Council notes

The Wayne City Council met Tuesday evening.

Among the action taken by the city council:

— Passed a resolution approving First Tier Bank as a Depository.

— Passed a resolution approving a Department of Roads Agreement for Highway 35 East resurfacing within the city limits of Wayne. The paving would begin at the intersection of 7th Street and Wayside Lane (over the old railroad crossing) and continue east.

— Discussed the problems of loose dogs and blown-away garbage in the city. Councilman Larry Johnson asked that people be more cognizant of the loose dog ordinance. Residents should consider not placing garbage on the curbs during very windy days.

The police department has had only one complaint of recent about the loose dogs. However, there still are isolated incidences, Johnson said.

Charge for the basic service, observation and testing laboratory services is $7,790.

Jack's condition

Last week The Wayne Herald ran an article on Jack Kavanaugh's heart transplant. Several people have asked for the Kavanaugh address. It is as follows: P.O. Box 31, Carver, Minnesota 55315.

Betty Kavanaugh said Jack should be released from the Minneapolis Heart Institute of Abbott Northwestern hospital either this weekend or by the middle of next week. He will be relocating to a living quarters located near the hospital for at least one week to 10 days.

Then for six to eight weeks after that, the Kavanaghs will reside in Carver. "We expect to be in Laurel by the middle of March," she said.

"Jack is progressing well. The day before the heart transplant surgery, Jack's pulse rate was at 64. Now, his count is up to 97," she said.

WAYNE-CARROLL student Chad Frey demonstrated computer art animation Tuesday to the board of education.

Computers take art form

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Managing Editor

Today, the vast technological changes have affected education in a variety of ways.

High school art is no exception.

Ted Blenderman, art instructor at Wayne-Carroll High School, briefed the Wayne-Carroll Board of Education on the use of computers in the art classroom.

Some materials used in fine arts for oil painting, silk screening, sculpturing and ceramics are now considered unsafe to use, or there just isn't adequate ventilation in the classroom that meets the safety standards. So these areas of instruction are going to be less common in the classroom. Pottery, for instance, will be phased out this year, according to Blenderman.

"We've changed direction in the last few years and have gone to other forms of art," Blenderman told the board members.

BLENDERMAN and Chad Frey demonstrated the latest art form — computer art — to members of the board on one of the school's computers now being used for computer art.

Blenderman asked the board members to consider purchasing more computers for what could become a computer art program for high school students.

"We would need to purchase four more, at a cost of at least $6,400," he said. Another printer, besides the one being currently used, would also be needed.

"The advantage is that it would become another opportunity for the students. Computers are used in all aspects, not just in offices but in the art community as well," Blenderman said.

Frey demonstrated to the board members, with the present computer, what could be done in the area of computer animation. Also featured in the computer art program could be painting, architectural designing and graphic designing.

Blenderman said he anticipates computer art — which could be instrumental for students wishing to go into the teaching or advertising area upon completing their high school education — becoming up to one-half of the school's high school art program.

THE BOARD of education took no action on the purchase of additional computers, but will keep the computer request under consideration.

Wayne Giveaway event underway

Another Wayne Great Giveaway has begun.

Last year, thousands of area residents scanned the advertisements and registered at participating businesses in hopes of winning a Dream Vacation for Two or valuable Vacation Bucks.

Last year's trip winner was Bev Dangberg of Wayne while Jan Johnson of Wakefield won the Vacation Bucks.

Grand prizes for this year's Great Wayne Giveaway include $200 in Vacation Bucks, and a choice of four different trips.

Vacation Bucks must be spent locally at any of the businesses participating in the promotion. This year's trip winner must redeem the prize some time during 1989.

Special flight packages are available to 1) Phoenix; 2) Las Vegas or; 3) any other major airport city in the entire continental United States. For those who would rather stay on the ground, a bus tour is available to 4) the Wisconsin Dells.

All trips will be purchased and coordinated by Trio Travel of Wayne, and all but one of the trips in the promotion includes lodging. The exception: 3) air travel to and from any major airport city in the continental U.S.

This week's first installment of ads kicking off 1989's Wayne Great Giveaway III are found on the inside pages of today's newspaper. Remember the contest runs for eight weeks culminating with the March 2 issue of The Wayne Herald and Marketer.

OTHER IMPORTANT guidelines to remember for this year's promotion:

1) Each week a new drawing will take place, so be sure to register each week at a participating merchant.

2) Weekly drawings will take place at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hardees. Two names will be drawn each of the eight weeks to determine the 16 "semi-finalists" who will participate in a Grand Finale drawing for the trip and Vacation Bucks.

3) Winners of the preliminary Tuesday drawings will be publicized in that Thursday's issue of The Wayne Herald.

4) Important: Only original registration coupons in the Thursday ads of participating merchants will be considered for the weekly drawings. No copies of the coupons will be allowed.

5) Registration slips for a particular business must be entered at that business only. Entry blanks from other businesses will be voided.

6) Although no purchase is necessary at participating businesses, all registrants should be age 16 or older.

7) No restrictions exist on how many times you may enter the contest. Area residents wishing to register more than once at an individual participating business may obtain additional issues of The Wayne Herald at any of the regular newsstand dealers: Oberle's Market in Winside, Corner Market in Carroll, Korner Mart in Wakefield, and the following Wayne locations: Pac 'N' Save, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, Pamida, Bill's GW, Casey's, 7-11 or the Herald office.

8) Contestants are encouraged to register throughout the week at ALL of the businesses. Coupons missing the deadline for a particular week's drawing simply will be included in the next week's drawing.

PARTICIPATING businesses include: Hardees of Wayne, Stoltenberg Partners, Fredrickson Oil Company and Convenience Store, Grless Rexall, Logan Valley Implementation, Bill's GW.

Also, Trio Travel, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, Century 21, Pizza Hut, Midwest Land, Pac 'N' Save.

More participants include First National Bank, ERA Property Exchange, Jones Intercable, Ellingson Motors, Pamida and The Wayne Herald and Marketer.

Board support asked

HELP is sought

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Managing Editor

The Nebraska State Education Association is looking for some H.E.L.P.

H.E.L.P. are the initials for "Help Education Lead to Prosperity". And one way to get that help is for support of a legislative bill labeled the "Prosperity Through Education Initiative".

Wayne-Carroll teacher Robert Porter presented the H.E.L.P. concept Tuesday afternoon to members of the Board of Education. A videotape explained the concerns of the Nebraska State Education Association (NSEA), and other leaders across Nebraska, on the current status of education in the state.

Specifically addressed were areas concerning teacher salaries in comparison to other states and Nebraska's over reliance on local property taxes to fund public schools.

LEGISLATIVE Bill 89 has been introduced which calls for a request for passage of a $150 million salary increase and property tax reduction package. This "Prosperity Through Education Initiative" bill would provide $100 million to boost the minimum salary of teachers to

Conway introduces bills

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Managing Editor

Hundreds and hundreds of legislative bills have been placed before the 1989 version of the Nebraska Unicameral, all for passage or for killing before the session ends on May 24.

State Senator Gerald Conway of Wayne has co-sponsored several bills, including one that will make two significant changes in the state liability law and another that would impose a state tax on marijuana and other controlled substances.

The measure combines elimination of Nebraska's slight-gross standard of comparative negligence with elimination of the joint and several liability.

Under slight-gross standards a plaintiff (anyone injured in an accident), in which his contributory negligence was more than slight, and the defendant's negligence was less than gross, cannot recover for damages or injuries.

Conway's bill would allow the injured party (plaintiff) to recover as long as his contributory negligence to the accident was 50 percent or less, and the plaintiff's (injured party's) recovery would be reduced by the percentage of his contributory negligence.

Under the present joint and several liability a single defendant may be forced to pay an entire Legislator status reviewed

A meeting to decide whether District 17 State Senator Gerald Conway should be seated in the state legislature took place Wednesday. Results were not available at press time.

Tore Nelson, who was defeated by Conway in the Nov. 8 election, has challenged whether Conway can serve as a member of the Legislature while being employed at Wayne State College (a state college) as a teacher.

On Monday state legislators approved, by a 30-0 margin, Waverly State Senator Jerome Warner's recommendation to assemble a committee of five senior senators to study the challenge. Warner would serve as the head of the committee.

Others include Senators Loran Schmit of Bellwood; and Glenn Goodrich, Bernice Labedz and Ernie Chambers, all of Omaha.

Subpoena powers would be given to the committee. However, Warner said the question falls more on how the law is interpreted. He said the study could also lead to changes in state law.

Conway told The Wayne Herald he would continue serving as state legislator if it was determined by the Legislature to be a conflict of interest, even if it meant giving up his teaching position. He also said that he contacted an attorney four years ago on the issue of serving as a teacher at a state college while also being a state legislator, and he acted on the legal advice of his legal representative.

Conway also told the Wayne Herald that when the Legislature meets, he takes an "unpaid" leave of absence from Wayne State College.

Keidel honored

A DISTINGUISHED Service Award was presented Tuesday to Becky Keidel for her eight years of service on the Wayne Board of Education. In presenting the award, Keidel was cited for "demonstrating strong support for broad-based, quality education and for serving as a source of wise counsel for both the board of education and the superintendent." Keidel had served the board of education as board president for the past six years. She did not run for reelection last year and her term as board member recently expired. She was presented the award by board member Neil Sandahl, who was elected Tuesday to serve as the board president. Cap Peterson was elected to the vice-president post and Doris Daniels was appointed board of education secretary.

James Murphy officiated at the double ring service at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in St. Paul. Decorations included white roses, blue iris and cornflowers at the altar, and two seven-branch candelabras. The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman Greisen of St. Paul, placed white roses with ivory ribbon on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Don Cattle of Wayne.

Wrestlers capture Wisner Invitational

The Wayne wrestling team showed great resilience last Saturday in the Wisner Invitational. Wayne, coming off a tough dual loss to Creighton the previous Thursday, was hoping to bounce back and wrestle hard despite knowing that Creighton would also be at the invitational.

The Blue Devils showed up, wrestled hard, and came away with the team championship over runner-up Schuyler, 162 1/2-144. Creighton finished third after winning the meet last year, with 129 1/2 points. The host team Wisner finished fourth with 112 1/2 points while Pender rounded out the top five with 73 points.

Norfolk's junior varsity placed sixth, with 61 1/2 points while West Point finished seventh with 47 1/2 points. Lyons-Decatur followed with 47 points while West Point Central Catholic and Macy rounded out the field of 10 teams with 26 and 20 points respectively.

Wayne led after every round, although Schuyler made it close for a while. The Blue Devils had three grapplers take top honors, and three grapplers take runner-up honors in the individual weight classes.

"Overall as a team I thought we wrestled very well," coach John Murtaugh said. "Any time you come away from a 10 team invitational with 10 medals you're doing something right."

Murtaugh especially noted that he was pleased with the way his team responded after losing to Creighton the previous Thursday.

Murtaugh also pinpointed Jason Fink as having wrestled his best all season even though he did not place.

The following is a composite of how the Wayne wrestlers finished in the sixth annual Wisner Invitational.

MIKE DENAEYER, 103 lbs. — First place; won by pin, won 13-5, won 9-0 in the finals over Mitch Climar of Lyons-Decatur.
ERIC COLE, 112 lbs. — Did Not Place; won by pin, lost 11-2, lost 7-2.
CHRIS JANKE, 119 lbs. — Second place; won 5-1, won 2-1, lost 6-0 to Cody Stutzman of Schuyler.

TREVOR WEHRER, 125 lbs. — Did Not Place; won by pin, won 2-0, lost by pin, won by pin, lost 10-4 to Jeff Fischer of Norfolk JV.

GREG DENAEYER, 135 lbs. — Third Place; won by pin, lost 12-2, won 4-0, won 7-4 over Jeff Peterson of Norfolk JV.
CHRIS CORBIT, 140 lbs. — Third Place; won by pin, lost 4-2, won by pin, won 9-0 over Jerry Schaefer of Norfolk JV.
DWAINE JUNCK, 145 lbs. — Did Not Place; lost by pin twice.
TOM ETTER, 152 lbs. — Second Place; won 11-2, won 3-1, lost 6-5 to Matt Olsson of Pender. Olsson incidently, is rated as the number two wrestler in his weight in Class C.
SHANE GEIGER, 160 lbs. — Second Place; won by pin, won 4-2, lost 9-4 to Larry Weyhrich of Creighton.
JASON EHRHARDT, 171 lbs. — First Place; won by technical fall, won by technical fall, won 8-4 over Jim Archibique of Lyons-Decatur.
CHRIS LUTT, 189 lbs. — First Place; won by pin, won by injury default, won by technical fall over Chris Lierman of Wisner.
MATT BRUGGEMANN, HWWT. — Third Place; won by pin, lost 4-2; won by pin, won by pin over Doug Lierman of Wisner.

Five junior varsity grapplers also traveled to Wisner. Even though any points they scored could not be added to the varsity scores, they could still medal if they made it that far.

Brent Gamble at 112 lbs., finished with a 1-1 record. Brian Gamble at 119 lbs., finished with a 1-2 record; Jesse Brodersen at 160 lbs., finished with a 0-1 record; Dan Wiseman at 160 lbs., finished with a 1-2 record, and Dave Hewitt at 171 lbs., finished with a 2-2 record.

Wayne will now host South Sioux in a dual this Thursday night at a teacher-fan appreciation night, before traveling to Elkhorn on Saturday.

The Elkhorn Invite will be a tough meet according to Murtaugh. "If will be a good strong meet for us," Murtaugh said. "It also gives us a preview of some of the district teams we will face again next month in Elkhorn for district competition."

Norfolk girls defeat Wayne

Norfolk invaded Wayne high's gym Tuesday night and defeated the Lady Blue Devils by 14 points, 59-45.

The Panthers used some quick footed defense and outran the Blue Devils to a 17 point halftime lead of 34-17. Wayne's defense tightened some in the second half as they outscored the Panthers 28-25 to account for the final margin.

Wayne mentor Marlene Uhing witnessed her team at least accomplish one of their team goals of the night, to be aggressive on the boards. Wayne outrebounded Norfolk 35-35.

"We had a game plan to be more aggressive on the boards," Uhing said. "I thought we definitely did that but we failed to attack their press like we wanted to and like we had practiced the day before."

Uhing said that Norfolk is a very physical team that shoots the ball very well. The Panthers also have some excellent foot speed as they, raced up and down the court all night.

Devils down Laurel

The Wayne Blue Devils got back on the winning track Tuesday night as they visited the hostile confines of the Laurel gymnasium.

Wayne defeated the home town Bears convincingly by 22 points, 70-48, which pushed their season mark to 4-5.

The Blue Devils jumped out to a 10-6 lead after the first quarter. In the second quarter they unleashed their speed and quality outside shooting by outscoring Laurel 23-9 to take an 18 point lead into intermission, 33-15.

Laurel tried to rebound in the third quarter even cutting the lead to 10 at one time, but Wayne retaliated to lead by 14 heading into the final quarter where they outgunned the Bears 21-13 for the final margin.

Laurel's chances dwindled greatly with six minutes to go in the fourth quarter when big man John Schutte fouled out. "We stayed with them for a while," coach Mark Hrabik said. "I think one of our bright spots was the return of scoring by Doug Manz."

Manz had been struggling the past few games, but notched 12 points against the Blue Devils which should help his confidence.

Wayne was playing without Willy Gross who was out with an infected foot. Rob Sweetland and Jarrod

Wood however, put the screws to Laurel's defense.

Sweetland scored 16 of his 20 points in the first half, while Jarrod Wood finished with 26 points. Neil Carnes and Jess Zeiss followed with seven and six points respectively. Jed Reeg netted four points and Adam Mrsny notched three. Doug Larsen and Kevin Hausmann each scored two points.

Reeg led the rebounding barrage with 12 caroms to his credit. Sweetland hauled down eight rebounds while Wood notched seven. "We got a lot of offensive rebounds," coach Bob Uhing said. "That will help our team's confidence because we haven't been dominating the boards recently."

Wayne outrebounded Laurel 40-24 including 14 offensive boards.

Matt Felber also added nine points for Laurel while Matt Jones scored four. Troy Twohig was in double figures with 10 while Todd Erwin and Bruce Haisch added two each.

Wayne's junior varsity team also won, 51-27. Chad Metzler led the way with 11 while Jeff Griesch added 10. Craig Sharpe scored eight while the Dyers, Casey and Craig scored six each. Brian Lentz and Glenn Johnson each scored five points to lead the 4-2 JV team.

TONYA ERXLEBEN eyes the open shot in Wayne's game against Norfolk Tuesday night.

Pierce defeats Laurel

Laurel coach Mark Hrabik said his team played a good three quarters last Friday night at Pierce, but they couldn't get the whole dollar.

The Bears lost a 14 point decision to the Blue Jays, 67-53 in a game which was much closer than the final score indicated.

Laurel fell behind 12-10 after one quarter of play but rallied in the second quarter to lead by six at intermission.

In the third period Pierce fought back and outscored Laurel 19-15 and heading into the final period Laurel maintained a slim two point advantage 43-41.

It was in the fourth quarter where the wheels fell off the Laurel wagon. Pierce outgunned the Bears 26-10 to win by their 14 point margin.

"Pierce hit 11 of 14 free throws in the fourth quarter," Hrabik said. "We got down to the last three minutes and we had to start fouling and Pierce just hit all their free throws."

Hrabik felt his team played pretty well throughout most of the game. "I thought that our kids battled hard," Hrabik said. "I was especially pleased to see that they didn't rebound us."

Laurel and Pierce had an identical number of rebounds at 38. The turning point was that Pierce had but six turnovers and Laurel suffered 20.

John Schutte continued his excellent consistency, scoring 20 points and hauling down 12 rebounds to lead the Bears attack. Troy Twohig and Matt Jones netted 11 points apiece while Doug Manz scored six.

Todd Erwin and Bruce Haisch scored two points apiece while Matt Felber scored one.

Girls lose by 15 Pam Thies witnessed her squad fall below the .500 mark on the season at 4-5, with a 55-40 setback to Pierce, which preceded the boys contest last Friday.

Pierce jumped out to a 17-11 lead after one quarter and stretched it to a 13 point advantage at intermission at 34-21.

Laurel played fairly even ball in the second half, but they couldn't make up the deficit that stared them in the face at halftime, losing 55-40. "We really didn't play all that well," Thies said. "We hit only 2 of 13 free throws in the game."

Kim Mathiason led the way with nine points followed by Heather Thomas' eight. Sherri McCorkindale poured in six points while Shana Carstensen scored five.

Amy Newton and Amy Adkins scored four points apiece while Jesse Monson and Deb Roeder rounded out the scoring with two points each.

Eagles lose to Ponca

The Allen Eagles had a tall order to fill in the first round of the Ponca tournament last Friday night. The Eagles played Ponca, the tournament host and thoughts of what transpired when these two teams first played this season was not pleasant to many of the Allen players.

"We got drilled by 45 points the first time we played," coach Gary Troth said. "We just wanted to go out and play hard."

The Eagles accomplished that goal of playing hard as they battled the host team throughout the game, eventually losing by 15, 70-55. "We were only down by six points with three minutes to go in the game," Troth said. "Then we missed a shot and they hit a couple in a row and we were forced to start fouling."

Todd Hohenstein scored 24 points in the game to lead Allen while Matt Hings netted eight. Rusty Dickens scored seven points while Shane Dahl and Ben Jackson netted six apiece. Kent Chase and Jason Oleson rounded out the scoring with two points apiece.

One of the keys that hurt us was Shane Dahl fouling out early in the fourth quarter," Troth said. "Both Shane and Todd Hohenstein led the squad in rebounding with seven boards each and losing him hurt our inside game."

Allen was outrebounded as a team by a 36-26 margin. One area in which Troth was pleased to see of his teams performance was turnovers.

The Eagles had been averaging about 25 turnovers a game but only suffered 15 against Ponca. The Indians turned it over 17 times.

Wakefield upends third rated team

The number three rated team in Class C-2, Walthill, traveled to Wakefield Tuesday night in what was being billed as an excellent game to be.

Both teams lived up to those standards as the outcome was not decided until the final four seconds of the contest on a one-and-one.

With six seconds remaining in the game Wakefield had the ball under their own basket and trailed by one point, 65-64. The Trojans turned the ball over on the inbounds pass and used two seconds in the process.

Now Walthill had the ball with just four seconds remaining. On the ensuing inbounds pass, a Walthill player apparently ran over Wakefield's Matt Tappe. Tappe stepped to the free throw line and sank both ends of the one-and-one opportunity he had received.

Walthill's desperation shot at the buzzer fell harmlessly leaving Wakefield with an upset 66-65 victory. Wakefield's record improved to 9-3 while Walthill fell to 5-2.

Four Trojans finished the game in double figures with Mark Johnson, Andy McQuistan and Stuart Clark all notching 17 points apiece. Matt Tappe finished with 11 points and Scott Lund rounded out the scoring with four points.

McQuistan led the rebounding charge with 10 while Mark Johnson and Stuart Clark hauled down eight and six respectively.

For Wakefield coach Paul Eaton, the Walthill game proved to be a first for him. In over ten years of basketball coaching, Eaton had never received a technical foul. That changed with two minutes remaining in the game.

Andy McQuistan had fouled out and the coach has 30 seconds to replace him. As Eaton was giving his replacement player Tony Krusemark instructions, he asked the score keeper how much time he had left.

Apparently, he still had time as they had not really been clocking the time. Then the referee gave the technical sign for taking too much time. Eaton was called for a second technical for arguing over the situation.

At any rate, Wakefield was able to overcome the bizarre circumstance. "This is a good win for our team," Eaton said. "Walthill has a real nice team and their big man Dave Wingett scored 29 points."

New lake opens in Nebraska

A new 40 acre lake in northeast Nebraska has been opened to the public, a Nebraska Game and Parks Commission Fisheries Division administrative assistant said.

Joel Klammer said Chalk Rock Lake, located about seven miles north of Fordyce is a new fishing spot in the northeast. The lake was created by a water project undertaken by the Lewis and Clark Natural Resources District in cooperation with the Commission, he said.

The lake has existed for some time, however, construction of parking areas and other projects have delayed its opening, Klammer said. The lake has been stocked in recent years with bass, bluegill, catfish, walleye, and tiger musky (northern pike and muskellunge hybrid). At this time though, the fish are relatively small in size.

Winside grapplers place third at own meet

Hooper Logan-View waltzed away with its third consecutive Winside Invitational team trophy Saturday with 158½ points. Stanton finished in the runner-up spot with 129½ points. The host team in Winside captured third place honors with 101 points, five points ahead of fourth place Norfolk Catholic's 96 points.

Battle Creek, Osmond, Clearwater and Oakland-Craig rounded out the eight team field. Plainview did not make the trip with the weather as it was.

Winside coach Paul Sok noted that the quality of competition of this year's tournament was down some from the past with Plainview not making the trip and with sickness hampering some of the teams present.

Nine Winside wrestlers came away with medals, but only two qualified for the finals. Chad Carlson at 103 lbs., and Max Kant at 135 lbs., captured gold medals in their respective weight classes with Carlson pinning Vince Kirby of Battle Creek in 1:26, and Kant pinning Dwaine Freiburg of Stanton in 2:48.

Both Carlson and Max Kant are currently rated as the number one wrestlers in Class D in their weight class.

Jeff Gallop, wrestling in the 145 lb. slot brought home a third place medal with his pinning of Brett Bixenmann of Stanton in 53 seconds. Gallop's feat was matched by teammates Brian Thompson in the 189 lb. category and Trevor Topp in the heavyweight division.

Thompson decided Corey Meyer of Logan View 16-6 in overtime. Topp pinned Jim Hitz of Stanton in 1:46 of his consolation final.

Fourth place finishes were awarded to Jason McGwire in the 112 lb. category, Jason Bargstadt in the 140 lb. division, Kerry Jaeger in the 152 lb. category and Jason Krueger in the 171 lb. division.

"It was a pretty good meet for us,"

Sok said. "All of our varsity kids medaled and I'm pleased about that." Sok also noted that the intensity level his kids are showing is starting to pick up more than it showed before Christmas.

"We still have four or five guys who need to develop that killer instinct," Sok said. "We still have about five weeks before districts so we still have plenty of time to improve."

Sok pinpointed Brian Thompson as having a good day. "Brian wrestled a kid with quite a bit of experience in the consolation finals," Sok said. "In the overtime period I thought Brian did a good job of doing what we told him to do. I was pleasantly surprised with the outcome."

WSC drills Dana

Wayne State's mens basketball team ran their season record to an impressive 8-3, following an all out route of Dana College last Friday night in Wayne, 97-54.

The Wildcats came out sluggish though as Dana's Kevin White cranked two 3-pointers in the opening moments and the Vikings quickly built a 17-8 lead.

Following a time out by coach Steve Aggers, Wayne State came out with some defensive changes and went on to outscore Dana 89-37 the rest of the way for the 43 point victory.

"We came out flat," Aggers said. "When we called timeout trailing by nine, we made some defensive adjustments and from there everything went much smoother."

Thirteen of the 14 Wildcats suited up scored for Aggers and everyone played quite a bit of basketball. "It's nice when you can get everybody in the game and they all have chances to score," Aggers said.

Wayne State led 42-26 at intermission and outscored Dana 55-28 during the final 20 minutes. The Wildcats now maintain an undefeated 4-0 record at home.

Steve Dunbar led the Wildcat scoring barrage with 20 points during his total of 22 minutes playing time and Mike McNamara scored 13 points.

Marques Wilson and Casey Gates each netted 10 points while Mike Rombout added nine. Incidentally, Aggers was pleased with the way Rombout played and mentioned that he will be a welcome addition to the Wildcat program this semester.

Rombout comes to WSC from a junior college in Illinois. Sherman Petite added six points for the Wildcats as did Doug Kuszak who incidentally had a two hand slam dunk which drew rave reviews from the onlookers.

Eric Priebe also had a slam dunk in the contest while finishing with five points along with Ken Claussen and John Schott. Oliver Cesar scored four points and Byron Young added two to round out the scoring attack.

Marques Wilson continued his torrid rebounding pace with 12 caroms to his credit. Rombout came off the bench to haul down six rebounds to help Wayne State to a 52-29 rebounding advantage.

Freshman split games

The Wayne freshman boys basketball team played a pair of games this past week, traveling to Wakefield last Thursday and traveling to Wisner this past Thursday.

The Blue Devils came away with a split on the two road games, with Wakefield downing Wayne 50-36, and Wayne defeating Wisner 47-39.

David Ostercamp was the leading scorer for the Blue Devils against Wakefield with 12 points. Jim Murphy added eight while Kyle Dahl and Matt Ley added four each.

Others scoring in the Wakefield contest were John Murphy with three, Todd Fuelberth and Jason Johs with two each, and Jason Claussen with one.

Wakefield was led by Brent Oetken and Anthony Brown's 13 points. Marcus Tappe added nine and Jon Johnson scored six. Joe Kucera followed with four and Steve Clark added two as did Aron Utech. Takao Nucome rounded out Wakefield's scoring with one point.

Wayne defeated Wisner by a 47-39 count behind John Murphy's 12 points. Jim Murphy followed with nine as did Kyle Dahl, while Matt Ley added six. Jason Johs finished with four points while David Ostercamp netted three. Todd Fuelberth and David Sorensen added two points apiece.

The freshman record now stands at 3-4.

Emerson downs Trojans

Last Saturday's final of the Post Holiday Tournament in Homer was re-scheduled for Thursday night in Homer with Wakefield playing Emerson-Hubbard.

Wakefield came into the contest with an 8-2 record while Emerson's only two losses on the year were to Ponca and Wisner-Pilger.

Coach Paul Eaton witnessed his Trojans shoot very poorly through three quarters of the game, and when the time came when they started hitting, Emerson's 15 point lead was more than enough as Wakefield fell, 69-63.

"We didn't play very well," Eaton said. "That plus the fact that Emerson has a real good team spelled defeat for us."

Even though the Trojans could not find the ocean in the first three quarters, they clawed their way back into the game in the fourth quarter, with chances to even go ahead.

"We just didn't play that good of defense," Eaton said. "We outrebounded them 31-25 but defensively we seemed like we were just one step behind."

Eaton says his team knows the problem and right now they haven't had much practice time to correct it so before each of their games it is a mental toughness they have to use to overcome their deficient defense of recent games.

"We haven't played that good of defense since before Christmas," Eaton said. "We think we can overcome it, but we just need practice time."

Offensively the Trojan execution was to the satisfaction of their mentor. "We did a real good job of breaking Emerson's press and executing our plays," Eaton said. "We just couldn't get the ball to fall in the hole."

Four Trojans finished the game in double figures led by Andy McQuistan's 15 points. Matt Tappe poured in 12 while Stuart Clark and Chris Loofe netted 10 each.

Mark Johnson scored seven while Tony Krusemark and Scott Lund rounded out the scoring with five and four points respectively.

The Trojans were a mere 17 of 45 from the field, but the free throw shooting was kept them in the game. Wakefield hit on 20 of 26 free throw attempts.

McQuistan and Johnson were the rebounding leaders with 11 and eight respectively as Wakefield outrebounded Emerson 31-25.

Allen girls down B-R in overtime

The Allen girls lost their first round game of the Ponca tournament last Thursday to Walthill in a contest that turned out to be close.

The loss put them into the consolation finals against Bancroft-Rosalie and their fine player Donna Hermalbracht on Friday night.

The Lady Eagles obviously like close games as this went into overtime before Allen won, 43-41. With 25 seconds left in regulation the Eagles were behind by four points and had the ball.

"Amy Noe hit a nice jump shot and we immediately put on a full court press," coach Jeff Schoning said. "We managed to force a jump ball in which the arrow was pointing our way. We got the ball inside to Candace Jones and she hit the soft jumper tying the score with just a couple of ticks remaining."

Allen tied Bancroft by three points heading into the fourth quarter, but Bancroft made a nice comeback to lead by four with less than 30 seconds remaining. In the overtime period however, Allen got ahead and didn't let Bancroft tie them or even go ahead them once.

Candace Jones led the Eagle scoring barrage with 13 points. Missy Martinson was right behind with 12 and Amy Noe drained the nets for 10 points.

The Eagles outrebounded Bancroft by a 39-24 margin. Jones and Martinson were the main reasons why as they hauled down 12 and 10 rebounds respectively.

In the turnover category Allen suffered 21 while Bancroft only gave up 19 times. Donna Hermalbracht managed to score 20 points on the Eagle defense.

"There were some tense moments," Schoning said. "In the second quarter Candace sprained her ankle a little bit and didn't play much in the period."

Plant Allergies: A Year-Round Problem

Three native plants — poison ivy, poison oak, poison sumac — cause allergic reactions in half of all Americans. The leaves, stems, berries, bark, and roots contain urushiol, a chemical which produces allergic reactions.

Cases of plant allergy occur most often during warm weather when people are outdoors. But reactions can develop in the winter because urushiol is present in dead or decaying plants, and it can remain potent for at least a year on tools or camping gear. To prevent a reaction or to lessen its severity, wash the exposed skin within five minutes of contact and clean clothing, pets, tools, and outdoor gear that might have touched these plants.

The symptoms of plant allergies usually appear within hours after exposure, but they may not appear for several days. Symptoms include a rash characterized by redness, blisters, burning, swelling, and itching. Headache and fever also may occur.

A variety of nonprescription medicines are available for relief of plant allergy symptoms. Hydrocortisone preparations applied to the skin help relieve itching and redness. Antihistamines taken by mouth may reduce itching.

During opening days of session

Bills deal with education, tax

Some of the legislative bills which have been introduced (as of Monday) deal with the following:

- A request by the State Board of Education for $500,000 to promote early childhood education. This would incorporate demonstration programs involving pre-natal care, parent education, sliding fee child care and pre-school for 3-4 year olds. At least $100,000 of that amount would be used to develop a statewide program to train teachers of pre-school.
- LB 52 would require county voter approval where a site for the low level radioactive waste facility would be planned.
- LB 84 would provide taxpayers a state-funded 10 percent rebate on property taxes they pay to local governments.
- LB 160 would permit Kearney State College to join the University of Nebraska system in 1991 as the University of Nebraska-Kearney, under the control of the Board of Regents of the University.
- LB 108 would make it illegal to display a bumper sticker or a sign on a bill that has an obscene word.

- LB 64 would require insurance companies to offer child health insurance to Nebraska parents.
- LB 70 would require establishments that serve liquor to post warning signs that drinking may be hazardous to the health of pregnant women.
- LB 72 would provide incentive for motorcycle riders to take rider awareness courses.
- LB 151 asks that the Nebraska State Historical Society become a state agency.
- Legislation Resolution 2 passage would allow Nebraskans to vote on agriculture land valuations in the 1990 elections.
- LB 161 suggests that the State Agriculture Department begin regulating the use of agriculture chemicals now controlled by the federal Environmental Protection Agency.
- LB 163 would offer grants to communities and private organizations to help manage solid waste disposal — to be used for new landfill recycling projects and waste transfer stations. Money for this would come from charging $1 on every new tire sold in the state and each new tire on new cars; $1 per ton of newsprint disposed of; and a waste reduction and recycling fee, of up to $50, on retail establishments based on annual earnings.

- LB 183 gives parents the option of sending their children to public schools in any district in the state, regardless of where they live. District participation in the open enrollment would be mandatory. The receiving school district would be compensated from the student's home district. The amount of compensation would be equal to average cost of educating a student in the student's home county. Receiving districts could reject the application only if it is too full to accommodate the student in a program, class, grade or building.
- LB 202. Telephone wiretaps would be permitted, if authorized by state judges, for gambling investigations in Nebraska.
- LB 259. State aid to schools would be increased to $38 million a year, enabling elementary only school districts in the state to affiliate with schools offering high school. Residents of an elementary-only district would pay the high school portion of the tax levy to the district which they become affiliated. It would also give state school aid the same buying power it had in the early 1980's.

- LB 107. School districts would receive state funds for students enrolled in parochial, private and non-denominational schools, but who attend public schools part of the day.
- LB 50 would allow law enforcement officials to enter property without a warrant if they believe an animal has been cruelly neglected or mistreated. Also, in LB 208, a dangerous dog would be restricted to the property of its owner or required to be securely restrained by a chain or leash.
- Under LB 241, motorists diving on private property could have the alcohol level in their blood tested.

At Tuesday's meeting

ESU elects officers, issues aide contract

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Little action was taken by Educational Service Unit One board of directors during an hour long meeting Tuesday night at headquarters in Wakefield.

Taking his place as a new member of the ESU 1 board of directors was Randy Hummel of Homer, who was elected to the board in November.

Hummel fills a vacancy on the board created by Dakota County representative Leo Krampfer of Dakota City, whose term expired the end of the year. Krampfer, who had served on the ESU 1 board over 11 years, chose not to seek re-election.

Also taking the oath of office Tuesday night were Bev Novak from Thurston County, Paul Steffen from Cedar County, Ken Lahrs from Dixon County, Marion Arneson from Wayne County and John Post from Knox County, who were all re-elected to the board.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S meeting also included election of board officers. Re-elected board chairman was Ken Lahrs of Ponca. Also re-elected were John Post of Bloomfield, vice president, and Jim Martindale of Creighton, secretary.

John Portwood of the Wakefield National Bank was appointed board treasurer. Portwood is not a member of the ESU 1 board.

Lisa Salmon, ESU 1 office manager, was appointed recording secretary.

A list of board committees for 1989-90 will be prepared by Chairman Lahrs and presented at next month's meeting.

BOARD MEMBERS Tuesday night unanimously approved a recommendation by ESU 1 Administrator Rodney Garwood to issue a contract to Kathy Berry of Wayne to serve as a teacher's aide at the West Wayne Children's Center. Berry's contract is for 149 days at a salary of $5,195.63.

Administrator Garwood also informed board members that Snyder Engineering has completed asbestos inspection of the West Wayne Children's Center as well as the main offices in Wakefield.

Garwood added that test results, although not yet available, should define any areas containing asbestos.

BEFORE ADJOURNING, board members went into executive session to discuss the administrator's contract and to evaluate Special Education Director Duane Tappe.

Upon reconvening, Chairman Lahrs asked Garwood and Tappe to visit with the board's executive committee, including Lahrs, Post and Martindale, following adjournment of the regular meeting.

Lahrs said action on the two contracts will be taken at next month's meeting, scheduled Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in Wakefield.

Bills

damage award regardless of the defendant's percentage of negligence.

For instance, if two defendants are sued for liability by a plaintiff, the plaintiff has the option to go for the defendant with the "deep pockets" (or corporate, business ties) rather than the "other defendant". In turn, the defendant that has the business or corporation sues the "other defendant" to receive an amount proportional to the other defendant's negligence. But in most cases, the defendant gains only about half of what the "other defendant" should be obligated to pay.

UNDER LB 159, defendants would pay a percentage of the award to the plaintiff that is equal to the defendant's percentage of negligence. If one defendant was not able to pay his portion of the damage, payment would be proportioned among the remaining defendants.

Conway said the law is fair for both sides. An identical measure passed last year but was vetoed by Governor Orr.

Another bill co sponsored by Conway concerns revenue on illegal drugs.

Revenue stamps, similar to what is provided for cigarette sales, would be affixed to those illegal drugs falling within the criminal code.

The applicant doesn't need to give his or her name, but they are required to list whatever illegal drug they plan on selling and be taxed for that particular substance.

COUNTING on the idea that nobody will be applying for revenue stamps to affix to their illegal product, most people that possess or sell drugs would be guilty of "criminal tax evasion," according to Conway.

If there were a drug bust and illegal drugs were confiscated, then the guilty party would be charged with possession and the selling of the drug. He or she would also be assessed the tax and a penalty for tax evasion on the amount of drugs which were confiscated. "It would double the amount the busted party should have been taxed," according to a spokesperson from Conway's office.

Conway reported the bill as an effective law enforcement tool. Revenue from the bill would be directed to funds for drug enforcement programs.

Have you got any resolutions this year to make or break? Mine is to get back in shape.

Since softball season is over, I have found myself gasping going up and down steps and finding things are fitting tighter than usual.

So I decided to write down these things that are sure-fire ways to diagnose those being non-fit.

You can tell you are out of shape when:
 - It takes a five-alarm fire to get you out of bed in the morning. And then you STILL have to use the snooze alarm.
 - Those three minute showers turn to 15 minute showers.
 - Driving a half a block to the neighbor's house sounds better than walking.
 - A couch potato for an occupation doesn't seem half bad.
 - The most exercise in your regime is to run full sprint: at least to the supper table.
 - A five-year-old gets the cap off a new bottle of ketchup after you've been trying five minutes to get it open.
 - The exercise bicycle is gathering spider webs.
 - You get a physical, and the doc can't stop laughing.
 - The Department of Health would like you to post a sign on yourself: Looking like this can be hazardous to your health.
 - You fulfill a ritual of avoiding restaurants with healthy salad bars.
 - Health foods, by your definition, are anything that are three-quarter grease and calorie-loaded.
 - Your wife doesn't allow you to get to the grocery store alone, especially on an empty stomach.
 - You get excited that somebody finally asked you to play on their softball team, and then you realize that they just want to use you for a base.
 - The reason you haven't clipped your toenails is because you can't SEE your toes.
 - Intentions to become a healthier person become lost in last year's promise to paint the house and trim the hedges.
 - Just tying shoe laces and you are out of breath.
 - It makes you exhausted just watching other people running up and down the basketball court.
 - A favorite hobby is eating chips, watching football on television, eating more chips.
 - The bathroom scale numbers don't go beyond what you really weigh.
 - Spring cleaning gets done in the fall and fall yard clean-up gets done in the spring.
 - It's hard to keep pace with your jogging partner who is someone that walks rather than runs.
 - And finally, if the sky was falling above you, you would decide that it's "just too much trouble to move."

Three dimensional

THE ANGLES, or triangles, of an irrigation system northwest of Wayne caught the eye of the photographer. Just how much irrigation will be needed this crop year remains to be seen, but producers are hoping that the area doesn't experience an overly dry season like 1988.

While also saving energy, soil

Windbreaks result in profits

Now is a good time for livestock owners to evaluate and make some long term decisions concerning their operations, according to the Soil Conservation Service office in Wayne.

If operators decide to continue marketing or producing livestock during the winter and spring months they should be thinking seriously about a windbreak. Containment lots, buildings or open pastures benefit greatly from a tree or shrub planting on their predominantly windward side. A feedlot or field windbreak traps winter snow, provides summer shade and reduces wind velocities that can cost producers extra feed and watering dollars during temperature extremes.

Those dollars saved mean higher profits to costs ratios at selling time. A well planned and maintained windbreak can save farmstead energy and protects the soil from erosional elements too. The low costs for purchasing, planting and weeding trees combined with USDA cost sharing, make windbreaks a very good investment.

If there is one draw back to a windbreak, all parties agree upon—it is time. It takes time to get a tree and shrub planting started. With better varieties, good weed and grass control and some general care that time lag, between planting and reaping the wind stopping benefits, is becoming shorter and shorter. Still some trees need at least ten years before they begin "paying back" the care given them.

The secondary benefits also add to a windbreaks value—selective pruning for firewood, wildlife habitat and summer fruits and berries are difficult to attach dollar figures on but are still greatly appreciated by the owners. Windbreak planting for rural or urban areas can be designed to fit individual, city or county wide needs. For more information on windbreaks in our area and how you might qualify for financial assistance in establishing one, contact the Soil Conservation Service at 709 Providence Rd. in Wayne.

The Farmer's Wife

by Pat Melerheny

It was the weekend of the Winside Wrestling Tournament; so, naturally, the wind chill was minus twenty-five degrees. For some odd reason, Northeast Nebraska always seems to get hit with a cold wave the first weekend in January after school resumes.
In case you haven't heard, my friend Tim (the basketball player) hit his 1,000th career point on Thursday night. He's not too shabby on rebounds either.
But we're going to talk about football tonight, for the last time this season.
I've never been so humbled as I was by the letter from T.L. Rhodes, the sailor from Laurel who wrote that neat letter of appreciation. I guess you have to be a Husker fan to understand.
The year we went to the Orange Bowl, we took along small square rugs that said Go Big Red. Whenever we passed a Nebraska vehicle, we held them up. The folks in the other car would honk and wave.
My brother was on nuclear-powered submarines a large part of his Navy career, so I have some idea of long stretches away from home.

At one point, he was land-based in New England and was driving to work. He passed a Nebraska car, so honked and held up his red thermos. He was amazed when the other guy held one up that was identical and honked back!
OF COURSE, this brother has lived out of Nebraska for a very long time. And Clemson is very close to where he lives now. In fact, most of the time he roots for the South Carolina Gamecocks.
I guess we all knew we were going to get beat in the Orange Bowl. I had bad memories of last year's treatment of the Sooners by the Hurricanes. It was a bad omen when Clemson beat Oklahoma that afternoon.
But we never dreamed it was going to be a replay of the UCLA game. At the end of the first half, which was especially humiliating, the phone rang.
"I don't want to answer it. I don't want to talk to him," I whined to the Big Farmer.

"Who don't you want to talk to?," the Big Farmer does not try to figure out who is calling when the phone rings.
"I don't want to talk to my brother right now."
"Well, I sure don't either."
So, of course, I answered.
"I'm going to bed. Call if they make a first down!" said the fair-weather fan.
It was a bad day for the Big Eight. Only the Oklahoma State Cowboys won their bowl game.
And, as Andy Rooney says, "Miami's coach makes the team easy to hate."
He just makes me appreciate Dr. Tom. (The Gamecocks lost too.)
SO, YOU GUYS on the Independence, the Huskers did not look good in their 23-3 defeat. But, Notre Dame was the almost unanimous choice for #1. And our band sounded great!
After all the bad publicity given New Yorkers (the only friendly person I met in that city was our Black waiter, and he was originally from Omaha) we have a newsy letter from Uncle Reuben, who lives in Florida.

He spent a few days visiting the Big Apple during the holidays. He says he especially wanted to see a display at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.
He was told at the Degas entrance that it was for advance sales only. He was routed to another entrance and was told there that the tickets were sold out for the duration.
A very nice lady saw his disappointed look and handed him a ticket. When he tried to pay for it, she just said, "Enjoy."
He had almost the same experience at the Radio City Rockettes. He came home convinced that N.Y.C. is not a cold and heartless place, at least at Christmas time.
The last event was Pavorotti in concert at 5 p.m. on New Year's Eve. 10,000 people tied up traffic so bad they started 45 minutes late. That's quite a crowd. Sounds like a memorable Christmas.
Ours was too. We stretched it out over three weekends and are now getting back to business. I see Valentines in the stores and Easter is early this year. Enjoy!

Market could be volatile

Crop prices '89 remain unpredictable

"Now—in January and February—the time for grain producers to spend a lot of time thinking about strategies to deal with a cash market in corn and soybeans that could go either way," a University of Nebraska grain marketing specialist said.

Lynn Lutgen said the situation is characterized by a number of unpredictable and uncontrollable variables which increase market volatility. "Even the slightest rumor can send prices soaring or plunging, which emphasizes that this isn't the year to be lackadaisical about watching the market."

The economist said there is a definite potential for the corn market "to explode" with higher prices this spring or summer, based on the thesis that the 1989 U. S. corn harvest, following last year's drought, will not be of bumper proportions.

agronomists and climatologists that a substantial deficit in subsoil moisture, especially in the western Corn Belt, is likely at corn planting time, putting the crop behind the eight-ball early on. "The best we might expect would be a national average yield of 110 bushels per acre, well short of the record 119 bushels posted in 1986-87."

PROJECTIONS OF lower corn yields this year, coupled with rumor mill speculation on increased exports, could push corn to the $3.50 to $3.75 per bushel range, Lutgen said, while it is equally plausible that the price could plummet to as low as $1.90 to $2 per bushel this fall.

When a possible rise in corn prices occurs—if it occurs—is crucial to planning how to wrap profits out of the market, Lutgen said.

If corn prices were to hit the $3.50 range close to corn planting time, some large corn producers may be tempted to veer away from signing up for the 1989 farm program. The deadline for sign-up, which would assure some price protection for corn, is April 16, very close to corn planting, Lutgen said.

"Some producers, looking at top prices for corn, may be tempted to plant fencerow-to-fencerow," he said.

In addition to an increase in acreage, promising greater supplies this fall, high cash corn prices would encourage farmers to move reserve, extended storage and Commodity Credit Corporation corn into the market. A farmer could pay the government loan and realize a good return since the loan price is around $1.67 a bushel, depending on location.

"This would throw more corn on the market, and contribute to driving corn prices down this fall," Lutgen pointed out.

HIGH CORN PRICES and an exodus of a significant number of corn producers from the 1989 farm program would be cause for "another look" at the market for the remainder of the year, Lutgen said. An estimated supply of 8.8 billion bushels of corn this fall would be based on the assumption of farm program participation at a level similar to last year and nearly ideal growing conditions; larger corn supplies could drive prices as low as $1.60 to $1.70 per bushel.

He advised producers to "look at today's prices" and put some price protection underneath their 1989 crop, preferably through an arrangement that would not require physical delivery of a given amount of corn on a contract. The goal is to provide protection against downside risk and at the same time avoid "locking in" a price and precluding upside benefits.

Lutgen said producers can use options and futures in an effective way by developing scenarios which would include the most obvious possibilities for high and low prices and wide swings.

One possible low risk alternative is selling corn on rallies this spring, on either the cash market or forward contracts, and then purchasing new crop call options to take advantage of future price rises.

If drought were to continue and grain prices rise, call options would increase in value and could be sold at a profit. If prices decline sharply, losses from buying call options would be limited to the initial premium and brokerage fees, Lutgen said.

If a producer decides not to price any corn, he then should consider purchasing price options during such rallies to ensure against downside risk.

Potentially strong weather influences that create both upward and downward risks make it equally difficult for farmers to market soybeans, Lutgen said.

As with corn, downward pressure on prices could come from increased plantings of soybeans resulting from 1989 farm programs, resulting prospects of greater yields and an increase in carryover stocks in 1989-90. With low 1989 soybean carryover stocks, a 1989 drought, especially in the eastern Corn Belt, would almost certainly push soybean prices higher, Lutgen said.

The price of soybeans, unlike corn, is highly dependent on the south American harvest, he said. "Soybeans could peak at the $9 mark, depending on future weather conditions in the Southern Hemisphere." Even if no major weather problems occur in South America, he said, beans might reach $8.5 a bushel sometime this spring, simply based on rumor.

Committee selections announced

With the start of the new year the formal work of the Nebraska Unicameral begins. This year the Legislature officially began its 90-day session on Wednesday, Jan. 4. Nebraska's unique, one-house system of representative government is starting its 52 year of operation.

Every two years following an election the Legislature reorganizes by seating newly elected members, choosing its leadership and assigning the members to the various committees. This session began with the inclusion of eight new faces to the membership.

During the reorganization of the Legislature, I was nominated for chairman of the Banking Committee but was unsuccessful, losing to Senator Landis of Lincoln. I was disappointed, but will continue to be involved within the committee.

This year I have moved from the Judiciary Committee to the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. I also have additional responsibilities as chairman of the Building Maintenance Committee and was assigned to all of the committees that I sought. I will continue to serve as a member of the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee; Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee and Committee on Committees.

by Sen. Gerald Conway

Following the formalities, the legislature began the process of bill introduction. Members are allowed to introduce bills only during the first ten working days of each session. This year, all new bills must be introduced by Jan. 19. After a bill is introduced, it will be referred to a committee to receive public input; all bills that are introduced must have a public hearing before they can be advanced to the floor for debate. After the hearings, the committee can vote to advance the bill to the entire Legislature, indefinitely postpone (kill) the bill, or offer committee amendments and then advance the bill.

One method of tracking the Legislature's hearings and debate on particular bills is to follow the "Unicameral Update". The "Update" reviews the developments of the past week and is an excellent means of following the flow of legislation during the session. The subscription is free of charge; please contact my office at the Capitol if you would like to receive this weekly publication.

Also, the Legislature offers a "hotline" service through the Clerk of the Legislature that gives information on the status of particular legislation or activities of a committee. This is a toll-free number that can be called between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. during the week. The number is 1-800-742-7456.

As in past years, through this weekly column, I will be reporting on activities from the State Capitol. I also view this as an opportunity to encourage you to share your thoughts and views as you respond to issues raised. The responses and comments I have received in the last four years have touched all aspects of government and have always been interesting and helpful in my deliberations. I very much appreciate your time and efforts in sharing your thoughts.

Please contact me with your concerns and ideas by writing or calling my office: Senator Gerald Conway, State Capitol, Room 1120, Lincoln, NE 68509, or phone (402) 471-2716.

Refresher driving courses are paying off for older men and women. Some insurance companies grant discounts for taking the courses. Drivers learn how to adjust for physical changes that come with aging. The short refresher courses are given in many communities. The National Safety Council (444 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60611) offers free information about its program called Coaching the Mature Driver. Send a self-addressed stamped business-size envelope.

Peggy Kirk Bell, a golf star since the 1940s, still keeps her average score at 75 (from the men's tee) at her Pine Needles golf resort and teaching center in Southern Pines, NC. At age 66, she continues to work on her game while helping guests improve theirs. One thing she's given up: piloting her own plane. Lost in a storm over Virginia, she vowed that if she got down safely she'd give up flying.

Remember When? July 3, 1930 — Congress passed legislation consolidating all programs for ex-servicemen in a single agency and named it the Veterans Administration.

Deadline nearing for Winside history book

The April 1, 1989 deadline is approaching for submitting personal, business, clubs and organizations, school and church histories for publication in the new Winside History Book Centennial Edition. A spokesman for the committee said they would like to see as many histories and pictures, including those of family members now deceased, submitted as possible. Histories also are being sought from former Winside area residents now residing outside the area. The spokesman added that all pictures submitted for publication in the book will be hand delivered to the printers to eliminate the risk of damage or loss by mail. When possible, however, those with old pictures are encouraged to have reproductions made prior to submitting them for publication. All pictures will be returned when the printers are finished with them.

INFORMATION AND pictures are needed on all of the following schools which were once located in the Winside area — North 28, South 28, Northside 16, Apex 21, and Districts 11, 24, 29, 31, 35, 47, 53, 58, 60, 63, 79, 81 and 83. Persons with any information or pictures concerning these districts are asked to contact Bill Burris, 286-4540.

MEMORIAL AND tribute pages also are available in the book. These are special pages where portraits, histories, poems, etc. can be submitted in memory of someone who is deceased or as a tribute to someone still living.

These special pages may be purchased in fourth, half or full page sizes. Persons who would like additional information about the memorial and tribute pages are asked to contact Veryl Jackson, 286-4544.

NEXT MEETING of the Winside History Book committee will be Thursday, Feb. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Irene Dittman. Persons who need assistance with their histories are asked to contact one of the committee members, including Bill Burris, Ruby Riltz, Irene Dittman, Dianne Jaeger, Christine Lueker, Norma Brockmoller, Rose Janke, Veryl Jackson and Daisy Janke.

Giving advice to the legislature

"Get government off our backs" has been a rallying cry of the 1980's, but 50 years ago there were similar calls to reduce the number of laws on the books. A 1931 editorial at the beginning of the legislative session suggested: "The Legislature 'sits' — if they will just remain sitting, sign the payroll bill at the end of the session and busy themselves in the meantime in wielding the pruning knife on the foot-thick statute book, they will please us mightily." "But we have no misapprehension about the program. We are entirely confident that of the hundred members in the house there will be ninety-nine who have a pet bill which he will duly present to the sifting committee. It is a certainty that a large number of this number will sift through the sifting committee and eventually, in all probability, be added to the long list of laws now in the big book." "We have heretofore discussed various senseless laws now in the books and suggest their immediate repeal. There are laws which never have been enforced, because they are silly laws. Why permit them to remain on the books? And there is a reason why these laws should be repealed. The wise farmer culls poor producers out of the cow herd. The culling process is carried further and includes innumerable articles, even reaching the home and applying to carpets, rugs, furniture and dishes. A broken-down chair goes into the discard because it is a useless, room-taking article. A broken-down law is far worse than the other. "It is presumed that law-abiding citizens will respect and obey ALL laws. There is no other choice. We cannot pick out our favorite laws and obey them and refuse to obey others that do not meet our personal approval. A law is defined by Mr. Webster as 'a rule of action established by authority,' or an 'edict.' We must obey governmental edicts or the whole fabric of our government is torn apart and chaos reigns. "A disregard of any kind of law breeds disrespect for other laws and eventually disrespect for government itself. It is not hard to follow the primrose path once one has taken the first step. The other steps are increasingly easy. It is just that way with respect to the observance of laws. "We do not propose any laws for the consideration of the present legislature and we will be glad to O.K. the payroll at the end of the session if they will just start right in now with the culling process and fail to stop until the job is well done."

Searching for popular 'prairie gems'

Compiled cookbooks, filled with recipes contributed by local cooks, have long been printed in Nebraska. These cookbooks present a fascinating look at what people cooked and ate. Some of the collections even show us what earlier Nebraskans thought was funny.

One such cookbook, entitled "The Prairie Gem," was published in Newman Grove. Although no date was printed in the book, State Historical Society Librarian Cindy Drake believes the recipes to be typical of the 1890's. But not all the recipes in "The Prairie Gem" are typical. A Mrs. M. Bitney contributed a number of "legitimate" recipes to the collection, Mrs. Drake said. But just for fun, she included a few "ringers."

HERE'S MRS. BITNEY'S recipe for "shirred eggs": "Carefully remove the shell from a fresh egg and hold the white yolk firmly in the left hand. Then with a fine needle and thread, gather the material in straight rows about half an inch apart. Draw up to the required fullness and fasten neatly with the ends of the thread." Snow pudding was a popular dish at the turn of the century. But cooks seeking to recreate this old favorite might find a real challenge in Mrs. Bitney's recipe: "Take about 4 quarts, say, 4 1/2 of fresh snow. Wash in several waters and put it to soak overnight. In the morning, knead it up and set by the fire to rise. Add some melted glue and set aside to cool." This fascinating cookbook is just one of the many "prairie gems" in the State Historical Society Library, according to Mrs. Drake. "But we know many more such 'gems' are out there, and we'd like to add them to the library's collection," she said.

THE LIBRARY IS searching for books directly related to Nebraska's past. City directories, county fair premium books, business, church and county histories, scrapbooks, school and college yearbooks, plat books, phone books, and of course, cookbooks are just some of the publications the library is seeking.

"We want to make the Historical Society Library the most complete repository of information about Nebraska," Mrs. Drake noted. "Since we have limited resources for acquisitions, we're dependent upon the generosity of Nebraskans to add to our collections."

Many printed items which would be valuable to the Society are thrown away or donated to charity, Mrs. Drake said. "We'd like to encourage Nebraskans to consider the State Historical Society when cleaning out the attic or disposing of family estates." The Library Acquisitions Committee will check offered items against titles currently on the library shelves. "We'd like to have two of everything," Mrs. Drake said.

INDIVIDUALS WITH "prairie gems" to donate are urged to contact Cindy Drake at the Nebraska State Historical Society, P. O. Box 82554, Lincoln, Neb., 68501, or call 402-471-4785.

MONEY MATTERS

Planning For Long-Term Care

Chances are you won't end up in a nursing home. Chances are you'll be able to grow old without needing any kind of long-term institutional or professional care. But what if you are one of a small percentage of Americans who do end up needing long-term care? Be prepared for a severe financial blow: nursing homes cost, on average, $22,000 a year. Many private health insurance plans don't cover the cost, Medicare covers only part of it, and the Welfare system will pick up the check only after you've exhausted a share of your own savings. Savings that otherwise would be passed on to your heirs.

As medicine gets better at staving off death, chronic diseases will force more people into nursing homes. Your friends or family can take care of you for five days, but not five weeks, five months, or five years.

Many plans offer what some health care experts say is inadequate coverage. You need to consider the following points carefully: What will be your income when you enter a nursing home? How long will you be confined? What about the agent selling you the policy—will he or she be around when you need to file a claim? It's extremely important, in the light of these factors, to carefully evaluate your plan and to get adequate coverage for your needs. For more help in planning for long-term care, see George Phelps, Certified Financial Planner, 416 Main, Wayne, NE, or call 375-1848.
