Conference focuses on rural issues

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

Nearly 300 people attended the Cooperative Rural Development Conference last Thursday on the Wayne State College campus.

The conference focused on community and economic development issues and opportunities facing rural communities. Political, business, educational, community leaders and citizens shared information, ideas and experiences for community improvement during the one day event.

Northeast Nebraska Rural Development Group sponsored the conference. This group is an advisory body for one of five rural development demonstration projects funded by the Nebraska Department of Labor, Job Training of Greater Nebraska and the Greater Nebraska Private Industry Council.

Communities participating in the Northeast Nebraska Rural Development Project are Laurel, Wakefield, Coleridge, Madison, Oakland, Osmond, Plainview and Randolph.

A public hearing before the Nebraska Legislature's Rural Revitalization Committee, headed by Senator George Coordsen, took place following the conference as representatives from six communities testified about the development project.

The first workshops in the conference dealt concerned the state of the rural economy; action and strategic planning; business improvement and employee training; and rural health care.

AMONG THOSE on the panel discussing rural health care were Lowell Johnson from the city of Wakefield, Tim Garvin and Jeryl Nelson, Wayne State College, were among those who addressed issues on business improvements and employee training.

The noon session featured a presentation by Charles "Mike" Harper, chief executive officer of Con Agra, Inc.

In the afternoon sessions, Pam Bergmann of Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency and L.J. Mallatt of Laurel were among the panel discussing rural housing development and financing. Allen O'Donnell of Wayne and Rod Patent with the cooperative extension service in Wayne were involved in the panel presentation of leadership development.

One of the panel presentations which drew high attendance was the "recruiting and keeping business" workshop. Among those speaking were Dwayne Smith of the Loup Public Power District, Columbus; Linda Smith, executive vice president of Wayne Industries; and Gary Targoff with the Nebraska Department of Economic Development.

"Industry recruitment begins at home," said Dwayne Smith. "You should be prepared to take advantage of the opportunity when it happens to your community."

"You need to be organized. You should have a committee that must represent the entire community," he said.

THESE committee representatives could be government leaders, business representatives and other citizens interested in attracting industry for the good of the community. "Be prepared as a committee so you can act when the opportunity presents itself."

"For recruitment, start at home. If you want to go beyond that, then go to a growth center [larger community] in the area and make some personal calls. If you want to go nationally, then get together with the Nebraska Department of Economic Development," he mentioned.

Linda Smith said Wayne representatives have decided to target in the interest of area business and industries. The representatives visited with the businesses or industries, asking them about their suppliers or what percentage of supplies they use in their operations. Efforts are made to recruit industries that help the local businesses or industries.

Wayne currently has a low unemployment rate. Because of this, the community needs to keep the people in the community.

Linda Smith said a random interview, mostly with Wayne State College graduates, was recently conducted and it was found that of those interviewed, over 50 percent of the people living elsewhere said they would not have moved from the area if jobs were available. Twenty-eight percent said they would move back to the area if jobs would be come available.

SHE SAID retention of present business and industry, large or small, is also important. "We visit them, give them recognition and work with them, trying to see their needs. Don't ever forget them. Make them feel they are an important part of the community." And lastly, Smith said people in the community are the community's best assets.

Targoff repeated Smith's words about local business and industry. "Don't ignore existing business and industry. They are a source of strength for you. Unfortunately, we tend to ignore until it is then too late and they close their doors or are recruited away by another community," he said.

Targoff said rural communities should take a look at market areas. "The government market is out there," he said. "They purchase billions of dollars in supplies each year."

He said the government purchased supplies worth nearly $254 million in Nebraska last year. For instance, there is a small welding shop in the state that makes reinforced fenders for army jeeps and a Nebraska supplier sells cheesecake to Offutt Air Force Base.

Searching for international markets is another option, he said. "The situation is very ripe for expansion in exporting," he said. "Countries are showing an interest in purchasing goods in the United States."

The United States' biggest trading partner has been Canada, he said.

TARGOFF SAID the Nebraska Department of Economic Development has a Business Assistance Center established. "This is a one stop access to state government. They can help you track down the information you need."

The telephone number for the center is 1-800-426-6505.

Rob Stuber of Wayne, co-owner of Restful Knights, also participated in a panel discussion on the topic of Entrepreneur Experiences.

State Senator George Coordsen of Hebron, chairman of the Rural Revitalization Committee, was impressed with the attendance numbers of the Wayne State conference. Those who attended or participated as panel speakers in the conference represented a broad spectrum of

Wakefield gears up for Pumpkin Days

Wakefield Pumpkin Days will be celebrated Sept. 22 and 23 of this year. The theme of this year's event is "Pumpkins Under The Big Top."

It all begins with a pork feed Friday night between 5-8 p.m. in the Wakefield Park, served up by the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers. The price is $1.75 a plate with drink extra.

At that same time entries will be accepted for the arts and crafts show at the Wakefield Legion Hall. Drawings, paintings, photography, needlework, sculpture, flower arranging and other crafts are welcome. Items with pumpkin theme will be judged.

Main Street will be filled with merchandise on Friday as a variety of goods and services will be offered for sale in an Open-Air Market. The market place will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Up to 30 tables are expected and will offer everything from produce, crafts, antiques, white elephants, baked goods and commercial products by individuals and organizations.

That Friday night will be a high school football game as the Wakefield Trojans battle powerful Norfolk Catholic. Then from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Friday evening there will be a free square dance, with Dena Dederman calling, at the Wakefield School Mini Gym.

SATURDAY'S events kick off early with a Fun Run at 8 a.m.

There will be 10K and 4K runs in men and women divisions in various age groups. Registration deadline is Sept. 16 with an entry fee of $8 required. To register, send the entry fee, name, address, phone number, age and T-shirt size to Pumpkin Days Fun Fun, Attn: Gregg

Cruikshank, Wakefield, NE 68784 or call 287-2145. The fee includes a T-shirt and awards to be presented to the runners.

From 8 to 9 a.m. on Saturday, pumpkin entries will be accepted at the basketball court in the park. Categories include carved, decorated and heaviest. There are four divisions — age four through adult. One person may enter all categories. Judged pumpkins will be on display from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The pumpkin bakeoff entries will also be accepted from 8 to 9 a.m. in the enclosed shelterhouse at the park. Categories will include pies, cakes, bars/cookies (plate of four) and miscellaneous. Decorated cakes should use the pumpkin theme "Pumpkins under the Big Top."

The arts, crafts and quilt show will take place from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. From 8 a.m. to noon there will be a bake sale at the Legion Hall by the American Legion Auxiliary.

A KIDS PARADE will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, featuring the Wakefield Junior High Band. The parade route will be through Main Street.

All children up to grade six are eligible to compete for the contest and all entries can be either push, pedal, pull or walk (no motorized entries). All pumpkin related entries will be judged. Entry deadline for this is Sept. 16. Contact: Less Bebee or Kaye Hillsinger for more information.

At 11 a.m. Saturday will be a kiddie tractor pull for ages 3-8 at the tennis court. The event is state

Slide at Centennial

ONE OF THE NEWEST FIXTURES at Centennial Park in the Sunnyview Subdivision is this slide which was moved from Bressler Park and modified. It is built into a hill so that the ladder isn't as steep. The slide length remains the same. Tires are on both sides of the slide. Along the tires are rocks which will be later covered with shrubs or bushes.

WSC hosting annual Band Day

Approximately 1,300 students representing 25 junior high and high school bands will be showcased as Wayne State College hosts Band Day on Saturday, Sept. 16.

In addition to the 10:30 a.m. parade through downtown Wayne, the bands will also perform during halftime of the Wayne State-Minnesota Morris football game. Kick-off time is 1:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to the top band in five categories. A $200 scholarship will accompany the trophy and will be given to a student who plans to attend Wayne State and participate in the band program, according to Gary Davis, director of bands at Wayne State. Scholarship money is provided by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne State College.

PARTICIPATING schools (and their director) are as follows:

Wayne-Carroll Middle School (Keith Kopperud); Wisner-Pilger Junior High School (Teresa Schnoor); Wayne-Carroll Public Schools (Brad Weber); Humphrey Public Schools (Amanda Bair); Walthill Public Schools (Jack Walte); Hartington Public Schools (Evan Lee); Bancroft-Rosalie Public Schools (Ken Headlee); Clarkson Public Schools (Deb Faltys); Beemer Public Schools (Ray Warden); Butte Public Schools (Dale Thompson); Wausa Public Schools (Tim Gansbom); Winside

Public Schools (Curt Jeffries); Pender Public Schools (Ron Smith); Laurel-Concord Public Schools (Martin Frye); Randolph Senior High School (Bradley J. Stueve); Woodbury Central High School (Dianna Van Ness); Emerson-Hubbard Public Schools (Daryl Jessen); Wakefield Public Schools (Denise Whipple); Neligh-Oakdale Public Schools (J. Samuel Zitek); Homer Public Schools (Lois Harris); Columbus Scotus High School (Steve Niles); Grand Island Northwest High School (Matt Shephard); Logan View Senior High School (Bruce Bartels); West Point Public Schools (Larry Furstenu); and Wayne State College (Gary Davis).

Cooperative program set

Five eastern Nebraska state and community colleges have announced an effort to improve cooperative programs among themselves at a conference last Thursday in Nebraska City.

Peru and Wayne State Colleges, along with Metropolitan, Northeast and Southeast Community Colleges, are involved in the program. The specifics of the program will be developed through an ongoing series of meetings between the institutions.

Several cooperative programs are already in place among some of the institutions. For example, Wayne State and Northeast Community College have such programs and both Metropolitan and Southeast Community Colleges have agreements with Peru State College.

Typically, the four-year state college will offer junior and senior level classes leading to a bachelor's degree on the campus of the community college.

A reverse "2 + 2" program is also possible.

For example, Northeast Community College offers the first two years of a criminal justice program on the Wayne State campus, and WSC offers the upper division courses. Bob Cox, NECC president, reports 104 criminal justice majors at WSC and over 30 majors at NECC.

The new cooperative effort calls for regular meetings between the five participating institutions. Every effort will be made to clarify role and mission questions and eliminate programs and courses which would be duplicative.

Another key element of the agreement is sharing library resources, largely through library automation linkages. As WSC and NECC libraries become automated, they would join the system, according to current plans.

Professional development of faculty and administrative staff is seen as another important element of the agreement. For example, state college representatives are planning to attend an upcoming Council of North Central Community Junior Colleges conference in mid-September.

This conference will involve professionals from 19 states, and should allow the state college officials in attendance to better understand community colleges.

Attending the Thursday evening conference in Nebraska City were presidents Dr. Jerry Gallentine of Peru State, Dr. Donald Mash of Wayne State, Dr. J. Richard Gilliland of Metropolitan and Dr. Bob Eicher of Southeast. Dr. Bob Cox of Northeast was unable to attend.

Wakefield gears up for Pumpkin Days

Wakefield Pumpkin Days will be celebrated Sept. 22 and 23 of this year. The theme of this year's event is "Pumpkins Under The Big Top".

It all begins with a pork feed Friday night between 5-8 p.m. in the Wakefield Park, served up by the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers. The price is $1.75 a plate with drink extra.

At that same time entries will be accepted for the arts and crafts show at the Wakefield Legion Hall. Drawings, paintings, photography, needlework, sculpture, flower arranging and other crafts are welcome. Items with pumpkin theme will be judged.

Main Street will be filled with merchandise on Friday as a variety of goods and services will be offered for sale in an Open-Air Market. The market place will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Up to 30 tables are expected and will offer everything from produce, crafts, antiques, white elephants, baked goods and commercial products by individuals and organizations.

That Friday night will be a high school football game as the Wakefield Trojans battle powerful Norfolk Catholic. Then from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Friday evening there will be a free square dance, with Dena Dederman calling, at the Wakefield School Mini Gym.

SATURDAY'S events kick off early with a Fun Run at 8 a.m.

There will be 10K and 4K runs in men and women divisions in various age groups. Registration deadline is Sept. 16 with an entry fee of $8 required. To register, send the entry fee, name, address, phone number, age and T-shirt size to Pumpkin Days Fun Fun, Attn: Gregg

Cruickshank, Wakefield, NE 68784 or call 287-2145. The fee includes a T-shirt and awards to be presented to the runners.

From 8 to 9 a.m. on Saturday, pumpkin entries will be accepted at the basketball court in the park. Categories include carved, decorated and heaviest. There are four divisions — age four through adult. One person may enter all categories. Judged pumpkins will be on display from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The pumpkin bakeoff entries will also be accepted from 8 to 9 a.m. in the enclosed shelterhouse at the park. Categories will include pies, cakes, bars/cookies (plate of four) and miscellaneous. Decorated cakes should use the pumpkin theme "Pumpkins under the Big Top."

The arts, crafts and quilt show will take place from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. From 8 a.m. to noon there will be a bake sale at the Legion Hall by the American Legion Auxillary.

A KIDS PARADE will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, featuring the Wakefield Junior High Band. The parade route will be through Main Street.

All children up to grade six are eligible to compete for the contest and all entries can be either push, pedal, pull or walk (no motorized entries). All pumpkin related entries will be judged. Entry deadline for this is Sept. 16. Contact Less Bebee or Kaye Hillsinger for more information.

At 11 a.m. Saturday will be a kiddie tractor pull for ages 3-8 at the tennis court. The event is state

Slide at Centennial

ONE OF THE NEWEST FIXTURES at Centennial Park in the Sunnyview Subdivision is this slide which was moved from Bressler Park and modified. It is built into a hill so that the ladder isn't as steep. The slide length remains the same. Tires are on both sides of the slide. Along the tires are rocks which will be later covered with shrubs or bushes.

WSC hosting annual Band Day

Approximately 1,300 students representing 25 junior high and high school bands will be showcased as Wayne State College hosts Band Day on Saturday, Sept. 16.

In addition to the 10:30 a.m. parade through downtown Wayne, the bands will also perform during halftime of the Wayne State-Minnesota Morris football game. Kick-off time is 1:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to the top band in five categories. A $200 scholarship will accompany the trophy and will be given to a student who plans to attend Wayne State and participate in the band program, according to Gary Davis, director of bands at Wayne State.

Scholarship money is provided by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne State College.

Be aware of emotional abuse of children

When we think of child abuse, severe physical punishment such as a black eye, cut lips, or a broken bone inflicted in anger comes to mind. It is more difficult to recognize the danger of emotional abuse. This type of abuse may have a longer-term impact on the child's mental and emotional health than actual physical abuse.

How do parents impart their borderline abuse on their children? In at least seven common ways.

Ridicule and intolerance heads the list.

We often hear this dialogue between the parent and child: "What a sloppy outfit," or "You dummy, you can do better than that." Children need guidance, but they also crave acceptance. Praising reasonable ideas and choices will help when you have to call a halt to some of their wilder schemes.

Ridicule for lack of physical or mental ability is even harder for a youngster to bear. It is difficult enough to have one's peers humiliate the child, but he or she doesn't need a parent who chimes in too.

IGNORING AND indifference is another method of emotional abuse.

At times, each of us will do almost anything to get attention from someone — even misbehave. Your talk, tone of voice and touch have a tremendous influence in shaping a youngster's life.

Lack of appreciation is another form of emotional abuse.

Research has indicated that one of the characteristics of "strong" families is that they show appreciation for each other by what they say and do.

It is important to focus on the positive things a child does, not the negative. If it is hard to sometimes find a commendable trait, focus on the advice of the song "accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative."

COMPARISON IS another aspect of child abuse.

Don't compare the accomplishments of one child with another. In fact, if you continue to point out the positive attributes of an older sibling to a younger one, the younger one may react and take on opposite traits. Evaluate your children individually. A child's self-esteem shrinks if she/he is constantly compared with brothers or sisters.

Using severe restriction as a method of controlling the child is another danger. A Harvard University preschool study suggests that harshly restraining a child's desire to do things by him/herself or to make some of his/her own decisions can make a child fearful and dependent.

At the same time, "babyproofed" homes where little ones roamed freely most of the time, exploring their surroundings, helped produce the most capable children. Strict confinement stifles curiosity and hinders learning, according to the study.

GIVING A CHILD extra scolding just because he is a child also is harmful.

Some children are ordered around to do things without any show of appreciation. And when they don't do a task the way a parent wants it done, they are scolded for it.

Inconsistency is the final problem in emotional child abuse.

One of the greatest dangers to a child's emotional health is inconsistency in discipline. The child is never sure about the "safe" limits in which she or he may operate.

Academic and social achievement usually can be traced back to parents who have set limits for their children. The rules are reasonable but firm and consistent. The children feel secure because they generally can count on their parents to react in a specific way in any situation.

PHYSICAL ABUSE CAN hurt, cripple or retard and emotional abuse can adversely affect a child's vision, dreams, and ability to aspire to a wholesome, beneficial way of life.

Willers-Heikes nuptial vows exchanged in Wakefield rites

Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield was the setting for the Aug. 19 rites uniting in marriage Tanya Willers and Daniel Heikes, both of Wayne.

Parents of the couple are Larry and Carol Willers and Alan and Helen Heikes, all of Wayne.

Officiating at the 4 o'clock, double ring ceremony was the Rev. Joe Marek of Wakefield. Soloist was Mardell Holm of Wakefield, who sang "All of Me," "The Rose" and "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Mollie Greve of Wakefield.

Decorations included teal gladiolus and peach carnations at the altar. The pews were decorated with peach and teal bows and white crocheted bells.

TRISHA WILLERS of Omaha served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lori Kaup of Norfolk and Linda Greve of Wakefield, and junior bridesmaid was the bridegroom's sister, Melissa Heikes of Wayne.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Ron Heikes. Groomsmen were Todd Willers, brother of the bride, and Mike Heithold. All are of Wayne.

Jennifer Willers of Neligh was flower girl, and Brent Heikes of Newcastle was ring bearer. Ushering guests into the church were Eric Grone, Rod Gilliland, Tony Johnson and Kelly Mrsny, all of Wayne.

Candles were lighted by Tracy Mortenson of Wakefield and Justin Hegge of Jackson.

THE BRIDE WAS given in marriage by her father and appeared in white bridal satin floor-length gown which was designed and sewn by her mother.

The portrait neckline and elbow-length sleeves were accented with lace medallions, and the lowered back neckline featured three strands of pearls from shoulder to shoulder, with satin buttons to the waistline. The dropped waistline was accented with a large satin bow, and the skirt and tiered chapel-length train were edged in Venice lace and pearls.

Her headpiece featured pearls, sequins and flowers across the front with a side pearl spray and puff of bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore satin tea-length frocks in teal and peach, designed with elbow-length sleeves, low backs and dropped waistlines with a bow at the center back. They carried teal and peach roses.

The best man and his attendants wore black tuxedos.

The bride's mother selected a teal dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a peach fashion.

A RECEPTION followed at the church with Brenda Boeckenhauer of Wakefield seated at the guest book. Hosts were Bud and Donna Boeckenhauer of Wakefield and Linda and Lonnie Schrempf of Yankton, S. D.

Cutting and serving the cake were Shirley Pospishil of Wayne, Janie Tuttle of Hartington and Marcia Barg of Norfolk. Val Willers of Newcastle and Mary Young of Jackson poured.

Waitresses were Stacy Wagner, Jennifer Barg, Heather Barg and Karrie Hegge.

THE NEWLYWEDS traveled to

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Heikes

Colorado and Wyoming and are making their home at Rt. 2-Box 52, Wakefield.

The bride, a 1987 graduate of Wakefield High School and a 1989 graduate of Northeast Community College, Norfolk, is employed at El Toro Package Liquor in Wayne.

The bridegroom was graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1985 and is employed at Heikes Automotive Service in Wayne.

Medical assistant earns certification credential

Deborah Gross of Wayne recently earned the prestigious Certified Medical Assistant (CMA) credential by passing the American Association of Medical Assistants' certification examination in June.

Mrs. Gross is a graduate of the medical assisting program at Lakeland Medical Assisting School in Minneapolis, Minn. She is employed by Wayne Family Practice Group, P.C.

THE CERTIFICATION examination, administered by AAMA's Certifying Board and the National Board of Medical Examiners, tests clinical and administrative knowledge needed to perform in a licensed health care practitioner's office.

The examination covers a wide variety of topics, from medical law and ethics to medical record-keeping and diagnostic testing.

Certified Medical Assistants are employed in a wide range of health care delivery facilities, but the medical assistant is the only allied health practitioner trained specifically for the physician's office.

Deborah Gross

Approximately 400 friends and relatives, including several from out-of-state, gathered at the Norfolk Senior Citizens Center on Aug. 27 to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Willard and McClede Maas of Hoskins.

Among those present were the couple's four children, foster daughter, 15 grandchildren and great granddaughter.

The afternoon program began with wedding vows and meditations led by the Rev. Norman Hanemann of Christ Lutheran Church. Nyla Nichols accompanied family members in musical selections.

Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brogie of Hoskins. Mrs. Dorothy Dufek presided at the registration table.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoemann of Hoskins served as kitchen hosts. Punch was served by grandchildren and the cake was cut and served by cousins. Other servers were family members.

The evening concluded with a family supper at 6 p.m.

Engagements

Nelson-Criddle

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Nelson of Wakefield and Mr. and Mrs. John Criddle Sr. of Dakota City announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their children, Marcia and John.

The couple plans an Oct. 14 wedding at Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield.

Miss Nelson was graduated from Wakefield High School in 1985 and attended Northeast Community College, Norfolk, for two years.

Her fiancé was graduated from Homer High School in 1986 and attended Western Iowa Technical College for two years. He is employed at Enviro Safe Air, Inc. in Sioux City.

Allen drops first home football game of 1989

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Allen football coach Mike Busseselmann looked forward all last week for his squad to host Beemer
on Friday night because a victory by his Eagles would give Allen its best football start in several years.
Beemer, coming off a 35-0 victory
a week ago against Osmond
had other ideas than letting Allen slip past them and thus came away with a 16-0 victory under sub-par conditions.

"We had our chances," Busseselmann said. "We had the ball three times inside Beemer's 15 yard line and we didn't come away with any points. It's tough to win when you don't score."
Busse-
selmann couldn't say enough positive about his defensive squad and for good reason. With the exception of the opening drive Allen did an excellent job of containing Beemer's running game which is his strong suit.

"We made some adjustments following Beemer's first drive and our defense played excellent the rest of the night," Busseselmann said. "We just couldn't mix the good defense with any offense. We had our share of opportunities but I guess it just wasn't meant to be."

Allen rushed the ball 27 times for a total of 93 yards while Beemer rushed the ball nearly twice as much, 53 times for 204 yards. Allen didn't enjoy a successful night through the air either as Matt Hingst was just 3-9 for 11
yards and Shane Dahl was 0-2.
Beemer was 2-7 through the air
for 30 yards for a total yard advantage of 234-104.

Beemer lost the ball on fumbles
five times in six fumbles while Allen fumbled the ball away once, following a brilliant kickoff return by Shane Dahl. "We have to head back to the blackboard next week
to try and get our offense loosened up," Busseselmann said.

Defensively, Allen was led by Kevin Crogrove who was in on 25 tackles on the night. Rusty Dickens followed with 16 tackles while Kent Chase managed to get in on 13
tackles and Shane Dahl, 11.

"After the game coach Ron Peck from Beemer came up to me and said that our defense really hit some people," Busseselmann said. "Right now our defense is really playing good football."

Allen will host Newcastle next Friday night in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

ALLEN QUARTERBACK Matt Hingst turns upfield in search of more yardage during Allen's game with Beemer Friday night.

Wildcats win by 10 over Hartington

Winside notched its first victory of the season Friday night with a 34-24 decision over Hartington in Hartington. It was homecoming for the host team but Randy Geier's crew wanted to spoil the party and indeed they did.

The Wildcats jumped out to an early 6-0 lead on the wings of Max Kant's 14 yard touchdown scamper. The touchdown would be the first of four by Kant on the evening
despite the rainy conditions.

Hartington came back to take the lead in the second quarter on a three yard pass and they also connected on the two point conversion to take an 8-6 lead into intermission.

On the first play of the second half Max Kant sent a signal that Winside would be tough to beat as long as he was running wild. Kant took the first play from scrimmage
in the third quarter and sprinted 55 yards to paydirt to let Winside regain the lead, a lead in which they would never relinquish. Cory Jensen hit Randy Prince for the two point conversion and Winside led 14-8.

With 6:41 left in the third quarter Cory Jensen kept the ball on a quarterback run and scrambled seven yards and following Max Kant's two point conversion via the run, Winside was up 22-8.

Hartington however, didn't give up and with 3:30 left in the third period they connected on a seven yard pass and converted the two point conversion to draw the score
to 22-16 following the third quarter.

Winside struck again very early in the fourth quarter as Kant scored his third touchdown on the night, this time on a 15 yard run.
Hartington though struck back again on a 32 yard pass play and again they connected on the two point conversion to draw the score
to 28-24.

The icing on the cake came with 5:55 remaining in the contest
following a blocked punt by Mark

Brugger. Kant scored his fourth touchdown on the night on a seven yard run rounding out the score at 34-24.

"Max really had a lot of good runs," Geier said. "He had numerous second and third efforts after he appeared to be stopped, where he picked up additional yardage." Geier also had praise for the offensive line that Kant had to work behind. "Our offensive line played a super football game," Geier said. "Jason Krueger, Jason
Bargstadt, Brian Thompson, Randy Prince and Jeff Gallop really opened up some holes for Max and with Max's speed, he was through there in a hurry."
The specialty teams also pleased Geier as punter Shane Frahm enjoyed success on the night, punting for a total of 192 yards on five punts, nearly a 39 yard per kick average. "Shane really punted well," Geier said. "He had a couple punts that were over 45 yards."

Jeff Gallop was also a force for the defensive team for the Wildcats. Gallop came away with three interceptions on the night. Brian Thompson led all tacklers with 10
while Trevor Topp and Jeff Gallop managed eight apiece and Max Kant and Randy Prince each notched seven tackles. Jason Krueger was in on five tackles and Geier noted that Krueger had some key hard hits in the game.

Winside rushed for a team total of 177 yards while Hartington managed just 74. Max Kant rushed for 169 of those yards on 23 carries. Cory Jensen was 1-7 in the aerial attack for just seven yards and that was to Jeff Gallop. Hartington threw the ball for 107 yards on a 9-25 outing.

Winside suffered a couple of fumbles and they suffered ten penalty flags for a total of 79 yards. Winside will host Coleridge next Friday night with game time set for 7:30 p.m.

Laurel earns first victory, 33-16

Laurel's football team hit the road Friday night in search of their initial victory of the season. The Bears lost a 27-13 decision to Randolph in week one of the high school season but the storyline was a little different in the game Friday night as Laurel defeated Crofton in Crofton by a 33-16 count.

"We were up 33-0 in the fourth quarter when I put in all my young kids," coach Tom Luxford said.
"Everyone got to play which I was happy about." Laurel started its initial drive in Crofton territory at the 40 yard line and drove it the length of the field in six plays when Troy Twohig ran across the goal line from eight yards out giving the Bears a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter quarterback Todd Erwin connected on a 26 yard pass to Matt Jonas and Chad VanCleave ran in from three yards out to complete the two point conversion giving the visitors
a 14-0 lead at the 11:40 mark of the second period.

Laurel upped the count to 20-0

by intermission when Pat Arens scored from three yards out, capping a 62 yard drive on the 11th play. In the third quarter Chad VanCleave scored on an eight yard run and that pushed the score to 26-0. Finally, Troy Twohig scored on a five yard run and Travis Stracke connected on the extra point attempt to give Laurel a comfortable 33-0 late in the fourth quarter.

"This is a big win for our program," Luxford said. "Laurel hadn't beat Crofton since 1986 and they are a competitive NENAC team." Luxford was pleased with the offensive line play and the defensive coaching job that Dave Dannebring did. "Our defense played super," Luxford said. "Coach Dannebring really had them ready to play."

Defensively, Johns Schutte led the way with 13 tackles while Rusty Reifenrath managed nine as did Bruce Haisch. Matt Kessinger was in on seven tackles.

Winside spikers down Laurel for first victory

One thing about playing a very strong schedule is that even though you may not be winning a lot of your games you're bound to get better because of the competition.

Winside hosted Laurel Thursday night and Laurel came in with a 2-0 record while Winside was still searching for its first victory in this its third game. Winside had the unenviable task of playing Wakefield and Osmond in its first two games and although they were competitive in both, they came up on the short end.

Laurel had defeated Randolph
and Bloomfield in its two games
and again both of those schools are very competitive as well so on paper it looked as though Laurel would pick up its third victory of the season in as many tries.

Winside coach Paul Giesselmann
however, saw his squad dig down deep and come away with a three set victory, 14-16, 15-13, 15-6.
"This was just a great team effort," Giesselmann said. "Anybody that saw this game got to see a real treat because Laurel has a good volleyball team and our girls showed great and resiliency by bouncing back after the first set."

Giesselmann felt the turning point may have been in the third set. "When we got to the third set our girls knew they could win because of the way they conditioned themselves in the off season with the 'weight room,'" Giesselmann said. "I don't know what Laurel did in the off season and they may have done the same things we did, but it just looked to me like our girls had more spring than they did in the last set."

Winside's downfall in its first two games was serving consistency.
Against Laurel, the Wildcats were successful on 91 percent of their serves. "We never missed a serve in the third set," Giesselmann said.
"We were down 13-6 in the second set when Shannon Holdorf started serving and she came up with at least four aces to get us back into position to win the set."

Holdorf finished the evening with a 16-17 outing with five aces
while Tania Hartmann was also 16-17 but with two aces. Patty Oberle was 14-15 and Jenny Jacobsen was 13-14. Kelly Pitchler was 9-9 and she had one ace as well.

Jenny Jacobsen and Shannon Holdorf were the big hitters for Winside as Jacobsen hit on 20 of 26 spikes with nine kills. Holdorf was successful on 16 of 20 spikes with six aces and Patty Oberle had four aces on an 8-11 outing. Tania Hartmann also had four aces on her 10-14 performance while Jenni Topp was 4-4 with three aces and Kelly Pitchler was 3-3 with all three being aces.

The setting department was manned by Tania Hartmann and Kelly Pitchler and both did a marvelous job according to Giessel-mann. "Our setters did a super job," Giesselmann said, "and I ask a lot of our setters." Tania Hartmann was 39-44 with 10 aces sets and

Kelly Pitchler was 24-30 with 11 assists. Jenny Jacobsen led the team with four ace blocks.

Winside will be the host of the Winside tournament on Tuesday with Coleridge, Wakefield and Osmond also taking part. Winside will play the first game at 5:30
against Coleridge.

Trojan spikers win again

Paul Eaton's Wakefield volleyball team upped their season record to 2-0 Tuesday night with a three set victory over visiting Lyons-Decatur, 12-15, 15-7, 15-6.

The Trojans started off very fast as they built a 10-0 lead in the first set only to have Lyons-Decatur bounce back and win 15-12. "One of our best players fell on the floor and suffered a bloody nose when we were up 10-0," Eaton said. "I don't know if we just got a little over confident at that point while time was out, while she was being attended to or not, but we got a little careless and lost the opening set."

Wakefield however, made sure things didn't get close in the second and third sets as they outscored the visitors 30-13 the rest of the way. "We ended up serving at 86 percent and we feel that we can't win unless our serving is at least 90 percent," Eaton said. "We feel that's the reason why they caught up to us in the first set."

Cathi Larson and Julie Greve were the top servers on the evening for Wakefield as Larson was 18-19 with five aces while Greve was 8-9 with two aces.

Jessica Robins led the spikers with three kills on a 9-13 outing while Julie Greve was 12-15 with one ace. Laurie Plendl was 7-9 and also had one ace. Cathi Larson and Susan Nuernberger were Wakefield's leading setters with Larson successful on 17-18 sets with eight ace sets and Nuernberger connecting on 22-27 sets with five aces.

Jessica Robins had four blocks with two ace blocks to lead the Trojans while Julie Greve had two blocks and both were for aces. Julie Greve was also Wakefield's top passer with a 16-20 ratio for 80 percent. "We need to do some work on our passing game," Eaton said. "Our tipping was better than it was in the first game but we need to spend some more time on our passing game."

So far in both games Wakefield has played Eaton has played 11 girls in each varsity match which may play a key role down the road as Wakefield is beginning to pile up some injuries.

"We have one girl recovering from a sprained knee, we have a girl with a sprained ankle and now we may have a girl out for a while with a back problem," Eaton said. "We're going to need all those girls on the varsity."

Wakefield will now prepare for Tuesday's tournament in Winside where Eaton has been nothing short of spectacular. Wakefield has won the Winside tournament for four straight years and Eaton is a perfect 11-0 in Winside's gymnasium since he's been at Wakefield coaching volleyball.

"It will be a very tough tournament this year," Eaton said. "Any one of the four teams that will be there have the capability to win the whole thing."

Wakefield's "B" team defeated Lyons-Decatur by a 15-7, 15-6 count to push their record to 2-0 while the "C" team lost a 0-11, 0-11 count to remain winless on the season in two tries.

Wakefield loses to Battle Creek

Wakefield football coach Dennis Wilbur said his team got baptized into power football Friday night when his team played at Battle Creek. The Trojans lost their second game in as many tries this season by an 18-7 count despite leading 7-0 at halftime.

"Battle Creek is one of the best power football teams in Class C," Wilbur said, "and against us they proved that by rushing the ball 71 times for 332 yards."

Battle Creek boasted a lot of speed with tailback Mike McCart, an all-state track performer last season. McCart rushed the ball 33 times in the contest for 206 yards. Wakefield as a team was held to just 28 yards in 19 rushing attempts.

Wakefield's defense was a bright spot for Wilbur. Several times during the game his squad would rise to the occasion and halt a drive or come up with a big hit which knocked the Battle Creek ball carrier backwards.

Battle Creek was leading 6-0 in the second quarter when Chris Loofoe scooped up a loose fumble by Battle Creek and raced 39 yards to the endzone and with his own point after conversion successful, Wakefield gained a 7-6 lead and held that lead at halftime with some good defense.

With two seconds remaining before halftime Battle Creek had the ball at the Wakefield six yard line. Tony Krusemark and Chris Loofoe combined to make a great stop of the Battle Creek receiver at the two yard line as time ran out.

Mark Johnson was Wakefield's leading rusher with 20 yards while Matt Tappe led the Trojans through the air with a 9-21 performance for 94 yards and one interception. Tony Krusemark caught four passes while Chris Loofoe hauled in three and Mark Johnson and Andy McQuistan each caught one.

Mark Johnson was the defensive catalyst with 22 total tackles while Anthony Brown had 13 and Andy McQuistan and Cory Blatt each had 12. Troy Krusemark had 10 tackles while Tony Krusemark had nine and Brian Lundahl, six.

Wakefield downed in opener

The Wakefield Trojans got initiated into the 11-man ranks against Elkhorn Valley last Friday night with a 26-14 loss. It was Wakefield's first game in 11-man football since the early 80's.

"We really didn't play too bad," Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur said. "We were a little tentative and sluggish at times but we opened it up more in the fourth quarter."

Wakefield trailed only 6-0 at intermission but Elkhorn Valley upped its lead to 12-0 after three quarters of play. Anthony Brown put Wakefield on the scoreboard for the first time in 1989 with a nine yard touchdown run and with Chris Loofoe booting the point after the score was 12-7.

Elkhorn Valley struck back however and led 20-7 with still plenty of time remaining in the contest. Wakefield came back and scored again, this time on a one yard run by Mark Johnson. Chris Loofoe again connected on the point after to draw Wakefield to 20-12.

With about one minute remaining in the contest Elkhorn Valley scored again to put the game on ice, 26-14. Wakefield rushed the ball 32 times for 119 yards while Elkhorn Valley rushed the ball 35 times but for only 88 yards.

Wakefield passed the ball 20 times, completing only seven for 100 yards and Elkhorn Valley passed for a total of 146 yards on a 15-30 outing. Wakefield suffered four interceptions and three fumbles in the contest which was undoubtedly a major contributor to the 26-14 loss.

Anthony Brown was the leading rusher with 51 yards on 12 carries while Thad Nixon had 37 yards on three carries and Mark Johnson rushed the ball 14 times for 34 yards. Matt Tappe was 7-13 with 100 yards and three interceptions in the passing department while Chris Loofoe was 0-7 with one interception.

Allen Lady Eagles continue winning

The Lady Eagles of Allen's volleyball team traveled to Coleridge Thursday night in hopes of upping their record to a perfect 4-0. Head coach Gary Troth witnessed a very competitive volleyball game and in the end his squad prevailed in three sets, 15-13, 11-15, 16-14.

"It was a good volleyball match," Troth said. "So far this year we've been very consistent with our serving and passing game and our net play has been pretty good as well."

Allen did find themselves in an undesired position in the third set as they were trailing 14-13 with Coleridge serving. "We got the side out and then Cindy Chase managed to serve her only ace of the night to tie the score," Troth said.

Anneta Malcom was Allen's top server on the night with an 11-12 outing with two aces. Becca Stingley was 7-7 with two aces and Cindy Chase connected on 9-10 with one ace.

Chase however, did her damage at the net as well as she notched six kill spikes in her 15-18 performance. Denise Boyle played an excellent game according to Troth and she was 17-18 with five kills in the spiking department. Steph Carlson was 28-36 on the night but with only three aces.

Anneta Malcom and Carla Stapleton were consistent in the setting department with Stapleton going a perfect 25-25 with nine assists and Malcom going 36-37 with 11 assists. Steph Carlson led the blockers with four ace blocks while Denise Boyle managed two.

"This was a good match in that Coleridge also had a good passing and setting game," Troth said. Allen will now get set to face Stanton in the first round of the Stanton tournament this weekend. The game is set for 3 p.m. Saturday.

Allen's "B" team was defeated in three sets, 15-10, 14-16, 11-15, but the "C" team prevailed by a count of 11-6, 11-3.

State Fair winners

TAMMY SIEVERS, 13, of Wayne (left) took third place in the 4-H entomology judging contest held at the 1989 Nebraska State Fair Sept. 2. Ben Christen, 14, of Tecumseh captured first place. Not pictured is Ben's brother, Tony Christen, 17, who took second place in the contest. Ben and Tony's parents are Joe and Joan Christen of Tecumseh. Tammy's parents are Larry and Janet Sievers of Wayne. The Nebraska State Pest Control Association provided the trophies for the top three winners.

THREE 4-H'ERS captured top honors in the 4-H Sheep Showmanship Contest (Sept. 3) at the 1989 Nebraska State Fair. The winners included: (left to right) Denise Drudlik, Grand Island, gold medal; Ryan Vaughn, Bertrand, silver medal; and Dennis Kopeke, Hoskins, bronze medal. By winning first place in sheep showmanship, Drudlik also received a trophy from the n.p. Dodge and Company Real Estate Auctions, Omaha.

SONYA PLUEGER, 13, showed the reserve champion Maine Anjou breeding heifer at the 4-H beef show during the 1989 Nebraska State Fair Sept. 4. Sonya purchased her heifer, Vanessa, from the Obrecht Brothers, Iowa beef producers. Sonya is the daughter of Frank and Kathleen Plueger of Concord. Sonya received a plaque from the Nebraska State Fair Board.

JOCK BEESON, 14, showed the champion Polled Hereford breeding heifer during the 4-H beef show at the 1989 Nebraska State Fair. Jock showed his home-raised heifer, Midnight Gal, for the win. Jock is the son of Jack and Bev Beeson of Wayne. Jock received $50 from the Nebraska Polled Hereford Association, a plaque from the Nebraska State Fair Board and a trophy provided by the Nebraska Pollettes.

Public supports change in school governing policies

The U.S. public is ready for "tradition-shattering changes" in the policies that govern schooling, according to the report of the "21st Annual Gallup Poll of the Public's Attitudes Toward the Public Schools," which appears in the September 1989 issue of the Phi Delta Kappan.

Written by Stanley Elam, former editor of the Kappan and coordinator of Phi Delta Kappa's polling program, and by Alec Gallup, co-chairman of the Gallup Organization, the report of the 1989 Gallup/Phi Delta Kappa education poll points to a number of findings supporting that inescapable conclusion.

Elam and Gallup report that "the public favors, by a 2-1 margin, allowing students and their parents to choose which public schools in their communities the students will attend." The idea of parental choice, already state law in at least three states and a centerpiece of the Bush Administration's education policy, is especially popular among nonwhites and among younger adults.

Elam and Gallup also point out that 70 percent of the respondents favor requiring public schools "to conform to national achievement standards and goals" and that 69 percent favor requiring the public schools "to use a standardized national curriculum." Moreover, 61 percent of those who favor national goals would trust educators, perhaps working with lay panels, to establish these goals.

NOR ARE those who responded to the 1989 survey unwilling to help pay for the changes they endorse. A convincing 83 percent of respondents "think that more should be done to improve the quality of public schools in poorer communities, and — by a 2-1 margin — they are willing to pay higher taxes to support such efforts. In addition, the public favors (by 75% to 18%) reducing class size in the early grades to as few as 15 pupils, and 68 percent are willing to pay higher taxes to make this possible.

Nearly three-fourths of the public think it is "very important" to improve the nation's inner-city schools, and substantial majorities are "willing to spend more taxes" to expand Head Start programs (69%), to screen young children for health problems (74%), and to provide day care for the children of working parents (58%). On the issue of after-school and summer programs for the children of parents who work, a separate question revealed that a majority of the public (57%) would prefer to pay the bill for such programs through a combination of "increased taxes" and "parent contributions."

Support for change was not indiscriminate, however, as in past years, the public remains skeptical about increasing the length of the school day or school year.

TWO QUESTIONS are standard in the Gallup/Phi Delta Kappa education surveys. First, what are the biggest problems with which the local schools must deal? And second, how would respondents grade the local public schools?

The public's perceptions of local school problems and the grades given the schools in the 1989 survey show little change from last year: Use of drugs (34%), lack of discipline (19%), and lack of proper financial support (13%) once again head the list of problems. Meanwhile, the proportion of respondents who gave their local schools grades of A or B rose from 40% last year to 43% in this year's survey, up from a low of 31% in 1983.

Data for the Gallup/Phi Delta Kappa survey were gathered through in-home interviews in all areas of the nation and in all types of communities, using a "modified probability sample of the nation" that consisted of 1,584 adults. The interviews were conducted during the period of May 5-7 and June 9-11, 1989.

Reprints of the published version of the Gallup/Phi Delta Kappa education survey are available at $10 for 25 copies from Gallup Poll, Phi Delta Kappa, P.O. Box 789, Bloomington, IN 47402-0789. Phone 812/339-1156. Persons who wish to order a set of tables (not included in the published version of the poll) that show detailed demographic breakdowns on each question may do so by writing to Phi Delta Kappa, enclosing $10 to cover all costs.

NEBRASKA TIMELINE

By the Nebraska State Historical Society

Serious consideration given to county fairs 100 years ago

Sideways have become institutions at most fairs — so much so that it just wouldn't seem like the fair without "the amazing two-headed calf." A hundred years ago, when Nebraska county fairs were brand new, sideways weren't a given. In fact, the question, "What are legitimate features of the fair?" received serious consideration, as this special Knox County Fair issue of the Creighton Pioneer (1885) attests.

"What may with propriety be properly admitted to the fair grounds, and on the other hand, what should be excluded? We do not introduce this topic with the idea by so doing we can in any sense settle a vexed question, or even that any opinion expressed will have special weight with the reader. This is a subject on which people are included to think very differently, and it is difficult even in the small number of men belonging to a fair board to find unanimity on this point. The legitimate features of a fair, as all will admit, include —

"First. The exhibition of livestock, farm implements and machinery, farm products, household manufactures and the prosecution of such ordinary business as may really belong to the interests of agriculture. Second. Such institutions as may contribute to the physical comfort and pleasure of the crowds in attendance, and Third. Such entertainments and innocent and harmless amusements as may serve to vary the monotony of an exhibition and furnish the young with sufficiency of spice to season what to them are the less attractive portions of the fair.

"There is but little difficulty, generally, in arranging the two first points, from a moral standpoint; but it is the latter that discrimination becomes a matter difficult of adjustment. There are some things, however, which should without question be shut out of the fair grounds of agricultural exhibitions. One is gambling and intoxicating drinks. Many would stop just here and say admit everything else. But as we view this question, side-shows of every description, and the lesser catch-penny schemes of whatever kind should follow the beer stand and gamblers beyond the gates. We anticipate your argument — 'We cannot afford,' many fair managers would say, 'to throw away such a source of revenue.'

"While we must admit that there are fair associations having attained a high financial standing that threw open their gates to everything, we believe it was done at the sacrifice of the general financial and society interests of those neighborhoods. The line must be drawn somewhere between the legitimate and illegitimate features of a fair, and where shall it be drawn?"

For Your Information

Question: 1. We interpret that, by the Peat Marwick Main & Company audit of 1988, the City had $553,989 on hand in the electric, sewer and water fund as of July 31, 1988, and investments totaling $4,361,537 and an additional amount of $2,984,493 invested in various forms of cash or certificates of deposit. Our math indicates that amount totals $7,900,019. What are the amounts of those categories as of July 31, 1989?

Answer:

A. 1. First of all, you have misinterpreted the information included in the Peat Marwick Main audit. The total cash and investments as of July 31, 1988 was $6,375,466.

The city of Wayne's audit will not be completed until sometime later this fall, but it is estimated at this time that we had approximately $5,300,000 total in cash and investments as of July 31, 1989.

Nebraska.

The public hearing, he said, allows citizens-public input in the current legislative process. "There has been a new change of philosophy in Nebraska. We can see what needs to be changed, such as laws or programs currently being funded," he said.

State Senator Spencer

Morrissey of Tecumseh, also a member of the Revitalization Committee, said Thursday's conference was good. With less available in tax incentives, small businesses can benefit from the wealth of information provided to them at the conference.

"We need to help the rural communities as much as possible — help them build from within," Morrissey said.

The Town and Country Garden Club met with Mrs. Emil Gutzman for a dessert luncheon on Monday. Mrs. Hilda Thomas, president, opened the meeting with a poem, "Up the Garden Path."

Roll call was "how did you carry your lunch to school?" Mrs. Howard Fuhrman read the report of the previous meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Plans were made for a tour on Sept. 20.

The hostess had the comprehensive study on the Birch Tree. The lesson on the Buttercup was given by Mrs. Mary Kollath.

Mrs. Mary Jochens will be hostess for the next meeting on Oct. 23, when election of officers will be held.

HOSKINS SENIORS

The Hoskins Seniors met at the fire hall Tuesday afternoon for the first meeting of the season. Mrs. Emil Gutzman was coffee chairman. Card prizes went to Mrs. George Wittler, Mrs. Mary Jochens and Mrs. Martha Behmer.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 19 with Mrs. Carl Hinzman, coffee chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jonson of Sunset, Ariz. were Aug. 30 overnight guests in the Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Fenske home.

Farmers urged to watch for fire

Every year, fires occur on all types of combines and grain drying systems. According to an "Underwriting Alert" by Jim Faber, senior vice president of the Reinsurance Association of Minnesota (RAM), "operators must be constantly alert to the causes and conditions that lead to these fires."

Sources of combine fires are varied and include the accumulation of oil, chaff and straw on the engine, an oil leakage in any area, electrical shorts usually caused by insulation melting or rubbing through and grounding the wire, and rodents that damage a combine in storage by eating plastic insulation or rubber material that could lead to an electrical short.

Daily inspections of combines is extremely important for the safe and efficient operation of the equipment. According to the "Underwriting Alert," while inspecting a combine always keep two things in mind, first, be sure to eliminate the potential source of fire and second, eliminate or minimize the presence of any material that will support or increase a flame if a fire is started.

A COMBINE daily inspection guide is included in the "Underwriting Alerts." Some items that should be checked daily include dirt, dust and chaff build-up in the engine compartment, the fuel system, engine lubrication, engine exhaust and separator and header. The "Underwriting Alert" states that if these things are checked on a daily basis it will greatly minimize costly machine damage and downtime.

Dryers must also be checked regularly to prevent fires. Dryer fires are caused by operating the dryers when there is trash build-up, setting drying temperatures too high and improper operation. A safety check list for grain dryers is also included in "Underwriting Alerts." The list includes checking that the dryer is installed on a sound foundation, that no part of any bin or structure is sitting closer than four feet of the dryer, and that the gas line is buried two to three feet under ground level.

"In an effort to speed up the harvest process, often the normal cleaning and maintenance of combines and drying equipment is lacking, or the equipment is sometimes pushed beyond its capabilities. According to the "Underwriting Alert," "if the safe operating limits are exceeded the risk of a fire which could result in two or more weeks of downtime is increased." Daily inspection of equipment is extremely important for a safety and efficient operation; it could save time in the end.

Palbearers were Michael Anderson, Doug Anderson, Larry Anderson, Roger Anderson, Tom Anderson, Rick Anderson, Randy Anderson, David Kreber, LeRoy Pettit, Meldon Pettit and Randy Pettit.

Burial was in the Spring Branch Cemetery, southwest of Hoskins, with Johnson-Stoncek Funeral Chapel of Norfolk in charge of arrangements.

Kenneth Whorlow

Kenneth Whorlow, 65, of Wayne died Monday afternoon, Sept. 4, 1989 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Thursday, Sept. 7 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. The Rev. Don Cleary officiated.

Kenneth Earl Whorlow, the son of Robert and Cora McCann Whorlow, was born Nov. 14, 1923 at Kennard. He moved to Wayne with his family when he was a child. He graduated from Wayne Prep in 1941. He served in the U.S. Air Force as a B 24 bomber pilot during World War II in England and Italy and completed his 20 years of service in the National Guard. He married Dorothy Smolski on June 26, 1944 at Tonopah, Nev. The couple returned to Wayne where he owned and operated Husker Concrete until retiring in 1986. He was a member of the Wayne American Legion and V.F.W.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy Whorlow of Wayne; two daughters, Sandy Anderson of San Diego, Calif. and Mrs. Jim (Jeanne) Nehl of Tonganoixie, Kan.; two grandchildren; three brothers, Merle Whorlow of San Diego, Calif., Robert Whorlow of Downey, Calif. and Paul Whorlow of Norfolk; three sisters, Mrs. Amy Schuler of Wayne, Mrs. Milton (Blanche) Carlberg of Fremont and Mrs. Roberta Jensen of Blair; and nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother and two sisters.

Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne with Schumacher Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Maria Schortinghuis

Maria Schortinghuis, 92, of Sioux Center died Wednesday, Aug. 23, 1989 in a hospital in Sioux Center.

Services were held Saturday, Aug. 26 in the Memorial Funeral Home Chapel. The Rev. Harold Lenters officiated.

Mrs. Schortinghuis, the former Maria F. Michmershuizen, was born Aug. 10, 1897 in Pella. She lived her youth in Pella where she attended grade school. She married the Rev. John F. Schortinghuis on June 4, 1929 in Pella. The couple lived in Holland and Grand Rapids, Mich., and later in several towns in Iowa and one in Nebraska before moving to Sioux Center about 10 years ago. She was a music director in various churches where her husband was pastor and also taught Sunday school and catechism classes.

The Rev. John Schortinghuis was pastor of Theophilus Ev. and Reform (now UCC) Church, rural Winside, in the early 1950's. Their son, David, and his wife, Janice, the former Janice Vahlkamp, daughter of Erwin Vahlkamp, lived in Wayne during the late 1950's. Those from Wayne who attended the funeral were Erwin Vahlkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vahlkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Vahlkamp and Mrs. Clara Frevert.

Survivors include her husband and one daughter, Esther Pauline Baker of Sioux Falls, S.D.; one son, David F. of Indianapolis, Ind.; nine grandchildren; 14 great grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Cornie (Elizabeth) Dejong of Pella.

She was preceded in death by her parents; four brothers, Dick, Nick, Bill and John; an infant sister, Mary; and a grandson, Kevin.

Burial was in the Memory Garden Cemetery with the memorial Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.
