Libraries promote development

Rod Wagner took a trip down memory lane this past Monday.

Wagner, director of the Nebraska Library Commission, grew up near Oakland, Nebraska, and got his bachelor's degree in social science education at Wayne State College. He spoke Monday to the Wayne Kiwanis Club and then conducted a meeting at Wayne State College's Conn Library, where he discussed Nebraska's library involvement in community and economic development.

"I can easily say that if I could, I would like to be a student here again. Wayne is very special to me. The college facilities are outstanding and are important to Wayne and northeast Nebraska," Wagner said during the Kiwanis program.

AFTER ATTENDING Wayne State, Wagner obtained his master's degree in political science from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and a master's degree in library science from the University of Missouri-Columbia. He has been an officer in state, regional and national library professional associations.

While as deputy director of the library commission, Wagner served

Quarterly figures also up

Wayne annual sales show increase

Year end net taxable sales for 1988 in Wayne and Wayne County rose over 1987 totals, according to statistics from the Nebraska Department of Revenue.

Also, the city and county each showed 1988 fourth quarter increases in net taxable sales when compared to 1987 fourth quarter figures.

In 1988, the city of Wayne's total net taxable sales increased 8.7 percent over the previous year's tax amount. Comparing fourth quarter net taxable sales (from October to December) of 1988 to 1987, the city of Wayne experienced a 2.3 percent increase.

WAYNE SHOWED a 9.1 percent increase in October, a 4.5 percent increase in November, and a decrease of 5.5 percent in December.

Wayne County's net taxable sales in 1988 increased 8.3 percent over 1987. Surrounding county figures over 1987 are as follows: Dixon County, 1.9 percent increase; Cedar County, 5.9 percent increase; Stanton County, 10 percent increase; Madison County, 13.4 percent increase; and Cuming County, 12.5 percent increase.

Neighboring communities West Point, South Sioux City and O'Neill also experienced increases in net taxable sales over 1987. West Point increased 14.4 percent; South Sioux City, 16.7 percent; and O'Neill rose 10.9 percent.

THE STATISTICS from the Nebraska Department of Revenue also revealed comparison of 1988 and 1987 motor vehicle net taxable sales. During 1988, Wayne County increased net taxable sales on motor vehicles by 11.3 percent. Cuming County had a 10.8 percent increase; Dixon County, 1.2 percent increase; Cedar County, 10.9 percent increase; Dakota County, 6.8 percent increase; and Madison County, 23 percent increase.

Wayne County had a 2.6 percent increase in October, 1988 compared to October, 1987 figures on net taxable sales on motor vehicles. In November, the increase was at 9.5 percent over November, 1987. However, in December, Wayne County recorded a decrease of 25.9 percent over December, 1987, from $607,028 to $450,012.

Cuming County, Cedar County and Madison County each experienced increases in December, while Dixon and Dakota Counties both suffered decreases.

Moisture amounts low

The low amount of precipitation from last fall and winter is becoming a major problem for area farmers, according to Extension Irrigation Specialist Bill Kranz.

"The soil profile was not refilled with moisture during the fall and winter months. The soil below the first 12 to 16 inches is below field capacity," Kranz said.

He estimates that depending on soil type, two to four inches of effective rainfall are needed to refill the profile down to the four foot root depth for fields coming out of corn and soybeans. Alfalfa and pasture grounds under silty soil conditions may need up to six inches of rainfall to refill the soil profile.

KRANZ CITED two methods in dealing with water shortage under dryland rowcrop conditions.

"Individuals may consider going to some other crop such as oats or grain sorghum. Eliminating one or more tillage operations will conserve the moisture contained in the soil," he said.

Farmers with a center pivot irrigation system should wait until early June to refill the soil profile so they can take maximum advantage of the rain that falls before June, according to Kranz.

"Most center pivots will be able to refill the crop root zone in less than two weeks, so the decision to begin irrigation could be made as late as the first week in June. Irrigators should have their systems ready for operation a little earlier than normal in case no rainfall occurs," Kranz added.

Most areas in northeast Nebraska have received less than 17 inches of precipitation since May 1, 1988. The Northeast Center at Concord ended the 1988 year approximately six inches below the long term average of 25 inches per year.

BECAUSE OF the below normal precipitation, residual levels of soil-applied chemicals could be higher than normal.

"Deep soil sampling for residual nitrates could save on production

Redeemer celebrates century of ministry

One hundred years have passed since Redeemer Lutheran Church of Wayne was organized on April 21, 1889.

During the past several months, former pastors and sons and daughters of the congregation, serving in the ministry and church work, have returned to Redeemer to preach and be honored.

Centennial activities also have included a German service and social focusing on the congregation's ethnic background, a performance by the Wayne State College choir, and special services honoring Redeemer members age 70 and older.

The year-long observance will culminate the weekend of April 15-16 with a banquet, pageant and special centennial services with Dr. Dennis A. Anderson of Omaha, Bishop of the Nebraska Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, delivering the message.

The Rev. Franklin Rothfuss and members of Redeemer's congregation invite the public to join them in celebrating 100 years of ministry.

AN INITIAL meeting to form a German congregation in Wayne was held in January 1889 at August Piepenstock's Harness Shop with 12 families represented.

Within three months, on April 21, 1889, The German Evangelical Church was organized with 33 charter members. The Rev. J. F. Mueller was called to be the first pastor and a house was purchased at 416 West First St. to serve as a temporary worship site.

Ten years later, on Sept. 3, 1899, the congregation decided to build a larger sanctuary at 417 West First St. The lots were purchased for $225 and the structure was constructed for $2,332. The new church building was dedicated on Jan. 15, 1900. Two years later, a new parsonage was erected east of the church.

In 1906, a 1,500-pound bell costing $337.72 was installed, which still calls Redeemer worshippers. The inscription on the bell, written in German, reads: "May I introduce myself to you; My name is Concordia; I call men to the house of prayer."

The first church building was badly damaged by fire on Jan. 16, 1921. By May 8 of that year a restored and remodeled structure was rededicated.

THE FRAUEN VEREIN, the congregation's Ladies Aid, first met on Oct. 30, 1892. Over the years, the Ladies Aid has made numerous donations to the church and worked to see that the building was kept clean and well equipped.

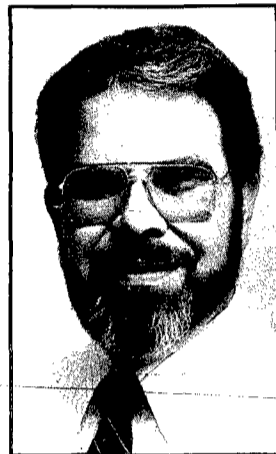

The Ladies Aid sponsored a drive to raise funds for an electric organ which was installed in 1939 and formally dedicated at the 50th anniversary celebration on April 16, 1939.

The first young people's group, the Jugend Verein, was organized in October 1901 for young men and women from the time they were confirmed until the time they were married. The first English Luther League was organized 24 years later, on Nov. 29, 1925.

IT WAS DURING World War I that the German Evangelical Church began to conduct services in English. It was a very difficult time for German-speaking people in the area and particularly for German-speaking congregations.

A group of self-styled patriots took the German hymnals and

Rev. Franklin Rothfuss

Bibles out of the church and burned them. They also threatened the congregation's minister, the Rev. R. Moehring.

The congregation, however, continued to offer German services. The German services were conducted during the Sunday school hour as late as 1936. Pastor Most led German services once a month until 1941, when all German services were discontinued.

Worship in the early years was very different from what it is today. Not only were services conducted in the German language, there also was a custom of having the men and boys sit on one side of the church while the women and girls sat on the other. This practice continued until 1926.

IN 1933, THE German Evangelical Church became a member of the German Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Nebraska and The United Lutheran Church in America. At this time, the name of the congregation was changed to Our Redeemer's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

In addition to the Ladies Aid, which focused upon the needs of the local congregation, the women organized a Missionary Society in February 1940. Purpose of the group was to support the foreign mission of the church by encouraging interest, awareness and support of various mission programs of the larger church.

The Missionary Society continued until 1964 when they merged with the Ladies Aid to form United Lutheran Church Women. This group eventually became the LCW, and then Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America in 1988.

A Brotherhood was organized at Our Redeemer's in August 1943 with 14 men as charter members. Within five years the group had grown to 49 members, and it was from within this group that the idea for a new church building was discussed. The Brotherhood started a memorial fund and asked the congregation to use it for building a new church.

IN 1945, THE congregation became incorporated as Redeemer Lutheran Church and voted to erect a new sanctuary on land that had been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Meyer at Fifth and Lincoln Sts. The projected cost of construction was $150,000 at a time when the annual budget was less than $5,000.

Although they started with only $1,500 cash on hand, by the end of the year $15,410 had been pledged or given. By the end of 1946, that amount had grown to $26,332.

It was two years and hundreds of "man-hours" of volunteer labor between the breaking of ground and the dedication. Worship services were held in the basement while work continued on the ground floor.

On Aug. 1, 1948, the new church was dedicated, and five years later the mortgage was burned.

THE NEED FOR more space resulted in another building program in 1957. The congregation voted to add a parish unit, which consisted of a social room, Sunday school rooms, and overflow being added to the north and south of the existing building. This $70,000 project was dedicated and the mortgage was burned as part of the 75th anniversary celebration in 1965.

In 1963, the church began construction of the present parsonage. The mortgage on the parsonage was burned three years later.

In 1962, Redeemer, along with the United Lutheran Church in America (German) of which it was a part, merged with the Augustana Synod (Swedish), the American Evangelical (Danish) Lutheran Church, and the Suomi (Finnish) Synod to form the Lutheran Church in America.

Redeemer's church affiliation changed for the third time when the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America was formed from the Lutheran Church in America (LCA), the American Lutheran Church (ALC) and the American Evangelical Lutheran Church (AELC). With this merger, Redeemer became a part of a national church body that represents two-thirds of the Lutherans in the United States.

MANY TRADITIONS have developed as Redeemer Church has grown. The first vacation Bible school was in 1951. The schedule of services has not changed since 1953 when two Sunday worship services were begun. The Christmas eve family service began in 1958.

Church services were first broadcast over Radio KTCH on Easter Sunday, 1968, and have continued since.

A nineteen-rank pipe organ was installed and dedicated in 1975. The organ was custom-built for Redeemer and consists of approximately 1,000 pipes ranging from 16 feet to one-half inch in length.

THE REV. FRANKLIN Rothfuss, formerly of Funk, Neb., preached his first sermon at Redeemer Lutheran on July 24, 1988 and continues to serve the congregation.

Other pastors who have served the church are J. F. Mueller, 1889-90; Emil Ashbrand, 1890-96; A. Graber, 1896-1901; J. H. Karpenstein, 1901-12; R. Moehring, 1912-19; H. A. Teckhaus, 1919-36; W. F. Most, 1936-42; S. K. de-Freeze, 1942-79; and Daniel Monson, 1980-87.

At the present time, there are approximately 768 baptized members.

REDEEMER LUTHERAN has seen several of its members go into full-time ministry.

Sister Sophie Damme, deaconess, is now retired and resides in Philadelphia.

Pastor Harlan Heier was ordained in 1955 and now serves the First Evangelical Lutheran Church in York, and Pastor Robert Sieckman, ordained in 1961, serves a parish in the Denver area.

In 1967, the Rev. William Koerber Jr., who now serves a parish in Gretna, was ordained.

Kerry Jech was ordained in 1982 and now serves as pastor at the Church of Christ in Marshalltown, Iowa. Connie Jones was ordained in Florida in 1985, and Pastor Donald Schultz, also ordained in 1985, serves Faith Lutheran Church in Chisholm, Minn.

Clay Ellingson, another member of the congregation, is a student at Lutheran Northwestern Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minn.

Centennial events listed

The weekend of Saturday and Sunday, April 15-16 will bring to a close a year-long celebration honoring the 100th anniversary of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Weekend festivities will include a catered banquet and pageant on April 15 in Wayne city auditorium. The banquet will be served at 5:15, 6 and 6:45 p.m., and will be followed with a pageant depicting scenes from Redeemer's past. The pageant is under the direction of Angie Ellis and Rae Kugler.

On Sunday, April 16, Dr. Dennis A. Anderson, Bishop of the Nebraska Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, will deliver the message at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services.

All persons who have been confirmed at Redeemer will be asked to stand and be recognized at both worship services.

Sunday's services also will feature a reunion choir with past and present choir members participating. Former choir director Ken Gansbom will return to direct the choir, and practice will be Saturday morning and before worship services.

Videos taken of the past nine months of centennial events will be shown in the church basement on Saturday afternoon and between Sunday's services. A coffee also will be held during this time for renewing old acquaintances.

People receiving a positive test result, which means blood was found in the stool, should see their physician for follow-up testing. A positive test does not necessarily mean the person has cancer but could be a sign of other gastrointestinal disorders.

Persons wishing to receive a free testing kit should write to the Marian Cancer Institute, P. O. Box 3380, Sioux City, Iowa, 51102, or call (712) 279-2001 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

$4,300 raised during 1989 drive for Heart

The Wayne County affiliate of the American Heart Association raised approximately $4,300 during its 1989 campaign.

"This year the residents of Wayne responded in a record breaking fashion to the three projects sponsored by the Wayne County affiliate of the American Heart Association," said Marian Simpson, publicity chairman.

Simpson added that this is the first time in several years that the local affiliate has sponsored more than the residential and Swim for Heart drives.

"This seemed to be the year to again add a business campaign," said Simpson, "and the Jump Rope for Heart was moved from a college student project to a community project."

IN ADDITION TO the residential drive, which raised $850, Simpson said proceeds from the celebrity waiter event totaled $2,260 and Jump Rope for Heart raised $1,200.

Serving as co-chairmen for this year's Jump Rope for Heart were Linda Carr and Mary Ann Lutt, with 40 youngsters taking part. Equipment, prizes and refreshments were donated by several businesses, and serving as masters of ceremonies were Gary Davis and Bill Dickey.

SIMPSON SAID money contributed to the Heart Association will be used to help find more efficient and more complete ways to combat heart diseases of all kinds.

"Since heart diseases are the number one cause of death in the United States," said Simpson, "we must all help financially, watch our diets and lifestyles, and exercise."

Simpson added that more persons are invited to become a part of the Wayne County affiliate of the American Heart Association. Meetings are held four to six times each year.

Next meeting will be May 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Providence Medical Center.

Winside gals capture Coleridge Invitational

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

It may well be the dawning of a new era in Winside track this season. Coach Jim Winch welcomed freshman Jenny Jacobsen onto the squad this season after watching her performances the past several summers in the junior olympics.

During Saturday's Coleridge Invitational, Jacobsen gave the fans from several area schools a preview of what she intends to do during the next four seasons.

Saturday was Jacobsen's first track meet in a varsity Winside uniform and if the butterflies were churning a little bit preceding her first varsity meet, they were quickly subsided by her first event, the long jump.

Heading into the finals, Jacobsen had the best jump of 15'10, just 1/2 inch ahead of Allen senior Missy Martinson. In the finals however, Jacobsen unleashed a 16'5" jump to clearly put her in front and as it turned out, her first gold medal. What she didn't know at the time was that it would be the first of four gold medals she would earn on the afternoon.

Jacobsen's first running event was the 100 meter dash and she easily made the finals by gliding past the rest of her heat. She then ran in the third heat of the 400 meter dash, which by the way, would be won by times and not head to head finals competition.

The best time in the previous two heats of the 400 meter dash was 69 seconds by a Wynot athlete. Jacobsen, running in an outside lane, breezed to a 64.3 time and a second gold medal.

Jacobsen's third gold medal came in the 100 meter dash finals where she was clocked at 13.1 in winning the event. Finally, the fourth gold medal was in reach, in the 200 meter dash. It was her final event of the day and she went out in style, by tying the meet record with a 27.3 time and her fourth gold.

Jacobsen's performance aided the Winside girls to the team title with 86 points. Another freshman, Patty Oberle, captured the 1600 meter run with a 6:17.3 time. Oberle finished fourth in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:47, which means that the two freshman mentioned combined for 54 of Winside's 86 points.

Allen finished second in the girls portion of the meet with 78 points while Coleridge netted 72. Newcastle followed with 52 points and Hartington garnered 50 points, as did Wynot. Beemer and Wausa rounded out the field with 43 and 37 points respectively.

Although the Lady Wildcats did not garner any second-place finishes, they had three finish in third including Kristy Miller's 5'0 high jump, Tina Hartmann's 17.3 clocking in the 100 meter hurdles and Wendy Boldt's 54.9 time in the 300 low hurdles.

Kristy Miller leaped 15'1" in the long jump to capture fourth place honors while Shawn Janke did likewise in the shot put with a heave of 30'3". The sprint relay team of Shannon Holdorf, Tina Hartmann, Wendy Boldt and Kristi Thurstensen placed fourth with a time of 57.2.

The Lady Wildcats did not have anyone place fifth but Wendy Boldt managed a sixth place finish in the 100 meter hurdles with an 18.0 time and Shannon Holdorf managed sixth in the 100 meter dash with a time of 13.9.

Boys finish third

The boys team from Winside managed a third place showing in the same Coleridge Invitational, scoring 85 1/3 points. Beemer and Wynot took the top two honors with 127 and 112 points respectively. Newcastle placed fourth with 59 1/3, while Coleridge managed fifth with 55 1/3 points. Hartington placed sixth with 36 points and Wausa and Allen rounded out the field with 29 and 22 points each.

Tim Jacobsen established a new meet record in the long jump with a leap of 20'2 1/2", while Max Kant captured top honors in the 300 intermediate hurdles with a 45.7 clocking.

Tim Jacobsen was also in on three of Winside's four third place finishes as he finished runner-up in the 100 and 200 meter dashes with times of 11.5 and 23.4. "Jac" also was a member of the sprint relay team which finished second with a 47.2 clocking. The other three members were Max Kant, Vince White and Jeff Gallop. Steve Heinemann placed second in the 3200 meter run with an 11:09.9 clocking.

The Wildcats rounded up four third place finishes on the day including Vince White's 54.7 time in the 400 meter dash, Jeff Gallop's 2:23.8 time in the 800 meter run, Steve Heinemann's 5:18 clocking in the 1600 meter run and the mile relay team consisting of Max Kant, Steve Heinemann, Cory Jensen and Jeff Gallop, which ran a time of 3:55.9.

Cory Jensen took home the lone fourth place finish in the triple jump with a leap of 37'2". Jensen also managed a fifth place finish in the long jump at 18'8" while Vince White did likewise in the 100 meter dash with a time of 12.3.

Max Kant grabbed sixth place in the 400 meter dash with a 56.6 clocking while Jeff Gallop managed 1/3 of a point by tying for sixth in the high jump, leaping 5'6".

Overall, Winside coach Jim Winch was pleased with his squad's first performance of the season. "I'm happy with the way the kids competed," Winch said. "I think eventually we'll see more points out of our boys weight throwers."

Winch is referring to people like Brian Thompson, a sophomore, and Kerry Jaeger and Jason Krueger, freshman.

TINA HARTMANN and Wendy Boldt rack up several team points in one shot during the 100 meter low hurdles during the Coleridge Invitational held Saturday. Hartmann finished third and Boldt, sixth.

JENNY JACOBSEN, sister of Tim at left, proves that he isn't the only long jumper in the family. Jacobsen captured the event plus three others enroute to a four gold medal afternoon at the Coleridge Invitational.

MAX KANT clears the final hurdle of his 300 intermediate heat. Kant dominated the event and took home the gold with a 45.7 clocking. Kant, only a junior, looked extremely strong in the event.

Girls basketball stats released

Statistics have been released on the Lady Blue Devils basketball season recently, and they reveal that Wayne broke its own state record in three point field goals in a season.

Last year, Wayne led the state with 56 made three pointers. This season the Lady Blue Devils increased that mark to 66, mainly on the wings of Dana Nelson's 46. Teresa Ellis notched 11 from the bonus range and Holly Paige made up the last nine.

Nelson tied her own current state-mark of seven three point field goals made in one outing this season. Nelson was tied for the top mark by a McCool Junction player.

The second and fourth quarters seemed to be the Blue Devils most productive this season, even though they outscored their opponent's in every quarter.

Wayne shot 41 percent from the field and 56 percent from the free throw line while their opponent's combined for a 40 percent shooting ratio from the field and a 57 percent charity toss ratio. Wayne outrebounded the opposition by over 50 boards.

Dana Nelson led the team in scoring averaging 11 points a game. Heidi Reeg followed with a nine point per game production while the two-some of Kristy Hansen and Teresa Ellis averaged seven points apiece.

Kristy Hansen and Teresa Ellis were the top free throw shooters on the squad as Hansen connected on 66 percent of her tosses and Ellis, 64 percent. Nelson connected on 46 percent of her shots from three point range.

Three Wayne players went over the 100 total rebound mark for the season led by Heidi Reeg's 150 caroms. Kristy Hansen followed with 121 rebounds and Robin Lutt came away with 108. Teresa Ellis followed with 91 rebounds to her credit.

Dana Nelson led the team in assists with 90 while Holly Paige followed with 61. Ellis dished out 55 assists. In the steal category Nelson led the squad with 58 takeaways while Kristy Hansen was close behind with 55. Teresa Ellis came away with 36 steals.

Wayne State takes three from Peru St.

Lenny Klaver's Wildcat baseball team may be settling down some now as everyone is getting used to each others' style of play. This past weekend the Wildcats played four district games against Peru State, with double headers on Saturday in Wayne and Sunday in Peru.

In Saturday's games Wayne State trailed 5-0 in the first game but rallied to score 13 runs in the remainder of the contest to capture a 13-7 victory. Corey Weinmaster was credited with the win from the mound, moving his record to 3-0. Pat Wordekemper supplied the Wildcats with their only extra base hit of the game on a home run. Wayne State was credited with 11 hits on the game and suffered only one error, proving that the defense is getting stronger.

In the nightcap Wayne State broke a 5-5 tie in the sixth inning with two runs and then held off a Peru State rally in the seventh to capture the 7-6 victory and the double sweep.

Don Graham was credited with the win from the mound giving him a 1-0 record. Scott Schultz and Mark Tegels doubled for the Wildcats giving them some of the needed power they wanted. The Wildcats dished out eight hits on the day.

On Sunday the Cats traveled to Peru in a make up double header with the Bobcats. Wayne State looked very impressive on the day as they jacked seven home runs in the two games, but had to settle for a split and a 3 for 4 series record against Peru State.

In the opener Wayne State scored seven runs in the top of the sixth inning to hand the host team a 9-5 setback. The inning was aided by home runs by Tim Wobken, Mark Wewel and Rob Zulkoski. Wewel, Scott Schultz and Pat Wordekemper all supplied the Cats with doubles to help out on the 12 hit attack.

Chris Simon took the win for Wayne State, striking out eight and scattering five hits.

The nightcap was a crowd pleaser as Peru State edged the Cats by a 13-12 margin. Jeff Pasold took the loss from the mound for Wayne State. Again though, the Wildcats displayed a heavy arsenal of power as they towered four home runs on the game for a total of seven in the two contests.

Scott Schultz was the catalyst for the long ball hitters as he cranked two over the fence. Pat Wordekemper and Mark Tegels supplied Wayne State with the other two long balls.

The story line to this game was the final two innings. Heading into the top half of the sixth inning Wayne State trailed the Bobcats 8-2. The Wildcats mustered four runs on the inning to close the gap to 8-6. Peru State came back in the bottom half of the inning and scored three runs which boosted the lead back to 11-6.

In the seventh inning for Wayne State, Scott Schultz belted a 2-run shot and Mark Tegels backed that up with a grand slam which put the Cats up 12-11. In the bottom of the seventh however, Peru State's Jeff Ogden hit a game winning home run. Ogden also connected on two home runs in the contest. John rapped a double to account for all the extra base hits for Wayne State in a game which saw the Cats scatter nine hits, five for extra bases.

"Before the weekend started Peru State had a 10-6 record but they hadn't played the caliber teams such as a Nebraska or a Kansas State," Wayne State coach Lenny Klaver said. "I really think our team took a positive step in the right direction by winning three of four games over a tough district team like Peru State."

The Bobcats had split an earlier double header at Kearney State. Wayne State's record moved to 8-12 and the Cats will play in the home of the College World Series this Thursday when they go against Bellevue College.

Linksters finish runner up to Pius X

The Wayne golf team has kept quite busy the past few days, hosting a dual with Beemer on Monday and traveling to Lincoln's Mahoney Park on Tuesday for one of the strongest invitationals of the year, The Pius Invitational. It was the first time ever that the Blue Devils golfed in the Pius Invite.

Fourteen teams gathered at Mahoney Park Tuesday and battled the cold, windy conditions. Pius captured its own invite with a team total of 335. Wayne finished runner up to the Thunderbolts with a 341, just two strokes ahead of defending Class B champions, Fair-bury. Crete finished fourth with a 346.

Rob Reeg recorded the Blue Devils highest finish at seventh with an 83. Elliot Salmon also carded an 83 but placed ninth. The medalist score of 78 was recorded by Douglass of Crete. Ryan Knispel of Fairbury also carded a 78 but finished in the runner-up slot.

Jed Reeg was Wayne's third best golfer on the day with an 84 while Eric Runestad fired a 91. Kevin Hausmann, the fifth member on the varsity team recorded a 93. Only the top four scores count in the total.

"The conditions were really a challenge," Wayne golf coach Terry Munson said. "Putting was really a challenge with the hard greens and with the strong wind, it was hard to keep the ball near the hole."

Overall Munson felt his squad came away from the invitational in good shape. "We faced several top teams in the state from the past four or five years," Munson said.

During Monday's dual with Beemer, Wayne pretty much had its own way as the varsity won by 38 strokes and the junior-varsity won by 77 strokes.

Jed Reeg took medalist honors for the varsity as he carded a 39, enroute to Wayne's convincing 161-199 total. Wayne incidently, finished first, second, third and fourth in the individual scoring as Elliot Salmon copped runner-up honors with a 40, and Rob-Reeg and Eric Runestad finished third and fourth with 41's. Beemer's Adam Bradfield fired a 42.

Chad Jones took medalist for the junior varsity team which moved its record to 2-0 with a convincing, 172-249 decision. Greg Schmidt followed with a 42 and Brian Moore carded a 44. Mike Nicholson and Jason Claussen followed with 45's.

Lady Eagles finish second

The Allen Eagles took part in the Coleridge Invitational track meet Saturday, at Wayne State College. The Lady Eagles finished runner-up to Winside with 78 points, just eight shy of winners.

The Lady Eagles captured the sprint relay with a 53.8 clocking. The foursome consisted of Candace Jones, Missy Martinson, Carla Stapleton and Amy Noe. Second place honors included Missy Martinson's 15'10" long jump, Carla Stapleton's 13.4 clocking in the 100 meter dash and Candace Jones' 27.5 clocking in the 200 meter dash.

Third place honors went to Missy Martinson in the 100 meter dash with a time of 13.4, and Carla Stapleton's 200 meter dash time of 28.5. Fourth place is where the Lady Eagles really scored as they notched five fourth place finishes.

Pam Kennelly placed fourth in the 400 at 67.2 while Brandi Blohm ran to a fourth place time of 15:14 in the 3200 meter run. Denise Boyle placed fourth in the 100 hurdles with a 17.7 clocking while Stephanie Carlson placed fourth in the 300 low hurdles with a 56.7 clocking. Michelle Kraemer ran to a fourth place time of 7:01 in the 1600 meter run.

Allen's 3200 meter relay placed fifth with a 12:07 clocking while Kraemer earned fifth place honors in the 3200 meter run with a 16:41 time. Amy Noe took fifth place honors in the 100 meter dash with a 13.6 time while Pam Kennelly did likewise in the 200 meter dash with a 29.6 time. The 4x400 meter relay team placed fifth with a time of 4:53.5.

Allen had two sixth place finishes including Becky Stingley's 28'3" shot put and Brandi Blohm's 7:15 time in the 1600 meter run.

Boys notch 22 points

Although the boys team at Allen finished last in the meet, the accomplishments they attained were far greater than all of last year. Allen scored 22 points in the meet, 18 more than the most they scored all last season and according to first year head coach Mike Busselman, it's only a start.

"I think the kids will get even better," Busselman said. "I'm pleased with their efforts so far." Kelly Boswell recorded the Eagles highest finish with a third place time of 12:03 in the 3200 meter run.

The 400 meter relay team and the 3200 meter relay team finished fourth with times of 48.7 and 9:47 respectively. The foursome on the sprint relay include Kent Chase, Doug Kraemer, Matt Hingst and Barry Anderson. The 3200 meter relay team consists of Ben Jackson, Kelly Boswell, Paul Brentlinger and Barry Anderson.

Matt Hingst placed fifth in the triple jump with a leap of 37'2", while Kent Chase grabbed the fifth place spot in the 200 meter dash at 24.81. The 4x400 meter relay team consisting of Paul Brentlinger, Kelly Boswell, Ben Jackson and Brent Benstead placed fifth in a time of 4:08.2.

Sixth place finishes included Kent Chase's 12.23 time in the 100 meter dash, and Doug Kraemer's 25.13 clocking in the 200 meter dash.

Cats go 1-4 at Emporia

The Wayne State softball team traveled to Emporia over the weekend and took part in a round robin pool play tournament. Wayne State was in the bracket consisting of Friends University, Central State of Oklahoma, Central Missouri State University, Washburn University and Barton Community College.

"There was no lighting on the fields and there were two groups of pool-play," Wayne State coach Doug Feagan said. "The way it ended up there wasn't a clear winner because the two pool winners never met."

At any rate it was not a banner weekend for the Lady Cats. Wayne State finished with a dismal 1-4 record on the five games and the lone win came against a community college.

"The girls are writing this tournament off as their one bad trip of the season," Feagan said. "It was just a case of not really being there." In fact, Wayne State had three games where they didn't even score. Those games were against Central State of Oklahoma, 3-0; Central Missouri State University, 9-0, and Washburn, 7-0.

Wayne State also lost to Friends University, 7-1, but defeated Barton Community College by a 7-5 count. "The Barton game was the only one where our bats came out," Feagan said.

Autenrieths speaking in Allen church

Horace and Mary Autenrieth of rural Paullina, Iowa will present a "Living Room Program" on Friday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Allen.

Autenrieths returned to the United States in late 1988 after three years as Middle East representatives based in Amman, Jordan with the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC).

The Rev. T. J. Fraser, pastor at the Allen church, said the public is invited to hear the Autenrieths tell of their experiences. The informal program also will include time for questions and answers.

AS MIDDLE EAST representatives, the Autenrieths traveled widely in the region, meeting with people on all sides of the conflict. They helped arrange meetings for study tours visiting the area, and endeavored to promote understanding between peoples there.

"Our task as Middle East representatives," said the Autenrieths,

"was to encourage dialogue as a means of reducing conflict. We tried to maintain and develop contacts with leaders in Jordan, Israel/the Occupied Territories, Egypt and Syria.

"As far as we know, the AFSC Middle East representatives are the only non-governmental representatives who travel regularly in the region, carrying the issue of peace and justice to policy shapers and makers in each country, including the Palestinian leadership.

"We feel that this is a key part of our work — human exchange in the midst of these vast social and political problems."

AUTENRIETHS, BOTH lifelong Friends (Quakers), are retired grain and livestock farmers. They began their work for AFSC in November 1985.

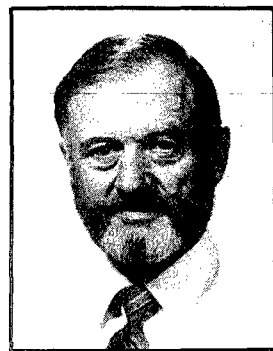

Mary was graduated from Wilmington (Ohio) College as a biology major in 1945, and Horace graduated in 1948 from Iowa State College with a bachelor of science degree in agriculture.

Prior to her assignment in Jordan, Mary served for three years as a member of the Board of Directors of the AFSC.

Horace Autenrieth

The Autenrieths three-year appointment was sponsored jointly by the AFSC; Quaker Peace and Service, London; the Canadian Friends Service Committee, and Friends World Committee for Consultation.

as director of NEBASE, a state network providing computer services to Nebraska libraries. He was appointed head of the library commission in February, 1988.

"Our job is to promote development and coordinate library services throughout Nebraska," Wagner said.

There are approximately 275 public libraries, 35 higher education libraries and around 600 school libraries throughout Nebraska, he said. "Libraries in Nebraska are very interdependent, meaning that the public, school, college libraries all cooperate together [in offering library services to the communities]," he said.

"Libraries are key partners in community economic development activities," Wagner mentioned. "Key provision of information will help with the research and development," he said.

TECHNOLOGY will continue to be an important part of library activities. Currently, around 60 Nebraska libraries receive computer services through the Nebraska Library Commission, Wagner said.

While the basics of reading, writing and arithmetic are key components to a solid education foundation, the ability to find a critical source of information is equally as important. "Our libraries are there to provide that information," said Wagner.

April has been proclaimed National Library Month, according to Jack Middendorf of Wayne who is director of information services at Wayne State College.

The GOLDEN YEARS

by Lee Shaw

The welcome mat is out at the Peace Corps for older Americans, men and women who want to use their skills to help people in developing countries. There is no upper age limit for senior volunteers because, the Peace Corps says, "No other single age group has more to offer in terms of experience, maturity and demonstrated ability." About one in 10 volunteers sent abroad is over 50; some are in their 60s and 70s. Volunteers are selected for their experience in agriculture, education, business management, skilled trades such as carpentry and mechanics, and other fields. But acceptance isn't automatic -- applications exceed openings by more than five to one.

How common is arthritis among people 65 or over? It affects about 550 women out of 1,000, according to the National Center for Health Statistics. For men, it's about 360 per 1,000.

Remember when? 1929 -- A new era for the movies began with the release of "Don Juan," the first full-length feature film with a synchronized sound track.

By Pat Melerhenry

When I began nurse's training in the mid-50's, there were only a couple of iron lungs around. There were a lot of nurses, though, who could tell tales about the polio epidemics and the long days of applying hot packs. The Salk vaccine had eliminated our fears of the polio virus. We saw no new cases.

The unfortunate few, a quarter of a million, who were left with residual paralysis were encouraged to keep up their exercises, use braces-to-support joints, and to live a normal life.

They went to college, they married and had families, they became masters at "grin and bear it."

One, who was still a patient at our hospital in 1958, was "Small Businessman of the Year" in Nebraska a couple of years ago. Another, Shirley Marsh, became a state senator. One has a degree in pharmacy; another, a woman, is an attorney for Mutual of Omaha.

And one, my husband, went to the University of Nebraska with the intention of acquiring an education that would qualify him for a job other than farming, as farming was deemed too strenuous for him. It was in Lincoln that he and I crossed paths.

By the time we decided to get married, he had decided to try farming anyway. And he managed very well, in spite of the obstacles.

In the spring, when it was muddy, he would complain of painful leg muscles. My cousin, who had polio the same year and was only seven at the time, began having pain and respiratory problems.

FINALLY, I spotted an article about something called Post Polio Syndrome. It was being seen 20 to 30 years after the illness. Some of the symptoms sounded like arthritis of old age or even hypochondria. But more and more cases were being reported.

As often happens in a clinical diagnosis, a condition for which there is no lab test, patients had to help each other, both in identification and in treatment. Networking and support groups sprung up. Information was shared.

Nebraska Polio Survivors Association was formed in 1984. And Saturday, April 1, they sponsored a conference in Omaha.

Patients, families, therapists and physicians gathered at the Red Lion Inn to hear four nationally recognized speakers, ask questions, and learn.

There were a lot of scooter chairs, several wheel chairs, and many crutches. Hotel personnel were accommodating. Runners picked up written questions. Meals were served. It was well-organized, and reflected much planning.

The symptoms of PPS have come to be called "the unholy triad", pain, weakness, and fatigue. The folks who were encouraged to push their bodies to the limit are now being told to rest. Those who used crutches are now in chairs. Many are having to give up full-time jobs, or make major lifestyle changes. One speaker said Post Polios were "Type A personalities in Type C bodies," a difficult concept to learn to deal with.

I HEARD expressions of depression, frustration, and discouragement. But everywhere I saw smiles, pats on the back, supportive spouses and friends, and gentle politeness.

It had been a long, emotional week for me, and when I first walked into the conference hall, I could feel the tears.

It was good to hear compassion from the neurologist, understanding from the social worker; suggestions from the orthopedist and the pulmonologist, both of whom were women, incidentally.

The state coordinator, Nancy Carter, has had such a bad winter she was not able to even participate. There were people in attendance from South Dakota, Iowa, and Missouri.

And once again, I saw a group of people who have had a double whammy, another lesson in the "life is not fair" school, swallow disappointment and begin to make adjustments.

We are trying to do the same. With time and prayer and understanding, we'll change our plans and "keep on keeping on." In reality, there isn't any other option.

Day Care hearing scheduled

The Nebraska Department of Social Services will hold public hearings across the state for comments on proposed revisions to day care home rules.

A public hearing will be held in Norfolk on April 12, at the Northeast Community College, Community Services Room, McCloy Building (Main Building), 801 E. Benjamin and will begin at 7 p.m.

All interested parents, providers and others are encouraged to attend and comment on the proposals.

A citizen advisory committee assisted the Department in the development of the recommended revisions. Public forums were also held in six locations across the state for input. The proposed rules include recommendations from the public forums and the advisory committee.

The Department welcomes written comments from those not able to attend the public hearings. Written comments will be accepted until April 28, 1989, and may be sent to the Nebraska Department of Social Services, Human Services Division, P.O. Box 95026, Lincoln, NE 68509.

Any rule changes must be approved by the Director of the Department of Social Services, the Attorney General's Office and the Governor.

LET'S ALL SUPPORT AN INDUSTRY THAT HARVESTS $8 BILLION ANNUALLY.

Enthusiasm for agriculture is growing again in Nebraska. After all, the success of our state's economy is strongly tied to the strength of our ag industry. Almost one-third of our economic activity is related to the production of ag commodities or ag services.

Nebraska has always been a leading crop production state and now ranks among the top five in cash receipts for ag commodities nationally—third in corn production, third in sorghum, ninth in wheat, eighth in soybeans, and fifth in rye and beans.

Recently, Nebraska produced a record 954 million bushels of corn (11 percent of the U.S. total) with total cash crop marketing of $3.3 billion and $4.6 billion in livestock marketing. In fact, cattle and calf production in Nebraska amounts to 12 percent of the U.S. total, placing Nebraska second only to Texas.

So, if you think Nebraska ranks nationally only in football, maybe it's time to remember why we're called the Cornhuskers.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

Soil sampling advice given

Farmers using soil sampling to determine nitrogen fertilizer application rates should take samples as deep as three feet, according to Extension Soils Specialist Charles Shapiro.

It is not uncommon for many farmers to use samples of the top eight inches of soil to determine application rates. If only the top eight inches are used to determine the nitrogen recommendation, the application decision is based on less than 10 percent of the nitrogen available to the plant. This may lead to overapplication of fertilizer, according to Shapiro.

"Surface samples that have been collected on dryland fields since harvest in 1988 show much higher levels of nitrogen than in previous years. Usual surface nitrogen levels are around 15 to 20 pounds per acre. This year samples as high as 80 pounds have been found," Shapiro said.

Because nitrogen in the surface soil is subject to losses, a deeper sample is necessary to determine if these high levels are found all through the profile.

"A three foot soil sample will account for over 50 percent of the nitrogen in the root zone, which should lead to more accurate application rates," Shapiro said.

SOIL SAMPLES should be obtained from 20 to 40 acre areas of the field. Four to eight cores should be taken from each area. Soil samples are separated into zones according to depths of zero to eight, eight to 24, and 24 to 36 inches. By combining the soils from each depth zone, three soil samples are obtained for each area of the field. The soil from the top eight inches is analyzed for phosphorus, potassium, nitrogen and other nutrients.

The deep samples are tested for nitrogen content. The residual nitrogen for each is determined by summing the residual nitrogen content from each sampling zone in the field. Nitrogen fertilizer recommendations are then adjusted based on the amount of residual nitrates and the producer's yield goal.

Deep soil samples taken in 1988 in Antelope county by Gary Zoubek, Antelope County Extension Agent, showed a great range of residual nitrates present. Soil nitrogen ranged from 40 lbs. per acre to over 250 lbs. per acre. Heavy soil averaged 119 lbs. per acre, while an average of 98 lbs. per acre was found in sandy soil. This difference may be accounted for by the greater amount of leaching that occurs in sandy soil.

Research shows that approximately 50 lbs. of nitrogen carryover is a healthy carryover amount. Because nitrogen application amounts are based on a 50 lb. carryover estimate, it is important to have soil tests conducted, Shapiro said.

"Testing a deep soil sample can prevent over-fertilizing in cases where carryover is higher than 50 pounds per acre. Nitrogen deficiencies can also be determined and corrected," he said.

"We haven't come very far in changing available nitrogen in the soil because many farmers don't use deep soil sampling," Shapiro concluded.

SHAPIRO SAID one reason for high carryover levels may have been lower precipitation during the winter and spring of 1988. Thus, less of the nitrogen contained in the soil the previous fall was leached out of the root zone.

Information on how to take deep soil samples and determining the amount of commercial fertilizer required is available from local county extension offices or by contacting Shapiro at the Nebraska Northeast Research and Extension Center at Concord.

Pharmacy & Your Health

WILL DAVIS SAV-MOR PHARMACY

April is Cancer Control Month

Cancer, a condition in which body cells multiply and may spread uncontrollably, continues to be one of the leading causes of death in the United States. Cancer is often related to our work and lifestyle. Preventative measures may help reduce the risk of developing cancer.

Stop Smoking: U.S. government statistics indicate that about 30 percent of all cancer deaths can be attributed to the use of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco.

Avoid Excess Radiation: Excessive exposure to ultraviolet rays of the sun and X-rays can cause various cancer types.

Improve The Diet: Eating foods that are rich in fiber and certain vitamins (vitamin A, C, and E) may help prevent cancer. The National Cancer Institute recommends that dietary fat be reduced to no more than 30 percent of the total caloric intake.

Avoid Chemical Hazards: We should limit our exposure to any of about 30 chemicals, such as benzene, which may cause cancer.

Reduce Alcohol: Excessive alcohol consumption is associated with cancer of the mouth, throat, and esophagus.
