Time to think energy efficiency As temperatures cool down in the fall, people begin to think about

As temperatures cool down in the fall, people begin to think about energy efficiency in their homes. We remember how much our furnace can run on a cold winter's day. And recall the promises made last spring to tackle home improvement tasks to reduce the heat loss, and to improve our own comfort. The bot-tom line is, how big will this year's fuel bill be? Many experts also are wondering about the national fuel bill — the-cost and supply of energy for the United States. As we move into the 1990's the outlook becomes more uncertain. The availability of energy, and its cost, can rise and fall due to the effect of a number of factors. These include economic growth, conservation induced by high prices, variations in climate, political stability or upheaval, technological ad-vances, and the development of new energy sources.

ONE FACTOR IN the energy puzzle has become increasingly clear: we must learn to use energy as efficiently as possible. The U. S. Department of Energy's "National Energy Policy Plan Projec-tions to 2020" includes the following statement: The oil price increase of 1973-74 and 1979-81 set into motion power-ful energy conservation forces that are likely to continue...Even though prices are temporarily declining, the long-term expectation is for-increas-ing prices. Energy conservation has become as important as various sources of energy supply in determining the future evolution of the U. S. and world energy situations. Energy conservation is, or needs to be, a way of life. Energy can be conserved in and around the home in many ways without sacrificing com-fort or convenience.

fort or convenience.

SAVING THE SMALLEST amount of energy has value when individual savings are multiplied by millions of people. In taking the long-range view of conservation, we must emphasize those tasks — that once completed or incorporated into our way of life — continue to contribute toward overall conservation.

The Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service is committed to helping Nebraskans develop conservation habits and to live an energy-efficient lifestyle. A wide variety of educational information and assistance is available to help persons make choices about the most effective, efficient, and economical conservation measures to adopt in your home. October has been designated energy awareness month. Set aside some time to learn more about energy conservation. Contact the Wayne Extension office at 375-3310 for more information.

SPORTS Winside downed after comeback

In a football game that was dis-guised as a track meet, Walthill out gunned Winside Friday night in Winside and spoiled the hosts homecoming with a 52-44 victory. Winside's defense suffered a barrage of 46 Walthill points in the first half alone as the visitors racked first half alone as the visitors racked up an amazing total of 239 rushing yards in one half of play. I really don't know how to explain it, Winside coach Randy Geier said. We just weren't mentally into the game until it was nearly too late." What had been the Wildcat strength up to this point of the season, Winside's defense was porous to just about everything Walthill threw at them in the first Mainin unew at them in the hist half: "We gave up only-412 yards rushing in our first four football games combined," Geier said. "You can't take anything away from Emerson because they came to play," Troth said. "We just didn't play very well."

In the game for fifth place Allen demolished the host team New-castle in straight sets, 15-4, 15-3. "We played much better," Troth said. "We ran a lot of multiple of fenses and the girls did a nice job of setting and spiking. Everyone got to play."

Anneta Malcom was a perfect 10-10 with one and Anneta Malcom was a perfect 10-10 with one ace while Stephanie Carlson was 6-6 with two aces. Leslie Isom was 5-6. Stephanie Carlson was a perfect 6-6 in spiking with three aces and Melinda Petit was 5-5 with three kills. Leslie Isom, Robin Schroeder and Cindy Chase were all a perfect. 3-3.

Carla Stapleton and Becca Stingley combined for a perfect 21-21 with four assists.

Wins have not come that easily so far this season for Paul Giessel-mann's Lady Wildcat volleyball team in Winside. But when they do, it's monumental and Thursday's victory over Coleridge in Coleridge was no exception.

Coleridge has a good team, Giesselmann said. "In fact the Norfolk newspaper had them as a leading contender for the ratings and we walk in their gym and beat Winside took the Bulldogs to three sets before winning, 15-12, 12-15, 15-7. The Wildcats got an 85 percent serving effort for the night and Giesselmann still thinks that's below the mark he would like to see but for the type of serves his girls were coming up with, he was satisfied.

"We had some tough serves," Giesselmann said. "Kelly Pitchler had a real nice night serving with seven aces on a 13-15 effort." Jenny Jacobsen was 19-20 in serv-ing with three aces while Patty Oberle was 13-15 with 'two aces. Tinia Hartmann made good on 9-12 with one ace and Shannon Holdorf was 8-13 with four aces. Jenni Topp was a perfect 10-10 and had one ace.

Jenny Jacobsen was the spiking leader for the Wildcats on the night as she connected on 24 of 28 spikes and recorded nine kills. Shannon Holdorf was 10-12 with five kills and Tinia Hartmann was 6-8 with five kills. Patty Oberle had four kills on 8-12 attempts and Jenni Topp was 8-9 with three kills. Kelly Pitchler managed one kill and was 5-6.

Question: 1. Who decides when and why the "Wel-come To Wayne" flags are installed on Main Street?

Answer:

A.1. The decision as to when and why the "Welcome to Wayne" flags are installed is many-fold. When the Chamber of Com-merce office is notified of a special event occurring in Wayne we try to accommodate all of them.

The flags are installed at dawn and taken down at dusk, done completely by volunteers and organizations. We thank them for their help. On some occasions, we have a request we cannot meet because of not being able to get the volunteers assistance due to short notification. If anyone wishes to volunteer their assistance or has an event they would like "Welcome To Wayne" flags installed, please call the Chamber of Commerce office at 375-2240.

Leadership seminar

AREA-High school sophomores are asked to apply for nomination to attend the 32nd annual Hugh O'Brien Youth (HOBY) Seminar, which will be held next spring in Lincoln or Omaha. Each school will select one sophomore, based upon leadership ability, sensitivity to others and a desire to communicate your knowledge to peers. The emphasis is on personal incentive and leadership potential. Applica-tion deadline is Nov. 4. Programs are organized and conducted by HOBY and it's state affiliates and are funded through contributions from corporations, service organizations, foundations and individuals. All expenses for the seminar are paid except for travel to the site. HOBY seminars are designed to motivate, train and reward future leaders, preparing them for leadership positions in their schools and helping them to develop the talents that will serve them well into the future.

The Cooperative Extension Service and 4-H are committed to developing and delivering new programs for current 4-H'ers and for those special youth who are more at risk.

Extension's 4-H efforts will focus on prevention and intervention programs rather' than treatment. 4-H hopes to:

--- Expand the youth outreach mission and resources of the total land grant university system to meet the needs of youth at risk.

— Develop and deliver pro-grams for the susceptible youth that build strengths and treats causes rather than symptoms.

--- And provide leadership and employment skill training for America's future leaders and work-
