Free chicks available to youngsters

The Wayne Chicken Show committee has announced it will be receiving 150 baby chicks later this month to give away to Wayne County youngsters.

Jane O'Leary, a spokesman for the committee, said the chicks, including fancy batams and other exotic breeds, are expected to arrive March 21 or 22.

O'Leary said youngsters may request up to five chicks, with the only stipulation being that they be displayed at the Wayne Chicken Show and Wayne County Fair.

Youngsters receiving the chicks also will receive three pounds of baby chick starter provided by Feeders Elevator in Wayne.

O'Leary stressed that the chicks will be given away on a first come, first serve basis and youngsters wishing chicks should reserve them by calling Gail Korn, 375-3615.

THE WOOD automobile teeters on the edge of a drop-off after colliding with a bridge on a gravel road one mile south of the Wayne County Fairgrounds.

Accident injures rural Wayne youth

A one-car accident Tuesday evening, which happened a mile west and 1/4 miles south of Wayne, hospitalized a 17 year old rural Wayne youth.

Jarrod Wood was driving his 1985 Oldsmobile north on the county road when he lost control on the gravel and hit the west side of a bridge railing. He was alone in the vehicle at the time of the impact.

The accident was investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. The incident occurred at approximately 6:10 p.m. Wood was taken by ambulance to Providence Medical Center and then transferred to Marian Health Center in Sioux City, where he was reported in fair condition.

The sheriff's department reported that Wood received injuries described as broken ribs, fractured fibula, collapsed lung and several lacerations.

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Unit also was called to the scene. Wood's left foot was trapped in the vehicle and the fire department used the Jaws of Life to free his legs.

During city council meeting

Peoples president says 'system not for sale'

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

President and Chief Executive Officer of Peoples Natural Gas, James McClymond, told the Wayne City Council Tuesday night what he had said in previous statements: "The [Peoples Natural Gas] system is not for sale."

McClymond and other Peoples Natural Gas officials appeared before the city council, voicing concern over the city's recent action committing $5,240 for a study to be coordinated by the Nebraska Municipal Power Pool on the feasibility of municipal ownership of a natural gas system.

In November, 1985, the city council voted to spend the $5,240 for the feasibility study.

McClymond asked the city council to reconsider the involvement in the feasibility study, adding that the study "isn't necessary."

HE SAID AN interim legislative study has been proposed by Peoples and other companies, free of charge, where all of the good or bad aspects of municipal ownership will be examined.

The study, he said, would be performed by a neutral party — the legislature.

"So I guess that I would have to say that this is a waste of $5,240," mentioned McClymond.

"I don't want to end up as adversaries. We like Wayne...and we think that we're a good gas company, and I don't want to end up fighting," he said.

He added that the city of Wayne hasn't had a rate increase since 1983. "I doubt if any of the other city services has stayed at that level for the past five years."

The firm of gas company KN, McClymond said, was used as a battle cry by the League [of Municipalities] and others to characterize the gas industry in Nebraska as bad and evil, said McClymond.

The argument that the deregulation of gas, making it a more competitive market, would allow municipalities to buy gas from spot markets at a reasonable price, is not substantiated. "The facts are the opposite. It is far more complicated and takes a lot more skill, timing and know-how to get the optimum benefit of gas today for its customers," said McClymond.

"What happens with deregulation is that clout [buying power] matters," he said. "We buy tremendous quantities of gas from eight different pipelines."

If the city of Wayne would get into the natural gas system business, McClymond said he would look upon it as a "triple tax."

HE SAID SAVINGS from municipal natural gas purchases may not be passed down to the gas customers. The taxes paid by the private Peoples system would be lost, he added, and the system would have to be financed one way or another.

McClymond said that the power pool study will be presented as a "risk free" move. "Is there any question as to how it's going to turn out? I admit the study will be well and cleverly done. But miraculously, Wayne will be one that will qualify."

He added that "the level of service" will not be included in the power pool study and he questioned whether city employees would have the expertise in gas system area.

Currently, McClymond said Peoples in Wayne has $150,000 in payroll, pays a franchise tax of $25,000 annually and pays property taxes in the amount of approximately $12,000.

The company also has the popular Appliance Protection Program for hassle free repairs and is "a willing and active participant in economic development."

"The system is just not for sale. And in general, I'm sorry but I think that a private business can do the job better than the city can. It will be a long expensive process. If we are going to go into anything, we're going to make sure that our customers know exactly what goes on," said McClymond.

WAYNE MAYOR Wayne Marsh said the city council voted 2 1/2 years ago, in November, to go ahead with the study that would cost $1 per person (or $5,240).

"We're in it too far to back out. We've committed ourselves. It's not practical to back out now from the feasibility study," said Marsh.

"I hope you don't think that we've got it in for the gas company, because we don't. The feasibility study won't hurt us. There hasn't been one for 57 years. It is supposed to be unbiased," added Marsh.

"I think we're doing the right thing for the people we represent," he said. Said McClymond: "We just want you to be fair minded and objective."

Two people from the audience spoke on the issue. Bob Carhart of Wayne asked that the city council consider allowing a group of Wayne citizens to review the power pool study before a decision is made on the proposals.

Duane Schroeder said safety should be a major factor when considering municipal gas system ownership. He could see no advantage in the city providing the gas service.

He said municipal gas system ownership would be like "swimming against the tide" with recent efforts by the federal government to "privatize" services.

The city council took no action on the request for reconsideration of participating in the power pool study.

Giveaway drawing set for Thursday

The list of finalists has been established for the Great Wayne Giveaway II. Now all that remains is to draw for a "dream vacation trip for two" winner among the 16 finalists.

Drawing for the Great Wayne Giveaway has been scheduled for Thursday, March 10 at 5:30 p.m. at The Wayne Herald and Marketer office.

The winner of the second drawing will receive $500 in valuable vacation bucks.

One last drawing for two more names, completing the list of 16 finalists, took place Tuesday at Hardees of Wayne.

Marvin Echtenkamp of rural Wakefield, who registered at Surber's, and Mrs. Paul Dangberg of rural Wayne, who placed her entry at Kuhn's, were the latest finalists.

Grand prizes for this year's Great Wayne Giveaway include $500 in Vacation Bucks and a choice of seven different trips. Vacation Bucks must be spent locally at any of the

Tests reveal too much manganese

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The Wayne City Council didn't get encouraging news when the agenda topic of approval of plans and setting of bid date for the proposed water transmission line came up for discussion.

John Franklin, representing the Howard R. Green Company, updated the city council on the latest developments concerning the proposed well site and transmission line. The well site is located on the Bob Fouss property several miles north of Wayne.

Franklin told the city council that the permit from the Nebraska Department of Roads for the construction of the transmission line from the well site to Wayne has been received. On Monday, the company has received word that the Nebraska Department of Health had approved the project.

Franklin told the city council that the estimated cost of the project is estimated at $1,185,315.

He then told the city council that the quantity of water "is there" at the well site. However, recent sample water test results, taken from 200 feet and 400 feet from the well site and studied by the state, reveal that the water quality is not what was anticipated.

RESULTS ON the sample tests from the two recent well sites, received by the engineering firm on Monday, revealed that "the iron and manganese were higher than we like," said Franklin.

He added that the test revealed no problems with nitrate in the water. The manganese level, according to Franklin, should have been under .05. However, the test results from the state show that the level of manganese was .1 at one observation well and .3 at another observation well.

Previous well water samples were taken from about a mile from the proposed well site and from existing wells in the area. "According to those results, the proposed well site should have been a good site," said Franklin.

One of the options discussed by Franklin was to take another water sample from a place very near the actual well site. Another proposal brought up by the city council was to have the water samples studied by another firm so that comparisons can be made.

CITY COUNCIL member Darrel Fuelberth asked what the city could do if the water quality remained as its present level. Could the proposed site be changed?

City Attorney Kem Swarts said that the permits issued by the state for the well site and transmission line take into consideration only the proposed location of the well field.

Franklin said as much testing could be done as possible and still, after the well was drilled, there could be problems. He added that the drilling of the actual well would not be done until the test results are of a satisfactory nature.

The city council decided to hold off on setting of the bid date for water system improvements. And until the test well issue is resolved, the council decided delay the approval of plans and specifications for the water system improvements.

Administrators' wages approved

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Wayne-Carroll's Board of Education approved base salary increases to the administration and support staff of the school district during Tuesday's regular meeting.

Increases were approved for the superintendent, high school principal, junior high principal and elementary principal. Also, a 5 percent increase for support staff was approved by the board.

The board arrived at the increases by taking the averages of nine schools that were used for comparison in the Commission of Industrial Relation's recent salary package settlement with the Wayne Education Association.

Those schools include South Saryp, Seward and Gretna (three larger than Wayne); and Central City, Ashland Greenwood, Tekamah Herman, Raymond, Wahoo and Centennial.

The committee of board members — Sid Hillier, Becky Keidel and Cap Peterson — arrived at the increase figures by computing the average salary (among the nine schools in the comparison array) for superintendents, high school principals, junior high principals and elementary principals. Keidel, Peterson, Hillier, Arnold Emry and Neil Sandahl voted approval of the proposed contract. Board member Joyce Reeg was not present at the meeting when the call for vote was given.

Contract lengths were averaged and the average monthly salaries were compiled and applied to the Wayne contracts for administrators.

THE PRESENT base salaries for the four administrators of the Wayne-Carroll School District totals $140,861. The school board approved a total base increase of $12,505 for the

As ESU1 Employee of the Year

Kay Cattle receives McQuistan Memorial Award

Wayne resident Kay Cattle has been named recipient of the Georgia McQuistan Memorial Award for 1987-88 at Educational Service Unit One.

The award was established in honor of Georgia McQuistan, a former ESU 1 employee who died in 1987.

It is designed to recognize ESU 1 employees who have done outstanding work in their field and have been willing to become involved beyond the requirements of their job.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICE Unit 1 is headquartered in Wakefield and provides specialized services to school districts in Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Thurston and Wayne counties.

Cattle, who received the award on March 4, has been employed by the service unit for 12 years and serves as a pre-kindergarten teacher for handicapped children.

She also coordinates activities within that department and is involved in numerous local and state educational programs.

CATTLE WAS recently appointed to Governor Kay Orr's Advisory Committee on Pre-K (Nebraska Interagency Coordinating Council).

She also is an advisory committee member of Nebraska Parent/Educator Network Training, has served as chairperson of the Region IV Developmental Disabilities Council since 1979, is chairperson of the Regional Council Coordinating Committee and on the Grant Review Committee, and is membership chairperson of the Nebraska Division of Early Childhood Council for Exceptional Children (NDEC-CEC).

Cattle also is actively involved in the Association for Retarded Citizens, American Association of University Women, and Goldenrod Hills Heart Start Health Advisory Council.

She also was a volunteer organizer of PAL (People Are Loved), serves as a member of the Wayne Area Advisory Council to Region IV, and actively participates in "Kids on the Block," a puppet program in area schools.

Cattle is treasurer for the ESU 1 Education Association and was also past president.

CATTLE RESIDES in Wayne with her husband Don, division head of applied sciences at Wayne State College.

They are the parents of two sons. Brian attends Kearney State College and Ben resides in New Orleans.

LAST YEAR'S recipient of the Georgia McQuistan Memorial Award was Sydney Kruse, a speech pathologist in the Pender-Thurston and Walthill Schools.

Bell school reunion scheduled in July

Former students, teachers and spouses of District 6 in Wayne County, known as the Bell School, will hold a reunion on Saturday, July 2.

The event will take place from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Wakefield Senior Citizens Center located in the old high school building.

No formal program is planned, however there will be a noon luncheon, tour of the old high school, and a table of memorabilia. A history book also is being prepared and will be available.

LETTERS HAVE been sent to approximately 150 former students and 23 teachers.

According to the committee organizing the event, addresses could not be obtained for all of the past students.

The group is asking that persons who know of someone who attended Bell School and did not receive an invitation to contact Mrs. William (Rhonda) Blecke, Rt. 1, Wakefield, Neb. 68784.

THE ORIGINAL bell that called nearly 400 pupils to school from 1873 to 1961 has been donated to Wakefield Community School District 60R as a memorial to rural schools.

The bell will be permanently displayed east of the elementary building.

'Time to be a Better Me' leader training offered

Dixon County home extension club leaders will attend a training session in March designed to teach them how to spend time effectively and reach goals.

The leader training lesson is entitled "Time to be a Better Me" and is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Leader training will be held Monday, March 14 at 1:30 p.m. at the Northeast Center near Concord.

Representatives from other organizations also are welcome to attend the leader training and, in turn, present the lesson to their organization.

MARY TEMME, quad county extension agent-home economics, will present strategies for "taking charge and getting unstuck."

Suggestions include saying "no" occasionally to allow time for yourself, taking personal time; giving yourself realistic deadlines and doing important tasks first; requesting support from others to reach your goals; and keeping a relaxed attitude about your efforts.

Persons who would like additional information about the lesson are asked to contact Temme at the Wayne County Extension Office, 375-3310.

OES fellowship supper planned

The Order of the Eastern Star (OES) invites members, family of members, friends, masons and all invited guests to attend a fellowship supper on Friday, March 11 at the Masonic Hall, 511 Lincoln St. in Wayne.

The supper will be served continuously between the hours of 5 and 7:30 p.m., and diners are free to choose the time most convenient to them.

There is no charge for the supper, however contributions will be accepted. No formal meeting or program is planned and no reservations are needed.

Guests are invited to renew their friendships in OES and masonry and to bring family and friends for supper, companionship and conversation.

Policy on Weddings

The Wayne Herald welcomes news accounts and photographs of weddings involving families living in the Wayne area.

We feel there is widespread interest in local and area weddings and are happy to make space available for their publication.

Because our readers are interested in current news, we ask that all weddings and photographs offered for publication be in our office within 10 days after the date of the ceremony. Information submitted with a picture after that deadline will not be carried as a story but will be used in a cutline underneath the picture. Wedding pictures submitted after the story appears in the paper must be in our office within three weeks after the ceremony.

World Day of Prayer observed

Sixty-three women, representing various churches in the community, participated in World Day of Prayer services last Friday afternoon at the Wayne Presbyterian Church. Friday's service began the second century of World Day of Prayer with the theme "Open Doors With Brazilian Women."

World Day of Prayer was sponsored by Wayne Church Women United, representing the Presbyterian, First United Methodist, St. Paul's Lutheran, Redeemer Lutheran, First Baptist and St. Mary's Catholic Churches.

A large lighted-globe surrounded by lighted candles made up the worship table. Prayer concerns of the Brazilian people were made known and silent prayers were offered on behalf of social conditions in Brazil. Dr. John Mitchell, pastor of the Wayne Presbyterian Church, delivered a brief sermon, and Mrs. Helen James was pianist for the afternoon.

Wayne Family Day Care Providers meet

The Wayne Family Day Care Providers met last month at Columbus Federal with 15 women attending. Members of the group discuss various concerns for quality day care. Meetings are usually held the third Thursday of each month at Columbus Federal. Members discussed a "CPR for Little People" class scheduled March 12 at Columbus Federal and a hop-a-hon program of the Muscular Dystrophy Association. A one-day, statewide conference is slated May 7 in Lincoln with several speakers and workshops. Participants in CCFP were reminded to turn in the pink commodity survey sheets as soon as possible. Next meeting of the group will be March 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Columbus Federal meeting room, hosted by Irene Fletcher and Melita Heftl. Vicki Meyer will share information on the newly formed Nebraska Family Day Care Association. Persons interested in attending are asked to call Vicki Meyer, 375-3631, for additional information.

Engagements

Warner-Hermelbracht

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner of Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hermelbracht of Rosalie announce the engagement of their children, Jeanne Marie Warner and Wes Frank Hermelbracht.

The bride-elect was graduated from Allen High School in 1984 and plans to graduate in May from Bryan Memorial School of Nursing in Lincoln.

Her fiance is a 1982 graduate of Rosalie High School and a 1984 graduate of Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

A June 11 wedding is planned at the United Methodist Church in Allen.

Briefly Speaking

Winside woman marks 85th

Irene Iversen was honored for her 85th birthday on Feb. 25 at her home in Winside. Guests included Johanna Jensen, Mamie Jensen, Arlene Pfeiffer, Lea Applegate, Marie Suehl, Bonnie Wylie, Dorothy Jo Andersen and Marian Iversen, all of Winside. Lorraine Prince baked a birthday cake which was served with the cooperative lunch.

Mary Dorcey Hillside hostess

Mary Dorcey was hostess for the March 3 meeting of Hillside Club. Seven members answered roll call by telling how they would spend $5,000 if they won it. Pitch furnished entertainment with prizes going to Janet Reeg, Elma Gilliland and Florence Rethwisch. Elma Gilliland will be the April 5 hostess at 2 p.m.

First homes remembered

Seven members of Central Social Circle attended a meeting March 11 in the home of Cleva Willers. Roll call was "Remembering Your First Home." Serving on the program committee for 1988-89 are Mildred Gramlich, Jocell Bull and Virginia Preston. Members signed a card for Mary Kleper. The game Pokeno was played with Mildred Gramlich as leader. Next meeting will be April 5 at 2 p.m. with Leora Austin. Verna Creamer will be the leader.

Meta Thun hospitalized

Mrs. Herbert (Meta) Thun, a former resident of Wayne, was recently hospitalized with pneumonia and Parkinson's disease. Cards and letters will reach her if addressed to Meta Thun, Room 73, Arbor Manor Nursing Home, 2550 N. Nye Ave., Fremont, Neb., 68025.

Logan Homemakers meet

Amanda Meyer was hostess for the March 3 meeting of Logan Homemakers Club. The hostess presented a reading. Seven members sang "My Wild Irish Rose" and answered roll call with their biggest gripe. Pitch was played with prizes going to Phyllis Nolte and Jean Penlerick. Next meeting will be with Alta Meyer on April 7. Members will answer roll call with a story or poem about spring.

Bottgers wed 43 years

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Bottger hosted a card party at their home in Wayne last Friday night to honor their 43rd wedding anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Wriedt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Domsch, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rewinkle, Everett Van Cleave, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Anderson and Lori, Helen Jose, Alma Weiershauser, Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Bjorklund, Donavon and Deldean Bjorklund, all of Wakefield, and Nadine Frundenbury of Norfolk. In cards, prizes were won by Mrs. Jerry Anderson and Bill Domsch, high, Mrs. Walter Hale and Donavon Bjorklund, low, and Mrs. Bill Domsch and Mike Rewinkle, moons. Mrs. Bill Domsch received the door prize.

First Trinity LWML meets

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) of First Trinity Lutheran Church, Altona, met March 3. Bible study was conducted by the Rev. Ricky Bertels and taken from Galatians. The business meeting was conducted by President Doris Pflueger. Attending were seven members and two guests, Mrs. Ricky Bertels and Mrs. Leon Meyer. The women chose Project Hope as their project for district convention, slated June 24-25 in Columbus. Erna Greenwald was honored with the birthday song, and the meeting was adjourned with the table prayer and Lord's Prayer. Hostess was Erna Greenwald.

Acme meets in Schulz home

Thirteen members of Acme Club met in the home of Dolores Schulz on March 7. President Zita Jenkins called the meeting to order. The hostess showed tapes of the golden wedding anniversary observance of her parents, Mary and Leslie Doeschers, held Jan. 31 at the Black Knight with 165 guests attending. Doeschers were married Feb. 2, 1938. Next meeting of Acme Club will be March 21 at 2 p.m. at Geno's Steakhouse with Helen James as hostess.

Free Church Women's Ministries

The Free Church Women's Ministries met Monday at the church with Peggy Johnson as hostess. The evening began with Bible study and prayer. The business meeting included plans for a women's retreat, open to the public, on March 19. The group also discussed the northeast division meeting being hosted by FCWM in April, and the mother-daughter tea in May. White Cross work included rolling bandages and making lap quilts.

Puttin' up with Pete

by Kevin Peterson

The boys high school basketball state tournament is set to begin this Thursday as 48 teams will vie for the six covenant state championship trophies.

For the past few seasons, it's been very common to hear people complaining that no basketball teams except the metro receive any publicity.

The argument seems to lean towards the common denominator that people in Lincoln and Omaha don't realize that there is good basketball teams outside of those two cities.

Columbus will have a tough tournament however, after an opening round game with Kearney, (a game which the Discoverers should win), they will have to play the winner of the Millard South-Lincoln High game.

If the Discoverers should get by the semi final game, they would more than likely face either Creighton Prep, or Lincoln North East.

I'm not saying Columbus is going to lose to these teams, but I am saying that anyone claiming that since they have the best record, they deserve it, should take a different perspective of what is going on.

Not only do Creighton Prep and North East have only two losses on the season, but look who they have played compared to Columbus.

Look for the Discoverers to advance to the finals, but in this writer's opinion, the metro is too tough this year.

In Class B, eyes seem to be on Alliance. After all, they have an unblemished record at 22-0. However, the best game of the Class B tournament will come in the semi final, when Seward meets Wahoo, (considering there are no upsets in the first round).

This writer sees a great match up in the finals with Seward meeting Piux X.

If Atkinson West Holt doesn't win the C-1 title, then justice will have certainly not prevailed. West Holt not only deserves the title, but should go through the tournament, virtually untouched.

Oxford, looking to duplicate the girl's feat at state, will run into a tough obstacle in Pleasanton in the C-2 final, in this writer's opinion.

In the D-1 title game, look for the first round winner between Dunning Sandhills and Polk Hardville to be very strong in the finals with Humphrey St. Francis, who will beat Potter-Dix in the semi finals.

And in the D-2 title game, look for the Butte Wildcats to out gun Beaver Valley.

Wayne State ends season at 14-17

By Kevin Peterson

The Wayne State Wildcats were handed a 65-82 setback in the semi finals of the District 11 tournament Saturday night at the hands of top seeded Hastings on the Broncos home court.

The loss ended the Wildcat season with a 14-17 mark. Subsequently, it was the final game for seniors Keith Berg and Mike McNamara. Both went out in style.

"Berg played a very competitive game," Wildcat mentor Steve Aggers said. "McNamara finished as the game's top rebounder, hauling down 13 boards."

Aggers noted that his Wildcats played a solid first half, trailing by six at intermission, 30-24.

"With the aid of our full court press, we cut a 15 point Hastings lead in the first half, to six at intermission," Aggers said. "We played very good defense in the first half."

The Broncos however, came out on fire in the second half, connecting on 61 percent of their shots enroute to earning a berth in the championship game, and subsequently, a bid to the national NAIA tournament in Kansas City.

Although the Broncos built leads up to 18 points in the second half, Aggers was elated with the job his defense did on the leading scorers for Hastings.

"Coming into the game, our goal was to hold Craig Frahm and Scott Deboer under their averages, and we did that," Aggers lamented. Frahm finished the game with 10 points, while Deboer netted 11.

What Aggers didn't count on was the slack being picked up by Mark Lamb and Dave Piatkowski. Lamb, ended the game with 7-10 shooting from the field, while small forward Piatkowski nailed five of his seven field goal attempts.

Wayne State did not aid its upset efforts in the beginning of the second half, as they suffered four turnovers in its first five possessions, thus allowing Hastings to build the lead to 11, where they kept it virtually, for the rest of the game.

Wayne State out rebounded the home team Broncos, 36-34. Hastings, relying on physical strength in most of its games from the inside, failed to intimidate McNamara, and Steve Dunbar as the two combined for 21 rebounds.

Leading the Wildcats in scoring was Terry Porter, netting 15 points. Porter was 3-4 from the 3-point range.

McNamara and Berg followed with 10 points apiece. Dunbar added eight, while Bobby Parker scored five.

The Wildcats shot only 37 percent from the floor on 22-60 attempts, while Hastings hit 53 percent of its shots for the game, connecting on 26-49 attempts.

Wayne State shot a dismal 56 percent from the free throw line.

Sundesmon takes first

Brenda Sundesmon, Wayne, captured first place honors in the Wayne Herald's pick the winners of the girls state tournament basketball contest.

Sundesmon scored 98 points to outdistance second place finisher Lynden VanderVeen, Wayne, who finished with 91 points.

Third place went to Darrin Barner, Wayne, who scored 87 points.

Sundesmon will receive a $20 gift certificate to Godfathers Pizza of Wayne. VanderVeen will receive a $15 gift certificate, while Barner will receive a $10 gift certificate also to Godfathers.

All three of the top finishers had trouble picking the eventual class winners, but received enough points in the earlier two rounds to outdistance them from the rest.

VanderVeen was the only contestant to pick all the winners of every game in one bracket. VanderVeen picked correctly all seven games of the Class A tournament.

16 grapplers place for Wayne

Thirty wrestlers from the Wayne little kids wrestling program, took part in the Norfolk Wrestling Tournament last Saturday.

The tournament was open to all kids between the grades of kindergarten through eighth grade. Of the 30 participating from Wayne, 16 came away with a top four finish. They include:

Brent Gamble, third place; Troy Kaup, fourth place; Jason Wehrer, third place; Curt Lantz, first place; Jory Bartholomew, fourth place; Matt Robins, second place; Chad Fries, second place; Mike Gries, second place.

Jay Endicott, third place; Aaron Pierce, fourth place; Nathan Robins, third place; Ryan Korth, third place; Terry Hamer, fourth place; Jeremy Meyer, fourth place; Travis Koester, third place, and Brad Fries, third place.

Nebraska Game & Parks

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission is offering free fish for stocking to pond owners again this year, but applications must be received prior to June 1, to be eligible.

Applications are processed on a first-come, first-served basis.

During 1987, 74,600 bluegill and 13,728 largemouth bass were stocked in a total of 41 Nebraska farm ponds.

In providing free fish for farm pond stockings, the Commission is offering an opportunity for pond owners to create a fishery on their own land that will provide recreational opportunities and remove a little pressure from public waters across the state.

That goal is being realized, as a recent survey showed 30 percent of all fishing trips in Nebraska are made on private waters.

It is widely known that farm ponds offer some of the most exciting and productive fishing available, but careful management is necessary to maintain a balanced fish population due to the small size of the ponds.

The commission requires that the pond owner agree to allow fishing by permission on his pond. The landowner is provided a sign that must be posted at the entrance to the pond, which gives notice that the pond has been stocked by the Commission and may be fished if permission is obtained from the landowner.

The landowner is not required to allow fishing by everyone who asks, but he must make his pond available to SOME fishing.

Other requirements include that the pond must have been constructed during the past two years, or be newly renovated; it must be one-half acre in size or larger; it must be 10 feet deep or deeper over one-quarter of the surface area.

There must be no other fish present at the time of stocking; and if smaller than four acres in size, the pond must be fenced to exclude livestock, however, it may be fenced to allow access points to the water.

The Commission stocks bluegill and bass fingerlings at the rate of 500 bluegill to 100 bass per acre, (maximum of five acres), and recommends the landowner purchase catfish fingerlings from private fish culturists for additional stocking.

The bluegill are stocked to provide forage the bass must have to survive and grow, and to provide adult bluegill for fishing. Channel catfish may also be stocked without damaging the bass population as they utilize a portion of the pond not entirely used by the bass and bluegill, and also offer quality fishing.

The Commission recommends that the pond not be fished for about two years following the initial stocking to allow the fish to reach harvestable size.

The two years also allows spawning to occur. Once the fish have grown to respectable size the harvest should include about four pounds of bluegill for each pound of bass removed from the pond; or the proper predator-prey relationship will not remain in balance.

To encourage natural spawning by the catfish, pond owners can provide suitable habitat by sinking and anchoring cream cans or sections of 10-inch culvert pipe with one end plugged.

Brush piles, cedar trees weighted with cement blocks and weighted tires may also be added to provide necessary fish habitat for bluegill and bass.

Additional information and fish stocking applications may be obtained from your nearest Game and Parks Commission office in Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, Bassett, North Platte or Alliance.

Remember, to be eligible for the 1988 stockings, applications must be received by June 1.

Sports Briefs

Schuster wins hoop contest

Shane Schuster, son of Von and Maureen Schuster of Laurel, received first place at the Elks Hoop Shoot Free Throw State Contest, held Saturday, February 27, in Kearney.

Schuster connected on 21 of the 25 free throw attempts to earn the victory.

Schuster will now represent Nebraska in the regional competition to be held in Denver Colorado on March 25-26.

Schuster will be competing against three boys representing Kansas, Wyoming and Colorado. The winner of the regional competition will advance to the National Finals in Indianapolis, Indiana on April 15, 16 and 17.

10 Winside youths place

The Winside Youth Wrestling Association took 12 wrestlers to Pender for competition last Saturday.

Of those 12 competing, six came away with individual championships. Jeff Jacobsen finished in first place, with a 2-0 record on the day. Others finishing in first were:

Shaun Magwire, 2-0; Scott Jacobsen, 2-0; Brady Frahm, 1-0; Andrew Nelson, 1-0, and Jason Magwire, 2-0.

Finishing in second place was Jason Kreuger, 1-1. Kurt Jaeger, finished in third with a 1-1 record, as did David Colwell, 2-2.

Fourth place finisher went to Chris Mann, 2-2. Also competing but failing to place was Corey Jensen and John Hancock.

Wildcats split pair

The Wayne State College mens baseball team kicked off its 1988 campaign with a double header against the 16th rated team in the country in Phillips University, in Lawton, Oklahoma.

Wayne State lost the first game 7-3 behind the arm of Kevin Boham, (0-1). The highlight of the game for the Wildcats came in the seventh inning when Pat Salerno cracked a solo home run.

Salerno went 2-4 during the game, while other leading hitters included Bret Schneider, 2-3, and Destry Jaeger, 2-4.

The Wildcats bounced back in the night cap to earn the split with the top 20 rated Phillips University. Wayne State defeated the home team 9-2.

Jeff Sharp picked up the victory for the Wildcats, (1-0), while pitching 5 2/3 innings, and giving up just four hits.

Don Graham came in to relieve Sharp and gave up just one hit in the remaining 1 1/2 innings.

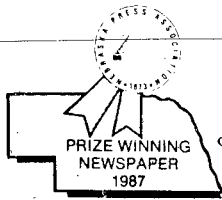

Salerno continued his hitting tear, picking up two more hits during the nightcap to give him four total for the double header.

Craig Koehler also picked up two hits in the second game, while Randy Yarker cracked a double. Mark Wewel, the freshman catcher from Creighton, slammed a two-run home run in the sixth inning. Wewel also had another RBI with a single earlier in the contest.

Homemaking school continues tradition

Homemade bread, the staff of life, is part of our American heritage dating back to Colonial times. Whether baked for gift giving or family enjoyment, homemade breads are a tradition in many families, passed from one generation to another. It's the perfect activity for family togetherness.

Now these traditions can be adapted to fit our more modern lifestyle according to Robin Hofmann, Homemakers Schools home economist from Fort Collins, Colo. Technology has produced a highly active, more vigorous yeast which accelerates the dough rising process. Using the quick mix method and rapid rise yeast, any bread recipe can be adapted to save up to 50 percent rising time.

Long standing tradition at all Homemakers Schools, yeast bread, will again be on the menu. SOMETHING SPECIAL 1988 will include Ms. Hofmann mixing and shaping a "wonderful aromatic yeast bread. Bread bakers will surely enjoy the explanation and demonstration of easy, convenient bread.

SOMETHING SPECIAL from Homemakers School 1988 is free and open to the public. Scheduled for April 25 at the Wayne City Auditorium, this event featuring cooking demonstrations and home management ideas will begin at 7 p.m. with doors opening at 4:30 p.m. to allow the public to view numerous booth displays set up by area merchants.

With the support of area merchants, The Wayne Herald and Marketer and national sponsors, numerous coupons and prizes will be given away.

Several exciting promotional options will be available at this year's show for participating merchants:

- 1) Display booths. This will allow merchants to attractively exhibit and explain new or popular products for two hours prior to the 7 p.m. show. Deadline for booth sign up is March 18;
  - 2) Coupon booklets. Printed and distributed to everyone in attendance, this organized take-home item will be ideal for merchants to promote other in-store bargains;
  - 3) Bag stuffers. All participating merchants will be eligible to submit items to be inserted into bags given to each of the 700-plus attendees expected and;
  - 4) Prior to the event, a special tabloid promoting the show and participating merchants will be printed and distributed to every postal patron in the Greater Wayne trade area.
- Deadline for submitting bag stuffers and copy for the coupon booklet and special tab is April 6.

TERESA DENNEY (right), present manager at Hardee's of Wayne, draws out two more finalist names last Tuesday for the Great Wayne Giveaway II promotion. The winner of the grand prize trip will be announced Thursday at 5:30 p.m. Patii Zrust, advertising executive with the Wayne Herald, assists in the Tuesday drawing.

Highway business zone proposed

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Wayne's City Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended to the Wayne City Council a proposal to rezone a substantial parcel of property east of Wayne.

A public hearing before the commission took place on a proposal to rezone property south of Highway 35, between Valley Drive and Centennial Road, from present B-3 or Light Industrial to Highway Business District.

The planning and zoning commission, after closing the public hearing, decided to go ahead and recommend that the area be rezoned as proposed.

Nobody appeared at the public hearing to object to the rezoning. Businesses in the rezoning area include El Toro, Pizza Hut, Midland Equipment and Wayne Veterinary Clinic.

Ken Liska, co-owner of Wayne Veterinary Clinic, said he has no objections to the rezoning as long as he can be allowed to expand if needed and there would be no problems if animals were kept overnight or during the day at the facility.

Liska was informed by the commission that veterinary business is an acceptable use in a highway business district.

Duane Schroeder, representing the McCright family who owns property in the proposed rezoned district, said the "uses out there [in the proposed rezoned district] would be compatible."

A auto and truck wash is being planned for the McCright property, mentioned Schroeder.

Property within the proposed rezoned site has already been spot zoned highway business recently, specifically in the location where a proposed motel was to be built.

However, as of Monday there had been no property transfers relating to the sale of the property, or any indication that the motel would or would not be built on the site.

City Administrator Phil Kloster said the earliest that the city council can act on the zoning recommendation from the planning and zoning commission is at the March 29 meeting.

Salaries

four administrators — which reflects an 8.8 percent increase.

Dr. Francis Haun's superintendent salary of $46,500 on a 12 month contract ranks him fourth in the 10 school array of Wayne, South Sarpy, Seward, Gretna, Central City, Ashland Greenwood, Tekamah Herman, Raymond Central, Wahoo and Centennial. High School Principal Dr. Donald Zeiss' salary base will increase to $38,346, fifth highest in the array. The salary approved for Middle School Principal Richard Mettler, $35,070, has placed him fourth among the six schools in the array (including Wayne) which have junior high principals.

And Elementary Principal Dave Luff's approved salary of $33,250 ranks him seventh out of the nine schools in the array (including Wayne) which have elementary principals.

The salaries are effective for the present 1987-88 school year.

In February, the Wayne Education Association received a settlement for the base salary, as ordered by the Commission of Industrial Relations for the 1987-88 school year, a base salary of $14,904, which reflected an increase of over 8 percent over the previous base salary.

THE ARRAY OF schools, used in the court decision, was selected on similarities of working conditions. The Commission had ruled that the array provided an appropriate balance between larger and smaller school districts.

South Sarpy had the largest enrollment with 1,382 students, followed by Seward, 1,185; Gretna, 864; Central City, 828; Ashland Greenwood, 741; Tekamah Herman, 685; Wahoo, 628 and Centennial, 589.

Wayne-Carroll's enrollment is 835 students.

In other action Tuesday, the school board:

• Approved a $69,361 special education/nursing contract with ESU 1 for provision of services for the 1988-89 school year.

The school district will pay for support service programs in level one services that include behaviorally impaired counseling, speech therapy, audiological and other areas; and pre-kindergarten services.

• Set the date of April 9 as a time for the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education Retreat.

• Adopted a Wayne Public Schools proposed aids policy, outlining communicable disease control; policy regarding AIDS and other chronic infectious diseases; and procedures established to protect the safety of the school environment and to safeguard the rights of all students and employees.

• Updated proposed rulings on student absences at the elementary, middle school and high school levels and adopted policies on multicultural education and admission of home educated students.

• Approved hiring a half-time kindergarten teacher and a full-time fourth grade instructor for the 1988-89 school year.

Currently there are two kindergarten classes. That will be expanded to three next school year with the anticipation of enrolling 66 kindergarten students (22 in each class).

Also, there are presently two fourth grade classes. The expected enrollment for next school year is 57 students, which would be divided into 19 students per classroom.

The board approved the election of all certified staff at Wayne-Carroll for the following school year, with the exception of Chapter I. That total staff will depend on monies approved by the state.

• And presented a Distinguished Service Award to Glenda Overlin, who will be retiring April 1 as a secretary with the Wayne-Carroll schools. She served 15 years as a secretary in the district.

Over $96,000 pledged

Phone campaign ends

Wayne State College's Nationwide Phone Campaign exceeded its $60,000 goal this year, according to Shane Giese, director of development.

Giese said over $96,000 in pledges was raised by Wayne State students who phoned alumni and friends of the college during February.

"The campaign was aided by heightened alumni awareness this year," Giese said. "Now that we're in the fourth year of the campaign, alumni realize that their funds are providing a significant difference in maintaining scholarship programs that otherwise may be cut from public funding. This margin is providing a real difference for Wayne State students."

Giese added that the development office is continually improving its alumni contacts through magazines, reunions and extended services such as alumni directories, international tours and academic curriculums across the state.

The director also credited student callers for the campaign's success. He said they called Monday through Thursday evenings and on Sundays.

Business Notes

Perry Rittenbach

Timpfe, Inc. announces the promotion of Perry Rittenbach to the position of regional sales manager effective Jan. 1. This key sales position, reporting to James S. (Jim) Remick, president of Timpfe, will have responsibility for all Timpfe sales activities within the midwest region, including the following states: Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and the west half of Wisconsin. Rittenbach will be located out of the Timpfe branch in the greater Minneapolis, Minnesota area.

He is a 15 year veteran of Timpfe having started his career as an inventory control clerk in 1972 in Denver, Colo., in 1975 he became customer service manager. In 1976 he was transferred to Timpfe's Council Bluffs, Iowa branch as a sales representative. Rittenbach's most recent assignment was branch manager of Timpfe's full service and sales branch in Savage, Minn.

Perry was born and raised in North Dakota and attended North Dakota State School of Science, studying civil engineering technology. He and his wife, Laurel, and their daughters live in Eagan, Minn.

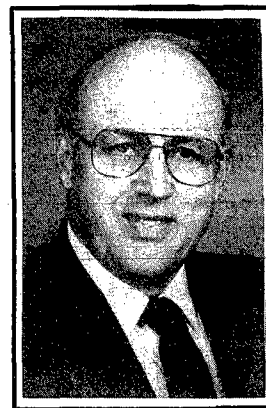

Timpfe, Inc. announces the appointment of Dan Young to the position of national sales director — bulk commodity trailers effective Jan. 1. Young will have product line responsibility involving all sales, marketing and distribution of Timpfe's super hopper — grain trailer. He will also have strong liaison duties with Timpfe's engineering and manufacturing departments.

Young will report to James S. (Jim) Remick, president of Timpfe. He will be located in Omaha but will have national sales responsibility, including Canada.

Dan has 12 years of trailer sales management experience with Timpfe, most recently he was the midwest region sales manager. He has 19 years of experience in the semi-trailer industry.

He is a native of Omaha and attended the University of Nebraska-Omaha studying business administration. Dan and his wife, Kathy, have one daughter and the family resides in Omaha.

Dennis Otte of Northeast Nebraska Builders recently attended the 1988 Butler Manufacturing Co. and Lester Buildings convention at Grenelefe Restor and Convention Center near Orlando, Fla. He attended meetings introducing such new products as standing seam roofs on Butler steel and Lester wood frame buildings; Butler grain handling systems and sales, construction and marketing techniques.

Gerald Schafer

Timpfe, Inc. announces the appointment of Gerald Schafer to the position of corporate purchasing manager, effective Jan. 15. Schafer will report to Ken Allred, executive vice-president.

He will have corporate responsibilities in the selection of and dealing with vendors as well as the formulation of policies and procedures for purchasing and procurement at Timpfe.

Schafer joined Timpfe in April, 1987 as manager — special projects and has served in their customer service and traffic departments.

His business career includes various managerial positions with Vakoc Construction Company, Montgomery Ward and Company and Amoco Oil Company. He has a BS degree in business administration from Jamestown College, Jamestown, N.D.

Schafer and his wife Judy reside in Wayne and have one daughter, Beth, who lives in Omaha.

By Theresa Johnson
Laurel correspondent

When little Laurel Elizabeth Potosnyak of Laurel, Neb. was "unofficially" one and two years old she didn't notice the lack of festivity surrounding her birthday celebration.

According to her mother, Laurel, a Leap Year baby, was content with an unfrosted cake and a quick run through of the happy birthday song around the dinner table.

"Oh, she might get a card from a sympathetic grandparent, but that was it. We really tried to downplay her birthday," says Mrs. Potosnyak.

AROUND THREE years of age, Laurel got wise, wondering where her generous birthday celebration was.

"How come everyone else has a birthday? Where's mine?" Laurel would question.

Her mother tried to explain to Laurel that she was a Leap Year baby; born Feb. 29, 1984, and her calendar birthday only came once every four years.

When her official birthday did arrive, Laurel's mother promised that it would be an extra special celebration.

"Well, you'd better," responded Laurel.

EXTRA SPECIAL it was. On Monday, Feb. 29, 1988, Laurel's birthday was celebrated with the works - balloons, signs, special gifts and friends to share the birthday fun.

There was pizza and garlic bread, and Laurel's favorite cake served with ice cream. The friends also watched Laurel's favorite video, "Lady and the Tramp."

Attending Laurel's birthday celebration were friends Ellie Gannon, Casey Strivens, Ryan Klausen,

AFTER FOUR LONG YEARS, young Laurel Potosnyak finally gets to blow out the birthday candle. Although she turned four, Laurel, a Leap Year baby, received one "official" candle on her birthday cake.

Louis Benscoter and Courtney Krei, along with brother Charles, age 2½, and sister Rachel, 5½.

Laurel is the daughter of Chuck and Cathy Potosnyak. There also is another sister, Lindsay, age eight.

3 C'S CLUB

The 3 C's Home Extension Club met Feb. 29 at the Senior Center in Concord with Shirley Stohter as hostess and Betty Anderson, co hostess. The creed was read. Nine members and 12 guests were present. Roll call was "a bit of humor."

Reports were read and bills paid. "The Plant A Living Tree" was explained and members were assessed and paid $2 each for the 3 C's tree. Shirley Stohter gave an article by Dr. Atkinson on fatigue. Gail Martindale presented a short story by Barbara Johnson. The club was reminded of Bake and Take Days March 25 to 27 and the maternal and child health nutrition conference in Lincoln March 24 and 25. The Cultural Arts contest was discussed and members invited to participate. The purpose and activities of extension clubs was covered completely by President Hanson.

The schedule for the Tulip Festival tour was read. Betty Anderson introduced Ella Larson of Laurel, who gave a slide presentation of her visit to the Holy Land. Gail Martindale and Carolyn Hanson will give the lesson on "Time to Be a Better Me" at the April 4 meeting. Betty Anderson will be hostess.

WOMENS WELFARE CLUB

The Concord Womens Welfare Club met the afternoon of March 3 with Irene Hanson as hostess. The business meeting opened by the group reading the Creed. Irene Hanson read articles on "March" and "Each Spring."

Nine members answered roll call. Reports were read and a letter from a former member, Ella Anderson of Colorado. March birthdays will be celebrated March 23 at 2 p.m. at the Concord Senior Center. Favors for nursing homes will be made. Bonnie Marburger and Marilyn Harder are the project committee.

Lucille Olson had the afternoon entertainment. She gave a book review on "Loves Unfolding Dream" by Janette Oke. She read a poem "Common Folks." Mrs. Hanson served refreshments.

April 6 meeting will be at the Concord Senior Center with a potluck lunch.

LUTHERAN CIRCLES

The Concordia Lutheran Church

Womens Circles met Thursday at 2 p.m.

Anna Circle met with Vivian Elder of Laurel as hostess with eight present. Ruth Erwin gave the Bible study and Joyce Johnson will be the April 7 hostess.

Elizabeth Circle met at 7:30 p.m. Elaine Lubberstedt was hostess with six present. Doris Fredrickson led Bible study and will be the April hostess.

Dorcas Circle met at 7:30 p.m. with Ardyce Johnson as hostess with eight present. Alyce Erwin led Bible study. Joyce Johnson will be the April hostess.

Phoebie Circle was to meet on Monday, March 7.

Bible study was from Mark 4, The Largess of God.

COUPLES LEAGUE

The Concordia Lutheran Couples League met Sunday evening at the church. Gloria Morris reported on the Book Store. Several projects were discussed. Evert and Ardyce Johnson gave the devotional Lenten program, "Take Time to Remember." The group sang "Were You There" and prayer. A list of things to remember was given through the program. Evert read "The Feet of Jesus" and "I Am There." The group sang "He Lives." They closed with offering, benediction and table grace.

The Wallace Andersons and the Jim Nelsons served refreshments.

Steve and Judy Martindale hosted a potluck supper at their home Sunday evening, for Dave Tuttle and Myrna Wacker of Laurel, Jim Martindale and sons of Coleridge, the Jerry Martindales, Mark Wacker and the Bob Clarkson family, who participated in a garage cleanup in Concord where a new business will begin.

Judy Martindale spent Feb. 26 to 29 in Florida for school. Amber and Katie Martindale were house guests at the Jerry Martindales and Steve joined them for meals. Steve was honored for his birthday on Feb. 26. On Feb. 29 Tracy Flocart and children of StouxCity were guests at the Martindales.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson spent Feb. 26 to 29 with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Swanson at Merriam, Kan. Esther Peterson and Teckla Johnson accompanied them to Essex, Iowa where they all had dinner with Luther Goldberg on Feb. 26. Esther and Teckla stayed there while the Swansons went to Kansas. They all returned home Feb. 29.

The Norman Andersons and their house guests, the Ivan Andersons of Sunnyville, Calif., were guests of the Vic Carlsons on March 1. They were dinner guests of Emma Anderson at Wayne March 1 and at Lillian Andersons Feb. 29. Ivan left for California March 2.

Thursday evening birthday guests in the Dwight Anderson home in honor of the hostess were the Marlen Johnsons, the Wallace Andersons and the Verdel Luft family of Wayne.

Trisha Krie, daughter of the Doug Kries, entertained some school girl friends at her home Friday evening and for an overnight slumber party in honor of her 11th birthday. Saturday supper guests in the Krie home honoring Trisha were the Lowell Johnsons and sons of Belden, the Evert Johnsons, Mrs. Art Johnson, the Brent Johnsons and sons, the Pastor Marburgers and sons, the Ernest Swansons and grandchildren, Les and Scott Scholl of Sioux City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hanson were Friday to Sunday guests in the Marc Lawrence home in Waverly. Paulette Hanson of Tecumseh joined them there.

The Jim Nelsons, the Kevin Diedikers, Kayla and Nickolas of Dakota City and the Todd Nelsons, Eric and Phillip of Laurel joined the Dave Bowlines of Lincoln at the home of the James Wordekempers in Norfolk on Sunday for dinner. The family March birthdays were celebrated including the hostess, Mary Wordekemper, Dave Bowlin, Kevin Diediker, daughter Kayla, Todd and Roxy Nelson and son Eric.

The Daryl Holdorfs of Minneapolis, Minn. were weekend guests in the Jack Erwin home and the Max Holdorfs. The Holdorf families, grandchildren and great grandchildren honored Max and Elsie Holdorf on their 6th wedding anniversary March 4 at a dinner Friday evening at the Black Knight in Wayne. Vernita Johnson and children of Elkhorn visited in the Holdorf home Saturday.

Helen Pearson of Lincoln spent the weekend in the Clarence Pearson home. They also visited her mother at the Wakefield Care Center. Lori Rastede of Lincoln spent the week in the Clarence Rastede home.

Community theatres gathering in Crete

The Nebraska Association of Community Theatres will hold its annual statewide gathering Friday and Saturday, March 11-12 in Crete. Workshops, demonstrations and discussions about community theater will be held in Crete's Sokol Auditorium and St. James Parish Hall. Events begin Friday at 8 p.m. with a cabaret at Sokol Auditorium. Groups from Crete as well as community theaters from across the state will showcase their talents. Gil Haase will represent the Wayne Community Theatre. Workshops on costumeing and make-up, a business meeting and a round-table discussion are set for Saturday. Allan Sand, a native Nebraskan who appeared in the movie "Billy Jack" and the television series "Mork and Mindy," will be the guest speaker at the Saturday banquet, which begins at 6 p.m. After the banquet, the Crete Community Theatre will present a one-act comedy, "Nobody Sleeps," at El Toro's Cave. The cost of registration is $35. The banquet is $12 extra.

Additionally, as part of the business meeting, Haase will be inviting the Nebraska Association of Community Theatres to Wayne in March, 1989 for the State Play Festival. The community theatres of the state meet every other year, in the odd year, for their play festival in competition with other community theatres from throughout the state. The national competition will be at the Omaha Community Theatre in April of 1989.

For further information on the Crete Workshops and Conference, contact Kevin Colbert at 864-7111 in Crete or Gil Haase at the Wayne Care Centre, 375-1922.

BROWNIES

All Winside Brownies were present at the Friday meeting with leader Cathy Holtgrew. The Brownie flag was held by Emily Schwedhelm and the American flag by Connie Van Houten.

New officers were elected. President will be Marla Miller, Vice president Sara Wagner and Treasurer Jenny Wade.

The girls picked the games they want to play at the March 12 Girl Scout birthday party. It will be at the Girl Scout house in Wayne if weather permits otherwise at the Armory.

The girls worked on their "Try-It" badges "Liking Myself" by making a picture poster. Emily Schwedhelm served treats.

The next meeting will be tomorrow (Friday) in the elementary school at 3:45 p.m. Jessica Janke will bring treats.

AMERICAN LEGION

Fourteen members of the Roy Reed American Legion Post 252 met March 1 in Winside. Commander Dallas Schellenberg conducted the meeting. The secretary and treasurers reports were given. A profit of $1000 was earned from the January stag which will go into the building fund. A smoker will be held Sat. March 19 at the Legion Hall to raise more money for the new building. A $3 donation at the door will include lunch and a beverage. The event is for adult men and women and will be from 7 p.m. - 2 a.m.

Bids are being received for the building construction, however, more are being sought. Eight Legionnaires and some of the auxiliary members served 112 residents of the Norfolk Veterans Home pan cakes and sausage Feb. 22.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, April 5 at the Legion Hall at 8 p.m.

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

"We're like Burger King. Have it your way!" This should be the informal motto of the Hospice movement; and, in fact, usually is.

My philosophy about terminal illnesses has been shaped by many books and events; certainly the most profound was Death and Dying by Kubler-Ross.

When I was in school, I came to realize that there was something inhumane about taking care of a patient's physical needs in a hospital, while not even being aware of his emotional needs. The book emphasized this for me, with interviews written verbatim with folks who knew they were dying.

Lately, my sense of what is moral has again been affronted by the fact that Medicare does not pay for simple comfort measures in a hospital. Often, to justify the admission, x-rays and lab tests are ordered when the patient and the family have expressly requested there be no more.

I've been interested in a solution called Hospice for a long time; since I read about the first one, St. Christopher's in London.

As originally used, Hospice was a way station, a place for food and rest, during the crusades. The first Hospice for the terminally ill was a building established and directed by Dr. Cicely Saunders.

When someone with a terminal illness was admitted here, he was promised that nothing would be done to prolong his dying (also, nothing to hasten it), and that he would be kept as comfortable as possible.

Hospice has since come to mean care of the dying at home, with admission to hospital for symptom control only. As it's done in the U.S., there must be a primary caregiver, and lots of volunteers are utilized.

TERESA ROBBINS and I were privileged to hear three good people from London this past week, in a workshop called "Sharing the World of Hospice."

There was a physician, a home care nurse and a chaplain, complete with very British speech and phrases like: "A spot of tea."

The doctor talked a lot about pain control, emphasizing that pain can be diminished when emotional needs are met. He spoke of meeting with families and asking them what they would say to each other if one was leaving the country.

Sometimes, he had them squeeze together for a photograph, thus assisting the physical contact that is so necessary for expressing love.

He admitted that this education had previously been lacking in medical schools, both in the U.K. and the U.S. He spoke in Birmingham, Ala., to 320 medical students last month, and was kept two hours overtime by questions.

WE HEAR THE same problem expressed over and over, in England and in the Midwestern states represented at the meeting; that of late referral, of the patient and his family not being aware of the life threatening nature of his illness until the last minute, and the difficulties then in helping them all.

Home Health Care has been caring for folks with life-threatening illnesses in their homes for years. But an important part of Hospice has been missing; the volunteer.

If this sounds like something you would like to do, sign up for the Hospice volunteer classes at Northeast College next month. There is no obligation, and you will learn a lot. You will find it surprisingly rewarding.

Women's History Month activities slated at WSC

Dr. Darlene Ritter, English professor at Midland Lutheran College, will give a presentation at Wayne State College of Nebraska as part of the Campus Coalition for Women's celebration of Women's History Month in March.

The presentation is scheduled for Wednesday, March 23, at 4 p.m. in the Great Plains Room located in U.S. Conn Library at Wayne State.

The program, titled "Pioneer Women of the Plains," features materials from the works of authors such as Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz and women's letters and diaries to reveal the joys, tragedies and achievements of women who played a role in settling the Great Plains, according to Gail Egbers, librarian and coordinator of the activities.

Photographs that depict women at work in Nebraska from 1880-1940 will also be displayed in the Great Plains Room March 16-31. The photographs show all manners of work from the traditional to exotic occupation.

"It's very interesting because when we learn history, we talk about a lot of men," said Egbers, "but women were involved, and we shouldn't forget them."

Certified jailors

AMONG THE THINGS THAT WORK BEST IN NEBRASKA ARE NEBRASKANS.

Quality labor and Nebraska have gone hand in hand for many years. And it's one of the most important factors placing our state at the top of the list in national productivity studies.

Over 763,000 Nebraskans are currently at work within our state, with an unemployment rate of only 5%, well below the national average. Other statistics we can take pride in include low absenteeism, low turnover, fewer work stoppages, and workman compensation rates that are among the lowest in the U.S. Fifty-three thousand new jobs have been created over the past five years, putting more Nebraskans to work than ever before.

All of which really isn't surprising. In Nebraska, the Midwest work ethic blends with Western spirit and enthusiasm. Our "can do" attitude is reflected in every area of employment — from agriculture to industry, from high fashion retailing to high tech research. This attitude is also reflected in Nebraska being one of only seven states guaranteeing the right-to-work within the state's constitution.

It's just one more in a series of positive signs demonstrating that positive things are at work in Nebraska.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

The Golden Years by Gil Haase

How deep will Social Security cuts go in the future? Only the politicians can answer that. But, facts show that Social Security Funds have a way to go before they're depleted. In the last fiscal year, for example, Social Security income was about $217 billion, while its payout was approximately $202 billion. Put that $15 billion margin together with on-hand reserves and the system showed a cushion of about $50 billion. In addition, trust-fund reserves are scheduled to build up significantly during the next several decades.

Long-time favorites Gene Autry, and Roy Rogers were "back in the saddle again" at ages 76 and 75, respectively. It was their first appearance together since 1938. Senior citizen buckaroo Roy and his wife Dale Evans, also 75, were on hand in Knoxville, Tennessee, as guests on Gene's "Melody Ranch Theater" TV program.

Remember When? 1914 — Construction began on the first coast-to-coast paved road in the United States. The New York-to-San Francisco link was called Lincoln Highway. It is now known as U.S. 30 for most of its 3,385-mile length.

Gross, Jordan selected

Student senate elections held at WSC

Amy Gross, Wayne, and Scott Jordan, Omaha, captured 74.2 percent of the votes and were elected president and vice-president respectively in the Wayne State College of Nebraska Student Senate election.

The duo defeated A. Craig Florian and Dan Schumacher, 377 votes to 119, and will take office April 15.

One of their primary goals is developing a proposed leadership initiative program, according to Gross. And she believes Wayne State students will be pleased with their administration.

Gross, a psychology and human service counseling major at Wayne

State, is a 1985 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School. She is the daughter of Pat and Mary Jo Gross of Wayne.

Jordan, majoring in elementary education and history, is a 1986 graduate of Omaha Millard South High School. He is the son of Lima Arlene Jordan.

HOSKINS VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS

February 29, 1988

The Hoskins Village Board met in regular session at 7:00 P.M. at the City Hall. Board Members present were: Pat Brudigan, Darrell Maier and Ken Elkins. Absent were: Scheuich and Doffin. All minutes were taken while the convened meeting was opened to the public.

Minutes of the January meeting were read and approved.

Wayne County commissioners have agreed to apply for Federal Aid Secondary road funds to pave part of Hoskins Main Street from the present paving south to the state maintenance. Wayne County will serve as the agent for this project but the Village of Hoskins will retain and pay the consulting engineer and will also pay all of the local share of the cost of construction. If grant funds are available, this project is planned for 1991 construction.

Duane Upton & Ron Benson representing Johnson, Erickson & O'Brien Engineers were present. Ron Benson proposed sewer & water line improvements before the above paving project is done, so that the lines will be in good shape before concrete is laid.

Mr. Brockman from Brunswick Construction was present at the meeting. If any street work is done he would like a chance to bid the project.

A building permit was granted to DWAIN LUHR for a 24 x 26 garage. Motion by Maier, second by Elkins to allow the permit.

The following bills were presented:

Triple Antibiotic Ointment

One of the most popular nonprescription antibiotic preparations on the market is "triple antibiotic ointment." It is economical, effective, and available under a variety of brand names. This ointment, which is intended for use with minor, superficial skin problems, contains the following ingredients:

Polymyxin B: Considered effective against a number of bacteria classified as "Gram negative." It is not effective against Gram positive bacteria or fungi.

Bacitracin: Works best against Gram positive bacteria and is considered safe to apply to the skin of infants and children.

Neomycin: Effective against Gram negative bacteria and some staphylococci.

These three ingredients offer a broad range of antibiotic activity in the treatment of infections associated with minor cuts and scrapes. If the cut or scrape is deep, extensive, draining, or has lasted for more than a few days, discontinue use of the ointment and seek medical attention as soon as possible.
