Food boxes prepared for needy

Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency staff workers and volunteers were busy in Wayne Friday morning (Dec. 8) preparing food boxes for the needy throughout the agency's service area.

Close to 245 food boxes, boxed and wrapped at Mineshaft Mall in Wayne, were distributed later on Friday to families throughout northeast Nebraska.

Among those at the Mineshaft Mall, preparing the food boxes for distribution Friday, were Peggy Montgomery from the Goldenrod Hills Knox County office with volunteers Roger, Brandon and Tim Montgomery; Tricia Young, Norfolk, Madison County office; Susana Torres, Dakota County office; Linda O'Donnell, Wayne, Cedar and Dixon Counties office; Denna Petersen, volunteer; Michelle Waterman, Goldenrod Hills Homeless Director; Alvina Wilson, Burt, Cumming and Stanton Counties office; Gene Dunklau, Thurston County office; Mike French and Merlin Lewon, Goldenrod Hills Weatherization offices in Walthill and Wisner.

ASSISTING IN the wrapping of the boxes were members of the Pleasant Valley 4-H Club of Wayne County (Holly Sebade, Rhonda Sebade, Robyn Sebade, Christopher Sebade, Chad Sebade, Yolanda Sievers, Martha Sievers, Monica Sievers, Sonya Sievers, volunteer Kristy Oberle, Tammy Sievers, Tina Sievers, Janet Sievers, Larry Sievers and Terry Sievers.

Wayne Middle School eighth graders also participated in the food basket distribution. Assisting were Tanya Prokop, Christina Schmitz, Sarah Hampton, Kim Endicott, Megan McLean, Twila Schindler, Amy Jenkins, Kris Summerfield, Terri Test, Kathy Guiliam, Susan Webber, Mandy Walsh, Stacie Frank, Jill O'Leary and Tina Lutt.

Area businesses that contributed to the food boxes included Pac 'N' Save and Bill's GW, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, all of Wayne; and Gary's Food Town and Laurel IGA, both of Laurel. Other businesses in Ponca, Randolph, Hartington and Coleridge contributed to the food boxes.

Hackenmiller resigns from Herald post

Chuck Hackenmiller has announced his resignation as managing editor of The Wayne Herald.

Hackenmiller, who came to the Wayne Herald in May, 1984, will become publisher and manager of a weekly newspaper publication in northeastern Iowa. His wife, Mary Ann, will assist in the business operation.

Hackenmiller first worked at the Wayne Herald as sports editor. Later that year he took over as the Wayne Herald managing editor.

"I've always had my sights on owning and operating my own newspaper. Conditions seem right at this time for my family and I to venture into this ambition of mine," Hackenmiller said.

"Wayne is a good community, a growing community. And for the most part, I've found the people who reside in this community as cooperative and generous in helping present the news and photographs — to the extent of helping us continue the tradition of The Wayne Herald being an award-winning newspaper," he added. "It's been a pleasure working with the Wayne Herald staff over the past years. They are a talented group of individuals and they are good friends," he said.

"The community we will be going to, which I cannot announce until all the paperwork is completed, is a smaller community, but a proud city that is very supportive of the newspaper. We are anxious to continue the tradition of operating a fine newspaper in that particular community," Hackenmiller said. Previously Hackenmiller has worked at newspapers in Stacyville, Iowa and Dyersville, Iowa.

Mary Ann worked as director of Medical Records at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Norfolk and Providence Medical Center of Wayne. The Hackenmillers have two children: Ryan, who is a first grade student at St. Mary's School in Wayne; and Lauren, age five months.

The Hackenmillers plan on taking over operations of the Iowa publication on Feb. 1, 1990.

Taylor's make the holidays brighter

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing Editor

The Taylors of Allen are more than happy to brighten up the Christmas holiday for people who enjoy taking in the holiday sights.

Take a drive to the Taylor two-story home at 701 South Clark Street in Allen and see what lengths they have gone to light up the eyes of curious spectators who tour their holiday display.

Janice is a custodian at Allen Consolidated School and Dale operates the road maintainer for Dixon County. She said they began work on their home lighting display in October "when it was warm."

"Each year we add a few more lights. We'll be adding more to the display next year," Janice said.

LAST YEAR most of the Taylors' house and garage were decorated in lights. This year they extended their decorations to a "tree" (strings of lights attached to a flag pole and shaped like a Christmas tree); chaser lights along the Taylor lane; a Nativity scene; a display of Santa and reindeer pulling a sleigh and more.

"There are 25 strings of lights

List of holiday winners grows

Thirty-two people were winners in the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce 1989 Holiday Magic drawing that took place Thursday, Dec. 7.

Individuals can double their Christmas shopping dollars by purchasing items at participating businesses in the Holiday Magic event.

This is the third of the $500 Holiday Magic drawings. The next drawing is slated for Thursday, Dec. 14. The final Holiday Magic $500 drawing is scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 21. The next day (Dec. 22) will be the grand finale cash drawing when seven prizes of $100 cash will be awarded.

All registrations throughout the Holiday magic season will be entered in the grand finale contest.

THE TAYLOR LIGHT DISPLAY in Allen has drawn lots of onlookers. This is what they will see — from Hwy. 9 looking in.

on the house alone," Janet said. Approximately six strings of chaser lights are attached to the fence entering the Taylor lane. There are about 17 strings of lights attached to the "tree" attached to the Taylor flag pole. And the garage features approximately 10 strings of lights.

All in all there are over 2,000 lights on display at the Taylor home.

JANICE SAID the electrical cost for the home holiday decorating has been reasonable. "It hasn't been too much of a change from our regular billings."

"We plan on a few more things to put in the yard next year — like maybe some choir people or a snowman," Janet said. All of the wooden displays are made by the Taylors in their woodworking shop.

The Taylors have also placed a "donation box" along their lane. Money collected will be donated to the 1991 Allen Centennial Fund.

Janet said they enjoy putting up the lights almost as much as viewing them.

"We love Christmas. It's just a great time of the year," she said.

Kids under stress

Which one of the two situations that follow do you think would cause your child more stress: facing an operation or having to give a report in class?

Most parents would be inclined to pick the "operation" answer — and most parents are wrong.

An ongoing University of Colorado study, being conducted with 2,000 kindergartners through ninth-graders by educational psychologist Kaoru Yamamoto, PhD, is revealing that children aren't worrying about major catastrophes like the end of the world or nuclear war.

When lying awake at night, kids are more likely to be anxious about getting a bad grade on a test or having the teacher yell at them in front of the class.

Their main fears center around losing a parent or going blind. But, next on their list, children worry most about being held back a grade, wetting in class, being suspected of lying or stealing and being sent to the principal's office.

Far down on the list are events that parents might have guessed were more threatening: having an operation or adjusting to a new baby in the house.

BEFORE PARENTS can help their children overcome these private anxieties, they have to get a clearer understanding of what really troubles children.

Antoinette Saunders, PhD, a psychologist, author and director of the Stress Education Center for Children and Their Families in Evanston, Ill., has spent years hearing from children themselves on what scares them the most. Here's what she's found:

Kid's big worries

Preschoolers — Toilet training (and accidents); starting school; separating from their parents; sharing and cooperating; being disciplined; not being understood when they speak.

Elementary years (6 to 11-year-olds) — Pressure to perform academically and conform to rules; being excluded; not being listened to; being teased or embarrassed; getting angry or jealous; teachers getting angry; getting a bad report card; not having the right kind of clothing and school gear.

Adolescence (11 to 13-year-olds) — Body changes; peer pressure to do drugs; pressure to have sex; feeling self-conscious.

THERE ARE SIMPLE steps parents can take with children that go a long way toward easing their stress. Here's what the experts advise:

Let children solve problems on their own. Saunders teaches kids a five-step problem-solving process that works in any situation: Relax, understand the problem, outline the options, rate the possible outcomes, choose the best solution.

Set aside time each day to really listen to your child's problems. And, pay attention to praise.

Saunders claims that most Type A children come from families in which praise is given for primarily for children's performances, and criticism is delivered as often as praise.

"If kids perceive they're going to be appreciated only when they're performing at a high level, then they're going to struggle to achieve at that level," she said. "We need to make it clear that their worth isn't founded on their achievements — it's founded on who they are as people."

Ann Hansen bride of Jeremy Doty

Blue and white roses and baby's breath decorated the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Macy on Dec. 3 for the marriage of Ann Hansen, daughter of Stan and Margaret Hansen of Wayne, and Jeremy Doty, son of Cecil and Winifred Doty of Turin, Iowa.

Officiating at the 4 o'clock, double ring service was Marvin Christianson of Sioux City.

Guests were registered by Lynn Lackas of Belden and ushered into the church by Steve Hansen of Wayne, brother of the bride, and Jacob Hopkins of Sloan, Iowa.

HONOR ATTENDANTS were Kay Thomsen of Pender, sister of the bride, and Kevin Hansen of Erie, Colo., brother of the bride. Bridesmaid was Vickie Meyer of Lincoln and groomsmen was Jason Hopkins of Sloan, Iowa.

Wedding music included "There is Love," "Wind Beneath My Wings" and "For You," sung by Mary Beeks of Sioux City. Organist was Pearl Anderson of Tekamah.

Flower girl was Alexandria Hansen of Erie, Colo. and ring bearer was Joshua Brown of Castana, Iowa.

THE BRIDE WAS given in marriage by her parents and appeared in a white gown of silk organza and lace with a full train. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and pearl trimmed collar. She wore a fingertip veil and carried blue and white roses.

Her attendants wore navy blue and white silk dresses in street length. Each carried a single blue rose with baby's breath and ribbons.

The men in the wedding party were attired in navy blue and white suits.

The bride's mother wore a blue jersey dress and the bridegroom's mother selected a blue knit.

A RECEPTION followed at the church. Serving punch were Doug Olson and Kiela Echtenkamp of Wayne.

The newlyweds will make their home in Onawa, Iowa where both are employed.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and the bridegroom is a 1989 graduate of Onawa, Iowa High School.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

A noon cooperative dinner, the first in a series of dinners that precede the meetings of Presbyterian Women, was served Wednesday. Mrs. Tillie Jones was coffee chairman. There were 15 present.

Mrs. Milton Owens, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Etta Fisher reported on the last meeting and Mrs. Erwin Morris read the treasurer's report. Roll call was "my favorite Christmas song."

Get well cards were signed for Keith Owens, Mrs. Clarence Hoeman and Mrs. Fern Williams and a sympathy card for Mrs. Lloyd Morris and family.

The society will give a Christmas gift for a resident of the Wayne Care Centre.

Mrs. Esther Batten had the lesson "Bethlehem in Bible Time and Bethlehem Today." The group sang "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," accompanied by Mrs. Tillie Jones.

A Christmas gift exchange was held.

The next meeting will follow a noon dinner on Wednesday, Dec. 20 when Mrs. Erwin Morris will be in charge of a Christmas lesson and Mrs. Milton Owens will be coffee chairman.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Fifteen were present when the Senior Citizens met Monday at the fire hall for cards. Prizes went to Mrs. Lloyd Morris and Mrs. Perry Johnson. Mrs. Ron Sebade, LPN, took blood pressure readings.

A "thinking of you" card was signed for Mrs. Mamie Jensen, who is a resident of the Wayne Care Centre. The birthday song was sung for Mrs. Don Frink. A cooperative lunch was served.

Marie Bring will host the afternoon of cards today (Monday).

CHRISTMAS PARTIES

Seventeen were present Dec. 3 when employees of the Other Office in Carroll had cocktails at the Richard Hitchcock home in Carroll and then went to the Wagon Wheel in Laurel for supper, a Christmas party and gift exchange.

The Farmers State Bank of Carroll hosted a noon dinner for 60 senior bank customers on Thursday.

The event was held at the Other Office in Carroll.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

The Town and Country Extension Club members and their husbands had a cooperative supper, Christmas party and gift exchange at the Dean Owens home on Dec. 2. Card prizes went to Lowell Olson, Julie Claybaugh, Mrs. Merlin Kenny and Mrs. Loren Stoltenberg.

The January meeting will be Jan. 13 at the Merlin Kenny home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tietz, Brent and Lyndi moved Dec. 1 to their home that they recently had moved to town from a farm near Winside.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jenkins and Jeremy and Marie Bring, all of Carroll, returned home Nov. 26 after spending since Nov. 22 in Arizona. The Jenkins family visited their daughter, Tami Jenkins at Phoenix and Marie spent the time at the Glen Fromeke home at Chandler, Ariz. The women are cousins. They all had Thanksgiving dinner at the Leon Bring home in Chino Valley. Leon is a brother of Marie and Mrs. Jenkins.

YOUR NEWSPAPER: UP CLOSE & PERSONAL

Warren Rose is one of the newer faces employed at The Wayne Herald and Marketer. He is the company's commercial printing manager. Warren grew up in the Ainsworth area and worked at the Ainsworth newspaper, starting as a janitor and working his way up to darkroom work, and then becoming the commercial printing manager there. He also worked a short time in the Affiliated Foods print shop. "I wanted to get back into commercial printing again and this was the first opportunity that was open to me," Warren said. He began his employment at the Herald in October, 1989. His responsibilities include pricing jobs, ordering stock, and printing all kinds of jobs such as NCR, letterheads and other projects. "Knowing all the different phases that it takes just to get it to the press is very interesting in itself, but seeing the finished product next to the original idea is very rewarding," Warren said. Warren's wife, Shelly, is the seasonal manager at Gibson's Discount Center in Norfolk.

Wakefield moves to 3-0 with big victory

Wakefield jumped out to a large lead in the first quarter at home against Wausa Friday night and never looked back en-route to a 48 point victory to push the Trojan record to a perfect 3-0 on the season. The final score stood at 92-44.

Paul Eaton's troops had 12 different scorers in a contest in which everyone saw plenty of playing time. Wausa has one senior on its roster and they start a majority of freshman and sophomores.

"We know we have a long way to go yet before we're where we want to be," Eaton said. "But I'm pleased at the progress so far." The Trojans held a 40-19 lead at intermission and stretched the lead to 70-27 at the end of the third quarter. The fourth quarter saw Wakefield score 32 points with the majority of the damage coming from the players who normally don't get an ample amount of playing time in other wise close-games.

Paul Eaton said his squad has concentrated so far on the young season on defense. Wausa was Wakefield's third straight opponent not to break the 50 point barrier in as many outings.

"I'd say right now that our highlight is having a starting five that knowingly has the ability to find the open man on offense," Eaton said. "We still have a ways to go but we're improving with each outing."

Tony Krusemark led the scoring parade with 25 points. Three other Trojans were in double figures including Andy McQuistan with 14, Mark Johnson and Anthony Brown with 10 each.

Matt Tappe and Matt Krusemark each netted seven points while Doug Stanton poured in six. Shawn Meyer netted four points while Keith Wenstrand had three. Rod Greve and Marcus Tappe rounded out the scoring attack with two points each.

The Trojans led the rebounding category by a 33-21 margin led by Andy McQuistan's 10 rebounds. Tony Krusemark had six caroms to go with his 25 points while Matt Tappe and Mark Johnson hauled down five and four rebounds respectively. Paul Eaton mentioned the ability for his squad to find the open man and that's exactly what they did all night against Wausa with Matt Tappe dishing out seven assists and Mark Johnson notching six assists. Chris Loofe was accountable for five assists.

Wakefield caused Wausa to turn the ball over 30 times while the Trojans were less careless with ball, suffering just 14 turnovers. Wakefield's weakest point on the night was free throw shooting where they were less than impressive 13-23 while Wausa connected on only four of 13 attempts.

Wakefield will travel to Hartington on Friday night for a girl-boy double header.

Head girls coach Ellie Studer only had four girls score in Wakefield's 50-34 loss to Wausa in a varsity contest preceding the boys game on Friday night. Lisa Blecke had 12 points while Kristen Miller managed 10. Lisa Anderson and Cathi Larson had seven and five points respectively for the 1-2

Trojans. Wakefield trailed the Vikings from Wausa by 16 points at half time and the Lady Trojans had just seven points at the intermission. Wakefield's junior varsity team won big over Wausa, 66-14 in three quarters. Larry Johnson led the way with 14 points.

Laurel defeats rival Randolph

The Laurel boys basketball team is off and running this season and they advanced to 3-0 Friday night with a big win for head coach Mark Hrabik at rival Randolph in convincing fashion, 78-52.

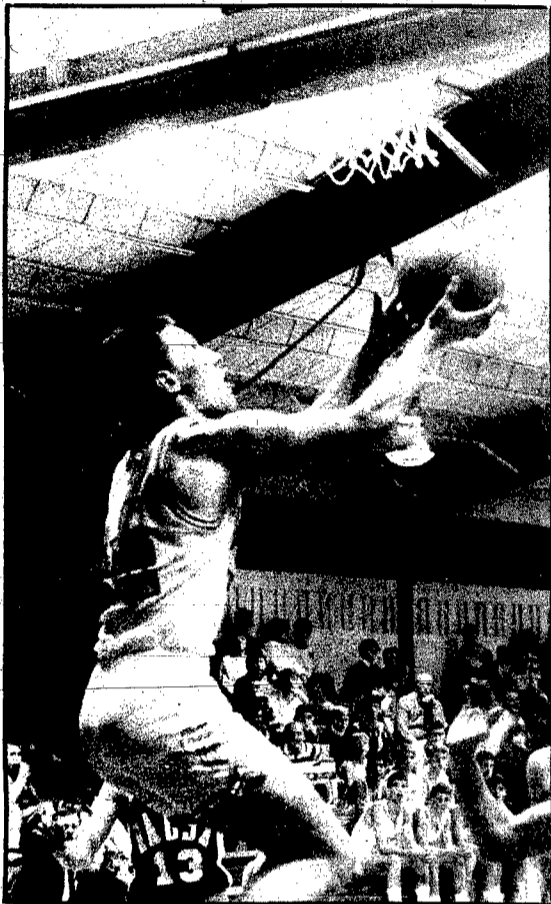

The Bears jumped out to a quick 10-2 lead but had to wait until the second quarter and on before they could get comfortable because Randolph fought back to only trail by two at the end of the first quarter at 14-12. Laurel out scored the host team by nine points in the second quarter to take a 37-26 lead into intermission and from then on it was all Laurel as they out manded Randolph in the second half to the tune of 41-26 to notch the 26 point victory.

Randolph got a lesson in three point shooting from the red hot senior guard from Laurel in Todd Erwin. Erwin blistered the Cardinals for four three point field goals in the third quarter alone and finished with six of the bonus shots which allowed him to score 24 points to lead all scorers.

"Todd had an excellent game," Hrabik said. "He not only carried the scoring load but had five assists, three steals and one blocked shot to go with it." Troy Twohig shot his way out of an early season slump with 16 points and six rebounds while John Schutte was the third Bear in double figures with 12 points and he led the Bears in rebounding with 13 caroms to his credit.

Matt Jonas poured in seven for the victorious Bears while Chad VanCleave and Shawn Arens each managed six points and Matt Felber netted five. Scott Heydon rounded out the attack with two points.

Laurel held a commanding 39-25 advantage in the rebounding department led by Schutte's, 13. Matt Jonas and Matt Felber each notched three assists to go along with Erwin's five.

WAKEFIELD'S ANDY McQuistan tries to tip in a backwards alley-oop from teammate Matt Tappe during Wakefield's route of Wausa Friday night in Wakefield. The Trojans are off to a fast 3-0 start on the 1989-90 season. Tony Krusemark led the Trojans with 25 points against Wausa.

LISA BLECKE puts in two of her team high 12 points during Wakefield's loss to Wausa Friday night in Wakefield.

Wayne girls lose to Bravettes

The Wayne girls basketball team traveled to Battle Creek Thursday night to play the traditionally tough Bravettes. At intermission Wayne was within four points of Battle Creek at 22-18, but after that it was all Battle Creek as they posted a 59-35 victory while outscoring Wayne 37-17 in the second half.

The story line of this game was turnovers as Marlene Uhing's young squad suffered 34 of them. "We had our share of turnover troubles," Uhing said. "Surprisingly though we had 18 turnovers at half and we only trailed by four."

Uhing said her team had a three part game plan before the contest began which consisted of allowing Battle Creek just one shot on offense, taking care of the ball and getting back on defense and not allowing Battle Creek to get a lot of easy shots in their transition game.

"We didn't do a good job of pinning out on the weak side," Uhing said. "And of course we turned the ball over more than we wanted to. But I thought we played good defense in the first half."

Uhing noted that in the second half Battle Creek got a lot of points off their fast break as Wayne was simply wearing down with their lack of depth and youth.

"We feel that we have to press and not allow teams to set the ball up on offense," Uhing said. "But in doing so we expend a lot of energy and some of the girls we can't afford to take out get tired."

Heidi Reeg was the top scorer for Wayne with 18 points. Liz Reeg followed with six and Amy Tiedtke added four. Battle Creek held Wayne's top scorer in Teresa Ellis to just two points. Stephanie Kloster also had two points and Jennifer Hammer had three.

Wayne was out rebounded by three at 37-34 despite Heidi Reeg's 14 rebounds. Teresa Ellis could not find the scoring range but she managed eight rebounds and she dished out six assists.

The Blue Devils were 9-14 from the free throw line while Battle Creek was a perfect 5-5. "One point I would like to add," Uhing said, "is that Heidi Reeg scored 18 points and she had to earn every one of them because she was going against some big girls."

The Blue Devil junior varsity team was also downed by Battle Creek, 45-27. Kim Kruse led the way with eight points while Tammy Geiger had six. Susan Enz was the top rebounder with six and Kim Kruse hauled down five cars.

Wayne will be at home for the next couple games as they host West Point on Thursday and then host Wisner-Pilger in a girl-boy double header on Friday.

Winside grapplers win at West Point CC

The Winside grapplers were in action Thursday in West Point as they participated in a double dual with Pender and West Point Central Catholic. Paul Sok's Wildcats defeated West Point Central Catholic by a 47-27 margin but they ended up in a tie with Pender at 33 each.

Chris Mann at 103 lbs., only wrestled once because he received a forfeit from Pender. Against Chad Schinstock of WPCC however, Mann was pinned in the first round. Chad Carlson pinned Central Catholic's Shane Reif in 3:19 and received a forfeit in the Pender dual.

Winside did not field a 119 lb. wrestler but at 125 lbs., Doug Heinemann decided Terry Wordekemper of Central Catholic, 11-2. Heinemann lost for the first time this season in the Pender dual against Eric Obermeyer in a close match, 6-5.

Jason Magwire wrestled twice at 130 on the day but failed to win as he was pinned by Central Catholic's Clay-Throener in 1:44 and decided 2-1 by Pender's Henry Blair.

Defending Class D state champion Max Kant has yet to wrestle a full match this season as he advanced his record to 5-0 with two more pins. He pinned Central Catholic's Kevin Burns in 1:43 and pinned Pender's Todd Sokol in 1:10. Jason Bargstadt fell on hard times in the 140 lb. category, as he was pinned by Central Catholic's Ron Wordekemper in 3:44 and pinned by Pender's Joe Kant.

Shane Frahm escaped with two victories with a 40 second pin over Central Catholic's Jerry Wordekemper and a 6-5 decision over Pender's Tony Miller in the 145 lb. category. Jeff Gallop lost twice on the day with a 7-1 loss to Randy Throener of Central Catholic and a pin from Ryan Beckmann of Pender.

Kerry Jaeger won his only match on the day as he received a forfeit and won by pin in 3:53 over Ron Hermelbracht of Pender at 160 lbs. Mark Stueckrath won by forfeit at 171 lbs. and lost in a decision to Clint Hilker of Pender. Jason Krueger also received a forfeit for Winside at 189 lbs. from Central Catholic but Cole Hilker of Pender decided him 9-4.

Brian Thompson pinned John Gustafson of Central Catholic in 1:43 and he pinned Chad Sokol of Pender in 1:16.

Wildcats defeat Newcastle

One thing Winside coach Paul Giesselmann found out Thursday night in Newcastle is when you don't turn the ball over good things are bound to happen. Winside suffered 32 turnovers in its last contest against Laurel, just two days earlier, but the Wildcats responded with only 10 turnovers in Newcastle, thus enabling them to escape the visitors gym with a 54-44 victory and a 2-1 record.

"It was nice to get back on the winning track," Giesselmann said. "We knew we had to take care of the ball if we wanted to win and I think the girls did a nice job doing just that."

Winside led the whole way building a 14-8 lead after the first quarter and stretching the six point advantage to 10 by intermission at 35-25. Both teams scored 19 second half points.

The Wildcats got good balance in the scoring column as eight girls scored led by Wendy Rabe's 13 points and Tina Hartmann's 13. Jenny Jacobsen was next with eight while Doree Brogren and Shawn Janke had six each. Jenni Topp added four for the victorious Wildcats while Holly Holdorf and April Thies rounded out the attack with two and one point respectively.

"I was very pleased with the way April Thies, Shawn Janke and Doree Brogren came off the bench in the second quarter and played when we got into foul trouble," Giessel-mann said. "It was a total team effort."

Winside was out rebounded by a 59-51 margin but that didn't concern Giesselmann to much considering most of the rebounds were defensive. Wendy Rabe and Jenny Jacobsen led the rebounding charge with nine each while Doree Brogren hauled down eight cars. "The one area I was not to happy with was our free throw shooting," Giesselmann said. "We hit only 10-34. We led the whole way but we just couldn't put them away because of missed free throws."

Winside missed seven front ends of one-and-ones in the fourth quarter alone. "Overall though, I'd have to say I was pleased with our performance," Giesselmann said. Winside will travel to play Coleridge this Tuesday.

Jan Bartholomaus

Bartholomaus joins Herald

Jan Bartholomaus of Wayne is the new advertising sales representative for The Wayne Herald and Marketer. She replaces Jane Dorcay.

In addition to her duties for the twice-weekly Herald, Jan also will serve as local ad sales representative for the Northeast Nebraska Rocket, a regional advertising supplement distributed twice-a-month in 12 area publications.

Bartholomaus is no stranger to the Wayne business community. She has lived in Wayne for 10 years and has worked at PoPo's II and Super Foods.

Her husband, Arnie, is a self-employed floor mechanic laying carpet, tile and linoleum. Bartholomaus has four children: Kevin of Hornick, Iowa; Kelly of West Redding, Conn.; Paris, a freshman at Wayne State College; and Joey, an eighth grader at Wayne Middle School. They also have two grandchildren: Anthony and Ryan of Hornick, Iowa.

For Your Information

Question: 1. A regional economic development office will soon be in operation at WSC. What initial results will Wayne and surrounding areas receive from this development?

Answer:

A. 1. Proposed in Gov. Kay Orr's rural development initiative and approved by the 1989 legislature, the Field Service program of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development (DED) is designed to provide a link between Nebraska's rural communities, the Department of Economic Development and the services of state government.

The program will make it possible for DED to structure services to best meet the needs and challenges of the people and communities in the region. To achieve that goal, the state has been divided into four field service regions with offices in Wayne, Beatrice, Kearney and North Platte.

Each of the offices is staffed with a field service representative who is the regional contact responsible for coordination with area communities. The representatives are generalists by nature charged with being aware of available assistance programs and carrying them out. We are especially pleased to have a qualified northeast-Nebraskan to staff our Wayne office.

Connie Justis will represent the Department at the Wayne office and will be in continual contact with local leaders providing information about available resources and assisting with the delivery of DED programs. She will also coordinate activities with other organizations or agencies who can provide assistance.

Justis will have an active role in northeast Nebraska's economic development. Answering questions about where to start, who to contact, what's involved and how to overcome obstacles, Connie will facilitate programs in community development, business development, tourism promotion and business retention.

Our experienced staff members and development programs are important, but the real key to success of the program lies in local leadership utilizing the resources available. The location of a field service office in Wayne will make it easier for you to access your state economic development resources.

DED welcomes the opportunity to work more closely with northeast Nebraska in meeting your needs through the field service program.

Warm reception

On behalf of all the dancers and staff of Tulsa Ballet Theatre, thank you for inviting us to perform "The Nutcracker" in Wayne.

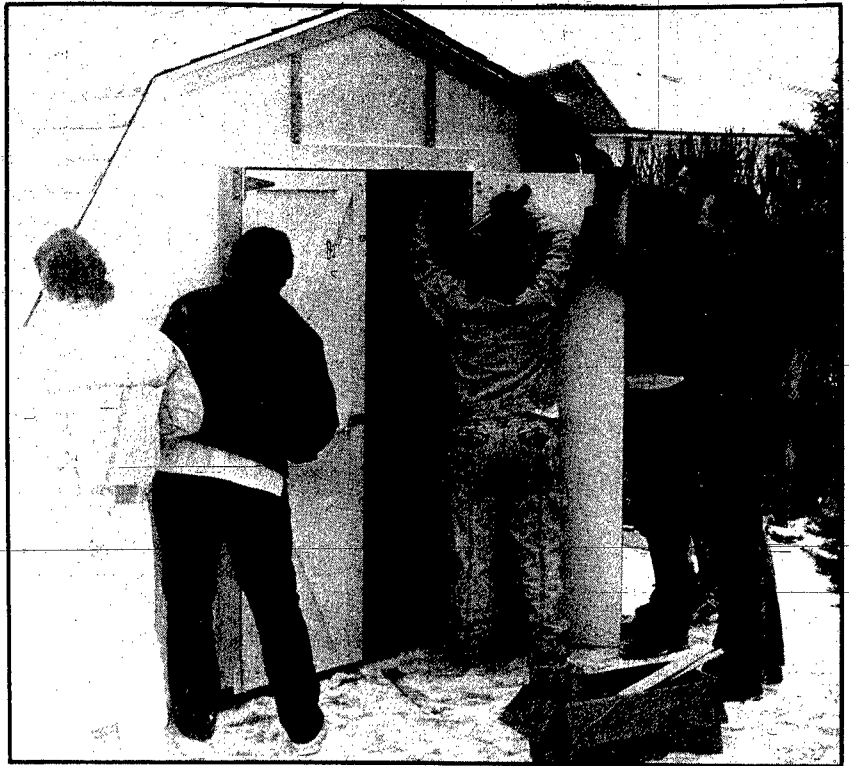

The warm reception we received from the audience made us feel very welcome.

We are grateful for all the hard work and long volunteer hours that went on behind-the-scenes to make the performance a success. This dedication to the arts is a wonderful contribution to the quality of life in Wayne.

We hope you invite us to dance for you again in the future.

Connie Cronley,
General Manager
Tulsa Ballet Theatre

Finishing touches

Exon asks for assistance from HHS

U.S. Senator Jim Exon (D-NEBR) has asked the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) for assistance in locating doctors for rural areas and smaller communities in Nebraska. Exon is a member of the Senate Rural Health Caucus.

"In recent months Nebraska has lost the services of several fine physicians. Recently, the only physician in the town of Oxford announced his resignation. This is the second resignation this year for Oxford. Earlier this year, the only physician in Burwell resigned, thus closing the hospital there as well. Mullen has been without a physician for several years. We need, immediate help in replacing these physicians. Any assistance you can provide through the National Health Service Corps would be appreciated," Exon said in a letter to James Mason, Assistant Secretary for Health at HHS.

Nebraska's senior ranking senator asked if the National Health Service Corps could assist these Nebraska towns in locating or attracting doctors to their communities.

"We must find ways to attract doctors to rural areas so that people are not forced to travel hours for medical treatment," Exon said.

EXON SAID the losses of doctors in rural areas is due in part to the "unfairly low Medicare reimbursement rates." Exon said many of the efforts of Congress to improve health care in rural areas have been "stymied by federal rules and regulations that do not take into account the needs and differences of practicing in rural areas.

Exon noted that under the Budget Reconciliation Bill approved just before Congress adjourned rural hospitals will begin receiving higher Medicare reimbursement payments. The legislation also directs the Department of Health and Human Services to eliminate within five years the different payment schedules now used to reimburse rural and urban hospitals. Rural hospitals have typically received lower reimbursement payments than urban hospitals for providing the same service.

Exon said the legislation also revised the physician medicare reimbursement payment system to make it more in line with actual costs of physician treatment.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

Fifteen individuals attended the Dec. 4 Winside centennial committee meeting with co-chairman Veryl Jackson and Daisy Janke presiding.

The secretary and treasurer reports were given. Don Westerhaus will be chairman for the brothers of the brush beard contest. He will explain the contest rules at a January kickoff soup supper and fund raiser. All Winside men are encouraged to participate.

Other items discussed included the pageant, entertainment, dances, grand parade and a cleanup committee. Parts of Piller's centennial video were viewed after the meeting.

The committee will dispense with a regular monthly meeting date as meetings will become more frequent and times vary. The next meeting will be after the January soup supper and brothers of the brush kickoff.

BEAR CUB SCOUTS

Seven Bear Cub Scouts met Tuesday with leader Joni Jaeger. A guest, Tom Welstead, office manager from the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, spoke to the boys on wildlife habitat. The boys also showed him posters they had made and told about them.

Two week daily diary sheets were turned in. The next meeting will be tomorrow (Tuesday) after school. They should bring their tool box materials. Zeke Brummels and Steven Rabe will bring treats.

DRAWING HELD

The Senior Youth Group of Trinity Lutheran Church hosted an after church Advent potluck dinner Dec. 3 with about 35 attending. During the dinner they drew for two turkeys and two hams. Winning turkeys were Randy Jacobsen and Betty Smith and the hams went to Irene Meyer and Tammy Thompson.

CHURCH CENTENNIAL

Approximately 200 individuals were served at the Dec. 3 St. Paul's Lutheran Church centennial soup and pie supper. St. Paul's Church will be celebrating its 100th birthday July 14 and 15, 1990. Centennial memorabilia of pictured Christmas cards, a glass bell and glass toothpick holder, two different plates and book markers were sold during the event with the committee raising approximately $600.

AMERICAN LEGION

Fifteen members of the Roy Reed American Legion met Tuesday at the Legion Hall. Commander Dean Mann presided. The secretary and treasurer reports were given.

Feb. 21 was set for their annual Veterans pancake feed in Norfolk. There will be a stag in January. Members are still working on grants for building a new legion hall. The next meeting will be Jan. 2 at 8 p.m.

CADETTES

Members of the Cadette Girl Scouts met Monday at the fire hall. They discussed a "Scouts Own" and their Dec. 10 Christmas party when they will meet after church, go to Pengers for lunch, then a movie and return to Winside for a gift exchange. Gifts should range from $2.50 to $4.

Kathie Bock served treats. The next meeting will be today (Monday) at the fire hall. Shawna Holtgrew will bring treats.

Shawna Holtgrew, news reporter.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Twenty-three senior citizens attended a noon potluck dinner at the Winside Legion Hall on Monday. Cards were played afterwards. The next meeting will be today (Monday) at the Legion at 2 p.m. All senior citizens are welcome to attend.

WEBELO CUB SCOUTS

Susan Fuoss led the Wednesday Webelo Cub Scouts with four boys present. They had a lesson on their handy man and family member badges. Names were drawn for a Christmas gift exchange, with a limit of $1.50. Brian Fuoss served treats.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 13 after school. Bryan Deck will bring treats.

TOPS

Members of TOPS NE #589 met Wednesday for weigh-in. Suggestions on sticking to your diet were discussed. The "prize in a square" contest is still in effect. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 13 with Marian Iversen at 6:30 p.m. For more information call 286-4425.

The Byron Berg family of Englewood, Colo. were house guests for several days over Thanksgiving of Mrs. Ella Berg of Winside. A noon dinner was held Thanksgiving day at the home of LeRoy and Eileen Damme. Guests included Mrs. Ella Berg and Irene Damme of Winside, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Berg, Tara and Jenna of Englewood, Colo. joining them on Friday for a visit in the Damme home were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Prauner and grandsons Dane and Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Prauner and Carrie and Mr. and Mrs. David Plugge, Mishelle and Kelly, all of Madison.

Winside students encouraged to read

A NEW READING PROGRAM HAS BEEN initiated at Winside Public School for students in grades seven through 12. The program is designed to encourage students to read more, to read as a life-long activity, to practice reading, and to take time to read. Pictured are several students taking part in the program while in Kathy Hladky's Spanish I class. Once a week, students, teachers and staff members spend 15 minutes reading a book of their choice. A spokesman for the school said it appears the program is working as library circulation is up, students are asking if its time to read, and most students remember their books for reading time. The program was initiated by several high school teachers.

4-H News

DOG CREEK

Dog Creek 4-H Club met for a Christmas bowling party on Dec. 1 at Melodee Lanes in Wayne. Attending were all six members and their families.

John Magnuson and Jesse Rethwisch were the 4-H members with the highest scores. Ryan Dunklau had the low score.

Following bowling, the group went to the Dairy Queen for refreshments.

The next club meeting will be Jan. 5 in the home of Ryan Allemann. Ryan Dunklau, news reporter.

Obituaries

Polly Merryfield

Mrs. Darryl R. (Polly A.) Merryfield, 44, of 981 Christiana Street in Green Bay, Wis., died Friday, Dec. 8, 1989 at her home.
