Slidin' into spring

ALTHOUGH SPRING arrived March 20, consistent warmer temperatures didn't come along until the past few days. Highs have reached the upper 70's lately. Above, Ryan Nichols finds the large slide at Wayne's Bressler Park as a way to enjoy the nice weather.

What's cooking?

The day for Something Special to happen is nearing.

A 1988 Homemakers School will take place in Wayne on Monday, April 25 at the Wayne City Auditorium, with the support of area merchants. The Wayne Herald and Marketer and national sponsors.

Robin Hofmann, Homemakers School economist who will conduct the event will feature cooking demonstrations and home management ideas. The 2½ hour demonstration is free to the public and attracted more than 700 area homemakers when last produced locally in 1986.

Everyone will receive the free 1988 Something Special cookbook from Homemakers School to follow along closely as 11 recipes, ranging from appetizers to desserts and vegetables, are prepared.

Various merchants from the area are providing door prizes and displays, while local appliance dealers will be supplying the appliances for use on-stage.

TOGETHER WITH The Wayne Herald and Marketer, they are bringing Something Special from Homemakers Schools to Wayne.

Several promotional options will be available at this year's show for participating merchants:

- Display booths. This will allow merchants to attractively exhibit and explain new or popular products for two hours prior to the 7 p.m. show.
- Coupon booklets. Printed and distributed to everyone in attendance, this organized take-home item will be ideal for merchants to promote other in-store bargains.
- Bag stuffers. All participating merchants will be eligible to submit items to be inserted into bags given to each of the 700-plus attendees expected.
- And prior to the event, a special tabloid promoting the show and participating merchants will be printed and distributed to every postal patron in the Greater Wayne trade area.

Jail budget near depletion, sheriff seeks fund transfer

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

An increase in prisoner numbers at the Wayne County Jail this fiscal year has forced Sheriff LeRoy Janssen to request more funding for the county jail budget.

Janssen presented his case to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners Tuesday morning. Merlin Beiermann, county commissioner, said the board will conduct a public hearing to consider the possible transfer of funds from the vehicle purchase amount in the special police budget to the jail budget.

Approximately $10,700 is needed to finish out the fiscal year, according to Janssen. "We're almost to zero. There might be about $100 in there now," he said.

OVER THE LAST few months, the county jail has been averaging four to five prisoners per month. In past years, that figure had been around one to two prisoners per month.

"In our last budget year [1986-87], our jail stood empty for about 120 days. This fiscal year [1987-88] the jail has been empty for only 107 hours, or about 4½ days," Janssen mentioned.

During the 1986-87 fiscal year, Janssen received $35,549 for the jail budget, after a request for an additional $4,000 to the jail fund had been approved. He had received $31,500 in the current 1987-88 fiscal year budget.

The jail budget covers expenses of the jail facility and the daily operation of the jail which includes jailor salaries, food, office supplies, utilities, janitorial supplies and other items.

Last year, from Jan. 1, 1987 to Dec. 31, 1987, the Wayne County Jail housed 85 prisoners. Janssen said the 1988 calendar year prisoner numbers will surpass that amount if occupancy continues at the present rate.

NOT ONLY ARE the prisoner numbers up, but also the average length of stay has increased. "We get some prisoners for two days, but when you get them for a week, then that's what makes the expenses go up," said Janssen.

When it comes time to compose the jail budget for 1988-89, Janssen said he will request what he has spent on operation of the jail this fiscal year.

Janssen compared the jail budget to a snow budget, where it could be impossible to predict the amount of snowfall — or in his case, prisoners — in a given fiscal year. Having a cushion, to have the money available if needed, would be "nice to have," he said.

The date for the public hearing on the funding transfer has been established for Tuesday, April 19 at 11 a.m.

At Wakefield Community Club program

Economics to be discussed

Dr. Gene Koepke, Dean of the College of Business and Technology at Kearney State College, is the presenter. He is a dynamic but practical speaker who has become a leader in economic development activities for rural communities throughout the Midwest.

The theme of his program is that economic development is the responsibility of every member of a community, not just the business community. His recommendations are specific with references as to what is currently being done in many rural communities. There is a $2 per person registration fee which should be mailed to Tom Anderson, Wakefield Community Club, Wakefield, NE 68784. More information is available from Tom Anderson at 287-9032.

Oliver to be performed Friday, Saturday

Wayne-Carroll stages musical

The musical production of Oliver! will be performed Saturday and Sunday, April 8 and 9, at Wayne-Carroll High School, with both performances starting at 8 p.m.

Opening scenes show Oliver, played by Ben Wilson, in a workhouse operated by Widow Corney (Kristin Rohde) and Mr. Bumble (Todd Barner). Bumble sells Oliver to Mr. Sowerberry (Todd Harris) the undertaker and Mrs. Sowerberry (Kelly Fleming). Oliver runs away from the undertaker and meets up with the Artful Dodger, played by Nick Ley, and later led to Fagin's (Chad Frey) kitchen. Fagin operates a pocket-picking ring.

Oliver is captured for appearing to pick pockets and he is sequestered in the home of a rich old gentleman, where he becomes well-tailored and well-cared for. Nancy (Tammy Griesch), who Oliver met earlier with Fagin's crew, drags off Oliver as per the request of Fagin and his cohorts, fearing that the Fagin set-up be confessed.

What follows is intrigue, drama and excitement as the rest of Oliver's plight is told.

Tickets for the musical are available from cast members of the musical, or from Kathryn Ley, musical director of the show. Price for the tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students.

There will also be tickets available at the door on the evening of both performances.

To decide program's fate

Beef check-off on May 10 election ballot

A national Beef Referendum will take place May 10 to determine if the present $1 per head beef check-off, authorized by the Beef Promotion and Research Act of 1985, will be continued.

The Cooperative Extension Service will conduct the Beef Referendum and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will tabulate the results. The results will be announced by the USDA sometime after May 24.

Cattle producers may register and vote on the same day (May 10) during usual business hours at the county extension office serving their county of residence.

All cattle producers who owned cattle during the period of Oct. 1, 1986 through March 31, 1988 are eligible to vote in the Beef Referendum. Only one vote per producer is allowed.

A group of people jointly owning cattle will be entitled to one vote. There is no age restriction on eligibility as long as the person voting is old enough to understand the certification statement and perform the mechanics of voting without assistance.

Beef producers unable to vote in person on May 10 may request and vote by absentee ballot. Absentee ballots will be available during the month of April, 1988. Completed absentee ballots must be received by the County Extension Office serving the county of producer residence by the close of business on May 3, 1988.

IN NEBRASKA, absentee ballots can be requested with an "absentee ballot request post card" available in county extension offices or by contacting: Jim Gosey, Extension Beef Specialist, C204 Baker Hall, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE 68583-0908.

Six Nebraskans are among the 108 members of the national board which administers the check-off.

In 1986-87, more than $73 million was collected for the check-off nationwide. State beef councils decide how to spend up to 50 cents of every dollar; in Nebraska, the state beef board has chosen to invest all but 10 cents of each dollar in the national program, retaining the dime to fund projects unique to Nebraska.

Not more than 5 percent of the funds collected can be spent on administration. The remainder of the money goes toward research and promotion projects authorized by the producers on the national beef board.

Some of the well-known projects include the national television spots featuring James Garner, and previously Cybill Shepherd, promoting beef as "real food for real people" to an urban, up-scale audience, according to a report from Cheryl Stubbenieck, vice president/information with the Nebraska Farm Bureau.

"The whole point of the check-off is to increase beef consumption and demand, resulting in better profits for beef producers. Although it's difficult to translate such programs as those mentioned previously into dollars, there is mounting evidence that promotional efforts have resulted in increased beef purchases, both by consumers and the food service industry," said Stubbenieck.

Right, Fagin (Chad Frey) tiptoes through the thieves' kitchen.

Tootsie Roll Drive underway

The Wayne Council 8579 of the Knights of Columbus has scheduled its annual Tootsie Roll Drive in Wayne April 7-9.

Proceeds from the drive will go toward helping the mentally retarded.

KC Grand Knight Mike Brumm said the Nebraska Knights of Columbus initiated a program nine years ago to benefit the mentally retarded.

"The general public has lent its support through contributing during the annual Knights of Columbus drive April 7-9. This year the Knights of Columbus is expanding its appeal to encourage business leaders to join in the campaign to better life's opportunities for mentally retarded citizens," said Brumm.

"Fifty percent of the funds remain in the community from which they are received," said Brumm.

Among the programs and services made available with contributions are residential care; community living facilities; training centers; workshops; day care centers; nursing care; vocational training; on the job training; recreation and physical education; social training; advocacy service; guardianship program; prevention program and research.

Brumm offered the following information:

"One out of every 10 persons has a mentally retarded person in his/her family.

"There are approximately six million mentally retarded people in the United States today.

"45,000 Nebraskans suffer from some sort of mental disability.

"Mental retardation affects more individuals than all other handicapping conditions combined.

"One out of every 33 children is a probable victim.

"The Wayne Knights of Columbus welcomes contributions for this worthwhile fundraising effort.

JOEL HANSEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hansen, and Kelly Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming, have been selected as candidates to represent Post 43 as Junior Law Cadets. The Junior Law Cadet Program for boys will be June 6-10, and the program for girls will be June 13-17 at the patrol training academy in Lincoln.

The selection of District Three representatives will be held April 17 at 2 p.m. at the Wayne Veteran's Club.

Plans for the 1988 Junior Legion baseball program are in progress. More information will be released as it becomes available.

Dr. Loyd Jensen

Former Wayne veterinarian marks retirement

A retirement reception honoring Dr. Loyd and Maxine Jensen was held March 31 at the Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine in Ames.

Dr. Jensen was graduated from Iowa State University (ISU) in 1951 with a doctor of veterinary medicine degree.

He practiced veterinary medicine in Wayne from 1951 until 1967 when he joined the Iowa State faculty in the department of veterinary microbiology as an instructor.

He received his master's degree from ISU in 1969 and was promoted to full professor in 1975.

Dr. and Mrs. Jensen will continue to reside at Rt. 1, Purvis Lane, Ames, Iowa, 50010.

Grass tetany may be problem for area cattle

Warmer spring weather conditions may be causing potential grass tetany problems for Nebraska's cattle.

Grass tetany is a nutritional or metabolic disorder characterized by low blood magnesium, according to Rick Rasby, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension beef specialist. The disorder occurs frequently during the spring in cattle grazing lush, immature grass.

Warm weather causing rapid growth of grasses, followed by cool, overcast days, appear to be conditions that add to the grass tetany problem.

Signs of grass tetany include: grazing away from the herd; irritability; muscle twitching, especially in the flank; wide-eyed staring behavior; staggering and collapse; and death.

Cattle showing signs of grass tetany need immediate attention. Veterinarians should be consulted concerning intravenous medications to raise the level of magnesium in the blood for cattle needing help.

Grass tetany can be prevented by including magnesium in the mineral supplement. Supplementation of magnesium should begin 30 days before grazing in areas where grass tetany frequently occurs, Rasby said. These supplements should contain 10 to 15 percent magnesium. Nine to 15 grams per day per animal must be ingested. Although magnesium oxide is the source most often used, it is not very palatable. This can be remedied by mixing with equal parts of Dical, salt, and ground corn.

Other practices that can help reduce grass tetany include: delaying turning cattle onto pasture until it is four to six inches tall; feeding legume hays. Legumes are higher in magnesium than grass hay; and feeding hay to reduce the amount of lush grass eaten if cows are already on the pasture.

NebGuide G-72-32 has more information concerning grass tetany and is available at local Cooperative Extension office.

Letters

Thank you!

As a beef producer and as President of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, I would like to thank the Wayne Herald and Marketer in advance for your plans to publish a Nebraska Beef Month special section.

I know you are very loyal at reporting the various happenings of the beef industry. And I regret that my gratitude is not shown to you more often. But I'm especially pleased you've undertaken this project.

It is our hope that this becomes an annual publication for your readers. With the changes occurring so rapidly in the beef industry, and considering the impact beef production and feeding has on the economy of the state, an annual update to your readers seems very appropriate.

Please contact our office in Lincoln if we can help in any way. I know we'll be talking about this project at area meetings and through newsletters to our members. Without question, beef producers will appreciate your efforts.

Viewpoint

Careful with burning

For now the seriousness of open burning, which brings on the threat of grass fires, appears to have subsided because of the moderate rains that hit the area on Saturday and Tuesday.

We were not able to reach Dale Preston, Wayne Volunteer Fire Department Chief on Wednesday morning to confirm whether or not the burning ban has been lifted. But we advise that before attempting any open burning, subjects should get permission or a permit from the fire chief to see if the conditions are right.

We can understand the urgency in following procedures as far as open burning is concerned. The popular Conservation Reserve Program, significant in conserving soil by letting the land idle, also has some setbacks. Being susceptible to grass fires is one of them.

Let it be said here that fighting the grass fires is no simple ordeal for area fire departments. It constitutes danger, particularly when the winds whip the fire across highways and then change direction in the middle of the fight.

Several weeks ago The Wayne Herald covered a grass fire, when winds were blowing at over 30 mph and dry conditions had existed in the area. The photographer stood from a distance and focused his camera on a fireman spraying water along the path of the fire.

As the fireman stepped forward, concentrating on the fire ahead of him, a blaze started up in the tall grass behind him — and he had no indication as to the jeopardy he was in.

Shouts from nearby fellow-firemen alerted the fireman about the peril. He was able to jump away from the fire that sneaked up behind him.

Of course, he had on clothing that probably would have saved him from catching on fire. But the element of danger was still apparent.

Upon witnessing this, one can't help but believe that there is always an element of danger involved in fighting grass fires.

Not only is the danger element there, but it also takes the fireman away from his or her job, sleep or other tasks they perform in their environment away from the fire department.

We encourage area residents to comply with the open burning ban, when it is in effect, and go through the proper channels or procedures when the need to burn is there.

March Madness carries state legislative meaning

In Lincoln, "March Madness" is a term often used to describe the action associated with State Basketball Tournaments. In some ways, it can also be an appropriate description of what goes on at the Legislature in the waning days of the short session. The last days of the 60 day session are usually more hectic than the end of the long 90 day session because any bill which does not pass this year is automatically killed. Therefore, Senators start looking for bills onto which they can amend important legislation which otherwise would not make its way through the process before the session ends.

It is quite common at this time of year for a bill well along in the legislative process to start attracting these types of amendments. Because of the single subject clause in the State Constitution each bill can contain only one subject. For example, an education amendment cannot be attached to a health bill. An amendment which is not "germane" to a bill is not permissible.

Attaching amendments can be worthwhile when they are germane to the bill. If this process was not used occasionally, a bill which has fallen victim to time constraints would otherwise die. The bill would then have to be reintroduced during the next session and consequently be reprinted, have another legislative hearing, and again go through the whole legislative process. In some situations, this is a waste of taxpayer money.

The Legislature has given final approval to the 1988-1989 general fund budget. The budget includes about $33 million in new spending, an increase of nine percent over last year. This new spending includes proposals by Governor Orr to increase

by Sen. Gerald Conway

funding for education, staying with her theme of continuing support for economic development of last year. An additional $10 million is included for faculty salary increases at the State Colleges and the University of Nebraska and another $4 million to improve the research capabilities at the University. Additionally, $11 million has been added to increase state aid to primary and secondary education; cities and counties will receive approximately $4 million. This $15 million should help relieve some of the property tax burden the citizens of the state are experiencing.

Last week the Legislature re-wrote LB 294 from its previous corporate tax provisions to provide for individual income tax relief in the form of raising the state standard deduction to match the federal standard deduction. I have supported this revision of the state's income tax laws and this will result in a reduction of state income taxes by $8.8 million per year. In the time since the passage of LB 773 last year, the increase in tax collections has demonstrated that adjustments in the new law were needed.

Wayne, Wakefield place third

Area teams compete at invite

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

An old adage describing the state of Nebraska could never have rang more true than what happened at the Wayne State College sponsored track meet which involved 22 high schools in three divisions.

The adage stating that if you don't like the weather in Nebraska stick around.....it will change in five minutes.

In the beginning of the meet on Tuesday, it was more or less a moderate downpour. By 4:30 p.m. however, the sun had broken through and the weather turned warmer. It turned out in the end to be a perfect day for a track meet.

In the Class B meet Wayne finished third in the five team field. Pierce won the meet with 130 points. Wisner Pilger followed with 93 points edging Wayne by a single point. Columbus Lakeview and Hartington Cedar Catholic rounded out the field of teams with 77 and 65 points respectively.

Wayne's 3200 meter relay team and Teresa Ellis' mile performance again topped the list of Wayne performances. The relay team again consisting of Sarah Peterson, Tara Erxleben, Holly Paige and Teresa Ellis breezed to a 15 second win over second place Pierce in a time of 11:24.0.

Ellis captured the mile in convincing manner over second place Stacy Kirchner of Pierce. Ellis defeated the Pierce runner by 19 seconds while running a time of 6:01.5.

Kristy Hansen notched a first place medal in the 200 meter dash by running a 29.8 second time.

Wayne's 4x100 meter relay team also earned first place honors with the combination tandem of Amy Wriedt, Deanna Schluns, Tonya Erxleben and Kristy Hansen.

Tonya Erxleben earned a second place finish in the high jump with a jump of 4'4". Kristy Hansen also picked up some second place points with her 13.5 time in the 100 meter dash. Other Wayne performers earning second place finishes were Sarah Peterson in the 3200 meter run with a time of 13:31.3 and Amy Wriedt in the 200 meter dash with a time of 29.8 seconds.

Julie Wessel captured Wayne's only third place finish in the 300 meter hurdles with a time of 58.2 seconds.

There were no fourth place finishes for the Lady Blue Devils, but finishing in fifth place were Ellis in the high jump, leaping 4'2"; Wessel in the 100 meter hurdles, in a time of 20.1 seconds; Deanna Schluns in the 100 meter dash, in a time of 15.1 seconds; Edith Janke in the 3200 meter run, in a time of 15:17.9; Karmyn Koenig in the 800 meter run, in a time of 2:42.3, and the 4x400 meter relay team, which ran to a time of 4:48.2.

Heidi Reeg captured one of the two sixth place finishes with her toss in the shot put of 29'3". Meanwhile Holly Paige grabbed the other sixth place finish in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:42.4.

Wakefield Earns Third
THE LADY TROJANS OF WAKEFIELD again rode the wings of Theresa Stelling's performances in the mile and two mile to capture third place in the "C" division of the meet with 68 points.

Battle Creek led all teams with 109 points, followed by Ponca with 74.

After Wakefield came Hartington with 61½ points, Osmond with 42 points, Stanton with 40, Norfolk Catholic with 33, Plainview with 29 and rounding out the field was Randolph with 8½ points.

Perhaps the most courageous race in girls and boys track is the 3200 meter run. Not only is it a race against opponents, but it's a race against yourself. Stelling proved to be the state's top two-miler a year ago in the state track meet in Omaha by winning the all-class gold medal.

She hasn't slacked off in this her sophomore season. In Tuesday's meet, Stelling ran to a two-mile time of 11:41.8 time, 1:34 seconds ahead of second place.

She backed up her two-mile performance with a 22 second win in the 1600 meter run over teammate Lauri Plendl with a winning time of 5:44.4.

Stelling was also a member of the 3200 meter relay team which placed first among the nine teams with a time of 10:50, 33 seconds ahead of Battle Creek, the second place team.

Kodi Nelson also earned a first place medal by winning the discus with a toss of 94'11". Nelson also put the shot 30'5½" to earn fourth place honors.

Stelling also ran the 800 meter run or better known perhaps as the ½ mile. She finished second behind Ponca's Jennie Johnson. Stelling's time was 2:33.4, while the winning time was 2:26.7.

Wakefield's mile relay team captured fourth place with a time of 4:37.6. Meanwhile fifth place finishers included Wakefield's 4x100 meter relay team which ran to a time of 56.6 seconds.

Sixth place medals went to Karen Hallstrom in the 100 meter dash with a time of 14.1 seconds. Deanna Mulhair placed sixth in the 3200 meter run.

Winside Fourth, Allen Sixth
TINIA HARTMANN AND KRISTY MILLER each captured individual first place medals in their respective events to lead Winside to a fourth place finish in the field of nine with 70½ points.

Leigh was first with 103 points followed by Humphrey St. Francis with 83, Humphrey with 74, Winside, Coleridge with 57½, Allen with 41, Beemer and Dodge both with 18 points and rounding out the field was Elgin who failed to score.

Hartmann captured the 100 meter hurdles in a time of 17.8 seconds, one full second over Angi Potter of Coleridge. The 100 meter hurdles proved to be Winside's strength as two other Wildcats, Wendy Boldt and Lori Jensen placed third and fourth respectively.

Shannon Holdorf grabbed a second place medal in the long jump with a leap of 15'1". Jensen backed up her 100 meter hurdle performance with a second place finish in the 300 meter hurdles with a time of 55.8 seconds. Kathy Leighton placed third in the 1600 meter run with a time of 6:29.3. Leighton also ran to a sixth place finish in the 3200 meter run with a time of 14:08.7.

Miller added to her first place high jump performance by placing fourth in the long jump with a leap of 14'5½". Winside's 3200 meter relay team ran to a fourth place time of 11:48.0.

Shawnette Janke gave Winside points in the shot put by placing fifth with her heave of 28'5". Boldt placed fifth in the 300 meter hurdles with a time of 57.1 seconds. Meanwhile the 1600 meter relay team ran to fifth place time of 4:45.1.

Tami Jenkins placed sixth in two events for the Wildcats in the discus and the shot put. Her discus toss was 76'2" while her shot put effort was 28'3". Michelle Thies tied for sixth place with her effort in the 400 meter dash. Winside's 4x100 meter relay team placed sixth with a time of 4:45.1.

Kennelly Wins 400 Meter Dash
ALLEN'S 41 POINTS WERE spurred by Pam Kennelly's first place finish in the 400 meter dash in a time of 1:05.1. Allen's 4x100 meter relay team placed second in a time of 54.9 seconds.

Third place finishes for the Lady Eagles came in the 200 meter dash as Candace Jones ran to a time of 28.6 seconds. Tabitha Moore earned a third place finish in the shot put with a heave of 31'2½".

Fourth place finishes came in the legs of Shawnee Hancock in the high jump with a jump of 4'4". Fifth place finishes for the Lady Eagles came with Missy Martinson in the long jump with a leap of 14'4½". Martinson backed that up with a fifth place finish in the 100 meter dash with a time of 13.8.

Allen's 3200 meter relay team placed sixth with a time of 12:49. Hancock placed sixth in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 20.0 seconds, while Heidi Lund ran to a sixth place time of 2:43.3 in the 800 meter run.

Rain halts tourney

The Wayne State College women's softball team battled some very strong teams early in the season. They have competed well and are deserving of their number 20 ranking in the NAIA ranks. However, there is one opponent they haven't beaten yet this year.....the weather!

Last Friday the Lady Wildcats traveled to Emporia Kansas to play in a round robin seven game tournament. Incidentally, the Wildcats would have had to do something no other team in the tournament would have had to do. That is play five games back-to-back-to-back-to-back-to-back.

Strate had mentioned the day before at second guessers that her girls were ready for the challenge.

The rains came however, and Wayne State was only allowed to play one of its scheduled seven games. They defeated Wisconsin-Riverfalls 4-3, upping the season record to 5-6.

Roni Johnson picked up the win on the mound for Strate's squad, earning her initial victory of the year.

Ronda Peck came in to pitch in the last inning to earn the save. Each team scattered four hits but Wisconsin-Riverfalls suffered one more error than the Wildcats. Incidentally, the number of errors in the game was just the opposite as the game score was. Wisconsin-Riverfalls had four and Wayne State had three.

The four Wayne State hits came from the bats of Paula Dofesh, Lisa Jacobsen, Shell Schumann and Kelly Zierke. All singles.

Johnson struck out five Wisconsin batters while walking only one.

Wayne City-Rec basketball draws to a close

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Championship game of the Wayne City League Basketball's "B" league unraveled Tuesday night and unlike the NCAA championship game between Kansas and Oklahoma, in which the cinderella underdog won, things went as expected between the number five team and the number three team.

Team Five went through the regular season without a notch in the loss column, finishing 10-0. In the championship game Brad Jones sparked his team to a 70-53 thrashing of Team Three.

Both teams started out cold with the first bucket coming with 6:45 left in the opening quarter with Larry Voss hitting a driving lay up.

The next points weren't scored until there was 3:57 left in the quarter as Jones hit two free throws. Jones went on to score the next six points of the game giving Team Five a 10-0 advantage, and a lead which would never be in doubt.

Team Three finally got on the board with Dan Delgado's put in an offensive rebound. Team Five's Doug Carroll hit a driving lay up with virtually no time left in the opening stanza giving the favored Team Five a 16-4 lead.

Voss opened the second quarter with a 16-footer from the baseline and on the ensuing possession hit a soft jumper in the paint giving Team Five a 20-4 lead.

Team Three did not give in so easily however. They suffered probably their worst shooting percentage from the field of the year. Brad Erwin connected on a couple first half jumpers, but at intermission the scored was well in command by Team Five, 30-14.

Incidentally, Voss hit for 10 second quarter points for Team Five. He finished with 15 for the game.

The third period belonged to Jones as he scored 16 of his game high 34 points. He hit from the inside and unleashed an unparalleled arsenal from long range.

The largest lead in the game was 36 at 56-20. That's when Team Three showed its pride and fought back. They outscored Team Five 33-16 in the final quarter and a half, and outscored them 25-12 in the fourth quarter.

Erwin led Team Three with 18 points. Rod Erwin also unloaded a plethora of points in the second half scoring 12 of his game total 14 points.

Terry Luhr finished with eight points for Team Five, while Steve Meyer netted five. Carroll and Kirk Hochstein finished with four points apiece.

Team Three again was led by Brad and Rod Erwin with 18 and 14 points respectively. Clark Rasmussen added 11, while Ray Nelson netted six and Delgado rounded out the scoring with four points.

The game marked the end of City-Rec for 1988.

The finals of the "A" league city basketball league tournament was held Monday night with the regular season champions Team 7, against the second place regular season team, Team 1.

Team 1 prevailed for a 42-41 victory. In earlier action for third and fourth place, Team 4 defeated Team 3, 67-66.

Jay Jackson paced the winners in the consolation victory with 30 points. John Melena was also in double figures with 13. Jeff Dion led the fourth place team in the tournament with 20 points, while teammates Dan Gross and Darin Barner finished with 18 and 16 points respectively.

At intermission of the championship game, Team 7 held a seven point lead at 26-19 over the runners-up from the regular season.

Jeff Sherer had 12 of his game high 17 points in the first half, while teammate Steve Overin had nine of his 15 points also in the opening half.

Jere Morris was the leading scorer at half for Team 1 with seven points. Scott Baker had five points at intermission, but would later be the game hero.

With 2:56 left in the game, Morris hit two free throws for Team 1 to tie the game at 36. Team 7's Doug Rose hit two free throws 11 seconds later to give Team 7 back the lead.

After Baker missed the second of his one-and-one opportunity, Team 7 had a 38-37 lead with 2:00 to go. With 1:27 left, Jeff Sherer was on the line for a one-and-one for Team 7 and he hit the first one and missed the second one to give Team 7 a two point lead at 39-37.

The teams traded possessions and finally Team 1 was forced to foul. Team 7 missed the free throw and on the ensuing field goal attempt by Team 1, the shooter was fouled.

After the spill of free throws, Team 7 still clung to a one point lead 38-37, with 53 seconds left. Team 7 connected on a short jumper giving them a 41-38 lead with 30 seconds left.

Team 1-in-desperation-missed-the-ensuing shot, and with 14 seconds left and a missed front end of a one-and-one by Team 7, Morris of Team 1 connected on a two shot foul attempt to cut the lead to one at 41-40.

Team 1 immediately called time out, and on the inbound pass attempt by Team 7, there was a turnover committed, thus giving Team 1 the ball back with 13 seconds.

After a timeout, Team 1 ran a play with Baker hitting a soft jumper from six feet to give Team 1 the lead with six seconds left.

Team 7 went for the last shot but suffered another turnover.

Tom Osborne's invitation

Parents and students are advised of an invitation from Cornhusker football coach Tom Osborne to attend the spring red-white intrasquad game at a special price.

Instead of the usual $3 parents and students need only take a pledge against alcohol and drugs. The spring game will be held at Memorial Stadium in Lincoln on April 23.

A special gate at the stadium will allow students and parents to enter the game for free.

At halftime students will be invited onto the playing field for the pledge. Adults will be asked to stand wherever they are seated and take a pledge to assist children in their quest to remain drug free.

The student anti-drug pledge reads: I pledge not to use drugs, alcohol or tobacco. I believe I can lead a better life by staying drug free and I further pledge to encourage friends not to use drugs, alcohol or tobacco. I am strong enough to say no!

Sponsors have set a target of 60,000 spectators at the game with as many as 20,000 of them then to take the pledge.

Prevention and Treatment of Bed Sores

Bed sores affect many patients who must remain in bed. Sores most commonly develop when there is pressure against the skin, over an area of bone (e.g. hip).

Prevention: Changing body position every few hours is reported to be the best way to prevent bed sores. Ripple mattresses and foam rubber cushions have provided protection in many patients who cannot be moved easily. Other preventative measures include water beds, air-filled pads that distribute a person's weight over a large surface area, and silicone gel pads.

Treatment: Treatment of bed sores includes debriding or cleansing the affected area, disinfection, supporting the growth of new tissue, and proper nutrition. Medications commonly used include enzyme-containing products to aid in the removal of dead tissue, topical antibacterial solutions such as povidone-iodine, hydrophobic polymers for absorbing skin moisture, and nutritional supplements such as zinc and vitamin C to aid in tissue repair.

Child care programs scheduled on ETV

A week of special programs concerning quality child care will be broadcasted on Nebraska ETV Network starting next week.

The Daycare Disgrace will air on Sunday, April 10 at 3 p.m.; America's Children: Who Cares, Who Should? Monday, April 11 at 9 p.m.; Who Cares for the Children? Wednesday, April 13, 7 p.m.; Dateline Nebraska (Nebraska child care issues), Thursday, April 14, 7 p.m.; Mister Rogers Talks With Parents About Day Care Thursday, April 14, 7:30 p.m.; and The Daycare Dilemma Saturday, April 16, 6:30 p.m.

Wayne Mayor Wayne Marsh signed a proclamation Tuesday labeling April 10-16 as "The Week Of The Young Child" in Wayne and urged all citizens to join in expressing appreciation to child care providers for their commitment to the care/education of today's young children.

The proclamation states that there is an increased number of women in the workforce, which will continue to heighten the demand for child care during the working hours. By 1990, 80 percent of mothers with preschool age children will be in the workforce.

"Child care services and providers are the major determinants of child care quality, and as such, responsible for our children's future. Nevertheless, they represent one of the most poorly understood and least rewarded of all professions," the proclamation reads.

"As part of public television's Child Care America outreach project, Diane Ehrhardt, owner of Stepping Stones Preschool; Ardath Ote, owner of ABC Nursery School; Maria McCue, owner of Wee Discover Preschool; and registered day care providers (Ardyce Reeg, Cleo Ellis, Debbie Bargholtz, Donna Barner, Donna Eckhoff, Irene Fletcher, Mella Heftli, Lu Hillton, Vicki Meyer, Margie Meyer, Julie Parker, Lynette Carmichael, Mona Meyer, Shelley Frevert, Laura Hochstein, Betty Robbins, Laura Lindner and Robin Johnson) are planning special activities to honor child care providers and call attention to the importance of quality child care during the observance of the "Week Of The Young Child" April 10-16.

The GOLDEN YEARS

More than one third of all households with discretionary income are headed by mature consumers — those aged 55 or older, marketing executives have found. According to William Lazer, a professor of business administration at Florida Atlantic University: "The spending power of the mature market may be one of the best-kept secrets left in the age of demographic scrutiny."

Some American colleges have now introduced special Elderhostel sessions during "prime time" when younger students are on campus. The Elderhostel program began in Boston and is loosely based on Europe's youth hostels, which allow young travelers to stay at clean and safe but frill-free lodgings at low prices. The idea initially was to use college campuses for special-interest classes for older citizens during the summer months, when fewer students are on campus and activities are traditionally slower. Participants enrolled in this program stay in college residence halls, dine in college cafeterias and have access to other college facilities at a lower cost.

Remember When? 1937 — Americans took their first bites of Spam, a canned processed combination of pork shoulder and spiced ham introduced by George Hormel and Company. It became a staple during the meat shortages of World War II.

JUST IMAGINE WHAT WE CAN DO IF WE'RE ALL CONVINCED IT'S HALF FULL.

Nebraska has experienced some of the same economic downturns that have impacted all of middle America. However, just consider the good news that's filling conversations across Nebraska:

- A 9.8% growth in metropolitan employment over the past two years alone.
- Designation as the second best manufacturing environment within the 48 contiguous states.
- Record production in cash crops and livestock of $8 billion, ranking Nebraska #5 nationally.
- Passage of tax incentive legislation that has produced projected company investments in Nebraska over $1 billion and over 9,100 new jobs.
- Cost-of-living indexes among the lowest in the nation.
- 25% growth in Nebraska's service industries (including transportation, communication, trade, utilities, finance, insurance and real estate).

These are just a few of the positive things happening in Nebraska. Not at all unusual for a state where people see opportunities instead of problems, challenges instead of dead ends, solutions instead of excuses.

If we can further expand our optimism and commitment throughout the state, there's no end to what can be accomplished.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

Wakefield speech students compete

The Wakefield speech students who qualified for the state convention in Lincoln March 26 received superior and excellent ratings, but none qualified to compete in the finals.

Brenda Meier received a pair of superior ratings for her Entertainment address.

Excellents were awarded to Scott Woods and Jeremy Murfin in Extemporaneous Speaking, Karen Witt in Poetry, Buffany Blecke in Humorous Prose, and to the Oral Interpretation of Drama Group. Members of the OI team are Lana Ekberg, Buffany Blecke, Mollie Greve, Brian Larson and Perre Neilan.

Coch Val Bard said that Dwight

Fischer, in the Original Public Address division was ranked second in both rounds of the competition and would have qualified for finals had there not been such a discrepancy in rating points. She went on to explain that one judge awarded Dwight 49 out of a perfect 50 rating points, or a superior while the other judge awarded him 31 of 50 points or a good.

"This large margin between the two judges' ratings is a problem the speech coaches have been trying to correct," stated Mrs. Bard. "Sometimes at State Contest when a scheduled judge fails to appear due to illness, The Nebraska School Activities Association director uses college speech students to judge in place of the absent person, unfortunately," Mrs. Bard said. "College students are accustomed to college competition and have unreasonably high standards which high school competitors are unable to meet."

Mrs. Bard said that protests are not heard the day of the state competition. "Later action doesn't enable a speaker to be placed in the final round and earn a medal at state. She concluded by saying, "This is exactly what happened to Dwight, and you can be sure our letters to the NSAA director are already in the mail."

COOKIE SALES

The Girl Scout Cookie Selling Campaign for 1988 was a super success. The three Troops sold 2,221 boxes of cookies. There were 33 girls who earned over $486 to be divided between the three troops. These earnings will pay for expenses, such as craft activities, badges, books, pins, service projects and special trips and events.

Several girls were able to hit the century or more mark in boxes sold. Jesse Gustafson of Troop 73 (fourth, fifth, and sixth grade) sold over two hundred boxes. Javannah Bebee and Melinda VanderVeen of Troop 98 (first grade) sold over 100 boxes each as did Aubrey Leonard and Jennifer Simpson of Troop 68 (second and third grade). All the girls worked really hard to help support their troops, and are thankful for the excellent support given by the community.

There are still a few extra boxes of cookies available. If interested, call Mary Brudigam at 287-2756.

FmHA seeks committee members

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will begin accepting nominations April 5 for election of county committee members under new rules that make it easier for farmers to qualify as candidates and to vote. LaVern Ostendorf said.

FmHA county committees perform a variety of duties for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's credit agency, including deciding whether an applicant is eligible for a farm loan.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to anyone who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Ostendorf said. "The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer. An old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has been dropped."

"The nominating period has been extended to 45 days from the previous 25 days, thus allowing more opportunity for people to run for the committee," Ostendorf said. "At least three eligible farmer-voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition."

Two of the three committee members are elected by farmers in the county, and one is appointed by FmHA. One of the elected seats is to be filled for a three-year term at this year's election, which is scheduled for June 30.

"Another important change this year is that one member of the committee can be an active FmHA farm borrower, or be eligible for an FmHA farm loan," Ostendorf said. "Previously, this was not allowed."

Anyone interested in running for the committee can obtain a petition and other information from the FmHA county office at 120 Logan St., Wayne, NE. Ostendorf.

by Pat Melerhenry

It's the Saturday night before Easter, and the April showers are most welcome. There is new gravel on the roads, which is much appreciated.

We needed the moisture. Walt Vahlkamp told me at choir practice the other night that it was so windy last Sunday, and there was so much dirt in the air, that he looked up just in time to see a squirrel digging a hole 50 feet in the air!

Sue ran into ice and snow in New Mexico and got almost the last motel room. She's on her way to Phoenix for her last field experience.

It's been a "goose-bumpy" Holy Week, and she provided the first ones last Saturday night at the Creighton banquet.

Since we wouldn't be together for her birthday or for Easter, her siblings and her boyfriend came, too. Monte gave me a small gift wrapped box to carry in my purse before the meal.

After the festivities, we all stood around in the parking lot, saying our good-bys. I suddenly remembered the box, and gave it back to Monte. He handed it to Sue, and told her to open it.

There were two rings in the box! So they became officially engaged in the Creighton University parking lot, with all of us looking on and cheering. Had I known what I was carrying around, I'd have been so nervous. It's lucky I didn't lose it!

On Monday morning, at St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha, Bruce and Sandy Uecker became the proud and happy and greatly relieved parents of triplets!

Sandy works in our Intensive Care Unit, and there have been problems almost since day 1 of the pregnancy. She has spent much time in bed, with medication, having numerous ultrasound exams.

Finally, at 33 weeks, the doctors decided it was time to intervene. Each baby had its own neonatologist, and each one received Surfactant to prevent hyaline membrane disease. Jessica, Jared, and Jillian are all doing well. So are Mom and Dad.

I've never appreciated modern medicine so much. Of course, all the prayers of all the folks at Lutheran Hospital helped, too.

Then, on Thursday afternoon, the stork flew again. Our ICU head nurse and her husband had wanted a baby so long.

I SAW her leaving about 1:30, and said, "Hey, are you leaving early?" She smilingly announced that the adoption agency had just called, and she was going on "maternity leave!"

Tears and hugs! Little Katelyn was born on March 25; she came home on Thursday evening, and Mom did not sleep all night!

I wish the young lady who lovingly gave up that little girl could have seen my friend's face as she left the hospital.

Those of us who take the process of having babies for granted need to be reminded once in awhile just what miracles they are.

A Norfolk floral delivery truck drove all the way out here this afternoon with a gorgeous plant and a card that says "Happy Easter" from the Stoehr's in South Carolina. More goose bumps!

Now to set the clock ahead, watch Oklahoma and Arizona, and get to bed early. Six o'clock sunrise service will be very early this year. It's my turn to help the high school kids fry pancakes. And there will be tingles again when the brass choir sounds "I Know That My Redeemer Lives!"

CONGRATULATIONS!

Swine recordkeeping program grows

A swine recordkeeping program started last year as a pilot effort with 11 producers had increased to 75 producers in eight area groups, said a University of Nebraska-Lincoln animal scientist.

The producers who enrolled in last year's program are enthusiastic about its continuation, said Mike Brumm, of Wayne, extension swine specialist at the Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord. The program is designed to help producers analyze records and to identify strong and weak points of their operation.

The program has two objectives:

- To offer a sound recordkeeping program for swine producers.
- To build a reliable data-base from producers' record summaries.

All but one of the pilot producers have enrolled in this year's program, he said. Producers pay an enrollment fee of $35. In return they receive a record book, two training sessions on filling out the record book and two wrap-up sessions to close the books on July. Next, a local extension office completes the financial summaries and send results to the Northeast Research and Extension Center, which completes a state summary of swine production costs.

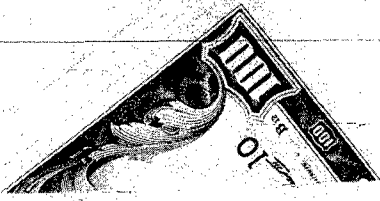

Detailed records of critical items such as death loss, litters per female per year, pigs weaned per crate per year, fixed costs of weaned pigs and pounds of feed per hundred-pound gain produced allow the producer to identify areas of improvement.

Accurate records also are helpful to the producers' advisors such as Cooperative Extension Service staff members and veterinarians.

Currently the program has eight groups, seven in the Northeast District and one in Colfax County which is in the Southeast district. Next year, Brumm said, expansion is planned into the Southeast District and one group will be located in the South Central District. One group is located in a new district each year so that district personnel may become familiar with the program before it expands further into that area, he said.

The program is partially funded by the Nebraska Pork Producers Association, Brumm said. Other funding is pending but has not been confirmed. The money received helps to pay for the cost of the record books, brochures and promotional advertising for the program.
