Schoenherrs tell of Guam teaching experience

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

Wayne Middle School sixth grade students were given a true picture of Guam last Tuesday through the words and pictures of Bob and Sue Schoenherr of Wayne.

Bob is a pastor at Wayne World Outreach Center. He and Sue moved to Guam three years ago [1985-86] to serve a full year as missionary teachers on the island.

"Guam is about 35 miles long and averages about 5 miles in width," said Bob to sixth grade students. "The island is less than half the size of Wayne County."

The population of Guam, he said, is at around 110,000 people. Most are natives of Guam. Twenty-five percent of the population, he said, is of Philippine nationality. Ten percent of the population consist of Americans, primarily because of the Air Force or other military bases that are on the United States Territorial Island.

"There is a lot of Japanese influence there. To the Japanese, Guam is their Hawaii," Bob said.

TEMPERATURE deviates very little on Guam. The coldest it got, Bob said, was near 80 degrees and the hottest temperature there was around 90. "But Guam [because it is a tropical island] gets a lot of rain," he said.

While the Schoenherrs were there, a typhoon came within 30 miles of the island. "We had 24 hours straight of torrential rain,"

Bob said.

Cutting grass twice a week was not unusual because it grew so fast.

"Guam is a very, very hard island. It is not suitable for growing crops since there is only about an inch or so of soil there. We tried to plant some things but it took too long to get through the soil," he mentioned. "Red clay and palm trees are predominant on the island."

The Schoenherrs resided in a Guam village of 20,000 people. Some of the nastiest living conditions came about because of the tropical climate. Head lice and bacteria thrive — and mold removal was almost a daily ritual.

Mold was in the closets, in the shoes and clothes. "We had to bleach the walls once a month to get rid of the mold," Sue said.

On the island are remnants, some dangerous, of World War II. "You have to be careful hiking in Guam. Some of the territory is off limits because there are still booby traps on the island from World War II. Some bunkers remain along the ocean shore. "Some places on the tropical island are so dense. They haven't been traveled upon in 40 years or more," Bob mentioned.

WITH THE climate comes the small native lizards — 3 inches or so long — that enter the households. "Those little lizards were welcome because they ate the two-inch cockroaches that were in the house," he said. "We never got a mosquito bite while we were there on the island."

"And there were lots of toads on the island. While driving at night, it was not impossible to see over 50 toads on one section of the road."

Bob told the sixth graders that the Guam natives were superstitious people. The natives would sometimes put candy cane-like structures on their property to keep away evil spirits that they thought were lurking on the island.

"We learned to like coconut. But before we left the island we were sick of it. Sometimes we would catch fresh water shrimp with our hands, take them home and cook them. The shrimp was very tasty," Bob said.

"Meat imported from the United States was usually spoiled once it reached Guam. Power outages can last up to 45 minutes or longer on the island, which doesn't help in preserving the meat products."

"Sue said new clothes were too expensive to buy in Guam. And the food items that were often put on sale, like cereal or bread or macaroni, was outdated from six months to one year."

Bob and Sue said the Guam school system was structured similar to the United States. "But the quality of education was no where near the same," Bob mentioned.

STUDENTS graduating from high school in Guam could be a student teacher. Sue said the island has a high drop-out rate — around 50 percent.

"Since there is no big industry on the island — tourism is the top industry — it is difficult for the young people to find jobs on the island," she said.

The Schoenherrs showed pictures of Guam and answered questions posed by the Wayne Middle School sixth graders about the island.

College projects prioritized

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

A priority list for capital construction and operating budget requests, made by the four state colleges in Nebraska, was amended and approved during a conference call board meeting Nov. 9 of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges.

Capital project priorities are ranked Priority A, A-1 and B.

Top priority in Priority A is the $3,746,000 library automation project. This project that touches all state college campuses is the result of several years of study and it will be compatible with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, University of Nebraska at Omaha library system.

The only other priority in Priority A is the Founders Hall addition at Kearney State College.

Wayne State College is listed third down the list in the Priority A-1 category for construction of a new business building and Connell Hall renovation at $100,000. Ranked ahead in priority is Peru State College's wood-fired energy project at $302,000 and the same type of project for Chadron State College at $375,000.

Placed fourth in a A-1 priority is a hazardous materials disposal study for all state college campuses at $250,000.

Wayne State College is ranked second out of the four priority projects in Priority B. Listed is Wayne State College Fine Arts Building asbestos abatement at $425,000.

LOOKING at Priority A projects in the operational budget requests [ranked the same way as capital project priorities with the exception that there is a Priority C category], Wayne State has two projects in the top four areas. Ranked third would be an addition of 1.75 full-time equivalency instructional staff at $70,989; and at fourth was the obtaining of instructional equipment at $198,261.

The minutes of the conference call meeting show that Wayne State College was second-most underfunded of the four state colleges according to a recent study.

"Through several administrative changes and a combination of problems including inability to predict enrollment trends for cash funds after some enrollment declines during those years," Wayne State gained little or no ground in operating fund relative adequacy among colleges in the 1989-90 biennial budget. Now enrollment is showing a substantial increase, according to the minutes.

Wayne State College also has several accounting staff included in Priority B and Priority C rankings.

County Farm Bureau looking for donations

Wayne County Farm Bureau is participating in a statewide Farm Bureau effort to ship used fencing and building materials to South Carolina farmers who were victims of Hurricane Hugo.

"Losses to crops and buildings in South Carolina are estimated at $300 million, plus a $1 billion loss to their timber industry. Efforts to rebuild are being hampered by a shortage of fencing and building materials," said Don Liedman, president of the Wayne County Farm Bureau.

"The highest priority need is for barbed wire," Liedman said. Also needed are steel and wood fenceposts; roofing materials, such as good tin or corrugated roofing; and lumber — plywood in particu-

"Good used quality is fine. Many farmers have fencing from livestock enterprises they no longer engage in, and serviceable materials left over when farm buildings were replaced. These would all be appreciated by farmer victims of Hurricane Hugo," said Liedman.

Individuals with materials to donate are asked to contact Wayne County Farm Bureau at 375-3144 by Dec. 15.

Arrangements will be made for pick-up of the materials and shipment to Columbia, South Carolina. Transportation for the donations will be provided by South Carolina Farm Bureau.

The materials will be distributed to all farmers in need, including non-Farm Bureau members, Liedman said.

Careful planning can keep holidays happy

The holidays are upon us — and with them come enormous expectations. These expectations are fed by tradition, myth and commercialism. Often these are ideals unattainable by the average family. Unrealistic goals for holiday celebrations can leave us feeling overly stressed, unappreciated and disappointed at the end of the holiday season.

There are ways, however, to help each of us create the type of holiday that is both meaningful and memorable to our individual family. Jane Brody of The New York Times suggests that we should determine what is really important to us and the people with whom we will be sharing the holidays. Then, eliminate extraneous undertakings that are seldom noticed or appreciated.

In other words, set our own standards for the holidays rather than living by society's expectations.

JO ROBINSON AND Jean Coppock Staeheli, authors of "Unplug the Christmas Machine," recommend that holiday preparations be simplified. Trying to recreate "house beautiful" can draw energy away from more important activities such as spending time with our partner and family.

They also suggest that couples sit down together and discuss what they want from the holidays and the role each is willing to play in achieving those goals. The authors say that many husbands feel abandoned during the holiday season by their wives' preoccupation with the event.

And many wives feel abandoned by husbands who do not take a "fair" share of holiday responsibilities. Even though there may be more time away from "professional" work, there is too often less time for interaction and sharing concerns.

ANOTHER IDEA offered by the authors is to try to reduce the preoccupation with gifts. Focus on a few presents that are lasting and meaningful. "A day at the zoo with grandparents can last a lot longer in a child's memory than yet another game or doll."

Or, try replacing some of the spiritually empty activities with visiting a nursing home, giving a gift to a needy stranger, or cooking for the homeless.

The message seems to be — create your own holiday. Keep the traditions that are most meaningful to you, and pace your activities so that at the end of the season you have created warm opportunities for sharing and togetherness that will start the new year right.

Heart Association encourages support of 'HeartGuide'

The Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association met Nov. 20 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Jackie McCullough, area representative, talked about "HeartGuide," a consumer nutrition information program to label products and encourage persons to eat a variety of healthy foods.

McCullough said the program also would save shoppers time as a heart with a check in it would indicate that the product has been tested and approved. Reading and studying labels would not be as necessary.

THE PROGRAM is being opposed by the USDA and FDA as being discriminatory. However, any company may have their product tested. The American Heart Association is encouraging consumers to write to Secretary Yeutter or their congressmen and ask that the program be continued for the convenience of the consumer and to try to change the statistic that every 30 seconds someone suffers a heart attack.

PLANS FOR THE year also were discussed at the meeting. The residential drive and one other event will be two of the major fund raisers. The possibility of another celebrity waiter event also was proposed.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Affiliate will be Jan. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at Providence Medical Center.

Bereuter proposes national park

Representative Doug Bereuter proposed creation of a Niobrara-Buffalo Prairie National Park in Nebraska.

Bereuter unveiled an approach to the protection of unique areas of the Niobrara River, including: creation of Nebraska's first national park; designation of some portions and study of other portions of the Niobrara River and its tributaries under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act; designation of a portion of the Missouri River as a Recreation River; and study of the potential for creation of a National Recreation Area adjacent to the Lewis and Clark Reservoir and the Niobrara River in Knox County.

SPECIFIC FEATURES of Bereuter's Omnibus Nebraska National Park and River Act include:

— Creation of the Niobrara-Buffalo Prairie National Park. The proposed area for the park includes the Ft. Niobrara Wildlife Refuge, the Niobrara Valley Preserve which is owned by the Nature Conservancy and specified adjacent areas to be purchased only on a willing-seller basis. No condemnation of land is authorized.

The eventual, maximum area for inclusion in the national park is approximately 170,000 acres. About half are already owned by the Federal Government or Nature Conservancy.

— Designation of the 76-mile segment of the Niobrara River from the Borman Bridge southeast of Valentine downstream to the bridge crossing on State Highway

Senator Jim Exon considered Bereuter's proposal as an endorsement of his play to establish at least 76 miles of the Niobrara as a Scenic River.

The Senate has passed Exon's bill and Congressman Hoagland has introduced an identical measure in the House of Representatives.

Exon said Bereuter's proposal "may run into opposition from the Governor, Congresswoman Virginia Smith and others who have not even embraced his [Exon's] bill without delays of costly time-consuming studies."

"The first action should be to pass the Senate version and consider the Bereuter follow-on provisions later. I am concerned that significant changes attempted at this late date might cause all of the progress to date to be lost as we study and re-study the proposal to death," Exon said after being asked to comment about the proposal announced by Bereuter.

— Designation of the 25-mile segment of the Niobrara River from the western boundary of Knox County to its confluence with the Missouri River as a "recreational river" under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

— Designation of the 59-mile segment of the Missouri River from the headwaters of Lewis and Clark Reservoir to the Fort Randall Dam as a "recreational river" under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

— Authorizes a National Park Service study to create a "national recreation area" in Knox and Boyd Counties adjacent to the newly designated recreation river areas and adjacent to the Lewis and Clark Reservoir.

— And authorizes Wild and Scenic River Act studies on segments of the Niobrara River and its tributaries.

"Despite earlier controversy related to water development alternatives, we have at the end of this decade reached the point where the overwhelming majority of Nebraskans acknowledge the significance and value of the unique Niobrara River and its valley," he said. "While there will never be unanimous support for Federal protective action in any state, I believe that a strong consensus within Nebraska finally does exist."

"Therefore, in the closing hours of the first session of the 101st Congress, on Nov. 21, I introduced H.R. 3823, the Omnibus Nebraska National Park and River Act."

BEREUTER said his proposal deals with far more than designating a single stretch of the Niobrara River as a scenic river. "It looks at the whole range of recreational, tourism and economic development opportunities that exist in north central and northeast Nebraska as the Niobrara River flows eastward across our state, and at the recreational potential of that portion of the Missouri River in Nebraska upstream from the Lewis and Clark Reservoir," Bereuter said.

"My bill proposes the creation of Nebraska's first national park to preserve for all future generations a portion of the Nebraska-Sandhills grassland environment and what is ecologically the most unique part of the Niobrara River Valley," Bereuter said. "This national park status for the heart of the unique Niobrara River valley and adjacent sandhill environment is highly appropriate and overdue."

Special thanks

Sorensen honored

DICK SORENSEN of Wayne (left), was one of eight individuals who have made outstanding contributions to Nebraska's agricultural industry who were named to membership in the Nebraska Hall of Agricultural Achievement. The organization has honored Nebraskans in this context since 1917, with an invitation to become a member, a form of recognition accorded to only a select few. Congratulating Sorensen, a swine producer and swine industry leader, is Willard J. Waldo of DeWitt, president of the organization, while Mrs. Sorensen looks on.

Wayne Cagers cautiously optimistic

The Wayne boys basketball team returns just two letter winners from a year ago and only one starter, but coach Bob Uhing feels that he is going to be looking at a team this year that has more quickness and height than last year's team.

Uhing doesn't quite know what to expect from this year's team but he noted that for the first time since he's been here, most of the key players spent a lot of time in the gym during the off season. Gone from last year's team is point guard Jess Zeiss, Doug Larsen, Kevin Hausmann, Jarrod Wood, Rob Sweetland, Jed Reeg and Adam Mrsny. "We'll definitely need leadership from both our returning letterwinners and from our other seniors and our junior class," Uhing said.

This year's team is going to be such that if you are not scoring on offense you are not doing much good to the team. Wayne will lead a balanced attack with Jeff Griesch at the point guard position and Neil Carnes and Craig Sharpe at the forward positions with Willy

Gross a small forward and Brian Lantz at the number two guard.

"We'll use both Casey and Craig Dyer at the guard spots as well," Uhing said. "Both the Dyers have as much or more quickness as anyone around and that will enable us to maybe beat some people in one-on-one situations."

Chad Metzler will spell point guard Jeff Griesch and Kyle Dahl will play a lot in relieving some of the big people.

Wrestlers look to continue success

Twelve returning lettermen return to the Wayne wrestling team this year under the direction of John Murtaugh and Lonnie Ehrhardt. Among the returnees is state runner-up Mike DeNaeyer from a year ago.

Other returning letter winners include state qualifiers Chris Janke and Jason Ehrhardt along with Brent Gamble, Brian Gamble, Eric Cole, Trevor Wehrer, Jason Fink, Greg DeNaeyer, Jesse Brodersen, Dave Hewitt, and Matt Bruggeman.

Only two seniors are on the squad along with nine juniors, four sophomores and five freshman. DeNaeyer will be looking to at least duplicate his 31-2 mark of last year while Chris Janke, Greg DeNaeyer, Jason Ehrhardt and Matt Bruggeman will once again look to garner over 15 wins like last season.

The Blue Devils had an 8-2 dual record last season and were the district runner-up, conference champs and placed eighth in the state tournament. During the course of the year the Blue Devils will face stiff competition from the likes of Elkhorn, (Defending Class B Champs), Blair, Schuyler, Albion, Creighton, (Class C state runner-up), Tekamah, (State Champs in Class C), O'Neill, Kearney and Lexington.

"We welcome a challenging schedule," Murtaugh said. "We feel that in order to be the best we can, we have to wrestle the best. Also, it serves as a good preparation for the post-season tournaments."

Lady Blue Devils face inexperience

The Wayne girls basketball team has the unenviable task of filling a lot of vacancies this season. Vacancies caused by graduation which saw the likes of leading scorer Dana Nelson, Tonya Exleben, Holly Paige, Kristy Hansen and Robin Lutt leave.

There are 20 girls out for the team this season but exactly half of the 20 are freshman, while three are sophomores, four are juniors and just three are seniors. Those seniors include Teresa Ellis and Heidi Reeg which both saw extensive starting action last year, and Kristin Frevert.

"Outside of Teresa and Heidi no one played much last year," Uhing said. "Our main players were all seniors with the two exceptions." Uhing noted that hustle and determination can go along way in a team and that's the way to over achieve. "I've had lots of teams do that," Uhing said. "We are a very young team right now and we have to rely on determination and hustle."

Once again the Wayne squad will be small but that's not unusual for Wayne the past few years. For instance Heidi Reeg is a real good post player but if she was three or four inches taller with the talent she possesses, she could be one of the premiere post players in Northeast-Nebraska.

"Since we are smaller we will have to rely on an up tempo game which is not normally what you would want to do with an team with inexperience," Uhing said.

Winside looks to fill vacancies

The Winside boys basketball team will find out right away what life with out scoring sensation Tim Jacobsen is like this year. Jacobsen was lost to graduation as was other starters Steve Heinemann, Darren Wacker, and Gary Mundil. Off the bench they lost Vince White.

In fact, Randy Geier may have the toughest coaching job of any area coach this year. But let's not write off the Wildcats just yet. Winside still sports one of the finest athletes on the basketball court in the Lewis & Clark Conference in Randy Prince. Prince has the ability to light the score board in a hurry and often.

Prince, 6-3, and Mark Brugger at 6-2, are the only returning letter winners for the young Wildcats this year. Juniors, Matt Brogren and Tad Behmer along with underclassman Cory Jensen, Jason Paulsen and John Hancock look to rebuild the Winside program. James Painter, a 6-5 senior is also on this year's team.

"Two areas that we have to be successful at if we are going to be a competitive team is the way we handle pressure and our outside shooting," Geier said. "If we can smooth out those two areas we will be a competitive team because I really believe our inside game is strong with Prince and Brugger."

Geier will be assisted this year by Darin Blackburn. Blackburn was also an assistant coach for football. Nov. 30 — at Allen Dec. 1 — at Homer

Grapplers looking for top 10 finish

One of the strongest wrestling teams in Northeast Nebraska this year will be from Class D's Winside. The Wildcats under the direction of Paul Sok, who enters his ninth year at Winside, has the makings to be a highly competitive squad and perhaps even a strong top 10 contender in Class D.

Winside is still a very young team and the lone senior is the defending state champion at 135 lbs., in Max Kant. Kant will wrestle once again at 135 lbs., the third consecutive year at that weight.

Other returning state qualifiers include Chad Carlson, Brian Thompson and Jason Krueger. "Everyone moved up one weight class except Max," Sok said of his youthful squad.

Right now the Wildcats have 12 weight classes filled and by Christ-mas Sok hopes to have all 13 classes filled with quality wrestlers. "Right now I'd have to say that we'll push for the district championship," Sok said. "I think we have a solid chance of finishing in the top 10 this year and our guys are really anxious to get going and the pre-season has gone well for them."

Chris Mann, Doug Heinemann, Jason Magwire, Jason Topp, Jason Bargstadt, Shane Frahm, Jeff Gallop, Trevor Topp and Kerry Jaeger will be looking to fill out the varsity as will Mark Janssen, and Marc Stueckrath.

Winside will host its own Invitational on January 6.

Winside girls hope for improvement

As Winside girls basketball coach Paul Giesselmann gets set to enter his second year as head coach, he faces a team that lost three starters from a year ago and he faces a squad that looks more or less like an infirmary as several players are on the injured list.

Gone from last year's squad is leading scorer Kristy Miller, Lisa Janke and Christina Bloomfield from starting positions and Cam Behmer. Key returnees include Tina Hartmann, Shannon Holdorf, Jenny Jacobsen, Jenni Topp, and Wendy Rabe along with Doree Brogren, Shawn Janke, Holly Holdorf, April Thies, Letha Duboise, Jenny Hancock, Christi Thurstonson and Becky Appel. Giesselmann also welcomes the addition of Kelly Pichler, a transfer from Palmer where she started last season. Pichler however is on the injured list as is Shannon Holdorf, and Letha Duboise.

"I feel that we have a strong front court with Wendy Rabe, Jenni Topp, Doree Brogren and Shawn Janke," Giesselmann said. "Our success depends heavily on staying healthy and we are not off to a good start in that department." Giesselmann also added that only one of the injuries to his team is basketball related.

"We'll be looking to run even though we have good size," Giesselmann said. "We did a lot of good things last year but right now we are lacking depth. I believe the key to our success this year is our defense."

Trojans return key experience

One of the most experienced teams in the area this year is the Wakefield boys team under the dictatorship of Paul Eaton and Arnie Cerny. In fact Paul Eaton says its the most experience he's ever had returning to Wakefield in his five years at the helm.

"We have five kids on the team who have started for us before," Eaton said. That list includes Andy McQuistan, Matt Tappe, Tony Krusemark, Chris Loofoe and Mark Johnson.

Eaton noted that the pre-season has been marred by absenteeism due to school functions or illness but since it is basically a lot of the same players and coaches that they haven't fallen behind in where they would like to be at this time.

"We need to play consistently this year," Eaton said. "We need to have more discipline in every thing we do so when we get into tough situations we can handle it." There are four other players who Eaton feels will be important to the success of this year's squad and they include juniors Matt Krusemark and Keith Wenstrand and sophomore Tony Brown along with senior Shawn Meyer.

"We are looking for Matt Krusemark and Tony Brown to sub in for our ball handlers like Matt Tappe, Chris Loofoe and Mark Johnson," Eaton said. "And we are looking for Shawn Meyer and Keith Wenstrand to sub in for our big people in Andy McQuistan and Tony Krusemark."

"We think we have five players who can play well together and all five can handle the ball, as well as pass the ball," Eaton said.

Lady Trojans return top seven

Not many teams in the area, boys or girls, can say they have all five starters from a year ago returning, but Wakefield girls head coach Ellie Studer is just in that predicament and it's one that she's not about to trade.

"We are sitting in a good position in which we have seven returning letterwinners from last year and all seven have seen lots of playing time," Studer said.

Of course the Trojans first priority is to improve upon a 3-14 record from last season which was an improvement by three games for the year before as they were winless in 1987.

Among the returnees are the leading scorer in Lisa Blecke. Blecke led the team in scoring and rebounding in her freshman season and has graduated from the fantastic freshman status into what her teammates and coaches hope is a sensational sophomore year.

Kristen Miller, Julie Greve, Cathi Larson, Lisa Anderson, Sarah Salmon and Wendy Kratke also return as letterwinners and all are looking to get started and improve on last year's mark.

"I believe we have a good crew of girls," Studer said. "They are showing a lot of potential in practice and they have been shooting real well and are picking things up rather quickly."

Wakefield was in a lot of games last year losing several by less than 10 points and those are the games that Studer hopes will be turned around this season.

Hrabik possibly looking at best team

Laurel boys coach Mark Hrabik is set to enter his sixth year at the helm of the Bears basketball program and if things go as planned, this will be his best year yet.

Loads of experience return to this year's team including leading scorers John Schutte and Troy Twohig. Both players averaged over 17 points per outing last season. Also returning from starting positions a year ago is Todd Erwin who averaged over 10 points a contest and Matt Jonas who averaged over six points a game.

The only starter lost to graduation was Doug Manz. Chad VanCleave and Matt Felber who saw extensive playing time last year are back as are Bruce Halsch and Shawn Arens.

"We're looking to play a full court game this season," Hrabik said. "We will full court press at times and we'll look to push the ball up the court depending on the situation." Hrabik says that this year's team could be an exciting team to watch when they are playing an up tempo game because they can all handle the ball.

"One thing I think we are going to really work on is trying to make our defense an important part of our offense," Hrabik said. "We're really going to look to make things happen with our pressure defense."

Hrabik sees Pierce and Neligh as being strong contenders for the NENAC crown and he sees Bloomfield as being a surprise team. He also sees Coleridge, Wakefield, Wayne and Cedar Catholic as being strong.

Laurel girls get new coach

Mike Zimmerman takes over the helm for the Laurel Lady Bears this season and although Laurel is a class C school, only 15 girls are out for the team, one below last year. The numbers may be down but the experience Laurel has just may be the ticket to a successful season this year as they look to improve on a 7-11 record. Seniors Amy Adkins, Sherri McCorkindale, Amy Newton and Heather Thomas along with junior Bree Bebee look to start for the Lady Bears. One key loss to the team is Shana Carstensen who led the Bears in scoring and in free throw shooting percentage a year ago. Carstensen is out with a back injury and it is not known when her presence will be back. Other girls which will contribute heavily to the Bears this season include junior Jennifer Fritz and sophomores Sherri Hangman, Tina Granquist and Stacy Nixon. "We have some good experience coming back to the team this year," Zimmerman said. "I believe our problems are lack of numbers, (depth) and our size." The Bears will have some quickness on the team and according to Zimmerman the forwards and centers can handle the ball rather well. Zimmerman has studied all of last year's games on tape and feels that this year's squad is well equipped to improve on last year's record. An extremely competitive schedule awaits the Bears but Laurel is out approach each game one at a time.

Allen looks to play pressure defense

Gary Troth enters his second year heading the boys basketball team at Allen following a 10 year stint as the girls head coach in the same school. Troth's team this year has plenty of experience and the Eagles will be looking to improve upon a dismal 2-14 season last year. "We return eight seniors this year," Troth said, "and all but one of them has had extensive playing time." Troth said one of the main goals of the season is to play continual hard pressing defense at all times. "I believe defense is our key to success," Troth said. "Hopefully our depth will pay off in the fourth quarters." Todd Hohenstein and Matt Hingst will return to lead the team as Hohenstein was the Eagles leading scorer last year while Hingst looks to regain the on the court quarterback stature he has had for the past two seasons. Rusty Dickens, Kent Chase, Kelly Boswell, Jason Oleson and Shane Dahl are also looking for starting roles and all are eager to set out and improve on last year's record.

Kelly Boswell received good news before the season started which was being able to play this year with out a back brace which was used to treat his scoliosis, (curvature of the spine). Shane Dahl didn't start last year but ended up being the team's second leading scorer. Troth hopes that quickness and defense will overcome the lack of height his team will battle against all season.

Lady Eagles welcome new coach

The Allen girls basketball team will be coached by a new, yet familiar face this season. Lori Koester takes over the helm from Jeff Schoning and for those of you familiar with Allen basketball of the past, Lori Koester is often one of the first names mentioned because before she left Allen high school in the late seventies, Lori Erwin as it was then, was one of the most impressive players in Northeast Nebraska. Erwin went on to Wayne State following high school and set numerous records which were just recently broken by Linda Schnitzler. At any rate, Lori Koester is back with the Allen basketball program as head coach with her father Gary Erwin the assistant. Gary is also no stranger to the game of basketball as he coached five daughters and played himself, in college at Morningside. The philosophy of the daughter-father coaching staff is a simple one. "We are going to worry about ourselves first and then our opponents," Koester said. "Our lack of experience will have an affect right away but we feel we will be very competitive once the girls get used to the system." Koester noted that there will be about eight players in the rotation right away which include Stephanie Carlson, Cindy Chase, Denise Boyle, Robin Schroeder, Alyssa McGrath, Jenny Lee and Kari Smith. "Right now the girls are enthused about the game and that's all we can ask right away," Koester said. Nov. 30 — Winside

Wayne pounds Battle Creek

The Wayne Blue Devils started off the 1989-90 basketball campaign with a convincing 72-53 point victory over Battle Creek Friday night in Wayne. It was nearly a year ago that Wayne played at Battle Creek in the season opener and lost after leading most of the game.

The Blue Devils never trailed in this contest as they jumped out to a 4-0 lead and never looked back. Willy Gross paced Wayne's attack with 25 points while Craig Sharp netted 16 and Kyle Dahl 13.

"It's always nice to start off the season with a win," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "But it's even nicer when you consider that seven of the players we played never varsity before."

Wayne led 20-13 at the end of the first quarter and extended the seven point lead to 10 at intermission at 41-31. Both teams managed to score 17 points in the third quarter so Wayne maintained the 10 point lead but Uhing's Blue Devils got stronger in the fourth quarter as they held Battle Creek to just five points, while scoring 14 of their own.

"I thought our kids did a good job of getting the ball inside against their man-to-man," Uhing said. "There are some areas we need a lot of improvement in including boxing out on the boards and executing the ball on offense."

Uhing said his squad didn't do well on the boards all night. "We didn't pin anyone all night," Uhing said. "It's nice to win by 19 points and not execute the ball." There were some brilliant performances however, including the play of Neil Carnes.

Carnes finished with eight points, but hauled down 13 rebounds and blocked three shots while dishing out six assists. Craig Dyer finished with four points and Brian Lentz added three. Jeff Grisch netted two points and rounding out the scoring was Casey Dyer with one.

Craig Dyer had seven rebounds to go with Carnes' 13 as Wayne tallied 35 boards. The Blue Devils suffered 17 turnovers in the contest while Battle Creek had just nine violations. Wayne shot 58 percent from the field compared to 45 for Battle Creek and the Blue Devils connected on 14-26 free throws while the Braves hit 11-20.

Wayne committed 19 fouls and Battle Creek had 22. The Blue Devils will travel to Columbus this weekend to play Columbus Lakeview on Saturday night.

Bears win opener

Mark Hrabik's Laurel Bears opened their season up on a positive note as they defeated visiting Crofton by a 66-53 margin Friday night. Looking at the score one might think Laurel had its way with Crofton but in reality it was Crofton who lead 16-9 after one quarter of play.

"We started off kind of sluggish," Laurel coach Mark Hrabik said. "We came around in the second quarter though and started clicking on offense." Laurel out scored Crofton 28-19 in the second quarter to take a two point lead at 37-35 at intermission. Chad VanCleave hit a shot at the buzzer to give Laurel its lead.

"Even though we knew we didn't have the game won at half time we could feel the momentum swinging in our favor," Hrabik said. "We did a great job of defending them in the second half and holding them to just 18 second half points."

Laurel led by seven, 52-45 after three quarters of play and went on to win by 13. "I thought one of the biggest keys in the game was in the third quarter after Crofton went to a zone," Hrabik said. "Matt Felber came off the bench and hit three straight jump shots to increase our lead from four to 10."

Laurel scored 28 second quarter points and it was big man John Schutte who did most of the damage as he scored 16 of his game high 27 points in the second quarter. "John played real well for us," Hrabik said. "He also had 11 rebounds and three blocked shots to go with his 27 points."

Todd Erwin followed Schutte's 27 points with 14 of his own while Matt Felber and Chad VanCleave had eight points apiece. Troy Twohig netted five points and Matt Jonas added four. Shawn Arens rounded out the scoring with two.

Chad VanCleave had seven rebounds to go with Schutte's 11 and Matt Jonas led the team with two assists. Laurel out rebounded Crofton 30-23 as a team and the Bears had just 12 turnovers while the visitors suffered 16.

Laurel was whistled for 18 fouls while Crofton committed just 12. The Bears will take a 1-0 record into Winside for a Tuesday night contest.

Eagles dump Wildcats

The Allen Eagles won just two basketball games last year and none the year before that, but Thursday night in this season's opener, the Eagles perhaps made a statement that they would just as soon forget about the past and concentrate on the present.

Allen jumped out to a 12-3 lead after one quarter of play and never looked back as they drilled an inexperienced Winside team, 76-40. Head coach Gary Troth was pleased with the way his squad has started out the new season.

"We played good pressure defense and we had good intensity throughout the game," Troth said. "On offense we were patient and our guards did an excellent job of getting the ball where they were supposed to."

Todd Hohenstein was nearly unstoppable as he garnered 24 points and hauled down a team leading 13 rebounds. "We executed within the confines of our offense real well," Troth said. "Our goal was to get it into Hohenstein and there were several times I thought we passed up easy shots trying to get the ball inside."

Winside head coach Randy Geier was quick to point out that his squad's inexperience was evident in the loss. "Our youth and inexperience was a factor," Geier said. "Allen's defensive quickness was a thorn in our side. I also didn't think we did a very good job of boxing out on the boards."

Allen hauled down 36 offensive rebounds and 66 rebounds over all while Winside had 42 total rebounds. The Eagles took real good care of the ball only turning it over 12 times while Winside had 28 turnovers.

Ben Jackson was the second leading scorer for Allen with nine points while Jason Oleson had seven and Rusty Dickens and Shane Dahl had six each. Kent Chase and Jody Martinson had five points each and Paul Brentlinger and Chris Sachau had four points each. Matt Hingst, Kelly Boswell and Kevin Crogrove had two points each.

Winside was led by Randy Prince with 13 points and Mark Brugger's 12. Cory Jensen and James Painter had six points each and Tad Behmer had three points.

"We missed a lot of easy shots," Troth said. "But I'm pleased with our effort. We played hard and even though it was the first game we didn't forget what we set out to do."

Troth was also pleased with the play of his point guard Matt Hingst. "Matt does a super job of running the offense," Troth said. "He gets the ball where it's supposed to be."

Winside was haunted by poor free throw shooting as they connected on just eight of 34 attempts.

Winside downs Allen

Paul Giesselmann's Winside girls basketball team started the basketball season off on the right foot Thursday night as his squad defeated Allen in Allen by a 56-44 count.

Winside trailed by two at the intermission but Giesselmann made a few adjustments in the locker at half, and the Wildcats completely dominated the second half, out scoring the host team 33-19.

"We shot over 50 percent from the field," Giesselmann said. "A lot of those shots came inside the paint and that's what we wanted to do." Allen jumped out to a 10-9 lead after one quarter of play and the Eagles increased their lead to two by intermission at 25-23.

In the third quarter Winside began pressing and the results were positive as the Wildcats scored several easy baskets. "I think we have a real balanced team this year," Giesselmann said. "That was proven with the scoring as four Wildcat players were in double figures."

Wendy Rabe led the parade of scorers with 16 points followed by Jenny Jacobsen's 14. Jenni Topp and Tina Hartmann also hit double figures with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Freshman Holly Holdorf had four points and Doree Brogren rounded out the scoring with one. "I was pleased with the performance we got from the girls coming off the bench," Giesselmann said. "We had quite a few turn overs but I think it was a combination of being the first game and a lot of youth playing their first varsity game."

Winside suffered 26 turnovers in the contest while Allen had 19. Winside out rebounded Allen by two, 46-44. Wendy Rabe and Jenni Topp had 12 rebounds apiece and Jenny Jacobsen had eight. Doree Brogren accounted for five rebounds.

"We missed the front end of nine one-and-ones," Giesselmann said. "We have a lot of improving to do but we got the 'W'."

Allen was led in scoring by Cindy Chase with 17 points and Alyssa McGrath's 10 points. Stephanie Carlson had six while Jenny Lee managed four. Carla Stapleton was next in line with three and Robin Schroeder and Denise Boyle each had two.

Cindy Chase was also Allen's top rebounder with eight while Alyssa McGrath had five and Stephanie Carlson had four. First year assistant coach Gary Erwin was pleased with Allen's effort despite the loss.

"We're happy with the way the girls gave 100 percent," Erwin said. "We'll get better, it's just going to take a little time. The girls were real nervous before the game because not one of them scored in the varsity contest with Winside last season."

Head coach Lori Koester was pleased with the way her squad forced Winside into several turnovers but the Eagles just couldn't capitalize on them. "We didn't do a few things that we wanted to do but it was the first game and things will get better."

NEIL CARNES looks to score two more in the fourth quarter of Wayne's convincing victory.

Trojans win big

Wakefield captured its second game in as many outings on Friday night as they defeated traditionally strong Bancroft-Rosalie rather handily, 67-48 in the friendly confines of Wakefield's gymnasium.

According to Wakefield coaches however, the game was not in the Trojans firm grasp until late in the third quarter. "We really didn't play all that well in the first half," Wakefield coach Paul Eaton said. "In our first game we played a good first quarter and in this game we played a good third quarter but we have to work on putting four good quarters together."

Both teams were knotted at 14 after one quarter of play and Wakefield maintained a slim one point lead at intermission at 29-28. The turning point though, was in the third quarter as the Trojans out scored Bancroft 24-4 to really put the game out of reach.

"In the third quarter we really played excellent defense," Eaton said. "I think why we ran into problems in the first two quarters was because we were trying to do too much."

Andy McQuistan once again led the scoring parade with 19 points. Tony Krusemark was the only other Trojan in double figures with 13, as eight Wakefield players scored.

Chris Loofe finished with nine points and Mark Johnson and Matt Tappe each finished with eight. Anthony Brown netted six points while Keith Wenstrand and Rod Greve each finished the game with two points.

Wakefield out rebounded Bancroft by a 32-29 margin with Mark Johnson leading the way with 10 rebounds followed by Andy McQuistan's six. Wakefield suffered 14 turnovers while the visitors had 17 violations.

Wakefield was 21-29 from the free throw line and Bancroft was 15-23 from the charity stripe. The Trojans committed 24 team fouls and Bancroft was guilty of 28 fouls. Wakefield will host Wausa in a Friday night contest.

Winside defeated

Winside dropped its second consecutive game on Friday night, losing to Homer in Homer by a large margin, 87-39. The Wildcats lost their first game the night before in Allen by 36 so it hasn't been a rosy beginning for head coach Randy Geier.

The news wasn't good from the onset as 6-2 forward Mark Brugger failed to suit up because of a knee injury. Homer however, was red hot from the field according to Geier.

"They hit 56 percent of their shots for the entire game," Geier said. "They were 20-31 in the first half alone." Incidentally, it was Homer's first game of the season. Randy Prince led the Wildcats with 17 points while James Painter netted 11. Tad Behmer and John Hancock each had four and Matt Brogren netted two. Cory Jensen rounded out the scoring for Winside with one point.

James Painter was Winside's leading rebounder with eight caroms to his credit while Randy Prince had seven. Matt Brogren hauled down six rebounds as the Wildcats were out rebounded by a 44-38 margin.

Winside suffered 20 turnovers in the game which according to Geier was better than the first game. Homer however, had just six turnovers in the contest. Winside committed 16 fouls and Homer had 21 infractions called.

WSC loses by 33

Northwest Missouri State University ran its record to a perfect 4-0 with a 101-68 pummeling of Wayne State Wednesday night in Rice Auditorium. Wayne State head coach Steve Aggers said the defeat was the soundest defeat he's suffered since he's been at Wayne State.

"We weren't only defeated soundly in score," Aggers said, "but we were defeated in every phase of the game. Northwest Missouri State has a real nice team and they played good pressure defense for 40 minutes."

The visitors proved to make themselves right at home in Wayne State's home confines as they connected on 76 percent of their field goals for the game and they hit 10-14 from three point range for an unprecedented 71 percent.

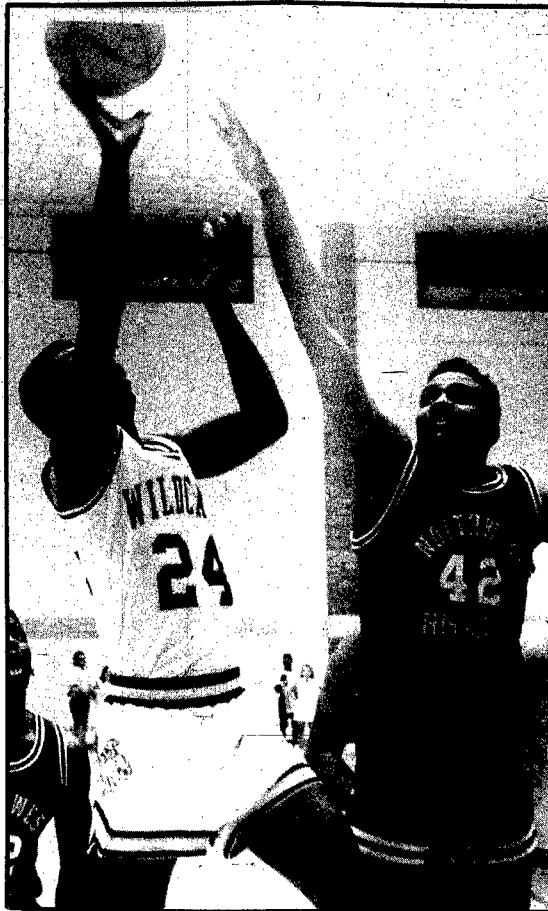

Wayne State connected on 49 percent of their shots but the Wildcats really never enjoyed any momentum as each time they mounted what seemed to be a come back, Northwest Missouri State responded with a couple of quick baskets.

"They play outstanding defense," Aggers said. "They totally dominated us on defense to the point where we couldn't do anything we wanted." Mike Roubout led Wayne State in scoring with 17 points while forward Melvin Nunn added 16 more. Point guard Tony Hill scored 12 points while Doug Kuzak and Eric Priebe scored eight and seven respectively. Eric Priebe led the rebounding corp with six caroms to his credit.

Chris Johnson led the visitors with 25 points while Curtis Downing added 23 more. Johnson was 4-4 from three point range and was 5-5 from the free throw line.

The Wildcats will now turn their attention to Missouri Western who travels to Wayne for a Friday night contest. Missouri Western has an 0-2 record but Aggers is leery of them. "Don't let their record fool you," Aggers said. "They have lost to UNO by a 73-66 count in Omaha and they lost 99-84 to Northern Iowa. This team will be quicker than the Northwest Missouri State team."

WAYNE STATE'S Melvin Nunn goes to the hoop hard against Northwest Missouri State in Wednesday night action at Rice Auditorium.

Lady Trojans lose

The Wakefield Lady Trojans hosted Pender in basketball action Thursday night in Wakefield and it didn't prove to be an opening home victory for the Trojans as Pender escaped with a 56-48 victory.

"We had a rough fourth quarter," Wakefield coach Ellie Studer said. "They pressed us the whole second half and in the fourth quarter it kind of wore us down." Wakefield jumped out to a 14-8 lead after the first quarter and led by just three at half time, 23-20.

Wakefield maintained that slim three point lead after three quarters of play as each team scored 16 third quarter points for a 39-36 Trojans lead. But in the fourth quarter Pender was sent to the free throw line 15 times where they connected on eight and Pender went on to out score Wakefield by a 20-9 margin.

Sophomore Lisa Blecke led the Trojans in scoring with 18 points while sophomore Kristen Miller followed with 13. Julie Greve was next in the scoring line with five while Wendy Kratek scored four. Sarah Salmon netted three-points and Cathi Larson and Lisa Anderson scored two points each. Heidi Muller rounded out the scoring with one point.

"We have a strong seven rotation," Studer said. "We also have two freshman who come in and do a good job of spelling the starters in Angie Peterson and Heidi Muller."

Studer felt her Trojans played well and executed like they wanted. "We did a good job of executing the offense and I thought we ran our specialty plays well," Studer said. Wakefield out rebounded Pender by a 50-33 margin with Julie Greve coming away with 13 caroms and Kristen Miller hauling down nine rebounds.

"Kristen did an outstanding job of rebounding considering she played guard," Studer said. "I felt our rebounding was our strength because Pender had more height than we did."

Wakefield will travel to Homer for a Monday night contest.

Wayne wrestlers win

The Wayne wrestling team picked up right where they left off last season with a 49-15 dual victory over Schuyler Thursday night in Schuyler. The Blue Devils were paced by six pins and never trailed in the dual.

"Our plan going into the meet was to be more physical than Schuyler and to out hustle them," head coach John Murtaugh said. "The kids did a great job of carrying out this plan."

The evening started with three junior varsity matches in which the Blue Devils won two. Todd Fredrickson won by pin in his 103 lb. match while Brian Gamble won by pin in his 140 lb. match. It took Gamble just 62 seconds to dispose of his man. Brent Gamble was defeated 8-6 in his 119 lb. match.

The varsity dual began with Wayne freshman Randy Johnson defeating Justin Schemper, 9-2 in the 103 lb. category. Freshman Matt Rise followed that up with a 15-8 win over Chad Kucera. "The two big wins by our freshman gave us the momentum for the entire match," Murtaugh said. "They showed a lot of determination and I am very proud of them."

At 119 lbs., Wayne's defending state runner-up in Mike DeNaeyer pinned Dusty Stutzman in 93 seconds. Wayne lost just three matches on the evening and two of them came against defending state placers. Eric Cole at 125 lbs.,

was pinned by Cody Stutzman who placed sixth in last year's state tournament.

At 130 lbs., Trevor Wehrer came away with a big win, with a 6-2 decision over Jason Lane. "Trevor beat a kid that beat him 14-2 last year," Murtaugh said. At 135 lbs. Chris Janke pinned Keith Christiansen at the 3:39 mark. Greg DeNaeyer was defeated 4-1 by Loopy Bayer. Bayer placed third at the state tournament a year ago.

Jason Fink decided Barry Vanek 9-0 for a Blue Devil victory at 145 while Bryan Ruhr was pinned at the 152 lb. class by Tony Schatto. Wayne's remaining four weight classes were all victories via the pin. Jesse Brodersen pinned Kurt Kruse at 3:04 in the 160 lb. category while Dwaine Junck pinned Tom Oakely in 1:56 of the 171 lb. match.

Jason Ehrhardt needed 5:30 to pin Kurt Shevlin while Matt Bruggeman needed just 1:51 to pin Devon Johnk in the heavy weight category.

"This was one of the best first meet performances that I've ever been associated with," Murtaugh said. "Jesse Brodersen did a nice job of coming from behind to pin his man and Dwaine Junck was filling in for an injured Dan Wiseman and he responded with a pin."

Wayne will host West Point in a dual on Tuesday night.

Wakefield scores early, often in win

The Wakefield Trojans jumped out quickly on visiting Pender Thursday night and never looked back as they posted a convincing 66-43 victory in the season opener for both teams.

Coach Paul Eaton was pleased with his team's play but noted that they have a lot of room for improvement. "We were satisfied with the way we came out and played in the first quarter and grabbed a lead and kept it," Eaton said. "We know we need some improvement in different areas but the game gave us a chance to see just how much and where we need to improve."

One area Eaton says his team must get better at is conditioning. For the most part though Wakefield seemed to be in sync, especially Andy McQuistan who seemed to pick up where he left off last year, scoring 24 points and hauling down 11 rebounds.

Two other Trojans were in double figures as well with Matt Tappe pouring in 14 points and Tony Krusemark adding 11. Keith Weststrand added six while Mark Johnson and Anthony Brown scored four each. Chris Loofoe and Matt Krusemark rounded out the scoring with three points apiece.

Tony Krusemark hauled down seven rebounds to add to McQuistan's 11. Wakefield held a commanding lead on the boards with a 36-26 advantage. The Trojans turned the ball over a total of 13 times while the visitors suffered 15 violations.

Laurel girls fall

Laurel's Lady Bears opened up their season on the road Thursday afternoon at Coleridge and for the most part the game was very competitive according to Laurel head coach Mike Zimmerman. But Coleridge went on a spurt in the fourth quarter and stretched an already existing lead into 15 points for a 51-36 final.

"We were only down by seven points with five minutes to go," Zimmerman said. "But Coleridge got a couple of fast breaks and they kept getting the ball to their 6-3 sophomore girl and she hurt us."

Zimmerman is referring to Stephanie Hanson who led all scorers with 19 points. Amy Adkins was Laurel's top scorer with 12 points while Amy Newton added seven.

Heather Thomas was next in line with six points and Sherri McCorkindale and Sherri Hangman each added four. Rounding out the scoring was Bree Bebee with three points.

"I thought we got into our offenses and sets real well," Zimmerman said. "But we got into trouble with our lack of patience. We didn't execute and follow through on our sets very well."

Coleridge jumped out to a 10-2 lead on Laurel only to have the Lady Bears claw their way back into the lead at 12-11.

In the junior varsity contest which preceded the varsity game, Laurel lost a 30-24 decision to Coleridge despite Brandi Mathiason's eight points and Sherri Hangman's six points.

Emerson student participates in special marketing institute

Wayne State College student Theresa Pallas of Emerson was one of only 30 students from across the nation chosen to participate in the William Howe Direct Marketing Collegiate Institute in Oakbrook, Ill. on Nov. 27 through Dec. 2.

Pallas, a senior-business administration major with a concentration in marketing, competed for the scholarship against student applicants from major universities and other colleges across the country.

Besides providing a basic overview of the direct marketing field, students were given the opportunity to work on resumes and they learned how to promote themselves in a competitive job market.

"The institute offered Ms. Pallas and our Wayne State marketing program great exposure to professional marketers," says Dr. Kenneth G. Hallgren, associate professor of business at Wayne State College.

"She will also bring back a host of insights in the direct marketing field that she will share with her peers in direct marketing courses next spring. This type of experience is extremely beneficial to developing here professionally and provides excellent cultural and social exposure beyond Northeast Nebraska."

Ms. Pallas, a 1986 graduate of Emerson-Hubbard High School, plans to pursue a career in marketing or a related field following graduation next spring.

She is currently president of the Wayne State College marketing club, and she has been on the Dean's List for six consecutive semesters.

The institute was conducted by the Direct Marketing Educational Foundation and sponsored by The Metromail Corporation.
