OVER 120 HIGH SCHOOL LETTERWINNERS and fifth and sixth graders are involved in the Wayne version of the Big Brother-Big Sister program which allows many of the younger youth to communicate with the people they look up to— high school athletes.

Big Brother, Big Sister

Program benefits both athletes, grade schoolers

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Big Brother, Big Sister program has been recognized nationally as being an instrumental tool in the developing of youths who have had to overcome one parent families.

The basis being that of giving the youth someone to look up to and talk to. In the fall of 1987, some area teachers saw the need for a similar Big Brother, Big Sister program in Wayne, but with a few different variables.

"The Big Brother-Big Sister program of Wayne is in no way in connection with the national organization," Don Koenig, one of the founders said. "A few teachers got together and decided that it could be very instrumental for some of the youth of Wayne to have a Big Brother or a Big Sister."

Ted Blenderman, counselor of the middle school, first sought the idea approximately three years ago, and with the help of Koenig and Dale Hochstein, among other area teachers, the newly formed idea slowly transformed into the development stages.

Wayne's version of the Big Brother-Big Sister program debuted in the 1987-88 school year. The program, a strictly volunteer opportunity for high school letterwinners to spend time with fifth or sixth graders in different activities became an instant success for both sides of the program.

"We took all the names of the fifth and sixth grade students who were interested in having a big brother or sister and matched them up with high school letterwinners," Koenig said. "In matching them up, we took into consideration personalities, and interest in the sport the high school kids played."

Just how did Koenig come to choose who the Big Brother-Big Sister recipients would be? "The fifth and sixth grade youth are at the age where they are looking to the high

Conway predicts major relief in property taxes

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Enhancement of funding for the state college system was one of several key legislative issues affecting this area confronted in this 90th session.

"That amounts to about $1.1 million totally for the state college system. It will be up to the state college board to distribute that. We know how it will be distributed because of how it was requested," said District 17 State Senator Gerald Conway.

There will be a schedule of faculty and staff salary improvements at the state colleges, he mentioned.

The Legislature also raised tuition assistance at Nebraska colleges and the University by $750,000. Conway said this is a substantial increase, although still below the level of assistance which neighboring states provide to their college students.

Conway said there was also a significant "catch-up" in state aid to schools, cities, counties and educational units across Nebraska.

"Those should have a major impact on property tax relief," he mentioned.

CERTAIN segments of citizenry, Conway said, were also affected in the 1988 legislative session.

The elderly and low income people "took a hit on LB 773" in regard to income tax obligations. These people never before had a state liability because they had no federal liability (state was always a percentage of federal). Once LB 773 passed, they had no federal liability but owed for state liability.

"Corrections were made to make the standard deduction the same as the federal deduction," Conway said.

The legislature also passed a bill liberalizing Medicaid rules to allow elderly couples with continuing medical costs to qualify for benefits when their total assets are spent down to $50,000.

Prior to this, the recipients had to spend down to $25,000 in assets. "This bill should help relieve some of the pressure our elderly citizens experience in trying to afford care for an ailing spouse," Conway mentioned.

"Another area is rural health care. We haven't completely satisfied everybody, but we've started to make a mark," he said.

"We're finding out that we have more than enough doctors in the state — they are just not in the right places," he added.

Physicians assistants to do "off-site work" (such as making rounds in nursing homes or other situations) has been already introduced to the legislature by Conway. But the Department of Health stated recently that physician assistants not do anything unless he or she was under the supervision of an attending physician.

"That ruined the whole concept," said Conway, adding that he is working to change the rules and regulations of the health department to allow more physician assistants to go out among surrounding communities.

CONWAY SAID economic development this year was more of "fine-tuning," such as the $50 million bond bill to improve Nebraska highways, and moving the 15-year highway plan forward.

"There's additional research money given to the university for looking at alternative uses of Nebraska crop production," he added.

Conway said one bill which he "wasn't excited about" and that he voted against was the legislature's approval to appropriate $1.4 million to continue the School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis, Nebraska.

"My feeling is that people tried to pass it off as an ag issue. Curtis had one super program — veterinary technical assistance," Conway said.

Everything else being offered there, he said, is being offered all over the state at other technical schools," he said.

"I'd rather see them take the money and build an animal science center or add to something we already have, or offer a veterinary assistance cooperative program with other schools," he said.

A lot of people missed the point about payment to University of Nebraska football players, a bill that was vetoed by Governor Orr.

He said that because of the tightening down of the NCAA, football players are discouraged from getting summer jobs or pell grants.

WITH A STIPEND, the athlete would not get quite as excited about getting $100 a month from sports agents to sign, he said.

But we got the message out that the NCAA has got to address the issue eventually, he said.

In regard to an increase in legislative salaries, Conway said the Nebraska Unicameral is the "cheapest" democratic process in the United States.

"One, because we have one house. Two we have limited number of days we can meet. Three, we have one of the lowest salaries in the nation," Conway mentioned.

"The question amounts to how much you want them [the legislators] to sacrifice," he added.

The proposal, from over $4,800 to $12,000, is modest, he said. "You're not going to make any money. You better have something the other six months out of the year that supports the family," he added.

"I will continue to serve because I'm committed to it [the legislature]. I think it would be appropriate to raise it. But I'm running again not

By Wakefield city, hospital board

Interim management plan agreement reached

The city of Wakefield and the Board of Trustees of the Wakefield Community Hospital, Inc. have agreed on an interim management plan which will allow the corporation to operate the hospital for the city.

The Wakefield Community Hospital, Inc. gave the hospital to the city of Wakefield, allowing for the issuance of $310,000 in revenue bonds for the construction of a nursing home (the extended care wing).

In 1978, an addition to the extended care wing was constructed and the city issued another $250,000 in revenue bonds for the construction.

Presently, the bond debt ($305,000) is being returned at approximately $40,000 per year. The city council has passed an ordinance stating that until the bonds are retired in 1998, the city will own and operate the hospital and extended care wing and generate new revenues of 1.25 times the bond principal and interest due the next fiscal year.

The hospital board of trustees, through an informal arrangement, operated the Wakefield Health Care Center for the city during the past 15 years. However, city officials say that liability exposure and insurance costs have become serious problems for both the hospital and the city.

Finding an insurance carrier that will write a liability coverage and errors and omissions policy together (city and hospital) has been difficult, and premiums quoted to the city council were unaffordable, city officials said.

The agreement between the city and hospital corporation splits the liability exposure for the hospital and city into two policies for two entities at a more affordable cost.

The Wakefield Health Care Center will operate as a non-profit business providing professional management services, an administrator and all employees to operate the facility. Compensation for the employees will be derived from the city of Wakefield.

Wakefield Health Care will conduct its regular annual meeting in June and will elect new trustees to replace those whose terms will be expiring. All citizens in the Wakefield community, both city and rural, who use the hospital or nursing home or who have made a contribution, are eligible to serve as a trustee on the board.

During the next 60 days, while the interim agreement is in effect, the hospital board and the city council will be working on a long-term agreement for the management of the Wakefield Health Care Center.

Hospice coordinator is named

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Sara Campbell, a resident of Wayne the past seven years, has been named coordinator of the Wayne Hospice Group — an organization with a network of volunteers concerned with caring for people with life threatening illnesses and their families.

Campbell said although the Wayne Hospice Group is still in the organizational stage, an advisory board also has been named to assist in setting up a budget and developing policy, including admittance criteria and procedures.

Among those serving on the advisory board is Kathleen Grone, who was instrumental in organizing the Wayne Hospice Group last fall but has since resigned from active participation.

Other Wayne Hospice Group board members include Dr. Dave Felber, Dr. Ben Martin, the Rev. Keith Johnson, Ann Witkowski, Pat Gross, Dr. Kathy Conway, Marci Thomas, Joan West and Verlyn Anderson. The first board meeting is scheduled for the middle of May.

RECENTLY, THE Wayne Hospital Foundation appropriated $5,000 to the Wayne Hospice Group to assist with the coordinator's salary and basic administration of the program.

The Hospital Foundation also agreed to assist the group in incorporating into a non-profit organization.

Campbell stressed that because the Wayne Hospice Group is a non-profit organization, contributions from those who believe in the program and its concept will be needed for the program to continue to operate.

CAMPBELL POINTED out that hospice is a concept, not an institution. It is supportive, but only in conjunction with medical professionals.

"Hospice helps people deal with the natural emotions, reactions and problems accompanying a life-threatening illness," said Campbell, adding that most volunteers have, or will have, completed a course in hospice care.

"Hospice focuses on comfort and support," added Campbell, "and family members continue to receive hospice care even after the patient's death."

Sara Campbell

THE NEW coordinator said hospice volunteers will work in cooperation with the Home Health Care office headquartered at Providence Medical Center.

Although the majority of referrals will come from Home Health Care, Campbell said the Wayne Hospice Group can also receive referrals from family members, friends and physicians.

Campbell stressed that hospice is not a substitute for proper medical treatment.

"The aid provided to the dying person is supportive rather than life saving," said Campbell, adding that hospice volunteers have a common goal of providing whatever supportive care is needed to make the remaining life of people with life threatening illnesses, and that of their families, as meaningful and rewarding as possible. All aspects of the program are confidential.

SERVICES HOSPICE volunteers can provide include staying with the terminally ill patient (providing much needed rest to the primary caregiver), and offering support to both the patient and family members.

In addition, hospice volunteers are

The Plant a Living Legacy theme is being used nationwide to com-

school kids for heroes," Koenig said. "It's a very influential time for the youth and the high school kids provide them with a sense of values."

Koenig, in his 21st year of teaching physical education to grades K-6, feels that since he has had most of the high school kids when they were in elementary school, that he had a better chance of matching the two sides together via personalities and interest.

Now in its second year of existence, the Wayne Big Brother-Big Sister program is building. "I would estimate that over 90 percent of the 'W' Club is involved in the program," Koenig said. Incidentally, there are 63 fifth and sixth graders involved.

"Our goal is to improve the program a little bit from year to year," Koenig lamented.

Some of the activities that the high school "W" Club members have taken their little brothers and sisters to are a Nebraska basketball game, a sack lunch picnic and an olympic game night, which was recently held.

"Next year we hope to be able to go to Sioux City for a hockey game and maybe go on a fishing trip," Koenig said. "Right now we'll just have to wait and see."

Many students keep in contact with their little brothers and sisters by sending them birthday cards and occasionally calling them. "Everything the big brothers and sisters do with their little brothers and sisters outside of the scheduled group activities, is strictly on their own," Koenig said.

The Wayne Big Brother-Big Sister program is a benefit for both the high school letterwinner and the fifth or sixth grader. It gives the elder a chance to teach the values he or she may have learned enroute to their success in athletics.

The high school athlete in a way is in control of shaping the youth's mind. Perhaps for some, it's a grave responsibility, but to the "W" Club members, it's a welcome challenge.

WSC splits twin bill with Briar Cliff

KATHY LEIGHTON LEADS A HUNGRY pack of two-milers in action held Thursday at the Winside Invitational. Leighton finished third behind Wakefield's Theresa Stelling and Lori Plendl.

SAFE AT THIRD IS THIS WILDCAT! Muddy conditions made footing a little tricky in the first game of the Briar Cliff doubleheader. This Wildcat traveled by air to land safely at third base.

The Wayne State baseball team played host to Briar Cliff Wednesday evening in a twilight double header at Over in Field in Wayne.

Jeff Pasold took the mound in the first game and despite the extreme muddy conditions on the infield, the score stood in Wayne State's favor after six innings of play, 3-2.

However, the visitors from Briar Cliff quickly put to use some clutch hitting and some Wildcat mis-ques for a 3-run inning in the seventh. They shut down Wayne State in the bottom half of the inning, and Wayne State suffered its third setback to the visitors in three games, 5-3.

"We made a few mental errors in the game," head coach Lenny Klaver exclaimed. "They ended up getting 11 hits in the game, but we had held them down pretty well until the seventh inning."

Wayne State rapped six hits in the game led by Destry Jaeger's solo home run in the second inning. Dale Clayton, Gale Bretschneider and Randy Yärke all singled while Craig Koehler singled twice.

Wildcats bounce back

Kevin Boham and Don Graham combined for a five hitter in the second game to aid Wayne State to a 3-2 win and a 24-14 record to date. Graham recorded the win because when he relieved Boham, the score was tied at 2 apiece.

Graham walked the first batter he faced and then proceeded to retire the next nine to end the game while striking out four on the way.

Boham struck out six in his four innings on the mound. Offensively the Wildcats recorded seven hits. The game winner came in the bottom of the fifth inning when Dale Clayton hit a solo home run to break the tie.

Randy Yärke led things off on the scoring column by hitting a 2-run homer in the second inning with Yeager already on board via a single.

Koehler, Bretschneider and Dale Irving also pounded out singles for the Wildcats.

Wildcats down Morningside

On Thursday, Wayne State made up half of its previously postponed double header with Morningside. The Wildcats quickly found the bats in the road game as they ground out 19 hits enroute to a 14-9 victory.

Jeff Sharp raised his pitching record to 3-3 on the year while Corey Weinmaster recorded his fifth save while pitching 3 2/3 innings.

The big hitter of the day was Dale Irving as he recorded seven rbi's while hitting a grand slam home run in the seventh inning. Irving finished the contest with a 3-5 effort. Mark Welwel went four for four from the plate while Bretschneider went four for five.

Koehler recorded three hits in four at bats while Yeager and Yärke had two hits each.

Randy Lau also recorded one hit. Wayne State will be the host for the 1988 district playoffs to be held May 12-14.

Wayne girls finish second

Junior high boys and girls compete

The Laurel girls placed fourth while the Allen girls tied the Wakefield girls for sixth place. On the boys side, Wakefield placed fourth, Allen placed eighth and the Bears of Laurel finished last.

Wayne's Tammy Geiger was the lone first place finisher with a 2:41.8 time in the 800 meter run. Laurel's Wendy Carstensen placed first in the

AMERICA HAS A HEALTHY RESPECT FOR NEBRASKANS.

Nebraska has always been known for its "good life" but our state is gaining a reputation nationwide for good health, too.

Currently, Nebraska boasts the sixth highest life expectancy of any state in the union (73.88 years). Part of the credit for this statistic has to be given to our excellent statewide health care. Nebraska places third nationally in the ratio of hospital beds to population. In addition, our medical costs are a very healthy 73% of the national average.

Of course, when you live in a state where air and water pollution are practically nonexistent, stress levels are barely measurable, and the crime rate is the sixth lowest in the U.S., you just naturally stay healthy.

So the next time you find yourself enjoying the good life here in Nebraska, take a little extra pleasure in the knowledge that you get to enjoy it longer too.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

Councilman Decker said he has received complaints about poor television reception. Cablevision office told Councilwoman Filler the problem was in a tower and it will be looked into.
 Councilman Hanson received a complaint about a sorority house at 1202 Main Street. Area around the property is trashy and beer bottles are being thrown on adjoining property.
 Public Hearing on Mini Bus Grant was held at 7:35 P.M. Senior Center is applying for a grant for capital assistance. Cost of a new Ford van would be $16,000 and the grant would be a 40% Federal match. The Administrator said money is budgeted each year towards a mini bus replacement and the existing van would be sold by the City.
 Resolution 88-16 authorizing the City Administrator to apply for mini bus grant funding was approved.
 Councilman Pedersen questioned the Klwanis Club's request to build a shelter in the park on the East side of Wayne. Administrator Kloster stated that the park development has been submitted to the State of Nebraska Department of Parks and Recreation for funding under State and Federal park monies. The bathroom facility, based on the projection cost to replace the facility in East Park, has been projected to cost the City approximately $10,000 over a two or three year period. A like amount for a shelter house type facility is projected. State Parks and Recreation Department appropriated partial funding for $4,500 but restricted that amount to playground equipment only. As funds become available future phases will be funded. Councilman Pedersen and Councilman Decker voiced opposition to putting the restrooms and shelter in the same building.
 Resolutions 88-14 and 88-15, authorizing the City to market property the city has foreclosed on in Western Heights Second Subdivision and Marywood Subdivision, was approved.
 The Administrator said the State of Nebraska distributed the restricted parking signs for placement on the West side of Main Street between 4th and 5th Street. Parking will be allowed on Sunday morning during church services only.
 Ordinance 88-4 designating prohibited parking areas in the Southwest Quadrant of the City was not adopted because the vote requiring suspension of the ordinance to be read on three different days was: Yeas - Decker, Hansen, Johnson, Fuchs, Nays - Heler, Filler, Pedersen. The second reading will be held at the next meeting.
 Ordinance 88-5 relating to disciplinary actions and procedures regarding the Civil Service Commission was adopted.
 Discussion was held regarding the Fire Chief's issuance of a burning ban for the jurisdiction. Fire Chief Preston said there is no charge to obtain a burning permit and it lets the Fire Department exercise caution and offer an alternative. Current weather conditions, wind direction and future forecasts are taken into consideration.
 Administrator Kloster informed the Council of problems with the Transfer Station and some alternatives to getting rid of the City's refuse. Mr. Kloster feels the City's major concern for the 1990's and beyond will be solid waste and hazardous waste disposal.
 Status on the Wastewater Treatment Plant is that the State of Nebraska has not as yet responded to the report that was submitted.
 Further discussion was held regarding burning permits and a place where citizens could take brush, tree limbs, etc. FAA requires that the City fill in the take or water hole by East Industrial Park. The City has maybe two Summers of fill left in the area.
 Fire Chief Preston said when the weather improves and the grass starts greenning up burning permits will be issued.
 Rod Tompkins, president of Heritage Homes, spoke to Council regarding burning in a State approved incinerator at his industry. Richard Kiedel also spoke to Council about burning permits.
 Meeting adjourned at 8:53 P.M.

Flower Day scheduled

On Saturday, April 30, the Nebraska affiliate of the American Diabetes Association is sponsoring a state-wide Flower Day. A long-stemmed silk red rose and red, white and pink carnations will be offered. Diabetes is the third leading cause of death by disease in the U.S.A. People with diabetes are more likely to develop heart disease, kidney disease, strokes, and gangrene which often leads to amputation. Diabetes is also the leading cause of new cases of blindness each year. Look for volunteers with flowers in Wayne. Remember, a donation to the American Diabetes Association on April 30, 1988, is a donation to also help fight kidney disease, heart disease, and blindness.

Yearbooks last sale

Monday, April 25 began the final sales of the 1987-88 Devil Daze Yearbook. The yearbook may be obtained for $22 up to May 4 from salespeople at the school. Increased production costs have caused the staff to limit number of books to only those which have been ordered in advance. Parents or others who wish to order a yearbook may contact Mr. Porter, yearbook advisor, at the Wayne-Carroll High School. Staff workers in all areas of yearbook production for the 1988-89 year will be needed. Application forms are available from Mr. Porter, yearbook advisor.

Bonus Miles

THESE WAYNE AND CARROLL THIRD AND FOURTH graders participated in the read for bonus miles to Seoul, South Korea project during National Library Week, April 17-22. Thirty-eight students turned in reading sheets for the week totaling 207 miles. All in all there were 7,452 pages read by the students. Thirty-six pages read were the equivalent to one mile. The students who turned in the best efforts were included from back left to right: Kristine Kopperud, Wayne; Librarian Mrs. Koeber; Krista Magnuson, Carroll. Front left to right: Jeremy Barg, Carroll; Terry Hamer, Wayne; Nathan Wattier, Wayne and Bethany Johnson, Wayne. The Carroll K-4 classes come to Wayne on Wednesdays to take part in library, music and P.E.

Error

An error was made in the April 28 edition of the Wayne Herald in the identification of pre-schoolers who recently visited the Wayne County Jail.

From left, the names should have read Daniel Roesber, Kenneth Kopperud and Molly Lewon.

BOOSTER CLUB

The Booster Club from the Laurel-Concord School held their general meeting on April 22 in the old gym of the school. The new weight room proposal was discussed. The Booster Club decided to contribute $2,000 to the weight room. Letters will be sent out to Booster Club members asking for donations instead of a fundraiser.

The new Laurel-Concord Athletic Club was proposed by Mark Hrabik. The purpose of the program is to build well rounded programs for well rounded athletes. Athletes can become eligible if they are able to accumulate enough points through the year. Points for various activities are yet to be determined.

Some of the activities of the Booster Club promoted this past year include a float for the homecoming parade, selling shirts, pom-poms, balloons and carnations. More seating was made available for football games, a soup supper was held, promoting away games with the use of signs and breakfasts where coaches attended as guests and spoke.

available to take in meals for the family and patient, assist with cleaning, laundry and errands, babysit, help with personal care, and provide transportation to and from the doctor.

"THE HOSPICE volunteers provide your basic good neighbor types of services," said Campbell, adding that she became involved with the program because she believes in the hospice philosophy which affirms the value of life in all its phases.

"Hospice is an excellent means of helping people who need help during really difficult times in their lives," said Campbell.

A NATIVE OF California, Campbell traveled extensively during her growing up years while her father was in the service.

She came to Wayne in 1981 with her husband Paul, a criminal justice professor at Wayne State College. They are the parents of three children, 16-year-old Todd, five-year-old Elizabeth and three-year-old Leigh.

In addition to working in the social sciences division at Wayne State, Campbell also has served as a volunteer for several organizations, including Haven House family services. She has also served as a volunteer for Haven House and for the Northeast Nebraska Crisis Hotline.

Beginning May 9, Campbell will assume new duties as coordinator of Haven House Family Services Center in addition to the Wayne Hospice Group.

CAMPBELL STRESSED that the Wayne Hospice Group is in need of volunteers and interested persons should contact her at her home, 375-1141, in the evenings.

Plans currently are underway to conduct a 12-hour training course for hospice volunteers in Wayne sometime this summer. The course would be organized through Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Persons in need of hospice services or interested in finding out more about the organization also are asked to call Campbell, 375-1141, or Home Health Care Nurse Ann Witkowski at Providence Medical Center, 375-3800.

In addition, clubs and organizations wishing to learn more about the hospice program can also contact Campbell for a talk and video presentation.

"There is a definite need for the Wayne Hospice Group," said Campbell, "and we want people to be aware of the program and the services we can offer."

Conway

knowing whether or not it will be raised," Conway said.

Conway said he had nine bills signed by the governor in 1988. "In the four years that I've been legislator, I've had 22 bills introduced that were signed and 34 more that were co-introduced by me," he said.

AMONG THE bills he introduced and signed in 1988 were: to provide immunity to officers and directors of non-profit organizations such as Chamber of Commerce members; deregulation of credit card processing industry where Nebraska can now process credit cards from other states; stockholders and directors and officer liability protection, which gives stockholders the right to make their own directors immune from suits themselves; allowing use of fairground capital funds for maintenance and repair on structures; allow insurance companies to make investments with reserve money while cutting the red tape involved; and the electronic intercept (wiretap bill) which was later changed to allow wiretaps for felony crimes such as arson or murder.

As long as gambling is a misdemeanor and results in a $50 fine, it would be dropped as a reason for wiretapping, Conway said.

Other bills he introduced dealt with adoption laws in regard to information exchanges; and to allow county governments to invest money instead of placing it in interest bearing accounts.

More legislative highlights of 1988 he mentioned, were the low-level radioactive waste issue and legislation which followed; the legislature's refusal to raise cigarette tax as requested by the governor; placement of additional restrictions on the sale of pickle cards; and soil conservation funding for erosion control to assist farmers who must control erosion to remain eligible for federal farm programs.

Said Conway in a recent news release: "I believe this was a good year for the people of Nebraska. We were able to provide enhanced funding for several areas and at the same time rebuild our reserves to a much safer level."

BUSINESS FOCUS

ALLEN THORMAN AND Marie Mohr look over orders from a recent buying market trip. Allen is bookkeeper and general manager.

Swans' A complete women's apparel store featuring style, quality and service

In the 1920's, Mrs. Al Swan started Swans' Women Apparel. It was a ladies millinery and ladies ready-to-wear store.

In 1962, Troy and Charlotte Vaught bought and operated the store until April 1, 1982. At that time, Swans' Women Apparel was sold to present owners Marie Mohr and Allen Thorman.

The sales staff includes Doris Gaunt, Lois Echtenkamp and Sharon Hord, with 18 years combined experience in retail sales. Sharon Hord also is in charge of store alterations.

Buyers are Fern and Allen Thorman and Marie Mohr.

Well-known in northeast Nebraska, Swans' equates with style and quality, with emphasis on customer service.

Swans' is a complete line clothing store that stocks coats, dresses, sportswear and separates in junior, petite and missy sizes, along with accessories, hosiery, lingerie, lounge and sleepwear, and swimwear.

Popular labels include Henry Lee, Willi, R & K, Coco, Lesley Faye, Russ Togs, D.D. Sloan, Tan Jay, White Stag, Country Suburbans, Raffaella, Prestige, Prophecy, Lucia, London Fog and others.

Swans' also carries Beauty for All Seasons make-up and Sybil's fragrances.

LOIS ECHTENKAMP, above, assists a customer in coordinating a complete summer wardrobe. In the photo at right, Sharon Hord enjoys helping customers with the all-important finishing touches, accessories and accent pieces including fashion jewelry, belts, scarves, gloves and handbags. Sharon also is Swans' experienced professional tailor and alteration expert. Alterations are one of Swans' well-known services.
