At A Glance

Wrap up

Approximately $13,800 has been collected thus far in the residential and business drives conducted by the Wayne United Way.

That's approximately 87 percent of the $15,800 goal established prior to the United Way drive.

The drive will be wrapped up in a couple weeks. Those who have been missed and would like to make a contribution can still do so at both the State National Bank and Trust and the First National Bank.

No reports

Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild said Friday morning that there has been no reports or complaints to the police department concerning the molesting of young students in the city of Wayne.

He said local schools and the police department have been contacted by concerned parents who have heard about possible molestations. Fairchild said that these are rumors only and that nothing has been reported or substantiated by the police or sheriff's department in Wayne.

Voting help

The Wayne County Jaycees will be helping the elderly to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

If there is anyone needing a ride, please call 375-4766. The rides will be provided from 10 a.m. to noon and from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Planetarium

Presentations of "Light Years from Andromeda" are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. on Sundays, Nov. 6, 13 and 20 in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium at Wayne State College.

The current program at Wayne State traces the dramatic changes in our awareness and understanding of the night sky up to modern times, during which scientific studies of outer space help us more fully comprehend the light from distant galaxies, according to Carl Rump, director of the planetarium.

Pork banquet

The Wayne County Pork Producers Awards Banquet and Dance has been scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 13 from 7 p.m. at the Wayne National Guard Armory.

There will be no tickets sold at the door. Banquet tickets are available from any Wayne County bank or Pork Producer. Tickets for the banquet and the dance cost $7.

The dance is open to the public, with doors opening at 9 p.m., at a cost of $2 for admittance.

Popcorn here

The Wayne Kiwanis annual popcorn sales in Wayne will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 8 and Wednesday, Nov. 9, starting at 6:30 p.m. each evening. Proceeds go to support area youth.

Scrimmage

The Wayne State women's and men's basketball teams will hold a black and gold scrimmage on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 8 and 9, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

The scrimmages are the public's first chance to see the 1988-89 Wildcats in action.

Wayne-Carroll stages 'The Murder Room'

The Wayne-Carroll High School Drama Club will present a three-act mystery comedy entitled "The Murder Room."

It will be performed at the high school on Thursday, Nov. 10 and Friday, Nov. 11, with opening curtain both times at 8 p.m.

"The Murder Room" is a comedy spoof of the Agatha Christie type "Whodunit" written by Jack Sharkey. The plot revolves around the disappearance and apparent murder of Edgar Hollister, a member of the English Gentry.

The investigation by Inspector Crandall of Scotland Yard and Constable Howard of the local police provide for two hours of hilarity and suspense.

The cast has been preparing for the show for eight weeks, learning lines, working on English dialect and building the set.

Cast members include Chad Frey as Edgar Hollister; Tammy Griesch as his wife, Mavis Hollister; Kara Weander as their inept daughter, Susan Hollister; Ben Wilson as Barry Drapper, Susan's fiancé; Kristin Rohde as Lottie Malloy, the housekeeper; and Brett Fuelberth as Inspector Crandall.

Backstage crew includes Tony Eisberry, lighting; Jason Poli, sound; and Stacey Woehler, sound and props.

The play is being directed by Ted Blenderman.

Tickets to the show will be available at the door or reserved seats may be obtained by contacting any cast member.

Admission price is $3 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens.

On political issues

Congress candidates questioned

Voters will be marking the ballots for choices to the U.S. Congress, representing Nebraska's First Congressional District.

Candidates are incumbent Republican Doug Bereuter and Democrat Corky Jones.

The Wayne Herald asked several questions to both candidates. Below are their responses.

What type of farm program would be best suited for this ag area?

Bereuter: The 1985 Farm Bill contains strong price support, conservation, food aid and export promotion programs. During the most recent year, net farm income has risen, exports have increased, marginal lands have been retired for conservation uses, and our P.L. 480, Food for peace commitments and use of American farm products have been maintained.

Farm Bill programs and benefits must continue to be targeted toward family-owned and operated farms. More flexibility is needed to enable farmers to better rotate crops for conservation purposes, and to permit farmers to plant crops in short supply (i.e., soybeans and oats) without jeopardizing their program base acreage.

Jones: Our farm program must provide for minimum pricing for commodities; with the purchaser paying the price, not the taxpayer. That price must equal the cost of production — reducing the need for subsidies and saving the taxpayers $14 billion a year. Farmers don't want a handout, they want a fair price just like any other industry.

Production controls established by the majority of producers would not only help reduce grain surpluses; the commodity markets would be less vulnerable to speculation and price fluctuations.

What major steps would you propose in reducing the Federal deficit?

Jones: Our federal deficit didn't happen overnight. It took years of out of control spending and misplaced priorities to get the way it is; it's tripled in the last eight years.

Controlling the deficit requires that we take a hard look at where we spend our money. I believe foreign aid should be one area for reductions; aid to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua especially should be stopped. Our defense procurement policies must be carefully managed — so we stop paying several hundred dollars for hammers, and so defense contractors no longer have blank checks to run up huge overcharges on the government.

We don't need to raise taxes, we need to be sure those who can pay their fair share are paying their fair share. We need to put Americans to work in good paying jobs, not part-time or minimum wage jobs — so they can help support our government and society with taxes paid on a good income.

Many of the good paying jobs have been lost to foreign countries because of our trade deficit. The loss of jobs to the trade deficit not only costs us in income tax collections, the incomes of those displaced workers are not available to percolate through state and local economies. The trade deficit also allows foreign countries to buy America out from under us.

"We need to continue the longest peace time economic expansion in American history — 70 months."

Doug Bereuter

Bereuter: First, Congress should pass a constitutional amendment that requires a balanced federal budget. The amendment I favor would reduce the deficit by limiting Federal spending to a percentage of the gross national product.

Also, Congress should give the President the line-item veto power so that the Chief Executive can, with the stroke of a pen, veto unnecessary pork barrel spending; perhaps we can first experiment with a statutory change for a 10-year trial period.

I believe we should seek, where possible, further spending reductions to reduce the deficit — not increases in the individual or corporate income tax rate. Just as important, we need to continue the longest peacetime economic expansion in American history — 70 months.

What areas would be effective in boosting economic development for small businesses in Nebraska?

Bereuter: The National Federation of Independent Business has presented me with five awards in recognition of my voting record in support of small business — votes to reduce the Federal deficit, reduce taxes and the burdensome regulations that stifle small business.

I have also cosponsored several important initiatives at the Federal level to promote small business and revitalize our rural communities. Throughout my 10 years in Congress I've worked with many small businesses in the First District to assist them in procuring more government business, breaking through the government bureaucracy, and helping them with foreign trade problems.

I am also a part of efforts to help more women become business owners — through their own talent with fair access to private credit sources.

If elected to another term, I will continue to focus my attention on job creation, export expansion, promotion of small business, credit availability and rural/small city revitalization.

Jones: Protecting American markets from floods of imports would do a lot to make more opportunities for small businesses in Nebraska and nationwide. I also believe the Small Business Administration should be used more effectively to encourage small business development and networking to share technology and financial resources.

What Federal highway would you like to see passing north-south through Nebraska, and how can the Federal government help in financing this project?

Jones: I believe Highway 81 serves the most population centers in Nebraska, and provides a good link between Yankton and Wichita. Now that the Interstate System is basically complete nationwide, the government should target the development of major connectors like Highway 81, and help communities work together to plan for that development. Of course, the federal government should make as much funding as possible available for those projects.

"Farmers don't want a hand-out, they want a fair price just like any other industry."

Corky Jones

Nebraska's congressional delegation can do a lot, regardless of their seniority or party affiliation, to tell

Benefit dance date draws near

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The benefit dance to generate funds for the Goldenrod Hills Toys for Tots program is rapidly approaching.

This dance is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 18 from 9 a.m. to 1 a.m. at Wayne State College's Rice Auditorium. "Street Legal" will be the band playing for the dance.

Door prizes, contributed by businesses in the 12-county area, will be given away at the dance.

"I really feel good about the progress we've been making and I am pleased with all the other help from the counties that are involved. There are so many caring and generous people who've showed a great interest, and I think it's just great," said Misti Halsey, outreach worker from the Wayne office of Goldenrod Hills.

One drawing card for the dance will be a scholarship which Goldenrod Hills will be sponsoring, with the help of donations from Wayne County businesses and organizations, Halsey said.

The high school with the greatest representation will be awarded a scholarship to Wayne State College. The high school can then choose a low-income student as the scholarship recipient.

"Wayne State and its president, Dr. Mash, have been good to the program," said Halsey.

"We're still some distance from our goal of donations, but we're getting closer," Halsey said. "Pizza Hut is one of several businesses that

City council candidates speak on issues

There are two races for two positions on the Wayne City Council — for one post in the city of Wayne's Third Ward and for another spot in the city's Fourth Ward.

Contending for the Third Ward post are Ralph Barclay and Randall A. Pedersen. Vying for a city council seat in the Fourth Ward are Gary Van Meter and Jane O'Leary.

The other two positions on the city council, in the Second Ward and in the First Ward, are uncontested. On the ballot for these posts are Darrell Fuelberth and Stanley Hansen.

The Wayne Herald surveyed candidates in the contested races only (Pedersen, Barclay, Van Meter and O'Leary) to get opinions on four different topics. Below are answers to those questions asked.

1. What areas can be reviewed in light of property tax reduction for city of Wayne residents?

Barclay: At this time, I don't think our main concern should be property tax reduction. Tax reduction would be most difficult due to our rate of inflation. Therefore, I think all of our energies should be expended in preventing property tax increases.

Pedersen: In the past four years, the city has not raised the property tax levy for the general fund. In fact, the city asked for a reduction in one of those years. Currently, every property tax dollar is distributed as follows: School District No. 17, 53.6 percent; City, 17.8 percent; Wayne County, 15.8 percent; Airport, 2.9 percent; Various Purpose, 4.4 percent; and Miscellaneous, 5.5 percent.

In order to try to reduce the city portion of the property tax, we should more closely monitor our equipment purchase and get more longevity out of the equipment we own. We could also save money by leasing equipment that we do not use consistently. Recently, we have used city employees to do projects that were previously bid to contractors. Perhaps we could do this more often.

Van Meter: It is a sincere belief that if government budgets were held accountable, as are private business, government would better serve its constituents. Duplication of services between city and county can be studied to eliminate unnecessary expense.

Scaling back paid holidays from 11 to six would give local government the same fiscal accountability as private business. There are "sacred cow's" which should be reviewed periodically so that government will work as efficiently as the people it serves.

O'Leary: Property tax reduction cannot be reviewed as an end in itself — it shouldn't necessarily have to result in an increase in some other area, but rather as a decrease in unnecessary spending. And this means a common-sense look at the possible, as well as the expected, potential costs to the residents and property owners in Wayne in all aspects of city involvement.

2. What will it take to continue allowing Wayne to grow and expand?

O'Leary: I think the key word here is "allow." Wayne will continue to grow and prosper as long as its residents have a positive attitude about living in Wayne and about the community as a whole. People can begin to maintain a positive attitude if the costs of living in Wayne are affordable, and the services are better than adequate.

We need to see the city government as a means of providing quality service to the residents of Wayne at a reasonable cost to all. People come first, the City Government should be the servant.

Van Meter: Wayne's growth will be contingent on what environment we can offer for people to live in, work in and shop in. Competitive housing, adequate jobs and shopping variety are not so much a direct result of good city government; rather it is a by-product which encourages these three ingredients through the years. Effective ordinances to stimulate, and not hinder housing and new business, can be the best effect our city government can have for continued growth.

Pedersen: We need to continue to work more closely with Wayne State College, Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, Wayne Industries, Wayne County Commissioners and the Wayne-Carroll School Board in order to make Wayne a viable place to live, work, shop, educate and raise our families.

We need desperately to expand our retail base in Wayne. If this isn't

Briefly Speaking

Kavanaugh awaiting heart transplant

Laurel and Carroll area resident Jack Kavanaugh is in Minnesota awaiting a heart transplant. Cards and letters will reach the Kavanaghs if addressed to Jack and Betty Kavanaugh, 401 Broadway, Apt. 6, P.O. Box 31, Carver, Minn., 55315-0031.

Soup supper slated at Hoskins

The Concerned Parents Organization of Hoskins Public School will sponsor a soup supper at the school on Sunday, Nov. 13, with serving from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased in advance from school children.

Heier family reunion held

A Heier family reunion was held Oct. 23 at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne. The reunion followed the morning worship service at which Dr. Harlan Heier, pastor of First Evangelical Lutheran Church in York, was guest pastor. Pastor Heier, a son of the congregation, preached in honor of Redeemer's centennial celebration. The oldest family member attending the reunion was Mrs. Emil (Elfrida) Vahlkamp of Wayne, and the youngest was eight-month-old Cassandra Prince, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Prince of Norfolk. Forty-five relatives attended from Wayne, Winside, York, Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, Norfolk and Coleridge. Special guests were members of the William Bartling family attending from Sioux City, Iowa; Austin, Texas; Coleridge, Beiden and Wayne.

Class of '79 addresses sought

The reunion committee for the Wayne-Carroll High School graduating class of 1979 is in need of a current mailing list. Addresses should be sent to Cheryl Roeder-Bowers, 112 Little Caesar Ave., #6, Norfolk, Neb., 68701, or Jeanine Harmer-Longnecker, Winside, Neb., 68790.

Hoskins man marks 89th year

Walter Koehler of Hoskins observed his 89th birthday on Oct. 28 when guests in the Koehler home were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Koehler, Doug, Wayne, Michelle and Miriam of Pierce, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sorensen of Plainview.

Pleasant Valley meets for tour

Members of Pleasant Valley Club met for an outing on Oct. 19. Following lunch at Marilyn's Tea Room in Beemer, clubwomen toured the Kenneth Reikofsky home near Wakefield. Next regular meeting will be Nov. 16 at 2 p.m. in the home of Marjorie Bennett.

PEO Chapter AZ meets in Jordan home

Seventeen members of Wayne PEO Chapter AZ met in the home of Sheryl Jordan on Nov. 1. Assistant hostesses were Elizabeth Griess and Pauline Nuernberger. Kirk Swanson presented a program on voting rights and privileges. She recalled the long and bitter fight before the constitutional right of suffrage was granted to all citizens of the United States. Swanson also urged those present to vote on Nov. 8. Next meeting of Chapter AZ will be Nov. 15 in the home of Jan Lisika.

Lesson focuses on president's wife

Minerva Club met Oct. 24 with hostess Arlene Ellermeier. Minnie Rice presented the program, portraying the life of Abigail Adams, wife of the second president of the United States, John Adams. Next meeting will be Nov. 14 with hostess Inez Olds.

Scholarship awarded

Tammy Kavanaugh, a political science major at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, was recently awarded the McKelvie Scholarship for the 1988-89 academic year. The scholarship is awarded to pre-law and law students who excel in academics, public service and extracurricular activities. Tammy is a senior at UN-L and is the daughter of Vincent and Jeanie Kavanaugh of Dixon.

Baptisms

Amy Lea Wright

Amy Lea Wright, infant daughter of Luther and Melessia Greunke of Cushing, Okla., was baptized Oct. 29 in a private service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside, with the Rev. John Fale officiating. Amy's sponsors were Mrs. Lesli Marshall and Lori Duffek, both of Lincoln. Other guests included Amy's sister Amanda, great grandmother Anna Greunke of Wayne, grandmother Lavern Greunke of Winside, Duane Greunke and Norma Magdanz, both of Wayne, Darrin Greunke of Winside, Todd Greunke of Hoskins, and Jennifer and Travis Duffek of Lincoln. They were all supper guests afterward in the Lavern Greunke home. Amy was born Sept. 29, 1988.

Care centre plans soup, pie supper

The residents council of Wayne Care Centre has set Thursday, Nov. 10 for its third annual soup and pie supper. Serving will be from 6 to 8 p.m. at the care centre.

The menu again this year will be homemade chicken noodle soup, chili, pie, and milk or coffee. Tickets are $2 for all ages.

A spokesman for the care centre said the annual event continues to be the largest and best attended social event for and by the residents.

Proceeds from the soup and pie supper are earmarked for various projects the council hopes to attain. This year, they hope to complete funding for a large-screen television for the main day room.

"THE SOUP AND pie supper serves as a valued social contact between the community and care centre residents," said June Baier, activity coordinator.

"Dollars cannot measure the wealth this event means to the residents. Their needs are just the same as any other individual's needs."

People too often think that the residents of nursing homes have different needs — but they don't. They are wonderful, caring people.

"They may be older and because of age have sight, hearing or body impairments, but it doesn't change their personality and they need the community involvement. After all, a generation ago, they were the community."

THE SUPPER IS planned by the residents council and its president, Elsie Reinhardt, and managed by June Baier, her assistant Mardelle Hallsstrom, social director Lori Sperry, and Nila Schuttler and her dietary staff.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from various staff members. Tables will be set up in the dining room, the chapel area and the day room lounge.

As an added attraction, Christmas crafts and gifts will also be on display for persons to place orders or buy for the holiday season.

Event recognizes extension club achievements

Wayne County home extension club members and clubs will receive recognition during the annual Achievement Program today (Monday).

The event will be held in the Carroll auditorium, with registration at 1:30 p.m. and the program at 2 p.m.

The program will include a presentation by Betty Ann Jordan, District F Director of Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs. Her talk, "Are You Pushing or Pulling?" will focus on the cooperation needed to make an organization successful.

Carroll Elementary School children also will present musical selections.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Engagements

Lies-Brewer

Nichole Lies, daughter of Pete and Sandi Lies of New Rockford, N.D., and Vaughn Brewer, son of Bernadine Lowry of Laurel and Jim Brewer, announce their engagement and approaching marriage.

Plans are underway for a Dec. 27 wedding at the First Congregational Church in New Rockford, N.D.

Miss Lies is a senior at New Rockford High School and is employed at Jeff's Jack and Jill and Fourth Corporation.

Airman Brewer was graduated from Laurel-Concord High School in 1986 and entered the Air Force following graduation as a security specialist. He is stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base near Rapid City, S.D. and is working on his associate degree in industrial security and law enforcement with the Community College of the Air Force.

Selling Buddy Poppies

The Llewellyn B. Whitmore VFW Auxiliary No. 5291 has scheduled its annual sale of Buddy Poppies for Thursday, Nov. 10.

Mayor Wayne Marsh, in a recently signed proclamation, urges residents of Wayne to purchase a Poppy as evidence of their gratitude to the men who risked their lives in defense of freedoms which Americans continue to enjoy.

Poppies are assembled by disabled veterans, and proceeds are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

News and Notes

by Mary Temme, Extension Agent-Home Ec.

Fast foods should be chosen carefully

Over one-half of American adults eat a fast-food item every day, and many health-conscious consumers have begun to question the benefits of these high-calorie, high-fat, high-sodium foods.

Being nutritionally selective may mean fewer choices at the fast-food counter, but there are ways to enjoy the convenience offered and still enjoy a healthy meal.

Considerations in fast-food selection include:
 —Fried foods such as chicken, fish and French fries may pose a problem if they are prepared with beef fat rather than vegetable oils.

—Anything that implies "bigness" may mean more fat and calories.

—When ordering fried foods, strip off the heavy breading or fat-laden skin. Items labeled "crispy" or those with heavy coatings are higher in fat and calories than regular types.

—Fast-food roast beef usually has less fat than a hamburger.

—At a salad bar, concentrate on fresh vegetables and be wary of bacon bits, pasta or potato salads with heavy oil or mayonnaise dressings, and creamy salad dressings.

—Processed meals on pizza are high in fat and sodium. Ask for green peppers, onions and mushrooms and skip the extra cheese. Pizza with thicker crusts also have more calories.

—Breakfast entrees can be deceiving. Biscuit and croissant entrees may not be the best choice for those watching fat intake. Adding sausage or bacon further increases high-fat content. If fast-food breakfasts are frequent, stick to a plain English muffin or scrambled eggs with juice or low-fat milk. With the English muffin, skip the butter and add a small amount of jelly for a lower-fat version.

—Baked potatoes are a better menu choice than French fries, if you leave off the butter, sour cream, cheese and other high-fat toppings.

Fast-food choices for people watching sodium intake may be more difficult, especially if fast-food is eaten often. Many entrees are high in sodium. Salads and plain baked potatoes are good choices.

Jones Intercable brings variety to Wayne

LINDA SWEETLAND is the Wayne office customer service representative.

Jones Intercable, Inc., the nation's 14th largest cable television company, has provided patrons with quality cable television service and more choices.

Close to 1,200 Wayne customers are currently served by Jones Intercable.

The cable company, based in Englewood, Colorado, took over operations of Wayne Cablevision — a company that had been established in Wayne since 1967 — during February of 1988.

Bill Dennis has worked with Wayne Cablevision, and now Jones Intercable, for nearly seven years. He is manager of the Wayne office. Linda Sweetland serves as customer service representative.

From the Wayne office, Dennis works with the installation and maintenance of the Jones Intercable system. In addition to hooking up cable to residences in Wayne, Dennis also takes several trips each week to the cable company tower southwest of Wayne, where at times he makes adjustments to bring greater quality to the television picture that the cable patrons view.

Also at the tower site are two satellite dishes which pick up the wide variety of satellite channels which Jones Intercable offers.

Dennis said that since Jones Intercable purchased Wayne Cablevision, eight channels have been added — six to the basic service and two to the number of pay channels.

BEFORE THE purchase, the channel line-up featured ESPN, CNN, PBS, KPTM (Independent), WGN, WTBS, CBN, The Nashville Network, Nickelodeon, Arts and Entertainment, C-Span, MTV and Wayne State College. Network channels (NBC, ABC and CBS) from Sioux City and Omaha were also available, along with pay channels HBO and Disney.

Jones Intercable added The Weather Channel (2), Mind Extension University (10), TNT-Turner Network Television (18), VISN (24), The Discovery Channel (26) and Home Shopping Club (27). The two new movie pay channels added were Showtime (14) and Cinemax (19).

"Along with the additional channels, we have also upgraded our amplifying system to increase our channel-carrying capacity," Dennis said.

"And we have replaced all of the equipment at the lower station. We rewired it and furnished it with more state-of-the-art equipment," he said.

"We also put in a new type of scrambling system for the Disney channel, which will make it more compatible for cable-ready television sets," he mentioned.

Sweetland handles the accounts and bookkeeping system in the Wayne office.

THE COMPANY is now in the process of converting to a new computer and billings system.

With the new Cable Data Computer System, patrons will receive a billing statement at the beginning of each month (for that month's cable service) instead of receiving one billing book annually.

Sweetland said work orders, billing and account information can all be placed on the new computer system, which will enhance the quality service already provided to Jones Intercable customers.

Dennis said the Wayne office also carries converter boxes for televisions that are not cable-ready. "If anyone has problems with their reception or with their cable service, don't hesitate to give us a call. We don't charge for a service call," Dennis said.

The Jones Intercable office is open five days a week (Monday through Friday) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

INSTALLATION AND service of cable service is done by Dennis from the Wayne office. Above, he adjusts an amplifier near a city pole.

MANAGER OF THE Wayne Jones Intercable office, Bill Dennis, makes some adjustments at the station southwest of Wayne.

Spencer next Trojans advance

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Wakefield defensive football standouts John Wriedt and Doug Roberts let visiting Clarkson know early in the first quarter of the first round of state Wednesday night in Wakefield, that they were not going to find much success running the football against them.

Wriedt finished the contest with 17 tackles and Roberts eight, in leading Wakefield to a 32-3 first round win. Wakefield will now travel to Spencer tonight, (Monday), to play the top rated team in D-1, Spencer-Naper in quarterfinal action.

Offensively, quarterback Chris Looft beautifully executed a Wakefield option offense to the tune of 354 total rushing yards.

Tony Halverson was the main workhorse behind Looft, rushing for 164 yards on 26 carries. Scott Lund rushed the ball 14 times for 79 yards and Looft gained 67 yards on just nine carries.

"We're very pleased with how we performed," coach Dennis Wilbur said. "Of course we still have a couple of areas we would like to touch up on before we play Spencer."

Wilbur is referring to cutting down on turnovers and penalties. Wakefield definitely had the edge on Clarkson all night. The Trojans used their ball control style of play to chalk up 22 first downs, while allowing only eight.

The rush defense was phenomenal allowing only a net total of 67 yards on 32 Clarkson attempts. "I had a feeling during the middle of the week that if we executed right, we could be successful with our game plan," Wilbur said.

Wakefield's ball control was so successful in fact, that the Trojans didn't have to punt the ball one time.

Tony Halverson got the scoring started in the first quarter on a 21 yard burst up the middle. The extra point conversion failed as the Trojans led 6-0. Clarkson however, moved right down the field but was stopped on downs inside the Wakefield 15 yard line. They did however settle for a field goal, which was all the scoring they would see.

The second quarter saw Wakefield score on an 11 yard pass from Looft to Doug Roberts on a fourth down and nine play. Tony Halverson completed the two point conversion for a 14-3 lead.

Wakefield scored once again in the second quarter, this time on an option by Looft which netted seven yards to paydirt, for a 20-3 intermission lead.

Halverson scored both second half touchdowns for Wakefield on runs of three and one yards. "I thought that the fan support from area towns as well as from here in Wakefield was tremendous," Wilbur said. "We really appreciate area support." Looft not only gained nearly 70 yards rushing the ball, but he threw for 72 yards in five completions. Roberts was the main target catching three for 25 yards, while Kurt Boeckenhauer caught one big pass for 39 yards and Stuart Clark caught one pass for seven yards.

Again the defense played a spectacular game. Scott Lund contributed 13 tackles and Tony Halverson, nine, along with Mark Johnson's nine, to offset the performance of John Wriedt.

Tony Krusemark and Andy McQuisain combined for seven tackles, but more importantly, three blocked passes and two interceptions. The defense had three total interceptions with Halverson getting the third.

The Trojan defense had 10 total tackles for minus yardage.

Wayne rises to defeat Cedar

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

It was late fall of 1975 the last time the Wayne Blue Devil volleyball team made it to the annual State Tournament in Lincoln. The streak of 13 years came to an end Thursday night in Norfolk's community college gymnasium.

A packed house witnessed a phenomenal volleyball match with Wayne and highly state rated Harrington Cedar Catholic.

Wayne and coach Marlene Uhing's game plan was simple. Everyone would have to contribute and the communication on the floor would have to be vital, if the Blue Devils were to upend the predicted winners of Cedar.

Although it was 1975 when Wayne last made it to Lincoln for the volleyball state tourney, it hasn't been since 1978 since they even made it to the district finals.

Cedar, definitely had the edge, coming into the game with already two victories against the Blue Devils this season.

But it was Wayne who would make the fewest mistakes in this match, which was the most important of all three played by the two schools.

The Blue Devils jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first set, only to have Cedar come back to go up 4-3. Wayne regained the lead with a 6-4 advantage; only to have Cedar come back and lead 8-6.

Wayne then came back to lead 11-9, but once again it was Cedar bouncing back to lead 14-11. Cedar, looking to put the nail in the coffin for the first set, had its student section chanting and pointing victoriously to the Wayne student section.

Wayne however, had the last laugh. Robin Luft began serving at 11:14, and served out the set to give Wayne the victory at 16-14.

The second set witnessed seven ties between the two teams before Wayne eased ahead enough to claim victory at 15-9. Karmyn Koenig served the final point.

"It was a very exciting game to watch," Uhing said. "It was a situation where both teams had a lot of players who had never been in a district final before."

Uhing was very happy for her players following the win. "As a coach you want your kids to experience the feeling of making it to state," Uhing said. "These girls worked extremely hard all season and they had to play through the tough times."

Since the Tilden Invitational held October 1, Wayne sported a 11-2 record with the two losses coming at the hands of Cedar.

Uhing was also pleased with the fan support, especially with the boys who led the cheers. "The guys who got dressed up in support of our team really made it fun for the girls," Uhing said. "We also appreciated Brad Weber and the band."

Robin Luft was the leader in scoring for the Blue Devils with 10 points and one ace. Teresa Ellis mastered five aces against Cedar enroute to her eight points, while Karmyn Koenig scored five points on two aces.

Kristy Hansen and Karmyn Koenig each had five kill spikes apiece while Robin Luft and Teresa Ellis managed four. Dana Nelson was credited with three kill spikes.

Kristy Hansen notched 10 assists from setting the ball while Ellis had five. As you can see, it was a total balanced team effort.

"As a team we had 10 serving aces," Uhing said. "Our team certainly peaked at the right time."

IT WAS A TIME for emotions to run high for the Wayne volleyball team. The Blue Devils ousted state rated Cedar Catholic in straight sets during the B-5 district finals Thursday in Norfolk.

Sports Briefs

Turn in uniforms

Boys participating in city rec football, should turn in uniforms completely washed and dried. The middle center above the firehall is the return center for the uniforms and they may be turned in Monday through Friday between 3:30-6 p.m. and on Thursday and Friday night, 7-10 p.m.

Rec basketball to begin

City recreation director Hank Overin has announced the starting dates for youth basketball for boys in grades 3-6 and girls in grades 5-6.

Wednesday, November 16, third and fourth grade boys will commence practicing with the third graders going from 3:30-4:30 p.m., and the fourth graders, 4:30-5:30.

Thursday, November 17, fifth and sixth grade boys will begin practices with the fifth grade going from 3:45-4:45 p.m., and the sixth grade from 4:45-6 p.m.

Fifth and sixth grade girls basketball practice will start Friday, November 17 with the fifth grade attending from 3:45-4:45 p.m., and the sixth grade from 4:45-6 p.m.

The schedule of practices between Monday, November 20, and December 23 will run as follows: Monday and Thursday, fifth and sixth grade boys with the times the same as previously mentioned; Tuesday and Friday, fifth and sixth grade girls with the same times; Wednesday and Saturdays, third and fourth grade boys. Wednesdays will see the same time as previously mentioned, but Saturdays will have the third graders attending practice from 10-11 a.m., and the fourth graders from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Following Christmas break the schedule will be changed with all practices taking place at Wayne High School.

The new schedule will be published in the Wayne Herald when available. The above rec schedule is without auditorium rentals.

End season at 4-13 Winside ousted

The Lady Wildcats of Winside ended their 1988 volleyball season Tuesday night, falling in the finals of sub-district action to Clarkson in straight sets, 3-15, 12-15.

Winside was victorious in the first round of sub-districts as they downed Coleridge for the second time in as many outings, 11-15, 15-5, 15-6.

"We came out and played real hard during the Coleridge match," coach Paul Giesselmann said. "In fact, some aspects of the match saw us playing the best volleyball we had all season."

Giesselmann highlighted the efforts of Christina Bloomfield and Kristy Miller as having outstanding performances.

Bloomfield blistered the Coleridge defense with her 25 of 27 serving performance with 10 aces. Lisa Janke followed with a 12 of 13 outing and five aces. Kristy Miller was successful on all seven of her serves for two aces while Shannon Holdorf was successful on eight of 12 attempts with three aces.

Jenny Jacobsen was five of five and Tania Hartmann seven of nine with one ace. Miller and Bloomfield were the leaders in the spiking aspect as well with Miller connecting on 20 of 24 spikes with 15 aces. Bloomfield was 16 of 17 with six aces to offset Miller.

Wendy Boldt and Lisa Janke combined for a perfect 10 of 10 with four aces. Jenny Jacobsen was two of three with one ace. Hartmann was 43 of 53 in the setting department.

4-13 record

With The Wildcats loss to Clarkson in the finals of sub-district action, the season record ended at 4-13. Considering Winside's youth and inexperience, Giesselmann feels his squad will rebound for next season.

"I felt that we ended the season on a positive note," Giesselmann said. "Our four wins came with two victories against Coleridge, one with Wausa and one with Wynot."

Kristy Miller was the serving leader for Winside with her 10 of 11 performance with three aces. Tania Hartmann, Christina Bloomfield, Jenny Jacobsen and Shannon Holdorf all combined for a perfect 18 of 18 with one ace.

Miller was five of five with three spikes to lead in spiking also. Meanwhile, Tania Hartmann was good on 14 of 18 sets.

SCOTT LUND pushes forward for extra yardage against Clarkson in first round state action.

Land owners cautious with hunters

What would you do if someone, perhaps a stranger, asks to hunt on your land?

Your answer, whether favorable or not, will likely depend for the most part on past experiences with hunters rather than your impression of the present asker. Before you make your decision, there are some things you should consider.

First, who is this stranger? Second, what are some of the pros and cons of granting permission to hunt? Lastly, if you decide to grant permission, what can you do to enhance the experience for those hunting and at the same time minimize the potential for conflict with your operational interests?

Ironically, most hunters who ask permission to hunt on your land may not be strangers at all. Nine times out of 10 they may be local people and in many cases farmers or landowners like yourself.

Some of the strangers may be farmers from other parts of the state who may not have the wetlands to support waterfowl or the rangeland to support upland game. Or, they may be farm kids, one generation off the farm with folks still farming. In a lot of cases, there wasn't enough land to go around so they had to move to the city.

In any event, it is possible that many of them have connections in one way or another to the land and most of these may still be farmers, ranchers and landowners at heart.

If you decide to allow others to hunt on your property, what can you do to enhance the experience for both hunter and landowner while minimizing potential conflicts?

Since Nebraska farmers frequently allow the public free use of their land for hunting, special legislation has been passed protecting farmers from liability. This liability protection thus encourages farmers to allow their property to be used for hunting or other recreational use without charge.

If, however, a landowner receives economic benefit by charging a fee to come on his land, he has a duty to make the premises safe or to post signs pointing out potential hazards. This is consistent with general law in Nebraska that limits a landowner's liability where no charge is made.

Regardless if you decide to charge a fee or not, there are some additional steps you can take to protect yourself and your property. First, interview every applicant yourself. During the interview find out who the person is who wants permission and also lay out the ground rules.

One way to ensure all these conditions are met is to consider a written courtesy hunting permit that spells out the conditions. Also, all Nebraska Game and Parks Commission offices, conservation officers, and permit vendors have Nebraska Hunter Identification cards available upon request.

Hunters can fill out a card and give it to a landowner when asking permission to hunt. Completed cards have the hunter's address, phone and vehicle license number, and a statement that the hunter agrees to proceed in a responsible and ethical manner.

Landowners might ask prospective hunters for a Nebraska Hunter Identification card or for similar information about the hunter. Landowners also might pick up a few blank cards and ask that prospective hunters fill them out.

General election choices many on November 8

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The level of voter participation in Tuesday's (Nov. 8) general election is anticipated to be high, with presidential, state and local races and other issues such as 402 highlighting the ballot.

On the presidential and vice presidential ticket are Republicans George Bush and Dan Quayle; Democrats Michael Dukakis and Lloyd Bentsen; New Alliance Party members Lenora B. Fulani and Joyce Dattner; and Libertarian Party members Ron Paul and Andre V. Marrou.

Nebraskans will be electing a U.S. Senator. On the ballot are Republican incumbent Dave Karnes, Democrat Bob Kerrey and New Alliance Party member Ernie Chambers.

A U.S. Congressman for Nebraska's First District will also be elected. The Republican candidate is incumbent Doug Bereuter and the Democrat candidate is Corky Jones.

Seeking the Legislative District 17 State Senator spot are incumbent Gerald Conway of Wayne and Tore Nelson of Emerson. Those voting in the 19th Legislative District have a choice of either Bert M. Evans or incumbent Elroy Hefner as their state senator.

IN WAYNE County, Robert Nissen, a Republican, is running unopposed for county commissioner of the second district. A race exists for three spots on the Wayne County Noxious Weed Control Authority Board between Lester Menke, Kevin Kai, Dwaine Rethwisch and Don Pippitt.

Races exist in two of the three Dixon County Supervisor districts. In District 2, candidates are Republican Earl Rowland and Democrat Palmer Lund. In District 4, Democrat Dorothy Matthes is running unopposed. And in District 6, the candidates are Republican Dale Anderson and Democrat Eugene Swanson.

Three positions are open on the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education, and there are three candidates on the ballot. They include incumbents Sidney Hillier and Neil Sandahi, and Kenneth Dahl.

On the ballot for three positions on the Winside Board of Education are Connie Bargstadt, Pat Miller, Doug Shelton, Dean Mann, Daniel Jaeger and Randall Jacobsen.

Three positions are open on the Allen Board of Education. Those spots being sought by Larry Boswell, Judy Vavra, Diane Blohm and Myrna McGrath.

IN THE Wakefield Board of Education election for three positions, there are six candidates — Michael Salmon, Joyce Kuhl, Sanford Ofte, Ronald Wensfrand, J. Dave Rusk and Lawrence Anderson.

Four positions on the Laurel-Concord Board of Education will be contested by eight candidates. They include Gene Quist, Jim Lipp, Bob Dickey, Douglas Krie, Sharon Thomas, Garry Anderson, Craig Monson and Kami Asbra.

In the city of Wayne election, Ralph Barclay and Randall Pedersen are vying for the Third Ward councilman post. Gary Van Meter and Jane O'Leary are seeking the position of council member representing the city's Fourth Ward.

Darrel Fuelberth is running unopposed for the city council's Second Ward post and Stanley C. Hansen also is unopposed in the First Ward representative spot.

There is a race for the city of Wakefield's First Ward post between Alfred Benson and Gene Kratke. In the Second Ward race, candidates for the one seat are Fred Salmon and Gerald Muller.

In the city race for Laurel mayor, candidates are James Recob and Gerald Mallatt. For the Ward 2 West race, the candidates include Duane Stingley and Leo Casey.

Mitch Nissen is the only name on the ballot for selection to the Wayne Municipal Airport Authority Board.

VOTERS WILL be asked if the following judges should be retained in office: Mark A. Buchholz, Ben Novicoff and Paul E. LeClair (all judges of the Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court); Richard Garden (judge of the District Court in the Ninth District); and Phillip Riley (judge of the County Court in the Ninth District).

On a non-political ticket, Steven Becker and Walter Thompson are vying for the one position as a representative of the Third District on the State Board of Education.

Richard Corkle and J. Paul McIntosh are unopposed for positions on the Northeast Technical Community College positions.

Margaret Robinson is running unopposed for the University of Nebraska Third District Regent position.

On the state ticket will be the election of a public service commissioner for the third district — with candidates including Republican Duane Gay and Democrat Robert Yourig.

For the one director position within each of the eight sub-districts in the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District, candidates include: Sub-District 1 — Dale K. Lingeletter; Sub-District 2 — John K. Hansen; Sub-District 3 — Dennis E. Newland; Sub-District 4 — Alvin G. Wagner, Richard Gavitt; Sub-District 5 — Howard F. Hansen; Sub-District 6 — Emil D. Sobota; Sub-District 7 — Charles Reppert, Barbara Greve; and Sub-District 8 — Clinton Von Segern.

NEBRASKA voters will also be voting on three proposed amendments and two initiative petition measures.

The first amendment deals with a constitutional amendment to change the finance provisions relating to the redevelopment of substandard or blighted property by further defining the project area.

A second amendment concerns the authorization of wagering by the pari-mutuel method on horse races run either within or outside of the state if such wagering is conducted at a licensed racetrack.

And the third amendment (in two parts) provides that only registered voters, instead of electors, may sign petitions for initiatives or referendums; and to allow persons who have attained age 18 years on or before the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November to vote in the calendar year in which such persons attain the age of 18 years.

The initiatives include Measure 402 and Measure 403. Measure 402 asks if legislation be enacted which would withdraw Nebraska from the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact, and which would require the approval of a majority of electors statewide and a majority of electors of the local area affected prior to the construction of any low-level radioactive waste disposal facility in Nebraska.

Measure 403 asks if the Nebraska Constitution can be amended to establish a right to keep and bear arms for lawful purposes, and to provide that such right shall not be infringed by the state or any subdivision of the state.

Rural electric groups oppose Initiative 402

Two major Nebraska rural electric groups recently passed resolutions opposing the initiative to withdraw Nebraska from the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact.

The board of directors of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, Lincoln, and the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative, Inc., Columbus, both approved similar resolutions in opposition to Initiative 402. Both organizations are composed of rural electric systems (public power districts and cooperatives)

The initiative will appear on the November 8 ballot and will ask voters to decide whether Nebraska should withdraw from the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact and require a statewide and local vote to approve the siting and construction of the disposal facility.

The two groups agree there is no feasible alternative which offers a more economical, efficient or safe arrangement for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste. Withdrawal from the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact and the ensuing uncertainty which would arise following the withdrawal could lead to premature closing of the two nuclear power plants serving Nebraska, leading to the need for higher cost replacement power and higher rates for electric service.

In their resolutions, both the Nebraska Rural Electric Association and the Nebraska G&T Cooperative support the State of Nebraska's continued membership in the Compact and support its goals for safe and efficient disposal of low-level radioactive waste.

The groups, also in their resolutions, urge Nebraska citizens to vote

"No" on withdrawing from the Compact and requiring both a statewide and local vote to approve the siting and construction of a disposal facility.

The Nebraska Rural Electric Association is the statewide trade association for 32 rural public power districts and electric cooperatives serving in Nebraska.

The Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative is a wholesale power supplier for 24 rural public power districts and cooperatives (of which the Wayne County Public Power District is a member).

What has Senator Conway done for us?

- ★ Co-introduced tough laws against child pornography
- ★ Worked for legislation to allow our seniors to maintain their homes if financial crisis occurs
- ★ Introduced legislation to help Nebraska's small businesses compete with large corporations
- ★ Was successful in changing the law to reduce the risk of victims having to pay for accidents caused by uninsured motorists
- ★ Had several bills passed that make our government services cheaper and more responsive
- ★ Proposed new law enforcement tools to prosecute those who manufacture and sell drugs
- ★ Has been a leader in changing laws to make quality health care in our rural communities more available and affordable
- ★ Introduced specific legislation and supported other senators' efforts to provide property tax relief

the story of the need for an improved north/south expressway and help arrange the project's completion.

Bereuter: While I believe it is very important for the future of Nebraska that we accelerate highway construction in our state with top priority on at least one north-south, four-lane expressway, I do not believe it appropriate for me to endorse a specific proposal or influence a state decision to designate a north-south expressway.

However, I do feel that the state must direct more revenue resources to match and supplement Federal funds allocated from the Federal Highway Trust Fund, and that, in turn, points to the generation of more state revenue using either revenue bonds or other state funds.

For my part, I will continue to do what I can to assure that Nebraska receives its full and fair share of Federal monies from the Highway Trust Fund and the necessary flexibility to use these funds in order to assist highway construction activities — including the possibility of expressways.

Also, I stand ready to assist, from a Federal standpoint, in any manner that my position as a U.S. Congressman permits as the state proceeds with highway construction activities.

Squadron promotions

The Wayne squadron of the Civil Air Patrol announces the promotions of Airman Lance Gunderson and Airman Leon Brasch to their current ranks.

Three new Cadets joined the squadron during the month of October. They are Cadet Recruit David Foote, Cadet Recruit Mike Fluent and Cadet Recruit Spencer Bayles, all of Wayne. The squadron moved its meeting room from the Wayne Municipal Airport to Room 6 of the Carhart Science Building at Wayne State College. This move is to accommodate the growth of the Wayne Squadron.

In September, the Wayne Squadron Air and Ground search teams took part in the Nebraska Wing Search and Rescue exercise at Norfolk. The air team flew several sorties to maintain expertise in target identification and directing ground teams to the target site. The ground team took part in numerous ground searches to maintain their expertise in ground to air coordination and on site procedures.

These procedures include first aid for injured persons, transportation of the injured to medical facilities and crash site security.

The Civil Air Patrol Cadet Corp is open to all persons over the age of 13 or have completed sixth grade. The Civil Air Patrol Senior Corp is open to all persons 18 and over. For more information contact Capt. Orin Zach at 375-4664 or 1Lt. Ron Lundahl at 256-3041.

donated substantial amounts towards the scholarship."

ANOTHER contest in association with the benefit dance will be to award a first place prize to the school that brings the most toys to the Nov. 18 event.

"Goldenrod Hills would like to stress that no alcoholic beverages will be served or permitted in the benefit dance vicinity, as Wayne State prohibits the use of alcohol on campus," said Misty Halsey. "The event will be very well policed."

Halsey also said that Goldenrod Hills will again have a tree at Fantasy Forest Dec. 1-4 in Wayne at the city auditorium. "We would like to encourage everyone to participate in the project by adopting the children or by getting involved in some other way," she said.

Goldenrod Hills is also collecting non-perishable food items for food baskets that will be distributed throughout the 12 counties to the elderly residents.

"Wayne grocers have responded with donations to this program and we have also asked major soft drink providers to donate to the food baskets," Halsey said.

Local pharmacies have also donated material to help make the boxes appear more festive.

Council

done by other interested groups or organizations, then the city must take the lead.

New and expanding industry is great for Wayne, but if we cannot provide the goods and services for these people and the agricultural community, Wayne will not grow and prosper. Every dollar spent outside of Wayne for goods and services that we should be able to provide is a step in the wrong direction.

We need to aggressively pursue venture capital for people willing to open or expand existing retail business.

Barclay: The city government must be accountable to the residents of Wayne. If the government is accountable, making wise decisions that are fiscally responsible, then Wayne will grow and prosper.

3. What kind of incentives should the city provide in requests from new or present expanding industry?

Van Meter: There is certainly a lot of "armchair quarterbacking" to this question by residents. While reluctant to agree to "free lunches" for new or existing industries, I believe a majority of property owners wish to see industry succeed in Wayne, but not at the expense of other segments of our economy.

Each industry may require different needs and incentives — the responsible participation of council members the voters elect are the residents' most reliable safeguard to see that fair and adequate incentives are established for future industrial development.

O'Leary: Incentives are a very complex situation. The kinds of incentives that can be provided will vary according to availabilities from state programs, specific locations, and time frame. In addition, nearly all industries would have different priorities in making requests. The trick would be to award the available incentives in the most fair possible process, using general guidelines of criteria and qualifications, all in light of what is available and, most important, in regard to what will be of best benefit to the residents of Wayne.

Barclay: In my opinion we already possess incentives for new or expanding industry, a clean progressive city, that contains a friendly and energetic population. Further expenditures are not needed to attract industry. Let's radiate a positive attitude emphasizing our strengths.

Pedersen: The city is currently doing all it can in providing incentives for new or existing industries. Mandated by state statute, the city can provide or extend utilities and negotiate power rates for large users.

Each situation may vary slightly due to the type of financing the industry would be using. The city will not be able to provide more incentives until state statutes are changed. Wayne has been very willing to provide these incentives and this willingness must be continued.

Would you be in favor of a city sales tax if it came up again for the public to vote on?

Pedersen: If I am reelected to the city council and the city sales tax issue is on our agenda, I will be completely in favor of putting the city sales tax issue on the ballot. As an elected official, I am obligated to allow the people of Wayne to make the decision.

The issue here is not whether I favor or oppose the city sales tax issue, but rather allowing the citizens of Wayne the opportunity to voice their opinion through voting on this important issue.

Whether the city sales tax passes or fails, the people have spoken. After all, that is what democracy is all about.

As an elected official, I am appalled at the voter apathy! Only one-third of the registered voters of Wayne decided the important city sales tax issue when it was on the ballot previously. Please make an effort to vote on all important issues.

Your vote does count! Please vote on Nov. 8.

Barclay: At the present time, I would be opposed to a city sales tax. We need a good rationale for this type of increase and that is not now evident.

O'Leary: How I personally would vote in a sales tax election would depend on the specific reason for such a tax, the over-all benefits or deterrents to the entire community of Wayne, and the general implementation of city sales tax in communities in Eastern Nebraska that are of similar size.

Right now, all of these variables are speculative. However, should the implementation of a city sales tax be a reasonable solution to crucial budget situations, I would have no problem asking the Wayne voters to make the decision in an election.

Van Meter: Until a responsible program will assure residents that a direct dollar for dollar property tax relief will come about as a result of a city sales tax, no.

Republicans gather in Wayne to rally around Bereuter, Karnes

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

A visit to Wayne by Nebraska Governor Kay Orr, which highlighted a final stop by the Karnes Karavan as it traveled through northeast Nebraska, took place Thursday evening at the city auditorium.

The soup supper event, hosted by area Republicans, drew over 300 people. The Karnes Karavan, featuring U.S. Senate candidate David Karnes and U.S. Congress candidate Doug Bereuter, started at Norfolk and after touring northeast Nebraska, made their final stop in Wayne.

Orr, in her address to the audience, said that she was thrilled to see the "wonderful turnout" greeting the Karnes Karavan, but that she wasn't surprised.

"I've been to Wayne before and I know the good people that you have here. You are people who care very much about your state and your community," Orr said.

Orr quoted excerpts from editorials from several Nebraska daily newspapers which have endorsed Republican Karnes over his Democratic opponent, Bob Kerrey.

"If you have been all discouraged by recent polls, you had better stay tuned to what has been happening the last three days," said Orr.

"The polls are now showing Karnes surging ahead at such a rapid rate," she added.

Orr said that when she was running for treasurer in 1982, newspaper polls conducted close to election time reported that she was behind by seven points. "Well, I won by 16 points," she said.

"Either those polls were wrong or I made up 23 points in six days," she added.

THE SAME incident happened, she said, when she ran in the primary for governor and was trailing in the polls.

Orr also praised the efforts of Congressman Doug Bereuter, who she said has "made the difference in this election."

Bereuter told the audience that the Karnes Karavan has had great receptions throughout northeast Nebraska. "I have a race too. And I'm not taking it for granted," he said. Running against Bereuter is Democrat Corky Jones of Brownville.

"There is a clear difference between my opponent and myself on ag policy and foreign trade policy," he said.

Bereuter voiced his endorsement for Dave Karnes. "I am enthusiastically behind Karnes. It has made a difference, during the last 20 months, to have Karnes in the U.S. Senate," he said.

"I've never had a Republican U.S. Senator to work with in these last 10 years," mentioned Bereuter.

He predicted that George Bush will win in Nebraska by an overwhelming margin. "It just makes common sense that we should have a Republican senator working with him," Bereuter said.

KARNES, IN addressing the audience, said a lot of people said that he wouldn't win in the Republican primary and that he wouldn't be a part of the Republican team when getting to the general election in November. The first poll taken showed Karnes had a less than one percent name recognition.

"Everyone wrote us off in the primary election and we won by over 10 points," Karnes said.

An Oct. 27 poll showed the Bush-Karnes team at 44 percent and Dukakis-Kerrey team at 42 percent, Karnes added.

"We feel that this race is an extremely winnable race," he said. "Out of 800,000 votes cast, I expect this election to come down to 2,000 votes."

"There are a lot of people out there that are just forming their opinion," he added.

Karnes told the audience that his campaign would be out-spended by the Kerrey campaign by up to $500,000. He said 24,000 Nebraskans have contributed to the Karnes campaign.

George Bush will be the next president, he said. Kerrey, who is supporting Dukakis, creates a very basic difference between his philosophy and his opponent, he said.

"We're a team in Nebraska. We're a team in Washington. George Bush and I are very close and personal friends," Karnes said.

"It's inconceivable for me in Nebraska to think that people like yourself and many others are going to vote for George Bush [or Doug Bereuter] and not vote for somebody like Dave Karnes. Why vote for Bush and send someone to the senate who is going to oppose everything that George Bush stands for," he said.

Karnes, the youngest U.S. senator in the country, said he is committed to being the very best senator that Nebraska has ever had — day in and day out. He asked the audience to compare the level of commitment between Kerrey and himself.

HILLTOP LARKS

Mrs. John Bowers hosted the Nov. 1 meeting of Hilltop Larks Social Club. Attending were seven members and guests Mrs. Emma Eckert of Wayne, Mrs. Tom Bowers and Kayla Schmale.

Mrs. Ray Roberts conducted the business meeting. The hostess reported on the last meeting and read the treasurer's report. Members answered roll call with a craft item or project.

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Mike Potts, president; Mrs. Ronald Rees, vice president; and Mrs. Merton Jones, secretary-treasurer and news reporter. Beginning in January, meetings will be held the first Tuesday of each month.

A Christmas supper with husbands as guests will be held in December and will include a gift exchange. Mrs. Ed Schmale will host the Jan. 3 afternoon club meeting.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Eight members attended the Nov. 2 meeting of Town and Country Home Extension Club in the home of Mrs. Merlin Kenny.

The hostess conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. Lowell Olson reported on the last meeting and read the treasurer's report.

For roll call, members named an elderly person they admire. The lesson, "Aging," was given by Mrs. Willis Lage.

The club made Christmas tree decorations for the Fantasy Forest display at Wayne city auditorium in early December.

A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Dec. 3 in the Willis Lage home with husbands as guests.

EIGHT ATTEND STAR

Mrs. Ivan Gubbels of Randolph was a guest at the Nov. 1 meeting of Star Home Extension Club. Hostess was Mrs. Randy Gubbels, with eight members attending.

Mrs. Keith Owens conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. Terry Roberts reported on the last meeting. Mrs. John Rees presented the lesson, entitled "Plant Parenthood."

The group made plans for a Christmas supper with husbands as guests on Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Carroll Lounge and Steakhouse. There will be a gift exchange, and each member is asked to bring a dozen cookies.

There were 14 present when Carroll Senior Citizens met for an afternoon of cards on Oct. 31 at the fire hall. Prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cook.

The group had a surprise visit from the Raisin Man for Halloween, and each received candy. A cooperative lunch was served.

Next meeting will be today (Monday) when Mrs. Ron Sebade, LPN, will be present for blood pressure readings. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Johnson will host the meeting, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

GREEN VALLEY

Green Valley Social Club met with Mrs. Barbara Bring on Oct. 27. Attending were nine members and guests Mrs. LeRoy Bring of Belden and Marie Bring.

Mrs. Muriel Stapelman was winner of the door prize. Members read poems and exchanged household hints.

Next meeting will be a Christmas party on Dec. 5 at the Belden Bank parlors.

Coffee guests Nov. 1 in the Ervin Wittler home to honor the birthday of Mrs. Harold Wittler were the Harold Wittlers, the Roger Brands, Heather, Nick and Jan, Mrs. Mike Potts and Amber, Mrs. Don Volwiler, Mrs. Allen Frahm and the Murray Leicys.

The Elmer Janssens and the John Coffeys, Justin and Dawn, all of Columbus, were Oct. 30 dinner guests in the Harold Wittler home to honor the hostess' birthday. Afternoon guests were Lori Shufeldt, Sioux City, and the Ervin Wittlers.

Lori Shufeldt, Sioux City, spent the

Oct. 30 weekend in the home of her grandparents, the Ervin Wittlers.

Dr. and Mrs. Austin Mutz, Denver, spent Nov. 1-3 in the Joe Claybaugh home. Mrs. Mutz is a sister of Claybaugh.

Mrs. Arnie Siefken and family, Jamestown, N.D., and Mrs. Deb Davis and family, Fargo, N.D., spent Oct. 27-31 in the Merlin Kenny home. Joining the group Oct. 30 for dinner in the Kenny home to honor the host's birthday were the Mike Gearhart family, Newman Grove, Jill Kenny, Wayne, and the Joe Kennys, Jim Kenny, Bob Kenny and Rick Kenny, all of Carroll.

The Joe Hosterts and Jeff, Butte, came Oct. 28 to visit in the John Bowers home. Joining the group for dinner on Oct. 30 in the Bowers home were the Dave Hays, the Rick Backers, James, Dusty, Cody and Nathaniel, and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Bowers and Kayla, all of Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bowers and Tyler, Coleridge, and Mrs. Tom Bowers, Carroll. Mrs. Emma Eckert, Wayne, was an afternoon guest.

Froent earns bronze medal

Bruce Froendt, 27, of Houston, Texas, formerly of Coleridge, was awarded a bronze medal in the 200 meter wheelchair race held recently in Seoul, Korea, breaking the world's record.

In the 400 meter race, Bruce came in fifth and also broke a record pertaining to the condition of the contestant. He placed sixth in the 800 and 1,500 meter races, and fourth in the 5,000 meter race.

Bruce and his father, Otto (Tip) Froendt of Coleridge, left for Korea on Oct. 11. Bruce is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall of Carroll. His mother is Mrs. John (Joyce) Abel of Westminster, Colo.

Bruce, who is employed by Exxon Oil in Houston, was injured four years ago in a diving accident in Dallas, Texas. He broke his neck and remains paralyzed from the arms down.

Who decides?

Nuclear waste disposal is an issue of major importance to Nebraska voters. Out-of-state waste generators are waging a massive media campaign to defeat Initiative 402 by distorting the issues and confusing voters.

The issue centers on control—who will decide? Nebraska voters or the states who want to use Nebraska as their nuclear dumpsite?

A vote FOR 402 will enact a law that will require voter approval before a nuclear dump can be located in Nebraska. A vote FOR 402 will also withdraw Nebraska from the five-state compact that has decided to use Nebraska as their dumpsite.

Why is withdrawal necessary to guarantee voter approval? Our right to vote before a nuclear dump is built in Nebraska is opposed by dump developer, US Ecology, Compact officials, and major waste generators. Under the terms of the compact law, these opponents of our right to vote could prevent Nebraskans from voting on the dump they want to locate in Nebraska. The only way to guarantee our right to vote is to vote FOR 402.

Nebraskans for the Right to Vote (sponsors of Initiative 402) is a group of concerned Nebraskan volunteers working hard to protect our right to have a voice in this nuclear waste decision that will remain a hazard and liability to Nebraska taxpayers for the next 500+ years. Total expenses for this group, from gathering the signatures to campaigning for a vote FOR 402, will be less than $60,000. 99% of this money comes from Nebraskans.

Opponents of 402, primarily large nuclear waste generating utilities from Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, have at least four campaign offices with a full-time paid staff. They plan to spend at least $1.2 million to $2 million to defeat 402. If they defeat 402, they will retain control over a dumpsite for their waste in Nebraska.

These out-of-state opponents of Initiative 402 created a group they call "Nebraskans Against 402". That was just the beginning of their false and misleading campaign. When 99% of the money and all of the control comes from outside the state, it is completely false to claim that they are "Nebraskans".

This group has hired a California campaign firm to defeat Initiative 402. Not to inform. Not to educate. Not to present facts. But to defeat 402.

They hired out-of-state pollsters to survey Nebraskans to find out what they would have to tell us to get us to vote against our right to vote on the location of a nuclear dump in Nebraska. They determined that if we thought 402 would threaten nuclear power, nuclear medicine and research, and increase our costs then Nebraskans would vote against 402.

The only truth behind these claims is that they could use them to deceive voters in their campaign against 402—their campaign against Nebraska's right to vote.

Let's look at some of the facts:

• A vote FOR Initiative 402 is not a vote for or against a dump in Nebraska, it is a vote FOR voter approval before a dump could be located in Nebraska.

• A vote FOR Initiative 402 will not threaten nuclear medicine or research. Absolutely NO waste has been disposed of from Nebraska Hospitals for diagnosis or treatment in the last four years. The total volume of research waste has ranged from less than 1% to almost 2% during the same period. When you consider the total percentage of radioactivity in that research waste it virtually disappears. In addition, 402 exempts these wastes from coverage under its provisions.

• A vote FOR Initiative 402 will not shut down nuclear reactors. Reactors have stored high-level waste on-site since they began operating. Access to a dump for low-level waste is not the issue here. 402 only seeks to require voter approval before a dump could be built in Nebraska.

• A vote FOR Initiative 402 will not cost Nebraskans more money. In fact, the lack of control and long-term liability of taking full responsibility for other states waste as a part of the compact is much more likely to cost Nebraskans more money.

Why are opponents making these claims against 402? It is obvious that they are willing to defeat 402 at any cost. It is equally apparent that they will not let the truth stand in their way.

We need to ask ourselves other questions as well:

• Why are out-of-state nuclear waste generators providing 99% of the funding to defeat 402?

• Whose interests are they trying to protect?

When you cast your vote on November 8, the choice is clear. A vote FOR Initiative 402 is a vote FOR Nebraska.

Sam Welsch, Executive Director Nebraskans for the Right to Vote

Temperament

With election day almost upon us, it is unfortunate to consider that perhaps the most important question about Bob Kerrey has seldom been discussed during his campaign for the Senate. That is the question regarding the suitability of his temperament to public office.

Does Bob Kerrey really want to be a U.S. Senator? A look at his record may help answer that.

Kerrey was elected Governor of Nebraska in November, 1982 and took office the following January.

In October, 1985, after serving fewer than three years, Kerrey announced that he would not seek reelection to a second term. It was "time to move on" he told a news conference. He added that he "might even have run again if it had been a two-year term." Kerrey said he found the prospect of another four-year term "not at all appealing."

Those are not the sentiments of a person who "found himself" in public service. Most people embarked on that particular career path seek reelection wholeheartedly.

Steve Fowler, who had previously served as the head of the state Policy Research Office, noted at the time of Kerrey's announcement that what Kerrey loves best "is management and trying to bring people together to achieve goals." Fowler added that "Kerrey likes to lead through inspiration rather than through trading and negotiation."

If Kerrey "burned out" so quickly in a public service position where those qualities most natural to him could be frequently used, what will happen if he wins a seat in the Senate, where trading and negotiation are the rule rather than the exception and where his fondness for management will have to be subordinated?

Will Kerrey be able to handle a six-year term? Several terms?

Even though in a strict sense Nebraskans are choosing a person to fill one 6-year term, in a larger sense we want someone willing to serve in the Senate for multiple terms. For only with seniority come the powerful positions in the committees where so much of the real work gets done in the Senate.

When Kerrey announced his candidacy for the Senate one year ago this month, he held up a pair of running shoes to indicate that he was in the race. What Nebraskans still don't know is whether Kerrey signed on for a marathon this time or just another sprint through public service. His record suggests the latter.

Commendation

This past week the Crime Commission approved a grant in the amount of $175,000 to Wayne County for a juvenile detention facility. This juvenile facility will serve the seven counties which make up the 9th Judicial District and is badly needed. I am hopeful that this will serve as a pilot project for the entire state of Nebraska and that other parts of the state will follow your courageous lead.

The juvenile problem is a serious problem throughout Nebraska and one which must be addressed. It is not in the best interests of young people or in the best interests of the community to house our youngsters alongside adults who often are charged and convicted of committing serious crimes.

Bob Ensz, your county attorney, and Sheriff LeRoy Janssen were on hand in Lincoln to discuss the grant application with the Crime Commission. The Commission was extremely impressed with these gentlemen. Their dedication, sincerity and commitment to public service was obvious and they reflected well on public officials as well as Wayne County.

I want to wish you good luck and much success with your facility and to commend you for taking a leadership role in this important capacity.

Martin J. Gutschentriker
Crime Commission Member and Chief of Police, North Platte

Differences

Regarding the campaign for the United States Senate seat, we keep hearing how Senator Karnes' campaign has consisted of nothing but bad mouthing his challenger. When the differences between the candidates are brought to light, the Democrats automatically accuse our Senator of "bad mouthing." The truth hurts and that is why we are constantly hearing the Democrats cry foul.

Why is it when our Senator discusses issues such as drug control, education, farm programs, child care, small business programs, etc., comparing his policies to policy statements of the Democratic candidate, the challenger becomes indignant and rushes to clarify, specify and deny?

Senator Karnes realizes his constituency goes beyond the city limits of Omaha and Lincoln and has vowed to represent all Nebraskans. He has made a point of meeting the people in rural Nebraska as evidenced by his two visits to Wayne this fall.

George Bush isn't endorsing just any Republican candidate that comes along. He came to Nebraska specifically to pledge his support for Senator Dave Karnes because he believes in him and knows him well. Where's the sense in electing a Republican president and then cancel that vote for Nebraska by electing a Democratic senator?

We must keep Senator David Karnes on the Nebraska team in Washington. He has run a respectable, honest, straight forward campaign and deserves your vote on Tuesday.

Wiltse, Aggers gain posts

Rowan Wiltse of Wayne has been named director-of-Cooperative Education at Wayne State College and Frankie Aggers has been named Cooperative Education coordinator, according to Deryl Lawrence director of career services.

Persons from Wayne, Pender, Wakefield and the Northeast Station in Concord will have the opportunity to visit with the administrators and learn more about the cooperative education program on Wednesday, Nov. 9 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the Walnut Room of the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus.

Faculty and other Wayne State employees interested in cooperative education will meet Tuesday, Nov. 8 from 9:45 to 11 a.m. in the Nebraska Room.

Wiltse, a lifetime resident of Wayne, was an adjunct faculty member at Wayne State College the past two years and was a graduate assistant at Wayne State from 1984-1986. He also worked at and eventually became owner of Wiltse Mortuaries, Inc., in Wayne, Laurel and Winside for over 30 years.

Wiltse received his master's and bachelor's degrees from Wayne State College and is a graduate of Wor-sham College of Mortuary Science. Aggers was coordinator of Title III, a federal grant program which helped strengthen Wayne State's student services programs the past two years and was involved in hospital social work for five years prior to that appointment.

She received her bachelor's degree from Chadron State College in 1971.

Earlier this year, Wayne State College received a $69,000 federal grant for cooperative education which will allow students to receive credit hours and a salary while they are employed in professional positions.

"This program at Wayne State allows us to take a major step in the development of a comprehensive career services program for our students," said Dr. Donald Mash, president of Wayne State College.

"Students will benefit by experiencing work related to their anticipated career, and they will gain an employment edge when their talent is evaluated by future employers," he said.

Those wanting more information about the Cooperative Education program can contact Wiltse or Aggers at 375-2200 extension 491.

Vet Day event set

Band; speeches by Boys Stater Dan Wurdinger and Girls Stater Ann Perry and Junior Law Cadets Joel Hansen and Kelly Fleming; Prisoner of War Medal Presentation; Rev. Gail Axen with the Veterans Day Address; playing of the National Anthem by the Wayne High Band; and retirement of colors.

Working for us.

Senator Jerry Conway is concerned about the quality of our health care.

Senator Jerry Conway has been a leader in the effort to provide our rural communities with affordable, quality health care. Because the battle isn't over, Jerry continues to work to cut the red tape and burdensome regulations that handicap our hometown doctors and hospitals.

Senator Jerry Conway wants to protect those who volunteer their time for their communities.

Senator Jerry Conway has led the effort in the Legislature to protect those who volunteer their time for their communities—the little league coach, the local church or school board member or the volunteer firefighter—from being unnecessarily sued. Volunteers make our communities work—and Jerry wants them to participate without fear of personal liability.

Changing our legal system hasn't been easy. But Senator Jerry Conway has pushed through much-needed reforms that benefit us all.

Vote to return Senator Gerald Conway to the Legislature. He's the voice we need for northeast Nebraska.

News Briefs

Ambrose to lecture at WSC

David M. Ambrose, professor of business administration at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, will speak at Wayne State College on Wednesday, Nov. 9 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Benthack Lecture Hall, Room 103, of the Applied Sciences Building. Ambrose will lecture on demographics and how they are applied to the Wayne trade area. A graduate of Juniata College in Huntington, Pa., Ambrose earned a MBA from the University of Maryland. George Washington University awarded him a doctorate in business administration in 1971. Before turning to higher education as a life's work, he spent eight years working for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the U.S. Department of Labor and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

WSC hosts Plains Writer

Fiction writer David Long will be at Wayne State College Tuesday, Nov. 8, as part of the 1988-89 Plains Writers Circuit. Long, whose books include "The Flood of '64," "Home Fires" and "Early Returns," will lecture in the Humanities Building second floor lounge at 4:30 p.m. The Plains Writers Circuit is a series that brings regionally and nationally known writers to Wayne State for public readings and private meetings with creative writing students, according to Dr. Jo Taylor, division head of Humanities.

Izaaks to meet

The Wayne Izaak Waitons will hold their regular monthly meeting on Monday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Columbus Federal Community meeting room.

Radio Control Car Club organizing

The Northeast Nebraska Radio Control Car Club will hold an organizational meeting Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. in the fourth floor meeting room at Wayne City Hall. The goal of the club will be to promote radio control car interest and racing. This will be accomplished through assistance and instruction on how to select and assemble a car; periodic (twice a month) meetings with guest speakers on special interest topics; possible club discount on cars and accessories; and club sponsored racing activities and trips to Omaha, Lincoln and other indoor race tracks during the winter. Summer racing will be in Wayne.

Stapleton named outstanding student

Keith Alan Stapleton was recently named a 1988 member of Outstanding College Students of America. Keith's selection was based on his academic and extracurricular achievements at Wayne State College. He is a Criminal Justice Major and will now have his name put in the OCSA 1988 Directory. He will receive a plaque and be eligible for a scholarship. Keith is the son of Mrs. Violet Stapleton of Ponca.

Home Economics conference scheduled

The Nebraska Home Economics Association (NHEA) will hold its fall workshop at Wayne State College on Saturday, Nov. 12. Approximately 35 students from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, the University of Nebraska at Omaha, McCook Community College, Kearney State College, Chadron State College and Wayne State, will be in attendance, according to Deb Michalski, vice-president of NHEA/student-member section.

Christmas performances announced

Dates for the annual Christmas performances have been announced by the Wayne State College music department. The Christmas concert by the Wayne State choir will be on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4, at 7:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. respectively. The Elizabethan Christmas dinners are scheduled for Dec. 9-11 at 7 p.m. each evening. Dinner tickets will go on sale Monday, Nov. 7, at 9 a.m. in the Fine Arts office.

Theatre board named

New board members were named for the Wayne Community Theatre at the recent annual membership meeting.

President is Dr. Andre Sedriks, Wayne State theatre department head; vice president is Chuck Higbee, engineer with Great Dane; Gwen Jensen, Wakefield housewife, is secretary; Gil Haase, Administrator of the Wayne Care Centre, is treasurer; and Wayne State computer center director, Maurice Anderson is past president.

Other board members elected are Ted Blenderman, Wayne-Carroll High instructor; Evelyn Sheckler, co-owner of the Sportsman Cafe; Galen Wiser, vice-president, State National Bank; and Jane March, Wayne Gay Theater and local housewife.

"A truly diversified segment of the community with many exciting innovations that will hopefully stimulate the theatrical interest of the Wayne area," stated Gil Haase. "We have to come up with a program that will interest Wayne in becoming involved and to take advantage of quality, live theatre, away from television, at least two or three evenings a year."

The Wayne Community Theatre will be meeting monthly, the first Tuesday of each month (except December and July). Anyone with ideas should contact any board member. "We are available and want to listen and serve the community," according to Haase.

Help & Hope for the Drought-Stricken Farmer

Help is on the way to farmers from Multiple Peril Crop Insurance and government disaster relief payments. The farmers best prepared to "weather" the drought were those who had MPCI policies. Don't rely on the government for reimbursement of damaged or destroyed crops in the future. MPCI can protect you from drought and a variety of other perils. And, you're the only one who has to have a loss to get reimbursement.

In some cases farmers will be required to have a 1988 MPCI policy to collect disaster relief payments. Even if not required, 1988 provides crop again MPCI insurance makes good financial sense. Call your Farm and Real Estate Service Inc. agent today for information on the coverage you may need.

Scouts collecting for food pantry

Winside Cub Scouts will assist local churches with collecting food for the Winside Food Pantry on Saturday, Nov. 12. Scouts will go door-to-door in Winside handing out plastic bags for donations of non-perishable items such as canned goods or boxed foods. Persons wishing to contribute should put items in the bag and place the bag on their front porch by 9 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 19 for scouts to pick up. The food will be stored at St. Paul's Lutheran Church for distribution to needy families in the Winside area during the holiday season.

Out-of-town residents who would like to assist may pick up bags on Sundays, Nov. 6 or 13, at any of the three local churches and then return them to the church by Nov. 19.

Persons with questions regarding the food drive are asked to contact church representatives Mary Jensen of St. Paul's, 286-4517, Joann Field of the United Methodist Church, 286-4879, or Pat Miller of Trinity Lutheran, 286-4262.

The Boy Scouts of America "Scouting for Food Good Turn" is being sponsored by ConAgra.

LADIES AID

President Mrs. Elaine Menke conducted the Nov. 2 meeting of St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies Aid with 30 members present. Guests were Lena Miller and LaJeanne Marotz.

Laura Jaeger led devotions in a responsive reading, entitled "Litanies of Thanksgiving," followed with singing of "Now Thank We All Our God." The Bible study, "Passing the Mantle," was given by the Rev. John Fale.

It was reported that door greeters are needed for December. The kitchen committee has received new glasses and also six water pitchers donated by Daisy Janke.

Appointed to the rummage sale committee were Bev Voss, Evelyn Jaeger, Claire Brogren and Pat Janke.

The rummage sale will be held Saturday, Nov. 19 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the village auditorium. Lunch will be served, and members of the congregation with items to donate are asked to take them to the auditorium on the afternoon of Friday, Nov. 18. All clothing should be marked with sizes.

A report was given from the bazaar committee, and thank you notes were received from the Rev. Mark Miller, the family of Edwin Vahlkamp and from Mr. and Mrs. Warren Marotz.

The Ladies Aid will give its Christmas gift cash to the Gary Phillips Fund and to Camp Luther. Military personnel also will be remembered with a cash gift.

Hostesses in November were Pat Janke and Lois Miller. Next meeting will be guest day on Dec. 7 with a 12:30 p.m. carry-in luncheon. All women of the congregation are invited. The birthday table will be observed.

Chamber Insights

by Linda M. Brown E.V.P.
 Executive Vice President — Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, Inc.
 What is the Chamber of Commerce? The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary organization of business and professional men and women who have joined together for the purpose of promoting the civic, commercial, and industrial progress of our community.
 The area's economic well-being is directly related to the caliber of work that is done by the Chamber. That is why the Wayne Area Chamber has a major impact on business, income, and future growth of the area.
 What are the primary functions of the Chamber? It acts as a spokesman for the business and professional community and translates into action the group thinking of its members, and it renders specific services of a type that can be most effectively rendered by a community organization both to its members and to the community as a whole.
 What are the objectives of the Chamber? The main objectives of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce are to promote a better understanding of our Private Enterprise System; to coordinate the efforts of agriculture, commerce, education, industry, and the professions in maintaining and strengthening a sound and healthy business climate in the Wayne area; to sponsor aggressive programs of work and stimulate activities which will provide for full development and employment of our human and economic resources; to provide creative business leadership and effective coordination of all interested parties in solving community problems and in initiating constructive community action; and, to create broad understanding and appreciation of the great opportunities in the Wayne area, and to promote the advantages and assets of our community, within the area, in the state and in the nation.
