Council meets

WAYNE-The Wayne City Council met Tuesday evening and gave approval to a request for a special designated liquor permit by Windmill Restaurant for an upcoming wedding dance at the National Guard Armory. Also, the council discussed the situation of the old sale barn on the southeast edge of Wayne. Councilman Stan Hansen said he had complaints about the weeds around the sale barn and the building itself.

Co-owner of the property,
Stan Baier, said attempts were made to burn the sale barn in a controlled setting last year. However, one resident near the barn had voiced objections to the burning, so-the project was never carried out

Dan Dolph, the objecting property owner, said at the council meeting he had fears of what damage the burning might do to his property — particularly to nearby fruit trees.

Baier said the burning of the building would be done at a controlled setting when the winds were prevailing from the north. Fire department members would be on call when the burning began, he said.

Councilman Darrel Heier Councilman Darrel Heier said he did not favor the request to burn the barn last year, saying that the city could be asking for trouble. if they allowed big burning projects within the city limits. He asked Baier if the building could be buried instead of burned.

It is the decision of the department whether or t to issue the burning permit for disposal of the building, according to attorney Bob Ensz.

BEST BETS FOR "BETTS": Look for Congress to enact new legislation in response to the recent Supreme Court decision in Public Employees Retirement System of Ohio v Betis, 109 s. Ct. 255 (1989.) In this case, the Court overruled five lower courts and two federal agencies to vote against June Betts, a 61-year-old woman with severe medical problems who worked for the state of Ohio, and was denied disability retirement benefits. The 7-2 decision, with Justices Marshall and Brennan dissenting, held that the Public Employees Retirement System of Ohio did not violate the Age Discrimination of Employment Act (ADEA), which is the federal law prohibiting age discrimination in the workplace. The seven justices found that the ADEA was not intended to be given broad applicability to employee benefit plans.

Every court decision creates a precedent that will affect future cases. The Betts case, which was so narrowly drawn by the court and could just as easily (and perhaps more justly) have been decided in favor of Betts (as the lower courts had done) means that older, disabled retires act new legislation in response to the recent Supreme lower courts had done) means that older, disabled retirees could find themselves without the benefits that the ADEA had been designed to protect.

THE RISING COSTS OF COMPASSION: A year in a nursing home facility can cost as much as $30,000. To say this is beyond the ability of most Americans to pay is a profound understatement profound understatement.

The private insurance field is expanding to meet the growing demand for policies that will help meet the costs of nursing home care. There is a danger, however, that some people may wind up-with-a-policy that doesn't meet their needs. It's important to find the coverage that proves the property of the private to be the most cost effective for the price. This would include the types of services covered, how long the coverage will last, and the type of facility in which the

Wayne State losing skid ends with 20-14 victory

The wait is finally over for Wayne State football players, coaches and fans. Saturday's victory over Minot State marked the season—15 consecutive losses.

WAYNE STATE running back Troy Jackson breaks into the open during Wayne State's game with Minot State on Saturday. Jackson rushed for 137 yards on the day.

It's finally over!! The drought is over! Or as Chicago Cubs announcer Harry Caray says it—WILDCATS WIN—WILDCATS WIN—WILDCATS WIN. Saturday's college football game between Wayne State and Minot State had more riding on it than people might be led to believe.

You see, Minot State came in with a 1-2 record. They lost to a couple of respectable teams but they killed South Dakota Tech, 50-0. Wayne State came into the contest with an 0-3 mark. Or in actuality, they came in with a losing string which dated back to the autumn of 1987.

Still, the ray of hope that the Wildcats could win this game lingered in the minds of the coaches and players all week. However, that same winning feeling was felt before Wayne State played Minnesota-Morris, the only thing is somebody forgot to tell the players that just because they had that winning feeling, they still had to play the game—and they didn't. The next week Minnesota-Morris climbed into the ratings at the number 20 spot.

Coach Dennis Wagner felt the loss was a little demoralizing because it was the Wildcats home opener and they didn't come ready to play.

Wagner said in an interview with yours truly, that if the Wildcats came ready to play Saturday in all phases of the game, they had a chance to escape with a victory.

Minot State got his possession of the ball and Wayne State's defense rose to the occasion by not allowing a first down on the first possession. Wayne State took the ball following the punt and notched one first down before fumbling the ball to Minot State at the Wayne State 40 yard line. The Beavers drove down the field and faced a third down and goal from the five yard line. This my friends is where the Wildcast turned the tide of the whole game. Jeff Brownfield picked off a Minot State pass in the endzone for the touchback and the Wildcats not only turned back a Minot scoring opportunity, but it renewed the faith that this would be one game where the Wildcats definitely came to play.

Quarterback Gale Lawton was starting his first collegiate game as signal caller and his mobility definitely added another dimension to the Wildcat offensive arsenal, which to this point in the season was nearly non-exis-

Lawton scrambled for 51 yards on the first play following Brownfield's interception and Wayne State was in business. The drive remained alive and eventually moved to the five yard line with a fourth down and two call facing the Wildcats. Gale Lawton called his own number on an option and the quarterback scrambled untouched into the endzone.

That 14-point possible swing had a lot to do with Wayne State maintaining its confidence throughout the game. Oh there were other plays that kept the momentum on Wayne States' side such as a 39 yard pass from Lawton to Lamar Daniels on a third down nine play from the Wildcasts own 11 yard line. You had to see the play to believe it. The ball floated on Lawton and it nearly looked like Daniels could have called for a fair catch, but the defensive back from Minot never saw the ball* as Daniels stopped and caught the ball stopped and caught the ball.

that same drive Lawton later hit Macha Shinhoster on a 39 yard pass play on third down and 24 play. The catch was nothing short of spectacular as a defensive back from Minot tipped the ball into

On a second and goal from the two yard line with time running out, Gale Lawton punched over for his second touchdown and the Wildcats maintained a 14-7 lead at intermission. That scoring drive was 90 yards and took 11 plays and consumed 5:11 of the clock. That proves that in all phases of the game, Wayne State came ready to play, and yes the Wildcats definitely deserved to win this game.

My hat it off to Donoir Wayne State to the clock of the wildcats definitely deserved to win this game.

My. hat is off to Dennis Wagner for his efforts and to his assistant coaches. A loss by the Wildcats after being so emotionally high against Minot in the first half, may have been seasonally devastating, but Wayne State hung tough in the second half.

moved the Wayne State record to 1-3 and the Wildcats now must turn their attention to one of the top teams in the country this Saturday as they host Emporia State.

The win felt very good," Coach—Dennis—Wagner—said—"Especially since it's been so long since the program has had one." Wagner however, noted that his team must have the victory to long he not savor the victory to long be-cause Emporia State was stung last week by the nation's number two ranked team in Central Arkansas.

"It's back to hard work for us," Wagner said. "Emporia State has a real fine program and they are well coached. We have to be ready to play and we can't make mistakes. This team will be better than Minot

State."

The Wildcats will be able to concentrate harder now in practice since the monkey is off their backs with the win. Wayne State scored its first touchdown of the game on a five yard run by quarterback Gale Lawton, who made his first collegiate start on Saturday.

Minot State however, came right back and they later scored on right back and they later scored on a 20 yard pass play to tie the score at seven apiece with 12:52 remaining in the first half.

With 11 ticks remaining until intermission, Wayne State's Lawton called his own number again and ove over from two yards out to give the Wildcats a 14-7 halftime lead.

Following Daniels' touchdown in the third quarter Wayne State maintained a 20-7 lead. Minot State tried to make a comeback State tried to make a comeback and midway through the third quarter the Beavers blocked a Jeff Pasold punt and recovered it in the endzone for a touchdown which drew the score to 20-14. There was no scoring from the 8:44 mark of the third quarter on.

ball control offense to the blocking of the line, Lawton and running back Troy Jackson, who rushed for "Our offensive line played better," Wagner said, "but we still have to get better to face the teams like Emporia State." One of the biggest turning points of the game according to Wagner was taking the opening kickoff of the second half and driving down the field to score.

"We talked about that at half-time," Wagner said. "We felt if we could sustain a drive right away in the third quarter we could take some of the wind out of their sails."

Wagner also attributed Lawton's scrambling ability as a problem for defenses such as Minot State's on Saturday. "Gale presents another element to our attack," Wagner said. "His running ability just adds another dimension."

Jeff Brownfield and Bob Sterba came up with big plays for the Wildcats as Brownfield intercepted a Minot State pass in the endzone and Sterba stopped another drive with his interception.

"We are really happy that our first win could come on a day like the Hall of Fame Game," Wagner said. "We told our kids that if they gave 100 percent effort they could win the game and they did."

Wayne State had 14 first downs compared to 13 for Minot State. The Wildcats rushed for 233 yards while the Beavers gained 145. Gale Lawton, who was named BOB STERBA, (#51), Jim Scott, (#11), and Rondy Woodard, (#21) seem to have a grip on Minot State's running back during the Wildcat's first victory in 15 games. Wayne State dominated the time of possession with ball control offense and coach Dennis Wagner said his defense bent but it didn't break and they came up with big plays when they had too.

Reserves lose

WAYNE-The Wayne junior varsity team lost a 20-6 decision at the hands of Hartington Cedar Catholic in Wayne on Monday. The score at intermission saw the Blue Devils trail by a 13-6 margin. Wayne's Ione touchdown came on a 15 yard pass from Cory Wieseler to Regg Carnes. Defensively, the Blue Devils were led by Jeremy Fletcher's 18 tackles. Regg Carnes finished with 10. Jason Fink, Lee Jones and Jesse Brodersen all recorded nine tackles. Wayne will travel to Schuyler on Monday for a 5 p.m. contest. The Blue Devils will be searching for their first win in four tries.

Golf scramble

AREA-There will be a four man scramble at Indian Trails Country Club in Beemer, on Oct. 15 beginning with a shot gun tee-off at 11 a.m. The cost is $15 per man per team and the cost includes green fees and prizes. The scramble proceeds will go to benefit the Cancer Society. Deadline for entry is Oct. 14. For more information call, 528-3404.

Blue Devils to win

Oh what a week the Crystal Ball had. In the schedule I have at the office, it showed that-Oklahoma State was supposed to play Syracuse, but in reality Syracuse played Pittsburgh. So we throw that game out, and the Crystal Ball enjoys a perfect week at 9-0, which ups the season record to date at 14-5 for a quality 73 percent clip.

This week there will be some tough ones to predict but we're not backing down.

Walthill at Winside—The Wildcats are coming off a very big week at Osmond where they ended the game in the third quetre with a 46-0 victory. I believe coach Randy Geier has his team clicking right now and this is homecoming week in Winside, Winside, 30—Walthill, 6.

Allen at Wynot—The Eagles of Allen played much better in their loss at Bancroft-Rosalie last Friday only losing 22-0. Still the Eagles have a 1-3 record while Wynot is looking toward a possible playoff berth if it can keep winning. Look for the 3-1 Wynot squad to squeak out a close one, Wynot, 24—Allen, 22.

Wakefield at Homer—Coach Dennis Wilbur watched his squad almost perform a miracle last Friday in coming close to knocking off highly rated Norfolk Catholic. If his squad can regain some of that emotion this week they should have no trouble with the troubled Homer, Wakefield, 26—Homer 6.

Laurel at Pierce—Laurel is coming off two big wins at home against Homer 6.

Laurel at Pierce—Laurel is coming off two big wins at home against Ponca and Homer. Pierce is a Class B school and they feel they are in contention to be in the playoffs if they play well the rest of the season. That means they won't lose to Laurel at home, Pierce, 21—Laurel 12.

Wayne at West-Point—This game is a rival and when it comes to rivals, you can throw out all the stats you see on paper because the intangibles speak louder than stats. On paper Wayne is the superior team but they are playing in West Point and they do not share a kind relationship with each other. Still you have to like the Blue Devils who returned this week to the ratings at the number nine slot. Wayne, 27—West Point, 12. West Point, 12.

Emporia State at Wayne State—O.K. no offense to the Wildcats after having won its first game in some time, but Emporia State is a much better team than Minot State. Emporia lost to the nation's number one team last week in Central Arkansas, but only by a 20-14 count. The Hornets may be ready to sting some Wildcats this week. Emporia State, ---Wayne State 14.

Other games of note: Nebraska, 64—Oregon State, 10; Oklahoma, 63—Kansas, 9; Georgia, 23—South Carolina, 14; Arizona State, 24—Missouri, 21; with a 4-0 mark.

Allen took the opening kickoff and drove down to the five yard line of Bancroft before giving it up on downs. "For the most part we played much better than we did last week," Busselmann said. "I thought Shane Dahl did a nice job of running the option in his first start as quarterback."

Busselmann also said his offen.

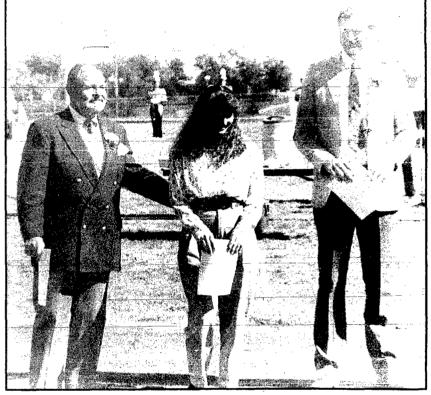

Busselmann also said his offen-sive line did a better job and that was proven by the fact that Kent Chase enjoyed the fruits of gaining 100 yards for the first time this season. Chase finished with 113 yards on 24 carries. Dahl was just 1-9 in the passing department for 23 yards and that was to Ben Jackson.

Allen mustered 10 first downs in the game compared to Bancroft's

12. Chase managed to get most of Allen's rushing yards as he had 113 of the team's 118. Bancroft ran the ball for 195 yards. Allen was out-yarded by a 252-141 margin. Defensively, the Eagles were led by Shane Dahl with 14 total tackles and one interception. Kevin Crosgrove and Matt Hingst each fin-ished the game with 10 with Cros-grove also getting a fumble recov-

Laurel beats Emerson

The Laurel Bears ran their vol-leyball record to 4-2 last week with a three set victory over Emerson-Hubbard, 7-15, 15-11, 15-7. "Even though we won the second and third sets there was never a time where we felt comfortable enough where we were sure we were go-ing to win," Laurel coach Carol Manganaro said. "Emerson has a good team and they have some good hitters."

good hitters."
Laurel fell behind early in the first set and trailed 11-6. "We made them go through a whole rotation before they beat us when they were up 11-6," Manganaro said.

In the second set Laurel built a 4-0 before Shana Carstensen took over on the service line for Laurel. Carstensen served for seven straight points to give Laurel what seemed to be an unchallenged lead of 11-0.

Emerson-Hubbard did not lie down though. The visitors fought back hard and at one point the score was 13-11 before Laurel closed out the set. In the final set Laurel got up 4-0 only to have Emerson come back and take a 7-5 lead.

Sherri McCorkindale then took her turn in the serving spotlight as points to put the host team up 14-7. "We served 90 percent as a team," Manganaro said. "Amy Newton was our only perfect server on the night with a 15-15 perfor-mance with 12 points. Laurel was 40-53 in spiking but

The GOLDEN YEARS

By Sol Lane

After a two-year study the National Research Council (NRC) found no basis for restricting driving solely because of age. While drivers over 75 as a group are more accident-prone than middle-aged people, NRC found that many elderly people drive safely and are less likely to have accidents than those under 25. NRC recommended periodic testing of all drivers to identify those with impair-ments NRC also called for larger, brighter road signs, Size standards for today's signs are influenced by 1930s research, which often employed test groups of young males.

Swing music of the 1940s, drowned out by rock and roll in the 1950s, is emerging from a long hiatus. Big bands recreat-ing the styles of Tommy Dorey, Glenn Miller and Benny Sey, Glenn Miller and Benny Goodman are featured on TV. Helen O'Connell, Margaret Whiting, Kay Starr, Fran Warren and other star vocalists are making appearances again. How to account for the resurgence of music born in the Depression, and peaking during pression and peaking during World War II? Swing music is joyous and optimistic, music editors point out.

During most of May and June

During most of May and June, Wayne State put together a new major, or combining of majors. It was determined how much the college could offer and what equipment requirements could be met. "The last thing we put together for the firm in July was a comprehensive computer information systems program we felt would address their needs and our needs," said Benson.

Benson said the firm wanted to make sure the college was willing to continue to support a real updated technological computer program. The firm wanted the program to evolve into something "highly competitive with today's markets."

THIS FALL THE college will combine some of the computer majors into the new computer information system major. First National Bank of Omaha helped structure the program. Benson said the computer information system major should be one of the more remirer programs in the midwest.

Peoples Natural Gas cares about its customers. That's why the com-pany is recognizing national Cus-tomer Service Week from Oct. 2 through Oct. 8.

"For 60 years, Peoples customers have depended on our employees to provide safe, reliable natural gas service," James Markham, local manager said. "Customer Service Week offers an opportunity to reinforce that commitment."

Peoples has adopted the acronym "C.A.R.E." as the week's theme. The slogan stands for Customers Are Really Everything."

"Caring is what customer service is all about," Markham said. "Our employees are trained to be the best in the business, but they also care because they live and work in the communities they serve. They take pride in a job well done.

"Part of that job is listening to our customers' opinions. Nothing is more important than what our customers think-about the way we serve them. We encourage any customer who has an idea or complaint to let us know about it. Only then can we better serve them."

RENEW to begin

The fifth and final season of RE-NEW will kick-off Sunday, Oct. 8 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. The theme of this last season is "Evangelization."

The six-week session concludes a process begun in the fall of 1987. St. Mary's is one of many parishes throughout Northeast Nebraska participating in the two-and-a-half year program sponsored by the Omaha Archdiocese.

Anyone interested in joining a RENEW small group for this final season should contact Terri Hypse at 375-4574 to register.

By Chuck Hackenmiller

When we stumble

A calf — just seconds into life. Its wobbling legs rise, only to fall. Yet this calf's courage is heartening and is a lesson to us all.

The newborn calf doesn't give up. Again and again it tries to accomplish a monumental task. The spirit is willing but the body denies.

> Until that one magical moment when the calf stands on its own. Each step becomes more steady and its confidence has grown.

> So many times we find struggles with what we term as new. And we start to stagger seeking answers far between and few.

Failure happens. We must lift the head and get back on our feet. The will to succeed should drive us on toward those goals we hope to meet.

As we look down upon where we stand from the heights we have achieved, we marvel at the accomplishments that came because we believed.

Funny how a little calf can shed light to life's complicated scheme. It doesn't matter if you stumble often as long as you hang on to your dream.

Unexpected donation

WHEN FIRST NATIONAL OF OMAHA announced it would be locating a service center in Wayne last Friday, they also had a nice surprise in store for Wayne State College. John Lauritzen (at left), chairman of the board of First National Bank of Omaha, presented Dr. Donald Mash, president of Wayne State, with a $10,000 check in appreciation to the college for assisting in the site selection process. The funds have been given to the Wayne State College Foundation for uses to be determined later.

Junior and senior students en-rolled in science classes throughout northeast Nebraska will participate in an unique experience when they attend a "Water Quality Day" pro-gram scheduled for Oct. 16 at the Norfolk, according to Bill Kranz, Ir-rigation Specialist with the Univer-sity of Nebraska Cooperative Ex-tension Service.

Kranz is leading a committee made—up of state and federal agency representatives and Northeast Community College state which feel that most students are not exposed to many water quality issues unless they go on to study water quality in college. "We hope to provide these students with an experience which will affect the way they view Ne-braska's water," commented Kranz. "This program is unique in that it is the only program dealing with water quality which is being pro-vided specifically for juniors and se-

The Big Farmer rode along to Wakefield for Pumpkin Days yesterday, and we got into a festive fall mood with a Pumpkins Under the Big Top theme.

I was too lazy to get up for the run, so had to buy my own t-shirt. There was a large display of decorated pumpkins, and a small display of large pumpkins. One weighed 167 pounds, I don't know how they got it out of the patch and into town.

I had the pleasure of judging the bakeoff. I never realized the pumpkin could be so versatile: cakes, pies, cookies, bars, bread, poppy-seed muffins and tortes all had to be tasted. What a chorel Mike thought he should have done-it.

THE MOST unusual recipe was for bread pudding, actually baked in a pumpkin shell. It was delicious. I actually did some baking of my Sourdough reminds me of the "Herman" that Kathy Boeckenhauer gave me years ago. It sits on the cupboard in a covered container, and you feed it-every few days. Then, since it grows, you have to use it in something baked or give it away.

One in three U.S. families is victimized by drugs. According to a recent Callup poll, more than four million young people, aged 13 to 17, were offered illegal drugs during a 30 day period. Drug abuse is a serious, nationwide problem among adults and young people. It is a problem that must be addressed at every level. We all want to fight the substance abuse problems that presently exist in our communities and to protect our neighborhoods from being invaded by drug-traffickers.
