Benefit game

A benefit basketball game for the Kevin Smith Fund will take place at Allen on Saturday, March 12 at 7:30 p.m. The game will feature the Superland 86's from Sioux City, a women's basketball team composed of former college players from the Siouxland area, against the Allen Straight Shooters, a team of Allen High personnel and media people from newspaper, radio and television stations.

Tickets can be purchased from the Allen Eagle Girls Basketball Team members or at the Allen schools ahead of time or they can be purchased at the door. Price is $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Also on Saturday, March 12, the Allen school will sponsor a benefit craft and bake sale with proceeds going to the Kevin Smith Fund. If any organization or individual wishes to donate to this sale, contact Deb Snyder or Darlene Fahrenholz by Wednesday, March 9. The sale will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Mini Mall.

More filings

Daniel Jaeger of Winside has filed election papers for a position on the Winside Board of Education.

Also filing, as an alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention for the First Congressional District, was Gerald Conway of Wayne.

Going far

Gusty winds last Tuesday made it a perfect day for fourth grade students across the state who launched balloons as part of Governor Orr's "Celebrate Nebraska" Statehood Day activities.

In Allen, the "Celebrate Nebraska" balloons were launched at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday. Allen fourth grader Amy Gensler was more than a little surprised when she had received a note saying her balloon had been found at 6 a.m. on Wednesday in Jackson, Michigan.

The balloon had traveled to Michigan in less than 24 hours and was found by Janine McGill in the yard of her home.

Janine had regretted that she and her family would be unable to visit Nebraska during "Celebrate Nebraska" in 1988. She did request, however, that Amy send more information about the state of Nebraska.

Bad smell

A chemical spill in a storage area at Laurel-Concord Public School caused officials to cancel classes Thursday afternoon.

A teacher and custodian were cleaning the area when shelves collapsed and chemical fell to the floor.

Sulfur, sodium and possibly ammonia were some of the chemicals that spilled, giving the aroma of "rotten eggs."

The Laurel Volunteer Fire Department used fans to air out the building.

Classes resumed again on Friday. The accident happened around 11 a.m.

Boosters

The West Elementary Boosters will meet at the Elementary School on Tuesday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Outreach

Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council announced the placement of an Outreach Office in Wayne. It is located at 512 East 7th Street and the phone number is 375-4960. The office serves Wayne and Dixon Counties.

It will be staffed by Human Development Worker LeAnn Cords. Cords has been employed in this capacity since January of this year. She received her B.S. degree from Wayne State College in Human Service Counseling in August of 1985 and recently completed hours for a degree in journalism at Wayne State.

Cords graduated from Grand Island Senior High in 1982 and was employed by Mid-Nebraska Mental Retardation Services and Region IV Mental Retardation Services.

Goats on the go

MICKY RUTENBECK, a third grade student at Wayne Elementary, brought triplet goats to school last Thursday. He demonstrated bottle feeding of goats to his classmates, who later took a turn at satisfying the goats' hunger. Chuck Rutenbeck assisted his son in presenting the goats.

Ballet coming to Wayne

For the first time since 1983, the State Ballet of Missouri will perform at Wayne State College of Nebraska, Tuesday, March 22 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre located at Val Peterson Fine Arts Building.

A Mid-America Arts Alliance Program, this performance is the culmination of the 1987-88 Black and Gold Series.

This program is made possible by support from the Nebraska Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts, through its participation in Mid-America Arts Alliance, a regional arts organization.

Dedicated to bringing the best of dance to the community and the Greater Midwest, the State Ballet of Missouri has attracted critical acclaim for the extraordinary talent and taste of choreographer Todd Bolender, according to James Day, professor of music at Wayne State, and director of the Black and Gold Series.

The company's repertory includes dramatic, romantic, humorous and contemporary works.

This performance is part of a tour being made possible by a grant from

Wayne Stater staff gains valuable experience

By Chuck Hackenmilller
Managing Editor

Hands-on experience is something which Wayne State College student Kris Loberg considers valuable in terms of achieving his ambitions when seeking employment after college graduation.

Loberg, son of Harold and Janice Loberg of Carroll, is presently the editor-in-chief of The Wayne Stater — a newspaper which primarily provides in-depth reports on WSC campus happenings and issues.

Throughout past years, the Wayne Stater staff has used The Wayne Herald publishing facilities for producing the award-winning campus newspaper. The experience which members of the journalism department receives in publishing their own newspaper is "fantastic," said Loberg.

At Wayne State, the editorial staff members are able to contribute their talents to all phases of the Wayne Stater newspaper production — from editing and photography to designing the newspaper's nameplate.

Loberg, as editor-in-chief, said he spends 40 hours, sometimes close to 50 hours, a week performing his responsibilities. There are seven students on the editing board, he said, and approximately a dozen writers.

Present students on the editorial board are Loberg; Mike McMorrow, news editor; Kyle Svec, sports editor; Karen Loutsch, arts and entertainment editor; Jerome Blowers and Dennis Meyer, copy editors; and Aaron Butler, copy editor.

David Bjerrmann is the business manager and Mark Lumley the circulation manager. Marilyn Richardson serves as advisor to the Wayne Stater editorial staff.

THE EDITORIAL board meets every Monday morning throughout the months that the students publish the newspaper. "The students decide what goes in the newspaper. We've never had our arm twisted or had other forms of censorship when deciding what will be published," mentioned Loberg.

Laying out the pages filled with photos, advertisements, columns, editorials, news and sports stories that appear in each edition of the Wayne Stater begins on Wednesday night at the top floor of the WSC Humanities Building. The end product is completed at The Wayne Herald. The newspaper comes off The Wayne Herald presses on Thursday morning for distribution on and off the Wayne State campus.

Conway addresses statewide issues

By Chuck Hackenmilller
Managing Editor

A north-south interstate, economic development funding, sales tax exemption on used farm machinery and state college appropriations were just several of the topics discussed Friday morning by District 17 State Senator Gerald Conway during a question-and-answer session in Wayne.

The meeting was sponsored by the Legislative Council of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, headed by Ken Olds of Wayne. It followed the regular Chamber Coffee at the Black Knight in Wayne.

Conway discussed the north/south interstate proposal and the highway bonding bill before those attending the session. He said bonding of the project, rather than financing through regular means of gasoline tax and other income, is being proposed.

He mentioned, from an economic perspective, the prospect of expanding Highway 81, which would help make the highway one of the longest four-lane highway systems in the United States.

By doing this, he said, more industries or businesses would be attracted into Nebraska, and would generate more traffic into the surrounding communities along the highway system.

THOSE WHO disagree with the bonding proposal have reservations about the indebtedness that the state will incur.

The bill in the Nebraska legislature calls for $800 million to complete the project. Conway said the legislature can add "packages" to the proposal, such as enhancing the primary roads to the north/south highway system.

"But there are things that still need to be ironed out [on the proposal]. Is the bond concept going to be accepted by Nebraskans?" Conway mentioned.

He said feedback received from his constituents reveal that they don't mind the indebtedness if the project is viewed as an investment.

Conway said legislative bill LB 972 which will exempt farm machinery purchases from the state sales tax, will not likely pass.

The amended version would reduce state revenues by about $4.7 million during 1988-89.

Conway said the argument is that the tax exemption is not the most effective way to help agriculture. He said the $4 million could be spent toward a major investment in research or product marketing.

He also addressed the issue of tougher measures dealing with bad check writing. Conway said that bad check writers, at the misdemeanor stage, are overall not being prosecuted as the current law intends. He said the appropriate laws are "on the books" and that the laws must be better enforced before changes are made.

CONWAY ALSO discussed appropriations for state colleges. One of the subjects dealing with higher education, involving salary enhancement, was forwarded by Governor Orr to the legislature. A proposed $1.2 million would be funded to the four state colleges for salary enhancement.

The original appropriation for this was $910,000. Now $200,000 has been added for support staff. There would be no increase in the budget for the administrators, said Conway.

Wayne State College's share, Conway said, would be approximately $191,000.

He also touched on LB 294, a bill sponsored by the Revenue Committee in which corporations with taxable incomes above $750,000 will receive a 1.1 percent tax hike. The rate would increase from its current rate of 6.65 percent to 7.75 percent.

Proponents say the bill would generate some funding to help offset the tax breaks offered under the provisions of LB 775 enacted last year. Opponents say the bill would unfairly increase the taxes on corporations that are unable to take advantage of incentives under LB 775.

Winside area waste site planned for study

An unlicensed solid waste disposal site near Winside is one of 106 sites across the state scheduled for additional study by the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control.

The Department of Environmental Control (DEC) released the report Assessment and Classification of Community Solid Waste Disposal Sites in Nebraska. The report was called for by LB 639, which required the Nebraska DEC to conduct a comprehensive assessment of all community solid waste disposal sites.

The report says that 513 sites and communities were inspected and 290 active, unlicensed dumps were identified.

Most of the Nebraska DEC's efforts were directed toward current unregulated sites used primarily by rural communities. The report states that "these sites have not been subject to regulation since 1972 when an amendment to the Nebraska Environmental Protection Act specifically exempted all cities (of 5,000 people or less) from state solid waste rules and regulations."

Winside's rural dump (the location was not revealed in the news release from the Nebraska DEC) is one of 106 public and private unlicensed dumps which the Nebraska DEC will study further. Other area sites were identified near St. Helena in Cedar County; Bancroft and Beemer in Cuming County; Homer in Dakota County; Emerson and Newcastle in Dixon County; and Pender and Thurston in Thurston County.

Birthday bash

Children and appliance usage

The Whirlpool Appliance Company recently commissioned a study of children's appliance usage. The national sample interviewed families having at least one child under the age of 14.

The study focused on what types of appliances children regularly used, how they learned to use them, the variety of household chores people perform and parent's concerns about children operating appliances.

Most children help out around the house. In 71 percent of the homes children help out with at least one chore daily. Most commonly, kids are helping with housecleaning or washing dishes. Children are least likely to do laundry or shop for groceries.

CHILDREN THAT CARE for themselves while parents work are even more likely to help with household chores. Children of so called latch-key families clean house in 73 percent of the households compared to 31 percent of non-latch-key families. These children are more likely to wash dishes and do the laundry also.

The most frequently used appliance by all children is the microwave oven. The refrigerator-freezer ranks a close second while trash compactors and ovens are the least used by children.

Most children learn to use appliances from an adult. Watching or helping an adult or sibling was the second most common method of instruction.

PARENTS ARE MOST often concerned about fire safety when children use appliances. Electric shock and burns are the second and third most common concerns.

Parents can insure that children use appliances safely by setting safety guidelines. Make sure children know which appliances they can use and which ones are off limits. Consider giving your child an operators license for an appliance.

Review important safety precautions and how to operate the appliance with your child. Then just like a drivers test, have the child make hot chocolate in the microwave or load the dishwasher under your supervision. Give the child an "operators license" if they perform the task correctly.

Most importantly, model safe appliance usage for your children. Kids and appliances can be a safe combination.

Baptisms

Bryce Carl Brockman

Bryce Carl Brockman, infant son of Curtis and Kelly Brockman of Carroll, was baptized Monday evening, Feb. 29 at the United Methodist Church in Carroll with the Rev. Keith Johnson officiating. Sponsors were Gary and Carla Oakeson of Columbus.

Attending a luncheon in the church fellowship hall following the baptism were Pastor Johnson of Wayne, grandparents Mrs. Sis Rohde of Randolph, Jack Rohde of Plainview, and Bob and Darlene Brockman of Carroll, and great grandparents Mrs. Mable Janssen of Carroll, Mrs. Lavina Brockman and Everett and Gertrude Murkie, all of Coleridge, and Mrs. Elsie Rohde of Randolph.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Oakeson, Stephanie and Corby of Columbus, Dale Beltz and Barb Johns of Plainview, Lois, Shari and Travis Brockman of Battle Creek, Doris Callison of Laurel, Brad Hale of Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Janssen and Marc of Winside, and Deb Jones and Brent Hurlbert of Carroll.

In charge of serving were Mrs. Sis Rohde and Mrs. Bob Brockman. Mrs. Mable Janssen cut the baptismal cake.

4-H home economics leader training offered at Concord

"Sewing for Fun" and three levels of "Home Building Blocks" will be explored at the area Home Economics Leader Training Day to be held Saturday, March 19 at the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord.

Four-H leaders from Dixon, Wayne, Cedar, Dakota and Thurston Counties are encouraged to attend.

Also on the program are presentations from area businesses and individuals on "Matting and Framing Wall Accessories," "Sergers," "Arrangements of Dried and Silk Flowers," and "Identifying Your Style in Interior Design."

TRAINING WILL be provided on six new 4-H home economics projects — "Sewing for Fun," "Clothing Levels I and II," and "Home Building Blocks I, II and III." Leaders will have the opportunity to develop their skills in tie-dyeing fabric and completing other member activities.

Several video cassette players and individual slide projectors will be set up for leaders to use in previewing new visual materials they may wish to incorporate into their project meetings.

Leader kits of sample fair exhibits for each of the new projects also will be available to preview and schedule.

Door prizes of dried arrangements made in the demonstration will be given away.

THE REGISTRATION fee of $3.50 covers all refreshments, lunch of cream soup in bread bowls, salad and dessert, and packets for both the clothing and home environment project training.

Registrations, including a check, should be sent to the Dixon County Extension Service, c/o Maureen Bruening Jensen, Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord, Neb., 68728.

Registrations are limited to 50 individuals and are due by March 11.

Open house held for Wakefield centurion

Friends and relatives from Nebraska and South Dakota gathered at the Wakefield Health Care Center on Feb. 21 for an open house reception honoring the 100th birthday of Francis Fenton.

Hosting the reception were Fenton's nephew and wife, F. J. (Spud) and Coleen Fenton of Long Beach, Calif.

The honoree's nephew reminisced about his uncle's life experiences with those attending the event.

Wilma Gustafson of Wakefield baked and decorated the birthday cake.

FENTON WAS born at St. James, Neb. on Feb. 21, 1888 and was one of six brothers and three sisters. His father was a wheelwright and carpenter who came to the midwest from Michigan.

As a child, Fenton lived in Onawa, Iowa, Elk Point, S. D. and Ponca, Neb. He attended eight grades of school and later continued his education at a business school in Sioux City.

His mother and grandfather were among the first families to settle in Dixon County. His grandfather also was the first judge, teacher and school superintendent in Dixon County.

FENTON WENT to work at an elevator at the age of 15 as a grain buyer. He was employed by the Silverburg Brothers in Elk Point.

From 1909 to 1911 he and a brother homesteaded adjoining properties in Harding County, S. D.

Following managerial stints in Worthington, Minn. and Sioux City, Iowa, Fenton came to Wakefield in 1926 to manage a general merchandise store for the Silverburg Brothers.

Later, his work required him to commute between Sioux City and Wakefield until 1953 when he retired.

FENTON MARRIED Anna Kay on Sept. 14, 1946. She died in 1976.

Fenton continued to reside in his home in Wakefield until 1979 when he was admitted to the Wakefield hospital.

Wayne utilities serve over 2200 customers

Just over 104 years ago, the city of Wayne was incorporated as a city in Northeast Nebraska. Since that time, the city has grown into one of Nebraska's most progressive cities.

Wayne's Municipal Utilities have been a very important part of the growth experienced during the first 100 years, and will be the nucleus of the Community's growth during the second 100 years.

Part of the reason that most villages, towns and cities in the United States were established years ago, was because of the need to establish basic services for the people that have chosen to live close together in a community setting.

Wayne was no different than her sister cities across Nebraska and this fine country. She detected a need to provide services to her residents and because of this, Wayne Municipal Utilities were formed.

Wayne Municipal Utilities provide water, wastewater, electricity and solid waste services to the citizens of Wayne and the immediate area surrounding the community.

The utilities are owned by the residents of Wayne and are managed under the direction of the city council, who are elected by the citizens of Wayne.

Municipal utilities are operated under revenues collected for the service provided. Public utility rates are based on the cost of operation and do not include additional costs related to profit, stock dividends or bonus payments to officers and directors.

Nebraska is also a Public Power State, and because of that, the entire state of Nebraska has long enjoyed the benefits of low cost electric power.

The largest of the city's utility divisions, the electric system, was established in 1898. It originally was established to provide evening lighting for the citizens.

In early 1900, citizens petitioned the city council to expand service to morning service.

Today, the system includes 35 miles of primary distribution line and hundreds of miles of wire that provide service to over 2200 customers on the system.

The providing of water and the treatment of wastewater are the primary services provided by the city's second largest utility, the water-wastewater division of public works.

This division supplies drinking water to the citizens and treats wastewater prior to its return to the environment.

Solid waste disposal is the other utility provided by the city for her citizens.

Solid waste disposal is provided through the city's transfer station that was constructed to accept solid waste for disposal in landfills located elsewhere in the state.

In the dark about public power?

Let us shed some light on the subject.

From a need for reliable water supply, came the need for power revenues, came the need for markets and finally the development of Nebraska's unique public power system.

In addition to the humble beginnings of the hydro power plants, the state's public power system today consists of large, efficient coal-fired generating sources and two nuclear power plants.

Wayne State men advance, women lose

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne State Wildcats opened up District 11 play Wednesday night with a 71-62 win over Concordia Teachers College of Seward.

The Wildcats, playing on the surface of Rice Auditorium, took a 60-58 lead with 2:18 left in the contest, and from there stretched it to the nine point margin where it stood at the final buzzer.

The Wildcat victory was not a lock however, until late in the game. Concordia came out in the first half and hit 5-6 from the 3-point range, thus notching the score at 35 apiece at intermission.

In the second half, Wayne State countered with its own 3-point wizard, Steve Dunbar, who connected on 4-6 attempts from the bonus range, enroute to his game high 19 points.

Wayne State's defense also responded to the 3-point mastery of Concordia in the first half, by shutting down the outside shooting. Concordia failed to make a single 3-pointer in the second half in 10 attempts.

"Our defense really keyed the victory," Head Coach Steve Aggers said. "As far as our offensive execution, we weren't very pleased."

Aggers attributed some of the lack of timing on the passes and the less than adequate offensive execution to the 12 day lay off since the last game.

Down the stretch, the key was Wayne State's special trap defense. Coming off a time out with under two and a half minutes remaining, Concordia had the ball and was set to trigger the inbounds pass.

Mike McNamara stole the inbounds attempt and dished off to the floor general Dunbar for the easy lay in. McNamara and Terry Porter then hit back to back free throws to give Wayne State an eight point lead with still under a minute remaining. Wayne State out rebounded the visitors from Seward, 40-31. Aggers was a little distraught however, in the free throw shooting. The Wildcats did connect on 14-22 attempts however.

Following Dunbar's 19 points, was McNamara and Bobby Parker with 12 points apiece. Terry Porter netted seven to aid the Wildcat victory.

McNamara was also instrumental in the rebounding category, as he and teammate Steve Berg hauled down seven caroms each.

All District 11 first teamer Brent Cumber, of Concordia, led all scorers with 26 points.

Wayne State faces number one seed Hastings this Saturday night at Hasling's. The Broncos defeated the Antelopes of Kearney State in their first round contest, 83-81.

The Lady Wildcats of Wayne State were bracketed into playing Doane College in the semi-finals of the District 11 basketball tournament Wednesday night.

"They are a much better ball club than the one we faced in the beginning of the season and beat by 10," Klaver said. "In order to beat Doane, we would have to play an excellent all around game."

Wayne State fell short however, thus ending its season with a 16-14 record. The home court proved lethal for the visiting team, which is not uncommon in District 11 tournaments.

Although the final score showed the Tigers notching a 13 point win, 86-73, this was a game of many dimensions.

Doane came out and played the Lady Wildcats in a very aggressive man-to-man defense. Just how aggressive it was depends on who you talk too.

Wayne State's catalyst Linda Schnitzler found the man-to-man defense virtually impenetrable, struggling from the field, and netting nine points for the game, which is about half of her season average.

On the other hand, forward senior Kris Smith ended her collegiate career with her best game of her career, pouring in 27 points and leading the team in rebounding with eight caroms.

"Smith played an outstanding game," Klaver said. "She shot 11-14 from the field, and was 5-6 from the free throw line."

Wayne State trailed 41-30 at intermission and found itself trailing by 17 during the second half, before they made a run at the Tigers.

"We made a really strong run at them by cutting their 17 point lead down to three," Klaver lamented. "Our team gave a great effort, and it takes a lot of character to mount a come back like we did."

Sometimes unfortunately, when a team exerts so much energy in making a run, they simply fall short in the end. Doane responded to Wayne State's rally by stretching the lead back to its double figure margin, after the Wildcats had chopped it to three with eight minutes remaining.

Michelle Blomberg connected on 4-8, 3-point field goal attempts enroute to her game total of 22 points.

KEITH BERG FINDS no where to turn, in Wayne State's first round win over Concordia College Wednesday night. Berg hauled down seven rebounds to aid in the Wildcat victory, 71-62.

Sports Briefs

Contest deadline

Don't forget to enter the Wayne Herald contest for picking this year's state tournament winners for the boys.

All contest entries should be in by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 9. First prize is a $20 gift certificate to Pizza Hut, with second and third prizes worth $15 and $10 respectively.

There are a possible 150 points by stringing together all the winners throughout all the brackets in the six categories.

To be eligible however, you have to guess all classes, A-B-C1-C2-D1-D2. You will receive three points for each correct first round game. You will receive four points for each correct semi final game, and five points for the final.

Izaak Waltons to meet

The Wayne Izaak Waltons will meet on Monday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the City Office Building meeting room.

AMERICA HAS A HEALTHY RESPECT FOR NEBRASKANS.

Nebraska has always been known for its "good life" but our state is gaining a reputation nationwide for good health, too.

Currently, Nebraska boasts the sixth highest life expectancy of any state in the union (73.88 years). Part of the credit for this statistic has to be given to our excellent statewide health care. Nebraska places third nationally in the ratio of hospital beds to population. In addition, our medical costs are a very healthy 73% of the national average.

Of course, when you live in a state where air and water pollution are practically nonexistent, stress levels are barely measurable, and the crime rate is the sixth lowest in the U.S., you just naturally stay healthy.

So the next time you find yourself enjoying the good life here in Nebraska, take a little extra pleasure in the knowledge that you get to enjoy it longer too.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

Wayne Stater newspaper as a helpful tool to utilize once he finds employment with a community newspaper, or larger newspaper that covers several communities.

Advisor Richardson said news coverage really focuses on the Wayne State College campus. "We bring the campus atmosphere with us when we come down here [to The Wayne Herald]," Richardson said.

Richardson also brings her Journalism I class to The Wayne Herald. "It's important for them to see how a newspaper works. They get not only an idea of the workings of the newspaper staff, but they can see that other departments within the newspaper—production—are instrumental," she said.

"They can see that if they miss a deadline, it will also affect the other divisions of the newspaper," she said.

"I've been impressed with the students — their maturity and responsibility," Richardson said.

"And it's been a joy and delight working with our editors and the people at The Wayne Herald," Richardson mentioned.

Disposal

Nebraska DEC's Land Quality Division, said it is not known whether any of the unlicensed dumps are contaminating drinking water.

He said the dumps with the highest probability of contaminating ground water will be investigated first.

The Wayne Herald will be receiving a copy of the Nebraska DEC report this week and will publish its findings about the unlicensed sites.

Energy office to supply weatherization grants

The Nebraska Energy Office announced that Goldenrod Hills Community Action Council, serving 14 counties, will receive a $181,841 grant to supplement the federally-funded Weatherization Assistance Program.

The program provides energy-saving home improvements for Nebraskans who cannot afford to make the improvements themselves.

"By trading the purchase of imported energy for an investment in energy-saving building materials purchased in the state, we can improve local economies and reduce Nebraska's dependence on imported fuels," said Gary Rex, director of Policy Research and Energy Office.

The Weatherization Assistance Program may receive up to 15 percent of the funds each year from the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program to make improvements. The Department of Social Services, which administers the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program, transfers a portion of the funds to the Weatherization Assistance Program, administered by the Energy Office.

A total of $1.3 million has been made available for this year by the Department of Social Services. The remaining 85 percent of the Low-Income Energy Assistance program funds pay a portion of the heating and cooling bills of eligible applicants and other programs.

The Energy Office estimates that energy-saving home improvements will be made in 109 homes in Goldenrod Hills CAC area because of these funds.

Siouxland blood bank at Winside

The Siouxland Blood Bank will be accepting donations at Winside Auditorium in Winside on March 9 between the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Said Rita Davis, donor consultant: "The Siouxland Blood Bank appreciates the support we continue to receive from the residents of Winside and surrounding communities."

"In order to maintain a safe and constant blood supply for the patients in the 14 area hospitals, we need to collect an average of 350 pints of blood each week. This is not a simple task, but with your help, the need can and will be met."

"The need for blood never ends, so be a regular blood donor," said Davis.

Food to be distributed

The Wayne Office, Nebraska Department of Social Services will be distributing food commodities on the following dates and times:

- Carroll Fire Hall, Thursday, March 10, 9:30 to 10:30.
- Hoskins Fire Hall, Thursday, March 10, 1 to 2.
- Winside City Auditorium, Thursday, March 10, 2:30 to 3:30.
- Wayne Social Services Office, Friday, March 11 starting at 9 a.m.

The following items will be given away: one pound butter, five pounds processed cheese, five pounds flour and four pounds of rice.

A social security card and proof of residence, such as a utility bill, are necessary for identification. Food items cannot be picked up for another household unless the social service office has a statement of income verification and written permission from the household. These statements can be picked up at the social service office prior to distribution.

Households must have income below the following limits in order to qualify:

- Household size, One, $8,250 gross annually, monthly income, $688;

LADIES AID

Twenty-five members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Ladies Aid, Pastor John Fale and one guest, Mrs. Ed Hethold, met Wednesday.

Elaine Menke, aid president, called the meeting to order. Laura Jaeger and Vera Mann led devotions with the singing of the hymn "Glory Be To God," the reading of Psalm 22 in unison and meditation given on "Seven Words From the Cross." Pastor Fale led the Bible study taken from the LWML Quarterly "Life Matters."

The secretary and treasurer reports were given. A scholarship application has been received from Don Hunter. From the committee reports given it was noted the parsonage kitchen drapes are for sale. Anyone interested should contact Evelyn Jaeger.

Mary Janke and Erna Hoffman are a committee to look into publishing a centennial cookbook which will include recipes from the old cookbook as well as new ones. Congregation is encouraged to continue making fund raising suggestions for the Aid.

The Ladies Aid will pay half of each child's expense who would like to go to Camp Luther this summer.

A cheer card was sent to Esther Benchoff.

The Aid has been asked to serve at two weddings and a 50th anniversary in the near future. Hostesses were Gloria Evans and Marcia Fale.

The next meeting will be a guest day Wednesday, April 6 at 1:30 p.m. A salad bar luncheon will be served. Each member is to bring two salads. Five churches will be invited to attend.

Kitchen committee is Pat Janke, Vera Mann, Lois Miller, Verdelle Reeg and Marguerite Janke. Entertainment committee will be Marcia Fale, Evelyn Jaeger and Doris Marotz.

PACK MEET

The Webelo and Bear Cub Scouts held their monthly pack meet Feb. 28 with 20 guests and five scouts present. The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and the Cub Scout promise. The secretary and treasurer reports were given. Thank yous were read from Christmas gifts given. The Blue and Gold Banquet was discussed and new scout books were handed out.

The scouts will have a booth at the April 30 Scout-o-Rama in Norfolk. The next newspaper drive in Winside will be Saturday, March 26 at 9 a.m.

The Webelos met again Monday after school. They worked on their citizen pin with a lesson on government. Jason Jensen served treats. The next meeting will be today (Monday) and Joshua Jaeger will bring treats.

The Webelos and Bears will have their candle burn down award during the month of March. They will go roller skating and tour a Norfolk business.

Four members of TOPS NE 589 met Wednesday at Marian Iversens. They discussed dieting problems during the meeting. The group will meet again Wednesday, March 9 at Marian Iversens at 6:30 p.m. Anyone wanting more information can call 286-4425.

Michelle and Melyssa Deck, twin daughters of Rod and Patty Deck, celebrated their first birthday with a noon dinner on Feb. 28 at their home. Also being honored was brother Bryan who will be 9 on March 3 and their grandmother, Mrs. Alice Albertsen of Wayne for her birthday. Guests included the girls' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Deck of Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Albertsen of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Hamm and Matt of Pender; Mildred and Lorree Dangberg of Wayne; Kevin Libengood and Missy Sanderson, both of Norfolk. A special care bear cake was baked by Cathy Jensen. The girls' birthday was actually Feb. 26.

C.O. and Jane Witt of Winside were surprised by friends of the Birthday Club and afternoon Bridge Club with a farewell party the evening of Feb. 26 at their home. Pitch was played for entertainment and a cooperative lunch was served. The couple was given a farewell gift by the group. The Witts will be moving to Norfolk in the near future.

Eleven were present when the Senior Citizens met last Monday at the fire hall for cards.

The group signed a birthday card for Lloyd Texley of Wayne, a former Carroll resident, honoring his 90th birthday.

Mrs. Mary Drake and George Johnston were prize winners. A cooperative lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dunklau, Shauna, Cindy, Megan and Jeb moved the Feb. 28 weekend to Carroll to the home owned by Mrs. Mildred Sundahl. Mrs. Sundahl moved recently to a home she purchased in Norfolk. The Dunklaus moved from a farm site five miles west and five miles south of Carroll. John is employed at Timpler in Wayne.

Afterwards all papers will be taken to Parco in Norfolk.

The Bears showed an Indian totem pole that they had made. The Webelos each wrote their own play, make a puppet and each gave a presentation of it. Jeremy Keenan's play was "Women in Distress"; Jason Jensen, "Fix It Scout"; Greg Mundill, "Average Paper Route Day"; and Joshua Jaeger, "Saving Lives."

Awards presented during the evening were: Shawn Magwire, one red bead and three silver arrows; Brian Fuoss, one red bead and one silver arrow and the March denner cord; John Holtgrew, two red beads and one silver arrow; and Bryan Deck, one red bead and two silver arrows. Each red bead represents three finished lessons in the Bear book.

Webelo awards were Jeremy Keenan, showman pin and March denner cord; Jason Jensen, Greg Mundill and Joshua Jaeger, all showman pins.

Host for the evening was the Robin Keenan family.

The March pack meeting will be Sunday, March 27. The boys, assisted by their fathers, will have a derby race against the Wayne Cub Scouts. Dennis Fuoss and Delmar Jensen will be the March hosts.

The Winside Cub Scouts had their monthly newspaper drive Feb. 27. Afterwards the Webelos met at the fire hall and worked on their puppet skits. Jeremy Keenan served treats. Saturday evening the Webelos and Bears went with leader Joni Jaeger swimming at the Norfolk YMCA.

The officers and social committee of the Cedar View Country Club will hold their meeting at Bartels Country Cafe on Wednesday, March 9 at 7 p.m.

The officers are Misty Urwiler, president; Jan Anderson, vice president; Marcia Nixon, treasurer; and Pat Schaefer, secretary. The social committee includes Penny Johnson, Sandy Kint, Logene Strathman and Mina Swanson.

The meeting is being held in order to plan for ladies kick-off night. Any suggestions are welcome and can be made known to one of the officers before March 9.

The Learning Tree Preschool winter olympics had an exciting outcome this year. The three events were the downhill floor jump, the bob sled and the individual interpretive figure skating. Five judges awarded points for technical and artistic merit. The three teams from the United States scored from 6.2 to 8.7 (very high). The gold medalists from the three teams were: team 1, Adam Hartung, Brett Gould, Bob Haisch and Luke Christensen; team 2, Blake Bartels, Aaron Hansen and Jacob Gubbels; team 3, Candace Patefield, Katie Bohlen, Ashlyn Bloom and Amanda Tlsthammer.

Good Morning Toastmasters met at the Laurel-Concord board room Feb. 22. Noama Quist was the evening's toastmaster. An entertaining speech was given by Morris Jacobsen, "An Unusual Happening." Marcia Lipp was jokemaster. The Toastmasters will meet again tomorrow (Tuesday) at 7 p.m. in the board room.

The Laurel American Legion Auxiliary will meet Friday, March 18 at 2 p.m. in the home of Marion Mallatt. This later meeting date is due to the World Day of Prayer being held on March 4.

The Laurel Farmerettes Extension Club will meet tomorrow (Tuesday) at 2 p.m. at the Mrs. L.I. Twiford home.

The Pitch and Canasta Club will meet Monday, March 14 at the Laurel Senior Center. Hostesses for this meeting will be Gertrude Seyl, Eunice Leapey and Luella Kardell.

There were 31 in attendance at the last meeting. Prize winners were Gustie Loeb, Bertha Burton, Louie Reynolds, Gertrude Seyl, Mabel Karnes, Carolyn Sherry and Florence Tuttle.
