City lowers water rates

City water rates for residential customers will be reduced following action Tuesday evening by mem-bers of the Wayne City Council. Council members, by a 6-0 vote, approved Wayne City Administrator

Phil Kloster's recommendation to establish both a residential winter water rate and a residential summer water rate. The estimated annual water rate. The estimated annual reduction in revenue from the rate decreases will amount to $55,000 according to Kloster. There will be no change in the city's commercial water rates. The net monthly minimum charge for Wayne residents has been changed from $10 to $8 in both the winter rate and summer rate time frames. Winter rates would be in effect for the billing of each Nov. 1 through June 1, while sum-mer rates would take effect for the billings of July 1 through Oct. 1.

The minimum charge would be $10. These rates were passed and ap-proved by the Wayne City Council in January, 1987. January, 1987. The new net residential water

Had there not been a decrease in Had there not been a decrease in the engineer's estimate or budget, to complete the recent water im-provements to the city of Wayne, the decrease may not have been possible, according to Kloster. John Franklin, who is associated with the Howard R. Green Company which engineered the water im-which engineered the water im-provement projects, said Tuesday the cost summary of water im-provements revealed $180,100 less than what was estimated at bid. That is approximately 10 percent under the bid, Franklin told the city council.

"That may be more, or it could be less. But we can say that it is within $3,000 of that amount," he said.

Kloster told the council that he and the city's fiscal agent reviewed the cost summary. From there it was figured as to how much reduction in revenue the city could ac-cept and still be healthy, he said. "We found we could get into the $50,000 range [in lost water rate revenue] without hurting our-selves," Kloster said.

"We could still go into the year 2000 and not have a rate increase: maybe even beyond that," he added.

Kloster said the low income/low water users and the summer water sprinkler users were considered in the rate adjustment recommendation

"After playing around with the figures, the best approach was to have a winter and a summer rate," he said.

A newer computer system used by the city will make the split seasons easier to deal with, he said.

The reductions in rates offer at least a 10 percent decrease in ev-ery bracket, according to Kloster. "There is a 20 percent reduction in the minimum rate and that will flow through in all the other brackets [of Franklin told the city council the rate decreases will not allow funds to accumulate as much in reserve for future water improvements should the improvements become necessary. "You may not be able to postpone rate increases as long. Water consumption needs to stay at least the same or usage needs to increase," Franklin mentioned. The engineering firm's proposed rate called for a non-split rate (one rate instead of a rate for summer and another for winter) which would have amounted into a revenue re-duction of $51,000.

However, Kloster said the city's fiscal agent felt comfortable with the $55,000 revenue loss as long as the city didn't get into a critical situation with the water quality or the construction of a new well.

The special "Irrigation/Cooling Rate" under consideration by the city council would need to be ap-plied for, and would need to be separately metered. The city would provide the meter as usual and the customer would need to provide the proper plumbing arrangement. Rates would be established as Hates would be established as follows: Minimum rate, none; 0 to 8,000 gallons, $2.10 per 1,000 gal-lons; 8,001 to 14,000, $1.95 per 1,000 gallons; 14,000 and up, $1.80 per $1,000 gallons. Sewer rates would not apply to any of these rates rates

City attorney Kem Swarts said the "Irrigation/Cooling Rate" will re-quire additional analysis and engi-neering data. "We have to figure out how it will work, how it will be moni-tored and how it will be enforced," Swarts told the city council

Swarts told the city council. The motion to pass the ordi-nance changing the residential wa-ter rates was introduced by Coun-citman Darret Heier, Heier, Earry Johnson, Sheryi Lindau, Darrel Fu-elberth, Ralph Barclay and Jane O'Leary voted in favor of the rate reduction. # Water project costs conveyed

Just what did it cost to make the water improvements to the Wayne community?

The Wayne Herald contacted Cecil Coombs, a professional engi-neer with the Howard R. Green Company in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on Monday to obtain a breakdown and final cost of the water improvement projects. The Howard R. Green Company provided the consulting engineers for the water improveengineers to ment project.

Construction costs are as follows:

Diuretics: Who Needs Them?

Diuretics or "water pills" are commonly used medicines. Although most diurctics are available only on prescription, a few nonprescription products contain medicines categorized as mild diurctics. Various diurctics work at different locations in the kidneys to remove excess body water Diuretics are useful in a variety of health problems characterized by edema, which is the swelling of body tissues due to an accumulation of fluid. Diuretics are also used in treatment of high blood pressure, even though swelling is not always a characteristic of this health problem.

Persons having congestive heart failure or certain liver and kidney diseases sometimes respond well to diuretics. And diuretics reduce the swelling that may occur with the use of certain medicines, such as steroids and estrogen.

A major drawback to diuretics is their tendency to deplete potassium stored in the body. This mineral deficiency can be prevented and corrected with potassium supplement medicines or by eating high-potassium foods such as fruits and beans. Some diuretics are not prone to deplete the body of potassium.

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, February 16, 1989

This newest computerized technology replaces aging equipment and allows our local newspaper and printing company to produce printed material at a much faster rate thereby befter serving our customers.

This new method, too, will offer more choices of typestyles and graphic design possibilities to customers. Production and maintenance of local mailing lists also will be made more affordable for individuals, groups or businesses who work with a large number of names and addresses. A further benefit of this computerized laser system is realized in our bookkeeping department which is not seen by many customers but enjoyed by them when they need a quick answer to a billing question.

Nationally, this easy-to-use laser technology has spawned an exciting level of creativity within the printing industry. This trend, too, is fast-developing in northeast Nebraska as more and more customers bring in clever designs to be included in their printing orders, newspaper articles and advertisements

In addition to laser, finer quality phototypesetting resolution still will be an integral part of our printing department's offerings. We want to be able to meet the ever-changing needs of our customers so whichever method the customer prefers - laser or phototypesetting - both will be available.

Purchase of the seven laser typesetting units, two high speed printers and large screen monitor was made locally ... For the needed technical and moral support not only before and during the purchase but also AFTER the purchase, we can't stress enough that it really pays to Shop At Home

FIRST FEDERAL, LINCOLN JF

10A

Charles H. Thorne Chairman of the Board

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, February 16, 1989

First Federal Lincoln has achieved another year of record earnings and growth. The net profit for 1988, prior to establishing valuation reserves, was $7.9 million.

Our prudent investment and lending policies, liquidity position, adjustable rate loan portfolio and interest rate match of assets and liabilities all contributed to this record growth.

We grew, too, because our customers appreciate our strength and stability. At years end, our net worth to liabilities ratio was 5.12 percent-among the highest in the state, and far exceeding federal regulations.

In 1988, growth took First Federal Lincoln across state borders for the first time in our history. We completed the acquisition of two savings and loan associations in Iowa and one in Kansas and now serve customers from eight Iowa offices and two Kansas offices.

Growth also occurred in Nebraska We opened five new offices in Gering, Gibbon, Seward, Gothenburg and Minden. New office buildings were built in Lincoln at Havelock, Edgewood and Indian Village. Eight other locations in greater Nebraska were remodeled. In Omaha, new locations opened in the Florence and Mockingbird areas. First Federal Lincoln now serves customers from 80 offices in 57 communities, more than any other financial institution in these states.

Our loan portfolio grew in 1988 with the addition of three new lending programs: agricultural real estate, equipment lending and automobile dealer lending. This diversification stimulated our lending division and resulted in $45 million in growth.

Savings also grew in 1988. Deposits at the end of the year were $1.2 billion. Our commitment to the traditional savings programs, as well as new investment alternatives, allows us to tailor programs to individual customer needs. Tax-deferred annuities, mutual funds and other investments have been well received and continue to grow.

First Federal Lincoln is definitely in a state of growth. And as we grow, so do our customers' opportunities. We look forward to continuing this growth in 1989.

Perhaps simply the greener grass across the fence during a drought of both moisture and profits precipitates the break. These factors have separated farmers from their land on a continuing basis since there first were farmers, but perhaps more noticeably and at a more rapid rate in recent years.

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, February 16, 1989

What then keeps a farmer on the farm? Is it the independence almost non-existent in a time-clock controll-ed industrial setting or a customer-oriented retail business? Is it the genetic succession of a grandfather-father-son philosophy that seldom father-son philosophy that seldo considers life in the city fast lane?

erhaps it's the fresh smell of ne ly turned soil in the spring or the pleasant odor of curing hay in the windrow. Perhaps it's the sight of a newborn calf or colt finally able to
