Agreements

AREA—More than 180 Nebraska cities and villages have signed new 25-year Professional Retail Operations (PRO) Agreements with the Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD).

Under terms of the PRO agreement, the cities and villages lease their electrical distribution systems to NPPD to operate for 25 years. NPPD is responsible for the entire operation of the systems including billing, maintenance, expansions, storm damage repair and management.

NPPD also returns to the towns 12 percent of the adjusted gross revenue realized from the system annually. NPPD also makes 5 percent in-lieu-of-tax payments based on gross revenue as required by state statute.

Although the existing lease agreements between NPPD and the towns have several years remaining, it was determined that the new long-term PRO Agreements would be beneficial to NPPD for financing and planning future power supply and to the cities and villages by guaranteeing them electric service and power supply for the next 25 years. The new agreements become effective Jan. 1, 1990.

Area communities that have signed the PRO Agreements are Concord, Allen, Dixon and Hoskins.

Entertainment — the best medicine

"DOC" TOMMY SCOTT'S last real medicine show entertained about 100 people Saturday evening at the Wayne City Auditorium. The visit was sponsored by the Wayne Kiwanis Club. The family of entertainers performed acrobatic acts such as juggling and riding a unicycle (at left) and sang selections of bluegrass music (above). They also promoted their "snake oil" product on the stage and in the audience — claiming it to be the wonder medicine. During the course of the performance, a gorilla (Gong the Gorilla) hopped out of its cage and wandered into the audience, creating some exciting moments with the young fans. The show has been seen on the Nashville Television Network and on CBS with Charles Kuralt while also appearing on the NBC Today Show, P.M. Magazine, and the P.B.S. Network nationwide. The musical group continued its tour across northeast Nebraska, appearing also in West Point.

River-Cade draws Wayne support

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

Wayne officials considered their participation in the Port of Sioux City River-Cade celebration as a positive experience.

The city of Wayne was chosen as one of three honor cities for this year's River-Cade event. Others were Elk Point, South Dakota and LeMars, Iowa.

Mark Sorensen of Wayne, who headed the committee for Wayne representation at River-Cade, said he was happy with all the people from the city of Wayne who participated in the event.

"We had a lot of participants in the parade, having at least 11 entries with about 50 to 60 people involved in parade entries," Sorensen said.

WAYNE WAS also the only honor city to have a booth down at the waterfront area of River-Cade. The booth was a Great Dane trailer filled in the inside with information from various other Wayne business, industry and governmental entities.

"We had a nice booth set up there. We didn't get quite the amount of traffic that we thought we would," said Sorensen.

"By and large, the greatest number of traffic in our booth were Wayne State College graduates and those who were formerly associated with the community. Most of them were asking what was going on now in our community," he said.

RIVER-CADE officials also expressed their appreciation of Wayne's participation. Wayne had more entries in the River-Cade Parade than Elk Point and LeMars combined.

"Give some credit to those people from Wayne who helped on the committee and also participated in River-Cade events," Sorensen said.

Their interest is what made a difference in how Wayne was represented in being a River-Cade honor city, he said.

Dispatching service looks to upgrade 911 emergency calling system

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

The 911 Emergency Dispatch Service at the Wayne Police Department will undergo some enhancement if the project is approved later on this fiscal year by the Wayne City Council.

Wayne City Police Chief Vern Fairchild said Wednesday morning that the costs to finance the upgrading or enhancement of the present 911 system was placed in the recently approved 1989-90 city budget.

The enhancement, according to Fairchild, is a small computer-like unit that can be placed on the desk of the dispatcher.

"When the phone rings [from a 911 emergency telephone call], then the unit will also display the phone number of the caller, the address and the party where the phone is listed," said Fairchild.

The purpose is to get accurate information to the emergency responders as quickly as possible.

PRESENTLY, people call 911 and the dispatcher often has to "get the information" out of the

Some Medicines Have Multiple Uses

Aspirin is an effective pain reliever, fever reducer, and inflammation fighter. Because aspirin helps prevent small blood clots from forming in the bloodstream, it is now believed by many health authorities that small daily doses may help prevent heart attacks.

The histamine-blocking effect of antihistamines makes them valuable in preventing or relieving allergic reactions to pollens, house dust, insect bites, and bee stings. The drying effect of antihistamines provides relief of runny nose and congestion associated with the common cold. And the drowsiness produced by many antihistamines makes them ideal ingredients in sleep aids. Magnesium hydroxide, the active ingredient in milk of magnesia, is an effective antacid in low doses and, in larger doses, serves as a gentle and persuasive laxative.

Puttin' up with Pete

By Kevin Peterson

Well, the seasons are now completed for the Wayne Midgets and Legion baseball teams and looking back over the season I thought we'd spend a little time analyzing the season from the sports editor's perspective.

First we'll take a closer look at the Midgets. Although Wisner-Pilger-Beemer has a good baseball team, in my opinion, the Wayne Midgets had the best Midget team in Northeast Nebraska excluding Class A teams.

Wayne had an excellent blend of talent on the squad and of course the first person that comes to mind is shortstop Rusty Hamer. Hamer is one of those athletes who just don't say a lot vocally, but when you hit like Rusty can, bats talk louder than words.

Another person that caught my eye several times this season was catcher Cory Wieseler. Folks, if you didn't get a chance to see the Midgets play this year, you missed a fine catcher. Wieseler is a very smart player and his offensive arsenal was nothing short of spectacular as well. Wieseler ranks as one of the top five bunters I've seen this year, Midgets and Legion combined.

Matt Bruggeman, Brian Lentz, Jeff Griesch and Chris Fredrickson are four more players on the Midget team that had numerous shining moments this season. The first three were the pitchers for the team with Lentz and Griesch being the top two hurlers and Bruggeman did a fine job of filling that third pitcher rotation role.

Personally, I feel that if the Midgets would have had one more consistent pitcher, they wouldn't have been touched throughout the season and possibly the state tournament.

Eric Cole, Trevor Wehrer and Jim Hoffman were the other three that saw most of the playing time and these guys did a great job of complementing the rest of the team. Several times Eric Cole would come up to the plate with two outs and a runner in scoring position, and knock him in.

Taking a quick look at the 17-11 Legion team this season, inconsistency spelled doom several times. The highlight of the season had to be in the O'Neill Tournament when Wayne captured first place honors with wins over Lexington, O'Neill and Wakefield.

Jeff Lutt was Wayne's ace pitcher throughout the season and the good news for Wayne fans is that he'll be back next year. So will Matt Peterson, Wayne's second pitcher.

The locals will say goodbye to the likes of Jess Zeiss, Jarrod Wood, Rob Sweetland, Corey Frye, Kevin Hausmann, Greg Schmidt, Adam Msrny, Jason Msrny and Tim Loberg.

You might think with the loss of all these players that next year's team will be down more than they were this year. Don't sulk people, you have to remember that moving up to the Legion will be names like Rusty Hamer, Cory Wieseler, Brian Lentz, Jeff Griesch, Chris Fredrickson and Matt Bruggeman.

If Wayne isn't a state caliber team next year with at least five pitchers in the rotation; then there will have to be some awesome teams in the area.

Before I sign off I have to say how much I was impressed with the coaching tactics of Hank Overin this season. During the many ball games I attended and took pictures at, I usually stood right by our dugout so I could hear everything that took place as well as taking pictures of the batters.

I cannot count how many times Hank would tell a member of the defense to move over just a couple of steps and then the ensuing pitch resulted in a ball being hit to the exact spot where Hank had just told the kid to move to.

Whether that's luck or just decades of experience of knowing what was going to happen I don't know, but one thing is for sure, with Overin at the helm and the talent Wayne returns next season, with a little desire, Wayne will be attending the state tournament.

Wakefield qualifies for State

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Things may not have looked so rosy for Paul Eaton's Wakefield Legion baseball team early last week when they were upset in the first round of the area tournament in Dodge by 3-9 Pender. But Wakefield turned it around and won five consecutive games to advance into the Class C State Tournament which begins this Friday in Wymore.

Wakefield defeated Wisner-Pilger-Beemer-Dodge in the championship game on Tuesday night, 7-4 to earn the berth. It was the second victory over Wisner in two nights as Wakefield defeated them 3-1 on Monday, but since it was Wisner's first loss of the double elimination tournament, the second game was forced.

Troy Twohig was on the mound Tuesday night for Wakefield and pitched the first five innings, allowing two hits, two runs, striking out six and walking four. Steve Loofe came in during the sixth inning to pick up the save. Loofe struck out two, walked none, gave up one run and allowed two hits.

Wakefield, the home team, scored the game's first run in the bottom of the second inning when they jumped out to a 2-0 lead. Matt Tappe led off the inning with a single and went to second on the fielder's choice by Mark Johnson. Troy Twohig then doubled to score Tappe and Chris Loofe knocked Twohig in on a fielder's choice.

Wisner came back to tie the score in the top half of the third inning but Wakefield scored once more in the bottom half of the third to maintain a 3-2 lead. Troy Lee led off the inning with a walk and consecutive singles by Andy McQuistan and Mike Mogus scored Lee.

Wakefield scored another run in the bottom of the fourth inning as Chris Loofe doubled into right center and then scored on an error on the third baseman which allowed Darren Martinson to reach base.

The score remained 4-2 in favor of Wakefield until the top of the sixth inning when Wisner tied the game up. In the bottom half of the inning however, Wakefield put the game out of reach with three runs.

Chris Loofe led the inning off with a single and Doug Manz received a walk with one out. Scott Kneif, pinch hitting for Troy Lee belted an rbi single to put runners on second and third. Kneif went to second on the throw to home plate which scored Loofe.

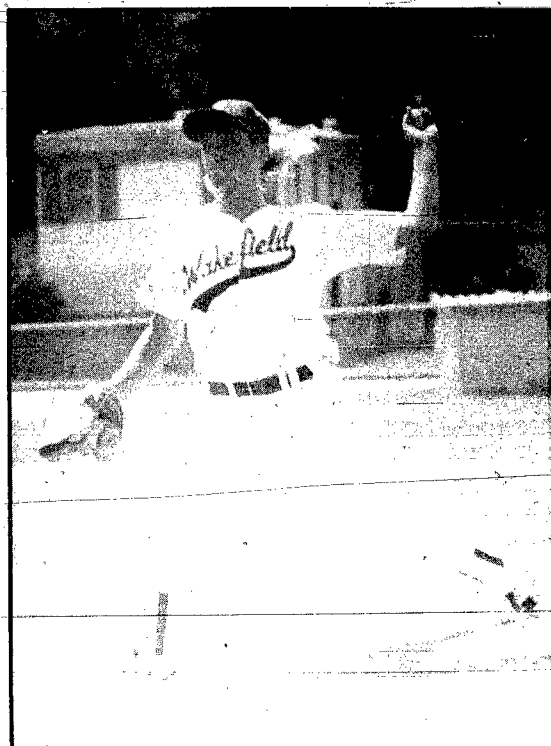

Andy McQuistan then stepped up and cracked a 2-run double over the fence to push the score to 7-4. Loofe struck out the first two batters for Wisner in the seventh inning and after a Chad Denker single, Loofe forced the next batter to hit into a fielder's choice.

Loofe pitches brilliant In the contest between the same two teams on Monday night, Wakefield pitcher Steve Loofe pitched brilliantly. The left hander struck out 15 Wisner batters enroute to a 3-1 Wakefield victory.

Wakefield got off to a quick 1-0 lead after one inning of play. Troy Lee reached base on a single and later scored on a fielder's choice by Matt Tappe. The score remained 1-0 until the top half of the fifth inning when Wakefield added one more. Doug Manz reached base on an error by the third baseman and advanced to second on a bunt single by Steve Loofe. Andy McQuistan then ripped an rbi single to score Manz.

Wakefield scored again in the sixth inning to make it a 3-0 contest when Chris Loofe singled in Matt Tappe who had earlier doubled in the inning. In the bottom of the seventh inning Steve Loofe loaded the bases with walks and with two out, the next batter singled to score Wisner's only run. Loofe struck out the last batter, and finished the game with 15 strikeouts, and allowed just three hits.

Win rematch On Saturday night Wakefield avenged its first loss of the tournament to Pender with a 4-1 victory. Ben Jackson was on the mound for Wakefield and he finished with seven strikeouts, allowed two hits, no runs and didn't walk anyone. Troy Twohig pitched the final three innings allowing one walk, one run, three hits and five strikeouts.

Darren Martinson singled in Mike Mogus in the fourth inning to give Wakefield a 1-0 lead. In the fifth inning Ben Jackson and Scott Kneif singled followed by an rbi single by Mike Mogus. Andy McQuistan reached base on a fielder's choice and later scored on a wild pitch. Wakefield ripped nine hits in the game, all singles. Mike Mogus was the game's only two-hit performer with two singles. Darren Martinson, Ben Jackson, Matt Tappe, Scott Kneif, Andy McQuistan, Chris Loofe and Troy Twohig, all singled as well.

Wakefield downed Scribner-Snyder by a 3-2 count on Friday night. Troy Twohig got the win after striking out nine and allowing just three hits.

THE WAKEFIELD Legion baseball team emerged as the Area Champions and will take part in the Annual State Baseball Tournament in Class C this weekend in Wymore. Wakefield lost its opening game in the double elimination area tournament and then won its next five games to earn the state berth.

Legion finishes year, 17-11

The Wayne Legion baseball team advanced as far as the area baseball finals before being eliminated by the tournament favorite—Blair.

On Friday night Wayne eliminated South Sioux from tournament play with a 4-2 victory behind the pitching arms of Matt Peterson and Jeff Lutt. Peterson pitched the first three innings and didn't allow a hit or a run while walking five and striking out two. Lutt came in during the fourth inning and finished the contest, allowing one hit, two runs and two walks while striking out four.

Wayne scored two runs in the first inning as Jess Zeiss received a walk and then stole second before Jeff Lutt walked. Matt Peterson then stroked a 2-run triple.

In the fifth inning Wayne added two more runs as Greg Schmidt reached base after being hit by a pitch and Jess Zeiss singled. Jeff Lutt then advanced both runners to home with a 2-run single. Jason Mrsny had the fourth hit for Wayne with a single.

On Saturday night Wayne came back to Blair to face off against undefeated Blair. Although the locals led 1-0 after the first inning of play, Blair came back to regain the lead and never relinquish it enroute to an 8-2 final. Matt Peterson was credited with the loss as he pitched the first four innings. Jeff Lutt then came in to pitch the fifth inning before Peterson returned to pitch the next 1 2/3 innings. Greg Schmidt pitched the final 2/3 of the last inning.

Greg Schmidt lined a single in the first inning and stole second base before Jeff Lutt knocked him in with an rbi single. Wayne never scored again until the seventh inning as Chad Metzler drew a walk before Jason Mrsny singled and Kevin Hausmann laced an rbi double.

Jess Zeiss, Adam Mrsny and Jeff Lutt recorded the game's other three hits for Wayne. The locals finish the season with a 17-11 record.

THESE WAYNE Midgets take a water break during the semi-finals of the Midget Area Tournament. Wayne was eliminated by Wisner-Pilger-Beemer, 5-4 in eight innings.

Midgets end season at Blair

The Wayne Midgets were upset in semi-final action at the area baseball tournament in Blair on Friday by Wisner-Pilger-Beemer, 5-4 in eight innings of play.

Matt Bruggeman started the game on the mound, but it was Jeff Griesch who was credited with the loss. Wayne had four runs on eight hits and three errors while Wisner had five runs on nine hits and one error.

Wisner led Wayne by a 4-0 count heading into the top half of the fourth inning before Wayne rallied. Jeff Griesch tripled in the fourth followed by an rbi sacrifice fly ball by Matt Bruggeman.

Trailing 4-1 going into the top of the sixth inning Wayne again rallied, this time to tie the score at 4-4. Brian Lentz tripled and Jeff Griesch reached base after being hit by a pitch. The next batter, Matt Bruggeman tripled in both runners to make it a 4-3 game. Bruggeman then advanced to home on a wild pitch.

After seven innings of play the score was still knotted at fours. In the top of the eighth inning Rusty Hamer hit a towering triple with two out. The Wisner outfielder bobbled the cutoff throw and Hamer tried to stretch his triple to a home run but was thrown out at the plate.

Wisner meanwhile, scored its winning run in the bottom half of the eighth inning to end the game. Wisner went on to defeat Blair in the finals and they advanced to the state tournament this weekend in Hickman.

The Midgets finished with eight hits and five of the hits were for extra bases. Cory Wieseler had a single and a double while Matt Bruggeman, (who by the way had a very good tournament in the way of hitting) finished with a single and a triple. Brian Lentz, Jeff Griesch and Rusty Hamer all notched triples and Jim Hoffman ripped a single.

The Midgets finished the season with a 24-5 record.

He was named to the second team all-state and the first team on the Siouxland conference and the second team all northwest Iowa.

Gearhart played on the winning north squad which won a 23-22 decision over the south squad. Gearhart was coached in the all-star game by a former graduate student of Wayne State College in Roger Kittleson. Kittleson did some graduate work in 1967.

He served as the senior pastor-teacher of Bethany Baptist Church of Pittsburgh, Pa. from 1980-88.

Farm Pond Reflections

Sometimes when pressures build and life's problems come into play, a walk to the farm pond helps chase the heartaches away.

In the air is a wonderful feeling created by a magnificent scene; a display of nature's art gallery, ever so peaceful and serene.

In the pond the ripples travel far and wide, stirring that tranquility which we all hope to find.

A deep blue sky is reflected and mirrors my calming mood. It is near this special pond where at last is found solitude.

The fish swim free as they glisten in the sunlight. And the geese appear so graceful as they take to flight.

So it always seems a pleasure to escape to a place so grand; where life seems so simple and a whole lot easier to understand.

Higher than expected

Hog numbers puts damper on price outlook

A larger than anticipated buildup in hog numbers on U.S. farms over the past several months suggests a less favorable price outlook than predicted earlier for the latter part of this year and the first half of 1990, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln economist said.

Al Wellman said a larger-than-expected inventory of hogs estimated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture has resulted from slightly larger than estimated sow farrowings since last December. Also contributing to a dampened price outlook are farrowing intentions for this summer and fall which are above most thinking by trade observers, Wellman said.

Potential pork production over the next few quarters translates into expectations of cash prices remaining in the upper $40s per hundredweight for the near term, with a moderate drop likely in late summer and into fall, he said.

Smaller supplies of beef should be a supporting factor this fall, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said, but poultry supplies will continue moderately above the previous year.

CONTINUED relatively large stocks of pork in cold storage will put downward pressure on prices this summer, Wellman predicted. June 1 holdings of 432 million pounds were 11 percent above the previous year, including 29 percent more pork bellies, he said.

Present indications are that third-quarter prices for barrows and gilts at Omaha will average in the mid $40s with peak prices in the $50 to $51 range. Fourth quarter prices are expected to average in the low $40s, $1 to $2 per hundredweight higher than in 1988, Wellman pointed out.

If June-November sow farrowings are near the June USDA intentions estimates, prices in the first half of 1990 could average in the low to mid $40 range, he said.

The backdrop for current price predictions is a USDA estimate of 55.5 million head of hogs on U.S. farms June 1, down just 1 percent from a year ago. Market hogs were estimated at 1 percent below last year and breeding stock was down 3 percent.

Sow farrowings in both the December-January and March-May periods were estimated at only 1 percent below the previous years — smaller reductions than indicated in the USDA's March report. Pig crop estimates for these periods also were estimated at 1 percent below a year earlier.

THE ESTIMATES seem to be stuck on 1 percent, Wellman said, with sow farrowing intentions of producers, from the USDA's June 1 survey, estimated at 1 percent below a year earlier for June-August and 1 percent up for September-November. These plans appear a bit high in relation to the reported 3 percent reduction in the June 1 breeding herd, the economist noted.

Data indicate that third-quarter hog slaughter should be very close to a year earlier, Wellman said. Fourth quarter slaughter will be up seasonally from the third quarters, but may be around 2 percent below 1988.

Farrowing intentions indicate a potential for hog slaughter in the first half of 1990 to be fairly close to this year's level, although actual farrowings could be somewhat different than June plans. The 3 percent smaller breeding herd on June 1 suggests a possibility that farrowings could be below the reported intentions, Wellman concluded.

The GOLDEN YEARS

By Joe Schane

This year about 190,000 Americans in their 60s or older will participate in Elderhostel programs, taking one-week courses and living on campus at colleges or other education centers. In 1975, five New Hampshire colleges offered the first Elderhostel programs to 220 pioneering men and women. Now, programs are offered at more than 1,200 colleges and other sites in all 50 states, Canada and 40 countries overseas. Courses range from study of world affairs to experiences like rock climbing. Cost averages $225 a week. The catalog of courses is in most libraries.

When Thaddeus Armie Eure retired earlier this year, he wasn't surprised that North Carolina Governor James Martin was among those who turned out to wish him well. Mr. Eure, 89, had served as secretary of state for 52 years, under 13 governors, and had occupied the same state capitol office for more than half a century.

Barriers stop economic development

To prevent Nebraska's small towns from becoming extinct, community members must overcome barriers blocking cooperative community development programs, according to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural economist.

For economic survival, communities with populations of 1,500 or less must pool their resources and develop an economic base, Larry Swain said.

Yet, barriers like "silly" high school rivalries cause communities to mistrust other communities, he said.

"These high school sports rivalries are more of a problem with the parents than the students," Swain said. "People lose all rationality wanting to beat the other towns. I've seen it in every one of the projects we have worked on so far."

THE PROGRAM designed to bring communities together is an offshoot of the Managing Mainstreet Business project, which is jointly sponsored by UNL Cooperative Extension, the UNL Department of Agricultural Economics and the Nebraska Business Development Center at the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Rivalries cause communities to mistrust people from other communities and can also cause mistrust within communities, Swain said. Businesses within the same town often mistrust each other's intentions, he said.

The most important point, Swain said, is that barriers can be overcome by any community.

The program helps communities to overcome barriers by holding workshops and training sessions. A leadership training workshop is held to develop problem-solving and organizational skills.

Swain said a common barrier in economic development is finding people to chair and organize committees.

"It's not that people can't do it, but it's because they haven't had the training or opportunity," Swain said.

Another volunteer workshop helps individuals identify workstyle preferences. Participants are given the Myers-Briggs Personality Preference Test, which measures attributes such as introversion or extroversion.

THE TEST identifies those who would be more comfortable working on a committee of three rather than 50, Swain said.

Perhaps the most serious barrier in community development is the unwillingness of people to invest their resources, Swain said.

"People would rather invest in the stock market versus investing or lending money to a town, or in helping a development to get started," Swain said. "And it's not just money, time and talents are also very important in community development."

Three small-town groups, ranging from three to five communities each, have participated in the program since it began last May. Nebraska has more than 400 towns with populations of 1,500 or less, which is the targeted size for the program.

By Pat Meierhenry

These are the long, hot days of summer. Corn-growing weather. It's all tasselled. And the seed-corn has to be detasselled.

The World-Herald last Sunday said detassellers are earning $4 and more an hour. Kids are opting to work in air-conditioned fast-food places instead, so detasselling has to pay well.

The article also said there aren't enough kids to do all the corn. I sympathized with the guys who contracted to detassel. This is the peak of the season. Those tassels have to be pulled now.

The daughter of one of my friends had been working for a week and a day. It was hot, and dirty, and buggy. The corn leaves were scratching. At noon on Friday, she and seven friends walked off the job.

Her mother was very upset, and gave her a motherly lecture about quitting. It was basically the same one I used to give. "If you get in a tough course at college, are you going to quit? If you get a job that's tough, are you just going to quit? What about a bad marriage?" She looked to me, the all-wise woman who had somehow raised four, for sympathy, and I gave it, freely.

But no advice. I don't like quitters, either. I once chewed out a nurse's aide who had just started at the hospital and called on a Sunday afternoon to say she wouldn't be there in the morning. But it must be permissible, too; at times, and even the wiser thing to do.

MY KIDS WERE not allowed to quit band. But I knew they really didn't want to, even if they fussed about it.

They all thought about quitting athletic teams, on occasion; and one did, for a weekend.

One detasselled, and survived. They all walked beans, and lived to tell about it.

At the recent nursing class reunion, we said we started with 54. Forty-one graduated. Over three

A noon picnic was held at the Winside park on Sunday in honor of Mike Jaeger from Dettingen, Germany. He has been in the U.S. several weeks visiting family and friends. Mike is a great nephew of Albert, Herman and Gotthilf Jaeger and the late Minnie Weible, all of Winside. Guests attended from Omaha, Lincoln, Randolph, Norfolk, Pender, Stanton, Hoskins and Winside.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoemann went to Millford on July 26 where they attended a Southeast Community College alumni meeting. They also visited the Carl Wilsons in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Carstens of Torrington, Wyo. were Sunday overnight guests in the Mr. and Mrs. George Wittler home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marquardt and Brian of Hygiene, Colo. and Vernon Wittler of Bremerton, Wash. were Saturday dinner guests in the Mrs. Hazel Wittler home. On Sunday, they and Gerald Wittlers attended a family gathering at the Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brudigan home in Norfolk. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carstens of Brandon, S.D.; Mrs. Bob Lochner and family and Mrs. Steve Silvernagel of Spearfish, S.D.; Mrs. Robert Banicki of Winona, Minn.; and Mr. and Mrs. Curt Carstens and family and Lyle Wittler of Lincoln.

The Rev. and Mrs. James Nelson, Marques and Bethany returned home Friday from a vacation in the Dakotas. They visited his grandmother, Mrs. Norma Pedersen at Valley City, N.D. and his mother, Mrs. Fran Nelson at Bismark, N.D. They attended his 15th year class reunion at Mobridge, S.D. and en route home, toured the Black Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Oltjenbruns of Holyoke, Colo. were Sunday overnight guests in the Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koehler home.

years, thirteen quit, for a variety of reasons.

When the Big Farmer did financial evaluations for the Ag Center, he had to tell some fellow farmers that they should quit. Some should have quit long before then. Our friend at Cozad is still struggling to hang on, just because his banker told him he wouldn't make it.

The paraplegic mountain climber did not quit climbing mountains. A disabled veteran does marathons on his hands. The crew of United flight 232 did not quit trying to land safely. Doctors sometimes don't know when to quit trying with patients. It appears that Kareem should have quit a season before he did.

The first time my brother went to swim lessons, he sat on the side of the pool and cried. My Mother took him home, without any comment. The next year he loved the water.

I HAVE A hunch my friend's daughter will think about the big bucks she can make next year and try again. Part of growing up and maturing has to do with learning when not to quit and "knowing when to fold up—when to walk away."

Helping them learn these things is another part of Parenting that there aren't any hard rules for; given each child's personality, and each situation.

The school janitor was the commencement speaker one year, and he read an inspirational, if not always realistic, poem that went: When things go wrong as they sometimes will, When the road you're trudging seems all uphill, When the funds are low, and the debts are high, And you want to smile, but you have to sigh, When care is pressing you down a bit, Rest if you must, but don't quit. Success is failure turned inside out, The silver tint of the clouds of doubt, And you never can tell how close you are, It may be near when it seems far. So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit, It's when things go wrong—that you mustn't quit.

After all, I guess it's more important for parents than for detassellers. See you at the Heritage Booth at the Fair!

Centennial benefit softball game held

Youth of Winside Trinity Lutheran Church faced members of the Sioux City KTIV Channel 4 television crew in a softball game Sunday afternoon at the Winside ball park.

The event was a fund raiser for Winside's 1990 centennial celebration. A free will offering netted $178.50. That amount, along with one-half of the proceeds from the concession stand, will be matched by the Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 5946.

Among those taking part in Sunday's game were 11 players from Channel 4 — known as the KTIV No Stars — in addition to spouses and children. The final score was 15-12 with the KTIV crew defeating the Winside youth.

The Roy Reed American Legion of Winside donated the PA system and Glen Frevert of Winside was the announcer.

A picnic was held at the church following the game with approximately 75 persons attending.

A grapevine welcome wreath was donated by Pat Miller and was given away during the event. John Neel, four-year-old son of Bob and Bev Neel of Carroll, drew the winning name of Kristy Puntney of Sioux City Channel 4.

Nebraska 1987 ag statistics reported

Cattle and calves accounted for $3.5 billion or 54 percent of Nebraska's agricultural sales in 1987, figures from the Commerce Department's Census Bureau show. The cattle and calf inventory on the 34,701 farms reporting such stock totaled 5,838,806, down from 1982. Some 5,888,192 cattle and calves were sold in 1987.

The 1987 Census of Agriculture shows that Nebraska's agricultural sales totaled $6.7 billion. Livestock, poultry, and their products accounted for $4.5 billion or 68 percent of total agricultural sales. Crops, including nursery and greenhouse products, accounted for $2.1 billion or 32 percent of total agricultural sales.

The 60,502 farms counted in 1987 were 4 percent more than in 1982, when the last agriculture census was taken. Some 77 percent had 1987 sales of $10,000 or more, and 23 percent had sales of $100,000 or more.

Production expenditures for the state's agricultural operations came to $5.4 billion. Agricultural operators paid 17 percent less for commercial fertilizers, 10 percent more for agricultural chemicals, and 56 percent more for hired farm labor than they did in 1982. They spent 5 percent less for livestock and poultry feed.

FARM AND LAND STATISTICS

Some 18 percent of Nebraska's farms were 50 to 179 acres, 29 percent were 180 to 499 acres, and 37 percent were 500 acres or more. The average size of a farm was 249 acres.

The state's farm operators reported that crops were harvested from 15,276,151 acres in 1987, and that irrigated acres totaled 5,681,835. Irrigated land declined 6 percent, and harvested cropland declined 11 percent between 1982 and 1987.

CROPS

The 1987 census shows corn for grain or seed was harvested from 6,090,669 acres, hay from 2,868,789 acres, soybeans from 2,291,803 acres, wheat from 1,962,051 acres, and barley from 1,770,042 acres.

Farms growing nursery and greenhouse crops, mushrooms, and sod for sale received $9.5 million for these products, up from 1982.

LIVESTOCK, ANIMAL SPECIALTIES, AND THEIR PRODUCTS

The state's hog and pig inventory of 3,944,227, including 492,020 for breeding, was about the same as the total reported in 1982. Some 7,442,810 hogs and pigs were reported sold, of which 1,789,878 were feeder pigs.

Sales of poultry and their products totaled $54 million. Some 4,225 farms reported an inventory of 3,621,152 chickens three months old or older; 4,187 farms reported 3,476,360 hens and pullets of laying age; and 524 farms reported 910,980 broilers and other meat type chickens sold.

The milk cow total of 105,168 in 1987 was 11 percent below the 117,536 reported in 1982. Dairy product sales amounting to $131 million were sold from 2,251 farms.

The state's agricultural operators reported an inventory of 102,698 bee colonies on 372 farms. Some 5,774,037 pounds of honey were sold in 1987.

OPERATOR CHARACTERISTICS

The census shows that 85 percent of the state's agricultural operators with sales of $10,000 or more considered farming to be their principal occupation. Of the 15,843 agricultural operators with sales of $10,000 or more reporting off-farm work, 43 percent said they did such work 200 days or more.

Some 86 percent of the farms were operated by individuals of families as sole proprietorships. Partnerships accounted for 9 percent. Of the 5 percent that were corporate farms, 94 percent were family operations.

Women operated 2,223 farms or 4 percent of the state's total. The average age of Nebraska farm operators was 49 years.

Dry spell affecting yearling cattle sales

Sandhills cattle producers have been selling their yearlings since early July after being faced with dried up pastureland. A beef specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln told members of the Agricultural Climate Situation Committee meeting July 31 that normally yearling cattle are grazed and sold the last week of August and in early September.

"This has been a more orderly marketing of yearling steers," said Jim Gosey. He said the favorable market prices and high priced alfalfa, now up to $80-$110 a ton, are the deciding factors in selling.

Gosey predicted the price of alfalfa might drop $5-$10 a ton as feedlots replace hay with corn silage in rations. He stressed the importance of rain for a good corn crop.

"Cattle producers are hoping for a good corn crop so there'll be enough corn stalks for cattle this winter," Gosey said.

Recent cool weather and lack of precipitation has the corn growth ranging from two to seven days behind normal, according to data compiled by the Department of Agricultural Meteorology at the UNL Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Corn silking is 80 percent complete compared with 95 percent last year and an 84 percent average, according to the Nebraska Agricultural Statisticians Service.

Irrigated corn is doing very good, with 72 percent rated good to excellent. Only 17 percent of the dryland corn is rated good. Precipitation since April 1 ranges from 91 percent of normal in southcentral Nebraska; 40 percent of normal in the northwest and 47 percent of normal in the northeast.

The 90-day weather outlook for Nebraska calls for above normal amounts of precipitation and below normal temperatures. Al Weiss, UNL climatologist, said that outlook may indicate a late harvest with cool and wet conditions.

By the dawn's early light

By the dawn's early light

Morning is the best time to water most lawn areas. And before 10 a.m. is best of all because rising heat later on tends to steal a lot of water by evaporation. There's another good thing about early morning watering, the grass leaves have a chance to dry off quickly. Evening or nighttime waterings leave the grass wet under the cool, moist conditions that help lawn diseases develop.

Most other plants benefit from early-hour watering, too. Scald or "burn" damage can result from hot sunlight hitting water droplets left on the leaves. They act just like little magnifying glasses. Early or late, try to give the lawn a good deep soaking when you water, not a light sprinkling. Light waterings are actually least effective and can even be harmful to your plants. The water doesn't penetrate the soil deeply enough to encourage plant roots to grow firm and solid. Your lawn will be less drought resistant in summer and more prone to winter kill later.

How do you know how long to water?

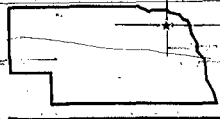

Let the sprinkler soak an area for about a half hour, then dig a spade into the ground and see for yourself whether the water is getting down deep. If it isn't, try another half hour. Once you've established how long it takes you can do it without checking in the future. One last point... don't think you have to water on a set schedule. If the weather gets cool and moist, cut down. The simplest test is to step on a patch of lawn briefly and see if the grass blades spring back up (no water necessary) or tend to stay flat (time to sprinkle deeply again).

Early Morning Watering Also Reduces Electrical Costs of Water Pumping

Water pumping, treatment and distribution is one of the largest electrical costs that the city has the ability to control. If water pumping can be reduced during peak hours (usually between 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. during the summer) electrical demand costs can be dramatically reduced.

So be a good "Peak Shaver" and join in the effort to control your electrical costs.

For more information on how you can be a "Peak Shaver" call 375-2866.

Area residents offered day care program

Sodium in children's diets and common concerns of day care providers will be the topics presented by Lori Curry, consultant with the Family Service Child Care Food Program.

One of the meetings will be held Tuesday, Aug. 8 at Columbus Federal Savings Bank in Wayne from 7-9:15 p.m. Topics to be included are health problems which may be associated with high sodium diets, identifying groups of foods which are high or low in sodium, as well as planning menus and adapting recipes for moderate-sodium levels.

Call Lori Curry at (402) 755-2936 to pre-register or for more information.

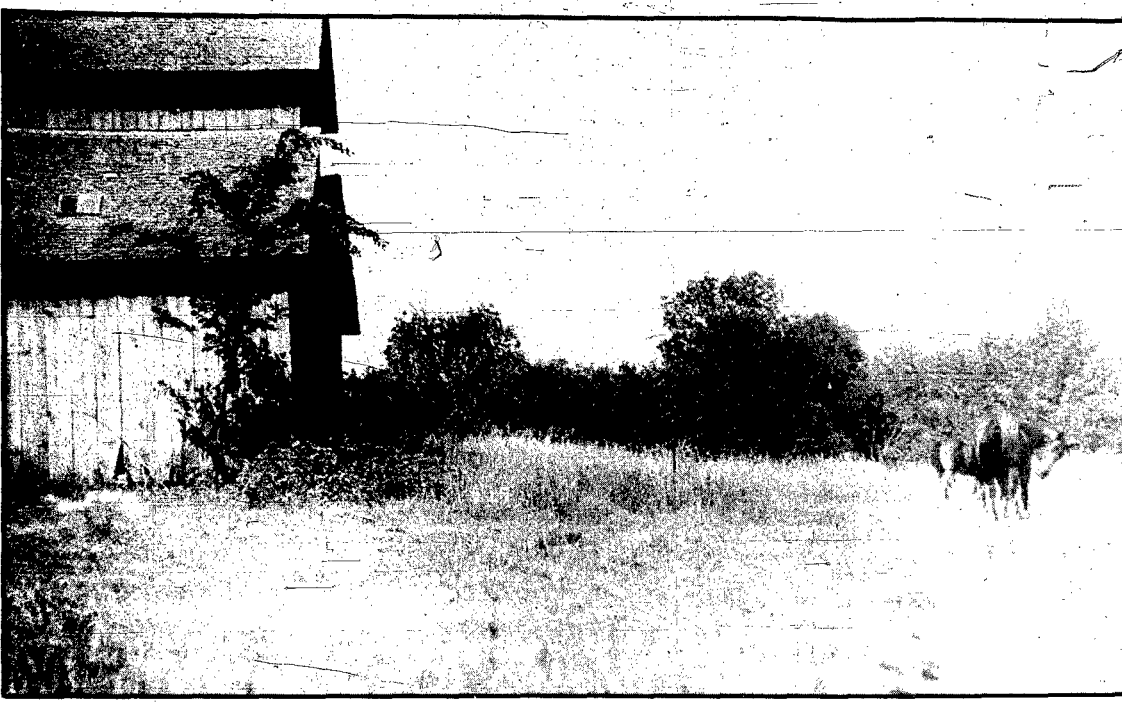

The second part of this meeting will focus on common concerns of people who provide day care for children. Positive discipline, using a contract, preventing burnout and coping with parents or your own children.

Parents, child care providers, teachers in day care centers or nursery schools or others involved in feeding and caring for young children are encouraged to attend this free program.

This meeting is one of the services provided to all persons who participate in the Family Service Child Care Food Program (CCFP), a USDA funded child nutrition program providing meal reimbursements to registered, group and county approved family day care homes. The CCFP is similar in purpose to the USDA School Lunch Program.

In addition to meal reimbursements, the Family Service CCFP offers free nutrition, education materials such as menu planning ideas, recipe books, children's activity packets, home study courses and free bi-monthly newsletters. Family Service CCFP also sponsors a program through which participants receive free bonus commodities — cheese, butter and honey, as well as other grocery items that may be purchased at a reduced rate.
