Mayor appoints board to review gas study

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Mayor Wayne Marsh, reading from a prepared statement, voiced disappointment as to how the city council and city staff were recently "being criticized" concerning the review of the Peoples Natural Gas operation in Wayne.

Mayor Marsh read the statement during the regular meeting Tuesday evening of the Wayne City Council.

The reading of the statement came after the city council approved an ordinance that would establish a six-member-Natural Gas Study Review Board.

Members of the board, appointed by Mayor Marsh, include: William Dickey, Pat Gross, Dr. Sidney Hillier, Mrs. Jacque Kinnett, Gerald Schafer and Andrew Soll, all of Wayne.

These individuals will be responsible for making a neutral review, study, analysis, investigation and examination of the gas study report being completed by the HDR Engineering firm of Omaha; and to complete the necessary investigations into the local-gas-distribution operation.

The board will compile a thorough and unbiased report to the city council on the state of the local gas distribution system.

HDR Engineering, Inc. was retained by the Nebraska Municipal Power Pool to assist several municipalities in Nebraska, including Wayne, in an evaluation process.

THE PURPOSE of the report, according to the executive summary of the draft study by HDR, was to help the city council determine if it might be feasible or otherwise advantageous for the customers within and around the municipality to acquire the natural gas system and operate it as part of the other municipal utilities.

"For the past several months, it seems that this Council and our staff have been unfairly attacked and criticized over the Council's desire to review the local gas company operation in Wayne," Marsh read from the statement.

"We have repeatedly gone on record as stating we have no current or foreseen desire to own or operate the local gas distribution system," he said.

He said that "certain self-proclaimed specialists, the Peoples company, and in some cases the media" have sought to discredit the review and have labeled it as strictly a buy-out plan.

The city council's action was only initiated to review the operation of the local gas distribution system as a result of the first change of ownership in over a half of a century, he read.

"A prudent and wise person could only question why the reluctance on the part of some to let the City fathers know more about this monopoly," Marsh stated.

THE REVIEW board was labeled by Marsh, in the statement he read, as a non-political and neutral board. The board will accept and review the gas study report when and if it is completed.

"The city council is not in any rush to complete this study or the review. The rush that is being pushed comes only from those who feel we should not know anything about the gas company operation," Marsh read from the statement.

Under the state of Nebraska statutes, the city council is the rate making authority for natural gas. "If the state of Nebraska mandates local control, we then must learn as much as we can to do a proper job for the citizens of Wayne," he said.

According to Marsh, the Study Review Board will be directed to review, study, analyze, investigate, examine, research, inquire, scrutinize and interrogate in any matter when it deems appropriate.

THE BOARD will provide a thorough analysis of any and all reports issued by the natural gas supplier to the city of Wayne, the League of Nebraska Municipalities, Nebraska Municipal Power Pool or by other expert consultants.

After completing that investigation, study and review, the Board will make their findings, conclusions and

Wagner named head coach

Dennis Wagner has been named head football coach at Wayne State College, according to Pete Chapman, athletic director.

Wagner, 30, is the 18th head coach in the school's history. He replaces Chapman who resigned in November to become Wayne State's first full-time athletic director.

"The hiring of Dennis is an important part of our overall plan to make Wayne State athletics a very positive and exciting part of Wayne State College and Northeast Nebraska," Chapman said.

Wagner comes to Wayne State from St. Cloud State University in St. Cloud, Minn. where he was offensive coordinator for four seasons. Wagner also coached the offensive line and served as St. Cloud's strength and conditioning coach. St. Cloud has had back-to-back 7-4 seasons.

Prior to being named at St. Cloud, Wagner coached at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas for two seasons. A native of Radcliffe, Iowa, Wagner has also coached at Luther College (1980) and William Penn (1982).

Wagner played at Ellsworth Junior College and transferred to the University of Utah. At Utah he was a Western Athletic Conference all-conference selection. He also earned honorable mention all-American honors and was the team captain.

HE GRADUATED from Utah in 1980 and earned his master's degree in athletic administration from St. Cloud State in 1987.

"Dennis has the background we were looking for, having coached or played at all three levels of the NCAA. He is extremely knowledgeable about all aspects of the game and has the experience needed to manage all phases of an intercollegiate football program. He's also a solid, quality individual," Chapman said.

"The quality of applicants for this position was very impressive. All of our final candidates had strong Midwest orientations with ties to this area and all had been on our campus previously and were familiar with our level of competition.

"The fact that Wagner was a unanimous selection from the screening committee, myself, and the others involved in the interview process, is a strong indication of his experience, knowledge, and character, and his commitment to Wayne State College and our athletic program.

"Administratively we have done several things to enable our football program to succeed. At a time when we are searching for the best possible path for our program, we feel confident Dennis has the qualities necessary to make our football program successful while that process continues.

"DURING OUR selection process it became very evident that Dennis Wagner was one of the up and coming young coaches in our area. His experience with a highly successful program at St. Cloud State, plus his

Agreement reached on education of behaviorally impaired youngsters

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Representatives of Educational Service Unit 1 (ESU 1); headquartered in Wakefield, and the Nebraska Department of Social Services have reached an agreement concerning the education of two behaviorally impaired youngsters.

During a meeting Tuesday night in Wakefield of the ESU 1 board of directors, Administrator Rod Garwood informed the board that ESU 1 has established a program for the youngsters in the former Modern Energy Systems building located at 1302 W. 7th St., in Wayne.

The contract between ESU 1 and the Department of Social Services for education of the youngsters runs through Sept. 1, 1989. Garwood said the contract can be re-negotiated at that time.

THE CONTRACT comes following last month's ESU 1 meeting when Wayne-Carroll School Superintendent Francis Haun appeared before the board and requested ESU 1's assistance in educating a behaviorally impaired 12-year-old boy from Norfolk who was placed with Region IV in Wayne by the Department of Social Services, his legal guardian.

Haun informed the board that although the school district had attempted to educate the youngster, he had displayed "violent" behavior on several occasions and the district was no longer able to cope with the situation.

"We have tried our best to serve this youngster in a mainstream setting," Haun told ESU 1 board members last month, "but we have come into a situation we cannot cope with. The teacher can no longer handle this visible violent behavior."

Haun also questioned whether the district should be legally responsible for the education of behaviorally impaired students who are wards of the state and who have been placed by the Department of Social Services within the boundaries of the district.

Since last month's ESU 1 meeting, the Department of Social Services has also placed a behaviorally impaired 12-year-old Winnebago youth with Region IV in Wayne.

He too has been placed in the program located in the former Modern Energy Systems building.

ALSO SPEAKING at last month's ESU 1 meeting was Joan Albin, district administrator of the Department of Social Services who serves as the boys' legal guardian.

Albin told board members she felt the school district should be the contracting entity for education of the youngsters, and not the Department of Social Services.

"Since the boys will be in the Wayne school district, the Wayne school district should contract for their education."

Albin added that the district would be reimbursed by the Department of Social Services for contracting with ESU 1 for education of the youngsters.

LATER IN THE meeting, Albin said the Department of Social Services would be interested in contracting directly with ESU 1 for the program, however she would be visiting with the department's attorneys as to whether or not the Wayne school system is still legally responsible for education of the children.

Superintendent Haun said the school's legal staff also is looking into what responsibility, if any, the Wayne school district might be liable for.

"We're not admitting any legal responsibility," added Haun.

See ESU, page 3A

School responsibility established

The Wayne-Carroll Board of Education, meeting Tuesday afternoon, adopted a resolution stating that the Wayne-Carroll School District will deny "residential responsibility" for students who have been placed in Region IV facilities by the State of Nebraska Department of Social Services.

However, the school district will accept residential responsibility if the students have been placed with guardians or in a foster home by the Department of Social Services, according to Superintendent Francis Haun.

Passage of the resolution came following an executive session in which board members met with School Attorney Ken Olds.

Re-allocation funding sought for Chapter 1 area program

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Some federal Chapter 1 monies awarded to school districts in Nebraska, but not drawn down by the school districts, will be used to provide financial assistance toward Wayne-Carroll's Chapter 1 program.

At least for one semester. The Wayne-Carroll school district has applied for state re-allocation funds (dollars available at the state level from the funds not drawn down from other school districts for Chapter 1 purposes) which could total up to $24,069.

Chapter 1 provides services for those students who need reinforcement skills.

"The re-allocation funds must be used on programs that the school doesn't offer now — used by the students who are not being served now," said Wayne Elementary Principal David Luff.

Carroll Elementary School would be served by the re-allocation Chapter 1 monies.

cases in the areas of reading and math in grades 1-4.

A HALF-TIME teacher would be needed to serve the Carroll School in the Chapter 1 program. New equipment financed by the re-allocation funds would be SRA Math Labs for grades 1-4 at Carroll; and two computers (one at the elementary and one at the middle school).

The same re-allocation funds would cover the cost of two Chapter 1 programs for two classes at the Middle School (Grade 5 Math and Grade 7 Reading).

When or if the Wayne-Carroll application for re-allocation monies is approved, the Chapter 1 programs could begin by Jan. 4, said Principal Luff.

IN OTHER ACTION, the school district reviewed recommendations presented by Superintendent Francis Haun regarding a "School Crisis Plan" — a plan which can assist with and respond to many kinds of crises such as death of classmates or other tragic school incidents that need to be handled delicately.

The plan helps to contain the news and protect the privacy of the family in certain instances. It also calls for the establishment of a School Crisis Team that will include the principal, school secretary, counselor, teachers, school nurse and clergy.

THE SCHOOL board also: — Approved the school calendar of 1989-90.

The Wayne-Carroll School District will begin classes on Monday, Aug. 28, 1989. The Christmas break will be from Dec. 22 to Jan. 3.

Commencement for the Class of 1990 will be Sunday, May 20, 1990.

— And approved a change order on the bid amount of $14,839 from Harding Glass for the structure of an outside vestibule on the middle north section of the high school. The change order would make the total cost of the project $15,000.

MEANWHILE, THE children are being educated as a result of the contract established between ESU 1 and the Department of Social Services since last month's ESU 1 board meeting.

Board members Tuesday night unanimously approved the contract which runs from Dec. 1, 1988 until Aug. 31, 1989. The contract may be renewed at that time.

Under the agreement, the Department of Social Services will pay ESU 1 for all costs incurred in the instruction and education of the behaviorally impaired students, including equipment purchases and supplies, teachers' salaries, building rent, utilities, insurance, mileage, etc.

Following Tuesday night's ESU meeting, Administrator Garwood said it is estimated that the program, which runs through Aug. 31, 1989, could cost approximately $50,000.

The contract further states that in the event any student moves from the area served by ESU 1, the Department of Social Services agrees to continue payments to ESU 1 for all necessary and continuing costs incurred as a result of the contract agreement.

In addition, as agreed in the contract, should litigation occur between the Department of Social Services and the Wayne school district, the Department of Social Services will retain financial responsibility for costs incurred if the education of the youngsters is determined to be the responsibility of the school district and they are removed from the program by the Department of Social Services.

ESU 1 BOARD members Tuesday night also approved a lease agreement with Ron Lage of Wayne for the Modern Energy Systems building at 1302 W. 7th to house the West Wayne Children's Program recently established by ESU 1. The lease agreement runs through Sept. 1, 1989. Administrator Garwood thanked the Wayne school district for "generously" lending some furniture in order to get the program underway.

"We have purchased some major items," Garwood told board members, "and we will be purchasing items to replace those that were borrowed."

Garwood pointed out that all purchased items are being charged to the program and will be billed to the Department of Social Services.

Should the program be discontinued within the next three years, Garwood said the equipment would become the property of the Department of Social Services.

After three years, the equipment becomes the property of Educational Service Unit 1.

BOARD MEMBERS Tuesday night also approved a contract with Rex Hawkins, who has assumed the teaching position at the West Wayne Children's Program.

Hawkins, a certified teacher, is presently enrolled at Wayne State College in a master's program in special education.

Garwood told board members Tuesday night he is holding off offering contracts to aides in the program until next month.

"Hiring aides who can work with these students is difficult," said Garwood. "Before offering contracts, we want to make sure they (the aides) enjoy what they are doing and are capable of doing the work."

Garwood added that the program will require 2½ staff members, including the teacher.

Before moving on to other business, Garwood told board members that Hawkins is doing an outstanding job and he is very pleased with the program.

IN OTHER BUSINESS Tuesday night, ESU 1 board members:

—Heard a report by board member John Post regarding a recent meeting of the Nebraska Educational Service Unit Boards Association (NESUBA). Board members voted unanimously to support a "Categorical State Aid" proposal being presented by NESUBA in which the legislature would be requested to provide state aid to Educational Service Units for staff development. The amount of aid would be based upon the number of teachers within each service unit.

—Heard a report by Administrator Garwood regarding the 1987-88 audit of ESU 1. Board members voted unanimously to accept the report.

—Went into executive session to evaluate the administrator. Upon reconvening, board chairman Ken Lahrs of Ponca said there were many favorable comments regarding the performance of Administrator Garwood.

—Presented a plaque to outgoing board member Leo Kramper of Dakota City, who has served on the ESU 1 board over 11 years and chose not to seek re-election. Replacing Kramper from Dakota County is Randy Hummel of Homer, who was elected to the board in November.

direct role in that success, made it clear that this young man had proven himself in one of the toughest NCAA conferences, the North Central.

"We are extremely pleased with his appointment and are very confident in the job he will do at Wayne State College," Chapman said.

Wagners' staff at Wayne State has not been finalized and he will forward his recommendations to Chapman and Dr. Ralph Barclay, head of Wayne State's Health and Physical Education Division.

Wagner will begin his duties at Wayne State immediately.

The screening committee consisted of six people including, Ralph Barclay, Paul Campbell, Jim Paige, Gary Davis, Curt Frye and Becky Cummings. Chapman also gave praise to Sports Information Director and assistant athletic director Jean Berger for her assistance in the transition.

WAGNER WAS introduced to the media Tuesday afternoon in a press conference. "I know that what's ahead of me is a challenge," Wagner said. "But my wife and I are extremely excited about the challenge and are looking forward to it."

Wagner said that he is not looking to run a complicated offense, but rather he is looking to establish a positive relationship with the players.

"The biggest challenge I would like to see met is to have the kids experience success," Wagner said. "We know we'll have to work hard." Wagner realizes that he is limited with scholarships so he wants to develop a good relationship with walk-ons and student athletes.

Wagner brought two of his assistants at St. Cloud State with him to Wayne. Among them is Andrew Disney, the defensive coordinator and Tim Johnson, the defensive linebacker coach.

"I truly believe that football games are won in the front line," Wagner said. "I'd eventually like to create a run-oriented offense with a 50 package on defense."

Wagner begins his new job at an opportune time with recruiting season underway.

Joanne Bock, government documents and circulation librarian at Wayne State College, has been appointed to the Northeast Nebraska chapter of the Critical Incident Stress (CIS) Debriefing Team.

The CIS program, which is now international, is designed to help emergency personnel such as firemen, policemen, and ambulance teams, recognize, understand, and cope with their emotional reactions to job-related and personal crises, according to Bock.

Bock, who came to Wayne State in 1986, received her bachelor's degree in education from the University of Minnesota in 1961 and her master's in library science from Brigham Young University in 1976. She also worked on an ambulance team in Ephraim, Utah, from 1985-86.

Two dances

I wish to express my feelings concerning the Fireman's Dance at the armory. The choice of music was not for the older folks who love to dance or even listen to music. It was very loud, so you couldn't visit with anyone.

Certainly the young folks need to have a place to dance and get together and Wayne should have more things going for the young. Also they are our future taxpayers.

I'm suggesting the fireman have two dances going that night—one for the young and another for the oldsters. The auditorium or Vets Club would be nice.

Also I would like to suggest a nice attire for the firemen like a red blazer, white shirt, tie and navy blue or black trousers. I attended a fireman's ball in western Nebraska. They had two places to dance and even the young came to the dance the older people were having and said they wish they could waltz and fox trot.

We need lessons for our young to be able to attend the Big Band dances: they'll love it. So would like to have more dances in Wayne. Comments anyone!

Blue Devils win home opener

Wayne played its first home basketball game Saturday night as they attempted to even their season record at 1-1.

The Blue Devils started out quickly building a good lead, but Columbus Lakeview rallied and the game was fairly close throughout. Wayne held off a late Lakeview rally though to close out the scoring at 51-49.

Jarrod Wood led the Blue Devils in scoring for the second time in as many outings with his 17 points. Doug Larsen had a good game from down low, netting 12 points.

Willy Gross followed with eight points while Jed Reeg netted five. Neil Carnes added four points and Jess Zeiss and Kevin Hausemann rounded out the Blue Devil scoring attack with three and two points respectively.

The Blue Devils dominated the boards game with Lakeview, finishing with 11 more rebounds, 29-18. The Turnover category was where Wayne suffered the most. Bob Uhings' squad turned the ball over 21 times while Lakeview lost it 13 times. "We really want to concentrate on keeping the ball in our possession," Uhing said. "We can't afford to have that many turnovers in every outing."

The Blue Devils did improve a bit on their free throw shooting from the Battle Creek contest. Wayne hit 17-24 against Lakeview to hit the 70 percent mark.

"It was a good win for our club," Uhing said. "We still feel however, that we're not playing up to our potential. Our shot selection needs to be better."

Prior to the varsity's first home contest, Ron Carnes' junior varsity team played against Lakeview. Wayne was defeated by 14 points, 68-54, evening their season record to 1-1 as well.

"We played alright at times," Carnes said. "But I think one of our problems is that we're not used to playing with the combinations of people we're using."

Craig Dyer was the only Blue Devil in double figures with 13 points. Brian Lentz followed with nine while Chad Metzler added eight. Jeff Griesch and Craig Sharpe each added six, while Casey Dyer netted five.

Kyle Dahl, a freshman, scored three points and rounding out the junior varsity scoring was Martin Rump and Glenn Johnson, each with two.

WSC wins by nine in OT

Liz O'Brien's Wayne State Lady Wildcats hosted Chadron State Saturday night in Rice Auditorium. Wayne State needed an overtime to dispose of the visitors, 84-75.

Of the Wildcats 84 points, 71 were scored by three individuals. Linda Schnitzler led all scorers with 32 points, while Mary Beth Ehrhorn erupted for 23 and Jodene Finck came off the bench to add 16.

Cindy Savage added seven for the Cats' while Julie Heath netted four. Rounding out the scoring for O'Briens' squad was Amy Wattler and Margaret Scheinost, each with one.

Wayne State built a five point lead at intermission at 35-30, but Chadron State bounced back in the second half to knot the score at the end of regulation.

The storyline was free throw shooting. Wayne State hit 24 of 36 attempts for 67 percent, but their counterparts could only hit on 17 of 37 attempts for 46 percent.

Wayne State was good on all four of their 3-point attempts while Chadron State hit four of 15 attempts. The Wildcats however, were out rebounded by the visitors, 54-45. Linda Schnitzler and Kae Burke led the Wildcats with seven caroms each. Burke also had three blocked shots.

A combined total of seven girls fouled out of the game. Wayne State's record improved to 3-5 on the season.

Laurel loses to Ponca

Most girls basketball teams concentrate on stopping Kristi Wellenstein when they play against Ponca. Monday night, Laurel traveled to Ponca and coach Pam Thies was hoping that her squad could at least contain Wellenstein, who has scored over 30 points in a couple of outings already this year.

Laurel did hold Ponca's number one scorer to 17 points, the only problem was, Ponca had other weapons. Belinda Bostwick and Jennie Johnson offset the scoring of Wellenstein with 14 and 12 points respectively, as Ponca went on to post a 58-38 win.

Laurel's record drops to 1-3 on the year. "Things didn't start off so well," Thies said. "We got down early in the first quarter as we had trouble with their press." After one quarter of play Laurel found themselves down by 11, 15-4.

"We missed a lot of easy shots early in the game as well," Thies said. "We were getting the ball inside like we wanted but we just couldn't hit the shot."

Kim Mathiason, point guard and Shana Carstensen, forward, found themselves on the bench in the second quarter with three fouls. Laurel did outscore Ponca in the second quarter to draw within nine at intermission, 27-18.

"We pulled to within seven in the third quarter and then Kim got her fourth foul," Thies said. "We had to sit her down, and from there Ponca went on to outscore us 22-10 in the third quarter."

Amy Adkins led the Lady Bears in scoring with 14 points. Heather Thomas and Shana Carstensen followed with 12 and 8 points respectively. Sherri McCorkindale rounded out the scoring with four points.

Thies was pleased with the board play of Heather Thomas. "Heather played a good ball game for us," Thies said. "I have to go over the game film again but we know that she was probably in double figures in rebounds." Carstensen meanwhile, also added eight rebounds.

Winside places sixth

Winside scored 74 points in last Saturday's North Bend Wrestling Invitational. The Wildcats could only muster a sixth place finish with all of the higher Classes of teams they were competing against.

Winside was the only Class D school in the field of eight teams which was won by David City with 147 points. Ashland followed with 129 and Weeping Water placed third with 107½. Rounding out the field was Columbus Lakeview with 101½ points; Millford with 93 points; Winside with 74 points; Wisner-Pilger with 68 points and North Bend with 58 points.

Winside only had one first place finish, Chad Carlson in the 103 lb. division. Carlson pinned Ashland wrestler Tyson McCoy in the finals.

The Wildcats got two runner-up finishes in the meet including Shane Frahm and Brian Thompson. Frahm was decided by Jim Sabata of David City, 9-3 in the finals while Thompson was pinned by Dave Fiala of Millford in 25 seconds in the finals of the 189 lb. category.

Max Kant came home with a third place medal after being pinned by Columbus Lakeview's Aaron Aerni in the semifinals. Kerry Jaegar was the last Wildcat to bring home a medal with a fourth place finish in the 152 lb. division.

Winside wrestling mentor Paul Sok was totally dissatisfied with performance of his Wildcats despite the competition. "We have a lot of inexperience," Sok said. "A meet like this will help us down the road."

Sok said that his squad must stick to the basics before they begin working on other aspects. Winside will participate in the Wayne Invitational this Saturday.

Incidentally, Jason Krueger and Trevor Topp each won a match in Saturday's competition in North Bend.

Junior high wrestlers compete

The junior high wrestling team traveled to Schuyler last Thursday for dual action. Again no team score was kept. Wayne struggled a little bit against the host team as the Blue Devils managed only two wins and two ties on the afternoon.

Matt Robins and Matt Rise were the only two winners with Robins winning by a 6-0 decision and Rise pinning his man.

Rise wrestled three times on the day and came up with two ties and a 6-0 decision. Matt Robins wrestled twice, losing the first match by pin. Andy Nelsen wrestled twice and lost by pin and by technical fall.

Terry Rutenbeck lost both his matches via the pin while Robert Treacle did likewise.

Fever Reducing Medicines

The control of body temperature takes place in an area of the lower part of the brain referred to as the hypothalamus. It is here that temperature is maintained at between 97.7 and 99.5 degrees F. The hypothalamus balances the production and loss of body heat with the assistance of the nervous system. Fever is generally defined as body temperature which exceeds 100 degrees F. The substance which accumulates in the cells and causes a rise in body temperature is referred to as prostaglandin E-2.

Persons with high fever (103 to 105 degrees F) lasting for 12 to 24 hours should be evaluated by a physician. Fever that goes above 105 F requires immediate medical care.

Fever-reducing medicines such as aspirin, acetaminophen, and ibuprofen are used to relieve fever discomfort. These medicines prevent the formation of prostaglandin E-2 through their action on a specific enzyme system. According to the Handbook of Nonprescription Drugs, aspirin and acetaminophen are equally effective fever reducers and have the same onset and duration of activity. Acetaminophen and ibuprofen are preferred by many physicians because of the association between aspirin use and Reye's syndrome in children.

The Golden Years

By Lois Johnson

The number of men and women over age 65 living alone has increased substantially in the 1970s and 1980s. United States Census Bureau studies show. The increase is much greater for women than for men. In 1970 there were 1,173,000 men and 3,897,000 women over 65 living alone. In 1985 the count rose to 1,614,000 men and 6,498,000 women.

At age 74, legendary fashion designer Oleg Cassini, made his maiden run as a professional horse driver at northern New Jersey's Freehold Raceway. Cassini, who rode in the second, fourth and fifth races, became the oldest person ever granted a license by the United States Trotting Association. Not neglecting his former trade, he also designed his own jockey costume, a racy combination of black, red and white.

Remember When? On July 22, 1934, the feature film at Chicago's Biograph Theater was "Manhattan Melodrama," about gangs and guns. Fugitive John Dillinger, "America's Public Enemy No. 1," was spotted by FBI men as he left the theater. He reached for his gun and was shot dead.

Presented as a public service to our senior citizens, and the people who care about them by the Wayne Care Centre, 918 Main Street, Wayne, Nebraska 68787.
