Stamps up to a quarter

Since 1970, the more than 350 percent mailing rate hikes assessed to second class gives the newspapers the dubious distinction of leading the pack among all classes of mail experiencing price hikes.

For those who like statistics, first class postage rates have more than tripled (300 percent) during the last 18 years while third and fourth class have more than doubled (200 percent).

A new round of skyrocketing postal rates will take effect next month.

Beginning April 3, the cost of mailing a letter and other first class material will increase 13.6 percent from 22 cents to 25 cents. It is anticipated that even steeper hikes will start then for other mailers:

Second class (newspapers) — approximately 20 percent more; third class (shoppers and other bulk mail) — nearly 22 percent more; fourth class (non-profit) — about 20 percent.

Poverty still evident in area

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Latest Nebraska State Department of Revenue figures reveal that the average incomes of farmers and ranchers in the state increased 28.6 percent to $19,085 in 1986 when compared to the previous year.

The average income in 1985 was $14,835. And it is anticipated that 1987 farm-ranch average income statistics will show an increase over 1986.

Ninety-one of the state's 93 counties had increases in average farmer-rancher income in 1986 in comparison to 1985. Also, studies from the University of Nebraska show that the Nebraska farm and ranchland values rose 13.1 percent in 1987, following six straight years of decline.

The federal adjusted gross income earned by the average farmer-rancher in Wayne County, during 1986, was $16,105, a 65.3 percent increase. Dixon County's average was $14,209, which was a 49.7 percent increase and Cedar County's figure was $14,970, which was a 54.2 percent increase.

SO, ALL INDICATIONS seem to point to a bottoming out of the farm crisis. Agriculture is well on the way to recovery.

But Virgene Dunklau of Wayne, who works with clients through the Wisner-based Goldenrod Hills, said emotional wounds of the farm crisis still must be reckoned with, because poverty still persists.

"As far as I am concerned, the crisis is not over. It's just that it has changed," said Dunklau.

Farm crisis meetings have brought about indications that the farm crisis in Iowa was over about 1 1/2 years ago, or Nebraska has rebounded from the farm crisis.

"I feel that we're hitting the crisis now because of the economic situation that we are in. Sure, we've had farmers that have made it, but we're also talking about farmers that gave up their insurance, or gave up everything," she said. "They have dropped all these things and they cannot make it. This is what we're finding the crisis to be now," she said.

COUNSELING services at Northeast Community College in Norfolk, coordinated through Nancy Schwede, are now available through the financial support of the Nebraska Department of Public Institutions to help these people cope with difficulties they face.

Homeless and hungry adults and children do reside in the Goldenrod Hills 12-county service area. "We always have visions of the east coast and west coast having the slums. But we have children who are hungry today right here in Wayne," said Dunklau.

"Hungry in terms of a hunger of a child who is not getting the required daily allotments," she added.

SHE DESCRIBED a family in the Goldenrod Hills service area as this typical poverty situation: "The husband farms plus works elsewhere and his wife works really hard on the farm. They have children and recently gave birth to a child who has medical problems. The medical bills add up to thousands of dollars. They go to social services for help, and eventually the bills will be taken care of. But until then, it is a past bill and the collection agencies could be after them. In the meantime, they still don't have any insurance, yet he still needs to pay car expenses to drive to work each day."

Some families can't get loans because of their bankruptcy declarations. "A person is caught between the guidelines of every program," said Dunklau.

"One farmer who has a job in the city is being paid $4 an hour. He is so experienced from what skills he has developed on the farm that he's way ahead of the people working along side of him and who are teaching him and who are getting paid much more," she said.

"Yet, he gets paid his $4 an hour and is still not making it, but he still works hard," she remarked.

THERE ARE instances where individuals who have survived the crisis and who are now successful can be inconsiderate to those who are experiencing hard times, questioning the struggling farmer as to reasons for filing bankruptcy, she mentioned.

"We have found that the ones that were losing the farm have lost it and the ones that went and got help and still had enough to care for themselves are doing fine," said Dunklau.

Northeast Nebraska is considered as rural, so poverty affects those in both the rural and urban areas. Dunklau said that a crisis exists currently in Norfolk, and extends to the outlying communities.

"We have a crisis there. We were awarded over $31,000 for FEMA [federal emergency funding] to pay rent and utilities for qualified individuals. The housing situation is so bad that our food pantries are getting cleaned out in Norfolk," said Dunklau.

"We're having all these people come from all over the United States for these jobs, because of the unemployment situation. The companies offer these jobs, and all the people are coming. Yet affordable housing isn't there, and our budgets have been cut," she said.

Money that these workers do earn, she said, are used to pay for motel rooms or go to total support for the family.

BOOSTING the minimum wage from the present $3.35 per hour, which Dunklau said is below the poverty level, would help. "When you get $3.35 an hour and you pay for your insurance, pay for the car and other expenses, how can you make it?" she asked.

Dunklau said her greatest fears lie in what the 21st century will have in store for the present youth of today — who in the future will become this nation's leaders, taxpayers or educators. "If we don't stop treating them the way they've been treated and keep them in the poverty they are in now, what are we going to have?" she asked.

National statistics reveal that the risks are high for teenagers to become teen parents, or that one of seven teenagers risk dropping out of school. "It's hitting northeast Nebraska, not just nationwide. We had 101 girls [within the 12-county Goldenrod Hills service area] get pregnant last year. That's not counting abortions, not counting the ones who married," said Dunklau.

"This is the thing that the rural crisis is causing. Kids can't cope. Parents can't cope," she added.

Statistics reveal that there are 32 million people who are considered poor. Of that total, 12 million are children. Of that 32 million, 20 million people are hungry.

In Nebraska, nearly 47,000 rural children and 27,200 urban children are poor. "And we're only serving 4.3 percent of these children with feeding programs," said Dunklau.

There is a strong awareness of the hunger and homeless situation, signified through donations provided by individuals to food pantries. Polls indicate a national concern for the hunger and homeless problem in America. Three out of five people in a national poll said that this country should do something about the hungry and homeless.

Seventy-eight percent said of those polled said they would actually take $100 from their income tax return and give that money, if it would help, to the homeless and hungry.

And when the poverty-inflicted individuals asked what they wanted from others, here is their response: first, they said they wanted a decent job — one that was 40 hours and that paid well; second, they wanted the education.

"More and more people are getting their GED because they are finding out that they need this education to have a future," said Dunklau.

And third, they seek human welfare. They want human kindness and want to be treated like people, said Dunklau.

"Sometimes we have to remember that a lot of times when looking at the poor, individuals think that it's a character fault; that they are poor and homeless because of their character. But it's the economic condition, more so than not, that is what is approaching them now," she said.

"I JUST KNOW that we have situations right now that need our attention, care and concern. Not only by opening our pocketbooks but opening up the heart to help these people. They are having a hard time," said Dunklau.

Notice if the people aren't talking. Notice if their head is down. Notice if they are not showing up at things, she said.

"You probably can't solve their problems, but you can be there to listen," she said.

Gardening to help needy

Gardening is one way which Goldenrod Hills is hoping to provide better nutrition to needy families.

Goldenrod Hills, through the community nutrition program, wrote a grant for approximately $49,000. People that are considered at the 100 percent poverty level, if they want, can be provided with tools, seeds and the education to grow a garden, process the food and be taught how to nutritionally take care of themselves and their children through this gardening program.

The response, according to Virgene Dunklau of Wayne, who through Goldenrod Hills works with the poor families, has been fabulous. The goal was to reach 400 families. There have been to this date, 500 requests from families for gardening assistance in the 12-county Goldenrod Hills service area.

Volunteers, such as the extension service, churches and 4-H groups, have offered to help with the gardening program. America the Beautiful Fund, out of Washington, D.C., has provided the seeds free.

Coordinator for the gardening program at Goldenrod Hills is Peggy Hunke. Contact Goldenrod Hills in Wisner, 402/529-3513 for more information.

Five returning letterwinners from a number four state placing team, look to spark the 1988 version of the Wayne High Golf team with Terry Munson entering his third year at the helm.

The irony stems from the fact that all five of the returning letterwinners are juniors. All in all, 17 golfers hope to add quality depth to the squad making Wayne perhaps the odds on favorite to win the conference again this year, and possibly a repeat District winner.

"We're excited about the prospect of being highly competitive again this year," Head Coach Munson lamented. "The kids have really worked hard during the off season."

Munson noted that a couple of the golfers even went as far as Wake Forest University on the east coast for a summer golf camp to improve their ability.

"Consistency is the name of the game," Munson exclaimed. "The kids really work hard in practice to develop consistency."

The leading returnee from a year ago's state golf tournament is Jed Reeg. Reeg, a junior finished sixth individually at the state meet.

Reeg averaged a 40 last year in the practice rounds, and a 40.7 in the 19 rounds of competition he faced.

Another Reeg may well steal the show this season though. Robb Reeg led the team last year with a 38.8 average in the practice rounds, and a 39.1 in the 16 rounds of competition he faced.

The third highest returning letterwinner is Eric Runestad. Runestad finished with a 40.1 in the practice rounds last season, and a 43 in the 19 rounds he participated in.

The fourth returning letterwinner is Elliot Salmon who finished sixth in the practice rounds last season with a 42.5 average, and sixth in the competition phase with a 44 average.

Kevin Hausmann rounds out the leading returnees. Hausmann finished seventh last season in the practice rounds with a 42.6, and tied Salmon in the competition rounds with a 44 average.

Only two seniors mark the list of 17 who are this season. Scott Allred and Brad Bush. Juniors on the squad besides the ones already mentioned are Larry Hintz, Chad Jones and Greg Schmidt.

Brian Luff and Brian Moore are the only two sophomores listed on the squad this season, while five freshmen, Jesse Brodersen, Mike Nicholson, Craig Sharpe, Cory Wheeler and Jeff Struve will strive to improve the Blue Devil squad.

It will be tough for the Blue Devils to improve on last year's feats. "It'll be a challenge to fill the shoes of Dave Ellis and Kevin Griess," Munson said.

The Blue Devils took first place honors in three major invitational last year, captured second in one invitational before being crowned conference champs and District champs.

On the dual level, Wayne finished 7-1 last year, while the junior varsity was 5-3.

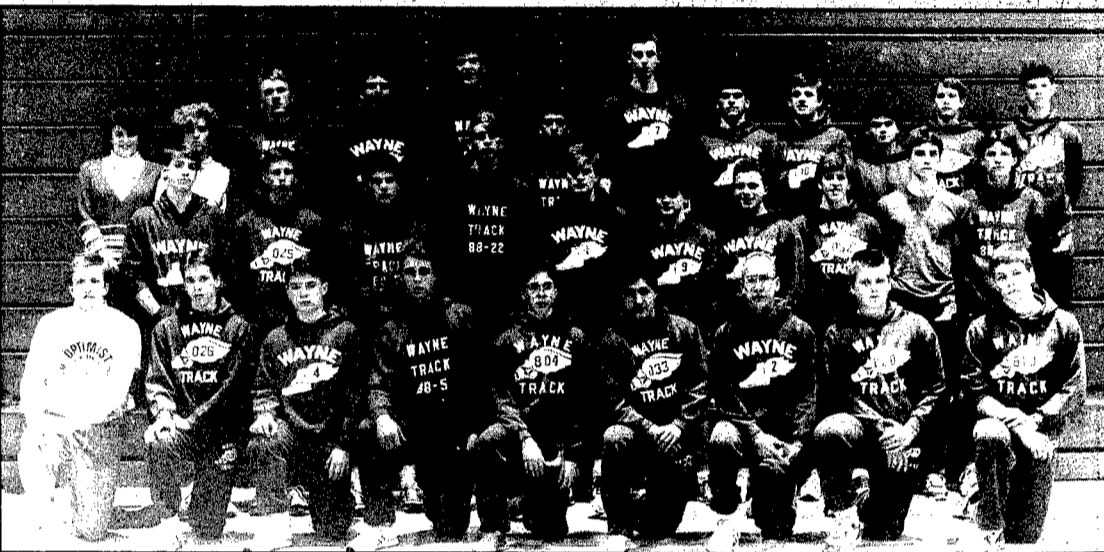

Wayne's first action is slated for Monday, March 28, at Seward. Wayne will be the host again this year for the Harold Mactejewski Invitational, on May 4.

District teams besides Wayne include, Arlington, Central City, Columbus Lakeview, Columbus Scotus, Hartington Cedar Catholic, O'Neill, Schuyler, St. Paul, Wahoo and West Point.

Wayne-Carroll

Optimism abounds right now in the Wayne-Carroll track system as 32 boys and 17 girls prepare for the coming season.

There will be a couple of new faces in the track system this year as both the boys and girls coach are entering their first year at the helm. Rocky Ruhl and Doug Donaldson will be officially known as the boys and girls head coach respectively, but an interesting compromise has been reached by the two.

"We are going with the philosophy of teaming up together," Donaldson said. "Rocky will be as instrumental to the girls program as I will be to the boys."

"It will be like the two track squads working together as one," Donaldson lamented.

Along with Ruhl and Donaldson, there will be some valuable assistants for each of the squads. Lesa Backstrom will be the assistant for girls and Jeff Zeiss along with Robert Hanzlik will aid Ruhl.

Head Wrestling Coach John Murtaugh will also be aiding the team this year as he will be working with the weightlifting.

"We will be breaking down into different groups with the assistant coaches," Ruhl said. "Backstrom will be in charge of the weight events, Zeiss will be aiding the jumpers, Ruhl will be with the middle and long distance races, and Donaldson will be in charge of the sprinters and hurdlers. Hanzlik, a student assistant from Wayne State College, will help out with any area needed.

Of the 17 girls out for track, which is down in number from the past, eight are freshman, two are sophomores, six are juniors and only one senior is listed on the team.

"Our strong suit this year will probably be in the middle and long distances," Donaldson said. "Our 1600 and 3200 relay teams should also be very strong."

Kristy Hansen, Holly Paige, Teresa Ellis, Tonya Erxleben, Karmyn Koenig, Julie Wessel and Sarah Peterson are the seven returning letterwinners for the girls team.

The boys team has a little more balance in the numbers with nine athletes representing the freshman, sophomore and junior class, and five seniors make up the 32 man team.

"Our strong area will be in the middle distances," Ruhl said. "We're hoping that our 1600 and 3200 teams will be strong also."

Basketball standout Nick Engelson will debut his track career in this his final year of high school. "Engelson went out for cross country this year and qualified for state in his first year of running," Ruhl said.

"We are looking for him to help out in the longer distances," Ruhl added. Incidentally the total number of kids out for boys track is more than represented the Wayne Blue Devils last year.

The Blue Devils will be involved in nine meets this year, excluding district competition. The season gets under way Friday, March 25, at the Wayne High Invitational, at the Recreation Center of Wayne State College.

44 athletes will don the colors of the Laurel Bears this season as they prepare for the coming track season. Head Coaches John Jonas for the boys and Pam Thies for the girls are both optimistic about what lies ahead for their Bears.

"We have 29 boys out for track this year," said Jonas. "That's above average from other years." Jonas believes his middle distance will again be the focal point for the bulk of Laurel's scoring.

"Of the eight returning letterwinners we have this season, half lettered in the 400 and the 800 last year," Jonas exclaimed. "Obviously then our 400, 800, and even our 1600 with senior Kyle Nixon lettering in the mile last season, we should be pretty competitive."

Leading the way in the field events will be returning letterwinners Marc Bathke in the long jump, Matthew Jonas in the pole vault, Scott Marquardt in the long jump, Steve Schmidt in the pole vault and the high jump, and Randy Sherry, returning to the weight events, shot put and discus.

Other returning letterwinners include Mike Freeman and Brad Prescott, of which both will be competing in the 400 and 800 events with Prescott running the 200 also. Both will be in the middle distance relays also.

"We feel our middle distance relay teams could be very strong," Jonas said. Currently Jonas has been splitting his squad into two different practice sessions. One in the a.m., and the other after school.

"I believe having early morning practices works in well with my lettering scheme," Jonas said. Jonas has worked out a lettering program over the past few years that involves gaining points for going to practices, and placing in major meets.

"The kids have to amass 200 points before they letter," Jonas said. "The catch comes however, when the kids miss a practice. They automatically lose 50 points for each missed practice."

Jonas likes his lettering system because he feels it is fair and gives everyone an equal opportunity if they work hard to letter.

15 girls to represent Laurel
Pam Thies realizes that with only 15 girls, you can only do so much. However, that doesn't mean you can rule out the Laurel Bears girls track team just like that.

Of Thies' returning eight letterwinners, six are only sophomores this year, which means they lettered as freshman. This is something the Laurel mentor hopes to build on.

"Our mile and two mile relay teams that did pretty well last year returns everyone," Thies said. "Since we don't have a track it is difficult to practice on events such as the hurdles, but I think Dawn Addison will be competitive in the 300 hurdles this season."

Other returning letterwinners include junior Becky Stanley, in the long jump, sophomores, Jessie Munson, Jessie Jacobsen, Shannon Donner, Emily McBride, Heather Thomas, Amy Adkins, Sherri McCorkindale and freshman Jenny Fritz and Christy Alten.

Winch returns 10 letterwinners from the girls team of last year and six boy letterwinners. Currently Winch has picked out a couple of events which should be strong for the girls this coming season.

"Kathy Leighton should be very competitive in the mile," Winch said. "I believe that our hurdling trio of Wendy Boldt, Tinia Hartmann and Lori Jensen will also be very strong."

Winch also noted that Kristy Miller will be the catalyst in the high jump. "We could emerge in other events as being strong, but for right now, we have to play it by sight," Winch lamented.

Turning to the boys team, the Wildcats return miler Mace Kant who qualified for the state track meet last season in Omaha. "Mace was in the top 20 last year as a junior and in Class C," Winch said. "This year since the reclassification system, we are in Class D."

"We are really looking forward to competing with teams on our level numbers wise," Winch said. "The past two seasons we were competing against teams with a lot more athletes than we had."

Winch has pointed out a few areas which should be the strength of the boys squad this season. "Obviously Mace will be a consistent point getter in the mile," Winch said. "Tim Jacobsen will also be a point producer in the sprint events."

As far as relays go, Winch has noted that the 4x100 meter relay, and if healthy, the two mile relay will be the strongest.

Wakefield

A total of 56 athletes will represent the Wakefield Trojans track team this season. The breakdown is 23 girls and 33 boys.

Accounting for the high number of kids out for track is the success of the track teams in the past few years. "Our number of girls is down from last year," Head Coach John Torczon said. "In fact this is the smallest number of girls we have had out in six or seven years."

Perhaps one reason is the fact that there are only seven freshman girls in the whole freshman class this year, where as usually there are more than that out for track.

Never-the-less, the Trojans return the best miler in the state of Nebraska from a year ago in sophomore Theresa Stelling. Stelling captured the all class gold medal in the state meet in Omaha last May. She also captured the Class C gold medal in the two mile run, and ran to a fourth place finish in the 800 meter run.

Stelling alone in those three events, plus being a part of the two mile relay which also placed at the state meet, was the number one factor in the Trojan girls number three finish in the state meet.

"We will again have a very strong distance contingency," Torczon lamented. "Kathy Larson and Lori Plendl also return from that two mile relay team." Plendl incidently, placed sixth last year in the mile, at the state meet in Class C.

13 of the 23 girls out for track this year are returning letterwinners, while the boys return 17 letterwinners from a year ago.

Kodi Nelson will be the leader in the weight events for Wakefield, but Torczon noted that the district will be very tough on the weight events this year because of Lyons-Decatur's Kim Hayes, who won the all class gold medal a year ago in the discus.

"The girls don't have quite the depth we're used too, but the quality is there," Torczon said. "Our job as coaches is to develop the depth."

Although the boys sent no one to the state meet last season, they are improved over last year, which is the goal of any track team. "We definitely feel that track is the lifeline to football and basketball," Torczon said. "If you can't run, you can't do anything."

Since the boys have 33 athletes out this year the goal is simple. "We want to people people to death," Torczon said. "We hope that our numbers take its toll on other teams."

Torczon will be aided by assistants Dennis Wilbur, Paul Eaton and volunteer assistant Harry Mills.

Allen

The Allen Eagles track team this year will have more girls participating than boys. 20 girls and 14 boys will attempt to earn points for the Eagle team.

Gary Troth will again be the head coach of the girls team, while Dave Uldrich will again be the boys skipper.

"I was pleasantly surprised to see 20 girls out for track," Troth said. "Originally we had planned on about 10 or so."

Of the 20 girls out, seven are freshman, six are sophomores, five are juniors and two are seniors. Incidentally, one of the two seniors is a foreign exchange student.

The Lady Eagles do return eight letterwinners from last year's squad, and Troth feels the strength of the team will be in the sprints. "The 100-200-400 should be our strong suit," Troth said.

Allen is still battling injuries sustained in other sports. "Right now Amy Noe is still questionable because of her knee injury," Troth lamented.

Allen's sprint relay team which placed third in the state last year, returns all but one leg. "Last year we were in Class D," Troth said. "This year because of the reclassification every two years, we are in Class C."

Dave Uldrich's squad is missing some key athletes this season that have helped in the past. "We are absent the 110 high hurdle runner up in state from a year ago and the 300 intermediate champion from the past two years in Jyoti Kwankin," Uldrich said.

"We are also without junior Kurt Lund because of bad back injury. A couple of other key athletes are also missing who could really help us," Uldrich said. "We are up in numbers, but we are a very young track team."

Uldrich did note however that the season should be an interesting one because most of the kids know the events well from a year ago.

If the reclassification system will hurt anyone, it very well could have an ill effect on the boys team. "I expect us to be very competitive in the track events," Uldrich said. "Our problem stems from the fact that we have only three letterman from last year, and we have very few people in the field events."

Uldrich has listed the 400 relay and the 1600 relay as being two of the top events his squad should be strongest in. He has also noted that the individual 400 and 1600 will be the strongest single events.

Jeff Green, Kent Chase, Troy Twell and Barry Anderson head the 400 meter relay team and the 1600 meter relay team is virtually the same with the exception of Kent Chase, who will be replaced by sophomore Kelly Boswell.

WSC softball team 1-3

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The 1988 version of the Wayne State Women's softball team opened its season in Pittsburg Kansas last weekend after several previously scheduled contests were cancelled because of inclement weather, including the spring break tour of Oklahoma.

The Lady Wildcats played Central Iowa in the opening contest of the 17-team field which too seemed like it was going to be cancelled. The tournament was scheduled for Friday and Saturday, but due to snow and rain, they had the fields ready for Saturday and Sunday.

Even then the six field park for the tournament was limited to playing on two fields because of the soft grounds, which ended up throwing off the game schedule.

Wayne State lost its opening contest 1-0, as a Central Iowa batter took an off pitch by former Wayne High grad Ron Johnson, and belted it over the 180 foot fence.

"Normally that hit would have been a double at best," Head Coach Marilyn Strate said. "We were playing with a fence that is approximately 70 feet shorter than normal."

Strate commented that the defense played very well for their first contest.

The second game pitted the Wildcats against Northeast Missouri, a Division II school. Coming into the contest the opponent had a 7-2 record, but Strate's Cats came out on top 1-0.

"This was a good win for us," Strate lamented. "The girls did a good job on defense again and really backed a good pitching performance by Cyndi Karrick."

Karrick struck out four and walked no one enroute to aiding the Wildcats to an even 1-1 record.

Wayne State followed with a game against Southwest Baptist, another Division II school. Wayne State suffered its first rather poor game, which was aided by what Strate labeled as inconsistent umpiring.

"We teach our girls to pitch the corners," Strate said. "We had an umpire who was not calling the corners on either team, which had an adverse affect on us because that is what we teach."

The Wildcats gave up three runs in the first inning which was all the opponent needed for a 3-1 victory. Ron Peck took the loss from the pitchers mound.

"I thought we adjusted really well after the first inning," Strate said. "We got into trouble a little bit with poor base running. We didn't capitalize on scoring opportunities."

Overall Strate felt that this was the game they should have won. Nevertheless, Southwest Baptist went on to win the tournament. Wayne State's first opponent, Central Iowa, finished third.

In Wayne State's last game of the tournament, the Wildcats played Central States of Oklahoma. Again Wayne State suffered a less than adequate performance.

The Wildcats lost 3-0 to the southern school who finished fourth in the overall standings of the tournament.

"They scored three runs on us," Strate said. "However, only one of the three was earned, the other two were by errors. We had two outfield errors that really hurt us."

Karrick was again on the mound for the Wildcats, and picked up the loss evening her record to 1-1 on the young season.

For the tournament Strate was pleased with the performance of senior Kelly Zierke. Zierke showed the quality leadership needed to have a successful ball team.

Natalie Highman led the Wildcats in hitting for the tournament batting .400. The Wildcats will debut at home this Saturday at 1:00 and 3:00 p.m. against visiting Dordt College of Iowa.

by Pat McElhenry

I forgot all about wearing green for St. Pat's. It could be because last year I wore a button that said, "Kiss me, I'm Irish!" and none did! Besides, we need to have a national German holiday, too. And then the Swedes and Czechs would clamor and there would be no end.

A box arrived this week from our hosts in South Carolina, containing forgotten items, like gloves. There are two plastic bags full of shells which I'm afraid to open because of the smell. It seems ages since we were picking them up on the beach.

I discovered a cure for nail biting this week called acrylic. I sat between two gals with beautiful nails at a meeting today. They go to a manicure place every other week and have fake nails wrapped on. Of course, they aren't very practical, but they are gorgeous.

One even had a Christmas tree in December, but had not had time for a shamrock in March. Another woman, who collects butterflies, has one on her nail.

I'VE NEVER bitten mine, but they looked rather shabby in comparison. We once sent a card with a picture of Venus de Milo to a classmate, with a caption that said, "I warned you what would happen if you didn't quit chewing your nails!"

Sunday is the first day of Spring, even though the weather is still nippy. My Easter lily has survived since last year, but isn't going to bloom in time.

New calves are beginning to make an appearance. The local vet was late to the High School music program last week, which is a sure sign of the time of the year.

I came across Murphy's Laws for Farmers, written by that good old Anonymous:

- * The engine and the warranty always expire together.
- * The corn market rises 10 cents on the day after you sell (and the cattle market, and the hog market).
- * Interchangeable — won't.
- * Unbreakable — isn't.
- * Guaranteed means good luck.
- * Nails only puncture the inside dual.

* Markets are good when you have nothing to sell.

* Labor-saving means at the factory.

* The right tool is never in the chest.

* You have every size bolt — except the one you need.

* The combine breaks down the last day of harvest.

* Reworked means repainted.

* The cab air conditioner breaks down in July; the heater, in December.

* The auger breaks at the top of the bin.

* Never grease means soon will cease.

* The weather is either too hot, too cold, too dry, too wet — or too good to last.

* Next year will be better.

* Maybe this year it really will be. News flash: Susan Butcher has again won the Iditarod. NBC featured her as their Person of the Week on Friday evening.

Blood bank breaks 5-year record

It was a record-breaking mobile visit in Wayne for the Siouxland Blood Bank last Thursday.

There were 85 participants and 84 pints of blood contributed, according to Rita Davis, donor consultant. "That makes it a record-breaking mobile for the last five years in Wayne," said Davis. "A great deal of this success is due to the time and efforts put forth from the hospital auxiliary to call donors and remind them of the blood drive," said Davis.

"This has not been done in the past and now we can see what a great difference it makes when these women take time to call donors," she added. The three women Davis listed were Marilyn Carhart, Erna Sals and Eileen Sievers.

Recognition was given to four gallon donor Robert Sherry of Carroll; two gallon donors Ted Johnson, Alan Pippitt and Theodore Reeg, Jr., all of Wayne; and one gallon donors Gwen Davis Jensen of Wakefield and Mark R. Kai of Wayne. The list of other donors includes the following:

Ken Loberg, Lorna Loberg, Karma Magnuson, Milton Owens and David Woslager, all of Carroll; Suzie Johnson and Roy Stohler, Concord; Verona Wantoch, Hoskins; Cherie Lynn and Sharyl Luedtke of Laurel; Ronald Temme of Norfolk; Dorothy A. Munds of Pilger; Bonnie Andersen of Wayne; Doris Backstrom of Wakefield.

Kenneth Jorgensen, MaryAnn Kay, Don Koenig, Gerald Kruger, Dennis Lipp, Kenneth Liska, Richard Lund, Dennis Lutt, Donna Martin, Rita McLean, Ronald Milliken, Betty Mitchell, Bonnie Moomaw, Marian Nelsen, Judith Nemeec, Alan

Niemann, Gerald Otte, Kerry Otte, Brent Pedersen, Dale Preston, Mary Retka, Rick Robins, Curt Rohde, Vern Schulz, Marlin Schuttler, Michael Scott, Charles Shapiro, Allen Shufelt, Roy Sommerfeld, LeRoy Spahr, Robert Stanley, Jean Sturm and Frederick Temme, all of Wayne. Also, Joann Temme and Patricia Thompson of Wayne; Joan Thomser of Wakefield; and Ruth Victor, Elda Warne, Rhonda Webb, Brooks Widner and Ron Wriedt, all of Wayne.

The Golden Years

by Gil Haase

If you quit smoking, exercise regularly and maintain your proper weight, odds are you'll improve the quality of your remaining senior years, and length them, too. So claims a study supported by the National Institute on Aging (NIA). Another NIA-funded study determined that a positive self-image also enhanced longevity and quality of life. One way to attain this is to produce something or provide a service that is useful, such as financial help or baby-sitting within the family.

"We have to rethink what it means to grow older," said author Phillip Longman in a speech delivered during one of a series of recent public policy forums sponsored by the North Carolina Center for Creative Retirement at the University of North Carolina, Asheville. "We do need the skills of older people....There's plenty of room in today's economy for senior citizens, and we have to convince them of that."

Remember When? 1911 — Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen became the first person to reach the South Pole. Amundsen had also discovered the Northwest Passage from the Atlantic to the Pacific by sea above Canada in 1906.

Presented as a public service to our senior citizens, and the people who care about them by the Wayne Care Centre, 918 Main Street, Wayne, Nebraska 68787.

Aspirin Prevents Heart Attacks

Aspirin is back in the news. It was recently reported in the New England Journal of Medicine that healthy men who take one aspirin tablet every other day can cut their risk of having a heart attack by almost fifty percent. While it has been known for some time that aspirin can lessen the incidence of a second heart attack, this is the first time aspirin has been shown to stop a first attack. And although the recent study was conducted only in men, it is felt that women can also benefit from aspirin.

In the vast majority of heart attacks, clots are responsible for blocking the flow of blood and oxygen to the heart. Aspirin prevents clot formation by preventing the accumulation of platelets — the clotting part of blood.

Increases in sales of aspirin following the release of the report have been noted. Some authorities are cautious, however, and are calling for more studies. They want to be sure that taking aspirin on a routine basis is not associated with bleeding, strokes, or other problems. We're sure to hear more about aspirin and heart attacks in the months to come.

HOMETOWN Spirit

Don't wait to open your IRA...

The younger you are when you open your IRA, the more money you will have when you retire. That's pretty obvious, but when you see how much difference a year can make in an IRA, it's almost shocking.

If you are 24 years old and you wait until you are 25 to open an IRA, you'll have $100,000* less when you retire. How can that be? Well, there is a geometric progression that occurs with the principal and interest. One year can make all the difference in the world. Open an IRA today. Don't wait. Substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

P.E. class researched

A research team from the Center for Fitness and Healthful Living Education at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) will visit Wakefield Elementary School seventh and ninth grade students on March 29 to test them for physical fitness.

The tests are part of a statewide research project to determine the physical fitness of Nebraska students from the elementary through high school levels.

Faculty and undergraduate students in the UNL School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation are conducting the research with the cooperation of the State Department of Education.

The tests will take approximately two class periods to complete and include tests of cardiovascular fitness, muscular strength, endurance, hamstring and lower back flexibility and skinfold measures to determine body fat. Participating students will also fill out a questionnaire concerning their participation in health and fitness activities.

Results of the statewide tests will be used to develop a scorecard that can be used in schools throughout Nebraska as part of a standardized fitness test. The standardized test will allow schools across the state to compare their students with other students throughout the state and enable them to identify areas needing improvement.

Approximately 40 schools, representing all of Nebraska's district sizes and geographic locations, were picked randomly for the project and agreed to participate in the program this spring. Other schools will be visited during the 1988-89 academic year.

A GRADUATE LEVEL COURSE TO THE FUTURE.

Nebraskans have always demonstrated a strong commitment to the future. And no where is this more evident than in our schools.

Currently, the graduation rate among Nebraska high school students is the second highest of any state in the nation. Nebraska also has one of the highest proportions of students taking college aptitude tests. These same students continually score among the top six of all states when measured by the National Scholastic Aptitude Tests (SATs) over the past five years.

Nebraska's commitment to the importance of education is easily recognized in our ranking as 15th in spending by state and local governments for education in grades 1-12.

Thirteen community colleges, twenty state colleges, and the three campuses of the University of Nebraska, graduate more than 3,500 students annually, making Nebraska a very attractive location for businesses seeking a technically competent work force.

If strong minds make for a healthy state, we have nothing to worry about. Nebraska is hard at work, successfully training and graduating men and women who will solve the challenges of tomorrow.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

Cards of Thanks

AT A TIME LIKE this it is utterly impossible to find the words to express our heartfelt thanks to everyone for all they have done during the illness and loss of our loved one. We especially want to thank everyone for the food brought in, for the many cards, memorials, words of sympathy and encouragement that has been offered to us. A special thank you to the caring staff at PMC, the dedicated home health care nurses, to Drs. Felber and Lindau, to Rev. Marburger for his prayers, visits, and beautiful service, the ladies of the church for their help and the lunch, and to the Wayne Vets Club for the use of the equipment for the past 5 months. It is very comforting to know so many do care. May God bless each and everyone of you. The family of Loretta McDonald; Frank McDonald; Roger & Lynette Hammer, Angie and Kelly; LaVerle & Karen McDonald, Cheri and Cristy; Lonnie & Patti McDonald, Joshua and Lee Ann. M24

SPECIAL THANKS to all our friends and relatives for the visits, cards, food, flowers, and memorials given to Anna Koll. Thank you to Stanton nursing home for their wonderful cards during her stay there. Also a special thanks to Pastor Fale for his visits and prayers. The Family of Anna Koll. M24

TO EVERYONE WHO remembered me with cards, visits, flowers, plants, gifts, and food while I was in the hospital and since being home. I can't begin to tell you how much each expression of love brightened my days and helped heal me. "Thank you" seems so inadequate. And to Drs. Benhack and Dahlheim, Gary West, all the nurses and staff at PMC, your excellent care and support made my hospital stay almost enjoyable. A great big thanks to each and everyone for your thoughtfulness and kindness. Donna Hansen. M24

WE WOULD like to thank everyone for making our 40th anniversary a day to remember. For the phone calls, monetary gifts, gifts, flowers and beautiful cards. And especially to our family who planned it all. God bless all of you. You made our day. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Paul. M24

INTRODUCING THE C.D. THAT PUTS CASH IN YOUR POCKET EVERY MONTH... PayoutPLUS

Enjoy the advantages of a traditional CD, PLUS regular "payouts."

The PayoutPLUS Certificate, like other CD investments, lets you invest a specific amount of money for a specified term and interest rate. What makes the PayoutPLUS Certificate unique is the added "plus"-regular "payouts" of interest and principal to you.

You choose the investment amount (beginning with $2500) and the term (12, 24, 36, 48, or 60 months). You will earn a high fixed interest rate, which varies with the term, and receive regular payments of principal and interest for the life of the certificate. These payments may be sent by check or deposited directly to another First Federal Lincoln account.

A unique investment opportunity.

The PayoutPLUS Certificate is designed for anyone who would like to utilize their investment while it continues to earn interest. It gives you the flexibility to tailor the "payout" program to fit your needs.
