Council receives, gives awards

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

What was termed a regular city council meeting turned into a type of awards ceremony Tuesday evening as various city officials and members of the community were recognized and presented a variety of signs and plaques.

First on the list of presentations was Mark Sorensen of Wayne who presented Mayor Wayne Marsh with one of two signs that will be posted somewhere within the Wayne vicinity. The signs were given to Sorensen by Port of Sioux City River Cade officials in appreciation to the city of Wayne being an active participant in this year's celebration.

The city of Wayne was chosen as an Honor City for this year's River Cade.

After Sorensen's presentation, Mayor Marsh was given a plaque, dedicated to the city of Wayne, that was presented by the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging to the Wayne community. Making the presentations to the city council and Mayor Marsh were Georgia Janssen, director of the Wayne Senior Center and Rose Rieken, president of the Senior Center.

Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging presented the plaque in honor of the Wayne Senior Center's 20th anniversary.

And then it was Mayor Marsh's turn to present some plaques.

Marsh handed out four plaques of appreciation to Dr. Donald Mash, president of Wayne State College; Bill Dickey, Wayne Industries representative; Linda Smith, executive vice president of Wayne Industries and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce; and Phil Kloster, Wayne city administrator and liaison to Wayne Industries.

Marsh said these individuals were involved in the negotiations that resulted in First National Bank of Omaha's decision to open a service center in Wayne. The service center, once in full operation, will be employing up to 150 people.

Theatre group hosting festival

This Saturday, Nov. 4, the Wayne Community Theatre will present the first annual High School Drama Festival at 8 p.m. on the Wayne State College Campus.

The festival is an invitational competition featuring two of the area's high schools.

Stanton High School will present "The Emperor's New Clothes," directed by Nancy Woepffel. The Wakefield High School entry is "The Pattern Is Broken," directed by Val Bard.

The schools will compete for scholarships to Wayne State College.

Judging this year's festival are Tim Orwig from Morningside College in Sioux City and Ken Robbins from the University of South Dakota at Vermillion.

An awards reception will follow the performances, where scholarships in the amount of $300 will be presented to the Best Actor and Best Actress of the festival.

Tickets are available at the door. Admission is $5 dollars for adults and $2 for students.

Wayne Community Theatre patrons are reminded that this production is free with their season ticket, so plan on attending and supporting the festival.

It's a toss up

THE WAYNE AREA Jaycees collected leaves from Wayne residences this past weekend as part of a public service. The leaves were taken to Garden Perennials south of Wayne. Above, Bob Keating, Joel Ankeny and Lowell Heggemeyer pitch bags of leaves into wagons and equipment donated by Dee Lutt and Doug Temme. Bill's G-Men provided the garbage truck to compact the leaves and haul them to Garden Perennials.

Review Board releases findings

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

A final report by the Natural Gas Study Review Board was revealed to the Wayne City Council Tuesday evening, appearing to indicate that municipal acquisition of the gas system would not be satisfactory at this time.

The Natural Gas Study Review Board was established by ordinance in December, 1988. Appointed to serve on the board were Dr. Sid Hillier, Bill Dickey, Pat Gross, Jacque Kinnett, Gerald Schafer and Andrew Soll. The board's duty was to include (but not be limited to) investigating and analyzing reports and other information dealing with the supply of natural gas to the city of Wayne, and then report their findings in a written report to the city council.

A copy of the conclusion of the report, said no definite objectives to be achieved by municipal acquisition of the gas system were established to guide the Review Board's considerations. "Lacking such, the Board considered how service and safety could best be obtained at least at current levels with the greatest prospect for maintenance or reduction of rates charged to customers," the report indicated.

THE REVIEW Board concluded there is little doubt — based on the city's management of electric, water and sewer utilities — that the city could effectively operate a natural gas system in a safe and responsive manner.

"The Board was unable to satisfy itself, however, that such an operation could produce a fiscal surplus without a substantial rate increase to the consumer," it was mentioned in the report.

"The shifting federal regulatory climate controlling distribution of natural gas nationwide and the evolving competitive nature of the marketplace added significantly to the Board's uncertainty about the advantages of municipal acquisition," the report indicated.

In November, 1985, a resolution was passed by the city council authorizing the Wayne mayor and city administrator to conduct, obtain and hire an independent analysis and study of the Nebraska Municipal Power Pool feasibility study in regard to the city's present gas service situation.

The study by HDR was designed to determine whether the sale of Peoples Natural Gas to Utilicorp of Kansas City, Missouri was beneficial to the residents of Wayne, and also if it would be feasible and advantageous to Wayne citizens for another entity to acquire the natural gas system and operate it as part of another private system or to acquire the system and operate it as a municipal utility.

"The risk/benefit ratio at this time is such that the Review Board recommends the HDR study and this report be put on indefinite hold until such time as the service, safety or rate structure of Peoples Natural Gas Co., the regulatory climate affecting the operation of gas systems nationwide, or public opinion suggests that further review is warranted," the report concluded.

SUCH A REVIEW should be in the form of a more complete, in depth, credible study commissioned by the city council, the Review Board concluded. "It is further recommended that, until such time as such a study is warranted, the city administration should limit its activities related to natural gas service to the monitoring of the five factors [service, safety, rate structure of Peoples Natural Gas; regulatory climate; or public opinion]

Winside school sued

The Winside School District and the Winside School Board of Education have been named in a lawsuit filed by a mother of a student that attends school there.

Marilyn L. Morse, mother of Wendy Morse of Winside, filed a suit on Oct. 13 in the Wayne County District Court for damages against the school district and all the present board members. Morse is seeking $156,468.56 in the suit.

In the lawsuit filing, it alleges that on Feb. 5, 1988, some students at the Winside school were playfully tugging at each other at the school's learning center. One of the students being pulled by other students was released and the student's forearm hit Wendy (who was standing nearby) in the mouth, it was mentioned in the lawsuit.

Morse is suing the school district and board members for monetary damages for past medical attention, future medical attention, and pain and suffering incurred by her daughter.

In her suit, Morse alleges that the school was negligent in providing adequate supervision of classroom activities and that there was refusal of the school district's employees and teachers to prevent or control the activity which inflicted damage to her daughter.

Nelson-Criddle nuptial vows repeated in Wakefield rites

Marcia Ann Nelson and John Criddle Jr. exchanged marriage vows on Oct. 14 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, rural Wakefield.

The Rev. Lloyd Redhage of Black Hawk, S. D. officiated at the two o'clock, double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Gary and Vernell Nelson of Wakefield. She is a 1985 graduate of Wakefield High School and a 1988 graduate of Northeast Community College, Norfolk.

The bridegroom, son of John and Marsha Criddle of Dakota City, was graduated from Homer High School in 1986 and from Western Iowa Tech in 1988.

roses and carnations. The bouquet was designed by the bridegroom's grandmother.

The bride's pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom. Her personal attendant was Sonya Peatrowsky of Wakefield.

MAID OF HONOR was Kerin Criddle of South Sioux City, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were Amy Nelson of Oakland and Ann Criddle of Dakota City, also a sister of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was the bride's brother, Michael Nelson of Pender. Groomsmen were Kevin Criddle of Dakota City, brother of the bridegroom, and Pat McNear of Homer.

Ring bearer was Cody Olson of South Sioux City.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore floor-length dusty rose gowns of Chantilly lace. The dresses were designed with Sabrina necklines, V backs and satin bows encircling the waistlines. They carried a trio of pink roses, also designed by the bridegroom's grandmother.

The bridegroom was attired in a white full dress tuxedo and wore a pink and burgundy rose boutonniere. His attendants wore silver tuxedos with dusty rose bow ties and cummerbunds and pink rose boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride selected a fuchsia-chiffon knit dress in street length, and the bridegroom's mother chose a fuchsia and black dress, also in street length. Both wore pink rose corsages.

Special guests at the ceremony were Mrs. Albert Echtenkamp of Wayne, Carl Nelson Sr. of Plainview, Mrs. J. J. Criddle of Van Vleet, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. John Bunch Sr. of Sioux City, grandparents of the bride and bridegroom.

FOLLOWING THE ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Hosts were Delwin and

Mr. and Mrs. John Criddle Jr.

Myrna Swanson of Oakland, and gift carriers were Dan and Becky Redhage of Black Hawk, S. D.

Assisting with serving were Donna Jacobsen, Lisa Jacobsen, Beverly Ruwe, Nila Schuttler and Neva Echtenkamp.

FOLLOWING A wedding trip, the newlyweds are making their home in South Sioux City.

Ahlvers-Hinds wed in Lincoln

Wedding rites Sept. 23 at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lincoln united in marriage Julie Ahlvers and Don Hinds, both of Hallam.

Parents of the bride are Charles and Nancy Ahlvers of Lincoln, formerly of Wayne. The bridegroom is the son of Carl Hinds of South Sioux City and the late Sara Hinds.

The Rev. Kissler of Lincoln officiated at the 2:30 p.m., double ring ceremony. Decorations included aisle candles.

GUESTS ATTENDING the ceremony were registered by Susan Payal of Mission, Kan. and Julie Gaines of Lincoln, and ushered into the church by Dan Ahlvers of Wayne, Mark Casey of Sioux City, Steve Schmiedt of Terre Haute, Ind. and Gary Houlden of Lincoln. Junior usher was Jeff Baker of Scottsbluff.

Maid of honor was Denise Ahlvers of Lincoln, and bridesmaids were Stephanie Simpson of Fort Collins, Colo., Kim Holtgrew of Atkinson, Sue Baker of Scottsbluff and Deb Wood of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Best man was Terri Kirsch of Omaha. Serving as groomsmen were Tim McNamara of South Sioux City, Tom Hinds of Downey, Calif., Craig Frenzel of Hazelwood, Mo., and Curtis Craig of Alhambra, Calif.

Lighting candles were Jamie Ahlvers of Omaha and Dawn Eaks of Colorado Springs, Colo. Flower girls were Katie Baker of Scottsbluff and Ashley Holtgrew of Atkinson, and ring bearers were Phillip Hinds of Sioux City and Jeremy Eaks of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Wedding music included "Somewhere Out There," "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wind Beneath My Wings." Vocalist was Betsy Simpson of Lincoln and organists were Angie Anderson of Lincoln and Mary Kettleher of Bernet.

ON HER WEDDING day, the bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in a white gown of re-embroidered raschel lace and satin with a semi cathedral train.

The dress was designed with a fitted bodice and Queen Anne neckline with a keyhole back and pearl strands. The high capped, long tapered sleeves were trimmed with lace and beading and the full skirt featured lace cutouts.

She wore a pearl and rhinestone headband with a side cluster of flowers, pearl filaments and a double tiered veil.

The bride carried a bouquet of white lilies, white dendrobium orchids, red gerbera daisies, red alstromaria and red miniature carnations.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore black satin tea-length dresses featuring pick-up skirts and dropped bodices graced with a satin bow at the low backs.

Each carried a mixture of white snapdragons, red alstromaria, white freesia and red miniature carnations accented with ribbons.

The men in the wedding party were attired in black tuxedos with red cummerbunds and bow ties.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ahlvers chose a two-piece black rayon dress in street length designed with a bow at the pleum waist.

FOLLOWING THE ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held at Top of the Eleven at the NBC Building in Lincoln.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Burton of Beatrice and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Meyer of Colorado Springs, Colo. Arranging gifts were Kristin Holtgrew of Atkinson and Valerie Miller of Lincoln.

Cutting and serving the cake were Claudia McKinzie and Anita Anno, both of Lincoln.

THE NEWLYWEDS traveled to Kansas City and are making their home at Rt. 1, Box 32A, Hallam, Neb., 68368.

The bride was graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1980 and received her BSN degree from the UNMC College of Nursing in 1987. She is employed as a registered nurse at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hinds

The bridegroom, a 1982 graduate of South Sioux City High School, attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and received his BS degree in construction management in 1988. He is employed at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Wildcats get tamed by Fort Hays St., 38-7

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne State Wildcats football team fell on hard times Saturday as Fort Hays State defeated them 38-7 in Hays, Kan. The host Tigers came into the contest with a losing record but Wayne State mentor Dennis Wagner was quick to point out that some of the teams were that Fort Hays lost to.

"Their (Fort Hays State) record is a little misleading because they have played several top rated teams in both the NAIA level and NCAA Division II and even some Division IAA teams," Wagner said. "We knew coming into the game that it would be a tough ball game but we didn't play well at all."

"One of Wayne State's biggest hindrance's on the afternoon was containing Fort Hays quarterback Milt McGriggs. McGriggs' style is a lot like Gale Lawton's," Wagner said. "He definitely hurt us." Mc-

Griggs finished the contest with 275 total all purpose yards. He rushed for 109 and passed for 176.

Standout return man Tyrone Tracy didn't burn the Wildcats on the special teams but he did some damage with two receptions that went for touchdowns.

Fort Hays State got on the board with 6:08 remaining in the first quarter on a one yard run by McGriggs. With just over a minute remaining in the opening stanza, McGriggs hit an open Tyrone Tracy on a 56 yard scoring play to give the Tigers a 14-0 cushion after one quarter of play.

Midway through the second quarter McGriggs struck again from 62 yards out, this time via the run, and suddenly the Tigers had built a 21-0 lead with still over six minutes remaining until intermission.

Finally with six seconds remaining until half time, Gale Lawton connected with Bill Blondin on a seven yard pass and with Blaine Brañcum's extra point the Wildcats trailed 21-7. Unfortunately for Wayne State, that was the end of their scoring on the afternoon.

"Offensively we really lacked consistency," Wagner said. "Defensively, we just couldn't stop them." Perhaps a mild understatement as the Wildcats only possessed the ball for 21 minutes while Fort Hays had the ball offensively for 39 minutes.

In the second half it was all Fort Hays as they connected on a 41 yard field goal and Tyrone Tracy caught his second touchdown pass of the day from seven yards out. The final score came on a 65 yard pass from McGriggs to John Ruder.

"They did a good job of taking us out of our game plan," Wagner said. "They took Troy Jackson out of the game and forced Gale Lawton to keep the ball. Finally we got into a position where we had to start passing a lot because we had too and Fort Hays knew we had too."

Fort Hays made very few mistakes in the contest which aided their efforts. The host team suffered no turnovers while the Wildcats had two. The time of possession difference could also be measured in punts as Wayne State's Jeff Pasold was forced to punt the ball eight times while the Tigers had to punt just three times.

Wagner feels that third down conversions are also a key to winning football games and against Fort Hays State the Wildcats were only 4-13 on the third down conversions while Fort Hays was good on 8-15.

"We were totally dominated on both sides of the line of scrimmage," Wagner said. "We just plain and simple did not play very well and frankly, it's got me concerned. We have two more games remaining on our schedule and we can't be ready to throw in the white flag. We have to find the combination of guys who really want to play football and this will be a very important week of practice for us."

Wayne State was labeled by Wagner as not playing with emotion or aggressiveness in Saturday's loss. "We had poor offense and defensive execution," Wagner said. "They put a big rush on our line and really put the heat on Lawton."

Benedictine will travel to Wayne this Saturday for a Parent's Day contest which is Wayne State's season home finale. "They will be looking to win because they have to win in order to keep their play-off hopes alive," Wagner said. "There is no doubt they'll be fired up to play and we have to be ready to play every down."

Gale Lawton was the Wildcats leading ground gainer Saturday with 127 yards on 26 carries. Troy Jackson only carried the ball 11 times but the junior running back managed 78 yards. Lawton was 8-17 in the passing department for 122 yards. Macha Shinhoster caught three passes for 70 yards while Bill Blondin caught three passes for 19 yards. Troy Jackson caught the other two passes for 33 yards.

As a team Wayne State netted 218 yards rushing while Fort Hays managed 267. The Tigers passed for 176 yards for a total of 443 while the Wildcats passed for 122 for a total of 340. Wayne State suffered 11 penalties in the game for 115 yards while Fort Hays suffered seven flags for a total of 23 yards.

Defensively, Wayne State was led by Bob Sterba who had an out standing game with 16 total tackles and all 16 were unassisted. Chris Matzen finished with nine tackles while Mike Ware had eight. Mo Walker finished the game with six stops and Randy Rouse managed four.

DEANNA SCHLUNS awaits a possible spike during Wayne's first round match of district play against Logan View. The Blue Devils won in straight sets but fell to top seeded Columbus Scotus on Tuesday night.

Trojans downed

Paul Eaton's Wakefield Trojans finished their volleyball season Tuesday night in sub-district play in Wakefield as they lost to Laurel in straight sets, 9-15, 5-15.

Wakefield began sub-district play with a three set victory over Emerson-Hubbard despite losing the first set, 10-15, 15-10, 15-2. "I thought our girls showed a lot of character coming from behind and winning the second set after losing the first set," Eaton said.

Wakefield fell behind 7-2 in the second set before rebounding to out-score Ponca the rest of the match by a 28-10 margin. The Trojans were right at 90 percent in serving but all of the missed serves they suffered came in the opening set.

Melanie Kuhl was the top server as she enjoyed a perfect 11-11 outing with two aces. Susan Nuernberger was 8-8 on the night with two aces. Jess Robins was the leading spiker for the Trojans with six kill spikes in the match while connecting on 14-17 spike attempts.

Laurie Plendl was 9-12 with five kill spikes while Julie Greve was a perfect 6-6 with four ace spikes. Ingrid Ruoff was 4-5 on the night with two aces. The setting chores were manned by Cathi Larson and Susan Nuernberger. Larson was 39-42 and Nuernberger was 11-15.

"Susan was coming off a sprained ankle which limited her mobility a little bit," Eaton said. "We played poorly early but managed to fight back and win."

In the sub-district final Wakefield lost to Laurel and the story line for the Trojans was a lack of serving efficiency. "We were below 70 percent on our serves and we feel if you serve below 80 percent you're not going to win," Eaton said. "Laurel has a real nice team though."

Julie Greve proved to be the top server in the match with a 5-6 effort while leading the team in spiking as well with a 9-9 effort including five kill spikes. Jess Robins was 13-15 with seven kill spikes.

Cathi Larson led the setting duties with a 28-29 outing while Susan Nuernberger was 12-14 and Christy Otte, who spelled Nuernberger at times, was 9-9 with five set assists. "Christy did a nice job of stepping in when we needed her," Eaton said.

"Wakefield will say good-bye to several seniors. We had an outstanding group of seniors this year," Eaton said.

Blue Devils end volleyball season

Marlene Uhing's Lady Blue Devils were defeated by top seeded Columbus Scotus in the second round of district action at Northeast Community College in Norfolk on Tuesday night in straight sets, 15-4, 15-3.

Wayne got to the semi-final round by defeating Logan View on Monday night in two sets, 15-11, 15-6. Wayne ends the season with a record of 11-12.

In Monday night's game the Blue Devils came out a little slow but Uhing felt that it was because it was the first time several of the girls were in a district game. "We were a little tight at first," Uhing said, "but even so I thought we were into the game and finally we pulled our self out of it and began playing looser and we won in two sets."

Uhing said that Logan View was doing a good job of picking up on the spike attempts of the Blue Devils so they made some adjustments between games and in the second set it was pretty much all Wayne.

Teresa Ellis was the leading server in the contest with a perfect 15-15 with five aces and 10 points. Heidi Reeg returned to the line-up after being out several weeks with an injury. Reeg led the spikers with an 18-21 performance that yielded her nine kill spikes. Erin Pick also had a fine night with seven kill spikes to her credit.

Teresa Ellis enjoyed not only a perfect night of serving but a perfect night of setting the ball with a 45-45 performance with 16 set assists.

On Tuesday night against Columbus Scotus the Blue Devils played tentative and Scotus virtually made short work of them despite Wayne scoring the first four points of the game.

"This should have been a match where we played loose because Scotus actually had all the pressure on them," Uhing said. "But we just didn't play very well at all."

Jennifer Hammer was the top Wayne server with a 5-5 performance with three points and three aces while Teresa Ellis was also 5-5 with two points and two aces.

Heidi Reeg was once again the top spiker with a 12-17 outing with three kill spikes and Teresa Ellis had four spikes with one kill spike. Ellis once again led the team in setting with a 17-17 performance with three set assists.

"Teresa has really had a good year," Uhing said. "We lose three seniors in Teresa, Heidi Reeg and Kristen Frevert and all three of them did a great job this year. They are all good leaders on and off the court."

The Blue Devils battled a mixture of youth and inexperience all season but they did mature during the second half of the season. Inconsistency took its toll in several contests where Wayne would play good and bad in the same set but it was the bad that would cost them the game.

Laurel advances

The Laurel volleyball team advanced to the district finals to be held this Friday in Wayne against Hartington Cedar Catholic after defeating Ponca and Wakefield in sub-district play in Wakefield on Tuesday night.

Carol Manganaro's team downed Ponca in first round play by a 15-2, 17-15 count. "I thought the general play and hustle was very good," Manganaro said. "The girls played hard despite some miscommunication and five missed serves in the second set."

The Bears started out very quickly against Ponca and they never looked back en-route to a 15-2 thumping in the opening set. Laurel finished the match with 47 spikes with Shana Carstensen and Sherri McCorkindale having five kill spikes each and Amy Adkins having four kill spikes.

Amy Adkins led the team in serving with a 7-7 effort and Amy Newton was the top setter with 13 assists. The Bears served at a 90 percent clip connecting on 45-50 attempts.

Out of the 47 spikes Laurel accounted for against Ponca 36 percent were for kills. Amy Newton was the leading scorer with eight points while Julie Dickey managed six.

In the nightcap Laurel faced Wakefield, which beat Emerson-Hubbard in three sets prior to Laurel's match with Ponca. Laurel made short work of the Trojans despite playing on Wakefield's home court. The Bears advanced to the district finals with a 15-9, 15-5 victory.

The Bears finished with an 86 percent success serving ratio but Manganaro's team managed to miss most of their serves in the opening set. "We missed six serves in the first set and only in the second set," Manganaro said. "I thought we played real aggressive and we did a good job of spiking to an open spot."

A lot of Laurel's spikes were not hard kill spikes but they were placed selectively into open areas of the court which proved lethal to Wakefield. The Bears managed 40 spikes and were successful on 91 percent of their spike attempts. The kill percentage was an unbelievable 68 percent.

Shana Carstensen was the top spiker in the match with a 22-22 effort with four tips and 10 kill spikes. Amy Adkins connected on 8-11 spike attempts and she finished with five kill spikes.

Amy Newton led the squad with 13 points while Julie Dickey managed six. Newton was 17-18 in serving while Dickey was 10-11. Newton however, led the team with 17 set assists.

"I think winning both matches in two sets is a big plus for us," Manganaro said. "We've had trouble with let downs in the second set and by winning both of the sub-district matches in two games in a mark of improvement for our team."

Sherri McCorkindale was nursing a sore ankle on the night and within the first few plays of the Ponca match she stepped on the foot of one of her teammates and went down. McCorkindale played at about 90 percent the rest of the night according to Manganaro.

"Sherri did a good job of playing with a little pain," Manganaro said. "She is a tough player and she wasn't about to let anything stop her from playing."

SHERRI MCCORKINDALE battles a Ponca player at the net during sub-district play in Wakefield on Tuesday night. Laurel defeated Ponca in straight sets and then downed Wakefield in straight sets to advance to the district final this Friday in Wayne against Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Winside defeated in sub-district action

Coleridge put an end to Winside's volleyball season in sub-district play at Hartington on Tuesday night in straight sets, 15-7, 15-9. Winside coach Paul Giesselmann was concerned coming into the contest with his team's serving and passing categories.

"I felt that the serving and passing game was our key to improving," Giesselmann said. "I felt that if we improved on those two aspects of the game we would have a good shot at beating Coleridge."

What Giesselmann however didn't count on was getting quality play from both the serving and passing aspects of the game but his spiking and setting categories failed to come through like they had all season.

"We just didn't get into the groove," Giesselmann said. "We were weak on our strong points and we were strong on our weak points."

The Wildcats amassed a 91 percent serve success percentage as Shannon Holdorf led the way with an 8-8 performance with two aces. Tania Hartmann followed with a 7-7 performance with two aces. Jenny Jacobsen was 3-4 in serving with one ace and Kelly Pitchler was 6-7 with one ace. Jenni Topp finished with a 5-5 performance and April Thies was 3-4.

The most astonishing stat of the night was that the Wildcats only managed five kill spikes as Coleridge did a fine job of digging up would be spikes. Shannon Holdorf was 8-11 with no kills while Jenny Jacobsen was 13-16 with three kill spikes. Tania Hartmann and Kelly Pitchler each had one kill spike to account for the five total spikes.

Kelly Pitchler had two set assists while finding success on 22-26 set attempts while Tania Hartmann had three set assists on a 13-16 effort.

Winside finishes the season with a 4-11 record. "The highlight of the season was the unofficial state record in D-1 of 44 kill spikes in one match and that happened in the first round of the Lewis & Clark conference against none other than Coleridge," Giesselmann said.

Incidentally, in that same match Jenny Jacobsen tied a state mark in Class D-1 with 25 kill spikes in one match.

Cautious optimism surrounds WSC Cagers

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

What was at one time a pre-season which abounded with optimism has turned into a somewhat state of subdued anxiety for Steve Aggers and the Wayne State Wildcat basketball team.

All but two players return this season and with the acquisitions of some new talent things were looking great in a hurry plus the fact that the Wildcats are being tutored by last year's state college coach of the year in Nebraska in Steve Aggers. Last year's squad boasted the first winning season for men's basketball at Wayne State in a decade. Now however, the basketball team looks more like a mash unit as several players are hindered with nagging injuries.

The focal point of Wayne State's offense and defense last season was the all-American play of Marques Wilson. The 6-6 center baffled opponents with his unparalleled ability to hit the boards against bigger centers and come away with the ball.

Wilson finished the season as the eighth best rebounder in the nation in NCAA Division II. Wilson was named to the academic all-American squad and was the leading vote getter for the all-district team. Wilson was also a member of the all-conference team.

He was primed and ready to return for his senior season which he and his teammates were hoping would be a Kansas City type of year. Kansas City of course is where the annual NAIA National Tournament is held each year. Unfortunately, Wilson blew out his knee in a summer league basketball game in Denver. The accident happened in August and Wilson shortly later received major reconstructive surgery to the knee.

"The earliest possible that Marques could return to help our team is January," Aggers said. "Doctors have never seen anyone return from reconstructive knee surgery any earlier than 6-9 months but some of the surgery done on Marques was through an arthroscope which may heal faster."

Wilson is a fifth year senior this season and he sat out one full year because of reconstructive surgery on the same knee when he was a sophomore. "Marques has great persistence," Aggers said. "He believes he will return to help our team. He is working extremely hard on rehabilitation."

In July the Wildcats received their first blow when they learned they would be without the services of 6-7 swing man Casey Gates. Gates was ruled academically ineligible for the season. "What we thought was the makings of a possibly outstanding year has turned into a situation where we just have to wait and see," Aggers said.

Among the returning players who will definitely be in the spotlight for the Wildcats this season include junior guard Steve Dunbar. Dunbar has the ability to electrify the crowd with his dazzling court sense. He has the ability to change the momentum of the game by himself.

"Steve is going to be one of our key players but he was slowed all summer after having shoulder surgery to remove calcium deposits," Aggers said. "He could not lift weights all summer and he is just now getting back to where he was before. His conditioning was slowed with his surgery and recovery."

THE FANTASTIC freshman duo of Eric Priebe and Doug Kuzsak return for what they hope are sensational sophomore years as they look to start for the Wildcats and add both scoring and rebounding punch. "Again it's the same story with Eric Priebe," Aggers said. "He suffered a sprained ankle playing basketball in August and was out about six weeks and missed conditioning so his progress was slowed."

Kuzsak however, was one of the few who remained healthy all summer and his teammates voted him as the outstanding performer in pre-season. "Doug is coming around real well," Aggers said. "Both he and Priebe are very good young players."

One of the biggest surprises in a favorable way to Aggers so far in the pre-season is the quality play he is getting from Mike Rombout. The 6-3 senior played in the second semester of last season after transferring from a junior college.

"Mike has matured so much and is playing like a senior, Aggers said. "He is a very intense player and is working very hard and is providing some needed leadership."

Byron Young and John Schott also return to the Wildcat team this season. Young did a fine job of spelling Steve Dunbar last season and is a good leader according to Aggers. Schott is a walk-on that made the team last season and he will continue to fill his role on the squad.

New talent

A COUPLE of names that were on last year's team that won't be this year of course are Mike McNamara and Arnie Hayes. Both used up their available eligibility. "We will miss those guys," Aggers said. "They were both consistent performers and very good leaders."

Also gone from the team this season is sophomore Ken Claussen from Wausa. Claussen has decided to red-shirt this season. Sherman Pette will not don the black and gold either as he has joined the service.

There are however, about a half dozen new faces in Wayne State's practices this season with two transfer students and four freshmen. Among the transfer players are Melvin Nunn and Tony Hill. Nunn, a 6-4 junior from Chicago, IL is a transfer from Casper Junior College in Wyoming. He helped lead his juno team to the promise land of the national tournament in Hutchinson, KS last season.

"Melvin is a great defensive player and an outstanding rebounder," Aggers said. "He is a very quick athlete and will be able to step in and help right away." Tony Hill is a transfer from Neosho County Junior College. The 5-9 guard recently broke the team record in the vertical jump with a 35" leap. "Tony may be the quickest player we've seen here since Vince White," Aggers said. "If Tony can come around we may put him at the point guard position and Steve Dunbar in the off guard position so we can expose Steve's shooting ability."

Speaking of team records, the Wildcats broke a few this year with of course Hill's vertical jump as one. Marques Wilson broke the team bench press record with a 315 lb. press and Steve Dunbar broke the full court sprint record.

AT ANY rate, four freshman will be on the squad this year at least at this point they will. It was not known at press time if any would red-shirt or not. The most talked about freshman may be Gerard Ras, from Holland. Ras stands 6-10 and is still learning to play the game but Aggers is confident he can be a player.

"They don't play high school sports in Holland," Aggers said. "They play club sports. He has a lot to learn but he is a very intelligent athlete. He speaks four languages and is a very good student." Ras also has been slowed but not by injuries. The NCAA has not allowed him to practice until they receive an SAT score from him. He did not take the SAT in Holland because they didn't have it but recently took the SAT and is awaiting the results which will more than likely be favorable.

Another big man will be a part of the Wildcats this year in 6-9 Mike Kurnik. "Mike will see playing time as a freshman and is very talented," Aggers said. "Along with playing basketball, the 6-9 big man will be a pitcher on the Wildcat baseball team next spring."

6-5 freshman Matt Kelly will look to aid the Wildcats in his freshman year as well. The Millard South graduate was a member of the Class A team which won back-to-back state titles. Incidentally, Kelly is the one who made the shot in overtime last year to beat Columbus in the finals.

"Matt has real good work habits which is a tribute to his high school," Aggers said. "He's a hard worker and will add quality depth to our team." Davy Summers is the last member we haven't mentioned. The 6-0 guard from Oakland knows the game real well because he was coached in high school by his father.

"Davy will be one our players of the future," Aggers said. Wayne State will carry approximately 12 on the roster this season. One thing that the fifth year coach Aggers faces this season is a tough schedule as they face some top notch teams.

Incidentally, Fred Schnell will return for his fifth season as assistant coach to Aggers and Tim Beck will return for his second year as a student assistant. Beck will receive his Master's Degree in May.

"As a member of the NCAA we have to play 50% of our games against Division I or Division II teams in order for us to keep our membership," Aggers said. "With the break-up of the CSIC we lost some of our games against teams that represent part of that 50% of Division I and II teams so we picked up four games in Alaska."

That's right. The Wildcats are going to Alaska in none other than DECEMBER! They will play the University of Alaska in Anchorage for two games and then they will travel to Fairbanks to play the University of Alaska in Fairbanks—two different colleges.

"THE ALASKA trip will be an educational experience and we hope to do some sight seeing of historical sights," Aggers said. "As far as competition in the 49th state there will be plenty. The University of Alaska in Anchorage is the team that beat Michigan in the Great Alaska Shoot Out last year and of course Michigan went on to win the NCAA Championship."

This Sunday the Wildcats will play an exhibition against a Lithuanian team. "They are comparable to a good Division I team who's players range from 19 to 25 years in range," Aggers said. "It is a great educational and cultural experience for our players. There will be a pre-game meal with both teams eating together and there will be an exchange of gifts in a ceremony which is somewhat like an Olympic style set-up."

So the 1989-90 Wildcats have many questions to answer and only time will tell if the Wildcats will roar!

Wildcats to host Lithuanians

WAYNE-The Wayne State men's basketball team will open the 1989-90 season on Sunday, Nov. 5 against a national team from Lithuania.

The Jhalgris men's basketball team from Kanus, Lithuania will meet the Wildcats in a 2:30 p.m. game in Rice Auditorium.

Tickets for the game are on sale at the Wayne State Athletic Office. Reserved seats are $10 with general admission tickets $5. Wayne State student and faculty/staff passes will not be honored at the game.

The international basketball game will be played under NCAA rules and is sanctioned by the Amateur Basketball Association of the United States.

Allen Eagles end volleyball season

The Allen Eagles volleyball ended their season a little earlier than perhaps they wanted to Monday night as they were handed a straight set defeat to Walthill, 1-15, 12-15 in sub-district action in Homer.

In the first match Allen made short work against Newcastle, defeating them 15-0, 15-4. Short work is not even a good term to describe what happened as Leslie Isom started off the first set serving and she served out the game—15 straight serves for the win.

In the second set Isom again began serving and she served seven more consecutive balls to put Allen up 7-0. They never looked back as they routed the Red Raiders 15-4. Isom finished the night with a 24-25 serve performance with 19 aces.

She also led the team in spikes with five as did Stephanie Carlson. Carlson had four kills in her five spike attempts. Annetta Malcom was the top setter with six sets. "We felt we would use the match against Newcastle as a good warm-up for the match against what we felt would be Walthill," Allen coach

Gary Troth said. "It turned out that the first match didn't do anything for us because we didn't do anything but serve."

The Eagles suffered error after error in the Walthill match. "We just self destructed," Troth said. Denise Boyle was 9-10 in serving with three aces to lead the team while Leslie Isom was 7-9 with three aces and Alyssa McGrath was 9-11 with two aces.

Denise Boyle was also the leader in spikes with six to her credit while Stephanie Carlson and Cindy Chase had four each. "We just didn't get the ball to our spikers as often as we wanted to," Troth said. Carla Stapleton was the leading setter with a 16-16 performance and three assists while Annetta Malcom was 7-7.

Allen finished the season with a 15-6 record.

Allen challenges Coleridge, fall, 35-24

Mike Busselmann's Allen Eagles wanted to finish the season as a spoiler for Coleridge Friday night but despite the quality play of the Eagles, it was Coleridge coming out on top, 35-24.

Allen scored first in the contest as Kent Chase scored on a two yard run following a Coleridge fumble. Allen missed the extra point attempt and later in the first quarter Coleridge took the lead for good on a touchdown run by Tony Gray.

Gray incidentally, scored all five of Coleridge's touchdowns on the night and rushed for 209 yards on 11 carries. There was no scoring in the second quarter and Allen's chances of upsetting Coleridge loomed in the midst of the missed extra point.

Coleridge scored 20 points in the third quarter, mostly on big runs by Gray and the Bulldogs had built a 27-6 lead before Allen began chipping away. Kent Chase scored on a six yard run to draw the score to 27-12 at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter it was the Kent Chase show as the senior bowed out with runs of 27 and 55 yards on touchdown runs. Allen definitely put a scare in Coleridge but the Bulldogs responded with another score which put the game out of reach.

"We were in a position to win the game," Allen coach Mike Busselmann said. "We had two goal line stands in the second quarter which helped us a lot."

Allen finished the contest with 10 first downs while Coleridge had six. The Eagles rushed for 192 yards while Coleridge managed 312. Allen managed 60 yards passing while the host team Coleridge netted just 14 yards passing. Coleridge had 326 yards total offense and Allen netted a total of 252 yards.

Kent Chase was Allen's top rusher to no one's surprise as the senior capped off his high school career with 133 yards on 18 carries. Shane Dahl had 42 yards rushing on 17 carries and Rusty Dickens managed 17 yards on five carries.

Shane Dahl was 4-10 in the passing department for 44 yards and Matt Hingst was 1-1 for 16 yards. Hingst was on the receiving end of two passes for 29 yards while Shane Dahl, Ben Jackson, Kent Chase and Paul Brentlinger each had one reception.

Defensively, Allen was led by Kevin Crosgrove's 11 tackles. Rusty Dickens and Matt Hingst each had 10 and Kent Chase finished with nine. Sophomore Chris Sachau started his first game on defense and the sophomore finished with two interceptions and a fumble recovery. Shane Dahl also had a fumble recovery.

Allen finished the season with a 3-6 record.

HAIR REMOVAL PRODUCTS

Products which, when applied to the skin, cause hair to dissolve are termed depilatories. Women are especially likely to use these products to remove unwanted body hair. Old-time remedies used for this purpose included hot leeches, arsenic compounds, ants' eggs, and the blood of yellow frogs. Most of the depilatories sold in pharmacies contain thioglycolates—chemicals which dissolve hair and seldom cause skin irritation. Some products contain barium compounds (faster-acting but also more irritating).

Many persons prefer depilatories over razor blades. Hair does not tend to be as bristly, so there is less itching during regrowth. Also, with depilatories, the skin may feel smoother for a longer period of time. Ask us to recommend a product that is just right for you.

Obituaries

Roy Christensen

Roy Christensen, 74, of Wayne died Saturday, Oct. 28, 1989 at a hospital in Lincoln after a sudden illness.

Memorial services were held Tuesday, Oct. 31 at the United Presbyterian Church in Wayne. The Rev. John G. Mitchell officiated. The body was cremated. A family committal service was held at Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. McBride Wiltse Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Roy D. Christensen, the son of Karl and Marie Kudsk Christensen, was born July 20, 1915 at Bennington. He graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1938 and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. He moved to Pierce where he was employed at Carhart Lumber. He married Geraldine Hansen on Nov. 15, 1942 at Pierce. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II from 1942 to 1945. After the war, the couple moved to Neligh where Roy continued working for Carhart Lumber. In 1953 they moved to Wayne where he worked for Carhart until retiring in 1984 as general manager. Winside seniors don disguises

WINSIDE SENIOR CITIZENS ARE PICTURED during their Halloween party this week. Receiving prizes for the best costumes were Elta Jaeger, Yleen Cowan, Twila Kahl and Marie Herrmann. The prizes were donated by Oberle's Market, Ray's Locker, Gramma's Attic and Winside Stop Inn.

Another plaque was presented by Kloster to a surprised Mayor Marsh for his efforts in recruiting the new industry.

AFTER THE recognition plaques were awarded, the city council passed an ordinance that would establish a long range planning committee for community recreation areas within the city of Wayne. The committee would review future recreation needs, facility needs and program needs.

Mayor Marsh appointed the following to the committee: Ken Dahl, representing the Wayne-Carroll School Board; Robert Uhing, representing Wayne-Carroll High School; Dr. Francis Haun, superintendent of Wayne-Carroll Schools; Dean Bruggeman, representing the Wayne Recreation Board; Deb Ensz, representing the Wayne Library Board; Linda Carr, swimming pool manager; MaryAnn Simpson and Steve Aggers, representing Wayne State College; Ralph Barclay, city council representative; Sam Schroeder, representing the city planning commission; and Kloster, city administrator.

Another ordinance was passed by the city council relating to building moving permits and bonds. The ordinance requires that anyone moving a building within the city must be responsible for disconnecting the utilities at such locations. This would include actions such as capping sewer lines properly.

The ordinance provides for—

penalty or licensing to do such disconnecting of utilities.

THE CITY council also approved a request for a special-designated liquor permit to the 4th Jug in Wayne for Thanksgiving and Christmas evenings: Ken Jorgensen said he normally has a band playing on those nights, and he has had to turn away people because of space limitations at his bar. He is going to hold both events at the National Guard Armory.

He said he was considering not sponsoring the events this year because of the space limitations, but members of the band asked him to bring the request to the council.

City Councilman Darrel Heier said he opposed the request for two reasons — he had reservations about the 4th Jug's scheduling of the events on the two holidays (Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day); and secondly, he questioned whether it was appropriate to allow a special designated liquor permit to be given to private enterprises for business gain only.

Council members Ralph Barclay and Carolyn Filter also had reservations about holding the events on Thanksgiving and Christmas, but they admitted that there was nothing unlawful about granting the permit.

Jorgensen said the event permits those coming home for the holidays to get together with friends that they haven't seen for a long length of time. The vote to approve the special designated liquor permit was 7-1, with Heier casting the nay vote.

MARK SORENSEN presents new signs to Mayor Marsh to recognize Wayne as an Honor City.

ROSE RIEKEN and Georgla Janssen present Mayor Marsh with a plaque in honor of the Senior Center's 20th year.

NEBRASKA
TIMELINE

By the Nebraska State Historical Society

The night the cereus bloomed story retold

No matter the year or the condition of things, Nebraska newspapers have always found room to print "good news." These stories give us some sense of what earlier Nebraskans thought was interesting, if not important. One such item is this account of an exceptional horticultural happening some 60 years ago.

"The night-blooming cereus is going to flower!" That was the message that went out over the telephone wires to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Palm last Monday night. And from all parts of the city people came in to watch the blossoming of the flower which is as mysterious as life and love and death.

"At six o'clock in the event the plant was nothing but a bare, pulpy cactus stalk, tall and spiny and also jointed, as ugly an object as ever grew. A careful observer would have noticed the small fleshy green buttons at the joints, which had been swelling for several days.

"Something was happening in the ugly plant as night drew on. The little green buttons puffed up into little bulbs, one slit, a white petal escaped, then another, then gradually the flower slid from its sheath. Presently there was another, then a third, and finally the whole plant was covered with great creamy white flowers with many delicate waxy petals, gradually unfolding their strange hearts in the moonlight.

"There is no flower more lovely than this one which lasts but a night and never sees the light of day. Its drooping bell of fine white petals surround a tremulous circle of long creamy stamens as fine and as glistening as silk, looking like a field of fairy wheat. Out of the center hangs a long, curving pistil, ending in a stigma shaped like a five-pointed star. The appearance of the flower is ethereal, mysterious, enchanting.

"With the first rays of the morning sun, all this bloom is withered. There still remained, however, on the plant in question a few unopened buds which have unfolded during the succeeding nights, the last one finishing its performance on Thursday.

"This is the third time this season that Mrs. Palm's cactus has staged this spectacle, a rather unusual record for a plant which normally in Lincoln blossoms only once or twice a year. The night-blooming cereus is a hothouse plant in this climate, but it blooms best in the out-of-doors, and the long, warm autumn seems to have inspired this individual to unusual efforts.

"There is a strange fascination for everyone in this short-lived and very beautiful flower. Although there is no profit in it, there are few greenhouses but have a specimen, its long, ungainly, fleshy stalks disfiguring some obscure corner. There is a very large night-blooming cereus at the penitentiary, whose rare blooming is the event of the prison. Seldom, however, is there found a housewife imaginative enough to endure the year-long ugliness for the sake of the one night of surpassing beauty.

"If the Psalmist had been familiar with the flowers of the new world, would he not have likened human life, which comes and goes no one knows how or where, not to the grass of the field, 'which today is and tomorrow is cast into the oven,' but to this brief and radiant flower? Or is the night-blooming cereus more to be compared with human love, that brief and glorious blossoming out of dull and commonplace lives?" — Sunday Journal-Star, October 23, 1921.

Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Borg, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Witt and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Borg met at Wayne for supper and then returned to the Paul Borg home to celebrate Paul's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Borg were Oct. 25 supper guests in the Larry Witt home, Wakefield, to celebrate Paul Borg's birthday.

Thursday overnight guests in the Harold George home were Mrs. Caryl Keith and Charlee Marie of Garvin, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Noe, Lincoln, were Sunday visitors in the Mary Noe home in Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Park of Beatrice spent Saturday and overnight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rickett, Ponca, were also Saturday callers in the Peterson home.

Thursday, Mrs. Rodney Jewell, Mrs. Kirk Hansen, Laura and Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Garold Jewell visited in the home of Max Jewell at Omaha and at the Todd Jewell home also in Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Garold Jewell attended the funeral of Paul Peterson on Saturday at Humbolt, Iowa along with Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Bayne of Meadow Grove.

Pre-Christmas Day was held Oct. 29 with everyone enjoying dinner at the Village Inn in Allen. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Garold Jewell, Mary Lewis, Christina and Marcy, Omaha; Todd Jewell and Jennifer Knapp, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Jewell, Troy and Curtis; Mrs. Kirk Hansen, Lindsay and Laura.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Prescott, Kearney, were guests in the Allen Prescott home to attend the Bill Moore Sr. funeral on Oct. 25.

A Wedding party was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Tanderdrup at Eunie's Palace, Dixon, on Friday. There were around 100 guests from Wayne, Wakefield, Allen and Laurel.

RECEIVED BOOKS

Allen first grader Alaina Bupp, daughter of Richard and Vicki Bupp, recently received eight free Golden Books from Western Publishing Co. in New York City after submitting a story to the publishing company.

The story seven-year-old Alaina submitted was entitled "Spooky Stuff" and was written for her classmate, Jessica Bock, daughter of Rob and Joy Bock of Allen.

Alaina submitted the story to Western Publishing after seeing the company's address in the Golden Book she was reading.

Although the story will not be published, Alaina did receive a personal reply from the company explaining how difficult it is to get a book published, especially a children's book due to the art work involved.

In addition to the free books, Alaina also received a guideline from the company explaining how to start as a beginner writer and encouragement to keep writing.

FHA SURVEY

The Allen Future Homemakers of American Hero Chapter is sponsoring a community service project along with the Nutri-Sweet Company. Amiee Macklem, the FHA member in charge of the project, asks you to fill out the survey which was included in the EAGLE newsletter for the month of November. You may leave the survey at the Home Economics room at the school or drop it in the FHA Recipe collection box at the Cash Store. A reminder also that the final date for recipes for the community centennial cookbook is Nov. 15. This project also being sponsored by the FHA Chapter.

COLORING CONTEST

The Cash Store in Allen owner Kevin Hill sponsored a coloring contest for Halloween for the youngsters of the community Kindergarten through sixth grade. The entries are all on display at the Cash Store. Winners of the contests are Kindergarten through first: Elizabeth Bock, first; Katie Koester, second and Jeff Robinson, third. Grades second and third: Carrie Geiger, first; Jessica Bock, second and Billie Botch, third. Grades fourth through sixth: Heidi Benstead, first; Melissa Peers, second and Michael Blohm, third. Winners are to pick up their prizes at the Cash Store.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Saturday afternoon the youngsters of the community were treated to a Halloween party by the Allen Community Development Club. The sponsors reported all children attending were in costume. Those attending in costume were eligible for the drawing for prizes. Winners were Vicky Puckett and Andy Gensler. The children enjoyed a movie along with the bobbing for apple and pinning the nose on the pumpkin.

RECOGNITION DINNER

Wednesday evening Senior Citizens director Joanne Rahn and Pearl Snyder attended the Recognition dinner held at the Villa Inn in Norfolk for the Area Senior Citizens Centers. The village of Allen and director Joanne Rahn each were recognized for their 10 years of service to the elderly of the community. The village received a certificate of award and Joanne was presented a pin. Guest speaker for the evening was David Okerland of Sprague.

UPDATES: Thank you for your continuing comments on the Catastrophic Insurance program. However, I must admit I was surprised to get letters supporting the current funding process because it helps produce a surplus which can be used to reduce the deficit. Ordinarily, I'd cheer such selfless sentiments, but I think they're a bit naive in this situation. After all, the deficit was largely caused by government borrowing to pay for programs that were largely non-social in nature. (The previous administration cut back or cut out many social programs forcing those dependent on them to rely on state or local support.) Adding to the burden of those already trying to cope with demands on strained resources is illogical, to say the least.

In any event, the conventional wisdom in Washington now is the Catastrophic Insurance Program cannot continue in its present form. Look for some heated discussions as our learned solons grapple with the structure of its replacement.

TO THE WOMAN IN INDIANA: Your friends continue to write in supporting your decision to allow your husband to die in dignity. Among them is Betty Sverson, R.N., of Minneapolis, who says, in part, "I hope when and if I am ever in that situation a loved one will be kind enough to act as you have."

Mr. & Mrs. Charles Mistorrich of Fayetteville, Ga., say: "Tell (her) she shouldn't feel guilty. God knows, she did right."

To: Ms. H.I. C. of Port Hadlock, Wash. Thanks for sharing your experience and for reminding us that talking to a friend can ease the pain.

Country Leanings

By Chuck Hackenmiller

The Hunt

The young lad scans the harvested field of corn. It is his first pheasant hunt on this frosty, brisk November morn.

He walks cautiously along a fence row, faintly his footsteps are heard. His fingers are ready to grip the trigger as he looks to scare up a bird.

Suddenly from the deep grass he hears a frantic and startling sound followed by the noise of flapping wings as the pheasant leaves the ground.

The boy raises the shotgun barrel and draws a bead on the sight. He follows the pheasant's path as it swerves up and to the right.

He squeezes, and the ensuing blast shatters the morning calm. A surprise kick digs into the shoulder as the gun nearly slips from his palm.

And after the echo of the shot has been carried far away, he stands flabbergasted as the bird falls. He bagged his first pheasant of the day.

The young hunter, excited and proud knows being a sportsman is fun. And he looks to future hunts even though his learning's just begun.

Tracking, or other hunting skills may come as time will allow. But telling all about his first game bird is all that he savors now.

By Pat Melerhenry

Amazing as it may seem, our travelin' trio made it back home. Home to a week of warm, sunny weather and leaves that had already turned! We learned that those folks who headed to the Blue Ridge Mountains in the fall are called "Leaf Peepers", and we have a new appreciation for John Denver's song, "Take Me Home, Country Roads."

We finally got to see the Biltmore Estate at Asheville, N.C. This is an all day project to tour the home and the grounds. I had no idea there was an actual castle in America, but that's what it looks like. It seems that George Vanderbilt wanted to provide a summer retreat for his friends. It utilized eighty servants, and has a banquet hall that seated 64. And, as I remarked to my Mom, "the chairs all match and I'll bet the china did, too."

THE PLACE is full of treasures, like tapestries, paintings, porcelain, and Napoleon's chess set. There are deer in the nearby fields, and we ate a Blue Ridge Mountain special sandwich at a restaurant that had been the birthing barn! The Big Farmer's cows have to make do with an old wood barn and dirt floor. This one is brick and spacious.

That evening, my brother introduced us to a fine southern tradition called a Turkey Shoot. He paid for each of us to shoot a 12 gauge shotgun at a target. I had never shot a gun before in my life! I just shut my eyes, and tried not to recoil from the kick. My sis acted like she knew what she was doing, and of course, Jim and Jay hunt every weekend.

TEN PEOPLE, all men except for Mary and me, shot at individual paper targets. Our names were on the backs. The guys running this money-making scheme laid the targets on the counter and we all could see who had the most buckshot closest to the bulls-eye.

There was one that had not even been touched: Number four. Guess who!

Then he went up the list and gave each fellow his card until the winner, with holes obviously in the bulls-eye, turned out to be my baby sis! So we picked up a 13 pound turkey and walked out. Of course, then we had to bring it home, but we had a cooler along.

Sure beats getting up early, hunting through brush, using a turkey caller, and still having to clean the bird!

THE SOUTH is steeped in tradition and history. We still saw signs that said, "The South will rise again." As Winside gets ready to celebrate 100 years, we visited a church in downtown Nashville that has been a congregation for over two hundred years. The present building was used as a hospital during the Civil War.

The capital at Columbia, S.C., has bullet holes from that war on one wall. There are few buildings, though, that survived Sherman's March. He turned back before he reached Charleston, which is why those homes still exist.

Also at Nashville, we visited the Hermitage, home of Old Hickory, Andrew Jackson. And we learned that our friend, George Vanderbilt, had given one million dollars to Central University there and that's how it came to be called Vanderbilt.

IT WAS the Homecoming game for that illustrious school, and they were hosting Georgia, so we almost didn't get a Motel room again. There were red-shirted Dawgs all over town.

We did ride the trolley to the riverfront and along Music Row, but we sure didn't spy any Country Western singers.

We added a few miles to Grandma's Chevy and had a good time almost everywhere, but Nebraska looked awful good to us last Monday.

Today it feels as if I had better dig out the sweat shirts and mittens.

Happy Trick or Treat Day!

City of Wayne receives honor from NNAAA

Approximately 400 guests attended the biennial recognition dinner of the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging Oct. 25 at the Villa Inn Convention in Norfolk.

Shorly Avery of Madison provided music during the social hour. Betsy Palmer, director of Nebraska Department on Aging, spoke and Joann Canfield, executive director of Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging, gave a summary of the agency's activities.

Dave Okerlund was the guest speaker.

Special recognition was given to staff members, board members and senior centers for five, ten and 20 years of service to the elderly in their communities.

The city of Wayne was recognized for 20 years of service; and the village of Allen, 10 years of service.

Joanne Rahn of Allen was one of eight individuals honored with 10 or more years of service (11 years). Individuals with five years or more of service included Robert Nissen of Wayne; Georgia Janssen, Wayne; Clayton Fegley, Wayne; and Logene Bach of Wakefield.

The GOLDEN YEARS

By Betty Fridan

You are never too old to stop smoking and thus reduce the risk of cancer and heart disease, the National Institute on Aging advises. A survey of 3,000 persons, ages 50 to 74, revealed that one in four had never tried to quit. Of those who succeeded in quitting, 90 percent did it on their own. The most popular techniques included throwing away all cigarettes, reducing the number smoked, setting a quitting date, and using substitutes. Sixty-five percent of those who had not yet quit said they'd like to.

Betty Fridan, whose book "The Feminine Mystique," was important in the women's movement in the 1960s, has turned her attention to attitudes about aging. Now 68, she says: "Our country has been obsessed with youth-for far too long...We have the reality of people 60 and older who are breaking through this denial of age and defining for themselves a good life that doesn't seek the fountain of youth but instead affirms the fountain of age."

Remember When? July 2, 1921 — Heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey kept his title by knocking out Frenchman Georges Carpentier in the fourth round. The Jersey City bout drew 80,000 people, a new record for a prizefight.

TIGER CUB SCOUTS

Five Tiger Cub Scouts held their first meeting Saturday with their coordinator Joni Jaeger at the firehall. Tiger cubs are boys in the first grade. Those joining the newly formed group include Tony Jensen, Justin Bleich, Eric Vanosdall, Tyson Faussone and James Gubbles. Any other boy who would like to join can call Joni Jaeger.

The boys each have a partner who can be either a parent, a brother or sister or a friend who attends the meeting with them once a month in the firehall.

For this meeting they worked on the Tiger Cub Promise, decorated a scrap book and each introduced themselves and their partner.

The next meeting will be Saturday, Nov. 18 at 10 a.m. Their lesson will be on family games and they will have a magic show. James Gubbles will be host.

OPEN HOUSE

Winside Public Schools will be hosting an open house Thursday, Nov. 9 from 7-9 p.m. in all grades kindergarten through 12th. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited to attend.

In the high school gym students from the Industrial and Technology Classes from WSC and Winside Trade and Industry are going to be show-casing some of the new technology areas being taught in Winside. Demonstration will be given in these areas: computer numerical controlled lathe, robotics, metric 500 dragsters and wind tunnels (checking car's aerodynamics).

Top metric 500 dragsters the last four years will be racing to see who has the faster car.

CENTENNIAL YEARBOOK

The Winside School Yearbook, the Wildcat, this year will have a theme based on Winside's Centennial Celebration. This will be a special book, including pictures of all students K-12, a brief history with pictures of the school, a list of all graduates, words of the schools songs and much, much more. Anyone wanting to purchase a yearbook for $14 should send a check to the Winside Public School, attention Shannon Bargstadt, editor, by Dec. 1.

MEMORIAL PAGES STILL AVAILABLE

There is still time for you to remember those special loved ones with a memorial or tribute page in the Centennial Winside History Book. Committee members have been working hard to complete the over 600 personal histories submitted along with all the community information and history. Don't be left out of this "once in a lifetime" project. Call Veryl Jackson (286-4544) for more information.

NO NAME

Fourteen members of the No Name Kard Klub met Friday for a costume party at the Bob Wacker home. Hearts were played with prizes going to Randall and Connie Bargstadt, Dwight Oberle and Nell Schwedhelm.

The next get-together will be Saturday, Nov. 19 at the Randall Bargstadts.

S.O.S. CLUB

Bertha Rohlf hosted the Friday S.O.S. Club with four members present. Prizes were won by Edna Kramer, Rose Thies and Louise Heithold. The next meeting will be Nov. 17 at Rose-Thies.

Fire destroys corn crib

WINSIDE VOLUNTEER FIREMEN WERE CALLED Monday morning at 5:21 a.m. to the Harlin Brugger farm, located three-quarters of a mile north of Winside, where a corn crib was burning. The crib was completely destroyed along with its contents, including 1,400 bushels of beans and 600 bushels of oats. Spokesman VerNeal Marotz said the crib was estimated at $10,000. The fire is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion. Winside was assisted by the Carroll fire department and remained on the scene until 7 a.m.

Oswald attends ceremony

Mrs. Ed Oswald, Marysville, Kansas formerly of the Carroll and Winside communities, was among 21 Kansans who attended the signing of the following proclamation declaring November as Diabetes Month. The group gathered Oct. 19 at the State Capitol in Topeka to watch Gov. Mike Hayden sign the proclamation which declares November 1989 as "National Diabetes Month."

The proclamation states diabetes is a leading cause of death by disease in the United States and afflicts 11,000,000 Americans, of whom almost 6,000,000 are not aware of the illness. It costs the Nation $20,400,000,000 annually in health care costs, disability payments, and increased mortality due to diabetes.

Mrs. Oswald is presently president and program education chairperson for the Marshall County Chapter, American Diabetes Association Kansas Affiliate. She helped to organize the chapter in 1980, was elected president at that time and served three years, later was secretary and has been active in all phases of the chapter since. She was re-elected to president's office in 1988. Her husband is presently serving as publicity chairman and is co-chairman of fund raising.

Both Oswalds are very active in the American Diabetes Association. They were selected for 1988-89 as the overall outstanding volunteers for Kansas as a team. Mrs. Oswald was top money raiser in the annual Bike Ride Plus in 1988 and 1989. At the October 19 meeting with Gov. Hayden, each person got to visit with him and shake his hand prior to the signing of the proclamation and having a group picture taken with him.

Following the signing, Mrs. Oswald and Mrs. Doug Oswald of White Cloud, Kansas visited Dale Horn, regional director and Bob Cochrane, executive director at the ADA office in Topeka.

The Oswalds went to Hutchinson, Kansas September 16 to attend the annual Defeat Diabetes Run and the fourth Jack McCarthy Defeat Diabetes Walk. Mrs. Oswald along with several other Kansans and two lads from London walked with Mr. McCarthy to raise funds for diabetes.

McCarthy and several walkers walked the 55 mile route from Wichita to Hutchinson with the rest joining him at various points along the route.

First runner-up was Patty Deck, at left, also of Winside, and second runner-up was Diane Westerhaus, at right, of Norfolk.

Ag In The Classroom program conducted

Wayne County Farm Bureau recently hosted an Ag-in-the-Classroom Inservice for area teachers.

The inservices held throughout Nebraska helps teachers learn agricultural concepts so they are able to return to their classrooms with innovative activities to incorporate into their curricula. The programs goal is to develop in students an understanding, appreciation and awareness of the food and fiber production system and the role of agriculture in our economy and society.

Ag in the Classroom is a program of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, conducted in cooperation with Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

Ellen Hellerich, coordinator of the Ag-in-the-Classroom program, presented the inservice to 16 teachers from Wayne, Thurston, Dakota and Cumming Counties. The inservice was held at Dist. #25, Wayne County. A delicious meal of Nebraska products was served by the Wayne County Women's Committee.

Rotating crops can boost yields at least 10 percent compared with growing the same crops year after year, and also helps control weeds, insects and diseases, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agronomist said.

Crop rotations have been a traditional part of farmers' strategies for maintaining soil fertility and for controlling pests, weeds and diseases. During the past 20 years, favorable commodity prices and government feed grain programs have encouraged farmers to abandon diversified crop production in favor of one or two specialized crops, according to Charles Francis, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources crops specialist.

"They profited from (specialization) as long as commodity prices were high enough. As long as government programs were in place, they were sustained by the government," Francis said. "That was true as long as energy costs were not prohibitive and as long as there weren't too many undesirable spinoffs."

However, concerns are mounting about the economic and environmental costs of chemical-intensive, monocultural farming, Francis said. Changes also appear likely in government grain programs. There is pressure to revise the federal feed grain program to encourage diversity in farming operations.

DIVERSITY provides economic and biological benefits, Francis said. "I think flexibility is going to be more important in the future," he said. "We have a very fragile economic system when we're highly dependent on one or a few commodities."

Francis is studying the contributions of crop rotation to sustainable cropping systems in the Midwest. Rotations have fared well in ongoing field trials conducted by UNL researchers.

"As an overall conservative average, we count on a 10 percent increase" from rotation, Francis said. Other benefits of crop rotations include improved soil fertility, enhanced microbial activity and added nitrogen if legumes are part of the rotation.

Corn grown in rotation with other crops yielded 18 percent more than corn grown in the same field year after year in the long-term research project at the Agricultural Research and Development Center at Mead. This field trial, in its 14th year, compares a four-year rotation of corn-soybeans-corn-oats/clover and two-year rotations of corn-soybeans or sorghum-soybeans with continuous plantings of corn, sorghum or soybeans.

CONCLUSIONS from this trial include:

— Soybean and sorghum yields were more stable over the long-term than corn yields.

— Two year rotations of corn-soybeans or sorghum-soybeans were the most profitable, followed by continuous soybeans.

— Continuous corn was the least profitable and also the most variable among all cropping systems.

Reducing the amount of fertilizer and other chemicals applied to grow crops can cut costs without hurting yields, Francis said. The keys are fine-tuning and close management, including realistic yield goals based on long-term averages instead of one good year.

"You can often cut your fertilizer rates in half and if you do it in the right fields in the right way, you won't affect yields at all and you're certainly cutting your input costs," he said.

MOST FARMERS have a gut feeling that rotations and diversity are beneficial, Francis said, and most people are concerned about soil stewardship. But they are concerned about how rotating crops will affect their future participation in farm programs.

"That's a major disincentive to diversifying," he said. "Since such a high percentage of our income comes from government programs, farmers are forced to farm the government."

The new federal farm bill probably will offer incentive for crop rotation and diversification, he said.

Scientists do not fully understand the effects of rotation, Francis said. "There are a lot of theories about why rotation works but we're still exploring."

Francis presented his research at the joint annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy, Crop Science Society of American and the Soil Science Society of America in Las Vegas Oct. 15-20.

Kerrey bill advances

A bill sponsored by U.S. Senator Bob Kerrey (D-NE) that would give the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture new authority to avoid forfeitures by reducing the principal owed by farmers on expiring commodity price support loans has been given final approval by Congress and is on its way to the White House where it awaits the signature of President Bush before it becomes law.

"I am very, very pleased that this legislation has cleared the Congress and will now be signed into law by the President," Kerrey said.

"If this new authority is used by the Secretary of Agriculture, it will benefit both the farmer and the taxpayer. It would ensure that most of the loan principal is repaid to the government while also relieving the taxpayer of the additional costs inherent in acquiring, storing, and disposing of forfeited grain," Kerrey said.

LUTHERAN CHURCH WOMEN
The Salem Lutheran Women of ELCA met in a regular meeting Thursday in the church basement. The program presented by circle 2 had as its theme, "Justice With Peace." Prayer, litany and song all centered on the ideas of joining together to work for justice and peace for all around the world.

The program concluded with a video of the Martin Luther Home at Beatrice. It presented their philosophy in the caring of the mentally and physically handicapped. They try to provide all the elements of a home to the people in their care as well as work experience and habitation.

Highlights of the business meeting included election of officers with the following results: President, Clarice Schroeder; Vice President, Mrs. Mel Fischer and Treasurer, Becky Swanson.

Helen Muller reporting for the Christian Action Committee told of articles and materials going to the Martin Luther Home, Bethpage, and the Indians in South Dakota. Quilts made during the past year will be on display at the Church on Nov. 5 with pick up the next day for the Lutheran World Relief. In addition a good number of quilts have been prepared and given to other special projects.

Emma Brown, as mailbox missionary secretary, explained the new missionary correspondence challenge which will involve a variety of communication methods and become more of a total congregational project.

It was announced that Thanksgiving offering boxes should be brought to the next regular meeting on Nov. 21 for dedication. Mae Greve gave a skit that explained how this money is used.

President, Clarice Schroeder, expressed the groups appreciation to Pastor Marek for his spiritual guidance over the past year and he responded with his thanks and a goodbye message.

Legal Notices

PUBLIC NOTICE
TO: Tenants, Landlords, and Owners of Rental Property.

The Northeast Nebraska Joint Housing Authority has been awarded 15 voucher rental subsidies from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for the communities of Ponca, Wakefield, Wayne and the rural unincorporated area of Dixon County. To be eligible your annual income must be less than the following limits:

Family Size	Annual Income Limits
1	$9,150
2	10,450
3	11,750
4	13,050
5	14,100
6	15,150
7	16,200
8	17,250

One person household must be handicapped, disabled or elderly.

The purpose of the program is to provide a decent, safe, and sanitary living environment at a reasonable cost to renters. The tenant pays 30% of their adjusted gross monthly income toward the rent and the remainder is subsidized through our agency.

To apply or for further information, contact Lyndon Groth or Kim DeWitt at SIMPCO (712) 279-8286. (Publ. Nov. 2)

Every government official or board that handles public moneys, should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle to democratic government.

Dressing for the part

MERCHANTS in several Wayne businesses decided against the traditional work clothes Halloween Day and decided to dress to the hilt in special costumes. Customers entering the store of Sav-Mor Pharmacy, and in other businesses establishments in Wayne, probably got quite a chuckle from some of the outfits they had seen. Pictured left and right are employees of Sav-Mor.

CARDS OF THANKS

A SINCERE thank you to our children for hosting the open house for our 60th anniversary. Also to all our friends and relatives who came to make it such a joyful occasion. May God bless you. Leonard and Viola Pospishil. N2

WE WOULD like to thank all the people who have shown so much concern for Jim and Mary Sturm and their family during this past week following their car accident. The phone calls have meant a lot to us and we know all your cards and letters have helped cheer Jim and Mary, and especially Ryan to hear from so many of his friends. We are happy to report that everyone is now out of the hospital and beginning a long road to recovery. Again, thanks for all the concern and prayers. Jim and Bev Sturm. N2

WE WOULD like to say a big "thank you" to all our friends and neighbors that helped harvest the beans. Also thanks to those that remembered Wayne in prayers, cards and phone calls. A special thank you to Court Roberts, Dick and Sandy Olesen for coordinating the bee and dinner, and for Dick helping with the driving of the school bus. All acts of kindness are touched by love. God loves you and so do we. Wayne and Merna Jones and family. N2

WE WOULD like to thank all our friends and relatives for the cards, memorials, beautiful floral tributes and food brought in during the passing of our loved one, Clarence Hedrick. Also, thank you for all the visits. It is all gratefully appreciated. God bless you all. Vida Hedrick and C.B. "Mick" Hedrick. N2

Esther Peterson was Evelyn's secret sister and brought her birthday cake. Other club ladies brought other cakes. The manor furnished ice cream, coffee and fruit drink for all the residents and guests. The afternoon was spent visiting.

Quin Bohlen and Cori Clarkon entertained at a Halloween party Thursday evening. About 20 girls were present for a taco supper at the Les Bohlen home. After supper the girls went to Bob Clarkon home and had games, followed by having fun in the Clarkon girls' play house.

Mrs. Harvey Rastede entertained at her home Oct. 18 at a brunch in honor of Mable Kardell's birthday. Other guests were and Evelina Johnson of Concord, Muriel Kardell of Dixon, Luella Kardell, Mable Johnson and Jan Kamrath of Laurel. Linda Pehrson joined them later. A brunch was served with coffee and fruit drink.

Melvin and Clara Puhmann drove to Paulina, Iowa Oct. 23 and visited with her sisters-in-law Regina Puhmann and Gladys Puhmann. Then they all went and had dinner at the Paula Cafe at noon. In the afternoon they visited Melvin's sister Velma Smit at Primgar, Iowa at the care center where they were joined by many friends to help Velma celebrate her 84th birthday. After leaving the care center, they returned to Paulina and visited Melvin's aunt Jennie Puhmann at the Paulina Care Center. Jennie will soon celebrate her 95th birthday. She is recovering from a broken hip. The Puhmanns returned home that evening.

Evening birthday guests in the Ron Harder home Oct. 24 honoring the host were Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Harder and Mr. and Mrs. Verdel Backstrom of Wayne.

Friday evening birthday guests in the Doug Krie home in Laurel honoring the host's Oct. 27 birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Krie, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Stingley and sons of Laurel, Lowell Johnson and sons of Belden, Mr. and Mrs. Evert Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson, Evelina Johnson and Mike Johnson. A lunch was served.

Mrs. James Wordekemper, Candy and Christopher of Norfolk spent Oct. 28-29 in the James Nelson home. Joining them for Sunday afternoon-lunch and birthday cake honoring Candy Wordekemper's eighth birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Todd Nelson and sons of Laurel and Evelina Johnson.

Marge Rastede and Alice Erwin met a group of friends at the Hotel in Wakefield on Oct. 21 to honor Zella Norwood of Los Angeles, Calif.

Lesla VanderVeen of Lincoln spent Oct. 25-26 with her parents, the Clarence Rastedes.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlen Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Johnson attended the Nebraska-Iowa State football game at Lincoln on Saturday. Following the game they visited with Jennifer Johnson at her apartment and then all had supper at a Lincoln restaurant.
