Kugler retires as Wayne postal carrier

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

After close to 30 years walking the city sidewalks and streets delivering mail to Wayne residents, Bill Kugler of Wayne is hanging up his mailbag.

He is retiring from his postal duties as city of Wayne mail carrier. His last official day was Saturday, Sept. 2. Wayne Postmaster Tom Jones and other staff members of the local post office conducted a presentation ceremony for Kugler last Thursday.

He was given a Service Award, honoring his dedication and service that he provided to the postal department for the past 30 years. His wife, Rae, was also present at the ceremony.

"Bill has enjoyed the last 30 years working with you guys. He will have a lot of fond memories," said Rae to the postal employees at the ceremony.

OF THOSE 30 years, Kugler spent many of them walking the city routes. Prior to becoming a postal worker, he was in business with his father, Henry Kugler at Kugler Electric. "I also served a hitch in the military [in Korea and Japan] before starting here," he said.

He began work with the postal service in November of 1960 as a substitute clerk-carrier. He was appointed to the regular carrier position in 1966.

"I would like to thank God for giving me the health and ability to achieve this goal and then I would like to thank my wife and family for helping me through all these years," Kugler said after accepting the postal award. He also thanked fellow employees for "all the kindness rendered to me throughout the years."

"And I want to thank all the customers for the kind things they have said and done. I love them all and I'm going to miss them," he added.

KUGLER SAID those who think being a letter carrier is a "snap" should strongly reconsider. "They have to remember that our motto is 'deliver in all kinds of weather.'"

Only once, Kugler said, has he been pulled off the street from making his regular mail deliveries.

"That was April 14th, a couple of years ago, when we had a raging blizzard. For the first time, I was afraid to cross the street because I didn't know what was coming. I couldn't see if anything was out there," Kugler said.

The mail carriers also find their health challenged by the ever-changing weather elements.

"This is a very physical career. As far as national statistics, healthwise the job is not the greatest," he said.

But it is the people he meets on the route that makes the position so enriching. He enjoyed providing the carrier service to all his customers, but he also reserved a special place in his heart for the people who are shut-ins.

"IN SOME instances, the postman's visit was their only means of outside communication in this world. Through the mail carriers, these people have someone checking on them on a daily basis," Kugler mentioned.

Kugler said he hopes he never lives to see the privatization of mail service. "I hope you all get to complete your career goals that you have set out for yourself," he said to his fellow employees during the presentation ceremony.

It's been said that rain or snow, heat or cold can't stop the mailman from making his or her appointed rounds. However, postal carriers eventually do retire.

"I know that I'm going to miss it," he said.

Area 4-H'ers achieve high placings during state fair

An animal named Lester got the nod as champion of the Division I Crossbred Market Steer in the 4-H beef show Sept. 3 at the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln.

Betsy Adkins, 15, of Laurel topped the field of 77 competitors with Lester. The 1,374-pound Simmental cross had a 55.5-inch hip-height and a 3.23-pound average daily weight gain. The daughter of Rick and Joan Adkins, Betsy said Lester had "a great temperament."

He won several progress shows earlier this year. Lester was purchased from Steve Reimer of Chamberland, South Dakota.

"I have a very supportive family," Betsy said as family members gathered around to congratulate her. "This is just great."

Matthew Jensen, age 12, of Winside had the champion entry in the state fair 4-H poultry exhibit on Sept. 1.

Matthew won the championship with his Rhode Island Red cockerel. This year's poultry exhibit included 92 entries.

JOCK BEESON of Wayne showed the champion Polled Hereford breeding heifer during the 4-H beef show at the state fair.

Beeson, age 14, is the son of Jack and Bev Beeson. His home-produced heifer, Midnight Gal, represents the third year of Jock's winning at the state fair. In the past three years, he has shown the champion Polled Hereford twice and the reserve champion once.

"I was really hoping that I would win again," he said.

A Concord 4-H'er, Sonya Plueger, exhibited a reserve champion in the first-ever Maine Anjou breeding heifer competition at the beef show.

Sonya, age 13 and the daughter of Frank and Kathleen Plueger, led her heifer, Vanessa, for the win. The Pluegers were hoping there would be a Maine Anjou heifer competition at the state fair beef show when they bought Vanessa last November, Sonya said.

SHOWING the reserve champion Holstein out of a field of 111 in the state fair 4-H dairy cattle show was April Marotz of Hoskins. She is the 18 year old daughter of Lane and Jeanie Marotz. Her cow, Mar-High-Slim-Minnie, is 2 years old and received the reserve championship trophy in the senior division.

Jason Gillespie, age 16, of Hoskins was a silver medalist with his chocolate rex doe in the 4-H rabbit showmanship contest at the state fair Sept. 2. He was pleased with his standing after winning a tie-breaker for second place.

Jason has been showing rabbits for three years and he is the son of Colby and Georgia Gillespie of Hoskins.

At the 4-H market lamb show, Amy Adkins of Laurel took reserve champion honors in the Division II level with her 125-pound Suffolk wether, Silver, Amy, age 17, is the daughter of Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel.

ALSO, LEANN Stewart of Dixon won reserve champion placing in the Division III division. LeAnn, age 12, showed her Suffolk ewe, Martha, an 118-pound home-produced lamb. She is the daughter of Marty and Linda Stewart of Lincoln.

Capturing a bronze medal in the 4-H entomology judging and identification contest was Tammy Sievers, age 13, of Wayne. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sievers. Tammy will receive a trophy and purple ribbon, provided by the Nebraska State Pest Control Association; and cash

DAVID CURLEY TAKES time to pose before some scenic background on his coast to coast trip.

Curley bikes way through America

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

"Miles can be made into inches if the drive and motivation leads us to believe such is such."

That quote comes from David Curley of Wayne, who recently completed a trip of his dreams—a 5,200 mile or more bicycle ride across America.

He was one of 22 participants in the AFFBRAAM (Annual Filled Bicycle Ride Across America) event. Twenty-one actually made the whole trip that began June 4 near the Pacific Ocean at Anacortes, Washington and ended close to the Atlantic Ocean in Maine. He finished the final 62 miles of the trip in four hours and was the third person to complete the coast to coast trip.

"This is something that I will never forget," said Curley.

HE HAD some nice company along the way. The youngest rider to make the cross country trip, at age 19, was Peter Hiesterman of Wichita, Kansas. His parents picked up the cost of the nationwide trip as a high school graduation gift to Hiesterman.

Considered as the oldest on the trip was Ray Simpson of Roseville, California. He was 71. There were riders from Richfield, Apple Valley, Minneapolis, Cannon Falls, Anoka, New Brighton and Long Lake, all cities in Minnesota; Portland, Oregon; Clermont, Florida; Seattle, Washington; Bowling Green, Ohio; Barron and Sheboygan Falls, both in Wisconsin; Crystal Lake, Illinois; Forest City, Iowa; Dexter, Maine; Northville, Michigan; Arlington and Shrewsbury, both in Massachusetts; and the California cities of Davis, Glendale, Anaheim, Long Beach and Oakland.

Curley returned from his trip with 12 or more tee-shirts and sweatshirts that he purchased or obtained as gifts, all signifying at least one or more of the states he traveled through.

THERE WERE 76 people at the starting line when Curley's trip began. The majority were just going across Washington, and then heading back home. This was the case in many of the states Curley traveled through, including Washington, Montana (and into a small area in Canada), North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

Curley said he averaged 72 miles a day, coast to coast. "The state of Washington was the most beautiful and scenic of any state," he said. The Grand Coulee Dam, he said, was "something to behold" as were the various passes through the mountains. They also stopped at Yellowstone National Park and Lake Placid in New York where the Olympics previously took place.

If there was a state that was his least favorite, Curley said he would have to "pick out North Dakota."

"We had three 100 mile or more trips through North Dakota," he said. "Up in North Dakota, we biked in 105 degree weather and faced a 30 mile per hour south wind. That really burns you up and saps you dry to the bones."

"WE MADE the best time in eastern Montana. There were no towns and we pedaled on the interstate," he said. It was during this stretch that Curley had four

Conway issue taken to state Supreme Court

Nebraska Attorney General Robert Spire has recently filed suit in the Nebraska Supreme Court asking that District 17 State Senator Gerald Conway of Wayne be removed and excluded from his teaching position at Wayne State College.

Spire indicated that Conway, serving as a teacher in a public college and also as a state senator, violates the separation-of-power clause in the Nebraska Constitution.

The issue surfaced earlier this year when Tore Nelson, who lost to Conway in a bid for the state senate post last November, contested whether Conway should be allowed to serve as a legislator while still employed as a faculty member at Wayne State College.

Nelson cited that the Constitution indicates "no person holding office under the authority of the United States, or any lucrative office under the authority of this state, shall be eligible to, or have a seat in the legislature."

THERE IS also a clause in the Constitution that stipulates that there are three divisions of power of state government—legislative, executive and judicial. Those within these departments cannot exercise any power belonging to the two other departments.

In early January, the state legislature voted to establish a committee of five state senators to study the challenge. The committee later ruled they had no authority to examine the issue and Conway was seated into the legislature.

Conway, who has been a legislator for five years, has said he disputes the contention there is a conflict of interest. When the legislature is in session, he takes an unpaid leave of absence from his teaching position at Wayne State.

He said he has no executive powers or holds any lucrative office as a college instructor. He said earlier that he had contacted an attorney on the issue several years on the teacher-legislator issue and

Open enrollment hearing scheduled

Nebraska's Legislative Education Committee and the State Board of Education will conduct a public hearing in Wayne concerning LB 183—the enrollment option program.

During the 1989 legislative session, Nebraska lawmakers passed LB 183 (known as choice) which will allow students to attend school districts other than their resident school district.

Purpose of the bill, according to State Senator Ron Withem, is to allow students to choose the education that best meets their needs and to help parents become more involved in the education of their children.

The bill contains a four-year phase-in, beginning with the 1990-91 school year, when participation is voluntary for both the resident school district and the receiving school district. By the 1993-94 school year, the program will be fully implemented.

For participating in the program during the 1990-91 school year, applications must be submitted by the students' parents/guardians to the school district of their choice by Jan. 1, 1990.

A PROVISION in LB 183 requires the Education Committee to conduct an interim study on the issue. Four hearings throughout Nebraska, during September and October, will take place concerning the requirements. These hearings will also serve as the official state Board of Education hearings on the rule to implement the enrollment option program.

The purpose of the hearings is to provide information on the program, answer questions from the public, receive testimony on the draft rule and compile suggestions for any needed changes in the legislation prior to its implementation.

A six member panel has been formed, consisting of a superintendent, a school board member, a Nebraska senator, and representatives from the Nebraska, Minnesota and the United States Department of

Dixon man to speak on short-term missionary venture in Venezuela

(Editor's note: Allen George of Dixon will tell of his experiences and show slides of his recent trip to Venezuela during a program open to the public on Sunday, Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Logan Center United Methodist Church at Dixon. Following is a brief description of George's experiences in the South American republic.)

By Hazel Blatchford
Dixon correspondent

From Dixon, Nebr. to Venezuela, South America can be quite a distance — not only geographically but also culturally. That was the realization of Allen George of rural Dixon who recently returned from a short-term missionary venture in Venezuela. George, a 1989 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, along with 13 other members of the Lincoln Berean Church, became interested in such an endeavor after their youth pastor showed slides and shared the needs of the New Tribes Mission in the Amazonas Territory. The group flew to Miami on July 3 and spent the next five days in orientation at Lake Placid, Fla., before flying to Caracas, Venezuela. From there, it was an hour's flight to Puerto Ayacucho, a city of 30,000 people along the Columbia border and base of the New Tribes Mission. Flying a Cessna 206, the Missionary Aviation Fellowship pilot took the passengers — four to six at a time — along with supplies into the jungle. The 600 yard landing strip was cut from a densely wooded area and mowed with a lawn mower.

There, the group was joined by a couple from the East and a building overseer from California. Their responsibility was to finish constructing a house for an incoming missionary couple with a small baby who would be arriving soon from the United States to work among the tribesmen.

The structure when they arrived was nothing more than a roof, approximately 20 x 40 being held up by eight poles. They were to make the bricks from materials in the area (lumber cannot be used because of termites), build the walls, dig trenches for plumbing, and pour the floors — resulting in a fairly modern home.

The natives enjoyed watching the Americans work and often stood with faces pressed against the screened windows to watch their every move.

The approximately 70 tribesmen in the village lived in 10 x 12 mud-clay huts with thatched roofs. Their cooking was done inside over an open fire, and until recent years there were no cooking utensils.

Foreigners are only allowed in a small area of the tribesmen's home, and likewise the tribesmen in the missionary's home — this is according to their culture.

Contacts were made only 20 years ago with these tribesmen, and missionaries have come to these easy going, non-competitive people only in the last 15 years with the purpose of learning the language, translating the word of God, and establishing a church.

George said a typical day in the jungle — where it rained every day and temperatures averaged in the mid-90's — began at 6 a.m. with breakfast and a devotional time from 8 to 9 a.m., followed with work until noon when they took a one and a half hour break for lunch and siesta.

Each evening they gathered for a Bible study and discussion of that day or the next day's activities.

In preparation for the trip, George said each individual had to receive two typhoid shots, a polio booster shot, yellow fever, cholera and an antibiotic shot. George still must take an anti-malaria pill for the next five weeks.

The trip, costing more than $2,000 each, was financed by the participating individuals and interested family and friends.

George noted that because of the frequent rains there were many rainbows that were feared by the natives because they believed they came from evil spirits and meant bad luck.

When asked what he missed most while being in the jungle, George said it was hearing the news. "I think if I am ever on a trip like that again, I would like to have a newspaper sent to me once a week."

Public invited to program focusing on child abuse

All interested individuals are invited to find out more about the signs of neglect and physical or sexual abuse during an upcoming program at the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord, entitled "Abuse: The Family's Hidden Secret."

"In Nebraska, there were 7,204 cases of child abuse reported in 1987," says Karen Wermers, extension agent-home economics. "Experts feel this is only the 'tip of the iceberg' as far as the amount of child abuse and neglect are concerned."

Wermers added that Nebraska law requires that citizens report any sign of child abuse.

WERMERS SAID the public is invited to attend the "Abuse: The Family's Hidden Secret" program on Monday, Sept. 11 at 1:30 p.m. at the Northeast Center. There is no charge.

The program is being sponsored by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Cooperative Extension Service and representatives of organizations and churches are invited to attend and take the information back to their groups.

Persons who would like additional information about the program are asked to contact their local Cooperative Extension Service office. In Dixon County, call 584-2234.

Hamer rushes Wayne past Lyons-Decatur

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne Blue Devils gave notice to the rest of the teams on their football schedule that they will not be an easy team to prepare for Friday night as they picked apart visiting Lyons-Decatur, 41-0.

Rusty Hamer literally ran wild as he rushed for 202 yards on just 16 carries including an unofficial school record of a 99-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. Hamer averaged just over 12 yards a carry and led the Blue Devils to a 333-yard rushing performance as a team.

"These kids were ready for a football game," head coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said. "They went out and played hard for the whole 48 minutes. It was a beautiful night for football and the crowd support was incredible and they witnessed a good game by the host team."

About the only stat in which Ehrhardt was not overly pleased with was the penalty department where he witnessed his Blue Devils get flagged for nine infractions for a total of 98 yards. "The kids were playing so hard that several of the penalties occurred completely away from the play," Ehrhardt said. "It was the first game and we think we can iron out the clipping mistakes and some of the miscommunications."

An added dimension that the Blue Devils will stick with for the majority of the season is the two-quarterback operation. Both Craig Dyer and Cory Wieseler will lead the Blue Devils on a week-to-week basis. "There's no telling who will start any game because both of these guys have the capability to get the job done," Ehrhardt said. "It will just make us double tough to prepare for."

The Blue Devils struck paydirt with 6:32 remaining in the first quarter as Hamer sprinted in from 11-yards out and Matt Bruggeman kicked the point after for a 7-0 lead which is how the first quarter ended.

With 9:35 left in the second quarter Cory Wieseler snuck in from three yards out on a quarterback draw and Matt Bruggeman once again connected on the point after. At the 2:29 mark of the second quarter Willy Gross was on the receiving end of a 17 yard pass from Cory Wieseler and Bruggeman again connected on the point after. Wayne led 21-0 at intermission.

Jeff Lutt returned a fumble 28 yards in the third quarter and with Bruggeman's point after the score jumped to 28-0. At the 3:59 point of the third quarter Greg DeNaeyer sprinted in from two yards out and with the missed P.A.T. the score stood at 34-0. Then with 8:43 left in the game Rusty Hamer took off on his 99 yard scamper to push the lead to the final margin of 41-0 with Bruggeman's point after.

Craig Dyer was Wayne's second leading rusher with 77 yards on five carries. Cory Wieseler gained 24 yards on five carries and Greg DeNaeyer gained 19 yards on six carries.

In the passing department both quarterbacks were 2-5 as Dyer threw for 65 yards and Wieseler threw for 39 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively Wayne was led by Jason Fink's 11 tackles. Matt

Bruggeman finished with 10 while Jeff Lutt and Neil Carnes each had eight. Jason Ehrhardt and Chris Fredrickson each netted seven total tackles. Casey Dyer and Brian Moore intercepted one pass apiece and Jeff Lutt, Neil Carnes and Todd Harris each scooped up a fumble.

"You can tell that our front line dominated when four of our top five tacklers are on the front line," Ehrhardt said. Lyons-Decatur could only muster a total of 20 yards rushing on 33 attempts while throwing for just 61 yards. Wayne held the visitors to a total of 81 yards in the game compared to Wayne's 437.

Jeff Lutt caught three passes in the game for 87 yards and Willy Gross caught the fourth reception for 17 yards. Wayne will host Neigh-Oakdale this Friday.

WAYNE'S DEFENSE was nothing short of phenomenal in its opener against Lyons-Decatur Friday night. This is one of the many times that the Blue Devils rushed the quarterback into throwing the ball before he was ready. Wayne intercepted two passes and held Lyons-Decatur below 85 total yards for the game.

Wayne places at Beemer

The Wayne Blue Devils volleyball team started out the 1989 season with a victory over Dodge in the first round of the Beemer Invitational. Wayne went on to post a third place finish in the tournament which ended on Saturday. Then in its first home contest on Tuesday night against Schuyler, Wayne fell in three sets to even the season record at 2-2.

Against Dodge Wayne started out slow. In fact, Wayne was down 6-0 and 8-2 before rallying for a 15-12 decision. The Blue Devils completely dominated the second set 15-3.

Teresa Ellis and Erin Pick were the top servers with Ellis netting 16 points and Pick six. Heidi Reeg had seven kill spikes while Ellis managed six and Ellis was 11-11 in setting with three assists. Rachel Haase was 14-15 in setting with four assists.

On Saturday, Wayne fell to Fremont Bergan, 12-15, 8-15. Erin Pick and Teresa Ellis were the leading scorers for Wayne with six and five points each. Heidi Reeg was the top spiker with a 14-16 outing and five kills. Rachel Haase had six assists in setting and Heidi Reeg had six blocks.

"We were kind of flat against Bergan," coach Marlene Uhing said. "We let one girl really hurt us in the second set by letting her serve eight straight points which put them up 9-1."

In the match for third place Wayne downed North Bend by a 15-10, 17-15 margin. Teresa Ellis led the team in serving with 12 points on a 15-16 outing including three aces. Ellis was 8-9 in spiking with two kills while Stephanie Kloster was 8-8 with two kills. Heidi Reeg was 5-5 and also had two kills.

Teresa Ellis was a perfect 11-11 in setting with three assists while Rachel Haase was 12-13 with two assists. Heidi Reeg meanwhile had three blocks.

One particular play pleased Uhing. In the second set with Wayne trailing 14-13 and North Bend serving Deanna Schluns got a hand on the return serve and the ball looked to errant. Stephanie Kloster however, hustled after the ball while North Bend was celebrating what they felt was the second set victory. Kloster however, hit the ball over the net and it landed for a winner.

On Tuesday night against Schuyler, Wayne played flat in losing, 6-15, 15-11, 4-15. "Out of 41 Schuyler points, 21 were on ace serves," Uhing said. "We just lacked enthusiasm and were very up and down on the night."

Teresa Ellis had seven points with five ace serves while Heidi Reeg had four points. Reeg was 9-9 in spiking with five kills while Jennifer Hammer was 8-8 with three kills. Ellis was 19-20 in setting with seven assists and Liz Reeg was 8-8 with four assists. Heidi Reeg also notched two blocks.

Laurel earns respect

The Laurel Bears earned some deserved respect Friday night as they gave highly rated Randolph everything they wanted before losing 27-13. If it weren't for two mishandled punts Laurel would have been in great shape for perhaps the upset.

The first mishandled punt gave Randolph a first down at the Laurel 32-yard line where they promptly drove it into the end zone for a 7-0 lead. Later in the same period Laurel mishandled another punt and Randolph had the ball at the Laurel 26-yard line but this time the Bears held them on downs and regained possession.

Randolph scored once again in the second quarter for 13-0 lead on Laurel before the Bears drove to the endzone before half. Chad VanCleave ran in from seven yards out and Travis Stracke connected on the point after for a 13-7 score at intermission.

In the third quarter Randolph sustained a drive and scored a touchdown to push the score to 20-7 but on the ensuing kick-off Troy Twohig returned it 88 yards for a touchdown and just like that the Bears were back in it at 20-13.

Laurel could draw no closer however and Randolph later added an insurance touchdown to maintain the 27-13 final score.

"We had our chances to win the game," coach Tom Luxford said. "We have to work on putting four quarters together and we'll be o.k. I was impressed with the kids effort in the game even though our intensity swayed back and forth a little bit."

Troy Twohig finished with 58 yards rushing while Chad VanCleave managed 56 yards on the ground. Quarterback Todd Erwin was 6-11 through the air and had one interception. Laurel picked up 197 total yards while Randolph managed 232.

John Schütte led all tacklers with 16 stops while Darin Martinson finished with 13. Rusty Reifenthal finished with 11 and Dean Heydon had 10.

Allen Eagles fly past host Winside, 22-18

The Allen Eagles invaded Winside Friday night for a show down between two of the area's top running backs in Allen's Kent Chase and Winside's Max Kant. Although Kant won the dual between the two, Allen won the battle as they pulled out a 22-18 victory in front of a packed stadium. "Our defense played extremely well," Allen coach Mike Busselmann said. "They scored two of our three touchdowns." There was no score in the first quarter and in the second quarter Allen struck first on a 30-yard interception return by Matt Hingst. Allen missed the point after and held a 6-0 lead. Winside came back and with three seconds left before intermission, quarterback Cory

Jensen sprinted to the endzone from three yards out making the score 6-6 at halftime. In the third quarter Allen scored on a 50-yard pass from Matt Hingst to Rusty Dickens, giving Allen a 12-6 lead. Winside though struck back on a six yard run by Shane Frahm which knotted the score at 12 heading into the fourth and final period.

Rusty Dickens tackled Winside's Cory Jensen in the endzone for a safety with 11:10 remaining in the contest and that gave Allen a slim 14-12 lead. Later in the quarter however, Allen's defense struck again as Paul Brentlinger recovered a Winside fumble in the endzone for a touchdown making the score 22-12 on the converted two point try.

Winside would not give up however and they scored once more on a four yard pass from Cory Jensen to Randy Prince which accounted for the final margin of 22-18.

"We really hurt ourselves with our own mistakes," Winside coach Randy Geier said. "You have to give Allen credit though for capitalizing on our mistakes." Winside finished the contest with 105 yards rushing while Allen mustered a total of 102. Allen was 3-7 in the passing department for 56 yards while Winside was 7-16 for 52 yards. Both teams suffered two interceptions and Winside lost a fumble as well.

Max Kant led the Winside rushing attack with 99 yards on 21 carries while Cory Jensen led the Wildcats through the air with a 7-16 performance for 52 yards and one touchdown.

Jeff Gallop was on the receiving end of three Jensen passes while Randy Prince and Max Kant each notched two receptions.

Allen was led by Kent Chase's 59 yards on 14 carries while Rusty Dickens managed 39 yards on 11 carries. Allen used two quarterbacks in Matt Hingst and Shane Dahl.

The defenses on both teams shined the whole night. Winside was led by Jeff Gallop's 15 tackles while Max Kant was in on nine tackles. Brian Thompson had seven tackles and one interception and Shane Frahm had seven tackles. Cory Jensen had five tackles and one pass interception.

Sophomore sensation Kevin Crossgrove led Allen with 17 tackles while Rusty Dickens and Kent Chase each had 13. Shane Dahl was in on 10 tackles and Paul Brentlinger and Jason Oleson had eight stops each. Matt Hingst had both of Allen's interceptions.

"We played pretty good defense," Geier said. "We actually feel like we let this game slip out of our own hands because of our own mistakes." Allen meanwhile, will get ready to challenge a strong Beemer team this week in Allen.

"If our defense keeps playing like it did against Winside we think we'll be alright," Busselmann said. Winside will travel to play Hartington this Friday in a 7:00 game time.

ALLEN'S KENT CHASE churns his legs to get extra yardage during Allen's 22-18 victory over Winside at Winside on Friday night.

MAX KANT struggles for extra yardage while an Allen defender wraps him up.

Wayne State drops first game, at USD

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne State Wildcats opened their 1989 football campaign Saturday at the University of South Dakota and its dome stadium. Wayne State finished its 1988 football season at the UNI-Dome in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and their coach Earle Bruce so it was the second consecutive game that the Wildcats were in the confines of a dome stadium.

This Wildcat team has a lot of different personalities on the squad than the one that traveled to Cedar Rapids last November including a whole new coaching staff.

Head coach Dennis Wagner was hoping his Wildcats would travel to Vermillion and play heads up error free football for 60 minutes and if the chips fell in the right places an upset would be in the realm of possibility.

On the opening kick-off, Wayne State linebacker Cory Reeder recovered a South Dakota fumble and the Wildcats got their first break of the 1989 season. The thorn in Wayne State's heel all game however was penalties and in their first series which began at the USD 29-yard line they suffered three of them and on a fourth down and one from the 19-yard line quarterback Kirk Meyer misconnected on a short pass to John Pezdirtz and USD took over on downs.

The possible 14-point turnaround came on the ensuing play as USD quarterback Chad Anderson connected on an 81-yard touchdown strike to Jimmie Venn and USD grabbed a lead in which they would never relinquish enroute to a 35-0 victory over the Wildcats.

Wagner was not overly impressed with the play of his Wildcats. "There is nothing positive about losing 35-0," Wagner said. "In our first two games of the season we have everything to gain and nothing to lose because we aren't supposed to win on paper but we hurt ourselves on Saturday. We had the ball inside the USD 30-yard line four times and we came away with no points."

Wayne State turned the ball over once via a fumble and twice through the air but the disappointment to Wagner stood in the way penalties as the Wildcats suffered 15 markers for a total of 121 yards. "We have to change our attitudes about losing," Wagner said.

"If we get beat there is no excuses. There was no reason why USD beat us by 35 points other than our own inconsistencies. We just could not move the ball on offense."

Wagner emphasized the fact that his squad has to strive for consistency in their offense. "Our defense played well at times with the exception of the big plays," Wagner said. "I was disappointed in our offensive consistency because we seemed to kill ourselves with penalties."

Wayne State netted a total of nine first downs in the contest compared to 15 for USD. The Wildcats rushed for 94 yards and passed for 138 for a total of 232. USD meanwhile rushed for 152 yards and passed for 252 for a total of 404.

USD led Wayne State 28-0 at the intermission and scored its last touchdown in the fourth quarter. Wayne State's leading rusher was Troy Jackson who gained 34 yards on 17 carries. Kurt Jensen picked up 29 yards on six carries while Gale Lawton gained 10 yards on five carries.

Kirk Meyer was 7-18 in the passing department for 88 yards and Gale Lawton was 2-6 with two interceptions for 19 yards. Troy Jackson also attempted a pass and completed it for 31 yards.

John Pezdirtz was the leading receiver with three receptions for 37 yards while Bill Blondin, Troy

Jackson and Troy Tiedtke all caught two passes each. Macha Shinhoster also caught a pass which was good for 24 yards.

Defensively the Wildcats were led by Bob Sterba's 11 tackles. Remar Walker had nine tackles and Randy Rouse had eight tackles. Bud Sachs and Chris Matzen each recorded six tackles. Randy Rouse had a quarterback sack and Bob Sterba, Joe Toomer and Mike Thorell notched interceptions.

"Winning is a learning process," Wagner said. "Every coach in our program has come from a winning program and we intend to turn this program into a winning program."

Allen captures Pender Tourney

For the third straight year the Alleh Eagles have captured the championship in the Pender Volleyball Tournament.

They did it this year by defeating Homer in the first round, conquering host Pender in the second round and winning the championship match against Oakland-Craig.

Allen won the Homer match by 15-8 and 15-9 margins. "I think we played well considering the inexperience of our kids," said Head Coach Gary Troth.

This was expected to be a year of rebuilding for Allen.

"We worked into the flow of the game and our passing was good. We missed only two serves," he added.

Top servers for Allen was Leslie Isom, 17-17 with three aces; Annetta Malcolm, 7-7; and Cindy Chase, 9-9 with two aces.

Stephanie Carlson was 30 of 32 with seven kills in the spiking department and Chase hit on 9 of 11 with one kill.

Leading in setting was Malcolm — 32 of 33 with 10 assists. Carlson recorded seven blocks in the contest.

Allen, in its second round game against Pender, won the first set 15-8 and then lost the second set by a close 15-13 score. The Eagles rallied back to beat Pender in the deciding set, 15-4.

"We were happy with this win. Pender seemed to have the best athletes of all the teams there. They looked liked they would be powerful offensively. I was happy to see the girls play as well as they did," Troth said.

Top hitters were Chase, 17 of 22 with five kills; Carlson, 17 of 19 with three kills; and Isom who was 12 of 134 with three kills.

Malcolm was 33 of 33 in setting with eight assists and Carla Stapleton was 21 of 21 with seven assists in the same department.

In serving, Isom was 16 of 19 with three aces; Malcolm, 11 of 14 with two aces and Chase, 11 of 12 serves with one ace.

Oakland-Craig, in the championship, downed Allen in the first set, 15-6. However, the Eagles rallied back to post 15-2 and 15-8 wins.

"Oakland had the height advantage. Our girls really covered the court well," Troth said.

"We passed well and hustled on the floor, keeping a lot of balls in play. We didn't make mistakes that hurt us," he added.

Leading setter was Malcolm, 28 of 29 with eight assists and Stapleton, 28 of 29 with seven assists.

Top hitters were Chase, 18 of 20 with six kills; Carlson, 18 of 22 with eight kills; and Denise Boyle, 6 of 9 with two kills.

Isom was 15 of 17 from the serving line with seven aces; Boyle, 11 of 14 with one ace; and Chase, 6 of 9 with three aces.

This Thursday night Allen plays Coleridge at Coleridge in varsity action. And during the upcoming weekend, the Eagles will be participating in the Stanton Volleyball Tournament.

Laurel opens season with victory

The Laurel Lady Bears have started off the volleyball season just how coach Carol Manganaro was hoping they would. In last Thursday's season opener at Randolph, Manganaro's team made short work of the opponent winning in straight sets, 15-4, 15-10.

The team was 45-48 from the serving line for a 94 percent serve success rate. Amy Newton, Amy Adkins, Shana Carstensen and Sherri McCorkindale were all 100 percent from the service line.

The team was 35-44 in the spiking department for an 80 percent success rate and a .257 spike efficiency percent. Spike efficiency is the number of kill spikes divided by the number spikes completed.

In the passing department Laurel was 85 percent successful. "I was pleased with the skill level of all the players," Manganaro said. "The offense needs work as far as transition goes but the team's experience brought them through the first game to victory."

The B team won 15-7, 15-0 as Wendy Carstensen was the top server as she had nine unanswered points in the second set to lead the Bears. The C team was defeated 4-11, 5-11.

On Tuesday night Laurel hosted Bloomfield in what was to be a highly competitive contest. Manganaro was right when she said it was going to be very competitive, but Laurel managed to pull out the three set victory, 15-11, 10-15, 15-12.

"We were up 10 to 5 in the second set and lost the next 10 points," Manganaro said. Laurels' serve percentage dropped below Manganaro's level of excellence as they were successful on 84 percent of their serves.

"We need to work harder on our serves," Manganaro said.

"Serving cost us the second set as we missed eight of our total of 11 missed serves on the night. Sherri McCorkindale was our best server at 91 percent."

The team had a total of 77 spikes on the night for an 89 percent success rate but only a .195 kill ratio. "Bloomfield did a great job of blocking our spikes," Manganaro said.

Laurel's passing game was great as the game saw many rally's which would go three or four spikes before a point or a side out would take place. Laurel will travel to Winside tonight, (Thursday).

Winside drops pair of volleyball matches

Winside volleyball coach Paul Giesselmann hit the nail on the head when he said that the first half of his schedule is against some of the finest competition in Northeast Nebraska.

Last Thursday his squad hosted traditionally strong Wakefield and although the first set went Wakefield's way with a 15-2 thumping, Giesselmann felt the game was closer than the score.

"I felt the first set was much closer than the score indicated," Giesselmann said. "There were some good rally's but we could not hold our serve." In the second set Giesselmann's crew made it interesting but eventually lost 16-14.

"We were serving with a 14-13 lead and we lost the set," Giesselmann said. "It's just a matter of experience because we haven't got a lot of girls with a lot of game experience."

Giesselmann though was proud of his kids effort especially by not giving up after losing the first set 15-2. "The storyline had to be serve percentage because we were well below 80 percent," Giesselmann said. Wakefield head coach Paul Eaton did not disagree. "We served right at 90 percent which was undoubtedly the deciding factor," Eaton said.

Wakefield was led in serving by Jessica Robins with a 9-9 outing, and Julie Greve with a 11-12 outing. Cathi Larson and Susan Nuernberger were each 9-10. Jessica Robins was the leading hitter with a 9-10 performance with three aces. Both Nuernberger and Larson were a combined 33-33 from the setting department.

Winside was led in serving by Jenny Jacobsen's 6-6 performance with three aces. Kelly Pitchler was 5-5 while Shannon Holdorf was 4-5.

Shannon Holdorf led the hitters with a 7-11 spiking performance with four aces while Jenny Jacobsen was 6-9 with four aces and Tina Hartmann was 6-7 with three aces. Patty Oberle was 3-3 with two aces and Jenni Topp was 5-10 with two aces.

Tina Hartmann was 18-20 in the setting department with eight assists while Kelly Pitchler was 19-22 with six assists. As a team Winside had five blocks.

Eaton played 11 girls on the varsity and noted that the Trojan passing game needs improvement. "We had a lot of new players who played well but we need to keep working together in order to get better," Eaton said.

Giesselmann was also glad to see such a good turnout at the game. "The crowd support was excellent," Giesselmann said. "And I think even though we ended up on the short end of the stick that our girls showed some confidence."

On Tuesday night Giesselmann's crew went head on into another tough opponent, Osmond. Winside lost in straight sets, 15-7, 17-15. "These girls are still gaining confidence even though they're losing," Giesselmann said.

Tina Hartmann led the servers with a 10-11 outing with five aces. Jenny Jacobsen was 6-6 with two aces and Kelly Pitchler was 7-9 with four aces. Jacobsen was 7-9 in the spiking department with six aces while Tina Hartmann was 4-6 with two aces. Patty Oberle and Jenni Topp were 3-3 each in spiking. Tina Hartmann was 17-18 in setting with five assists while Kelly Pitchler was 7-9 with three assists. Jenny Jacobsen had three blocks to lead the team.

CHERE REEG putts in on hole number one at the Wayne Country Club during Tuesday afternoon's dual with Columbus Lakeview. Reeg was the medalist with a 52 and she led Wayne to a five stroke victory over Lakeview, 241-246. Jessica Rothfuss tied for third with a 62 while Krista Remer tied for fifth with a 63. Lisa Casey fired a 64 to round out the scoring for Wayne who is now 1-1 on the season. Casey tied for seventh place.

Wayne State JV's defeat Worthington

The Wayne State junior varsity football team traveled to Worthington, MN, Sunday afternoon for a contest with the Worthington Junior College football team. Wayne State came away with a narrow victory, 8-7, the first Wayne State football victory of any kind since 1987.

The Wildcats played some great defense throughout the day and the special teams blocked a Worthington field goal attempt and they fielded all of the punts which pleased head junior varsity coach Tim Johnson.

Worthington grabbed the lead after they switched to the wishbone. "We didn't make the right adjustments after they switched their offense and they scored," Johnson said. "After that score though we stopped them the rest of the game."

During the third quarter Johnson noted that Worthington couldn't stop the toss by Wayne State. On a fourth and goal at the 1-yard line, quarterback Wade Luna pitched to Willie Tucker and the Battle Creek native sprinted into the endzone.

Luna then connected with Walthill native Dave Wingett for the 2-point conversion. Tucker, Dave Turnquist from Millard North and Florida native Danilo Lambo all rushed for over 50 yards apiece.

The Wayne State coaches only took 26 players to Worthington including one quarterback, one wide receiver, three running backs and one tight end. The extra running back played wide receiver and the Wildcats used their normal six offensive linemen.

Wildcat sports network to begin

WAYNE-A new sports network has begun operation this fall for Wayne State Athletics, according to Wayne State athletic director Pete Chapman.

The Wildcat Sports Network will originate Wayne State sporting events during the 1989-90 athletic season. The broadcasts will then be made available on a feed basis to area radio stations.

Mark Ahmann will provide the play-by-play coverage for the Wildcat Sports Network with Lyndon Wieseman handling the color commentary.

"The concept behind beginning the sports network is very basic," Chapman said. "We believe our athletic events are of interest to people in the the Northeast Nebraska area. A majority of our athletes are from this area and the local communities are interested in how those athletes are performing."

"In addition, our schedules this year feature some very good local competition and some games which generate some interest. Our opening football game against South Dakota is a good example.

But we also have an international basketball game at home and of course our Kearney State games always attract a lot of interest.

"It's our hope that we can provide entertainment to the Northeast Nebraska region as well as keep the people Wayne State College serves more up-to-date on Wildcat athletics through the Wildcat Sports Network," Chapman added.

The Wildcat Sports Network will broadcast all 11 football games this fall and selected home and away basketball games. Any radio station can take the feed for a selected game.

For more information on the Wildcat Sports Network, contact Lyndon Wieseman at 402-375-4050, ext. 520.

The GOLDEN YEARS

"I don't want to get addicted to TV, and I'm not a shuffleboard type." That's how Odilon Long, at age 86, explained why he was looking for a new challenge after setting a Peace Corps record, serving longer than any other volunteer. He volunteered for the corps in 1967, after the Midwestern company for which he had worked 41 years "kicked me out when I turned 65." He shared his construction know-how in four African countries, Haiti and Costa Rica, advising on building schools, roads and bridges.

Who is more interested or better qualified than a senior citizen to compile the history of the local community? More towns and other small municipalities are appointing seniors as official historians. In Bedford, New York, the town board saluted Donald Marshall on his 90th birthday for 25 years of service as town historian. During that time he edited nine volumes of historical records and served as a trustee for historic property.

What's ahead for Congress? Curley

As the House of Representatives resumes its work following the August recess, we must confront some major issues and a significant amount of legislation. Before Oct. 1, action must be taken on conference reports on all 13 of the regular appropriations bills. While the House has passed all 13 of those bills, the Senate must now pass 10 and the process of ironing out differences between House and Senate versions must be completed.

There is likely to be action on Section 89 of the IRS Code, which establishes unexpectedly cumbersome rules related to employee benefit plans, on the Medicare Catastrophic provisions, on child care and on Medicaid reform. In addition, there will be hearings on implementation of Farmer Mac as it relates to agricultural real estate and to rural housing. And, the next item on the agenda of the House Banking Committee, on which I serve, is housing. I expect that we will look at the rural housing situation, and certainly we will take under consideration some provisions related to the HUD scandal.

Some hearings already have been held in preparation for the 1990 Farm Bill, and more will be held during the rest of the year. We also will see a bill addressing the scandals in the Chicago Board of Trade.

Action On Campaign Finance Reform

I would like to see campaign finance reform in place for the 1990 elections and an cosponsoring a series of bills that would reform House and Senate election campaigns. My campaign finance reform package includes bills to ban honoraria, limit franked mail, PAC contributions and incumbent fundraising. Also, I would require significant additional disclosure of funding sources and campaign spending.

Keeping In Touch

By Cong. Doug Bereuter

While I believe that the package of bills I support is an improvement over the Administration's proposal, that proposal also would reduce the power of special economic interests. It addresses PAC contributions, soft money, huge campaign surpluses and gerymandering. It too would put additional controls on franked mailings by House and Senate members.

Reauthorize the Clean Air Act

Many cities are still faced with air quality standards dangerously out of compliance with the Clean Air Act, which must be reauthorized by Congress this year. And, acid rain and groundwater pollution pose an ever greater threat to the public well-being and must be addressed now.

I applaud the President's initiative in proposing legislation dealing with acid rain, ozone and airborne toxins. It is time for comprehensive legislation and Administration's proposals are a step in the right direction. For the first time in years it appears that Congress will take action on clean air and may even improve on the Administration's proposals.

flat tires in one day. "During the whole trip I had up to 12 flat tires. I also went through three sprockets and two chains. I was often visiting the bicycle mechanic," Curley said.

At times the hills seemed endless.

"You think that this area of Nebraska is hilly. Man, there are some real bummers particularly in the states of Wisconsin, Ohio and Pennsylvania," Curley said.

Six days a week the bicycle riders journeyed across America. Sometimes they stayed at high schools. Sometimes they pitched tents and stayed at KOA Campgrounds. On the seventh day they caught up on their rest — or washed clothes.

MOST of the 5200 or more miles were covered on back roads. One incident which sparked Curley's distaste for pranksters was when a passing motorist opened a door and tried to knock down one of the bicycle riders. "That really burned me."

Overall, Curley said people in the communities where the coast to coast riders passed through were cordial. "They were never against us. We would stop and ask them for water and they let us fill our water bottles. They provided us with restroom facilities, too," Curley mentioned.

Curley is a student at Wayne State College. He has an 18-speed lightweight bicycle that he used in his 5200 mile jaunt across America. Previously, he participated in the annual Bike Ride Across Nebraska (BRAN). He said he would like to embark on the coast to coast journey again.

"I know that I didn't take it slow enough to enjoy all of the scenery," he said.

But he did see plenty of beauty displayed throughout the nation.

"It was neat," he said.

Dry farming introduced in West

"Dry Farming — The Hope of the West" was the title of an article which attracted considerable attention in Nebraska in 1906. The vagaries of rainfall on the Plains had challenged farmers since the earliest days of settlement — and still do. At the turn of the century methods for "growing more with less" (rain) were eagerly sought.

The Nebraska State Journal reported, "If the claims which John L. Cowan, the author, makes for the Campbell system of farming in countries with an annual rainfall of as little as 10 inches can be substantiated, the hope of the west amounts to its salvation."

Mr. Cowan finds three hundred million acres of unirrigable lands in the United States owned by the government, which according to commonly accepted ideas are fit only for grazing purposes. Much more of the same sort is owned by railroads, the state governments and individuals. Most of this he considers susceptible of cultivation by 'dry farming' methods with a crop result not less valuable than if the land were irrigated. The theory is that the 10 inches or more of annual rainfall which occurs in these lands can be so conserved as to be available for use entirely in plant production by a system of tillage which prevents the evaporation or surface drainage of any of the moisture that falls.

"This is not new to the west. The value of surface cultivation following all rains and the use of the sub-surface packer are pretty well understood, though, as the author says, the farmers have been too slow to take advantage of it.

The author claims that wheat farmers using the Campbell system have never reaped less than 35 bushels of wheat to the acre, and that failures in any crop adapted to such treatment have been unknown.

"His picture is rather brighter than western people are likely to think justifiable. He does not take into account that the years of experiment with the method have been a cycle of wet years. Caution in expecting too much from such promises is necessary because of the tendency to look for agricultural miracles." "Yet it is true, as Mr. Cowan says, that scientific farming in the regions of slight rainfall will undoubtedly add immensely to the agricultural wealth of the country. It will be done, however, only by

School bus guidelines need enforcing

Each year millions of children use school buses as transportation to and from school. "Traveling by school buses is many times safer than automobile travel, but school bus safety can and should be improved," said Joan Meier, Safety Coordinator, AAA Nebraska.

Motorists and children alike need to become better informed about school bus laws and safety rules. State law requires motorists approaching a school bus from any direction to stop if the bus is displaying red stop lights and the stop arm is extended. The exception is when you are approaching a school bus in the opposite direction on a roadway that is divided by a median. The overhead amber lights warn you that the bus is about to stop and load or unload children.

The majority of children involved in student transportation accidents are outside, not inside the bus. This tragedy usually occurs when a child crosses or stands in the "danger zone" around the vehicle. The danger zone is a 10-foot area extending all the way around the bus. "The most dangerous areas in the danger zone are the front of the bus and the back right side of the bus, it is at these areas that a bus driver's vision may be obstructed," Meier stated.

AAA Nebraska suggests that parents teach their children the following safe school bus riding tips:

- Arrive at the bus stop at least 5 minutes early.
- Wait for your school bus in a safe place — 20 feet off the roadway.
- Enter the bus in single file, and take your seat.

- Obey the school bus patrol or the bus driver.
- Remain seated while the bus is in motion.
- Keep your head and arms inside the bus at all times.
- The bus aisles must be kept clear at all times.
- Talk quietly with your friends on the bus.
- When exiting the bus try to stay where the bus driver can see you.
- ALWAYS stay out of the school bus danger zone.

he acted on the advice of his legal representative.

Conway said at the time of the Nelson challenge that he would continue serving as state legislator if it was determined that there would be a conflict of interest, even if it meant giving up his teaching position.

Spire also said he regretted filing the suit, adding that he thought very highly of Senator Conway.

A big haul

JEREMY NELSON and his father, Ray, found their fishing luck was working Labor Day at Ike's Lake, each catching some huge seven pound or more catfish. Although the water level at Ike's is down, that didn't stop the fish from biting. What would have been the fourth large fish got away when it broke Jeremy's eight-pound fishing line. Many people have commented that the water level at Ike's is the lowest they have ever seen.

As one who has supported the new Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act as an important advance in the protection of the health of seniors, I also feel that the way the law is financed may be less than fair, and should be considered for revision.

Senator Alfonso D'Amato (R-New York) provided the following information to explain how the premiums are assessed:

One third of the cost of this new program is supported by a monthly premium paid by all Medicare participants (except those on Medicaid).

The flat premium is about $4 monthly for 1989, rising to some $10 by 1993.

The other two-thirds of the costs will be supported by a "supplemental" premium paid by more than 85 percent of Medicare recipients whose federal income tax levels are above $17,285 for single returns; $17,341 for joint returns.

Check the following to find your income levels for the supplemental premium to be paid annually under the Medicare Catastrophic Act: For Single Returns: Income of $3,468 - Premium: $0; Income of $12,455 - Premium: 0; Income of $17,285 - Premium: $78; Income of $22,112 - Premium: $198; Income of $27,288 - Premium: $307; Income of $32,607 - Premium: $371; Income of $37,195 - Premium: $678; Income of $43,286 - Premium: $800. BULLETIN BOARD: If you have had your pocket picked, or your purse taken, you may receive a call from someone who says they've found your property and would like to return it to you in person. These are not generous souls happy to do you a favor; more likely, they're the people who have either taken your things or are working with the crooks. The caller is trying to make you delay reporting the theft of your credit cards, driver's license, bank books, etc., for as long as possible. This gives the crooks the added time to use them to charge purchases, or make withdrawals from your accounts. Your driver's license - with their photo carefully replacing yours - is used as identification if necessary.

Doctors caution older folks not to take over-the-counter diet aids without medical supervision. Apparently, some of these products containing PPA (phenylpropanolamine) which is also found in several allergy and cold remedies, can cause an increase in blood pressure and increase the risk of stroke.

Women invited to attend Enriched Living workshop

A workshop for women designed to help them live a life rich with meaning and purpose will be held Saturday, Sept. 23 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Fort Street Christian Church, 99th & Fort Sts., in Omaha.

The workshop, entitled "Enriched Living," is Biblically oriented and will be taught by Verna Birkey.

Birkey has taught over 600 Enriched Living classes all over the United States, Canada and overseas. Headquarters for Enriched Living is near Seattle, Wash.

ENRICHED LIVING grew out of a strong conviction that God can fulfill a woman's needs, that women will be content and satisfied as they know and live according to God's specific design, and that mothers can understand and meet the real needs of their children.

The workshop seeks to carefully define practical steps women can take to create harmony in the home, accept others, develop a sense of self-worth, help others develop a sense of self-worth, keep the lines of communication open, and to rest in God's goodness and love.

The workshop is open to women of all walks of life, including single, married, mothers, widows, older, younger, homemakers, professional women and students.

Persons who would like additional information on registration and fees are asked to call (402) 493-3371.

In training program

Reminiscence rekindled

Picture a child sitting on the knee of an elderly, chair-ridden grandparent. The conversation is on ordinary things until one of the child's questions brightens the elder's tired eyes: "What was it like when you went to school grandpa?"

Immediately sagging eyes sparkle and the words flow easily. Aches and pains disappear as grandpa tells his grandson about the one room schoolhouse he attended on horseback many years ago.

Reminiscing, or the handing down of family history from one generation to another, has been pushed aside in today's hectic world, says Leon Rottmann, human development specialist at the University of Nebraska.

But the reminiscing is an integral part of establishing a purpose to someone's past, Rottmann said. It builds self-esteem and enhances self-image, he said.

The lack of such a vital medicine is the purpose of a new program called "Reminiscence," an American Association of Retired Persons outreach program to begin soon in Nebraska.

ROTTMANN said too many older individuals have been shut out of society, fallen through the cracks from a handicap, poverty or sheer neglect. Even when visitations are made to homebound or institutionalized persons, communication may be superficial and empty, Rottmann said.

Reminiscence volunteers are trained to stimulate conversation, allowing the older person to share their life experiences, Rottmann said. It's a positive interaction between both participants and facilitates a "real exchange instead of empty words," he said.

In Nebraska, area reminiscence training will be sponsored through University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension at the Norfolk Public Library, Sept. 20-21.

Volunteers must attend a nine-hour training program and agree to visit one person for a minimum of six months. The program is limited to 20 volunteers at each site. Those interested in participating should contact their local extension offices for more details.

Chamber sponsors Institute

Wayne will host one of two "Mini-Institutes" for volunteer leaders of small chamber of-commerce and commercial clubs in eastern Nebraska on Wednesday, Sept. 27. Registration deadline is Sept. 20. The training will also be presented on Tuesday, Sept. 26, at Peru State College.

The one-day classes will provide basic information on how to build an active, effective chamber of commerce in small communities.

Lt. Gov. Bill Nichol will speak at the sessions at Wayne State, Nebraska. Kay Orr will be the featured luncheon speaker at the Mini-Institute in Peru.

Dick Baily, vice president for executive development services of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives, will discuss community self-image, organization, financing and setting priorities. Other speakers include Nebraska chamber of commerce executives and economic development experts.

TOPICS INCLUDE the role of the chamber in the community, organizing and financing your chamber, recruiting members, conducting successful meetings, retail promotions and community self-image.

The Mini-Institute concept was initiated by Peoples Natural Gas. Other sponsors are the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce Executives, the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Nebraska Department of Economic Development and Wayne State and Peru State Colleges.

"We hope this will be the first of a series of Mini-Institutes across the state," said Jeff Jorgensen, economic development director for Peoples. "Three classes offer a rare opportunity for volunteer leaders to share information and form a network to improve their effectiveness."

The cost of the Mini-Institute is $10 if registration is received by Sept. 20 and $15 after the deadline. The fee includes lunch and all materials.

For more information about the program, call Wayne State College at 800/228-9972, ext. 200, or Peru State College, 800/742-4412.

For Your Information

Question: 1. Are any city funds or certificates of deposits maintained in banks outside of the city of Wayne? 2. What is the City required to maintain as a minimum reserve for its bonded indebtedness in percent, and how does that equate in dollars?

Answer:

A. 1. The city of Wayne invests its money in the safest instruments available for deposit. Currently, the city of Wayne has money invested in United States Treasury Notes, United States Treasury Bills, Federal Home Loan Bank Bonds, and in several banks located outside the city of Wayne.

Peat Marwick Main & Company, the city of Wayne's auditors, recommended, in 1985, that other investment alternatives be investigated by the city, which would provide the city with a better rate of return, maintain higher security, and diversify the investment portfolio to better protect the public funds that were available for investment by the city of Wayne.

2. The city of Wayne maintains approximately $300,000 in reserves for its current bonded indebtedness. Those reserves are established by bond ordinance and are set at the time the bonds are sold as a security to the bondholders. At the present time, the reserve equates to approximately 7 percent of the total bonded indebtedness of the city.

Wayne area club promotes pheasants

A new conservation organization concerned with local pheasant populations met Aug. 10 in Wayne to form a Pheasants Forever chapter in the Wayne County area.

The Logan Valley Chapter of Pheasants Forever is a group of citizens interested in renovating old habitat and developing new habitat in the area.

The National Pheasants Forever organization is a nonprofit tax-exempt conservation organization formed in 1982 in response to the continuing decline of ringneck pheasants. Throughout the pheasant's range in the USA, the organization has 300 chapters. These members are local hunters, businessmen, landowners and others who are concerned about the pheasant's decline.

The lifeblood of Pheasants Forever is the county chapter. An estimated $2 million will be raised in the fiscal year by county chapters. Such funds are raised within the county and spent within the county. With the exception of membership dues, the money raised at annual banquets remains at the local level for habitat work — including such projects as establishment of woody cover, nesting cover, food plots adjacent to key wintering areas and sorghum wintering areas.

In total more than 250,000 acres were completed in the spring of 1989.

Nebraska currently has 19 chapters working to provide the needs of Nebraska pheasants. Membership dues for Pheasants Forever are used to provide administrative, liability and merchandising benefits to chapters; encourage state government programs to assist both the pheasant and the chapters within the state; and propose, support and sponsor conservation legislation benefiting the ringneck at both the federal and state levels.

Ken Solomon, area field representative for Pheasants Forever, was at the Aug. 10 meeting and presented an update of national and chapter activities.

The next meeting will take place at the Black Knight on Monday, Sept. 11, 7 p.m. All those with an interest in this project are welcome to attend. For more information about Pheasants Forever, contact Lonnie Matthes at 375-2355 or 375-3195.

Childhood Fever

In medical terms fever is usually defined as an oral temperature reading above 100 degrees F, a rectal temperature greater than 101 F, or an axillary (under the arm) temperature greater than 98.6 F. Fever may indicate the presence of infection, dehydration, or tissue damage.

Fever in small child may cause the child to become listless, lethargic, or cranky. Physicians may want to examine a child with fever-if:

- oral temperature ranges from 100 to 102 F for more than 24 hours.
- temperature reaches 104 F and does not respond to fever-reducing medicines.
- the child with fever is four months of age or younger, or
- there are other symptoms, such as a sore throat, stiff neck, or extreme lethargy.

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

Sept. 1 marked the 50th anniversary of the invasion of Poland by German troops, the beginning of World War II.

I've been reading the newspaper articles this weekend and searching my memory about those years.

Of course, the U.S. was not involved originally. Not until the awful Dec. 7 day of Pearl Harbor. I was very young and cannot actually recall either event.

I can barely remember the ration books. Sugar was scarce and housewives traded recipes that used other sweeteners.

Dad met some wealthy men from Omaha who would come to hunt. They would bring gifts of sugar.

I remember, as a school girl, picking milk-weed pods that were used to make parachutes. I have no idea how they were used, but we gathered sacks full.

When you went to a movie in the early 40's, you always saw the latest news release. We didn't have TV's.

I can remember scenes of Nazi soldiers goose-stepping in parades and raising their right arms in a "Heil, Hitler," to a strange little man with a strange little mustache.

Once, our family saw a movie about some of the war atrocities and my father commented as we left the theater, "We may have relatives in the German army." I could not fathom that.

I ALSO remember that my father had a tremendous admiration for two men named Dwight Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur.

I remember names of battles: Iwo Jima, Midway, Bataan. And there was a mental image of Japs committing hari-kari in planes marked with round red balls, signifying the rising sun.

I think my memories of actual war-time scenes have become intertwined with those from "South Pacific" and "Hogan's Heros."

When we were doing the section from "South Pacific" in the musical last weekend, I was amazed at how many people had never seen the movie or the play.

I remember it was on Broadway for a very long time; and Mitzi Gaynor, as Nurse Nellie, sang "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair" every day, twice on matinees and actually washed her hair on stage.

Then the movie came out, in about 1958 and I drove way across Lincoln, to Havelock, to see it.

I've seen the University players, Wayne Community Theatre, Norfolk High and Broken Bow High School, do it since.

When I put on that awful wig for Bloody Mary last Saturday, one of the younger gals said, "Do you have to wear that wig?" I said, "Hon, I've seen Bloody Mary with her hair on top of her head, secured with a bone and her front teeth blacked out." She was ugly!

I'm sorry we didn't do "There is Nothing Like a Dame," a great song, or "I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy."

ANYWAY, MY most vivid memory of World War II was Armistice Day. My mother was ironing in our farm house at Waco, and the news was announced over our radio. She laughed and cried and danced around, so I figured it was good news.

Then the news scenes were of Stalin, Churchill and Truman at Potsdam. I just looked that up in my encyclopedia, and there they sit, deciding the fate of Germany. Little did we know what was really happening there.

In the movie, Patton, we find that he was upset with the concessions to Stalin. He recognized what he was doing.

I agree with the Poles who are carrying signs that say "no more war." I hope the new head of state and Solidarity can achieve that there. I pray we all can achieve it everywhere.

Business Notes

A dance school in Wayne, called "Tights, Taps and Tutus", will begin soon. Instructor Sue Scott of Wayne says that class openings are available for pre-school through grade 12.

The school will feature ballet, tap, tumbling and jazz dancing. For enrollment information, call Scott at 375-1626.

The approximate registration date is Tuesday, Sept. 12 with the first class scheduled for Monday, Sept. 18.

Voice of Democracy participants sought

WAYNE-The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary are again sponsoring the VFW Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program, according to Chairman Eddie Baier of Post 5291.

Baier said the annual broadcast scriptwriting program provides a variety of benefits for participating students. In addition to awards and scholarships, Baier said the program gives students increased self-confidence and poise, experience in communicating with others and valuable training in self expression. For the state winners, there is also the broadening experience of a five-day tour of Washington, D. C.

Participants are required to write and then tape-record a three to five-minute broadcast script expressing their views on "Why I Am Proud of America." From among the state winners, nine national winners are chosen to receive a total of $50,000 in scholarships.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program is that by thinking, writing and speaking up for their country, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation and pride in America," said Baier.

Students who would like additional information about the program are asked to contact Mr. or Mrs. Eddie Baier at 375-1662.

Cooperative program set

Five eastern Nebraska state and community colleges have announced an effort to improve cooperative programs among themselves at a conference last Thursday in Nebraska City.

Peru and Wayne State Colleges, along with Metropolitan, Northeast and Southeast Community Colleges, are involved in the program. The specifics of the program will be developed through an ongoing series of meetings between the institutions.

Several cooperative programs are already in place among some of the institutions. For example, Wayne State and Northeast Community College have such programs and both Metropolitan and Southeast Community Colleges have agreements with Peru State College.

Typically, the four-year state college will offer junior and senior level classes leading to a bachelor's degree on the campus of the community college.

A reverse "2 + 2" program is also possible.

For example, Northeast Community College offers the first two years of a criminal justice program on the Wayne State campus, and WSC offers the upper division courses. Bob Cox, NECC president, reports 104 criminal justice majors at WSC and over 30 majors at NECC.

The new cooperative effort calls for regular meetings between the five participating institutions. Every effort will be made to clarify role and mission questions and eliminate programs and courses which would be duplicative.

Another key element of the agreement is sharing library resources, largely through library automation linkages. As WSC and NECC libraries become automated, they would join the system, according to current plans.

Professional development of faculty and administrative staff is seen as another important element of the agreement. For example, state college representatives are planning to attend an upcoming Council of North Central Community Junior Colleges conference in mid-September.

This conference will involve professionals from 19 states, and should allow the state college officials in attendance to better understand community colleges.

Attending the Thursday evening conference in Nebraska City were presidents Dr. Jerry Gallentine of Peru State, Dr. Donald Mash of Wayne State, Dr. J. Richard Gilliland of Metropolitan and Dr. Bob Eicher of Southeast. Dr. Bob Cox of Northeast was unable to attend.
