Boys' State celebrates 50th year

This is the 50th anniversary of Cornhusker Boys' State. Fifty years ago, in June of 1938, 257 boys from throughout Nebraska headed for Lincoln and the opening day of this event.

Wayne's first delegates to Cornhusker Boys' State, back in 1938, were Roy Coryell, Ray Carlson Jr. and Herbert Welch.

Since then, 53 individuals have experienced the success of Cornhusker Boys' State, organized and promoted by the Nebraska American Legion. An average of 400 boys have attended each session.

Boys' State counterpart, Girls' State, was organized by the American Legion Auxiliary a year later, and 101 girls attended the 1939 session.

Participants of the 1938 Boys' State class were invited back to Cornhusker Boys' State for a reunion. At the present time, 74 of the 257 participants in the first class reside in Nebraska, 51 are deceased, 108 reside out of state and the remaining 22 are listed with address unknown.

CORYELL SAID the Boys' State experience was memorable. He still has material distributed 50 years ago during the week-long Legion-sponsored event. "It was also my first time ever away from home," mentioned Coryell.

At that time, University of Nebraska football players served as monitors. Coryell remembers "having a real knock-down election" during Boys' State, when he served as

ESU studies area survey results, presents plaque to Randy Shaw

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Administrators of Educational Service Unit One were generally pleased with results of a recent survey taken of superintendents in schools served throughout the unit's six-county area.

Survey results were discussed at an ESU 1 board of directors meeting last Tuesday night in Wakefield. Superintendents in Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Thurston and Wayne Counties were asked to rate general levy services provided by ESU 1 according to what they believed were the greatest needs for their school.

RANKING AT THE top was media services, followed with nursing service, the van delivery system, in-service/staff development, coop purchase, audio visual repair service, opening day school workshops and typewriter service.

Several superintendents also used the survey as a means of complimenting Educational Service Unit 1 on its various services and on the manner in which ESU 1 administrators and staff members deal with the schools.

Superintendents also provided ESU 1 administrators with other comments, suggestions and criticisms, including the need for additional in-service for school staff.

"One area in which we hope to do a better job in next year is in-service," ESU 1 Administrator Rodney Garwood told board members attending Tuesday night's meeting.

"That's probably our crying need and we might be looking for some type of employee for that purpose."

BOARD MEMBERS Tuesday night presented a plaque to Randy Shaw of Wayne, who recently resigned as Wayne County representative on the ESU 1 board of directors.

Board members commended Shaw for his service to ESU 1 and the children it serves.

Shaw, currently an instructor in the applied science division at Wayne State College, will be moving with his family to Cape Girardeau, Mo., where he has accepted a position as chairman of industrial technology at Southeast Missouri University.

Shaw has been at Wayne State since 1974. He has served on the ESU 1 board of directors for the past seven and a half years.

ESU 1 Administrator Garwood said board members will begin the process of finding a Wayne County replacement for Shaw whose term expires in January 1989.

Garwood added that the terms of all six county representatives on the ESU 1 board expire in January 1989. Persons interested in seeking a position on the board have until Aug. 1 to file.

ESU 1 BOARD members took action on various items of business Tuesday night, including the hiring of two new employees for 1988-89 —

Psychologist Ron Lorenzen and Resource Teacher Lola Waldner.

Administrator Garwood informed the board that ESU 1 is short two, possibly three, speech clinicians for 1988-89 and is actively recruiting persons for those positions.

Board members voted to accept a proposed classified staff salary schedule and the insurance committee's recommendation to offer additional health benefits, beginning Sept. 1, 1988, to two full-time secretaries in the central office.

BOARD MEMBERS also discussed the coop purchase system and gave unanimous approval to use the coop account as a flow-through for the CAD (Computer Assisted Drafting) project.

The CAD project involves area schools, ESU 1 and Wayne State College in working together to form a vocational technical committee for the introduction of technology into vocational education.

Garwood said schools are using the ESU 1 coop purchase system to buy hardware and software for the project, including 13 computers.

The first day of training for vocational education teachers is July 26 at ESU 1 headquarters.

IN OTHER BUSINESS Tuesday night:

—Board members gave approval to the ESU 1 administration for various major purchases, including an audiometer, an impedance screener, $16,815 worth of films and video, and approximately $9,000 to the Consortium of Educational Service Units which buys film rights and purchases film and media material;

—Gave approval for the ESU 1 administration to conduct a survey of ESU 1 employees regarding IRS Section 125 — a mechanism that allows employees to pay for certain allowable and recurring costs with non-taxable dollars. Employees would contribute money to a fund, with allowable costs paid for out of the fund;

—Gave permission to the ESU 1 administration to look into setting up a group life insurance policy that employees could purchase.

BOARD MEMBERS also reviewed a preliminary budget for 1988-89 as prepared by Administrator Garwood.

Garwood said the budget is a very rough draft and will undergo several changes before it is formally presented.

Garwood said the biggest area of increase will be in the coop purchase program — from last year's budgeted program of $220,000 to approximately $300,000 for 1988-89.

"The schools are buying more from us," said Garwood, "and that means they evidently feel they are getting a good value for their dollar."

Discussion of the 1988-89 budget will continue at next month's ESU 1 board of directors meeting, slated July 12 at 8 p.m.

Dry conditions bring concerns to a boil; ASCS requests haying, grazing provisions

Drought conditions are not as severe in northeast Nebraska as the rest of the state, according to some agriculturalists.

However, Thursday evening's 11-rainfall did little to alleviate the concerns of crop producers and gardeners in Wayne County and surrounding counties.

While there is no evidence of crops severely wilting despite the near 90 degree temperatures and little or no moisture, farmers are worried about the lack of topsoil and the toll that the weather may have in the weeks ahead.

Ray Butts from the Wayne County ASCS said Friday that his office has received inquiries concerning special haying and grazing provisions for emergency use during times of drought.

On Friday the three-member ASCS Wayne County Committee voted to apply for the special provisions for drought areas.

Counties found to be suffering from drought, will be authorized emergency haying and grazing of set-aside, or acreage conservation reserve (ACR) and conservation use acreages.

The county committee requests designation as a disaster area and the Nebraska ASCS Committee must concur. The final determination will be made by the deputy administrator for state and county ASCS operations in Washington, D.C.

BUTTS SAID special haying and grazing provisions will not affect the 10 year conservation reserve program.

Provisions have already been granted to Madison County and Dakota County. Requests have been filed by Stanton and Thurston County, according to Butts.

To be granted the special provisions, it must be determined that there will not be an adverse economic effect on hay producers in the county.

"The county has to be hurting when the request is made," Butts said.

Butts said the county committee will be receiving up to 10 letters from Wayne County producers who feel that the special haying and grazing provisions are necessary.

A SPOKESMAN from the National Weather Service Office in Norfolk indicated that this northeast Nebraska area "is running about 2 inches below normal for this time of year."

"During the previous years (1987, 1986 and 1985 all the way back to 1983), we were all above normal," the spokesman mentioned. "Anywhere from 2 to 7 inches above normal."

The average annual rainfall is 24.32 inches, with the heavier amounts occurring from April to July.

"The long range outlook (from June to August), said the spokesman, will be for a 50-50 chance of normal precipitation. The 30 day outlook calls for near normal conditions.

The spokesman said that in 1981, northeast Nebraska was seven inches below normal and in 1982, the area was 2 1/2 inches below the average rainfall.

Rod Patent, extension agent for Wayne County and surrounding counties, said Friday that farmers have expressed concerns to him about insect control, herbicide carry-over and other related problems that go along with dry, hot weather.

"It's getting critical," Patent said.

"This is the time of year when the growing corn consumes approximately .25 of moisture daily. Patent said there appears to be enough wetness in the subsoil, but the lack of topsoil moisture is what is drawing concern. "This is a critical time for corn and for the second cutting of alfalfa. It also is critical for small grains such as oats and barley, particularly at the heading, filling out stage," said Patent.

PATENT mentioned that many area oats and barley fields are turning yellow or brown. This is caused by one or a combination of diseases that thrive on dry weather which include:

— Red Leaf, Barley Yellow Dwarf Virus. This is transmitted by aphids to grasses and barley, oats and wheat. On oats, it begins as greenish blotches near the tip of leaves that later turn reddish in color. It will stunt the plant and may cause sterility in severe cases.

— Wheat Streak Mosaic Virus. This has a very similar effect and Yellow Dwarf and appears when temperatures remain above 75 degrees for several days.

— Blast of Oats. This is a nonparasitic disease associated with extremes in the temperature, moisture, fertility or light from tillering to flowering. The result is sterility at heading in the form of white empty hulls on the lower half of the head.

"In cases of severe disease problems, producers may want to harvest the oats for forage or hay," mentioned Patent.

CONGRESSMAN Doug Bereuter, at an Administration briefing in the U.S. Capitol Thursday, called for local and state involvement in the formulation of Federal drought policy.

"It is imperative this task force actively solicit the advice and consent of water users, and of local and state agencies responsible for water conservation efforts in individual states. They should be made active partners in the decision-making process," said Bereuter.

"In addition, state ASCS committees can be invaluable in the development and coordination of statewide contingency planning. Because each state may require a different response to certain problems, it is frequently unnecessary to require all states to return repeatedly to the Federal government for decisions that could be handled on the local level," he added.

Bereuter had also asked that the ASCS allow the Nebraska ASCS State Committee to extend the June 15 deadline for haying oats and other small grains on set-aside land in drought-stricken counties.

A significant number of farmers in Nebraska plant oats and other small grains as a cover crop for their soybean acres. If these farmers are prohibited from haying oats and other small grains after June 15th, they will lose a very good opportunity for harvesting a significant amount of hay to substitute for their deteriorating normal hay crop," said Bereuter.

"Time is a critical factor. Nebraska's farmers need sufficient time to hay their oats and other small grains."

Solving laundry problems

Despite the many technological advances in the cleaning industry, the effectiveness of laundry products still lies in the hands of the person doing the laundry.

The majority of laundry-related questions deal with poor cleaning results, poor soil and stain removal, and residues of lank and scum and fabric damage. Clothes with a gray tint can be caused by using the improper amount of detergent, water temperature being too low, or incorrect sorting.

That problem can be solved by increasing the amount of detergent, or adding a detergent booster or bleach, increasing the water temperature and more carefully sorting the laundry.

BLUE STAINS ON laundry are often caused by the blue coloring in detergents and fabric softeners. These stains can be avoided by adding the detergent or softener to the water before the clothes are added. Fabric softener may also be diluted before use.

Yellowing of clothes from the buildup of body soils can be prevented by increasing the amount of detergent used, and supplementing the wash with a bleach or detergent booster.

Many stains are permanently set in fabrics because the garment was dried in an automatic dryer or ironed before the stain was completely removed. Heat sets a stain and makes its removal impossible. Always check to see that a spot or stain is removed completely after laundering before placing the garment in the dryer.

IF OUTDOOR LIVING during the summer months adds to your laundry problems, request the publication Stain Removal for Washable Fabrics HEG 80-129 from the extension office.

This publication explains how to remove mustard and ketchup, grass and other stains from your washable garments.

Call the extension office at 375-3310 or stop by the courthouse and get your stain removal relief!

office, touring the various departments.

The format of today's Boys' State hasn't changed.

Cornhusker Boys' State is set up as a functional "51st" mythical state and each boy learns how government subdivisions operate by actually doing the job. Participants campaign for offices, hold elections, take part in band and chorus, compete in athletics and participate in other varied activities as part of the citizenship training program.

Textbooks are provided explaining the practical operation and function of government agencies. Special lectures and addresses are delivered by experienced public officials and professional leaders.

ONE OF THOSE providing lectures in 1938, Coryell said, was Charles F. Dienst, former superintendent of the Wayne Schools who at the time was deputy state superintendent of Public Instruction.

Pony league victorious

Scoring two runs in the top half of the fifth inning, visiting Emerson defeated the Wayne Little League Thursday afternoon, 8-6. Emerson had led Wayne 4-2 after two innings of play, but Wayne responded in the bottom half of the third inning for three runs to take a 5-4 lead into the fourth inning.

Jeremy Sturm pitched for the little league and did a fine job until he was relieved in the fifth inning by Pat Christensen.

The little leaguers recorded nine hits in the contest with Christensen and Rick Endicott each recording two apiece. Endicott rapped two singles while Christensen lined a single and smacked a double.

Erin Aggers, Sturm, Al Reidel, Chris Barner and Randy Kaup all recorded singles.

In the late game Wayne's pony league overcame an 8-2 deficit to defeat Emerson 12-8. Tim Reinhardt recorded the win for Wayne from the mound. Emerson scored seven second inning runs to take an 8-2 advantage before Wayne began chipping away.

The locals scored five runs in the third inning and five runs in the fifth and final inning. Two of the little leaguers, Rick Endicott and Pat Christensen played in the pony league game as well and each recorded hits.

Endicott got on base by way of a single and Christensen found his way to first base twice via singles.

JEREMY STURM TAGS AN EMERSON runner out at the plate in little league action Thursday afternoon at Overin Field.

Midgets sport 2-1 record

Both the Wayne Midget baseball team and the Junior Legion baseball teams have started the 1988 summer campaign by going separate directions.

The Midget team, aside the early exit from the Chuck Ellis tournament where they lost a close 3-1 decision to South Sioux City, has won their last two games, while the Legion has yet to crack the ranks of the victorious with an 0-3 mark on the young season.

Both teams opened up regular season play against Wakefield with the Midgets earning a 15-5 decision and the legion dropping a 19-14 decision. For the Midgets, Jeff Luff took the win on the mound and offensively he was the spark plug that ignited a 13 hit effort.

Luff went 4-4 from the plate with four singles while teammates Matt Bruggeman and Brian Lentz each recorded two hits.

The Legion rapped out 12 hits against the visitors from Wakefield, but came up on the short end of score. Wakefield did the most damage in the fifth inning when they scored 11 runs. Wayne did make a heroic comeback in the bottom half of the inning by scoring nine runs but Wakefield clung to their two run lead and gradually built on it in the last two innings.

Midgets squeeze out victory

On Tuesday night the Midgets traveled to Pender and defeated the host 8-5. Matt Peterson was the catalyst for Wayne tossing a two hitter. Wayne recorded seven hits in the contest with Rusty Hamer recording two, a single and a double.

Cory Wieseler, Jeff Griesch, Matt Bruggeman, Brian Lentz and Peterson all picked up the remainder of hits with one apiece.

Wayne trailed 1-0 after four innings, but came up with seven fifth inning runs to ice the game.

Pender's legion team retaliated in the nightcap by defeating Wayne 15-5. Tom Baier was the only Wayne batter to record more than one hit with a pair of doubles to his credit. Jeff Luff also recorded a double.

RICK ENDICOTT LAYS DOWN A SOFT bunt on the third base line. Endicott advanced runners that were on first and second base to second and third base while he was safe at first base. The little leaguers eventually succumbed to Emerson 8-6.

Little league loses contest

The Wayne Little League and Pony League boys were in action last Tuesday against visiting Wakefield. In the opener, Wayne's Little League defeated Wakefield 5-4 in extra innings.

Pat Christensen took the win from the mound for the little leaguers and offensively he took charge of the situation. Christensen went 3-3 from the plate with a single and a pair of doubles.

Wayne's Pony League didn't fare as well as the Little League against Wakefield dropping a 7-1 decision to even their season record to date at 1-1.

The Little League raised their season record to 1-1 by scoring two runs in the seventh and deciding inning.

Wayne did not record a hit but was able to score in the sixth inning when Wakefield walked four batters.

THE AUTHENTICITY OF A MEXICAN AURA is present at Taco Del Sol by posters that hang on the wall. All of the posters are direct from Mexico and Spain.

TACO DEL SOL OWNER AND MANAGER Connie Dangberg (right) is pictured with assistant manager and day supervisor Lori Bebee. Dangberg notes that business is booming at their new location at 509 Dearborn Plaza.

THE ENTRANCE AND EXIT OF TACO DEL SOL is surrounded by a vase of flowers which trails all the way up one side of the doorway and over the top of it.

ONE OF THE MANY NEW CHANGES AT Taco Del Sol is the addition of "La Arcada", a mexican word for game room. The new game facility will feature over a dozen video machines, a pool table, a foosball table and a jukebox. There will also be several eating tables to accomodate customers to eat and drink while they are playing the machines.

Taco Del Sol New location provides changes

Taco Del Sol has moved to a new location in Wayne, and in doing so they have gone all out to bring the customer an authentic mexican atmosphere.

Now located at 509 Dearborn Street as part of the newly built Dearborn Plaza, owner and manager Connie Dangberg says that the location will definitely be a plus for the business. "There are many benefits to our new location," Dangberg stated. "We are much more visible now and we have a lot of parking space."

Dangberg noted that Taco Del Sol is also making changes in the menu. "We are adding new items to our menu," Dangberg noted. Among the items customers may expect to see in the near future are fried ice cream, fajitas, tostado supremes, sopapias and the already added favorite, Chimichangas.

A big attraction which Taco Del Sol is awaiting is the arrival of a drive thru window which will be installed within a month. They will continue however with the successful delivery service of "Tacos to Go-Go."

"Our summer hours for the delivery service are a little shorter than our winter hours," notes Dangberg. "We will continue our 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. service, but our evening service will run from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., instead of 5:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m."

Dangberg is also the new owner of a complete game room which is attached by an adjoining door to Taco Del Sol. "La Arcada", a mexican word for game room, features over a dozen video games, a pool table, foosball, a juke box and several eating tables.

"Most game rooms will not let the customers take their food and drink inside," Dangberg said. "We are going to let them because we feel that with the tables in the room with the machines, that the customers will use them instead of the machines."

All the video machines are from Sealer's Fun N Games, a locally run business.

Dangberg noted that even though they have changed their location, they will continue with their daily specials which currently features Fiesta Del Sol for $1.70 every Monday; two tacos for 99 cents on Tuesday; Sanchos for 99 cents each on Wednesday; Burrito Grande for $2.25 on Thursdays; and a Chimichanga Platter for $2.75 every Friday.

Saturday customers can purchase one menu item at regular price and get a second menu item of equal value for one-half price. Sunday's special includes an all-you-can-eat Mexican plate for $3.50.

Calorie counters can continue to enjoy the diet plate Taco Del Sol offers. The plate includes a taco with extra tomato instead of sauce, a lettuce salad with tomato, and half an apple crisp without cheese or sugar.

Dangberg and Taco Del Sol has something for every taste. They make the old fashion Cherry and Vanilla Cokes and they sell them in regular sizes and in Gringo cup sizes.

A summer feature is the softball player special. Any softball player who comes in wearing their uniform is offered a Burrito Grande for $1.99, a $2.75 value. Anyone bringing in a mexican hat of any size will receive a free meal of their choice.

Dangberg is currently using all of the mexican hats she gets from the customers, to decorate the wall with.

On Wednesday nights, Taco Del Sol takes their mexican made tacos on the road. "Between 8:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. during the summer we set up a taco table at the 4th Jug in conjunction with the softball games," Dangberg said.

During the winter months, the taco table is set up to accomodate for the pool leagues at the 4th Jug. Taco Del Sol also caters to auctions at times when they are at the city auditorium.

Another favorite which more people are finding out about is the Taco Del Sol birthday party specials. They accomodate to any age and can include pinata breaks, free pop, food specials and games.

Taco Del Sol is open seven days a week, from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., with a staff of two full-time and 10 part-time employees. Lori Bebee is the day supervisor while Jennifer Cole is the night supervisor. All other employees are school kids.

Dangberg gives credit to her family for their continued support in her long hours at the business. Her husband Brad is employed at Fletcher Farm Service. Their children are John and Jody Navrkal, and Julie, Adam, Lesley and Joseph Dangberg.

Taco Del Sol welcomes the public to visit their new location and enjoy Mexican food and atmosphere. The Grand Opening of Taco Del Sol's new location is June 25-26.
