First two finalists picked in Wayne Great Giveaway

The first two of 16 finalists eligible to win the grand prize in the fourth annual Great Wayne Giveaway were drawn Tuesday at Hardee's of Wayne.

Selected from the pile of entries were lone Roebér of Wayne, who registered at Bill's GW; and Ruth Kerstine of Carroll who dropped off her registration coupon at ERA Property Exchange.

Drawing the two names was Lisa Dolph of Fairbury, presently a student at Wayne State College.

Fourteen slots remain open for the grand prize drawings of $400 and $250 in Great Wayne Giveaway Bucks. The next drawing for two more names will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 23 at Hardee's.

THE SECOND installment of ads and coupons for 1990's Wayne Great Giveaway IV are found on the inside of today's Herald and Marketer. Each week a new drawing will take place.

Only original coupons in the Thursday ads of participating merchants will be considered for the weekly drawings. No copies of the coupons will be allowed. Also, clip out only the coupon inside the ad and drop them in the registration boxes.

Registration slips for a particular business must be entered at that business only. Deadline for registering will be 10 a.m. each Tuesday.

The contest and advertisements run for seven more weeks, ending on March 1. When all sixteen finalists have been selected, they will be brought together for the grand prize drawings to take place on Thursday, March 8 at The Wayne Herald.

THOSE businesses participating in the Wayne Great Giveaway include: Pac 'N' Save, Fredrickson Oil and Convenience Store, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, Hardee's, ERA Property Exchange, Bill's GW, Ellingson Motors, Rain Tree Drive-in Liquor, Clarkson Service, Midwest Land, Griess Rexall, Trio Travel, Jones Intercable, Logan Valley Implement, First National Bank of Wayne and The Wayne Herald and Marketer.

Fun in the sun

TEMPERATURES SOARED INTO the upper 50's this past weekend, giving everyone in the area a dose of spring fever much sooner than expected. It's not often one can wear shorts on a January day. These lads decided to take advantage of the warm weather by playing basketball at the Wayne Middle School.

Farm accidents termed lowest in years

The unofficial figure of 16 farm-related accident fatalities in Nebraska in 1989 is the lowest annual toll in my 30 years as a farm safety specialist," said University of Nebraska staff member Rollin D. Schnieder.

Schnieder, who also serves as secretary of the Nebraska Farm

Safety Council, said a final tabulation will not be available until March; however, he said it is doubtful that the number of fatalities will reach the 21 posted in 1987 or the 23 incurred in 1982.

The average age of those killed in farm-related mishaps last year was 45.9 years, slightly lower than the last couple of years, Schnieder said. The age range was from seven to 83 years, he said. "Five of the 16 persons killed were in the 30 to 40 age range, which is contrary to the trend of past years" when the fewest deaths occurred in this age range," Schnieder noted.

Six deaths resulted from tractor overturns, three from animals, including two beef animals and one death from a horse falling on the rider.

Two electrocution victims were in their low thirties, agewise, Schnieder said, which approximated the trend of past years.

Crist named managing editor of Wayne Herald

Mark Crist has been hired with the Wayne Herald as the new managing editor, replacing Chuck Hackenmiller.

Crist comes to the Herald from the Goodland Daily News, Goodland, Kansas where he performed duties as a sports editor/general assignment reporter. He is a 1989 graduate of the University of Denver and a 1984 graduate of Scottsbluff High School in Scottsbluff, Nebr. but Crist notes that he is pleased to be joining the Herald staff as well as the Wayne community.

"It's a pleasure for me to be coming to Wayne because of what it has to offer," he said. "I see a vast amount of potential for the Herald and am looking forward to working with the community it serves."

Mark Crist

CRIST, 25, is married but has no children. He said, "we have two dogs, that's enough for now."

His wife, Rhonda, is presently still in Goodland, Kan. where she has been working as a secretary. She is a 1988 graduate of Chadron State College and she is looking forward to joining her husband soon.

"Much of Rhonda's family is from the northeast Nebraska area," Crist said. "She's really looking forward to coming up here."

Some of Crist's interests include spending time with his wife as well as taking part in a variety of hobbies he enjoys. He said he enjoys reading as much as possible, especially other newspapers because he likes to stay informed about what's going on in the world. He also enjoys a wide myriad of hobbies which stem from building plastic World War II models to playing war games to watching TV. He also is an avid Denver Bronco fan as well as a close follower of the Nebraska Cornhusker football team.

"What can I say?" he said. "The Broncos are in the Super Bowl and the Huskers are one of the nation's top teams. I guess you could say I'm a football nut."

On Martin Luther King's birthday

South Africa apartheid policies scrutinized

By Chuck Hackenmiller
Managing editor

"Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."

That quote was on the program "Human Rights Teachings of Martin Luther King, Jr." which was presented Monday, Jan. 15 by the Wayne State College Division of Humanities. The program was funded by a grant from the Nebraska Humanities Council.

It was Wayne State's fifth annual program honoring the assassinated Martin Luther King, Jr.

Providing the main address was Dr. Robert Hitchcock, professor of anthropology at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. His topic was "Dr. King's Human Rights Teachings: Apartheid and Social Justice."

"I'm pleased to be here at Wayne State on such an important day. January 15 is the only holiday we have to honor a black American. That is extremely significant," Hitchcock told the audience.

THE SPECIAL day, he said, should be a day of reflection and a day of commitment to social and economic justice. King, he said, mentioned about the triple evils of the world: racial injustice, poverty and war.

"These problems are more acute now than they were at the time of his death," Hitchcock said.

Racial intolerance continues, he said, as indicated by bombings in the south in judicial districts. "The Martin Luther King Center of Non-Violence Social Changes even has to have protection," he said.

"The gains made during the 60's and 70's has been impeded during the last decade," he said.

He pointed out that there continues to be major wars in the world — at least 17 in 1989 — where in a majority of the cases many civilians have been killed. The poverty picture has worsened, especially in Africa where one of three children go to bed hungry.

Human Rights activists continue to be tortured, he said.

An example of this is in South Africa where privileges are given to the white minority (comprising just 14 percent of the population) and rights are being denied to the black majority which is about 75 percent of the census, Hitchcock mentioned.

HE COMPARED the civil rights movement in the 60's and 70's similar to the struggles for civil rights in South Africa. "They want freedom and justice — the same privileges that the white people have."

South Africa, he said, has established 312 racial laws from 1940 to 1980, and only a few have been repealed. The country is one of the richest and most developed in the world.

"But it [South Africa] also has the most pronounced disparity between the rich and the poor. The birth-death rate for whites is 13 per 1,000 births. For blacks it is 90 to 200 per 1,000 births. Approximately $1,115 per student is spent for educating the white population. Only $170 per student is spent for the black population," he mentioned.

He said two percent of the white population exists in poverty; 84 percent of blacks live in the poverty category. "Eighty-seven percent of the land is owned by whites while the remaining 13 percent belongs to blacks. Still, even if sanctions from other countries against South Africa would tend to create even greater poverty — the black population would prefer sanctions to the problems of continued oppression."

"Apartheid laws have not been repealed. Past laws continue," said Hitchcock. "They still have a long way to go."

Hitchcock encouraged the Wayne State audience to keep Martin Luther King's philosophies alive. "We can make a difference. We can make a better world," he said.

"The dream has its danger. But courage will shine through in all of this," he added.

HE SAID Americans can help the cause through support of anti-apartheid legislation, by pressing organizations for disinvestment, by expanding support of the black South African effort, and by assisting in grass root developing of organizations to "see that education and awareness expands."

"Work toward organizing individual human rights organizations. Now is the time to open the door to all," Hitchcock said. "Work together for freedom and quality, for brotherhood and sisterhood."

Others who spoke during the Martin Luther King program were Sayre Andersen, Tyrone Wrice and Jo Taylor who provided readings from King's works.

"Dr. King, if he were alive today, would be happy to see the changes in Eastern Europe. He would also be concerned today about the injustice in South Africa and in certain South American countries," said Taylor.

KING's philosophies were addressed by Dr. Hitchcock.

Winside grapplers win invite and double dual

The Winside wrestling team is gradually tuning up for their district showing which will be in Howells this year on Feb. 10. During Saturday's Battle Creek Invitational the Wildcat grapplers made a statement to three of Winside's future opponent's in district action as they captured the tournament with 175 1/2 points compared to 168 by runner-up Norfolk's junior varsity team.

West Point Central Catholic grabbed third place with 147 points and Battle Creek and Stanton finished in the fourth and fifth spots with 84 and 54 points. Logan View, Oakland-Craig, Howells and Scribner-Snyder rounded out the field in order of finish.

Winside coach Paul Sok decided just to take 10 kids to the Battle Creek meet and he sent five kids to the Pender 9th and 10th grade meet. Nine of Winside's 10 wrestlers at Battle Creek medaled with five individual champions and three runner-up places.

Chad Carlson won his 112 lb. category as he beat the number four rated wrestler in the state in the finals. Max Kant continued his torrid pace to return to the state finals with three quick pins and another individual championship. Kant has yet to lose on the season and is 19-0.

Doug Heinemann at 125 lbs., brought home a gold medal as he won by forfeit in the finals over Pete Katzdorn of Norfolk's junior varsity team. Jason Krueger at 171 lbs., took top honors in the meet. Krueger earned a pin in the finals over Brian Choutka of Battle Creek.

Shane Frahm at 140 lbs., was Winside's fifth individual champion as he pinned Roger Pojar of Stanton in the finals. Jason Bargstadt, 145 lbs., Jeff Gallop at 152 lbs., and Brian Thompson at heavy weight all earned runner-up medals. Kerry Jaeger at 160 lbs., captured third place honors.

"We didn't wrestle to bad," Sok said. "We have to continue lifting weights and continue striving to stay sharp. We have to concentrate on our take downs a little more."

Sok said unofficially that it was the first time that Winside had ever won the Battle Creek Invitational.

"All in all it was a very good day," Sok said. "Four out of our five wrestlers who went to Pender also medaled so we had 13 of 15 wrestlers on the day medal."

Jason Magwire and Mark Johnson escaped Pender as champions of their weight class while Jason Topp earned a runner-up medal and Mark Stueckrath placed third. Chris Mann also took part but did not place. Trevor Topp meanwhile, took part in the Battle Creek meet and did not place.

Cats win duals

On Tuesday night in Winside, the Wildcats defeated Plainview by a 57-18 margin and they virtually man handled Osmond to the tune of 60-12. Plainview also had a mis match with Osmond, winning by a 60-6 margin.

Chris Mann was 1-1 on the night at 103 lbs., while Winside was open at 112. Chad Carlson was 2-0 with a pin and a technical fall to his credit. At 125 Winside was again open while at 130 lbs., Doug Heinemann received a forfeit and Jason Magwire recorded a pin.

Max Kant received two forfeits at 135 lbs., and Shane Frahm received a forfeit and he recorded a pin. Jason Bargstadt received a forfeit and he notched a pin in the 145 lb. category while Jeff Gallop received two forfeits at 152 lbs.

Kerry Jaeger recorded a pin and a forfeit at 160 while Jason Krueger notched a pin and received a forfeit at 171 lbs. Trevor Topp won by pin and by decision at 189 lbs., while Brian Thompson recorded a pin and was pinned in his two matches.

JASON BARGSTADT tries to get position against his Plainview counterpart. Bargstadt later pinned his man as Winside easily out distanced both foes.

WINSIDE GRAPPLER Chad Carlson seems to have things well in hand during his match against a Plainview wrestler in double dual action in Winside Tuesday night.

BRIAN THOMPSON tries to get an Osmond wrestler to his back during heavy weight action of Winside's double dual with Osmond and Plainview. Winside won both duals.

Allen girls defeated

Lori Koester's Allen Lady Eagles fell to 1-8 on the season Tuesday night with a 41-37 set back in Wynot. It was a very low scoring first quarter as Wynot held a slim 4-2 lead. Allen drew the score to within one at halftime, 16-15. The Eagles however, were out scored 18-10 in the third quarter and could never over come the nine point advantage Wynot had after three quarters of play.

"We got out rebounded pretty bad," Koester said. "Wynot had a 6-0 girl named Lynn Hans and she is a real nice player and she scored 20 points for them. Their size really made a difference."

Cindy Chase led the Eagles in scoring with 15 points while Heather Sachau netted seven. Robin Schroeder accounted for five and Stephanie Carlson netted four as did Denise Boyle. Alyssa McGrath rounded out the attack with two points.

Allen only recorded 16 rebounds while Wynot accounted for 28. Allen was led by Denise Boyle with five caroms. "I thought we protected the ball better than we have been," Koester said. "Robin Schroeder really did a nice job of handling the ball."

Koester also noted that Carla Stapleton came off the bench and really played a good ball game as well. "Cindy Chase played well again," Koester said. "She has consistently played well all season."

TREVOR TOPP was 2-0 on the double dual evening earning one pin and one eight point decision.

VITAMINS AND MINERAL OIL

Mineral oil is used to prevent constipation and is available in at least one popular nonprescription product in combination with milk of magnesia. But mineral oil may interfere with absorption of fat-soluble vitamins such as A, D, E, and K. Study results are conflicting. In one study, taking mineral oil twice daily for more than two months was associated with reduced-vitamin-blood levels. However, in another study in which children had been given mineral oil for as long as six years, there was no demonstrated reduction in vitamin blood levels. It is possible that long-term use of mineral oil could result in vitamin deficiencies or the need to take supplements. Persons with chronic constipation should consider a psyllium-type laxative rather than mineral oil.

Wayne loses to Seward

The Jekyll and Hyde performance of the weekend had to go to the Wayne Blue Devils boys basketball team. On Friday night head coach Bob Uhing witnessed his squad score 81 points in dismantling a good Stanton basketball team. The following night in Seward that same Blue Devil team mustered just 41 points and fell to the Blue Jays, 43-41.

"We are just a mentally soft basketball team right now," a disappointed Uhing said following the loss which dropped Wayne's record to 7-5. "We are unable to play intense basketball for more than one game in a row. We have the talent to beat everyone else on our schedule, but we have to wait and see if we have the mental toughness to do it."

Uhing said that there were several times during the Seward game where there were individuals who were not playing defense and were not finding the open man on the offense. "The kids have to make a total commitment to excellence in games and practices if we are going to be successful the rest of the way," Uhing said.

Wayne trailed 18-10 after the first quarter of play but the Blue Devils fought back to make it a one point game at the break, trailing 28-27. Wayne scored just 14 second half points on offense even though their defense did a solid job of holding Seward to 15 points.

Wayne, trailing by two with just a few seconds left had a couple of opportunities to score but the shots drew iron. Neil Carnes led a trio of Blue Devils in double figures with 13 points while Craig Dyer managed 12 and Willy Gross, 10. Jeff Griesch managed to score five points and Craig Sharpe was held to just one point which was a combination of not getting him the ball and a stubborn Blue Jay defense.

Wayne out rebounded Seward 21-20 led by Carnes and Craig Dyer with six each. Craig Sharpe hauled down five rebounds and Jeff Griesch managed four caroms from his point guard position.

Wayne had 13 turnovers in the contest and the Blue Devils connected on just 11 of 20 free throw attempts while Seward hit 5 of 8 from the charity stripe.

In the junior varsity contest prior to the varsity game, Wayne lost its second contest of the year by a 49-41 margin to a much bigger Seward team. "The kids competed hard," head reserve boys coach Ron Carnes said. "It was a loosely called game and we were getting beat up inside because they were a bigger team."

The 7-2 Blue Devil reserves were led by Brian Lentz and Kyle Dahl with eight points each while Jim Murphy and his twin brother John Murphy were twins in scoring with seven each. Regg Carnes and Jason Johs had six each and Aaron Wilson rounded out the scoring with four.

Both Wayne squads will travel to Hartington Friday night for a show down with Cedar Catholic which is rated fourth in Class C-1.

WSC's hard luck continues

Steve Aggers' Wayne State Wildcats were beaten soundly Monday night in Maryville, Mo. as North West Missouri State jumped out to a 44-18 half time lead and never looked back en route to an 83-49 victory which dropped Wayne State's record to 5-12.

"We are just not a good basketball team at this point," Aggers said. "And Northwest Missouri State is a very good basketball team, especially on their home court." The Bearcats improved to 9-3 with the win and it was the second win over Wayne State this season.

"They have a very good defensive team," Aggers said. "They are extremely quick and they just took us out of our game plan. They stopped everything we tried except Marques Wilson."

Wilson incidentally, led Wayne State with 27 of the Wildcats 49 total points. Steve Dunbar managed eight points and Eric Priebe tossed in six. Mike Kurmik was held to four points both Byron Young and Doug Kuzsak managed two points each.

The Wildcats tied the host team in rebounds at 39 each with Marques Wilson hauling down 11 caroms to lead the Wildcats.

The Wildcats had traveled to play Mount Marty last Friday night and the Wildcats fell 61-53. "Mount Marty basically ran a four guard offense against us and they spread us and their quickness enabled them to get a lot of penetration and easy shots," Aggers said. "Plus they had a point guard who had a terrific game. They just controlled the game's tempo."

Doug Kuzsak led Wayne State with 17 points while Marques Wilson had 16. Both Wilson and Eric Priebe led Wayne State with 11 rebounds apiece. Wayne State narrowly out rebounded the host team by a 46-45 margin.

Women lose two

Mike Barry's team continues to struggle this season as they fell to Doane in a game held in Crete last week, 88-60 and then the Wildcats hosted Fort Hays State and played what Barry quoted was the best overall game of the season against a very good opponent. Wayne State however, lost 78-70 to the Lady Tigers.

At Doane the Wildcats trailed 49-23 at the intermission but in the second half Barry's troops made a run and had cut decisively into the 26 point half time lead of Doane. The Tigers however, made another run and thus the final indicated the 28 point win.

Doane was the first NIAA women's team in the country to reach 20 wins and currently the Tigers are the 10th rated team in the nation. Amy Wattier had her best scoring game as a Wildcat this year as she poured in 16 points to lead the Wildcats in scoring. Lisa Schwab netted 15 and Mary Schnitzler scored 10 for the Wayne State.

In Saturday's home loss to Fort Hays State, Wayne State trailed 35-33 at intermission. "It was a real good game all the way," Barry said. "I believe overall it was our best performance of the year. Fort Hays is 10-4 and they are the top rated team in a very tough district in Kansas."

Lisa Schwab and Mary Schnitzler led the Wildcats with 15 points apiece while Lori Rath managed 10. Cindy Savage and Amy Wattier hauled down seven rebounds apiece to lead Wayne State to a 45-43 advantage on the boards.

"Fort Hays shot 47 percent from the floor and we shot just 40 percent from the floor," Barry said. "That was important because they took just one more shot for the game than we did." Barry said that Fort Hays' Annette Wiles, who stands 6-3, scored 26 points and virtually did what she wanted to because of her size.

Incidentally, the Wildcats and coach Mike Barry will no longer have the services of one of their leading scorers in Mary Holmes. "Mary decided that it would be best for her if she transferred back to her home town in Cedar Rapids and attend Mount Mercy College," Barry said.

Wayne State will play at Mount Marty on Thursday night before returning home for a game with rival Kearney State which precedes the mens game with the Lopers on Saturday night. The women are scheduled to begin play at 5:30 p.m. in Saturday's contest.

Laurel blasts Hartington

A lot of people played a key role in Laurel's 72-38 victory Tuesday night over Hartington.

"We played a lot of people. I was concerned about our intensity by playing a lot of people. But we had above average intensity," said Head Coach Mark Hrabik.

Laurel's record was upped to 9-2 with the win over Hartington. The Bears held Hartington to just four points in the first quarter in cruising to a 35-16 halftime lead. The Bears outscored Hartington 17-12 in the third quarter to take an even more commanding lead and scored 20 to Hartington's 10 points in the final quarter to ice the victory.

Leading Laurel's offensive charge was John Schutte. He poured in 20 points and finished the game with seven rebounds. Also contributing to the win in double figures was Troy Twohig with 16 points; Todd Erwin with 14 points; and Matt Felber with 12 points.

Shawn Arens hauled down six rebounds for Laurel while also scoring two points. Erwin led the Bears in the defense department with five steals. He also had six assists in the game.

As a team, the Laurel Bears out rebounded Hartington 31-17. They committed 14 turnovers compared to Hartington's 25.

From the free throw line, Laurel hit on 11 of 17 shots while Hartington was 7 of 11 from the charity stripe.

"We were seeing each other well on the transition, which accounted for some easy buckets for us," Hrabik said.

Others seeing playing action and scoring for Laurel was Jonas with six points and Batkhe with two points. Haisch and Van Cleave also played.

This Friday (Jan. 19) the Bears hosts Bloomfield in a varsity girls game-boys game doubleheader. "This is a big conference game for us. We're 5-0 in the conference right now and Neligh is also undefeated," Hrabik said.

Both teams [Laurel and Neligh] will not play each other until Feb. 9.

The first round of the NENAC Conference basketball tournament will take place on Jan. 27 at Pierce. The semi-finals and finals are scheduled at Creighton.

Winside gals lose to Homer

The 6-2 Winside Wildcat girls basketball team traveled to Homer Tuesday night in hopes of raising their record to 7-2. But Homer had other ideas and according to Winside coach Paul Giesselmann, the host team played their best game of the season and it was good enough to beat the Wildcats by the narrow margin of 50-48.

"They hit a shot with five seconds to go," Giesselmann said. "We got the ball up to half court with two seconds left and we called time out to set up a play and we got off a good shot but it just drew iron."

Homer led the Wildcats 16-14 after the first period of play and the host team maintained a four point advantage at the break, 33-29. The second half saw both teams stiffen the defensive belt a little bit as Winside held a 10-6 advantage in the third quarter to knot the game at 39 each.

"We lost the game in the area of rebounding," Giesselmann said. "I was really pleased with the game we played, but in the first half we got out hustled a little bit and gave up to many offensive rebounds."

Homer out rebounded Giesselmann's troops 43-33 with 15 offensive rebounds recorded by Homer. Both teams took relatively good care of the basketball with only 13 turnovers apiece. Jenny Jacobsen led Winside in scoring with 18 points and Jenny Topp was right behind with 15.

Doree Brogren netted five points for the Wildcats while Tina Hartmann added four. Wendy Rabe, Kelly Pichler and April Thies each managed two. "I was really pleased with the play of Jenny Topp and Doree Brogren," Giesselmann said. "I feel that they both played their best games of the year."

Giesselmann noted that his girls were disappointed with the loss but they know they played well. "Kelly Pichler had a real nice game in running the offense," Giesselmann said. "She finished with eight assists."

Puttin' up with Pete

By Kevin Peterson

You ever notice that when someone asks you how your weekend was and you say just fine, they turn to you and say simply, oh that's nice. But if you would have said it was a terrible weekend their attention level heightens to know why.

The same goes for every other day as well. For instance, last week I went with Chuck Hackenmiller, (you all know Chuck, the bearded one that works at the Herald, well at least for a couple more days). Anyway, Chuck and I went to check out a call we had gotten on some animals that were supposedly cut up and thrown into a creek below a bridge.

Well, we reached our destination and we got out of Chuck's car to check out the situation. We really couldn't see anything from the top of the bridge and after taking one look at Chuck I could tell we were both thinking the same thing.

One of us was going to have to climb down the side of that steep embankment to check out this story. GUESS WHO? I began my short journey very cautiously with little baby steps. However, all of a sudden those short little steps became giant steps as I began slipping and finally I wasn't taking any steps at all but yet I was still going down that embankment, you figure it out.

As I turned to look back up at Hack, I noticed that he was no longer standing either but he was doubled over in laughter. I asked if he was all right but he was unable to answer because he was gasping for air.

At any rate here I was at the bottom of this embankment near the creek, make that in the creek, I didn't realize I was standing on ice until I heard Hack yelling at me to get out of the creek before the ice broke. Sure enough I took one step back and noticed a nice sized crack in the ice right about where I had been standing moments earlier.

Hack threw me down a piece of wire that had a lasso shape on the end and I used that to check out the story on the animals because we had found what looked like a carcass. It turned out to be that of a deer, I could tell because I found some legs.

The only thing is, just when I thought all of my investigative skills were paying off by determining it was a deer because I had found all four legs, another leg surfaced to the top of the creek. Imagine that, I thought, a five legged deer. I then however, found the carcass of another deer but all I ever found was that one leg for the other carcass.

O.K., so now that I had that all figured out it was time to come back up to the top so we could come back to work. That was a little easier said than done as I continued to slip and fall until my shoes, new Christmas jeans, new sweater and newly dry cleaned London Fog coat were full of mud. Boy, I just couldn't wait to get home to show my wife!

Finally, I reached the top, thanks to the inviting hand of Hack. We reached the Herald and I was just hoping that no one would notice. Well that was obviously a pipe dream because I no more than took two steps into the Herald and I heard this, "What the (deleted) happened to you?"

Nothing, I responded as I took off my London Fog and several cakes of mud fell to the floor. Then the assistant editor began gasping for air, much like the way Hack was doing at the scene of my misfortune.

I turned to her to ask why she was crying. She said she wasn't crying but she was laughing so hard tears were coming to her eyes. So then I had to repeat the story for all to hear at the Herald. Funny, my wife wasn't laughing nearly as hard as all my co-workers when I got home.

You see, if everything would have gone as planned I would have come back and perhaps no one would have even asked how it went. And if they did, and I said everything went fine, they would have said, "Oh that's nice", but since everything did not turn out good, everyone wanted to know the details.

Wayne wrestles battle injuries

It was not one of Wayne high's banner wrestling performances Saturday at the Elkhorn Invitational, but John Murtaugh had to make do with what he had as several Wayne wrestlers were unable to participate because of injuries and sickness.

"There are three reasons for our poor showing Saturday which got us fifth place," Murtaugh said. "First, we were wrestling without three kids that normally score a lot of points for us. Second, some of our kids were just getting over the flu and third, we did not wrestle very well. I was especially disappointed with our lack of intensity and at times our lack of mental toughness."

The three kids whom Murtaugh referred to as wrestling without included Eric Cole who missed because of the flu, Mike DeNaeyer who missed because of a sore back, and Matt Bruggeman, who missed because of a bad elbow. At any rate, Bennington captured the Elkhorn Invitational with 180 points followed by Valentine with 141.

Raymond Central finished third with 98 points and the host team Elkhorn finished fourth with 93 1/2 points. Wayne finished fifth with 76 points while Gretna scored 64 and placed sixth. Omaha Cathedral and Wahoo rounded out the field of eight teams in order.

There were a few bright spots for the Blue Devils however, as Jason Ehrhardt captured first place honors in the 189 lb. category and Chris Janke and Greg DeNaeyer notched runner up finishes in their respective weight classes. Jason Ehrhardt pinned the second rated kid at 189 lbs. in Class C in the finals," Murtaugh said. "Meanwhile, Chris Janke lost to the top rated wrestler in his weight class in Class C and Greg DeNaeyer lost to a returning state placer in the finals, 5-3. I felt that all three of these kids plus Brent Gamble wrestled well."

Brent Gamble was Wayne's only third place finisher at 112 lbs., while Randy Johnson placed fourth at 103 lbs., and Jesse Brodersen did likewise in the 152 lb. category.

Wayne's meet with each wrestler:
103—Randy Johnson, (4th) Bye, Lost by Pin; Bye, Lost 6-4 to Jeremy Winter of Elkhorn
112—Brent Gamble (3rd) Won by Pin; Lost 12-4; Won by Pin; Won 9-2 over Ty Lisiecki of Gretna
119—OPEN
125—Trevor Wehrer (DNP) Lost 8-4; Lost 5-4

135—Chris Janke (2nd) Won 7-2; Won by Pin; Lost 15-6 to Steve Castanzo of Bennington
140—Greg DeNaeyer (2nd) Won 11-2; Won 5-0; Lost 5-3 to E.J. Hancock of Wahoo
145—Jason Fink (DNP) Lost 10-0; Lost 4-0
152—Jesse Brodersen (4th) Bye; Lost 7-1; Won 5-3; Lost 10-2 to Mike Kelly of Raymond Central 160—Cory Wieseler (DNP) Bye; Lost 9-3; Lost 10-6
171—Dwayne Junck (DNP) Lost by Pin; Lost 12-0
189—Jason Ehrhardt (1st) Bye; Won by Pin; Won by Pin over Mark Ferdig of Bennington
HWT—OPEN

While the varsity was wrestling in Elkhorn, several Wayne wrestlers went to the Pender 9th and 10th grade tournament. Over 20 schools participated in the tournament but there was no team score kept.

Todd Fredrickson took fourth place in the 103 lb. category after losing his first match, 4-1. Fredrickson then won 5-1 before losing the consolation final 4-1.

Matt Rise captured third place honors in the 112 lb. category after losing his first match 8-0. Rise came back to win by pin and then win 10-0 before winning the consolation finals by a 5-2 margin.

Brian Gamble escaped the Pender tournament with a first place medal. Gamble won 7-3, 7-4 and 6-2 en route to the championship. Ryan Harris did not place in the 171 lb. category. Harris lost 8-0, then won by pin and then lost by pin.

"I was pleased to see that all four wrestlers won at least one match," Murtaugh said. Wayne will host Wisner-Pilger in Parent's Night on Thursday.

Area sites selected

AREA-The State Athletic Committee of the American Legion of Nebraska, meeting January 13 in Kearney, announced the sites for the 1990 post-season American Legion Baseball tournaments.

The State Tournament for Class B's Legion will be in Elkhorn while the State Tournament in Midget play for Class B will be in Auburn. The State Tournament in Class C for Legion play will be held in Wakefield, while the State Tournament for Class C's Midgets will be held in Red Cloud.

All state tournaments will begin on August 3. Class B and C area tournaments will start July 21. Class B will consist of all schools with enrollments between 150-599. Class C will consist of teams whose school has a total enrollment of less than 150. Grades 10-12 will count toward total enrollment.

American Legion Junior Baseball competition in 1990 is open only to players born on or after August 1, 1971. Midget competition in 1990 is open only to players born on or after August 1, 1973.

Both Wayne and Wakefield have been selected as sites for the area tournaments which begin on July 21.

Wildcats earn honor

WAYNE-Wayne State football players Troy Jackson and Bob Sterba have been named honorable mention NAIA all-Americans for their performances during the 1989 season.

Jackson was named as a running back while Sterba earned the honor as a linebacker. They were the only two Wayne State players named in the national listing.

Jackson, a junior fullback from St. Paul, Minn., led the Wildcats in rushing this season. Sterba, a sophomore middle linebacker from Omaha, led the team in tackles. Both previously earned first team all-conference honors for the Wildcats.

Allen Cagers lose fifth straight

The Allen Eagles are amidst a string they don't care for. After winning four of their first five games the Eagles have lost five in a row with the latest two coming in home losses to Bancroft-Rosalie last Friday, 64-46, and to Winnebago on Monday, 72-55.

In both contests however, Allen played without their leading point scorer and rebounder in Todd Hohenstein who was out with a virus. In last Friday's game with Bancroft-Rosalie Allen led 12-11 after the first quarter but the Panthers out scored Gary Troth's Eagles 18-7 in the second quarter to take a 10 point lead at the break.

Allen would never regain the lead even though they trailed by six after three quarters of play. "I thought we played fairly well," Troth said. "We got the lead down to five in the fourth quarter and then we got into a position where we had to start fouling and they just kept hitting free throws."

Shane Dahl and Matt Hingst were the only Allen players in double figures with 13 and 11 points respectively. Jody Martinson and Paul Brentlinger had six each and Jason Oleson managed four. Kent Chase netted three points while Kelly Boswell and Ben Jackson rounded out the attack with two and one point respectively.

"The score was 47-41 with about three minutes to go and we were fouled and Bancroft got a technical foul," Troth said. "We went to the line to shoot four free throws and then we got the ball out of bounds so it was a good opportunity to possibly tie the game. But we hit only one of four free throws and then missed a shot and Bancroft hit a 3-pointer to push the lead back up to eight."

Allen out rebounded Bancroft by a 40-31 margin led by Shane Dahl with 15 caroms to his credit. Allen suffered 23 turnovers compared to 18 for Bancroft.

Against Winnebago Allen trailed by one after the first period of play, 13-12. With 58 seconds to go before half, Allen had the ball and led 30-29 but during the next 58 seconds, Winnebago rattled off six unanswered points to take a five point lead at the break at 35-30.

Allen was out scored by a 37-25 margin in the second half. "When you consider that we again played with out Todd Hohenstein and with out Shane Dahl and Matt Hingst for at least one whole quarter each as they were in foul trouble, I thought we played pretty well," Troth said.

Dahl picked up his fourth foul of the game just 30 seconds into the third quarter and Matt Hingst fouled out just 30 seconds into the fourth quarter. Still Shane Dahl managed to lead Allen in scoring with 18 points. Kent Chase and Matt Hingst each managed eight while Rusty Dickens netted six.

Jody Martinson accounted for five points while Paul Brentlinger and Jason Oleson scored four each. Todd Sullivan rounded out the attack with two points. Allen was out rebounded by three at 38-35. Once again it was Dahl leading Allen with 10 rebounds. Jody Martinson hauled down eight.

Greg Bass led Winnebago with 23 points as he was one of four Winnebago players in double figures. Allen will travel to Walthill for a Friday night contest and will travel to Wausa for a make up game on Saturday.

Wakefield downs Emerson once again

For the second time in less than two weeks the Wakefield boys basketball team played traditionally strong Emerson-Hubbard. The first clash between the Pirates and Trojans was on Jan. 6 in the finals of the Pender Post Season Tournament and it was hardly a clash as Wakefield drilled them by 24 points, 61-37.

Tuesday night in Emerson the score was much closer but once again it was the Trojans emerging victorious, 56-47. "We knew it was going to be a battle going into the game," Wakefield coach Paul Eaton said. "Emerson is always very strong at home."

Wakefield maintained a slim 13-11 lead after the first quarter but the Pirates answered with a 12-10 advantage in the second quarter to tie the game at 23 at the break.

Wakefield came out and grabbed a five point lead after the third quarter and held on to that lead and even increased it by four by the game's end. "I thought we kept our composure throughout the game real well," Eaton said as his Trojans improved to 12-1 on the year. "We drew four offensive fouls in the game and it takes a lot to stand in there and take a charge."

Mark Johnson has one of his finest nights in a Wakefield uniform as the senior accounted for 21 points. "Mark really had a good night for us," Eaton said. "Andy McQuistan was also in double figures with 13 while Tony Krusemark netted eight, Chris Loofe poured in seven points while Matt Krusemark accounted for four. Matt

Tappe rounded out the attack with three points.

The Trojans finished the game with just two more rebounds than their counterparts, 26-24 led by Andy McQuistan with 11. Chris Loofe led Wakefield with five assists.

Wakefield will host undefeated and seventh rated Wynot this Friday night in a girl-boy double header. There will be a pancake feed to benefit the little kids baseball program before the varsity games.

Trojan girls beat Ponca

Wakefield girls coach Ellie Studer got a balanced attack from her Trojans Monday night as they defeated Ponca in a home contest, 48-45. Seven Trojan players scored five points or more and only one was in double figures in Lisa Blecke with 10. Wakefield jumped out to a 17-11 lead after one period of play but by intermission the lead had shrunk to one point at 26-25. Ponca held a one point lead after three quarters of play but Wakefield came on strong in the fourth quarter to out score the Lady Indians by a 14-10 margin.

"We got a great balanced game out of the girls," Studer said. "We dominated the boards and got balanced scoring and that was the difference." The Trojans held a commanding 37-16 advantage on the boards with Sarah Salmon and Wendy Kratke leading the way with eight caroms each.

"Sarah Salmon had a great game," Studer said. "She hauled down eight rebounds for us and she scored eight points." That eight points was Salmon's best of the season.

Studer said at times Ponca was double teaming Lisa Blecke which left other players open and the Trojans exposed those openings with easy jump shots. Kristen Miller also netted eight points as did Julie Greve. Lisa Anderson and Wendy Kratke netted five each and Cathi Larson poured in four.

"It was overall just a great team effort," Studer said. "This is a big win for the girls and for our program." Wakefield suffered 15 turnovers in the game and connected on 10 of 15 free throw attempts.

Wakefield will host Wynot in a girl-boy double header on Friday.

By Pat Meierhenry

Monday, Jan. 15, is National Clean Off-Your-Desk-Day. I'd really like to participate, but it's a losing battle.

For one thing, all my cancelled checks for the past year are on it. And the Big Farmer is doing his annual bout with the books, figuring income tax. As a last resort, he's looking for auto expenses we forgot to record. He found some, too.

Some friends have recently sold a business that lost money for three years in a row. Their accountant told them that they would soon have to pay a "hobby tax." I told them that, in that case, a lot of farmers should be paying that tax.

ACTUALLY, that's the only one we aren't paying. I heard on channel 19's legislative review the other night that farmers are 3.7% of the state's population and they pay 27% of the property taxes.

I suppose there was a time when the property owners were considered the wealthy segment, and I'm sure that's why they were chosen to pay for schools; but that is an outmoded concept today.

I also heard a commentator on the Brownfield Network describe the costs of planting corn. They came to $200 an acre. At just over $2 a bushel, they need to produce a heck of a lot more than they did this year, just to break even. And we seem to be looking at another dry year.

THE SNOW has disappeared. Three guys from Papillion came out to hunt last week and could not get the birds up. Plus, they blend in so well with their cover. We do have one pheasant they left in the frig for us!

The coyotes must be howling. Sometimes Ernie, the black Lab, barks half the night when we forget to lock him in the garage.

The moderation in weather has allowed some serious wood cutting. As we watch oil prices climb, we are more grateful yet for the Earth store.

One tree that was chopped was the old mulberry that stood at the south end of the garden. It's been dead for some time and needed to come down, but I miss it when I look out the kitchen window. It was there even when the Big Farmer was growing up, and that's beginning to be quite awhile ago.

We'll need to plant some more this spring. We can't turn back the clock, but we can wind it up again.

Cookie sale pep rally

Class 1 school law debated

By Senator Gerald Conway of District 17

"The Salvation of the State is Watchfulness in the Citizen" LINCOLN, NE.—The above words, inscribed at the main entrance of the Capitol building, while universally true in any democracy, ring specifically true in Nebraska. Our Unicameral Legislature, created in 1934, ranks ahead of all other states in its accountability to the public.

One of the reasons for Nebraska's high rating is the open public hearing given each bill introduced. This week the public hearings began and will not conclude until each piece of legislation has been heard by one of the thirteen standing committees. If you have input on a bill and would like to testify, watch for the published hearing dates. These are listed each week in the Sunday Omaha World Herald, the weekly edition of the Unicameral Update, or by calling the Legislative Hotline, toll free, at 1-800-742-7456.

This past week was devoted to floor debate on bills carried over from last year. One of interest to many residents of northeast Nebraska, was advanced to the second stage of debate. LB 259, introduced by Senator Withem, Education Committee Chairman, would require all Class I school districts to affiliate with a district that contains a high school. Class I districts are those that only offer kindergarten through eighth grade and then send their students elsewhere for their high school education.

ANOTHER bill receiving a great deal of debate this past week was LR 8 CA, introduced by the Judiciary Committee. It would place before the voters of Nebraska a Constitutional Amendment allowing the creation of an intermediate appellate court. In the last decade, the workload of the Supreme Court has more than quadrupled. It currently takes two years for a decision in an appealed case. Nebraska is one of the few states that does not have a Court of Appeals; it is proposed that an appellate court would reduce the current backlog in cases.

Last week, I reported that the Governor has endorsed LB 260, a bill I introduced last year to tax illegal substances. This week I have also introduced another piece of legislation that is also designed to address this growing drug problem and help in enforcement. LB 996, requires financial institutions to report large currency transactions to the Nebraska Highway Patrol.

Hopefully, through these measures along with several others being forwarded by the Governor, we can make progress in eradicating this extremely dangerous and difficult problem.

Much of a Senator's ability to serve constituents rests with the effectiveness of staff. I am pleased to say I have two of the best. Jackie Schizas, my Administrative Assistant, has been working for other Senators before that. My Legal Counsel is John Evans, he has only been with me since this past July, however, he comes with a background that includes being the attorney for the Judiciary Committee, on the Governors Staff, Chief of Staff for the Mayor of Lincoln and private practice. Both are very knowledgeable and willing to help with what ever questions and concerns you may have.

The Library Card

This column will be written two times monthly to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

We hesitate to bring up the subject so early in the year, but the Public Library has on hand Income Tax forms, schedules and information to help you with your 1989 returns.

Four publications may be used in the library only: Vol. 1, Tax Information Publications; Guide to Free Tax Services; Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals; Reference Listing of 1989 Federal Tax Forms and Publications.

The library also has a loose-leaf notebook of all reproducible Federal Tax Forms. Sorry, but we must charge 10 cents per copy to reproduce what you need.

There are instructions, tax booklets and schedules which are available to the public.

The library has two books that may be helpful for you: J.K. Lasser, "What the new tax law means to you", c1986; and J.K. Lasser's "Your Income Tax, 1989".

On order, but not yet in the library, is J.K. Lasser's Your 1990 Income Tax.

We will gladly help you find the information you are seeking, but we cannot answer tax questions! Please don't ask!

Obituaries

Rudolph Blohm

Rudolph Blohm, 79, of Allen died Monday, Jan. 15, 1990 at the Marian Health Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

Services were held Wednesday, Jan. 17 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, rural Concord. The Rev. William Bertrand officiated.

Rudolph Fredrick Blohm, the son of Fredrick and Amanda Mueller Blohm, was born Aug. 6, 1910 at Uehling. In 1918 the family moved to the Martinsburg-Allen area where they farmed. Rudolph attained his education in the parochial school at Martinsburg. He married Margaret Lass on Feb. 2, 1936 and they made their home farming for some time in the Martinsburg area and later Wakefield for a year. They then moved to a farm west of Allen where they made their home for 49 years. The couple had just moved into Wakefield in November, 1989. He was a member and former elder of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church and a past president of the local branch of the AAL.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret; two daughters and sons-in-law, Gloria and Robert Oberg of Wakefield and Karen and Kenneth Anderson of Allen; one son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Karen Blohm of Allen; six grandchildren; four great grandchildren; one brother, Richard Blohm of Allen; and three sisters, Frieda Bose and Viola Bartling, both of Martinsburg, and Dortha Hassler of Dixon.

He was preceded in death by two brothers, Martin and Clarence.

Honorary pallbearers were Don Hassler, Tom Nissen, Troy Wood and Curtis Blohm.

Active pallbearers were Kevin Anderson, Steven Oberg, Brent Blohm, Neal Blohm, Craig Blohm and Gene Bartling.

Burial was in the St. Paul's Church Cemetery with Bressler-Humlicek Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Emma Maben

Emma Maben, 89, of Wayne died Thursday, Jan. 11, 1990 at the Wisner Manor.

Services were held Saturday, Jan. 13 at the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne. The Rev. Frank Rothfuss officiated.

Emma Hermine Maben, the daughter of Fredrick and Anna Schwartz Dinklage, was born May 3, 1900 on a farm near Wisner. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran Church north of Wisner. She attended rural school. She married James Maben on Feb. 23, 1929 at Lincoln. The couple farmed near Wisner until 1932 when they moved to a farm west of Wayne. They moved to Wayne in 1946. She was a member of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Survivors include one son, Norman Maben of Wayne; one daughter, Mrs. Jake (Shirley) Weber of Wisner; and two grandchildren, Julie and Cheri.

She as preceded in death by her parents, four brothers and her husband.

Pallbearers were Jeff Dinklage, Dwight Hass, Marc Dinklage and Jack Jones.

Burial was in the Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne with Schumacher Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Elray Hank

Elray Hank, 71, of rural Wakefield died Sunday, Jan. 14, 1990 at Marian Health Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

Services were held Wednesday, Jan. 17 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, rural Wakefield. The Rev. Willie Bertrand officiated.

Elray M. Hank, the son of James and Louise Lessmann Hank, was born March 30, 1918 on the family farm northeast of Wayne. He was baptized and confirmed at Immanuel Lutheran Church. He married Hazel Doescher April 8, 1943 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church east of Concord. The couple made their home on the family farm. Elray farmed and was also a DeKalb seed dealer for 34 years. He was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church, past church treasurer and was treasurer for the Dixon County Fair for 20 years.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel of rural Wakefield; three sons, Donn and Gary of rural Wakefield and Jim of Aurora, Colo.; one daughter, Cheri Mabbitt of Mesa, Ariz.; four grandchildren; one great granddaughter; one sister, Linda Pehrson of Laurel.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one son, Eugene; and one brother, Everrett.

Honorary pallbearers were Willard Holdorf, Dick Hanson, Marvin Nelson, Rueben Meyer, Verdel Erwin, Ross Armstrong, Clark Rasmussen, Lloyd Roeber, Harlen Ruwe and Marvin Echtenkamp.

Active pallbearers were Alvin Anderson, Mike Rewinkel, Norman Meyer, Doug Nelson, Larry Echtenkamp and Bud Hanson.

Burial was in the Immanuel Lutheran Cemetery, rural Wakefield, with McBride-Wiltse Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Nebraska clergy invited to seminar in Fremont

Nebraska clergy of all faiths are invited to attend a seminar, "Literature, the Clergy and Doing Good," on April 30 and May 1 at Camp Calvin Crest near Fremont.

Four humanities scholars from around the state will lead discussions on major works of secular literature by Leo Tolstoy, James Baldwin, Isak Dinesen and Joseph Conrad.

The project is sponsored by the Leadership Development Task Force of Interchurch Ministries of Nebraska. Major funding for the program was provided by the Nebraska Humanities Council, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

CLERGY FROM seven denominations participated in previous seminars at Fort Robinson and Camp Calvin Crest.

Spouses of married clergy have also participated and are invited to the final seminar on April 30 and May 1 at Fremont.

All participants will receive a complete set of books at no cost. They will be asked to pay a fee for lodging and meals.

Interested clergy are asked to contact Interchurch Ministries of Nebraska, 402-476-3388, for additional information. Registration deadline is March 8.

COOKIE SALES

Winside Girl Scouts began their annual cookie sales on Jan. 12 and will continue through Jan. 29. Cookies are $2.25 per box.

Persons who are not contacted and wish to order Girl Scout cookies are asked to call one of the following leaders, Mrs. Robert Holtgrew for the Brownies, Peggy Eckert for Junior Girl Scouts; and Mrs. Jay Morse for Cadette Girl Scouts.

Delivery of the cookies will be March 3-13.

SENIOR YOUTH

The senior youth group of Trinity Lutheran Church hosted a soup dinner on Jan. 14 following worship services. Approximately 75 persons were served.

Afterward, senior youth held election of officers. The new officers are Jenny Jacobsen, president; Jeff Gallop, vice president; Wendy Rabe, secretary; and Peg Eckert, treasurer.

The youth will again help with this year's Easter breakfast. The group also plans to take a summer trip and to go sledding when weather permits.

The next meeting will be Feb. 4 following worship services. Plans will be made for a centennial float. All ideas and suggestions are welcome and can be made to Peg Eckert.

The group is planning a fun activity for its March 4 meeting.

JUNIOR YOUTH

Six members, one guest and leader Peg Eckert of the Trinity Lutheran Church Junior High Youth Group held a belated Christmas party on Jan. 7 following worship services.

The group ate in Norfolk and then shopped at the mall for their gift exchange. A brief business meeting followed at the church. The youth presented leader Peg Eckert with a bouquet of flowers.

NEIGHBORING CIRCLE

Loretta Voss hosted the Jan. 11 meeting of Neighboring Circle with one guest, Margaret Kay. For roll call, members named their favorite old television or radio program.

President Evelyn Jaeger conducted the meeting. The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Loretta Voss.

Members sang "When You and I Were Young Maggie." Pitch was played with prizes going to Helen Muehlmeier, Evelyn Herbolzheimer, Evelyn Langenberg and Margaret Kay.

June Carstens will be the Feb. 8 hostess at 1:30 p.m. Roll call will be a dish towel exchange.

BIRTHDAY CLUB

Nine members of the Birthday Club celebrated the birthday of Ida Fenske on Jan. 12. The group enjoyed a carry-in lunch and cards.

JUNIOR SCOUTS

Fourteen Junior Girl Scouts met Jan. 11 with leader Peg Eckert. Dues were taken and the secretary's report read.

Cookie permission slips were handed out and sales discussed.

Secret pals were revealed and a memory game was played. Treats were furnished by Jenny Wade.

The next meeting will be today (Thursday) after school. Mindy Janke will bring treats.

METHODIST WOMEN

President Dorothy Nelsen conducted the Jan. 9 meeting of United Methodist Churchwomen with nine members present. The United Methodist Women's purpose was read in unison, followed with the secretary and treasurer's reports.

Cards and thank yous were read and a report was given on cards that have been sent. New year-books were distributed.

It was announced that a mission study by the adopted district officer will be held in July. Myrtle Nielsen was honored for her birthday with a corsage for missions and the birthday song.

Helen Holtgrew presented the program, entitled "Power of Love, Power to Care, Power to Share." She also served as hostess.

The next meeting will be Feb. 13 at 1:30 p.m. The Rev. Marvin Coffey will present the program on call to prayer and self denial with a special offering. Hostess will be Dorothy Nelsen.

TRINITY WOMEN

Trinity Lutheran Churchwomen met Jan. 10 with Vice President Lois Krueger presiding. Attending were 11 members and the Rev. Marsha Jark Swain. Marian Iversen gave the lesson from Genesis.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read, followed with communications. The 1989 penny collection will be given to the Trinity benevolence.

Honored with the birthday song were Joy Maas, Rose Thies and Irene Meyer.

The next meeting will be Feb. 14 at 2 p.m. Lois Krueger will be hostess and Irene Meyer will have the lesson.

THIS PHOTOGRAPH was taken west of Wayne...approximately 530 miles or so west. The deer was beginning to set over the mountain peaks. Actually, this photographer has been trying for five years to get a picture of a deer (one not killed by gunshot or arrow) in the Wayne area but the opportunity never came. So to perhaps satisfy an ego, the photographer decided to put in this vacation shot.

Arboretum board conducts meeting

The first annual meeting of the Northeast Arboretum Board took place Jan. 12 at the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord.

Twenty-seven people attended from Wakefield, Wayne, Dixon, Concord, Belden, Ord, Plainview, Stanton and Lincoln. Welcoming the guests was Don Hudman, director of the Northeast Research and Extension Center. Roy Stohler of Concord, president of the Northeast Arboretum Board, emceed the program.

Guest speaker was Twyla Hanson of Lincoln, curator of the Alice Abel Arboretum located on the Nebraska Wesleyan University Campus in Lincoln. Hansen's slide presentation showed the progress and development of plantings on the Wesleyan Campus. She stated that although education of students is the primary goal of Nebraska Wesleyan University, efforts are also directed toward beautifying the surroundings for students who consider the campus their "home away from home."

A plaque designating the Northeast Arboretum as an official "organizing site" of the Nebraska Statewide Arboretum (NSA) was presented by Ed Lyman, Lincoln, vice-chair of the NSA board.

Membership certificates were presented by Norman Anderson of Concord and Anna Marie White, Dixon, treasurer and secretary of the Northeast Arboretum Board.

Steve Rasmussen, curator of the Northeast Arboretum and District

Forester, presented appreciation certificates to persons and businesses who have donated plant materials, services and other non-monetary gifts to the Northeast Arboretum. Those present to receive certificates for donated plant material were Wayne State College Arboretum for the donation of Colorado blue spruce trees and Fuchs' Christmas Tree Farm for the donation of pecan and concolor fir trees.

Curator Rasmussen then reviewed the progress of the Northeast Arboretum and outlined intended activities for the coming year. Spring plantings in 1990 will include species of maple and oak trees. Additional selected plantings may be made to be evaluated for their environmental and exposure stress over a three to five year period.

Elected to serve on the board for 1990-1992 were Anna-Marie White, Dixon; Wm. Snyder, Allen; Richard Adkins, Laurel; David and Lois Shelton and Charles Shapiro, Wayne. Other members continuing to serve on the board are: Norman Anderson and Roy Stohler, Concord; Dick Gavit, Charles Maier, Ernest and Lyla Swanson, Wayne; Willis and Evelyn Kahl and Marvin Bichel, Wakefield; Joanne Rahn, Allen; Bob Chilvers, Neligh; and Lawrence Fuchs, Belden.

The next meeting of the Northeast Arboretum Board will take place at the Northeast Center on Wednesday, March 14, 9:30 a.m. and visitors are welcome.

THESE 4-H'ERS experience the taping of a news broadcast during a workshop that took place Saturday on the Wayne State College campus.

Leaders workshop held

"Let's Communicate" was the title of the 4-H leader and member workshop attended by 43 area 4-H'ers Saturday on the Wayne State campus. The day long program featured 4-H club management and communication skills.

The day began with Wayne State Collegiate 4-H'ers Monica Schmit and Mollie Greve presenting a skit on the importance of parliamentary procedures. Extension agents Lynda Cruickshank and Carol Larvick talked about the development of Life Skills in the 4-H program and the picture of the "ideal leader."

Four-H'ers then explored areas of self-esteem and how our communication affects the way others feel about themselves.

Junior leaders from the H-Troop 4-H Club in Thurston County shared their growth in the areas of Public Speaking and Demonstration Skills by presenting a series of skits and rap sessions for the 4-H'ers. The final session of the day was presented by Maureen Carrigg, Wayne State Broadcasting instructor. The 4-H'ers actually experienced taping a news broadcast, learned more about the careers in communication and toured the radio and Cable TV studios.

The workshop was the first in a series of four 4-H leader programs being offered in Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Dakota and Thurston Counties of the Northeast Five Extension Programming Unit. The February trainings will focus on teaching the new Food and Nutrition and Sewing projects.

The workshops are scheduled for Feb. 20 at Emerson, 1:30 p.m. and Feb. 22 at Laurel at 7 p.m. Pre-registration through the local Cooperative Extension Office is required. All Extension programs are open to the general public.

MARK SORENSEN, assistant vice president of State National Bank, talks about financing a car.

Car sense discussed at seminar

"What mechanical defects do I look for? How do I determine the best car buy? How do I pay for a new car?"

These are a few of the questions answered at the 4-H Auto Facts Seminar presented Sunday at Concord.

Presenters were Mark Sorensen, assistant vice president of State National Bank of Wayne on "Car Financing Methods"; Tom Wilmes, agricultural education instructor of Allen Public Schools on "Criteria for Evaluating a Used Car"; and Karen Wermers, Extension Home Economist/Family Finance on "Dealing With The Dealer" and "Getting the Best Buys".

The program is sponsored by the Dixon County Jr. Leaders. The next 4-H teen activity is scheduled for Feb. 4. The program will feature a tour of a car dealership and a Ski Trip to Crescent, Iowa.

Blood bank makes stopover in Allen

The Siouxland Blood Bank extended thanks to the residents of Allen and surrounding communities for the support shown at the blood drive on Tuesday, Jan. 9. Thirty-one volunteered to donate and 29 pints of blood were collected.

The following individuals were recognized: Donna Stalling, Susan Von Minden and Jim Warner, three gallon donors; Gary Rahn; two gallon donor; and Truman Fahrholz and Judy Vavra, one gallon donors.

"Many thanks to those who volunteered their time to call donors and lend a helping hand the day of the blood drive. Caring communities, such as yours, play a vital role in assuring the availability of blood for the patients of our area hospital," said Cathy Keyser, Siouxland Blood Bank donor consultant.

The list of donors is as follows:

Robert Bock, Margaret Ellis, Truman Fahrholz, Gary Gregg, Kevin Hill, Carol Jackson, Gaylen Jackson, Patrick Nicholson, Richard Olesen, Judith Olson, Gary Rahn, Phyllis Rahn, Allan Rastede, all of Allen.

RAINBOW KIDS

The Rainbow Kids 4-H Club held its first meeting of the year on Jan. 9 at the Hoskins fire hall. Attending were 13 members and five leaders.

Newly elected officers are Tina Austin, president; Tracy Gubbels, vice president; Jason Gillespie, secretary and news reporter; and Kelly Nathan, treasurer.

New leaders are Stan Nathan and Julie Frye, and new members are Eric Frye and Elsa Gallop.

Members signed up for their projects for the year and project books were handed out.

On Feb. 3, the club is sponsoring a Fun Day at the fire hall from 1 to 3 p.m. for area youngsters ages five to 10. A club bowling party is planned Feb. 17.

Kelly Nathan, Tracy Gubbels, Tina Austin and leader Deb Austin planned to attend the leader-member workshop on Jan. 13 at Wayne State College.

The Austin family served refreshments following the meeting. The next meeting will be March 6 at 4:15 p.m. at the fire hall.

Jason Gillespie, news reporter.

DOG CREEK

Dog Creek 4-H Club met Jan. 5 in the home of Ryan Allemann.

The five members enrolled in the "Fit it all Together," project, including Jesse and Jeremiah Rethwisch, Jon Magnuson, Ryan Allemann and Ryan Dunklau, cooked a supper for their families and served at 6 p.m.

Other club members joined the group at 7 p.m. The meeting was called to order by Ryan Allemann. Members answered roll call with their most favorite and least favorite things to do.

Attending were all six members and three guests, Brandon Williams and Haley and Casey Daehne.

Members voted to have a club entry in this year's Chicken Show parade. The club also set a goal of starting a scrapbook. Ryan Allemann and Ryan Dunklau are to obtain a scrapbook by the next meeting.

Ryan Allemann, Jon Magnuson, Ryan Dunklau and Leader Karma Magnuson planned to attend an officers training workshop on Jan. 13.

Following the business meeting, Leader Lynn Allemann conducted a judging event with members judging biscuits.

Leader Karma Magnuson gave a presentation on a normal healthy animal and its characteristics.

The next meeting will be Saturday, Feb. 3. The club will take a field trip to Norfolk Livestock and then go to the Ron Magnuson home for a meeting.

Ryan Dunklau, news reporter.

CARROLLINERS

Fifteen members and 12 guests were present when the Carrolliners 4-H Club met Jan. 8 at the Carroll school. Nicole Fredricksen joined the club.

For roll call, members named a project they are taking. It was announced that officer training classes were scheduled Jan. 13-14 at Wayne State College.

Following the meeting, members exchanged gifts and enjoyed pizza.

Sandy Burbach will host the February meeting with the date to be announced.

Melissa Puntney, news reporter.

The GOLDEN YEARS
By Lee Stame

Photography genius Alfred Eisenstaedt provides an example of a senior citizen who did not let age interfere with his career. Born in Germany in 1898, he served in World War I, recovered from wounds, became a button salesman, but didn't do well at it. So at age 31 he turned photography from a hobby into fulltime work. In 1935 he left Nazi-dominated Germany for the United States, in time to become one of four original staff photographers of Life magazine. Even into his 90s he said he can't wait to start each day. He even joked that in his next life, he'd like to be a photographer.

People 65 or over and those who are blind or disabled may be eligible for Supplemental Security Income. The program helps those who have very little or no income and whose cash, goods and property fall within specified value levels. The maximum monthly Federal benefit is $368 for an individual and $553 for a couple. In most states, SSI recipients also receive free health benefits under Medicaid. The program is run by the social Security Administration.

Saying good-bye not the most easy to do

I really don't like writing good-bye columns. Probably because I don't like saying farewell to a good thing.

But by the end of this week I'll be leaving Wayne and starting a second career as publisher, managing a 1,500 circulation newspaper and job printing shop in Riceville, Iowa.

When I add up all the pleasures that come with this managing editor job, it sums up to nearly five memorable years in Wayne and serving the reading public in northeast Nebraska. I'd like to reflect on some things here, so forgive me if I get a bit sentimental.

Wayne, Nebraska has a lot of things going for it right now. The Friendliest of All College Towns (FACT) promoters will tell you that and so will hundreds of others who look upon progress as a plus. It has become a hub of economic development activity. I've witnessed and wrote about some welcomed industries that have come into our community during the past years — Timpfe, now Great Dane; First National; Omaha Service Center; Restful Knights; and others.

I've found that the city council and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce or Wayne Industries have cooperated together in drawing trade and industry to the area. Teamwork is evident.

HOWEVER this finely-tuned networking machine isn't possible without the drive and motivation of the people in Wayne and surrounding communities.

It's the people of the Herald coverage area which is making a difference. And throughout my years here I've found people in every community we serve — the Wayne, Winside, Allen, Laurel, Wakefield and Hoskins areas — as most interesting. What I strived for while here at the Herald is to feature the individuals' achievements and publicize their merits through our news columns.

I arrived here as sports editor and got to know many people through this title. And then when taking over as managing editor in 1984, Wayne's Centennial was going full bloom and through this event I met many more people.

Most enjoyable of my years were playing against some fairly "salty" softball teams and competing in several state slow pitch tournaments. Wayne also has the finest and challenging golf course in the state and I thoroughly enjoyed playing on it. My apologies to those who had to dodge my driving and iron shots. It was unintentional. Honest. When your last name begins with Hack, you got to live up to that billing.

Community theatre was also a highlight for me. I was in only two productions — but they were fun and entertaining.

SOME OTHER highlights of my career here that I will treasure:

— The Wayne Herald staff. This job is demanding. Having people who work with you that understand the pressures of the job is an asset. We've had a lot of laughs together among staff members to relieve that pressure. They are good people; hardworking people; quality-minded people. And they are friends. You bet they will be missed.

'Hacken' Away

By Chuck Hackenmiller

— Photographic opportunities from class pictures, fairs or other activities to landscape scenery. I'll always enjoy clicking the shutter. Pictures tell a story. Sometimes they enhance a page. Several times I needed a front page picture minutes from deadline and there has always been something in the area to photograph to bail me out of a jam.

— Playing league basketball last year and hitting a three point shot at the buzzer to bring my team into the finals. The other team certainly didn't think that was a highlight!

— Working with the people at St. Mary's Parish and St. Mary's School in Wayne.

— Covering the annual Chicken Show celebration. It is really something to crow about!

Naturally things were not all rosy.

There were some controversies that I'm glad were covered, but were stressful to report. There was the "Coffey resignation" story and the raise in the Wayne water rates that appeared to be most controversial.

THIS AREA is blessed with a fine community hospital (Providence Medical Center) and good doctors. And the city parks are appealing to young and old alike.

Wayne State College will continue to be a predominant factor in the revitalization of northeast Nebraska and beyond. I look for good things coming from the college because of its dynamic leadership.

Winside will be celebrating its 100th birthday in 1990. Allen's celebration of the same sort is in 1991. I wish I could be here for both of them. We'll have to see about that. They are great communities.

I could go on and on about the many events I've attended and the people I've met through my association with this newspaper. It's a good newspaper and I'm sure it will remain a newspaper of award-winning status.

I consider a newspaper the heartbeat of a community. Support it because we never want that heartbeat to fade away. Keep it strong.

My family has enjoyed our stay in Wayne.

How can anyone forget about a community that calls itself "WAYNE AMERICA".

Car racing on carpet at auditorium

RADIO CONTROL CAR RACING took place Sunday afternoon at the Wayne City Auditorium. Racers from across Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa raced their cars on a 30' x 80' carpet oval track at the auditorium. The event was sponsored by the "Over The Wall Gang" of Wayne. Above, spectators line the auditorium stage in anticipation of the next race. At right, two radio control car racer enthusiasts take their turns at the control. The next race at the auditorium is Jan. 28.

Navy Seaman Recruit Scott A. O'Brien, son of Hugh E. and Phyllis L. O'Brien of Allen has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

During O'Brien's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

O'Brien's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Airman Beth E. Stoltenberg has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Stoltenberg of Wayne.

The airman is a 1989 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School.

Homework tips

PREPARATION FOR SEMESTER EXAMS

As the Semester I exams approach, parents and students can prepare together. Solid test preparation means solid study skills. This involves time, planning, organization, notetaking, setting priorities, reviewing, and plenty of hard work and homework. Get involved in the development of these study skills by helping to coach your son or daughter through the semester exams at the end of the month.

WHERE TO START:

- Know your son's/daughter's schedule of courses.
- Know how he/she is doing in those courses. Look at report cards, warnings, tests, and homework. Ask to see them.
- Know how he/she has prepared thus far. Look at notebooks, handouts, review sheets, past exams, and textbooks.
- Know the exam schedule.

COACHING TECHNIQUES:

- Reject student attempts to shrug you off with statements that they know everything or have no work. Everyone can improve, and has work to do.
- Provide a place to study in which the student feels comfortable.
- See to it that all required materials are on hand—notebook, texts, paper and pens.
- Set a routine—a common starting time and ending time.
- Set priorities. Homework should be done before the social life begins.
- Encourage—concentrate on helping...not just finding out everything he/she doesn't know or understand.
- Ask about teacher direction—what did the teacher say was important to study? You can be sure it will be on the exam.
- Look at the material learned in September—semester exams test for the cumulative nature of learning—not just the most recent.

ADDITIONAL TIPS FOR PARENTS OF STUDENTS UNDER Public Law 94-142

- Direction can be difficult. Some students need specific directions broken down step by step, along with concrete examples. (Oral and written)
- Expression skills need to be clear. Slow down fast handwriting so it can be read. Build confidence in oral and recitation skills.
- Memorization both long and short term might be a problem. Organization of notes, texts, and learning aids are critical to overcome this difficulty.
- Extra help is available. Mary Lou George, the special education teacher at the high school has communicated to her students and to the staff her availability to help any student who is under PL 94-142. This includes taking the final in the resource room, helping with test construction, and receiving tutorial help.
- Questions: Call the school, 375-3150 if you have questions about an assignment, course or exam. Ask to speak with me or the course teacher.

RESTFUL KNIGHTS

EMPLOYEE OF THE WEEK ELIJAH 'ED' POWELL

Ed Powell has been employed as a truck driver at Restful Knights since September, 1987. His wife Viletta is a secretary at Heritage Homes. They have a son, Shawn, who is a 15 year old sophomore at Wayne High. Ed enjoys his work because of pleasant fellow employees, great products they make and traveling throughout the U.S.A. It's nice that Wayne has an industry creating jobs for locals thus pumping dollars back into the Wayne economy. "I'm especially proud to be a part of that. Ed say, "keep your money at home — come out and visit our retail store."

Water management least understood

by Michael W. Lance
SCS Technician

Water is probably the best known of all the natural resources we enjoy. All of us have had first hand experiences in its many forms — rain, hail, fog, dew, and, of course, snow and ice. But in spite of our daily use of it, water and its management is the natural resource least understood.

The combination of improved technology in measuring quantity and quality, greater demand and political manipulation is causing us to take a closer look at our water resources.

Every year about 80,000 cubic miles of water evaporate from the earth's oceans and 15,000 cubic miles of water from land sources. That's a lot of water and energy in motion from the earth's surface up to the atmosphere and back again. Storms at sea return most of this water with land areas receiving only about 25 percent of the returned precipitation. The average precipitation of the entire United States is about 30 inches per year — slightly higher than the earth's overall average of 25 inches.

THE STREAM flow from surface and underground sources into the oceans is available for human use in homes, industry, irrigation and recreation and amounts to about 8 1/2 inches of precipitation. The remaining 21 1/2 inches of annual land precipitation is returned to the atmosphere as vapor. This is roughly 70 percent of our total precipitation and includes mainly water used and evaporated through growing plants, a process called evapo-transpiration.

Compare the amount of water used per person in medieval times at 3.5 gallons per day with the present amount of water used here in the United States per day at 1,500 gallons and you can see why we need to use our water resources wisely.

Today we can manage and use water to its fullest potential only as it becomes available to us. Good water management, we know, begins with good soil management simply because we have better control over precipitation that falls or travels close to the surface of land. Depending on the surface soil it lands on, the land slope, travel route and the amount received over time, the value of the water may be positive or negative. Thus, some areas experience drought conditions with the same amount of precipitation that causes flooding in other areas.

The action of soil movement by water, when repeated, can reduce and ruin land for most agricultural uses. This soil erosion is the source of sediment that fills lakes and bays, clouds the water, changes or eliminates aquatic life forms and shortens the useful life of dams, reservoirs and road ditches.

WATER MOVING as runoff or in a streambed is capable of eroding any exposed earth surface (as evidenced by the Grand Canyon). Bare, plowed farmland and cleared areas around housing or highway construction sites are especially vulnerable. In cities and towns where the majority of land is paved or "hard covered," rainfall runoff rates occur up to 10 times faster than surrounding unpaved areas. Runoff flows down the storm drains carrying soil and chemical particles rapidly contribute to down stream water problems.

Rural and small town dwellers point the finger at urban industrial centers for polluting and endangering the nation's water supply. Urbanites, in turn, accuse the rural sectors of ignoring agricultural pesticide and waste problems. Water mismanagement is not limited to the surface supply. Within the last 10 years we have become aware of the importance of our underground water supplies and its qualities.

In the end, everyone has to take some responsibility for the water problems we are now facing and will face in the future. The blame rests on our's and our predecessors wasteful and indifferent habits. Fortunately, we are now understanding and not just learning the forces and boundaries of our water systems. We know how to use water to accomplish three or four tasks that was earlier used to accomplish just 1 or 2.

THROUGHOUT the world the need for water continues to increase. Population growth or a modernizing lifestyle demands more water. The per capita use of water in industrialized countries is soaring. It will be our future management of the precipitation available to us that will determine if we have both the quantity and quality of water to meet our needs. And it is everyone's obligation to return water to the cycle as clean and as close to the condition as we obtained it with the least amount of waste.

For more information on water and its conservation usage, contact the local USDA Soil Conservation Service office at 709 Providence Road in Wayne.

Cheri McDonald

McDonald attending Leadership Council

On Tuesday, Jan. 16 Cheri McDonald from Wayne will attend the 1990 National Young Leaders Conference sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council.

Approximately 400 outstanding high school juniors and seniors from around the country have been selected for this unique honor based on demonstrated academic achievement, leadership and citizenship.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today". Throughout the six day conference, the scholars will meet with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program will include a breakfast panel discussion led by prominent journalists at the National Press Club, welcoming remarks from a Member of Congress on the Floor of the United States House of Representatives, and a government relations forum comprised of lobbyists from various corporations and public interest groups. A visit to a diplomatic embassy and a State Department briefing are also included among the week's activities.

Cheri will also have a unique opportunity to meet with Senator J. James Exon, Senator Robert Kerrey and Representative Douglas K. Bereuter or members of their respective staffs. Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference is "The Mock Congress on National Service" in which the scholars assume the roles of United States Representatives by debating, lobbying, and voting on proposed volunteer service legislation.

The National Young Leaders Conference is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council. Founded in 1985, the Council is a non-profit, non-partisan educational organization committed to recognizing outstanding youth and providing them with a "hands-on" civics learning experience in the nation's capital.

To landowners Free seed available

Free seed for planting on annual set aside acres (ACR) will be available for spring seeding to landowners in the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District.

The seeding of ACR acres is designed to establish wildlife habitat cover. Rye grain will be provided to those landowners who apply for one year and sweet clover or a mixture of red clover and sweet clover will be available for those landowners who apply for two years. Seed will be provided for one to 20 acre plots.

To receive the free seed, landowners must complete an application form which can be obtained at Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices, Soil Conservation Service offices or the Lower Elkhorn NRD office in Norfolk.

The seed is being provided by the Lower Elkhorn NRD and local chapters of Pheasants Forever through area seed dealers.

Pheasants Forever is an organization which was established to assist landowners in developing and establishing habitat areas for wildlife. Each Pheasants Forever chapter raises money locally and spends it locally for this purpose.

For the fifth year, the Norfolk chapter of Pheasants Forever is also providing milo seed free of charge for wildlife food plots on ACR acres or Conservation Reserve Program acres that are designated for use as food plots.

One 50-pound bag of milo will easily seed six acres of food plot. The milo seed can be picked up at Clark Bros. Transfer at 900 North 1st Street in Norfolk.

Landowners who want to sign up for the ACR acres program can do so now at the local ASCS office.

ACCEPTING BIDS ON LOT

The Wakefield Board of Education met Jan. 8. They have decided to advertise for sealed bids on a lot which is located south of the Covenant Church and north of the Leo Neilan residence in Wakefield. Bids will be accepted and opened at the regular February meeting of the board. They will sell the 80' x 150' lot. Originally, when that district was plotted, an 80 foot wide area was designated as Ninth street, according to Supt. Derwin Hartman. "Since the original plotting, that area has been closed for developing a street and now lies vacant," said Mr. Hartman. "Because this area is now being developed and paving costs are being assessed to his area property owners on either side of the street, the board of education has decided to advertise the lot for sale."

In other action the board discussed the open enrollment program and established a policy to implement this program for the 1990-91 school year. The board elected officers for the 1990 calendar year. All past officers are president, Ron Wenstrand; vice president, Jim Stout and secretary, Larry Clay. David Kucera was present at the meeting and expressed his concerns about the elementary education classes.

The board also evaluated the administrators and voted to offer both Superintendent Hartman and Principal Coble one year extensions on their existing two year contracts.

EASTERN STAR

Goldenrod Chapter 106 Order of the Eastern Star met for its regular monthly meeting on Jan. 2 in the Masonic/Eastern Star Hall in Wakefield. Hostesses for the evening were Iris Larson and Sharon Corasdale.

The meeting was opened in due form by Worthy Matron Bonnie Bressler. There was no correspondence. Nancy Kinney was elected as secretary for 1990. The following people were installed as 1990 officers: Bonnie Bressler, Worthy Matron; Alvin Sundell, Worthy Patron; Karen Jones, Associated Matron; Robert Jones, Worthy Patron; Priscilla Eaton, Associate Conductress; Edith Hanson, Conductress; Nancy Kinney, Secretary; Charlene Schroeder, Treasurer; Sharon Crossdale, Organist; Paul Byers, Marshall; Norma Byers, Chaplain; Marie Bellows, Sentinel; Helen Gustafson, Ada; Kathleen Potter, Ruth and Doris Linafelter, Martha.

Under "joys of the Chapter" it was reported that Maurice Warner was being installed as Allen's Golden Rule Lodge 235 Worshipful Master and Kenneth Linafelter as Treasurer of the same Lodge.

The meeting was closed in due form.

589 BLUE LIGHTS

The Wakefield Health Care Center Auxiliary-Blue-Light Christmas Tree was strung with 589 lights this holiday season. The auxiliary project offers an opportunity for people to honor the memory of a deceased person or someone special living and the funds are used to purchase needed items for the Care Center.

This year the tree was placed so that all the residents, staff and visitors could enjoy it, according to project chairman Bonnie Bressler. Several of the Wakefield Health Care Residents helped to decorate the tree which made it extra special, said Mrs. Bressler.

Last year, with the blue light monies, floral sheets and pillow cases were purchased for the beds at the care center. Many residents commented, that the linens made them feel like they were home.

COOKIE TIME

The Wakefield Girl Scouts began their annual cookie sales on Friday and will continue through Jan. 29.

This year, the Girl Scouts are offering a new cookie, Cabana Cremes, named for the National Girl Scout Center located in Mexico. Cabana Cremes is a sandwich cookie with two zesty tastes, vanilla and lemon.

Returning cookie favorites include Thin Mint, Samoas, Do-Si-Dos, Trefoils, chocolate chip and Tagalongs. Cookies are $2.25 per Girl Scouts have been selling cookies for over 50 years and the sales have provided a good experience and sources of funds for the Girl Scouts activities.

If you want to order cookies and are not contacted by a Girl Scout, please call Mary Brudigam at 287-2756.

PANCAKE SUPPER

Members of the Wakefield Lions Club will flip pancakes to raise funds for the young boys baseball program this summer. The supper will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the school from 5-8 p.m. The boys and girls basketball teams will host Wynot that evening.

Advance tickets to the pancake supper are currently being sold by members of the three baseball teams. Advance price is $2 with pre-schoolers free.

CARROLL WOMANS CLUB

A 12:30 p.m. luncheon was served at the Other Office by Mrs. Merlin Kenny, Mrs. Morris Sandahl and Mrs. Wayne Kerstine, preceding the meeting of the Carroll Womans Club that met Thursday.

Mrs. Wayne Kerstine, president, opened the meeting with the Flag Salute and a poem "Who has seen the wind". Twenty-two members answered roll call with "My favorite teacher". Mrs. Lynn Roberts reported on the last meeting and Mrs. Arnold Junck read the treasurer's report. The group sang "Sweet and Low" and a round "Row, row, row your boat". Mrs. Edward Fork was piano accompanist.

Dorothy Hanneman of Norfolk spoke on the work of American Cancer Society and the Womans Club voted to volunteer their services. The American Cancer Society is conducting their annual fresh cut flower Daffodil celebration this spring. The Womans club will help to sponsor the event and will be selling daffodils, ten in a bunch for $5. The Daffodils will be ready for delivery at the end of March. Orders may be given to any member of the Womans Club, as a tax deductible contribution gift or memorial for the Cancer Society, 60% of receipts from the flower sale and other contributions will remain in Nebraska.

Thank you's were read from shut ins and golden age who received Thanksgiving boxes from the club. Mrs. John Swanson was in charge of the program and gave a book report that was written by Erma Bombeck entitled "I want to get well, I want to grow and I want to go to Boise".

Mrs. Swanson conducted a "Slogan Quiz" and Mrs. Merlin Kenny received the prize.

The Thursday, Feb. 8 meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. at the Other Office. Roll call will be "a paper Valentine exchange".

Mrs. Merlin Kenny and Mrs. Ervin

Wittler will have the program, "Old fashioned Valentine party" and Mrs. Milton Owens and Mrs. O.J. Jones will serve.

- 1) Advice on what paper, ink and design features are best suited for your project.
- 2) Typesetting, layout and design.
- 3) Cutting paper — neatly and precisely to the desired size.
- 4) Folding for brochures, newsletters.
- 5) Numbering, stapling, perforating tickets and business forms
- 6) Padding, hole punching, binding.
- 7) Collating and inserting.
- 8) Addressing, sacking, mailing.
- 9) FREE delivery in Wayne and many other surrounding areas.
- 10) Availability of quantities of plain paper for your copiers.

*Not pictured are Alyce Henschke (typesetting and design) and Doris Claussen (collating, folding, numbering, etc.) who also work extensively in this department along with a host of other personnel who assist on projects when the workload requires extra attention.

And two of the most important "services" provided by The Wayne Herald's commercial printing department are:

- 1) Timeliness which assures your completed projects are finished when you need them and;
- 2) A toll-free phone number for the convenience of our out-of-town customers

28th in a series... YOUR NEWSPAPER: UP CLOSE & PERSONAL

Cecil, Debbie and James Vann are the maintenance personnel staff at The Wayne Herald and Marketer. They began working at the Herald in January, 1989. After a brief leave of absence they are back doing their responsibilities which include cleaning various sections of the Herald building. They previously worked with janitorial and maintenance companies doing office cleaning. "We like the job because we're doing something different all the time." The Vanns came to the Wayne area because jobs were scarce due to the oil economy in Tulsa. Cecil also works at Wayne State College and Deb does housecleaning for area homes. James is a student at Win-side High School.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER

TAMPERING WITH MEDICARE: There's a group out there called the Advisory Council on Social Security. It's headed up by a former issues coordinator in George Bush's presidential campaign, Deborah Steelman, a Washington-based lawyer named by President Bush to oversee this panel of professional, business, and labor experts. Their goal — to draft a program to deal with ways to deliver health care for the elderly if (as they expect) the Medicare system breaks down. Statistically, the numbers looming up look foreboding: Medicare currently serves some 32 million seniors. In less than 20 years, that number will more than double. The potential for a system overload is strong. Costs would be expected to rise. Rationing of services is another possibility. Ms. Steelman's group has prepared a paper that suggests a substitution of Medicare as it now exists for a system that would link private health insurers with a government program. According to this paper, up to a certain amount, private insurers would take the responsibility, along with the seniors — or union, pension plans, or employers paying the premiums. The government would pick up the balance of the insurance cost when that limit was reached. (There's also a suggestion that low-income seniors would have their premiums subsidized by the federal government.) I realize it's only a draft paper at this time, but I find many problems with these suggestions: First: Companies are already cutting back on existing health care contracts. Who says they won't do so with this program? Second: With plants closing and companies becoming lean and mean, as they say, people will be forced out of work and pensions may be reduced as a result. This also means fewer union contributions to such an insurance program. Third: If we can cut back on our military outlays — (for some 40 years we've carried the defense ball for Europe) — we should be able to meet the same social needs that most of the western democracies have done in behalf of their elderly citizens. Ms. Steelman has asked for continuing discussions on Medicare and its future. As usual, I'm asking for your always enlightening letters. Please write me c/o King Features Weekly Service, 235 East 45th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017. LIVING WILL UPDATE: Thanks to a lawyer who wrote to say I left out an important point in outlining the basic execution of a living will. While I did say the document must be witnessed and countersigned, I neglected to add: — preferably not by relatives or anyone who may be an heir of the person making the living will. This could avoid problems if and when the time comes to put the will into effect.
