Liquor license request debated

By Chuck Hackenmiller Managing editor

Wayne City Council members Wayne City Council members will not decide on granting a Class A and Class B Liquor License to Preston Company, Inc., represented by Gary Donner, until their next regular city council meeting.

Donner, owner of Casey's in Wayne, has proposed establishing a convenience store and a sit down pizza restaurant at the former group.

pizza restaurant at the former gro-cery store building located imme-diately north of Sav-Mor Pharmacy the Wayne State College campus.

He has requested a Class A liquor license (on sale beer to serve at his restaurant) and Class B liquor license (off sale beer). The business will also have two gas pumps operating on the premises, Donner mentioned.

City Attorney Bob Ensz, addressing the council before testimony at the public hearing on the liquor request began Tuesday evening, said the Legislature with the enacted LB 781 has changed the procedure for granting liquor license requests. Previously the city council would make a recommen-dation to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission on whether or not a liquor license request should be approved. The Commission acted on the recommendation from the local governing body and either denied or approved the re-

With LB 781 now state law, liquor license denial or approval has returned to the jurisdiction of the local entities such as the Wayne City Council. "It is the decision of the council — not as a recommendation but as a decision to deny or approve," said Ensz.

DONNER WAS the first who testified at the public hearing Tuesday. As a spokesman for Pre-Tuesday. As a spokesman for Pre-ston Company, Inc., (the corpora-tion that-will-operate the conve-nience store-pizza restaurant busi-ness), Donner said that Victoria Donner will be the manager of the business. She presently resides in another county other than Wayne. Since the business is corporately owned, it was understood by the State statutes say Class A or Class B liquor licenses cannot be issued to businesses that are less than 150 feet from schools, hospi-tals, homes for the aged or veter-ans homes. Donner said he has reviewed the distance guidelines yith liquor control commissioners and area officers and they have informed him that he is within the requirements and the interpretagranted a. Class C liquor license (includes liquor along with beer served on sale or off sale) because of the distance factor between the business and campus.

Ken Jorgensen of Wayne, who started his testimony by admitting his concerns about protecting his business (The 4th Jug) interests, asked the city council if it was necessary to allow another liquor establishment in Wayne. "There are afready 16 [businesses] in Wayne where one can buy liquor or beer and there are others surrounding Wayne. On Sunday there are 13 places where people can get alcohol," Jorgensen said.

JÖRGENSEN said there are approximately 1,300 students on the Wayne State College campus. Of that amount, about 212 are of le-gal age-[to purchase liquor], he

It is time, he said, for the city council to consider controlling the granting of liquor licenses. More and more businesses up and down can come in to make requests for liquor licenses as part of their business operations if control is not exercised, he mentioned. "People will be able to buy beer or liquor door to door to door all along Main' Street."

Wayne City Police Chief Vern Fairchild had presented written testimony during the public hearing stating that the department made checks on federal, state and local records of the applicant and found no fault in the liquor license request.

And Don Siefken, city planner, told the city council that the unconditional use permit for the pro-posed business was approved by the Wayne City Planning Commission.

Present to speak at the public hearing was Sgt. Ron Penlerick of the Wayne Police Department. He first said he was not directly op-posed to anyone having a liquor license to sell liquor.

But he commented that since September there has been prob-lems in matters relating to alcohol consumption. "We've had several felony arrests during that time that has been directly related to the consuming of alcohol, he said. There are plenty of places that sell liquor already, he added.

QUESTIONS were raised about how the proposed business estab-lishment, where beer would be sold, would affect the student life at Wayne State College. Curt Frye, dean for Student Life at Wayne State College, said alcohol remains prohibited on campus and in the dorms. "Our policies will not change in that regard," he said. And Bob Lohrberg, director of

Sav-Mor Pharmacy to get rid of tobacco

By Chuck Hackenmiller Managing editor

It just seemed like the right thing to do.

That's the reaction indicated by
Will Davis of Sav-Mor Pharmacy in Wayne when asked about his plans for participation in the 13th annual "Great American Smokeout" slated for Thursday, Nov. 16.

Davis and the Wayne County Unit of the American Cancer Socidetermined the content of the American Canner Society encourages smokers to go all day Thursday without lighting up a cigarette in hopes that they will quit for good. The smokeout also will take in those who use all tobacco products, including chewing

As part of the "Great American Smokeout" promotion, Davis said Sav-Mor is inviting smokers in the community to "Pitch in Your Pack" at his place of business at 10 a.m. on Thursday. He asks the smokers to join Sav-Mor in snacks of healthy foods like vegetables and fruit foods like vegetables and fruit.

"We're getting completely rid of cigarettes that are now on sale at Sav-Mor. We'll also be throwing out cigars and chewing tobacco, too. Anything associated with tobacco," Davis said.

DAVIS SAID he's always sold tobacco products since he became the owner of Sav-Mor seven years ago and also where he previously worked. However, he indicated that the most abused drugs today are alcohol and nicotine from tobacco. "I just won't sell anymore," he added.

'It was a hard decision to make "It was a hard decision to make. We're not doing this to try and get people into our store. We're doing it in an effort to try and get people to quit [smoking or chewing]," Davic said. Davis said.

Davis said he could not, as business owner and pharmacist, con-tinue supplying medication for high blood pressure, diabetes or lung ailments when at the same time the business was selling cigarettes elsewhere in the store.

"Smoking also affects how medication works," he added.

Metabolism of many drugs accelerates when smoking, so the drugs have a shorter half-life and reduced therapeutic effectiveness. Tobacco smoking also reduces blood flow to skin and subcutaneous tissues, and consequently reduces insulin absorption.

SMOKING also accounts for about 315,000 deaths each year about 313,000 deaths each year and 30 percent of all cancer deaths. According to figures sup-plied by the Tobacco Institute, some 9.2 percent of the top ten cigarette brand sales were made in drugstores in 1985. Sales of to-bacco products had bacco products had accounted for 3.1 percent of the drugstore business that year.

"We recognize cigarette smoking to be one of the leading causes of death and disability, and we do not wish to contribute to the spread of this problem by selling tobacco products," he said. "We invite smokers in the community to "Pitch In Your Pack" with us at 10 a.m. [Nov. 16]."

Registration begins Manday Holiday magic to begin

By Chuck Hackenmiller Managing editor

Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce members will be carrying on the spirit of Santa Claus in this year's sponsoring of "Holiday Magic In Wayne" promotion with a total $3,200 shopping dollars to be given away in 1989.

Registration begins Monday, Nov. 20 for Holiday Magic, according to Linda Smith, executive vice president of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

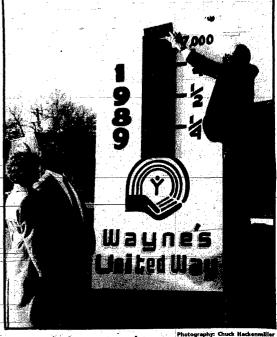

Last year's new twist to the annual promotion, the "Grand Finale Holiday Magic Drawing", will again be featured in 1989. Smith said that in this year's grand finale drawing scheduled for Friday, Dec. 22, seven $100 Chamber Gift Certificates will be given away.

Last year, four cash drawings were given away ($300, $200 and two $100 drawings).

Before Dec. 22, up to $2,500 will be given away during five drawings. Five hundred dollars will be given away at each drawing, the five drawings are stated for Friday, Nov. 24; Thursday, Nov. 30; Thursday, Dec. 21.

Each time an individual makes a purchase in a Holiday Magic par-ticipating business, the name of the buyer and the amount of the purchase will be recorded at that business. Those names are colected from the Holiday Magic participating businesses before the

Wildcats finish football season with 31-7 setback

The Wayne State football team ended its 1989 campaign in Orange City, Iowa Saturday with a loss as Northwestern defeated the Wildcats 31-7. With the loss the Wildcats finish the season with a 4-7 record.

On the opening play from scrimmage Northwestern fumbled scrimmage Northwestern fumbled the ball and Mo Walker was all over it at the Northwestern 34 yard line. Then on Wayne State's first play from scrimmage Gale Lawton dropped back and hit an open Tom Kleespies for a touchdown and with Blain Branscum's, extra point the Wildcats had a 7-0 lead 24 seconds into the contest. Little did the Wildcats know at that time, that they had just that time, that they had just scored their final points of the game. "In every game you always want all the breaks to go your way," coach Dennis Wagner said. However, in this situation when we scored on the first play from scrimmage following a fumble by Northwestern on their first play from scrimmage, it kind of had reverse repercussions because immediately started to think it was going to be a cake walk and it wasn't."

wasn't."

Northwestern suffered six turnovers in the contest in the form of three interceptions and three fumbles but Wayne State was unable to come away more than seven points in those situations.

"Our offensive line just didn't perform very well," Wagner said. "We had our share of opportunities with six-turnovers from Northwestern but we just didn't capitalize on them." Wagner also noted that the Red Raiders of Northwestern did a Red Raiders of Northwestern did a fine job of defending the Wildcats option game, thus shutting down the potent Gale Lawton from the running game. "Troy Jackson still managed to get over 100 yards rushing but Gale ended up with only 13 yards on the ground in 19 attempts," Wagner said. "I think Northwestern did a great job of shutting down our game plan but I also feel like we squandered away a good opportunity to win a football game. We just didn't play ball game. We just didn't play well."

Northwestern finished the con-test with 27 first downs while Wayne State managed 14. The Wildcats finished with 114 yards

Wagner did note that the Wildcats will be looking to fill the vacant spot on October 13, left when Westmar dropped them from the schedule.

CINDY CHASE at left, was Allen's only selection to the first team of the Lewis & Clark All-Conference volleyball team. Leslie Isom, (right) was listed on the second team of the all-conference squads. Allen battled through a year with a lot of youth but experienced success.

Wrestling Club to meet

WAYNE-There will be a wrestling club meeting on Monday, Nov. 20th at 7 p.m. This meeting will be held at the high school in room 101. Parents of wrestlers as well as other adults interested in promoting wrestling are encouraged to attend. Following the meeting, there will be an Open House for wrestling in the gym at 8 p.m. The Open House will include an explanation of the sport, introduction of team members and demonstrations.

ALTHOUGH ONLY five are pictured, the Wakefield Trojans had seven football players make the Lewis & Clark All-Conference team this season. The Trojans started out the year slowly but by the year's end they were more than likely one of the top three or four teams in Class C. Making the team but aren't pictured were quarterback Matt Tappe and defensive player Mark Johnson. Those pictured include from back: Tony Krusemark from the offense; Chris Loofe from the defense. Front row: Andy McQuistan from the offense: Cory Blattert from the defense and Anthony Brown from his running from the offense; Cory Blattert from the defense and Anthony Brown from his running back position. MEMBERS OF the Winside football team that were listed on the first team of the Lewis & Clark All-Conference team include from left to right: Shane Frahm from his defensive line position; Max Kant from his running back position; Mark Brugger from his center position, and Jeff Gallop from his defensive back position. The Wildcats of Winside finished with a 4-5 record this year. Brian Thompson, Jason Bargstadt, Cory Jensen and Trevor Topp were mentioned on the honorable mention list.

THE WAKEFIELD volleyball team enjoyed a 13-3 season this year with the help of a squad predominantly made up of seniors. Those making the first team of the Lewis & Clark All-Conference team were Julie Greve, (left) and Jess Robins, (right). Cathi Larson, (middle) was listed on the second team. Senior Laurie Plendl was listed on the honorable mention team for her efforts as well. The Tro-jans will lose 75 percent of their varsity next season due to graduation

New Recreation program, 3-on-3

WAYNE-There will be a new city recreational basket-ball program in Wayne this year and it's called the "D" year and its called the Deague. It is for players over 40 only. The league will be set up as a 3-on-3 league and will be played in half court contests on Wednesday nights.

Practice for this new league will begin on Wednesday, December 6 from 6:30-7:30 and a second practice session will be following at 7:30-8:30 p.m.. There will be a total of four practice sessions before league play begins and teams will be picked after the last practice session.

The starting date for the league is January 3. There will be a donation fee of $20 for all players involved in city basketball this sea-

The Wayne Herald will release practice schedules and the new age requirements for all three other leagues next week.

TINIA HARTMANN was Winside's only selection to the Lewis & Clark All-Conference volleyball team this season. Hartmann will be not return to the Wildcat squad next season due to graduation. Jenny Jacobsen, (left) was listed as a second team selection on the all-conference squad for her performances through out the season which included a state tying mark of 25 kill spikes in one match.

Fremont man wins contest

WAYNE-Nick Zimmer of Fremont, won-the Wayne Herald foot-ball contest last week, missing only one game. Zimmer tied with Neva Echtenkamp of rural Wakefield but Zimmer was closer on the tie-breaker than Echtenkamp was. Both Zimmer and Echtenkamp missed the same game as both picked Florida to beat Georgia.

RUSTY DICKENS was Allen's only selection to the Lewis & Clark All-Conference football team recently. Dickens was selected for his defensive play. Those making the honorable men-tion list included Kevin Crosgrove from his defen-sive position and Kent Chase from his running back and punting positions.

TERESA ELLIS was selected on the first team of the NAC All-Conference team for her performance throughout her senior season. Heidi Reeg battled injury during a large portion of her final year as a Blue Devil volleyball player but still managed to be named TERESA ELLIS was selected still managed to be named to the honorable mention team. Wayne advanced to the semi-finals of districts before ending its season.

Administrative Services at Wayne State, said enforcement with cam-pus security will remain the same. He anticipates no greater problems with the proposed business. "The problems would be nothing greater than what we have now," greater than what we have now, he said.

The city council must take into consideration the following criteria when approving or denying a liquor permit:

1. The adequacy of existing law enforcement resources and services in the area; 2. police department recommendation; 3. traffic flow among motor vehicle and pedestrians, potential traffic and parking problems and the availability of parking; 4. zoning restrictions and land use policies; 5. sanitation or sanitary conditions; 6. existence of a citizen's protest; 7. existing population and projected growth within the jurisdiction of the governing body; 8. existing liquor licenses, the class of each such license and the distance and times of travel between establishenforcement resources and times of travel between establish-ments issued such licenses; 9. whether the proposed license would be compatible with the would be compatible with the neighborhood or community; 10. proper handling of alcoholic beverages by people eligible to serve the beverage; 11. whether precautions against shopliffing has been taken; 12. background information; 13: past evidence of discrimination; 14. factual presentation of information; 15. proximity of and impact on schools, hospitals, libraries, parks and other. hospitals, libraries, parks and other public institutions; 16. whether there will be unreasonable noise or noise disturbances; and others.

COUNCIL members were concerned that if criteria was met by the applicant for the liquor license, they would legally be required to approve the license request, and that controlling the number of liquor requests in the future would be limited. Councilman Larry John-son said he believed the council must make a decision on what is right for Wayne.

Donner told the city council that incidents involving alcohol have not happened in just the past few weeks, but over the past years. Liquor license holders are attending informational sessions that will help control these types of incidents, such as better ways to check for false identification.

Councilman Darrel Heier asked Donner what choice he would make if the council would present an option of either off sale or on sale liquor license. Donner replied he would rather obtain an off sale license because it is harder to conlicense because it is harder to control the liquor in restaurants than in a package store situation.

Another who testified at the Another who testified at the hearing, Pete Jones (owner of Uncle Pete's in Wayne) said he opposes selling liquor to make a profit. But, taking into consideration what competition can do in this business world, he would be forced to obtain a liquor license in order to be competitive.

City Councilman Ralph Barclay said the council is obligated to the rules set forth by the state statue. "But I'm concerned about control, too. We have never discussed con-trols, And I think we should," Bar-

COUNCILMAN Heier introduced a resolution that would deny the liquor license request to Preston Company, Inc. and Larry Johnson moved to approve the resolution, with Heier seconding the motion. However, both with-drew their motions in favor of making a decision at their next city council meeting which is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Somehow, the events in Germany this week have made this a memorable one for me. I have always had a desire to visit Germany. We even went so far as to plan a

I vividly remember a sense of outrage as the wall went up; and a deep sense of sadness when I heard of unsuccessful-attempts to-cross it. When friends visited East Germany, I shuddered for them.

ON MONDAY, 1*heard rumors of the East German government collapse. On Tuesday, the Politburo resigned en masse. People had been streaming west all fall. Then, suddenly, as I was preparing supper on Thursday, the news commentator said the Brandenburg Gate was being opened! I couldn't believe it.

Being a parent

Don't feel for one minute that you are getting old. You have a right to be weary as parents of a household.

Your heart, strength and courage are traits to be admired. Times came when you felt old, and you became fed up and too tired.

Parenting is full-time work seven days a week. Benefits are wonderful although compensation can be meek.

Raising children provides only limited relaxation. Busy schedules often cancel out those much needed vacations.

Children would be wrong to not appreciate how many parents work to the bone to put food on their plate.

Parents spend endless hours ning siny jears, and they have used many a tissue for drying their child's tears.

At night they watch the children say prayers by their bed hoping "Bless Mom, Dad" would be said before planting a kiss on the head.

> After the children leave the home and move to other lands, the children will appreciate their parents' guiding hands.

For the hands that punished them, and rubbed their faces till it would shine belong to the parents welcoming them home again. Anytime.

FCC issues permit to construct public radio station in Norfolk

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has issued a permit to the Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission to allow construction of a new public radio station in Norfolk. The call letters and broad cast fre-quency, which have been assigned by the FCC for the Norfolk station, are KXNE-FM (89.3).

Barring construction problems because of the weather, the Nor-folk station will go on the air in March 1990, and will serve much of northeast Nebraska.

"KXNE-FM is one of four new stations joining with KUCV-FM in Lincoln to form the first five stations of the Nebraska Public Radio Network," according to Jack McBride, Commission secretary. McBride added that the stations will initially simulcast the KUCV program schedule; with the new Network working toward adding special programming of statewide interest as well as certain local program origination.

EQUIPMENT, including public radio transmitters and antennae, has been placed on order and the construction and installation process is underway at the existing Nebraska ETV (KXNE-TV) tower site located 13 miles west of Wayne, The Nebraska ETV towers will also be used for the public sa-dio antenna. By using the existing towers and transmitter buildings, the overall capital costs for con-struction of the radio network have struction of the raulo models been reduced substantially.

will also supervise the KXNE-FM radio transmitter.
Residents of the Norfolk/Columbus area met the local fundraising goal of $55,000 toward the construction of the radio station. A grant issued in September from the U.S. Department of Commerce's Public Telecommunications Facilities Program (PTFP) matched every dollar raised locally by $2.55.

The FCC also approved construction permits for radio stations KLNE/FM (88.7), Lexington and KHNE-FM-(89.1), Hastings: Arr FCC permit for Alliance station KTNE-FM (91.1) is expected very soon. All four stations have been fully funded through private contribu-tions and federal matching grants through PTFP.

LIVING WILL UPDATE: Many of you have written about the advisability of having a Living Will in place before a crisis strikes that forces family members to deal with crucial decisions such as disconnecting life support systems or refusing surgery for an already terminally ill bared one. Thank you to those who have sent in suggestions on setting up a Living Will. The following reflects a consensus of your advice: 1. Make sure your state recognizes Living Wills as legal. Make sure your state recognizes Living Wills as legal. Have your Living Will witnessed by at least two people. Determine what it is you want done. For example, (if this is what you want), have the documents state clearly that if you are found to be terminally ill, or are in a coma, that you do not want to be put on life state clearly that if you are found to be terminally ill, or are in a coma, that you do not want to be put on life support systems. 4. Also state (if this is what you want) that your chart carries a note: "Do Not Resuscitate" if you are in a terminal situation and have lapsed into a coma. 5. Be specific about the type of treatment you do not want the staff to provide, ie., surgery, tubal feedings, incorporating community involvement in their programs. One reader made a very important point: "My cousin's wife learned, to her shock, that despite the living will my cousin signed, and which we thought was foolproof, the hospital refused to withdraw feeding and hydration from him until his wife got a court order. He endured several days of existence — I can't say life — in that time .... (And) on't want to sound hard hearted, but my cousin's family had extra expenses as a result of their keeping him without any hope of recovery.

Wakefield Lions sponsoring soup supper

Wakefield Lions sponsoring soup supper
WAKEFIELD-The Wakefield Lions Club is sponsoring a soup supper on Sunday, Nov. 19 at the Wakefield Community School. The menu will include chili or potato soup, relishes and dessert.
Cost at the door is $3 for adults, and $2 for children under age
12. Tickets may be purchased in advance from Lions Club members at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under age 12.

Proceeds from the event will be used to fund the Lions-Quest Skills for Adolescents Program at the local school. The program is a combined effort of Lions Clubs International and Quest International to help young people ages 10 to 14 develop essential life skills including decision making, communicating and resisting negative pressure to use alcohol and other drugs, and also to develop a sense of belonging and commitment to their families, schools, positive peers and community.

tive peers and community.

The Lions-Quest program is being taught for the first time in the Wakefield school to seventh graders. Instructor is Mrs. Val Bard. The Lions-Quest group provides training for the teachers and classroom materials.

To fund regional climate center

Senate gives approval

U.S. Senators Jim Exon and Bob Kerrey (D-Nebr), said that the Senate has given final approval to fund the High Plains Regional Cli-mate Center at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln for 1990. The $300,000 for the climate center was included in the 1990 Commerce, Justice, State and Judi-ciary Appropriations Conference

*This is good news for the farmers and businessmen that deal with the problems resulting from climate and weather changes in the Midwest," Exon said. "It helps bridge the gap between climate research and applying that re-search to the day-to-day weather and environmental issues that affect agriculture and business."

The Nebraska climate center The Nebraska climate center provides information to agriculture, industrial, commercial and governmental users in Nebraska, lowa, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota. The center also conducts research on climate problems. The measure now goes to the President for consideration.

Vitamin/Mineral "Bioavailability"

Bioavailability refers to the release of nutrients (or medicines) from tablets, capsules, or other dosage forms. One measure of the value of a-nutritional supplement is its ability to release nutrients so that they enter the bloodstream in maximum quantities. All vitamin/ mineral supplements do not have the same bioavailability.

For a supplement to formulated carefully. Ingredients that can interact chemically or physically must be separated within the tablet or capsule. Tablets must be precisely compressed so that they hold together yet quickly disintegrate in the stomach. You cannot determine bioabailability by looking at a supplement or its packaging. And a high price does not guarantee bioa-vailability. Ask us when you need assistance in the selection of a value-priced nutritional supplement.
