Arboretum branches out from decade ago

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

In the early 1940's, Wayne State College had the pleasant label of being one of the Midwest's most beautiful campuses.

Forty-eight years later, Wayne State officials can accept the same compliment. One reason for its beauty is because of the Wayne State College Arboretum, which celebrates its 10th anniversary this year.

The Arboretum is an educational display, on the Wayne State Campus, of labeled trees and shrubs. It was in 1978 that a memorandum of understanding was agreed upon with the Nebraska State Arboretum to establish the Wayne State Arboretum. The dedicatory plaque for Wayne State was accepted by former college president, Lyle Seymour.

Prior to the arboretum agreement, a vegetation inventory was taken in 1977. Based on the inventory, a map was made of the campus vegetation with the assistance of the extension and forestry service.

Others instrumental in the establishment of the Arboretum were Glen Viehmeyer, Dr. Joe Young, Roger Uhlinger and George Briggs, then horticulturists working at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

A Tree Committee was established and a 10 year master plan for development and maintenance was adopted. Cost of the 10 year plan was approximately $20,000.

"We had 83 different species then. Now we have 180," said Dr. Charles Maier, professor of Biology at Wayne State and curator of the Arboretum.

"teaching and community arboretum," according to Maier. One of the functions was to grow and label the trees and shrubs on campus (for teaching value).

People from the community, he said, could come to the campus before transplanting trees or shrubs on their own property, just to see the results.

Information from other arboretums could be shared, he said. "And we could exchange our plants with others. So we are able to exchange information as well as material," mentioned Maier.

He related the experience of the first tree planted within the local Arboretum, near Conn Library. It had died. So it was replaced, and Maier said the top of the replacement tree was vandalized.

"So we replaced it with a Blue Spruce, and it's still there," he said.

The first project for the Arboretum was to assist in the landscaping of the Bentback Applied Science Building. From there, projects were extended to the Rice Auditorium and Val Peterson Fine Arts buildings. "It sort of went on from there," said Maier.

THE MASTER plan developed in 1977 consists of five areas which include an extensive program of pruning and removal of certain existing trees and shrubs plus an ongoing program of planting to increase diversity of campus vegetation in accordance with the goals of the Arboretum.

— Extensive labeling of plants — especially trees and shrubs on the main campus.

— Development of three or four "nature trails", with the "Willow Bowl Trail" being the first, providing self-guiding brochures to allow

Budget decrease proposed

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The city of Wayne's proposed budget, to go before a public hearing Tuesday evening at city hall, indicates no increase (nor decrease) in property tax askings.

City Administrator Phil Kloster said the tax askings will remain at the 1987-88 fiscal year level — $352,650 — which he said is still down about 3.7 percent from fiscal year 1986-87 and less than fiscal 1985-86.

The city's entire budget is down approximately 17.8 percent from the previous year ($2.33 million), Kloster said. Reflected in the decrease is a substantial reduction in capital improvements, namely completion of the new water tower and the start of the new well water transmission lines.

"Nearly $1 million of that decrease comes out of the water department," Kloster said in an interview Friday afternoon.

Kloster said no increases in water, utility and sewer rates are projected in the budget.

HIGHLIGHTS OF the 1988-89 budget are as follows:

Police Department — budgeted approximately $200 over 1987-88.

Fire Department — budgeted nearly $900 over last fiscal year's budget. "That primarily reflects an increase in insurance costs," Kloster said.

Public Works Department — budgeted for nearly a $2,000 increase over 1987-88. Kloster said the brunt of the increase will go towards an equipment replacement fund (reserve), to safeguard against equipment breakdown.

Park Maintenance — an increase of $6,000 over last fiscal year, with the greatest share to cover cost of utilities. Kloster said the park system will be receiving money carried over from last year, possibly to be used for the development of Sunview Park.

Park and Recreation Department — an increase of about $9,000 projected, basically to finance additional part-time help to run the program.

Wayne Municipal Pool — about the same as last fiscal year. However, the city council may be looking at maintenance work at the pool this fiscal year.

TRANSFER STATION — budgeted for an increase of $5,000 over last year. "Most of that is reflected in increasing landfill costs," Kloster mentioned. Should the city of Wayne decide to modify the transfer station, the city may decide to consider other locations to haul the waste.

"There is no projected increase in the rates of the transfer station," Kloster said. However, if the landfills raise rates substantially, the increases may have to be passed on to the customers, he said.

Public Buildings (Transfer Station, Auditorium, City Hall) — reflects nearly a $2,000 increase over last fiscal year, based on additional maintenance costs of the facilities.

Building and Planning Department — budgeted for about the same as last fiscal year.

Senior Citizens Center — an increase in the budget of $12,000 over 1987-88. "This reflects added insurance costs and food costs for the congregate meals program. Something also must be done with the shed where the senior center minibus is stored," said Kloster.

Library — upped from last year's budget by approximately $1,800.

"The increase is projected for wage adjustments," mentioned Kloster.

Civil Defense — increased $6,000 from last year's budget. The increased amount will be basically directed toward "gearing up for disasters" such as chemical spills or other deadly hazards.

ELECTRIC Department — increased $40,000 over 1987-88. Kloster said the increase is designated toward payment of increased taxes and money set aside for additional energy conservation improvement.

Water and Sewer — reflects over a $1 million decrease in the capital improvement line items, while the remainder shows little or no change.

Airport — decrease of $79,000 over 1987-88. "That amount reflects a decrease in funds going out to improvements and extensions," said Kloster.

Finance Department — an increase of $1,000 over last fiscal year. City Administration — a budgeted decrease of $370.

Mayor-Council — a budgeted increase of $1,100 over 1987-88.

Revenue received by the city must, by state law, match city expenditures. Revenue coming to the city in fiscal 1988-89 is budgeted at $10.74 million, considerably less than the 1987-88 budgeted amount of $13.07 million.

Nearly $352,000 in revenue will be derived from tax askings, while $100,000 is anticipated in federal grants and another $80,000 is expected in state aid (only $19,000 was received in state aid last fiscal year).

Lutt wins reining class

Winning senior reining at the 1988 Nebraska 4-H Horse Exposition at Grand Island fulfilled one of three goals that a Wayne 4-H'er set for him and his horse this year.

Chris Lutt, 17, son of Louis and Mavis Lutt, rode his 8-year-old Quarter Horse gelding, Otoe's Rip Cash, to the reining championship at the horse show exposition.

With the win, Chris accomplished the first of three goals. He and "Rip" will tackle the next one in August when they compete in the American Junior Quarter Horse Association's World Championships in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Chris' aim in Tulsa is to place. He also hopes to win at Ak-Sar-Ben in September.

Earlier in the state 4-H show, Chris was named reserve champion in advanced western pleasure. He also was the advanced horsemanship champion in 1987.

Lutt rode Powders Jelly Bean, a 7-year-old Quarter Horse gelding, in the advanced western pleasure competition.

"I was hoping on this," he said of the reining championship. Reining competition requires lots of preparation because of the spins and slides involved, he added.

Todd Erwin of Laurel rode to reserve championship honors on his 10-year-old Quarter Horse mare, Sweet Taddy Too. Todd, who has been in 4-H for seven years, said this is his first trophy at the state horse show. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Erwin.

Area ribbon placings for the variety of events at the state horse show are as follows:

Western Pleasure (Junior Division) — Purple: T.J. Preston, Wakefield; Hillary Blair, Allen.

Western Pleasure (Senior Division) — Purple: Todd Erwin, Trisha Lutt, Wayne. Blue: Mark Brugger, Winside; Tom Etter, Wayne; Cathi Larson, Wakefield; Cam Bahmer, Hoskins.

Advanced Western Horsemanship — Purple: Chris Lutt, Blue: Kristi Kvols, Laurel; Rocky Mohr, Laurel.

Advanced Western Pleasure — Purple: Chris Lutt.

Western Riding (Girls 14 and up) — Blue: Kristi Kvols.

Condemnation appraisal figures told

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Court-appointed appraisers have arrived at a figure in the condemnation proceedings relating to a new runway addition at the Wayne Municipal Airport.

In May of this year, a civil court case filing was made by the City of Wayne for and in behalf of the Wayne Airport Authority against Frese Farms, Inc. and tenant Rick Lutt in a petition to condemn property.

Land being sought by the condemnor is seven acres of the Northwest One-Quarter and 94.5 acres of the Northeast One-Quarter in 8-26-4 near the Wayne Municipal Airport.

The civil court filing stated that the condemnor had selected the airport runway site after due consideration of the following factors including: disruption and inconvenience to landowner, cost of construction, time to construct, environmental conditions, location of dwellings, other structures and present and future use of the proposed fee acquisition.

On May 6 the court appointed three "disinterested" freeholders of the county" as appraisers. Appointed as appraisers were Dave Warnemund, Dale Stoltenberg and Sheryl Jordan.

A hearing of the three appraisers' assessments took place at the Wayne County Courthouse on Thursday, July 14, with representatives of both parties present.

THE TOTAL amount of condemnation compensation for the 101.53 acres for the acquisition, construction and maintenance of the airport runway, as provided by the appraisers, was $160,080. Broken down, the amount required $128,000 in damage for fee taking, $26,000 for crop damage and relocation, $1,000 for new fencing and $5,000 damage to the tenant on the property.

The condemnor is not to acquire any interest in, or have the right to possess the property condemned until the condemnor has deposited (with the court), for the use of the condemned property, the condemnation award. The condemnor has 60 days from the date of the award of the appraisers to deposit (with the court) the amount of the award, or the proceeding will be considered as "abandoned", according to state statute.

Any of the parties which appeal the award for assessment of damages by the appraisers must, within 30 days of the filing of the award, file a notice

Some promoted microwave cooking techniques dangerous

Some recent magazine articles have promoted microwave cooking methods that are improper and even dangerous.

Some articles have recommended such techniques as deep fat frying and cooking with unvented plastic wrap. However, just because you read about a new microwave cooking method, that doesn't mean it is safe. Before adopting any of these methods, review your owner's manual for microwave use and care, and always follow manufacturer's recommendations.

HERE ARE THREE microwave cooking precautions that may not be well known among users:

1. Deep-fat frying in the microwave is not recommended for several reasons: —When deep-fat frying foods, it's important to maintain the proper temperature control. When heating oil (especially small amounts) in the microwave oven, it can quickly reach dangerously high temperatures. In fact, the oil can reach its flash point and burst into flames.

—The heated oil may bubble intensely and spatter. This can soil difficult-to-clean areas, damage plastic parts in the microwave oven cavity and possibly result in burns. The smaller utensils required for microwave cooking increase the likelihood of the cook getting splattered when adding cold, moist food to the hot oil.

—Many microwave-safe utensils may not be able to withstand the temperature of the hot oil. For example, the slightest imperfection, scratch or chip in a glass utensil could result in its shattering under thermal stress.

2. Vent plastic wrap when using it to cover foods in the microwave oven. Piercing the plastic with a knife or slightly folding one corner back allows some steam to escape during the cooking process. The vented cover will still retain some steam, yet the great steam buildup that occurs with a tightly wrapped covering will be prevented.

Because steam can cause a serious burn, you should always use potholders to take food out of the oven and remove the plastic wrap or cover. As with conventional cooking, also be sure to direct steam away from you by first lifting the back or farthest corner before completely removing the cover.

3. Stirring liquids before heating in the microwave helps prevent sudden boilovers which can cause severe burns. These sudden boilovers are the result of a natural phenomenon called "superheating." While noticed more commonly by microwave oven users, it can occur when using conventional cooking appliances as well. Apparently, calm hot liquids, such as water or coffee, will occasionally boil over or erupt when they're removed from the microwave oven.

Super-heated liquids reach temperatures above the 212 degrees F boiling point, yet show no signs of surface boiling. The air bubbles that trigger boiling have evaporated. Because the liquid is waiting to boil, just a speck of dust or a tiny air bubble caused by a slight vibration is all that is needed to initiate vigorous boiling or an intense eruption.

Tall cups or containers are particularly vulnerable to boilovers. The energy that builds as the temperature rises is forceful enough to eject the liquid. In wide or low containers, the reaction is usually less forceful.

To prevent superheating, mix air into liquids either by stirring or pouring before heating. When reheating, stir cooled liquids briskly, even if they were stirred just minutes earlier.

Quality workmanship key to longevity

Johnson's enters 47th year

"Good things come in small packages." is an old adage, but the longevity of Johnson's Frozen Foods, located at 116 W 3rd, well represents the epitome of the meaning.

Now in its 47th year of existence, owners Larry and Lorraine Johnson continue to offer customers a complete line of custom slaughtering and meat processing, by using the best equipment and workmanship possible. That is what Johnson's Frozen Foods has strived for since they opened their door on May 21, 1941.

The store has always been family owned and operated with Clifford and Wilma Johnson at the helm when the store first opened. Today, son Larry, has expanded the business to include curing, eatable rendering and sausage making, just to name a few.

In fact, Johnson's Frozen Foods now produce 32 products, ranging from beef patties to oven ready Ham Loafs in baking tins, ranging from one to five pound sizes.

Wilcliff labeled meat is purchased by many area residents and from a radius of approximately 50 miles. Wilcliff is a name derived from the first names of Johnson's parents, Wilma and Clifford.

Johnson maintains that his business strives to be customer oriented, what the customer wants, he gets. Johnson's Frozen Foods will even accommodate old family recipes in custom work.

"We process to your specification," Johnson said. "We are federally inspected so we can buy and sell locally produced livestock, which in this area, is among the best in the world."

Johnson's Frozen Foods is only one of a handful of family owned businesses in the area, who have managed to stay afloat for such a period of time.

Johnson has now taken on smokehouse casing and barbecueing, along with selling more snack items such as beef jerky and beef sticks. "We also offer a compliment of pickles, barbecue sauce, steak sauce, grade A family corn and peas, in taking steps to become more diversified."

One feature Johnson feels is catching on is the deli trays they offer. "We service to any occasion or holiday," Johnson said. "Our deli trays come in different sizes and can be made up of whatever the customer desires."

In the retail part of the business, Johnson's offers beef, pork, and lamb. A customer may purchase any of these by the quarter, sides or sub-primals. "We can supply any quantity from one slice to hundreds of pounds," Johnson stated.

Customers wishing to purchase quarters, sides or sub-primals, but do not have room to accommodate all of the meat, are still able to, due to the sanitary food locker storage, also offered at Johnson's Frozen Foods.

Johnson does all his own slaughtering in their slaughter plant located approximately eight blocks west of the downtown location.

"We feel our slaughter plant is one of the better equipped plants in the area," Johnson said.

Through the years Johnson has employed many high school and college kids. At the present time, his one full-time helper is Kathy Johnson, while part-time help comes through the hands of Bill Sperry and Jeff Blunck.

Whether you wish to have your livestock custom slaughtered, or your game processed, Johnson's Frozen Foods offers the most complete service for your benefit. "It's a small place with big service."

Midgets win two, Legion splits

The Legion and Midget teams played a pair of games on Wednesday and Thursday night. On Wednesday the locals entertained Pender, and in the opener, the Midgets entertained the home town fans with an 18 run explosion, while Pender mustered three runs, all in the final inning.

The Midgets opened up the game with four runs in the first, five in the second, six in the third, two in the fourth and one in the finale.

Matt Peterson was the winning pitcher and aided his pitching cause with two of Wayne's 11 hits, with a single and a double. Matt Bruggeman was the game's most potent hitter with a pair of singles and a double.

Jeff Lutt enjoyed a 2-2 outing against the visitors with a single and a double. Cory Wieseler, Jason Wehrer and Chris Fredrickson all singled while Rusty Hamer smacked a 2 run triple.

The Legion team was not as fortunate as the Midgets however, as they dropped a 15-7 decision. Pender jumped on pitcher Brian Sherman in the first inning for five hits and never let off.

Wayne notched seven hits in the contest with Jess Zeiss the only one notching two, a double and a triple in three at bats. Cory Frye, Jason Danielson, Greg Schmidt and Adam Mrsny all singled while Rob Sweetland tripled.

Midgets crunch Pierce
On Thursday night, the Wayne Midgets used just five innings to put away Pierce, 13-2. Brian Lentz went the distance for the winners who scored seven times in the second inning to put the game on ice.

The 10-hit attack of Wayne was led by Rusty Hamer's single and double. Matt Peterson, Cory Wieseler, Jeff Griesch, Brian Lentz, Chris Fredrickson and Brian Moore all singled while Matt Bruggeman doubled and Jeff Lutt tripled.

The Legion team had to work a little harder in their outing with Pierce, but came away with a 7-6 victory.

Scott Hammer pitched the locals to victory. Heading into the bottom half of the fourth inning, Wayne trailed the host team 4-0. Then they came on to score six runs in the next four innings.

Tom Baier, Brian Sherman and Adam Mrsny all notched singles, while Jess Zeiss doubled. The only Wayne batter to get more than one hit was Jason Mrsny, who rapped three singles in four at bats.

MATT PETERSON was on the mound for the Wayne Midgets in the 18-3 win-over Pender Wednesday night. He also had two hits in the game.

TOM PURTZER, AGE 37 from Phoenix, a member of the PGA golf tour and nephew of Morris Sandahl of Carroll, was in Wayne Wednesday evening conducting a clinic at the Wayne Country Club. Purtzer showed onlookers techniques and fundamentals in driving and uses of the irons, assisting them in sharpening their golfing skills. He said he patterns his game after Jack Nicklaus. "You just can't stay sharp enough. Too many younger players can win the big tournaments," he said. Purtzer will be competing in the Buick Open this week. He advised those listening to get their children started in golf with the correct fundamentals. "Then go and let them play. Don't force them to play."

Herbolsheimer captures title of Ladies Open Tournament

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Managing Editor
Diane Herbolsheimer's nine hole score of 42 topped the championship flight field as she received the first place trophy in the annual, 1988 Wayne County Club Ladies Open Tournament Friday.

Herbolsheimer of Norfolk, a member of the Norfolk Country Club, defeated Rhonda Kurlmel of West Point by one stroke to claim the title.

The Wayne tournament drew 104 golfers from around the area.

Herbolsheimer said this is her first attempt at playing in the Wayne tournament, and she plans on defending her title at the open next year.

"The golf course is in beautiful shape. The greens are really nice," said Herbolsheimer.

She was shooting at a "four over par" pace when she came to the No. 11 hole in the country club's back nine. There, she was forced to take a penalty shot after hitting the ball into the water. But she played superior golf the remaining holes to gain the open title.

BELOW ARE names and scores of the top four placers in each of individual flight.

...We apologize, with sincere regret, for the lack of a picture of the champion flight winner and first place finishers in each of the six flights.

There was a malfunction in the Wayne Herald office camera and the shutter error was not detected until the roll of film was developed and found completely blank.

This unfortunate incident should not take away from the significance of the event and the well earned reward and respect which each of the golfers truly deserve. And it should not reflect on the organizers of the tournament who did their job informing and presenting the information to us.

Fourth Flight — 1st: Connie Neeson, West Point, 51; 2nd: Lois Smeal, Beemer, 52; 3rd: Wilma Dopson, Stanton, 53; 4th: Mary Sturm, Wayne, 53.

Wayne teams split with Pender

The Little League and Pony League teams of Wayne traveled to Pender Thursday afternoon and came away with a split.

Jason Wehrer, Kasey Korth and Pat Christenson all singled while Ryan Pick had the games only extra base hit with a double.

Pat Christenson was credited with the loss from the pitchers mound.

Wayne's Pony League team however, turned the tide on the home team in the second game, coming away with a 4-1 victory.

Todd Fredrickson picked up the victory, allowing but four hits. Wayne's offense was less than impressive with only three hits.

Reggie Carnes, Todd Fredrickson and Brad Uhing were the only ones reaching base by way of hits, all singles.

The new north-south runway is among the final list of goals to accomplish in the municipal airport authority's 10-year master plan. Plans are to make the new runway 75 feet wide and 4,200 feet long "to accommodate bigger aircraft," said Orin Zach, airport manager.

Wayne City Administrator Phil Kloster said that if the runway project were approved this fiscal year, the money for the project would come from the state and federal government.

Kloster said $1.26 million has been budgeted for the capital improvement, with $1.16 million anticipated from a federal grant and $67,000 from a state grant.

Street improvement projects in Wayne during 1988-89 will involve minor work, such as paving a section of Grainland Road and an area road near the college, which would be a special assessment project. The city has a grant request submitted for the Grainland Road project, Kloster said.

All of the above figures are from a "proposed budget." The city council has been scheduled to act on the proposed budget Tuesday night following the 7:35 p.m. public hearing.

public and class exploration of the campus vegetation and history. — And the development of educational projects under the heading of "Nature Center."
Maier explained to the 30 or more individuals attending the anniversary ceremony on Wednesday that approximately 20 acres on the northeast corner of the campus has been designated as a Nature Center, which contains areas that were developed for an Ecological Study Area; Prairie Area; and Nursery and Propagation, where young trees and shrubs are started.

grooming in the years following World War II, became known about the hearland as the "Midwest's Most Beautiful Campus."

"We're trying to live up to that," said Maier.
He acknowledged, during the ceremony, the efforts of Jim Scott, Roger Green, Elmer Echtenkamp, Dick Carmichael and Earl Larson in helping to achieve that goal.

Shane Giese, executive director of the Wayne State College Foundation, said during Wednesday's program that contributions can be made through the Foundation for the planting of trees or shrubs. Donors can request the type of tree they would like to see planted on campus. A special fund has been established for this purpose.

Giese said the Arboretum "adds to the campus life as a whole."
Dr. Don Mash, president of Wayne State College, also remarked on the significance of the Arboretum at Wayne State.

Obstacles which the Wayne State Arboretum occasionally faces in its growth is vandalism and indifference.

"One time I saw someone break off a little Red Oak. I don't understand what kick he got out of it," said Maier, who was first appointed acting curator of the Arboretum in 1977.
Understand, though, that these words come from an individual who also has worked hard, along with others, in keeping Wayne State a beautiful campus though his work with the Arboretum.
Go through a tour with him, and then you'll realize that the trees and shrubs hold a very special place dear to him.

MUSEUM UP DATE
Members of the Winside Museum Committee met Monday for their monthly meeting. Bill Burris, chairman, presided at the business meeting. Approximately $550 was raised from the quilt drawing. Mrs. Virginia Holtzberg of Nekoia, Mo. was the winner.

Memorial funds were received in memory of Gilbert Baier and Herman Reeg. The painters have been working on the outside of the church. Approximately 200 individuals toured the church during the Winside Old Settlers celebration July 16.

A quilt has been donated to the museum from Frieda Vahikamp and Emma Vahikamp of Wayne. It belonged to their mother-in-law who was a member of the Theophilus Church Ladies Aid. It was made in 1938 and contains the names of all Aid members from that year.

A letter was read from the Winside centennial committee asking for help in raising funds. A motion was made and carried to have a "quilt show" in the near future to raise funds for the centennial. Donations totaling $525 have recently been received because of the last letter sent to all previous donors. The letter listed all funds raised, funds spent and estimated needed funds to complete the project. Anyone interested in a copy of this letter should contact Pat Burris, RR, Winside.

The next committee meeting will be Monday, Aug. 15.

REGIONAL CENTER
Approximately 30 patients and aids were served at a family picnic July 17 by congregational members of Winside's St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Attending were Cyril and Bev Hansen, Margaurite Janke, James and Betty Jensen. Helping with extra food was Helen Barber. The next meeting will be Sunday, Aug. 14 at 1:30 p.m.

FRIENDLY WEDNESDAY
Six members of the Friendly Wednesday Club met Wednesday at the Black Knight for lunch. Afterwards they spent a social afternoon at Mrs. Dorothy Rebacks in Wayne. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Aug. 17.

TOPS
Members of TOPS NE 589 met Wednesday for weigh-in. The next meeting will be Wednesday, July 27 at Marian Iversen's at 6:30 p.m. Anyone wanting more information can call 286-4425.

Guests in the Alvin Niemann home from July 15-18 were Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Newman of Stanton, Iowa. On Monday they all attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens in Wayne, an aunt of Alvin and Mrs. Newman's.

I'M FREE! Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free, I'm following the path God laid for me I took His hand when I heard Him call I turned my back and left it all I could not stay another day; To laugh, to love, to work, or play. Tasks left undone must stay that way I found peace at the close of day. If my parting has left a void. Then fill it with remembering joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, Ah, yes, these things too I will miss. Be not burdened with time of sorrow, My life's been full, I've savored much. Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch. Perhaps my time seemed all too brief, Don't lengthen it now with undue grief. Lift up your heart and share with me God wanted me now. He set me free. We sincerely thank everyone who sent cards, flowers, memorials brought in, food, expressed words of sympathy and helped out in any way in the recent loss of our beloved husband, father, grandfather, and brother. A special thank you to Pastor Fale for his prayers and visits and to the Priscilla group of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. We will miss him very much, but we have many beautiful memories that will last forever. The family of Alired Miller. Ju25

A BIG thank you to all our friends and family for the cards, gifts and visits at the hospital and since returning home. Our joy wouldn't be complete without you sharing it with us. A special thank you to Dr. Felber, Louise Jenness and Marian Creighton and the rest of the great PMC staff. And to Rev. Johnson for his visits and prayers. We thank you for everything and are happy to call you friends. Ardie and Blair Sommerfeld. Ju25
