Achievers

Wayne County 4-H'ers and leaders will be receiving special recognition at the Wayne County 4-H Achievement Program conducted Sunday, Nov. 6 at 2 p.m. in the city auditorium.

Several 4-H'ers will be awarded county medals for project achievement. Special awards and trophies will be presented in the home economics and livestock areas. Four-H'ers with one, five, 10 or 11 years of 4-H membership will be acknowledged, as well as leaders with two, five, 10 and 15 years leadership service.

All 4-H families, as well as prospective 4-H members, are invited to attend. A light supper, sponsored by the Wayne County banks, will follow the program.

City signs

The Visitor/Newcomer Committee of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce has been working for over a year on the construction of "Welcome to Wayne" signs.

"We're now at the point where we need to fund the project," said committee member Lynn Trevett. "We feel that this is something the entire community would want to be a part of — so we created the 'buy a brick' program."

The suggested contribution would be $5. "However, some contributors may wish to buy a 'batch of bricks' as we will need to sell more than 400 bricks at $5 each to fund the project. Smaller contributions would also be welcome," Trevett mentioned.

A sign is planned for each entrance to Wayne. The signs will be constructed of street bricks and will feature a 15" high "Welcome to Wayne" against a contrasting background.

A full scale replica of the sign can be viewed at the old Griess Drug Store at the corner of 3rd and Main in Wayne.

For additional information, contact Gail Korn at 375-3615 or Trevett at 375-2540.

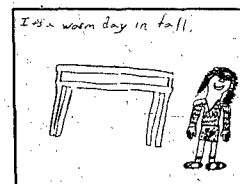

Karnes Karavan

The Karnes' Karavan will be visiting 12 towns in northeast Nebraska Thursday, Nov. 3. On the Karavan will be Gov. Kay Orr, Dave and Liz Karnes and Representative Doug Bereuter.

The group will depart from Norfolk's airport at 7 a.m. It will travel to Pierce, Randolph, Osmond, Plainview, Creighton, Wausa, Bloomfield, Crofton, Ponca, Laurel and a final stop at Wayne at around 6 p.m. that same day. There will be a soup supper at the Wayne City Auditorium at that time.

Best looks

Winners of the costume contest at Saturday's Gay Theatre Halloween Party, sponsored by The Wayne Herald, were Justin Thede, best dressed boy (scarecrow); Codie Mrsny, best dressed girl (good witch); Carrie Echtenkamp, funniest clown; and Logan Berry, scariest costume (spider).

Candidates answer Herald questions

Conway-Nelson

Incumbent Senator Gerald Conway of Wayne and Tore Nelson of Emerson are two candidates vying for the position of District 17 state legislator.

This area of representation in the Wayne Herald coverage area includes Wayne County and Dixon County.

Below are several answers to questions asked to each candidate in a Wayne Herald survey.

What do you propose in reducing the tax burden of Nebraska citizens?

Conway: On a per capita basis, Nebraska's tax burden ranks 34th nationally. The breakdown of this tax burden shows that we are 40th in sales tax, 41st in income tax and 13th in property tax. It is obvious that in Nebraska the greatest tax burden is imposed on the property owner. In fact, it would take a 20 to 25 percent reduction in the tax levied on property to bring us in line with the average in the states around us. As an owner of property in Wayne County these statistics only confirm what we taxpayers already know.

To address this problem I have introduced legislation in the past and will continue to press for relief in several ways. First we must continue to reduce the cost of government by supporting efficiency and eliminating waste.

"No new taxes or increases of present taxes should even be considered."

Tore Nelson

Second, to reduce the amount of government paid for by the property tax. This can be accomplished by the state providing more of its revenue (that generated by sales and income taxes) to local governmental subdivisions through state aid and also paying the cost of mandated services that over the years have become required by the state, but paid for by local property tax.

Third, to aid growth in our economy so that the burden will be shared by more people and more improved properties. And fourth, to only provide exemptions where it provides a specific public purpose (e.g.) homestead exemptions. To do otherwise causes the burden to be borne by fewer and fewer taxpayers.

Nelson: Reducing taxes can only be accomplished by reducing spending. Anything else is just a shifting

"Without opportunities for our young people, they will continue to move to other states to fulfill their dreams."

Gerald Conway

of the tax burden — you might pay less in one area, but you will pay more in another.

If spending cannot be reduced, it

Karnes-Kerrey

Democrat Robert Kerrey and Republican David Karnes are candidates for the position of United States Senator for Nebraska.

Karnes currently holds the office of U.S. Senator. Kerrey had served as Nebraska Governor before Gov. Kay Orr's current administration.

The Wayne Herald asked several questions on key topics, and below are their answers to these questions.

What type of farm program would be best suited for this ag area?

Karnes: In 1989, Congress will be debating a new farm bill and as a member of the agriculture committee, I will have a major voice in its "Limiting spending growth to 3 percent or 4 percent per year, instead of 10 percent, will let revenues catch up with spending."

development. When you send me back to Washington, I will work for the best possible bill for Nebraska farmers. A bill that will continue to provide an essential income safety net for family farms and one that will not interfere with production and marketing decisions.

I believe the 1985 Farm Bill has been successful.

I believe we must continue to expand foreign markets for export and to negotiate long-term grain agreements with other countries. We cannot return to the failed Democrat policies of using agriculture as a political tool.

Kerrey: In formulating the 1990 farm bill, I believe we should use the framework provided in the 1985 farm bill to make some common sense changes in the farm program. While the 1985 farm bill is far from perfect, it has helped channel much needed

"The deficit must be seen as a problem that impairs our productivity and takes away from the future prosperity of our children."

relief to farmers. Maintaining the framework of the 1985 farm bill gives us the opportunity to manage the fragile recovery that is now underway.

One specific change I would like to see in the 1990 farm bill is an easing of the crop rotation regulations. Under the current system farmers can be prevented from making common sense decisions about the proper rotation of their crops. This would increase the flexibility of the farm program and allow the farmer to make the decisions rather than having the government make the decisions for the farmer. Encouraging crop rotation would also improve soil conservation.

The farm program itself should

Three scouts receive Eagle Award

Three area Boy Scouts will be awarded the coveted Eagle Award during ceremonies slated at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 6 at the Wayne-Carroll High School Lecture Hall.

The Eagle Award will be presented to Eric Liska and Gregory Schmidt, both of Wayne and Marc Dinklage of Wisner. Each have an older brother who has earned an Eagle Award.

Schmidt, 17, is the son of Dr. Howard and Carole Schmidt. He joined Cub Scout Pack 221 in 1979 and after completing Webelos in 1982 he became a member of Boy Scout Troop 174.

Since then Schmidt has held troop offices of Assistant Patrol Leader and Senior Patrol Leader, and he is a member of the Leadership Corps.

During his scouting years, Schmidt participated in the following troop trips: camping at Ben Delatour Scout Ranch in Colorado; canoeing on the Niobrara River and canoeing in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area in Minnesota and Canada; and backpacking at Philmont Scout Ranch.

SCHMIDT organized and worked on the construction of a rest area near Wayne City Hall during the fall of 1987 and the summer of 1988 for his Eagle Scout Service Project.

He is a senior at Wayne-Carroll High School and a member of Grace Lutheran Church. His other activities have included 4-H, band, Lutheran Youth Fellowship, baseball, football, basketball and golf.

He has served as vice president of his class for the last three years and during the past year, he has been employed at Country Nursery.

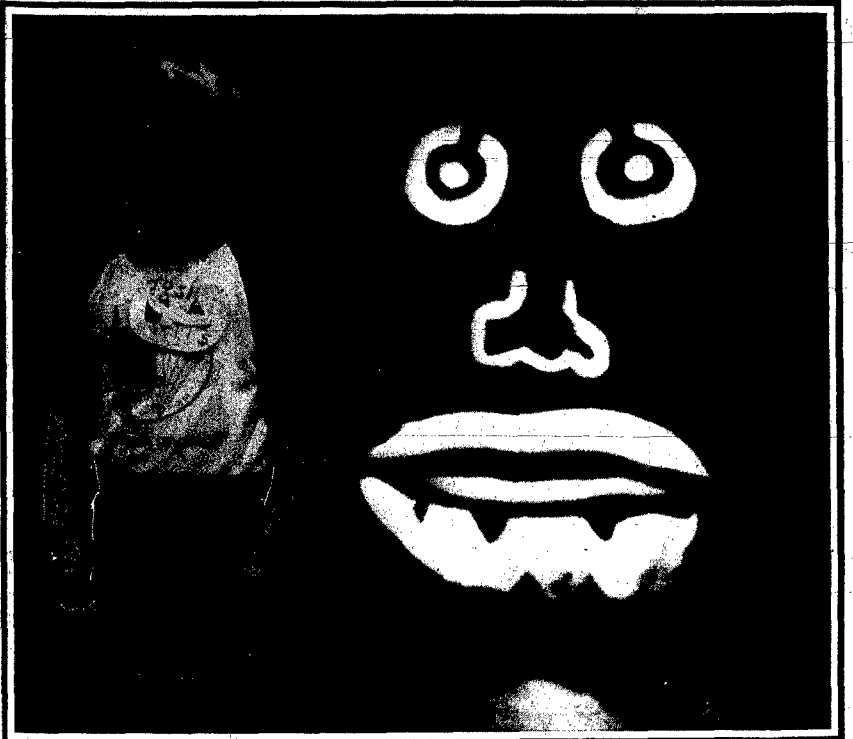

Liska, 17, is the son of Dr. Ken and Jan Liska. He joined Cub Scout Pack 221 in 1979 and completed Webelos in 1982 before joining Boy Scout Troop 174. He has held the troop offices of Quartermaster, Senior Patrol Leader, Patrol Leader and he is a member of the Leadership Corp.

HE ATTENDED Boy Scout Camp Ben Delatour in Colorado and his scouting trips included canoe trips down the Niobrara River and Canadian Boundary Waters; and backpacking the Big Horn Mountains in Wyoming and Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

Liska is a member of Wayne Presbyterian Church and he is a senior at Wayne-Carroll High School. His other activities include band, football, swim team and track. He is presently vice president of the W-Club and he has been selected to attend All-State Band. During the last two years Liska has been employed at Country Nursery.

For his Eagle Service Project, Liska worked in conjunction with Wayne State College during the Diamond Jubilee Celebration parade; the Tee to Green Run; the NAIA Track & Field Meet; and painting at the Wayne State College Track.

Dinklage, age 18, is the son of Dean and Marlene Dinklage of Wisner. He

For Nov. 10-11

Conferences set at Wayne-Carroll schools

Wayne Community Schools have scheduled Parent-Teacher Conferences this year on Nov. 10 and 11.

School will dismiss on Thursday, Nov. 10 at 1 p.m. Buses will run at that time. Conferences will commence at 1:15 on Thursday and conclude at 4:30. To allow each parent ample time, conferences will be scheduled according to parents last name.

Thursday evening, Nov. 10, has been set aside for parents who cannot attend afternoon conferences. On that evening, conferences will begin at 6 and continue until 8 p.m. There will be no school on Friday, Nov. 11 as conferences will continue throughout the day.

The schedule is as follows:
Session I: Thursday, Nov. 10, 1:15-4:30 p.m. Parents whose last name begins A-I.

Session II: Thursday, Nov. 10, 6-8 p.m. Open conferences for parents who cannot attend afternoon conferences.

Session III: Friday, Nov. 11, 8:30 a.m.-noon. Parents whose last name begins J-R.

Session IV: Friday, Nov. 11, 1:15-4:30 p.m. Parents whose last name begins S-Z.

Conferences should last no longer than 15 minutes each. Teachers will be located in classrooms and National Honor Society members will be present to assist parents in locating all staff at the high school. Refreshments will be served at all buildings.

Parents are requested to comment to teachers regarding the success of the conferences.

Wayne-Carroll Middle School will follow the same format as the high school. Elementary school conferences for Wayne and Carroll will also begin at 1:15 p.m. and will be scheduled for parents as they have in the past. Kindergarten conferences will begin on Thursday morning. Parents will be notified of the scheduled conference time.

Buses for all students will run at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 10. No school on Friday, Nov. 11.

Fantasy Forest planned

Those who plan on displaying trees at this year's Wayne Fantasy Forest should be aware that the deadline for entering the event is rapidly approaching.

The fourth annual Fantasy Forest is scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 1 through Sunday, Dec. 4 at the Wayne City Auditorium. It is sponsored by the Interior Design Club at Wayne State College, in conjunction with the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

Sandra Metz, spokesperson for the sponsors, said that the suggested deadline for entering the event is Friday, Nov. 4. However, entries will continue to be taken after this date, according to Metz.

Artificial trees, completely decorated, will be accepted for the 1988 Fantasy Forest from any business, organization, youth groups or others interested in participating.

Briefly Speaking

World Community Day at Redeemer

Redeemer Lutheran Church will host World Community Day services in Wayne on Friday, Nov. 4 at 2 p.m. All area women are invited to attend.

World Community Day is an annual ecumenical worship event sponsored by Church Women United to bring Christian women together to affirm their mutual commitment to work for a world that is peaceful for all persons, regardless of race or religion.

This year's service, "Every Woman's Ministry," was written by a group of women in lay and ordained ministries in Lynchburg, Va.

Winside firemen sponsoring barbecue

Winside Volunteer Firemen will sponsor their annual barbecue, open to the public, on Sunday, Nov. 6 with serving from 4 to 8 p.m. in the Winside auditorium.

Pork and beef sandwiches, beans and a beverage will be available at a cost of $2 for one sandwich or $4 for two sandwiches. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from any fireman. Numerous items will be given away during the evening.

Twins Club meeting Sunday

All area twins are invited to attend a meeting of the Twins Club on Sunday, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The organization is open to twins of all ages and serves as a support group as well as a social club.

Persons who would like additional information about the group are asked to call Pat Schmoll in Wayne, 375-5570, or Jeannie Lunz in Allen, 635-2021. Twins who have not already been contacted by the club also are asked to call Schmoll or Lunz.

Youth collect for UNICEF, Food Pantry

Youth of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne collected donations for UNICEF and the Wayne County Food Pantry on Oct. 30.

Persons who were not contacted during the drive and would like to contribute to the Wayne County Food Pantry may take items to the Wayne Presbyterian Church.

Bazaar, luncheon in Laurel

Laurel Presbyterian Women will host their annual bazaar, bake sale and luncheon on Saturday, Nov. 5 from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Laurel city auditorium.

The menu includes hot beef sandwiches, taverns, cheese sandwiches, vegetable beef soup, salads, pie, rolls and coffee.

Carroll church serving dinner

The United Methodist Church of Carroll is sponsoring a dinner on Sunday, Nov. 6 to commemorate the 101st anniversary of the congregation.

Serving will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and the public is invited to attend.

Fremont ceremony

ST. PATRICK'S CATHOLIC Church in Fremont was the setting for the Oct. 8 wedding rites uniting in marriage Renee Flesner, daughter of Ronnie Flesner and Rita Flesner, both of Fremont, and Casey Nichols, son of Glen and Sandy Nichols of Wayne. The bride was graduated from Fremont Senior High School in 1985 and attended Wayne State College for one and a half years. The bridegroom is a 1986 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and a 1988 graduate of Southeast Community College, Milford. He is employed by Shinaut Construction of Lincoln.

Doug Bereuter knows how to get things done.

Congressman Doug Bereuter is one of Nebraska's most successful elected representatives. He works hard and he is effective.

He is also widely respected at the national level. Doug's been called one of the nation's leaders for fair trade, increased exports, and more jobs for Americans.

Doug has been praised for his ability to stay in touch and respond to the concerns of Nebraskans. He spends an average of more than 100 days per year in the district. Yet, he still maintains one of the highest voting records in Congress—over 98 percent.

Doug's emphasis on the needs of Nebraskans has brought record Federal funding to the district for highway overpasses, bridges, urban development, low-cost housing for senior citizens, grants-in-aid help for students, and support for education and social services.

With a ten-year record of service, Doug knows how to get things done. Let's keep him working for us in Washington. Let's re-elect Doug Bereuter to Congress.

Doug will appreciate your vote on November 8!

WHAT IS A LOW-LEVEL RADIOACTIVE WASTE COMPACT?

Federal Legislation

In 1980, Congress enacted a law which requires that every state shall be responsible for the disposal of its low-level radioactive waste.

The law, which was amended in 1985, states that the "disposal of low-level radioactive waste can be most safely and effectively managed on a regional basis." In 1983, the Nebraska Legislature unanimously approved participation in the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact.

The Compact, which also includes Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, has been ratified by Congress. There are presently nine low-level waste compacts involving 41 states.

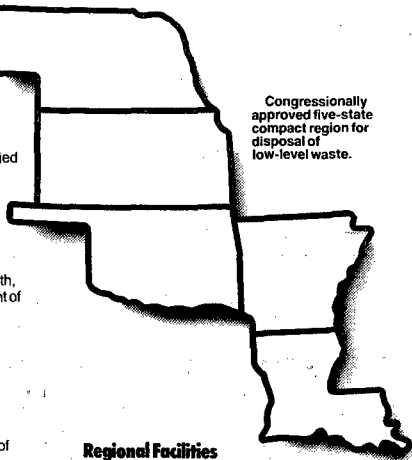

Regional Compact Responsibilities

Our Central Interstate Compact provides the means for the member states to promote the health, safety and welfare of the citizens and environment of the region. It also limits the number of facilities needed to effectively and economically manage low-level radioactive waste and encourages the reduction of such waste.

Host State Rights

The law establishing the Central Interstate Compact creates several important rights for the host state, including the regulating and licensing of any regional facility within its borders.

It also provides that the host state has the right to charge reasonable fees to facility users to cover any costs associated with such facility.

Congressionally approved five-state compact region for disposal of low-level waste.

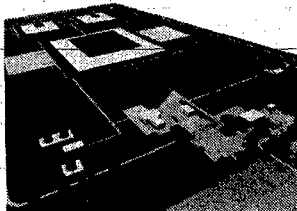

Regional Facilities vs. Single-State Facilities

Nebraska Public Power District has compared the estimated cost of continuing to participate in the Central Interstate Compact with the estimated cost of constructing a facility for Nebraskans only.

The comparison indicates that waste disposal in a Nebraska-only facility would cost approximately three times more for each cubic foot disposed than for the regional compact facility.

Our highest priority must be the protection of the public health and the environment. NPPD will continue to insist that the waste facility provides this protection. And a facility that can safely dispose of Nebraska's waste can also safely dispose of wastes from other states and reduce costs for all Nebraskans.

Low-level radioactive waste can be safely disposed of in Nebraska.

View of the proposed low-level waste compact facility for Nebraska.

The safe disposal of low-level radioactive waste is every Nebraskan's responsibility.

Wayne advances to finals of B-5

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Class B-5 volleyball final Thursday night will have a Blue Devil flavor to it. Wayne will play Hartington Cedar Catholic at 7:30 p.m. at Northeast Community College in Norfolk, for the right to go to the State Tournament next week. Incidentally, it will be the third meeting of the year between the two schools with Cedar Catholic holding a decisive 2-0 record.

Monday night the Blue Devils faced North Bend, also for the third time this season. Both teams split their matches in the regular season, but Wayne was far superior in the third match.

The Blue Devils jumped out to a quick 3-0 lead in the first set before witnessing five unanswered points by North Bend. But it was Wayne who retaliated with seven unanswered points with Kristy Hansen and Robin Lutt manning the serving chores during the streak.

Lutt served the last two points of the set leaving Wayne with a 15-9 victory, and just one set away from the semi-finals.

Wayne got down 4-1 right away in the second set but as North Bend soon found, this would be Wayne's night. The Blue Devils bounced back to tie the game at six and then at eight.

Deanna Schluns and Dana Nelson then put the Blue Devils on top 12-9 with some excellent serving. Karmyn Koenig closed out the set and match with three final serves. Wayne captured the match in straight sets with identical 15-9 scores.

"We did a good job serve receiving against North Bend," coach Marlene Uhing said. "North Bend hurt us in previous matches with ace serves but we cut that down."

Uhing noted that the Blue Devil game plan was to come out and serve aggressively and take control of the game. Wayne notched seven aces from the serving area which proves that the game plan worked to perfection.

Kristy Hansen played a complete game as she led the squad in serving with eight points, had four kill spikes, five assists in setting and two blocks.

Dana Nelson had six points with two aces in serving, and three kill spikes while Karmyn Koenig notched five points in serving, had four kill spikes and two blocks.

Robin Lutt played an aggressive game scoring four points with two aces in serving, and recording four kill spikes.

Teresa Ellis recorded four assists from her setting post to offset Hansen. "Overall it was a good complete team effort," Uhing said. "Our back row passing was another key which aide in our success."

Wayne downs Lakeview
Columbus Lakeview advanced to semi-final action with an upset victory over Pierce and the Vikings were hoping to add Wayne to their list of upset wins.

Wayne however, would have not part of it as they downed Lakeview in straight sets, 15-4, 15-6. "Everybody seems to be making contributions," Uhing said. "We had a balanced attack of serving, passing and hitting which is vital to the success of our team."

Wayne got up 9-0 in the first set before coasting to the 15-4 final. Kristy Hansen once again led the Blue Devils with 10 points and four aces from the serving line.

Hansen offset her serving performance with three kill spikes and three assists from her setting position. Karmyn Koenig had seven points and three aces while notching two kill spikes and a block.

Teresa Ellis did a fine job of setting the ball with four assists. She also scored five points and two aces in serving and recorded a block. Dana Nelson led the squad with a .700 percentage in passing the ball. Nelson also had three kill spikes.

"We have played both matches to our strengths," Uhing said. "We haven't tried to do things which we aren't capable of doing."

WENDY BOLDT bumps the ball back to a waiting teammate during sub-district play in Winside Tuesday night. Winside defeated Coleridge in the first round but fell to Clarkson in the finals.

Wayne State advances

Wayne State's Lady Wildcats traveled to Lincoln Tuesday night to take part in the first round of district competition against Nebraska Wesleyan.

Wayne, seeded sixth was playing third seeded Wesleyan in what was definitely the home court advantage. Wayne State shrugged that aside however, as they defeated the Plainsmen in five sets, 15-8, 4-15, 9-15, 15-11, 15-13.

Wayne State will now travel to Kearney today, (Thursday), to play the Antelopes, who were winners over the College of St. Mary. The contest is slated for 5 p.m.

Wayne State played in the Nebraska Athletic Conference Tournament last week and finished with a 1-3 mark. The Cats defeated the College of St. Mary's, 15-12, 15-9, 15-12, but fell to Chadron State, Kearney State and Peru State.

The scores with Chadron State were 10-15, 6-15, 15-10, 15-12. Kearney State defeated the Cats, 15-2, 15-3, 15-10, and Peru State topped Wayne State, 15-3, 15-12, 15-8.

Wayne State now maintains a 32-24 record with a record number of games played of 172.

Wildcats fall to 0-9

The Wayne State Wildcats lost their ninth game of the season in as many attempts last Saturday, at the hands of Missouri Southern, 38-0. It was the first time this season that Wayne State has been shutout.

Wayne State trailed 21-0 at intermission on the running of Bill Wofford of Southern who hit paydirt twice in the first half, and once in the second half.

The Wildcats were completely dominated by the rush defense that Southern put on. Wayne State finished the afternoon with a minus 39 yards net rushing.

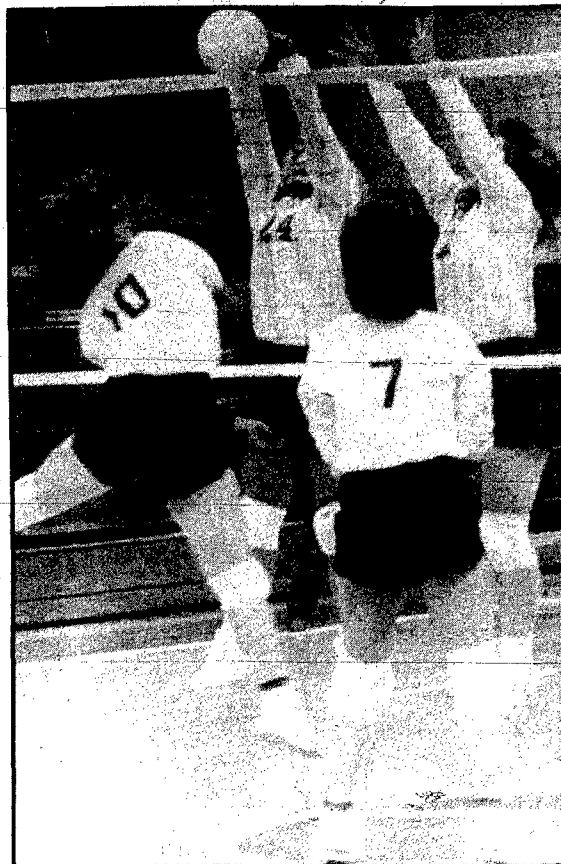

Kirk Meyer quarterbacked the Wildcats for his first collegiate start. Meyer completed 15 of 32 passes for 151 yards and two interceptions.

Southern had a well balanced attack with 167 yards passing and 170 yards rushing. Troy Tiedtke was Wayne State's only rushing bright spot as he picked up 31 yards on five carries. Tiedtke however, payed the price with a severe bruise on his collarbone and his doubtful for the weekend contest with Kearney State.

Kevin Hagedorn was the top receiver catching three passes for 27 yards. Travis Bahnsen caught two passes for 32 yards while Pat Wordenkemper caught two passes for 29 yards.

Defensively the Wildcats were led by Jim Sibbell's 10 tackles. Mo Walker followed with six while Tony Wiese, Mark Volf and Matt Holly finished with five tackles apiece and Darrin Barner and Mike Thorell finished with four tackles apiece.

The Wildcats will entertain Kearney State in Wayne State's final home game of the year this Saturday.

Huskers in Wayne

This Saturday, the Nebraska Cornhusker wrestling team will be in Wayne for an intra-squad dual. According to Wayne wrestling mentor John Murtaugh, the intra-squad may well determine who makes up the Husker varsity grappling team for the coming year. The dual will take place in the high school gymnasium.

"There will be nine or ten matches altogether," Murtaugh said. "Many of the matches will be wrestle-offs to determine varsity spots."

The University has two intra-squad duals each year and Wayne along with Seward were the two cities selected by Husker coach Tim Neuman for this year's duals.

The dual is slated for 7:30 p.m. However, there will be some demonstration matches conducted by Neuman and his wrestlers beginning at 7 p.m.

According to USA Wrestling magazine, Nebraska had the number one recruiting class in America during this past off season.

Two of the incoming freshman are twins John and Jason Buxton from South Dakota. The two-some were three time state high school champions and were all-Americans.

Sidney wrestling hero Jeremy Eckley, who supplied state wrestling tournament fans with thrills during the past four years, will don the Husker colors this winter. Eckley was a three time state champion in high school and was runner-up the other.

The Huskers currently have four individuals ranked in the top 15 in the country in their respective weight classes.

Terry Cook at 118 lbs, is ranked seventh in the country while Jeff Colvet at 158 lbs, is listed as the number eight wrestler in the land.

Scott Chenoweth at 167 lbs, is ranked 12th and Joe Malocek, heavyweight, is ranked eighth.

Allen steps closer to State

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Some high schools have the distinction of having such a winning program that a certain mystique surrounds the team.

Wakefield's volleyball team is one such example. Coach Paul Eaton has already climbed into the state record books with an unprecedented winning percentage over the years. With Wakefield being the host of the C2-8 sub-districts, it looked as though the Trojans would be well on their way to yet another state tournament appearance.

The Trojans came out on fire in the first match against Hartington, downing them in straight sets, 15-1, 15-7. Karen Witt led the team in scoring with 18 points on her 20 of 21 serving. Karen Hallstrom and Jessica Robins manned the spiking chores with Hallstrom successful on 10 of 11 with four kills, and Robins good on eight of nine with a pair of kill spikes.

Karen Witt and Cathi Larson were in charge of setting duties with a combined effort of 29 of 30 with 11 assists.

Julie Greve and Sharon Wenstrand combined for a 20 of 22 passing ratio as the packed gymnasium of Trojan fans settled back to watch the second match to see who their Trojans would play in the finals.

That second match featured Gary Troth's Allen Eagles, flying high after the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament Championship, and the Emerson-Hubbard Pirates.

Now Allen and Emerson had played earlier in the year in Allen, and the match lasted three sets with Allen winning. Troth noted his concern with the Pirates before the match was even played.

"We were a little tight before the match," Troth said. "Emerson has a fine coach and they do a good job over there."

It didn't take Troth very long however, to get comfortable. Allen got down 1-0, but rattled off seven straight points before Emerson scored its second and last point of the first set.

The Eagles just seemed to get more relaxed the farther the match went. With a 15-2 win in the first set, Troth was hoping to see his squad keep a tight reign on the Pirates during the second set.

Although the set was much closer than 15-2, Allen was able to maintain enough composure to come out a 15-12 winner.

The Eagles served at a 91 percent clip with Missy Martinson and Toni Boyle combining for a perfect 13 of 13 outing. Cindy Chase was nine of ten and Annetta Noe, 11 of 12.

Martinson led the spiking chores with a 12 of 13 performance with two aces. Candace Jones, who never strays far from the top in spiking, followed with a nine of ten performance which included two kills. Pam Kennelly was nine of twelve in spiking with two kills as well.

The setters which Troth noted as having a phenomenal night were Annetta and Amy Noe. Amy Noe was 29 for 30 in setting with eight assists, while Annetta Noe was 11 of 13 with four assists.

Allen defeats mystique
Allen was allowed a 20 minute break following their match with Emerson. The match which everyone was waiting for, followed.

"I think the crowd wanted to see an Allen-Wakefield match," Troth said. The match began with Wakefield serving and the Trojans jumped out on top first.

Allen battled back and neither team led by more than three points at any time during the first set. Allen tied the game at 12 before Wakefield served out the set, taking the first set.

The first set lasted longer than Wakefield's first match with Hartington. The second set began with Allen jumping out on top, and again both teams wrestled the lead back and forth before Allen won 15-10 to tie the sets at one apiece. The emotional level was at an extreme peak.

Finally, it came down to a one set take all situation. Somehow, it seemed impressive to see the Eagles maintain their level of competitiveness after playing back to back matches.

And this by any means, was no ordinary match. Both teams were playing sensational volleyball. It was definitely a battle of the best.

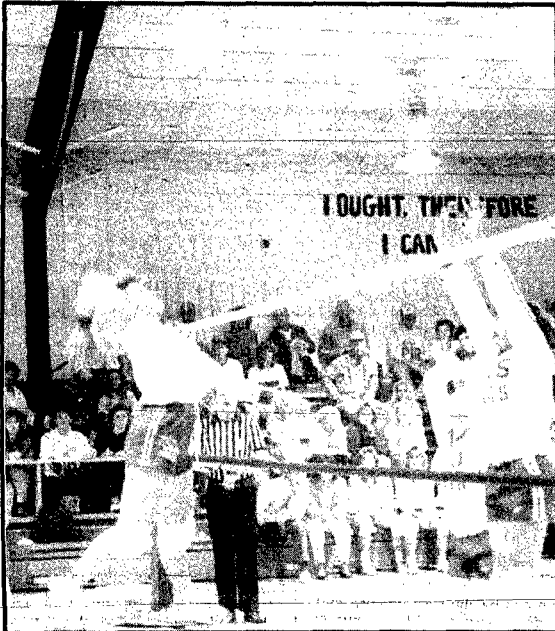

The Eagles blasted to an 8-1 lead in the third set. Wakefield however, battled back to tie the game at eight, and eventually led 9-8.

Allen did not lose their composure. Trailing 13-12, the Eagles served out the set to capture the sub-district crown and will now play Winnebago tonight, (Thursday), in Homer at 7:30 p.m.

Of all the statistics in the Wakefield-Allen match, the one that stands out the most is Allen's 109 spike attempts. Candace Jones was 32 of 41 with eight aces while Missy Martinson thumped 14 kill spikes enroute to a 31 of 33 effort.

Toni Boyle was 20 of 23 with three kills and Pam Kennelly was 10 of 12 with three kills. The Noe girls, (Annetta and Amy), combined for 81 of 84 sets with 25 assists. Jones recorded four ace blocks.

Karen Hallstrom led Wakefield's serving attack with a 21 of 25 performance with 12 aces. In tips, Hallstrom was 12 of 13 with nine aces. Karen Witt fed the team with 42 successful passes while Cathi Larson teamed up with Witt for 26 assists.

MISSY MARTINSON looks to put away a spike against Emerson Tuesday. Meanwhile her teammate Toni Boyle, at right, realizes that Allen is close to being crowned sub-district champs. Boyle served the final point in Allen's win over Wakefield.

Wayne Herald contest won by Norma Addink

Norma Addink of Wakefield, captured the Wayne Herald football contest last week as she recorded three misses.

There were two others only missing three games, but Addink came the closest to the tie-breaking score.

Runner up honors went to Andy McQuistan of rural route Pender. Sue Bailey of Wayne, (Anderson Hall as a matter of fact), also missed only three games but her tie-breaking score was farther off than either Addink's or McQuistan's.

Addink's three losses came with Oregon's loss to Arizona State, UCLA's loss to Washington State and Rutgers' setback to Temple.

McQuistan however had things figured out in the way of upsets. He nailed the upset of UCLA to Washington State, as well as picking Arizona State to upend Oregon. McQuistan's third loss came with Virginia Tech losing to inter-state rival Virginia.

Bailey's three losses came with UCLA's loss to Washington State, Iowa's loss to Indiana and Rutgers' loss to Temple.

Good luck everybody in this week's contest!

Hockey team coming to Wayne

Sioux City Muskateer hockey coach Bob Ferguson and his squad will be at Wayne State College's Berry Hall, Thursday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. to give a presentation on the game of hockey.

In conjunction with this event, the Muskateers are holding a Wayne State College Night on Saturday, Nov. 19, at the Sioux City Auditorium when the Muskateers host Thunder Bay at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets have been reduced to $4 and may be obtained from Michael Policky, Berry Hall, Room 59.

Turn in uniforms

Boys participating in city-rec football, should turn in uniforms completely washed and dried. The middle center above the firehall is the return center for the uniforms and they may be turned in Monday through Friday between 3:30-6 p.m. and on Thursday and Friday night, 7-10 p.m.

Rec basketball to begin

City recreation director Hank Overin has announced the starting dates for youth basketball for boys in grades 3-6 and girls in grades 5-6.

Wednesday, November 16, third and fourth grade boys will commence practicing with the third graders going from 3:30-4:30 p.m., and the fourth graders, 4:30-5:30.

Thursday, November 17, fifth and sixth grade boys will begin practices with the fifth grade going from 3:45-4:45 p.m., and the sixth grade from 4:45-6 p.m.

Fifth and sixth grade girls basketball practice will start Friday, November 17 with the fifth grade attending from 3:45-4:45 p.m., and the sixth grade from 4:45-6 p.m.

The schedule of practices between Monday, November 20, and December 23 will run as follows: Monday and Thursday; fifth and sixth grade boys with the times the same as previously mentioned; Tuesday and Friday, fifth and sixth grade girls with the same times; Wednesday and Saturdays, third and fourth grade boys. Wednesdays will see the same time as previously mentioned, but Saturdays will have the third graders attending practice from 10-11 a.m., and the fourth graders from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Following Christmas break the schedule will be changed with all practices taking place at Wayne High School.

The new schedule will be published in the Wayne Herald when available. The above rec schedule is without auditorium rentals.

Allen junior high victorious

The Allen junior high volleyball team played its last game of the 1988 season Tuesday, with victories over Wakefield.

The wins left the seventh and eighth grade teams with a perfect 6-0 record. The seventh grade defeated the Trojans, 15-10, 11-15, 15-7. Dawn Diediker, Kelly Smith and Michelle Isom led in serving. The eighth grade won in straight sets, 15-6, 15-4. Marcia Hansen, Christy Philbrek and Stacy Jones displayed quality serving outings against their counterparts.

TORE NELSON LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATE 17th District

Dear 17th District Voters:

I am Tore Nelson, candidate for the Nebraska Legislature from the 17th district.

I am prepared to go to Lincoln as your State Senator. Special interest groups are sufficiently represented. The 17th District needs a State Senator who will represent the people who live and work here.

EDUCATION Studies have shown a need for improving education in Nebraska. I support the call for better education. And I am convinced that improvement can be made without increased expenditures and without unnecessarily intrusive state regulations.

TAXES We cannot continue to burden the individual, small business and farmer with ever increasing taxes while giving huge tax breaks to large corporations which will not promise to stay in Nebraska permanently or to maintain their level of employment on a long term basis.

BUSINESS Small businesses and family farms provide the greatest opportunities for employment in Nebraska. The Nebraska Legislature should concentrate on a search for the means to encourage growth and prosperity in these two areas.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS Does the state have the duty to impose safety regulations on the individual in every aspect of private citizens' life? NO. There are some decisions that must be left to the individual to make in a democratic society. Whether to wear a seat belt or motorcycle helmet, both of which are wise precautions, are choices the individual should make for himself or herself.

I need your support to succeed in the general election on November 8.

Please vote for Tore Nelson for State Legislature. With your support we all can win.

Sincerely,
Tore Nelson

must at least be maintained at current levels and no new spending initiated without equal cuts in some other area. No new taxes or increases of present taxes should even be considered.

One tax discussed in the legislature lately is the reinstatement of the personal property tax on farm machinery and livestock. I believe this could be the straw that breaks the camel's back and is grossly unfair to the farmer who already pays taxes on all three fronts — sales, income and property.

What areas would you like to see changed, or continued, in bringing economic development to the rural areas of Nebraska — your senate district in particular?

Tore Nelson

Nelson: I support continued tax incentives for economic development. I would also work to promote plans to get people back on the farms — plans to provide funds for persons who do not presently own farmland.

Money should be available for first-time farmers at low interest rates in exchange for a commitment to live and work on the farm for an extended period of time. More people on the farms means more customers for local businesses and more children in our local schools. I will continue to look for more ways to make it economically feasible for our young people to remain on or return to the farms and rural communities.

Conway: The legislature has focused upon economic development for some time. We have initiated several programs that have met with success on the state wide level, including LB 1124, Employment Expansion and Investment Incentive Act which I co-introduced with Senator Hefner. In the four years that I have served, we have added almost 3,000 new jobs in this legislative district. However, much more can and needs to be done to insure that all communities have the support to grow and prosper.

We need to support the concept of value-added so that we do more processing of our agricultural products before they leave the state. The benefit of creating a finished product over simply shipping raw materials is immense.

We also need to maintain and/or support those elements that stimulate activity; quality education; efficient ground transportation systems; low cost energy; limited governmental interference; technical support for agriculture and small business; tax structures that allow our business to better compete with those in our neighboring states; and availability of capital and credit. Without opportunities for our young people, they will continue to leave our communities and move to other states to fulfill their dreams.

Do you feel that there is a way Nebraska can handle its low-level waste without being a member of the five-state Compact?

Conway: There were three ways that we could handle the disposal of our low-level nuclear waste and still comply with the Federal Law as it was passed in 1980.

1. We could build a disposal facility for the waste we generate at our power plants, our hospitals and our University. If we were to build a facility on our own, it would be almost as expensive as a shared project because we contribute the greatest amount of waste and most of the costs are fixed. These costs include the research and development, the procurement of the land, the monitoring devices, etc.

The burden would be borne by our taxpayers alone, rather than sharing the costs. This additional cost to our taxpayers has been estimated to be over $200 million dollars. And the compact's decision would not supersede state law. If we have the legal right to drop out of the compact now, we will have the same right in the future.

2. We could try to find another state that would take our waste on a contract basis. The feasibility of this option has been explored and rejected since we have found no other state that is willing to contract with us for our waste due in part to the volume we produce. My challenger has repeatedly suggested this option as a means of having control, but another state has to say "yes" and that leaves us at their mercy; b) if they accept us, the "price tag" would be put on by them, not us; c) after we would pay they could have refused to renew our contract and we would have been in the position of paying again. Again, we would have no control.

3. We could remain in the regional Compact and build a facility as a joint effort.

At this point in time, I believe this was the best choice for several reasons. Both technically and financially, the compact approach is to our advantage. Additionally, we have more protection from other states using our facility under the compact because Federal law allows states in compacts, but not individual states, to isolate themselves from interstate commerce activities. The third option's biggest drawback is that Nebraska has been chosen as the site for the first facility.

However, getting out of the compact is not going to mean getting out of storing waste in Nebraska. The real question at hand is how do we meet Federal mandate and do so with the maximum protection of our citizens and our environment.

Nelson: Yes, there are two ways Nebraska can handle its low-level radioactive waste without being a member of the five-state compact. The first and most attractive way, in my opinion, is to contract with another state to take our low-level radioactive waste. I do not want to see a nuclear waste facility built in Nebraska.

The other option is to build a state-operated facility similar to the one being proposed by the compact, which would be used for Nebraska waste only. This facility would be state-controlled, and other states and/or compacts could not use it unless we allowed them to do so.

Merely because other states are willing to pay us to store their nuclear waste in our state does not mean it is in our best interest to welcome radioactive waste from other states, waste which will need to be monitored for the next 500 years — longer than the time that has elapsed since Christopher Columbus discovered America.

Would you support a lottery like that of Iowa?

Nelson: I could not support a lottery similar to Iowa's at the present time. In a statewide lottery, the bulk of the money generated would most likely benefit only the largest communities in the state. At least with a local option lottery, the money remains in the area where it is generated.

Gerald Conway

Conway: The lottery is another issue that was initiated prior to my taking office but has continued to be discussed. It is a very serious issue in that it raises questions associated with our values.

However, I know that 1) deciding what's best for people is not the role of government, 2) the people of our district are split on the issue, some are passionate in their opposition and some are passionate in their support, 3) lottery tickets are available to our residents across the state lines. Our residents are contributing to economic development projects and various forms of tax relief in Iowa, South Dakota, Wyoming and Colorado.

The issue should be put before the people. The type of lottery, if people so choose to have one, is another question. It would be very difficult to compete with Iowa's ticket lottery since their established system has developed large payouts and Nebraskans would continue to buy their tickets.

For Nebraskans to be successful, we would have to develop a game that is unique and capable of drawing out-of-state players or a game that would be a joint venture with one of our neighboring states.

focus on price and a fair return on production costs. This can be achieved by a reasonable amount of supply management to keep the price in the range where the producer can make a profit, rather than having to get it from the government.

I also think we need to have a coherent effort to stimulate demand for our agricultural products. We can increase demand not just by increasing exports, but by increasing demand internally by opening up new markets for agricultural goods.

We have already made some progress in this area with the development of products like ethanol, biodegradable plastics and road deicer. Our agricultural research here and in other agricultural areas should be geared to these and other alternative uses. They will yield economic gain down the road.

What major steps would you propose in reducing our federal deficit?

Kerrey: The deficit must be seen as a problem that impairs our productivity and takes away from the future prosperity of our children. The next Congress and President must find the political will to act responsibly to reduce the deficit.

The resolution of the budget deficit with cuts alone or revenue alone would significantly impair our productivity. The deficit must be reduced over a three to five year period, avoiding spending reductions or revenue increases that would send the economy into a recession. I believe that we must concentrate first on the spending side to reduce the deficit.

Based on my experiences as Governor, I know talking about reducing the budget is easy, making it happen is difficult. As I campaign around the state, I hear from constituents who were affected by budget cuts made during my term as Governor. I know how painful those reductions were, but I also understand the importance of establishing control over the budget.

Karnes: We can reduce the deficit without a tax increase — if Congress commits to mandatory spending controls and budget reform. I have made such a commitment. Taking more income out of people's pockets will hurt the economy. People are taxed enough as it is.

The problem is not revenues. Our revenues have increased as the economy expands. The problem has been that spending has increased even faster. The Congressional Budget Office reports that for many years, for every $1 of revenue that the government received, it has spent $1.58. That is why I don't think the answer is to give Congress more money.

We don't need increased taxes or a spending freeze. Nor should we freeze social security for elderly Nebraskans. Limiting spending growth to 3 percent or 4 percent per year, instead of a whopping 10 percent, will let revenues catch up with spending. And Congress need to implement my tough package of budget controls to enhance this process.

What areas would be effective in boosting economic development for small businesses in Nebraska?

David Karnes

Karnes: The best thing I can do for boosting small business in Nebraska is to return to Washington and oppose mandated programs for health benefits, a high minimum wage that will lose jobs, oppose higher taxes, and generally keep the heavy hand of the federal government off the backs of Nebraska's small business people.

I will work to continue the economic expansion we have witnessed over the past eight years and fight to increase opportunities for all Nebraskans.

Kerrey: During my term as Governor, we put a high priority on economic development, particularly rural economic development and promotion of small businesses. We made some important progress, but a lot more needs to be done.

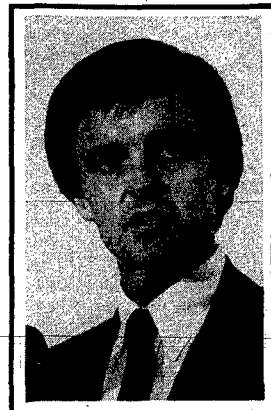

One of the most important tools we used was Community Development Block Grants. According to a report issued by the Nebraska Department of Economic Development in July, 1987, grants awarded from 1982-1986 created 1,545 jobs with another 2,055 anticipated as business location and expansion projects are completed. The average cost per job was $3,762 in CDBG funds. The report also points out that the CDBG investment of $13.4 million leveraged out nearly $41.8 million in private and other resources.

Other tools we used include the Nebraska Investment Finance Authority which improves the availability of capital to promote small business. In the area of job training we developed the Job Support Program which helped 7,500 welfare recipients find jobs in its first two years and saved taxpayers $2.2 million.

We established the Research and Development Authority to conduct research designed to promote new economic opportunities. There are many other tools which need to be developed to build on the commitment of local community leaders to conserve their resources and invest in their own future.

What federal highway would you like to see passing north-south through Nebraska, and how can the federal government help in financing this project?

Robert Kerrey

Kerrey: Continued development of a good highway system is critical to economic development, particularly in rural areas. As the marketplace for agricultural products have moved further away from the marketplace for our producer, our highways have become even more important in moving raw food to the market and to bring supplies to the farmer.

The federal government plays a critical role in building and maintaining our Interstate highway system. I believe strongly in the federal government's role. If I am elected to the Senate, I will work to see that Nebraska gets its share of federal highway dollars.

Karnes: Currently there is a debate in Nebraska regarding a north-south interstate. I don't believe the federal government should decide this issue.

I believe the governor, Unicameral and the people of Nebraska should determine which course, if any, such a highway should take. However, I do pledge to you that once the decision is made, I will do everything in my power to see that Nebraska gets its fair share of federal dollars to make such a project a reality.

An informed Nebraskan

Why should Nebraskans vote in favor of INITIATIVE 402?

Massachusetts, Maine, Montana and South Dakota have laws requiring statewide voter approval before a facility for radioactive waste can be built and New Hampshire requires local voter approval. Don't those states realize it will cause the nuclear power companies and their elected officials to hold more public hearings and will give the citizens a bigger voice on how and where their waste will be stored? (Note: Nebraska elected officials took that privilege away from us with LB 1092A and Compact law states that they can declare any state law null and void if it doesn't comply with their law).

And besides, if we get out of the Compact what can we do with our waste in compliance with the federal laws? I suppose we could do as other states are considering: 1. Join another compact 2. Contract out like we do now with an already existing dumpsite 3. Build a smaller facility for only our waste (Note: Compact Executive Director Ray Perry said that a Nebraska dump will probably be the only dump built in the 5-state Compact. This may be due to fewer number of Nuclear plants and therefore less waste) 4. Build separate facilities for storage of radioactive waste generated in medical centers and research facilities (like Dartmouth College did), which decays in a few years, and for nuclear plant waste which can be lethal for hundreds of years.

But, golly gee, this Compact dumpsite is going to bring in so much money and jobs for our depressed areas economy! So what if Rich Paton, Vice President US Ecology, says we're not a Toyota plant...we're not going to save anyone's business...when the need arises we'll bring in our own concrete plant etc. to meet our demands. And what does Les Mann of the Chadron Record know when he stated the following after visiting the Beatty, Nev. site "It seemed to me like it was a pretty safe operation, but I don't think I want it in my backyard...The trade-off would be in community image...That's not going to be a positive image for us."

PLUS Diane D'Arrigo, nuclear waste project director for the Nuclear Information & Resource Service of Washington, D.C., tries to fool us by saying "the facility (in New York) did not bring the community more jobs, an economic boost or a university that was to be started...once a storage area is contaminated, the difference between low-level and high-level waste is almost irrelevant."

Who's she trying to kid! Our beloved Dept. of Energy wouldn't pull anything on us. Oops!! I just remembered about the recent report about the Ohio leakage that the D.O.E. has been found to be covering up for the past few years. And those poor Ohio taxpayers and ratepayers can't even sue for damages--so what if cancer etc. shows up, we must put our trust in our elected officials since you and I, Mr. Editor, don't know diddly! (Note: for further praises of the D.O.E. read your Oct. '88 Rural-Electric Nebraskan magazine).

We mustn't forget, Mr. Editor, that if we get out of the Compact the power companies are going to be forced to raise our rates again--and remember that this, no doubt, would have nothing to do with these facts:

(1) OPPD is going to spend $71 million on a new training center and improvements due to bad NRC reports. (Note: that's almost the price of two five-state compact dumpsites, isn't it!) (2) OPPD is going to have to meet the NRC penalties etc. for, I believe, over 70 violations (3) NPPD is spending over $225,000 on an "educational" campaign before the Nov. 8 election. (Note: Based on NPPD/OPPD/Department of Environmental Control figure of an unbelievable $155 million additional cost for a Nebraska only facility, it will cost each Nebraska household 7.5 cents to 22.5 cents per month extra--WOW!! That breaks my bank!)

And so what, Mr. Editor, if Arkansas Power & Light, Louisiana Power & Light, and Gulf States Utilities of Louisiana gives the group of doctors etc. who are opposing #402, $600,000 of the collected $607,037? I mean after all, the doctors etc. did get $7,037 from 74 givers all by themselves. Give them a break! My goodness, don't these out-of-staters have just as much right to tell Nebraskans what to do just as they and the other two power companies that tried so hard to get a lawsuit going against #402? Really, since Gulf State has pledged to spend half a million dollars to defeat #402 then why should we fight it? It must be a good deal. No--I guess that's wrong we should be fighting to keep it here, if it's such great snakes, shouldn't we?! I guess that group against 402 is a deception as to who's really concerned about the issue. Whereas, Nebraskans For The Right To Vote, that got our attention on this issue in the first place and can barely pay for their lawyers etc.

are really what they claim to be--NEBRASKANS!

I guess, these and many other numerous reasons are why Nebraskans should VOTE FOR INITIATIVE 402

Nebraskans For The Right To Vote
Vote for Tore

I was greatly saddened by an editorial appearing in the Nebraska Journal Leader of Ponca, denigrating Tore Nelson, a young man running for the Nebraska Legislature against the incumbent, Jerry Conway. The editor of that paper called Tore unkempt, etc. How low does one have to stoop to defame an innocent young man endeavoring to do his duty by running for an office in this American Democracy? I can remember four years ago when Jerry Conway was a Democrat running for the same office and we couldn't get him mentioned in that Ponca newspaper except on the back pages or in some remote corner.

Tore Nelson is a fine, upstanding young man, a Republican, seeking office to the Nebraska Legislature. Although, I am a Democrat, he has my vote. I will not cast my vote for a man (Conway) who blatantly deserted the party which put him in power. Not once has Conway appeared before the Democratic party get-togethers to explain his switch of parties. Yet, it was that same Democratic party which worked tirelessly for his election four years ago. We did not work for him because we personally disliked the incumbent, Von Minden; we worked for him because he was a Democrat. Four other women and I walked the towns for Conway knocking on every door in those towns, talking personally with whomever answered the door; if they were not at home, we taped Conway's literature to the door. Then, Conway goes down to the legislature, becomes a Republican, and deserts the very people who elected him.

I will vote for Tore Nelson because he is honest; he has much to learn, but he states what he stands for and says what he is. He is a Republican and though I disagree with many of his stands, I will vote for the man who possesses integrity, compassion, forthrightness, understanding and above all, honesty.

Common sense

If you want economic development for your community let's get a Nebraska Lotto.

If you're concerned about cement being porous and leaking (old silos), metal corroding, and some plastics becoming brittle and shattering when frozen; and if you are even slightly concerned about the credibility of the developer or contractor and even a small leak into our aquifers, or have any unanswered questions, then my good common sense Nebraska people, vote for 402.

In Ag Lending It Isn't Enough To Just Know Credit

To do the right job of ag lending it takes more than a knowledge of credit. A loan officer also has to understand agriculture.

When your only business is ag lending, it requires a real working knowledge of your customer's business...an ability to understand their practical day to day needs. This has always been one of the strengths of Farm Credit.

Meet the people who are part of today's Farm Credit Services team, people who not only know lending...they understand agriculture.

Obituaries

Ruth DaLao

A. Ruth Hanson DaLao, 71, was born at Concord and died at Bakersfield, Calif. on Oct. 17, 1988.

Survivors include one son, John H. DaLao of Lincoln; and two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth (Jessie) Johnson of Wofford Heights, Calif. and Dorothy Killian Alexander of Gothenburg.

She was preceded in death by one sister, Helen Holt Herries of Morocco; one brother, Robert Hanson of Wayne; and her parents, Esther and L. Dean Hanson of Wayne.

The body was cremated.

Walter Burhoop

Walter Burhoop, 83, of Bancroft died Sunday, Oct. 23, 1988 at the Pender Hospital.

Services were held Wednesday, Oct. 26 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Bancroft. The Rev. Luke Russert officiated.

Walter William Fredrich, the son of Henry A. and Emma Bristol Burhoop, was born Oct. 19, 1905 at home near Waco. He was baptized Nov. 22, 1905 and confirmed April 13, 1919 at the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church at rural Waco. He attended the Evangelical Lutheran St. John's parochial school and attended high school in Waco. He moved to Wisner as a young man and worked as a farm laborer for several years in the Wisner area. He married Nelda Korth on Feb. 20, 1930 at her parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Korth, south of Wakefield. The couple rented farms in Thurston county before buying their farm north of Bancroft in 1944. In 1963 they purchased their home and retired in Bancroft. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Bancroft where he had served on the board of elders. He also served on the Bancroft town board.

Survivors include his wife, Nelda; one daughter, Mrs. Arvid (Imogene) Samuelson of Wakefield; two sons, Walter Dale and David, both of Bancroft; two brothers, Ralph of Utica and Carl of Lakeside, Calif.; 10 grandchildren; seven great grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; stepmother; a grandson, Brian Samuelson; two sisters, Irene Depperman and Ethel Hinze; and two brothers, Clarence and Henry.

Honorary pallbearers were Lyle Egerman, Norman Sorenson, Lyle Anderson, Roy Hofeldt, Harold Ockander and Harold Pearson.

Active pallbearers were grandsons Jerry Burhoop, Troy Burhoop, Douglas Samuelson, Steven Burhoop, Galen Samuelson, Dennis Tremayne and Clark Petersen.

Burial was in the Bancroft Cemetery with Munderloh Funeral Home of Bancroft in charge of arrangements.

Clarabel Addison

Clarabel Addison, 70, of Laurel died Tuesday, Nov. 1, 1988 at her home in Laurel.

Services will be held Thursday, Nov. 3 at 10 a.m. at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel. The Rev. Mark Miller will officiate.

Clarabel Addison, the daughter of Edward and Anna Fredricksen Mackey, was born March 25, 1918 at Laurel. She grew up in the Laurel area and graduated in 1936 from Laurel High School. She married Craig Addison on May 20, 1939 at Laurel. The couple had farmed near Laurel until 1985 when they retired and moved into town. She was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Survivors include her husband, Craig of Laurel; two sons, Carroll of Laurel and Clark of Carter Lake, Iowa; and four granddaughters.

She was preceded in death by her parents and one sister.

Pallbearers will be Jim Cooper, Don Oxley, Orville Hoising, John Meyer, Paul Ebmeyer and Paul John Fredricksen.

Burial will be in the Laurel Cemetery with McBride-Wiltse Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Harold Carison

Harold Carison, 66, of Kenosha, Wis. died Sunday, Oct. 30, 1988 at his home.

Services will be held Saturday, Nov. 5 at the Evangelical Free Church in Kenosha.

Harold Carison, the youngest of eight children of Albin and Hildur Carison, was born July 28, 1922 on a farm east of Wayne. He attended school, graduating from Wayne Prep in 1939. He graduated from St. Paul Bible Institute of St. Paul, Minn. in 1945 and entered the ministry serving churches in Cook, Minn.; Wichita, Kan.; McKeesport, Pa.; Kenosha, Wis.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Cherokee Village, Ark.; and Boulder, Colo. He retired on Oct. 25, 1987 at Boulder and moved to Kenosha. He married Charlotte Kuhns on Sept. 12, 1945 at Wichita, Kan.

Survivors include two sons, John of Inver Grove Hts., Minn. and Scott of Colorado Springs, Colo.; one daughter, Pamela Middleton of Kenosha, Wis.; eight grandchildren; four brothers, Loren of Stromsburg, Reuben of Boulder, Ivan of Longville, Minn. and Arthur of Denver; three sisters, Mrs. Fred (Eunice) Stair of Phoenix, Ariz., Ruth Gunnarson and Mrs. Virgil (Verna) Kardell of Wayne.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Peace with Justice program

The Ecumenical Campus Ministry at Wayne State College is sponsoring a Peace with Justice program on Sunday, Nov. 13.

The Rev. Beverly Nitschke, campus pastor, said the evening will begin with a potluck supper at 6 p.m. at the Campus Ministry House, followed with a presentation by the Rev. Carol Windrum, director of Peace with Justice Ministries of the Nebraska Conference of the United Methodist Church. The public is invited to attend both the supper and program.

Windrum will share a video of her recent experiences in the Soviet Union. In March of this year, she made her second trip to the USSR. She will tell about the changes in the country since her 1985 trip. During 1988, the Russian Orthodox Church is celebrating 1000 years in Russia.

JIM MARKHAM (right), manager of People's Natural Gas in Wayne, presents a $5,400 check to Dr. Donald J. Mash, president, Wayne State College. The People's contribution will be used to co-sponsor the Missouri Repertory Theatre presentation, "The Immigrant," on Thursday, Nov. 10 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre. Other sponsors for the event are Hallmark Cards, Inc. and the Mid-America Arts Alliance.

Karnes announces county organization

Nebraska Senator Dave Karnes has announced his Wayne County campaign organization. Donna Liska and Logan McClelland serve as chairmen of the Wayne county effort. Bonnie Moomaw, Sheryl Jordan, Jan Frick, Jane March, Stan Morris, Al Cramer, Dale Stoltenberg, Grant Ellingson, Kirk Swanson, Mary Lea Lage and Twila Claybaugh are members of the county's steering committee.

"We have the best grass roots organization Nebraska has ever seen for a U.S. Senate race," said Senator Karnes. "They are a hard working bunch who will deserve the real credit when we win on Nov. 8."

The Karnes volunteer organization has more than 15,000 members statewide with chairmen and steering committees in each of the 93 Nebraska counties.

Bake Sale planned

Five Wayne County Farm Bureau members met at the Farm Bureau office to make plans for a Bake Sale to be held Tuesday, Nov. 22 at Pac-N-Save in Wayne.

The women also worked on the 1988 Book of Events.

Farm Bureau annual meeting

Recently Wayne County Farm Bureau held its annual meeting. Officers elected for the 1989 year were: Donald Liedman, President; William Claybaugh, Vice President; Ronald Magnuson, Secretary-Treasurer; Donald Liedman, William Claybaugh, Norman Wichman, and Milton Owens will be the delegates for the state convention.

New board members for the 1989 year are Roger Brandt and Bob Jones.

WCS hosts Art Conference

Approximately 140 high school art students from local and regional communities will participate in the Wayne State College annual High School Art Conference on Thursday, Nov. 3.

The purpose of the conference is to give junior and senior high school students the opportunity to visit a college campus and to participate in an art activity that is either new to them or one that expands upon an activity they have learned in school, according to Marlene Mueller, associate professor of art at Wayne State.

Students will be involved in one of the seven workshops offered, which are sculpture casting, silkscreen, monotypes, pottery, jewelry, commercial art, and mural painting. Wayne State art students and faculty will conduct the various workshops.

Laurel-Concord is one of the 17 area high schools participating in the art conference.

'Hacken' Away

by Chuck Hackenmiller

This week's column is about activities which seem to take up hours of student time. Are students too busy to maintain a stable home relationship with parents, brothers and sisters or relatives?

Is there any wonder that a communication gap can exist between students and parents, simply because there seems to be no time for talk?

I contemplated this issue recently after being called upon to photograph various achievements that were accomplished by area high school students.

The strengths of school activities outweigh the disadvantages, although something must be done to bring more participation of parents into the event, or scheduling around the activity is possible so that communication may not become a lost art.

Activities introduce students into closer association with other students (other than the classroom atmosphere) who are also involved in the organization, school productions or athletic event.

In this Thursday's newspaper alone, we have a variety of student activities represented — Boy Scouts, athletics, choir and band, classroom projects, Halloween projects and other events.

All have their equal place of significance.

It would be difficult for a newspaper to cover each event that has an activity affiliation. We do what we can.

Here, then, might be some advice which I'd like to pass on.

One doesn't have to play a sport to travel the road to fame. There are other routes to take which can yield results much the same.

For the options are many to help guide you along the way, and bring you to your destination that you hope to reach some day.

Kloster elected

Wayne City Administrator Phil Kloster has been elected to serve as vice president of the Nebraska City Management Association (NCMA) at their meeting on Sept. 29.

NCMA is an affiliate organization of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, a non-profit association of cities and villages organized in the early 1900's to represent municipalities in Nebraska.

At West Point Store

Zrust new manager

Rich Zrust of Wayne has been named manager of Style Plus, a West Point business that offers quality clothing plus fit.

Zrust is a 10-year resident of Wayne and worked in retail for various Wayne businesses, the most recent Kuhn's.

The store features infant and toddler to junior and young mens sizes, ladies from petite to plus sizes and mens regular and X's. It offers free alteration at the time of sale and service.

More than 10,000 Nebraskans—individual citizens, physicians, scientists, engineers, environmentalists, farmers, ranchers, business, labor and civic leaders — urge you to consider the consequences of #402.

By forcing Nebraska to abandon our Regional Compact, #402 would subject us to:

- as much as 42 million dollars in penalties
- more than 150 million dollars in unnecessary costs
- 23% increase in electric bills

These huge costs would be paid through higher electric bills and higher taxes.

We believe when you've considered these facts, you'll join us in voting AGAINST #402.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The St. Paul's First Trinity Lutheran Youth Fellowship met at St. Paul's Sunday evening. Paula Enslay served lunch.

Kaye Hansen and Tammy Pike of Vermillion, S.D. were weekend guests in the Bob Hansen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Muller returned home Tuesday night after a two week visit in the Robert Rhodes home in Orlando, Fla. Their grandson, Dalton Rhodes, received the honor of being inducted into the National Beta Club on Oct. 10 which is a national honor club. He was elected the membership from a class of 200 at the Dr. Phillips High School in Orlando. The Mullers attended the ceremony. Mrs. Ivadelle Hanson and a friend of Tavares, Fla. visited Mr. and Mrs. Muller on Oct. 24 in the Rhodes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greve entertained Friday with a social evening honoring Lisa Greve and Jim Lutz, who will be married Nov. 5. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Art Greve, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Thomsen and Mr. and Mrs. Verl Carlson.

Gertrude Ohlquist entertained neighbor ladies for coffee Tuesday morning in observance of her birthday. Saturday afternoon coffee guests were friends and relatives in honor of her birthday.

Alice Heimann, accompanied her sister Norma and her husband Orville Remme of Sacramento, Calif. on a 30-day tour of eight countries, 18 cities and many villages in France. They left Aug. 12 from San Francisco and met the tour group of 26 in Paris, France. After 30 days of touring by motor coach, they left the tour in London and flew to Oslo, Norway. From Oslo, they traveled by train to Trondheim where they were met by Eivind Laksa, son of Elizabeth and Ole Laksa, who were Mrs. Heimann's pen pals in Liland, Norway for 42 years.

Tuesday evening guests in the Alvin Ohlquist home to observe the birthday of the hostess included Mr. and Mrs. Dean Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George Holtorf, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Barner, Irene Walter, Mary Alice Utecht, Lillian Sanders, Lillie Tarnow, Edna Hansen, Lillian Fredrickson, Eph Johnson and Arnold Brudigam. Lillie Tranow and Mary Lou Krusemark joined guests in the Ruth Lempe home last Monday afternoon to observe her birthday.

TRINITY PARTY

Junior High Youth of Trinity Lutheran Church sponsored a Halloween party on Oct. 30 with 15 members and their guests attending.

The Halloween menu included withered bones (spaghetti), Dracula's breath (garlic bread), skulls (lettuce), witch's brew (water or pop), and tombs (ice cream cones with pudding and whipped topping).

Each guest was given a Halloween menu which included their eating utensils — Freddy fingers (knives), witch's brooms (forks) and grave diggers (spoons). The youth picked three items from the menu in three courses.

Following supper, the group viewed a movie and then traveled through a Halloween maze, with youth writing down the items they felt. Winners were Marty Jorgensen, first place; Brady Frahm, second; Carrie Junk, third; and Kristen Hurlbert, fourth. Dessert was served afterward.

Assisting with the party were Jenny Topp, the Rev. Peter Jark Swain and leader Peg Eckert.

COTERIE

Mrs. Irene Dittman hosted the Oct. 27 meeting of Coterie Club with Emma Willers as a guest.

Prizes were won by Leora Imel, Twila Kahl, Emma Willers, Dorothy Troutman and Yleen Cowan.

Next meeting will be Nov. 10 with Ann Behmer.

PINOCHLE

Irene Iversen was a guest when GT Pinochle Club met Oct. 28 with Ida Fenske. Prizes were won by Marie Herrmann and Marian Iversen.

Marie Herrmann will be the Nov. 11 hostess.

COSTUME PARTY

The third annual Halloween costume party was held Oct. 29 at Schelley's Saloon in Winside.

Ernie and Tammy Paustian of Carroll were winners of the best overall costumes. They were dressed as Mac the Night moon faces.

LeNell Zoffka of Scribner and Cynthia Frevert of Winside received the best couples award as a bride and groom. Cutest was Tammy Hoffman of Winside as a geisha girl, and ugliest honors went to Terry Luhr of Wayne as a red-eyed monster.

Funniest was Jim Rabe of Winside, and sporting the most orange and black colors as a vampire was Mrs. Doug Lage of Pilger. Winners received cash prizes.

The party was sponsored by Dallas and Marcella Schellenberg, owners of Schelley's Saloon.

"Together with George Bush, we need to keep Dave Karnes working as our Senator. It has been a tremendous advantage to me, as a House member, to have an effective, thoughtful colleague to confidently work with in the Senate. I know Dave's not going to lose interest in serving as our Senator—he is committed to staying there and acquiring the necessary seniority to serve Nebraska. Let's keep Dave Karnes working for us in the Senate!"
U. S. Rep. Doug Bereuter

"For eight years our administration has worked hard to put America back on the right track, but we can't do it alone. We need the continued leadership of Dave Karnes in the U. S. Senate. I've seen first-hand how Dave fights for Nebraska. He's an effective Senator I greatly respect. I urge you to re-elect a Senator we can all be proud of. Keep Senator Karnes working for Nebraska."

'DRUG FREE KIDS' FILM SCHEDULED
Aid Association for Lutherans Branches 1264 and 2905 will sponsor a film, "Drug Free Kids," to be shown at Zion Lutheran Church on Sunday, Nov. 6 at 7 p.m.

GARDEN CLUB
Christine Lueker was hostess when the Hoskins Garden Club met Oct. 27 in the home of Mrs. Laura Ulrich. Guests were Mrs. Marvin Schroeder, Lucille Poske and Mrs. Andrew Andersen.

President Mrs. Carl Hinzman conducted the business meeting and read a poem, "Where Did They Go?" The group sang the hostess' chosen song, "Little Brown Church in the Vale."

Mrs. Frieda Meierhenry read two poems, "Falling Leaves" and "Halloween." Members answered roll call with what they like about fall.

Mrs. George Wittler reported on the previous meeting and gave the treasurer's report.

Newly elected officers, who will assume their duties in January, are Mrs. Hazel Wittler, president; Mrs. Frieda Meierhenry, vice president; and Mrs. Rose Puls, secretary-treasurer.

The hostess provided readings, contests and quizzes for entertainment. Mrs. Carl Hinzman had the comprehensive study on fall leaves, and Gladys Reichert presented a lesson on pears.

The president closed the meeting with the watchword for the day, "Be Content, But Not Self-Satisfied."

The club's annual family Thanksgiving dinner will be held on Nov. 13 at 6 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wittler.

Gladys Reichert will be hostess for the next regular meeting on Nov. 17.

CHURCH PARTY
Trinity Lutheran Church held its annual Reformation and Halloween costume party in the Trinity School basement on Oct. 28. Games and contests provided entertainment.

Prizes for best costumes went to Adam Sellin and Lizzie Bruggeman, pre-school; Andrea Deck and Aaron Paulsen, kindergarten-third grade; Lonnie Grothe and Jennifer Severson, fourth-eighth grades; and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Deck, adults.

A cooperative lunch was served.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

by Pat Meierhenry

The calves were weaned today. The cows are in the lot south of the barn, bawling. I hope we get some sleep tonight.

It's been a beautiful October. I thought it was my imagination that the leaves on the trees seemed unusually bright. So I took a poll, and everyone agreed: it was an exceptionally brilliant show this year.

I suppose the people who rake them don't necessarily appreciate them; but I've enjoyed them as I drove around the countryside.

I'm baking cookies tonight and they are a total flop! First, I went to the big container I keep my flour in and found it empty. Then I called my "friendly neighborhood grocer", Chick, and told her I'd be over to borrow some. When I got out of the car on her yard, I heard air escaping from one tire. So I grabbed the flour and hurried home.

She followed me to make sure I made it. I couldn't stay in the yard and visit because of the bawling and the wind. So I came in and mixed the cookies, and they are too stiff! I think I'm out of practice.

In addition to a poll regarding fall colors, I've been doing an informal survey on the subject of toilet paper. Now there is a critically significant subject. I maintain that there is less paper on the rolls these days. So far, everyone agrees. The stuff just disappears.

One gal at work has three bathrooms and six children. She has a rule they must measure from wrist to elbow and use only that amount. It was the consensus at our table that that wasn't very much. I know I can really tell when the kids are home.

I had to iron shirts one night this week; the big farmer had none left to wear. Jon and his buddy Denny tell me you don't have to iron them if you take them right out of the dryer and hang them up. Of course, Denny admits that he has to run his hands across the front on the way to school then.

I also got storm windows on this week. It takes good guessing to wait until the boxelders are almost gone and yet get the job done before the first snowfall. I happened to hit a good day. The wind was in the north so it didn't hit me, the sun was shining, and the bugs had disappeared.

Volleyball season is into tournament time and the Winside gals knocked off rated Wausa in the opening round. Football teams are headed for play-offs.

Jack-o-lanterns are on display. Daylight savings time finally goes this weekend. It will be nice to have the sun rise at 7 a.m. instead of 8 a.m. It's also time to cut wood. Happy Halloween!

Working for us.

Senator Jerry Conway is concerned about the quality of our health care.

Senator Jerry Conway has been a leader in the effort to provide our rural communities with affordable, quality health care. Because the battle isn't over, Jerry continues to work to cut the red tape and burdensome regulations that handicap our hometown doctors and hospitals.

Senator Jerry Conway wants to protect those who volunteer their time for their communities.

Senator Jerry Conway has led the effort in the Legislature to protect those who volunteer their time for their communities — the little league coach, the local church or school board member or the volunteer firefighter — from being unnecessarily sued. Volunteers make our communities work — and Jerry wants them to participate without fear of personal liability.

Changing our legal system hasn't been easy. But Senator Jerry Conway has pushed through much-needed reforms that benefit us all.

Vote to return Senator Gerald Conway to the Legislature. He's the voice we need for northeast Nebraska.

Named to All State

Wayne-Carroll musicians gain honor

Fifteen Wayne-Carroll students were awarded All State honors in try outs that took place recently.

Each year, over 2,000 of the best musicians in the state audition for the Nebraska All State Band, Chorus, Jazz Band and Orchestra, sponsored by the Nebraska Music Educators Association.

Selection as a member of these groups is one of the highest musical honors attainable in Nebraska.

Wayne-Carroll students selected for All State Band were Jed O'Leary, senior, clarinet (first chair honors); Amy Bliven, senior, clarinet (second chair honors); Sarah Glinnsmann, junior, clarinet; Tonya Erxleben, senior, bass clarinet; Martin Rump, junior, trumpet (second chair honors); Craig

Dyer, junior, baritone; Eric Liska, senior, baritone; and Casey Dyer, junior, baritone. The band director is Brad Weber.

Selected All State Chorus members were Marta Sandahl and Brett Fuelberth, seniors; and juniors Heather Thompson, Missy Eckhoff and Todd Barner. Choral director is Kathryn Ley.

And selected to the All State Orchestra were Sharon Foote, senior, cello; and Todd Campbell, junior, viola. Orchestra director is Bonita Day.

A final concert for the All State Band, All State Chorus and All State Orchestra will take place on Saturday, Nov. 9, 6 p.m. in the gymnasium at Omaha Northwest.

The concert is open to the public, and there will be a small admission charge.

The Principal's Office

By Donald V. Zells

Sooner or later nearly every parent has a conference with his or her child's teacher. And, when you have a conference, you want to get the greatest possible value from it for your children and for you. To do so, it is important that you understand the purposes of the conferences and the responsibility you have for making it a success.

Every parent-teacher conference has three major purposes: first, to secure information about your child's progress in school; second, to provide information about your child that may be helpful to the teacher; and third, to work with the teacher to resolve problems that stand in the way of your child's learning.

When you have a conference with your child's teacher, you must be clear about the specific objectives of the conference. And you need to tell the teacher at the start of the conference what your objective is. To decide exactly how you will state your objective, you need to ask, "What specifically do I want to know? Do I want to know how my child compares with other children in the class? Do I want to know how I can help my child expand his or her circle of friends? Do I want to know what academic growth has occurred in my child during the last grading period? Do I want to know why my child is having problems in learning or behavior? Do I want to know what I can do to help my child have the most valuable school experience possible?"

Regardless of what you want to know, you must be specific about your objective and ask that the teacher talk with you about it. You should realize that the teacher will also have a specific objective in mind that he or she wants to talk about and it may be different from yours. If so, you can agree at the start of the conference that you will devote some time to both objectives.

The amount of time allocated for the conference is usually quite limited. As a result, there is not always sufficient time to address fully both the parent's and the teacher's objectives. And if there is not enough time, then you should ask the teacher to schedule another conference period later.

You should go to the conference with the assumption that both you and the teacher want the very best for your child. You should trust the teacher and talk with - rather than to - him or her. And you need to be willing to give the teacher as much information as possible to help the teacher achieve his or her objective. If you do, the likelihood of the conference being a fruitful one is greatly enhanced.

How do you get the most out of a parent-teacher conference? You can begin by knowing what you want to get out of it and then addressing that point. Focusing on the objective leads to the most effective use of the limited time available. And going to the conference with a positive attitude increases the possibility of a successful conference. If you have a successful conference with the teacher, you will know that you have done your part in helping your children have the best possible learning experience at school.

Area cattle producers recognized

Logan Bluff Farms of Wayne and JB Ranch of Wayne have been recognized by the American Polled Hereford Association as owners of Polled Hereford cows that have received the Benchmark Dam award.

JB Ranch had three cows that received the award and Logan Bluff Farms has one cow that was honored.

Jock Beeson of Wayne was recognized as the owner of two Polled Hereford cows which received the Benchmark Dam award.

The cow is among 1,044 Polled Hereford females nationwide to earn this honor. Benchmark Dams are found in all corners of the United States, and thrive in a wide range of climates and pasture conditions.

What the individuals in this diverse group of Polled Hereford cows do have in common is that they have all been efficient and consistent producers for their owners. They raise a calf each year, and supply that calf with the milk and the growth potential to perform with the best in their owner's herd.

Calcium, Vitamin D, and Osteomalacia

Is osteomalacia the same as osteoporosis? Are calcium supplements good for osteomalacia?

These two conditions are not the same. Osteoporosis occurs primarily in women after menopause and is due to a loss of calcium from the bone. Preventive measures include regular exercise throughout life, adequate calcium in the diet, and estrogens after menopause.

Osteomalacia is a nutritional deficiency in adults. In children the same deficiency is known as rickets. In children, noticeable signs include bowlegs, knock-knees, or pigeon breast. In adults, calcium leaves the bone resulting in fissure-like fractures.

The deficient nutrient in osteomalacia is vitamin D, not calcium. Because exposure to sunlight causes vitamin D formation by the skin, one might wonder how persons could become deficient of this vitamin. Children deprived of sunlight and having inadequate vitamin D in the diet may develop this deficiency. Similarly, adults confined to their homes may avoid the outdoors and, if there is insufficient vitamin D in the diet, develop a vitamin D deficiency. Without vitamin D, calcium supplements are without value.

HOW DOES getting 75 percent of your tuition paid at Wayne State College sound? If you are an undergraduate student, you may qualify for these and other benefits by joining the Nebraska Army National Guard. All together, the Guard offers nearly $30,000 in educational benefits to its qualified members, including having up to $10,000 of your student loans repaid and putting $140 a month in your pocket from the new G.I. Bill. For more information, call: 375-4653.

The GOLDEN YEARS

Older crime victims in Springfield, Massachusetts, are benefiting from a new support system. Senior citizens often didn't report crimes — for fear of retaliation or inability to cope with the legal process. Following a wave of break-ins in 1986, a network of services was organized. Police, mental health counselors and the district attorney staff coordinate emergency home repairs, transportation to hospitals, police stations and courts, assistance in pursuing court cases, and advice on crime prevention. The seniors now report crimes at the rate of 100 a month, compared to only five when the program started. They have learned that not reporting crimes encourages repeat offenses.

In a study of living arrangements of Americans of different ages, the United States Census Bureau found that 75 percent of men over 65 are living with spouses, but only 38 percent of women over 65 are.

Remember When? On August 1, 1934, a four-engine amphibian airliner broke all existing records on a test flight at an average speed of 157.5 miles per hour. It was the first of the Pan American "Clippers" that opened up scheduled flights across the Atlantic and Pacific.

Presented as a public service to our senior citizens, and the people who care about them by the Wayne Care Centre, 918 Main Street, Wayne, Nebraska 68787.
