New company in operation

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Jones Intercable, Inc., which took over the Wayne Cablevision operation on Feb. 1, won't be making a whole lot of changes with the Wayne cable system.

"The operating personnel, procedures and the location will all be the same. The only thing that will be a major change is the name," said Phil Maher, who is the Jones Intercable, Inc. regional manager out of South Sioux City. Bill Dennis will remain as the manager of the Wayne office.

Jones Intercable, Inc. of Englewood, Colorado is one of the largest cable system operators in the United States.

In addition to Wayne, the company will now be providing cable television service to South Sioux City, Homer, Walthill and Dakota City.

Previously operated by Fanch Communications, acting as general partner of Northeast Nebraska Cablevision Limited Partnership, the system was recently acquired by Jones Intercable on behalf of certain of its managed limited partnerships.

"Jones Intercable is very excited about becoming a part of this community, and we intend to provide the best service for the best price," said Jones Intercable Fund Vice President Howard Olson.

"We're looking forward to a long and happy relationship with our customers in Nebraska," Olson said. Maher said this is Jones Intercable's first venture for operation of the company in Nebraska.

Some changes, such as additional channels and installation of an emergency alert system over the system, have been proposed.

"What type of channels, offered or other improvements to the system haven't been decided yet," said Maher.

IT'S NOT TO often one can walk right up to a wild squirrel and snap a picture. However, this squirrel on a Logan Street tree had no fear, probably because Thursday's temperature of 50-plus degrees put the animal in a playful mood.

Smith mishap brings on acts of generosity

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Kevin Smith of rural Allen, critically injured recently in a rodeo mishap, has been moved from St. Luke's Hospital in Denver to Marian Health Center in Sioux City.

Since the accident, friends and relatives — and individuals which never knew the Smith family before the tragic incident had happened — have rallied around Kevin, who remains in a semi-conscious, but much improved state at Marian Health Center.

"He's still semi-conscious. He opens his eyes and is able to look around," said his father, Dale.

Dale and Maxine Smith reside eight miles north of Allen. Kevin, age 24, had attended the Allen public school as a kindergartener. When his family moved, he attended school at Ponca.

Kevin is a rising star on the pro rodeo circuit. In 1987, he was ranked 31st in the nation and his specialty was bull riding. Also last year, he won the Rookie of the Year award, given to the most outstanding prospect in the pro rodeo circuit.

On Jan. 16, while competing at the National Western Show and Rodeo event at Denver, Kevin was thrown from a bull. The bull stepped on Kevin, hitting him in the back of the head with a hoof. Another foot hit Kevin in another part of the head. "Then the bull hit Kevin again in the side of the head as he was leaving," said Dale.

KEVIN was transported to St. Luke's Hospital in Denver, unconscious and in critical condition.

Once he no longer needed a respirator, the family hoped to bring Kevin closer to home — to a Sioux City hospital. He is not considered in a coma, as he responds to pain, but he is in a semi-comatose state unable to communicate.

"The doctors now say that he is coming around. They say that it's going to take a lot of time. They did say that there was no brain damage that they can find," mentioned Dale.

Also a story in itself is the outpouring of generosity in helping to pay the expense of Kevin's hospitalization.

Tom Wiens, a Denver businessman, was at the rodeo when the bull riding mishap took place. He didn't know Kevin.

"He was just a guy at the rodeo who grew up in a small Nebraska town who said 'this is one person that I can help. We really appreciate what he has done for us," said Dale. Wiens donated the jet ride from Denver to Sioux City — to bring Kevin close to home.

It was the Allen Rescue Unit which transported Kevin from the Sioux City airport to Marian Health Center. "The Allen community has been really wonderful to us and Kevin," mentioned Dale.

ON SUNDAY (Feb. 21) a benefit pancake feed took place from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Allen Fire Hall — with many people and organizations involved in assisting with the event that was initiated by the Allen United Methodist Church and Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8117 Disaster Fund providing matching funds.

A special fund has been established at the Security State Bank in Allen for Kevin and his family. Those wishing to make a contribution can do so by addressing it to the Kevin Smith Fund in care of the bank.

The Allen School sponsored a drawing Friday night, during the boys basketball game against Wynot, for several items with all the proceeds going to Kevin. The school also made a banner which was signed and given to Kevin. And within two weeks, the Allen School faculty and staff will be sponsoring a bake and craft sale to raise more money in helping to offset Kevin's hospitalization expenditures.

On March 12 at 7:30 p.m., as a benefit for Kevin, the Superland 80's girls basketball team from Sioux City will play members of the Allen community in a game at the high school gymnasium. Tickets to the game are being sold by the Allen girls basketball team.

Donation from Jorgensen Memorial fund

Fire department gets lifesaving air bags

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A donation to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department from the Rodney Jorgensen Memorial Fund, presented by Cynthia Jorgensen and family, has been used to purchase some new lifesaving equipment.

The fire department has obtained a Vetter Air Bag System with the memorial funds.

The function of the Vetter Air Bag System is to lift vehicles in instances where individuals are pinned underneath the automobiles or trucks.

The system comes equipped with two air bags which are reinforced almost like a radial tire, one which has a 10 ton lift capacity and another with a seven ton lift capacity. The air bags, when filled with air from the fire department's regular air pack bottles, can lift a vehicle at least 14 inches off of the ground to free trapped individuals.

With the system comes a control panel and hoses that attach to the air bags, so that the air pressure is regulated.

"We received the equipment about a week ago and we have been spending time using it ourselves and putting it into service," said Fire Chief Dale Preston, who added that the dollar value of the system is estimated at $1,200.

"There are instances where we can also use it in place of the jaws [of life]," Preston said. "This lifesaving equipment will be taken to all of our rescue calls and all fire calls."

The fire department expressed their deep appreciation to the Jorgensen family for the special donation.

"Rod was proud to be a fireman for 18 years, and we wanted to have something put in Rod's name in association with the fire department in Wayne," said Cynthia.

A special plaque, dedicated to Rod Jorgensen and his 18 years as fireman and the lifesaving equipment donated in his name, now hangs in the meeting room of the Wayne fire station.

Kants reach finals

As the Nebraska State High School Wrestling Tournament unwinds on Saturday afternoon, two Winside grapplers will be in the championship match fighting for a state title.

Undeclared Wildcat Senior Mace Kant and his brother, Max Kant, have surpassed the semifinal round with wins Friday night to put them both in contention for a first place medal.

All of the Winside contingent wrestling in the state tournament are in the running for a placing medal. The other Wildcat state qualifier, Chad Carlson, lost his semifinal match Friday night and will wrestle in the wrestlebacks Saturday for either a third or fourth, fifth or sixth place medal.

The Wayne-Carroll Blue Devils, who qualified four grapplers to the state wrestling tournament, have wrestled valiantly. As of Friday, however, all Wayne qualifiers were not able to advance to matches involving medal placings.

Winside's Chad Carlson, wrestling at 103, won his first match of the tournament, defeating Rick Barrett of Harrisburg by a 6-4 score. Carlson had been behind 4-2 with just 23 seconds remaining in the match before he scored a flurry of points.

In the second round, Carlson pinned Pete Gibson of Omaha

Lady Blue Devils get win over Schuyler

After a slow first quarter in Thursday's game against Schuyler, the Wayne-Carroll Lady Blue Devils got the offense clicking and chalked up a 70-55 win.

It was the last game of their regular season, as the Lady Blue Devils start the second season next Tuesday night in district action against Columbus Scotus.

Wayne-Carroll only led Schuyler, 7-6 at the end of the first quarter. Both teams popped in 18 points in the second quarter, giving the Lady Blue Devils a slim 25-24 lead at halftime.

Then, in the second half, the Lady Blue Devils put together a 12 point lead right at the start and never looked back as they outscored Schuyler in the third quarter, 19-10 and helped themselves to a 44-34 lead.

Wayne-Carroll's offensive charge was led by junior Dana Nelson, who turned in a fine game according to Head Coach Marlene Uhing. Nelson tossed in 29 points, hitting seven 3-pointers, to lead the Lady Blue Devils offensive attack.

Nelson hit on seven of eight field goal attempts from the three point range. Many of those goals, Uhing said, came on inbound plays.

Tonya Erxleben came through for Wayne in double figures with 10 points. "Erxleben had a good game on the boards," said Uhing.

Erxleben led the Lady Blue Devils rebounding corps with nine. Heidi Reeg was close behind with eight rebounds.

One aspect of the game which pleased Uhing was in the decision of the Lady Blue Devils to hold up on the fast break when it wasn't there. There were times when her team forced bad shots on the fast break.

"The kids made good decisions on the breaks. If there was a one-on-four or a two-on-five fast break, the girls would pull it back and try to get a better shot," mentioned Uhing.

Uhing said she would like to see more consistency in the Lady Blue Devils' rebounding performance.

Wayne-Carroll outrebounded Schuyler 28-25, and committed less turnovers, 17 to 25.

On the free throw line, the Lady Blue Devils sank 21 of 26 attempts, while Schuyler hit on 9 of 15 tosses from the charity stripe.

Uhing now must prepare her team for their first district game next Tuesday against Columbus Scotus.

"They've had real good teams the last several years. They have good shooters and are quick," said Uhing.

The Lady Blue Devils know they must play hard, rebound well and play smart defense against Columbus Scotus, mentioned Uhing.

"This is a fun time of year, something to look forward to," she said.

In the junior varsity game against Schuyler, Wayne-Carroll lost in overtime by a 39-35 score.

Jennifer Hammer, who hit a 3 pointer to put the game into overtime, led Wayne-Carroll scorers with 12 points.

Two quarters not enough as Bears fall

The Laurel-Concord Bears got the best of two quarters in their game against Wausa Friday night.

But Wausa was able to dominate in the remaining two quarters to pull off a 75-66 victory over the visiting Bears.

In this instance, the stats reveal a convincing factor in Laurel's loss. First, the Bears shot well below their average in field goal percentage. Second, Wausa was sent to the free throw line 24 times, where they canned 17 from the stripe. Laurel shot a good percentage from the free throw line, but only went to the line 12 times.

"The whole key to the game was that we put up a lot of good shots, most of them good shots, and we couldn't hit them. In the first half, we shot 38 times and made only nine," said Bears Head Coach Mark Hrabik.

In the end, Laurel shot only 26 percent from the field the entire game. Wausa finished the game shooting 42 percent from the outside.

Despite the poor shooting by the Bears in the first half, Laurel only trailed Wausa 28-25 at halftime.

Wausa had 16 points to Laurel's 7 points when the first quarter ended.

But the Bears rallied back to outscore Wausa 18 to 13 in the second quarter.

Foul trouble forced Laurel's inside threat John Schutte to sit out five minutes or more of the third quarter. In the meantime, Wausa was outscoring the Bears by a 21-13 margin in pulling away to a 50-38 lead.

Laurel didn't throw in the towel, however. They came back to within five or six points in the final quarter. Wausa was able to convert 11 of 13 free throw attempts in the last eight minutes to secure the victory.

Leading the Laurel scoring attack was Doug Manz who was five of eight from three point range and finished the game with 22 points. Two other players in double figures for Laurel were Scott Marquardt and Schutte, each dropping in 13 points. Kyle Nixon had nine points for Laurel.

Laurel was outrebounded by Wausa, 46-36.

Although they lost, Hrabik feels his team still is carrying momentum as they head into district tournament action Tuesday night against Ponca.

He anticipates the game between his team and Ponca to be evenly matched.

17 lettermen returning WSC baseball outlook promising

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Optimism abounds right now in the Wayne State College Baseball preseason workouts. The Wildcats are looking to improve upon a fine season last year in which they were 34-14. They return this season as the defending district champions.

Lenny Klaver begins his fifth year at the helm for the Wildcats and he feels the team has a very positive outlook for the coming season which begins March 6.

"We are returning 17 lettermen from last year's squad," Klaver said. "That will be a key for us to improve this season."

The Wildcats will have to fill the shoes of two key players gone from last year's squad. Mike Hoffart, first baseman on last year's squad batted .422, with 13 home runs and 58 runs batted in will be sorely missed.

"We'll miss Hoffart's power," Klaver said. Hoffart returned to the Wildcats this season as a student assistant after using up his baseball eligibility.

Randy Raabe is the other Wildcat lost. Raabe was a key pitcher for Wayne State last season. Raabe was the winning pitcher in Wayne State's 5-4 win over the University of Nebraska last season.

Both Raabe and Hoffart were all CSIC and all District players last season.

Klaver feels however, that this year's squad can be every bit as strong as the 54 game schedule draws near.

As far as district favorites this season, Klaver feels that Wayne State should be in the running, along with Kearney State and as a darkhorse, Peru State.

Other teams vying for contention in the district include, Bellevue, Doane, Dana and Concordia.

Last season, the Wildcats finished with an 18-3 mark in the district, before winning all three games of the district tournament, advancing them to the area three tournament in Oklahoma where they were defeated.

Some of the leaders of this year's squad include catcher Randy Lou, who according to Klaver's looking to fill the number four hole in the batting order.

Pat Salerno who had been a designated hitter last year is looking to fill in at first base. Salerno is the returning leading hitter off last year's squad, batting .427 with 35 rbi's.

Klaver notes that there is a two way battle right now for the second base position. Dale Irving started a year ago, batted .358 and according to Klaver is an excellent fielder.

Dean Heying is challenging right now. Heying started some last year but is looking for more playing time. Heying is really versatile being able to play shortstop and third base as well.

The shortstop position will be filled again this year by Dale Clayton. Clayton set a school record a year ago in stolen bases, bagging 42 bases on 44 attempts.

Klaver noted that Clayton is scout material for the pros. Along with the school record on stealing bases last year, Clayton also hit three home runs showing that he does have power.

"Clayton has excellent speed and quickness," Klaver said. "He can also hit the ball well as last year he finished with a .404 average."

For his career, Clayton has been successful on stealing 105 bases in 111 attempts.

Jeff Pasold will be looking to back Clayton up at short stop. Pasold hit .375 last year and according to Klaver is a good versatile athlete. He is also a back up starting pitcher.

Third base is occupied by Craig Koehler.

Wayne trips stubborn Pierce

A good Parent's Night crowd was treated to a solid Wayne-Carroll Blue Devils second half performance as Wayne downed Pierce by a 69-52 score Friday night — a win that will help the Blue Devils in the seeding for the district tournament coming up next week in Norfolk.

The torrid shooting of senior Nick Engelson, playing his last regular season basketball game on the Wayne-Carroll home court, rocketed the Blue Devils to a 10-3 first quarter lead as he scored the first five Wayne baskets. The lead was extended to 15-3 before Pierce cut the lead back down to six points when the first quarter ended. The Blue Devils led by a 21-15 margin.

Pierce outscored the Blue Devils 17-15 in the second quarter, at one time knotting the score at 30-30 before Scott Hammer tossed in a field goal and four free throws to give Wayne a 36-32 lead.

In the third quarter, the Blue Devils pulled away, running the score up to 43-32 before Pierce scored their first basket of the second half. Throughout the rest of the quarter, the Blue Devils maintained as much as a 12 point lead.

Waynes lead stretched to 19 points at one time in the fourth quarter. Head Coach Bob Uhing was able to empty his bench in the final minutes to give other Blue Devils some varsity playing time.

Engelson led all Wayne scorers with 32 points. He scored 13 field goals and was a perfect 6 of 6 from the free throw line.

Jarod Wood also was in double figures with 15 points. Senior Scott Hammer finished the game with 10 points. Jess Zeiss hit the only 3-pointer of the night for the Blue Devils.

Coach Uhing said the Blue Devils did not play intense enough in the first half, giving up 32 points. But the second half, he said, Wayne was able to confuse the Pierce offense and played a better defense.

The Blue Devils outrebounded Pierce, 23-17 and were 17 of 26 from the free throw line. Pierce went to the line only six times and made 50 percent of their attempts.

Uhing said Engelson and Wood played well, and he was pleased with the defensive job performed by Doug Larsen. Coming off the bench to enhance the Blue Devil performance were Jed Reeg, Kevin Hausmann, and Willy Gross.

Now Wayne must concentrate its efforts on district competition. The pairings have not been established as of Saturday morning.

The real key, Uhing said, is to approach the games "mentally ready to play."

Obviously, the win against Pierce will help steer the momentum toward the Wayne hoopsters.

The Wayne junior varsity was defeated by a 49-46 margin.

Leading scorer for the Blue Devils against Schuyler was Rob Sweetland with 13 points.

Neil Carnes pulled down 10 rebounds to lead Wayne in that department.

The Wayne Blue Devil varsity finishes the regular season with a 12-7 record.

In the first game, the Lady Blue Devils defeated Randolph 32-38. Leading scorer was Jennifer Hammer with 14 points and Amy Wriedt with nine points.

In the finals against Crofton, Wayne was defeated by a 36-28 score.

Carrie Lutt scored seven points while Harmer contributed six points and Deanna Schiuns tossed in five points.

The freshman girls are also participating in an invitational tournament at Norfolk. In their first game, Wayne won by a score of 45-24.

Leading scorer was Jennifer Hammer with 16 points, followed by Ulrika Norrell and Ellen Cole each with five points.

IF THIS JAR WAS YOUR KIDNEY AND THESE MARBLES KIDNEY STONES, ST. LUKE'S COULD MAKE YOU FEEL BETTER FASTER.

Imagine That

If you or someone you love has ever experienced the pain of kidney stones, you'll appreciate St. Luke's new cure. Actually, the cure is a new lithotripter. A machine that breaks up stones (inside the kidney) without surgery and without the risks, pain or recovery time of surgery.

Before now, kidney stone sufferers in the area had to wait for lithotripter treatment from a mobile unit available on a limited basis. Now, there's a lithotripter available at St. Luke's every day of the year - without wait. Having a lithotripter in Siouxland makes treatment easier and more convenient. But there are two other very important benefits - safety and speed. The lithotripter at St. Luke's is so advanced in its technology that it has changed the treatment of kidney stones. With older lithotripters, patients had to lay in a tub of water. Ours is not a "bathtub" treatment. At St. Luke's, patients simply lie on a water-filled cushion, so the procedure is safer and faster.

A Complete Kidney Stone Program

A lithotripter isn't all you need, however, to treat kidney stones, so we've developed a comprehensive program of care for sufferers. It includes diagnostic testing, a risk profile, education and nutrition counseling. All to help prevent recurrence of kidney stones. Imagine that!

For more information about the St. Luke's kidney stone program and the lithotripter, ask your physician or call St. Luke's at 279-3959.

Nicotine is only one of nearly four-thousand chemicals you inhale with every puff of cigarette smoke. In the body, nicotine acts as a powerful stimulant. It raises your heart rate and blood pressure. It also increases your need for oxygen. Unfortunately, the more cigarette smoke you inhale, the less oxygen your body actually receives. For your heart, it's a struggle. For your health, it's a no-win situation. To quit smoking, it takes your personal commitment to succeed. Your local American Heart Association has information that will help you quit smoking. This message is brought to you by Sav-Mor Pharmacy who encourages you to support the American Heart Association during Heart Month.

BUSINESS FOCUS

Bill's G-Men keep the wheels rolling in satisfying customers

In the long haul, people associated with Bill's G-Men of Wayne can honestly say that it's "no garbage talk" about their efforts to make refuse pickup affordable to the many customers they serve.

It's the absolute truth, according to Lueders, Inc. representatives, who are owners of the refuse hauling business.

The business has recently under gone a name change, from C&D G-Men to Bill's G-Men.

President of Lueders, Inc., Bill Lueders, Jr., points out that the $7 per month residential hauling rate charged by Bill's G-Men is "still the cheapest in town."

Since the early 1980's, when the company began making pickups and hauling refuse on routes with their first garbage truck which they purchased from Ellingson Motors, the company has raised the rates only once.

Those prices have remained at a low level, despite the company's investment in the truck and the thousands of dollars in dumpsters which the firm distributes throughout the areas they serve.

The company charges $16 per month for a one-yard dumpster, with pickup twice a week; and $32 per month for a two-yard dumpster, pickup twice weekly.

Bill's G-Men hauls refuse for the cities of Wayne, Carroll, Dixon and Concord. Among the employees who assist with the refuse hauling are Roger Banister and Sean Dorcey.

Lueders said customers will find his refuse-hauling company on their routes during even the worst weather situations. "And we don't charge our customers for picking up bagged mowed grass or leaves in the fall," he said.

A typical refuse hauling week for Bill's G-Men are as follows:

Monday — pickup of commercial refuse in Wayne; Tuesday — pickup of residential refuse in Wayne; Wednesday — pickup of commercial and residential refuse in Carroll; Thursday — pickup of commercial refuse in Wayne and in Dixon and Concord; Friday — pickup of residential refuse in Wayne; and Saturday — pickup of commercial refuse in Wayne.

Refuse collected is taken to the city of Wayne transfer station, where the refuse is compacted and taken to Norfolk.

Normal completion time for a route, in the winter months, is about seven hours. In the summer, the hours are longer because of the grass clippings and leaves which Bill's G-Men pick up.

Some of the larger firms in Wayne which the company hauls refuse for are Timpte, Inc., PFM at Wayne State College, several trailer courts, community schools plus other commercial businesses in the Wayne community.

The future on holding the line on refuse hauling, Lueders said, will lie in the costs which the company must pay for taxes and for their cost to deposit the refuse at the city's transfer station.

In the dark about public power?

Let us shed
some light on the subject.

Public power in Nebraska more or less evolved as a by-product of power for irrigation and a means of improving the employment and economy of the state during the years of drought and depression.

A movement born many years ago in dust, drought and desperation resulted in the only wholly public power state in the nation.

IRA Issues

For the next few weeks some frequently asked questions about Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) will be discussed.

Q. What is required to remove an excess IRA contribution, and how will IDS report it to the IRS?

A. To remove an excess contribution, clients must submit a request, along with the following information:
*Exact amount of the excess contribution and the tax year for which it is credited.

*Instruction for removal of excess amount and earning, if any. For instance, instruction may be "Transfer to a personal account, redeem and send the check directly to client, apply to future IRA's (i.e. 1989), and so on.

According to IRS regulations, any excess IRA contributions must be reported on IRS Form 5498. The client will receive a form W2P, which shows the recorded removal of the excess contributions.

Next week's question: Who is eligible to make a fully tax deductible IRA contribution for the 1987 tax year?

A seminar entitled "Five Misconceptions that Cost You Money!" will be open to the public at no cost. This informative seminar will be presented on March 16th at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. in the Community Room in the basement of Columbus Federal Building, Wayne, Nebraska.
