display will be judged this year by persons attending the show instead of a panel of judges.

Visitors to the display may vote on Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the most beautiful tree, the most creative tree; the best theme tree, the best children's tree and their favorite tree.

Winners will be announced on Sunday and plaques will be placed by the winning displays.

There will be a drawing to give away decorations on the Christmas tree sponsored by the Interior Design Club.

THIS YEAR'S display also will include a booth where persons may register for a Holiday Lighting Contest sponsored by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

One hundred dollars worth of Chamber shopping certificates will be awarded as first, second or third place prizes for the homes which are picked by judges to have the best display of holiday lighting.

Deadline for entry in the contest is Dec. 15. For more information, contact the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce office, 375-2240.

Holiday concert

The addition of the Wayne High School Choir is one of two major changes to Wayne State College's annual Christmas concert, to be given this coming weekend. The other is the scheduling of a second performance.

Two performances will be presented on Saturday, Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 6 at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theater. There is no admission charge.

According to Cornell Runestad, a second performance has been added because the audience attendance began to tax the facilities. Also, a second performance will alleviate conflicts during this time.

"It also makes it more convenient for out-of-town parents to attend," he said.

"Touch of Brass," a local professional brass ensemble will accompany the choir singing. Members are Keith Kruger, Gary Davis, Ray Kelton, Bonnie Steffen, Ray Susan Boeshart. The organist is Shannon Wallingford.

Rob Stuber, Kathryn Ley and Cornell Runestad are the conductors.

'Walk Thru the Bible' seminar at Concord

"Walk Thru the Bible," a six-hour seminar in which participants will travel 4,000 years through the Old Testament, will be presented Saturday, Dec. 5 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Concord Evangelical Free Church in Concord.

A spokesman for the church said seminar participants will travel through time and history and learn more about the Bible in six hours than they have in years — perhaps in a lifetime.

Using hand motions, group review and catchy phrases, participants will learn vast amounts of Bible knowledge and never take a note.

DURING THE "Walk Thru the Bible" seminar, participants will understand the three major sections of the Old Testament; integrate their knowledge of 39 books, 929 chapters, and 23,214 verses of the Old Testament; walk through the events of the Old Testament in 77 easy-to-remember steps — in less than three minutes; recall quickly the Old Testament book in which they'll find the major people, places and events; trace the major geographical movements in the Old Testament on one of the world's largest maps; learn a memory peg for each of the 17 Old Testament historical books; discover which 11 books contain the entire story of the Old Testament; meet the Old Testament prophets up close; and rekindle their desire to read, study and apply the Old Testament to their everyday lives.

THE SEMINAR is open to the public. Cost is $15 for adults, and $7.50 for fourth through eighth grade students.

Pioneer of sorts

Wayne-Carroll school district has become a pioneer of sorts because of its recent venture in regard to teacher contract negotiations for the 1987-88 year. But it's nothing that we would consider as something to welcome with open arms.

Since September, the way which contract negotiations between school boards and teachers' bargaining units, once they have gone beyond impasse, has changed.

Previously, after impasse, the negotiations would carry into the fact-finding stage. Had this been last year, the Wayne Education Association and the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education could each have their own selected council at the fact-finding hearing — and a third party to the hearing would be selected upon mutual consent of the negotiators.

As we interpret it now, the Wayne Education Association and the board of education can still have their council present at the fact-finding, but the third party is now appointed by the Court of Industrial Relations.

Whether or not this present fact-finding procedure had any significant bearing as to why the contract hasn't been settled still isn't clear.

We do know that the fact-finding recommendation has been released, and the majority of Wayne Education Association members have rejected it. The recommendation suggests a base salary of $14,500 for 1987-88. WEA had requested a two-year contract calling for $14,500 in 1987-88 and $15,300 in 1988-89. The board of education had offered a base salary of $14,300.

But, according to representatives of the WEA, the salary isn't as much a factor here as another issue which has lately become a key bargaining element. Legitimate comparability — what other school systems the school system should be compared with — seems to be what the teachers are seeking.

When analyzing comparisons, studying population, academic excellence and other factors, we believe there are some areas which should not be overlooked.

What also should be taken into consideration in the comparisons is how much pride a community places in its education programs being offered. And, most importantly, what are the economic conditions surrounding the community when a comparability study is being made.

It will be of genuine interest to see how the Court of Industrial Relations handles this pioneer case and "rules" on comparability, and how it will set the tone for future contract negotiations among school districts.

Christmas spirit

The new decorations in Wayne, and redistributing the older decorations, has added a nice touch to the community.

The decorations certainly add to the festive mood of the holiday season. And it reflects an effort by local businessmen and Chamber members to show off the community to people who shop in Wayne, which we strongly encourage people to do, or come to town just to see the pretty sights.

Also, the Holiday Lighting Contest, sponsored by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, is also a way to bring people into the community — as shoppers or as sight-seers. Let's not spoil the fun of the event by stealing Christmas tree lights or other figures from other peoples' houses or trees.

Christmas is a time for giving...so how about "giving" some appreciation to the efforts of the people who go out of their way to make Christmas that much more special.

Afterwards, it will be housed at Century 21. The dates the Toys for Tots adoption store will be open are Dec. 10, 12, 13, 17 and 18.

Deadline for toy donations is Dec. 18. Those wanting to drop-off toys or other donations may do so at Taco Del Sol in Wayne or they can call Dunklau's home at 375-1808.

Contributing so far to the Toys for Tots program this year have been organizations such as the Eagles, We Few Extension Club, Redeemer Lutheran Church Sunday School, Wayne State Industrial Arts Department, Wayne Greenhouse, Ladds and Lassies 4H Club; and many individuals such as Mrs. Charles Jackson of Winside.

"Projects and items are still needed to carry out this program," said Dunklau. "For example, we need socks, mittens, hats, blankets and we need people that would help in decorating, wrapping delivering and in handing out the toys."

Those wishing to volunteer can contact Dunklau at her Wayne home or at 529-3513. The program is being run in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce Christmas events and the free movies for children.

Waste issue

Assertion made before Senator Loran Schmitt (Chair of the Nebraska Natural Resources Committee), Friday afternoon, Nov. 13, 1987, State Capitol, Lincoln.

Senator Schmitt and Committee: I am Mrs. Allen Schrant, a dairy farmers wife, rural resident of Northeast Nebraska, Winside. According to the Dames and Moore Study, Northeast Nebraska has approximately 180 sq. miles of "preferred" sites for low level radio-active wastes.

I know there are many things contaminating our environment and pledge to work to try and clean or keep Nebraska's environment clean. As you know, I have constantly asserted against a Central 5 State Low Level Radio-Active Waste facility in Nebraska. There are many people with expertise on radio-active subjects, who are guiding me, included are: geologists, soil technicians, concerned scientists of America, environmentalists, insurance people, the Department of Environmental Control, the public, etc.

I have studied this subject for almost a year, studied at Northeast Technical College, Norfolk, attended governor's task force meetings, in Lincoln. Also attended meetings in Chadron, Hartington, Norfolk, Columbus, Omaha and many others. I took part in two meetings where two developers, Westinghouse and U.S. Ecology, presented their plans.

Prompted by PURPA (U.S. Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act) which was enacted in 1978 by the U.S. Congress and directs utilities to connect up with small-scale independent power producers (also known as qualifying facilities) and to pay a fair market price for the electricity, several hundred U.S. companies have entered the independent power business since 1980, bringing a spirit of entrepreneurship to electricity that was last seen in the early part of the century.

The steadfast refusal of those who have led America down the Nuclear path, who refuse to admit the atom poses unique and unprecedented safety problems have got our state and others into "where does the deadly debris go?" Are we going to continue the Nuclear path and levy this against our children and their children forever? If for one and many more Nebraska citizens want to see Nebraska Public Power District dedicate themselves to trying and using the new technologies which have no harmful wastes.

Forty years, I have waited to hear producers of Nuclear waste say "They are safe for mankind and environment", but to this day and my knowledge there is nothing available to neutralize the harmful radio-active materials. When this era's history is written, management of Nuclear wastes might rank as the 20th Century's largest scientific and political blunder. Many other Nebraskans and I are tired of waiting!

Entomb (by vault) our Nuclear generators, before Dec. 31, 1992, as they are reaching retirement age, so we will not have to deal with generators garbage. The federal mandate reads: By Jan. 1, 1990, non-compact states must file applications to operate disposal facilities or certify to NRC that they will provide low level waste storage and disposal within their own borders after Dec. 31, 1992. States not meeting that deadline could be denied access by the three states with disposal sites. To me this means when the Federal Government is ready to accept these wastes (high and low level) from a Nuclear generator, Nebraska will be able to dismantle and move debris to the already existing sites, but NO MORE generating of Nuclear energy wastes after 1992 or we the state will be responsible for it in our own borders.

Many Nebraskans and I do not support the Five State Central Compact and U.S. Ecology Developer for a centralized 5 state low level radio-active facility. Their facility cannot attain a zero release of the harmful radio-active components. U.S. Ecology proposes to operate it approximately 30 to 40 years, but radio-active wastes placed in it will be harmful to mankind and animals for centuries. Nebraska's geological features, soil and climatic conditions will break down their barriers of safety. Probably, the high level wastes are waiting "in their wings". Nebraskans sure do not need our state to "host" trucks to the facility, driving up and down our public highways and roads carrying deadly radio-active debris for many years to come. I realize there is a fine to withdraw from the Compact but it is small compared to the liabilities a host community will inherit when U.S. Ecology leaves after 30 or maybe 40 years, not even mentioning the threat of contamination and law suits.

Nebraska has 3 aquifers beneath us, used by multi-millions of people for drinking. Geologists are warning us, a serious threat exists if harmful radio-active components reach an aquifer. Oklahoma City has wells contaminated with radio-active components. Iowas has contaminated wells also. Let's keep Nebraska FREE from this threat. The constant hauling of Nuclear garbage around, creates a constant threat for accidents. Contaminating our environment is becoming inevitable and a very possible cruel reality. According to scientists and chemists there are more harmful radio-active components in our environment than ever before. Nebraska's productive agriculture soil and production of milk, vegetables, and meat for mankind could become a "bare industry" with no production, if a Nuclear generator or waste facility should have a serious accident.

License (after entombment by vault) a fee to be established, the Nuclear generators. License, a fee to be established, all public and private producers of low-level radio-active wastes. Their wastes should be stored and monitored at the same facility that produces it. It should not be moved until the short-lived radio isotopes have decayed and become safe. Nebraska Department of Health, Nebraska Department of Environmental Control and local authorities rules should be the regulations and guidelines.

These are my beliefs and many others according to the knowledge and information gathered on the subject. We will meet with our legislators during the 1988 session on our beliefs.

Too important to ignore

Issue of drugs/alcohol

By Donald Zeiss
Principal at Wayne-Carroll High School

The familiar words are "peer pressure"...terms more often described than defined, and usually described negatively. Yet, it is an idea which is central to the issue of drugs and alcohol/drug use and you will find truckloads of books and reports linking peer pressure to substance use and abuse. The connection is well documented and clear in our minds.

Considering for a moment that the nature of your youngster is to:

- * Question authority
- * Test rules and their limits
- * Desire freedom and independence
- * Search for their identity
- * Experiment and take risks

Is it a surprise that alcohol and drugs are so attractive to our young? And add to this list, the extent to which these needs are influenced by our mass media and it is no wonder why we need to educate teens about the seriousness of the abuse of alcohol and drugs. We can't assume that they will figure things out for themselves or worse yet "find out the hard way" by learning from their mistakes.

While all behavior is chosen and individuals are ultimately responsible for their own actions, behaviors and choices, peer relationships weigh heavily when it comes to the decision to use alcohol and drugs. The bonds of friendship can cause an emotional shift away from the family toward the peer group. Often the peer influence needs to be balanced with concrete, accurate, and sensible information about drugs and alcohol. However, given the sensitivity of the topic and the sometimes intransigence of youth, where does one begin?

HERE ARE three areas to get you started:

Denial: Denial that drugs and alcohol are an issue is one of the most anti-educational postures that adults can assume. Find an opportunity to open up on this topic and communicate.

Role Modeling: Don't underestimate your influence and importance. The greatest myth concerning adolescents is that they don't want or need their parent's approval. Nothing could be further from the truth. Know that despite the heavy peer influence, you are most significant in your son or daughter's life. The values, beliefs, and behaviors you express do not go unnoticed.

Attitude: The positive portrayal of alcohol and drug use permeates our society. As adults, we can be seduced into believing or accepting that teenage alcohol and drug use is not that bad, just a phase, or part of growing up. Be careful not to unwittingly signal subtle approval of these erroneous attitudes.

The issue of drugs and alcohol is not an easy topic. But it is too important to leave to someone else or worst yet, leave unaddressed.

Missing were team manager Larry Hintz, Robb Sweetland, Casey Dyer, Craig Dyer, Jeremy Fletcher, Jess Thompson and Cory Thomsen.

WAYNE-CARROLL BOYS BASKETBALL

There are three things that Wayne Blue Devil Coach Bob Uhing is emphasizing among his players as the 1987-88 regular season begins. "First, they have to play well together and get along well both on and off the floor," Uhing said. "Second, they have to play good defense. And third, they have to play really aggressive, both offensively and defensively. To do that, they are going to have to play together," Uhing said.

This year's version of the Blue Devil varsity basketball team is relatively young — with just two seniors returning. Those seniors, and returning lettermen, are Scott Hammer and Nick Engelson.

Engelson started last year for the Blue Devils, averaging about 13 points a game. Junior Jess Zeiss had some point guard for the Wayne varsity last year. Other juniors on the team include Kevin Hausmann, Greg Schmidt, Jed Reeg, Doug Larsen, Jarrod Wood, Eric Runestad and Robb Sweetland.

Uhing admits his team is young. However, he doesn't look at that as a limitation. "Teams look young if they don't play or practice hard and don't play together," Uhing said. With the elements of hard work, practice and staying together, his team — if they play to their capabilities — can perform like a veteran team, he said. The Blue Devil success depends on how well they rebound or how well they execute on the floor. "Opponents can't key on just one person if we all play together."

In the Northern Activities Conference, most of the other schools will have at least three starters and top scorers returning. "Everyone in the conference will be tough. We'll be, by far, the youngest and most inexperienced team in the conference," Uhing said.

Uhing said he believes that the new 3-point shot for high school basketball will have a big impact on the game. "You not only have to know how to use it, but also how and when to defend against it," he mentioned. "Our goal is to look at this year, just one game at a time, and improve in every game. Right now our goal is to play well in the opening game against Battle Creek."

WAYNE-CARROLL GIRLS BASKETBALL

Those watching the Wayne-Carroll Lady Blue Devils in action during the 1987-88 basketball season will notice a different style of play than that of previous seasons under Head Coach Marlene Uhing.

Gone from last season are the team's two players who dominated the scoring and rebounding of a year ago — Kacia Corbit and Shelly Pick. Coach Uhing will field a relatively young team, with Marnie Bruggeman as the lone senior letterwinner returning. Junior letterwinners returning are Robin Lutt, Dana Nelson, Holly Paige and Amy Bliven. Nelson averaged six points per game from the guard spot last year. Lutt averaged five points per game.

"We will really be inexperienced at the inside positions, and even a bit at the guard spots," said Uhing.

To compensate, look for the Lady Blue Devils to apply tough defensive pressure throughout each game, Uhing said.

"How we handle transition, both offensively and defensively, will be a key to our team," she said.

The team will run more, she said, than last season. "Last season, we worked the ball inside, playing at a slower tempo," Uhing mentioned.

Other Lady Blue Devil team members include senior Ulrika Norell; juniors Kristy Hanson and Tonya Erxleben; sophomores Teresa Ellis and Heidi Reeg; and freshmen Ellen Cole, Amy Tiedke, Leslie Spethman, Deanna Schluns, Tara Erxleben, Amy Wriedt, Becky Porter, Jennifer Hammer, Kari Lutt and Bree Bebee.

The toughest competition in the Northern Activities Conference will likely come from Hartington Cedar Catholic and O'Neill, according to Uhing. South Sioux and Wayne lost a good share of starters because of graduation.

"We'll be working to incorporate the 3-point shot in our offense," said Uhing. The 3-point shot cannot be ignored and will be taken more often than past circumstances when the team was behind or when the end of the quarter neared, she said.

"After we get through the first three games, we'll be able to see what we need to improve on and what kind of basketball we need to play. For now, we'll be playing at a different pace than last year," Uhing said.

Another goal, she said, will be to get a lot of people into the game — necessary to keep defensive pressure on the opposition throughout the four quarters.

When playing a lot of people, the team must strive to play intelligently and stay away from fundamental mistakes, Uhing said.

WAYNE-CARROLL WRESTLING

The 1987-88 version of the Wayne-Carroll wrestling team will reveal a young team that is seasoned with some high caliber experienced varsity wrestlers.

"We're going to have a fairly young team. There will probably be about five or six freshman wrestling on varsity — some talented freshmen," said Wayne-Carroll Head Wrestling Coach John Murtaugh.

Returning lettermen on Wayne's squad this season are senior Tim Sievers; juniors Tom Etter, Shane Geiger, Jason Cole, and Chris Lutt; and sophomore Greg DeNaeyer.

Lutt, who finished the season last year at 17-10, had 10 pins to lead the Blue Devils in that department. Cole 16-13 last year, led the team in takedowns and escapes last season.

Other senior wrestlers on this year's squad include Joel Pedersen (who did not wrestle last year because of an injury), Brian Nelsen and Cory Stutheit. Filling out the Blue Devil wrestling team are freshmen Dave Hewitt, Matt Bruggeman, Trevor Wehrer, Chris Fredrickson, Chris Janke, Mike DeNaeyer, Rusty Hamer, Eric Cole, Jeff Struve, Cory Wieseler, Jessie Brodersen and Jason Ehrhardt.

"We'll be the strongest in the middle weights. That's where most of our experience is at," said Murtaugh.

In Nebraska, the weight classes have been changed. Previously, the wrestling weights were at 98, 105, 112, 119, 126, 132, 138, 145, 155, 167, 185 and Heavyweight. There is no longer a 98 pound weight class and an additional weight has been added. Matches will begin at 103 pounds, followed by 112, 119, 125, 130, 135, 140, 145, 152, 160, 171, 189 and Heavyweight.

"Our goal for the season is that we want to be an above-average wrestling team," said Murtaugh.

They begin their season in a dual meet at Schuyler on Dec. 3 and then wrestle in the Blair Invitational on Dec. 5.

Their only home dual before Christmas will be Dec. 8 against West Point.

ALLEN BOYS BASKETBALL

With just one returning starter, Allen Eagles Coach Dave Uldrich said it's hard to predict just what kind of year the Eagles will have when they take to the courts.

"It's difficult to say how well we'll do this year," said Uldrich, adding that the team will miss the scoring ability of Max Oswald. "Max averaged about 20 points per game last year and was someone we could rely on."

The Eagles lone starter returning from last year's 2-14 squad is Matt Hings, a 5-8 sophomore.

Uldrich, in his sixth year as head coach, has two other lettermen returning from last year on his 16-man team, which includes 14 underclassmen. They are 6-3 senior Lanny Boswell and 5-10 sophomore Kent Chase.

Uldrich said defense will be a concern this year. "We've been a zone basketball team in the past, but with such a small team this year we're going to try and play man to man."

Uldrich said his offensive concern is that there is no one man to lead the team. "It's going to take contribution from five guys or whoever we put on the floor."

The Eagles coach said the team will concentrate on fundamental ball handling and defense.

"Hopefully," said Uldrich, "we'll be able to stay close to good teams and try to win the games in the last couple of minutes."

"We'll just wait and see," said Uldrich, adding that he expects improvement from week to week.

Uldrich said Ponca, Homer, Beemer and Bancroft all have a lot of returning people and will be tough opponents for his team.

Not present for the photo were Lana Erwin, Missy Martinson and Stephanie Carlson.

ALLEN GIRLS BASKETBALL

Allen girls basketball Coach Gary Troth said one of the biggest problems his team has to deal with this year is injuries.

Lana Erwin, a 5-9 senior and Allen's only returning starter, was injured during the volleyball season and has been on the basketball practice court part-time while rehabilitating.

"It's still questionable how much Lana will be able to play," said Troth, adding that Erwin averaged about 10 points per game during last year's 13-5 season and has been a starter since her sophomore year.

"Lana's real valuable to us," said Troth. "She's a good shooter."

Troth said although Erwin played guard most of last year, he may move her around more this year and take advantage of her shooting ability.

Other returning lettermen at Allen include seniors Liz Hansen, 5-8, and Angie Jones, 5-3, and juniors Toni Boyle, 5-6, Candace Jones, 5-8, Amy Noe, 5-2, and Missy Martinson, 5-7.

A tendinitis injury during volleyball also has kept Noe from practicing with the team.

Troth said his goal early to predict how well his team will do. "We've replaced too many people," said Troth. "We'll be competitive, but I think we'll be a slow team getting started because of our injuries."

Allen also has lost four starters from last year, including Barb Hansen, Kris Bloom, Tiffany Harder and Kristi Chase.

"This year is going to depend on how well the younger kids play," said Troth. "We're going to have to rely on juniors Noe, Jones, Martinson and Boyle."

Troth said sophomore Annetta Noe also looks good and will probably see some playing time.

This year's starting line, according to Coach Troth, will depend on who gets in the practice time.

"Our strength is quickness," said Troth, "and we seem to be pretty good shooters. Hopefully that will help us a lot."

Troth said the team's biggest weaknesses are height, lack of depth and lack of experience. "We may have OK speed, but I don't know if our ball handling is as good."

"The girls aren't afraid to work hard," added the Allen coach, "and if we can play decent defense I think we'll stay in the games. Last year's defense wasn't as good as I thought it would be, but we had a lot of kids who could score."

The Allen coach said he plans to spend a lot of time this year on fundamentals and executing the offense.

Troth said he looks for a tough Emerson team, along with Walthill, Homer and Ponca.

LAUREL-CONCORD BOYS BASKETBALL

The Laurel-Concord Bears varsity basketball team will be playing their first year in the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference.

And Bears Head Coach Mark Hrabik will be going into the regular season with an enviable situation — five of his returning letterwinners either were starters at one time or another last season.

Those players include junior Doug Manz, sophomore John Schutte, senior Joedy Cunningham, senior Kyle Nixon and Connor Scott Marquardt.

"We're looking to these five guys to provide the experience and leadership for us this year," said Coach Hrabik.

Because of this experience, Hrabik is taking a cautious optimistic approach to this year. But he is not over-confident, knowing that injuries can happen to the older, experienced players. "That would cause havoc for us," said Hrabik.

He looks to sophomores Matthew Jonas, Troy Twohig and Todd Erwin to contribute off the bench to the success of the Bears this season. "Our bench is really young and inexperienced. There will be a lot of pressure on our starters to come through," said Hrabik.

Others on the Laurel-Concord team include: seniors Kirk Bailey and Franco Lama. Juniors are Chris Ebmeier, Kelly Daberkow and Scott Boysen. Sophomores on the team include Shawn Arens, Daren Martinson, Matt Felber and Craig Bathke. Freshmen are Justin Swanson, Jonathan Ebmeier, Dean Heydon, Brian Penne, Bruce Haisch and Brian Anderson.

Hrabik anticipates the Bears' inside game, anchored by Schutte, and the guard positions (manned by Marquardt and Manz) to show a balanced attack. Marquardt was Laurel's leading scorer last year, averaging nine points per game. "We have the potential to score five guys in double figures in games this season," Hrabik remarked.

Conference teams that will provide the Bears with stiff competition include Randolph, Plainview and Pierce. He looks to a non-conference game against Wayne as another tough match-up.

"We've got a demanding schedule. But we hope to stay tough and avoid injury. If we can do that, we'll be able to do well," said Hrabik.

"Improving every week will be our goal."

LAUREL-CONCORD GIRLS BASKETBALL

Laurel-Concord's second year Head Basketball Coach Pam Thies is expecting her 1987-88 Lady Bears to take the shots when available to them this season.

"We've spent a lot of time doing some extra shooting. We've want to be a more balanced scoring team," said Thies.

She has established a 500 Club — players who get their 500 extra shots in after the practices — to develop the shooting eye of her varsity and junior varsity team members.

This year's returning letterwinners include seniors Dawn Addison, Becky Christensen, Tama Reifenrath, Julie Schutte, Hollie Helgren and sophomores Amy Adkins and Sherri McCorkindale.

Other team members include juniors Kim Mathiason, Deb Roeder, Jewell Asbra; sophomores Heather Thomas, Amy Newton, Shana Carstensen, Jessie Monson, Emily McBride; Jessie Jacobsen; Kristi Kvols, Julie Dickey; and freshmen Jenny Fritz and Patty Roeder.

"Three of our returning starters — Addison, Christensen and Adkins — we look for to give us a good trio from which to build around this year," said Thies.

She said the Lady Bears have to be strong defensively and must look towards a balanced scoring attack in their first year competing in the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference.

"Last year our scoring attack was centered around one player [Gail (Twiford) Curry] and this year we would like to balance it out as much as possible," said Thies.

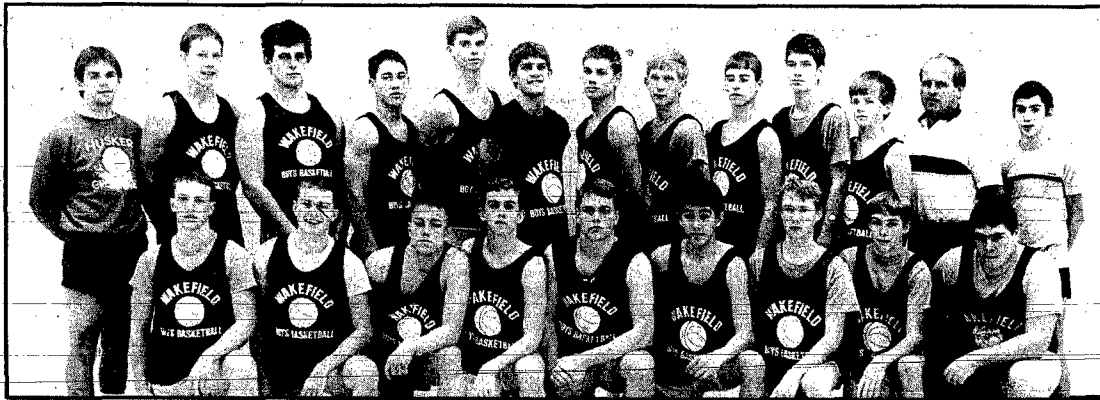

As members of the Lewis and Clark Conference, the Lady Bears finished the season at 11-7.

"Some teams which look to be tough in our area include Ponca, Wausa and Pierce," she said.

"This year's team is looking toward good team leadership from our five seniors and developing our younger team members into a sound junior varsity program," added

Thies. "We are striving to become a pressure type of ball club."

WAKEFIELD BOYS BASKETBALL

To reach the state tournament is a goal that is on the minds of most Nebraska high school basketball teams as the season begins.

To Paul Eaton, head coach of the Wakefield Trojans basketball team, reaching the state tournament is where his team's efforts will be concentrated this season.

"Once in 40 years is not enough," mentioned Eaton, when talking about his 1987-88 basketball team and how long it's been since Wakefield has won a state championship.

The last time Wakefield was at state was in 1960. That has been the only trip to Lincoln since the 1948 Trojans won the Class "C" championship.

"Our team goal is to make every effort to be playing in Lincoln on March 10. We may not make it, but we are going to give it a 100 percent effort," said Eaton, a third year coach at Wakefield.

Last year, the Wakefield team finished at 7-12, after suffering a miserable 0-5 start. The Trojans graduated four seniors, including two-year starters Kevin Greve (who was a first team all conference selection) and Brad Lund.

Letterwinners returning for the Trojans this season are seniors Todd Kratke, Brian Larson and Mike Nelson; juniors Stuart Clark and Scott Lund; and sophomore Andy McQuistan.

Returning starters are Kratke, Nelson and Lund. Eaton said that junior Doug Roberts and sophomores Mark Johnson, Tony Krusemark, Chris Looe and Matt Tappe will also figure into the Trojan game plan.

Other players on the team are senior Colby Meyer; juniors William Miller and Brian Wagner; sophomores Ken Addink and Shawn Meyer; and frosh players Jim Erickson, Rod Greve, Matt Krusemark, Mike Meier, Ken Reikofski, John Schopke, Doug Stanton, Vahn Thomsen and Keith Wenstrand.

Wakefield plays in the Clark Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference. Top teams in the conference, Eaton said, will be Homer, Bancroft-Rosalie and Wausa. "Pender is another good area team on our schedule," he said.

WAKEFIELD GIRLS BASKETBALL

Ellie Studer is returning for her second year as varsity coach of the Wakefield girls basketball team and she expects to improve last year's record of 9-15 in the Lewis and Clark Conference.

"I know and they (the girls) know what to expect, therefore I expect more," said Coach Studer. "I expect the girls to catch on quicker."

Coach Studer said she also expects people to take notice of the girls as a team and be wary of them as a team.

Last year's letterwinners who return this year are seniors Stephanie Fischer, Kodi Nelson and Tricia Schwarten, and juniors Karen Hallstrom and Sharon Wenstrand.

The Trojans also will rely on the experience of returning starters Nelson, Schwarten and Hallstrom. Nelson was the second leading rebounder in the conference last year with 204. She averaged about 6 points and 11 rebounds per game.

Schwarten averaged 5 points and 3 rebounds per game, with Hallstrom averaging over 4 points and 5 rebounds.

The Trojans also have a strong sophomore class, and Studer said they'll be the center core of Wakefield's team this year and continuing for the next two years.

Sophomore players include Julie Greve, Barbara Kargard, Melaney Kuhl, Cathi Larson, Jennifer Neal, Susan Nuernberger, Jessica Robins and Theresa Stelling.

Other members of the Wakefield girls basketball team are juniors Cindy Easley, Michelle Otte, Bobbi Weiershauser and Chris Woods, and freshmen Wendy Kratke and Christy Otte.

Coach Studer said Wakefield plans to take advantage of the fact that a lot of teams in the conference have lost a lot of starter players.

"Essentially, we're working on fundamentals," said Studer. "We expect to enhance our inside game more than last year because of the experience of our past people, and we'll also work on being a threat from the outside and improving our percentage of shots."

Two of the tougher teams Wakefield will face this year are Wausa, who finished second in the state tournament last year, and Ponca. "Ponca will be tough," said Studer, "but they'll miss Amy Armstrong."

Studer said she definitely expects a higher placement than last year. "A lot of games will just depend if the girls want to give 100 percent to win."

Wockman, Steve Heinemann, Mark Brugger, Doug Cherry, Chris Nau, Darren Wacker, Randy Prince, Tim Jacobsen and Head Coach Randy Geier. Missing is James Painter.

WINSIDE BOYS BASKETBALL

The Winside Wildcats boys varsity basketball team doesn't have the luxury of having a great number of seniors returning to this year's squad.

Yet, first year Head Coach Randy Geier remains optimistic. There is one senior (Dean Wockman) on his team. The rest of the squad consists of seven juniors, one sophomore and five freshmen.

"Yes, we're very young with one senior. But we do have talented kids. They need to believe that they can win in basketball," said Geier.

He hopes to turn a basketball program around that has managed three wins in 54 games during the past three years.

"The attitude and the work ethic of the players have been excellent.

They need to stay together as a unit," said Geier.

Goals set by the team, he said, are to try to show improvement throughout the season which will lead to playing better and "handling the presses better."

Geier is anticipating that the juniors and senior will step in to provide the leadership for his young team. "We hope to develop depth, playing up to eight guys in each of the ball games," said Geier.

He anticipates some good outside shooting from the guards of last year, namely Jacobsen and others. He has some players who can put up the 3-point shot, but only when the squad's in its regular offensive rhythm. "If they take a shot from the 3-point line, that's fine," said Geier.

He said his team is not real tall, but they do have balanced height. His guards, he said, are fast and tall. "If it came down to height and quickness, I'd rather have the quickness," mentioned Geier. The Wildcat Assistant Coach is Todd Pospisil.

"And no matter how tall the opponents are, you still have to screen out on defense," Geier said.

The Wildcats open their season against Allen.

"I hope the fans show patience with the kids, because they are very young," he concluded.

WINSIDE GIRLS BASKETBALL

To win this year, the Winside Wildcats girls basketball team will need to play better defense and become more aggressive offensively and defensively.

That was the team preview comment given by Head Coach Jill Stenwall as her team prepared for their opening game against Allen.

"We have a good nucleus to work around, including senior Ann Meierhenry, senior Carmen Reeg and junior Kristy Miller," said Stenwall.

"Hopefully, these players will not be afraid to shoot and will be the leaders of this team," she said.

Two other players who will see much action this fall, Stenwall said, are junior Lisa Janke and senior Michelle Thies. Also expected to contribute to this year's regular season campaign are junior Christina Bloomfield, sophomore Tina Hartmann and senior Kathy Leighton.

Other members of the team are junior Cam Behmer; sophomores Shelley Henzler, Shannon Bargstadt, Doree Brogren, Shawnette Janke and Jenni Topp; and freshmen Jennifer Wacker, April Thies, Kim Cherry, Letha DuBois, Stacey King and Shannon Holdorf.

One of this year's team's strengths will be in the rebounding department. "We'll be good at rebounding this year," mentioned Stenwall.

"I hope we play better against man to man defenses. The kids are working hard and have a good attitude about the upcoming season," she added.

The Wildcats finished the season at about 500 last year. The scoring leader for the Wildcats returns.

Kristy Miller led the team in scoring as a sophomore, averaging approximately 12 points a game. She was named last year, to the second team in the Clark Division of the Lewis and Clark Conference and was also a member of the Wayne Herald All Area Team.

Among those gone from last year's team are graduating seniors Tracy Topp and Christi Thies.

Assisting Stenwall in the coaching duties this basketball season is Darin

Blackburn, who currently attends Wayne State College.

WINSIDE WRESTLING

Look for the Winside Wildcats wrestling team to be ranked among the top 10 in the state (in the D-2 class) by the time this season ends — possibly among the top three.

Those high expectations come from Wildcat Head Coach Paul Sok, who has been at the head wrestling helm at Winside for seven years. He was away from the Wildcat program last year, but he returns in 1987-88 to coach a team that is basically young.

The team is mixed with veterans who have competed, and placed, at the state high school wrestling tournaments in Lincoln over the past years.

Those experienced wrestlers include senior Mace Kant, who has been a three time state qualifier, placing fourth in the state in 1985 and third in 1986; senior Doug Paulsen, first place finisher at 119 in 1986 and a placing of fourth in the 1985 state wrestling championships; sophomore Max Kant, who placed fourth overall in the state last season; and senior Steve Jorgensen, who qualified for the state wrestling tournament in 1986.

Jorgensen is currently recuperating from a wrist injury and is expected to be out of action until the first of next year.

"But we'll have three returning starters who will be tough to beat," said Sok. "If we have everyone at the right weights and healthy at districts, we'll be in the top three of the division," said Sok.

Sok anticipates that his team will be strong at the lighter weights. He also added his team will be young — and low in numbers. The Wildcats will be strongest at 125, 130 and 135 pound classes. "Our upper weights will be one of the weaknesses in 1987-88," Sok said. "We'll be empty on about five weight-classes this year," said Sok.

"If it's a young team, but they are all willing to work and they are good learners," said Sok. "And our older kids provide excellent experience."

One and one in Montana tourney

Wildcats roll past Dana College

After losing the first two games of their 1987-88 campaign, the Wayne State Wildcats cracked the win column in a home game last Tuesday night (Nov. 24) against Dana College, then they won one of two games in the Tip Off Tournament in Billings, Montana last Friday and Saturday.

Wayne State Head Coach Steve Aggers labeled the 102-78 home court win over Dana College as a "great team effort."

The victory featured a balanced Wildcat scoring attack, as six players ended the game in double figures — led by Russ Rosenquist's 23 points.

Rosenquist canned 6 of 10 shots from the field, three from beyond the 3-point line, and sank all eight of his free throw attempts. Other players in double figures were Mike McNamara with 17 points; Bobby Parker, Steve Dunbar each with 11 points; and David Jahr and Byron Haas both with 10 points.

The balanced scoring attack, combined with tough pressure defense and strong performances by the Wildcat bench, helped Wayne State get control of the game.

The Wildcats, shooting at 50 percent for the first half, jumped to a 34-32 halftime lead. Wayne State finished the game shooting 46 percent from the field and was 21 of 24 from the free throw line (88 percent).

Another key factor in the Wildcat win against Dana was in the rebounding department. "We out-rebounded a taller, bigger opponent," said Aggers. Wayne State had 46 offensive and defensive rebounds to Dana's 39.

McNamara pulled down 9 rebounds to lead the Wildcats and he also had two blocked shots. Parker had eight rebounds.

Wayne State committed 13 turnovers in the game, which Aggers considers a good job for the style of play which the Wildcats use. "We've done a good job of taking care of the basketball during the last few games," he said.

Arnie Hayes and Scott Hurlley each had four assists in the win against Dana and Rosenquist registered four steals.

Dana was led in scoring by Jerrod Lawrence, who was 10 of 25 from the field and 8 of 9 from the charity stripe.

The win put Wayne State's record at 1-2.

Tip Off Tourney

Wayne State recorded their first road win of the 1987-88 season by defeating Rocky Mountain College 82-55 in the first round of the Tip Off Tournament at Billings, Montana.

"We played great defense," remarked Coach Aggers. A pressing half-court defense forced Rocky Mountain College into 21 turnovers and allowed Wayne State players to accumulate 12 steals.

The Wildcats were able to out-rebound Rocky Mountain College, a much bigger team, by a 38-27 margin. Byron Haas hauled down the most rebounds with eight, followed by Russ Rosenquist and Mike McNamara with 5 rebounds.

Double figure scoring was achieved by five Wildcat players, led by Scott Hurlley with 16 points. Others included Rosenquist with 14 points; Haas, 13 points; and McNamara and Dunbar each with 10 points.

Hurlley was 4 of 9 from two-point range and 1 of 4 from the 3-point mark.

As a team, Wayne State shot 46 percent from the field, 2 of 9 from 3-point land. Rocky Mountain National shot 39 percent from outside.

The Wildcats were 26 of 31 from the free throw line for an 84 percent mark.

Wade Behlen led the Wildcats in assists with four, and tied Arnie Hayes for the number of steals with three.

"It was a team victory," said Aggers.

The Wildcats scored 40 points the first half while limiting Rocky Mountain College to just 20 points.

In the second round game of the Eastern Montana College Tip Off Tournament on Saturday, Wayne State lost in double overtime to the Western Montana College Bulldogs by a 114 to 103 score. It was the second time this season that the Wildcats have scored over the century mark.

Aggers said his team played well for 32 minutes and had a 19 point lead at one time in the game. But Western Montana fired up the 3-point shots (four straight 3-pointers) to make the score close. "The last eight minutes of the game was a real dogfight," said Aggers.

Wayne State's Dunbar sank both shots of a one and one situation to send the game into overtime. A 3-point shot by Hurlley, who led all scorers in the game with 36 points, tied the game to put the game into a second overtime. During the second overtime, Aggers said the Wildcats missed four "one and one" opportunities and the Bulldogs made their foul shots which led to Western Montana's win.

"We have to learn how to play with the lead a lot better," said Aggers.

The Wildcats led at halftime by a 45-32 margin.

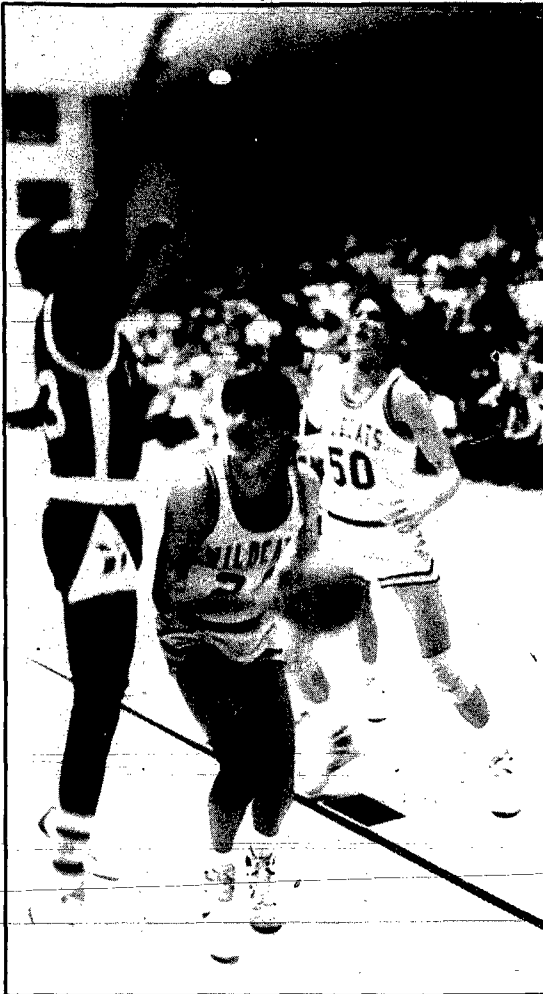

Hurlley hit on 13 of 20 shots from 2-point range and was 5 of 11 from the 3-point area to reach 36 points. Haas contributed 18 points followed by Rosenquist and McNamara each with 14 points and Dunbar with 10 points.

Top rebounders for Wayne State was McNamara with 12 and Haas with 11. Behlen led in assists with six. During the game, Rosenquist, McNamara, Haas and Dunbar each gathered five fouls.

As a team, Wayne State shot 50 percent from the field (6 of 16 from 3-point range) and was 21 of 35 from the free-throw line for 60 percent.

Aggers said the Wildcats are improving with every game.

game, has hampered the Wildcats early in the season. But Aggers sees his team getting "better and better."

On Wednesday night (Dec. 3), the Wildcats kicked off the CSIC league play with an away game against Missouri Western. Then on Monday, Dec. 7, the Wildcats go up against a tough Briar Cliff team in Sioux City.

Chapman: Season not a disappointment

Football record misleading

Despite a 1-8-1 record, the 1987 Wayne State football season was not a disappointment, according to Head Coach Pete Chapman.

Chapman has high praise for the 1987 squad and considers this past season one of the brightest he's been through.

"When you look at what those kids accomplished, playing as hard as they did and making as many good things happen as did, you just have to believe that good things are going to happen in the future," said Chapman.

"They came back after a pretty tough beating and an 0-3 start and played every team in the conference pretty tough. Each week they found the courage and strength to somehow be right there in a position to win. Losing as many close games in the last few minutes like we did, they could have quit, but they didn't."

"It's been a tremendous year of coaching for our staff. Our team had fun playing the game, they learned to respect each other's talent and play together," he said.

The Wildcats' only win came against Missouri Southern in the final home game. A 10-10 tie against Missouri Western came in the season's fourth game.

"A LOT of people will look at our record and think our season was a disappointment, but after looking back on this season, we've accomplished a lot. Our players went through a season experiencing the kinds of things it takes to win championships. That's only going to help us in the future."

The Wildcats lose seven seniors off

This year's squad: offensive linemen Mike Anderson and Ben Lehry; receivers Glenn Mathews and Darin Fulford; quarterback Mark Priegnitz; linebackers Scott Wightman and Greg Cavill; defensive back Jeff Mathers; and defensive lineman Dave Uhlers.

Receiving post-season honors were Dave Uhlers and junior defensive back Mark Volf on the first team of the Central States Intercollegiate Conference (CSIC). Uhlers, Volf and Mike Anderson were named to the first team in District 11 while Anderson and freshman runningback Damon Ross received second team All-CSIC honors.

Volf led the team in tackles with 110, including 79 solo tackles and in interceptions with six with 86 yards in returns. Ross led the Wildcats in rushing with 803 yards on 210 carries for an average of 80 yards a game. Quarterback Scott Raue was 147 of 325 passing for 1,723 yards and 12 touchdowns. Sophomore Brian Jepsen was the team's leading receiver with 34 catches for 335 yards.

Kevin Hagedorn set a school record for most kickoff returns in a season with 29 and for kickoff return yardage in a season with 59 yards. His eight returns against Southwest State for 193 yards are both school records. Raue's 1,723 yards passing ranks him third in the season yardage list and seventh on the career passing list. John Peadirtz and Brian Jepsen both tied the school record for most passes caught in a game with 10. Jepsen's 34 catches this season ranks him tied for ninth on the seasons receiving list.

Record improves to 2-1

Lady Wildcats win nail-biter

It doesn't get any closer than this, folks.

Wayne State College boosted its record to 2-1 with a hard-earned 71-68 victory over perennially tough Morningside College of Sioux City in a game played Tuesday night at Rice Auditorium.

Last year's contest between the Lady Chiefs and Lady Wildcats was a shoot-out, with Morningside winning by a 106-94 score. And this year's contest started out in the same fashion.

Both teams ran hard up and down the floor during the first two minutes of the game. "I thought — here we go again!" said Lady Wildcat Head Coach Lenny Klaver. "But our press slowed them down."

Pressure defense was applied to the Lady Wildcats throughout the entire game. It was the press that resulted in a steal by the game's high scorer, Linda Schnitzler, in the final 45 seconds of the game, with Wayne State leading 69-68. Schnitzler, who finished the game with 21 points, was fouled after the steal while going in for the layup and she made both free throws point to give Wayne State the 71-68 lead. A 3-point shot by Morningside's Carolyn Lamaak was off the mark as the final seconds ticked off.

"This is a great win for our program. What did it for us was our ability to keep the pressure defense on," said Klaver. "This might be somewhat of an unexpected win to the outside. Morningside [now 0-1] has an excellent team."

DURING THE game, Klaver substituted five players at one time. His team's bench depth allowed him to have his top five or six players fresh for the final stretch. He also substituted to protect his players from foul trouble.

The Lady Wildcats managed to have the biggest lead during the first half, 28-23, after trailing in the opening minutes. The score at the end of the see-saw first half stood in Wayne State's favor at 34-33.

It wasn't until about two minutes had lapsed in the second half before the Lady Wildcats got their first basket. They led 52-43 minutes with less than 11 minutes in the game before the Lady Chiefs began a comeback. Morningside pulled ahead at the two minute mark, 64-63. The Lady Wildcats and Lady Chiefs exchanged baskets before Schnitzler's field goal put Wayne State ahead for good at 69-68.

Others in the scoring column for Wayne State were Dawn Bern-Tucker with 9 points; Brenda Schramm, Kae Burke and Kris Smith each with 8 points; Jodene Finck with 7 points; Michelle Blomberg with 6 points; and Nancy Loterbour and Sandra Beaver each with 2 points.

Burke, Bern-Tucker and Smith each pulled down 6 rebounds for the Lady Wildcats.

As a team, Wayne State hit 28 of 70 field goal attempts for a 40 percent mark. Morningside also shot 40 percent from the field. The Lady Wildcats were 15 of 18 from the free throw line (83 percent) while the Lady Chiefs shot 18 of 25 from the foul line.

Blomberg led in assists with 4 and Schnitzler was credited with 4 steals. Leading scorer for Morningside was Paula Hunter with 21 points.

Prior to Tuesday night's win against Morningside, Wayne State lost on the road in overtime to Peru State on Nov. 24 by a close score of 75-74.

Wayne State led at halftime by a 34-30 score. They were led in scoring by Blomberg with 18 points, followed by Smith and Bern-Tucker each with 15 points; and Schnitzler with 14 points.

Blomberg was 4 of 10 from 3-point range.

Top rebounder for the Lady Wildcats was Smith with 10, followed by Bern-Tucker with eight.

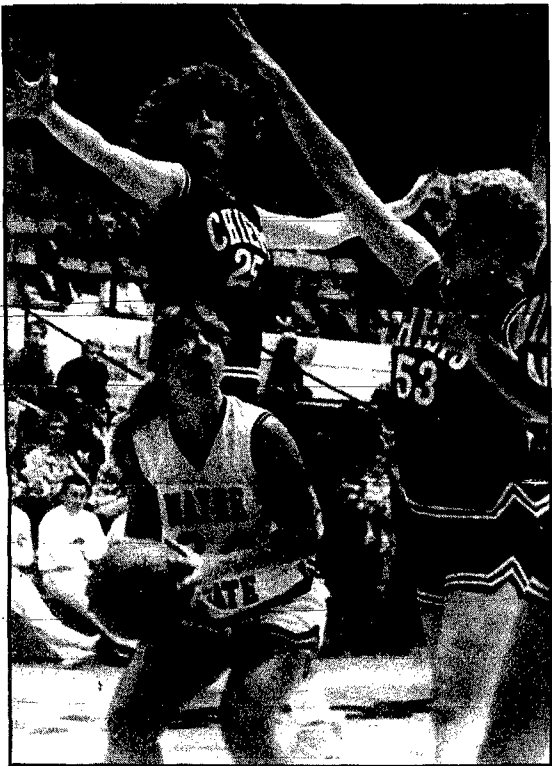

Wayne State shot 43 percent from the field, while Peru State shot at 44 percent. The Lady Wildcats were 12 of 18 from the free throw line.

Next action for the Lady Wildcats will be Dec. 4 and 5 at the University

Bird feeding practice encouraged

People who enjoy bird feeding should begin puffing seed out now so birds in their area will know where their groceries will be coming from all winter.

The only real rules to bird feeding are to begin feeding early in the year and to feed regularly throughout the winter, because once the birds get used to feeding at your feeders they will become dependent on you to provide for them. During very severe weather feeding twice a day may become necessary.

People should also provide a source of clean water for the birds.

Some use electric heaters to keep the water dish from freezing over, while others merely change the water often. Birds also need grit in the winter to help them digest their food, and folks can make poultry grit available to them for that purpose. Nebraskans can expect a variety of birds to visit their feeders during the winter, including bluejays, cardinals, various kinds of sparrows, goldfinches, chickadees and juncos.

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission offers a bird feeding guide that describes various types of bird feeders, gives tips on where to place the feeders, what feeds to use, and when to do the feeding; and a winter bird feeding chart with lots of helpful information.

LEROY BARNER OF Wayne's True Value specializes in assisting customers with selecting sporting goods.

FOR ELECTRICAL NEEDS, customers at Wayne's True Value rely on the expertise of Ruth Elofson.

Customer satisfaction comes first at Wayne's True Value

"We get a lot of requests for thingamabobs and whatzits," smiles Marilyn Ortmeier, who along with her husband Stan and daughter Ruthie own and manage one of Wayne's newest Main Street businesses — Wayne's True Value.

The Ortmeiers opened Wayne's True Value at 121 Main St. on July 7, 1987. "We try to stock whatever our customer needs or wants," says Marilyn, "and if we don't have it we'll do our best to get it."

Wayne's True Value specializes in the Master Electrician, Master Plumber and Master Mechanic product lines. The new and expanded departments include farm and automotive supplies, sporting goods, electronics, small appliances, paint sundries and ladders, toys, gifts, jewelry, lawn and garden supplies in the spring, along with snow blowers and accessories in the winter, and, of course, through the holiday season Christmas trees, decorations and lights.

Electronics is one of the newest departments at Wayne's True Value and includes typewriters, radios, televisions, stereos, VCR's, telephones and all of the accessories.

There also is a large line of small appliances, including microwave ovens, and Wayne's True Value specializes in finding parts for small appliances that through the years have been damaged or lost, whether it be a top for a blender or a lid for a crock pot.

Another popular department — sporting goods — has been expanded and includes such items as body building and exercise equipment, bicycles and tricycles, sleds, wagons, camping supplies, guns, scopes and mounting equipment, ammunition, blue rocks and traps.

"Wayne's True Value carries a full line of heaters and accessories, including kerosene wicks," says Marilyn. "And for farm supplies there are springs, nails, nuts and bolts, including hard to find items in that line."

In addition, Marilyn said Wayne's True Value carries farm heaters, both portable and permanent, and offers repairs on heaters. The store also will stock hog and cattle waterers and a parts supply.

If customers are searching for an electrical or plumbing supply, Marilyn encourages them to try Wayne's True Value first. "We can help you," says Marilyn, "and if you have a problem with any of the equipment give us a chance to help fix it."

Besides the many products Wayne's True Value has to offer, customers also can take advantage of various services. In addition to selling vacuum cleaners and parts, Wayne's True Value also repairs vacuums and rents Tru-Test carpet cleaning machines and supplies.

There also is a trained repairman for small appliances as well as electric shavers. Other services include making keys and sharpening chain saws.

Marilyn points out that Wayne's True Value honors all True Value circulars and plans to expand its own circular coverage to customers outside the Wayne area. "If someone is not receiving a circular and would like one, we hope they will tell us," says Marilyn, "and we'll attempt to cover their area."

Regular store hours at Wayne's True Value are Monday through Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The store remains open until 9 p.m. each Thursday.

During the Christmas season, Wayne's True Value is open each Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. Beginning Dec. 14 and continuing through Christmas, the store will be open each Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., and on Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Marilyn encourages customers to take advantage of free gift wrapping and layaway.

Employees of Wayne's True Value include Ruth Elofson, LeRoy Barner, Wendy Duncan, Jim Duncan, Kyle Huesser, Bryce Lindsay and Ann Eisenmenger.

by Pat McElhenry

It suggested, in the article I read about National Family Week, that we make an effort to strengthen family ties by getting together at family reunions. So we did.

Brother Jim and son Jay were winding up a week of hunting while Linda spent some time with her parents and sister. They were to be back in Lincoln on Saturday. So Grandma Sloehr would cook supper.

They travelled on snow-packed interstate highway from North Platte, sighting many semis jack-knifed along the road. We set out at 11 a.m., through slush and snow and stuff.

The bird was served at 6 p.m. even though they were still playing football in Colorado and by 8, we were ready to start home again.

The highway was slick, allowing 35 mph only and new snow kept coming at us, propelled by the north wind. South of North Bend, we began talking about a motel, so we went west on Highway 30 to look for one in Schuyler. This road was clearer and the snow lightened, so we kept on to Columbus.

Here we filled up the gas tank. It was clear sailing until we went east out of Norfolk. There was a frozen glaze that made driving treacherous and we all said a prayer of relief when we slid into the driveway after midnight.

NOVEMBER was National Alzheimer's Month. I get a newsletter from ADRDA in Lincoln and it is full of helpful advice for people caring for victims of this disorder.

Today's edition reprints "Attitudes for friends of the Handicapped", taken from the Catholic Standard.

Blessed are you who take the time to listen to difficult speech, for you help me know that I persevere. I can be understood.

Blessed are you who never bid me hurry up or take my tasks and do them for me, for I often need time rather than help.

Blessed are you who stand beside me as I enter new and untried ventures, for my failures will be outweighed by the times I surprise myself and you.

Blessed are you who ask for my help, for my greatest need is to be needed.

Blessed are you who understand that it is difficult for me to put my thoughts into words.

Blessed are you who with a smile encourage me to try once more.

Blessed are you who never remind me that today I asked the same question twice.

Blessed are you who respect me and love me as I am, just as I am, and not as you wish I were.

THE NEWSLETTER also has advice on the "special value of laughter", even when the situation doesn't seem humorous.

Includes some one-liners: Weather forecasting has speeded up, but it is still hours behind arthritis.

The person who said "It's easy as taking candy from a baby" never had a baby.

Insanity is hereditary. You get it from your kids.

The nice thing about a laugh is that so much of you has a good time.

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas. I've filled the December calendar with games, parties and Advent services. Somehow, we will remember "the reason for the season" and maintain a sense of humor through cleaning, cookies, and carols.

Brown to receive scholarship

Linda Brown, Executive Vice President of Wayne Industries, Inc. recently received notification that she has been selected as a recipient of a scholarship to Economic Development Institute sponsored by the Nebraska Industrial Developers Association (NIDA).

Brown, one of two recipients in the State of Nebraska, will be attending the week-long course at the University of Missouri in Kansas City, June 19-24, 1988. The Economic Development Institute course is designed to provide intensive training in the basics of economic development and is fully accredited by the American Economic Development Council, Inc.

Brown, a member of NIDA through Wayne Industries, was required to complete an "essay-form" questionnaire to become eligible. Candidates were reviewed by the NIDA Board of Directors and a special scholarship selection committee. Brown is also Executive Vice President of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Golden Years by Gil Haase

A nationwide recreation survey conducted for the National Park Service found that although younger people are, in general, still more active than older Americans, that gap is narrowing. For example, as swimming decreased in popularity among the 18- to 24-year-old set from 75 percent participation in 1965 to 67 percent now, it has increased from 27 to 33 percent among people aged 45 to 64. Likewise, walking for pleasure has dropped in popularity among youngsters, while growing rapidly among their elders.

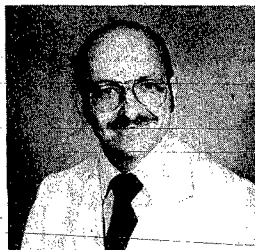

Whether it's Alzheimer's disease, or memory loss and confusion from other causes, there are nearly a half million senior citizens who wander — straying away from home, perhaps into danger. When they get lost, they get frightened — and so do their families or other caretakers. Dr. Doris Rouse, a NASA scientist, says a device used to keep tabs on astronauts in space may also have application on earth to keep tabs on "wanderers."

Remember When? June 30, 1958 — The Senate approved Alaska's admission to the United States as the 49th state.

Presented as a public service to our senior citizens, and the people who care about them by the Wayne Care Centre, 918 Main Street, Wayne, Nebraska 68787, 375-1922.

Shake Well Before Using

Most of the medicines that carry "shake well" labels are suspensions. A suspension is a liquid with fine particles of active ingredients dispersed throughout water or other solvents. When first manufactured, the particles are evenly dispersed. With time, these particles either settle to the bottom or rise to the top of the container.

A potential hazard associated with suspensions that are not properly shaken before being used is that they may deliver doses that are too strong or too weak. If active ingredients settle to the bottom, for example, the doses first taken may contain only water or flavoring agents. The last doses would contain the concentrated drug product.

Drug manufacturers frequently prepare medicines in a variety of dosage forms in order to avoid problems associated with suspensions. This is not possible, however, in the case of every medicine. When instructed to shake the medicine well before using, do so with a vigorous side-to-side rotating-type motion while holding the container near the top. Don't forget to keep the bottle cap closed tightly.
