A rural Emerson house was destroyed by fire Monday night, but no one was injured. Members of Emerson Fire Department were called to the residence of Donn Schoutz around 7 p.m. on Monday. Helping hand

The Allen community is assisting with a fund drive for Joey Obermeyer, 2½ year old son of the Clayton Obermeyers. Joey, a down syndrome child suffering from leukemia, has been spending most of his time in the Children's Hospital in Omaha. Due to his illness, his mother has stayed with him at the hospital. He is now going back and forth from Allen to Omaha each week for testing and treatment. Those wishing to contribute to the fund may do so at the Security State Bank in Allen. There are also collection containers in downtown business places.

Board members

Ted Ellis and Swede Fredrickson have been elected to the board of directors of the Wayne Country Club. They join board members Dave Diediker, Gene Casey, Bob Reeg, Grant Ellingson, Tim Koll and Randy Simonsen. All board members serve three-year terms.

Law changes

Effective Jan. 1, all vehicles are required to be titled in the county where the vehicle has tax situs. Tax situs refers to taxing authority where the vehicle is principally stored and kept for the greater portion of the calendar year. Previously, vehicles could be titled where the applicant resided. This law also increases the length of time a refund or credit on motor vehicle taxes and registration fees can be requested. Before, an individual must have applied for such refunds or credits from the county treasurer's office within 30 days of a transfer or loss of possession of the vehicle. L.B. 305 extends that time period to 60 days. Another change will require all applicants for title that are intending to apportion (register for hire and operate in two or more states) to obtain titles from the Department of Motor Vehicles in Lincoln. Previously, titles for these vehicles were obtained at county clerk's offices. Applicants can obtain titles by mail or in person as long as all proper documentation is provided and appropriate fees are paid.

Area's future studied

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The economic development of Nebraska will be a widely discussed topic in a conference slated Jan. 14 at the Lincoln Hilton Hotel. And individuals from the northeast Nebraska area, including people from Wayne, will be among those from across the state selected to serve on six citizen task forces that will discuss the economic issues. The conference stems from a mission by Nebraska Futures, Inc. "to promote activities directed at the economic development of Nebraska as outlined in the 'New Seeds for Nebraska: Moving the Agenda Ahead' economic development report." Among the 24 board of director members of Nebraska Futures, Inc. is J. Alan Cramer of Wayne. Kathy Small, executive director of the Nebraska Futures, Inc., conducted a news conference at South Sioux City last Thursday to announce the Nebraska Futures, Inc. mission and to list those serving on the six task forces from the northeast Nebraska area. The task forces are responsible for identifying specific steps of action for implementation of the "New Seeds" recommendations, which Small said "could have profound impact on the Wayne community."

MORE THAN 450 citizens from Nebraska have volunteered to serve on the six task forces. Mission statements by task forces are as follows:

- Agriculture and Food Processing Task Force. To build on the state's strong agricultural base; redirecting the state's agriculture toward adjustment to global realities and expanding Nebraska's dominant economic sector by developing new crops, new agriculture products, and the higher value-added food processing industry.
- Business Diversification Task Force. To strengthen and diversify manufacturing, expand business opportunities and exportable products/services, and become a regional service center.
- Financial Capital/Entrepreneurial Issues Task Force. To enhance the flow of investment capital, in both traditional and new ways, and enhance the entrepreneurial climate in Nebraska.
- Human Resources Task Force. To enhance the workforce skills, adaptability, creativity, and productivity of Nebraskans; preparing workers for an expanded economy.
- Infrastructure Task Force. To ensure Nebraska has the physical infrastructure needed to build and support the state's expanding economy; not only utilities, roads and bridges but new kinds of infrastructure including advanced telecommunications, improved air service and new food processing infrastructure. Also, to strengthen the economic capacity of regional centers.
- Statewide Unity Task Force. To strengthen and expand linkages between urban and rural places, including communities, businesses and educational institutions, to enhance the quality of life for all Nebraskans.

TASK FORCE volunteers from the Wayne area include Curtis and Ruth Crandall, Tim Gubbels, Clarence A. Johnson, Brian McBride and Brenda Jussel, all of Laurel; and Wayne representatives Patrick Gross, Donald Mash, Donald Whisenhunt, Sam Schroeder, Vaughn Benson, Kenneth Hallgren, Jeryl Nelson, Don Cattle, Phil Kloster, Jeff Beckman, Dr. J.S. Johar, Dr. Jack Middendorf, Dennis Robinson, Ralph Barclay, Jo Taylor, Shane Giese and Tim Garvin. As members of the task forces, these local representatives will review specific recommendations of the "New Seeds" report and begin to identify steps for the implementation of those recommendations during the Saturday, Jan. 14 conference in Lincoln.

The task forces will be "project-oriented," submitting ideas to the Nebraska Futures, Inc. Board for implementation by key institutions in the state — private, public and educational.

These ideas may be released periodically, but will certainly be made known in the latter part of 1989, according to Small.

The Nebraska Futures Board will then begin negotiations with various institutions for implementation.

Depositions taken Friday

Nelson places Conway issue before legislators

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Tore Nelson's challenge to State Senator Gerald Conway's eligibility to serve the state legislature was taken a step further last week. The challenge concerning the 17th Legislative District seat held by Conway continued last Friday (Dec. 30) with the taking of depositions — by both Conway and Nelson, each represented by attorneys — at Miner Law Office in Wakefield. Wayne Herald staff members were told Friday, after speaking with an official at the deposition site, that the meeting for the "taking of the depositions" was not open to the media. Prior to the deposition meeting, attorney Lee Miner told The Wayne Herald that he did not represent either party in the challenge matter, but that he agreed to allow the use of his office as a convenient place for the depositions to be taken.

THE BASIS for contesting falls upon whether Conway should be allowed to serve as a legislator while still on the payroll as a faculty member of Wayne State College. Former State Senator J.R. Murphy of South Sioux City first brought up the issue at the time the reelection of Conway was being certified by the Nebraska State Board of Canvassers. At that time, the State Board of Canvassers claimed it had no jurisdiction to act in any other capacity than to verify the vote count. A Legislature Credentials Committee or the courts could make the decision, according to the Canvassers Board. However, Conway said he sought legal advice on the issue several years prior to Murphy's protest. The legal interpretation by the law firm, Conway said, indicated that he could remain in office. Conway is employed as an instructor in the business division at Wayne State College. During the spring months, when the legislature is in session, he said he takes an "unpaid" leave of absence from Wayne State.

NELSON, in a news release, said he is proceeding to place the issue of eligibility before the Credentials

Committee of the Legislature. Because he was Conway's opponent in the November general election, only he could bring the issue forward to the legislature. "The state statutes imply that only the opposing candidate has the standing to challenge, before the Legislature, the seating of the successful candidate," Nelson said.

The latest information from the Nebraska Legislature Hot Line Wednesday afternoon was that the issue of contesting Senator Conway's position was read to the legislative body, but there was no discussion. Also, The Wayne Herald has learned that Conway was defeated by Senator David Landis in his bid to gain the chairmanship of the State Legislature's Banking Committee.

Opening day ceremonies and procedures for the 1989 State Legislature takes place Wednesday (Jan. 4). A majority vote to come before the entire legislature could take place on the senate seat issue. Conway is a candidate for the chairmanship of the legislature's Banking Committee.

Nelson noted that some people from the 17th District have questioned Conway's eligibility under the Nebraska Constitution to serve as both state senator and a professor at a state college. "They are entitled to have the issue resolved one way or the other," Nelson said.

Nelson said that if the Legislature's Credentials Committee decides in favor of Conway, the matter could be taken to court for a definitive resolution of the question.

HE SAID THE issues of the campaign this past year, and of Conway's prior service in the Legislature, are not the issues at hand in the challenge.

"Nor are my qualifications to be the state senator from the 17th District," Nelson said.

"The sole issue is whether a professor at a state college is forbidden by the Nebraska Constitution from

Lifeline program list continues to grow

SISTER MONICA and Marci Thomas explain the Lifeline program to Orval Brandstetter, representing Sunnyhill Villa Apartments.

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

Forty-three Lifeline units, presently used in a personal emergency response program, have now been distributed by Providence Medical Center of Wayne.

Most recent recipient of the Lifeline units was Sunnyhill Villa Apartments in Wayne. Sunnyhill Villa recently purchased two Lifeline units, becoming the first among senior housing units in Nebraska to provide the service to its residents.

The Lifeline emergency response program was established at Providence Medical Center in 1982 — at the time only the second hospital in Nebraska to operate the program.

Lifeline consists of three elements: electronic equipment including a portable help button and a home unit that is connected to the telephone, used to automatically dial the hospital's phone number for emergency assistance; an emergency response center, located at the hospital where trained personnel provide 24 hour/day coverage; and people who have agreed to respond to the Lifeline user's call for help.

IT WORKS as follows: An individual who is wearing a small wireless "help" button, worn like a necklace around the neck, falls down and because of his physical condition cannot get back up. He pushes the help button.

The signal activates the home unit attached to the individual's telephone, automatically dialing Providence Medical Center. Coordinators of the Lifeline service at the hospital call the place where they know the signal came from.

If nobody answers, the coordinators will contact a "responder" (which would be a family member or neighbor) chosen in advance by the individual with the help button. Once the responder arrives, they push a reset button on the Lifeline home unit that signifies to the hospital that the responder has arrived at the home of the person needing assistance.

THE HOSPITAL places a call to the individual's home and speaks to

Training scheduled for two new 4-H projects

Two new 4-H projects will be introduced to area 4-H leaders during two different workshops in January. Workshops are scheduled Jan. 16 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Norfolk, and on Jan. 17 from 9 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. at the Methodist Church in Plainview.

"BAKING IS FUN" project materials will be featured at both training meetings. This project is designed to teach young people how to measure ingredients, how to determine the appropriate kinds of baking equipment, how to read and follow directions, how to successfully reduce fat and sugar in baking products, and how to evaluate their products.

Linda Boeckner, extension nutrition specialist, will provide hands-on training to help leaders successfully teach these lessons.

"The Sitter" project training will be covered only at the Plainview site. This project is designed for young people ages 10 to 14 and focuses on teaching them important ideas about the job of babysitting, as well as information about how children grow and act.

Herb Lingren, extension family life specialist and author of the project, will provide instruction at the leader training.

The Jan. 17 training in Plainview also will offer leader programs on how to incorporate career exploration in club meetings, how to effectively include parents in 4-H, and how to focus on health issues through a project called "The Stress Connection."

Puttin' up with Pete

by Kevin Peterson

The 1988 Wayne State College Holiday Basketball Tournament, revised to "The Great Northeast Nebraska Shoot Out," finished up last Thursday evening with the Stanton girls and South Sioux boys taking the crown as this year's best.

Stanton defeated Pierce in the finals while South Sioux had to use a strong second half performance to overcome a halftime deficit to down Stanton.

I would like to remind all of the readers of this column that this material consists solely of this editor's opinion. The reason I am making that point clear is because in my personal opinion, this year's Holiday Tournament did little to satisfy this basketball fans hunger.

Don't get me wrong, I think what Wayne State Athletic Director Pete Chapman and Assistant Athletic Director Jean Berger did to make this Tournament more attractive was phenomenal.

I'm speaking of the press conference held the previous Thursday to introduce the coaches of the Tournament. I thought that was a marvelous idea and I hope they continue to do it.

And I'm not talking about the trophies given to the teams. Hey, those were some beautiful trophies and they even gave one to the team that finished in seventh place. Not many tournaments sport that kind of class.

No, as far as the coordination of the tournament, I think it was fine. Well, maybe not all of it. I guess I had a little trouble with the pairings. After all, you have last year's finalists in Class B paired against each other in the first round, and the loser competes for fifth place.

Then you have a team who receives a bye, for some complete unknown reason, who doesn't win a game and finishes in fourth place. You figure it out.

If the Tournament is strictly based on the luck of the draw, then I hope they change it. The Lady Blue Devils, Pierce and Stanton were definitely the best three teams in the girls division, unfortunately with the set up, they finished fifth, second and first.

My second complaint and this really got in my craw, was the officiating. As much as I hate to do it, since I myself have officiated in the past, it is to criticize the officials.

But ladies and gentlemen, some of the officiating that I saw, approximately 16 of the 19 games played, in some instances definitely lacked professionalism.

It's very disheartening to watch a game where it seems like the men in stripes are out to even the odds with their whistles and in some cases totally miss the boat.

Obviously, you have some teams that are better than others, but when one team goes to the free throw line 38 times and the other only 20, I believe that the odds have been more than evened.

There were several questionable calls in the tournament which is not unusual, after all, it always seems like the team you want to win gets the bad calls.

It's what happened after the calls were made that prompted me to write this column. When I was studying to take the test to become a certified official, in black and white in the little hand book it said that the official's job is not to control the outcome of the game, but to control what is going on during the game. In my opinion those wires got crossed in some of the action at the Holiday Tournament.

The third phase of the tournament in which I was disappointed, was the selections of the all-tourney teams. I realize that the coaches and score keepers vote on the selections. I hope that changes in the future as well.

During last year's tournament in the girls division, Amalia Litras captured the attention of the voters for her spectacular play. That is fine. Litras played well, and even though her team didn't reach the finals, she may have deserved it.

Unfortunately, it seemed as though this year's selection was purely based on who made the finals. Come on, let's get some consistency here. If you want to talk about players who put on a show at the Holiday Tournament, let's talk about Dana Nelson for a minute.

Nelson only played in two games, yet she outscored every girl who played in three games. Her quality passing and quick footed defense enabled Wayne to nearly complete a heroic comeback against Pierce. And by the way, if you saw another player in the whole tournament who can shoot from three point range even close to the ability of Nelson, please let me know.

Michele Kruger was selected to captain the girls first team division. Fine, Kruger is a fine player, but it was Susie Prince and Lori Toelle which did the majority of the work on offense to allow Kruger to get her points. As far as the rebounding goes, Kruger again did a fine job and definitely deserved to be among the first team selections. Dana Nelson deserved to be named the tournament's most outstanding player.

Other players whom I felt did a fine job during the tournament which of course weren't recognized due to the fact that only six make the all tourney teams include: Willy Gross and Kristy Hansen, Wayne; Mark Johnson, Wakefield; Jerry Rabe, Wisner-Pilger; Jarrod Pounds and Mike Brewer, Lyons-Decatur; Ryan Noelle and Brenda Kment of Stanton; Dennis Koepke, Susie Prince and Shelly Wesemann of Pierce.

Wayne teams place fourth and fifth

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Both the Wayne boys and girls basketball teams finished fourth and fifth respectively, in the Great Northeast Nebraska Shoot Out held at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium last week, but under different circumstances.

The girls team under the direction of Marlene Uhing had no other choice but to play for fifth place following their defeat to Pierce in the opening round.

The Lady Blue Devils showed a great deal of character in their game against Lyons-Decatur, after all, sometimes it's hard to motivate yourself to play for fifth place.

Wayne routed Lyons-Decatur 63-37 in a contest which saw nine Blue Devils score in a well balanced effort.

"Everyone played aggressively," Uhing said. "We looked pretty good on offense and I think the girls responded well after the disappointing loss to Pierce."

Uhing shuffled the lineup a little bit for the contest, with Tonya Erxleben starting in place of Heidi Reeg and Robin Luft starting in place of Kristy Hansen.

The lineup change had no bearing on the outcome as both Hansen and Reeg played their usual amount of time and both did a fine job coming off the bench.

Wayne did a good job of pressing Lyons forcing a total of 24 turnovers. Wayne on the other hand suffered on 17. Lyons did however rebound the Blue Devils by a 28-22 margin. They were led in scoring by Stephanie Peterson's 17 points.

Wayne was led by Dana Nelson's 13 points and Kristy Hansen's 11 points and six rebounds. Incidentally, Hansen came off the bench to lead the Blue Devils in rebounding.

Teresa Ellis, Robin Luft and Tonya Erxleben all chipped in eight points apiece while Holly Paige added six. Jennifer Hammer came off the bench to add four points while Heidi Reeg had three. Stephanie Kloster rounded out the scoring with two points.

Paige led the team in assists with four while Ellis came up with four steals, tops for the team in that category.

West Point natives win

West Point's Mary Ann Liibbe and Steven Hedell captured the Wayne Herald's final football contest of the year, the bowl game package.

Both participants missed four games which by the way was the best of all participants. In other words, the tie-breaker was only between these two people. Liibbe's four misses included Oklahoma's loss to Clemson, USC's loss to Michigan, Iowa's loss to North Carolina State and Colorado's loss to BYU.

Hedell's losses came with Nebraska's loss to Miami, Iowa's loss to North Carolina State, UTEP's loss to Southern Mississippi and Colorado's loss to BYU.

Liibbe captured first place with her tie breaking guess that Miami would defeat Nebraska. Thanks to all who participated in this year's contests.

games of the tournament after their big win over Wakefield in first round action.

On Wednesday night Wayne lost to South Sioux in a contest where virtually nothing went right for Bob Uhing's bunch.

"We came out flat on offense and there's nothing we could do any differently than what we did," Uhing said. "The shots just wouldn't fall." Uhing did note that it seemed as though his squad at times was a little hesitant about shooting which is something he feels shouldn't be happening with an experienced group.

"Where we really got hurt was in rebounding," Uhing said. "South Sioux outrebounded us 33-20, including 19 offensive boards, but with the 24 turnovers we had with the rebounding advantage they had, it was too much to overcome."

The defensive performance by the Blue Devils was exceptional holding the Cardinals to only 42 points. "We were within five points in the fourth quarter and we missed six front ends of one and one opportunities," Uhing said. "We had our chances to win the game we just didn't take advantage of them."

Rob Sweetland led the way with seven points while Jarrod Wood and Willy Gross added six apiece. Neil Carnes and Jed Reeg added four points apiece and Jess Zeiss and Doug Larsen were held to one point each.

South Sioux was led by Brent Mogensen's 12 points and Colin Sorensen's 11. South Sioux point guard Jeremy Archer, who put on a scoring exhibition against Pierce the night before with 27 points, was held to three by the Blue Devil defense.

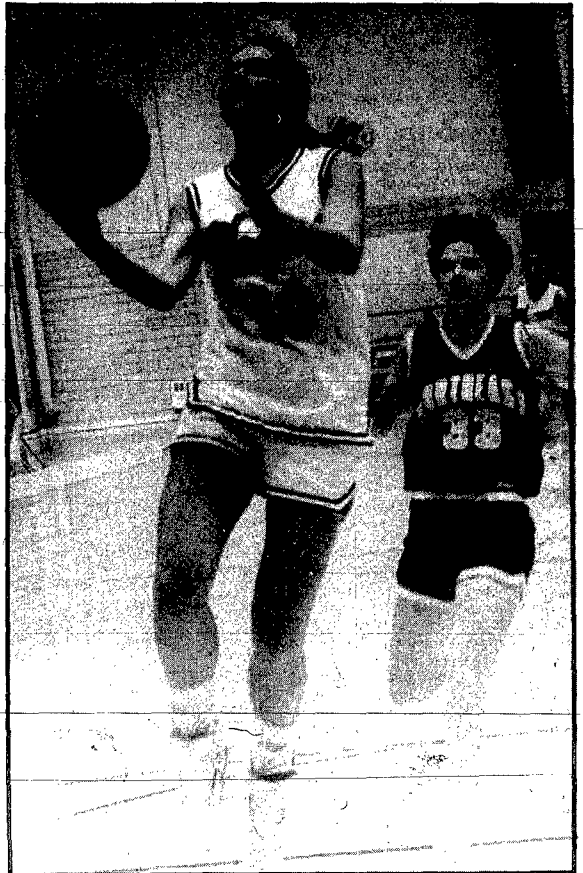

Wayne only netted 10 total field goals in the contest and was a mere 8-18 from the free throw line. Incidentally, Jarrod Wood led the Blue Devils on the boards with 10 caroms to his credit.

Wayne loses to Wisner
Wayne was forced to play Wisner-Pilger Wednesday evening for third place. It was the second time these two teams had played this season.

Uhing's club played much more intense basketball against Wisner than they did against South Sioux, but in this game the intangibles spelled the difference between the two teams.

Wayne's bench suffered a technical foul in the first quarter which put Wisner at the foul line. Midway through the third quarter following a highly controversial charging foul on Jed Reeg, Wayne was hit with another technical foul.

Uhing, while questioning the technical foul was hit with yet another technical foul, and then ejected. To say the actions which led to the technical were very questionable, is an understatement.

Following the free throws by Wisner, Wayne found themselves trailing by eight points. They never recovered even though it seemed they played harder as the game went on, losing 54-47.

It was a tough tournament for Uhing's team. "We only had nine offensive rebounds in the three total games," Uhing said. "We have got to start playing with some emotion. I think we have a good team but we have to pick up the slack on the intangibles."

Unfortunately for the Blue Devils, Wisner was able to go to the free throw line 38 times in the game while Wayne visited the line only 20 times. Wayne was whistled for 31 fouls in the game while Wisner was called for only 14 fouls.

Willy Gross was the only Blue Devil in double figures with 10 points. Rob Sweetland and Jarrod Wood added nine apiece while Jess Zeiss added eight. Doug Larsen and Neil Carnes rounded out the scoring with seven and four points respectively.

Wisner was led by Jerry Rabe with 18 points. Rabe was also 12-13 from the free throw line.

Wakefield boys off to best start in years

The Wakefield Trojans upped their season record to 7-2 Tuesday night as they defeated visiting Allen by 22 points, 68-46.

The Trojans, fresh off their two victories in the Great Northeast Nebraska Shoot Out at Wayne State the previous week, took a 20-8 lead after the first quarter and never looked back.

Eleven players scored for the Trojans which is off to their best start in several years according to coach Paul Eaton.

Mark Johnson led the Trojans with 13 points while Andy McQuistan netted 11 points. Scott Lund followed with nine points while Chris Loofe and Tony Krusemark netted eight apiece.

Stuart Clark followed with seven points and Matt Tappe netted four. Rounding out the Wakefield scoring with two points apiece were Shawn Meyer, Anthony Brown, Matt Tappe and Brian Oetkin.

Wakefield outrebounded Allen by 17 boards, 38-21. Andy McQuistan led the way with eight caroms to his credit. Tony Krusemark had eight rebounds and Mark Johnson and Scott Lund came away with seven rebounds each.

Wakefield did a good job of holding on to the ball as well suffering only 12 turnovers while Allen gave it up 24 times.

Wakefield will turn its attention to the traveling post holiday tournament which begins this Thursday with Pender. The tournament travels to one of four sites in successive years with this year's stop being Homer. Pender, Wakefield and Emerson-Hubbard are the other three teams in the tournament.

Wakefield will play Pender at 8 p.m. Friday night against Pender. The finals will be held Saturday.

Trojans fare well
Wakefield's first Holiday Tournament ended successfully last week as they won two of its three games in The Great Northeast Nebraska Shoot Out.

After dropping the first round game to Wayne, Paul Eaton's bunch rebounded to beat Pierce by 10 points, 63-53, then they defeated Bancroft-Rosalie in a rematch game from earlier in the season, 51-48.

In the game against Pierce, the Trojans were led in scoring by Mark Johnson's 19 points. Stuart Clark also turned in a fine performance with 17 points. Andy McQuistan was the third Trojan in double figures with 14.

Scott Lund added eight points for Wakefield and rounding out the scoring was Matt Tappe and Tony Krusemark with three and two points respectively.

Dennis Koepke and Greg Christensen led the way for Pierce with 15 and 11 points respectively.

The Bancroft game on Thursday for fifth place was simply outstanding. Both teams played well with few exceptions. The Trojans jumped out to a seven point lead at intermission, but Bancroft came out in the second half and outscored Wakefield by a 9-2 count to knot the game at 28.

Andy McQuistan, who would later be named to the first team all tournament selections, was fouled by Bancroft's Tim Flock, which may have proved to be one of the biggest fouls in the game.

For Flock it was his fourth foul and he was forced to sit down as Bancroft mentor Mike Sjuts, who could not afford to have his big man fouled out before the stretch run.

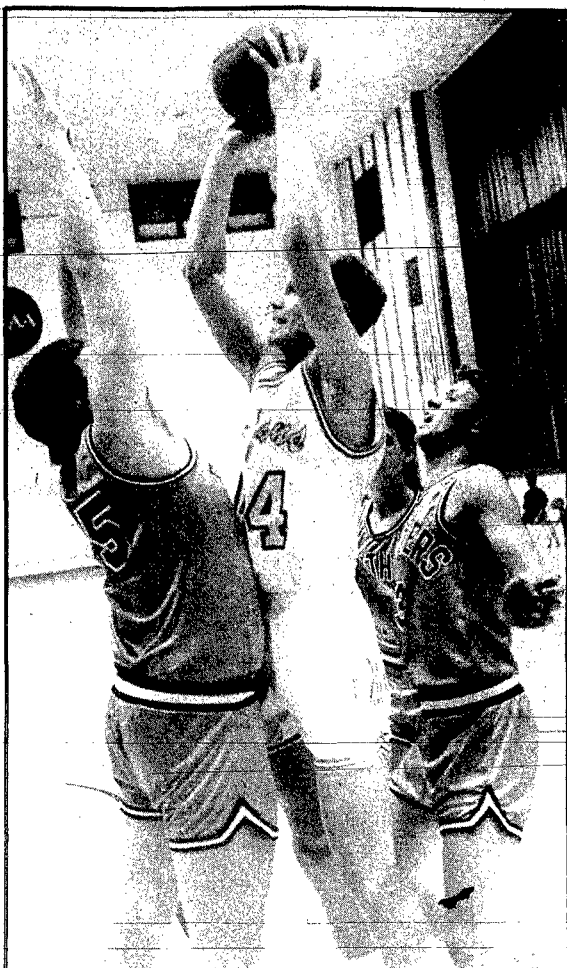

The score was in Wakefield's favor at 35-32 heading into the final quarter. Wakefield's lead climbed to eight points midway through the fourth quarter with Stuart Clark's three point play.

Flock re-entered the game for Bancroft and immediately hit two shots and with just over three minutes remaining the game Wakefield's lead was just one.

With Wakefield leading by six with less than a minute, disaster nearly struck for the Trojans. Bancroft hit a three point field goal and then stole Wakefield's inbounds pass and converted the lay up, and with 20 seconds left in the game Wakefield again led by only one point.

Stuart Clark however, put the nail in the coffin hitting two free throws on a one-and-one situation with six seconds remaining.

Clark and McQuistan led the Trojans with 16 points apiece.

Laurel-Concord High's girls basketball team earned championship honors in a four-team holiday tournament played last Thursday and Friday in Laurel.

In the first round of the tournament Thursday, Laurel defeated Plainview, 48-35, advancing to the finals Friday evening against Randolph. Randolph got to the championship round by defeating Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Laurel defeated Randolph 41-39 on a last second shot off an inbound pass, put through the hoop by Bears player Amy Newton, to earn the holiday tournament first place trophy.

Against Plainview
A solid fourth quarter performance helped the Laurel Bears break a close ball game with Plainview, according to Head Coach Pam Thies. Laurel won by a 48-35 margin.

However, with 3 1/2 minutes remaining in the game, the score was knotted at 34-34.

Bear player Shana Carstensen then scored Laurel's next six points — breaking the tie with a three-point play and contributing four more points, giving Laurel a 40-34 lead.

Junior Sherri McCorkindale produced another three-point play to put Laurel's lead out of reach.

Three Laurel players hit the double figure mark. Junior Amy Adkins led all scorers with 13 points, hitting on six field goals and tossing in one of two from the charity stripe.

Each contributing 11 points were McCorkindale and Carstensen. Carstensen had a good night from the free throw line, hitting seven of 11 attempts.

Others scoring were Heather Thomas, nine points; Amy Newton with three points; and Kim Mathiason with a single point.

Laurel outrebounded Plainview 38-26. Leading the way for the Bears were McCorkindale with 10 boards and Newton with nine caroms. Laurel led 10-9 at the end of the first quarter and led 20-16 at halftime. They upped their lead to 33-25 at the start of the fourth quarter.

The win over Plainview evened the Bears' record at 3-3.

Against Randolph

Laurel didn't lead the entire ballgame until the final shot of the game, sunk by Amy Newton, which gave the Bears the 41-39 win.

With under a minute left to play in the game and Laurel trailing 39-37, Randolph's coach was whistled for a technical foul.

Shana Carstensen was called upon by Coach Thies to shoot the free throws and she canned both of them, tying the game at 39-39.

With five seconds remaining, Laurel got the ball out of bounds. Kim Mathiason, on the inbound pass, tossed in to an open Newton who scored and gave Laurel the go-ahead basket and the championship game win.

"Once again we played another great fourth quarter," said Coach Thies.

During that last quarter, Laurel outscored Randolph 18-12. Laurel trailed 6-3 at the end of the first quarter and was behind at halftime, 17-14. When the third quarter ended, the score was 37-33 in Randolph's favor.

Leading scorer for the Bears was Amy Adkins with 12 points. Mathiason tossed in nine points while Heather Thomas and Carstensen each had eight points. Newton scored four points and was the Bears' leading rebounder with six. Carstensen had five rebounds.

From the free throw line, Laurel made only nine of 24 attempts. However, Randolph also missed 45 shots from the free throw line, hitting on just five of 20 attempts.

The Bears now stand at 4-3 going into Thursday night's game against Wayne-Carroll, to be played in Wayne.

THERE WAS A real cause to celebrate for the Laurel Lady Bears last Friday. Laurel defeated Randolph by two points in the finals of Laurel's first Holiday Tournament in several years.

Laurel boys downed

Laurel was the host of a Holiday Tournament this year with Randolph, Plainview and Hartington Cedar Catholic invited to play in the four team tourney with girls and boys competition taking place.

In the boys division Cedar Catholic downed Randolph easily by 21 points, 65-44, putting them in the finals against Laurel who downed Plainview 87-69 in first round action.

Laurel shot 54 percent from the field and hit 18 of 23 free throws against Plainview and got some excellent scoring output from Troy Twohig, who netted a career high 29 points including 14 in the fourth quarter.

John Schutte and Todd Erwin added 19 for the winners. Schutte had 13 rebounds to go with his point total. The Cedar Catholic game was another story for Laurel. Cedar nailed eight of its nine shots from three point range and hit 60 percent from two point range as they bombed the home team 90-45.

"I was totally shocked," coach Mark Hrabik said. "I never thought anybody could dominate us like that."

John Schutte and Troy Twohig were again the scoring leaders with 16 and 15 points respectively. "Cedar probably played their best game of the year against us," Hrabik said. "We didn't play all that well, but you have to give all the credit to them."

The positive thing to look at for Laurel was the shooting percentages of their two top scorers. "For the tournament John Schutte shot 71 percent from the field and Troy Twohig hit 63 percent," Hrabik said.

Laurel travels to Pierce this Thursday before returning home to play Wayne next Tuesday.

Winside teams lose to Walthill

Winside's basketball teams got quite a bit of time off over Christmas break as neither team was involved in a holiday tournament.

Tuesday night though, the Wildcats got back into action by traveling to Walthill to take on the number four rated team in C-2.

Coach Randy Geier watched his Wildcats perform valiantly, but midway through the fourth quarter Walthill took a lead they would never relinquish, as they went on to win 68-61.

Winside however, played a good game was not intimidated by the bigger Walthill team. "We played well," Geier said. "We had some good practices over Christmas break and the guys had a good attitude going into the game."

When you think of Winside basketball, the first thing that comes to mind is Tim Jacobsen. The senior guard played brilliantly against Walthill, netting a season high of 38 points. Jacobsen was also a force on the boards, coming away with 14 rebounds.

Steve Heinemann followed with nine points while Mark Brugger and Darren Wacker netted four apiece. Gary Mundi and Vince White rounded out the scoring with three points apiece.

White finished the game with six rebounds while Heinemann and Brugger recorded five boards each. Winside though was outrebounded by Walthill as a team, 50-41.

Geier noted that the key to his team's play was team defense. "Last year their big man Dave Wingett killed us with his scoring. This year he was averaging about 21 points a game, but our guys held him to six points," Geier said.

Winside was hurt by Dennis Thomas who netted 27 points in the game including seven 3-pointers. Jacobsen incidently, netted four from bonus range.

Winside suffered only 14 turnovers in the game while Walthill had 16. "It was a hard fought game on both ends of the court," Geier said.

Girls lose

Paul Giesselmann's Lady Wildcats also lost to Walthill by a 63-45 margin. "The score in no way reflects the closeness of the game," Giesselmann said. "We led by eight points at intermission and only trailed by six heading into the final quarter."

Winside's downfall came in the turnover category as they suffered 31 mishaps which led to 30 Walthill points. "The first half was probably the best half of ball we've played this season," Giesselmann said. "We led 30-22 and was playing good ball, but then the shots didn't fall."

Kristy Miller led the team with 23 points. Lisa Janke followed with 10 points and Jenny Topp added six. Cam Behmer followed with four and Christina Bloomfield added two. Miller had 12 rebounds while Janke and Topp followed with 11 and 10 respectively.

The Wildcats outrebounded Walthill 48-40 which left Giesselmann smiling. "It's good to see our rebounding get back to where it was," Giesselmann said.

by Pat Melerhenry

It's the first day of the new year, and I've just played 142 games of Bingo, with Grandma as the caller. Grandma, for the first time in history, did not help with meal preparation or with cleanup.

We've initiated the newlywed's china, crystal, and lace tablecloth. We already knew Monte could cook, and he proved it by making turkey with wild rice dressing. Ironically, he couldn't find his roaster. Mine was missing last weekend. When they only get used once a year, they seem to get misplaced.

The 49'ers have demolished the Vikings, thanks to Roger Craig, and will be meeting the Bears next Sunday in the next to last football game of the season.

Santa was good to everyone, as usual. My electric fondue pot burned out some time ago, so I had asked for a new one for Mother's Day, my birthday, and Christmas. They were not to be found.

Three days before Christmas, I found a used one for five bucks. I received an alcohol-fueled one for Christmas. We can now fondue the meat and the dessert at the same meal.

We've also graduated to push-button phones with memories, automatic redial, and speakers.

ONE OF THE sweetest things I received was from the Wayne home health care gals and was hand-made by Joanie West. It features an abacus with the names Sue, Jon, Kay, and Ann in place of some of the beads and the admonition to "count your blessings."

One of the funnest children's toys I've heard about was a grocery conveyor belt with a "scanner" in it. I think I'd like to play with that.

The "uniquest" gift went to a friend whose office staff got him a gift certificate to the 2nd Act, the local, second-hand store!

I also have some great additions to my angel collection, made of bisque, wood, glass, yarn, and corn husk.

The new puzzle, Shem Creek in South Carolina, has already gone back into the box. The new game, Nebraskaopoly, has been tried and won, as usual, by the Big Farmer. There's a new tape by a French choir.

BECAUSE THE weather cooperated, we had Luminaria. Mike and Kay thought I was cracking up when I told them to put candles in bags of sand, but they were beautiful and did not burn up the sacks.

We had more candles for Silent Night in church, and that was beautiful, too.

I watched a special TV show of Advent in Germany, and had special guests for Christmas dinner, and coffee with a special nurse who lives in Phoenix.

I chuckled with her as she described her children's disappointment at finding no snow. "They've seen snow, in the mountains, but they've never seen it coming down!"

Mike's fraternity printed an alumni directory this fall and we've had fun checking addresses and occupations for people we knew 30 years ago.

Last Thursday night, one of the guys from that group called. He'd been phoning all the "brothers" from that era just to visit. Great idea for auld lang syne.

Our two graduates had a rude awakening: work goes on between Christmas and New Year's.

The "whole crew" has read this, corrected it, and given opinions. Time to call it a day, and forge onward into 1989. Go Big Red!

Marketing resumes of ag properties

Farm Credit Services of Omaha was to resume marketing of farm and ranch properties on Tuesday, Jan. 3. The Bank had halted the sale of certain properties for approximately three weeks to allow field personnel time to close pending sales transactions and to allow time for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) to publish regulations for the long awaited and often delayed Demonstration Project which was a part of the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987.

"All properties will again be offered in an orderly marketing process by regional acquired property personnel. Only those agricultural properties which were acquired by the Farm Credit Bank of Omaha are eligible to be purchased under the FmHA Demonstration Project. Those properties owned by the Production Credit Association of the Midlands and other non-agricultural properties (such as lots in town, commercial real estate and rural homes) are not covered under the Demonstration Project," according to Jim Kirk, President of the Farm Credit Bank of Omaha.

The process will allow those people who are certified eligible by FmHA under their regulations to purchase certain eligible Farm Credit Bank properties and receive up to a 4 percent interest rate buydown. The lender who participates with the eligible buyer will also receive a 90 percent loan guarantee. Also, the lender could receive up to a 95 percent loan guarantee, if it would further reduce the interest rate charged to a buyer by one full percentage point during the life of the loan.

Farm Credit Services will make available its properties in its normal marketing process which includes auctions, sealed bid sales and sales through the regional acquired property offices. Farm Credit Services makes its property equally available to all interested buyers.

Prospective buyers who wish to purchase and finance under the Demonstration Project should meet with their lender who can help complete an application to FmHA. FmHA will then process the loan application, determine eligibility, and issue a certificate of eligibility to eligible applicants. FmHA must also determine the eligibility of the property the individual wishes to purchase. Property eligibility is at the discretion of the local FmHA county committee.

Buyers who wish to purchase and do not intend to make their offer subject to finance under the Demonstration Project are urged to submit offers as well. These offers will receive immediate attention on properties not eligible for the Demonstration Project and will be equally considered in case of multiple offers on property eligible for the Demonstration Project.

Don Korkow, Vice President of Acquired Property for the Farm Credit Bank, indicated that the Bank will wait approximately 30 days on properties which may be eligible for the program before offers are either countered, rejected or accepted. He stated that this should allow time for all interested buyers to contact FmHA to see if they might qualify. All people who are interested in purchasing properties, whether they plan to use this Demonstration Project or not, should contact Farm Credit's Acquired Property offices to determine the availability of property and when offers on specific properties will be accepted.

Korkow further stated, "that in the case of multiple offers on properties, Farm Credit Services could go into a bid-off process and would be accepting the highest offer that would close within a 30-day time period, and that if an interested buyer wanted additional time in which to close his transaction under the Demonstration Project it would cost a predetermined, upfront fee paid to Farm Credit Services." Additional Farm Credit Services guidelines will be developed when FmHA's final regulations go into effect and begin to be used by prospective buyers, Korkow stated.

Kirk also said that, "Farm Credit Services would begin acting on the offers at the end of the designated marketing period for each property whether or not FmHA had published its final regulations. We want to cooperate with FmHA, and this program has the potential for putting some operators who are currently operating with limited financial resources into a better real estate base. We cannot, however, wait unduly for FmHA to publish its final regulations."

Bereuter proposes ban on honoraria

Representative Doug Bereuter said that he believes all members of the House and Senate should be prohibited from accepting honoraria. The First District Congressman said that, because of abuses, that have been occurring in recent years, effective Jan. 1, 1989, he will reject all honoraria for the duration of his service in Congress.

Bereuter further proposed that the limits on outside income that a Senator can earn should be lowered to the amount now permitted House members, and suggested that the amount might be lower than it now is for both Houses of Congress.

"Serious abuses have developed in the system that permits Members of Congress to accept honoraria," Bereuter said. "I would like to see a ban on honoraria and a common policy on travel and lodging expenses and other outside income that would apply equally to the House and the Senate."

BEREUTER SAID that last year members of Congress received more than $9.5 million in honoraria. They kept about $7.3 million and gave the rest to charity. The average Senator got about $31,000, kept $23,000 and gave $8,000 away, according to Bereuter. The comparable figures in the House of Representatives were $15,600 in honoraria for the average member, who kept $12,200 and gave $3,400 away.

"The averages are deceptive," Bereuter said, "because some members accept very little or no honoraria. The honoraria I have accepted have always been quite limited, but I will cut the amount to zero." At present Senators may keep up to $35,000 in speaking fees and other outside income, and House members up to $26,000.

BEREUTER ALSO said that he is opposed to the amount of increase in Congressional salaries suggested by the Quadrennial Commission.

"The proposed $45,500 salary increase is excessive," Bereuter said, "and I will vote against any increase of that magnitude. I hope that the President rejects the Commission's recommendation."

"I have never complained about the Congressional salary," Bereuter added.

Bereuter said that he believes a Congress should not be able to vote a pay raise for the Congress in which they are convened. As he did in the 100th Congress, he is cosponsoring a bill that would defer any Congressional pay adjustment until an election has intervened, thus preventing a Senate or House member from voting for a pay raise which would go into effect during the current Congress. The bill also would require a recorded vote on any congressional pay raise, so that the public knows where each elected official stands on salary issues.

HARD WORK AND HOMEWORK PREPARATION FOR SEMESTER I EXAMS

As the Semester I exams approach, parents and students can prepare together. Solid test preparation means solid study skills. This involves time, planning, organization, note-taking, setting priorities, reviewing, and plenty of hard work and homework. Get involved in the development of these study skills by helping to coach your son or daughter through the semester exams at the end of the month.

WHERE TO START:

- Know your son's/daughter's schedule of courses.
- Know how he/she is doing in those courses. Look at report cards, warnings, tests and homework. Ask to see them.
- Know how he/she has prepared thus far. Look at notebooks, handouts, review sheets, past exams and textbooks.
- Know the exam schedule.

COACHING TECHNIQUES:

- Reject student attempts to shrug you off with statements that they know everything or have no work. Everyone can improve, and has work to do.
- Provide a place to study in which the student feels comfortable.
- See to it that all required materials are on hand — notebook, texts, paper and pens.
- Set a routine — a common starting time and ending time.
- Set priorities. Homework should be done before the social life begins.
- Encourage — concentrate on helping ... not just finding out everything he/she doesn't know or understand.
- Ask about teacher direction — what did the teacher say was important to study? You can be sure it will be on the exam.
- Look at the material learned in September — semester exams test for the cumulative nature of learning — not just the most recent.

ADDITIONAL TIPS FOR PARENTS OF STUDENTS UNDER Public Law 94-142

- Direction can be difficult. Some students need specific directions broken down step by step, along with concrete examples. (Oral and written)
- Expression skills need to be clear. Slow down fast handwriting so it can be read. Build confidence in oral and recitation skills.
- Memorization both long and short term might be a problem. Organization of notes, tests and learning aids are critical to overcome this difficulty.
- Extra help is available. Mary Lou George, the special education teacher at the high school has communicated to her students and to the staff her availability to help any student who is under PL 94-142. This includes taking the final in the resource room, helping with test construction, and receiving tutorial help.

Service medals available to former prisoners of war

A Prisoner of War Medal, recently authorized by Congress, is now available for issue to former prisoners of war. The medal will be issued at no cost to any person who was taken prisoner of war and held captive after April 5, 1917.

The medal is available to anyone who was taken prisoner during an armed conflict, i.e., World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam, and who rendered honorable service during the period of captivity. It also may be awarded posthumously to the legal next of kin of a prisoner of war. There must, however, be evidence of captivity as a POW.

Former prisoners of war, or their next of kin, may apply for the medal by writing to the military records center of the Service of which they were a part during their imprisonment, or by contacting their veterans organization, or by contacting my office, 1045 K Street, P.O. Box 82887, Lincoln, Nebraska 68501.

Requests for the medal must include basic personal information so that the record center can verify the applicant's former POW status and character of service while imprisoned. Information should include full name, Service number, Social Security number, VA claim number, date and place of birth, branch of Service, unit of assignment when captured, and dates of confinement and release as a POW.

SOCIAL SECURITY CHANGES TAKE EFFECT IN 1989

The following changes will take place in Social Security provisions in 1989:

- A 4.0 percent cost-of-living benefit is effective for December 1988 and payable in January 1989.
- The taxable earnings base for contributions and benefits increases from $45,000 in 1988 to $48,000 in 1989.

The tax rate is unchanged, at 7.51 percent for employers and employees, each.

- The annual earnings limitation for persons under age 65 increases from $6,120 in 1988 to $6,480 in 1989. For persons age 65 to 59, the annual amount rises from $8,400 in 1988 to $8,880 in 1989.

- The amount of earnings required in order for an individual to be credited with a quarter of coverage increases from $470 in 1988 to $500 in 1989.

Legislation passed in 1983 provides the following future changes:

- The normal retirement age, when full retirement benefits are paid, gradually increases from 65 to 67, beginning in the year 2003 and reaching 67 in 2027.
- Larger increases for those who delay retirement begin for those who reach 65 in 1990.
- The reduction in benefits for excess earnings will be smaller, starting in 1990 for those at or above the normal retirement age. The present loss of $1 in benefits for each $2 earned over the earnings limitation will then be $1 for $3.

The Golden Years

By George Mendonca

If someone 60 or older has been a heavy smoker for decades, is there any point to quitting? Yes, says the National Institute on Aging, and reduced risk of cancer isn't the only reason. Smokers have a higher risk than non-smokers of getting influenza and pneumonia, which can be life-threatening to older people. When a smoker quits, the risk of heart attack, stroke and other disorders begins to drop, and circulation to hands and feet improves.

George Mendonca spent 47 years as superintendent of a topiary garden on an estate in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, shaping shrubs into living sculptures of animals and birds. It's not the kind of work that produces quick results — it takes 16 years of training and trimming for a shrub to mature into an elephant. Now 78, and officially retired, Mendonca continues to live on the estate. There he weaves baskets, gives advice to gardeners, and still makes starter frames for new shrubs that will extend his artistry far into the future.

Remember When? March 5, 1933 — One day after his inauguration, President Franklin D. Roosevelt shut down all banks for four days to stop the run to withdraw funds. Most banks were able to reopen after the "holiday," and hoarded currency was deposited again.

Federal farm programs affect state's economy

A University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) professor warns that heavy reliance on federal farm programs has made Nebraska's state economy highly responsive to federal, rather than state, policy.

Dr. James R. Schmidt, associate professor in UNL's Department of Economics, says that "without sustained long-term recovery in commodity prices, Nebraska's farm income level will continue to be determined as much by prevailing federal legislation as by market receipts and operating expenses."

Schmidt's report, "Farm Income and Government Payments to Agriculture in Nebraska," appears in "Nebraska Policy Choices: 1988," published by the University of Nebraska at Omaha's Center for Applied Urban Research (CAUR).

According to Schmidt, "The data show that a large volume of government payments have been pumped recently into Nebraska's farm sector. In 1987, for example, 60 percent of Nebraska's total farm income was in the form of direct government payments. As a result, farm income posted a sequence of record levels and helped maintain the entire state economy on a reasonable, but not spectacular, growth path."

BUT THERE is danger, Schmidt says, in heavy outside support. According to his research, changes in Nebraska's farm income multiply by 1.9 to produce even greater change in the state's total income. Therefore, he says, "Significant drops in payment levels in the future, without offsetting increases in cash receipts or declines in production costs, will have serious repercussions throughout the state economy."

Schmidt says his findings point to the need for diversification of Nebraska's economy, a move recently advocated by two long-term planning efforts: "New Seeds for Nebraska," funded by the Nebraska Press Association-Peter Kiewit Foundation and written by SRI International; and the recent report of the New Horizons project to the Nebraska Legislature.

Schmidt also recommends that state rural policies be developed to help counties that rely most heavily on agriculture income and federal payments. Without assistance targeted at these vulnerable areas, Schmidt predicts that another severe agricultural depression or major cuts in government farm payments could devastate areas of the state.

"Resources and programs should be targeted according to degree and type of agriculture dependence as well as other factors, such as level of income," says Schmidt.

For example, 10 counties (Furnas, Frontier, Red Willow, Dawson, Harlan, Thurston, Banner, Hamilton, Franklin, and Boone) received 67 percent or more of their total farm income from direct government payments in 1986.

FINALLY, Schmidt says care must be taken to ensure that state policies are not undermined by federal policies. For example, he states that "new rural development ventures such as crop diversification efforts in Nebraska will have to provide the same income opportunities as federal government farm programs in order to get producers to switch crops."

In general, Schmidt calls for rural development efforts in Nebraska to incorporate and build upon the dynamics of federal farm policy. "Nebraska Policy Choices: 1988" examines major issues facing the state and identifies options available to Nebraskans.

When to hire a tax preparer

Whether or not a taxpayer needs to hire someone to do a tax return depends primarily on how complicated an individual's tax situation is, said Kathy Prochaska-Cue, University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension family economics and management specialist.

"A tax preparer can be helpful if you had a major financial transaction during 1988," she said. This includes purchasing a new home or selling a home, receiving a large gift or prize, or making investments in stocks or bonds.

"Because of changes in the tax law regarding depreciation schedules, business deductions and capital gains, if any of these situations apply to you, hiring someone else to do your returns may be money well-spent," Prochaska-Cue said.

"WHEN CHOOSING a tax preparer, shop around for the best price and service," she advised. Always check on where the tax preparer will be after April 15 in case of problems with the Internal Revenue Service or an audit. Since tax return preparation is a seasonal occupation for many preparers, some may be hard to locate.

"Find out what services the preparer will do if you are audited. Remember, only lawyers can offer legal representation," Prochaska-Cue emphasized. A certified public accountant or other tax preparer may accompany a taxpayer to the audit and explain how the return was filled out, but they have no legal standing and can not represent a party in court. "So, if your return is particularly complicated or you are fearful of an audit, you may elect to have a lawyer specializing in tax law complete your return," she said.

A taxpayer should also find out if the preparer will pay any tax penalty should a return be audited and a penalty assigned because of an error in preparation.

"Once a tax preparer is selected it's time to put financial papers in order before your appointment," Prochaska-Cue said. Read over the forms and be aware of what information is required. "Many preparers charge by the hour, so you save money if you do as much background work as possible prior to seeing the tax preparer," she explained.

I have a confession to make.

"It's my fault. Because I've had no time for the two people who matter most. You and me.

Well, that's over. This weekend, supper will be just the two of us. We'll leave the do-not-disturb sign out until we're good and ready. And I'm going to take a long, luxurious bubble bath. Yes, me.

Where'd the inspiration come from?

The Marina Inn. Where I'm going to do all this—and more. In fact, my Marina Inn weekend will have everything. If I can have it with you."

At the Marina Inn we have a variety of weekend packages, that vary in price depending on how much you'd like to indulge, and they are all very reasonable. You'll have access to our indoor pool, sauna and exercise room, plus our one-of-a-kind, good food, good time restaurant and bar, Garfunkel's. And that is only the beginning. Dry Mouth: Causes & Cures

Dry mouth is a common ailment in the aged and is a side effect of hundreds of medicines. Dry mouth occurs when saliva secretion is diminished, either temporarily or permanently. The mouth may feel parched with a burning sensation.

Dry mouth is found in 40 percent of those over age 65. Health problems such as anemia, dehydration, diabetes, and fever can cause dry mouth. Nasal congestion, stress, and smoking may also dry out the mouth. Antihistamines, decongestants, appetite suppressants, and certain medicines for heart arrhythmias, depression, and hypertension contribute to dry mouth. Many people with rheumatoid arthritis and disorders of the salivary glands may experience permanent dry mouth.

Temporary relief from dry mouth may be obtained from sipping water or sucking on ice chips, lozenges, hard sugarless candy, or chewing sugarless gum. But saliva substitute products have therapeutic advantages over home remedies. These substitutes are similar to natural saliva and last longer than other remedies. If dry mouth is a side effect of medicines, the dosage sometimes can be decreased or a different medicine prescribed. And always follow your dentist's advice for effective oral hygiene.
