Free VCR

The Wayne Public Library is one of 600 public libraries across the nation to win a free videocassette recorder through the American Library Association-Carnegie Video Project. The VCR gift commemorates the 75th anniversary of the Carnegie Corporation.

The 1,681 U.S. public libraries built with funding from philanthropist Andrew Carnegie were eligible, and in the spirit of the original Carnegie library funding program, libraries applying agreed to match the gift with a TV monitor or with $300 in educational/special interest video.

The library plans to purchase educational, travel, health and business videos.

Also, the library plans on using the VCR for the children's storyhour. It has a video player which can be checked out by any community group, organization or church.

The VCR gift program is part of a project sponsored by the American Library Association and the Carnegie Corporation with the goal of enhancing the role of videocassettes in libraries.

PEER program to be initiated at Middle School

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Managing Editor

Wayne Middle School will be beginning a program in late January or early February that is designed to increase the young students' self-esteem.

A program called PEER (Positive Educational Experiences in Relationships) was explained to the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education during its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon by Middle School Principal Dick Metteer.

The purpose of PEER is to increase young peoples' self-esteem which leads to decrease in self-destructive behaviors such as drug/alcohol abuse, smoking, vandalism, teen suicide and other situations, according to Metteer.

PEER is a group interaction program which trains students in the four basic skills of communication, self-awareness, decision-making and goal-setting.

Students participate in fun, thought-provoking activities that stimulate discussion and sharing of ideas and feelings, learning to express themselves and become more aware of their fellow students' feelings.

Metteer said at least 11 teachers have attended workshops and are ready for the PEER program as they help students learn to communicate their feelings and feel better about themselves and the people around them.

He said it is more than just saying "no" to drugs or alcohol, as recent campaigns have stressed. "Students must feel that they are being supported for saying no," he mentioned.

"It's not easy for us to get started. We're getting into areas where kids are receptive to communication. Confidentiality is important," said Metteer.

THE BOARD of education also had a discussion with Elementary Principal Dave Lutt about the recently formed West Elementary Boosters — a parents organization.

Lutt said most of the current members are relatively new to the community and would like to be more involved with the school.

"All the goals and objectives of the organization are not clearly defined.

Its main goal, however, is to give support to the elementary school," said Lutt.

"This is not a gripe session group," he added.

They would welcome new parents that come into the community or assist in field trips or class parties.

"It will take time to see how the organization works out," Lutt said.

Lutt said the future of the organization will depend on the amount of interest shown through attendance at the scheduled meetings.

ALSO TUESDAY, the school board:

•Was presented a report by Marlene Uhing and Lonnie Ehrhardt on the Health Physical Education, focusing on the drug and alcohol education programs currently being offered to students at the freshmen level and beyond.

•Heard a report from Superintendent Francis Haun concerning his appearance at the Court of Industrial Relations court hearing Friday, Dec. 4 in Lincoln. He testified at the hearing for most of the afternoon.

Teacher contract negotiations with the WEA for the 1987-88 year are currently in the hands of the Court of Industrial Relations.

"We have no indication of what the outcome will be. It could be four months before it is decided," said Haun.

•Were informed by Superintendent Haun about the requirement that each and every public and private school across the country begin complying with the regulations of the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act. These regulations require districts to inspect for asbestos by October of next year and to monitor all forms of the cancer-causing substance where it is found.

The Nebraska Department of Health can levy up to $5,000 per day for each violation.

Haun said a certified inspector should look over the Wayne-Carroll schools. The firm of Jackson and Jackson will train an individual to do the inspection. "In February, the individual will be qualified to make a recommendation."

•Were also informed that the Athletic Task Force committee will be dismissed at the present time. Like the recently reorganized Sensitivity Issues Committee, the task

Over the past several years, the reoccurring problems of vandalism and theft have plagued the Wayne State College of Nebraska campus.

Instances such as broken car windows, false fire alarms, and money stolen from dorm rooms have been commonplace. But enough is enough. Now, with the aid of the Wayne State Student Senate and the Social Sciences Division, a "Neighborhood Watch," offshoot program is forming to help eliminate some of the destructive occurrences.

Max Lundstrom, dean of student services at Wayne State, would like to see the program in effect beginning second semester.

"It's nothing really elaborate," said Lundstrom. "We just have to get more people involved, namely the students."

"There's only one campus security officer on duty much of the time," he continued, "and with 127 acres and all the buildings to look after, one officer can't see and cover everything. What we need is the students' help, especially at night."

There are several ways students can help, said Lundstrom. "For example, if they were walking back to the dorm from parking their car and saw some suspicious activity, all they'd have to do is call the city police and have them contact our campus security to investigate the situation."

ANOTHER MANNER in which students can participate is through the distribution of warning cards being designed by the Student Senate.

Said Lundstrom, "These cards are

Cablevision makes request for TV franchise extension

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Managing Editor

Wayne Cablevision representatives have asked the city council to grant an extension for its TV franchise up to the year 2000.

Dean Wandrey, general manager of Northeast Nebraska Cablevision, LTD. of Denver, Colorado, which is affiliated with the Wayne Cablevision franchise, appeared before the city council Tuesday evening requesting the extension.

The ordinance which granted the non-exclusive Cable TV franchise to Wayne Cablevision expires in 1990. Meeting bank obligations and inquiries of the sale of property require a more lengthy time on the franchise — more than just the three years remaining for the term of the ordinance that initially granted the franchise.

In a letter to the council, Wandrey earlier wrote that the bank "has a concern about the short period remaining on the franchise since it means that the business effectively must discontinue service and would have no revenue with which to pay off the balance of the loan at the time the franchise expires."

"Also, we are constantly adding channels, rebuilding segments of the systems and making extensions to the system. These capital expenditures will only pay out over a period of years. We therefore desire to have the knowledge that we truly have a cable system for several years into the future," Wandrey wrote.

"He said the company has been approached by several cable operators about the possibility of purchasing Wayne Cablevision. "In each of these cases, the short duration of the remaining franchise was a concern," he mentioned.

The city council voted to have City Attorney Kem Swarts redraft areas of the franchise ordinance that needs upgrading, and have it ready for the Dec. 22 council meeting for consideration.

Swarts said the cable television is becoming more and more removed from city council and city control. Decision on rates charged by the cable company are no longer made by the city council, he said.

City Administrator Phil Kloster suggested that the council, as part of the agreement for the extension, stipulate that the operator of cable television allow for the installation of some sort of indoor warning system.

In other action Tuesday, the city council was addressed by Jim Markham, manager of Peoples Natural Gas in Wayne, and Penny Trvrk, a representative of Peoples, to dispel stories going around that there are some major changes in the Peoples organization.

"As manager, I will stay in Wayne and call the shots in Wayne," said Markham.

Stories were also going around that the municipality was going to buy up the gas system.

Trvrk said there are "no secret bonanzas that communities can take advantage of" if municipalities buy out the gas system.

She said the Peoples Natural Gas system in Wayne is not for sale. Theoretically, it is possible to put millions into the city treasury if the municipality purchases the gas system. "But the only way they can do that is by raising rates. And we're talking about another form of a tax," she added.

The council also tabled a resolution to make assessments in Street Improvement District 84-5 — East 4th Street south of Villa Wayne — for further evaluation.

News and Notes

Illusion of Santa Claus still OK

The last days before Christmas are full of excitement, secrets, expectations, fantasies, and often lots of questions. "Mommy, does Santa make all those toys? How can he be in all those stores at the same time? Mommy, where does Santa really come from?" And finally, the ever pressing question, "There really isn't a Santa Claus, is there Daddy?"

IN TODAY'S SOCIETY, where honesty and reality are key issues, some parents feel that fostering the Santa Claus myth could be harmful to their children. They are afraid their children may become distrustful when they learn their parents have encouraged them to believe in an imaginary person. A dilemma? Not really. The myth won't hurt children. To some extent, all of us, especially children, live in an imaginary world. It is a counterpoint to the real world that lets us explore our creativity without hurting anyone or anything. The joy that most children experience with Santa Claus is worth the later disillusionment.

TO A FOUR through six-year-old, Santa is a very real person. They are insistent and emotional about their belief in Santa and will deny fiercely any hint that this isn't so. They unshakably believe with delight everything about Santa. They write letters to him, plan to visit him, and lie awake Christmas Eve waiting for him to arrive. Santa is personified in everything good, helpful, giving and joyful in the world and as such, has become an integral part of the American Christmas tradition.

I RECENTLY HEARD a song by the Statler brothers on the local radio station. One line that portrayed the song's theme caught my attention. It was "I believe in Santa's cause." Belief in Santa, however imaginary, tends to help foster the traits of generosity, charity and caring in children. As children learn the truth, they also learn they can be like Santa. Often the transition from believing to disbelief is gradual. At about age seven or eight, children hear bits and pieces at school, from friends or older brothers or sisters, or even from parents. The first time they hear that there may not be a Santa, they probably won't believe it. They are just not ready, so they block out what they do not want to hear. They are afraid not to believe in Santa. They think that if they don't believe, they might not get any presents.

USUALLY, SHORT-TERM disappointment accompanies the truth about Santa, until they realize that by growing up, they also can learn to keep the cherished secret about Santa. After the truth is out, don't banish Santa from the family. Hanging up Christmas stockings, leaving cookies and milk for St. Nick, and opening presents are all part of the family tradition.

Columbus Federal Committed to quality service and banking products

Columbus Federal Savings Bank has provided financial service to the Wayne area since November 1976 when a branch office was opened at 112 W. 2nd St.

In June of 1978, Columbus Federal began serving its customers from a new location and office at 220 W. 7th St. in Wayne.

Carol Niemann, manager of the Wayne office, said since 1976 Columbus Federal customers in the Wayne area have come to count on the consistent commitment to quality service and quality banking products that Columbus Federal provides.

Those services and products include certificates, annuities, checking and money market checking, day-to-day savings, IRA's, home mortgages and car loans, along with student loans.

Although the Wayne branch office opened just 11 years ago, Columbus Federal Savings Bank has a long tradition of providing quality banking services to Nebraska residents. Columbus Land, Loan and Building Association was incorporated over 100 years ago — on April 19, 1886.

The first branch office was established at York in 1973. Since that time, other branches have been established at Seward, Fremont, Wayne, a home office branch in Columbus, and loan offices in Lincoln and Omaha.

As the financial institution's second century of service begins, Columbus Federal has rededicated itself to being strong and safe, providing sound financial service, and being an asset to the community.

Helping to provide those services in the Wayne office are tellers Marvel Rahn, Barb Barner, Sandra Sutton and Joan Meyer.

Office hours in Wayne are Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon.

Turnovers significant

WSC loses to UNO

It was the inability of Wayne State to match up with the defensive pressure of the University of Nebraska-Omaha that caused the downfall of the Wildcats in their 83-64 loss Thursday night to the Mavericks.

The Wildcats scored first following two free throws by freshman Steve Dunbar. The lead changed hands several times during the first 10 minutes of the first half and Wayne State had a 17-16 lead with 9:04 remaining. A layup by UNO's Brian Leach at the 8:22 mark gave the Mavericks the lead for good at 18-17.

Within the next five minutes, UNO had outscored the Wildcats by a 16-4 margin, taking advantage of costly turnovers by the Wayne State offense. UNO led at half-time 37-25.

Wayne State scored the first bucket of the second half to pull within 10 points, but UNO reeled off 10 straight points to take a 20 point lead with about three minutes gone in the half.

"We played well the first 12 minutes and controlled the tempo of the game," said Wildcat Head Coach Steve Aggers. "But we didn't play well the second half. We went from bad to worse. We didn't handle the defensive pressure and we made some mental errors."

"I was very disappointed in our effort," Aggers said.

He said his team must become more consistent and that the team needs better leadership from its older players.

He said coaching, too, was a fault in relation to the team's poor offensive execution.

The Wildcats were led in scoring by Dunbar, who tossed in 16 points. Dunbar was five of six in field goal attempts and one of one from the free throw line.

Also in double figures were Russ Rosenquist with 11 points and Byron Haas who tossed in 10 points.

Leading rebounder for the Wildcats was Mike McNamara with six, followed by Dunbar with five. Wayne State shot 47.1 percent from the field and were 13 of 21 from the line. UNO hit on 55.2 percent of their field goal attempts and were 6 of 10 from the free throw line.

Rosenquist registered five steals against the Mavericks.

UNO was led in scoring by Tom Thompson, who tossed in 22 points.

The Wildcats committed 26 turnovers in the game — 13 in each half. UNO had 20 turnovers.

The next game for the Wayne State Wildcats is Monday, Dec. 14 when they go on the road and take on Huron College in Huron, South Dakota.

Lady Cats beat St. Mary's

Putting together an excellent defensive effort, the Wayne State College Lady Wildcats won on the road Tuesday night defeating the College of Saint Mary's by a score of 66-46.

Wayne State's pressure throughout the game on the 84' foot court at Morton High School in Omaha may have helped in the Lady Wildcat's efforts to defeat Saint Mary's.

"Our press worked effectively, causing Saint Mary's to commit 32 turnovers. We were able to convert baskets off our press," said Lady Wildcat Head Coach Lenny Klaver.

Klaver said Dawn Berni-Tucker played her best game this year against Saint Mary's. She was a perfect seven of seven in field goal attempts and two of four from the free throw line, which adds up to 16 points.

She also had five steals in the game.

Also in double figures for the Lady Wildcats were Linda Schnitzler with 15 points and Kae Burke, starting for the injured Kris Smith, scored 10 points, while leading the team in rebounding with eight.

Jodene Flack came off the bench to score six points, grab seven rebounds and block five shots which is a record for the Wayne State girls basketball team according to Assistant Coach Paul Thomas in a comment he made at Thursday's Second Guessers Meeting.

Wayne State shot 48 percent from the field and were 7 of 14 from the free throw line. Saint Mary's shot only 39 percent from the outside while making 9 of 21 free throw attempts.

Wayne State's Schnitzler, averaging 18 points per game in the last four outings, also had five steals and led in assists with four.

Thomas said the Lady Wildcats must continue working on rebounds. In the contest against St. Mary's, Wayne State was outrebounded by a 42-35 margin.

The Lady Wildcats jumped to a 35-24 half-time lead. Michelle Blomberg made Wayne State's only 3-point shot.

Leading scorer for Saint Mary's was Marci Moser with 12 points.

Wayne State was whistled for 19 fouls, while Saint Mary's committed 11 fouls.

On Saturday (Dec. 12) the 4-2 Lady Wildcats faced Chadron at Rice Auditorium in a 2 p.m. contest. Their next game will be Monday, Dec. 14 when they take on Briar Cliff College in Sioux City.

Saturday Wayne State hosts Chadron State at Rice Auditorium in a game that starts at 2 p.m. Two days later (Monday, Dec. 15) the Lady Wildcats face Briar Cliff College at the Newman Flanagan Center in Sioux City, starting at 5:15 p.m.

Chadron is currently 7-1 on the year.

Wakefield triumphs over Wausa

Wakefield High's first win of the season couldn't have been more timely as the Trojans slipped past Wausa, 56-53, Friday night in a game played at Wakefield.

Trojan Head Coach Paul Eaton said his team played at 100 percent the whole 32 minutes of the game. And it was that extra effort by Todd Kratke on a rebound with about 10 seconds left in the game that gave Wakefield the lead for good and their first win of the 1987-88 campaign.

The first quarter proved to be an indication as to how the entire game would be played — both teams hustling up and down the floor at a fast pace. "We played a hard defense, with only a few breakdowns. We did a lot of things right," said Eaton.

"Last year, Wausa scored 46 points on us in the first half. And they have four starters back from a year ago. So we beat a pretty good team," Eaton mentioned.

Eaton said his assistant coach's (Arnie Cerny) revised defensive match-ups near the end of the game, when Wausa's top scorer Ken Claussen fouled out of the game with 22 points, was a big key to the win.

"Arnie certainly deserves the credit," said Eaton. Wakefield was able to play 10 kids in the game, allowing the starters to take a well-deserved rest from the hustle on the court.

He commended the playing of Matt Tappe and Andy McQuistan coming off the bench. Tappe was Wakefield's third leading scorer with 10 points. Top scorer for the Trojans was Mike Nelson with 14 points followed by Kratke with 12 points. Kratke also had two 3-pointers in the game.

Wakefield jumped to a 5-0 lead in the first two minutes of the game, but Wausa came storming back and took the lead at the end of the first quarter, 12-11. The game was knotted at 25-25 when the half-time buzzer sounded.

Wausa did one point better in the third quarter against the Trojans and led 41-40.

In the final eight minutes, Wakefield outscored Wausa 16-12 to clinch the victory.

Wakefield hit on 24 of 72 total field goal attempts while Wausa was 23 of 81 from outside. At the free throw line, Wakefield was 6 of 14 while Wausa shot a better percentage, 6 of 9.

Both teams had an equal amount of rebounds (44) and an equal amount of turnovers (9).

Winside grapplers split in double dual meet

The Winside Wildcats, wrestling with only seven individuals for the 13 weight classes, managed a split in double dual action Thursday night at Winside.

In the first match, the Wildcats lost to Pender by a 54-16 score. The Wildcats forfeited in the 119, 145, 152, 160, 171 and 189 pound weight classes.

In between all that, the Wildcats got two wins by decision from Mace Kant at 130 pounds and Max Kant at 135 pounds.

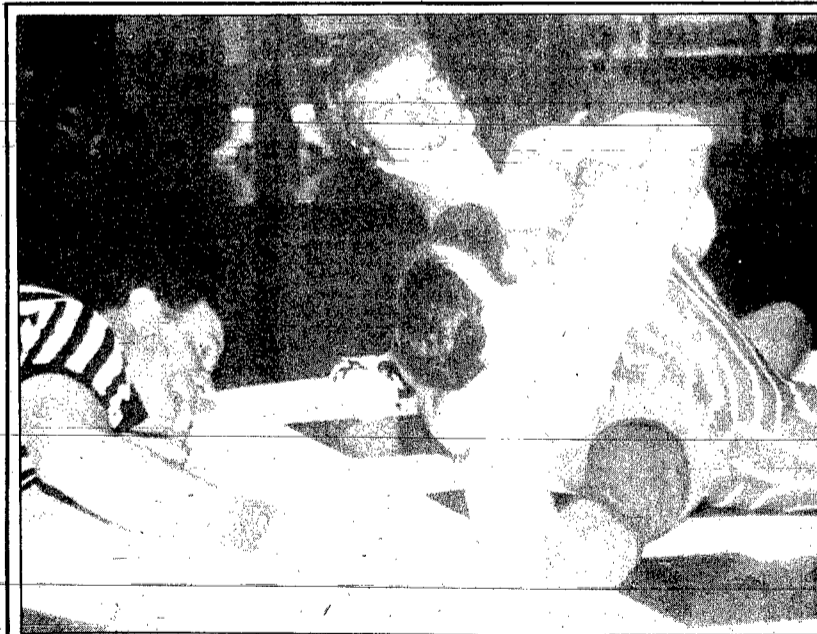

Mace won by a 10-0 decision over Beckman from Pender and Max easily handled his opponent (Maize) with a 16-1 decision.

Winside's only other points came on a Pender forfeit at the 103 pound weight class. Others wrestling for Winside against Pender were Jeff Carlson (112), who lost an 8-1 decision; Doug Paulsen (125), who lost a close 3-2 match to Higgins; Kerry Jaeger (140) who was pinned by Hilker in 5:15; and Brian Thompson (Hvy), who was pinned by Fraise in 1:37.

Winside came back in their second match of the night against West Point Central Catholic, winning by a 30-24 score.

Wildcat Chad Carlson got things rolling with a pin at 103 against Schinstock in the second period.

Max Kant, wrestling at 140, defeated Ron Wordekemper of West Point by a topside 18-1 score. Winside forfeited at 119 and 152. Both teams were open at 135, 160, 171 and 189. Paulsen, Mace Kant and Brian MAX KANT WINS by technical fall over Ron Wordekemper of West Point Central Catholic in Tuesday's double dual.

Thompson each won by forfeit against West Point Central Catholic.

Against Pender, Wildcat Head Coach Paul Sok said his team was hurting on experience at the 112 and 140 weight class.

"Max and Mace Kant are wrestling well. But they have a tough time because the people they wrestle tend to stall against them," said Sok.

Paulsen's loss against the Pender opponent came about, he said, because he lost track of the time at the end of the match.

Winside Junior high individuals who wrestled Thursday night against West Point Central Catholic were Jason Magwire, who pinned Englemeyer; Jason Kruger, who pinned Gustafson; Cory Miller, who was decided by Gustafson; and Cory Jensen, who was decided by Englemeyer.

The next meet for the Winside Wildcats is the North Bend Invitational-Tournament on Saturday. The tournament features five Class B teams and two Class C teams.

"The tough tournament competition has helped us in the past to build on," said Sok.

Pender also defeated West Point Central Catholic in the double dual by a 62-6 margin.

Winside wrestling results against Pender are as follows: 103 — Chad Carlson (W) won by forfeit.

112 — Jeff Carlson () lost by decision, 8-1, to Blair.

119 — Winside forfeited to Miller.

125 — Doug Paulsen (W) lost by decision, 3-2, to Higgins.

Blue Devil early lead slips by in 50-32 loss to Battle Creek

Battle Creek must have been wondering what had hit them in the first quarter of their game Thursday night against the Wayne-Carroll Lady Blue Devils.

A Lady Blue Devil full-court pressure defense staked Wayne to a 13-2 run and a 13-8 first quarter lead over the Bravettes. But Battle Creek recovered and went on to win the contest by a 50-32 score.

"We did a good job of pressuring Battle Creek in the first quarter," said Wayne-Carroll Head Coach Marlene Uhing.

Battle Creek, looking at a 13-2 deficit before their home fans, called a time out. At that time, the Lady Blue Devils also made an adjustment in their pressure defense.

The Bravettes rallied back and outscored the Lady Blue Devils 18-4 in the second quarter. Wayne stayed within striking distance, but Battle Creek was able to pull away in the fourth quarter to preserve a victory.

"The difference in the game was that we gave them second shots. They had 15 offensive rebounds against us. We had a good full-court defense, but we didn't keep them off the boards," said Uhing.

Uhing said her team handled the Battle Creek full-court defensive pressure well. "We only had seven turnovers in the game. That was a positive thing for us. The better teams we play this year will be doing that to us," she said.

She said the game was close until the last two minutes of the third quarter. "Basically, we ran out of gas, fired from the full-court pressure and we became less effective," Uhing said.

None of the Lady Blue Devils reached double figures. Senior Marlene Bruggeman registered nine points while Teresa Ellis chipped in seven. As a team, Wayne was 3 of 6 from the free throw line.

Three point field goals were made by Ellis, Holly Paige and Bruggeman.

From the field, however, the Lady Blue Devils were 3 of 10 from 3 point range and only 13-52 (25 percent) in total field goal attempts.

Battle Creek outrebounded Wayne, 28-19. Leading rebounder for Wayne was Kristy Hansen with five.

Battle Creek led at half-time, 26-17 and 39-31 at the end of the third quarter. Mary Schnitzler scored 18 points to lead the Bravettes.

In junior varsity action, Wayne-Carroll was defeated by a 35-29 score. Jennifer Hammer and Heidi Reeg each scored in eight points. Hammer was also the team's leading rebounder with five.

The Lady Blue Devils take on West Point at home on Monday, Dec. 14, in Wayne. "This will be a tough game. West Point is one of the best teams in our district and play the same style as Battle Creek," said Uhing.

Lady Trojans rocked by Wausa Lady Vikings at Wakefield

As state tournament qualifiers for the past two years, the Wausa Lady Vikings showed the Wakefield Lady Trojans why they could be a team to be reckoned with and a good choice to make the state tournament this basketball season.

Wausa defeated Wakefield by a score of 61-26.

Wakefield Head Coach Ellie Studer said Wausa is a sound team both offensively and defensively. "They play with good court sense," said Studer.

The Lady Vikings outscored Wakefield 22-6 in the first quarter. In the second quarter, neither team could find the hoop as Wausa scored just six points to Wakefield's two.

But Wausa came alive in the second half, lighting up the board for 22 points to Wakefield's six in the third quarter.

The Lady Trojans owned the fourth quarter, outscoring Wausa 12-11. As a team, Wakefield shot 27 percent from the field, compared to the Trojans' 45 percent from outside. The Trojans were 2 of 12 from the charity stripe, while Wausa made 9 of 20 from the line.

Leading scorer for Wakefield was Cindy Easley and Kodi Nelson, each with six points. Nelson also led in rebounds with 12. Wakefield outrebounded Wausa by a 36-24 margin.

Twenty-eight turnovers were committed by the Lady Trojans, compared to less than three for Wausa.

The next game for Wakefield is Monday night (Dec. 14) as they host Emerson.

Allen Eagles clipped by Ponca

The Allen Eagles lost to Ponca Friday night by a 75-35 score.

"We had two good quarters — the first and the third," said Eagle Head Coach Dave Uldrich.

"The other two we were ragged and just lost our concentration," he said.

Ponca jumped to a 13-6 first quarter lead and led 37-15 at half-time. Allen scored 12 points to Pon-ca's 16 in the third quarter, but were outscored 22-8 in the last eight minutes.

The Eagles committed 28 turnovers to Ponca's 14. Allen was also outrebounded by Ponca 29-40.

Leading Allen in scoring was Matt Hingst with three field goals, 7 of 13 free throws for 13 points. Next high scorer was Todd Hohenstein with seven points.

Top rebounder for the Eagles was Kent Chase with five.

Allen converted on 11 of 36 field goal attempts and 13 of 26 free throws. Ponca made good on 31 of 71 shots from the outside and hit on 8 of 19 free throws.

The next game for the Allen Eagles is Tuesday, Dec. 15 as they travel to Hartington.

Laurel gals get big win at Randolph

Winning on the road is nice. But when a team beats an always tough Randolph girls basketball team on the Cardinals home court — that's a real treat.

Laurel-Concord accomplished the task Friday evening, as they defeated Randolph by a 36-30 margin.

It was the shooting heroics of Becky Christensen and Tama Reifenrath in the second half that led the win for the Lady Bears, who upped their record to 2-3 on the year.

Christensen, who led Laurel in team scoring with 15 points, got most of her buckets in the late stages of the game.

"Becky scored eight of her total 15 points in the fourth quarter, when we really needed them," said Laurel Head Coach Pam Thies, who was pleased with the Lady Bears' effort.

Reifenrath got most of her points in the third quarter and hit two clutch free throws in the fourth quarter to cushion the Lady Bear lead.

Neither Randolph or Laurel took control of the game in the first half. In both quarters, the Lady Bears were outscored by Randolph 12-8 and 5-2, with the score at half-time standing at 17-10 in favor of the Cardinals.

But the second half belonged to Laurel. They outscored the Cardinals 10-6 in the third quarter and 16-6 in the final stanza to claim the victory.

Laurel dominated the boards against Randolph, pulling down 36 rebounds to their 24. Christensen led Laurel in rebounds with 15, followed by Reifenrath with 10.

The Lady Bears improved over past games in one area — they didn't commit as many turnovers. Laurel had 19, way below their previous outings. "We did a better job of holding on to the ball against Randolph," said Thies.

As a team, Laurel hit on 13 of 43 shots from the field for a 30 percent clip.

Thies said it was nice to be ahead late in the game "so the other team had to foul us."

"It's nice to have it that way. It certainly makes it that much easier for us," she said.

One of the weaker performances in Laurel's game Friday night was the team's performance at the free throw line, where they made 10 of 22 shots. Randolph had an equally difficult time at the stripe, hitting on only 8 of 21 attempts.

Amy Alderson led all Randolph scorers with eight points.

Neither team made any shots from the 3-point line.

The next game for the Lady Bears is slated for Monday in Laurel when they host Ponca.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

The Laurel's City Council regular monthly meeting included discussions on the work the Telenational Communications Company will be carrying out to fix poor reception for cable customers in this area this week and next.

The police report included 98 assists for the month, investigations of four non-injury related accidents, and involvement in a theft recovery.

The HUD 312 program was discussed, which includes the use of federal funded moneys to be loaned for the restoration of dilapidated homes.

Councilman Mallatt expressed to members that one citizen in Laurel was interested in the program.

The donation of a motorized wheel chair by Neal and Maxine Felber was acknowledged. Resignations were accepted from the Laurel Fire Department and the rescue squad, and there was an update on the newly purchased ambulance.

Just friendly little reminders with the telephone numbers of the police, campus security and other emergency numbers on them.

"If a student is walking by a car, and notices the window down, he or she can drop one of these cards inside and maybe with a message saying, 'I noticed your window down and you could have had something stolen.' Now that's a bonafide program."

The program also serves another purpose. It gets the students thinking about the safety of their own belongings. "You'd be surprised how many kids say, 'But I just went down to the restroom for five minutes!' after they've had something stolen from their room that was unlocked," said Lundstrom.

From July 2 to October 19 of this year, nearly $2,000 was stolen from students and various other campus organizations, along with numerous accounts of vandalism to automobiles and buildings. This amount includes money as well as items stolen and stems only from the instances that were reported.

Lundstrom said Wayne State wanted this program to be done the right way and done professionally. "In the past when we had a rash of false fire alarms, I spoke with the students about it. I told them that they could stop them anytime they wanted to because someone knew who was doing it. All they had to do was come forward."

"We may not catch anybody," concluded Lundstrom, "but if we stop a few people by making them think twice, then we've still accomplished something."
