Collection of Coca-Cola items fills office of the Granfield home

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

Monty Granfield has a thirst for Coca-Cola.

So much is his thirst that he collects whatever he can of Coca-Cola items — and his collection is not just cans and bottles.

For instance he has ice picks, a music box, an umbrella. In his office area there are advertisement signs — some large and some small — that he collected from auction sales or grocery stores. There are outdoor thermometers and Coca-Cola pencils to write down the temperatures. And Granfield, age 35, has hats from Coca-Cola and clothes such as t-shirts to match.

His collection extends to games as well. There are Coca-Cola marbles, playing cards, dominos and other games. And he has a Coca-Cola Kid video.

A 5000-piece puzzle is mounted on the Granfield office wall. "It took about a week to put that together," he said.

Granfield said that when he watches movies on television, he's always trying to locate any type of Coke product.

HE HAS Coke cigarette lighters and Coke vending machines. He has miniature Coke trucks. "I have anything and everything that you could think of," said Granfield, who farms a few miles south of Sholes.

He began collecting Coca-Cola items while a child. "My dad's uncle worked for Coke until he reached retirement," Granfield said. His father's uncle collected Coke items too, he added.

"I received some Coke items when he retired," mentioned Granfield. "I've been working on my collection for a number of years, collecting odds and ends as the years go by."

Granfield, who drinks nothing but Coke products, is a member of the Coca-Cola Collectors International. With the membership he receives a monthly magazine that advertises Coke products or profiles Coke collectors.

Most of the Coke items he obtains through sales or from relatives who "look out for him."

He has a history book that details how Coke came onto the market. He said it was first sold in 1885 as the "Ideal Nerves and Tonic Stimulant." Caffeine and extract from the Kola nut were later added to the ingredients.

"It was sold as a syrup product for a long time," said Granfield.

GRANFIELD said his wife, Linda, is just as involved as he in gathering items for his expanding collection. Linda is employed as bookkeeper at The Wayne Herald and Marketer.

His most prized possession, he said, is his Disney Character Coke Collections.

As the collection grows, Granfield is looking for more storage and display space. He looks upon his hobby as an investment.

And his collection is growing fast. "I think that just within the last months, I've obtained at least five or six different items," Granfield said.

News and Notes

By Mary Temme, Extension Agent - Home Ec

Preventing condensation in the home

Even though rain is not usually associated with winter in Nebraska, the Christmas season is often a wet time of year inside the house.

During the heating months, warm indoor air holds more moisture than cold outdoor air. This creates vapor pressure inside, which constantly forces water vapor out through walls and ceilings as it seeks lower moisture levels outside.

When the moisture within walls, attics or crawl spaces becomes abundant, water vapor tends to condense on cold surfaces. Ventilation, vapor barriers and humidity control are a few steps that can be taken to avoid these moisture condensation problems.

FIRST, TAKE CARE of the problem at the source. Bathing, cooking and doing laundry add a large amount of moisture to the air inside your home. Exhaust fans and dehumidifiers can help relieve this excess moisture.

Once the moisture content in the house has been controlled, condensation can be avoided by raising the surface temperature of walls and windows. Properly designed heating systems not only improve comfort but also help reduce condensation problems. Heating vents under windows, for example, will warm these surfaces and keep moisture from building up — much like the defroster works on the windshield of a car.

BUT WHAT ABOUT the space within the walls, roofs and ceilings? Peeling exterior paint and stains will often result from condensation within a structure. Inspections may find damp wood or insulation, ice or mold.

The basic cause of this moisture is the same as for surface condensation — warm moist air strikes a cool surface and condensation begins.

One of the best ways to avoid condensation within the structure is through the use of vapor barriers. A vapor barrier is any material that effectively slows the movement of moisture from the inside of a warm home to the cold air outside — polyethylene film or metal foil for example. These barriers should always be placed near the warm side of the wall, ceiling or floor. A vapor barrier that is placed on both the inside and outside of a wall, however, will trap moisture and invite decay.

Because it is impossible to keep all water vapor out, a second line of defense should be established within the structure. Cold-side venting and attic ventilation allows vapor that has entered a space within the walls or roof to escape.

Grace pastors presented quilts

THE REV. JIM PENNINGTON, at right, and the Rev. Jeff Anderson, at left, pastors of Wayne's Grace Lutheran Church, were presented queen size quilts from the Ladies Aid organization during its meeting Dec. 14. Aid members embroidered the blocks which depict 12 Old Testament stories plus four original blocks. The four center blocks include the new logo of Grace Lutheran Church, designed by Karen Nolte; a picture of the new Lutheran Student Center located across the street from the Wayne State College Willow Bowl; a picture of Grace Lutheran Church; and an outline of the State of Nebraska with the state bird and state flower. The new logo designed by Nolte includes a cross, symbolizing the foundation of family faith; a flame, representing the power of the Holy Spirit and His fire within; a triangle, representing God the Father and the Holy Trinity; and a dove in flight, representing the Spirit that lives within each true believer. The logo also includes the phrase "Come Grow With Us In Grace."

'Star of Wonder' program given at St. Paul's WELCA luncheon

St. Paul's Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (WELCA) met Dec. 13 at noon for their annual Christmas luncheon.

Hostesses were members of service group three, chaired by Evelyn McDermott, Anna Mae Wessel and Hazel James.

The program, "Star of Wonder," opened with a reading by Dorothy Aurich. The symbolism of the five points of the star included love, read by Mary Martinson; hope, read by Ruth Baier; peace, read by Joye Magnuson; faith, read by Mary Martinson; and current happenings, read by Irene Hansen.

Several Christmas songs were sung by the group throughout the program, which closed with a reading by Dorothy Aurich, entitled "We Cannot See the Star," and a Christmas prayer by Ruth Baier.

Newly elected officers were installed by the Rev. Leroy Iseminger. The Lord's Prayer was recited and Loretta Baier lit the candles on the advent wreath.

PRESIDENT LORETTA Baier opened the meeting with prayer. Thank you notes were read from Immanuel Hospital and from the families of Harvey Beck, Anton Netherda and Tom Hughes.

Committee, service group, circle, altar guild and sewing group reports were given.

It was decided to give monetary Christmas gifts to the church's four servicemen as well as to the Martin Luther Home and Bethphage. Florence Wagner will be in charge of purchasing gifts for two residents of Wayne Care Centre.

Twelve boxes of clothing and blankets have been prepared for the Santee Indian Reservation.

Seventeen plates of cookies were prepared for shut-in members of the congregation. Volunteers from the group will be delivering them.

PASTOR ISEMINGER volunteered to meet with Bible study leaders to prepare circle lessons again this year.

He also encouraged members to take an envelope from the "love" tree during church service Sunday morning. The envelopes contain the names of shut-in members of the congregation with suggestions as to what can be done for them throughout the year.

The business meeting closed with prayer. The next regular meeting will be Jan. 10 at 2 p.m. with hostesses Hazel James and Lillian Granquist. The program will be given by a representative of Haven House on domestic violence.

THE SEWING GROUP met Nov. 9 at the church. A potluck luncheon was served at noon.

Altar Guild met Dec. 2 for a covered dish Christmas luncheon with husbands as guests. The group will not meet during January. The next meeting will be Feb. 1 with Helga Nedergaard as hostess and Ardyce Reeg as devotional leader.

Esther Circle did not meet in December, however members traveled to Hartington to visit Grace Millie. They will meet again on Jan. 5 with hostess Hazel James and lesson leader Elaine Draghu.

Naomi Circle met Nov. 16 at the church with Neoma Isebrand as hostess and Dorothy Aurich as lesson leader. The next meeting will be Dec. 21 with Ida Myers as hostess and Marilyn Carhart as lesson leader.

Members of Evening Circle are planning a special holiday supper at the church during January. Cleve Willers and Sharon Fleer will serve as hostesses and Lila Splittgerber will be lesson leader.

Wayne dumps rated Wisner

Bob Uhing's Wayne boys basketball team may well be earning the nick name of the "Cardiac Kids," after over coming deficits of as many as 12 points in each of their last two games.

Friday night's contest with Wisner-Pilger, who came into the contest as the fourth rated team in Class C-1, saw the Gators take a 12 point half time lead before Wayne come storming back to capture the win at 45-41.

In fact, Wisner started off hot as Chad Holtzen drilled two 3-pointers in the first few minutes of the game which enabled the Gators to take a 12-2 lead early in the game. Wayne battled back but trailed 18-10 after one quarter of play.

Wayne could not draw any closer than six in the second quarter before succumbing to some late Wisner field goals in the second quarter and trailing 30-18 at the intermission.

The Blue Devils came out focused in the second half and they held Wisner to just 11 total points in the second half—five in the third quarter and six in the fourth quarter. Wayne trailed 35-30 at the third quarter's end but out scored the Gators 15-6 in the final eight minutes.

"The kids really did a nice job in the second half," Wayne head coach Bob Uhing said. "In the first half we just never ran our offense and we played out of control."

There were times in the second half when Uhing felt his squad was executing either. "We had the score tied at 35 and we went three straight trips down the floor without scoring," Uhing said.

Wisner's rating has been largely due to 6-10 senior Mike Kloth who entered the Wayne contest averaging over 26 points a game this season. Wayne held him to just 12, thus giving the Gators their first loss of the season.

Chad Holtz hurt Wayne with 14 points in the first half but the Blue Devils responded much like they did with Scott Peterson of Schuyler in holding him to just two second half points.

Sophomore Kyle Dahl played a key role in Wayne's win with some quality aggressive defense according to Uhing. "Kyle put a lot of pressure on the ball and came up with some clutch steals," Uhing said. Dahl incidentally, came up with the steal and a lay up which tied the score for the Blue Devils. Chad Metzler then hit a 12-foot base line jumper to give Wayne its first lead of the game.

Willy Gross led all Wayne scorers for the fourth consecutive time this season with 15 points. Neil Carnes had nine and Craig Dyer managed to score seven. Craig Sharpe netted six points and Kyle Dahl and Chad Metzler had four each.

"I was real pleased with our team's effort after being down by 12 and coming back to beat the fourth rated team in Class C," Uhing said. "Our kids showed a lot of character in doing that. We seemed to get more aggressive as the game went on."

Uhing was pleased with the way Craig Sharpe played the boards. Wisner missed on all six of their free throw attempts in the fourth quarter. Wayne connected on 7-13 fourth quarter free throws.

Girls defeated Marlene Uhing's Lady Blue Devils came out on the short end of a 48-43 decision to Wisner-Pilger in a game which preceded the boys. "In our first three games I could see improvement in each one," Uhing said. "In the game against Wisner, I didn't think we improved." Uhing felt her squad lacked concentration and did not execute very well on offense. "We played well at times," Uhing said. "But we need to work harder on rebounding and on our shooting percentage from the field. We shot just 27 percent from the floor."

The biggest difference in the game though was Wisner's experience versus Wayne's inexperience. "Wisner has a nice team," Uhing said. "They pass the ball well and they executed well."

Teresa Ellis led Wayne with 14 points while Heidi Reeg had 13. Erin Pick, Amy Tiedtke and Stephanie Kloster all had four points while Jennifer Hammer had three and Susie Ensz, one.

Wayne suffered 23 turnovers and was out rebounded by a slim 30-29 margin.

Trojans blast Hartington

The Wakefield boys ran their record to a perfect 4-0 with a convincing 85-45 thrashing of Hartington on Friday night. Paul Eaton's troops jumped out to a 24-13 lead after the first quarter and increased that margin to 30 by halftime as Wakefield held a commanding 51-21 advantage.

"I thought our kids played a very good first half," Eaton said. "I thought we did our best job of the year so far in our rebounding." Tony Krusemark led the Trojans for the second consecutive game with 23 points. Andy McQuistan was also in fine form as the senior post netted 16 points. Anthony Brown scored 10 points in a winning effort while Matt Tappe netted nine and Mark Johnson, six.

Chris Loofe, Doug Stanton, Rod Grove and Marcus Tappe all had four points each and Matt Clark and Sean Meyer each managed two points as 11 of 12 varsity players scored.

Wakefield held a commanding advantage in the rebounding department as well, 33-17. Both Tony Krusemark and Andy McQuistan led the team with eight carsons apiece while Matt Tappe hauled down six rebounds and Mark Johnson had five.

Wakefield also took very good care of the basketball, suffering just 10 turnovers on the night while the host team committed 19 turnovers. One of the Trojan highlights came from the free throw line where they connected on 17 of 20 and Eaton said the three misses were by non starters.

Wakefield will host Osmond in a Tuesday night contest and Eaton said he would like to see the stands full for that game. "It's been a long time since the stands have been really full," Eaton said.

Laurel improves to 5-0 with victory

For the first time in well over a decade the Laurel Bears are off to a 5-0 start and a number six rating in the Omaha World Herald. Friday night, Mark Hrabik's Bears hosted Plainview and the host team got off to a quick start and literally blew Plainview away, 80-63.

"The final score was the closest the game actually was after the first quarter," Hrabik said. "We had a 51-15 lead in the third quarter before we seemed to have a let down."

Laurel sprinted to a 22-9 lead after one quarter of play and stretched the lead to 26 by intermission at 41-15. Then in the third quarter the Bears scored the first 10 points before substituting freely.

"Everyone got into the act," Hrabik said. "The kids did a nice job of filling the void left by Troy Twohig who is out right now with a bad back." Perhaps the most disappointing stat in the game for Hrabik was the Bears lack luster performance at the foul line where they hit just 14 of 32 attempts.

"I was a little disappointed in our free throw shooting and in our let down in the third quarter," Hrabik said. "I'm happy to get the when but I got a little concerned with the way Plainview was hitting the boards." Laurel was out rebounded in the game by a 41-32 margin.

John Schutte played for the first time since injuring an ankle two games ago and the senior big man had a marvelous game which included 24 points and 13 rebounds. Todd Erwin popped for 17 points while Matt Jonas poured in 14. Shawn Arens was the fourth Bear in double figures with 12.

Chad VanCleave scored five points for the victorious Bears and Matt Felber scored four. Jon Pehrson and Dean Heydon rounded out the attack with two points each.

Shawn Arens off set John Schutte's 13 rebounds with seven of his own. Todd Erwin dished out nine assists to lead the Bears in that category. "John Schutte played a great game," Hrabik said. "I was also pleased with the play of Shawn Arens who stepped in for Troy Twohig and had 12 points and seven rebounds."

Tom Luxford's junior varsity team also recorded a win to push their record to 3-1 on the year. The Bears downed Plainview by a 49-40 margin. Laurel will have a break until the Randolph Holiday Tournament on December 28.

Wayne's Neil Carnes looks to score two of his nine points during the fourth quarter of Wayne's victory over fourth rated Wisner-Pilger on Friday night.

HEIDI REEG finds the going tough as she attempts a shot against the Gators of Wisner on Friday night. Wayne lost by five.

Wayne girls fall to West Point

The Wayne girls basketball team fell to 0-3 on the season Thursday night after suffering a five point loss to West Point in Wayne, 53-48. Head coach Marlene Uhing felt her team progressed during the contest despite the loss.

"I thought we improved during this game," Uhing said. "Our goal is to keep playing hard and we think by the end of the season we'll be a much improved team."

Wayne trailed by one point at the end of the first quarter at 12-11 but the second quarter proved to be the Blue Devils Achilles heel as they were out scored by an 18-7 margin to trail by 12 at intermission at 30-18.

"The last three minutes of the second quarter we allowed West Point to go on a six or eight point run," Uhing said. "That really hurt us because we out scored them 30-23 in the second half."

Jennifer Hammer led the Blue Devils with 16 points while Heidi Reeg and Liz Reeg were also in double figures with 13 and 10 points respectively. Teresa Ellis experienced some pressure defense every time she touched the ball but managed to score seven points. Amy Tiedtke rounded out the Wayne scoring attack with two points.

Heidi Reeg had a remarkable night in the rebounding category as she garnered 18 rebounds to lead everyone. Jennifer Hammer hauled down six. Teresa Ellis dished out six assists. Wayne out rebounded West Point by one, 31-30, but another crucial area that hurt Wayne was turnovers where they suffered 25 compared to 17 for West Point.

"Overall I was pleased with the aggressiveness of Liz Reeg and the play of Jennifer Hammer," Uhing said. "I also thought Teresa Ellis did a nice job considering she was being chased all over the floor." Uhing was also pleased with the play of Heidi Reeg. "Heidi did a real nice job of rebounding," Uhing said. "We can't rely on her to get that many rebounds for us every game though. We need for the other girls to attack the boards like she does."

Wayne's junior varsity was defeated by a 32-13 margin. Tammy Geiger led Wayne with seven points. The freshman played just two quarters and Wayne lost 24-4. Kim Kruse and Angie Thompson scored two points each for Wayne.

Allen coach notches first victory

Allen girls coach Lori Koester got her first win as a head coach Thursday night but it came in enemy territory as her Eagles defeated Newcastle in Newcastle by a large margin, 55-32.

"The win really felt good," Koester said. "It's what this team really needed to regain some lost confidence and to just overall boost the morale." The Eagles jumped out to a 12-5 lead after one quarter of play and virtually never looked back as they held the host team to just two second quarter points.

Allen out scored Newcastle in every quarter while notching their first victory in four outings this season. Three Allen players were in double figures with Steph Carlson leading the way with 14 points while Cindy Chase and freshman Heather Sachau finished with 13 and 10 points respectively.

Jenny Lee and Denise Boyle

each poured in six and Robin Schroeder netted four in a winning effort. Alyssa McGrath rounded out the scoring with two points. Allen held a convincing edge on the boards with Steph Carlson leading the Eagles with nine rebounds. Denise Boyle and Jenny Lee each hauled down seven rebounds and Cindy Chase had six caroms to her credit.

Koester still feels her squad has to cut down on the turnovers even though they had considerably less than their last outing. Allen's junior varsity team escaped Newcastle with a 30-23 victory as two freshman led the way. Shawna Hohenstein was the leading scorer with 10 points. Hillary Blair managed eight points but hauled down an impressive 13 rebounds. Heidi Lund poured in seven for the victorious Eagles.

Allen will host Homer in a Tuesday night contest which precedes the boys game.

Coleridge sweeps Winside

Both the Winside boys and girls basketball teams traveled to Coleridge Friday night with boys in search of their first win of the season and the girls, which were hoping to improve their mark to 4-1 on the young season.

Things didn't go the Wildcats way however, as Coleridge recorded the sweep with a 50-31 girls victory over Paul Giesselmann's Wildcats and Randy Geier's boys team suffered a 73-48 set back.

The Winside girls just simply ran out of people according to Paul Giesselmann. "When we got into foul trouble we were suffered," Giesselmann said. "Wendy Rabe played well when she was in the game but she fouled out within minutes after the fourth quarter began."

Rabe, Winside's tallest player at 6-0, got into early foul trouble in the first quarter and was forced to ride the bench for a while. Meanwhile, in pre game warm-ups Shawn Janke twister her ankle. Giesselmann still played her but she was not 100 percent.

"I can't take anything away from Coleridge," Giesselmann said. "They have a real fine basketball team. We just got into foul trouble and we couldn't catch up from an early deficit."

Winside was out scored 15-6 in the first quarter and trailed 29-12 at the intermission before Giesselmann's troops made an attempt at a come back in the third quarter. "We cut the gap to nine by the third quarter's end," Giesselmann said. "Then we lost Wendy Rabe and we never overcame it."

Jenny Jacobsen was Winside's top scorer and also Winside's only player in double figures with 10 points. Tina Hartmann and Jenny Topp each managed six points while Rabe scored five and Holly Holdorf, four. Winside was out rebounded by a 52-44 margin. Jenny Jacobsen led the team in rebounds as well with 13 caroms to her credit while Jenni Topp hauled down eight and Wendy Rabe, five.

"It was a relatively well played game in the sense of turnovers," Giesselmann said. "We only had 13 and they only had 15." Another of Winside's achilles heels on the night though was free throw shooting. The Wildcats connected on just one of 10 free throw attempts while Coleridge hit 18 of 29.

"We went into the game and found the areas we need to work on," Giesselmann said. "It's still early in the season so we have a lot of time over come some our deficiencies. It's not that we played that bad either, it's just a matter of getting into foul trouble and missing so many free throws, especially five front ends of one-and-ones."

The boys team from Winside is still searching for their first victory of the season after Coleridge defeated them 73-48. "It was kind of a ragged game," coach Randy Geier said. "We got killed on the offensive rebounds which gave them numerous second and third shots."

Winside trailed 40-23 at the end of the second quarter and trailed by 27 with one quarter remaining. Randy Prince led the Wildcats with 21 points while Cory Jensen managed nine. John Hancock poured in eight including the Wildcats first 3-pointer of the season and James Painter tallied four. Tad Behmer and Matt Brogren netted two each.

Coleridge out rebounded Winside, 45-31 including 22 offensive rebounds. The Wildcats suffered 22 turnovers compared to nine for Coleridge. Winside will host Wynot in a girl-boy double header on Tuesday.

What it takes for businesses to survive

More than 9,200 people who operate small town businesses have discovered what it takes to make their businesses survive by participating in a program called Managing Main Street Business.

Larry Swain, associate program director, said survival in communities with populations less than 1,000 has become a reality for many of the 700 businesses involved in the program.

Managing Main Street Business is in its third year. It is a joint effort by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Cooperative Extension, the UNL Department of Agricultural Economics and the Nebraska Business Development Center at the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Swain said five elements are necessary for a business to survive in a small community. Those elements are: a positive attitude, willingness to change, willingness to learn, desire to network and the ability to communicate with financial institutions.

BY HAVING a positive attitude, he said, business people believe they can compete with other businesses. "Too often a business fails because people say, 'woe is us,'" Swain said. "Businesses that survive say, 'there is a way.'"

A willingness to change means that business people aren't afraid to consolidate or diversify, he said.

"Small town businesses must be prepared to go from one extreme to another," the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said. "That may even mean shutting the business down, which can be considered a success."

Business people can express a willingness to learn by participating in the programs such as the Main Street Business Program, Swain said.

People also should network with businesses in their towns, other communities and other parts of the state, he said.

"Working together, giving each other advice, jointly ordering of goods, can lead to community development which is a big benefit," Swain said.

SWAIN SAID THAT one of the biggest mistakes small business owners make is how they deal with financial institutions and lenders. People should always go in with a plan and be able to communicate their ideas.

"Bankers are not unreasonable people," Swain said. "But they expect business people to have the proper attitude. That means the business person should have a cash flow statement, goals in mind and returns outlined when he/she goes into a financial institution."
