Practice cleaning prevention

Dirt that never gets inside the house doesn't have to be cleaned. It is estimated that 80 percent of dirt enters a home on people's feet. To avoid excess dirt, use good quality and easy care doormats large enough to extend three or four steps.

In addition to stopping dirt from entering the home and saving cleaning time and costs, mats will extend the life materials in the home by preventing abrasion of particles on floors, carpets, and on furnishings, soiling and staining.

Seal cracks, weather-strip doors and windows, and repair broken or cracked windows as preventive measures. Change the furnace and air conditioner filters regularly. Use kitchen exhaust fans.

When planning the location of activities in the home, concentrate activities that generate messes in one area. For example, do messy tasks in one area or room, or group plans to make care and maintenance easier. Store collections behind glass, if possible.

Preventive measures also include smart buymanship. Select materials, surfaces and shapes that are easy to clean, and with colors, patterns or textures that camouflage soil and wear. For example, grooves, carvings, rough textures and indentations are more difficult to clean. White and very light or very dark colors show dirt or lint easily.

Cleaning tools and equipment

Appropriate, quality tools can make cleaning easier and save you time. It can also increase your home's safety, decrease costs of purchasing products or tools not needed, and reduce deterioration of surfaces caused by inappropriate tools.

Having appropriate tools and supplies can also affect how you feel about doing the job. Keep your tools and equipment in good working order. Replace items that are no longer effective or safe.

Some tools do one job; others do many. Before buying any cleaning tools, evaluate the tasks that need to be done and the cost of the tool in relation to time and energy. Consider the number of different jobs the tool will do, the number of times it will be used, the size of area on which it may be used, the skill required or ease of operation, storage facilities needed for the tool, and the cost and availability of service and replacement parts.

Experts in the cleaning business suggest good quality tools for the job. Excess tools and gadgets seldom used may clutter your storage area and make efficient use of tools and supplies difficult. Check janitorial supply companies, department and hardware stores for tools that meet your needs.

Among the items that professionals in the cleaning business may use, but that may not be familiar to households, are dusting tools such as long-handled lamb's wool dusters that attract dust; dirt scrubbers with replaceable nylon pads for scrubbing hard-surfaced floors that have soil and wax build-up; rubber dry sponges for flat-painted walls, ceilings, wallcoverings, and other surfaces that cannot be cleaned with water or other cleaning agents; and squeegees with various length handles and blades for wiping wet surfaces dry and picking up water to clean windows and floors quickly.

In addition, a wide variety of compact hand vacs for quick pickups in-between heavy-duty vacuuming and for hard to reach areas are now available. Cordless vacs with built-in brushes, wet and dry features, or designed to alter to a stick broom are available.

For more ideas about housekeeping, attend the presentation "Housekeeping in a Hurry" on Thursday, Jan. 26 at 1:30 p.m. in the Wayne County Courthouse meeting room.

American Heart Association gears up for '89 campaign

The Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association will meet today (Monday) at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Marian Simpson, a member of the Wayne County affiliate, said everyone interested in information about all phases of heart diseases and in the work that is being done in Wayne County is encouraged to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Tonight's meeting also will include discussion of the 1989 residential campaign. Simpson said although dates have not been determined for the campaign, February is usually considered Heart Month.

DURING 1988, Simpson said the Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association was involved in sharing information with area residents, raising funds for the continuation of research, and providing services for the county.

During Heart Month, in February 1988, the Wayne County affiliate assisted with the Chamber coffee at Providence Medical Center. A cholesterol screening was conducted by the hospital staff.

At a meeting last spring, the guest speaker was a doctor from Sioux City who has worked extensively with heart surgery. He shared information and slides with the group and answered questions from individuals concerned with their own health.

OTHER EVENTS during 1988 included the annual Swim for Heart last summer. Taking part in the event, which raised over $700, were Tasha Luther, Adam Dangberg, Tera Vande Velde, Laura Bauermeister, Tami Schluns, Julie Dangberg, Aaron Pierce and Nicole Goodin.

Last fall, the Wayne County affiliate sponsored its second "Grocery Carl Smart" shopping event, featuring tours of local grocery stores with information on reading labels and foods to avoid, along with suggestions for things that persons might add to their diet.

"THESE ARE JUST some of the activities we have undertaken during the last year," said Simpson, adding that the Wayne County affiliate hopes to repeat some of the events during 1989.

Simpson said all interested persons are encouraged to attend tonight's meeting to help plan for an even more eventful 1989.

"We are aware that whatever we have accomplished was a unified effort by the people who have contributed in so many ways."

Herbicide use restricted

A change in federal classification of a common herbicide will require crop producers who use it to be certified as private pesticide applicators during the 1989 growing season. The Environmental Protection Agency has reclassified alachlor, a corn and soybean herbicide, as a restricted use pesticide. Tests indicate alachlor has a potential of causing tumors in studies on laboratory animals. Larry Schulze, extension pesticide coordinator at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said alachlor is sold under a variety of trade names, including Lasso, Lariat and Bullet. The EPA restricted alachlor use to protect applicators and to reduce the risk of potential ground water and drinking water contamination, he said. The EPA proposes a maximum contaminant level for alachlor of two parts per billion in drinking water. Producers who need private pesticide applicator training should contact their county extension agent for training dates, Schulze said. The EPA grants private applicator certification upon training completion. The certification allows producers to buy and use restricted use pesticides.

Wayne upends ninth rated Cedar

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor
Hoards of Blue Devil and Cedar Catholic fans filed into Wayne high's gym Friday night to watch one of Northeast Nebraska's hottest rivalries.

Cedar Catholic of Hartington, came into the game as the ninth rated team in Class B and a 10-1 record. Wayne on the other hand, had a 6-5 record and was on a three game win streak.

Wayne came out gunning in the first quarter and hit most of their shots from the field. Rob Sweetland got the show started by popping the game's first bucket and getting fouled at the same time. The senior sank the free throw and Wayne was off and running with a 3-0 lead.

By the first quarters end the pace had slowed a little with Wayne holding a four point advantage, 15-11.

Both defenses shined in the second quarter but the Blue Devils still managed to gain a bucket on the visitors to take a six point lead into intermission at 25-19.

Rob Sweetland managed nine points in the opening half to lead the Blue Devils. Wayne was doing a marvelous job on the boards and holding Cedar Catholic off the boards.

Midway through the third quarter Cedar Catholic took its first and as it turned out its last lead with a 30-29 spread following a 3-point field goal.

The Blue Devils responded with a 14-2 run to end the third quarter with a 12 point lead at 44-32.

Cedar Catholic was not done however. They began chipping Wayne's lead and with less than three minutes remaining Wayne's lead was cut in half at 48-42.

Wayne's lead stretched to 10 points before Cedar gunned a 3-pointer. But another phase of Wayne's all around play came to the fore-front. The Blue Devils had three one-and-one opportunities in the last 1:44 of the game and they hit all six shots, with Gross nailing two and Rob Sweetland hitting the other four.

With 47 seconds remaining Wayne had a six point lead with Sweetland at the line for another one-and-one where he calmly sank both which virtually put the game on ice.

In fact, Sweetland scored five of Wayne's first seven points of the game and he scored Wayne's last six points of the game.

Sweetland finished as the game's top scorer with 22 points including one field goal from bonus range. Sweetland however, was only one of four Wayne players to score in double figures in a very well balanced scoring attack.

Jarrod Wood followed with 14 points while Doug Larsen poured in 12. Willy Gross was the fourth member in double digits with 10. Jed Reeg rounded out the scoring with two points.

Although point guard Jess Zeiss did not score, he did a magnificent job of controlling the game's tempo. Cedar Catholic came into the contest averaging 65 points per outing while on defense they had only been giving up 45 points per outing.

Wayne held a commanding 34-21 advantage on the boards led by Doug Larsen's 11 caroms and Willy Gross' 10. Jess Zeiss came away with five steals to lead the Blue Devils stingy defense.

Rob Sweetland and Doug Larsen played outstanding basketball games for Wayne. Larsen did an extremely fine job of hitting the boards and offensively he looked to score more and as a result, hit double figures.

Wayne's junior varsity team came up with their seventh win of the season as well, against three losses. Wayne defeated Cedar Catholic 51-42 in a contest which unofficially saw Cedar lose their first game of the year.

Craig Dyer led the Blue Devils with 14 points while Brian Lentz led the team in rebounding with 10 caroms to his credit.

DOUG LARSEN PUMP fakes a Cedar Catholic defender into the air during Wayne's 10 point victory over Cedar on Friday. Larsen played a vital role in Wayne's success as he continually hit the boards on offense and defense.

Laurel streak continues

One of the hottest basketball teams in the area right now seems to be Mark Hrabik's Laurel Bears. Friday night Hrabik's Bears traveled to Bloomfield searching for their fourth straight victory and to even their season record at 6-6.

They got both as Laurel downed Bloomfield by a 57-48 margin. The Bears actually led the game by as many as 14 points in the fourth period but Bloomfield managed to chip the lead back to single digits.

Allen loses to Winnebago

Gary Troth's Allen Eagles were ambushed last Monday, losing to Winnebago on their home court, 73-57, but don't let the score fool you.

The Eagles actually led 8-2 host team, 48-46 after three quarters of play. Winnebago however, rallied in the fourth quarter outscoring the Eagles 27-9 to account for the final score.

"We led by five points early in the fourth quarter," Troth said. "They just started hitting their shots and they have some very good shooters."

Troth said Winnebago pressed them most of the game but the Eagles only suffered 17 turnovers while Winnebago gave it up 19 times. Even the team rebounding was close with Winnebago coming up with three more than Allen, 43-40.

"Offensively we started off very slow," Troth said. In fact, Allen was outscored 13-4 in the opening quarter. The Eagles came back in the second quarter though and outscored Winnebago 24-18 to only trail by three at intermission.

The third quarter was also owned by Troth's squad as they outscored the hosts, 20-15 to take a slim lead into the final quarter.

Todd Hohenstein paced the Eagle attack with 17 points. Hohenstein also led the squad in rebounding with 12. Ben Jackson scored eight points while Tyler Harder poured in seven.

Matt Hingst and Rusty Dickens each netted six points while Shane Dahl scored five. Dahl also came up with 11 rebounds. Kent Chase and Jason Oleson rounded out the scoring with four points apiece.

"We only hit 50 percent of our free throws," Hrabik said. "We came into the game hitting about 65 percent of our shots but we couldn't get them to fall against Bloomfield."

Troy Twohig led the Bears in scoring with 17 points while Todd Erwin poured in 11. Matt Jonas was the third Bear in double digits with 10.

Schutte finished the game with nine points while Doug Manz netted seven. Kelly Daberkow and Bruce Haisch rounded out the Laurel scoring with two and one points respectively.

Schutte incidently, did not score a field goal in the second half. He did lead the team in assists though, dishing out five while Doug Manz was credited with four.

Winside boys down Wausa; Girls lose big

Both the Winside girls and boys teams hosted the Wausa Vikings Friday night in double header action. The Wildcat girls were up against some pretty stiff odds against Wausa. The Vikings came into the game as the third rated team in D-1.

Winside found out quickly why as Paul Giesselemann's team was held scoreless for the whole first quarter. Wausa meanwhile, jumped out to a 19-0 lead heading into the second quarter.

Winside scored 11 points in the second quarter but the Vikings came back with an identical 19 point performance of the first quarter to take a more than comfortable lead of 27 into the locker room at 38-11.

Giesselemann's Cats played even in the third period with the Vikings as each team scored 18 points. Unfortunately for the Wildcats though, Wausa was not finished. In the fourth and final period the Vikings went on a 21-7 run to account for a 76-36 victory.

"Wausa has just plain got an outstanding team," Giesselemann said. "They are definitely deserving of their ranking." Wausa hit 63 percent of their shots from the field for the game while Winside could only muster a 25 percent shooting percentage on their home court.

Kristy Miller scored half of Winside's points with 18 while Tina Hartmann and Christina Bloomfield had six points each. Shawn Janke followed with four while Lisa Janke and Jenni Topp had one point each.

Boys shine
Following the girls game, Randy Geier's team took the court to see if they could fare any better than the Lady Wildcats.

The result was much better for Winside fans as the boys breezed to a 25 point victory, 87-62. "The game was not very pretty," Geier said. "We played well at times but we also got into foul trouble. At any rate we're happy with the victory."

The Wildcats got off to a 15-13 lead after the first quarter of play but it was the second quarter which really set the tone of how the Wildcats wanted to play.

Winside pushed the ball up the court hard in the second period scoring 31 points in the quarter and allowing Wausa just 18, to give the Wildcats a 15 point lead heading into intermission.

Randy Prince was the main gun for Winside in the first. The junior post player blistered the Wausa defense for 21 first half points.

Winside maintained its big lead in the third period and by the time the fourth quarter rolled around, Winside's 17 point lead was more than enough. However, Geier got to play some of his younger kids who also did a good job as they outscored the Vikings 23-15 in the final quarter to account for the big margin of victory.

Randy Prince ended the contest as the game's leading scorer with 27 points. Tim Jacobsen, the most familiar name associated with the Wildcat program, netted 25 including two field goals from bonus range.

Steve Heinemann followed with 12 while Darren Wacker netted seven. Gary Mundil and Mark Brugger each added six points and rounding out the scoring for Winside was Vince White with four points.

Perhaps Winside's most impressive stat was the rebounding effort. The Wildcats held an unprecedented 76-44 advantage on the boards. Randy Prince who led the Cats in scoring also led the squad in rebounding with 18 caroms to his credit.

Lady Bears lose to Hartington

With a record over .500 for the first time this season, Pam Thies took her Laurel girls basketball program on the road to Hartington Thursday night.

Hartington did not prove to be a gracious host however, as they turned back the Bears by a 47-38 count. After leading 25-22 at halftime, Laurel was only able to score 13 second half points which cost them a victory.

"Even though we couldn't hit our shots in the second half we still had a chance to win the game in the fourth quarter," Thies said. "With under two minutes left in the game Shana Carstensen hit the front end of a one-and-one opportunity to pull us to within three at 41-38, but we never scored again."

Hartington did a fine job of holding Shana Carstensen down in scoring. Carstensen had been on a scoring tear during her past couple of outings but was held to nine points by the fine defense of Hartington.

Hartington outrebounded Laurel

31-27 but 28 Laurel turnovers surely spelled doom down the stretch.

Amy Adkins led the Bears in scoring with 12 points while Kim Mathiason added 11. Sherri McCorkindale netted four and Jesse Monson and Heather Thomas rounded out the scoring with one point each.

McCorkindale led the team in rebounding with seven caroms while Carstensen and Adkins had five each. Adkins also had three steals to lead the team.

WINSIDE HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Randy Prince

Four weeks ago the status of Randy Prince was questionable as he was recovering from shoulder reconstruction. However, Prince has regained all of his strength prior to his injury and has averaged 16 points a contest since returning to the Wildcat lineup. Against Wausa Prince garnered 27 points and hauled down 18 rebounds.

Wayne girls edge Sioux West

Wayne overcame a four point halftime deficit Thursday night against Sioux City West to capture a low scoring 43-36 victory, which boosted the season record to 7-4.

"We didn't match up size wise very well," coach Marlene Uhing said. "But for the fourth game in a row we outrebounded our opponent which says a lot about our team."

Wayne came up with 32 boards on the night while Sioux City West came away with 29. However, it was the first half offensive rebounding power which enabled Sioux City West to stay in the game.

"They got quite a few weakside offensive rebounds in the first half," Uhing said. "We did a better job of blocking out on the boards in the second half and they only scored 14 points."

Teresa Ellis was the catalyst for the Blue Devils on offense scoring 13 points while hauling down six rebounds. It was Ellis' offensive rebounding ability with just a few minutes remaining in the game which helped clinch the game for Wayne.

Dana Nelson followed Ellis' performance with 10 of her own while K'Fisty Hansen poured in nine. Hansen also aided the Blue Devil rebounding effort with seven caroms of her own.

Robin Luft scored six points for Wayne and came away as the game's leading rebounder with 10 caroms. Heidi Raeg rounded out the scoring with one point.

"It's a good win for us," Uhing said. "We still have to improve. It seemed like we didn't want to shoot in the first half. The girls would come down and fake the shot and reverse the ball. Finally Sioux City West just started collapsing into the middle because they didn't think we were going to shoot."

Wayne did start shooting more in the second half. They finished with six three point field goals with Teresa Ellis and Dana Nelson coming up with three apiece which proved to be key in Wayne's victory.

Wayne turned the ball over 20 times in the game while the visitors turned it over 22 times.

The Wayne junior varsity won its game as well, 37-24. Jennifer Hammer led the way with 13 points while Amy Wriedt poured in eight. Deanna Schluns netted five in a winning effort for the Blue Devils. Hammer led the team in rebounding with six caroms to her credit.

MARY BETH EHRHORN attempts a new style of shooting lay ups during Wayne State's game with Midland in Rice Auditorium on Wednesday night.

Wayne grapplers out muscle Wisner

It was another dual victory for the Wayne Blue Devils Thursday night. The grapplers traveled to Wisner to dual the Gators and came away with a 57-8 victory.

In actuality, Wayne led 24-0 before the contest even started as four Wisner weight classes were left unfilled leaving Wayne in good condition.

"I told the kids that it didn't matter what the score was before we started," head coach John Murtaugh said. "We still had to win the meet on the mat."

With Mike DeNaeyer and Eric Cole getting byes in the 103 and 112 lb. weight classes, Chris Janke was Wayne's first wrestler at 119 lbs. Janke needed just 57 seconds to pin Jeremy Cornett.

Trevor Wehrer lost his 125 lb. match to Chad Raasch by technical fall. Brian Gamble received a forfeit in his 130 lb. match.

Greg DeNaeyer lost his 135 lb. match, 4-1 to Steve Ott. Chris Corbit then started a string of Wayne victories which ran six straight. Corbit defeated Kory Koehlmooos by a 9-8 count.

Shane Geiger received the fourth bye at 145 lbs. Tom Elfer pinned Shane Lierman in 3:25 in the 152 lb. match while Jason Cole pinned Matt Goelner in 3:21 to capture the 160 lb. weight class.

Jason Ehrhardt manned the 171 lb. division and came away with a 13-2 decision of Randy Kramer. Chris Luft kept his undefeated record for the season in tact with a 12-0 decision of Chris Lierman while Matt Bruggeman decisioned Lierman's brother Doug in the heavyweight division, 21-8.

"We won seven of the nine matches held," Murtaugh said. "I thought Jason Cole wrestled his best match since coming back from his injury."

Coaches hired at WSC

Wayne State football coach Dennis Wagner has announced the signing of two assistant coaches. Andrew Disney has been named as Defensive Coordinator, and Tim Johnson has been named as linebacker coach for the fall 1989 season.

Disney comes to Wayne State from St. Cloud State University where he spent two seasons coaching with Wagner. He served as St. Cloud's defensive line coach.

He also was the defensive secondary coach at Muskingum College in Ohio for a season prior to going to St. Cloud State.

A native of Miami, Florida, Disney was an all-conference safety at Sioux Falls College. A four-year starter, Disney captained the Sioux Falls squad.

Disney graduated from Sioux Falls College in 1986 and will earn his master's degree in March from St. Cloud State. In addition to his coaching duties at Wayne State, Disney will also be on staff in Wayne State's Physical Education Division.

Johnson, a native of Kansas City, Mo., will also serve as the Wildcats' academic advisor. Johnson coached at St. Cloud State with Wagner the past season, serving as the outside linebacker coach.

He has also coached at the College of St. Thomas in Minnesota, William Jewell College in Missouri and is presently the head coach of a Finnish football team, and the Northern Lights in Oulu, Finland.

A graduate of William Jewell College, Johnson also studied at the University of Oxford in England. He is completing a master's degree in physical education at Wayne State.

A linebacker at William Jewell, Johnson was a NAIA All-American in 1984 and an Academic All-American in 1983.

Wayne State women lose to Midland, 83-67

Wayne State's Lady Wildcats suffered a home loss Wednesday night in Rice Auditorium to Midland College of Fremont, 83-67.

Midland came in with a 10-4 record and did nothing to short change their record as Cindy Hays, (the fine freshman player from Osceola), finished with a game high 32 points.

You might recall when Hays was in high school playing for Osceola. She rewrote the scoring record books for the state of Nebraska.

At any rate, Midland used its superior height factor to blister Wayne State on the boards by a wide margin of 26 rebounds, 62-36, including 23 offensive boards which resulted in second chance points.

Wayne State, now 4-8, rallied at the end of the first half from 11 points down to trail by only one at intermission, 36-35.

Linda Schnitzler led the Wildcat attack with 29 points. Schnitzler was the only Wayne State player in double figures. Shell Schuman scored nine points and Lori Rath netted eight.

Tax on drugs explained

This may be a year in which Nebraska "creatively" adds people to the tax rolls who should be there but aren't. Last week I introduced two such bills; both I believe would be effective though not traditional revenue measures. They are similar to successful programs in other midwestern states.

The first, LB 299, models Iowa's extremely successful tax amnesty program of 1987. Under their program, they collected more than $35 million in back taxes and added several non-filers to their tax rolls for future years.

LB 299 provides that delinquent taxpayers can apply and pay back taxes, with reduced penalties, during a limited time period. Under the bill, sales and income taxes, delinquent from before June 30, 1988, could be paid to the State plus 50% of the interest due on the delinquent taxes. Those who apply and pay their back taxes would not have to pay any other interest or penalty and would not be prosecuted civilly or criminally. Cutting the interest in half and forgiving the penalties should encourage these people to come forward. This would be a one time chance for a clean slate.

by Sen. Gerald Conway

The second bill, LB 260, puts a tax on illegal drugs. At first glance, this may seem like a strange idea, but other states have proven it to be a very lucrative way to discourage drug dealing. Minnesota, for instance, has such a program in place and will collect over $400,000 this year alone.

The program requires that revenue stamps, like those attached to cigarettes and alcohol products, be affixed to drug packages. A person wanting the stamps may apply to the Department of Revenue. I do not expect many to pay the tax. Most drug dealers do not expect to be caught.

However, under this program, when a law enforcement official comes across a dealer, the individual not only can be prosecuted for dealing but for tax evasion if the stamps have not been affixed. If caught without the stamps, the dealer is liable for the tax and a penalty of one hundred percent of the tax.

The bill hits drug dealers in the pocketbook, a place that law enforcement officials claim hurts them the most. It may help in discouraging their activity. The idea is also based upon the fact that these products, because of their ill effects, have a very heavy cost on society. This revenue may help to defray the enforcement and rehabilitation cost borne by the legitimate taxpayer.

As we start the third week of this session, public hearings will begin. As of this writing, 462 measures have been introduced, with only three days remaining for bill introductions. As always, your comments and appearances at public hearings are welcomed.

Unicameral Review
Senator Elroy Hefner
19th District

Governor Orr delivered her State of the State and Budget address Jan. 10 to the Nebraska Unicameral.

She called on state government to listen to the "whispers of the prairie...to the young families, the grandparents, the small business owners, the wage earners and our children."

Referring to the children who were seated in the legislative chamber, she said: "They are the reasons that we must choose carefully."

Governor Orr said her budget would allow us to fulfill needs of our state that have not been met and that the spending plan was progressive, yet prudent; responsive, yet restrained.

SHE PROPOSED spending $1.062 billion during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989, and $1.129 billion the year after that. It is the first time in the history of Nebraska that a budget of over $2 billion over a biennium has been proposed.

Her message was received on a positive note by most of the senators.

This week I introduced a bill (LB 325) that would phase out non-biodegradable and non-photodegradable plastics between 1991 and 1993. I believe this bill would be a boon to agriculture.

Corn growers have developed a process using corn starch to make a bag that is easily biodegradable. It should have a direct effect on the ag economy because we will be using an ag product.

Cities, counties and others are having a real problem finding new land for landfills. Some of the plastics we use may last up to 400 years. By using biodegradable plastics we can help lengthen the life of landfills and reduce the cost to the users in the long run.

LB 325 would ban the sale of non-biodegradable or non-photodegradable items in three stages. Starting Jan. 1, 1991, the plan would ban non-biodegradable plastic loops that connect beverage containers such as six-packs of soft drinks and beer.

BEGINNING Jan. 1, 1992, the ban

Day missed the answer to the question: The Suez Canal connects the Mediterranean Sea with which other sea?

Schnier answered the question correctly with "the Red Sea." He then answered right the following question: Moose are native to which continent? (Answer was North America).

QUESTIONS in the Bee addressed the broad subject matter of geography — the study of the earth and its inhabitants.

There are three levels of competition — local school, state and national. Schnier, to qualify for the state Bee, must now take a written qualifying test within the next few weeks. The top scorers on the test, up to 100 in each state, will determine which students will advance to the state Bee on April 17.

Should he win at the state level, then the national Bee is slated for May 18-19 in Washington, D.C.

Schnier received a certificate, a book and an inflatable globe for finishing first in the local Geography Bee.

The first place prize on the national level is a $25,000 college scholarship and $1,000 in National Geographic Society products for the student's school.

Good day for a car wash

WHEN TEMPERATURES soared into the upper 50's this past week, many people took advantage of the break in the winter weather to get out and do some "spring-like" activities. Some went for walks, others did some shingling. Above, Dan Veto of Wayne decided to give his pickup a good cleaning at the new car wash located on the east edge of Wayne.

Hog market prices raises uncertainty

With pork supplies running well above year-ago levels, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension economist said there is considerable uncertainty on what market hog prices will do.

At Wellman said there is a large supply of pork available in the market compared to 1986-1987. Hog price trends in 1989 may depend largely upon the prices of beef and poultry.

"We have record total meat supplies available to consumers," Wellman said. Although beef supplies are down, pork and poultry have increased. "It just depends upon how the consumer reacts to the meat supplies," the livestock marketing specialist said.

The worst case scenario would be that slaughter hogs would sell near $40 or slightly below during the spring lows, as opposed to the current $43-$44 per hundredweight in Omaha. In the best set of circumstances, continued low U.S. unemployment and positive consumer demand, Omaha slaughter hogs could reach $50 by the summer quarter, Wellman said.

His advice for pork producers is to work hard on cutting costs and to be "as efficient as possible." Look at all out-of-pocket costs and try to keep them down, to keep the bottom line as low as possible, he said.

Producers should have a marketing plan so they can evaluate all forward pricing opportunities, Wellman said.
