Conway election challenge dismissed by state legislature

Managing Editor
State Senator Gerald Conway, seated tentatively with the Nebraska Legislature on the opening day of the 1989 session, became an official member on Tuesday after a vote by member on Luesday after a vote by the legislative body. Conway's election to the District 17 legislative post has been challenged by Tore Nelson of Emerson. Nelson was Conway's opponent in the November general election.

State senators voted Tuesday, by a 35-0 margin, to adopt a report filed by a special credentials legislative com-mittee which called for the dismissal of challenge to Conway's election filed by Nelson.

Nelson's challenge centered around Conway's employment as an assistant professor at Wayne State College. Some people have questioned Conway's eligibility under the Nebraska Constitution to serve as both a state senator and assistant professor at a state college.

The issue was transferred to a Legislative Credentials Committee in January. Because Nelson was Conway's opponent in the November general election, only he could bring the issue forward to the legislature. In a report issued Friday, the Legislative Credentials Committee recommended to the legislature that recommended to the legislature that the challenge to Conway's election should be dismissed.

CONWAY'S work at WSC "does not clearly render him ineligible for of-fice as a member of this legislature" according to the report.

The committee investigated Nelson's challenges concerning four constitutional provisions involving separation of powers, compensation of legislators, the holding of another lucrative office and conflicts of interest.

Only one of the four grounds for the Only one of the four grounds for the challenge offered by the contestor had applied — which states "no person holding office under the authority of the United States, or any uccrative office under the authority of this state, shall be eligible to, or have a seat in the legislature." Conway's position at Wayne State is a "job" and not a "lucrative office", according to the report. The remaining issues could be decided in court. The chairman of the Credentials Committee, Jerome Warner, said the court's judgment would-then decide whether Conway. State, not if he can continue as state.

Charges filed on fatality accident

A Winside man has been charged with motor vehicle homicide and operating a motor vehicle to avoid arrest in association with a one-vehicle accident on Jan. 22 that claimed the life of a Norfolk youth.

claimed the life of a Norfolk youth. Steve Bentley, age 16, died after he was thrown from a pickup driven by Jeff Thies, age 22, of Winside, according to a report from the Nebraska State Patrol. The pickup was being pursued by a Wayne County deputy sheriff at the time of the accident. The pickup crossed the center line with undimmed headlights as the deputy sheriff's car approached just west of Winside on the 90B spur. The deputy turned around and began pursuit of the vehicle and at around 8:36 p.m., the westbound pickup driven by p.m., the westbound pickup driven by Thies went out of control on a county road curve 1¾ miles west of Winside. The pickup rolled into the ditch, throwing Bentley and another passenger, Dan Sholes of Norfolk.

Thies was initially charged with willful reckless driving and of operating a motor vehicle to avoid arrest. He posted a $400 cash bond and was released from the Pierce County Jail.

Wayne County Attorney Boli Fiesz

Wayne County Attorney Bob Ensz reviewed the case and then filed the two charges of motor vehicle homicide and operating a motor vehi-

There is no need for a grand jury, Ensz said Wednesday. State law requires that a grand jury be called when a person is injured or dies white in custody or while being apprehended by law enforcement officers. "The deceased [a passenger] was not the person being apprehended. That is a requirement of a grand jury," Ensz said.

The maximum penalty for either of the two counts is $1,000 fine, one year in jail or both, according to Ensz.

Winside holds off stubborn Osmond

Both teams virtually traded buckets in the third quarter with Win-side holding a slim three point lead heading into the final quarter of the game at 54-51.

The Wildcats found the range in the final quarter scoring 32 points while their opponents mustered 26 to make the game close up until the final moments.

Jacobsen was one of four Wildcats in double figures. Randy Prince follow-ed with 23 points while Gary Mundil poured in 14 and Steve Heinemann, 10.

Wade Klichler netted 31 points for Osmond in a losing effort. Scott Haag added 20 more. Incidently, Klichler is blind in one eye and yet he still puts out a worthwhile effort every game.

Crofton fought back the lead and then never relinquished it to vault themselves into the finals against Randolph on Thursday.

Four Laurel players were in double figures in scoring led by Todd Erwin's 19 points. Troy Twohig was right behind with 18 and Doug Manz poured in 16. John Schutte finished with 10 points, but led the team with 15 rebounds. Twohig also hit double figures in rebounds with 12.

Laurel's downfall in the game was something they had no control over. The Bears shot only six free throws in the contest compared to Crofton's 27 attempts.

State record a fluke?

During last weeks basketball game between the Hartington Wildcats and the Winside Wildcats, Hartington's Chad Seim cranked out 11 3-point field goals enroute to scoring 42 points in a losing effort.

The following day the Wayne Herald sports editor received a press release from Hartington saying that Seim had established a new state record in shooting the long range field goals.

Acting on a tip from an area source that said the apparent state record was false, I decided to call a couple of people to check out the story.

My first call went out to Madison,

Nebraska, where I learned that Jeff Notification drained 13 apointers in a December 17, game with Pierce. Wolfgram went on to score 49 points in the contest.

I then called the Nebraska State Athletic Arcelation in proporter to the Athtetic Association in regards to the differing stories. Assistant Director Conde Sargent told me that he had received a call from Hartington's coach.

Sargent told him that Wolfgram of Madison had made 13 3-pointers so his man Seim did not set a new mark. Seim did however, establish a new C-2 mark with his 11 bonus field

Unfortunately, a local Sioux City, lowa, television station followed Seim to Hartington's first round Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament game held in Wakefield on Monday night to do an interview with Selm with establishing a new Nebraska state record which is totally false. They also credited Har-tington for winning the game against Winside the night Seim scored 42 points. That too, is totally false. It is unfair for both the Madison athlete who has the record and for the many people who watched the television news, now believe that Seim has the record.

What Seim accomplished against Winside was a remarkable feat. I am taking nothing away from him.

Incidently, talking with Conde Sargent I learned a few other things that was noteworthy. First of all, the three point field goal has been enforced for two years now.

Last year the record holders in loys play were John Petersen of Alliance and Eric Hauseman of Ainden as each of these athletes net ted 10 3-pointers in one outing.

red to 3-pointers in one outing.
This year already there have been at least the two above mentioned athletes with more than 10, breaking the record. Incidently, Wolfgram had a game last year where he drained nine of the bonus shots.

Looking at the girls records I learned that the Lady Blue Devils of Wayne hold the current state record for most 3-pointers made in a season Allen's top scorer Todd Hohenstein saw limited action against Emerson due to back problems. He played only seven minutes but ended up being Allen's top scorer with 13 points.

Jason Oleson started his first game and scored seven. "I thought Oleson did a good job considering it was his first start," Troth said. Shane Dahl was also missing from the line up after cutting his hand.

Allen suffered 36 turnovers in the game. Against Ponca on Monday night, Troth felt the score may have been a little deceiving. "We were get-

Lumber Co restaurant to open

The Lumber Company restaurant in Wayne will again be in operation within the near future. Gayle McQuistan of Pender, who recently became the owner of the restaurant, said he expects The Lumber Company to open by late February.

McQuistan said this is his first venture into the restaurant business. He added that there will be no package liquor store associated with the restaurant.

"We plan on perhaps having a Lumber Company coffee shop in that area," McQuistan said.

Light entertainment at the restaurant is planned "when the occasion arises," he said.

Avoiding Problems with Your Medicines

You can help avoid problems with your medicines by following these suggestions from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Inform each physician, you dentist, and your pharmacist of all the medicines you are taking. Most medicines are safe when taken properly. But in combination, certain medicines can be dangerous. Tell prescribers about any overthe-counter medicines you are taking and whether or not you drink alcoholic beverages. Remind sof allergies, other cal conditions, or past problems tolerating drugs.

Ask your physician how long the medicine has been on the market and what side effects it can produce.

When you take medicines, follow prescribers' instructions exactly, and carefully read any information inserts provided with the medicine.

Never share prescription drugs with others for whom they were not prescribed.

If you suspect you are having an adverse reaction to a medication, call your physician or pharmacist immediately. Serious reactions often demand quick medical atWEST HWY, 35 WAYNE'S

For WSC president Reception planned

Residents of Carroll and surrounding communities are invited to a special reception for Wayne State College's new president, Dr. Donald J. Mash, on Thursday, Feb. 9 at 3 p.m. in the Carroll Steakhouse. The public is invited.

Several other College represen-tatives are planning to accompany the president.

Mash, who began his Wayne State presidency last spring, is visiting communities in northeast Nebraska this semester. He encourages Carroll-area residents to bring with them ideas and questions about Wayne State College.

The president came to Wayne State College from George Mason University in Fairfax, Va. where he was executive vice president for administration. George Mason's enrollment grew from 5,000 to 18,000 during his 13 years at the University, which is located 15 miles west of Washington, D.C.

wasnington, D.C.
During his first eight months at Wayne State College, Mash has become very interested in the College's public service role in northeast brain never kicks in to implement them. This makes for quite a handicap, and a lot of stress.

A month ago, I said to the Big Farmer, "We all want to do something to help the Krajicek's. How about a basketball tournament?" We kicked the idea around for awhile. Jon and Kristi, intramural champs at coed basketball explained the way that worked. It sounded interesting.

Joanie and Brad Roberts sald they would help. Judy Miller said a con-cession stand would make money Chuck Peter suggested we throw in a soup supper, and volunteered the thought that coed volleyball would probably create more interest.

Mike requested permission to use the school's gym and kitchen. A date was set, notices sent to the local newspapers, and a request for hamburger and pies went out.

Soon, the first call came. A male voice asked, "What level of competitions tion are we talking about here?" Level? I told him it was all in fun.

Shelli Roeder and sons joined them

The Big Farmer conferred with Joanie. How many teams are we hopfor? What will our cut-off cate
