Rainfall still well below area's norm
By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor
Last year on up to Aug. 28 of this year, Wayne and surrounding areas have received over 17 inches less moisture than the average rainfall recorded in the nine years previous to 1988.
Weather observer Pat Gross of Wayne said that up to Aug. 28 of this year, only 9.67 inches of rain has fallen in Wayne this year. Add that amount to what was received in moisture for 1988 (20.13 inches) and that totals 29.8 inches of moisture.
The average moisture count (for one year and eight months), based on the nine-year average, should be 46.85 inches according to Gross.
"We came into this year short of moisture by about 7.2 inches and this year, we're short about 9.85 inches from the average," said Gross.

Enrollment reaching all-time high

Freshman enrollment at Wayne State College will be up nearly 25 percent and overall enrollment will approach an all-time high as classes began on campus Tuesday, Aug. 29.
Those figures came from Jim Hummel, director of admissions at Wayne State College.
The college has already registered approximately 625 new freshman students for this fall's term. Last fall, 497 freshmen were registered.
Hummel says freshman enrollment could rise even higher by the end of the first week of classes. Students can register at Wayne State through Friday, Sept. 1.
Figures for total enrollment will not be available for several weeks. However, early figures indicate that total headcount enrollment at Wayne State College will increase substantially.

LAST YEAR 2,858 students were enrolled at Wayne State. The record total enrollment at Wayne State occurred in the fall of 1968 when 3,068 students attended. Hummel says it's likely that enrollment during the fall semester will exceed that all-time high.
The admissions director attributes increased enrollment to several factors.
"We've worked hard to sharpen our image during the past year," Hummel said. "We're doing a better job of telling the Wayne State College story. Students are beginning to realize they can receive an outstanding education at an affordable price in our highly personalized setting."
Hummel also attributes increased enrollment at Wayne State to its leadership. He says Dr. Donald Mash, college president, has brought a new sense of energy, pride and direction to the campus.

"Morale among faculty, staff and students has risen dramatically during the past year," Hummel said. "Everybody feels good about being associated with Wayne State College. There is a lot of electricity on campus."
THE PRESIDENT has also been active in northeast Nebraska, says Hummel.
"Dr. Mash has spoken in many of our service region's communities this year — and he's been encouraging our constituents to view Wayne State college as northeast Nebraska's state college, while pointing out the revitalization of northeast Nebraska."
Besides higher enrollment, a significant increase in on-campus residents is expected, according to Curt Frye, dean of student services. This fall over 1,300 students will be living in campus residence halls. Last fall, approximately 1,085 students were living on campus.

To accommodate additional freshmen students this fall the college has added extra sections of classes, according to Dr. Donald W. Whisenant, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Wayne State.
Dr. Mash, in speaking about the enrollment increase, said the quality of teachers at the college also plays a large role in student recruitment. Wayne State's teachers, he said, are first rate.
"We have also made a conscientious effort to improve on our student support services which have a dramatic impact on student retention," he said. "We are organizing a program to advise the 'undecided students.'"

THE COLLEGE has also worked to improve the quality of student life on campus in providing a full range of options available for student involvement. "Our setting is small enough so that everybody gets a chance," Dr. Mash said.
An education at Wayne State is "one of the best buys in education today," he said.
If increases in enrollment at Wayne State continue at a steady pace and the college retains its students with the added support services, Dr. Mash said that perhaps additional facilities will have to be considered.
Some areas for facility consideration would be student housing or even the student center. Presently college officials are exploring the creation of a master plan for the future to

Nigerian likes Wayne's friendly climate

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

Thirty-nine year old Chris Ogbechie, like any businessman putting in a lot of time and travel, enjoys a vacation when the opportunity arises.
So when the offer was made for him to come and stay in the Wayne area for a few vacation days, he accepted.
He arrived in Wayne on Saturday and stayed until Tuesday, enjoying the sights and activities within the community.
Ogbechie's home is Lagos, Nigeria and he is a friend of Father Tom McDermott who serves with other priests and brothers at St. Dominic's Parish in Lagos. Father McDermott is also vacationing and staying at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermott of Wayne. Ogbechie was a guest in the McDermott home.

remains consistently hot, candy bars do not blend in with the climate. Food Specialties Limited supplies baby foods, cocoa drinks, breakfast cereal and spices or seasoning.
Ogbechie did all of his university study in England. He has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering and also a Masters in Business Administration.
"When I left the university, I worked for the Xerox Company for three years selling photo-copy machines," Ogbechie said. "I felt that after three years I needed a change into the fast moving world of consumer goods."
HE JOINED the Food Specialties Limited company. "First, however, I worked 18 months in Singapore for the Nestle company. At the end of 1982 I came back to Nigeria and worked as a national sales manager up to 1984 when I was named marketing manager," Ogbechie said.
The market for his product is starting to "pick up" this year after three previous bad years, he said.
Economic difficulties and the devaluation of currency in the country, from 1985-1988, were reasons for the market decline.
It didn't take very long for Father McDermott to meet Ogbechie and his family, Ogbechie's wife, Rose, is a professional banker, and they have six children.
"We met the first Sunday that I was in Nigeria six years ago," said Father McDermott. "He was a leader in the Church [of about 40,000 parishioners]."

"Ogbechie is really a right hand man to me. Despite his busy schedule, he is one who gives so much time to the Church," said Father McDermott.
Ogbechie and his wife are active in the Marriage Encounter Movement in Nigeria. He is also coordinating a fund drive to build another church in Lagos to accommodate 5,000 more parishioners. Five church services on the weekend presently draws close to 15,000 people.
IT WILL TAKE approximately $2 million to build the new church. St. Dominic's Parish has been in existence for over 50 years. Presently, up to 80 percent of the parish members are considered at the poverty level. Still, Ogbechie believes that in time the generous people of the parish will pledge their support to the project and the new church will eventually be built.
"If your readers would like to donate to the project, they can send their contribution to St. Dominic's Church, P.O. Box 44 in Yaba, Lagos," he added. "Even a dollar or two will go a long way."
In addition to his obligations to the Church, Ogbechie is a member of the Rotary Club, plays squash and plays golf on courses existing in Lagos. Following the stock market is also a hobby.
Ogbechie credits the encouragement he received at the Catholic elementary and high schools as a reason for his success. "It was an aspiration factor. To attain the goals in life, I had to keep pushing," he said.

He said it was not the "money factor" which led him to his current marketing manager position. "I enjoy being a decision-maker," he said.
HIS IMMEDIATE impressions of Wayne are generous.
"Wayne is a very close community, not like urban cities where everybody seems so independent," Ogbechie said. "People here care about each other more."

He was most impressed with Providence Medical Center, saying that the hospital appeared comfortable and the rooms were like hotel rooms in comparison to the crowded conditions at the hospital facilities in Lagos.
Seeing the Wayne Community Theatre's production of "Musical" this past weekend was also an experience Ogbechie enjoyed. It was interesting, he said, in a sense that volunteers from the

Wayne cracks pre-season top 10

Wayne football coach Lonnie Ehrhardt gets set to enter his 10th season at the helm and he finds his Blue Devils ranked fifth in the World Herald pre-season poll.

Wayne will have a good mixture of speed and size this season and right now Ehrhardt says the main interest is developing good depth. "We lost a good senior class from last season but we should be able to fill their spots well and find adequate back-ups," Ehrhardt said.

Wayne will not have to worry about being intimidated by bigger players because the Blue Devils will average about 205 lbs. per man across the front line with Neil Carnes at 220 lbs., at a tackle, Matt Bruggeman at 240 lbs., at another tackle, Jeff Lutt at 195 lbs., at tight end, Jason Ehrhardt at 195 lbs., at a guard, Dan Wiseman at 195 lbs., at a center and Kip Mau at 190 lbs., at a guard. Todd Harris will also be called upon at tackle position and he weighs about 215 lbs.

Willy Gross returns at end as one of the premiere receivers in northeast Nebraska and Matt Peterson is also looking to fill the split-end position with both of these breaking the 5.0 second barrier in the 40-yard dash. Casey Dyer is looking to man the wingback slot while twin brother Craig will head the quarterbacking duties with Cory Wieseler.

Rusty Hamer, Greg DeNaeyer and Chris Fredrickson will be called upon for their running duties and out of the backfield catching chores with Hamer being another premiere player in northeast Nebraska.

Jack Thompson and Brian Moore

are also looking to fill in at tight end and wingback for Ehrhardt's crew. "We'll be a quicker team than we were last year and we'll be able to highlight people better than we did last year," Ehrhardt said.

Ehrhardt noted that even though they lost a good senior class from last season that the guys replacing them have good experience and there should be no drop off.

"We have three good backs and we have quality receivers," Ehrhardt said. "With our size and speed we're hoping to run with authority and pass protect well with our experienced line."

Defensively Wayne experienced players in the defensive ends and secondary with Jeff Lutt, Kip Mau and Willy Gross.

The special teams will be experienced as well with Matt Bruggeman returning to do the field goal and extra point kicking and Rusty Hamer doing the punting.

"The kids really put in a lot of hard work in the off season in the weight room," Ehrhardt said. "They are very dedicated to football and we're hoping that the end results include a winning season, a conference championship and making the state playoffs."

Wayne also boasts the premiere staff with coaches Ehrhardt, Don Koenig, Ron Carnes and Duane Blomenkamp. The foursome have a combined total of 76 years coaching experience.

Allen hoping '89 is the 'Dream Season'

Allen football coach Mike Busselmann may seem a little more excited about getting the season started than normal. Busselmann returns 15 of his 16 starters from last season and the returnees have gotten stronger and a little faster in the off season which should make for an interesting football season.

A total of 25 Allen athletes will don the school colors on opening night against a competitive Winside team in Winside. Busselmann enters his second season at the helm with assistant Dave Uldrich.

"The guys seem a lot more enthusiastic about the year," Busselmann said. "Last season we only went 2-7 but a lot of that was getting use to the new regime."

"This year the guys are more relaxed and there isn't really any tension," Busselmann added. "The guys are in better shape than they were last year coming into fall practice."

Matt Hingst and Shane Dahl are expected to quarterback the team this season with Hingst getting the starting nod, but Busselmann is quick to note that they are not afraid to switch quarterbacks if needed at any given time.

Like last year all eyes will be upon I-back sensation Kent Chase who broke the 1,000 yard plateau a year ago with a 2-7 squad. This season if the line opens up the holes and gives chase just a ray of light, the 1,000 yard plateau may be broken early.

Rusty Dickens will return to his fullback position on offense and on defense he looks to once again be Allen's top tackler along with sophomore Kevin Crosgrove.

The team has several goals on the season and Busselmann isn't afraid of letting people know that one of his team goals is to make the playoffs and not to lose more than two games throughout the season.

"Right now our immediate goal is to take one game at a time and to stay healthy," Busselmann said. "If we can get a couple of breaks here and there and stay healthy all season, we can have a real good season."

Luxford looks for improvement

Last season Laurel football coach Tom Luxford entered his first year at the helm of the Bear controls and his team suffered through a long season. There were many explanations for the long season and Luxford feels that some of it was due to a new offense that he imposed when he got there.

"The kids came into fall practice this year knowing the offense already," Luxford said. "This year's team is much farther ahead of last year at this time and we just hope they can keep improving as the season progresses."

Laurel has the luxury of returning nine of eleven starters on defense and eight of eleven starters on offense for the 1989 season. Among the returnees is John Schutte who plays both offense and defensive line. Schutte has increased his weight to 245 pounds and is quicker than last season.

"Our line has good size and actually we are still very young on the line," Luxford said. "We only have one senior on the line." Luxford credits the off season dedication in the weight room as a major plus for his teams preparation for the coming season.

Todd Erwin returns to his starting spot at quarterback for Laurel while the backfield will be much the same with Troy Twohig at tailback and Chad VanCleave at fullback. Brian Penne, a state track qualifier in the triple jump will be the flanker.

Along with center John Schutte the rest of Laurel's line stacks up something like this with Rusty Reifenrath at one guard spot at 175 lbs., and Matt Kessinger at the other guard spot at 200 lbs.

The tackles are looking to be Bruce Halsch at 210 lbs., and Dean Heydon at 205 lbs. Matt Jonas is the tight end at 175 lbs., and Matt Felber is the end and he is also at 175 lbs.

Being a member of the North East Nebraska Athletic Conference, makes for a competitive schedule and Laurel knows that as well as anyone as they start off this season like most others, against state rated Randolph.

The Laurel Bears are almost certain to be much improved over the 1988 season, and with the talent they have on the team and with a couple of breaks, they might even surprise coach Luxford.

Wakefield faces rugged schedule

Wakefield will don a new look for the 1989 season. For the first time since the early 80's, the Trojans will return to the ranks of 11-man football. The only bad news for Wakefield is the schedule they inherited by doing so.

No, things won't be as bad as perhaps an expansion team is coming into the NBA or NFL, but coaches Dennis Wilbur and John Torczon know that the season will definitely be competitive.

"It looks like we'll be among the 11-man roster ranks for quite a while," Wilbur said. "Our team moved to the C-2 ranks while the volleyball team advanced to the C-1 ranks."

Wilbur noted that the kids are making the transition very well in practice with the 11-man team. However, what remains to be seen is how they will fare on a field which is 20 yards longer than what these kids have played on and 13 1/3 yards wider than what they are used too.

As already mentioned Wakefield's schedule is no laughing matter as they face five schools which made the playoffs last season. Four of the schools they face are C-1 opponents which Wilbur says will aid Wakefield's playoff chances if they can get past them.

"One of the biggest keys we have to have is to remain healthy with the grueling schedule we have," Wilbur said. As far as who is going to be among the strongest teams they'll play, Wilbur has no comment. "We haven't played any of these teams so we don't know who is going to be tough and who isn't," Wilbur said.

Some things in nature are constant however, and one is that Battle Creek will always be good and Wakefield plays them in the second week of the season.

Wakefield returns only two returning offensive starters and four defensive starters from last year's playoff team. Chris Loofe and John Schopke return from the offense while Mark Johnson, Andy McQuis-tan, Tony Krusemark and Matt Bartling return on defense.

"This will be a whole new playground for us," Wilbur said. "And you can't ask for a more competitive schedule than what we've got."

Winside line beefs up for '89

Winside football coach Randy Geier enters his third season at the helm of the Wildcats and he feels that his offensive line is the best since he's been there. "We have some speed and size in our line," Geier said, "and they should open up some holes so our backs get through."

When you speak of Winside running backs you have to think of Max Kant. Kant returns for his final season at tailback. Kant is both quicker and stronger than he was in 1988. Kerry Jaeger will also be an asset in the backfield for Winside as not only will he be called on to block well for his tailback but as a fullback Jaeger showed promise during stints of playing time last season.

Jeff Gallop will return to his wide out slot and he's proven in practice that he can catch anything close to him. Randy Prince who sat out most of last year with injuries will return to also play end.

As mentioned already the line is of good size and speed and some of the names you'll be hearing from the line include Brian Thompson at guard, Jason Bargstadt at guard, Jason Krueger and Mark Brugger. Shane Frahm is a 160 fullback who will add to the fullback slot along with Jaeger.

Turning to the defense we find returning letterwinners Jason Krueger and Trevor Topp, both of which are playing extremely well in pre-season. Cory Jensen will man the quarterback spot which was held for the past three years by Tim Jacobsen, who was lost to graduation last May.

Gone from last year's team which was very competitive is Jacobsen of course at quarterback and defensive back, Steve Heinemann at offensive and defensive end, Tim Volwiler at an offensive line position, Gary Mundil at an offensive end position, Vince White at the defensive back and offensive end position and Darren Wacker at the center and defensive end position.

"The guys will have to come out and fill the vacancies right away if we are going to be competitive," Geier said. "I think they will do a fine job because these kids feel like they got a lot to prove."

Geier also noted that 18 of the 24 guys out for football this season made the weight room at least 85 percent of the 24 open weight room times throughout the summer which means that they are dedicated to the sport.

Geier will be assisted this year by Darin Blackburn and Jim Hixson. Geier's assistant for the past two years, Todd Pospisil graduated from Wayne State and has moved on.

Wayne to field first ever girls x-country team

Tammy Geiger and Todd Fuelberth return for their sophomore years at Wayne-Carroll and both hope to duplicate the success they had in their freshman years in cross country.

Coach Rocky Ruhl welcomed the first ever girls cross country team to practice this season. "We've had girls out for cross country but never enough to field a girls team," Ruhl said. "Tammy will be joined by Edith Janke, Amy Wriedt and Sherri Wortman."

Turning to the boys team which runs six and scores four, Ruhl noted that the numbers of boys out is about the same as last season. Ruhl will look for seniors Mike Hillier and Scott Fuelberth for the leadership roles even though it is Hillier's first year out for cross country.

In boys competition during cross country meets they run 5000 meters which is equivalent to 3.1 miles, while the girls run 4000 meters which is the equivalent to 2.5 miles.

"The kids are all working very hard and the weather has pretty much cooperated with cool mornings," Ruhl said. Ruhl hopes his reserve team which went 23-5 last season can carry over to the varsity level this year.

"We have more experience than we had last year but we are still young," Ruhl said. "One thing our team will be hoping plays a part in our season is that it isn't always the better athlete that wins the race, but it's the one in better shape."

Wayne golfers to be competitive

The Wayne-Carroll golf team will have the undubious honor of trying to defend its golf championship from a year ago. Unfortunately for coach Dick Metteer only two letterwinners return from that squad.

Cher Reeg and Jessica Rothfuss will attempt to lead the girls team in 1989 as both were members of the state winning team of a year ago. Of course its always tough to lose your top golfers as will be the case when the team opens up without Holly Paige, Ann Perry and Jill Jordan this year, but Metteer feels that with a little more practice and with the districts splitting up more this season that his squad will be competitive by the time districts roll around.

"We're obviously very young this season," Metteer said. "Our goal is to make steady progress throughout the season." Wayne has only two seniors on the team in Trudy Pflanz and Deanna Nichols."

Instead of the usual three district locations in the past, this year Class B will have four district locations. "Columbus Lakeview and Columbus Scotus will drop out of Wayne's district which does not leave Metteer in a sad state of mind.

Those are two strong teams that will no longer be in our district," Metteer said. "Blair, Omaha Duchesne and Pattsmouth however, should be very competitive this year."

Wayne volleyball team youthful

Only three seniors will lead the Wayne Blue Devils volleyball team this season as coach Marlene Uhing prepares for the opening game Thursday at the Beemer Invitational against Dodge.

Teresa Ellis, Heidi Reeg and Kristin Frevert are the three senior members among the 38 girls out for volleyball. "This is a big jump in the number of girls we had out the last couple of years," Uhing said. "A lot of the numbers consist of freshman which is a tribute to the Junior High program."

Other returnees on the varsity team from a year ago which qualified for the state tournament include Rachel Haase, Deanna Schluns, Jennifer Hammer, Kari Lutt, Amy Tiedtke, and Teresa Bennett.

Uhing admits that her squad is inexperienced for the most part and that they will make mistakes. "We'll make mistakes as would any team with the inexperience we have," Uhing said. "Hopefully though, we'll gel as the season progresses and by district time we hope to peak like we did last season."

One thing that Uhing frowns upon is when teams say they are having a rebuilding season. "I don't think that it's fair to the seniors who have stuck to the program for their high school careers for a coach to say they are rebuilding," Uhing said. "I personally don't believe that a high school team can be rebuilding."

There will be a lot more specialization on the Wayne team this season as different girls will be called upon to do just one thing such as serving or back line playing or front row playing.

At press time Uhing said that nothing had been set yet as to who would be starting that first game. "Everything is still open," Uhing said. "With the larger number of girls trying out it's even more competitive."

This season Uhing will be assisted by Dale Hochstein, Roger Reifkofski and Dawnn Tucker. Wayne's schedule includes just four home contests this season with Schuyler being the first home contest on September 5. West Point also visits Wayne this year on September 26 while O'Neill travels to Wayne on October 5 and Hartington-Cedar-Catholic visits Wayne on October 10.

Wayne will take part in the Beemer Invitational, North Bend Invitational, Wisner Invitational, Tilden Invitational, South Invitational and the conference meet in O'Neill.

Patience is key for Allen

The Allen Lady Eagles lost a lot of key people from a team that came within one match of qualifying for the state volleyball tournament last season, and head coach Gary Troth knows that this year's team may take its share of lumps but he still isn't counting them out.

"We'll have to be a little patient," Troth said. "We have 28 girls out for the team and last year's junior varsity team will have to move up to fill in the slots where we lost all our starters."

The only returning full-time starter Allen returns is setter Annetta Noe. Carla Stapleton started about half of the season and she'll be called upon to be a full time starter this season.

Although youth surrounds the Allen Eagles, Troth noted some quality play so far in practice from sophomore hitter Cindy Chase and Steph Carlson. "We'll definitely use a lot of people this season because we plan on specializing a lot," Troth said.

Leslie Isom will be called upon at times to not only hit her booming serves like she did last year but also to play some back and front line. Alyssa McGrath is the other returning letterwinner and Troth also expects help from seniors Becca Stingley and Jenny Lee.

Injuries plague Laurel

Among the area's best volleyball teams this season could be the Laurel Bears under the direction of Carol Manganaro and assistant Linda Felber. Manganaro enters her seventh year at the helm and ironically has a 71-71 record to her credit.

Returning letterwinners include Amy Adkins, Shana Carstensen, Emily McBride, Sherri McCorkindale, Jessie Monson, and Amy Newton. Five of the six letterwinners are returning starters which would make any coach smile.

The bad news is that Laurel has been plagued with off season injuries. "Preseason practices have been a bit out of character for the Bears due to the number of injuries experienced by the varsity players," Manganaro said. "Five of my returning letterwinners are in the recovery stage right now."

Manganaro noted that with the injuries they are recovering from right now, the team will be relying on the skills of seniors Sherri McCorkindale, Amy Newton, Heather Thomas, and Julie Dickey to carry them through until the others heal.

"We have strength offensively," Manganaro said, "and we are working hard to improve our passing and serve receive to be effective." Although the varsity is dealing with a number of injury setbacks they remain optimistic. "The attitudes of our squad remain very positive and we have some tough players," Manganaro said. "With a little luck our injured players will return quickly."

Manganaro noted that among the team goals was to lead the NENAC in serving percentage. "Serving was a key factor in many of our games last year and we feel the need to excel this season in completed serves if we are going to be successful," Manganaro said.

CAROL MANGANARO and Linda Felber will coach the Laurel volleyball team.

Wakefield moves up to C-1

Twenty-seven girls are out for volleyball in Wakefield this season which is up from last year according to assistant coach Arnie Cerny. This year's team will have plenty of leadership as nine of the 27 are seniors.

"We'll definitely have plenty of leadership," Cerny said. "We will be depending heavily on the seniors throughout the whole season." One of the nine seniors is a foreign exchange student who hasn't played much volleyball, but the other eight have played a lot of volleyball and three of the seniors to be were starters on last year's team which finished 14-3.

Cerny noted that the girls are a little behind where they would like to be at this point in the practice season because of the county fair which took some of them away.

Wakefield's only three losses a year ago came against Laurel in the regular season, Winnebago in the Lewis & Clark Tournament and Allen in district play.

Julie Greve, Cathi Larson and Jessica Robins are the three returning starters from a year ago with Larson keying the setting department and Robins the main force on the hitting and spiking side. Julie Greve is a great asset for the Trojans as she can do both setting and spiking very well.

The bad news for Trojan fans is that Greve had foot surgery earlier this summer and her play has been slowed to this point because of it. Other seniors who have impressed the coaching staff so far in practice is Jennifer Neal, Laurie Plendl, Melaney Kuhl and Ingrid Ruoff. Susan Nuernberger and Kristy Otte will be called upon to aid Larson in the setting department.

Kristen Miller and Lisa Anderson have looked good as far as the youth part of the team helping out and according to Cerny, Wakefield will need that blend of youth to really strengthen the squad.

Winside looks to youth in volleyball

The Winside Wildcats are looking to improve upon the 1988 volleyball season but second year coach Paul Giesselmann knows by looking at the schedule that his team will have to play some fancy volleyball to get the job done.

"Our schedule has to rank among the toughest in the area," Giesselmann said. "We start off against Wakefield then we play Osmond, Laurel, Wausa and Stanton in that order. That's not counting our own tournament with Coleridge, Wakefield and Osmond."

The storyline in Winside however is youth. Tinia Hartmann will return as one of the area's top setters and she'll be called upon to lead a real young team. Shawn Janke and Jenny Topp are the only other seniors on the squad which only saw a total of 16 girls come out.

"I think the number of girls is down a little but the quality that we have is up," Giesselmann said. Other returning letterwinners include Shannon Holdorf at one of the hitting positions and Jenny Jacobsen, a sophomore hitter which started a lot last season as did Holdorf.

Things are not all bad in Winside though as they picked up a transfer student from Palmer who was first team all conference at her last school. Kelly Pitchler, a junior setter will help relieve some of the pressure on Winsides' setting duties.

"We are really glad to have Kelly in our program," Giesselmann said. "She'll definitely be a valuable asset to our team. We will have quality setting and we are also getting help from April Thies and Patti Oberle in both setting and spiking."

"The girls know they have a tough schedule," Giesselmann said. "We just want to go out and improve with each game." Giesselmann also wanted to thank the parents of the girls for giving them time to work in the weight room over the summer.

Rainfall

THIS PAST weekend, Gross recorded .39 inches of rainfall. Thus far, rainfall in August has amounted to 1.38 inches. Normal rainfall in August is at 2.82 inches, according to Gross.

Since April 1 of this year, Wayne has received 7.75 inches of moisture, well below the average moisture count of 16.74 inches.

Northeast Nebraska, in its entirety, is receiving just 53 percent of normal precipitation. Across the state, soil moisture improved with last week's rain as topsoil condition was 45 percent short, 55 percent adequate and subsoil condition was 82 percent short and 18 percent adequate.

At this time last year, topsoil was labeled 71 percent short, 29 percent adequate and subsoil 72 percent short and 28 percent adequate.

THE NEBRASKA Agricultural Statistics Service rates corn conditions across the state as 7 percent very poor; 15 percent poor; 18 percent fair; 54 percent good and just 6 percent excellent. The irrigated crop was ranked 84 percent good or excellent while the dryland was only 4 percent good.

Corn entering or beyond the dough stage reached 93 percent compared with 96 percent last year. Corn dented was 40 percent compared with 68 percent last year.

Conditions of sorghum was rated 6 percent very poor; 42 percent poor; 44 percent fair and 8 percent good with approximately 92 percent headed.

Soybean condition was rated 9 percent very poor; 29 percent poor; 53 percent fair and 9 percent good with 94 percent of the acreage setting pods.

And alfalfa hay conditions was 6 percent very poor; 25 percent poor; 43 percent fair and 26 percent good. The third cutting was 75 percent complete.

THE REPORT also mentioned that pasture and range feed supplies rated 31 percent very short, 60 percent short and 9 percent adequate. Cattlemen were still feeding hay to supplement pastures.

Area schools list early enrollment figures

By Chuck Hackenmilller
Managing Editor

Early total enrollment figures show Laurel-Concord and Wakefield having increases in student population while Wayne-Carroll, Allen and Winside enrollments have slight declines.

Total enrollment at Wayne-Carroll is 882 students compared to 895 students the previous year. However, the combined enrollment at Carroll Elementary and West Elementary in Wayne will be up 11 students from one year ago.

Last year Carroll started with six kindergarten, seven first graders; 12 second graders; four third graders and sixth in fourth grade for a total of 35 students. This year there are nine in kindergarten, nine in first grade; eight in second grade; 12 in third grade and five in fourth grade for a total of 43 students.

West Elementary School in Wayne has, in 1989-90, 60 kindergarten students; 67 first graders; 56 second graders; 65 third graders and 40 fourth graders this school year for a total enrollment of 297 students. Last year there were 14 more kindergarten student, 17 less first graders, seven more second graders, 17 less third graders and nine more fourth graders for a total 294 students.

WAYNE MIDDLE School (grades five through eight) also experienced an increase in enrollment. Total enrollment, including special education students, is at 255, compared to 251 last school year. There are 66 in fifth grade, 65 in sixth grade, 59 in seventh grade and 63 in eighth grade, with three in special education. Last year there were 69 fifth graders, 53 sixth graders, 63 seventh graders and 63 eighth graders.

High school enrollment at Wayne-Carroll is down 13 students from the previous year. There are 70 freshmen, 76 sophomores, 75 juniors and 66 seniors. Last year there were 83 freshmen, 79 sophomores, 65 juniors and 88 seniors.

Total enrollment at Winside is down by eight students from the previous year. This year's student population is at 149, compared to 157 last year.

At present there are 19 in kindergarten, 21 in first grade, 24 in second grade, 26 in third grade, 24 in fourth grade, 20 in fifth grade, 15 in sixth grade, 21 in seventh grade, 16 in eighth grade, 19 freshmen, 17 sophomores, 20 juniors and 15 seniors. Last year there were 23 kindergartners, 29 first graders, 25 second graders, 24 third graders, 18 fourth graders, 16 fifth graders, 22 sixth graders, 16 seventh graders, 14 eighth graders, 17 freshmen, 20 sophomores, 14 juniors and 19 seniors.

Laurel-Concord is up eight students from the previous school year. They have the exact same number of students as last year in grades K-6 (262) and 210 students in grades six through 12 compared to 202 the previous year.

LAST YEAR at this time, Wakefield Public School started with 343 students. This year they have 361 students enrolled. Breakdown of grades are 30 in kindergarten; 22, first grade; 30, second grade; 32, third grade; 24, fourth grade; 26, fifth grade; 23, sixth grade; 27, seventh grade; 32, eighth grade; 30 freshmen; 32 sophomores; 26 juniors and 27 seniors.

Allen started last school year with 219 students. They started with 10 less this school year.

The 1989-90 enrollment figures for Allen are 12 in kindergarten; 10, first grade; 15 second grade; 11, third grade; 14, fourth grade; 22, fifth grade; 11 sixth grade; 14, seventh grade; 16, eighth grade; 17 freshmen; 21 sophomores; 23 juniors and 25 seniors.

St. Mary's School in Wayne started the 1989-90 school year with 49 total students — six more than last year. There are 12 in kindergarten, eight in first grade, 11 in second grade, nine third graders and nine fourth graders.

community who are not professional singers or dancers could put on such a quality show.

Father McDermott and Ogbechie will be returning to a country experiencing problems politically and economically. The population of the country exceeds 100 million people.

"There are well over 250 tribes in the country with 250 languages or dialects. Some danger and suspicions exists between some groups concerning who will dominate the political leadership of the country," he said.

"It is not possible to satisfy everyone and that is why there is political instability," he added.

FROM THE early to late 1970's, Nigeria's oil industry was experiencing financial success. "We benefitted from it and made a lot of money. But the money was not used wisely and now we are paying for it," Ogbechie said.

The price of oil has come down and there now is a glut on the world market. "To diversify means money and the money just isn't there," he said.

address were additional buildings would go or where additional parking could be available.

"It would be like a road map that will take us into the future," Dr. Mash said.

"Our enrollment is the life blood of this institution," he said. Each student that enrolls at Wayne State is a "vote of confidence in the job we are doing," he added.

Gretchen Hirschbach of South Sioux City, a member of the Board of Trustees of Nebraska

State Colleges, said Tuesday that the board is absolutely delighted, but not surprised at Wayne State's enrollment figures.

She credits the presence of Dr. Mash as college president and his efforts to "get the news out" about Wayne State College as a key factor in the higher enrollment.

Hirschbach said that in addition to the enrollment increase, more students are staying in the dorms on campus. While this helps the college financially, it also builds school spirit, she said.

News Briefs

Area students gain degrees from UNL

AREA-Approximately 800 graduates received degrees during University of Nebraska (UNL) Commencement Exercises Saturday (Aug. 19) in the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Area degree recipients were as follows: Brent Chase, Allen, Master of Science; Amy Gotch, Allen, BS in Education; Ellen Studer, Wakefield, Master of Arts-Teachers; Patricia Arneson, Wayne, Doctor of Education; Peter March, Wayne, Bachelor of Arts; Marcia Rethwisch, Master of Education; Rebecca Schmidt, Bachelor of Science with High Distinction; and Kirk Troutman, Winside, Master of Arts-Teacher.

Schmidt cited as Chancellor's Scholar

WAYNE-Rebecca Schmidt, an honors graduate from Wayne who received a bachelor of arts degree with honors at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln on Aug. 19, received belated notification of another honor that should have been awarded during last spring's annual Honors Convocation.

Schmidt, by earning all A's on her recorded collegiate work, qualified as a Chancellor's Scholar at UNL. She was overlooked in April as a candidate for the honor because she was studying abroad under the International Student Exchange Program.

Schmidt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schmidt of Wayne. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in chemistry from the UNL College of Art.

Feagan gets degree

WAYNE-Douglas Feagan of Wayne received his Master of Arts Degree during summer commencement ceremonies Saturday, Aug. 19 at the University of Nebraska-Omaha.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER

Senior Service Line by Matilda Charles

NEW FIGHT LOOMS OVER MEDICARE: The American Medical Association expects to mount a lobbying assault on proposed legislation designed to cut back on a procedure I call, "tack-on tactics," which some doctors use to provide unneeded medical services for Medicare patients and for which they claim higher fees. However, there are doctors who disagree with the AMA's stand and feel the new regulation is needed to keep the rising costs in line. These doctors supporting the proposed regulation may well be acting out of consideration for both their patients' pockets and the federal budget. But they may also realize that unless the excessive fees structures are cut back now, there could be a backlash that may result in far more drastic measures.

In any event, the fees which are being collected for unnecessary medical services have contributed to the continuing inflation of an already bulging health care cost budget — for which seniors have been paying in added Medicare premiums! Since 1980, the out-of-pocket costs for Medicare recipients have gone from $251 a year to $756 in 1988, with higher costs to come.

However, high Medicare premium payments isn't the only factor affecting seniors. Undergoing unnecessary "tack-on" services is not a pleasant experience for anyone. Good medical care should not only be thorough, but considerate. Most medical services — especially the intrusive kind — strike at one's dignity, and if imposed just for fees, it's cruel as well as unethical.

The new measure would impose an annual expenditure target for total Medicare repayments to doctors for services. Those going over that set amount would find next year's target point lowered.

Some doctors imply the regulation could create added risks for patients if services are cut back, and could also result in fewer physicians treating Medicare patients. However, most doctors agree cost cutting can be safe and that some compromise legislation will be passed.

"SOCIAL-IZING" MEDICINE: We are social animals and our mental and physical health often depends on our being in the company of others of our species. But many retirees often lose contact with former co-workers; they also lose friends and family members, some through death and others who have moved away. They may feel they can't relate to younger people. As a result, they may start to shut the world out, and without the important stimulus that comes from human contact, one's health can suffer. But no one has to be alone. Community centers, and churches and synagogues have programs for seniors (and you don't have to be a member of any religious group to join) that offer a chance to meet people and take part in social activities.

Seniors can also do volunteer work at hospitals, senior care centers, libraries, etc. Doing something for and with others is the best antidote to loneliness.

Crop loss payment filings urged

Nebraska Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Executive Director, John Neuberger, announced that farm producers may soon begin making applications for payment for crop losses at their local County ASCS Office.

Aid to farmers was made available through the 1989 Disaster Assistance Act which provides a program for disaster payments for crop losses for the 1989 crop year. Neuberger advised producers who plan to harvest disaster affected grain or soybean acreage for other than grain or beans to request an appraisal from their county ASCS Office before taking the crop as silage or hay.

"Maintaining a good record of evidence of crop production is the key to qualifying for disaster payments", Neuberger said. "Producers must be able to provide solid evidence of crop production so that the actual yield can be verified to determine the crop loss."

"Farmers with disaster affected crops that will be cut for silage or destroyed should contact their local county ASCS Office before disposing of the crop so that the potential production may be recorded for a future determination of payment eligibility."

Preliminary information received by the Nebraska State ASCS Office indicates that the 1989 Act covers recognized disaster conditions to include: drought, hail, excessive moisture, freeze or excessive wind or any combination thereof.

Also, crop loss due to insect infestation, plant disease or other deterioration of a crop as a result of weather conditions occurring before or during harvest are conditions which may be approved for disaster assistance payments.

"The appraisal of crops that will not be carried to normal harvest is the first step in maintaining a record of production evidence. The County ASCS Offices have been informed to accept requests for appraisals from producers with disaster affected crops. We therefore encourage producers to discuss their plans with their local County ASCS Office to arrange for an appraisal where necessary to maintain a record of production, said Neuberger."

The 1989 Disaster Assistance Act authorizes payments to producers on farms that are both participating and nonparticipating in the farm program.

There are three levels of eligibility on program crops (corn, grain sorghum, wheat, barley and oats). Payments will be made when the producers on the farm harvest less than 65 percent of expected production for crops participating in the reduced acreage program and producer carries crop insurance.

Sixty percent of expected production for crops participating in the reduced acreage program and producer carries no-crop insurance. Fifty percent of expected production for program crops not participating in the program and for nonprogram crops. Soybeans and sunflower loss payments begin when expected production is less than 55 percent.

State survey reveals teen lifestyles at high risk

A survey of teenagers from Nebraska schools shows that almost 40 percent of them have lifestyles that are risky or hazardous to their health.

In the survey conducted by the state Department of Health earlier this year, one in five students reported smoking cigarettes, almost half reported drinking alcohol and 25 percent could be classified from their answers as being "highly stressed."

The survey results will help health officials and school personnel determine the health issues they need to address among teenagers, said Gina Judds, a community health educator with the Health Department. The survey of 4,251 students included sophomores and seniors from 24 high schools in metropolitan, city and rural communities in Nebraska.

Based on responses to a questionnaire, students were placed in one of four health risk categories: excellent, fair, risky or hazardous. The highest percentage (41%) of students ranked in the fair category, but 25 percent could be termed "risky," 14 percent "hazardous" and only 20 percent "excellent," said Judds. The number of students ranking in the excellent and fair categories was considerably lower for seniors (51%) than sophomores (69%).

"We can see that some risk behaviors increase between the sophomore and the senior years," Judds said. The decline in healthy habits was reflected in increased smoking and drinking, and in poorer eating and exercise habits among seniors.

STUDENTS' SURVEY scores were broken down into seven lifestyle risk areas: smoking, alcohol, mental health, diet, exercise, dental care and safety.

Smoking: Twenty-one percent of all teens surveyed reported that they currently smoke, although 9 percent of those smoked less than a pack of cigarettes a week. Twenty-four percent of female students reported smoking compared to 19 percent of males. A higher percentage of seniors smoked (24%) than did sophomores (19%).

The larger the community size, the larger the percentage of students who reported that they smoke. Twenty-five percent of students in metropolitan areas reported smoking, compared to 17 percent in rural areas.

Drinking: Forty-four percent of the students said they drink alcoholic beverages. Sixteen percent reported drinking five or more drinks in any one day of a typical week. Fifty percent of students in rural schools reported drinking, compared to 42 percent of the students in city and metropolitan schools.

More seniors drank alcohol than did sophomores. Thirty-five percent of 10th graders indicated drinking compared to 55 percent of those in 12th grade. The incidence of drinking five or more drinks in any one day in a week doubled from the sophomore to senior year.

Nearly half (46%) of the students reported driving or riding with a driver under the influence of alcohol or drugs. — Mental health: Overall, one-fourth of students indicated signs of being highly stressed. Nine percent of students reported often feeling that life is not worth living. Sophomores indicated higher stress levels than seniors, and females higher than males.

FINDINGS REGARDING other health risk areas:

— 63 percent reported that they do not eat a variety from the four food groups daily and 54 percent reported eating breakfast less than 5 days a week.

— 42 percent indicated they do not get 20 minutes of aerobic exercise at least three times a week; 49 percent of seniors reported not getting aerobic exercise three times per week compared to 37 percent of sophomores.

— 13 percent said they do not brush their teeth daily.

— 82 percent responded that they do not always wear seatbelts; more males than females reported not wearing them.

Some improvements have been noted since previous surveys in 1987 and 1988, said Judds. Seniors as a group showed a four percent decrease in students who reported drinking alcohol. Sophomores who reported drinking alcohol dropped four percent from 1987 to 1988. Likewise, the percentage of sophomores who reported driving or riding with a driver under the influence of alcohol or drugs was lower in 1989 than in the previous two years.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS have been provided with health profiles of their individual schools so that they can make appropriate health education plans, said Judds.

The following is a list of participating schools, sorted by class:

Class A: Lincoln (includes Lincoln High, Southeast, Northeast and East), Grand Island, Hastings and Omaha Westside.

Class B: Beatrice, Broken Bow, Grand Island Northwest, Lexington, Valentine and West Point.

Class C: Clay Center, David City, Franklin, Hershey and Wilber-Clatonia.

Business Notes

Charlie's Refrigeration of Wayne has been approved to represent Pure Water, Inc., a Lincoln, Nebraska based water purification company, as an authorized dealer.

Charlie Kudrna has completed initial training and will be receiving continual updating through Pure Water training seminars, which are held periodically throughout the country. These seminars focus on current water quality issues and distillation as the superior method of water purification.

Kudrna will be available to provide feasible solutions to virtually any residential or commercial inquiries regarding local water quality issues.

Pure Water, Inc. was founded in 1969. This pioneering company is one of the leaders in the manufacturing of home and commercial water distillation systems, with a full range of residential and commercial products.

Pure Water, Inc. distributes water purification products throughout the U.S.A., Canada, and in more than 80 countries abroad. Pure Water, Inc. products are in use in a growing number of U.S. embassies, and other governmental installations.

Alan Finn, Doug Olson, and Duane Bargholz, Service Technicians at Logan Valley Implement, Wayne received a Certificate of Merit for their completion of a two day school at the John Deere Training Center in Davenport, Iowa, on Aug. 23, 24. The purpose of the school was to increase the proficiency of technicians who are responsible for servicing John Deere Equipment.

The 9000-Combined Adjustments School emphasized operation, maintenance, repair and diagnostic procedures. Gary Pick, manager of Logan Valley Implement, feels that training is essential to maintain qualified personnel who can provide the service that customers expect and deserve. The school was conducted by experienced instructors from John Deere Company of Kansas City, Missouri.

Essays on benefits of public power

Power pool sponsors contest

Essay contest information and rules will be sent to NMPP member high school principals, guidance counselors and English teachers. For further information, contact Gary Lay at NMPP at 402/474-4759.

The essay contest is only one of several possibilities for observing Public Power Week in October. NMPP is also encouraging member communities to participate in the "Public Power Community" entry sign program, hold public open houses at their power facilities, have Mayors declare Public Power Week in a formal proclamation and participate in various other public power activities.

The Nebraska Municipal Power Pool (NMPP) is requesting entries for its annual essay competition to commemorate National Public Power Week, Oct. 8-14.

Those eligible for the contest include college bound high school juniors and seniors who live in households that are served utilities by NMPP member communities. These communities include Laurel and Wakefield.

Essays on "What is the value of the Municipal Energy Utility to my Community?" will be judged at NMPP and the American Public Power Association in Washington, D.C. Three finalists will be selected, one from each of the following population groups: less than 5,000; 5,000 - 20,000; and greater than 20,000 population.

Each finalist will receive a $500 scholarship which will be applied towards the student's college education. From the finalists a Grand Prize Winner will be selected and he/she will receive an additional $1,000 scholarship for a total of $1,500.

The Grand Prize Winner will also be flown to Lincoln on March 21, 1990 to receive the tuition award and present his or her winning essay to the annual membership meeting of NMPP.

H. Steve Wacker, NMPP General Manager, said last year's essay contest was well received, but he encourages more students to participate this year. "This is an excellent opportunity for students to learn about public power and explore all the advantages of their community's municipal utility," he said.

The GOLDEN YEARS

By Bob Shaw

The federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program provides monthly cash assistance to low-income aged, blind and disabled Americans -- up to $368 for an individual, $553 for an eligible couple. But 48.5 percent of those eligible don't get the benefits, the American Association of Retired Persons found. Why not? More than one-third of those eligible never heard of the program. Others wrongly believe regular Social Security payments disqualify them.

Sister Pearl and Belle Joseph grew up in an era when "women weren't supposed to climb trees." Still, Pearl, 58, and Belle, 72, value exercise. But they found today's exercise videos don't suit older people. So they produced their own -- "Fit After 50" -- led by a physical education professor Faith Trotta. She presents simple exercises aimed at developing flexibility, strengthening muscles and teaching relaxation, "without any of the jumping up and down," says Belle.

Remember When? December 10, 1952 -- The Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded to Dr. Selman Waksman for the discovery of streptomycin as a treatment for tuberculosis.

Mitch Pettit

Petit enrolls in College of Optometry

Mitch Robert Pettit, a 1985 graduate of Allen High School, has enrolled in the Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago. He leaves this weekend to begin four years of study.

The son of Kenneth Pettit of Wakefield and Sandra Pettit of Allen, Mitch was graduated this spring from Nebraska Wesleyan University where he received a bachelor of science degree in biology.

While at Nebraska Wesleyan, he was involved in several activities, including a member and officer of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

He also held positions in the Inter-Fraternal Council and Student Affairs Senate, and was one of seven students selected by the administration and faculty to serve on the Northeast Accreditation Committee. As a member of the committee, his responsibilities included gathering and analyzing information to be compiled into a booklet for the National Accreditation Committee.

Other activities included Wesleyan student representative for the United Way fund raiser where aluminum cans were collected with all money donated to the Lincoln United Way.

Pettit also was a member of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lincoln.

Zahniser represents Cadre team

Edith Zahniser is the Nebraska Foreign Language Cadre Team Representative for teachers in the E.S.U. #1 region. Mrs. Zahniser contributes many weekends and vacation time to work on curriculum and develop a fund of information and skills to share with foreign language colleagues in the area.

This August the Foreign Language Cadre Project was held at the U.S. Army Defense Language Institute in Monterey, Calif. and Creighton University in Omaha. Teachers reviewed some of the latest instructional technology in foreign language education and visited classes at the Monterey Institute. This was followed by a workshop on the development of listening and reading proficiencies at Creighton University.

During the past four years, Cadre team members have planned and organized staff development workshops and special activities such as student foreign language fairs throughout Nebraska.

Strong support from supporting schools and Educational Service Units plus the hard work and dedication of Cadre team members have contributed to the Cadre's success. Cadre team members, Edith Zahniser in particular, are to be commended for having made a good idea work.

Dollar Day in April to kick off Allen centennial celebration

The executive board of the Allen centennial committee, including Larry and Kathy Boswell, Gary Troth, Marcia Rastede and Julie Sullivan, met Aug. 22. The treasurer reported a balance of $962.46.

To kick off the community's centennial celebration, scheduled to take place during the Fourth of July 1991, it was decided to name April 11, 1990 as Dollar Day in commemoration of the day when the Pacific Townsite Company paid Henry and Elizabeth Allen the sum of $1 for the 40 acres used to plot the town of Allen.

Specific activities will be discussed at a later meeting.

IT WAS REPORTED that the selection of a centennial logo has not yet been made. Entries have been turned over to an artist who will be assisting in the selection process.

Committee members also discussed tabulation of 71 returned surveys. Larry and Kathy Boswell will review the tabulation before the next board meeting and categorize the activities into pre-centennial fund raising events and events to take place during the grand centennial celebration.

The executive board will work on a tentative schedule of events and chairmen at its next meeting.

Approval forms will be available to submit to the executive board for groups wishing to sponsor centennial activities. Activities must be approved by the executive board.

BOARD MEMBERS also decided to have the centennial sign in the Allen homecoming parade and possibly in the Wakefield Pumpkin Days parade this fall. The sign will then be placed on the Jerry Schroeder property until next summer's parade schedule.

Because the four-day centennial celebration will take place during Fourth of July, residents of the community will be encouraged to fly the American flag as well as plant red flowers. The possibility of having a town flag was discussed.

Also discussed as an activity during the centennial celebration was a walking tour of Allen featuring gardens, flowers, and the history of various homes.

The committee also is planning to ask Mrs. Phil (Alice) Dietz of Norfolk, a former Allen resident, to tell the story of Allen's history through the eyes of a character from Allen's past.

KATHY BOSWELL has received information from the Division of Travel and Tourism, Nebraska Department of Economic Development, and the Nebraska Arts Council regarding the possibility of receiving financial aid for the centennial celebration through grant money.

Boswell also will submit the dates of Dollar Day in April 1990 and the grand centennial celebration in July 1991 to the Nebraska Catalog of Events.

THE NEXT MEETING of the executive board will be Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the village office.

Centennial recipes sought

The Future Homemakers of America (FHA) chapter of Allen High School is seeking recipes for a centennial cookbook. Recipes may be left at the Cash Store or taken to the home economics department at the high school.

Kathy Boswell, FHA advisor, said residents may wish to submit their favorite family recipe or one from grandma's well-worn cookbook as a remembrance.

Boswell added that recipes, including microwave, cookstove and canning, are needed from each generation to make the centennial cookbook interesting.

Persons with questions regarding the cookbook are asked to contact Boswell or any FHA member.

Callers in the Virgil Wilcox home this past week include Ardith Linafelter, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Schubert, Kevin Stewart of Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Stewart of Hubbard who were Sunday evening supper guests.

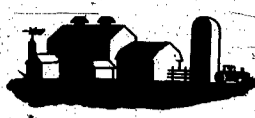

Mr. and Mrs. Robb Linafelter of Columbia, Mo. were overnight guests in the Ken Linafelter home Thursday.

Phyllis Thieman of Norfolk and Carmen Wilcox of Allen visited in the home of Nellie Stewart in Sioux City on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wilcox were dinner guests of the Paul Stewarts at LeAnn's Hilltop Cafe to observe the birthday of Carmen Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Schubert entertained in their home at a potluck supper honoring Rev. and Mrs. Andy Kwankin on Saturday evening. Guests were members of the Allen Bible study class while the Kwankins were in Allen. The Kwankins were overnight guests in the Schubert home.

On Sunday Pastors Kwankin and Fraser exchanged pulpits with Pastor Kwankin at the Allen and Dixon churches and Pastor Fraser at St. James in Lincoln. A potluck dinner was held in the Dixon United Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon honoring the Kwankins. Both congregations attended.

Country Leanings

By Chuck Hackenmiller

Morning's Curtain Call

The first act began in darkness until the birds all started to sing, preparing for the grand stage entrance of a brilliant sun that rose from the wing.

The backdrop was that of trees and grass sparkling from the morning dew. On the set were bright-colored barns, houses and cattle waking to a day fresh and new.

Lights inside the buildings flickered on and life started stirring from within. Tractors broke the peaceful silence once the hardy task of chores did begin.

Chickens in the hen house cackled and the farm scene came alive. Hungry dogs and cats begged to be fed, happy to see daybreak finally arrive.

Spotlights closed in on the beautiful garden, the sun's warmth helped the flowers bloom. Nothing could match the spectacular view staged right in nature's living room.

What a magnificent show it was for those who haven't observed until now. God and nature, answer the curtain call. You deserve to take a bow.

YOUTH GATHERING

The Rev. Bruce L. Schut of St. John's Lutheran Church accompanied five area youth to a National Youth Gathering on Aug. 5-9 in Denver, Colo. The event, organized by the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, featured motivational speakers, inspirational music and numerous exhibits and activities.

Representing St. John's were Dorena Murfin, Shawn Meyer and Scott Mattes. Cindy Easley represented St. Paul's Lutheran Church south of Wakefield and Vicki Frevert was the representative from First Trinity Lutheran Church at Altona.

ATTEND AG INSTITUTE

Cathi Larson and Susan Nuernberger were among the nearly 200 youth ag leaders who met in Lincoln for the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute (NAYI) from July 24-28. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Larson and Mr. and Mrs. James Nuernberger of rural Wakefield.

The delegates were exposed to speakers, workshops and group interaction at the institute. Highlights of this year's NAYI included an address by Kansas Ag Secretary Sam Brownback, a computer simulated farm management game and an intensive career workshop.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Ellie Studer received a Masters of Arts-Teacher Degree from the graduate college of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Degrees were conferred on approximately 800 graduates during exercises on Aug. 19 at Bob Devaney Sports Center. Miss Studer teaches math and coaches girls basketball at Wakefield High School.

Winside graduate receives vocational education award

Craig Evans, a 1989 graduate of Winside High School, has been awarded a Nebraska Council on Vocational Education Certificate of Achievement.

His name was submitted by Bill Dalton, Winside trade and industry instructor.

The award was based on Evans' mechanical knowledge and abilities and past achievements.

In competition, Evans received first place in small engines and welding at Northeast Community College; second place in oxygen acetylene welding at Northeast Community College; and second place in small engines at Wayne State College.

He painted a 1977 Camero and a 1976 pickup; helped construct a three-car garage; did valve jobs and tuned-up 10 small engines; welded a squat rack and push bars while in Winside's vocational program, and was one of the top students in computer lathe.

While in 4-H, Evans received first in small engines at the Wayne County Fair and also the Nebraska State Fair, and placed seventh in national competition in Omaha.

Craig Evans

Evans is enrolled in the diesel mechanics program this fall at Northeast Community College.

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

The costumes are in the washer, makeup treated with pre-wash. The shower has washed away all the eye goop. Tomorrow it's work as usual. And school for all the younger thespians.

No one "broke a leg", but there was a vicious flu bug around. I don't suppose it has anything to do with lack of sleep, or anything like that.

There is a certain amount of ham in each of us, but I had to dig deep to find mine. I had an able and patient director, a talented arranger who transposed music as we needed it, and another farmer's wife who can dance as well as sing.

The trouble was, there were so many pros. After all the years of watching my kids perform in Ramsey theater, I had never even been past the practice rooms in the basement.

There is a giant costume room down there, and a makeup room, and sinks and showers, and a band room. The orphans were entertained with videos in that room, between "Hard Knock Life" and curtain call.

Makeup was done by a lady I knew as an x-ray tech at PMC, and her two cohorts.

SCENE CHANGES and chemical smoke and all that stuff were done by a WCS professor and his wife and a cook from the Wayne Care Center.

Community Theatre is truly community. It encompassed ages three to sixty and folks from all walks of life; not all of them on stage. There were teachers, a Realtor, a banker, a publisher, an editor, housewives, students; and some were making very rapid costume changes.

There are definitely some advantages to being in the production. You don't need a ticket to get in, you get to see it from the wings instead of from the audience and you don't need to guess who's actually under the wig and costume.

But you don't get to pick which performance you'd like to attend, and you are kind of expected to memorize the lines, and stay out of sight when you aren't performing.

After being at work during the day and at Ramsey during the evenings, one tends to lose track of the rest of the world.

We've had some welcome rain, and cool nights. There have been some definite signs of fall: a mouse in the house, flies hanging on the screens, zucchini bread everywhere and football practice every afternoon. The melon stands are also in evidence.

MALCOLM Forbes had a two million dollar birthday party and Voyager 2 is learning all kinds of interesting things about Neptune.

Abigail Van Buren and Ann Landers are on vacation and some of their reruns have been great. And now this would-be columnist is going to bed, to dream of show tunes and orchestras, spot lights and back drops; and thank her lucky stars that she doesn't have to do this every night for the rest of the year.

So much for show biz, folks, it's back to the hospital. I'm even going to resist temptation to write about what went on backstage and down stairs, and between acts.

Actually, it's a lot of work by a few dedicated, talented folks. If you don't have your season tickets yet, get 'em. That's entertainment, and it's live.

Muscle and joint Pain: A Common Complaint

Pain involving the muscles and joints is commonly reported following strenuous activity such as heavy manual labor. Individuals involved in less strenuous activity following a period of inactivity may also complain of muscle and joint pain. Muscle pain may occur in the legs, head, and other areas. Rest, oral pain medicines, massages, and analgesic rubs may provide some relief from muscle pain.

Pain involving the joints may be due to strains or sprains. Strains result from excessive stretching of the ligaments. Sprains occur when ligaments are partially torn loose at one or both ends of the bones to which they are connected. Relief of sprain and strain pain is similar to muscle pain relief but may also involve using ice packs or compresses (bandages) and elevating affected joints.

PLAY PAY-DAY AT BILL'S GW

YOU COULD WIN $1,000.00 IN CASH! NO PURCHASE IS NECESSARY TO PARTICIPATE IN PAY-DAY START PLAYING PAY-DAY ON THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1989

HERE ARE THE GENERAL RULES OF PAY-DAY

1. PAY-DAY is for all persons in the area 18 years of age and older. Store employees and their immediate families are not eligible.
2. Area residents are automatically in the contest if their names are in trading territory telephone books.
3. Trade territory residents who have not received a PAY-DAY punch card may register for participation.
4. No purchases are necessary and one need not be present to win.
5. Participants must have cards punched each week (with our special punch) before drawing is conducted, on every Thursday at 8:00 p.m. in the front of the store.
6. Winners will be notified by telephone, but Bill's-GW will not be obligated to pursue notification if no one can be reached at the telephone number listed on winning card.
7. First (and only) name drawn wins that week's Big "Pay-Check," an amount of Cash between $300 and $1,000! Punched card must be presented within 24 hours after your name is drawn or prize will be forfeited.
8. Any week prize that is not awarded, next week's Big "Pay-Check" will be $50 higher until the total amount reaches $1,000. It will remain at $1,000 until it is won. However, for each week it remains at $1,000, another $50 will be added to the starting "Pay-Check," which is normally $300. For example, if the $1,000 is not won for four weeks, starting amount the next PAY-DAY will be $500! Regardless of results, the store adds $50 each week.
9. All advertised prizes will be given away, but Bill's GW may end PAY-DAY at anytime, providing customers are given adequate notice.
10. Bill's GW has the right to use winners' pictures in advertising and promotion of the store and the PAY-DAY presentation. Winners must pay all appropriate taxes.
11. "Only individuals may be PAY-DAY winners. Organizations are not eligible.
