PAULSON Building and Supply of Cozad submitted the low bid on the Highway 35 9.5 mile stretch of resurfacing project. The project is expected to take about 85 working days, so it could run up into fall and perhaps into some work next year, according to the highway engineer's office in Norfolk.

Highway 35 project starts

The resurfacing of Highway 35 east of Wayne has begun.

The project begins near the east city limits of Wayne and continues eight miles east, then about 1.35 miles north toward Wakefield.

Milling will be involved and two inches of resurfacing will be applied to the highway with asphalt over the top.

There will also be some guard rail work done.

The intent of the Nebraska Department of Roads is to keep the highway in shape for at least five more years before the tentative plans of grading the road begin.

This highway project is expected to take at least 85 working days. Traffic during those working days will be maintained as a controlled one-way traffic area while the project progresses.

Bereuter reveals questionnaire results

First Congressional District constituents, returning a 1989 Legislative Questionnaire from Representative Doug Bereuter, believe the Federal deficit and problems with drugs and crime are the number one difficulties facing the United States.

Fifty-three percent of the respondents believe the government should be spending more on the environment.

Bereuter said that slightly more than 5,000 First District residents returned the questionnaire, which was mailed to each household in late April. From those questionnaires returned, a random sample was selected and the results were tabulated using that sample.

Of those that responded, 39.8 percent selected the Federal deficit as the number one problem in the U.S., 30.8 percent selected drugs and crime and 13.2 selected the environment.

Of all the people who responded, 11.7 percent listed their occupation as farmer. Among farmer respondents, 38.89 percent selected the Federal deficit as the number one problem facing the nation, 25.93 percent selected drugs and crime, and 9.26 percent selected the farm economy as the top problem.

When asked to identify the best way to reduce the Federal budget deficit, 40 percent of the people responding selected a total spending freeze that would include defense and entitlements; 32.2 percent selected a flexible freeze exempting Social Security, safety-net programs, and allowing for an inflation adjustment; and 25.8 percent selected a combination of 1/3 new taxes and 2/3 spending cuts.

Among the farmers, 58.18 percent selected the total spending freeze.

Fifty-three percent of all the people who returned the questionnaire believe that spending on the environment should increase, while 35 percent of the farmers agree. According to 45.9 percent of the respondents, spending on education should increase.

The greatest agreement on any issue came on the environment. Among all respondents, 82.7 percent support legislation which would expand and strengthen the Clean Air Act, and 79.8 percent believe it is urgent that Congress pass legislation to control acid rain this year.

Social Security expenditures are at about the right level according to 68.2 percent of those responding, and 65.2 percent believe that veterans expenditures are at the right level.

Bereuter said there is a sampling error in the method used to tabulate the results, of plus or minus 5 percent.

"While these results are not necessarily representative of every viewpoint in the First Congressional District, this is one important way for constituents to express their views. Others communicate by writing letters or attending Hear-the-Citizen sessions," he said.

Janssen earns award

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

Sheriff LeRoy Janssen was presented a plaque from law enforcement officials for his involvement in establishing the juvenile detention facility in Wayne County.

Janssen presented the plaque by Nebraska Governor Kay Orr and U.S. Attorney Ron Lahners during the Thursday, June 8 Law Enforcement Coordinator Conference in Kearney. Attending the conference were members of the U.S. Attorney General's office, Nebraska Attorney General's office, county attorneys, county sheriffs, state police and community chief of police.

Written on Janssen's plaque is the following: "In recognition of the leadership which you and your department have continually displayed in developing and maintaining a spirit of cooperation in the Nebraska law enforcement community."

He said the award was recognition of a cooperative effort in establishing the 23-county juvenile detention center at the Wayne County jail site. "It took a lot of cooperation from many people. One guy could not do it all," Janssen said.

WHILE OTHER centralized juvenile detention facilities in Nebraska are struggling, Wayne's site is accomplishing what it set out to do.

"And everyone's had a part in making it work," Janssen said.

Currently, 17 of the 23 counties within the northeast Nebraska law enforcement district have been involved in the Wayne County Juvenile Detention facility. As of Tuesday morning, there were seven juveniles in the facility — one in the non-secure section and six in the secure area of the Wayne County jail.

The average daily population since the juvenile detention facility opened up on Dec. 8, 1988 has been 4.3 and the average length of stay has been 6.7 days. In May alone, the average population has been 5.5 juveniles.

There have been 112 males and 96 females held at the juvenile facility since December.

Counties outside the northeast Nebraska law enforcement district (Sarpy and Saunders) have also contracted for Wayne County's juvenile detention services on a regular basis and pay an increased rate, Janssen said.

JANSSEN SAID the project is about $20,000 ahead of budget, according to what was reported at the Juvenile Detention Board meeting in May. The project was initially considered a short-term

Couples reveal reasons for long marriages

By Peggy Wright

Immanuel Lutheran Church of Laurel boasts of five couples married more than 60 years each as its members.

The church has about 50 youth and 100 adult members.

These couples include: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bartels, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griesel, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Loeb, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vollersen, all of Laurel, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Holdorf of Concord.

"I think the odds or chances of having five couples in that group is really remarkable," pointed out Norma Pippitt, president of the church's women's society. "This totals to 323 years of marriage. These couples attend Immanuel regularly and are quite active."

During the month of June traditionally associated with weddings, these couples share their experiences and offer advice on how to live together for so many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bartels.

Lester and Ella Bartels have been married the longest of the group, 69 years. They were married February 5, 1920 and have lived their entire life since 1925 in Laurel except for five years in Carroll. He is a retired farmer and they have lived in the town of Laurel for the past 30 years.

Lester, 92, sums up the secret of their long marriage in two words, "common sense." Ella, 93, said "hard work" is another key to their long life together.

"Hard work is our middle name," she said. "We have worked hard all our lives. We have had a happy life and saved our money." Lester adds, hard work "kept us occupied."

Other advice Lester gives for married couples is "don't fly off the handle and come back to normal." Ella attributes the high divorce rate today to "not talking things over." "This is the problem with the younger generation," she said, "they don't have enough faith." She said her faith in God has helped her in their marriage.

"Every couple has their ups and downs," said Ella. "You have to talk it over and laugh about it. I can't say we ever had any serious disputes."

Marriage

Lester said Ella takes good care of him. Ella said Lester has "all good points," about him and not one in particular.

She remembers the happiest days in their life together was their wedding day and the days their two daughters were born. There aren't any special things they do for each other because "We always do good things for each other without thinking," she said.

The couple have two daughters: Mrs. Glenn (DeLores) Morten, Laurel, and Elaine (Mrs. Bob) Jacobsen, Arvada, CO. They are also grandparents of five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grelsel

Due to health reasons, this couple was unable to be interviewed and are not pictured. Bill, 90, and Hilda, 87, have been married 64 years. They were married June 22, 1926 at Yankton, SD. He farmed near Coleridge and Belden and retired to Laurel.

The couple has two daughters: Mrs. Elwood (Alice) Marquardt, Sioux City, and Mrs. Delbert (Mildred) Brewer, Lincoln. They are grandparents of six.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Holdorf

Max mentioned to his friend, Emil Muller of Wakefield, about the upcoming interview of long married couples in their church. Muller said, "It must be something in the water in Laurel and I'm going to come up and get some of it."

A retired farmer since 1970, Max, 87, and Elsie, 88, presently live in the town of Concord. Married March 4, 1922, they have lived their entire married lives either in Cedar or Dixon counties.

"When I said I do, I meant 'I do,'" said Max. It's a big step in your life and when you say 'I do,' you should mean it." Max quipped, "It would have been an awful long time with the wrong woman" in telling of 67 years of marriage to Elsie, "the right woman."

He said a reason for the failures of marriages today is people live together for two to three years, then get married and divorce shortly afterwards.

Elsie's greatest joy has been raising their family. Elsie said Max expected his children to also mean what they did, like their own marriage vows.

Max also advises to "forgive and forget" in marriage. Elsie said although they may not talk to each other for a day or two when they have a dispute, "if you talk enough, you bring matters back up again."

Elsie said Max has always been right there to help her when she needed him. "He can do housework as good as I can," she said. Max said Elsie has been a wonderful housekeeper and cook over the years as well as a "real good companion."

Something special they do for each other is going to church. "We both love to go to church," said Elsie.

Both fondly agree their happiest times were "going out dancing," especially waltzing. The saddest time in their married lives was the death of their son, Marlyn, in 1986.

The couple have seven other children: Verdell Holdorf, Aurora, CO; Mrs. Jack (DeLores) Irwin, Concord; Willard Holdorf, rural Wayne; Delmar Holdorf, Wayne; Mrs. Dennis (Yvonne) Lauer, Norfolk; Darrell Holdorf, Minneapolis; and Mrs. Bruce (Bernita) Hoefflich, Elk Horn, NE.

The have 27 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and one great-grandchild "on the way."

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Loebis

Retired from farming northeast of Laurel, the Loebis have lived in the town of Laurel since 1966. Five of the 63 years they have been married were spent in Carroll. The couple were married February 15, 1926.

Adversity in the form of two bouts with cancer has made their marriage stronger, said Clifford, 86. He advises married couples to "help each other and take care of each other."

Christine, 86, said, "We've seen bad times and good times together." She is thankful for her wonderful family who are "always there" when she needs them. "Where he went, I went," she said. "We were together always."

Christine advises "going 50-50 with everything." "When we got married, we made do with what we had," she said. "Now a days, young people start out with everything."

Christine said when disputes arose, "we always got over it." She said Clifford just can't stay mad, which is nice.

Clifford said on the farm Christine always helped out. He said she has been a good helpmate as well as a "heck of a good cook." Christine said her husband has always been a good provider, a loving husband, and "a real good help mate."

"We just help each other always," said Clifford. Christine mentioned how he helps to do dishes and hang out laundry to dry.

They have fond memories of many trips around the United States and both remember their wedding day as the happiest day of their lives. Saddest moments in their married life were deaths of close relatives.

"I would do it all over again," said Christine of their long marriage. "You didn't hear of divorce in those days." Clifford added, "I 'spose I would, too."

The couple had one son and two daughters: Mrs. Sam (Arlene) Musgrove, Sioux City; Eugene Loebis, Geneva, IL; and Mrs. Robert (DeLores) Buss, Laurel. They have ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vollersen

Of all five couples, Pete, 87, and Esther, 82, are the "youngsters" of the group, married "only" 60 years. The couple were married November 28, 1928 and have lived their entire married life in Laurel. Although a bricklayer by trade, Pete farmed since 1923 when he came from Germany and is now retired.

Two maxims that Esther said she has used in their marriage is "give and take" and "forgive and forget." "You have to work together," she said. "One can't go one way and the other go another." Pete agrees, and said "we did everything together," especially farm work.

Esther and Pete said they have spent little time apart except for hospitalizations and Pete's 1953 trip to Germany. Esther went along on his second trip to his homeland in 1968.

Central to both their lives and marriage has been their faith and their church. "Church is the center of our lives. Church has always come first," said Esther. She can't remember missing more than a half dozen Sundays.

"You have to sit down together at meals and have prayer," said Esther. "There is so much coming and going now a days with women away from the home," she said.

Esther can't remember having any big arguments with Pete. "When it's over," she said, "it's over." "You can't be good all the time," she said. "It's the way the good Lord tests you. Give it three days like Christ and then it will be on the bright side."

Esther said Pete has a lot of patience and is a "good giver" while Pete told what a good cook and manager Esther is.

Happy moments remembered in their marriage is the marriage of their own children. Esther and Pete are thankful for their wonderful son-in-laws who recently fixed up their home by painting, putting up new ceilings and linoleum. The saddest moment in their marriage was the death of their daughter, Erna Gadeken, in 1978.

The couple also have three other children: Herman Vollersen, Laurel; Eileen Johnson, Astoria, OR; and Myna Owens, Shawnee, KS. They have seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren with another great-grandchild "on the way."

Editor's note: Thanks go to Norma Pippitt and Mary Stark for coordinating the time and setting of the interviews as well as Dorothy Rastedt and Mrs. Roger Morten for driving.

Family vacation time

With summer upon us, do you dream of a relaxed family vacation accompanied by laughter and song? That fantasy can come close to reality if you prepare for the trip with your family's special needs in mind.

When traveling with preschoolers, pack small toys to serve as diversions. Items can be individually wrapped and your tot can select one item each hour or so from the surprise box. Or pack three different goody bags, one for the trip to your destination, a second for the vacation site and the third for the trip home.

Engage the child's mind during the trip by playing games or telling stories. Help the child to focus on the sights such as animals or different colored cars.

Discuss your travel plans in advance. Preschoolers are more likely to enjoy activities if they know what to expect.

Provide lots of opportunities for physical activity. The whole family can benefit from a 15 minute break while driving long distances to play frisbee, catch or jump rope.

Try to maintain familiar elements of your child's routine. Regular meals and naps will help maintain everyone's good spirits.

As children get older, the family vacation can become an educational experience. Involve children in contacting tourist bureaus for information about vacation sites.

Checking out materials from the library and looking at travel guides help both children and adults plan the vacation. Once you are traveling, have the children keep a travel diary. They can record where you've been, what they saw, and any unique experiences.

Try appointing one child the family photographer either for the day or the entire trip. Don't forget travel games and projects to keep family members involved. It's always a good idea to associate having fun and learning. Family vacations provide many opportunities for that.

Fun family vacations do not always have to include travel. Some families allow each family member to take time off, at home. During this vacation time, the other family members take over the necessary chores. The vacationing family member plans the activities for their day off. Each family member takes a turn being "on vacation."

Some may choose to go hiking, or swimming or even play hide and go seek. The days are free days when the family enjoys being together and each family member contributes to the fun.

Whatever your family does this vacation season, Have FUN!

Bridal Showers

Kristi Benschhof

Kristi Benschhof, Arlington, TX, was honored recently with two bridal showers.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Benschhof of Carroll, she will marry William George of Arlington, TX, June 24 at Redeemer Lutheran Church of Wayne. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Lou George, Winside, and the late Robert George.

June 19 a bridal shower was held at the home of Keith Owens. Hosting the shower were Owens, Mrs. Martin Hansen and Mrs. John Peterson.

Twenty guests attended from Texas, Brunswick, NE; Norfolk, Winside and Carroll. Pink and white were used in decorations.

Bruggers hold reunion

Twenty-ninth annual Bruggers family reunion was held June 17 and 18 at Wessington, SD, with the Clyde Johnsen families in charge.

Saturday evening barbeque was held at the Jim Johnsen farm. Sunday morning breakfast was held at the Legion Hall in Wessington with dinner following.

Approximately 34 family members attended from Wayne, Carroll, Winside, Hoskins, Fremont, Sioux City, Dennison, IA; Wilmot, SD; Huron, SD and Wessington, SD.

The afternoon was spent visiting and playing "Win, Lose or Draw" and a water balloon toss.

Reunion in 1990 will be held the last Sunday of June at Fremont with the Darrell Honeywell families in charge.

Correction

On the 25th wedding anniversary celebration of Dennis and Gloria Evans of Winside in June 19's paper, Mrs. Evan's maiden name was incorrectly given. She was formerly Gloria Heithold.

Wayne defeats Pender

The Wayne 19 and under girls fast pitch softball team is definitely on a roll. Thursday night at Pender the locals went in with an undefeated mark of 5-0 in league play. The catch was however, that Pender too, was undefeated in league play at 5-0 and they had the home field advantage.

But as coach Darrell Bailey has noted throughout most of the season so far, his squad likes to be the visitors, and Thursday was no exception as Wayne defeated Pender by a 10-5 count.

The news was not all so great though for the "Bailey Bunch." With two out in the top of the fifth inning Wayne was looking to add to an already 7-1 lead. Leslie Keating was on third base and had hitting Tracy Gamble was at bat. Gamble smashed a line drive right down the third base line and Keating went to shield her face with her hands. The ball hit her wrist and according to Bailey it was not a light hit as Keating was injured on the play.

Keating's wrist was badly bruised but not broken. Pender made a rally in the bottom of the fifth inning but Wayne responded with another run in the sixth and two more runs in the seventh to close out Pender's chances of a victory.

Robin Lutt picked up the win from the mound to move her record to 7-2 on the season. Lutt struck out three and walked just one and allowed only four hits. Wayne lashed out 12 hits on the Pender pitcher who Bailey noted had extremely good speed on the ball.

"Pender's pitcher had real good motion on the ball and it seemed like the ball was really humming in there," Bailey said. "Our girls though like that fast pitching and they do a good job of making contact on the ball."

Bailey noted that beating Pender was a big step in his team's quest to win the league. "This was a definite key for us to win the league," Bailey said. "We still have a few games to go, but beating Pender at Pender was one of the biggest obstacles we had standing in our way."

Marnie Bruggeman did the most damage of all the Wayne batters as she laced three singles in three at-bats. Dana Nelson and Robin Lutt each had two hits as Nelson hit a pair of singles and Lutt hit a single and a double.

Kristy Hansen had a double in her only hit and Tracy Gamble, Suzy Lutt, Tonya Erxleben, and Shannon Holdorf all connected for singles. "There are some games you play where you think that you are the favorite and should win," Bailey said. "In this game, I believe Pender thought they would win the game."

Wayne has won five games in a row and the season mark stands at 12-7. Lutt has an incredible ERA of 1.91 in her nine games of pitching. She has walked just 21 batters in 55 innings while striking out 50. Offensively, Lutt is one of six Wayne batters with an average over .400, with a .429.

As a team Wayne's batting average is .428 with the team leader being Tonya Erxleben's .600. Shannon Holdorf follows with a .439 followed by Suzy Lutt's .431 and Robin Lutt's .429. Shelly-Gilliland maintains a .412 average and Marnie Bruggeman is hitting at a .400 clip. Kristy Hansen, Tracy Gamble, Dana Nelson and Leslie Keating are all in the high .300's.

16 and under loses
The 16 and under team dropped a 21-18 contest which lowered their season record to 8-6. Wayne got off to a fine start, scoring 11 runs with no outs in the first inning of play. Pender rallied however, and took the victory, giving Kari Lutt the loss from the mound.

Wayne notched 10 hits in the ball game but the pitchers combined to walk 16 Pender batters. Kari Lutt did the most damage on the bats as she went 3-4 with three singles while Holli Holdorf laced a pair of singles. Lana Casey was the game's only extra base hitter for Wayne with a double and Tina Schindler, Devanee Jensen, Shannon Holdorf, Stephanie Kloster and Tara Erxleben all notched singles.

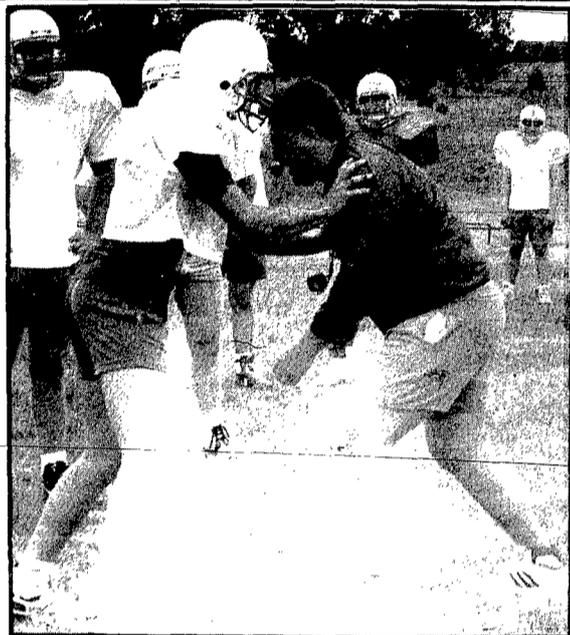

Wayne's 12 and under team dropped a 9-3 decision to Pender as well. Wendy Beierman took the pitching loss but she accounted for Wayne's only extra base hit with a double. Jackie Douglas and Heather Nichols recorded singles to close out the Wayne hitting.

Little League now 5-0

The Wayne Little League team upped its season record to a perfect 5-0 last week with a pair of wins over visiting Pender on Tuesday and a victory on the road at Wisner on Thursday.

The Pony League teams meanwhile split their games this week with a loss against Pender and thrashing of Wisner at Wisner.

Against Pender, Wayne's Little League relied on the pitching arm of Ryan Pick who struck out eight batters. Jeremy Sturm and Jaimey Holdorf did most of the damage offensively as Sturm notched a pair of singles and Holdorf smacked a double.

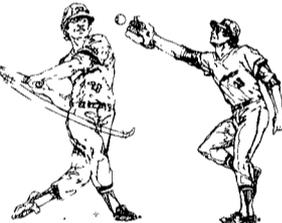

Wayne scored seven runs in the second inning and nine in the fourth to route Pender, 16-4.

The Pony League lost a 7-5 decision to Pender with Jack Swinney getting the loss. Swinney singled, Robert Longe doubled and Chad Payson tripled to lead Wayne's offense.

Against Wisner Jeremy Sturm struck out eight batters enroute to a close 7-5 game. Jaimey Holdorf tripled and Ryan Pick singled twice to lead Wayne's offense.

In the last game the Pony League upped its record to 3-2 with a 12-1 victory behind the arm of Pat Christiansen. Robert Longe had an interesting game as he homered twice in the second inning to boost Wayne to a 10 run inning.

Chad Payson hit a triple and a home run while Bobby Barnes doubled and tripled and Jack Swinney laced a pair of singles.

Pushing toward Fall

A TOTAL of 20 Wayne-Carroll football players participated in the football camp held at Wayne State College this past week with Wayne State football coach Dennis Wayne and assistant coach Andrew Disney. Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said that this was the most Wayne kids that has ever been to the same football camp which is a credit to Dennis Wagner. The kids broke into several groups and worked on offensive and defensive fundamentals. Those participating include: Neil Carnes, Matt Bruggeman, Jeff Lutt, Jason Ehrhardt, Greg DeNaeyer, Jesse Brodersen, Brent and Brian Gamble, Dan Wiseman, Kip Mau, Chris Fredrickson, Cory Wieseler, Rusty Hamer, Jim and John Murphy, Brian Moore, Willy Gross, Matt Metz and Craig and Casey Dyer. Don Koenig and Peter Warne assisted with the camp as did Paul Parker.

Klaver signs six recruits

The Wayne State College baseball program recently announced the signing of six recruits, including four pitchers according to head coach Lenny Klaver.

The pitching staff was improved with the acquisitions of Jeff Gohr, Joe Fulcher, Mike Kurnik, and Ben Johnson.

Gohr, a 6-0, 170-pound righthander from Omaha, compiled a 6-1 record this spring and a 14-1 mark last summer for the Class A Millard South Legion state champions. Gohr intends to major in business at Wayne State.

Fulcher, a 6-2, 195-pound transfer from Creighton University, will have two years of eligibility at Wayne State. The righthander is a graduate of Omaha Westside High School and intends to major in criminal justice.

Kurnik, who will play basketball as well as baseball at Wayne State, is from LaVerne, Calif., and will major in art at Wayne State. Kurnik posted a 7-3 record with a 2.90 ERA for Don Bosco Tech High School, and was an all-conference selection in the El Camino Real Conference.

Johnson, a 5-11, 170-pound righthander from Gunnison, Colo., also plays third base. He was an all-league performer for Gunnison High School last season and plans to major in secondary education at Wayne State.

The vacancies left by shortstop Jeff Pasold and outfielder Destry

Jaeger, both four-year lettermen, have been filled with Shane Kober, a transfer from Arizona, and freshman Clint Reeves.

Kober is a 6-0, 180-pound shortstop who played a year at Grand Canyon College in Phoenix. He intends to major in physical education. Reeves, a 6-2, 195-pound biology major from Elkhorn, should provide the power lost from Jaeger's bat, according to Klaver.

JEFF GOHR signs his letter of intent to play baseball at Wayne State College while his parents look on.

Janssen

 solution to an immediate problem of keeping juveniles from being jailed with adult prisoners. Janssen said lack of legislative action in addressing possible larger juvenile detention facilities may result in Wayne County hosting the juvenile detention facility site for at least two more years — if not more.

"We know that the concept can work. It's just a matter of deciding who does it," Janssen said.

To make the program work was not something done in an overnight planning session, Janssen said. "It took us at least six to eight months of planning to get it to work as it should."

"And it is working right now for us."

4-H tractor winner named

Brian Nelson of Ponca was named the high scorer among Dixon County participants June 15 at the area 4-H tractor driving contest at Concord.

He is the son of Terry and Cheryl Nelson and received a purple ribbon and trophy sponsored by Logan Valley Implement Company of Wayne.

The contest consisted of driving a tractor and two-wheeled trailer through a staked course of turns and required backing. In addition, contestants examined another tractor to diagnose 10 mechanical problems.

They also completed a written examination to test their knowledge of tractor safety, tractor laws, mechanics and maintenance.

Nelson is now eligible to represent Dixon County as a contestant in the Nebraska State Fair competition.

Other participants and their ribbon placings were: Bernard Kneiff, Ponca, purple; Mark Olson, Concord, blue; Phil Bloom, Dixon, blue; and Brett Nelson, Ponca, blue.

4-H News

Modern M's

Modern M's 4-H Club met June 15 at the courthouse meeting room. Matthew Youngmeyer hosted the meeting. His Snickerdoodles were delicious.

Five members present answered roll call with their summer plans.

The annual club tour will take place on July 13 with touring of five Wayne businesses. The time will be announced at the next 4-H meeting.

Family picnic will be July 29 at Bressler's Park at 7 p.m. with a potluck supper. Members are asked to bring one completed fair project.

Next meeting will be held on June 30 at the Wayne County Courthouse starting at 7:30 p.m. and will be hosted by Jennifer and Heather Barg.

Heather Barg, news reporter.

Eagle projects

Library meeting at college

Keynote speaker for the Northeast Library System annual meeting was Kathy Small, executive director of Nebraska Futures, Inc.

Small set the tone for the sessions of the Library Training Institute "Libraries and Economic Development" conducted at Wayne State College.

She said libraries are perfect for finding and keeping local information and finding national information. Libraries help communities stay informed about current development and librarians help translate.

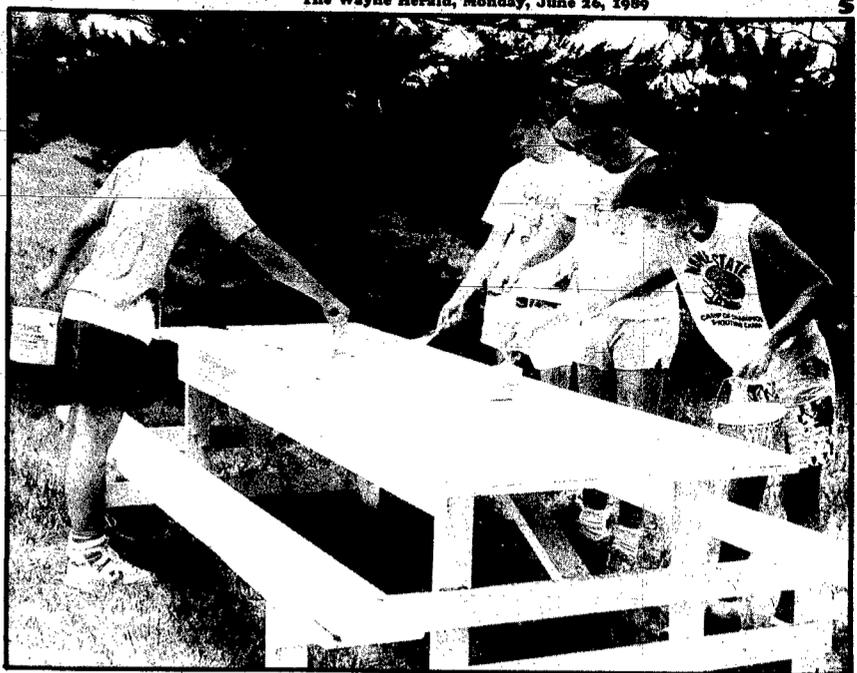

Represented at the annual meeting were 28 public libraries, two school media centers, two academic members, two system staff, three Nebraska Library Commission members and two guests.

Elinor Boettcher of Newman Grove, Alta Marsh of Tilden and Betty Grant of Columbus were re-elected to serve another term of three years on the Board of Directors and Betty Robinson replaces Joan Moody, both of Norfolk.

The board elected Joie Taylor of Columbus as president and Alta Marsh of Tilden as vice president. Elected secretary was Kathleen Harts of Genoa.

This was the sixth annual Northeast Library Training Institute which is usually held the first weekend in June at the Wayne State College campus.

New record is established

A new record was established when the Siouxland Blood Bank came to town on June 15.

"We began our blood drive program in Wayne in 1983. On Thursday [June 15] we broke all existing collection records as we saw 98 donors and collected 92 pints of blood," said Cathy Keyser, donor consultant with the Siouxland Blood Bank.

"Although we at the Siouxland Blood Bank are truly appreciative of these generous donations, the true beneficiaries are the patients of our area hospitals," Keyser said.

"The Siouxland Blood Bank extends heartfelt thanks to the residents of Wayne and surrounding communities for supporting the blood drive. We owe a special thank you to the members of the Hospital Auxiliary who volunteered their time to recruit donors and help at the blood drive. Your help is greatly appreciated," she added.

The next blood drive is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 17 at Providence Medical Center in the education room.

Reaching the four gallon total was Harold Flee. Three gallon donors are Kirk Hochstein, Kenneth Jorgensen, Marlin Schuttler and Patricia Thompson. Two gallon donors are Melia Hefti and Nancy Powers. Listed as first time donors were John Carollo, Juanita Garrison, Matthew Glesinger, Charles Kudrna, William Nichols of Norfolk, Randy Rasmussen of Dixon, Debra Sherer, Andrew Soll and Teri Vrba.

Other donors are as follows: Robert Hall, Jean Jones, Barbara Junck, Ken Loberg, Lorna Loberg, Milton Owens, Robert Sherry, David Woslager, all of Carroll; Richard Hanson and Judy Martindale, both of Concord; Wallace Anderson and Sharyl Luedtke, both of Laurel.

Debra Allemann, Bonnie Andersen, both of Wayne; Doris Backstrom, Wakefield; Debbie Bargholz, Vernon Bauermeister, Lorie Bebee, Fauneil Bennett, Gary Boehle, Dean Bruggeman, all of Wayne; Elizabeth Carlson, Wakefield; Gene Casey, Larry Echlenkamp, Esther Ekberg, Loren Ellis, Ruth Eloffson, Sharon Fleeer, Bonnie Fluent, all of Wayne.

Scott Haahr, Larry Hansen, Du-aine Jacobsen, Miron Jenness, all of Wayne; Bonnie Kai, Wakefield; Michael Kemp, Eileen Kloster, Phil Kloster, Gail Korn, Diana Kramer, Lynn Kramer, Michael Lance, Dennis Lipp, Donna Martin and Rita McLean, all of Wayne.

Leon Meyer, Ronald Milliken, Marian Nelsen, Judith Nemeec, Suzanne Olson, Gerald Otte, Kristy Otte, Marilyn Otte, George Phelps, Pat Puls, Theodore Reeg Jr., MaryAnn Roberts, all of Wayne; Kimberly Roeber, Wakefield; Curt Rohde, Vern Schulz, Evelyn Sheckler, Robert Sheckler, Roy Sommerfeld, Leroy Spahr, Jean Sturm, Nancy Sutton, Doug Temme, Frederick Temme, JoAnn Temme, all of Wayne.

Joan Thomsen, Wakefield; Elizabeth Tullio, Ruth Victor, Brooks Widner, Tonya Winger, Ron Wriedt, all of Wayne; and Mary Westerhaus of Winside.

JUST IMAGINE WHAT WE CAN DO IF WE'RE ALL CONVINCED IT'S HALF FULL.

Nebraska has experienced some of the same economic downturns that have impacted all of middle America. However, just consider the good news that's filling conversations across Nebraska:

- A 9.8% growth in metropolitan employment over the past two years alone.
- Designation as the second best manufacturing environment within the 48 contiguous states.
- Record production in cash crops and livestock of $8 billion, ranking Nebraska #5 nationally.
- Passage of tax incentive legislation that has produced projected company investments in Nebraska over $1 billion and over 9,100 new jobs.
- Cost-of-living indexes among the lowest in the nation.
- 25% growth in Nebraska's service industries (including transportation, communication, trade, utilities, finance, insurance and real estate).

These are just a few of the positive things happening in Nebraska. Not at all unusual for a state where people see opportunities instead of problems, challenges instead of dead ends, solutions instead of excuses.

If we can further expand our optimism and commitment throughout the state, there's no end to what can be accomplished.

LET'S GET INTO A POSITIVE STATE.

For Your Information

Question: A. Why can't the street behind Morey Hall be paved?

Answer:

A. The street behind Morey Drive, called Schreiner Drive, is considered an alley. The State of Nebraska and the City of Wayne have classified it as such inasmuch as it does not meet the parameters of a normal street.

Because Schreiner Drive is classified as an alley, the City cannot receive any State or Federal monies to assist in the improvement or paving of that particular alley.

In addition, that alley can only be paved through the cooperation and approval of the State College Board of the State of Nebraska. Because the College owns over 50 percent of the property adjoining the alley, the City has no vehicle by which improvements can be assessed to the adjoining property owner without Legislative authority to do so.

The College and the City are currently looking at the possibility of closing that alley north of the paved section so that the College and the City no longer have to maintain that area as an open alley. If the City and the College agree to close that alley, it would still be available for the College to use for driving in and out of the back of Morey Hall for college related activities.

Should that alley be closed, it would be barricaded just north of the paved segment and the City would then discontinue any maintenance north of that barricade. The paved section on the south end would continue to be maintained by the City, as in the past.

Response submitted by City Administrator Phil Kloster.

There's something about being a father.

Having child number two in our family is going to be a welcome change. There is much I have learned about being a father during the first six years with our first-born.

Things should go much more smoother this time around.

And if you believe that I have some land in Budapest to sell to you.

There were so many things that I was previously forewarned about before the first child.

I was told that fathers should enjoy the task of taking time out and enjoy being with the baby in the early years.

They never said that most of those times would be in the wee hours of the morning when...?

They said the father would be able to share in the duties of raising the baby and watching it grow.

They never said anything about changing messy diapers and having spit on your best shirt.

They said a father would always be busting with pride at each first step the baby took.

They never told me I would be chasing the baby all over God's creation to keep him or her from crossing the busy streets or getting into mischief.

Many guys with advice said the father doesn't have that much to do because the baby sleeps a lot.

Funny how they neglected to mention how difficult it is to get the child to take a nap in the first place.

Some people will tell you that your child looks like a picture of health.

They never tell you about when the father finds himself alone with a child who just developed a high fever and the doctor's office won't be able to see the baby until later in the day.

So, experienced fathers will tell you that babies love to play in the playpens and are content with playing with baby toys.

So then how do you explain that to a little toddler who thinks he or she can leap over closed in areas in a single bound; or who would rather play with the remote control on the television than his or her little rubber duckie.

Giving babies baths can be such a delight, said one with experience.

'Hacken' Away

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Maybe the first few times — but in those later years, getting the kids in the bath or shower is like putting a dog inside a room with a cat and hoping peaceful co-existence wins out.

Experienced fathers will tell you that babies grow up and achieve healthy appetites.

Babies don't eat. They have a "see who can make the biggest mess on the kitchen floor and on their baby clothes" contest every meal. For some reason they don't make bibs large enough. And when they grow up, they gain their hearty appetite for chain restaurant cheeseburgers and all you can eat pizza places while they ban anything that is green and comes from a garden.

I was told that your baby will get lots of compliments from strangers.

Sure, they were correct about the baby getting all of the attention, like at the church services. However they didn't mention the looks the father got when he was holding the baby and it was screaming its lungs out during the good minister's sermon.

Their first words will be dad or mom, experts told us.

Seems like they neglected to mention the other first words, such as "no", "don't want to", "me?" and "candy!"

To be honest with all of you, we're anxiously counting down the days when our family addition arrives. It will be fun making all those crazy faces and strange noises again, just to muster a first smile.

And it will be worth changing all those messy diapers.

Technical clarification needed

As a follow up to President Bush's visit to Nebraska, Representative Doug Bereuter has asked Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady to approve the application of the alcohol fuels blender tax credit to ethanol used in the production of the new oxygenated fuel ethyl tertiary butyl ether (ETBE).

"While ETBE has shown great potential in becoming a major weapon in the war against mobile-source air pollution, it is uncertain whether economic development in this product will proceed without the application of the Alcohol Fuel Blender Tax Credit," Bereuter said in a letter to Brady. "A technical clarification is needed to decide that ethanol used in the production of ETBE qualifies for the alcohol fuels blender tax credit.

"ETBE has emerged as one of the most promising and effective means available in reducing dangerous carbon monoxide and ozone air pollution levels in our nation's non-attainment cities," Bereuter told Brady. "Your support for this incentive would send the right signal to the alternative fuels industry and our agricultural producers that the Bush Administration is acting in this fashion to meet the economic and environmental needs of the nation simultaneously."

CARDS OF THANKS

A BIG thank you to everyone who came to our 25th wedding anniversary open house. We would like to thank Jay Morse for helping Craig and Chad with the beautiful program. Also Bev, Cyril and Heidi Hansen and Bonnie Hansen for the beautiful music. Thanks to Pastor Fale for giving the prayer. Also for the ladies that helped in the kitchen with the meal and Katie Bleich for making corsages. You have made this a day we will always cherish. God bless you all. Dennis and Gloria Evans. J26

MR. AND MRS. Louis Willers wish to thank everyone for remembering them with warm wishes, cards and gifts on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. J26

THANK YOU, Wayne Rotary Club for sponsoring me The World Affairs Seminar in Wisconsin was great! Deanna Nichols. J26
