At A Glance

Daub visit

Cindy Daub, wife of Congressman Hal Daub who is a candidate for the U.S. Senate, will be visiting Wayne Thursday, Feb. 4, attending a coffee at the home of Jane March in Wayne from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Cindy formerly was the coordinator for respite care for Health and Human Services Secretary Bowen. She recently resigned her post to campaign for her husband.

CPR classes

Wayne Knights of Columbus and St. Mary's Parish will be sponsoring a 6-hour CPR class on Monday, Feb. 8 and 15, from 7 to 10 p.m. each night. KC's, parish members and others are welcome, but class size is limited to 16 individuals. The Wayne Civil Air Patrol is also sponsoring a CPR class, Thursday, Feb. 11 and 18 from 7 to 10 p.m. This class is open to the public. Location of the classes are at Providence Medical Center in the Student Health room (classroom). Participating cost is $3.50. For more information or reservations, call Providence Medical Center and ask for Louise Jenness.

Heart program

The Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association will sponsor a program tonight (Monday) at 7:30 p.m. at the Black Knight in Wayne, entitled "New Advances in Heart Pumps." The program was originally slated to be held in the Woman's Club room but was changed to the Black Knight because of conflicts in scheduling. Presenting the program is Steve Peterson, certified clinical perfusionist and a registered vascular technologist. Peterson had worked with open heart surgeries since 1972 and is currently employed at the offices of Drs. Roman and Stevens in Sioux City. The public is invited to attend tonight's program.

24 hour lobby

Wayne Postmaster Tom Jones announced Thursday that the Wayne post office lobby will be open "24 hours a day, seven days a week" beginning Saturday, Jan. 31. All the services provided in the lobby, such as the stamp purchase machine, copy machine and post office box mail pick-up, will be available during the 24 hours, according to Jones.

Error noted

In Thursday's article which listed those people that have terms expiring on area councils and boards, information provided to The Wayne Herald concerning the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education was inaccurate. The Wayne-Carroll Board of Education terms of Carter Peterson, Joyce Reeg and Arnold Emry do not expire this year. Instead, the terms of Becky Keidel, Neil Sandahl and Sidney Hillier end in 1988.

Filings

Incumbent County Commissioner Robert Nissen filed Friday for re-election to the Wayne County District 2 Commissioner post, according to information from the Wayne County Clerk's Office. Also, Clyde R. Flowers filed for election for the position of Wayne City Council Ward 4.

Mash recommended as WSC president

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor
Dr. Donald Mash, Executive Vice President for Administration at George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia, has been recommended to become Wayne State College's ninth president.

Dr. DONALD MASH, pictured above, will be the candidate recommended for the Wayne State College president's post.

The Wayne State College President Selection Committee announced its recommendation, Saturday. The Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges will consider the recommendation at the board meeting Feb. 12 in Lincoln.

Dr. Mash, age 45, was the unanimous choice of the selection committee. Mash is expected to begin his term on June 1, 1988. He succeeds Dr. Thomas Coffey, who resigned in April, 1987. Dr. Joseph Fleck, Dean of Graduate Studies and Head of the School of Education, has been serving as interim president.

"Realizing that the recommendation of the Committee has yet to be approved by the full board, I want to express my appreciation to Dr. Fleck for moving Wayne State College forward in this transition period. His cooperation and guidance are invaluable," said Peter Kotsiopoulos of Kearney, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Board of Trustee member Gretchen Hirschbach of South Sioux City, also a member of the Selection Committee, complimented the Local Review and Comment Committee for its enthusiastic involvement in the selection process and for its special contribution of hosting campus visits for the candidates.

CHAIRMAN OF the Selection Committee, Thomas Morrissey of Tecumseh (board of trustee member) said: "I want to thank the campus and regional personnel and the members of the Board of Trustees for responding to the demanding schedule of the selection process. I believe that Dr. Mash is an outstanding individual who is well-suited to the presidency at Wayne State College." Dr. Mash earned his Ph.D. degree in the Higher Education Program at Ohio State University and has been at George Mason University for 13 years. He served as Vice President for Student Affairs from 1975 to 1985.

He holds a M.A. degree in Social Sciences (Geography) from the University of Pittsburgh and the B.S. degree in Education from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Previous experience includes Dean of Student Services at Ohio Dominican College in Columbus, Ohio, from 1968-75 and Instructor of Geography at the University of Pittsburgh Bradford Campus from 1965-68.

Dr. Mash's family includes wife, Julie, an office automation specialist, and two daughters — Maria, age 18, a first year student at the University of Virginia and Christina, age 16, a high school 10th grader.

DR. MASH stated: "I am honored to be recommended for the presidency of Wayne State College. I liked what I saw at Wayne State very much. There is tremendous potential there."

"I have been very impressed with the people I met — a dedicated faculty and staff and hardworking students. I have been equally impressed with the Nebraska State College Board's commitment to public higher education and the Board's keen awareness of the cause-effect relationship between quality public higher education and regional economic development."

Mash said he is looking forward to working with the campus and the external communities at Wayne, as well as with the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges and the presidents of the other state colleges.

"My family and I are excited about the move and the change in living environment. Frankly, June 1 can't come soon enough," he said. The enrollment at George Mason University has quadrupled to over 18,000 students since 1972 with a corresponding growth in buildings and programs, including the law degree and several Ph.D. degrees.

George Mason University has received recent national recognition in the Wall Street Journal, Time Magazine, U.S. News and World Report, and The Chronicle of Higher Education.

ALLAN W. Oster, president, American Association of State Colleges and Universities, stated: "George Mason University is one of the most dynamic institutions in the country at this time. It has developed very good working relationships with the region where it is located."

Said Dr. James L. Fisher, President Emeritus of the Council for Advancement and Support of Higher Education, a national organization devoted to fundraising and professional advancement: "I doubt that any public university in America has achieved such distinction in so short a time as George Mason University. "Don has been a key party to the dramatic development there and during this time has handled his professional responsibilities brilliantly. Because of his extraordinary success, he has been celebrated and yet he has maintained a modest and refined demeanor."

"I believe that Don Mash will quickly join the front ranks of our college presidents."

"I can think of no one so qualified for a position as challenging as this one as is Don Mash. He will certainly do well, and we will wish him well, but we do not know what we will do without him," said Dr. George W. Johnson, President of George Mason University.

Another member of the President Selection Committee was board of trustee member Celia Ann LaGreca of Omaha. Kotsiopoulos served as ex-officio on the committee.

statistical comparisons during Tuesday night's city council meeting.

During 1987, the police department fielded 43 less complaints (1,683) than the year before. There were 71 less justifiable 911 calls made over 1986.

One hundred seventy-five criminal complaints were filed, 11 more than 1986. Fifty-seven were cleared or unfounded and 30 complaints resulted in criminal arrests.

Three more animals were impounded in 1987 than 1986 (48 to 45) and 19 vehicles were impounded, 10 more than the previous year.

Traffic accidents investigated on public streets was down from 1986. Eighty-five accidents were investigated in 1987 on public streets, while 43 accidents were investigated on private property. That compares to 120 street accidents and 63 private property accidents in 1986.

The police department sold 53 bicycle licenses in 1987, way under the 117

Erosion heavy in Wayne County area

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

long slopes and the cropping factor are major elements which figure largely in Wayne County's soil loss equation.

Exactly what kind of erosion problem does Wayne County, Dixon County or Cedar County face now and in the future?

Unless landowners of this area escalate their efforts to conserve topsoil, continue looking for northeast Nebraska to continue leading the state in soil run-off, according to Larry Wetterberg of the Soil Conservation Office in Wayne. Perhaps soil loss can't be detected by landowners in area counties right now. But when looking at the next 100 years or more, Wetterberg can ascertain that poorer yields on cropland will result because of critical conservation practices not being exercised today.

Nebraska is situated on 49.5 million acres of land, and of that total there are 20.3 million acres of cropland. However, over 50 percent (10.4) million acres of cropland in Nebraska is considered highly erodible. And Wayne County, Cedar County and Dixon County are well above the state average in highly erodible land.

FIGURES PROVIDED by the Soil Conservation Service reveal that 81 percent of Wayne County's total cropland acres can be classified as highly erodible. In Dixon County, the highly erodible cropland figure amounts to 64 percent of total cropland acres and in Cedar County, the amount grows to 69 percent of total land used for crops. What does the Soil Conservation Service determine highly erodible cropland? "If one-third or more of any one field is made up of highly erodible soil mapping units, then the whole field is considered highly erodible," Wetterberg answered. "It has to do with the soil's potential to erode," he said. "If a field is left clean and bare all year long, then any soil that would have the potential to erode at 40 tons or better per acre per year would be considered highly erodible."

Most cropland in Wayne County and surrounding counties isn't bare

This is the first in a series of articles dealing with area erosion, control of erosion, and mandates required to stop heavy topsoil loss.

all year long — perhaps only for a short period in the spring. "So our typical erosion rates in Wayne County are probably around 20 tons per acre per year," Wetterberg said.

NORTHEAST NEBRASKA suffers primarily from the threat of water erosion. "If we are protected from water erosion, we know that we're going to be protected against wind erosion," said Wetterberg. "We'll see a dirty snowbank once in a while [caused by high winds], but that amount of soil isn't bothering us too much," he said.

The Soil Conservation Service office doesn't measure erosion. They predict soil loss based on research completed and updated on a constant basis. A soil loss equation is used, taking into account the rainfall factor characteristic of this area; erodibility factor of the soil; length of a particular slope; percentage of the slope incline; the cropping factor which takes into account the landowners crop rotation and management practices; and a contour factor. A combination of steep and fairly terberg said. "And they are saying they don't see a difference."

Landowners argue that the land that once yielded 30 bushels to the acre now produces over 100 bushels to the acre. Wetterberg's answer to that is that the yields increased because of fertilizer, use of herbicides or hybrid seed — not because of the soil.

IF THE LANDOWNER does not come up with a conservation plan on his highly erodible soil by 1990, then they would not be eligible for all the feed grain programs, federal crop insurance, and Farmers Home Loans such as guaranteed loans. That law was signed on Dec. 23, 1985.

Some of the options developed for soil types in the county (the one soil type predominant in a field) include high residue farming (no-till); adopting a rotation where there is more oats and alfalfa; or terraces.

And what option does Wetterberg predict will be the one most widely used? "I would say the future as far as technology goes is in no-till farming. That's the big push now," he answered.

Federal and Natural Resource Districts have cost-sharing available for terraces, waterways and underground outlets. The Soil Conservation Service is just now beginning the planning process to bring landowners in compliance with mandatory conservation laws. There are some people who "are waiting this thing out, thinking that it will change."

"We've received about 150 requests (about 15 percent) from landowners to schedule an appointment to talk about their farm plans. And there are more and more every day," said Wetterberg.

THERE ARE approximately 1,100 landowners who must comply with the mandate. The soil conservation mandate does have its flaws, according to Wetterberg. "The time we have to work with, to get this implemented, is really going to be tough.

"And it's too bad that there weren't other incentives put into the law," he added.

"Conservation has never been tied to commodity programs. It doesn't make for a good working relationship when a guy is pressured to make a conservation plan decision."

"We don't write the laws but we're the local ones who have to work with the people. And a lot of them are wanting to vent some anger and they vent it at us, but it really should be to the people in Washington," he said.

Be careful with aerosol cans

Household products in aerosol form come in sealed pressurized containers. Because they are under pressure, aerosols are often flammable and should be kept away from heat sources.

This is especially important to keep in mind during the cold months, when more indoor living prompts us to undertake that challenging project in the workshop.

What do aerosols have to do with workshops? One study shows that a typical American home has an average of 45 aerosols, ranging from products for personal care, household cleaning and maintenance, laundry and kitchen, to workshop and garden items.

Aerosols are such versatile products that you can sometimes forget you are using one. Here are a few safety tips to remember:

WATCH FOR HEAT SOURCES. Never place aerosols on or near fireplaces, radiators, space heaters, stoves, pilot lights and furnaces. Keep aerosols away from open flames, and don't spray near small ignition sources such as lighters, stove or furnace pilot lights, and burning candles.

Use them at a safe distance from appliances that get hot when in operation (hair dryers, toasters, clothes dryers), and always remember to work in a well-ventilated area.

Never force an aerosol can open with a sharp instrument. If the product is defective, take it back to the store for a refund, or throw it away. Follow label directions carefully at all times.

STORE AEROSOLS PROPERLY. Never store aerosols in temperature extremes. Don't put them where freezing temperatures might occur, such as an unheated outdoor shed. The best rule of thumb is keep them at room temperature.

Store aerosols out of the reach of curious children who might mistake them for playthings.

And remember to dispose of aerosols correctly. Wrap and put them in the trash for municipal pick-up. Even if an aerosol can seems empty, don't throw it in the incinerator, fireplace, or any burning trash heap.

TO SUMMARIZE, use aerosols only as directed. Keep them away from heat or fire. Do not puncture containers. Keep them out of the reach of children. Use them in well-ventilated areas.

Get the most benefit from aerosols by using them properly.

For county fair

Extension council selects special award categories

The Wayne County Home Extension Council met Jan. 26 and selected categories for special awards to be presented at the 1988 Wayne County Fair.

The special award categories are:

Holiday — Christmas theme.

Arts/crafts — (Adult) Crocheted afghan and counted cross-stitch on wearable garment; (children) wood-craft.

Food — (Adult) White dinner rolls and canned peach halves; (children) peanut butter cookies.

Vegetables/fruit — (Adult) Sweet corn and rhubarb; (children) zucchini.

Flowers — (Adult) African violet and mixed garden bouquet; (children) sunflowers.

OTHER BUSINESS conducted by Terri Headley, chairman, included approval of the 1988 budget; distributing new handbooks to the 14 members in attendance; surveying council and agent responsibilities and relations; promoting the seat belt safety contest; and discussion of the annual spring event.

Mary Temme, extension agent-home economics, announced that Goldenrod-Hills Community Action Council is asking for participation in a Garden and Nutrition project and that volunteers are needed for Project Literacy U.S., sponsored by Northeast Community College. Local contact person is Bette Ream of Wayne.

COUNCIL GOALS adopted for 1988 include encouraging individual display of the flag and learning flag etiquette; encouraging letter writing campaigns to promote positive influence and depiction of the family in media; promoting household appliance safety on the club and community level; increasing membership by the Fall Achievement Program; and providing recognition for members who exhibit at the county fair.

Walkers wed 50 years

THE GOLDEN WEDDING anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Walker of Wayne will be celebrated with an open house reception on Sunday, Feb. 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne. The reception is being hosted by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Russell of Sutton, Neb. and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gochenouer of Guthrie Center, Iowa. The honorees request no gifts.

Briefly Speaking

Chapter ID to meet

Wayne PEO Chapter ID will meet Monday, Feb. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Kathy Tooker.

Ten members and one guest met Jan. 14 in the home of Jennifer Phelps. Assistant hostess was Paula Pflueger.

President Kay Cattle conducted the meeting and Kathy Tooker presented a program on book censorship. She discussed titles and subject matter which are often challenged by groups or individuals.

Sunrise Toastmasters

Seven members of Sunrise Toastmasters Club met Jan. 19 with President Marion Arneson. Invocator was Doug Temme. It was announced that the Speechcraft program was canceled due to lack of participants.

Toastmaster was Doug Temme. Joke master was Duane Havrda and topic master was Marion Arneson. Tabletopic speakers were Darrell Miller, Doug Temme, Duane Havrda and Virgene Dunklau.

Sue Schroeder's speech was evaluated by Gene Dunklau. General evaluator was Doug Temme, timer was Sam Schroeder. "ah" counter was Sue Schroeder and grammarian was Darrell Miller.

One of the features of a Toastmasters club meeting is the evaluation of speakers by fellow members. Purpose of the evaluation is to present the speaker with immediate feedback from a listener, and to encourage development of the skills of analytical listening.

Just Us Gals meet

Mrs. Ernest Grone was hostess for the Jan. 21 meeting of Just Us Gals Club. Six members responded to roll call with a new product they have eaten or used. Pitch furnished entertainment.

Mrs. Raymond Florine will be club hostess on Feb. 16 at 1:30 p.m.

Award winning portraits

Eight portraits of six-year-old Shannon Bowers of Winside recently won a second place ribbon in a professional portrait competition in Lincoln.

Taken by Michael Meuret of Michael's Photography in Norfolk, they were entered in the first annual folio competition at the winter seminar of the Professional Photographers of Nebraska on Jan. 16-18.

There were only three ribbons awarded in each category, and Bowers won second place in the children's division.

Tops 200 meets

Members of Tops 200 met Jan. 27 at West Elementary School in Wayne for a glamour demonstration. Six new members joined the organization during January.

Weekly Tops best loser was Mindy Luft, and weekly Kops best loser was Dee Rebersdorf. There are two new KIW's, Shelly Kai and Kim Triggs.

Leader Sue Denton announced that Peg Wheeler will speak to the group Feb. 3 at 6:30 p.m. on eating disorders. Election of officers is slated Feb. 10. During Lent, Feb. 17 through March 23, the group will have early weigh-ins at 5:30 p.m.

Baptisms

Stacie Lynne Kittle

Stacie Lynne Kittle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Kittle, was baptized Jan. 22 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Hoskins.

The Rev. James Nelson officiated, and sponsors were Randy Anderson and Linda Papstein.

Bridal Showers

Pam Ulrich

Pam Ulrich of Carroll was guest-of-honor at a bridal shower held Jan. 24 in the Wayne Woman's Club room. Forty-five guests attended from Wayne, Concord, Wakefield, Emerson, Pender and Carroll. Decorations were in the honoree's chosen colors of pink and silver.

Receiving prizes in games were Ellen Young of Pender and LaVaille Harder of Emerson. Mrs. Brian Foote of Wayne assisted her sister with gifts, and Wendy Davis of Carroll was gift carrier. The honoree's mother, Mrs. Wayne Ulrich of Carroll, poured at the salad luncheon.

Hostesses were Mrs. Terry Davis and Mrs. Ray Junck, both of Carroll, Mrs. Brian Foote, Mrs. Dick Soden and Mrs. Bob Foote, all of Wayne, Mrs. Mort Henderson of Emerson, and Mrs. Larry Sherer of Wakefield. Pam Ulrich and Harley Henderson of Wakefield will be married Feb. 13 at the Sacred Heart Church in Emerson.

Policy on Weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a cutline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

Becker keeping up with changing times

Keeping in close contact with the changing dentistry techniques, Dr. Stephen Becker accommodates his patients with the newest procedures.

Becker, operator of the Wayne Dental Clinic, located in the Mineshaft Mall, is constantly in a learning process situation. "You have to keep up with the latest procedures," Becker said. "If you don't, people will go some where else where the dentist does keep up."

Becker received his undergraduate degree from Creighton University. He received his Doctorate Degree from the Creighton Dental School.

Although the state of Nebraska requires a certain amount of courses a dentist must take every year, Becker says it's minimal.

Never-the-less, Becker has no problem going to as many courses as he can fit into his schedule, to keep up with all the new cosmetic dentistry procedures available.

"Over the past few years, there have been many new developments in the field of dentistry," Becker said.

"There are different kinds of crowns, porcelain and plastic facings, and different colored fillings," Becker added.

With the location of Becker's practice in northeast Nebraska, he also keeps up with peridontics, (gum work), and endodontics, (working with the pulpal chambers of the teeth.)

"Basically I work with dentures, cosmetic fillings, childrens dentistry, just to name a few," Becker said. "However, I do keep up with the peridontics and endodontics because there are not very many areas in northeast Nebraska where people can go to get that kind of work done."

Becker prides his business on the way it has changed with the times. "It used to be if you missed a dental appointment, you had to wait several weeks before you could get back in," Becker said.

"The Wayne Dental Clinic does not operate like that," Becker added. "We understand if you can't make an appointment, and we do not penalize you by making you wait."

Perhaps the most intriguing thing about Becker's practice is that he schedules patients around their schedule and not his. "We have really flexible hours to accommodate most anyone," Becker said.

Becker also stressed that he takes care of people who need emergency dental help right away. "If someone comes in with an emergency and has to have something done right away, we let them in, and people who are waiting for appointments accept that because they know if the situation were reversed that we would do the same for them," Becker said.

Another of Becker's conveniences is scheduling. "If you call and make an appointment, we don't try to schedule more than a couple of weeks from the day you make the appointment," Becker said.

With all of the latest techniques available, and the lack of a scheduling problem, plus the security of knowing that if an emergency should arise, that there's no problem of getting in right away, Dr. Becker and the Wayne Dental Clinic, simply make good sense.

Wayne wins by two

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Wayne traveled to West Point Friday night to face the returning district champions of a year ago, and their 10-2 record before Friday's game. And to make things worse for the Blue Devils coming into the game, West Point had not lost on its own floor yet this year.

All of that is 'has beens' now, as Wayne dug itself a deep hole in the first half, but crawled out in the second and left the West Point fans started, as the home team lost its third game of the season, and first one at home.

Wayne defeated West Point 51-49. Head Coach Bob Uhing's favorite adage never became more apparent than it did Friday. "Defense sparks the offense," Uhing said. At least it does for Wayne.

Uhing's Blue Devils came out sluggish in the opening half. "We were standing around on defense," Uhing said, "thus our offense suffered too." After one quarter of play, Wayne was only trailing by one. However, the second quarter seemed to be the hard luck quarter for Wayne. The Blue Devils were held to just four quarter points, while giving up 17 to trail 29-15 at intermission.

Uhing's club suffered 24 turnovers for the game, 19 of which came in the dismal first half.

In the third quarter Wayne made the first half of its valiant comeback. The Blue Devils outscored the home team 20-10, to pull them within four, heading into the final quarter.

"The kids really came out and played hard in the second half," Uhing said. "We got some good performances out of them."

Nick Engelson put an end to his recent slump by scoring 17 points. However it wasn't the amount of points that impressed Uhing as the rebounding effort put forth by Engelson.

"At intermission, Nick had two rebounds," Uhing said. "For the game he finished with 14 caroms to go with his 17 points."

Uhing also noted the fine play of Scott Hammer. "Scott put on another fine performance," Uhing noted. "He played well on both ends of the court."

Wayne totally dominated West Point in the rebounding department. The Blue Devils accounted for 37 rebounds, while allowing West Point only 21.

Wayne's big man in the middle, Jarrod Wood, recorded 13 caroms to offset Engelson's 14. Wood did not score as many points as he is used to, but still managed five points.

Uhing also noted the positive play of Jess Zeiss. "Jess played a really good second half," Uhing commented. "He showed good court awareness."

Wayne still had trouble at the charity stripe, only hitting eight of 17 attempts.

In the junior varsity game, Wayne outscored the home team 58-54. Head Coach Ron Carnes saw his squad miss 23 free throw attempts in the contest, but the team managed to overcome it.

Leading scorers for the winning Blue Devils were Rob Sweetland and Willie Gross, each with 15. Jed Reeg followed with 12.

Reeg was also the leading rebounder for Carnes' squad with 10.

The Wayne freshman also played West Point. The freshman lost their second game in-a-row, dropping their record to 7-2.

Head Coach Duane Blomenkamp saw his squad lose to West Point in overtime, 47-44.

"We had it in our hands," Blomenkamp said. "We were up by three and shooting free throws with 10 seconds remaining in regulation."

Unfortunately, for the Blue Devils, the free throw was missed and West Point hit a 3-point field goal with two Wayne defenders in his face, to send the game to overtime where Wayne eventually lost.

Blomenkamp noted the key was poor free throw shooting. "We were 4-16 from the charity stripe," Blomenkamp said.

Leading scorers for Wayne were: Craig Dyer, 14; Casey Dyer, 8; Craig Sharpe, 8; Brian Lentz, 8; Jeff Griesch, 4 and Glenn Johnson, 2. Johnson was the leading rebounder for Wayne with seven caroms.

Torrid shooting Hartington spells defeat for Winside

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

A quick message to all future Winside opponents! If you're going to pick a game where everything comes together, don't pick on Winside.

Winside Head Coach Randy Geier saw a Hartington ball club Thursday night that was a different Hartington ball club than he had seen on film and paper.

Unfortunately, Geier has seen a couple of ball clubs put all the pieces together when Winside played them. Never-the-less, Winside dropped a 78-70 decision to the home team.

"I saw a ball club tonight, (Hartington), that was shooting 51 percent of its free throws on the year, that came out against us and hit 80 percent," Geier said.

Not only did Hartington hit 80 percent of its charity tosses, but they nailed 10-11 in the fourth quarter alone.

Geier noted that with the hot shooting of Hartington from the field, it didn't matter what defense he threw at them. "We used five different defenses," Geier said. "But their kids adjusted very well, because they are a very well coached ball club."

Winside was down early, trailing 15-11 after the first quarter. The Wildcats did warm up a little in the second quarter and scored 24 points to trail by one at intermission.

In the third quarter each team traded points and as mentioned earlier, Hartington owned a two point advantage heading into the fourth quarter.

Geier said his squad got down a little bit in the fourth quarter. "With three minutes to go in the game, we were down by eight points," Geier said. "We decided to start fouling them to catch up, since their free throw percentage wasn't that strong for the year."

Geier's squad watched in amazement as Hartington kept sinking their free shots.

Although Winside only had five players score for them, four of the five were in double figures. Leading the way of course was Tim Jacobsen. Jacobsen played another complete game for the Wildcats, scoring 30 points, hauling down 12 rebounds, and dishing out four assists.

Chris Nau followed with 12 points, but also hit double figures in rebounds with 10. Steve Heinemann and Randy Prince were also in double figures with 11 apiece.

Geier noted the play of Prince. "Prince is really gaining some of the confidence he had lost earlier," Geier said. "He had a perfect night from the field and the free throw line against Hartington."

Prince nailed all five of his free throw attempts, while hitting all three of his field goal attempts.

Winside did out-rebound the opposition, 41-36.

Hartington gals trip Winside

The Winside Lady Wildcats traveled to Hartington Thursday night and never really got untracked in their offense en-route to a 46-27 loss.

Winside Head Coach Jill Stenwall noted that her squad had a lot of turnovers due to mental mistakes.

"They pressed us, but we didn't have that much trouble with that," Stenwall said. "All our turnovers came on just plain bad passes, and fumbling the ball with occasional traveling calls."

Perhaps the key to the game was the lack of rebounding by the Wildcats. Hartington hauled down 58 rebounds to Winside's 35.

The first quarter started pretty slow for both teams with Hartington taking an 8-4 lead. The home team stretched that thin lead to nine at intermission, 23-14.

Stenwall's squad looking to make a run like they had in the previous game against Osmond, was unable to put any kind of a comeback together. The Wildcats were outgunned in the second half, 23-13.

"The fourth quarter was a bad quarter," Stenwall said. "Not only did we score just five points, but we suffered eight turnovers in the fourth quarter alone."

Kristy Miller led the brief scoring stint of Winside with 11 points. Lisa Janke followed with six, while Carmen Reeg and Ann Mierhenry netted four apiece.

The bright spot on offense for the Wildcats came from the free throw line. Winside hit 66 percent of its shots, hitting 6-9 attempts.

Miller also made one 3-point field goal: Winside turned the ball over 21 times, compared to Hartington's 15.

Cedar Catholic wears down Wayne

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Highly rated Hartington Cedar Catholic strolled into Wayne High School Thursday night with one objective, to remain undefeated.

When all was said and done, Cedar Catholic had beaten the Wayne Lady Blue Devils 58-40. After a two point differential at intermission, Hartington went on a scoring rampage in the third period, outgunning the home team, 18-8, which proved to be insurmountable.

The Wayne Blue Devils played a mighty first half, mostly on determination and hustle. Wayne Head Coach Marlene Uhing was pleased with the way her squad played defense in the first half of play. "We did a good job on our half court defense," Uhing said. "Our problem came about when the girls were having trouble rotating back after the half court defensive trap."

Uhing's squad needed no introduction to their counterparts from Hartington. For the first 16 minutes of the game, Wayne's scrappiness and hustle, (especially of Dana Nelson), was paying off.

However in the end, the taller more physical team wore them down. Uhing noted that her squad was not looking for the opportunities to score like they usually do.

The Blue Devils did do an outstanding job on the boards. "I thought Bruggemann and Reeg did a really good job of blocking out on the boards," Uhing said. Wayne was out-sized tremendously, but were only out-rebounded in the game by five.

One of the main factors that caused the wearing down of Wayne was the intense physical play of Hartington Cedar Catholic.

"Cedar has the size to play physical ball," Uhing said. "So when we get in a game where being physical is allowed more, we naturally feel the affect."

Uhing was quick to note that her team should be able to stop a team's run when they want too. "We lost our composure a little bit," Uhing said. "I do think this is a key game for us though, because we have been lacking intensity the past few weeks, and this should open our eyes."

There are four critical parts to every game according to Uhing's philosophy. First, there is the opening minutes of the game to decide tempo. Second, right before half. Third, the beginning of the third quarter, and last, how you handle the ball in the last few minutes of the game.

In the game against Hartington Cedar Catholic, Wayne had the first two aspects of the philosophy on its side. But it was the first part of the third quarter, and the ball handling at the end of the game that did them in.

Even season record

Laurel gals beat Wakefield

The Lady Bears of Laurel hit the 500 mark for the season again, as they defeated winless Wakefield 60-47 at Laurel, Thursday night.

Laurel Head Coach Pam Thies felt her team played a little sluggish in the first half, but rebounded nicely.

"Overall for the game, we played very well," Thies said. This noted that her squad played the best third quarter of the year.

Leading by only two, 19-17 at intermission, Laurel exploded for 24 third quarter points, leaving Wakefield in the dust scoring nine. Laurel led by 17, 43-26 heading into the final stanza.

Wakefield did out score Laurel in the fourth quarter, 21-17, but with the game already decided, Thies had the opportunity to play everyone.

This was really pleased with the way Laurel played its aggressive defense. "I thought that Christensen did a good job on defense guarding Wakefield's Kodi Nelson," Thies said.

Although Nelson scored 13 points in the contest, seven came after-the-fact, and were scored with someone other than Christensen guarding her.

As a team, Laurel shot 44 percent from the field, however in the third quarter, Thies noted that her squad was extremely hot.

WAYNE'S TERESA Ellis (10) and Tonya Erxleben (40) battle with Hartington Cedar Catholic for a loose ball.

Uhing was also quick to note the credit Cedar deserved. "They have a really good ball club," Uhing said. "They play hard for 32 minutes, and are a very confident team."

Wayne, too played hard for 32 minutes. Nelson sparked the Blue Devils a couple of times, and for good reason. The 5'4 junior guard had five steals, and was definitely a crow in Cedar's offense.

Nelson netted 15 points to lead the Blue Devil scoring attack. She was the only Wayne scorer in double figures.

Heidi Reeg was the bright spot on the boards for the Blue Devils, hauling down 10 caroms. Marni Bruggemann, giving up size to the opponents, still managed to get five rebounds.

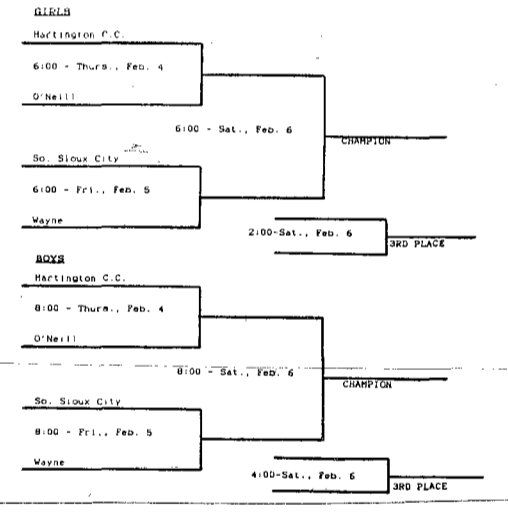

In the junior varsity game, things were a bit closer, but the visitors came away with a 39-33 victory.

Leading Wayne was Amy Bliven, with seven points. Reeg and Carrie Lutz added six apiece in a losing effort.

Pairings set for tourney

The Northern Activities Conference will hold its annual tournament Thursday through Saturday, Feb. 4-6, at O'Neill High School. The four schools making up the NAC are Hartington Cedar Catholic, South Sioux City, O'Neill and Wayne.

The complete brackets are listed below with times. There will be a $2.50 admission charge for adults, while students will get in for $1.50.

Hickey awarded fellowship

Dr. Donald Hickey, professor of history at Wayne State College of Nebraska, has been awarded a fellowship by the National Endowment for the Humanities for the 1988-89 academic year.

This fellowship frees him from all teaching duties so he can devote his time to research on the Quasi-War, America's undeclared naval war with France, 1798-1801.

Dr. Hickey recently delivered a paper at the American History Association Convention held in Washington D.C.

Dr. Hickey obtained his bachelor's, master's and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Illinois in 1978. He is originally from LaGrange, Ill.

Rudin gains post

Dr. Catherine Rudin, interim associate professor of communication arts at Wayne State College of Nebraska, was elected the 1988 secretary of the Inter-Slavic Linguistics section of the American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages (AATSEEL) while in San Francisco, Calif.

She will chair the section in 1989.

She also presented a paper, "Multiple Movement: Bringing in East Slavic" at the group's annual meeting and also attended a meeting of the Linguistic Society of America.

Dr. Rudin obtained her bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin, and her master's and Ph.D. from Indiana University in 1986. She is originally from Madison, Wis.

Junior advisor at Wayne State

Frank Husker of Wayne has been elected junior advisor of the Alpha Lambda Delta freshman honor society at Wayne State College of Nebraska for the spring semester.

Husker, a junior criminal justice major, is a 1981 graduate of Merrywood Christian High School in Reedsburg, Wis. He is the son of Frank and Joanne Husker.

The Alpha Lambda Delta chapter at Wayne State College is 20 years old.

School competition

The Business Education Partnership Council of the Norfolk Area Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring an "Inventors Competition for Schools" event. The Competition will be in conjunction with the Northeast Nebraska Inventor's Fair that will be held June 25 at the Villa Inn in Norfolk.

Last year the competition was limited to elementary-age students, this year the competition has been expanded to include all elementary, junior and senior high aged students. All school in Northeast Nebraska are eligible to participate. Information has been mailed to all school in Northeast Nebraska. For those interested in the "Inventors Competition for Schools" please write the Norfolk Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. ### Attends Legislative Conference

Donald and Dorrine Liedman, Wilham Claubaugh and John Anderson were Wayne County Farm Bureau's representatives to the Nebraska Farm Bureau Legislative Conference held in Lincoln Jan. 25 and 26. About 125 Farm Bureau leaders from across Nebraska attended the conference.

The Wayne County delegation hosted State Senator Elroy Hefner and State Senator Gerald Conway at an appreciation luncheon Jan. 25 for legislators and state executive officers, including Gov. Kay Orr. Orr said businesses applying for incentives under LB 775 include several packers who will increase their capacity and will need 1.5 million head of cattle, resulting in an additional 500,000 head of cattle on feed at any given time and a $8.7 million bushel increase in corn consumption in the state.

Five state senators addressed the Farm Bureau leaders on state issues. State Senator Jerry Conway of Wayne said one problem with LB 775 is the top incentive level which requires a $20 million investment but not the creation of any new jobs. More than 37 percent of incentives applied for falls into that category, he said, adding that the department of revenue sees prospects for changing that provision.

Kai attends commodity conference

Kevin Kai of Wayne County Farm Bureau attended Nebraska Farm Bureau's Commodity Conference in Lincoln Jan. 25 and 26. Kai serves on Farm Bureau's State Soybean Advisory Committee, which met during the conference to discuss issues affecting feed grain and soybean production and marketing.

The major portion of the two-day conference was devoted to the Market Master market education program developed by the Illinois Farm Bureau. The program helps farmers and ranchers develop a comprehensive marketing plan which will demonstrate repayment capacity to a lender.

Willers achieves award

Trisha Willers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Willers of Wayne, a senior at Doane College in Crete, Nebraska has recently been awarded the United States Achievement academy scholastic All-American Award, honoring his/her academic achievements at Doane. To be eligible for this award, students must have senior status, earn a 3.3 or better grade point average and be nominated by a professor or dean of their educational institution.

Loberg, Claussen honored

Kevin Loberg, Belden, and Patty Claussen, Carroll were two students from Northeast Community College, Norfolk, recently elected to membership in Tau Chi Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity for American community, junior and technical colleges. The fraternity's purpose is to recognize and encourage scholarship, leadership and service among two-year college students.

According to Northeast sponsor Ardyce Gross, membership is by invitation and requires a 3.5 grade point average, an accumulation of 12 credit hours, and a full-time status.

Lueders on Dean's List

Lucas (Ted) Lueders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lueders of Wayne, attending Tarkio College in Tarkio, Missouri, was named to the Dean's List for the fall semester of the 1987-88 academic year.

Area students on honor roll

Karen M. Reeg, Coleen Otte, Lori Jacobsen and Trisha Frevert, all were named to the Southeast Community College-Lincoln Campus Academic Honor Roll for the Fall Quarter which ended on Dec. 16. A minimum grade point average of 3.5 (B+) on a 4.0 (A) scale is required to receive this honor. Reeg's program of study is Business Administration/Marketing; Jacobsen, Secretarial Technology-Administrative; Frevert, Human Services; and Otte, Business Administration-Accounting.

Rahn, Bush on Dean's List

Valerie Rahn, sophomore, daughter of Darrel and Phyllis Rahn of Wayne, and Valerie Bush, senior, daughter of James and Anita Bush of Wayne, were two of 75 Midland Lutheran College students named to the dean's list for the fall term of 1987. They achieved a minimum grade point average of 3.80 on a four-point scale, placing them in the top 10 percent of Midland students.

Rademacher attends convention

Dr. J.A. Rademacher of Winside attended the 91st annual convention of the Nebraska Veterinary Medical Association held in Grand Island, Jan. 20-22.

The sessions are accredited toward mandatory continuing education requirements for license renewal.

Among topics discussed were programs affecting accredited veterinarians; stress reduction and small and large animal topics.

THE ARTS AND THE Creative Spark are the focus of this year's Catholic Schools Week. St. Mary's School in Wayne joins with the Archdiocese of Omaha, together with the National Catholic Educational Association, to spotlight Catholic education during the week of Jan. 31-Feb. 6. The theme is "Catholic Schools Share the Spirit." St. Mary's School has provided a Catholic educational opportunity to the Wayne area for 34 years. Enrollment consists of 57 kindergarten through sixth grade students, with three full-time and two part-time teachers. From left, displaying the St. Mary's Catholic Education Week banner, are Deb Daehnke, 2nd Grade Language and Physical Education instructor; Pam Boehle, 3rd and 4th grade instructor; Terrie Bowder, kindergarten instructor; Patricia Ruther, principal and 5th and 6th grade instructor; Fr. Donald Cleary, pastor of St. Mary's Parish; and Ellen Imdieke, 1st and 2nd grade instructor. To celebrate, St. Mary's Parish has scheduled the following: Jan. 31, Parish Mass at 10 a.m. followed by coffee and rolls in Holy Family Hall; Feb. 3, field trip to the Benedictine Mission House in Schuyler; Feb. 5, all-school Mass, luncheon for faculty, students, parents and families, friends of St. Mary's School; and display of Marian objects in the school hall.

Sessions deal with waste

Members of Nebraskans for Clean Environment traveled to Lincoln recently to attend several 1988 legislative sessions and present information to Nebraska state senators regarding the low-level radioactive waste issue.

Nebraskans for Clean Environment oppose a site in any county of Nebraska for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste.

Persons who would like additional information about Nebraskans for Clean Environment or wish to make a contribution to the organization are asked to contact Mrs. Lavan Schrant, treasurer, Rt. 1-Box 79, Winside, Neb., 68790.

Obituaries

Elwin Fredrickson.

Funeral services for Elwin Fredrickson, 76, of Wakefield, were conducted Friday morning (Jan. 29) at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Wakefield with the Rev. E. Neil Peterson officiating.

Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery under the direction of the Bressler-Humlicek Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Greg Simpson, Dale Fredrickson, Leon Fredrickson, David Fredrickson, Paul Eaton and Ronald Glissman.

Elwin Robert Fredrickson, son of Leonard and Frieda Lund Fredrickson, was born Aug. 19, 1911 on a farm northwest of Wakefield. He died Jan. 25, 1988 at St. Luke's Medical Center in Sioux City.

Fredrickson, a lifetime farmer in the Wakefield area, attended the rural Sunnyside School and was married to Florence Hallstrom on April 28, 1934. The couple moved into Wakefield in October 1983.

Fredrickson was a member of the Wakefield Covenant Church and served as a deacon. He also served at different times on the Lone Star and Central rural school district boards, as a township officer and on the ASC board. He also was active with the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association and was a rural telephone lineman for 35 years.

He is survived by his wife, Florence; one son, Dennis of Wakefield; two daughters, Mrs. Chalmers (Jean) Simpson of Wakefield and Mrs. Max (Joan) Gross of Ord; seven grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. He is preceded in death by two brothers, LeVern and Cecil, and a grandson, Jeff Simpson.

Business Notes

Gary SchAAF

Gary SchAAF, O'Neill, will be working for KTCH-AM & FM radio in Wayne as part of an internship program through Wayne State College of Nebraska.

SchAAF, a senior majoring in broadcasting, is a 1984 graduate of O'Neill St. Mary's High School. He is the son of Gerald and Joann SchAAF and intends to graduate from Wayne State in May 1989.

SchAAF's internship concentrates on color commentary for local high school sporting events, some play-by-play coverage, sports reporting, and also helping with the Saturday morning coaches show, according to Mark Ahmann, KTCH general manager.

SchAAF is also the sports director for KWSC-FM, the college radio station.

Cards of Thanks

A SPECIAL thanks to all those who remembered us with visits, donations of food, memorials, flowers and special services in so many ways in recognition of my beloved husband, John W. Groskurth. Also wish to extend our deep appreciation and thanks to Providence Medical Center, the nurses and Sister Gertrud for their loving care. Mrs. Gertrude Groskurth and family. F1

WE WOULD like to thank Dr. Wiseman and the PMC staff for their care while I was in the hospital and to all my friends for get well wishes and gifts. Nick Beckman and family. F1

WE WOULD like to thank all who helped our sons on the night of their accident, the Laurel-Concord Rescue Crew and Janice Mäcklem for being a super person. Thanks to everyone our boys are now doing fine. The Fahrenholz, Taylor and Sullivan families. F1

WE HAVE HAD a satisfying and successful career with State Farm Insurance for 31 years and have decided to take retirement effective Jan. 31, 1988. The new agent is Rusty Parker, who is moving to Wayne from Norfolk effective Feb. 1, 1988. We want to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and clients for their faithful trust and business through the many years. Yours truly, Willis and Donna Johnson. F1

I WISH TO thank everyone for the visits, cards and flowers while I was in the Lutheran Hospital. A special thank you to Pastor Fale for his visits and prayers. Also to the Church Ministry. Gods blessings. Dr. N.L. Diltman. F1
